BALFOUR TALKS.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, in a speech at Al-

He said the House of Lords and the union of England and Ireland had been attacked, but that neither had been seriously imperiled. TROUBLE ON THE GOLD COAST. Liverpool, April 20 .- The royal mail steamer Batanga, which has arrived from the west coast of Africa, brings information of trouble on the Gold Coast, it being alleged the French were inciting the natives of the British colony to revolt. The Batanga left Accra on the 8th ult., when it was reported that the government had wired for 800 men. It was feared that a rising of the natives would take place. DEEP SNOW.

to the recruits being sent every few days for the regiments already in the Philippines. This force is to be raised ot 35,000 men by the time aggressive operations can be pressed in the early autumn. It is announced that the army in the Philippines will be increased to 35,000 men, whether the rebels abandon the field or not. If Aguinaldo gives up his hopeless fight as a result of the negotiations now in progress between his followers and the president's commissioners, 35,000 men are deemed the right number to garrison the forts in the outlying islands and establish lawful meal mill of McCombe & Stanley was government in them. Washington, April 20.-The war department does not credit the Filipino asertions in the dispatch, because it is believed Gen. Otis would have cabled any such disaster. It is further stated that Gen. Lawton could not possibly have had in mind a junction with the Yorktown, as there is an impassable, range of mountains between the points

he traversed and the sea where the Yorktown was cruising,

The department has sent no instructions to Admiral Dewey as to the course he shall pursue, believing that he is fully competent to deal with the situation and resting secure in the assurance that he will spare no efforts to rescue Gilmore and his men if they are alive.

EX-MINISTER BARRETT'S VIEW. London, April 20.—John Barrett, formerly United States minister to Siam, who has just arrived from Man-ila, emphatically declares that the gloomy forebodings expressed in some quarters relative to the Philippines are not justified by the facts. Should the Filipinos, however, who are kept well informed, acquire the idea that a prolongation of hostilities would affect politics in the United States advantageously to them, the war would be prolonged. In the opinion of Mr. Barrett, the Filipino, as soon as he has had time to digest the recent successes of Gen. Otis and Gen. Lawton, and to become convinced of American superiority, will settle down to a life of peaceful and progressive citizenship.

We promise, according to our hopes, but perform according to our selfishness and our fears.-Rochefaucauld,

PUT QUESTIONS

The Opposition's Thirst for Information Satisfied.

The Ministers Tell Private Members Lots of Things.

Government Favorable to Purchasing the Plains of Abraham-Ministerial Expenses-Nearly 200 Queries.

Ottawa, April 20. — Yesterday the house broke a record, when 187 questions were put, and about two-thirds of them answered by ministers. In the days of the Conservative Administra-tion the tremendous traveling expenses of the ministers became a matter of public notoriety. Yesterday, in answer to opposition inquiries, Hon. Mr. Sifton gave a statement of the amount by him expended in traveling and maintenance expenses during the past year. The figure was $945, while the figure for his private secretary for the same account was $480 30. Hon. Mr. Fisher's expenses, including a trip to England, were $621 28, while those of his private secretary, who also took the trans-Atlantic trip, were $487 36. Mr. Fisher stated that he used no private car, and both ministers informed the house that their friends did no traveling at government expense.

WOLSELEY BARRACKS.

The minister of militia, replying to Mr. Calvert (West Middlesex), stated that 25 13-100 acres of additional land had been acquired as an addition to the Wolseley Barracks, London, by order in council on the 25th of March, 1895, and that the deed was completed on the 2nd of September last, the price being $25,000, which was paid to the Bank of Commerce, and that the valuation was mare by Messrs. A. B. Powell, A. McMahon, John W. Jones, Lieut. Col. Dawson and .Col. Lake.

THE PLAINS OF ABRAHAM. In reply to Mr. Casgrain, Hon. Mr. Borden stated that the lease or title under which the crown holds the property in Quebec known as the Plains of Abraham expires on May 1, 1901, that the property reverts to the ladies of St. Ursula, Quebec; that a memorial had been received from the Nova Scotia Historical Society of Halifax, in re-lation to the renewal of the lease, and that the matter has been under consideration. The government, Dr. Borden stated, is disposed to consider favorably the proposal to acquire the property if the price is reasonable.

COST OF THE COMMISSION.

In answer to Mr. Kloepfer, the premier stated that the total cost of the commission relating to affairs between Canada and the United States, including traveling expenses, living expenses of the commissioners, their secretaries, messengers and assistants, was $33,660 80. A dinner was given at Quebec to the commissioners at a cost of $318 25, and Canada's share of the cost of the dinner given at Washington was $665 05. Certain trips on board the government steamer at Quebec cost $772. The amount paid to Mr. John Charlton as a member of the commission was $1,766 48 for living expenses.

THE MANITOBA SCHOOLS. In answer to Mr. Casgrain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: As a question of fact, there has been no correspondence between the government or any member thereof and his holiness the pope and the Sacred College of the Propaganda in relation to the Manitoba school question. As a question of right, every subject of her Majesty who belongs to the Roman Catholic Church has the right to correspond with his holiness the pope or the Sacred College of the Propaganda or any of the archbishops or bishops of Canada or any other part of the world, and for the exercise of that right, which is not abridged by the fact that he may be an adviser of the crown, he owes no account to the honorable member or to any other fellow-subject. The government have reasons to believe that the settlement known as the Laurier-Greenway settlement has been accepted by the majority of the minority, though not unanimously. In so far as the Federal jurisdiction is concerned, if the honorsettlement should be final, it is open to him or any member of parliament to attack it. THE SALE OF RIFLES.

The Premier informed Mr. Casgrain that the provincial legislatures had a perfect right to express their views on senate reform. Sir Wilfrid very neat-ly discomfited Mr. Casgrain by telling him that if he holds a different view he is at variance on this point with the leader of the opposition, who in the the leader of the opposition, who in the debate on the address, speaking of the conditions which he held essential to justify a reform in the constitution of the senate, said (Hansard, page 86): "Why, sir, the unanimous vote of this house and of the senate of Canada would not accomplish the object, unless every province in this Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific, that is a constituent part of this confederation, on due notice and after an election on due notice and after an election ratified it as well."

