SUITS IN MONTREAL OVER LARGE LOAN
Action is Outcome of the Lender, In New Brunswick, Becoming Insane

An action has been entered and will be heard on December 4th, in the Superior Court by Roland Moffat, as curator for Geo. Moffat, interdicted for insanity, against W. S. Montgomery, of Dalhousie, N. B., and Dale & Co., Ltd., and G. Herbert Simpson, and the Montreal General Contracting Co., Ltd., as tiers saisis. Plaintiff alleges that Geo. Moffat was interdicted for insanity on July 17, 1912, and is now in Verdun Asylum. On January 5, 1912, Moffat entered into an agreement with the Montreal General Contracting Co., whereby he agreed to give a loan of $32,000, for which the Company gave a promissory note payable on February 27, 1912, and gave as security a chattel mortgage on certain properties, and also three mortgages on three tracts and barges. On March 2, 1912, the loan was unpaid, and Moffat assigned all his interest in it to W. S. Montgomery, on consideration of $1 paid, "and of other good and valuable consideration." Plaintiff declares that Montgomery gave no consideration whatever, and that Geo. Moffat was at the time "non compos mentis." Plaintiff further declares that pursuant to the agreement of January 5, 1912, between George Moffat and the Montreal General Contracting Company, Limited, and to the said chattel mortgage on the property an Inland Marine Insurance policy was effected on the property and effect with the tiers saisis Dale and Co., Ltd., for the sum of $2,000. The interest in this was transferred to Montgomery, who the plaintiff avers is about to realize on the loss of certain sews. Plaintiff claims that the transaction between Moffat and Montgomery, being null and void, the money belongs to Moffat, and in consequence a saisie conservatoire to attach the money involved in the hands of the tiers saisis.—Montreal Telegraph.

BATHURST

Bathurst, N. B., Nov. 24.—One of the most successful affairs ever given by the Ladies of St. George's Church, was the one held in the hall on last Wednesday evening in the Masonic hall. With good music under the leadership of Mr. G. H. Willet, a gaily decorated hall and booths, an excellent supper and willing and attentive attendants, it was not surprising that everyone spoke in the highest terms, and that their efforts were so successful. The tables were in charge of the following ladies: fancy table, Mrs. T. H. Eaton, Miss Bessie Bishop; housekeeper's table, Miss Connor; ice cream table, Miss Marion Hinton, Miss Mildred Williamson. The other members of St. George's Guild, and of the congregation present looked after the refreshment department. The amount realized was three hundred and ten dollars. Miss Agatha Melanson has returned from Chatham where she was visiting friends. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bryne left on Wednesday last for Montreal, where on Saturday Mrs. Bryne took the steamer for Liverpool, being called there on account of the serious illness of her brother-in-law, Mr. Herman Wiens. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buttmer of Vancouver, B. C., are making a visit to their relatives and friends here. Mrs. R. G. Duncan and Miss Margaret Kent are visiting in Montreal this week. Mr. H. K. B. Marsland of Chatham, spent several days here last week. Mrs. James Buttmer arrived from Vancouver, B. C., last week and intends remaining in Bathurst for some months. Rev. J. Whetten made a short visit to Campbellton last week. Miss Maggie Holland who met with a serious accident on Wednesday last, was successfully operated upon in the Moncton hospital on Saturday, where she went for treatment. A. G. Bishop of St. John was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gilbert during the week. Mrs. H. Bishop and Miss Bessie Bishop have returned from Moncton, having accompanied Miss Holland to the hospital. A new bell was rung in St. George's Church on Sunday last, and is the gift of Mr. George Bishop, formerly of Bathurst, now of Montreal. The bell

SHORT SESSION AT COUNTY COURT
Court for the County of Northumberland Under Judge McLatchey at Newcastle

A very short session of the County Court for the County of Northumberland was held in the old Court House Newcastle, on Tuesday. His Honor Judge McLatchey of Campbellton, presiding; A. A. Davidson, Clerk of Court. The following Grand Jurors were sworn in: J. Buckley, foreman; J. D. Buckley, Denis Doyle, Chas. Dickson, H. B. Moody, Perley Russell, Jas. Stables, D. S. Creaghan, Gilmore Stohart, A. E. Shaw, Howard Williston, Harry Taylor, Newcastle; Wm. Skidd, Thos. Fitzpatrick, Peter Archer, J. D. Johnston, A. G. Dickson, M. M. Goggin, D. W. Fraser, Chatham; John Vanderbeck, Randolph Crocker, Millerton. There was only one criminal case—the I.C.R. vs. James and Joseph Collins and Warren Preston; and three petty jury cases—the government vs. Fred Tweedie, of Chatham, a case which arose over the borrowing from the government of a number of jacks which were used in connection with the raising and shifting of the buildings of the Miramichi foundry at Chatham. This case, on application of Mr. Butler, was postponed until the January sitting of the Court on the understanding that the case would be settled by that time out of court. The case of James Schofield vs. Randolph Jardine, over the theft of oats by the latter, was postponed, on application of Mr. Schofield's attorney, on account of Mr. Schofield not being able to attend Court because of having received injuries from being kicked by a horse. A doctor's certificate in Mr. Schofield's defence was read, and the Court considered this sufficient evidence of his inability to be present. The criminal case—the I.C.R. vs. James and Joseph Collins and Warren Preston, was thrown out as the Grand Jury, after hearing the evidence of the witnesses, did not consider it sufficient for the case to be brought to trial. Three new witnesses were produced by the prosecution, but nothing new was brought out. R. A. Lawlor for the prosecution, L. J. Tweedie for the Collins brothers, and T. H. Whelan for Warren Preston.

SENTENCED TO FOUR YEARS FOR BIGAMY
James Barnhardt, Lately Working in Campbellton Tried at Newcastle

Newcastle, N. B., Nov. 26th.—James Barnhardt, who pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in Judge Mitthys Court, was sentenced this afternoon to four years in Dorchester Penitentiary at hard labor. Barnhardt came here recently from Campbellton where he left a wife, and has been working on the wireless. He was married here on Thursday last to a Miss Bessie Cable, under the assumed name of Renhart. His wife in Campbellton came down on Monday and had him arrested. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was remanded until to-day, and given the above sentence. It was reported that Barnhardt had been married three times and that his first wife died from injuries received at his hands, this was the prisoner denied, saying that she had died giving birth to a child. He admitted that he had forced the Cables girl to marry him by threatening her with a breach of promise suit, as she had promised to marry him and then refused to do so. It is the opinion, however, that he used a stronger threat than this. He has the appearance of a bad character, and should consider himself lucky that he got off with the above sentence. Barnhardt who at one time worked here in the employ of the Shivers Lumber Co., was married to one of the Adam's girls from the other side, at the time of her marriage being known as the "Widow Johnson". Mrs. Barnhardt keeps a boarding house on Union Street here.

