And now for municipal nominations, two weeks from Monday (November 30th). The political pot is already simmering. Perhaps it will boil over this year, after so many acclamations in recent years.

Municipal nominations will be held in the Music Hall on Monday evening, Nov. 30th, to fill the offices of Reeve and four Councillors, three members of the Board of Education and one member of the Public Utilities Commission.

Miss Florence Lovell accompanied by her friend, Miss Mary Sibley, of Alma College, spent the holiday at her home here. Miss Sibley is a missionary's daughter, born in China, where her parents have been stationed for over twenty years.

An Organ Recital and Concert will be held in St. Andrew's church, on Wednesday, Nov. 25th. The artists will include the quartette from St. Andrew's church, London, including Mrs. Eric Graham, who prior to her marriage was soprano soloist with this organization. The program will be given in detail in next issue.

Marked progress is being made in the construction of J. W. McConkey's new store. The structure is assuming a pleasing appearance, and when completed will set apart as one of the finest buildings on the street. The bricklayers have been held up for a few days by wet weather, but are completing their work in record time.

As there is a small bevy of quail in our neighborhood this fall, would you be asking too much of our sportsmen to let them live? They are, of course, protected by law, but all know how little that will save them from the unscrupulous gunman. We should feed and protect them as best we can, as to see them and hear their calls next summer would be ample reward.

Complaints have been voiced on the street during the past week or so that the time clock regulating the street lights should be advanced, as at present the streets lights are turned on nearly a half hour after darkness. Upon inquiry, the Utilities Commission points out that the present condition is only temporary and is certainly not due to negligence. At present our daily peak load period is between five and six o'clock in the evening, due to the large number of electric ranges adding to the regular load at this hour. As the entire month's service must be paid on the basis of the highest demand for current at any one time during that month, the Commission has been endeavoring to keep down our power bills in this way until, in the course of a few weeks, our peak period will change to some other hour.

Cards and Dancing in the Army, next Friday evening, November 20th.

The Women's Guild and the ladies of Trinity church congregation spent a social afternoon in the basement of the church on Monday, Nov. 2nd, in honor of Mrs. E. D. Swift, who has moved to London. Mrs. W. J. Howden, president of the Guild, presided, and Rev. J. H. Hosford, M.A., B.D., gave a short and forceful address in which he traced the history of the Guild in Watford from its organization, when Mrs. Swift had been one of the first members. She had always been an active member ever since and had taken her full share of responsibility. The society would miss her, the church would miss her and each department would be the poorer for her absence. Mrs. McGillicuddy then read a congratulatory address which stressed the friendly disposition of Mrs. Swift, she emphasized her willingness to help with her talent in art and her skill in developing artistic possibilities everywhere. Mrs. T. A. Adams presented Mrs. Swift with a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and the refreshment committee closed the afternoon with the serving of tea.

Mr. T. B. Taylor is recovering from recent illness.

Autumnal Weddings

TAYLOR—STANFORD

A pretty wedding took place Thursday afternoon, October 29th, at the Gospel Tabernacle, Brantford, when Eva Madeline, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Stanford, and James Kitchener Taylor, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Taylor, of Watford, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by Rev. E. G. Doner. The church was prettily decorated with mums and aspidistras. The bride was daintily gowned in honeydew crepe, with Gloria Swanson hat and wore a corsage bouquet of sunset roses. Miss Isabelle Jarvis sang very sweetly "O Perfect Love," with Mrs. C. Gardner presiding at the organ. Immediately after the signing of the register the bride and groom returned to the altar where the host of friends who waited throughout gathered to extend congratulations and bestow affectionate farewells. At 3:30 a taxi whirled them away to the C. N.R. station where confetti poured like rain, thence on to the home of the bridegroom's mother at Watford, for a brief honeymoon, before they go to Walkerville to reside. The great variety of beautiful gifts received testify to the high esteem in which they are held by a host of friends.