GERMANY'S TARIFF AGAINST CANADA.

Replying to a question by Hon. Mr. Foster, Sir Richard Cartwright said that as far as can be determined from the German tariff the discriminating duties upon Canadian imports will be as follows: Barley, about 1 3-10 cents per bushel of 48 pounds; beans and peas, 3 3-10 cents per bushel of 60 pounds; buckwheat, none; oats, 4 4-10 cents per bushel of 36 pounds; rye and wheat, 9 7-10 cents per bushel of 60 pounds; canned lobsters and canned salmon, none; apples, none; butter, 9-10 cent per pound; clover, bicycles and agricultural implements, none.

OTHER QUERIES. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply to Mr. Henderson (Halton) stated that the tender of Martin C. Connolly for the current season's make of binder twine at Kingston had been accepted, and a contract entered into under it with the Hobbs Hardware Company, of London, The prices could not be given at presto the minister of the interior." PRIVATE BILLS.

Mr. Beattie moved the second reading of his bill respecting the sale of railway passenger tickets. He explained that it was intended to prevent speculation in ferry tickets, a practice very common on the Detroit river, or, in other words, to extend the law preventing ticket-scalping to ferry boats.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that to make this a general law would be and windows shut. to make this a general law would be very unjust to the minor ferry lines, such as those across the Ottawa river, and suggested a private bill to cover Mr. Beattle's case. The suggestion

Cleaning Up Once a Year.

The majority of people treat their systems in the same manner as a housekeeper treats her home-they go in for a good cleansing once a year. In the "home" it is a rational custom. In the case of the human system it is a most irrational habit. Your health is your most valuable possession, and it should not be necessary to have to impress upon you that you should take constant care of it. If you have been neglecting it during past seasons, and feel the need of a Spring medicine, take Abbey's Effervescent Salt. Take it every day. It is not only a Spring medicine; it is an all-the-year-'round tonic and invigorator, which purifies the blood and cleanses the system. Its use in the Spring will do you more good than many so-called Spring medicines. The fact that it is indersed by and enters into the prescriptions of the leading physicians of Great Britain, Europe and Canada, should be sufficient guarantee of its sterling worth. Abbey's Effervescent Salt is a standmier stated that 30,000 rifles were dis- ard English preparation, which is sold

Cleveland, O., April 20.-Smallpox has increased in this city to such an ex-

SENATE REFORM.

The Premier informed Mr. Casgrain of the city being represented. The pest-house long ago proved utterly inade-quate to hold patients assigned to it, and a lrage annex is being constructed. Every day for more than two months has seen from two to nine cases reported.

"I know of no fire in New York city in which the loss of life was unavoid-

"A general and practical knowledge of what to do in case of fire, and confidence in our firemen, would almost wholly prevent the loss of life from this cause."

These statements were made by T. P. Tuite, expert on fire prevention and extinguishment, last night, in a lecture given to a large audience at public school No. 154, on St. Ann's avenue. The lecture was also an object lesson. With a copy of the Journal Mr. Tuite instantly smothered the flames of gasoline-drenched rags, and with a firealarm box furnished to him by Chief Bonner he illustrated the manner of sending an alarm.

"When you have rung the alarm," he said, "don't go away. Stay right there till the firemen come. They'll be there in less than two minutes, when you can direct them to the exact location of the fire. "There is one great principle you should remember—no air, no fire. If there is a small blaze, take anything that comes handy-a bed quilt, or a

"Lower the top sash of your window two or three inches-not enough to create a strong draught-and then raise the bottom one. Get down close to the lower opening and you will have plenty of fresh air. The stream of fresh air will rush upward and with the draught at the top of the window. Now you are safe until the firemen come to your rescue. You can shout to them to be sure that they have located your window. I do not know of a fire in New York city where such a course would not have saved every one. You can in this way manage to exist until the firemen arrive, and after that no cool-headed person is ever lost." In speaking of the Windsor Hotel fire Mr. Tuite said that it was less than two minutes after the first alarm was rung when the first streams were turned on the building and the firemen were at their work of rescue.

That's precisely what happens in your own body when you become constipated, and the poisonous matter is taken up by the blood and carried back into your system, only it is much worse, because you are unconscious of the effects, but every one who comes near you literally smells you. I know, slightly, two ladies, both of them amiable and attractive women otherwise, who are veritable walking charnel houses! Could I use a more expressive or truthful term? These ladies are so saturated with the poisonous effluvia from their internal economy that they are habituated to it; their sense of smell is blunted. I wonder how their husbands endure them!

DESTROYED THE DOG

Vanderbilt Ordered His $2,000 St. Ber. nard to be Chloroformed.

New York, April 20.-A large St. Bernard dog, for which W. K. Vanderbilt, jun., paid $2,000 in New York the other day, and which was to have been shipped to Newport, broke its chain in the baggage-room of the Waldorf-Astoria, where it was fastened temporarily, and bit Patrick Traynor, a porter, in the arm. Several other porters chained the dog up after a scuffle. Traynor was hustled into a cab by Mr. Vanderbilt and taken to Bellevue Hospital, where the wound was dressed. He afterward went home. Mr. Vanderbilt gave Traynor a $50 bill and promised to defray any expense to which the injury might put him. On returning to the hotel Mr. Vanderbilt sent the dog to the S. P. "COLDS"

A Product of Modern Civilization-Rare Among the Aborigines.

