HOW WAR TAX WILL AFFECT PRICES OF COMMODITIES HERE

NEW TAXES MEAN $150,000 ADDITIONAL FROM POCKETS OF CIGAR AND LIQUOR MEN

London Manufacturers, Brewers and Spirit Jobbers Will Have To Pay That Amount Under New Tariff—No Figures On Other Increases.

Figured on a basis of last year's inland revenue returns, the imposition of the special war tax by the Canadian Government means an annual levy of close to $150,000 from the pockets of cigar manufacturers, brewers, and wine and spirit wholesalers, while it is practically impossible to compute what the increase will mean to the consumers.

The excise duty figures, affecting as they do the cigar and liquor men of the city, are the only ones on which anything like definite calculations can be made. Wholesale grocers and brokers declared that they could not estimate the bulk increases in sugar prices and canned goods that London will have to pay.

"The sugar prices are fixed at Montreal. We will have to get our instructions from there," was the universal statement of the grocers.

Half Cent on Sugar.

"The increase, as far as I can ascertain, will work out to something like a half cent a pound increase to the retail consumer," declared Major W. J. Coles, grocery broker.

This estimate of Major Coles was the only one that could be secured by The Advertiser after a canvass of the local field. The grocers declare that the sugar prices are fixed at Montreal, and that until the big refineries and sugar companies there announce to the trade what the increase will mean, no one here will be in a position to accurately fix the amount.

The same lack of knowledge of what the sugar prices would be was true of the possible jump in increases would do to the canned goods and the manufactured tobacco. Naturally canned goods will not be so much affected as the manufactured and imported tobacco, but retailers and jobbers here are at sea until the big companies announce the increases to them.

The Tobacco Outlook.

"Imported tobacco will be up one or two cents a tin," said A. Wolfe, jobber and retailer, to The Advertiser. "It will depend on the size of the tins of course, but an eighth of a pound package will be almost a cent in advance and similarly up to the larger packages."

Domestic tobacco, used in cigarettes, plug tobacco and chewing tobacco, will also increase, the excise duty on domestic tobacco having gone up from five to ten cents a tin. What it will work out to, so far as the retail trade and the ultimate price the consumer will pay for it, however, is an unknown quantity.

Naturally, as the second largest cigar manufacturing centre in the Dominion, London's cigar manufacturers will be hard hit by the increase. In 1913 inland revenue returns for London totalled:

Cigars, ex-factory	$64,004.24
Cigar, ex-warehouse	23,564.92
Total	$87,539.16

Under the new excise duty of $3.00 per thousand cigars instead of $2.00 per thousand, the figures would have been $43,794.58 more. If London manufactures the same number of cigars a year as it did in 1913 then it means an increase of between $40,000 and $45,000 per year in the stamp duty that will be collected from the cigar manufacturers of the city.

Figured On 1913.

There has been a falling off in the number of cigars manufactured here, but according to the general concensus of opinion among the manufacturers today, the figures for 1913 may be considered a fair average for the computation of any estimate showing what the war tax means to this city.

The increase in the malt duty of 100 per cent, raising it from one and a half to three cents a pound, means the doubling of last year's figures ($80,350) while the jump of 50 cents a gallon in spirits computed on the 1913 returns ($87,385.32) just increases the tax $22,990.88.

In tabulated form then the increases on last year's figures with the new excise duty in effect would be:

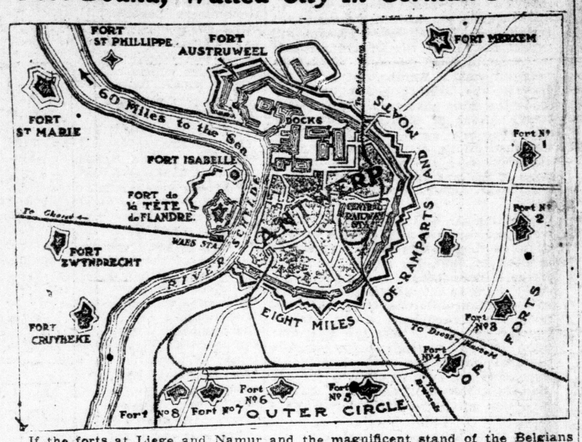

Cigars	$ 43,794.58
Malt	80,350.22
Spirits	22,990.88
Total	$147,135.68

Production Lessened.

This total of $147,135.68 is the only figure that can be credited with representing anything like London's official quota of the Canadian war tax. Naturally with the cigar market reduced by economic conditions that will

Fort-Bound, Walled City In German Path

If the forts at Liege and Namur and the magnificent stand of the Belgians upcountry have checked the Germany army for SIXTEEN DAYS what will be the fate of the Kaiser's forces when thrown on Antwerp, protected by a chain of forts and immense ramparts, and defended by the allied forces of Britain, France and Belgium?

GERMANS NOT ABLE TO BREAK INTO FRANCE

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Aug. 21.—The official news bulletin issued by the French War Office today says:

"Up to the twentieth day of the French mobilization, despite the assurances of German writers, even those of the German general staff, the Germans have not obtained any of the decisive advantages they counted upon. Moreover, the enemy has not been able to carry the war on to our territory. This advantage has at least a moral value which is worth noticing."

BRINGS NIECE FROM MUNICH IN MOTOR CAR

Dr. Franklin Martin, of Chicago, Found Difficulty in His Rescue of Her.

PASSED THROUGH LINES

After Being Turned Back Once, He Secured Permits and Automobile.

GASOLINE VERY SCARCE

Travellers Saw Masses of Troops and 6,000 French Prisoners.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21.—1:20 p.m.—Dr. Franklin Martin, of Chicago, who left here a week ago en route for Munich to bring out his niece, Miss Stone, also of Chicago, returned to London this morning.

His trip was successful, for Miss Stone is with him. Dr. Martin tells a story full of interesting experiences on the continent. He attempted first to make his way to Munich by way of Paris and Berne, Switzerland, but was not successful. He was unable to proceed beyond Paris. Stories related to him of the hardships endured by Americans marooned in Germany impelled him to make a second attempt, and in company with John Moran, of New York, whose wife was last heard from in Munich, Dr. Martin started again through Holland. He speaks of his experience as follows:

"We had great difficulty in passing through the German lines, and at Crefeld we secured an automobile to take us to Cologne, and the necessary permits to proceed. We found to our immense relief that Mrs. Moran and Miss Stone were still in Munich.

No Gasoline For Sale.

"In the meanwhile the military authorities had ordered that no more gasoline be sold to non-combatants. Several American cars in Munich had been taken by the authorities when their owners revealed their existence by appearing for fuel.

"Mr. and Mrs. Moran decided to remain in Munich, but Miss Stone and I left Monday, with, as I supposed, only two gallons of gasoline in our car. We had determined to keep going as long as possible.

Chauffeur Smart.

"Once safely out of Munich our enterprising chauffeur revealed to us, covered by blankets, several cans of the precious fluid, in all enough to get us half way to our destination.

"During this journey we actually were within the lines of the German army. At one point between Cologne and Crefeld we passed trenches being rapidly thrown up by troops. As far as the eye could reach there were masses of troops with field guns and munitions. Moving in the direction of Belgium, between Cologne and Bingen was a continuous line of troops, provision wagons and ambulances. At Frankfort 6,000 French prisoners were pointed out to us.

Once In Danger.

We arrived at Cologne Tuesday evening, after covering 250 miles during the day. We pushed on to Crefeld. The highways was congested with guns, ambulances and munitions of war of all kinds. At only one time did we seem to be in real danger; this was when two soldiers pointed their guns menacingly at our heads, as our deliberate chauffeur took his time in stopping on their orders.

"This last stage of our return journey was the most difficult of all. As we were travelling on a war highway in the immediate rear of a great battlefield, we were stopped dozens of times.

Sudden Orders Come To Depart From "the Old Town" At Once

Non-Coms. and Men Numbering 140 Will Be Rushed to Valcartier---Orders as to Officers Are Not Definite---Preparations Under Way.

The Seventh Regiment volunteers will leave for Valcartier at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, via the Grand Trunk Railway.

A dispatch received by Lieut.-Col. H. C. Becher shortly after noon today conveyed the instructions to have the London contingent in readiness for immediate entrainment. The order specifically stated that the men must be landed in Valcartier not later than Tuesday morning.

The dispatch said nothing of the number of officers that would be called to the front with the regimental volunteers. Enlistment papers that have been sent from divisional headquarters here have contained the names of fourteen officers and it is thought that this number will be accepted at the mobilization camp.

140 in Detachment.

There are 140 non commissioned officers and men of the Seventh Regiment who have volunteered for active service. This number will make up the contingent leaving this city in the morning.

Accompanying the Londoners will be the volunteers from the Twenty-fifth (Elgin) Regiment, of St. Thomas. It is thought they will be nearly one hundred strong.

The Twenty-second (Oxford) Regiment will be marshalled at Woodstock for the arrival of the London special, and will be picked up at that city.

Other Details Ordered.

Other regiments affected by the orders are the Twenty-eighth (Perth), concentrating at Stratford, and the First Howitzer Brigade of Guelph. These two units will be taken direct to Valcartier on a special leaving Stratford some time tomorrow. They will probably marshal more than one hundred strong.

