George Laidlaw was once known as the Canadian Railway King. He rode and drove through the country hunting bonuses:

HE TOLD THE FARMERS and the municipal councils how that the railway monopolies shaved so many cents from each bushel of their grain and how that every head of stock would be worth so many dollars more a head if they had only railway competition; the buyers were to come to their doors and leave their sheekels in the farmer's hand; farmers were to get good value for their right of way, new stations were to feel the impetus which competition brought; instead of the strob of trade they would hear a thump; Toronto was to be the great quen city of the west, seated upon the figurative hill, and twenty independent and competing lines of railway were to have their twenty stations along the Esplanade; in short universal prosperity was to reign—provided always the bonuses.

RAILWAY FUSION AND THE ONTARIO OP-We have already said that the Ontario

That is to say—Mr. Mowat and his colleagues are responsible, to the sponsible, to the sponsible, to the sponsible of the bringing about of that approximately profound ignoration profound policy, or from profound ignoration profound ignoration profound ignoration profound ignoration profound policy, or from profound ignoration profound ignoration profound policy, or from profound ignoration profound ignoration profound ignoration profound policy, or from profound ignoration profound ignoration profound policy, or from profound ignoration profound policy, or from profound ignoration profound policy, or from profound ignoration profound ignoration profound interests actually at stake, the dominion interests actually at stake, local government must be held largely rein this matter. At a critical time, when struggle to continue its independent existence, the whole weight of the Ontario government was thrown into the scale rival. All the legislation asked for with a view to the further aggrandisement of the Grand Trunk was granted; while the either of deep craftiness or very shallow earnest cry and prayer of the Great Western to be allowed to live in Ontario was refused. Last session Mr. Pardee, as chairman of the railway committee, did more than merely sit in the chair; he fairly "sat upon" the Great Western all through the struggle. We are at a loss to know how it ever occurred to the conservative press to manufacture for Mr. Pardee the reputation of being sleepy-headed. As a matter of fact he is one of the most active and wide-awake chairmen that ever sat at the head of any board or committee in Canada : and a rather peremptory way of putting things he has, too. If ever he sleeps during the it must be with one eye open, and the other only half closed. However, this little majority so large that they could do as they lost sight of pleased, deliberately elected to help the Grand Trunk to crush out the Great Westtwo. Instead of helping the weaker joined heads with the stronger, and gave the finishing stroke which virtually ended the fight, and left the Great Western stunned and helpless, to be swallowed up by the Grand Trunk, like a rabbit by a boa con-But though this must be said of the reform government of Ontario, yet it does not by any means follow that the conservative opposition can pose as heroes in this affair. and claim the gratitude of an admiring country because of their patriotic conduct. On the contrary, Mr. Meredith, the opposition leader, took a prominent part in the attack on the Great Western. Having some little local quarrel with the Great Western, and holding a parliamentary brief for the London Junction scheme, he worked hard to do the Great Western all the harm it lav in his power to do. Something that is not now to be might have been, had he been statesman enough to see his opportunity, and seize it. This is what was going on before his eyes. The session had opened to whose determined labors her son owed with an unusually large number of rail- his education and advancement. His father, way bills on the docket, in some of a matter of fact grocer, proposed to make which the Grand Trunk and the his son a grocer, and but for the intelligent deeply interested. It was known that the boy would, perhaps, have been compelled Grand Trunk, after many years of ineffectual to learn the trade of his father. Madame effort to bring about amalgamation, was Gambetta saved her earnings, taught her then about making a last great attempt to boy, brightened his intellect with the fire carry the thing by a coup de main. This of her own, and against his father's will last grand attack, under the leadership of sent him to the law school at Paris. To two very able men-Sir Henry Tyler in Eng. | all her husband's sensible arguments favor-

