NOTE AND COMMENT

For the first time in the history of the Methodist church the million mark was passed in givings to missions.

There was less need of radical up-lifters in the old days when dad lifted the boys at frequent intervals with a barrel stave.

The Bridgeport Herald says: "Owing to the lack of space this week several births and deaths will be postponed until next week." The power of the press again.—Orillia Packet.

The Bell Telephone Company is asking permission to raise its rates. Well, it certainly must be expensive for them to give customers all those wrong numbers free of charge.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

The automobile wind-shield cleaner has arrived, and is on the market, which will probably add to the comfort, ease and enjoyment of the motor car driver. But what he is scanning the well-known horizon of invention for is the self-changing spare tire.

Abraham Lincoln said: "I do not know much about tariff, but I do know that if I buy $20 worth of goods in a foreign country, the foreigner will have my money and I will have the goods; but if I buy $20 worth of goods in my own country I will have the goods and the money will remain in my own country."

The Department of Agriculture is endeavoring to arrange with the United States to have an embargo on corn removed for a certain time so that local corn growers could exhibit their corn at the Corn, Hay and Grain exhibition which is being held in Chicago from November 26th to December 3rd.

About the only "party" papers left in Ontario are the city dailies. The rural papers are not saying a word—a great contrast with their attitude of half a decade ago. In five years the country newspaper has graduated from a Grit or Tory back into real business. Campaign stuff that used to fill editorial columns is now published at the regular rates.

Corn that grew in Tennessee possibly before Joseph put away his 7 years' supply in Egypt, was unearthed recently by the Bureau of American Ethnology in Davidson County. The corn was found in stone slab graves and is the same type of Indian corn that occurs in the West Indies which leads the scientists to believe there was a very early communication between the West Indies and North America.

Every elector should make certain that he or she is on the list for voting on December 6th. The law in brief, is that every person, male or female, of the age of 21 years, a British Subject, and who has resided in the polling sub-division for two months previous to the day of polling, and who has resided in Canada one year, and not otherwise disqualified, will have a vote. The one sure way to be on the list is to get on, and be positive that you are on at the time of registration, which will take place shortly. Don't take it for granted. Be sure about it.

It is announced by the Citizen's Liberty League for moderation that they have received a total of 186,000 signatures to their petition to the premier of the province asking the Ontario Act be amended to embrace a system of Government control for the sale of spirituous liquors and for permission to purchase beers and wines under a system to be devised by the Government, and that a referendum be held on the direct question of Government control. The petition will be kept in circulation month by month until 500,000 signatures have been received.

The new system of insurance on parcels sent through the mails is now in effect. For the sum of three cents, in addition to the regular postage, the persons sending a parcel may insure it to the value of $5. There is a graduating scale for persons wishing to insure for more than this amount. There will be no registration for such parcels. The plan is much cheaper, and will probably be just as effective. If a person living on a rural route wishes to insure a parcel he will hand it to the courier, and if the necessary stamps are attached will be given a receipt. The courier will also get a receipt from the postmaster, which will be delivered to the person sending the parcel.

The people of Ontario are to be given an opportunity to loan their savings to the Ontario Government. It was announced Tuesday that the Government had given approval to the scheme by which the Province will open sub-treasury branches at central points for the purpose of accepting deposits from the public, probably at four per cent. interest. This action was taken under the legislation of last session. The sub-treasury branches will be under the administration of Hon. Peter Smith and will probably be opened in half a dozen places as a starter and at other points from time to time as circumstances seem to require.

It looks very much as if the United States would have a general railroad strike on its hands on October 30th, and in the event of this the Federal Government is preparing to man and run the railroads in an effort to break the strike if it occurs. Efforts are being made through President Harding to avoid the nation-wide strike, with the business catastrophe it is bound to entail, and he is considering a series of recommendations of action in the railroad crisis, which are reported to include a reduction of freight rates to offset the wage reductions against which the rail unions are protesting. Immediate reduction in passenger fares is bound to be put into force soon.

"Fifty-two years ago, the year I came to Canada," remarked Mr. T. Nott the other day in conversation with the News-Record, "winter set in on October 18th. The snow was piled high over the fences all winter and spring work did not commence until about April 20th the following year." That seemed rather discouraging to young settlers, no doubt. On making some such remark to Mr. Nott and suggesting that he must have felt like getting out of the country his reply was "Oh, we had no money to take us anywhere else. We were glad to be able to hold on." And so many of the settlers did "hold on", in the face of discouragements until they made this country what it is today. This country owes a mighty debt to the men and women who turned its forests into smiling farms.—Clinton News-Record.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a tonic and Blood Purifier, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

The effect of the war is clearly seen in the recently issued census figures of Great Britain for the 10 years ending June 1921, writes Harrison Watson, Canadian Trade Commissioner for London, in the trade and commerce bulletin. The decennial increase was the lowest recorded since 1831. The population for Great Britain is 42,767,530. No census was taken in Ireland, owing to disturbed conditions, but the estimated figures bring the population of the British Isles up to 47,000,000.

