JUDGE CONCLUDES CHARGE TO JURY THIS AFTERNOON

Crown's Case Presented in Striking Manner by Attorney
General — Knowledge of Falseness in Question

The case of The King vs. McDougall was resumed in the Circuit Court this morning.

Mr. Ritchie, K. C., addressed the Court on the count of the Kay label which alleged that the prisoner knew it to be false. He cited the case of R. Beaver 9 Can. Crim. Code 415 to show that knowledge must be proved affirmatively by the Crown. If there were no evidence of knowledge there was no offence.

Attorney General Hazen then resumed his address to the jury, saying that on the previous evening he had spoken of the introduction by the defence of the refutation that he (the Attorney General) had been influenced in this prosecution by political considerations. He did not think that the Liberals of this community would thank the gentleman from Halifax for associating their party with Free Speech and C. Bruce McDougall. In this case while Mr. Mullin and Dr. Macrae were Conservatives, both Mayor Bullock and Ald. Frink were pronounced Liberals and he believed that Judge Kay was also of that political party.

It had been suggested that these gentlemen were not injured and did not care themselves. But what would have been the effect if these charges were accepted as true? What would have been the effect upon Dr. Macrae's family life if these things had been believed?

Mayor Bullock and Ald. Frink, if the reflections upon them were true, would have been liable to punishment under the criminal law. Mr. Mullin, if these charges against him were true, would be shunned by clients as if he were a leper. Judge Kay would have to be removed from his position if the charges against him were true. But the defendant had not dared to plead truth.

Mr. Mellish—"We could not because these persons did not fill public positions. They were private citizens. The Attorney General has said—These men did not hold public positions. The label is not punishable merely because they injured the individual slandered, but because they affected the peace and tranquillity of the community. The people required restriction from a publication which slandered everyone, including the seamstresses, the stenographers, the married women of the community. Mr. Ritchie had said that the whole prosecution must be taken to be the worst that had appeared in the paper. That was not so. This paper was not so despicable as to drag the names of virtuous women from their privacy and their life into court to deal with this matter.

"As to obscenity the paragraphs set out were suggestive and would cause suspicion to attach to many persons. Such a publication would tend to demoralize the community with such suggestions and thus poison the mind of the community especially amongst the young. This publication was not in any sense a newspaper. It contained no advertisements—nothing but the suggestions of garbage which were published merely for the sake of gain to the printer at the bar. The whole stock in trade of this paper was to appeal to that which was low, indecent and impure. Was it then known to be dishonest? It was not now expected that McDougall knew what was in this paper. As a publisher he must be taken to have known what his paper contained.

The defence suggested that these libels were merely indiscretions. What did the jury think of a libel associating the name of Dr. Macrae with a woman of ill-fame? Was that an indiscretion?

The defence had not touched in the address of counsel upon the question of publication. Yet from almost first to last of the trial it appeared that the defence were hoping that the prosecution would not be able to make out the fact of publication. He then dealt with the publication of the Kay cartoon, showing the letter to Wesley & Co. from McDougall, connecting it with no body was secured.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17.—The Catholic Register of this city is out with a hot attack on the Presbyterian and Baptist missions among the Ruthenians in the west, of whom there are 150,000. It accuses the missions named of unfair proselytizing. Father Canham and Father Roche, of Toronto, are in the west investigating conditions. The Register characterizes the Manitoba Government normal school at Brandon as a "muddy" low down proselytizing Grange institution and as "an eye sore to the whole Catholic population of the province."

Steam could not be got up in the town fire engine until after the danger was past.

Sentence Will Likely be Imposed Tomorrow— Argument on Certain Points in the Evidence— May Ask New Trial on Two Counts

The jury in the McDougall case returned to court shortly after five o'clock. The report of the foreman was that they had been unable to agree on counts numbers six and seven.

They found the prisoner guilty on the four counts in the indictment numbered two, four, ten and eleven. These were the libels against Dr. Macrae and Mayor Bullock, and the two charges (10 and 11) of publishing obscene matter.

They found McDougall not guilty on counts numbered one, three, five, seven and nine.

The prisoner will be sentenced tomorrow. Argument followed on certain points of evidence.

Mr. Hazen moved for a new trial on the two counts on which the jury disagreed.

MODERN METHODS IN ARMY MANOEUVRES 60,000 Men Engaged in Mimic War in France—Using Balloons and Automobiles.

MONTAUCON, France, Sept. 17.—The fall manoeuvres of the French Army, in which 60,000 men are engaged, are attracting particular attention on account of the work in the dirigible balloon Republic attached to the army of defense. Although the fields of operation are hilly and wooded the Republic ascertained and disclosed to the defenders the plan of the enemy's campings and proved them from falling into a skillful trap set by the attacking general. One army is using the new automobile service for the transportation of supplies which has proved very successful.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—At an address in the Auditorium last evening, President Taft before an immense audience spoke most favorably toward labor unions and promised to suggest further labor legislation.

He reviewed the present labor conditions, stating that although the support of that body had been divided at the time of his election, he hoped to prove himself worthy of a united support when conditions demanded it.

In speaking of the economic conditions of the American workingman, he said: "There is a higher standard of living among American laborers than in any country in the world, and while there have doubtless been a good many other reasons for this, certainly the effect of the organization of labor has been to maintain a steady and high rate of wages, making such a standard of living possible."