As soon as the dispatch was received this morning, Lieut.-Col. Becher got in touch with Grand Trunk transportation men in an endeavor to ascertain the earliest possible time the London troops could be moved.

Eleven, Hour of Leaving.

Eleven o'clock was finally decided on as the time most convenient for the entraining of the men, and advantageous to the railway company, which an hour later has its lines congested out of the city with a heavy influx of through passenger trains. Arrangements are being made to have the special make a record run to the Quebec concentration camp.

The train will likely be made up of eight passenger coaches and several baggage cars. A heavy superheated locomotive will be provided, and the troops will be rushed without delay to Quebec.

Applies to Seventh.

A subsequent order received at divisional headquarters here stated that city corps were to entrain, but as volunteers from the Hussars have already left, and the Sixth (London) Battery and the Army Service Corps not in a position to pull up stakes for entrainment, the order is thought to bear any particular significance, other than to apply only to the Seventh.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the volunteers of the Seventh were lined up on the floor of the drill hall in company column. The dispatches calling the regimental volunteers to the front was read. There was loud cheering from the volunteers, who have been awaiting the time for entrainment with increasing impatience.

Lieut.-Col. Becher stated to an Advertiser reporter late this afternoon that it was probable only several officers would go. No selection has been made yet, he declared.

NEW COMMISSIONER FOR S. A. IN CANADA

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Commissioner Hugh E. Whatmore, of thhe Foreign Office of the Salvation Army in London, England, has been appointed commissioner of Canada and Newfoundland for a period of six months. It is uncertain when he will arrive in Toronto.

He has held positions in Sweden and Italy.

Antwerp Prepares To Resist To Last

All Classes Are Joining in Preparations for Defence Over Great Area---Flags of Allies Fly Everywhere.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21.—9:20 a.m.—The correspondent of the Times at The Hague, telegraphing today, says: "The preparations for the defence of Antwerp extend over an enormous area. All classes in the city are joining in the work day and night, but there is no sign of panic or confusion.

The gates driven through the walls by a peace-loving people are closed while this work of preparation goes doggedly forward. Antwerp itself offers a strange contrast. At almost every window appear English, Belgian and French flags, giving a festive air to the city, which is preparing to resist to the last gasp.

Germans to Make Short Stay In the Captured City.

Ghent, Belgium, via Paris, Aug. 21.—3:50 a.m.—German Hussars and Uhlans arrived this morning (probably Thursday) on the shooting grounds at the gates of Brussels, whither the burgomaster went to parley with them.

In the afternoon German officers, occupying an automobile, recrossed Grand Place (the market place), going to the city hall, while detachments of Germans went through various parts of the city.

The telegraph office and the railway station were closed for the greater part of the day. Many of the inhabitants of Brussels are leaving at once for Ghent and Ostend.

Cut Off From Army.

The general opinion is that the Germans will only pass through the city, or at the most make a very short stay there. The only signs of animation in the place are caused by the arrival of peasants, who are abandoning the surrounding villages. The German troopers have established themselves on the shooting ground. They are understood

GERMANS DUE YESTERDAY TO MARCH INTO PARIS

According to Their Own Experts, Their Armies Are Long Overdue—Road Beset With Many Difficulties.

London, Aug. 21.—Yesterday was the time of the latest advices about the date when, according to the forecasts of their own and many other military writers in Europe, the German troops were due to appear before the walls of Paris.

According to French official advices, it is the Germans' intention to pass their main army into France by the Brussels road. The Germans themselves are naturally silent, but there is no reason to doubt they are quite as well aware of the difficulties of this route as are their opponents.

The Namur forts have not yet been attacked or rather had not been at the time of the latest advices.

An impenetrable curtain has been drawn over the operations in the centre of the battle line, where the main French army is co-operating in the fighting.

The Russian advance in East Prussia apparently stretches over a front of sixty miles, between Stalluponen and Lyck, but the Russian invaders have not yet gained much German ground.

Little is heard of the Austrian operations at present, but it is known that Austrian contingents are moving along the Rhine to meet the French advance in Alsace.

HEALER OF THE WOUNDED TO BE SWITZERLAND'S ROLE

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 21. — Dr. Ritter, the minister from Switzerland, who came to New York from Washington at the outbreak of the war, announced that a meeting would be held in the Swiss Home here today for the purpose of arranging an appeal to Swiss born residents of the United States, numbering 150,000 to contribute to the general Red Cross fund of Switzerland. The Swiss Government has practically offered to turn the country into one great hospital, to care for the wounded of Europe, regardless of their nationality. As yet no notice of the attitude of the European governments toward this proposal has been received here.

GERMAN CAVALRY BEATEN BY FRENCH

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21.—5:55 p.m.—The Central News has received a dispatch from Paris saying that French forces defeated a detachment of German cavalry coming from Leopoldschoece and Hueningen, in an engagement near Basel.

The Germans retired in the direction of St. Louis, leaving 500 dead and wounded on the field. They lost most of their horses.

AEROPLANES BUSY FROM BOTH SIDES

Germans Flying Over Holland Shot At by Dutch—French Drop Bombs On the Cavalry Camps.

Amsterdam, via London, 3:45 p.m., Aug. 21.—Notable activity is evident among the German aircraft, which fly frequently over Holland.

A Zeppelin, following the course of the Rhine, and equipped with strong searchlights, passed over Zevenaar today. Dutch soldiers shot at it, and the dirigible disappeared over the German frontier.

Another Zeppelin flew over Maestricht last night, and followed the road to Mecren, afterward disappearing.

German aeroplanes also have been seen in several directions scouting.

Dropped Bombs.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Aug. 21.—A French official note says: "A French dirigible last night threw a number of projectiles upon two German cavalry camps in Belgium, causing great excitement. Despite the fire of the enemy, the aircraft returned safely to the French lines."

ELECTRIC STORM COSTS FIVE LIVES

Seven Others Seriously Injured and Twenty-Five Are Hurt When Near-Cyclone Strikes Wilkesbarre.

[Canadian Press.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 21.—Five persons were killed, seven seriously injured and twenty-five others less painfully hurt in this city last night, when a severe electrical storm, approaching a cyclone in violence, swept the southern section, known as the Heights, a part of Wilkesbarre Township.

Between thirty and forty houses and other buildings were wrenched and made uninhabitable. The cyclone came without warning, and abated just as suddenly, after working destruction over a limited area.

Considerable damage was done to the telegraph, telephone and trolley companies throughout the valley, and many buildings were struck by lightning, but there was no loss of lives except in this city.

The Most Formidable Shock In History

Allies and Austro-German forces will make Belgian battlefield of decisive encounter.

"The most formidable shock in history" will occur on Belgian soil, according to French military experts, when the great armies of Germans and Austrians on the one side, and the allied troops of Belgium, France and Britain on the other come into close contact. No definite information is permitted to go past the censor as to the place where the decisive encounter is to occur, but the general staff of the French army declares itself confident of fighting under the best auspices for its own forces.

Not a shot was fired by the Belgians when entry into Brussels was made yesterday by an advance guard of German cavalry, who, it was reported, were to be followed today by a strong column of German troops encamped in the vicinity. On the departure of the Belgian troops from the capital, communication was cut off between that city and other parts of Belgium and abroad. The temporary capital of the country, Antwerp, whither the Belgians have retired, is understood to be very strongly fortified, and military correspondents declare the preparations for its defence extend over an enormous area, while it has been provisioned for a long siege.

British and French warships bombarded and greatly damaged Cattaro, an Austrian seaport, on Wednesday.

Libau, the Russian Baltic seaport, was badly damaged during its two hours bombardment by a German fleet, according to the captain of a Swedish steamer. The inhabitants were panic-stricken.

German warships are reported to have destroyed the harbor works at Hango, Finland.

Japan is making active preparations in view of the approaching expiration of the time limit on Sunday of her ultimatum to Germany. It is expected she will at once move on Kiao-Chow, the German protectorate in China.

A final call to arms, affecting all able-bodied men from 20 to 42 years of age, has been issued by the Austrian Government.

An Anglo-American rough riders corps has been formed in Paris, and its services accepted by the French ministry of war.

GIVE THE SEVENTH BOYS A ROUSING SEND-OFF!

WHEN THE BOYS OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT LEAVE TOMORROW THEY SHOULD BE GIVEN A SENDOFF THAT WILL BE HISTORIC OF THIS CITY. IN THE ABSENCE OF OFFICIAL RECOGNITION OF THE DEPARTURE, DUE TO LACK OF TIME AND THE UNCERTAINTY OF THE HOUR OF LEAVING, THE CITY SHOULD TURN OUT EN MASSE TO BID A FAREWELL TO THE BOYS WHO IN A FEW WEEKS' TIME, UNLESS THE WAR ENDS, WILL BE IN THE BATTLE FRONT OF THE GREATEST CONFLICT THE WORLD HAS KNOWN.