I have often noticed that persons who suffer most frequently and severely from colds usually insist that they exercise the greatest care to avoid exposure. They have dressed in the warmest clothing, wrapped the neck in the heaviest mufflers, remained in the closest rooms, and avoided every draught, and yet they continually "take cold."
The street urchin, on the other hand, with only two or three garments, and without shoes, and who lives out of doors, suffers less frequently from this

"Colds" have truly been called a product of modern civilization. The trouble was rare among the aborigines, and is more common among the cultured than among the laboring classes. If we make a plant an exotic, we must keep it in the conservatory, and even here it is not free from danger. On the other hand, if we wish to harden it and make it proof against atmospheric and climatic changes, we must prepare it by judicious exposure for these conditions. The warm clothing which is thought to be a protection against cold is frequently the most fertile cause. It relaxes the body, moistens the skin, and the perspiration which is induced espe-cially prepares the unresisting body for its attacks. This applies especially to warm covering around the neck, to which the air has periodic access. Except in unusually severe weather, the throat requires no more covering or protection than the face.—W. Scheppe-grell, in Appletons' Popular Science Monthly for April.

The season will open Wednesday, May 10, with Chatham at Hamilton, Stratford at Guelph, and St. Thomas at London. Hamilton has also been particularly fortunate in the matter of holiday and Saturday games. Two games will be played at home on the Queen's Birthday, with Guelph as op-ponents, while Stratford will try conclusion with the champions in a Dominion Day double-header on the local pasture. Of the eight Saturdays considered it was deemed advisable to ship the Hams to other sand lots but once. In reaching this arrangement the magnates were government alto-gether by the fact that Hamilton is the best drawing town on holidays and Saturdays, and it was a desire to and saturdays, and it was a desire to add to the exchequer of the various clubs, solely, that prompted their seeming generosity. BALL PLAYERS ARE SUPERSTI-

A St. Louis writer says: Baseball players, as a general rule, are a bit superstitious. Perhaps it is because they are largely Celtic. While at Hot Springs the writer saw one of the St. Louis players become highly incensed over the loss of a ball, which, he alleged, had been stolen from him. "I hope," he said, "that the arm of the man who stole that ball may fall paralyzed to his side." "Don't say that, pal," prayed Jack O'Connor, in most earnest words. "Such talk is liable to bring ill-fortune to you. I once heard Jack Virtue, who played third base for use, make the same prayer, and within six months he was stricken with paralysis, from which he never recovered. Virtue could not find his sweater one day, and became very angry. 'May — paralyze the man who stole my sweater, said Virtue. The art of quotation requires delicacy in practice. An already famous firm has originated and developed into very promising advertising a mass of old, quaint proverbs. We refer to Messrs. C. I. The Brockville Election Today.

We will venture no forecast of the result of the Brockville bye-election today. If the town of Brockville alone were concerned it would be safe to predict a Liberal victory, but the constituency is a memorial of the crime of 1882, and if the Liberals overcome the gerrymander, we fancy it will be a surprise to the Government. Prior to 1882 the riding oscillated between the two parties, but in that year the township Kitley, which goes Conservative by 9 to 1, was detached from North Leeds and Grenville, and annexed to Brockville for Dominion purposes. By means of this patchwork the constituency was made a pocket-borough for the Conservatives, and the late Hon. John F. Wood carried it in every succeeding election by majorities ranging from 200 to 300.

In Hon. Peter White the Opposition have put forward their strongest candidate for the present contest. Mr. White was the Speaker of the House of Commons in the last parliament, and is an able and broad-minded man, who would bring a much-needed strength to the front ranks of his party. He proved loyal to Sir Mackenize Bowell in the Cabinet crisis of 1896, refusing to sit in the "nest of traitors." His Liberal opponent, Mr. Comstock, is an old and much respected resident of Brockville, who will, we believe, win out in his own town. Brockville is the home of Major Walsh, the former commissioner of the Yukon. Sir Charles Hiohert's attack on the private character of this gallant officer has been warmly resented by the major's fellow-citizens, and may prove a considerable factor in the election. We hazard the statement that if Mr. White is victorious it will be by the grace of the gerrymander, which pitchforked a Conservative hive into the constituency.

No More All-Night Sessions.

'A correspondent asks our opinion of City Council meetings lasting until 3:15 a.m. Unless the aldermen have something extraordinary in hand which cannot be postponed, they shouldn't be nodding over public business at such an outlandish hour. We observe that at the last session of the council the aldermen did most of their real work after they should have been in bed. Between 8 and 12 o'clock, when they were comparatively fresh in body and mind, they spent three hours in discussing two topics-the extension of the street railway in East London and the permanent sidewalks proposal. Both of these were sent back to committee. After midnight the aldermen focussed their drowsy attention on questions in volving large expenditures, and passed $20,000 for school purposes in a few minutes. We are not criticising this particular vote, but use it to point the moral, that even a midnight lunch cannot save the average man from a desire to vawn at 2 or 3 a.m., and that he is better fit for business when he is wide awake. For the public interests and their own health it is hoped the aldermen will not undertake too much brain-work again at one sitting.

What Does It Mean?

The resolution passed the other day in the British House of Commons, respecting lawlessness in the church, means something, although it is merely a resolution. They are not in the habit of passing resolutions there without some important reasons. It means in the first place a recognition that the ecclesiastical situation is serious. When the Government of the day allowed such a resolution to pass even from one of its own party, the very least that was implied was this, that "the crisis" in the church can no longer be ignored. Probably it may be regarded as a kind of reply to Lord Halifax and a warning to his followers, and it is at any rate intended to strengthen the hands of the bishops in their efforts to enforce a reasonable discipline. The mere passing of a resolution in the House of Commons bearing upon the life of the church is an assertion of the supremacy of parliament, and this is one of the things that the extreme ritualists wish to deny or ignore. They will thus learn that the claim for what they call spiritual supremacy cannot be admitted, for whatever else may be in doubt this much is clear that when the connection with Rome was severed the sovereign of the realm became the head of the establishment. That does not mean that parliament should be continually interfering in the affairs of the church. Such interference is admitted by all to be extremely undesirable. But it does mean that the ultimate court of appeal is there, and when Lord Halifax says he would rather have the Pope than the Privy Council, he is talking beside the mark, as it is not a matter of his or anyone else's personal preference, but a matter of the law, as it stands, and the fact that no government is willing except for good cause to have the affairs of the church discussed on the floor of the House of Commons shows that in this case there must be a feeling that the case is serious and the interest of the country stirred. A general resolution that clergymen ought to obey the bishops and the Prayer-Book will probably not accomplish much, but it will give notice to those who are taking the law church before they plunge the country into a controversy that will rouse bitter feeling, and that may either divide the church or lead to its disestab-

Working Wonders in India.