ST. OMER On November 21st, the numerous friends and admirers of Mr. J. P. Walker were all sorry to hear of his departure from St. Omer. For the last four years Mr. Walker was manager for the firm of Chappell Bros., and for six years before that he was with Mr. W. K. McKean in the same capacity. Mr. Walker was well known throughout Bonaventure Co., and his many friends will deeply regret his absence. Before his departure Mr. Walker gave a sociable entertainment to a few of his friends, at the residence of Mr. J. H. Allan, St. Omer. Among those present were Messrs J. T. Dagneau, mayor of St. Omer, Nicholas Arseneau, Ernest Allan and a few other friends.

SHIGAWAKE The Rev. Mr. McLeod of New Carlisle, together with Messrs Shearer, Jacobson and others visited Shigawake I.O.G.T. Lodge last Thursday, as it was an open lodge and outsiders were admitted, there was a good attendance. Mr. Shearer acted as chairman, and gave out the program, which consisted of temperance songs by Messrs Shearer and Jacobson, a recitation by the Rev. Mr. McLeod, who also made a short speech, a song by Mrs. R. P. Travers, and a speech by the Rev. A. J. Vibert, in which he pointed out that one of the chief reasons for Shigawake being interested in the Temperance matter was the fact that it is hoped to have county election on the question of prohibition before long, and the fact that legislation is now being passed, whereby the same voters will have a right to vote as those who names appear on the Federal lists. The meeting was a most enjoyable one, and was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, and the Benediction, which was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Vibert.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING MONDAY Mrs. W. D. Duncan is Added to Directorate—Good Paper by Mrs. Currie.

A meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Andrew, the President, a goodly number being present. Mrs. Wm. Currie read an interesting paper on "Domestic Science," and Mrs. Wm. D. Duncan was added to the Directorate. An "interesting" discussion was held after Mrs. Currie's paper in which she said:

The wind and rain storm of Sunday last damaged quite a number of fences around here, and as a consequence the farmers are putting them in order again. Ploughing is still the occupation of quite a few, the ground being as yet free from frost.

The roads are still very bad, especially in St. Gertrud and Hopetown West. It is hoped that the new Minister of Roads will in the near future force the municipal councils to keep at least respectable roads. That this is possible is evidenced by the fact that where a sufficient amount of gravel has been put on them, they are quite fair. Each person ought to devote at least two days a year to graveling the road opposite their property, then in a few years we would have very good roads.

BLACK LANDS A gloom was cast over Black Lands, when we heard of the death of Mr. Donald Nichol, one of the best known and aged farmers of the country, after a short illness in his 79th year. Although of such an advanced age, he was always well and hearty, and his death came as a shock to all. Sincere sympathy is felt for the beloved wife and family. The funeral was held on Tuesday the 18th, to New Mills burying ground, and was largely attended by friends and relatives. A floral wreath was contributed by the Sunday school, with sympathy to their old superintendent. He was a faithful believer in Jesus, and we hope he is rejoicing in his glory. The pallbearers were: Dave McLean, Bob Archibald, Dan Archibald, John McConnell, Willie Archibald and Nattie Campbell.

MEN SHOT FROM MOUTHS OF CANNON

Barbarous Method of Execution Revived in India.

Allahabad, India, Saturday.—While a great crowd was assembled at Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, nine men were blown to pieces from the mouths of cannons for conspiring to assassinate the Amer. Habebullah Kahn, the Amer, who rules like a feudal despot—in these modern times, wished to give his people a terrible object lesson on the danger of plotting against the life of a monarch. He chose, therefore, a method of punishment made infamous by the old Moguls more than 150 years ago and employed by the British conquerors of India to strike the terrors of the prisoners plainly natives. Knowing their fate, the nine men were dragged out of their prison in Kabul, marched through the streets to the parade ground, and drawn up in line while the cannons were being prepared by soldiers for their execution. One by one they were strapped to the mouths of the cannon.

When the last thong was fastened the terror of the prisoners plainly shown in their faces as they awaited their fate with bodies writhing the military commander of the execution squad gave the signal and the cannons were fired.

For an instant or two the air in front of the cannons in the line was filled with smoke and fragments of men. The Amer was avenged. Until news of this execution reached Allahabad, British rulers believed this method of punishment had long been discarded. The British themselves used it during the Sepoy mutinies.

Sir Hector Munro, who was then a major in the British army of India, first employed the cannon mouth method of punishment against the natives. After the massacre of Patna in 1761 in which 2,000 Sepoys and 200 Britons were killed as a sequel to a war begun by the Nawab of Murshidabad, the Sepoys instituted their mutiny against the English. Sir Hector quelled that mutiny and executed twenty-four of the ringleaders by having them blown from the mouths of cannons. Subsequently the method was discarded.

This form of execution has peculiar terrors for the Hindus and Mohammedans owing to their religious convictions, the latter believing that the body will enter heaven in the form it left the earth.

If the rules are carefully observed the pupil cannot fail to become neat and clean in her cooking. While would give the dead languages their proper place in schools, and many girls who are seeking a higher education cannot give along without, but if they are simply to follow housekeeping at the end of a common school education, it is not reasonable to suppose, that a thorough course in cooking would be of much greater benefit than the dead languages. When in Vancouver I called on a lady one afternoon, and she deeply regretted that she had taken languages, and so many other things that were of no practical use, and had not the chance of a course in domestic science like her sister enjoyed later. She said she simply knew nothing whatever about the simplest cooking, and paid dearly for her experience by wasting material. In this respect the experience of hundreds of girls. Some may say the receipts are expensive and only for the rich. I can positively say that so far I have known our girls bring home samples of their cooking such as mutton stew, that was simply delicious, both in flavor and quality and made from a cheap piece of the mutton neck. BLACK LANDS A gloom was cast over Black Lands, when we heard of the death of Mr. Donald Nichol, one of the best known and aged farmers of the country, after a short illness in his 79th year. Although of such an advanced age, he was always well and hearty, and his death came as a shock to all. Sincere sympathy is felt for the beloved wife and family. The funeral was held on Tuesday the 18th, to New Mills burying ground, and was largely attended by friends and relatives. A floral wreath was contributed by the Sunday school, with sympathy to their old superintendent. He was a faithful believer in Jesus, and we hope he is rejoicing in his glory. The pallbearers were: Dave McLean, Bob Archibald, Dan Archibald, John McConnell, Willie Archibald and Nattie Campbell.

Asleep in Jesus! far from thee, Thy kindred and their graves may be, But mine is such a blessed sleep, From which none ever wakes to weep.

ST. JOHN GIRL MISSING FOR OVER SIX WEEKS

Irene Cormier Aged Thirteen Late of Campbellton has Disappeared

St. John, N.B., Nov. 22--Six weeks ago Irene Cormier, the thirteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cormier, 2 White Street, disappeared since she was last seen on the morning after her disappearance the grief-stricken mother found a letter under her door. The address on the envelope was in strange hand-writing but inside, on a rough piece of paper, was written in a childish hand: "I have gone home with this lady and have a good home at last."