Exciting Time at Ottawa Fair

Dirigible Balloon Had Run of Hard Luck

ONE MAN KILLED

Balloon Totally Destroyed by Coming in Contact With a Live Wire

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—The Nasser dirigible balloon, one of the principal attractions at the Central Canada exhibition, was the cause today of an exciting and peculiar chapter of accidents. It-luck pursued it from morning till night, its final destruction by fire coming this evening after a morning fatality.

In the airship's first attempt at flight this morning, one man was killed and two others nearly lost their lives. The man killed was Edward Keating of Belleville, who was in charge of a wheel of fortune at the exhibition. Two other men, Malcolm Campbell of Ottawa and Carl Wingerter, one of Nasser's assistants, were badly stunned, but recovered shortly under care of physicians.

In starting from the ground at noon for a first flight with Aviator Nasser on board the propeller of the airship became entangled in an electric light wire about twenty feet in the air. One end of the airship then dropped and several onlookers sprang to grasp the framework. Keating, Wingerter and Campbell caught hold of one of the steel rods, and as they did so revolved an electric shock which threw them violently to the ground. The propeller of the airship had worn the insulation off the electric wire, and the current passed through the framework to the three men. Prompt efforts were made to resuscitate them, but after an hour's work Keating was pronounced dead by the doctors in attendance. The other two men revived after a few minutes. Nasser himself jumped to the ground unhurt and afterwards made a successful flight. The victim of the accident leaves a wife and seven small children.

This afternoon Nasser made a second flight from the exhibition grounds and the airship was carried outside the grounds by the wind sighting across Rideau canal in Ottawa South. In bringing it back to the grounds this evening the huge inflated gas bag came in contact with a live wire near the entrance and immediately the whole balloon went skyward in a blaze of fire. The fire brigade was summoned, but when the reels arrived all that remained of the airship, valued by its owner at $15,000, was a twisted mass of steel and wire rods.

A GLOOMY VIEW

OF C. P. R. REPORT

Steadily Declining Earnings on the Company's Common.

"C.P.R.'s 1909 report," says the Wall Street Journal, "record a continuation of the declining tendency of earning power, as evidenced by the amounts available for dividends. In the year just ended the road carried 8.5 per cent. on the common; in 1908 the figure was 10.5 per cent.; in 1907, 13.7 per cent., and in 1906, 14.1 per cent."

"Yet, strangely enough, Canadian Pacific broke all records for gross earnings. They amounted to over $16,000,000, an increase of $4,000,000. With all this advantage, however, the road added only $1,000,000 to last year's net earnings figure. Operating expenses have been high."

"This is brought out most strongly by contrast of the 1909, showing with that of 1908. With gross earnings $16,000,000 greater than three years ago, Canadian Pacific's net is exactly the same."

The worst feature of the showing is in the fact that only $5,000,000 of the increased expenses went into maintenance, while $10,000,000 or two thirds was spent in conducting transportation and on things other than maintenance; it was expended solely in moving traffic, from which there is derived no lasting benefit to the property.

"But the large increase in expenses is not the only thing which has brought down Canadian Pacific's profits. Fixed charges are more than a million dollars greater than they were three years ago, an increase of 13 per cent."

TO SHUT OUT BRITISH TRADE

HAMILTON, Sept. 16.—The report of the commercial intelligence committee before the Canadian Manufacturers' association today urged that the publication of inquiries from British and foreign houses in the government's weekly bulletin be discontinued, as Canadian money should not be used to furnish free advertising to outsiders where the object was to displace Canadians in their own market.

The clause proposing the establishment of an interchange credit bureau by which the department would be in position to answer promptly enquiries as to the standing of any firm, was amended on suggestion of Mr. Lee of Toronto, by which detail will be discontinued, but larger matters will receive consideration.

A revival of the "Made in Canada" campaign provided considerable discussion. Some delegates condemned the scheme because the association would require nearly $200,000 to work it out.

W. T. R. Preston spoke at length on trade and commerce and expressed the opinion that the government would assist the association in the scheme proposed. The Japanese, he said, were much impressed with the honesty of Canadian dealers.

The association concluded the business of the annual convention today. The following officers were elected: President, John Hendricks, Van Couver, B. C.; Vice president, W. H. Rowley, Hull, Ontario; Vice president, J. P. Murray, Toronto; Quebec vice president, W. A. Mash, British Columbia vice president, W. H. Barker, Vancouver.

Manitoba vice president, T. R. Deacon, Winnipeg.
Nova Scotia vice president, P. P. Edwards, Londonderry.
New Brunswick vice president, H. J. Fleming, St. John.
P. E. Island vice president, Hon. F. L. Hazard, Charlottetown.
Alberta and Saskatchewan vice president, P. Burns, Calgary, Alberta.
Chairman of committee, Parliamentary, J. C. Thompson, Toronto.
Commercial intelligence, Stanley Pettit, Toronto.
Reception and membership, C. M. Murray, Toronto.
Technical education, J. F. MacKay, Toronto.
Traffic, R. O. McCulloch, Galt.
Railway and transportation, J. R. Marlow, Toronto.
The "Made in Canada" scheme was endorsed.

Resolutions were passed as follows: Thanking Canadian shippers for securing a bill of lading aiding small shippers; urging several provinces to have uniform boiler regulations; asking that the government pass no pure food legislation until after 1910; requesting the government to order an enquiry into the decline in the Canadian wool industry and in view of many failures to devise a scheme to foster the growing of wool; endorsing the Quebec government's action prohibiting the export of pulp wood and logs; requesting the Dominion government to pass similar legislation; urging a number of changes in shingles and lumber in view of recent United States legislation; urging the Dominion government to extend substantial encouragement to shipbuilding.