The young Viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, is showing indefatigible energy. Since assuming office he has spent most of his time in touring the vast empire and making speeches in reply to innumerable addresses of welcome from all classes of the population. Speaking at Lyallpur, a new town founded as the result of the Chenab irrigation scheme, which has made the wilderness blossom as the rose, Lord Curzon presented some interesting statistics of the work performed by the Indian Government in this particular line. We quote this extract from his address:

"It may interest many of my fellow-countrymen in England, under whose eyes these words may subsequently fall, to know that at the present time in the Punjab alone we have constructed 9,500 miles of main and branch canals, not including 10,500 miles of small distributaries. The total area irrigated by these means, which in 1868 amounted only to 1,000,000 acres, in 1878 to 1,300,000 acres, and in 1888 to 2,300,-000 acres, has risen, owing to the startling progress of the last decade, to 5,200,000 acres. In your address you attribute this remarkable triumph to British philanthropy, organizing power and engineering skill. I am glad you included the two latter among the elements of sucess, for it is certainly true that no small share of the credit is due to the officers who devised or superintended the execution of this magnificent scheme. On the land thus reclaimed has been planted a large and prosperous peasant population."

This is only one illustration of the way in which the British take up the White Man's burden in India. In Kipling's short story, "The Bridge Builders," published in his latest prose volume, "The Day's Work," we see in Findlater, the engineer, a type of the patient, unselfish, indomitable spirit which, more than mere skill, has wrought the wonders described by Lord

The United States may shut out Canadian lumber, but Canada knows a trick worth two of that.

The Czar would be better employed in trying to raise Russia to the level of Finland instead of trying to pull Finland down to the level of Russia.

The savings bank system in connection with the public schools of Brantford has been established only two weeks, and the children already have $400 to otheir credit.

In reply to an inquisitive M. P., Mr. Sifton informed the House yesterday that he was not related to Mr. Ogilvie, the Yukon commissioner. The Opposition press would have it that Mr. Ogilvie was Mr. Sifton's uncle.

The leader of the Opposition in the New Brunswick Legislature has charged Premier Emmerson with defrauding the treasury out of large sums of money. The charges are probably groundless, but Mr. Hazen deserves credit for coming out into the open instead of dealing in cowardly insinuations. Premier Emmerson denies the accusations and demands the fullest investigation. Now let the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, or any other member thereof, follow Mr. Hazen's example, and nothing will please Mr. Sifton more. No one has yet dared to lend his name to a specific charge against the Minister.

Germans in Chicago have started an agitation against "any plans that would bring about an alliance between the United States and a foreign power." A permanent organization has been formed. and German societies throughout the United States are expected to join the movement. It is, of course, directly aimed at the Anglo-American entente. A great many Germans in the United States left their native land to escane the rigors of militarism, and naturally dislike any policy which would entangle the republic with a military power. But it is hard to believe that this is the sole motive of the new organization. Jealousy of the growing friendship between the United States and Great Britain has something to do with it. It is hardly likely that nativeborn Americans will allow a foreign element to dictate the national policy.

The Montreal Star, a stiff protectionist paper, says this is a favorable time to start new blast furnaces in Canada. The Hamilton Spectator, also protectionist, thinks there are too many starting up, and says the Hamilton furnace, with its present facilities, can supply all the pig iron needed in Canada. On the protectionist theory that internal competition forces down prices, the more furnaces the better. The cheapening of Canadian-made pig iron will serve as an excuse to reduce the present bounty, which is exceedingly liberal. The Hamilton Blast Furnace Company have received more in bonuses in the past three years than they have paid out in wages, while the percentage of Ontario ore used by the company was less in 1898 than in 1896. If Ontario ore is as good quality as is claimed, the recipients of the provincial bounty should be obliged to use it altogether. The Government let them off too easy with the 20 per cent regulation.

A Protest That Failed. [Hamilton Herald.]

In this temperance town a public meeting was held last night to protest against the policy of the Laurier Government in the matter of probibition. Ample announcement of this meeting been made. And yet only about two score temperance people gathered into their own hands that they need to register their protest, and of these to count the cost to themselves and the less than half were voters.

Jealous of Mr. Sifton. [St. Thomas Journal.]

Why all this sneering at the Doukhobors, the Finns and the Hungarians, because they are poor, or their language and customs differ from ours? We certainly don't want our Northwest filled up with foreign populations to the extent that they will control it, but there is no danger of that in anything that has yet been done. Evidently the Conservatives are inspired by jealousy of the success of Mr. Sifton's immigration policy in their attacks on his department.

What Advertising Does. [Philadelphia Record.]

Throw a stone into a stream and the disturbance of the water will not cease until the concentric circles which roll on from the point of the stone's immersion be stopped by the farthest shore. Advertising stirs the tide of business as resistlessly as the stone moves the surface of the water. Even if it miss the particular object of its aim, like a poorly directed missile thrown into a stream, the advertiser's thought will run out through the great current of publicity with results as certain as the motion caused by a pebble tossed into a brook.

Canadian Manufacturers Developing [Montreal Herald.]

Despite the protestations of old line protectionists that the English industrial system will never be applicable to the circumstances of our Canadian development, Canadian manufacturers are becoming more and more imbued every month with the healthy tone which has made English manufacturers the foremost in all the world, the determination to be able at all hazards to compete successfully against the world in any and all markets. It is not to be wondered at that Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. Clarke Wallace and some of the journals who gave them support, do not like the rearrangement of the iron duties. Why should they, when the result of that rearrangement has been to modify the former opposition of many manufacturers to the Liberal party, and to change others into friends outright?

I had been treated by physicians, but without benefit, when I began the Cuticura remedies. I found relief before I had taken the first bottle. AND PRIMROSES

Beautiful Scene in Historic Westminster Abbey.