The girl, who is one of a family of three sisters, was attending Centennial school. On the afternoon of Oct. 14 she went to school as usual with a girl friend, but at the conclusion of the session she failed to return. Her mother and none of her classmates know what became of her. The family came here from Campbellton some time ago, having lost everything there in the fire.

In a despatch The Moncton Times says: The two younger sisters who are in the lower grades came home as usual and when time passed and Irene did not return the mother became anxious but the younger sisters could not remember having seen her. When their daughter did not return during the evening the mother started out in search of her, but not knowing of any other companions except the girl with whom she went to school the efforts of the mother were fruitless. She then notified Chief Clark and requested the police to search for her daughter. This was done but so far without success.

The only word that has been any clue is the fact that when the mother returned to her home on the morning after her daughter disappeared she found under the door a letter which had been left by the postman. It bore a one cent stamp and was mailed in the city. The envelope was addressed in a strange handwriting but it contained a rough piece of paper in her own handwriting. The note was without headline or address and read as follows: "I have gone home with this lady and have a good home at last."

The police are of the opinion that the girl was forced to sign this message owing to the fact that the envelope was addressed in a different handwriting and as the mother says "How could my daughter know how she had a good home after being in it only a few hours?"

Mrs. Cormier says today that Irene was always happy at home and was very friendly with her two sisters. With the mother and father the sisters have prayed night and morning for her safe return. She had few companions and took great delight in her studies and was a regular attendant at school. Her teacher was very proud of her and said that she was very apt to learn.

THE POTATOE YIELD IS HIGHEST IN N. B.

Bulletin Upon Agricultural Conditions Issued by Dept. Shows This.

Ottawa, Nov. 15--The Census and Statistics Office has issued to-day the usual bulletin upon agricultural conditions throughout Canada as reported by correspondents at the end of October. The report gives estimates of the areas, yields and values of root and fodder crops, of the area sown to fall wheat for next year's harvest, of the proportions of ploughing completed this fall and of the acreage summer fallowed in 1913.

The total area under root and fodder crops (potatoes, turnips, man golds, etc., hay and clover, alfalfa, fodder corn and sugar beets), is placed at 6,693,000 acres, and the total value of the products from this area at $187,399,100. The estimated total yields and values of these crops are--potatoes, 76,720,000 bushels, value $37,375,000; turnips and other roots, 73,090,000 bushels, value $20,103,000; hay and clover, 10,050,000 tons, value $114,789,000; fodder corn, 2,436,300 tons, value $11,273,500; alfalfa 251,700 tons, value $2,895,600 and sugar beets 161,000 tons, value $959,000. These figures are provisional, as finally corrected returns, based on the census of 1911, will be available for publication at the end of the year. The average yields per acre for the Dominion are reported as 165.85 bushels for potatoes, as compared with 172.19 bushels last year; last year, 354.12 bushels for turnips and other roots as compared with 402.51, 1.32 ton for hay and clover as compared with 1.47 ton, 8.64 tons for fodder corn as compared with 10.26, and 2.44 tons for alfalfa as compared with 2.79. It will be recalled that last year's wet season was especially favourable for roots and fodder crops.

In quality all these crops are marked as about 90 or above 90 per cent of the standard, excepting fodder corn which is 85.

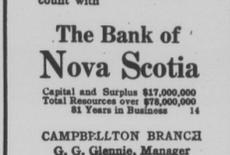

The potato yield is highest in New Brunswick, 244 bushels, and lowest in Ontario, 119 bushels. The area estimated to be sown to fall wheat for the crop of 1914, totals 1,006,700 acres, as compared with 1,086,500 acres, the area estimated to have been sown in 1912 for 1913. This represents a net diminution for the five provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia of 80,100 acres or 7.37 per cent. Ontario, where nearly seven tenths of the crop is grown, remains practically stationary, the estimated total reduction being only 2,000 acres for 696,000 acres, diminution of 1,100 acres in the two provinces of Manitoba and British Columbia, offset by an increase of 5,000 acres, making 78,000 acres in Saskatchewan. The bulk of the reduction is therefore in Alberta where the acreage is estimated as 229,000 as against 312,000, or a decrease of 83,000 acres--nearly 2 per cent. Correspondents attribute this decrease to the excessive amount of winter killing of fall wheat during the last three years in consequence of which many farmers have given up this crop altogether. The condition of fall wheat for all Canada, averaged 93.74 per cent of a standard, Manitoba and Saskatchewan showing the best condition, with 95 and 96 points respectively.

The percentage of fall ploughing completed, compares well with last year, when, however, the conditions were exceptionally unfavourable. The percentage ranges from the lowest of 30 in Saskatchewan to the highest of 70 in Quebec. In Manitoba and Alberta the respective percentages are 58, compared with 27 last year, and 44 compared with 24.

As compared with 1912 all the provinces devoted a smaller area to summer fallowing, excepting Prince Edward Island and the three Northwest provinces, where the increased percentages are from 2 to 5.

MAY LEAD TO DISCOVERY OF THOSE WHO ATTEMPTED TO KILL VICEROY IN INDIA

Calcutta, Nov. 21--A police raid on a suspected house in Calcutta yesterday led to the arrest of four men and the discovery of a bomb factory. Correspondence found in the building is believed to give a clue to the inner circle of an anarchistic conspiracy which has resulted in many recent outrages, including the attempt to kill the viceroy with a bomb in Delhi last December.

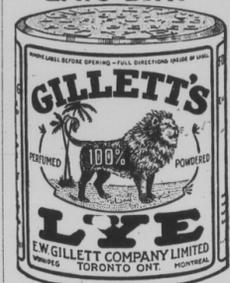

Albert's total land area occupied as farm lands has increased in a decade from 2,735,630 acres to 17,747,739 acres.

SMALL—VERY SMALL
Wm. Copeland, the postmaster of Dawsonville post office has received notice that his services are no longer required, and as he is a Liberal, this glorious Conservative administration will expect him to get out into other pastures new and hustler for liberal dollars, instead of browsing in the conservative greens. Mr. John Hannigar who before the last election was promised the lucrative position, carrying with it the magnificent salary of $35, has received the appointment, and just as soon as he gets time to return from the tall timbers where he has been employed, he will be sworn in, which ceremony will no doubt add a great deal of dignity to those participating in the "spoils function," if not many dollars to Mr. Hannigar's purse.

Mr. Copeland, who has been relieved of his position without even the farce of an investigation, has been postmaster at Dawsonville for over twelve years, and during that time has given general satisfaction, and many residents of that section irrespective of politics, are not at all pleased with the change.
It is understood that a number of the county postmasters have received a like notice as Mr. Copeland got. Now is this not what any one would term a very small business. Are we to understand that the civil service of this country is subservient to the mood and vagaries of a few transient politicians who consider that the cry "to the victors the spoils" is sufficient excuse to a long-suffering public, who have to be content with a civil servant, whose first, and sometimes only qualification is that he worked for the glorious cause.