man? He should have resolved to throw merely local considerations to the winds for the time, also to throw up his brief for the little London Junction concern, and to have done something for his country. Had he from the first resolutely taken the same stand that The World did, viz: that the separate identity and independence of the Great Western must and should be preserved, he might have aroused the province to a sense of the impending danger and caused even Mr. Mowat's extra strong government to pause. Had he pictured the situation before the house and the country, and shown the Mowat government in alliance with the Grand Trunk road and in favor of amalgamation-a thing unanimously and universally condemned by public opinion of twenty years' standing in this province—he might have made the welkin ring with the cry of "No railway monopoly for Ontario." With this ery ringing throughout the province, many staunch reform members might have hesitated to cast their votes in favor of measures designed for the express purpose of crushing out the Great Western, and handing more than three-fourths of the province imself then, and a statesman he never will be, that is sure. Lacking capacity to comprehend the magnitude of the golden opportunity that lay before him, he failed to 'see it;" and now his day is past, and "his sefulness is gone." So much for the opposition leader in the leading journal of the same local opposition ? To this a very brief answer suffices. With regard to the great practical issue for the people of Ontario, then pending in the profound policy, or from profound ignorgiving Mr. Mewat and his colleagues rope enough to gibbet themselves before the country for ever as the promoters of amalramation of the two roads named, a thing detested throughout Western Ontario these twenty years and more. Seeing the Globe last session visibly committed to the Grand against it, and in favor of its powerful trunk side, and the splendid opportunity thus afforded of attacking and damaging the enemy in Ontario, the Mail's course can be accounted for only on the supposition simplicity. But it is not our business to account for the phenomenon. We have only to show that in this matter there was with both parties in provincial politics a lamentable failure of duty towards Ontario' true interests; the far greater responsibility for the unfortunate result resting, of course, upon the party in power. ABOUT PREACHERS AND PREACHING The censors of sermons fromtDr. Mahaffy of Trinity college, Dublin, to the Globe of Saturday, leave out of sight the fact that two of the greatest masters of English speech are par excellence sermon writers. Newman and Manning. Cardinal Newman, great as an essayist, great as a poet, few and far between as have been the angel visits of his muse, is most at home in the hours of parliamentary business, we fancy pulpit. Unlike Chalmers, whose sermons reproduce and repeat the same thought at every page, Dr. Newman's parochial sermons are conceived in a spirit of logical progrespersonal digression aside, the main point is sion; each sentence enforces and illuminates that Mr. Mowat's government, having a the central thought, which is never till it clinched by the final peroration As the Saturday Review said truly, Dr. Newman has left his mark in the language. ern, at a critical time in the He was too great a thinker and writer to course of the fight between the stay in the church of England, "the city of confusion and the house of bondage. party, and so preserving competition, they Newman and Manning differ as differ the two types of oratory, the thoughtful and the ornate, St. Augustine and St. Chrysostom, Demosthenes and Cicero. But the bur nished gold of Manning's sermons has never been equalled since he left the Anglican church. Since the time of Newman and Manning, the type of sermons has degenerated, the best have been reactionis advocates of mediævalism like Canon Liddon, and so-called broad churchmen who have not the courage of their opinions like that feeble and flatulant sermonist Frederick Robertson, of Brighton. THE PUISSANCE OF ENGLAND.

(To the Editor of The World.) SIR: Under the above heading there appeared in Saturday's issue of the Mail young doctor's discovery, and the coman article which attracted my attention, It was not a brilliant sentence that caught my eye; it was not a word of metaphor, for it contained none. But it was the wonderful display of historical knowledge that cannot me to pause and to wonder what gifted student of history penned that article. It commences thus: "It is wonderful how little annears to be known among the nations of the power of Great Britain." Further on he says, "People who never read history, and who do not leprosy cropped to the surface. There were believe there was any worth reading until a hundred years ago or so know nothing of months. England's strength." The first sentence im-plies that the pations of Europe have never members from Miramichi. A bill estabtested England's strength, and the following sentence implies that it is necessary for the reader to go back more than a century to commence to find the source of England's power. Furthur on again he says "It is England's consciousness of strength were confined on this island. Scores of the unfortunate wretches were captured. There is no other first-class power in Europe that would dare to reduce its army to the dimensions of that of Great Britain."