MEXICAN LINE FOR ST. JOHN

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—The trade and commerce department is arranging for the establishment of a direct steamship line between St. John and West Indian ports.

A subsidy will be granted for a new line giving a tri-weekly service between St. John and a Mexican port to be selected, with steamers calling at the principal British West Indian ports.

There is a good opening for the development of a large trade in food products between Canada and the West Indies, especially in fruit and vegetables.

The steamship line to undertake the service is not yet announced.

FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE AT THE FREDERICTON FAIR YESTERDAY

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 16.—The exhibition had another most successful day, over 5,000 passing through the turnstiles, being over one thousand more than for the same day three years ago.

Trains from St. John and a special from Logville brought large crowds to the city.

Good progress was made in judging. Mr. Stevenson this afternoon got through with the Ayrshire cattle.

Messrs. McIntyre and Parlee were the chief prize winners, the other successful competitors being Chas. Archibald, H. J. Macdonald, Geo. Syme, and J. H. Macdonald. The judging of the thoroughbred hackney and coach horses was also completed.

The dairy exhibit was judged by Harvey Mitchell.

The first prize for tub and print butler was awarded to the Sussex Creamery Company, the second to the province of Quebec and the third to Nova Scotia.

Prince Edward Island won all the prizes for cheese.

Geo. H. Vroom, Dominion fruit inspector, acted as judge of fruit. For the best ten varieties of apples J. P. Bolyer of Lower Gaspoint took first prize, Geo. McAlpine of the same place, second, and W. P. Gilman of Kingsclear, third. Two entries from Nova Scotia failed to get a place, as the fruit lacked color. Miss Maud Aldrich of this city made first prize for preserved fruit. Geo. McAlpine took first sweepstake prize, with Mr. Bolyer second. In talking to the Sun this evening Mr. Vroom said that the selection of fruit was the finest he had ever seen in this province and he was creditable to any country. The collections from Nova Scotia were regarded as inferior. The exhibit of Bishop Phipps was as fine as possibly could be.

During the afternoon Andrew Elliott of Galt, Ont., delivered an interesting address in the agricultural tent on beef production in New Brunswick. Hon. Dr. Landry presided and introduced the speaker.

Miss Broadwick, the 14 year old daughter of Prof. Broadwick, made the balloon ascension this afternoon, ascending about 2,000 feet. The feat was a most successful one. The professor made the ascension himself in the evening.

Judging will be continued tomorrow. Saturday will be children's day. On Saturday a special train will leave St. John at 9 a. m., returning at 10 p. m. Tickets for the round trip $1.50, good till the 25th.

The Teachers' Institute was continued this afternoon. Dr. Geo. U. Ray spoke on rural schools in England and described them as being much inferior to ours. W. M. Burns delivered an address on discipline which was discussed by Principal Bridges and B. C. Foster, principal of the High School.

NOVA SCOTIA'S APPLE CROP BELOW AVERAGE

Says E. A. Goodwin, Who Has Been Through the Valley—
Prices High Just Now

"Lower prices later in the season," is what is announced concerning the apple market. This expected slump in the price of apples will be due not to a large production but to the fact that the season is opening with prices high. Last fall the price of apples at the beginning of the season was low, but steadily went up while the crop was being picked, with the result that the season closed with prices at top notch.

E. A. Goodwin returned yesterday from the Annapolis Valley, where he had been looking over the apple crop. He informed The Sun last evening that the accounts with the high court were in arrears. After some difficulty an audit was held and it was found that the accounts were badly jumbled. Mr. Kennedy accused Stevenson of the misappropriation of funds and the financial secretary was summarily dismissed. Stevenson wanted a chance to pay back the deficiency and in July, 1908, Stevenson paid to Mr. Kennedy the last installment of the shortage.

Hierbert Comber, present chief ranger, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness and adjournment was made until this morning at 9 o'clock.

INVESTIGATING CHARGES AGAINST J. B. STEVENSON

Surveyor-General Grimmer Holding Court at Grand Falls—Accused by J. F. Tweedale, M. P. P.

GRAND FALLS, N. B., Sept. 17.—An investigation was started by Surveyor-General Grimmer last evening into the charges made by J. F. Tweedale, M. P. P. In a speech in the local legislature last year, Mr. Tweedale had stated that John Ryan, who was dismissed from office, was a man who was above reproach in the community and John B. Stevenson, who was appointed in his place, was a man of questionable character.

John Campbell, financial secretary of the subcommittee of the Canadian Order of Foresters at Arthursville at the time Stevenson was financial secretary, disclosed that his accounts with the high court were in arrears. After some difficulty an audit was held and it was found that the accounts were badly jumbled. Mr. Kennedy accused Stevenson of the misappropriation of funds and the financial secretary was summarily dismissed. Stevenson wanted a chance to pay back the deficiency and in July, 1908, Stevenson paid to Mr. Kennedy the last installment of the shortage.

NEW FACTORY INSPECTOR TALKS OF HIS WORK

Factory Inspector John Kenney assumed his new duties on Monday and has been visiting several of the large mills during the past few days. He finds that in general the mills are in a poor condition and a number of improvements will be necessary to suit the requirements of the act.