How can we expect any servant in a government capacity to work as he ought to, with his whole heart in his job, if he has the sword of Damocles hanging over his head, and well knows that if a change of government comes "off goes his head." Our civil service will never be the institution it ought to be until the civil service is absolutely separated from politics, and the patronage dispensers given some decent hard toil to do, to keep the idle hands from mischief. As the matter stands at present, a constituency is not represented in parliament by the member they elect, but by the representatives of the government which happens to be in power, and called a patronage committee.

A STARTLING STATEMENT
On his way South, Premier Borden stopped off the other day, at New York where he was a guest at a dinner at the Lotus Club, tendered to Mr. Cyril Maude, the English actor. Mr. Borden was called upon to make a speech, and his utterances on that occasion, we are sure, will amaze the people of Canada. His speech is reported in the New York Herald of November 3rd. The New York Herald, we do not say, boasts of its accuracy as a newspaper. We can hardly doubt, then, astonishing as it may appear, that Mr. Borden is correctly reported. This is what he said: "In regard to reciprocity between this country and Canada, Mr. Borden said that the Canadians had no objections to such a treaty, and that Canada felt that she had done her share toward it. He said that he regretted that it had not come to pass, but, he added, "Canada will conduct affairs so as to be the bond between the United States and the British Empire."

We can scarcely credit the words, but there they are. And this is the Mr. Borden who told us two years ago that if we had reciprocity with the United States, it would make Canada a mere "adjunct" of Washington, that our railways would be ruined, our nationality would be sapped, our ties with the mother country would be severed and our "soul" would be lost! Mr. Borden's dream? Has his head turned, or is he merely speaking now honestly and sincerely and exposing, by his own words, the rank hypocrisy of his campaign speeches of 1911? We leave it to his political supporters to settle it among themselves.

EDITOR'S MAIL BAG
Campbellton, N. B.
Nov. 26th, 1913

Dear Sir,
I notice in the Graphic of Nov. 20th, a letter from Mr. Donald McBeath, who seems to have a grievance with the Town Council, also that he refers twice in the same letter to the dirt and filthy drainage from Andrew's blacksmith shop. Now Mr. Editor, if Mr. McBeath would sit up and look around a bit, he would find that this drainage does not come from my blacksmith shop, as he would lead the public to believe, but that it takes its rise from a source a good deal nearer to his own back yard than it does my blacksmith shop, so when the health officers wait on him, I would advise him taking them over that way and they will then be at the fountain head.
Thanking you for space in your valuable paper, I remain,
Yours truly,
J. F. ANDREW.

EDITORIAL
The following clipping from the Chatham World has already appeared in the Graphic, but as it is so timely and contains so much solid truth in so small a compass, I would ask you to publish it again in your valued paper so that its sound teaching will be even still further brought home to us.

CITIZEN
Chatham World:—The worst habit that boys can fall into is that of loafing around the streets at night. It is then they cast their lot in slippery places where at any moment they are likely to fall from grace. All good and noble lessons taught them by their mothers are there counteracted and nullified. They learn nothing that is good—but everything bad. The boys who spend their evenings in the sacred precincts of home with good books for their companions, are the future hope of the Dominion; they will fill our legislative halls, and sit in judgment upon men and measures, while the boys who run the streets will fill the penitentiaries, alms-houses and lunatic asylums. Parents who are responsible for these broken laws of decency will have broken hearts and bowed down heads in the awakening years that will evidently follow.

ENGINEER STUCK TO POST IS INJURED

But Brought Train to a Standstill—May Not Recover

Metuchen, N. J., Nov. 24.—With seven coaches swinging behind his engine, William Carr, engineer, was bringing his express train from Philadelphia to the Pennsylvania terminal in New York Sunday, when just this side of Trenton, his locomotive exploded. In an instant he was enveloped in steam and scalding water steamed over him. Carr stuck to his post, mindful of the seven coaches full of passengers behind him, and knowing he must bring his train to a halt. He closed his throttle and threw on the emergency brakes. As the train came to a jarring standstill, trainmen and conductor found Carr unconscious in his cab, his flesh terribly scalded, his hand still on the throttle. To-day he lies in St. Peter's Hospital, hovering between life and death. The explosion delayed traffic for an hour.

ZAM-BUK IN THE HOME

Read How Useful It Proved in These Widely Different Cases.

Zam-Buk's strongest point is its effectiveness in all kinds of skin diseases and injuries. Just note how excellent these persons proved it in widely different directions.

Sore Heel.—Mrs. C. A. Campbell, of Pawaasan, Ont., writes: "One of my heels was very badly blistered by a pair of new shoes, and the poisonous dye from my stocking got into it, and made a bad sore. For a week I could not put on a shoe, and suffered great pain. I applied Zam-Buk, and in a few days it drew the poison out and healed the wound."

Bad Cut.—Mrs. J. Virgint, of Onondaga, Ont., writes: "Zam-Buk healed a bad cut which I sustained. I was hurrying across my yard one day when I slipped and fell heavily, my knee striking a sharp stone. At the moment I did not realize how badly I was hurt, but I found I had a bad cut about two inches long, very jagged and very deep. We bathed the cut and applied Zam-Buk. This stopped the smarting very quickly, and in a few days it had healed the wound completely. For cuts and bruises Zam-Buk is a splendid remedy."

Eczema Cured.—Mrs. Antoine Arsenault of Maximville, P. E. I., writes: "I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to any person suffering from eczema. I had this disease and was under doctors' treatment for two years, without any good result. I then tried Zam-Buk and in the end it cured me."

Zam-Buk is just as good for piles, blood-poison, festering sores, pimples, eruptions, cuts, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

CAUGHT IN TRAP; EATEN BY LIONS

Pitiful Story of Struggle and Starvation Told by Finding of Sportsman.

Denver, Col. Nov. 21.—Caught in his own bear trap while on a shooting trip in the mountains near Embudo, N.M., Henry Severson, sixty-five, formerly of Denver, for several days fought a futile fight against death by starvation and thirst, or being killed by wild animals.

News of the finding of his body, torn into shreds by the claws of mountain lions and wildcats, has just been received here by friends. His identification is made complete by papers found in a pocket of his coat.

Mr. Severson was wealthy and had many friends in Denver, especially among the mining men and the earlier settlers. He was an eccentric character, living more the life of a hermit than anything else. About eighteen months ago, unable to withstand the call of the wild, he went into the hills from Embudo and often returned to that point for supplies. The last seen of him was on one of his last trips to Embudo more than two months ago.

A few days ago a party of sportsmen stumbled across the body of a man in the woods, stripped of the flesh to the bones. Closer inspection showed that his two arms were caught in a bear trap and that he had been unable to extricate himself.

The ground immediately surrounding the spot where the body was found tells a pitiful story. While it is felt certain that he carried some food in his clothing, which he was unable to reach with the tips of his fingers, the persons who discovered the body believe that he was forced to eat the bait he had brought along for the traps. Shrubbery for several feet around the trap had been gnawed almost to the ground and there were indications that Mr. Severson attempted to chew the bark from a nearby tree, which he was able to reach only after a desperate struggle in moving the trap and the heavy chain.