CITIZENS OWE IT TO THESE PLUCKY YOUNG MEN TO SHOW SINCERE AND HEARTY APPRECIATION OF THEIR WILLINGNESS TO SERVE THEIR COUNTRY. WHEN THE MEN MARCH THROUGH THE STREETS EVERYONE SHOULD DROP HIS WORK AND TURN OUT TO TAKE PART IN THE FAREWELL. DEMONSTRATION IS NOT EVERYTHING, BUT THE VOLUNTEERS CANNOT BE PERMITTED TO LEAVE THE CITY WITH COLD HEARTS. IT IS TIME FOR CHEERING IF THERE EVER WAS A TIME.

TIRLEMONT SIEGE BRINGS ON PANIC

Witness Tells of Assault On Two Towns.

WATCHED FROM CHURCH

Attack Came Suddenly to the People of Tirlemont and Louvain.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, August 21.—4:50 a.m.—The fighting at Tirlemont and Louvain is described by the Ostend correspondent of the Express who says that he witnessed it from a church tower at Tirlemont first, and later proceeded to Louvain. He says:

"Until lunch time on Tuesday, Tirlemont was quiet and normal. Suddenly, about one o'clock, came the sound of the first German gun. The artillery had opened fire.

"From the church tower, it was possible to see distinctly the position of the German guns and the bursting of their shells. The Belgians replied from their positions east of Louvain. It was a striking sight to the accompaniment of the ceaseless thud of bursting shells with their puffs of cotton-like smoke, tearing up the peaceful wheat fields not very far away.

People Fled Blindly.

"Gradually working nearer, the shells began to strike the houses in Tirlemont. This was a signal for the populace, which heretofore had been confident that the Belgian army would protect them, to fly blindly and unreasoningly. All they knew was that the Germans were coming. From the tower, the scene was like the rushing of rats from a disturbed nest. The people fled in every direction except one.

"I moved down to Louvain, where everything seemed quiet and peaceful. The people sat in the cafes drinking their evening beer and smoking. Meanwhile, the Belgian troops were retiring in good order toward Louvain.

Louvain In Panic.

"By midnight, the town was in the throes of a panic. Long before midnight, throngs of refugees had begun to arrive, followed later by soldiers. By eleven o'clock, the Belgian rear guard was engaging the enemy at the railroad bridge at the entrance to the town. The firing was heavy. The wounded began to come in. Rideriess horses came along, both Bergan and Belgian. These were caught and mounted by civilians, glad to have so rapid a mode of escape.

"At some of the barricades along the route, the refugees and soldiers arrived simultaneously, making the defence difficult. All about Tirlemont and Louvain, the refugees continually interfered with the work of the troops. The road to Brussels always was crowded with refugees."

GERMANY SEEKING TO AVOID JAP CONFLICT

Proposal to Cede Kiau-Chow to United States for China.

PEKING, China, Aug. 20. — China today inquired of the United States what its attitude would be towards the cession by Germany to the United States of the territory of Kiau-Chow, for immediate cession thereafter back to China.

The inquiry of the Chinese Government was made to the American charge d'affaires, and it was understood to be based on intimation from Germany that such a course might solve the problem.

The Chinese Government is not sure that such a program would meet with the approval of Japan or Great Britain, and the opinion is freely expressed that it will not. But China has informed the United States that no matter what action Japan make take as a result of her ultimatum, the Chinese Republic wil lpreserve an absolutely passive attitude.

BRITISH COLUMBIA HAS A BRIEF SCARE

German Cruiser Reported To Have Raided Prince Rupert.

[Canadian Press.]

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 20.—The following dispatch was received from Prince Rupert, B.C., late today:

"All banks have been notified by Hon. J. D. Hazen, Canadian Minister of Marine, of the near approach of a German warship, stated to be coming to obtain coal. Authorities have been notified not to give aid to the enemy, even under threat of bombardment of the city."

There is still no intimation here or at Prince Rupert of the presence of a German cruiser off the British Columbia coast.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 20 — There is no truth in the report that a German cruiser raided Prince Rupert.

CHANGES IN THE TARIFF SCHEDULE

Coffee, Chocolate, Cocoa and Sugar Are Increased.

TOBACCO, ALCOHOL, TOO

Paints and Colors, Ground in Spirit, to Add to the Revenue.

[Special to The Advertiser.f

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The following is an analysis of the schedules of tariff changes proposed by the Finance Minister to provide war revenue:

Cocoa or chocolate paste sweetened, general tariff raised from four to four and a half cents; preferential tariff from three and a half cents to four.

Preparations of cocoa or chocolate in powder form, general tariff 25 per cent to 27½ per cent; preferential tariff 20 per cent to 22½ per cent.

Cocoa or chocolate, n. o. p., and chocolate confectionery increased from one-half to one cent per pound in all tariffs.

Chicory, roasted or ground, is unchanged in the general and preferential tariffs at three and two cents per pound, respectively. But the intermediate tariff is raised from two and a half to three cents. Coffee extract is raised from three to six cents in the general tariff and from two to five cents in the British preference.

Coffee, Roasted or Ground.

Coffee, roasted or ground, is increased from two to five cents in the general tariff and from one and a half to four cents under the British preference. If not imported direct from the country of production, the rates are the same as those just given, except for an ad-valorum duty. Under the general tariff this ad-valorum duty remains ten per cent, but under the British preference there is a reduction to seven and a half per cent.

Coffee, green, is now free if imported from the country of growth or purchased in bond in the United Kingdom. Under the tariff changes it will pay three cents per pound as the general rate and two and a quarter cents under the British preference.

Coffee, n. o. p., retains the present ad-valorum duty of 10 per cent, and there is an addition of three cents per pound under all three tariffs.

Tea Unchanged.

The duties on tea remain unchanged.

Condensed milk is increased from three and a quarter to three and three-quarter cents per pound under the general tariff and two to two and a half cents under the British preference.

Condensed coffee with milk is increased from 30 to 35 per cent under the general tariff and 20 to 25 per cent under the British preference.

Milk foods go up from 25 to 27½ per cent under the general tariff and 17½ to 20 per cent under the British preference.

Biscuits, sweetened, go up from 27½ under the general tariff and 17½ to 20 per cent under the British preference.

Fruits preserved in brandy are increased from 50 to 60 per cent in 111 tariffs, if they do not contain more than 40 per cent of proof spirits. If containing more than 40 per cent, the increase is from $2.40 to $3, the ad-valorum duty remaining at 30 per cent.

Canned Fruits.

Canned fruits are increased from two and a quarter to two and a half cents under the general tariff and from one and a half to one and three-quarter cents under the British preference.

Jellies, jams, preserved and condensed mincemeat are increased from three and a quarter cents per pound to three and three-quarters cents under the general tariff and two and a quarter to two and three-quarters under the British preference.

Preserved ginger is raised from 30 to 35 per cent under the general tariff and 20 to 25 under the British preference.

Desiccated cocoanut is increased from four to four and a half cents per pound under the general tariff and from two to three and a half under the British preference.

Raw Sugar.

Raw sugar is increased from 57½ cents to $1.37½ 100 pounds under the general tariff and from 40¾ cents to $1.03¾ under British preference.

Refined sugar is increased from $1.07 2-3 to $2.07 2-3 per 100 pounds under the general tariff and from 83 cents to $1.63 under the preference tariff.

In the case of both raw and refined sugar, the estimates for the rate of duty are based upon the customary standard of imported sugars.

Sugar candy and confectionery retains its present ad-valorum during this, and in adition, there is imposed a specific duty of one-half cent.

Increase in Tobacco.

On cigars and cigarettes the specific duty is raised from $3 to $3.50 per pound, the ad-valorum duty remaining unchanged.

Cut tobacco is increased from 55 to 65 cents per pound.

Manufactured tobacco, n. o. p., and snuff are increased from 50 to 60 cents per pound.

Ale, beer, porter and stouts not bottled, are increased from 16 to 30 cents per gallon. In bottles the increase is from 24 to 42 cents per gallon.

Lime and Fruit Juices.

Lime and fruit juices, being not more than 25 per cent of proof spirits, are placed under a duty of 75 cents instead of 60 cents per gallon. If the proof spirits are more than 25 per cent, the specific duty is raised from $2.40 to $3 per gallon, the ad-valorum duty remaining unchanged at 30 per cent.

Lime juice and fruit juice n. o. p. are increased from 22 to 22½ per cent under the tariff and from 15 to 17½ per cent under the British preference.

Alcohol is increased from $2.40 to $3 per gallon.

NON-FIGHTERS TO WORK AT BUILDING

French Factories To Employ Limited Forces — Effort To Stop Misery.

[Canadian Press.]

PARIS, Aug. 20. — 12:10 p.m. — All the old men and youths in the building trades are to be put to work finishing buildings under construction. Factories will be reopened and employ limited forces. Far-reaching charitable work, supported by the Government, is being organized.

There has been almost complete cessation of orders in the dressmaking, millinery, artificial flowers, lace and embroidery and related industries, which, under ordinary conditions, employ over 4 per cent of the laborers of France.

Many of the larger dressmaking establishments are giving work to their staffs in the making of plain hospital garments for the wounded. This is done at their own expense.