Now we know that it is England's geographical position that renders her with the aid of her powerful navy secure from attack, which leads her to dispense with an enormand not any consciousness of being always The most abject and squalid never ren able to cope successfully with any one of their clothing but drew their clean shirts the great military powers. But I prefer to speak of thirgs as I find them and not as I would wish horror of the adjacent parishes. Occasionthem to be; and for the edification of the Mail writer who seems to have that wasterned from him. He desecrated everyexalted opinion of England, which the Yankee had of his country, namely: that she can whip the whole creation, I subjoin the following which is taken from the parliamentary records which will give some idea of the men who helped to fight England's battles in the past, but whom British money can no longer purchase. On Dec 9,1779, the British parliament on request of committee of supply voted without division 179,000 soldiers for that year; and the amount of money voted for the mainten ance of the foreign contingents was as follows: £94,173 for the troops of Brunswick, £56,228 for the pay of five Hanoverian battalions of foot, £367,872 for 13,472 troops of Hessians, £35,510 for two regiments of Hainalt, £17,529 for the troops of Waldecks, £37,715 for 1447 troops Branderburg, £16,667 for a corps of troops of Ainalt, £48,841 for foreign troops in America. These are the men who helped to drive the French army out of Spain and who at Waterloo numbered nearly two to one of the British proper. In the place of these foreign troops Eggland is now bring-ing men from India. But what if Russia confronted England in Egypt? Then all the Indian troops would be required elsewhere. They would have to be concentrated on the northwest frontier of India to guard against a Russian attack in that quarter. Now unless England could put 200, 000 men in Egypt she could not hope for

The affection of the man for his mother had subdued all hearts, and the sorrow he was enduring was treated with sorrow he was enduring was treated with rare respect. The woman whose death thus affected the French chamber and inthus affected the French chamber and influenced a political question so radically was a shopkeeper's wife, of common education and dependent in part upon her own exertions. This is what Mr. Meredith might have done, but what he did not do. Worse than all this, lepers, in whom the seeds of the disease were fructifywhom the seeds of the disease were fructifying, were concealed by friends and relatives. The lazaretto was more of a prison than a hospital. A commitment disgraced a family far more than a commitment to the penitentiary. Fathers and mothers endang-ered themselves and their families in the effort to shield a favorite son or daughter. It was a disgrace to be hidden, and not to be made public. The lazaretto was removed to Tracadie, on the bay of that name, about 1849. Here the treatment of the unfortunates was a little better, but there was an utter lack of cleanliness until fourteen years ago, when sisters of mercy took sole charge. They found the in-mates dying in filth and misery. They inaugurated new treatment. They tore out the iron bars from the windows. The lepers were bathed each day, and their ulcers on much success against the warrior legions of Russia. England has sent her guards both horse and foot to Egypt. Prescriptions for the poor are filled without charge. She knows the families tainted with the disease, and traces accurately the relationship between the afflicted. The same strain of blood appears to flow in the veins of all. A ma jority of the lepers were born in Tracadie. They all come from within a circle of seventy miles. Under SisterSt. John's superision an accurate re ord of the inmate has been kept. There is no prior record on file. Since 1868 the Sisters' record show that fifty-eight out of ninety have died. A daughter, twenty-four years fingers are drawn up like the claws of a dead bird, has inherited the scourge from the mother, and is now in the institution. Singular as it may seem, the lepers are abject to attacks from ordinary diseases. There have been deaths from jaundice and typhus fever. In some cases the skin is dry and clean, and in others it is covered with ulcers. Those afflicted with ulcers live the longest. Damp weather has a damaging effect. The patients are very feverish, and complain of rheumatic pains. They have fits of drowsiness, and sleep for

They are peculiarly sensitive. We were warned against using the word leprosy with-in their hearing. They speak of it as the "disease." A more distressing case occurred two months ago. The death spots appeared on the mother of four little children. The spots repeatedly talked with her, and she was finally induced to part with her this band and enter the living tomb. Her parting with her children was very affecting, and to this day the father's ears hear cries of "Mamma, mamma!" The family is isolated, the children have no playmates, and the heighbors shun the place as though it was the nest, of a nestlience.

The disease is said to be contagious, but we could learn of no well authenticated in stance of contagion. None of the sisters have allown the least symptoms of leprosy, although two have waited upon the patients for fourfeen years. In we should the well-was allowed. The native families of French descent seem to be satisfied it is contagious. They gaze at the lazaretto from the outside and very few pay it a visit.