STRONGLY ASSAILS LARGE CORPORATIONS

Vigorous Sermon by Rev. Dr. Brophy, of Montreal.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 24.—"It is said a corporation has no body to be chastised nor a soul to be damned. But there should be a law to put their bodies in jail, as there is a God who will damn their souls if they treat unjustly their fellow men."

Rev. Dr. Brophy, pastor of St. Agnes Church, St. Denis Street in the course of a powerful sermon Sunday attributed the cost of living to usurious profits demanded by people, who supply foodstuffs and materials to the people.

"The laborer of to-day is worse off than the oppressed of the day of the barons for he has not the joy of the fight that the oppressed of those days had."

"There were risings before and people will not be ground down. They will not be beaten to death by modern tyrants."

"Are we to sit by and see the workmen starve?"

These were some of the statements made by Dr. Brophy in his sermon.

HOME MADE BUTTER NOT SO GOOD

Care Should be Taken by Housewives in Making Butter for Market.

Market reports invariably quote creamery butter higher than dairy butter which is the designation given to that which is made on the farm. It is unfortunate that circumstances at times make it impracticable for dairy farmers to patronize a creamery. When this can be done, not only are the profits, as a rule, increased, but much hard work is taken away from the overburdened members of the family.

There is no good reason why butter made in the home dairy should not be as fine as that made in a creamery where cream produced under all manner of conditions has to be made up. All that is necessary is the carrying out of a well established system in feeding the cows, caring for the milk and cream and the churning and the putting up of the butter. In order to teach the proper method of carrying out these various operations, there has been prepared, under the direction of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner at Ottawa, a bulletin entitled "Buttermaking on the Farm," written by Mr. Geo. H. Barr, Chief of the Dairy Division.

This work, which may be secured free from the Publication Branch of the Department of Agriculture, explains the common defects of dairy butter as well as the conditions that are necessary to produce fine flavoured cream. It then deals with churning, washing, salting, working and packing butter, and considers the modern necessary utensils and their care. These are shown in clear illustrations.

This bulletin, which is No. 17 of the Dairy and Cold Storage series, concludes with the following recommendations:—Keep good cows, feed them liberally, keep them comfortable and clean when in the stable, skim a rich cream and keep it cool, churn at a temperature that will give a flaky granule in the butter; use clean, pure water for washing butter not more than three degrees colder or warmer than the buttermilk. Put the butter up in neat, clean, attractive packages, and keep everything in and about the dairy clean and attractive."

TWO MORE ENGINES FOR I. C. R. NOW HERE

Late Additions to Motive Power Are from Montreal Locomotive Works . . .

Two new big freight engines arrived in Montreal from Montreal, last week, for service on the Northern Division of the I.C.R. between Montreal and Campbellton. The new engines are said to be the van-guard of a number which are now under construction at the Montreal Locomotive Works.

The new machines, which are numbered 266 and 267 are of the 2-8-0 consolidated type and are of about the same general dimensions and appearance as the 250, or "battleship" class of engines, which are the largest in service on the Intercolonial today. Like their predecessors, the new engines are fitted with remarkably high wheels which give them an unusual efficiency in fast freight work, and, where necessary, in passenger service.

FORTUNES MADE BY CONVICTS IN PRISON

Prisoners Who Made Good Use of Their Time in Prison.

Although most criminals find the time of their imprisonment hang very heavily, it sometimes happens that convicts have made such good use of the hours spent in jail that they have earned large sums of money to help them when their sentences have expired, recently a convict, while an inmate of Ohio Penitentiary, studied electricity to such good purpose that he invented an electrical street-sweeping machine, and other useful appliances that will probably bring him in a large sum of money.

Another American convict made a big fortune some years ago by inventing a new collar-button while he was serving his sentence. The idea was taken up by a big firm in Pittsburg and was very successful.

A man serving a sentence in an Arizona prison invented a new device for absorbing electricity from the air and the prison authorities were so struck with the possibilities of his invention that they liberated him long enough to go to Washington to file an application for a patent.

It is not only by inventing, however, that prisoners make money. A criminal, who was sentenced to prison for complicity in a murder in Italy recently, had four of his plays accepted by the firm of publishers in Rome. All the plays were written within the four walls of a gloomy cell. Another Italian convict, a brigand, who was sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment for his evil, wrote many clever stories while he was in jail, which were accepted and well paid for by the editors of several newspapers.

A Hungarian woman prisoner, who was sent to jail for having egged on her lover to commit a murder, wrote a charming waltz while she was in prison. The piece was published, and became so popular that its composer made a small fortune out of the sales.

Probably the largest sum ever made by anyone whilst serving a sentence for crime was the amount earned by a convict who was confined in the State prison at Waukesha, Wisconsin. Finding the time hang very heavily on his hands, he determined to set to work to invent something that would not only prove useful to his fellow-men, but that would earn him enough to keep him when he had regained his liberty. After much thought he was lucky enough to hit upon a device which abolished the necessity of a bobbin in the sewing-machine. This may sound a simple invention to the uninitiated, but it was thought so well of by experts that its imprisoned inventor was offered the huge sum of $20,000 for it by a company in New York. Needless to say, he accepted the offer.

CANADA'S PEAT INDUSTRY

"Canada's peat industry has become an economic factor of commercial importance. It has passed beyond the experimental stage and is now on a basis for extensive development," writes J. G. Adams, B. A., in this week's issue of the Journal of Commerce, Montreal, in an illustrated article on Canada's Peat Industry. Continuing the writer shows that last year Canada imported over fourteen and a half million tons of coal valued at nearly $40,000,000 or a per capita expenditure for this one import alone of over $6.00. In Canada already over 40,000 acres of peat bog have been surveyed and explored "but there is an almost incalculable amount of peat between the Atlantic and the Pacific, much of it still unknown. Over this area the peat averages possibly 20 feet in depth and when it is remembered that one acre of peat one foot deep will yield approximately 250 tons or that an acre 20 feet deep will yield about 5000 tons one may understand in some small degree the importance and value of this almost unlimited supply of fuel."

SASKATCHEWAN M.P.P. WANTS DUTY OFF WHEAT AND FLOUR

Regina, Sask., Nov. 21—A debate on a resolution calling on the dominion government to remove the duty on wheat and flour being exported into the United States, was a feature of yesterday's session of the Saskatchewan legislature. G. A. Scott of Arm River, introduced the motion and pointed out that at the present time the European market was the only one for the surplus production of Canadian grain.

Increased freight rates and the long haul make the margin of profit for the farmers very small. The debate finally adjourned without any action.

NUMEROUS REQUESTS FOR WEDDING CAKE

Washington, Nov. 22—Numerous requests for a piece of Jessie Wilson's wedding cake caused the issue at the White House to-day of a statement describing the size of the cake as too small to gratify the desires of the public. The statement says: "On account of the erroneous and extravagant statements as to the size and cost of the cake, which has been baked for the wedding of Miss Jessie Wilson, Mrs. Wilson wishes it stated that the cake is nine inches high and 22 inches in diameter. It is the usual kind of bride's cake and is not at all elaborate."