Marriage of the Earl of Rosebery's Youngest Daughter to the Earl of Crewe.

London, April 20 .- Large crowds of people gathered within the precincts of Westminster Abbey today, in order to witness the marriage of Lady Margaret Primrose, youngest daughter of the Earl of Rosebery, to the Earl of Crewe. Among those present in the abbey were six hundred invited guests, all wearing wedding favors of Marguerites and primroses, representing the bride's name. The Earl of Rosepery gave his daughter away, and the best man was the Earl of Chesterfield.

Dr. Littler and the Dean of Westminster had charge of the ceremony. The honeymoon will be spent at Welbeck Abbey, the seat of the Duke of Portland, which has been tendered to the bride and bridegroom for the occa-sion Miss Muriel White, daughter of Nanry Winte, secretary of the Usated States embassy, was one of the Two hundred and fifther the states are represented. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of Ethschild roses.

THE DRESSES. Their dresses were of white mousseline de soie, embroidered with satin spots. The skirts had shaped flounces, with cream lace insertion, edging, trimmed with lace insertion and several ruches. The bidices were trimmed with shareholders present at the meeting old-fashioned fichus carried over the top of the sleeve, and tied in a knot. edged with lace, with neckpieces and sleeves of transparent lace and sashes of primrose chiffon tied in a large bow at the side. The hats were of primrose chiffon, with pink flowers.

The bride's gown was of the richest ivory duplesse satin, embroidered with wreaths and bouquets, and diamond primroses, and draped with point d'Allencon lace, formerly the property of Queen Marie Antoinette.

IN THE ABBEY.

The bride arrived at the abbey at 1:30 p.m., carrying a bouquet of orchids, Marguerites and other flowers. She was met at the west door by the bridesmaids, who accompanied her up the nave to the choir. Sir Frederick Bridge. the organist of Westminster Abbey, played Schabert's "Grand March" and "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin." The abbey was charmingly and effectively d corated with palms, primroses, Marg territes and other choice flowers. The crene at the time of the marriage service was most impressive. Dazzling 11 renine was streaming through the abley windows, illuminating the graid interior to the utmost, and presenting a brilliant picture. The service was fully choral, and as the couple left the abbey the organ played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

THE SCENE CINEMATOGRAPHED Arrangements were made to cinematograph the scenes upon the arrival and departure of the bride from the abbey. The guests included the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, all the members of the Rothschild family now in Lond, the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch, the Marquis of Dufferin, Mr. John Morley, the Duke and Duchess of Somerset, the lord chief justice of Egnand ..6 ..6 ..6 ..6 ..6...tice of England, Baron Russell of Killowen, the Duchess of Cleveland, and the leaders of society generally.

A ROOMFUL OF PRESENTS. London, April 20.-The presents to the bride filled the ball room of Lord Rosebery's house in Berkeley Square. They consisted principally of gold and silver plate. Four delegates, finding that Agoncillo, Aguinaldo's representative, disagrees with this view, have started for Manila, leaving Agoncillo, Riego and Lunar Europe. The annual engagement of Frank Daniels in this city will be played next Tuesday. This popular young comedian will be seen in his great comic success, "The Idol's Eye," his great triumph of last season. There is scarcely need of saying anything of Frank Daniels' abilities as a comedian. He is, or at any rate should be, known to all lovers of clean comedy, as one of the very funniest men on the stage. His humor is unique and contagious. The support which Daniels will bring with him has been pronounced by the press of the eastern and western part of the country in which he has been playing, to be the very best he has ever secured. Daniels' manager, Kirk La Shelle, has surrounded him with new scenery since last season, and supplied new costumes throughout. New verses have been added to Daniels' topical songs, bringing them up to date and increasing the already great effectiveness of the opera. Quite a number of seats have been spoken for for parties, indicating that the engagement will partake of the nature of a social event.

BIRDS OF PASSAGE

Get Away With Two Good Watches and a Chain.

Two "sons of rest" applied at the lodging-house of Mrs. Weshin, on the market square, last night, for lodgings for the night. This morning the "visitors" had disappeared, and so had two gold watches and a chain. Detectives Nickle and Rider were notified, and soon had their men in custody. Neither of the missing articles were found upon the men, and it is supposed they were sold at a small figure. One of the watches is a lady's hunting-case, size 6, filled case, with engravings, cylinder movement, and lever set. The other is a man's gold-plated watch, size 18, cylinder movement, and lever set. The chain (lady's) is a long gold-plated one.

When the council had the word of the aldermen for No. 2 ward that a new school was not needed in West London, naturally the $4,000 askarchbishop, Right Rev. Denis O'Con- ed for by the board for that purpose was lopped off. Now Ald. Douglass says that when the bylaw for debentures come up it will be knocked out altogether. West London people say they are badly in need of more school accommodation. At present they have only a six-roomed school to accommodate 325 pupils. To provide for the kindergarten class the board of education pays $150 a year rent for an unsuitable room in Jones' hall. TOO REALISTIC

Leonard Esper Amateur Actor Lost His Life-Terrible Accident on a Detroit Stage.

Detroit, April 20.-Amateur theatricals Tuesday night were responsible for the death of Leonard Esper, aged 23, of Springwells. The tragedy oc-curred at St. Alphonsus Church Hall. A rehersal of "The Confederate Spy," to have been produced for the benefit of the church, was in progress. With an idea of adding to the realism of the mimicry, several old muskets, borrowed from the neighborhood, were carried by the performers. All went well until the scene was reached where the rebel spy-played by Esper-attempts to escape from the Union guardhouse. As he starts away, four Union soldiers step forth and are supposed to shoot him down.

There was no pretense about the dramatic incident. As the crash of the report reverberated through the hall, Esper was seen to stagger toward the wings, with one hand pressed to his side, and the other blindly groping for support. "My God, boys, I'm shot!" he huskily cried, sinking upon a chair. It was found that a lot of No. 7 shot had entered the young man's body, making 50 holes in the intestines. He was carried home, and an operation performed, which resulted in the removal of 15 shot. Death followed fifteen minutes later.