Mr. Kenney finds that child labor is unusually common. In some of the mills the number of little fellows employed could hardly be realized. This is one of the hardest matters to combat, but Mr. Kenney intends to do his best to prevent the employment of young boys and girls. Mr. Kenney has found in many mills unprotected cog wheels and intends to have this remedied materially.

MRS. ELLA C. DALZIELL
The death of Mrs. Ella C. Dalzell, widow of the late Samuel B. Dalzell, and daughter of the late Thomas Miles, occurred Thursday evening at her home, 35 Edmund street.

Her death was a particularly sad one, being the result of a runaway accident on Grand Manan, where she and her family had gone to spend their holidays together. About four weeks ago she was taken home and had been unconscious ever since until death ended her sufferings.

She is survived by three daughters, Miss Minnie L. Gladys A. and Jean S., and one son, S. Kenneth, all at home. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. LeBaron Vaughan, St. John, and Mrs. Wellington Loring of Bath, Me., and the brothers, William and Hilbert Miles.

Funeral from her late residence, 35 Edmund street, on Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., to Cedar Hill cemetery.

PARTICULARS OF THE LOSS OF THE HOWARD D. TROOP

Vessel Was Carrying Oil—Fire Broke Out and Quickly Spread.

The Victoria Colliast of Sept. 6 has the following:—The R.M.S. Empress of Japan, Capt. Pybus, which reached Kaguwa, but the fire gained such headway it was found necessary to scuttle the bark. Altogether 9,000 cases of kerosene were burned, worth a million dollars, including 1,500 tons of silk, brought news that the burning of the British bark Howard D. Troop, which was scuttled on fire at Yokohama as briefly reported by cable, was due to incendiaries on the part of six members of the crew who made their escape. The vessel had on board part of her cargo of kerosene for the Standard Oil Company when the fire was discovered in No. 1 hold, spreading quickly to the other holds.

Rockets were sent up as distress signals and firemen came off. A tug took the vessel in tow and started for Kaguwa, but the fire gained such headway it was found necessary to scuttle the bark. has come to be so well known that, to many people, it simply means "waterproofed" cloth.

"Cravenette" does mean that—and a great deal more.

It means waterproofed by the special patented process that only the Cravenette Company can use—a process which makes the cloth absolutely and permanently rainproof, yet leaves it light and porous.

Many yards of cloth and many finished garments are sold as "Cravenette" or "just as good" that are not "Cravenette" and not "just as good". Their inferiority shows up very plainly after a few wettings.

To protect you, the "Cravenette" Registered Trademark is stamped on the back of every yard of genuine "Cravenette" cloth, and is on the inside of the collar of every real "Cravenette" raincoat.

Synopsis of First Instalment

In the first instalment of his thrilling story, "The Conquest of the Pole," printed in the Sun of Wednesday, September 15, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, told of the start from Gloucester on the Bradley, of the voyage to the Pole and the overhauling en route of the equipment needed for the dash to the Pole. In a graphic manner Dr. Cook described the hardships of the journey, the discovery of the gateway to the North, the gathering of his forces, and the final dash to the Pole.

The yacht, her owner, Mr. John R. Bradley, the explorer and his party were pictured in their preliminary work for the final dash.

Finally, after describing the various places visited in Greenland in search of guides and information as to conditions further north, Dr. Cook wrote of the trip across Ingfield Gulf past Cape Auckland and on toward Cape Robertson. Here the discoverer closed the first part of his narrative, with Etah and Annotok, the last point of call, looking in the icy distance.

We awoke off Cape Robertson and went ashore before breakfast.

The coast here rises suddenly to an altitude of two thousand feet and is crowned with snow-capped peaks. It is picturesque enough. Large bays, blue glaciers and prominent headlands offer a pleasing variety, but it is much like the coast of all Greenland. It had, however, the tremendous advantage of a southern exposure and rocks, providing a resting place for the little auk in millions. These little birds darted from the cliffs to the sea. Rather rich, greasy verdure also offered an oasis for the Arctic hare, while the blue fox found life easy here, for he could fill his winter den with fat feathered creatures.

A Profitable Combination

The Eskimo profits by the combination and pitches his camp at the foot of the cliffs for the chase on sea is good here as in other places, while land creatures literally tumble into his hands.

As we approached the shore ten men, nine women, thirty-one children and one hundred and sixty dogs came out to meet us. I counted the children and dogs for they are equally important to the average Caucasian in the Arctic. Only small game had fallen to the Eskimo lot, but they were eager to venture out with us for big game. At last Mr. Bradley had found a suitable retinue of native guides, and we were not long in arranging a camp. Free passages, the good graces of the cook, and a knife each, were their pay. The caribou hunt was not sufficiently novel to merit a return to Clirice Bay, where intelligent effort is always rewarded but it was hoped we might get a hunt at Kookan, near the head of Robinson Bay.

Setting Sail for Etah

This venture, however, failed, though it gave us an interesting chase about dangerous waters in a violent sea. We returned to the Igloo to do nothing, paid off our guides, made presents to their women and children and set sail for Etah.

Clearing weather after the storm afforded delightful yachting weather. A fairly strong off-shore wind aided the kind of weird fascination for me. Many years of schooling in both Polar sections in mountaineering would serve a useful purpose.

CONDITIONS RIGHT FOR DASH.