To war is also attributable the increase in the number of females over males. The population of Great Britain in June was made up of 20,430,623 males and 22,336,907 females, a female surplus of nearly 2,000,000, the proportion having risen from 1,068 per thousand males in 1911 to 1,095 in 1921. The preponderance is greatest in England, with 1,101 females to every 1,000 males. The population of Greater London is now 7,476,168, showing in 10 years an increase of only 200,000. An actual decrease is shown in the area administered by the London County Council, from 4,521,685, in 1911, to 4,483,249 in 1921. This condition is attributable to a considerable extent, says the Trade Commissioner, to the growing tendency of people to move out of cities into suburban areas. Six cities of 100,000 population or more, of which the largest, Westham, possesses 300,905, are really suburbs of London.

The Vital Issue

"What we have to decide is this—Are we going to continue the protective system of this country or are we not? That is the question and that is the whole question. And the great, big, necessary thing is that every voter in this country from the Yukon to Halifax knows that this is the question he or she is deciding when he or she votes in this great contest."

—ARTHUR MEIGHEN

THE vital issue in the coming election—in fact, the only issue—is the Tariff, and to every clear thinking Canadian it should be readily apparent that a Protective Fiscal Policy is absolutely essential to stability, progress and development.

Every important country in the world upholds Protection as an essential economic principle. Even Great Britain—so long the stronghold of Free Trade—has now adopted laws that constitute Protection of the most effective kind. In fact, the present policy among most nations is towards raising their tariff walls, not lowering them. In the face of these facts it would be suicidal for Canada to do exactly the reverse and discard the fiscal system which has been responsible for its progress during the past forty-three years.

Free Trade would mean death to Canadian Industry. It would also result in the immediate closing down of Canadian plants of foreign firms, with consequent additional unemployment. There are to-day 650 American factories alone in Canada. Similar proposed ventures would be abandoned. New capital would refuse to come to a Country lacking adequate protection and present industrial enterprise would be promptly strangled by foreign competition.

The preservation of the home market by a Reasonable Protective Tariff is vital to both city dweller and agrarian alike—now as never before. More capital is urgently needed for the development of Canada's enormous resources, which will result in a lessening of unemployment and an increased population. More work and more workers will produce an enlarged home market for products of both city and farm, and the exodus of Canadian men and women—and the dollars they earn—will be precluded.

The United States has slammed her trade door in the face of Canadian farmers by adopting the Fordney Bill, and the farmer is consequently now even more dependent upon the home market than in the past.

Yet Crerar asks you to destroy that home market by voting for Free Trade.

King's policy—if he has one—will result in the destruction of the Tariff.

Meighen stands four square for Reasonable Protection—Protection for all the people—and asks for an overwhelming mandate to give both industry and agriculture that assurance which will spell prosperity for all. Individual prosperity depends upon National prosperity. Your personal interests and Canada's very existence hang upon your vote.

Your Profits?

IT'S ASTOUNDING how some folks'll let a habit run away with their profits. Take right now, for instance, when produce is cheap and every nickel counts, you keep on hauling in the most expensive way. You've got into the habit of doing it with horses, when a Ford One-Ton Truck would do it at half the cost, or less.
Maybe you feel that you can't afford to pay spot cash for a Ford truck. You don't have to when you do business with us. You'll be in town on Saturday. Come in and let us talk it over

BANDITS ROB WYOMING BANK; CLEAN GET-AWAY

ROBBERS TAKE $12 000

Staff Compelled to Lie on Floor and Are Closed in Vault.

Wyoming, Ont., Oct. 20.—Four bandits, armed and masked, entered the local branch of the Bank of Toronto here this afternoon and escaped with $12,000 in bills and silver. They escaped in a large high-powered McLaughlin automobile with yellow wheels, in which a fifth member of the gang had remained while the bank was being rifled. The four men entered the bank just at 3 o'clock and locked it behind them.