Frank Schaefer, who fired the fatal shot, is 18 years of age, and lives with his brother, proprietor of the Six-mile House. He is deeply grieved over the tragic affair.

To Whom She Said "Yes."

"Promise me this one thing, dear Mrs. Merstham. Promise that when I am gone you will consent to see him. It is so easy to forgive anything to those we love."

"Eden, I have nothing to forgive," was the answer spoken with difficulty. "It is you—you who have been wronged, deceived, and by me. I acknowledge it. Frank never asked me to be his wife, when I came here and implied that we were reconciled, it was true that we were friends, but no more; and since then, when I stooped to of-fer to be his, if he would fly from England, and so avoid imprisonment, he refused. He told me—yes, you shall hear his own words—that his passion had died out as soon as I married an old man for his money, and with this he left me, preferring a prison to the love I proffered him.' "But not for my sake," moaned Eden, wringing her poor, thin hands. "He never asked me to be his wife; the affection he professed for me always had the taint of dishonor upon it."

Tot so; you do him an injustice! He fold his mother, and I will not believe it, that on the morning after he heard you were leaving Eastham, he wrote explaining that a promise ex-torted by Mrs. Lyssendon had hitherto kept him silent, but praying your consent to be his, and asking you to communicate his proposals to Mrs. Au-

"I never had that letter!" Eden exclaimed, her face flushing with excitement. "I never had it. Oh! mother—mother! How was it?"

The appealing look, the cry—half reproach, half inquiry—brought Mrs. Aubrey to her side directly. "Be calm, my darling. Perhaps I have been to blame. That letter—nay, I will tell you all—how could I know its contents? It was put into my hands by the postman, but hearing that Captain Lyssendon meant you harm, I kept it until I had consulted Mrs. Sandham, and when I returned home, intending to be guided by her, and give it you unread, my child had disappeared, and in my grief and dis-may I ceased to think of it." "But the letter," gasped Eden; "what became of it?"

Mrs. Aubrey put her hands to her "How can I tell! Yet I think-yes

I am sure it must still be in the pocket of the dress I wore that day." "Quick!" gasped Eden. "Fetch it for me. Don't let me die till—" Mrs. Aubrey stayed to hear no more, but hurried from the room. While she was absent her daughter's agitation was so frightful that Verna was terrified, and knew not what to do. The ice water she proffered was mutely rejected, her soothing words remained unanswered; helpless though Eden had been an hour earlier, even fainting from the slight exertion of being removed from her bed to the couch, she now raised herself unaided, and sat with eyes fixed on the door by which her mother would return. She clutched the letter Mrs. Aubrey lows pressing it to her bosom and crying over it silently. It was some time tear open the envelope, and then they were so nerveless that she was forced to call her mother to her assistance.

"Ah! mamma, help me, my hands are useless, my eyes are dim. Is it too late? Am I never to know whether he did love me truly or no?" Mrs. Merstham only waited til Eden's patient mother began to whisper to her the ardent sentences in which Frank Lyssendon had poured forth his regrets for his seeming coldness, and assurances of undying affection. saw a smile of ineffable joy steal over the features of the listener, and then softly went away. She was not wanted any longer; she had no part in the gladness that, alas! seemed but to have come, as poor Eden had just wailed, too late to arrest her flight to another

As she was quitting the cottage Frank Lyssendon strode rapidly up the garden. He had galloped to the nearest town to procure finer fruit to cool Eden's parched lips than could be obtained in Aldenby, Mrs. Aubrey having suggested the errand in her pity for the unhappiness she saw that he was enduring.

Lottie, who had taken a fancy to her grave brother-in-law, and would slip her hand in his and share his aimless wanderings in the lanes and copses, where he had once loitered with Eden, ran out to meet him, but he did not notice her. His gaze was fixed on the agitated face of Verna. Why was she here? and when, hiding her eyes in her handkerchief, she pointed upstairs, he was seized with a dread that Eden was no more, and sprang up the stairs with the haste and wild looks of a madman. He had entered the chamber before either Eden or her mother, still engrossed in the letter, discovered that Mrs. Merstham had left them. Then he did love me truly and honorably; and I may see him now, mamma, even if it be only to say one long ood-bye," Eden sobbed.

"He is here!" exclaimed Mrs. Aubrey, startled into forgetfullness of the

"Here?" echoed Eden; but scarcely had the word left her lips, when Frank Lyssendon was by her side, his arms thrown around her, his eyes devouring her beloved features, till the fearful change he beheld there made him groan with anguish, and fling himself on his knees, too miserable and conscience-stricken to find consolation in this tardy reunion.

It was Eden's turn to play the com-forter. Her hands tengerly caressed his curly brown hair, and stole about his neck the while she gently prayed him not to grieve.

"Look up, Frank-dear Frank. You will make me weep if you give way so, and tears exhaust me dreadfully! Be calm, dear. I must husband my strength that I may stay with you as long as I can.

With a start and a shudder—was her death then inevitable?—he controlled himself, and gathering that shrunken form once more to his breast, he pillowed her head there, and in the earnest accents of the deepest contrition, implored and won her loving pardon for all the sorrow he had

Both their hearts were too full for many words, or for any lengthened explanations; but presently Eden asked her mother, who still hovered near, to lift her desk on to the bed, and open the drawer in which she had placed her wedding-ring. "Put it on my finger once more, Frank," she whispered. "Let me hear you saya again the words you said in church, let me feel that I am really your beloved wife."

Frank Lyssendon obeyed, and as he breathed emphatically the solemn sentence "until death," Eden's head rested more heavily against his shoulder, her eyes closed, and the smile faded from her lips.

"Is she dead-have I killed her, my poor—poor love?" the unhappy man frantically demanded as Mrs. Aubrey flew toward the couch.

"No, no; it is only a swoon; she is exhausted, this interview has been too much for her. Pray go!" "Ah! do not send me from her again!" he entreated with such passionate vehemence, that Mrs. Aubrey urged it no mcre. For Capt. Lyssendon, smiling, gay, and blessed with all the good gifts the world could give him, she had imbibed a dislike; but for the haggard, sunken-eyed young fellow, who hung over her child in such a frenzy of remorseful tenderness, she could have no feelings but of the profoundest commiseration.