Here was my chance. Here was everything necessary, conveniently placed within the Polar gateway. The problem was discussed with my colleague, Mr. Bradley, who generously volunteered to land from the yacht the food, fuel and other supplies we had provided for local use. There was abundant trading material to serve as money. My own equipment aboard for sledging travelling could be made to serve every purpose in the enterprise. The possible combination left absolutely nothing to be desired to insure success. Only good health, endurable weather and workable ice were necessary. The expenditure of a million dollars could not have placed an expedition at a better advantage. The opportunity was too great to be lost. We thereupon returned to Etah to prepare for the new quest.

Strong efforts had been made to reach the Pole from every possible quarter. Only the angle between Alaska and Greenland had been left untried. In our prospective venture we aimed to place this area of the globe.

If we failed in our main effort we would at least make a dash over a blank spot. With the resources for transportation which the Eskimos offered, I hoped to carry ample supplies to the game resort of this region, and feed and fire the expedition en route to the land's end.

SPLENDID ADVANTAGES OFFERED.

If their faith proved correct, it offered me a series of advantages denied to every other leader of Polar expeditions for the moment would not only be supplied at the expense of the land which is explored, but men and dogs would be taken to the battle ground in superb training, with their vigorous bodies nourished by wholesome, fresh meat, not the nauseating, laboratory stuff which is usually crowded into the unwilling stomach. Furthermore, it offered me a chance to test every article of equipment in actual field work, and above all after a hard campaign of a year, to occupy the time in exploration and sport.

There was no special reason for us to board the yacht, but the fact that we were prepared for the return voyage, this was to consume several days, and we sought to occupy the time in exploration and sport.

The vicinity of Etah is notable as the stamping ground of Dr. Kane and Dr. Hayes in the middle of the last century. There were no unexplored spots in the neighborhood, but there was a good deal of game near.

Before we landed we watched the Eskimos harpoon a whale. The little auk kept us busy for a day, while hares, tumbling like snowballs over dark rocks, gave another day of recreation.

Far beyond, along the inland ice were caribou, but we preferred to confine our exploration to the seashore. The bay waters were alive with eider ducks and guillemots, while just outside walrus dared us to venture on an open contest on the wind-swept seas. After ambitions for the chase and local exploration were satisfied we were told that the people of Annotok, seventy-five miles to the north, would be glad to see us. There was the chance to arrange a hunt in the morning of August 21, for Man's Ultima Thule. It was a beautiful day with a light air from the east. The Eskimo boats were loaded, and we were ready to start.

As we rushed in comfort past the ice polished and wind-swept headlands, the sea was alive with birds, seals and walrus, but little shooting was done, for we were bent on enjoying the quiet sport of motor boating.

ARRIVAL AT ANNOTOK.

As we passed the sharp rocks of Cairn Point we located nine tents in a small bay under Cape Ingfield.

"Look there is Annotok," said Tugan, our native guide, looking up Smith Sound. We noted that the entire channel beyond was blocked with a jam of hard blue ice. The northernmost limit of motor boating had been reached. A perpendicular cliff served as a pier to which to fasten the boat. Here it could rise and fall with the tide and drifting ice did not give much trouble. A diligent exploration of the town disclosed the fact that we had reached not only the northernmost town, but the most prosperous settlement of the Greenland shore. The best hunters had gathered here for the winter bear hunt. Their game catch had been very lucky. Indeed, catches of meat were strewn along the shore. More than a hundred dogs formed the hunt force with which Eskimo prosperity is measured. Twelve long-haired wild men came out to meet us as friends.

BLAMES DIVORCE SUIT ON WIFE'S THEOSOPHY

Major Hanson Says He Refused to Accept It and Trouble Came.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 16.—Theosophy is blamed by Major J. F. Hanson, president of the Central of Georgia Railway, for the marital troubles which led him to sue for divorce.

Mrs. Hanson charged cruelty, neglect and too much attention on the part of the major to Mrs. "Jack" Horner, now Mrs. James McVicker, a beautiful young society woman of New York.

Major Hanson filed his answer today in the Superior Court of Fulton county. It contains twenty-one pages of printed matter and categorically denies each of his wife's charges. In conclusion he says:

"Further answering plaintiff's bill, defendant avers that until the divorce case in an element of discord he had a united and happy family."

"Defendant's refusal to entertain the idea of ever becoming a theosophist, because he regarded it as a modern form of paganism, caused the first change in plaintiff's feeling toward him. When every effort to force defendant to hear the burdens of theosophy by putting up money for the Universal Brotherhood scheme had failed, the plaintiff, one of her members of his family, resolved to attack him in such a way that public defense would be impossible and destroy him by the theosophists of his family."

"The defendant further alleges that the association with Mrs. Horner is a mere incident in the campaign against him by the theosophists of his family, because they could not force him to bow his neck to the yoke of theosophy."

PRESSED HARD Coffee's Weight on Old Age

When prominent men realize the injurious effects of coffee and the change in health that Postum brings, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

A superintendent of public schools in South Carolina, says:

"My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee drinker and had been troubled with her heart for a number of years, and complained of that 'weak old age' feeling and sick stomach."

"Some time ago, I was making an official visit to a distant part of the country and took dinner with one of the merchants of the place. I noticed a somewhat peculiar flavor of the coffee, and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum."

"I was so pleased with it, that after the meal was over, I bought a package to carry home with me, and had wife prepare some for the next meal. The whole family liked it so well that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely."

"I had really been at times very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to its use, and had little trouble with her heart and stomach; that the headaches were not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us."