Preparations for the wedding continue. The Rev. John Nevin Sayre, a brother of the groom, to be, arrived from Germany on his way from missionary work in China. He will assist the Rev. Dr. S. W. Beach of Princeton, N. J., at the wedding ceremony.

The German steamship companies have been "hogging" the immigration travel on the Atlantic, for such a long time, that they resent intrusion from Canada.

A COURAGEOUS CHOIR

A good deal of denunciation of peck-a-boo waists, sheer hose and silk skirts, has been indulged in by pulpits orators, but it would appear from the following, contributed to the Wesleyan by a good Frederickton class leader, that the minister of the Frederickton Methodist Church would have to turn his back on the congregation and address the choir if he preached a sermon against airy costumes. The good deacon reports as follows:

"Echoes from great missionary convention in Amherst formed the theme for one of Pastor MacLaughlan's Thanksgiving sermons on Sunday and proved very interesting. Under the supervision of Mrs. J. M. Lemont and Mrs. S. B. Wass, some of the junior members of the Epworth League decorated the old church most profusely with products of field and orchard. To remove sombreness from the scene the choir dressed at the morning service—Chatham World.

Inspector Carter, in Amherst, N.S., lately destroyed over 10 barrels of liquors that he had seized. The "news" of that town says: "A sorrowful party of spectators watched the proceedings and the general verdict was 'that it was a sinful waste of good material.'"

The postage stamp revenue of Canada for the first six months of the fiscal year was $6,749,890, an increase of $501,164 over the same six months last year, and $4,112,000 greater than the half year ten years ago. The September receipts increased by $128,105 to a total of $1,163,685.

CANADIAN SHIPBUILDING PAST AND PRESENT

"Canada's shipbuildings greatness lies in the performances of the past and the few days when the forests provided the material, but it is gratifying to note what has been accomplished in the present with the change to steam and steel. We are to young a country to sit and brood over ancient glories and there are ample evidences that a new and greater shipbuilding industry will shortly arise in this country.

In an illustrated article in this week's issue of the Journal of Commerce, Montreal, Mr. F. William Wallace, editor of the Canadian Fisherman, has an interesting article on "Canadian Shipbuilding: Past and Present." His story of the rise and fall of the wooden shipbuilding industry and the gradual change to steel is one of the most interesting accounts ever written about this particular industry.

Mr. Wallace knows the sea and matters pertaining to shipping thoroughly and his story carries with it much of the glamour and romance which we associate with the "Wooden walls of England."

MONCTON LIBERALS HAVE ORGANIZED

Enthusiastic Meeting Held in Railway Town Last Friday.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 21—Tanaca Hall in this city, was the scene of an enthusiastic Liberal rally this evening. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the policies advocated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and pledging continued support to Hon. H. R. Emmerson.

An increase in the tariff preference by Canada to Great Britain from one-third to one-half was favored, the increased preference of sixteen and two-thirds per cent to apply only when such importations are made directly through a Canadian port of entry, and not passing in bond through any foreign country.

A resolution was adopted endorsing Sir Wilfrid Laurier's proposal to seek, by revising downwards, of the tariff and by other means, to reduce the cost of living.

Another resolution warmly endorsed the senate in insisting upon an equitable distribution of moneys proposed to be expended by the dominion government in the construction of highways, and also in resisting the policy of contribution to Imperial naval defence rather than the strengthening of the same by the construction of a Canadian navy, acting in accord with Imperial naval defence.

The club placed itself on record as favoring granting the Transcontinental railway running rights over the Intercolonial railway to St. John, Halifax and other ocean ports, provided that such running rights safeguarding the interest of the Intercolonial in earnings from its local traffic, whether passenger or freight, and further provided that the interests and rights of the Intercolonial Railway's own employees are in such agreements amply safeguarded and protected.

The policy of Hon. H. R. Emmerson in advancing that the Intercolonial be retained under the ownership and control of the people of Canada, was warmly endorsed.

Another resolution condemned the utterance of Hon. Mr. Fleming that as being an utterance unworthy of a statesman who, as premier, should be impartial towards all sections of the province in carrying out and supporting a policy of general development.

And it was further resolved that the club would, with unremitting effort, continue to oppose the present provincial government and seek to replace it by statesmen who take abroad statesmanlike view of their duties respecting the development of the province.

The meeting closed with cheers for the king, Laurier, Emmerson and coming victory.

“There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough! One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them,” says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

Mrs. ANNIE A. CORBETT
AVON, ONT., May 14th, 1913
“I have used ‘Fruit-a-tives’ for indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I am highly pleased with ‘Fruit-a-tives’ and am not ashamed to have the facts published to the world. When I first started, about six years ago, to use them, I took four for a dose, but I cured myself of the above troubles and gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night. Before taking ‘Fruit-a-tives’ I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the disease as from these treatments. Finally, I saw ‘Fruit-a-tives’ advertised with a letter in which someone recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were more than satisfactory and I have no hesitation in recommending them to any other person. They have done me a world of good. I get satisfaction from them, and that is quite a lot.” ANNIE A. CORBETT.

DOMINION LIBERALS TO HONOR MR. FIELDING

Banquet Will be Tendered Him Upon His Return to Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 21—Hon. W. S. Fielding will sail from Liverpool tomorrow by Allan liner Virginian on his return to Canada to assume the presidency of The Telegraph Publishing Company of Montreal, Ltd., and become editor-in-chief of The Montreal Daily Telegraph.

Mr. Fielding's taking up residence in Montreal will be the occasion of a great demonstration in his honor, the Montreal Reform Club having secured his consent to accept a banquet which will be made a great Liberal rally. The Reform Club's executive held a meeting this evening to make arrangements and the dinner will be held early in December.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has promised to attend and it is hoped that seasonal duties will not prevent Sir Lomer Gouin from being present. Sir Wilfrid last evening expressed his determination to take part in the demonstration to Mr. Fielding, no matter at what sacrifice of other engagements. Those who were members of Sir Wilfrid's government and all Liberal senators and M.P.'s who can will attend, and it is expected that the dinner to Mr. Fielding will be one of the greatest ever held under the auspices of Canadian Liberalism.

QUEEN MARY TACKLES CHEAP LABOR QUESTION

London, Nov. 21—Queen Mary has tackled the question of “sweat shop” labor.

Last week several women, employed upon royal needlework, in the guild, of which the queen is patron, wrote to Her Majesty, complaining that they were being paid at the rate of eight cents an hour.

The queen immediately postponed the sale of work, which had been arranged, and ordered an inquiry into the whole management of the guild, whose membership includes all the ladies of the royal family.

The German, Austrian and Dutch libels upon Canada are another reason for increasing our Canadian shipping.

Let the Government answer with a bonus of several million of dollars to the Canadian Steamship Company, to assist in building several liners for the Atlantic trade.

THE IZUMO LEFT YOKOSUKA IN RAGING STORM AND THE BANDS PLAYING.