DIME NOVEL FOR ONE CENT

Thrilling Experience of Dr. Chapman-Twice Reported Dead-Shot as a Spy Fut Escaped With a Wounded Arm

New Orleans, April 20.-Dr. A. Chapman, of Courtland, Miss., twice reported dead, has arrived here on the steamer Franklin, from Bluefields, Nicaragua. Chapman, who was a surgeon in the insurgent army, tells a thrilling story of his escape from President Zelava's forces.

He was captured on Feb. 24, near Rama, while in the company of Stephen Powers, an English subject, and also a member of the revolutionary army. A court-martial followed the capture, the men being tried as spies. They were brought her, and sank back on her pil-lows pressing it to her bosom and cry-A strange feature of the affair was that the sentence was actually carried out. before her trembling fingers essayed to Stephen Powers fell dead at the first fire, but Chapman was merely wounded in the left arm. He fell to the ground, however, and, thinking they had killed him, the soldiers walked off. Chapman made his way to Bluefields. Jack Martin, American gunner of the San Jacinto, who was captured by Zelaya's soldiers, has been tried and convicted. Sentence had not been finally pronounced when Chapman left. Martin undoubtedly will be shot.

POISON IN THE MILK

Dastardly Attempt to Kill a Young Woman in Chicage.

Chicago, April 20 .- An attempt to murder Ida Peters, the 19-year-old daughter of William Peters, a wealthy north side coal merchant, by placing poison in the milk which she drank for her luncheon, is puzzling the police. The mystery in the case was deepened when it was learned that Miss Peters is a niece of John Shoepfle, the florist, against whom Henry Romann, a prisoner at the police station, is alleged to have planned murder. The young wo-

THE CROWN OF LOVE.
What does love mean and how much happiness does it bring to the average woman? To be a sweetheart, a wife, a mother - this is called the crown of womanhood; yet there are crowns ery and pain to the wearers. Can any woman who suffers with constant dragging, wearying, life-sapping ailments be happy? Does not her crown of womanhood become a symbol of martyrdom rather than of happiness? If ailing women realized how surely Dr. Pierce's wonderful "Pavorite Prescription" would restore them to complete health and the perfection of queenliness, there would be more coronets of joy set upon brows now

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 828 Rast College St., Jacksonville, Ill. "For three years I suffered continually. Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none, until induced by kind friends to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. After taking 'Pavorite Prescription' I was built up until now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before.

"I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pains in the lower part of my bowels, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman. Thanks to your medicine. I never forget to recommend it to all suffering women. I consider myself a living testimonial of the benefits of your 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Any woman may write to Dr. R. V. crowned with misery.

Any woman may write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the utmost confidence. He will give her case careful consideration and send her a letter of common-sense, professional adman says she was alone in her father's coal office, when an old woman in black entered and asked permission to wash her hands. It was granted. The lavatory is behind a screen, and close to it and hidden from view is a shelf, on which Miss Peters kept her luncheon, including a jar of milk. After drinking a glass of the milk she noticed the taste was peculiar. Almost immediately she was taken violently ill. She was taken home and a doctor summoned. He says the girl will recover. Both the young woman and her parents believe that the effort to take her life was planned by the aged woman who entered the office shortly before the girl drank the milk. An analysis of the milk revealed that it contained carbolic acid.

The Affairs of the Country Being Run Economically.

Manitoba's Efficient Government-In creasing Population and Decreasing Expenses.

Ottawa, April 19.-The cost of government must always be proportionately greater in a new and sparsely settled country, and in proportion to the efforts of the people to develop their territory will the actual expenditure grow. The true test of statesmanship is not to be gauged by the actual amount of money spent, but by the ability of the country to carry the expenditure without its becoming burdensome to the people. The amount expended by one administration may be actually less than that spent by its successors or predecessors, and yet there may be waste and extravagance in the expenditure of the smaller amount, while every dollar of the larger sum well and wisely spent. Such is exactly the position in the Dominion at the present time, for while expenditures have increased since the present government took office, the burden upon the people has appreciably decreased. Money is easier, trade is tremendously improved, prosperity exists on every hand, much needed public works for the development of the country's resources are being prosecuted, the public service has improved in every department, while the cost has not increased. The intelligent business man and the progressive farmer, applying to the government of the country the same principles as he applies to his own business, appreciates these facts, and approves of the necessary expenditure required in the public ser-

EFFICIENCY WITH ECONOMY. The same charatteristic principle of Liberalism—efficiency with economy— is manifest in the administration of provincial affairs. Take, for example, the Province of Manitoba. Since the Greenway Administration assumed office, in 1888, the population of the pro-vince has doubled, and inferentially the cost of government should double or at least greatly increased also. As a matter of fact there has been an annual decrease in governmental expenses of between $50,000 and $60,000. The very first year that the Greenway Government took office the cost of legislation. salaries and other administrative expenses, was reduced nearly $58,000, and in spite of the increased volume of work carried out by the several departments the cost last year had increased less than $5,000, thus making the total still less than it was during the last year of Conservative administration, by nearly $53,000. In comparison with other provinces the expenditure on civil government in Manitoba has increased only 6 per cent in the ten years, while in the other provinces the increase has ranged from 12 per cent to 124 per cent.