Baby's Own Tablets An Excellent Remedy

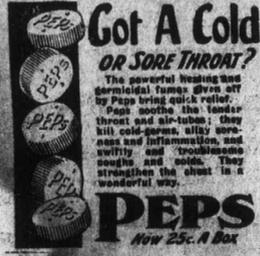

For Any of the Many Minor Ailments of Infants and Young Children

No mother can expect that her child will escape all the ills to which babyhood and childhood are subject, but she can do much to lessen their severity, and to make baby's battles for health easily won.

Nine-tenths of the minor ailments which afflict babyhood and childhood are caused by some derangement of the stomach and bowels. Regulate the stomach and bowels and these troubles will disappear. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which through their action on the stomach and bowels never fail to banish constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers; expel worms and make the dreaded teething time easy.

Concerning Baby's Own Tablets Mrs. A. Koshan, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "Kindly send me your booklet, 'Care of Baby in Health and Sickness.' I have two little children four and a half and three years old and have used nothing else for them but Baby's Own Tablets. I think the Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NERVES AND FAINTING SPELLS

Sarnia, Ontario.—"After my girl was born I was a wreck. My nerves were too terrible for words and I simply could not stand or walk without pains. I suffered with fainting spells until I was no longer any good for my household duties and had to take to my bed. The doctor said I should have an operation, but I was not in a fit condition at that time. My neighbor said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' I am sure it will do you good and will save those doctor's bills. So I was advised by my husband to try it after I told him about it. I am very thankful to say that I was soon able to take a few boarders for a while as rooms were scarce at that time. My baby is 17 months old now and I have not yet had an operation, thanks to your medicine. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to a few people. I know and have told them the good it has done me. I know I feel and look a different woman these last few months and I certainly would not be without a bottle of your medicine in the house. As I should be only too glad for those suffering as I have to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. ROBERT G. MACGREGOR, R. R. No. 2, Sarnia, Ontario.

A recent canvass of women users of the Vegetable Compound report 98 out of 100 received beneficial results. This is a remarkable proof of its merit.

History of the Cabbage.

Remarkable facts concerning the cabbage have been discovered by Prof. Ruggles Gates, the botanist.

It is stated that cabbages, kales, cauliflower, and brussels sprouts all originated in the wild cabbage, a native of the coast and the South of England. The cabbage as we know it was the first development of the wild plant, and from it came the cauliflower and the sprout.

Apparently there was no gradual development. It just happened spontaneously. In the case of the cauliflower there was an inflorescence, and the green flower turned to white and became succulent and fleshy, though not to the degree we know it to-day. As a food the cabbage is extremely valuable, because it contains lime and potash.

To be completely healthy people require roughage, coarse indigestible material, just as animals do. Cabbage furnishes roughage and supplies lime. It should be steamed, and not boiled or cooked in soup.

for through traffic, the town will suffer. Whether urban centres thrive or die, depends entirely on the calibre, the alertness and the business point of view of the people themselves, and not on whether concrete pavements make it easier to get to the cities to shop. The wide-awake place gets trade from its rivals, not because it is large or small, or is on a city highway, but because it has up-to-date and aggressive business men. It's the personal element that counts.

Gordon Richardson of Mt. Brydges, had his car badly damaged in an accident on Wednesday evening, Oct. 28th, while returning home from London. At the top of Delevare hill he went to pass a wagon ahead of him, when he was met by another car. In order to avoid the car he turned toward the wagon, with which he collided. His companion was quite badly bruised and cut by broken windshield glass, but Mr. Richardson luckily escaped with a bad shiner up.

On Hallowe'en a very jolly and happy evening was enjoyed by members and friends of the Young People's Club in the Anglican hall. The sight of the masqueraders, numbering over ninety, was a fascinating picture. Gypsies, fairies, brownies, flowers, early Victorians, clowns, witches, colored gentlemen, young men disguised as maidens, and maidens as youths, all costumes charming and false faces making it quite a task to judge who they were. The kiddies were well represented, with their masks and costumes and they especially along with the youths and maidens seemed to have a very jolly time. Music was provided by Mr. and Miss Moyle and Mr. Evan Denning and was much appreciated. Delicious candy was used around during the evening by Mrs. O. and Mrs. Chitick. The happy night was then brought to a close by singing "God Save the King."