Yokosuka, Japan, Nov. 20—There was a popular demonstration of farewell at the departure of the Japanese cruiser Izumo for Mexican waters. In spite of a raging storm, a steamer accompanied her to the mouth of the bay, and a band played national airs. Among those on board were several distinguished naval officers headed by Admiral Baron Minou Saito, Minister of Marine.

The Captain in command of the cruiser, Captain Keizaburo Moriyama, is regarded as one of the most able officers of the Japanese navy. He is said to be very tactful and capable of handling any international question which may possibly arise. He speaks English and French. The cruiser will proceed by way of Honolulu to Manzanillo.

RADICAL CHANGES FOR P. Q. LICENSE LAW

License Commissioners Present Lengthy Report to the Legislature.

Quebec, Nov. 21—In a sixty-page report by the license commissioners, the Honorable Judges H. G. Carroll, A. G. Cross and Auguste Tessier, who have been investigating hotel conditions and problems throughout the province for several months, the following recommendations are made:

1. The gradual elimination of refreshment rooms, counters and bars, and the substitution of cafes, European style, where there are tables and chairs.
2. The reduction of the number of hotel licenses at Montreal to 850 and those in Quebec to 50.
3. The reduction to the same number of retail licenses.
4. The separation of the grocery business from that of the retail liquor trade.
5. The opening of all places where liquor is sold in Montreal and Quebec at 7.30 a.m.
6. The trial of the Gothenberg and Bergen systems in all cities of more than 4,000 population. By these systems the attraction of profit is taken away from the individual by contributing all profit on the business to the state and the municipalities.
7. The execution of the new law by two license commissioners, one at Montreal and the other at Quebec.
8. The strict maintenance of the new law for a period of, at least, five years, so as to allow of a complete trial.

The report is now before the house for consideration. The commission's duties did not consist in the construction of a new license law, but only in the suggestion of amendments to existing legislation. The report begins with a history of license laws dating from 1774 and of the Canadian Temperance law, passed in 1906.

Prohibition Law Condemned Speaking of prohibition, the commissioners declare that the evidence shows that an immense majority of the population of the province are opposed thereto. Experience has convinced them that prohibition would be no more successful in the larger towns than elsewhere. It is not practicable, and the commissioners quote the opinion of Cardinal Gibbons and other clerical and lay authorities on the subject.

CHAPTER X.

I stared at the speaker for an instant in absolute dumb amazement. "I don't know why you say that," I said, at length, more hurt than angered. "I told you that from the moment I last spoke to him, seated beside him there on the after-deck, until I turned from the rail and found him gone, not more than two minutes elapsed. And that was God's truth."

"You said you were listening for what you thought sounded like a motor boat, didn't you?"

"I did."

"And you were leaning over the taffrail, looking for it, weren't you?"

"I was."

"But you didn't see it?"

"No, I didn't see it; and I couldn't hear it after the first few seconds."

The captain had fixed a gaze on me that seemed aimed to penetrate to my soul's fiber. After my answer he was silent a moment. Then he said: "Where were you, Mr. Clyde, when that boat—motor, tug, or whatever she was—crossed within ten feet of the dory we are towing?"

"Had he struck me in the face I could not have been more dumfounded."

"What do you mean?" were the only words that came to me.

"I mean that the craft you have been talking about came up and went astern of us, ten or twelve minutes before you gave the alarm that Mr. Cameron had vanished under your eyes. I was on the bridge and saw it myself—just a black shape, without lights, and her exhaust muffled, just as you say. You tell me that you and Mr. Cameron had been sitting there for three hours, at least; that you heard seven bells strike; that it was not more than fifteen or twenty minutes after that that you got up and went to the rail, and that you only stood there two minutes."

"I told you all of that, and every word is the truth," I insisted, vehemently.

"And yet," he retorted accusingly, "and yet—eight bells had struck before you gave the alarm."

I had not thought of the time. In my panic it had not occurred to me, of course to ascertain the hour and minute. But Captain MacLeod knew, as I saw they were by clock. At eight bells the watch had changed.

"My dear fellow," I exclaimed rising, "you certainly cannot for a moment suspect me of complicity."

"He stood up, too; imperturbable."

"I just want those things explained, that's all," was his reply.

"And I can't explain them," I told him, candidly. "You say you saw the boat. I didn't. You say it was after midnight when I came to you. It may have been. I don't know. It may have been near twelve, when I went to the rail. My impression is that it was not. I'll admit it is mysterious. The whole awful thing is mysterious."

"My candor seemed to relieve him."

"Well, Mr. Clyde," he said, with equal sincerity, "maybe I was out-spoken, but I wanted to know what you'd say to the points that were puzzling me."

"You did perfectly right," I told him. "As you have said, there must be no secrets between us." And then, as I resumed my seat, I asked: "What about the fisherman? He hasn't evaded his guard, has he?"

MacLeod sat down again too.

"He's in where I put him, now," he answered with a shade of reluctance, "but—I'm not sure. It's almost as mysterious as the other—but I could have sworn I saw him come up that forward hatchway and go sneaking aft while I was on the bridge."

"When was that?" I pressed, eagerly.

"About a quarter of twelve."

"What did you do?"

"Nothing, just then. I waited. And while I was waiting I saw that black, spooky craft come out of the dark, and go skimming astern of us. A little after eight bells I came down from the bridge—I stopped there for just a minute to have a word with Brandon when he came up—and then I went myself to look after Johnson and the man I'd set to watch him. The fisherman was in a bunk sound asleep, as the man swore he had been lying there morning, for the past two hours. "Who was it came up the ladder twenty minutes ago?" I asked. He looked at me as if he thought I was gone suddenly loony. "Before the watch changed?" he asked, I nodded. "Not a soul came or went," he said, "since I been here."

"And the boat without lights?" I questioned. "Did you inquire about her? Who else saw her?"

"I asked the lookouts; but—well, no, sir—and that's very strange to me—neither of them saw her. I gave them both a rating. If they weren't asleep I don't see how they could have missed her."

"The thing was growing more and more baffling. MacLeod was the last man to be accused of imaginative fancy. He was thoroughly in earnest in what he had told me; and yet for neither of his statements had he the smallest corroboration. For my own part I was sure that, at the time he mentioned, no vessel of any description had passed anywhere near us.

"What did you make the craft out to be?"

"Well, sir, I couldn't say exactly. She was in sight only a minute, coming in range of our own lights. She looked more like a tug than anything else; but she had more speed than any tug I ever saw. She hadn't the lines of a yacht."

"She wasn't a pilot boat?"

"Oh, no, sir. New York pilots don't cruise this far east, and the Boston pilots wouldn't be so far away from home either."

I offered the captain a cigar, which he declined, filling his pipe in preference. When I lighted a cigar myself, I asked:

"I suppose you have some theory, MacLeod. You don't seriously think it was suicide?"