The victims of the disease are at first visited by their near relatives, but as the seasons roll on the visits are less frequent, and at last cease altogether. Husbands forget their wives, mothers forget their children, and vice versa. Not long ago a poor boy of 19 broke out of the lazaretto at night, and walked twenty-five miles to see his mother. He remained home a few hours and returned with a less aching heart.

The sport provided by the jockey club was of the first order, the meeting was well conducted and the crack flyers of Canada were among the starters. The weather yesterday was cool and pleasant, but the dust of the Kingston road flew into the eyes and ears of the sports en route to the track with all its old sports en route to the track with all its old time vigor. As has been remarked before, one of the best incentives to successful amusements of all kinds is cheap and com-fortable transit. The tramway of the Kingston road is a failure as regards these points. People who do not care about going to the expense of hir ing a cab run desperate chances in trying to get to the course in any sort of reasonable time and

The two events of yesterday's program was a surprise party to the alleged "knowing" ones and many a sport who thought he could just name the winner of either raca was terribly surprised after the first race was terribly surprised after the first heat: Fides in the taree minute class and Phyllis in the 2.26 class had it all their own way and their drivers drove under the wire in a jog in each heat. The Russian Spy was put down for a sure winner in the 26, and before the start he was backed against the field at 5 to 10. With Johnnie Gillespie befield at 5 to 10. With Johnnie Gillespie behind him the Spy's stock was away up until after the first heat, when the betting was, with Phyllis barred, Spy still against the field. Fides showed such speed in the first heat of the 3 minute class that the little chestnut son of Gen. Staunton was looked upon as a sure winner. Fides is just 6 years old and is the property of Mr. the city yesterday from Montreal, where she is owned, and went straight from the boat to the track, where she brought up just before the first heat was trotted. did not seem to have much notice taken of her until she showed herself in the of her until she snowed hers if in the hirst heat, and left Beamish and Spy behind her with ease to fight for second place. The judges enforced the best of discipline with the drivers and the heats followed the races are the same, $750, divided as follows: 1st, $350; 2d, $200; 3d, $125; 4th, $75.

THREE MINUTE CLASS. THREE MINUTE CLASS.

This brought out a field of five horses, with Canadian Girl and McCleary scratched. After considerable scoring the horses got away well together, and Fides at once went slightly to the front, but was soon passed by Marsh Clark and O. T. A. The two lead ers trotted a good gait along the back stretch and around the top, but coming to the draw-gates Fides pulled ahead of them and trotted down the stretch with ease, winning the heat in a jog by a length and a half, Maud Clarn. 2d, O. T. A. 3d, Lady G. 4th, and Capt. Edis shut out.

Second Heat—In this heat O. T. A. and Marsh did considerable running, while

mile. O. T. A. and M rsh were 2d and 3d, but both were set back for running, and Lady G. was given 2d place. As in the first heat Fides won as he liked and at times there was a very lengthy gap between him and the second horse. Time 2.324.

Third Heat—0. T. A. trotted a good heat with Fides and for over half a mile he kept at the wheels of the chestnut's sulkey.
This was the best heat of the race, but O.
T. A. could not keep up the the pace with the St. Catharines' trotter and the latter won the heat and race in 39 in a jog.

In the 3rd heat the Spy did some excellent trotting from the quarter mile pole to the head of the stretch, and Beamish in the same heat made, a desperate effort to come up with the Spy coming down home, but even under a good application of the whip the General could not cope with the Spy. THE CHICAGO FIZZLE.

The Eagan-Warwich foot race which was time, the slim attendance could in all reasonableness be attributed to the unfavorable and threatening weather and the annoyance of postponement. It is to be hoped however that the gentlemen of the jockey club will see their way clear to have a September meeting, when their efforts to provide good, honest turf sport will meet under the scratch. Previous to the race Warwick in a trial strained himself. The crowd got it into their heads that the Toronto man was afraid to start, and became enraged at him. following it up with several threats, till he was finally forced to leave the grounds. The money is still in the stakeholders hands waiting for the race to be run. Warwick arrived home on Saturday night.