The first of the quartette made his way to the teller's cage and asked for change for a five-dollar bill. While he was being given the change a second man made his way into the manager's office with a gun in his hand and as he stepped through the doorway he pulled a red bandana handkerchief up across the lower part of his face. He ordered the manager, Harry E. Lambert, and a customer, A. McKay, to get down on the floor. Mr. McKay attempted to remonstrate and was pushed roughly from his chair to the floor.

Ronald Brown, junior in the bank, was the only member of the staff who had an intimation of the robbery. He saw the four men approaching and became suspicious. As they entered the bank he made his way out through the rear door with a revolver and attempted to arouse the citizens to the fact that the bank was being robbed, but although the bandits were in the building some ten minutes no attempt was made to stop them as the citizens of the town who were on the street believed that he was joking.

Forced to Open Safe

After Mr. Lambert and Mr. McKay had been forced to lie down on the floor the men passed through into the main part of the bank. The teller, E. S. Taylor, was forced to open his cage and it was thoroughly rifled, and he and Miss Vera McIntosh, ledger-keeper, were made to lie down on the floor.

The men then turned their attention to the safe and finding it locked, made the manager open it for them. It was here that they obtained the major part of their haul. When the robbers had satisfied themselves, quite leisurely, that they had made a thorough job, they made the manager and staff go into the vault and then closed the door on them.

They did not turn the combination of the outside door. The men made practically no noise. Miss Pearl Daitry, a customer in the bank, stated she had just made a deposit for the post office when the bandits came in. She was told to sit down and keep quiet. All she heard the men say while they were in the bank was "Hurry", several times, and "Open that door or I'll plug you" to the manager.

The four bandits left the bank by the back door and made their way to a side street about 100 yards north of the building, where the fifth member of the gang had the car running. It had started to move when the last of the four bandits climbed in.

Fired Several Shots

Ronald Brown, who had attempted to arouse the town as to what was taking place, took several shots at the men as they drove off. Two of his shots went through the side curtains of the car, but whether any of the men were hit is not known. He shot at one of the men just before he entered the car and he fell, but whether he was hit or only stumbled is also unknown. Brown was the only one who really had a good look at the four men who entered the bank. He declared that they were all short and had the appearance of foreigners. He told the Canadian Press correspondent that he was almost certain he would be able to identify them. Mr. Lambert did not see the face of the man who ordered him and Mr. McKay to get down on the floor. He believed, however, that if the man was dressed the same he would be able to identify him.

The men went toward Watford when they left Wyoming, and it was reported that they turned down on the twelfth sideroad. A number of automobiles loaded with armed men left in pursuit of the bandits, but were unable to catch sight of them.

Four men in a car of the same description as that used by the bank robbers were in Watford earlier in the day for some time. They purchased tire chains and a wind-shield cleaner at local garages. Their car was also helped out of a mud hole on the Main road by James Gavigan, Ed. Moffatt and others. There is a belief that the car which the men were using may have been the same one that was stolen from the garage of Mr. Wright at Thorndale on Wednesday night. Both cars were new ones and both the same model. It was impossible to get the number of the car used by the men here, as it had been liberally splattered with mud.

Immediately the bank employees had liberated themselves from the vault the police of all surrounding cities and towns were notified and a strict watch is being kept for both the men and the car.

It is supposed by the Provincial police that the Murrell brothers, the escaped Melbourne bank robbers, headed the gangsters. It is thought that the Murrells, if they had been in hiding, had obtained some new pals, and had taken one great chance to get away. The Murrells and their friends know the whole district around London, and it was stated last night that when the Melbourne robbery, which ended so disastrously, was planned, Wyoming was also down on the list for a raid.

Pals of the Murrells in other crimes may have been with them in the raid on the Bank of Toronto at Wyoming.

The man who had the hankerchief about his mouth, and prodded Manager Lambert with his revolver, may have been one of the Murrells.

Men who were waiting trial for bank robbery and murder, and facing the gallows, were sure to be desperate men, according to the police. They were desperate men at Wyoming and spoke good English.

As soon as the word was received at Watford Chief Elliot and Mr. T. Roche headed a search party but did not come in sight of the bandits, although they believe followed not far behind for a time.

If you think there's nothing in patriotism, just try to knock a man's home town! It's a fine way to start a fight. The folks at home are big folks to you. Read about them in Your Home Town Paper.

BURGLARS ACTIVE IN STRATHROY STORES

Strathroy, Oct. 24.—The grocery store of Herbert C. Jay was robbed of a quantity of groceries and an attempt was made to rob the clothing store of A. P. Malone, Front street, here, some time on Sunday night or early morning.