About fifty young people of Kerwood enjoyed "the auto social" held under the auspices of the League on Tuesday evening. The program was opened by singing that wonderful hymn "A call for royal soldiers," followed by prayer, then the chairman's address in which he remarked of the spooky appearance of the rooms, decorated for Hallowe'en. Miss Irene Eastabrooke and Miss Anna Leacock rendered a piano duet, a solo by Miss Beatrice Foster entitled "The Rosary" was followed by a violin duet by Stanley and Fred Johnston, while James Eastabrooke and Nelson Johnston quite ably sang "Keep Sweet." Mr. Nelson delighted the audience with a piano solo. The audience then sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" and every one called into groups for the contest. There were all about the auto. The groups scoring the largest number of points were Ford, Overland and Hudson. These received a beautiful box of candy surmamed "sparkplugs." The people were held spell bound when a ghost lurled from a dark corner making its way about the room and disappearing in like manner as it came. The luncheon was served in cafeteria style and all retired feeling they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson came by train to visit the former's parents, but a few weeks ago, and while here they purchased a car and decided to make the return trip by motor. Letters of their progress have been received quite frequently. Up till a few days ago they reported a good trip and then they told of storms and cold. Returning to Alberta through the United States, the car in which Mr. and Mrs. Robinson rode stalled in the mud near Great Falls, Montana. They were found dead in the auto with the door locked and the engine running. It is presumed, reports say, the engine was left running to keep the car warm. An inquest is being held at Stanford.

ARMISTICE DAY

Who will ever forget the tremendous outburst of joy which greeted the Armistice, November 11th, 1918. Men, women and children found it difficult to express to the full their unbounded delight. The streets were thronged with people hilariously happy and the churches were filled with those who wanted to express their deeper feelings of gratitude to God. The joy of that day was partly inspired by a sense of victory. At length the enemy had been beaten and forced to crave for terms. At length right and justice and truth were vindicated and a powerful foe humiliated. Victory crowned the cause of the Allies. It was, however, the simple knowledge that the war was over that inspired the greatest joy. No more slaughter of men on the battle front, no more telegrams of regret from the war office to those at home, no more horrors on sea and land. The world was emerging from the miseries of the dark valley and peace had come. We appreciated then as never before the full significance and value of peace. All right minded people today may well feel it their duty to promote in every way possible that good will and intelligent consideration which should exist between peoples of different nationalities and nations if peace is to be maintained.

Note and Comment

Hon. George S. Henry, speaking before the Ontario Automobile Association, gave voice to common sense when he stated: "I haven't any use for those silent policemen in the centre of a crossroads in a little hamlet. They are mostly placed there by high pressure salesmen. I have often felt like taking some of them on a dark night and dumping them into the lake."

Wentworth County Council recently passed a bylaw to require all vehicles using the highways after dark to carry lights. This is a safety measure which every motorist will welcome, and it is to be regretted that at its last session the County Council of Lambton declined to follow the good example set. Perhaps after there have been more serious accidents wiser counsel will prevail.

S. L. Squire, deputy minister of highways for Ontario, has announced that a right-of-way rule for through traffic will come into effect at the beginning of next year on provincial highways. This means that all vehicles will be compelled to come to a full stop before entering provincial highways from the intersecting road.

Forty years ago, November 7th, 1885, the ceremony of driving the last spike, uniting the rails stretching from the Atlantic seaboard to the shores of the Pacific, was staged. The event took place at the point named Craighellachie, 28 miles west of Revelstoke. The spike was driven by Donald A. Smith, afterwards Sir Donald, and later Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal. With him was Sandford Fleming, who was afterwards Sir Sandford, the engineer-in-chief who blazed the way through the mountains in the early days. There was also present the general manager, W. C. Van Horne, afterwards Sir William, the second president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The Dominion general election held recently will cost the country two million dollars. Appropriation of the necessary outlay is a statutory provision of the Dominion Election Act. The carrying out of the Act is under the direction of the Chief Electoral Officer, while the executive administration of the financial outlay is under the Auditor-General. There are about 242 election officers. Their pay is dependent upon the extent of the constituency and the number of polls. Other large items of cost are printing, stationery and expenses in connection with the registration of voters.