The labor unions in the department of the Seine and elsewhere in France have opened vast soup kitchens, where those who can pay may have a meal for 4 cents. Those who cannot pay are fed for nothing.

ONTARIO TROOPS ON WAY TO VALCARTIER

Three Canadian Nortnern Railway trains conveyed the Toronto force. The first of six coaches contained the Mississauga Horse, the Guides, Body Guards, Signal Corps, and Army Service Corps. The second was for the Thirty-Sixth Peel Regiment, and the third for the Twelfth York Rangers.

Three Grand Trunk special trains pulled out at 12:10, 12:40 and 1:15 p.m. for Val Cartier.

NEW YORK HESITATES TO SEND BRITAIN FOOD

Merchants Fear Their Drafts Will Not Be Honored Promptly.

[Canadian Press.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. — Every ship that sails out of New York for English ports these days sails light, though England is begging for food.

The liner Celtic left today with 5,000 tons of foodstuffs in her hold, when she might have carried 16,000 tons. The Kroonland left the other day with 4,500 and room for 8,000 more. Others of the thirteen ships of the International Mercantile Marine recently departed for England, have ridden high in the water because of their lightness of cargo. Other lines tell the same story.

Paradoxially, warehouses around New York are choked with the supplies for which England is offering fancy prices.

The reason none of this food is going to England, it is asserted, is because Amercan shippers have no assurances that their drafts will be honored in England promptly.

Sugar is the one article which Great Britain needs more than any other. For the first time in years English merchants are importing direct from New York. The bulk of England's sugar came, before the war, from Germany and Central Europe. Nearly 1,500 tons were on the Celtic, sailing today, and 1,350 tons were aboard the Kroonland.

EARTHQUAKE CAUSES ITALIANS MUCH ALARM

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Aug. 20.—8:10 p.m.—Delayed in transmission—A strong earthquake shock was felt at Como today and caused great alarm. The people of the city rushed into the streets. The inmates of the San Donnino prison had a bad scare, as they believed that the ancient building might collapse.

BURSTING SHELL KILLS 15 WOMEN

Terrible Scenes at Libau, Russia, When the Germans Bombard City—Quiet in St. Petersburg.

[Canadian Press.]

Stockholm, Aug. 21.—Via London, 7:10 a.m.—The captain of a Swedish steamer, which has just arrived from Libau, tells the following story of the bombardment of the Russian seaport by the German fleet:

"It was an a Sunday evening that the rain of fire began to fall on the city. The townspeople were thrown into a panic. They ran into the streets and other open places, because their houses were falling and burning.

"Fifteen women, who were seated on a pile of lumber, were all killed by the explosion of a single shell. The bombardment continued for two hours. Many buildings and bridges were destroyed."

Normal in St. Petersburg.

Advices from St. Petersburg indicate that life in the Russian capital runs on in the ordinary way. The streets, cafes and amusement places are crowded as ever. No additional military precautions have been taken, it is said. The food supply is described as plentiful.

The destruction of the harbor works at Hango, Finland, by German warships is reported by the master of the Swedish steamer Bifrost, which has arrived from Hango.

A Pleasant Program.

"We received orders from the port authorities at Hango on August 2 to moor with the Dutch coal steamer Alcor across the entrance to the harbor, where our ship was to be dynamited in order to close the channel," he said. "Later the authorities permitted us to anchor outside in security, but the Alcor was blown up according to the program, together with three valuable cranes."

Grand Duke Michael, the younger brother of the Russian Emperor, has left for St. Petersburg. Steamship freight traffic between Finland and Sweden has been resumed.

ANTWERP PREPARES

to have said that they had been cut off from the rest of the army.

Not a Shot Fired.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21—2:50 a.m.—The Ghent correspondent of the Chronicle telegraphs: "Brussels is now occupied by the enemy, having surrendered to the Germans without the firing of a single shot."

Communication Cut Off.

[Canadian Press.]

Antwerp, Aug. 21, 1:30 a.m., via Paris, 5:10 a.m.—An official statement says that the situation is unchanged. German cavalry patrols are circling around Brussels, severing communication between the capital and Antwerp, and between these cities and the central part of the country.

Order to Shoot Correspondents.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21—9:25 a.m.—The Amsterdam correspondent of the Chronicle, telegraphing yesterday, said that Antwerp was being put in a state of defence, and being provisioned for a siege.

He adds that it was stated at the office of the general staff on Thursday that all foreign correspondents found in Belgium after last night would be shot.

Camp Near the City.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21—2:54 a.m.—A telegram from Ostend, Belgium, to the Daily Mail last night said the main body of the German troops around Brussels camped for the night around the city. The remainder of the troops will enter the Belgian capital today.

Germans Concentrating.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Aug. 21—2:55 p.m.—Official news made public in Paris today says that the German forces continue to pass the Meuse in the vicinity of Huy, and that an important concentration is being carried out in Belgium this (Friday) morning.

No French territory is occupied by the enemy except a piece of inclosed land at Audun-le-Rolan, in the department of Meurthe and Moselle.

NEW TAXES WILL

follow in the wake of the war, the amount of goods manufactured and shipped out of the city may be lower than last year, but in all probability the difference will be slight.

Cigar manufacturers seen by The Advertiser today generally took the attitude that the additional $1.00 a thousand would come out of their pockets.

"Competition is so keen that it would be impossible to tack that additional stamp duty on to the retailer," said one of the manufacturers." I guess that it will be up to us to pay the shot ourselves."

Tariff Is Retroactive.

Dating back, the new tariff came as a surprise to the local men. Expecting an additional war tax as they did, practically every cigar and liquor dealer in town cleared his bonded warehouse within the past week. In one instance a liquor dealer paid out $10,000 to clear his warehouse. Cigar manufacturers have been buying stamps, and practically everyone of the larger ones has spent from $500 to $1,000 within the last week.

Placing the new tariff into effect on August 7 means that they will have to pay the increase in spite of the fact that their warehouses have been cleared.

POPE'S SISTER ALIVE

Report of Her Death Was Due to Mistake in Tranmission of Telegram.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21.—An erroneous statement was made public in London late last night and telegraphed to New York that Anna Sarto, sister of the late Pope Pius X., had died in Rome shortly after the passing away of her brother.

It appears today that this mistaken report was the result of a telegraphic error, which occurred in the transmission of a dispatch from Rome. The Pope's sister is alive, although suffering from shock. She was already indisposed when the pontiff was taken ill and yesterday she was obliged to take to her bed. She is under the care of Dr. Amici.

Belgium To Be the Theatre of Most Terrible Battle In History

[Canadian Press.]

Paris Aug. 21.—5:45 a. m.—The Petit Parisien's review of the war situation today says:

"A great battle is preparing. Belgium is to be the theatre of the most formidable shock in history, the duration of which escapes prophecy.

"Repulsed in the south at Dinant by the French, the Germans have been making, since Tuesday, a vigorous offensive movement towards the north, which on Wednesday forced the Belgians, after a fine resistence, to fall back on Antwerp. The Berlin Government will claim a triumph, whereas from a strategical point of view the movement was of mediocre importance.

"The French armies also have taken up their respective positions, and it is certain that our general staff is far from being taken unprepared for our adversaries' tactics. The staff has long foreseen them and is prepared to deal with them under the best auspices."

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION DEMORALIZED BY WAR

Leaders Join Warring Forces For Active Service — Even Salvation Army Men and Women Going to Front.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 21.—That the war had demoralized the World's Christian Association, with headquarters in Geneva, was the information contained in advices today to the International Young Men's Christian Association in this city. Three of the leaders, heretofore working together in the association work, have left the headquarters to fight for their respective countries.

Secretary Fermaud has been ordered to take command of a Swiss regiment. Secretary Sauttern has left his desk to fight for France, and Secretary Childius is in the German army.

Young Men's Christian Associations in Canada have sent two of their most experienced army workers to Valcartier with the Canadian troops. Twenty other welfare secretaries are ready to go, according to information received here, and the Canadian association will send as many men as the Government will permit. Throughout the British service the Soldiers' Christian Association is well organized in every regiment, even in India and South Africa.

Salvation Army headquarters in this city learned yesterday that General Bramwell Booth offered the Portsmouth and other army shelters in England to the Government, and that they were accepted. Salvation Army men are enlisting in the British service, and women are going to the front as nurses.

HALF SEASON'S BEET SUGAR OUTPUT AWAITING MARKET

Eastern Refineries Not Afraid of Shortage, But Are Simply Juggling With Stocks On Hand, Says American Expert.

[Canadian Press.]

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—There is still one-half of the season's beet-sugar output in the hands of the American Beet Sugar Company, awaiting a market, according to a statement made before the United States grand jury by Robert O. Oxnard, president of the company. The company could not find a market for this sugar even at a price below the present market quotations. United States district attorney Preston quoted Oxnard as saying:

"This proves conclusively that the eastern seaboard refineries are not afraid of a shortage, and that they are simply juggling with the stock they have on hand, which is a three-months' supply," Mr. Preston said.

The testimony showed also that the eastern refineries had been making no purchases of cane sugar.