"I know Postum has benefited myself and the other members of the family, but not in so marked a degree as in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing."

JURY WANTS HUSBAND OF MRS. PERIN, SUICIDE

Her Sister Says Dead Woman Had Unhappy Home Life.

HARROW, Eng., Sept. 16.—The inquest was opened here this afternoon into the suicide last Saturday of Mrs. Lawrence Perin, daughter of the late Lord Curzon, who died at her home in London, after a long illness.

Mrs. Perin was a member of the staff of the major to Mrs. "Jack" Horner, now Mrs. James McVicker, a beautiful young society woman of New York.

Major Hanson filed his answer today in the Superior Court of Fulton county. It contains twenty-one pages of printed matter and categorically denies each of his wife's charges. In conclusion he says:

"Further answering plaintiff's bill, defendant avers that until the divorce case in an element of discord he had a united and happy family."

"The defendant further alleges that the association with Mrs. Horner is a mere incident in the campaign against him by the theosophists of his family, because they could not force him to bow his neck to the yoke of theosophy."

The coroner declared that he could not interfere with the burial arrangements.

SAYS PEARY WILL NOT LEAVE THE ROOSEVELT

SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 16.—All reports that Commander Peary will leave the Roosevelt, and come to Sydney on some of the press boats now at Battle Harbor, are scoffed at by Mrs. Peary.

"I can imagine what Capt. Bartlett would say if Commander Peary suggested such a thing," she said tonight.

"No, as long as the Roosevelt can float Commander Peary will come to Sydney on her."

Mrs. Peary had received no word from her husband up to eight o'clock tonight. The Roosevelt by leaving Battle Harbor tonight could still get here by Sunday, and Mrs. Peary still thinks that that day will see her husband back again.

WINDSOR, Sept. 16.—On a warrant secured by a bail on the charge of contempt of court, William Cawse has been taken from his bride of two months and lodged in jail.

Cawse's first wife died two years ago. Suit was begun against him by a local undertaker and judgment secured for her burial expenses. He disregarded the court's order to pay the bill. The case was allowed to stand in execution until Cawse would pay up. Two months ago, while the matter was still pending, he married again and furnished a house for his bride. Yesterday the court acted and Cawse was taken to jail to serve ten days sentence for contempt.

"DESIRE" CAUSED LEAP OFF BROOKLYN BRIDGE

Juniper Explains That Peculiar Fascination Made Him Risk Life.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—When Eugene L. McCarthy, of Dorchester, Mass., was arraigned in police court today for jumping off the Brooklyn Bridge last Wednesday, he said that he had made the leap because of an ungovernable desire to do so. He was released.

He said he walked over the bridge to Brooklyn and back again, all the time trying to shake off the inclination to jump.

"When I got back to New York," he said, "I thought I would go uptown and see more of the city, but in spite of myself my steps turned back toward the bridge, and before I knew it I was on a trolley car. As the car started up the incline, the idea of jumping came into my mind to such a degree that it fascinated me."

"I reached the middle of the bridge and made the leap into the river before I really knew what I was doing. No thought of suicide was ever in my head."

E. S. S. CO. WILL PUT EXTRA BOAT ON ST. JOHN ROUTE

Making Provisions to Handle Largely Increased Traffic Next Summer.

Calvin Austin, President of the Eastern Steamship Company, arrived on the Ransom B. Fuller last night on a business and pleasure trip. While here he will inspect the terminal facilities looking for increased accommodation. Owing to the rapid growth of the company's business on this division, better provisions will be made next season to handle the travel.

Mr. Austin stated that an additional boat would be put on the St. John, Boston route as this branch was a dividend earner.

This season the company's tourist business had been very heavy and he expected next season's showing would be as good or better. More docking facilities was, he said, the principal requirements for the Eastern line steamers in this port just now. "Business is increasing and as St. John will always be our distributing point we want room to grow," was the way he put it.

NEW SERVICES BETWEEN ST. JOHN AND ITALY

MONTREAL, Sept. 16.—The new steamer Tortona of the Thompson Line, specially built to get a share of the passenger business between Canada and Mediterranean ports, sails from Montreal direct for Naples on November 15. It was stated at the Telford office today that it had been practically decided to maintain a winter service with St. John as the terminus. Advice received today state that the order has been given out to Swan Hunter and Wigham Richardson for a sister ship to the Tortona. Both vessels will have accommodation for 1,650 passengers.

SYDNEY, Sept. 16.—On his return from inspecting the iron ore mines at Wabana, President Plummer of the Dominion Steel Company today stated that reports of the immediate settlement of the Steel Company's claim for damages against the Coal Company were incorrect.

SLAYER OF CHILDREN ESCAPES; BIG REWARD

Second Little Victim Lured From Home and Shot Dead.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 16.—With rewards aggregating $3,200 for his capture, the man who lured the children Theresa Procopio, Ferdinand Infusano and Fannie Infusano, from their home in the city Sunday night, and murdered the first two named, is still a fugitive tonight, and the police are about ready to concede that the solution of the mystery and the apprehension of the slayer will never be accomplished.

The mystery which originally surrounded the crime has been intensified by the reluctance of the relatives of the murdered children.

Ferdinand Infusano, the 2-1/2 year old boy, died today, twenty-four hours after he and his sister Fannie and the corpse of Theresa Procopio had been found in the ravine where the murderer did his work.