A number of newspapers have been explaining to their readers, in semi-apologetic tones, why they are advertising from the opposite political party. Surely such an explanation is unnecessary in this enlightened day. Any editor who is running a newspaper, not an organ, will report speeches from both sides. Advertisements are simply the same arguments presented in a more striking form and there is no reason why a newspaper should not publish them—and make a few dollars—provided they contain nothing of an objectionable nature. The amount of space used in the campaign just closed shows that party managers and candidates recognize, more than ever before, that the newspaper is the easiest and most effective way of getting their arguments before the electors.—Barrie Examiner.

Advertising Pays

There is little wonder that the city merchants can attract customers from both city and outlying districts and other counties. They realize the virtue of advertising and they set aside certain amounts to promote new business. To hold what they have, take for instance the city papers, they are filled with attractive advertising which the people read them, and go to the places that advertise their merchandise. The small town merchant in self defense advertise his merchandise or allow his customers to gradually drift to the cities to make their purchases. In proportion to the population the city papers have a larger circulation than the week-papers that would reach the buyers in the districts that they circulate in. If the small town merchants expect to hold his own, with the roads, bus lines and automobiles must change his methods and advertise and reach the public with what he has to offer.

CONTRADICTION

The management of the Winter Gardens, Alvinston, wishes to deny the rumor that the Lion Tamers' Orchestra will play no longer at this popular hall.

Someone, no doubt for obvious reasons, wishes to spoil the popularity which this hall has established among its patrons.

This popularity of the Winter Gardens, as well as of the Island Park Pavilion last summer is due in a large measure to the splendid music played by the Lion Tamers.

At the Island Park, this orchestra proved themselves to be without equal, barring none, by popular opinion. Therefore, on account of this rumor, we feel obliged to protect ourselves by announcing that the Lion Tamers will supply the music for every dance held in the Winter Gardens this winter.

We have engaged the Lion Tamers for the following nights in November.

Coming to the Sugar Beet

Lambton in the week counted among a few wonderful what the fruit of the soil.

This year the early coming of the frost was a help before the beet was over, but late in the season the frost was a hindrance to the growth of the beet.

Some of the beet growers have reported a yield of more than 100 tons per acre, and some have reported a yield of 120 tons per acre. The beet growers are very pleased with the results of the season.

There have been several opinions expressed by prominent growers as to the cause of the variance of tests from various areas in the sugar beet growing district. Locally speaking there is one instance in Enniskillen. It is on the farm of Mr. N. Metcalfe, 12th concession near Petrolia, in the harvest Mr. Metcalfe's yield was 120 tons per acre, which is a very high yield. The result was due to the fact that the early light frosts caused a sweetening of those in the ground and the percentage was increased. The question was asked why is it that there can't be such a high yield in other areas? It is due to the fact that there is a particular soil in Kerwood along several miles of this concession and this is giving a higher yield of beets than the general crop. The M. S. is so adapted to the growing of beets that when assisted by the use of fertilizer with a 6 per cent. content of potassium or potash as it is commonly called, they produce a beet of the highest quality for the refinery.

Potassium Content

Now potassium is one of the most important and least variable of the elements of the ash of plants. It is quite evenly distributed throughout the leaves, stem and seed and generally occurs in the plant in the largest proportion of any of the essential ash constituents. The function of potassium is simply to aid in the formation of the carbohydrates. The flavor and color of fruits is generally credited to the use of potassium. In fact this element seems to supplement the action of nitrogen by filling in the frame work established by the latter. Potash with nitrogen is always an important fertilizer with special crops where the object is to produce sugar, starch or with sugar beets and potatoes. It is also apparently essential for the formation of protein, and, thus, indirectly aids in the function of all organic matter.