The testimony referred to was brought out at the beginning of the federal investigation here into the advance in sugar and other food prices since the opening of the European war. Witnesses asserted that the price of sugar here is fixed in New York.

VANCOUVER DOUBTS GERMAN CRUISER STORY

Nothing Seen There to Indicate One Is In Neighborhood.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 21.—It is believed here that there is absolutely no foundation for the rumor that a German cruiser has called or is about to call at Prince Rupert for coal. At present there is a detachment of Irish Fusiliers under Lieut.-Col. McFadden at that point, and up to the present no intimation has been received from him at brigade headquarters of anything untoward. The German cruiser Leipzig did not pass through the straits to the north, or she would have been engaged by the Rainbow and submarines. Neither was she seen on the west coast of Vancouver Island. It is questionable whether she would have been able to steam so far north in the time since she left San Francisco.

U.S. GOVERNMENT TO INSURE SHIPS

"LAKE MANITOBA" ARMED WITH GUNS

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Aug. 21.—The Allan Line people know nothing of the Lake Manitoba. It is not their boat, but it is understood that the Canadian Pacific Railway has equipped her with several guns for her protection, so that she is practically an armed cruiser.

SUFFERED FOR ALL WHO DIED IN BATTLE

Pope Could Not Be Calm Under Horrors of Terrible Strife.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Aug. 21.—Dr. Marchiafava, physician to the Pope, says that when he persisted that His Holiness' health was precious to the world and that he should be calm, the Pope replied: "How can I be tranquil when millions of men are about to die? I should have averted this war, but I could not. If I, who have the highest ministry of peace, do not protect the safety of so many young lives, who will do so?"

To the continued urging of his doctors that he be tranquil, the Pontiff answered: "I cannot help it; I suffer for all those who will die on the field of battle."

BOXER UPRISING FEARED IN CHINA

PEKING, China, Aug. 20. — In the belief that those classes from which the Boxers sprang might succeed in forming small groups, which would take advantage of the war to attempt once more to expel foreigners from China, the Government today instructed the provincial authorities to afford foreigners all necessary protection.

The press was at the same time warned against exciting the people by articles on the war, while discussions on the war are forbidden in public places.

Further measures have been taken against the revolutionists, who have begun to renew their activities in several places.

All Japanese subjects departed from the German protectorate of Kiao-Chow

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement is announced of Amy Heartsease, only daughter of Joseph H. Marshall, ex-M. P., and Mrs. Marshall, The Cedar Terrace, London, to Rev. Edwin Hawkins, M.A., assistant rector of St Paul's Cathedral.

RETURNS TUESDAY.

Rt. Rev. M. F. Fallon, Bishop of London, will return to the city next Tuesday, when it is expected special funeral services for Pope Pius X. will be arranged. Announcement of such services will be made in the Catholic churches Sunday.

TRADITION MAY BE DEPARTED FROM IN CHOOSING OF POPE

Expense of Having Cardinals Housed in Vatican Reason of Proposed Change.

WOULD REQUEST TRUCE

Movement On Foot To Ask Cessation of War During Pope's Election.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Aug. 21.—It is asserted that the cardinals have discussed the advisability of holding the conclave for the election of a successor to Pius X. without shutting themselves within the Vatican throughout their deliberations, as has been the traditional practice. Heretofore each cardinal has had an apartment in the palace, with accommodations also for his secretary and servants, and on the occasion of the last conclave the three days' session of the Sacred College entailed an expense of $120,000.

It has been suggested that the cardinals meet at the Vatican twice daily for a ballot until a choice has been made, and as the close of each session return to their homes, or wherever they may be stopping. These sittings would, of course, be under the seal of absolute secrecy, while permitting great freedom on the part of the members of the college.

Would Have a Truce.

Among the so-called political cardinals, headed by Cardinal Agliardi, a movement is under way to have the Sacred College of Cardinals address the emperors, kings and president of the countries engaged in war, asking them to declare a truce while the new pontiff is being elected. This plan, as well as the proposition to attempt mediation, provides for the assistance of the United States, as the greatest neutral power.

The Pope's Will.

Rome, Aug. 20.—11:25 p.m., via Paris, Aug. 21, 8:20 a.m.—Nothing is officially known about the late Pope's testament, but the Giornale d'Italia says it is drawn in humble, pious language. It recommends his successor to grant his sisters a pension of $60 monthly each, but does not mention his niece, Gilda Parolin. It also expresses the desire that a pension of $12 monthly be granted to his valet.

Asks Modest Funeral.

The newspaper adds that the late pontiff asks that his secretaries, Monsignor Giovanni Bressan and Monsignor Giuseppe Pescini, be promoted to canonries.

The will contains a recommendation that the burial be a modest one in the crypt of St. Peter's, and it concludes by invoking God's forgiveness for the sins which the testator may have committed, especially as pontiff.

Officials Retire.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Aug. 21.—Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state, today delivered into the hands of Cardinal Della Volpe the whole machinery of the Catholic Church, giving him at the same time a report of all business.

With Cardinal Merry Del Val retire all the other high officials and heads of department at the Holy See, whom the next Pope may reappoint if he so desires.

Schism Is Feared.

The greatest efforts are being made by the cardinals here to prevent the conclave presenting a spectacle of schism among the foreign cardinals, on account of the conflict now waging throughout Europe. If such a breach should occur, it is expected the foreign cardinals will form groups as follows:

The seven from France, five from Spain, two each from England and Portugal and one each from Ireland, Belgium and Canada form a total of nineteen; the two Germans and six Austro-Hungarians make up another group of eight; the neutral group, is composed of the three Americans and one each from Brazil and Holland forming a total of five; separately stands the bulk of the Italian cardinals, numbering 33.

Italian Choice Sure.

The whole Sacred College numbers 65 cardinals, so that the next pope needs 42 votes to be elected. The Italians alone, or with the five neutrals, are therefore insufficient, while any attempt to join either the German or Anglo-French group would cause other splits. Thus is appears certain the choice will fall on an Italian.

Cardinal Della Volpe has received telegrams of condolence on the death of Pope Pius from sovereigns and heads of state throughout the world.

Rome in Mourning.

Rome today is in deep mourning. Stores remain shut and the churches are crowded with the faithful at prayer. The city flags are at half mast, and the municipality has expressed the condolence of the population to the Vatican authorities. The municipal council has been convoked and will decide upon some befitting way to commemorate the memory of Pius X. The Quirinal is especially interested in the election of a new pope, particularly as Pius X. had been more friendly disposed to the new order of things in Italy than any other pope since the fall of the temporal power.

War Depressed Him.

Rome, Aug. 21.—The Corriere d'Italia today publishes an interview with Dr. Marchiafava concerning the illness and death of the Pope.

The doctor says, among other things, that during the last week of his life the Pope suffered keenly because of the war which is ravaging Europe. Dr. Marchiafava endeavored to encourage his patient, but of no avail. Every time he was informed of further armed encounters the Pontiff became sadder. The news hurt him physically, and depressed him mentally.

ROUGH-RIDERS ARE ACCEPTED BY FRANCE

Anglo-American Corps Members Will Act as Scouts and Interpreters.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Aug. 21.—The ministry of war has definitely accepted the services of the Anglo-American rough riders corps formed in Paris. The men will act as scouts and interpreters, for which latter service they are particularly well qualified, as most of them speak four and some even seven languages, it is announced.

All have seen active service and are expert horsemen. They will provide their own uniforms and mounts, but a fund for their maintenance in the field has been raised publicly. Five automobiles have been given the corps. One of the machines is fully fitted as a hospital, and will carry surgeons and nurses.

"I Bless Peace," Was Pope's Reply

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Aug. 21.—The Tribuna states that the Austrian ambassador to Italy, K. Merey de Kapos-Mere, before his resignation because of ill-health, asked the late Pope Pius X. to bless Austria-Hungary and the Austrian armies. The Pontiff replied: "I bless peace."

MANY LONDONERS REPORTED SAFE

Majority of Those in Europe Have Been Accounted For.

Of the thirty or so Londoners known to be in Europe at the present time, the majority have been reported safe. Several have returned to London, including Sir George Gibbons, Harry Struthers, E. R. Runians, and W. E. Wismer and family.

Nine schoolteachers of the city are in London, and are not sure when they can return home. They are the Misses Agnes Burwell, 195 Sherwood avenue, Myrtle Justin, 46 Askin street; Edith Whittaker, 66 Stanley street; M. Nelles, Rose Brown, 133 Kent street; Anita Strongman, 566 Colborne street, and the Misses Stuart and McNaughton, 650 King street.

Miss Gertrude Buttrey, 302 Wolfe street, is another teacher in England at present, though she is not travelling with the teachers.

Miss Mildred Belton, a sister of Mrs. Ed. Shuttleworth, 322 Princess avenue, is also with the London teachers.

Bishop's Son In Belgium.

Thomas Williams, son of Bishop Williams, is probably with the British army in Belgium at the present time. He was to have sailed for Canada on July 29 with the Royal Canadian Engineers, but as war loomed up, the engineers were held in England, and a letter received by Bishop Williams last Friday, intimated that his son would be in Belgium by the time the letter reached London.