Fannie Infusano is still in a hospital suffering from the bullet wound in her arm. The little girl has been questioned closely, but the result is disappointing. The child either cannot or will not tell who fired the fatal shot.

Some of the police believe that the shadow of the Black Hand hangs over the Italian who might give valuable information, and that they dare not speak. At first the Infusanos told the police that the shots were fired by a member of the Procopio family, but when the man was taken to the hospital he lifted his head and exclaimed:

"Dat no da man."

FOUND A TON OF SOLID SILVER

PONTIAC, Mich., Sept. 16.—Silver ore worth twenty thousand dollars to the ton was brought into the city today from Silver Mountain district on the Fort Arthur and Duluth Railway, fifty miles west of here, with its report of a new discovery made by a prospector on the making of a find of vein nearly two feet wide he traced it for nearly a mile and started a shaft, which he sunk to a depth of thirty-five feet. A few days later water commenced to flow in. It filled the shaft, and he had to quit work, so he came to the city with a large quantity of ore taken from the workings.

Old mining men describe it as the richest ever taken from the district. Large pieces of pure silver being found all through the samples. The ore is like that of Cobalt, though containing more sulphur.

SASKATOON, Sask., Sept. 16.—Wm. Henry, the five-year-old son of Oliver Harriott, was accidentally shot through the heart last night, and died shortly afterwards. The little fellow was playing with his three-year-old brother, and the latter was holding a rifle which was supposed not to be loaded. In some manner the rifle was discharged, the bullet entering the child's body near the heart.

With the telephone message to the Advocate office, the handwriting of McDougall attached to the envelope, the receipt of the cut; its printing in the issue of 21st July; telegrams to and from McDougall to Mirre and the fact of his leaving on and advertising of this issue; also the conversation with Isaac Hayden in which McDougall showed him the drawing from which the cut was made. This issue also contained the name of Dr. Macneil, and the fact that the Attorney General then dealt with the negotiations between Stuart and McDougall and McDougall, and the sending of the issues to Moncton upon McDougall at Moncton to Mirre, as St. John, followed by the payment through the Canadian Express office by the Greek to McDougall. He also dealt most effectively with the correspondence between McDougall and McDougall, pointing out that the express orders exactly corresponded to the amounts stated in the letters. The telegrams exchanged showed that there was a rush order for the issue of 21st July, evidencing the fact that a depraved taste clamored for its satisfaction by libel and obscenity.

Not much had been heard of W. C. Loggie who bore about the same relation to McDougall that the famous Mrs. Harris bore to the Salvo Gang of action. It had also been suggested that the parties affected by these libels should have brought civil actions. What use to bring action against a man who owned neither press nor type and would not have been responsible for damages recovered. It was also said that the prisoner had already suffered enough by enduring a month's imprisonment. What was this to the suffering inflicted upon the persons injured?

They asked for the benefit of the doubt to be given to the prisoner? Where was the doubt? There could be none as to publication and none as to the libel. We might have sympathy for the man who in the heat of passion might commit homicide, for the man who under the stress of business disaster commits forgery, or under other circumstances as guilty of perjury, but there could be none to the man who for the sake of gain would circulate the vilest slanders upon the characters of decent persons.

JUDGE'S CHARGE.
At eleven o'clock, His Honor Mr. Justice White commenced his charge to the jury, stating as a preliminary that they must exclude from their minds all but the actual testimony in the case. The prisoner was to be tried for the libels charged and not for any other which he might have published.

Uncle Walt
The Poetic Philosopher

I have studied, I have brooded, and I've just about concluded, that I will not go a-brooding for the lost Antarctic Pole; other men will have to trail it; some one else will have to nail it, some one else must gain the glory and the medals and the goal. I would like quite well to find it; I would like to get behind it, and to nail this sign upon it: "Notice to the Public—Shoo!" I would gladly cross the planet, gather up the pieces, and say: "Old chap, you have made some people happy, you have done your work so ably that it is beyond compare; everything is hunky-dory! for there is no greater glory, than in having done your duty—Therefore cease to tear your hair!"

The Attorney General charged that this was published knowing it to be false, because the things charged were physical impossibilities and therefore a man must know them to be false. It would be for the jury to say whether the prisoner really intended to cause people to believe that Magistrate Kay had a bowled in his head. The language was clearly derogatory. It simply meant stupidity. As a matter of law I should direct you so, but at the request of an authorized agent of the accused is sufficient publication to satisfy the statute.

It was a dramatic scene, pregnant with the most tragic possibilities. Thus, the witness to the meeting of three Italians near the big express depot at Fifteenth and Market streets. A man and woman who were delivered a trunk into the hands of a clerk, who was highly excited. He approached the woman. In voluble Italian he raved and swore and pleaded, while she shrilled excitedly at answers. The other man stood back against the wall, his arms folded, his head sunk on his chest. It certainly looked as if danger were to be drawn. The interested bystander understood the rapidly spluttered dialect when the trouble was all about.

The need of an ambulance for conveying the sick or the injured in the four towns, viz. St. Stephen, Calais, Milltown, Me., and Milltown, N.B., has been felt for some time and now the ladies of the community have determined to secure one. For this purpose Wednesday, Sept. 22nd, the second day of the big fair, will be observed as "tag day." The effort is being made by the ladies connected with Chipman Memorial Hospital, but the ambulance when secured will be available when ever needed in this community, whether the patient is going to the hospital or not.—Courier.