The season, in contrast to last year's splendid harvesting year, has been and is the very opposite. It has been backward in every detail. Although the frost has assisted the sugar percentage, it has made the oversaturated fields and roads almost impassable. The backwardness of October made it a trying time to the farmers who in their endeavor to work at the beets lost their apple crop, through sudden frosts. Labor is becoming scarcer all the time, as the wet clay mud clings to the roots and makes it very hard work, so much so that Belgians who are experienced in the cultivation and harvesting of the beets, find that it is too hard work for them and are thus quitting their contracts. The farmers are taking advantage of every bright day and the past week has helped them considerably but still there seems to be an inevitable loss to the growers unless the weatherman sees the situation and gives the "fillers of the soil" enough fine weather to finish out the harvest.

The following reports come from Lambton sugar beet area:

Alvinston—The farmers who have beet crops still in the ground are having a hard time harvesting them, owing to the heavy frosts each night.

Watford—Lambton's sugar beet crop this season is very late owing to weather conditions.

Inwood—Sugar beets are still being shipped in great abundance from the village. Owing to the severe weather many farmers have been unable to dig their roots and bushes of potatoes and carrots etc. are still in the ground. It is with difficulty that the sugar beets can be dug.

BROOKE COUPLE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

(Alvinston Free Press)

An interesting event took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas G. McPhail, when they celebrated their Golden Wedding. Mr. and Mrs. McPhail were married fifty years ago at Kilmartin by the Rev. Archibald Stewart, and have resided ever since on the farm which they now occupy.

Mrs. McPhail's health not being the best, only a few were present besides the family, including Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson of Wainut; Mrs. Leo Winter of Napier; Mr. and Mrs. Archie McCallum of London; Mrs. McCallum was the bridesmaid of fifty years ago, while Duncan McPhail, (now deceased) brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The family consists of Mrs. Wm. Minnhnick of Union; Mrs. John McLachlan of Inwood; Mrs. Archie McGugan of Brooke; John of Horizon, Sask.; Colin of Shedden, and A. D., at home. Dinner was served at two o'clock, the tables being laden with all good things which could tempt the appetite and graced with a beautiful wedding cake, the gift of their niece, Mrs. Theodore Croft, of Chicago. Throughout the day congratulations were received from friends far and near, all wishing both Mr. and Mrs. McPhail many more years of health and happiness together.

In the evening the bride, bridesmaid and bridesmaids were left alone to talk over old times and old friends while the younger folks journeyed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McGugan where friends and neighbors numbering one hundred and ninety gathered together and to the tune of the fiddlers six tripping the light fantastic until the wee sma' hours of the mornin'.

Alvinston's New Winter Gardens are gay places these nights and are being well patronized. Officials of the C.N.R. were in Petrolia last week and went over the situation to see how they could economize in the operation of trains in and out of this town. A year ago it was practically decided to use electric cars, which would generate their own electricity, but up to date nothing has been done in this direction. The latest idea, is to run some of the main line trains into Petrolia, which would keep only one train crew at that point. As figured out the cost to Glencoe at six o'clock is our discontinued entirely. The through London to Saratoga, which is scheduled for 9:05 a.m., will be available on to Petrolia, and leave within ten minutes, and take only ten minutes on the return trip in the afternoon. The local train would run from noon and night trains at the border. It is estimated it would cost $6,000 and $7,000 to make the change, but that it would be a saving in operation of $2,000 per year.

AFTER ALL There's Nothing To Equal Risk

He always kept a box of Risk guarded jealously. It was finished he automatically destroyed the remains in the jar. When he had finished a drawing that pleased him, he would allow himself the unequalled pleasure of smoking a whole pipeful of the remains that had been stored in the jar. Even then the remains of this super-smoke were, with a subtle satisfaction, automatically knocked back into the jar for a further resurrection at a later date.

This ritual accorded to smoking is also found in the case of Anthony Trollope. The great novelist smoked at work and treated his smoking almost with reverence. One of his study walls was fitted with a series of tiny containers, protected by a sliding glass door. In these he kept a valuable supply of tobacco and cigars. Each section was dated, and the great writer, possessed of an ultra-methodical mind, smoked through each in order, refilling the section as he passed on.