A friend of Miss Norah Little, 279 Hyman street, received a card from her recently stating that with her two brothers, she was lucky enough to leave France on the last steamer for England before war was declared.

No word has been received from Jack Labatt, 577 Queen's avenue. Mr. Labatt arrived in England over two weeks ago on the Gegantic, but has not been heard from as yet.

Whereabouts Unknown.

The whereabouts of Principal Waller, his wife and daughter are not known. Mr. and Mrs. Jerdon, 180 St. George street, are with them.

Fred Kilmaster, organist of St. Paul's Cathedral, is safe in London, Eng. It is not known if his sister, Miss Jean Kilmaster, of Toronto, is with him. When last heard from she was in Dresden.

Mrs. Grant Harris and son Ronald, of 265 Grosvenor street, will sail for home on September 3 on the Ionian.

No more word has been received from Miss Florence Egglestone and Miss Ethel Weldon, who are supposed to be in Germany.

PLEADS THAT PARENTS WILL NOT BE TOLD

Young Girl Wants People To Be Kept in Ignorance of Plight.

When a girl told her story in a cleared police court this morning she pleaded with Magistrate Judd not to tell the folks at home. "They told me never to come to them, or ever let them hear of me if I got into trouble," she cried.

Now that she has been arrested for being a vagrant, which is only a cloak to hide a more serious charge, she does not want her people, who live in a small town west of London, to be told.

In the meantime, the man in the case, who has immediately forgotten about his responsibility now that she is in the cold lime-light, will be arrested and, if it is within the power of the law, he will get a severe punishment, Magistrate Judd declares.

Crying nervously, before the gaze of policemen, special officers and court officials, all men, she said she had lived respectably in London for the last six months.

"The officer that arrested me said I had been running aroung with all sorts of men, but I haven't," she said.

So that the family honor will be untarnished, the parents are keeping back in the shadow.

"It doesn't matter what happens to you, so long as the folks at home are not shocked. Is that it?" asked the magistrate.

She admitted that this was right.

"I wouldn't have left home, but they told me to get out. London was the only place I knew. I worked here for quite a while."

Her case will be investigated to the full. The social service commission will be given a chance to look after the girl and the man will be arrested and made to answer, if possible. She is 20 years old, she said.

SOME NUISANCE

Charles Baldsden, a young man aged about 23, has captured the diploma which probably goes with the record character for being a nuisance.

"He's such a nuisance and he makes himself so obnoxious," the young man's father declared in police court this morning, "that my landlord who lives near me, has threatened to put me out of the house."

Balsden was in court charged with trespassing, but Magistrate Judd learned by the cross-questioning method the facts about Balsden. He promised to go to Woodstock, and work. He was discharged.

JAPAN IS QUIETLY MAKING ALL READY

No Publication of News Regarding Army or Navy Allowed.

KIAO-CHOW FORMIDABLE

Press Astonished at Attitude of Some American Papers On Ultimatum.

[Canadian Press.]

Tokio, Aug. 21.—Japan is quietly preparing for eventualities, following the expiration next Sunday of her ultimatum to Germany, demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiao-Chow.

The strictest prohibition has been placed on the publication of any information concerning the movements of Japanese ships and troops. All correspondence is censored, and the newspapers are closely watched.

The activities at the German embassy, where personal effects are being packed for shipment, are the only indication of what the answer of Germany will be.

Courtesy to Germans.

Meanwhile, notwithstanding the most sensational reports of the treatment of Japanese in Germany, there is no evidence of anti-German feeling here. On the contrary, the authorities have given notice that all Germans remaining in Japan must be treated courteously. German professors are expected to remain at their posts unless they are needed for service at home.

The war and navy departments are preparing for a move on Kiao-Chow, where, contrary to current reports, the fortifications are really formidable. Since the outbreak of the European war, thousands of Chinese coolies have been employed in strengthening these defences. It is believed that the taking of Kiao-Chow will not be an easy task.

Press Surprised.

The Japanese newspapers and leading Japanese express surprise at the tone of the American press that attributes sinister motives to Japan in sending an ultimatum to Germany. They state that this action was taken only after weeks of conversations with Great Britain, and was at the request of and with the approval of Japan's ally.

Premier Okuma and Foreign Minister Kato have made repeated and categorical denials that Japan has designs on Samao and the Philippines, or any other territory.

Baron Eiichi Shibusawa, president of the American Japanese Association, and Buei Nakano, vice-president of the same organization and president of the Tokio Chamber of Commerce, are heading a movement intended to reassure China of Japan's pacificatory intentions. M. Nakano will leave for China soon, it is announced.

TO REOPEN CHURCH

Special Services On Sunday at Newly Decorated St. James' Church.

St. James' Church, South London, which has been closed for some weeks, undergoing improvements, is to be opened on Sunday. The Ladies' Guild has had it all tinted in pleasing shades. It has also presented the church with a handsome morocco-covered Bible for the lectern; also a handsome brass book-rest for the communion table, in memory of the late Miss Ada Pope, who at the time of death was vice-president of the society.

Special music is to be provided at the opening service. Miss Elsie Green is to sing at the morning service, and Miss McDougal at the evening service. It is expected that the Rev. Llewellyn Davis, rector of St. Paul's Church, Brockville, will preach.

CHURCH FLOURISHING

Chelsea Green Presbyterians Report Doubled Revenue.

That Chelsea Green Presbyterian Church is in a flourishing condition was emphasized at a meeting held last night in the church. The church revenue has doubled in the past year.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to J. D. McCrae, of Queen's College, who is filling the pulpit during the summer. Mr. McCrae is a son of Rev. Dr. McCrae, of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church.

The pastor of the church, Rev. J. E. Nichol, leaves on an extended vacation in a few days.

The Ladies' Aid Society served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

At a social gathering in the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church last night a patriotic program was given. The children sang "O Canada" and the "Maple Leaf Forever," and the whole audience joined most impressively in the National Anthem. G. Wheable gave an instructive address on the map of Europe. Dr. McCrae gave an address on the war.

Canada had shown a splendid spirit in arranging to give every help and comfort possible to our men who go to the front, he said. Abundant provision was also being made for the care of the families and dependents of those who had volunteered.

"We must not forget, however, the workers at home," said Dr. McCrae. "Mothers and little children of the men who had little or no work are likely to be the greatest sufferers during this terrible war."

He was glad to see that the manufacturers of Canada were going to provide all the work possible for their employees. Governments, municipal corporations, and all other employers of labor must go to the utmost to help things moving and provide plenty of work for the workers during the coming fall and winter. There are ways and means of doing this, and these must be found. There must be no panicky feeling. No country in the world is in better shape than Canada to meet adequately such an emergency. After the address Mr. Light sang "The Veteran's Song" with great acceptance.

The proceeds of the social were to help the Ladies' Bazaar in aid of the debt fund of the church.

RECRUIT WAS ON SHIP CHASED BY GERMANS

Former Member of Seventh Who Came From Baltimore Had Thrilling Experience.

Chased, aboard ship, by a German cruiser, traversing many hundred miles of country to get to this city, a. only two of the adventures of John Parish, of Baltimore, and formerly of this city, and all to be with a regiment when it went to the front.

Mr. Parish was a resident of London three years ago. At that time he was enlisted in the Seventh Regiment. On leaving London he went to New York and shipped aboard a vessel for England as a member of its crew. Since that time he has been working on different ocean liners. His last service was on the Castlemoor.

It was while this vessel was running from Philadelphia to Baltimore that it was chased by a German cruiser. The foreign battleship was lurking in the gloom off the American coast. The first intimation the Castlemoore had of her presence was when a white glare from a searchlight fell on her decks. The light hovered there for several minutes. When it was not raised the Castlemoore tooted her siren to ask what the act of impertinence meant. There was no answer, but instead the strange, low vessel began to move towards them at high speed.

The race after that was nip and tuck, until another cruiser took a hand in the game. It was found afterwards to be a French vessel, and it rapidly put the German to flight.

Mr. Pariss landed at Baltimore and came here at once. He is anxious to get away with the Seventh Regiment's first contingent.

TRY TO MURDER QUEBEC FARMER

Charge Against Wife and Stepdaughter — Injured Man Says They Used Axe On Him.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—Felix MacAlinden, a well-known farmer of Polimore, Lebele County, Quebec, is lying at death's door, and his wife and 15-year-old stepdaughter, Lily McMillen, are in Hull jail awaiting their trial on a charge of attempted murder, as the result of a family quarrel which occurred at the MacAlinden home on Sunday last.

MacAlinden has twelve large cuts on his body and arms, which he alleges were inflicted by an axe in the hands of his stepdaughter, while his wife held him on the floor. The physicians in attendance hold out but faint hopes for his recovery. The accused were arrested last night and brought to Hull today.

WHY NO GIFTS ARE MADE TO SOLDIERS

Letter Sent to the Militia Department Has Not Been Answered.

That the soldiers who go away from London will receive no gift reminder from the city as an appreciation of their loyalty is due to the suddenness with which they are being ordered away.