As usual he was slow to answer. After a thoughtful second, he said: "I'd be sorry to think that, Mr. Clyde. Taking into consideration what you told me about the threat, and connecting that boat with it, it looks—"

"It's not in possibility," he went on, after a second, "that they could have plucked him off with a line. But if that fellow I saw going aft—Oh, Lord, no, sir! It's past me to see a way out. All the same, we are keeping that craft in sight, and if we can only get thirty knots out of the Sibylla again, we'll find out what she is and what her business is, before morning."

CHAPTER X.

A Woman of Intuition.

Ill tidings, always a heavy burden, never weighed more heavily on any one than on me that dismal, rainy Sunday morning, on which I stepped from the Sibylla's launch to the stone water steps of Cragsfoot. For two days we had searched the bays and inlets from Provincetown to Plymouth and from Blaisconnet to Providence; questioning at every pier and landing stage; making inquiry in every town and hamlet; but without a thimbleful of profit for our pains. As that black craft, with dimmed lights and muffled engines, had eluded our pursuit on the night of Cameron's disappearance, so for forty-eight hours succeeding she had baffled our quest. No one knew her; no one had seen her.

As for that shaken, faded, pallid fisherman, Peter Johnson, he appeared below, rather than above, suspicion. If my knowledge of men went for anything he was too inferior both mentally and physically to be a participant in any such plot as was here involved. He was too weak, too feeble, and too wasted, and with a little brains as sinew. So, with enough money for a new mast and sail, we had put him and his dory ashore at our first landing, and had forthwith forgotten him.

MacLeod had been inclined to continue the search, but I argued that any further efforts in that direction would be only a waste of time. The craft we were looking for might have come from any one of a thousand places and returned to any one of a thousand more. Some more effective, general and far-reaching steps must be taken, I held, and taken quickly. Indeed I felt now that to keep secret longer the conspiracy, as indicated in these mystic letters, would be little short of criminal. The aid of the police and the press must be invoked at once, and nothing left undone to trace the crime to its source.

But my first and most onerous task was to acquaint Evelyn Grayson with the facts as I knew them. How, I resolved, should that duty be done, anything I can put into words. I knew it would have been far easier for me to have carried her definite news of her uncle's death. What I had to tell was horrible in its stark obscurity. And yet, if I could have foreseen just what was to follow, I might have spared myself a goodly share of distress.

I imagined I knew Evelyn Grayson, before this. I thought I had sounded the profundities of her fortitude and courage on the night that I spread before her and read with her that third and last letter. But my fancy did her an injustice. She was even more of a woman than I dreamed.

Recently I chanced upon these lines by Thomas Dunn English, which must have been inspired by such a one as she:

So much is clear, Though little dangers they may fear, When greater perils men environ, Then women show a front of iron; Do bold things in a quiet way.

Evelyn Grayson did a bold thing in a quiet way that morning. I have not yet forgotten how marble white she was, and yet how bravely she came, with springing step and lifted chin and fearless eyes. I had waited her coming in the music room, with its score of reminders of happy evenings in which he had participated. The chair he usually chose, in the corner, near the great bow window against which the east wind was now driving the rain in gusty splashes, took on a pathos which moved me to weakness. The Baudelaire lyric, spread open upon the music rack of the piano, stirred memories scarcely less harrowing. A photograph, an ash tray, a paper knife, all commonplace objects of themselves, but so linked to him by association, became, suddenly, instruments of emotional torture.

The Canadian Life Officers Association held its annual meeting in Waterloo, and expressed the feeling that life insurance taxation, especially in Quebec, should be more consistent and uniform and less burdensome to policyholders.

Among the Santals, a tribe in India, marriage customs vary, but after an agreement has been reached between the parents, who usually do the bargaining, the youth's friends, after a short interval, visit the girl and give her a piece of cloth as a sign of betrothal. The money is then paid. This is called "the binding down of the thatch"—and a date for the wedding is fixed. The next step is for each party to tie a knot in a string for each day that is to intervene before the wedding day. Then the parties separate, day by day a knot is untied, and when the end of the string is reached the real knot is tied that makes the couple one.

Since 1861 the city of Mendoza, in Argentina, has not erected a structure above one story in height. In that year the greatest disaster which ever befell the place, an earthquake, demolished the town, and the inhabitants have been haunted ever since by the fear of a return of such a holocaust. The ruins of the great cathedral, whose walls crashed down upon the crowd of supplicants who had gathered within for protection, still stand as a warning. The old abandoned town lies about a mile from the new town, and is a mass of ruins, scarcely a single house remaining intact.

A paper model of a gasoline engine has been made by a Boston inventor to illustrate the construction of a new type of aeroplane motor which he has devised. Ordinarily writing paper, and nothing else was used. The engine is a part of an aeroplane device designed to enable a pilot to throw off the motor, propeller, wheels and gasoline tank of his flying machine in case of accident.

given each pupil with which to provide a 5 course dinner for 6 people's dinner to consist of soup, meat, vegetables and desert, the choice entirely left to themselves they then kept account of salt, pepper, etc., used, amounting probably to 1-3 or 1-4 cents and perhaps 2c for milk, etc., and as every little detail had to be accounted for numerous instances of thrift and economy could be mentioned. Indeed the course is full of such things. They begin by making their cooking aprons, holder, and sleevelets, etc., fruit-preserving, nothing is left out, setting tables, serving foods, care of sinks, dishwashing, fire-building, management of coal fire, gas care, everything that goes to make a competent housekeeper.

We have schools all over the country for scientific farming, and our best farmers send their boys, who bring home results that are a benefit, both through devices of saving labour and money. Then these men are among our farmers, and to keep abreast of the times, realize that they need these methods, and do not expect their boys to learn at home.

Is the farm of more importance than the home? Some may say only the girls are benefited, surely we will all agree that what affects our girls in the making of homes, and saving of money will also affect our boys, and while the girls are taking their lesson, the boys might take manual training. If we want to do anything for the good of our boys, surely we must educate our girls in that department, that is of such vital importance to the home.

The girls who have taken part of the "domestic science" course, through the accuracy in their teaching, rarely ever fail in a receipt. I am never called on to tell them anything, they have once learned at school.

To illustrate how this may help the boys who are our future Canadian men and who play so important a part in making of our great Dominion, let me tell you the following little story: 40 miles north-east of Edmonton is the town of Vegreville, a town of Ruthenians, a people who respect women in the way of making her do the heavy labour and bear the burdens. Both sexes dress in sheep-skin, and the men beat their wives if their slightest wishes are interfered with in a trifling degree. Dr. Arthur and his mother, a few years ago, established a medical mission school in the town for boys. I often wondered myself why the boys, why not take the girls. Last spring, Dr. Arthur's sister, Mrs. Barry, at the Westminster Presbyterian told us the following story: She said one day, a man and his wife drove into the yard with a load of wood driven by oxen. It was a bitterly cold day, the thermometer 40 below zero, they had driven about 25 or 30 miles over the black prairie. After unloading the wood she noticed the man take all the quilts and rugs, and everything in the shape of covering and fix a comfortable bed in the back of the sled. She wondered why he did this, but was soon enlightened, when she saw him jump in and cover himself up as warm