And pipe-lovers who wish further to prove the association of brains with this habit turn with glee to the announcement of the Inimitable Mark Twain.

He said, "I severely limit my smoking to times when I am not sleeping or eating!"—and he found it hard to keep even to that!

But critics of the pipe habit can equally well retort by quoting the poet Swinburne, who loathed the habit of smoking. It is recorded that once when he could not find a smokeless room in his club he shouted, "James the First was a knave, a tyrant, a fool, a liar, and a coward, but I love him, I worship him, because he slit the throat of the blackguard Raleigh, who invented this filthy smoking!"

ALVINSTON

The funeral of the late Jas. Evans who passed away in Peterborough on Saturday morning, will be held at 10 o'clock on Monday afternoon at the residence of the late Mrs. Evans.

On his own delightfully candid confessions, we have it that he has reached the stage when he never pays more than three shillings for a pipe. This ranks him as a devoted champion of the pipe, and as such he is distinguished company.

Carlyle confessed to a similar falling, and to-day we have no more fascinating example of a great pipe-lover than Sir James Barrie. The author of "My Lady Nicotine" is rightly said to be lost and unhappy without his beloved pipe. An essentially characteristic story of Barrie and his sheer joy of the actual smoking is told.

Sir James arrived at a West-end theatre where one of his plays was being rehearsed, without his pouch. In a few minutes the famous pipe appeared, and Barrie proceeded to fill it with tobacco from an old envelope. After the rehearsal, one of the actors presented him with a pouch, which was accepted, but the next day, when the pipe was pulled out, Barrie still filled it from the same envelope!

But Barrie's whimsical action must not be compared with the curious smoking custom attributed to that famous pipe-lover and "Punch" artist, Charles Keene.

The brilliant portrayal of Scottish types made his name, and in his work he had the advantage of inherited Scottish instincts. One of these, a queer economy, was a smoking habit.

He always smoked in his studio, and kept a tobacco jar which he guarded jealously. As every smoke was finished he automatically knocked the remains into the jar. Then, when he had finished a drawing that pleased him, he would allow himself the unequalled pleasure of smoking a whole pipeful of the remains that had been stored in the jar. Even then the remains of this super-smoke were, with a subtle satisfaction, automatically knocked back into the jar for a further resurrection at a later date.

Tide of Christmas Traffic Flows East

...and if he has brought friend wife, there are the shops to visit, though many a man has found this a costly pastime, more so perhaps, than poker or the races.
However, from every angle, the season in the East is rich and pleasant. That side of the continent is a magnet for holiday seekers and it is at that particular time that the ancient provinces receive their sons, if only for the briefest of visits. This year it will have visitors galore.
The Canadian Pacific Railway announce that many inquiries and requests for reservations have already been made at their agencies throughout western Canada. This would indicate the likelihood of a huge volume of traffic moving in an easterly direction this December. A portion of it will no doubt move straight through to the British Isles and the Continent, as many settlers are originally from those places. The Canadian Pacific will run special trains from all western centres, connecting directly with their Atlantic lines, sailing from the winter port of Saint John, New Brunswick, the larger ports in northern Europe.
But the great portion of the traffic will be directed for Eastern Canada and the company will facilitate this movement by offering special train services and special tourist cars that will obviate the necessity of change at any point along the route, and further than this, special excursion rates will be given. These conditions will prevail from December 5th to January 5th, and will be effective from all stations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Unveiling The "Altar of Peace" at Vancouver