This part of the line viz, from Portage la Prairie to Flat Creek, suffered considerably from the spring flood. The bridgeat Brandon was not built sufficiently high and the water flowed over the floor of the b idge. The piers were a good deal damaged and are to be rebuilt and raised above flood water. A large number of culverts were washed out, and are being replaced by pile structures, leaving sufficient placed by pile structures, leaving sufficient water-ways to prevent, it is hoped, future difficulty. The men are remarkably healthy, On Sunday last this place was the scene of an all-day rumpus. The rooms were filled with people more or less intoxicated who track into very fair shape, and ballast trains are at work at the places where they are most required. At every siding a fair-sized station building is being constructed, water tanks put up, and the needful appliances provided for carrying traffic as soon as it is possible to do so. Telegraph builders are also busily at work erecting poles and stringing the wire.

THE FUEL AND WATER SUPPLY.

"There does not appear to be any difficulty in procuring a reasonably good supply of water. Fuel and building material will be the greatest difficulties, and if the country is to be successfully settled by a large population, it is indispensably necessary that the railway company should make arrangements for establishing depots of fuel to be sold at moderate prices at every station, and also supplies of lumber. At the present prices at which both coal and lumber are sold in Manitoba, great difficulties must arise. The opening of the railway to Thunder Bay, if moderate railway to Thunder Bay, if moderate to very greatly reduce the prices at which both coal and lumber are sold. If this is done, the whole question of settlement is solved. If not the greatest possible difficulties and dangers will arise.

In Toronto they have an eccentric clergyn named Wild, who rejoic s in the title of doctor divinity conferred by some obscure American clarge. overpressing heat. The populace of the queen city divided itself up into many squads and wended its way in many directions. The boats were eagerly sought and up to 4 o'clock this morning the streets were filled with people coming in from the dry's jaunt.

AMUSEMENTS THEATRICAL.

The Grand opera house attracted two large audiences yesterday, when the Juvenile Pinafore company gave two very nice renditions of this lasting popular opera. The caste was taken principally by young people. The petite Ella Lewis as Little Buttercup charmed the good-sized audience, as did also Miss Esther Stanley as Josephine. Frank S. Cluett as Sir Joseph, D. H. Paxton as Captain Corcoran and W. J. Dill as Ralph Rackstraw were well rendered. The performrnce as a whole was a success. Tomorrow night the company appears in Harmitten and thorough an organization. At least four and storough an organization. At least four and storough an organization. The actual tracklaying is done with marvellous rapidity, and under the most perfect sysem of well organized labor brings out the most remarkable results ever seen upon railway construction. In sixten days 50½ miles of track were laid, being an average of honest enquirer after the gold of saving truth, if such be found there, generally gets nothing from his teaching but dross. foreman assured me that he would not be satisfied until he had succeeded in laying five miles in one day, and that he had no doubt of doing so. tributions of his employers of their hireling shepherd, the base coin he will reject. In a discourse some months ago, he intimated that death was such a desirable event that when he died he would provide in his will when he died he would provide in his will that on the day of his funeral there should be an extra good dinner to his friends, and that a brass band of music should accompany his corpse to the cemetery!

It is evident that the Dr. assumed that he was then going to glory when he was going to corruption which follows death, while glory only follows resurrection, "when Christ who is our life shall appear," Colossians III. 4.

Death in the true sense of the word

Death in the true sense of the word is an evil being, "the wages of sin." A pious King, Hezekiah, when notified by Isaiah the prophet that he was about to dir, wept sore, and prayed to God for an extension of his life. The answer was, "I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears; behold I will add unto thy days fifteen years." The Apostle Paul had a valued companion, named Eraphroditus. carrying valued companion, named Epaphroditus to do so. who was sick nigh unto death, but in one of his Epistles he expressed his joy that "God had mercy on him" having restored him again to health and usefulness in the service of Christ.

How different then are the religious opinions of Dr. Wild when contrasted with the lessons taught both in the Old and New Testaments concerning death, and this diversity marks the greater part of his teaching. It is written for us all, "If the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness," And "If the blind lead the blind both shall fall into the ditch. A FRIEND OF WHAT IS TRUE.