Entrance was gained to the corner grocery of Mr. Jay by breaking a pane of glass in the front door of the store. A considerable quantity of groceries was taken and every drawer in the establishment was ransacked by the thief or thieves. The only money in the store was about 100 coppers in a paper bag which was disdained by the thieves.

A hole was bored through the door beside the lock at the Malone store and a second one had been started when the men were evidently frightened away. A small round file was left in the doorway in the hurried departure.

Chief of Police A. E. Wilson is working on the cases.

A DESIRE TO EAT WHAT YOU WANT

Stomachs Can be Restored to a Healthy Condition.

Not to be limited in diet, but to eat whatever he pleases is the dream of every dyspeptic. No one can honestly promise to restore any stomach to this happy condition, because all people cannot eat the same things with equally satisfactory results. But it is possible to so tone up the digestive organs that a pleasing diet may be selected from articles of food that cause no discomfort.

When the stomach lacks tone there is no quicker way to restore it than to build up the blood. Good digestion without rich, red blood is impossible, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer the best way to enrich the blood. For this reason these pills are especially good in stomach trouble attended by thin blood, and in attacks of nervous dyspepsia. Proof of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of indigestion is given by Mr. John A. McDonald, Tarbot, N.S., who says: "Every sufferer from indigestion has my heartfelt sympathy, as I was once myself a bond slave to it. Eating at all became a trial, and as time went on I became a mere skeleton of my former self. I took all sorts of recommended medicines, doctors' and advertised, but to no avail. Then a friend said to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got a box and I thought before they were done I could feel a change. Then I got six boxes more, and by the time they were used I was eating my meals with regularity and enjoyment. My general health is now good, and it is no wonder that I am an enthusiastic advocate of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GEORGE H. COWAN, K. C., IS TEMPORARILY OUT OF POLITICS

The gentleman referred to in the following item from the Vancouver Sun is a former Warwick boy being the brother of Mr. Isaac J. Cowan, sixth line.

"In the storm and stress of the general election campaign the government party will miss one staunch fighter in Vancouver in Mr. George H. Cowan, K.C., for years a member of the House for Vancouver, and always active in public affairs.

"Mr. Cowan underwent a serious operation at the Vancouver General Hospital Saturday. The operation followed a consultation of physicians. Dr. A. P. Proctor, Dr. R. E. MeKechnie and Dr. Harwood are in attendance.

"Reports last night from the hospital were reassuring to the family and friends of Mr. Cowan. He is still a very sick man, however.

Mr. Cowan's name was mentioned in well informed circles in connection with the vacant senatorship in British Columbia. While he had never pressed his own claims for the appointment, friends of all parties urged his name upon Premier Meighen and his cabinet."

HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK

November 7th to 12th

The week of November 7th to 12th has been set aside all over the North American continent for the publishers of the Home Town Weekly Newspapers to do a little boosting for their own business. The Home Weeklies are continually doing their best to promote the interests of the entire community in which they circulate, but very seldom take the opportunity to give their own enterprise much publicity.

The Guide-Advocate is also setting this week aside as a special period for receiving subscriptions—both new and renewal. If you know of any one not receiving The Guide-Advocate every week, co-operate with us in securing their name on our mailing list for 1922. All new subscriptions received Armistice Week will be credited to December 31, 1922.

If you are already a subscriber—LOOK AT YOUR LABEL—the figures will tell you to what date your subscription is paid. As it would be an expensive undertaking to mail statements to all our subscribers, we take this method of calling upon our readers to examine their labels and remit by money order or cheque.

The fact that thousands of weekly newspapers have been forced out of existence in the past few years has brought the survivors to realize that all subscriptions must be paid in advance. Our year's supply of newspaper must be paid in advance, our wages, salaries, postage and operating expenses must all be met weekly and monthly.

We are constantly striving to make our home weekly better in every way and to render more service to our subscribers, advertisers and the general community. The past year has seen some great changes in our mechanical department. To do away with the old, hand-set method of typesetting we installed a new model Linotype, whereby we are able to give from twenty-five to thirty columns of good, live local news every week, which previously was an impossibility.

Whether you reside in the community or at some distant point you need The Guide-Advocate every week. You would not care to do without it. Co-operate with us in giving you a good newsy paper every week by forwarding your Two Dollars now—while it is in your mind.

THE GUIDE-ADVOCATE, WATFORD

Judging by the debates on church union which took place recently in the higher courts of the Anglican church, that church is standing just about where every church concerned stood more or less recently. In the first flutter caused by seriously thinking of union, we realize how dear to us are some of the rituals or traditions or forms of our own particular denominations. Can we give them up? That is the whole question in a nutshell. And until all denominations approach the question willing to sacrifice some of the things the loss of which will wring the heart there can be no union. That such a time will come no one doubts. And there are few people who underestimate the fact, the members of every denomination have their own struggle before they can see that the essentials alone really matter.—Parkhill Gazette.