The President Harding International Good-Will Memorial located in Stanley Park, Vancouver and erected by Kiwanis International through the voluntary subscriptions of its 95,000 members in the United States and Canada, was unveiled by John H. Moss, president Kiwanis International on September 16th in the presence of a large gathering of both United States and Canadian government officials and members of Kiwanis.
The memorial was designed by Charles Marega, a well known Italian sculptor of Vancouver. When the scheme was first decided upon, it was the intention of the American Kiwanis Clubs to raise the funds on their side of the border and to present the memorial to Canada.
Canadian Kiwanis, however, insisted upon contributing towards the fund and the memorial was thus erected by the joint efforts of the United States and Canadian clubs.
At the unveiling ceremony, the Dominion Government was represented by Hon. Dr. J. H. King and Dr.
G. T. Harding, brother of the late president. United States Kiwanis was represented by International President John H. Moss, and International Past Presidents Victor S. Johnson and Edmund F. Arras. The Canadian Pacific Railway was represented by Frank W.
Peters, General Superintendent at Vancouver. Several of the United States delegates stayed over at Banff and Lake Louise and other points in the Canadian Pacific Rockies before proceeding to Vancouver. The memorial itself is throughout a made-in-Canada product, being designed by Canadians and made of Canadian materials and by Canadian labor.
The site of the memorial is the spot where the late President Harding made his last public speech, when just before he died in 1923 he visited Canada. Warren G.

Harding, late president of the U. S. A. was a chartered member of the Kiwanis Club at Marion, Ohio, his home town.
An extract from the speech made by the Chief Executive of the United States on that occasion, written in bronze for the memorial, and the possible text of many a murmured prayer of hope of the cosmopolitan tourist who reads it as he passes through the park, is as follows:
"What an object lesson of peace is shown today by our two countries to all the world. No grim-faced forfications mark our frontiers, no huge battalions patrol our dividing waters, no stealthily snipe lurk our tranquil border hamlets. Only a scrap of paper, recording hardly more than a simple understanding safeguards lives and properties on the Great Lakes, and only humble mileposts mark the inviolable boundary-line for thousands of miles through farm and forest.
"Our protection is in our fraternity, our armor is our faith, and the tie that binds, more closely each year, is ever-increasing acquaintance and comradeship through interchange of citizens; and the compact is not perishable parchment, but of fair and honorable dealing, which,
God grant, shall continue for all time."
The memorial, which is known as "The Altar of Peace," has been referred to as the only material symbol of fortification, outside of mileposts, to outline the invisible demarcation of the thousands of miles of border line separating the two countries from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

WORLD EVENTS IN REVIEW

Awaits Parliament's Action

The decision of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King to seek no seat in the House of Commons till after Parliament decides who is to govern created a good deal of surprise, but it is probably the best strategic move the Premier could have made. He will continue to direct the affairs of his department till Parliament assembles on the tenth of December; but on that date, having no seat in the House and no official status, he becomes a private citizen. Nominally he can retain the leadership of the Liberal party, but it will be necessary to select a leader in the House of Commons and the prediction is made that the choice will fall upon Hon. Ernest Lapointe, member for Sir Wilfred Laurier's old constituency of Quebec East. Mr. Lapointe has been a member of the House since 1904.

It is not likely that Hon. G. P. C. Graham will seek election in Bagot, the seat rendered vacant by the death of the member-elect Mr. J. E. Marcell but will continue to direct the Department of Railways without a seat in the House till such time as the control of Parliament is decided.

It is then quite probable that he will retire to private life in conformity with his desire of this last few years.

"If having been decided to leave Parliament summoned at the earliest possible date," said Hon. Mr. King in his official statement, "in order that the attitude of the people's representatives in the House of Commons may be ascertained toward the question raised by the numerical position of the respective parties, with the possible exception of the by-election occasioned by the existing vacancy in the electoral district of Bagot, it is not anticipated that any by-elections will be held prior to the assembling of Parliament, and before the question of majority control of the House of Commons has been definitely settled by the members-elect with the recognized Parliamentary procedure and practice."

In the short time that has elapsed since the election it has been impossible for either Conservatives or Liberals to line up the twenty-eight or so Progressives and Independents in such a way as to count upon their support. The 23 Progressives, acting together, could throw their weight with either party and give a reasonable working majority, but many of them were quite independent in the past Parliament.