NOT A MISERLY GOVERNMENT. Nor have the various institutions, which are legitimately entitled to public asisstance, been stinted and starved, for $1,525,420 has been granted for educational purposes, agricultural grants have been made to the extent of $185,-205, the hospitals have received $240,-670, and municipalities $433,032, which, with minor amounts, make a total of $2,389,979, out of the current revenue of the province. Not one cent of this has been paid out of the $2,500,000 borrowed money, in spite of the statements to that effect, so freely made by the opposition. That $2,500,000 has been expended thus: In railways, $839,147; public buildings, $447,662; interest on bonds issued by Conservative Government as aid to railways, $732,669; deficit left by late administration (being trust funds, etc., used for current purpose, as shown in the auditor-general's report, $315,-000; these amounts, with the balance in hand, $141,815, make a total of $2,496,295, the exact proceeds of the loan. In view of the statements so freely made in the debate last session upon the application of Manitoba for a grant from her own school funds held in trust by the Dominion, that the money was not to be used for educational purposes, but to cover up other deficits, it is only fair to the province, and the Greenway Government that these exact figures should be emphasized, particularly as the matter will again be under discussion this session, when no doubt the same inaccurate statements will be re-

SLANDERED A GALLANT MAN

Vancouver Conservative Defends Major Walsh Against Tupper's Attack.

Mr. G. S. McConnell, a well-known

Conservative of Vancouver, inserts a letter in The News-Advertiser of that city dealing with Sir Hibbert Tupper's Yukon charges. Mr. McConnell is an active business man and has made several trips to Dawson, and therefore knows whereof his speaks. Mr. McConnell, among other things, says: "I happen to have been at the headquarters when all this supposed maladministration took place, and I failed to find out anything of the nature stated by Sir Charles. I am just as good a Conservative as Sir Charles and would have reported any wrongdoing had it come under my notice. . . Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper stated in the House of Commons that Major Walsh was a disgrace to Canada. On the other hand, I beg to say that the major is one of the most gallant officers in the Dominion, and no matter what position he holds at the present time, he is an honor to Canada. I myself have seen the major acting nobly under the most trying circumstances. Politicians who sit at home at least should not speak in this slighting way of men who have done splendid work for Canada, whether they are Liberals

Cures have been made where persons have been afflicted with Scrofula from their youth up to 20,30 and 40 years of age, by DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT, a remedy composed of ingredients of extraord-inary medical properties, essential to purify, heal, repair and invigorate the broken down and wested body. Quick, pleasent, safe and permanent in its treatment and cure. Sold by all drugglets. $1 a bottle.

Radway's Pills

Always Reliable, Purely Vegetable. Perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. RAD-WAY'S PILLS for the cure of air disorders of the Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Neryous Diseases, Dizziness, Vertigo, Costiveness, Piles.

Sick Headache, Female Complaints, Biliousness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation and all Disorders of the Liver.
True Comfort for the Aged and Others afflicted with Costiveness and Paralysis

One to three of Radway's Pill, once in twenty-four hours, will secure regular evacuations from the bowels. Persons who, for 20 years, have not enjoyed a natural stool, and have been compelled to use injections, have been cured by a few doses of Radway's Pills, Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion, and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels; likewise from urinal difficulty. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons, from 70 to 80 years of age, who have been cured of this defect (who were compelled to resort to injections to empty their bowels) by the use of Radway's Pills. Two or three pills every night, in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels and a regular flow of urina. In cases where there is Irration of the Bladder, the Resolvent should be used alternately with the pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys in a healthy condition, the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked, This great desideratum is within the reach of all by the use of Radway's Pills and Resolvent. Drastic Aloetic Pills, in persons of advanced age, hasten dissolution; irritates and wears out the absorbents, so that these vessels are incapable of assisting in the repair of the body's waste. If Hadway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies—the faculties will remain in a healthy condition. A weak, feeble and decaying body enfeebles the intellect and cloude the brain.

or Conservatives. There is too much of this sort of thing in our broad Dominion. Again, in regard to the Yukon officials; a few days before I left Dawson to return home a number of would-be miners came to my tent and asked me if I would take out to Ottawa about 20 affidavits concerning the maladministration of Yukon officials. I told them I would have great pleasure in doing so. After waiting about a week I had to leave without them, as the parties never turned up again, and I came to the conclusion that all their statements were mere wind." Mr. McConnell's evperiences are precisely like those of everyone else who has tried to get at the bottom of the accusations against Yukon officials. They vanish into thin air as soon as an attempt is made to get

TEAM DRIVERS

Another Labor Union Added to the Large Number Already Established in London.

A branch of the Internation Teamdrivers Union of North America was organized in the city at Labor Hail last night. With this end in view a meeting had been called, and there was a large turnout of teamsters. The advantages of unionism were pointed out by Messrs. W. Burleigh, Joseph Marks, W. McGeary, R. Weston and Ald. F. Plant-members of the organization committee of the Trades and Labor Council-and the question of the advisability of organizing was put to the meeting. It was unanimously decided to form a union and also that it should not be a purely local organization, but affiliated with the Union of North America. Provisional officers were chosen as follows: Chairman, Wm. Davidson; secretary, Wm. Pep-per; Treasurer, John Moore. A canvassing committee was also appointed, and Wm. Murphy, Wm. Davidson and Maurice Baldwin were elected representatives to the Trades and Labor Council. Mr. Davidson made a capital chairman. In an excellent ten-minute speech he thanked the members for electing him, urged them to act in harmony and to use arguments rather than compulsion to increase the membership roll. All present signed the roll, and the necessary funds were collected to send Prof. Dyson Hague, of Wycliffe College, Toronto, spoke of the Christian's duty to and the peculiarities of the Sacred Book. The Bible spoke as no other book ever did or could, to heart, soul and spirit. In what other book was the same wealth of literature to be found? It had given rise to three of the greatest secular productions—Milton's "Paradise Lost," Dante's "Inferno" and Bunyon's "Pilgrim's Progress." What other book than the Bible had ever had 40,000 trained thinkers working out little by little, wear by year the treesures found in be found? It had given rise to three year by year, the treasures found it? The Bible had inspired every educational, philanthropic and benevolent movement, and every national enterprise. The language of two of the greatest rations in the world had been formed by this book. Circulation and time was the great test of literature. The popular and modern works depreciated with age. What books over 100 years of age were read by the Few save Shakespeare and Milton. Who now read books 1,000 or 2,000 years old? This book, coming from a little and politically insignificant land like Palestine, was read by every nation on the earth. The Bible was being circulated at a rate of 4,100,00 per year, and printed in 350 languages. The Bible had been bombarded, burned and torn, but it still lives.