THE LATE JOHN FISHER

The funeral of the late John Fisher, who died at the home of his son-in-law, Geo. Brodie, Blind line, on Oct. 11th, took place last Thursday. Interment in Beechwood cemetery. Rev. H. D. Cameron conducted the services. The bearers were: W. W. Anderson, D. D. Brodie, John Kernohan, Robert McLaren, Donald McLachlan and D. Whyte. Mr. Fisher was born in Harper, Lanark County, in November, 1844, and therefore was 77 years of age. He was married to Elizabeth Steele and came to Watford with his family nearly 35 years ago, settling on the 5th con., on the farm now owned by John Kernohan. There they continued to reside until the death of Mrs. Fisher nine years ago last April. He is survived by three sons and one daughter: Frank Fisher of Fleming, Sask.; John Fisher of Vancouver; Arch. Fisher of Lethbridge, Alta.; and Mrs. George Brodie, with whom he had made his home since the death of his other daughter, the late Mrs. D. P. Brodie, who died a few years ago. One little son died when very young. Archie Fisher of Sarnia, and Donald Fisher of Walkerville, are brothers of the deceased, and Mrs. A. F. Steele of Forest, is his sister. Two other sisters Mrs. Campbell of Ottawa; and Mrs. Anderson, of Perth, also survive. Mr. Fisher was an Elder of the Forest Presbyterian church for many years, and faithfully attended the services, while health permitted.

WYOMING BANDITS CAR FOUND

The R. T. Wright auto, stolen from Thorndale last Tuesday night, and suspected as being the machine in which the Wyoming bank robbers were travelling when they robbed the bank on Thursday last, has been found submerged in the Chippawa canal. This would indicate that the robbers, if they were driving this car headed for the Niagara frontier, and have safely crossed it by now.

Mr. Wright was notified from Chippawa Tuesday morning of the recovery of his car. A phone message from the Davidson & Williams Garage, Chippawa, informed him that the car has been discovered lying in the canal, completely covered by water. It was hauled out and found to be a complete wreck.

Before running the car into the river the bandits had changed the license plates, substituting plates stolen from a car of the Heintzman Piano Company in St. Catharines. The theory of Messrs. Davidson & Williams is that the thieves got across the Niagara River in a boat which met them by previous arrangement. The automobile was sent into the river with the throttle of her engine wide open and the ignition switch on. All the doors were wide open, indicating that the robbers had jumped out of the car after heading it for the river.

The clock was stopped at 2 o'clock probably 2 in the morning, after the robbery, as the St. Catharines license plates were stolen on Thursday night, the night of the robbery.

In the car a brown cap and a mackinaw coat, with a belt at the back, were found.

If you think there's nothing in patriotism, just try to knock a man's home town! It's a fine way to start a fight. The folks at home are big folks to you. Read about them in Your Home Town Paper.

PATTERSON-McVICAR

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Inwood by Rev. A. MacVicar on Monday, October 17th, when Jean Isabel MacVicar, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. MacVicar, became the bride of Mr. John A. Patterson, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, of Walkers, Ont.

GEORGE-LEITCH

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Manse, Kintore, on Wednesday, October 12th, when Emma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Leitch of that place, became the wife of Mr. Arthur George, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George George, Enniskillen Township. Rev. Leitch of the Kintore Presbyterian church, officiating. They were unattended. After the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding dinner was served. The bride's attire was navy blue silk dress and brown coat with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. George spent their honeymoon in Chatham, Wallaceburg and other points and will reside on the groom's farm, Cop. 10, Enniskillen Township.

LONSDALE-BARNES

Thursday afternoon at five o'clock at the Methodist Parsonage in Tilbury, Miss Bessie L. Barnes, second daughter of Prof. Charles H. Barnes of Jarvis St. Collegiate, Toronto, was united in marriage to Gordon J. Lonsdale, insurance underwriter, also of Toronto.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Kersey, B.A., who is a cousin of the bride. The young couple were accompanied to the marriage altar by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Scriven of Tilbury. The bride was attired in a blue travelling suit.

After the ceremony the party sat down to a daintily prepared dinner. Previous to leaving Toronto the couple had been showered by friends. Since both are active workers in the Sherbourne St. Methodist church of that city they had many good wishes expressed in presents, beautiful and useful. The Imperial Accident Insurance Co. staff remembered Mr. Lonsdale with a well filled purse, presented at the close of business hours last Saturday.