It was the original intention of the city council to give the officers gold and silver wrist watches, belts and swords, while knives, pipes and tobacco were considered for the men. An official approval of these gifts was sought in Ottawa where Mayor Graham asked by letter for a list of things which the soldiers needed and which the city might donate. To this letter no reply was received and as some of the local boys have already been sent out of the city, officials believe they would be serving all interests best by taking care of those relatives the soldiers left behind.

"It is possible," Mayor Graham said today, "that we can render the soldiers a greater service while they are at the front or when they return. It is unfortunate that we couldn't give them a sendoff with suitable gifts, but we will do something for them before the war is over."

BELGIAN CAPITAL NOW IN HANDS OF THE GERMANS

Belgian Army Retiring On Antwerp Without An Engagement---Brilliant Success In Alsace But Less Fortunate In Loraine.

[Canadian Press.]

PARIS, Aug. 20.—11 p.m.—The German cavalry have occupied Brussels. This official announcement was made tonight. Strong columns are following up this movement. The Belgian army is retiring on Antwerp, without having been engaged by the Germans.

Along with the announcement of the fall of Brussels, the official statement says:

"Our troops have met with brilliant success in Alsac, especially between Muelhausen and Altkirch. The Germans retreating on the Rhine left in our hands twenty-four guns, six of which were captured after a sharp struggle by our infantry.

"In Lorraine the day was less fortunate for us. Our advanced troops found themselves faced by exceptionally strong positions. They were forced by a counter attack to fall back in a body, which is solidly established on the Seille and along the canal from the Marne to the Rhine."

A PREARRANGED PLAN.

"In conformity with a prearranged plan, the Belgian field army retreated on the entrenched camp of Antwerp, after brilliantly fulfilling their duty as dictated by the strategical situation and delaying for a fortnight the German passage of the Meuse.

"Antwerp has a double role. It is a formidable entrenched camp, fortified on most modern lines, and is the base from which the Belgian army can threaten the German flanks and co-operate effectively with the allies.

ANTWERP DEFENCES.

"The Antwerp defences consist of three fortifications, whose power of resistance can be heightened by flooding a large area around all the works. Antwerp is fully equipped with the most perfect appliances. To besiege the fortress, the Germans would have to detach imposing forces and a large siege train. This they are not likely to do. If they don't, they will be obliged to cover themselves against the operations of the Belgian army, which is intact, thanks to the skillful retreat, and augmented by the Antwerp garrison.

LIEGE FORTS HOLD OUT.

"It is to be added that the Liege forts still hold out. Those at Namur have not yet been attacked. They are as strong as the forts at Liege and have been considerably strenghtened in the past two weeks.

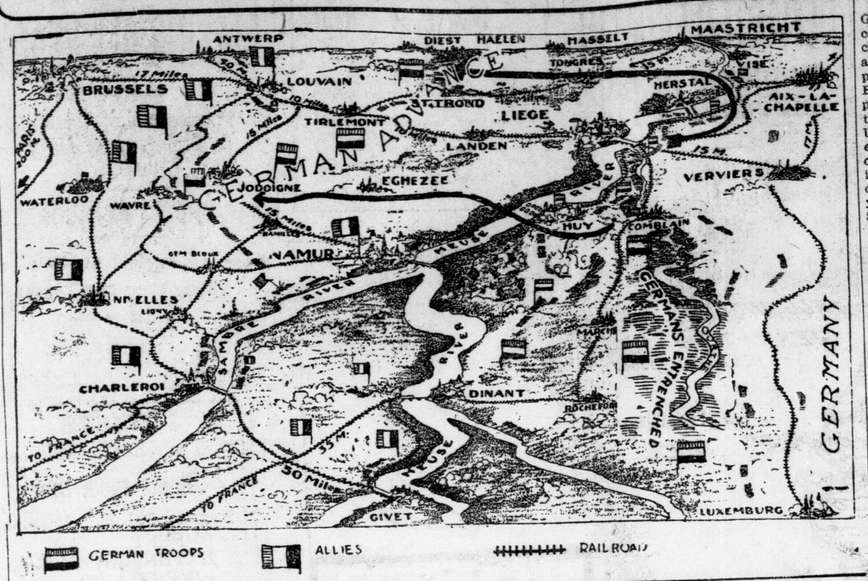

"From this it would seem that the advancing German armies are caught between the positions of Namur and Antwerp, a distance from each other of only 35 miles, as the crow flies. The German situation is, then, a difficult one, since they lack the chief postulate of a plan of march through Belgium, namely, free passage of the Meuse, a route by Liege and Namur, and inaction on the part of the Belgian army."

HOBOKEN HARD HIT.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 21.—No other section of the New York harbor district, according to shipping men, has been so hard hit by the war as Hoboken, N. J., across the North River from this city, where eleven steamships of the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American Lines are tied up at their piers. A large part of the population of Hoboken depend upon the shipping for a livelihood.

IN THE THICK OF THE FIGHT

SPEEDY WORK IS DONE IN PREPARATION OF CAMP

[Canadian Press.]

QUEBEC, Aug. 20.—The arrival of Col. Victor Williams, adjutant general, to take over the mobilization camp, the connecting of the water service with the main camp, and the preparations for the arrival of between 4,000 and 5,000 troops tomorrow, these were the chief features of the situation at Val Cartier today.

All day tomorrow from dawn till after dark, the troop trains will pour their passengers into the little station in the cup of the Laurentian mountains, which has within the short space of a fortnight been transformed from the drowsiness habitual to it heretofore, into a scene of continuous activity. Where one saw before a few farmers' rigs, there is now an incessant stream of khaki-clad men jostling each other as they come and go earnestly intent upon their business.

Not of Importance Says Belgian Embassy.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. — An official explanation of the Belgian field army's backward movement towards Antwerp was given tonight in the following cable from London, made public by the British embassy:

"The Belgian field army being based on Antwerp has fallen back in that direction in order to cover its communication with that fortress. In anticipation that this might become necessary, the seat of government had already been transferred from Brussels to Antwerp. As Brussels is an undefended city, and no longer the seat of government, the fact that the Germans may have occupied it is not of great importance. Moreover, the present position of the Belgian field army is a menace to the right flank of any further German advance westward."

FIFTY MILLIONS IN ONE MINUTE FOR WAR FUND

Parliament Votes Appropriation Without Dissent or Demonstration.

WHITE STATES POSITION

Points Out That Forty-Three Millions More Revenue Will Be Needed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 20. — A war appropriation of $50,000,000 was voted in one minute, without dissent or demonstration, by Parliament today.

It was anounced that the term of the Duke of Connaught as governor-general had been extended during the continuation of the war.

Finance Minister White delivered the budget speech in half an hour. He announced tariff increases on sugar, canned fruits, cocoa, liquor, tobacco, and subsidiary articles. Forty items in the customs tariff are affected. The changes are expected to add $1,000,000 a month to the revenue.

A statement of Canada's financial position was given Parliament. It shows that the revenue will be $35,000,000 less than last year, and the expenditure $60,000,000 greater. It also shows that the Government will have to raise $43,000,000 in some other way than through the customs or customary means of gathering Government funds. How this will be done was not stated.

Sought to Avoid Tax.

These were the most striking features of the third day of Parliament's war session. There were other matters of interest. One was that "certain brewers, distillers and liquor dealers" had sought to avoid the war tax by taking large stocks of beer and liquors out of bond. Their foresight has been vain, for the Government has made the excise and customs increases on alcohol date back to August 7, when the raid on bonded warehouses began.

A. K. MacLean, from the Liberal side, suggested that with conditions what they are in Canada, the Government might have realized more revenue and made conditions of life easier by lowering duties on articles of food, instead of increasing them.

Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, approved of increases on tobacco and liquor, but thought that an income tax would have been a better agency for revenue than increased sugar duties.

Galleries Crowded.

Again the galleries were crowded. Among the most attentive listeners to the budget were representatives of the sugar refineries, the distillers, the brewers and tobacco manufacturers, who forsaw that their products were likely to be dealt with and were anxious for to know the worst early.

Announcement by the Finance Minister that the moratorium is most unlikely to be applied in Canada was greeted with cheers. While the Government is taking power to declare a moratorium it will be used only as a last resort, and its application is not expected.

Revenue Had Declined.

Hon. Mr. White opened with a statement of the new financial situation confronting Canada as a result of the war. Economic conditions before the war, he said, had caused a marked decline in revenue. During the first four months of the present fiscal year, April, May, June and July, there had been a decline compared with the same four months of the previous year, of over ten million dollars. Improvement, however, had been noted toward the end of July, but the outlook had been wholly changed by the war.

Revenue Expected.

Before the war, Mr. White continued, Canada had calculated upon a revenue of $145,000,000 and an expenditure of about $175,000,000, of which $135,000,000 would have been upon consolidated fund account and $40,000,000 upon capital, special and investment accounts. In June last, a loan of £5,000,000 was floated, and that with a projected floatation another £3,000,000 next fall, was expected to suffice for requirements until the end of the fiscal year, including the retirement of £1,700,000 treasury bills maturing next November. "Our present cash position is normal," added the minister, "our bank balances, both in Canada and in London, having been well maintained."