In any case it will be with a badly depleted front bench representation that the Liberals will face Parliament next month as there will only nine Cabinet Ministers in the House. In the Senate, Hon. Charles Murphy will be acting Secretary of State as well as Postmaster General and Hon. Dr. Belland will probably continue as Minister of Health and Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

A Father's Plight

Not since the Leopold and Loeb case have the newspapers of the United States been so wrought up over a murder trial as in the case now occupying their attention, centered at Littleton, Colorado. Dr. Harold Elmer Blazer, an aged physician, is charged with the murder of his daughter, who, 34 years ago, was born without arms, without legs, deaf and dumb, and idiotic. For thirty-four years the father has attended her with all the love a parent could lavish upon a child. As he felt the years beginning to weigh upon him he often expressed the fear that Hazel would be left to the care of strangers in the event of his death. To avoid such a contingency it is charged that he chloroformed her in her sleep. If he did so, he maintains in his defence, he does not remember the deed, and claims that the long years of worry affected his memory and made him unaccountable for his actions.

The Fez Discarded

The anniversary of the establishment of a republican form of government in Turkey saw the issuance of a decree making compulsory the wearing of hats and caps instead of the fez. Previously the Turks did not respond in any great numbers to an invitation to make this change in headgear.

A Democratic Rajah

Though ominous rumors come from India from time to time, it is evident that in some quarters at least the ballot is highly regarded as a means of settling political disputes. Last year the Indian Government asked the Maharajah of Nabha to abdicate and now this potentate has issued a challenge to Sir Michael O'Dwyer, former Governor of the Punjab to a referendum to determine whether the people prefer the Maharajah to Sir Michael.

Huge Homes in Canada

Canada and the United States are outlined by the British Government as millionaires' playgrounds. The construction of a new house in the United States is not likely to be completed until the next year. The cost of a new house in the United States is not likely to be completed until the next year. The cost of a new house in the United States is not likely to be completed until the next year.

Attempt to Kill Rumanian King

King Ferdinand of Rumania had a narrow escape from assassination while returning from a hunting expedition at Galatz, Rumania. A band of men said to be Communists lay in wait for him at an inn, armed with revolvers and hand grenades but were captured by troops after a fight in which two soldiers were wounded.

Do Not Want a Sixth Lake

The project to create "a sixth great lake" in Northern Ontario by diverting certain rivers now flowing into Hudson Bay to the basin of Lake Nipigon is not received with favor in Michigan. It was recently discussed at the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Ontario as a possible means of overcoming the Chicago diversion of water and adding to the available water-power resources of Northern Ontario. R. J. MacLean, Michigan Director, of the National Rivers and Harbors Commission, contends that Canada and the United States should insist that waters running into the great lakes should be permitted to follow their natural channel to the sea, and condemn the action of Chicago in piercing the height of land with its drainage canal so that the waters of the great lakes are diverted to the Mississippi and thence to the Gulf of Mexico.

The serious lowering of the levels of the lakes as a result of this diversion is a matter that is engaging the attention of many legislative and public bodies on both sides of the boundary.

Health Broke Down

Could Not Get Sleep for Hours After Going to Bed.

"It is not natural for me to sit down and write a letter in praise of a proprietary medicine as I had always been skeptical as to their virtues." Thus writes Mr. Arthur Seguin, Storthoaks, Sask., who further says:—"But three years ago I opened a general store here in Storthoaks and placed on my shelves a few lines of the best known proprietary medicines. Among these, naturally, were Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. As there were three of my customers who were obtaining good results from taking the pills, and as I was in need of a medicine I decided to try them myself.

"I had been suffering from catarrh for years, and my inside work had completely broken down my health. I was coughing all day, suffering from indigestion, and could not sleep until three or four hours after retiring. I started the pills, not with any great confidence, but by the time I had finished the second box I marked much improvement. At the fourth box I felt quite recovered, but continued them for some further time. My cough has left me, the indigestion has disappeared, and I now fall asleep almost as soon as I am in bed. In my store now I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any who are feeling run-down or without energy, as I think they are a blessing to mankind."

If others who may feel skeptical will give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial they will be convinced as was Mr. Seguin. You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