Friday the bride and groom left Tilbury to visit friends in Windsor, Detroit, Watford, and also Arkona, the early home of the bride's mother. They will return to Toronto where they intend to take up their abode at 125 Drayton ave.

LITTLE BELGIUM GROWS TIMBER

Belgium is one of the most thickly populated parts of the earth's surface. With a population of 652 persons per square mile it has (or had just before the war) about 18 per cent of its area under permanent forest, and this forest area was increasing, showing that the limit of what land it was deemed advisable to keep under forest had not been reached. Compare this with different parts of Canada. Manitoba has a population of a little more than two persons to the square mile and about two percent only is set aside as permanent forest reserves. Saskatchewan has about two and a half persons per square mile and about five percent only under permanent forest. Ontario with a population of six persons per square mile, also has only five percent of its area set aside as permanent forest. It will be seen from the above that thickly populated countries of Europe are setting aside a much larger proportion of land to grow timber than are communities on this continent, with immense areas and scant population. If such a course is wise in Europe with its expensive land it must be doubly wise in the Western Hemisphere, with its vast areas of cheap land, much of it unsuited to any other purpose than of growing timber.

LAMBTON RURAL DEANERY

On Tuesday, October 18th, the Deanery of Lambton was convened at Watford and proved to be a most successful and well attended gathering.

At 10.30 the proceedings began with a celebration of the Holy Communion the Rev. W. J. H. Pettey, rector of St. John's Church, Watford, and the Rev. C. G. Brown of Sombra officiating.

The latter clergyman also gave the devotional address which followed basing his remarks upon God's promise to Abraham "I will bless thee and thou shalt be a blessing." Gen. 12:3.

At the close of the service the members of the Women's Auxiliary, a large number of whom were present from all parts of the Deanery held their annual meeting for the election of officers and consideration of other matters connected with their organization.

The clergy and laity also opened the proceedings for which they had come together, in the Sunday School room. Rev. W. M. Shore, rector of Watford, presiding. Various matters of interest were discussed and reports made of the condition of the different churches in the Deanery.

At the afternoon session County Crown Attorney, F. W. Willson, of Sarnia, and Sheriff Johnston delivered earnest appeals on behalf of the Laymen's Association of the Deanery having reference particularly to the making up in full of the Diocesan Budget and the other apportionments and expenses of each parish. Committees were appointed for this purpose and arrangements made so that it is hoped in future there will be a unanimous and hearty response to the urgent needs of the executive.

At 4 p.m. Prof. Anderson, M.A., of Huron College, London, conducted a "Quiet Hour" of prayer and meditation.

A request was made by Rev. A. R. E. Garrott, rector of Forest, that the next meeting of the Deanery be held there and the kind invitation was accordingly accepted.

At the evening service in the church Rev. Prof. Anderson delivered a stirring address from Romans 8:9 "Now if any man have not the spirit of Christ he is none of His." The preacher dwelt upon the duty and the inestimable privilege of supporting missionary effort both at home and abroad, giving numerous instances of the success which had attended the work of Christ in India, China and Japan. He himself for 15 years had labored as a Missionary in India and thus could speak from personal knowledge of the needs and also of the progress that had been made.

A full choir led by Mrs. Hunt, organist and Mr. Chase, violinist, rendered a number of appropriate hymns in a very pleasing and competent manner.

The delegates were furnished in the Rectory with dinner and tea by the ladies of the church Parochial Society who with willing hands and generous provision made this part of the days' proceedings a very great success.

WHY WE DIE

Professor J. Arthur Thomson, of Aberdeen University, has just written a book—"The Control of Life"—in which he explains why we die. "Physiologically regarded," writes Professor Thomson, "the process of ageing is manifold. The bones become lighter and less resistant, and some of them break easily; the muscles become weaker and stiffer—hence the stoop; the nervous system becomes slower and less forceful and the heart less vigorous, the arteries are less elastic; the parts begin to fail to answer to one another's call, and then from hour to hour we rot and rot. Natural death is due to a mounting up of physiological debts—part of the bill is paid in every meal and in every night's rest, but the book is never cleared, and, in spite of holidays, which knock off arrears, there is always a growing balance against us." Death is inevitable, according to Professor Thomson, to whom, apparently, the art of life is to be young when you die. "Better than buttermilk is the cruse of the oil of joy," he says. "Preventive measures are desirable, but we need more positive rejuvenescence; we need more changes, more interests, fresh experiences, some adventures, more beauty, more joy. Thus we increase our chance of being young when we die."