CATARRH-

Which is not a patent medicine or advertising doctors' humbug, but an honest remedy, discovered by an English Physician of forty years standing, and which absolutely cures this hitherto incurable disease in from one to three treatments, no matter whether standing one year or forty years.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Catarrh is a muco-puratent uscharge caused by the presence and development of the vegetable parasite amoeba in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favourable circumstances, and these are: morbid state of the blood, as the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, texcemea, from retention of the effeted matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back part of the mouth, causing ulceration of the throat; up the eustachian tubes, causing deafness; burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

A great variety of symptoms are present in this affection, which are modified by the specific poison which gives rise to it, to wit:—tubercle, syphilis, mercury, suppressed function of the skin and toxcemea generally, but they consist chiefly of languor, lassitude, debility, mal-assimilation, derangement of secretions, great depression of the nervous system, with or without fever; aching; a bruised or beat feeling all over; shivering; confused feelings in the head; cerebral disturbance.

The want of proper respiratory function of the skin and the locar pressure of the parasite give rise to coryza, tonsilitis, sneezing, a sense of fullness, stuffing of the passages, soreness in swallowing, irritative cough, tightness of chest, dry or moist rales, hemorrhages.

give rise to coryza, tonsilitis, sneezing, a sense of fullness, stuffing of the passages, soreness in swailowing, irritative cough, tightness of chest, dry or moist rales, hemorrhages.

There may be a discharge quite heavyt if the parasite causes great nervous irritation, which promotes secretion. It may be dry if the analtiplication and duplication of the parasite is active. The increased pungent odor of oceana is never present until the spores or roots of the germ penetrate to the cartilages of the nose, then the parasitical formation makes rapid ingoals into the healthy structure of the nose.

Catarrh is usually met in three stages. Pirst—A simple parasitical development of the internal lining membrane of the nose, with or without a discharge. Second—Where the roots or spores of the anneab have venetrated to the bone or cartilages ozcena. Third—Where the parasite has spread and pro vagated by millions in the nose, posterior nares, up the custachian tubes, down the fauces, vocal cords and bronchi, causing excessive parasitical deteration and destruction of tissue, the parasite usurping the normal structure.

The mode of propagation is by contagion, or infection, or both—hence its prevalence in families, districts, etc. The parasite develops itself rapidly, so much so that millions are elaborated in a short space of time. The effect of this formation upon the nervous system is to impair vital force, produce general nervous irritation, a depreciation of the vasomotor nerves. Cold in itself cannot produce Catarrh, it simply produces an irritation, a field for the propagation of the parasite. A large percentage of our population are affected with Catarrh, and its effects are not only ulceration and destruction, with pungent fetid odor, loss of the nasal bone, ulceration of fauces and throat, destruction of the larynx with loss of voice, a usurpation of the bronchial macus membrane, a filling up of the air vesicles with the germ parasite, but bronchial or pulmonary consumption and death. The vegetable parasite is

This we are enabled to do in from one to three applications where the bone is not affected, but where the bone is affected a second of third extra treatment may be required. We state, in all confidence, to the public that we believe ourselves able to cure every case of Catarrh that is presented to us, whether standing one year or forty years. This is proved by the success that has attended our treatment thus far.

We have certificates of cures, many of them in cases of very long standing, that had baffled all the preparations of the day, as well as the medical profession; and we have never yet failed to give every satisfaction in a single case. Every attention is given to patients, and we spare no trouble in cases of very long standing.

The remedy and apparatus, which is so simple that a child can readily understand it, is furnished to the patient, and the treatment can be applied without loss of time or interference with occupation.

To those who are suffering from deafness caused by catarrh, we would say that the above treatment has been successful in restoring the hearing in a great number of cases, where the patient was almost entirely deaf.

Our experience for the past eighteen years demonstrates beyond a doubt that the greater majority of cases, no matter whether standing for one year or forty years, are permanently cured by one treatment—cures effected over a year ago being cures still. A very small percentage of cases require a second treatment, and a third is not necessary in more than two

The most offensive odour, hoarseness, loss of voice, headaches, languor, weak eyes, etc.