John Kenney, factory inspector, called at the Star Office this afternoon and desired to state that he found several of the mills in excellent condition, and in fact congratulated the manager of Stetson, Cutler & Co., upon the fine appearance of the plant. A morning paper conveyed the idea that Mr. Kenney had found that the mills were disregarding the regulations. This is not the case as all the owners accorded him a kind welcome. They are also anxious to comply with any suggestion which he might offer. Mr. Kenney will continue his inspection during the next few weeks and extend his operations to all the mills of the province.

WANTS DOCTOR TO PAY FOR HIS FOOT

Dr. Myers, Moncton, Sued by An Italian

MAN HAD BEEN HURT

The Doctor Used the Knife—Boyles and Nesbitt Not Yet Sentenced

DORCHESTER, N. B., Sept. 16.—In the circuit court today the judge announced that sentence would be pronounced on James Boyle and Annie Nesbitt at the end of the session, after the trial of the case against Dr. Myers, brought by an Italian named Lurgi, who was injured some time ago by a car running over him while he was working on the Corbett-Fish contract on the National Transcontinental Railway, near Moncton.

One of the most interesting cases on the docket is the suit against Dr. A. R. Myers, brought by an Italian named Lurgi, who was injured some time ago by a car running over him while he was working on the Corbett-Fish contract on the National Transcontinental Railway, near Moncton.

In this accident Lurgi's foot was badly injured, and Dr. Myers amputated the injured member in the Moncton Hospital. Lurgi now claims that his foot should not have been taken off, and wants damages.

The first witness heard was the plaintiff, who gave his evidence through an interpreter. Harman, in the Moncton Hospital, and three of the nurses belonging to that institution were also present at the Opera House, and gave evidence in this case, among the number being Dr. T. D. Walker of St. John and Dr. McQuinn of Moncton, for the defense, and Dr. Pearson of Sussex for the plaintiff.

THE BURGOMASTER.
Our local amusement managers are quite busy at present arranging their "men" for the new season. Of all the first class attractions scheduled to appear at the Opera House, none will be welcomed more generously than "The Burgomaster," with the sterling reputation of Henry Hornum.

The title role, Poley and Ludeke have written many musical successes, namely, "Prince of Posen," "King Dodo," "Woodland" and "Grand Mogul," but it was in the greatest of these, "The Burgomaster," that they scored their greatest triumph. The present season's offering is the new edition of this musical masterpiece, Massena's "The Burgomaster."

TOBACCO AND PIPES IN A COFFIN.
GENEVA, Sept. 16.—An inveterate smoker, who has just died at Val Blegno, in the canton of Tesin, has left a charge in his will that a coffin be made of tobacco pipes and that a walking stick be placed in his coffin.

HE WAS EXCITED.
And Yet He Was Making Only a Very Reasonable Request.

It was a dramatic scene, pregnant with the most tragic possibilities. Thus, the witness to the meeting of three Italians near the big express depot at Fifteenth and Market streets. A man and woman who were delivered a trunk into the hands of a clerk, who was highly excited. He approached the woman. In voluble Italian he raved and swore and pleaded, while she shrilled excitedly at answers. The other man stood back against the wall, his arms folded, his head sunk on his chest. It certainly looked as if danger were to be drawn. The interested bystander understood the rapidly spluttered dialect when the trouble was all about.

It is now thought that the slight outbreak of typhoid which occurred a few days ago, following the case of Mr. Siding. The Board of Health officials have learned that the disease is not of a malignant type and that there has been no increase in the number of cases. Typhoid is not dealt with as a contagious disease and is not placarded and cases of this disease are discharged from the hospital without the consent of the Board of Health, consequently that body has no exact knowledge of sufferers.

ST. JOHN LOSES ONE OF ITS OLDEST RESIDENTS

Mrs. Martha Tennant Died This Morning at the Age of 91 Years.

By the death of Mrs. Martha Tennant, who passed away early this morning at the age of ninety-one years, St. John loses one of its oldest residents. Coming here from her birthplace in Londonderry, Ireland, in the thirties, Mrs. Tennant has resided in this city for over seventy years. Her death was chiefly due to old age. Mrs. Tennant had been in failing health for some time, but lingered steadily on. Of late her illness has grown more serious and this morning death took place about 1:15 o'clock. She is survived by one son, David Tennant, an employe of the water works department for the past thirty years. A brother, Andrew Lindsay, of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca McDonald, of Charlottetown, and Mrs. Isabelle Tufts of this city, are also left to mourn.

The deceased was probably the oldest member of the Christian church on Coburg street. She attended service at the church as early as 1843, and since that time has been a regular attendant, until about two years ago, failing health compelled her to remain indoors.

The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her son's residence, 173 Carmarthen street. Rev. George Titus, pastor of the Christian Church, will conduct the service.

The meeting of the representatives of the Inter-Society bowling teams to organize a league, which was to have taken place last evening did not materialize.

However, there was an informal talk and postponement was made until Tuesday next.

The bowling league this year will be much larger than last season. No less than eight societies will enter strong quintettes in the competition. Keen sport was afforded among the societies last year, and the finish was particularly exciting. The associations who will take part in the new league are: St. John the Baptist, St. Joseph, St. Peter's, Knights of Columbus, C. M. B. A., Father Matthew, Irish Literary and the Ancient Order of Columbus. All the matches will be rolled on the St. Peter's new alleys.

The Algonquin football practice called for tonight has been postponed until Monday, owing to the disagreeable weather.