PETER McARTHUR ON DAYS OF COLOR

Today the world is serenely colorful. Just as nature is beginning to cast her summer clothes into "the rag-bag of the world" she is giving them a dip in her dye-vats. Wherever one looks there are "hues of ashes and glints of glory." The stubbles and weeds give a dull foreground, broken here and there by the vivid green of wheat fields, but the forest trees are a marvel and a delight. There is an absence of the flaming scarlet that the maple sometimes shows, but green, yellow green, yellow, yellow red and red are blended into wonderful harmonies. Under the trees in the orchards there are piles of red apples, and in some fields there are golden pumpkins. Wherever one looks there is color and sunshine and beauty. The wind is from the south, and the only sound it carries, beyond its own murmur, is the brisk crowing of cockerels and the distant cawing of crows. Occasionally a belated fly dromes past and dull white butterflies beat with ineffectual wings. The whole world is serene enough to soothe even political passions. Possibly the men with teams who have stopped to talk on the side-road are discussing politics, but if so they are out of keeping with the picture. They should be discussing crops and other harvest home topics. Occasionally an automobile goes racing by and I feel like throwing an apple after it for disturbing us with its unmannerly haste. Presently the sun will go down in a haze of gold and mark the end of a perfect day.

THE FIND

It was a summer morning, Old Gaspar's work was done. (For workmen only toiled four hours in nineteen thirty-one). And by him sported on the green His little grandchild Geraldine.

She saw her brother Cyrus K. Dig something black and round From out a heap of broken bricks Which lay upon the ground. He came to ask what he had found, That was so shiny smooth and round.

Old Gaspar took it from the boy Who stood expectant by, And then the old man shook his head And heaved a mighty sigh.

"It is a bottle, dear," said he "From Lafatt's famous Brewery." "I often find them here," he said, Giving the cork a pull; "But," here he heaved another sigh, "I never find them full!

Our house is on the site, you see Of Lafatt's famous Brewery." "Now tell us all about it, please," Young Cyrus K. he cries, And little Geraldine looks up With wonder in her eyes.

"Yes, tell us Grandpa, why and how They never use such bottles now." "I do not know," old Gaspar sighed, "I only know the government Skipped all the sale of beer. And that is why, of course," said he They closed the famous Brewery."

"My father kept 'The Blenheim,' but As beer could not be had, And wine and whiskey, too, were barred.

Affairs got pretty bad; So with his wife and child he fled, And took to selling milk instead."

"They say it was a shocking sight When first the land went dry; And strong men wept, who n'er before Had been inclined to cry. "I wept myself, when first," said he "They closed this famous Brewery."

"The Temperance folk were greatly pleased, They had tried for many years." "Why, 'twas a wicked thing to do," Cried Cyrus K. in tears. "Nay, nay, my little lad," said he They love to close a Brewery."

"And many people praised them, too, But many thought it mean." "And, were you pleased, dear Grand-papa?" Asked little Geraldine. "Well, as to that, I wish," said he "This place was still a Brewery."

It has Many Qualities.—The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is armed against many ills. It will relieve a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, relieve the most persistent sores and will speedily head cuts and contusions. It is a medicine chest in itself, and can be got for a quarter of a dollar.

ROSE TO FAME THEN SANK TO OBSCURITY

The death has just taken place at Sheffield, Eng., of Mr. Joseph Jonas one-time Lord Mayor of the city, and for over fifty years one of her most enterprising citizens. The story of how Mr. Jonas rose to fame, and then sank to comparative obscurity, was one of the tragic incidents connected with the prosecution of the great war.

Mr. Jonas was a native of Bingen on the Rhine, but at the age of 21 he left his own country and reached Sheffield, where he engaged in the steel trade. His earliest start was confined to the employment of a couple of men, but the firm grew by leaps and bounds, and in 1892 was converted into a limited liability company, under the name of Jonas and Colver, Limited. Mr. Jonas, meanwhile, had engaged actively in civil life, and in 1906 he received the honor of knighthood when the late King Edward opened the new university buildings at Sheffield. Nobody in the great Yorkshire city of steel and cutlery was more respected and liked. His eclipse was as sudden as it was dramatic.