The most offensive odour, hoarseness, loss of voice, headaches, languor, weak eyes, etc., caused by Catarrh, are removed by one treatment.

Sufferers are particularly requested not to confound our remedy with patent medicines, quack, or advertising doctors nostrums—it is neither—but an honest cure for Catarrh, as thousands who have been cured can testify.

We have been offered heavy inducements by numerous patent medicine dealers to allow them to sell our remedy to Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, as there is an extensive enquiry for it from all parts of the country. But after giving their propositions our serious consideration we have come to the conclusion that we cannot do this, there being so many different stages of Caterrh, the remedy must be prepared expressly for young, male and female, all require different treatment, and were we to place our remedy in the hands of the druggists we would be forced to prepare it all alike, in which case it would fail continually in effecting a cure, and the consequences would be that our remedy humbugs now on the market

N.B.—As we wish to avoid the very appearance of quackery, we do not publish a long list of certificates of cures, such being the system employed by quacks, and dealers in all hinds of nostrums, but prefer that the remedy shall stand upon i's merits. At the same time we think that the public are entitled to references as to our reliability and integrity before forwarding their money for the remedy, and we submit the following well known names of Toronto (Canada) business men:—Wm. Norris & Son, Wholesale Piano Dealers; E. H. Talinadge & Co., Wholesale Druggists; Hunter & Co., Wholesale Picture Dealers; Taylor, & Wilson, Cigar Manufacturers; Stuart W. Johnston, Retail Druggist.

In writing to either of the above, a stamped directed envelope should be enclosed to The following letters are samples of many received by us, and which go to show that,

TORONTO, Dec. 27, 1881. Mr. A. H. Dixon: Mr. A. H. Dixon, No. 307 King St., West.

DEAR SIR,—As you asked me to write and report my condition after using your remedy for catarrh, I would say that I have had a very satisfactory experience with your treatment. As I informed you when I first called, mine was a very aggravated case of over ten year's duration, the discharge and odour being something frightful, so much so that I was obliged at times to isolate myself from society. I have placed myself at different times under the treatment of five different eminent English physicians and specialists in the Old Country, and after a treatment of greater or less length they pronounced me incurable. I certainly never received a particle of benefit from any quarter until I tried your treatment, three weeks after commencing which, I was entirely rid of my catarrh, and am now a sound man. Your cure is a perfect boon to sufferers from this chronic complaint, and I do not think that you will ever meet a case that you cannot cure. I shall shortly call on you to make arrangements to send some of your remedy to a near friend in Scotland who is suffering similarly.

Yours very truly,

I. M. NICHOLSON, Mr. A. H. Dixon, No. 307 King St., West. DEAR SIR, -I deem it my duty, in the interest of those who are suffering from catarrh, to state that I suffered from this dreadful disease in a very aggravated form for a period of fifteen years. I was under the treatment of (here comes the name of a prominent specialist and physician, which, for obvious reasons, is omitted) for a year, he having guaranteed me a guaranteed without for obvious reasons, is omitted) for a year, he having guaranteed me a cure, without deriving the slightest benefit. I have also tried other treatments with a similar result, and which had the effect of thoroughly discouraging me. Finally, hearing that you had a cure for this disease, I called on you, and was treated by your method on the 7th of November, 1880, and in ten days there after I was completely cured by one treatof November, 1880, and in ten days thereafter I was completely cured by one treatment, and I have had no return of the disease since that time; which is now over a treatment on myself, I am satisfied that yours is the only treatment for catarrh which will effect a permanent cure.

THOROLD, Nov. 1, 1881. A. H. Dixon, Esq., Toronto:

SIR,—I have great pleasure in informing you that after one treatment of your catarrh remedy, I am entirely recovered. I suffered from the disease for over three years, and during the last few months the catarrh was most aggravated. In fact, I scarcely had my handkerchief out of use for a moment. It is now six months since I was cured, and there is no return of the complaint. I regard my recovery as a wonderful one.

I remain, yours truly. I remain, yours truly,