In the last year of the war he was prosecuted for disclosing to the enemy information prejudicial to the state. The information which he was alleged to have so furnished related to some rifle works which another British firm was establishing. The defence put forward was that the information was merely in answer to an ordinary trade inquiry; a verdict of acquittal was returned, and the presiding judge pointed out that the findings adjudged Jonas guiltless of any intention to offend against the interest or safety of the state. A heavy fine was inflicted, and in the course of a few weeks it was announced that the King had revoked his knighthood. His name was also removed from the Commission of Justices of the Peace. An attempt to obtain a revocation of his certificate of naturalization, granted over forty years previously, failed, the Home Office not being satisfied that he had shown himself disaffected or disloyal.

The great majority of people in the town of his adoption, where he had built up so great a business, showed the keenest sympathy with him, and referred to him as "Sir Joseph" to the end. For his own part, Mr. Jonas accepted his heavy punishment calmly, and was much cheered by the kindly feeling shown towards him.

AUTOMOBILE IMPARTS ADVICE

"Brighten up," says the Headlight. "Don't be a knocker," says the Cylinder. "Keep cool," says the Fan. "Don't blow too much," says the Horn. "Be a good mixer," says the Carburetor. "Avoid friction," says the Bearing. "Re-tire early," says the Casing. "Cut out the noise," says the Muffler. "Be a good fellow," says the Wheel. "A quick turnover is what counts," says the Crank. "One good turn deserves another" says the Connecting rod.

ADELAIDE COUPLE WEDDED 50 YEARS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleford of Adelaide village was the scene of a happy event Monday, October 17, when their children, grandchildren and nearest relatives assembled to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their wedding. After a wedding dinner was served the host and hostess were presented with a gold-headed cane and a gold-headed umbrella, set with pearls by their children, and dainty pieces of cut glass and a purse of gold from near relatives. An address was read by their son, George of St. Thomas, while the presentation was made by three granddaughters, Helen Kelley of London, Clara George of Glenora and Mary Edith Underday of Peterboro.

The afternoon and evening were spent in merriment and social intercourse.

There were present the following children and their families: Mr. and Mrs. George Cleford, St. Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Underday, Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. Charles George, Glenora; Mrs. John Bennett, Strathroy; and Mrs. Autin Kelley, London; also relatives from Toronto, Gananoque and Sarnia. Of 28 grandchildren living, 24 were present at the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleford have lived all their married life in Adelaide village, and are held in high esteem by their friends and neighbors throughout the township. At the age of 73 and 70 respectively, they are enjoying the best of health.

GLARING HEADLIGHTS CAUSE AUTO ACCIDENT

Sarnia, Oct. 24.—As the result of an automobile accident tonight, Mrs. W. H. Farris of 429 Palmerston street had her left arm broken, and was badly bruised, necessitating her admittance to the Sarnia Hospital. Mr. Farris himself was badly bruised as also was his daughter Helen, who with the 7-year-old son, Wilfred made up the party travelling in Mr. Farris' car. The party were proceeding to Forest between 8 and 9 o'clock when they met a large car coming from the opposite direction on the 10th line of Plympton Township. The lights of the approaching car were turned on full, and in the glare Mr. Farris was unable to see the road clearly, and just as the other car passed, at a great speed, his car struck the ditch and overturned. The party were pinned under the car with exception of the little boy, and Mr. Farris was rendered unconscious. The screams of the boy attracted attention from a nearby farmhouse, and help was soon forthcoming, and the car was lifted and the injured people extricated.

CLEARING OUT TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE

The accredited herd system put in operation two years ago by the Health of Animals Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has been well received by the stock men of the country. It is confined to pure bred cattle and is intended to rid as rapidly as possible the disease of tuberculosis from Canadian herds. Figures given out by the Veterinary Director General show that thirty-six herds had up to October 1, been fully accredited. The breeds represented are the Ayrshire, Holstein, Jersey, Shorthorn and Aberdeen Angus, the dairy breeds predominating. The accredited herds are widely distributed. Nova Scotia has 1; Quebec 9; Ontario 10; Manitoba 2; Saskatchewan 4 and British Columbia 10.

Besides the herds which have been fully accredited there are at present 558 herds which have been tested once or more in process of accreditation, and 54 herds awaiting the first test, making a total of 648 herds. As the herds in this lot fulfill the necessary conditions, they become fully accredited. The Inspectors of the Health of Animals Branch are making as rapid progress as is possible under the circumstances, taking into consideration the limited number of men engaged in the work and the great importance of doing the testing carefully and accurately rather than rapidly.

The reactors are always removed from the herd at once and usually are immediately slaughtered under veterinary supervision. Applications for tests have been coming in faster than they could be dealt with. A waiting list has therefore been formed and as soon as circumstances permit the herds in this list will be tested, taking them as far as possible in the order in which applications have been received.