Since the outbreak of the war, the Government tariff experts have been considering the situation. A sharp decline in customs revenue was inevitable. Trade was crippled and the temporary cessation of borrowings in Britain would diminish capital and express itself in diminution of imports. On the other hand, imports through the United States would be increased and enhanced prices for grain, food and other products would give greater buying power. It was estimated, under the circumstances, that the revenue for the year should reach from $130,000,000 to $135,000,000.

Forty-Three Millions More Needed.

This left to be otherwise provided for, capital, special and investment expenditure, totalling probably $30,000,000, together with such special expenditure as may be made for the common defence of Canada and the empire. Assuming a capital and special war expenditure of approximately $60,000,000, further provision must be made for $8,500,000 for the retirement of treasury bills in November, making a total of $68,500,000 to be met by proceeds of borrowing or special taxation. Already $25,000,000 had been borrowed by the issue of June. This left a balance of $43,500,000 which Parliament must now devise ways and means to meet.

FRENCH AVIATOR WAS FAR INTO GERMANY

Aeroplane Riddled by Ninety-Seven Bullets and Two Shells.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, August 20—11.40 p.m.—Adolphe Pegoud, the noted French aviator, has returned to Paris from the war zone to get a new aeroplane. According to a Paris dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph, the wings of Pegoud's old machine were riddled by 97 bullets and two shells when he made a flight with a military observer 300 kilometres (186 miles) into German territory.

Pegoud could not say just where he had been, except that he recrossed the Rhine and blew up by means of bombs two German convoys.

Captain Finck, a military aviator, Pegoud said, had destroyed a hangar near Metz and wrecked a Zeppelin, and also destroyed three tube aeroplanes which were in the hangar.

YOU'RE BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED! LIVER IS SLUGGISH--DIME A BOX

NO COMMANDER OF CANADIAN FORCES

Volunteers Will Be Absorbed Into British Army and Fight With the Regulars.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—It is understood that there is to be no commander of the Canadian expeditionary force, but that the regiments which are now being assembled at Val Cartier will be absorbed into the British army.

The regiments are all brigaded with British regiments, and it is reported that the executive of the army council has come to the conclusion that the most effective work can be done by associating the British line regiments and the overseas regiments in the campaign.

While there has not yet been a final decision and disposition of the Canadian force it is being most seriously considered.

GERMAN TROOPS WERE IN BELGIUM BEFORE THE WAR

Confession of Officers and Men to American Physicians — No Resistance Expected.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Aug. 20. — 3 p.m. — Dr. W. H. Aurand, of Minneapolis, and Dr. Robert Rizer, of Chicago, accompanied by their wives and children, have arrived in London after over a fortnight's experiences in the theatre of war, and particularly between Liege and Aix la Chapelle. The adventures of these two American physicians included even three days' work in a hospital at Verviers, Belgium, where German wounded were being brought.

Drs. Aurand and Rizer were just in advance of the German army on their way from Welkenraedt to Verviers. They noted soldiers on the road in solid columns. At Aix la Chapelle they saw troops marching day and night for three days. They estimate the Germans at 1,500,000 men, all with brand new equipment. They noticed that the soldiers in the hospital at Verviers wore new underclothes. The privates suffered greatly from their new shoes; their feet were swollen and blistered. The Americans treated many cases in the hospital at Verviers, which was located in a building which had previously been used as a Catholic college. They saw thousands of German cannon labelled "Nach Paris."

The German soldiers were kindly to the American travelers, even fetching water for the women and buying milk for the children.

Not Kind to English.

The German authorities, however, refused to allow twenty English people to leave Verviers. This English party included several persons of wealth and some members of the nobility. They suffered greatly from want.

The German soldiers encountered by the American doctors, both officers and men, spoke to them freely. They said they intended a peaceable entry into Belgium and that they were paying for all the supplies used. They declared German troops had been manouvering in Belgium for a period of two weeks prior to the outbreak of hostilities. The German attitude was that their troops must make use of Belgium. They did not intend to disturb the people, but they would engage in sharp reprisals if attacked.

Thought Holland at War.

The curious belief that Great Britain and Holland were at war caused a German commander to advise the Americans to avoid Holland. The same belief was prevalent at Aix la Chapelle.

Frederick Bruchholz, who left Aix la Chapelle one day in advance of the others, drove to the Dutch frontier near Maestricht. Here he witnessed a most pitiable sight. Some civilians had fired on the invaders. In return three villages were in flames and the women were fleeing to the Holland side of the line clad in their night clothes and with crying children at their heels.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Vanish

[Helps to Beauty.]

A safe, reliable home treatment for the quick removal of superfluous hairs from your face or neck is as follows: Mix a stiff paste with some water and powdered delatone, apply to objectionable hairs and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This simple treatment is unfailing and no pain or inconvenience attends its use, but to avoid disappointment be certain you get genuine delatone.—advt.

RUSSIANS CLAIM VARIOUS SUCCESSES

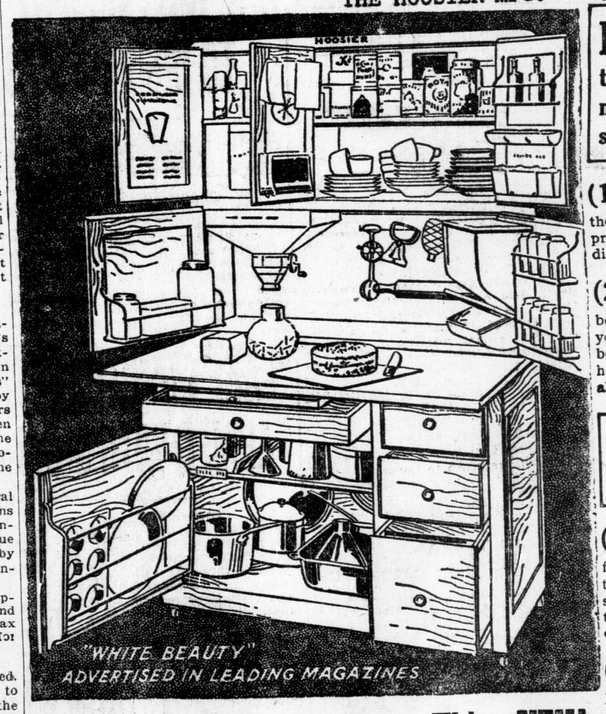

LONDON, August 20.—10:25 p.m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from St. Petersburg gives a communication issued by the Russian general staff covering the operations of the army from August 15 to August 19, in which successes are claimed for the Russian armies in skirmishes on both the Austrian and German frontiers.

"Austrian cavalry which entered Russian Poland at Kielce, Rijbniza and other points," says the communication, "were driven back with great casualties, while Austrian infantry which attacked Klasnik was defeated and lost heavily. The Russians took 250 prisoners. On the Prussian border the Russians took the offensive near Windballen, captured Lyck and took eight German guns and two quick-firers."

THIS IS THE FIRST AUTHORIZED MID-SUMMER HOOSIER CABINET SALE ON THE HOOSIER $1 PLAN

This mid-summer sale is authorized for the first time, because so many Hoosier agents were unable to get Hoosiers for their spring sales, and many more could not get their full allotment. But even now, only a limited number of Hoosier Cabinets can be turned out of our new factory building in time for mid-summer delivery—an average to each sale of less than twenty. So only you who enroll early can count on delivery during the hot months, when you need your Hoosier most.

THE HOOSIER MFG. CO., New Castle, Ind.

Read about these conveniences that made the HOOSIER necessary to over 700,000 women.

(1) Mrs. Christine Frederick's famous "Housekeepers' Food Guide"—on the upper left door—answers the eternal problem: "What shall we have for dinner?"

(2) The Cook-book Holder on the middle upper door holds your cook book securely when not in use. When you are cooking, simply open up the book to the proper page behind the holder. It is on a level with your eye always clean, never in the way.

There are 40 special conveniences in the NEW HOOSIER—17 are entirely NEW.

(3) The Hoosier Metal Flour Bin holds fifty pounds. It is low and easy to fill. The sliding glass front enables you to clean the entire bin easily. The inside is entirely of metal, with no corners to hold flour. First flour in is always out first.

(4) The New Shaker Flour Sifter is the most wonderful of all the new Hoosier inventions. It is the only flour sifter ever made on a kitchen cabinet that shakes flour through instead of grinding it through. It cannot wear out and can not grind through any grit or foreign substance that might be in the flour.

OUR WINDOW DISPLAY is the talk of the town—come and see it.

(5) A new feature in the Base Cupboard is a narrow shelf conveniently located for the storage of canned articles. Most women will find this a great convenience as an "emergency shelf." It will save many trips to the cellar or pantry.

TOMORROW YOU may examine all the new features. You incur no obligation. But you should come early. You may be too late to get one on the HOOSIER PLAN if you delay. Come and SEE this remarkable NEW Hoosier tomorrow.

Tomorrow, Only $1 Puts This NEW HOOSIER In Your Home--Don't Wait

The mid-summer sale terms are:

1. You may choose any of the new Hoosiers—"White Beauty" or "Oak Interior" at slightly less price.
2. $1 puts your Hoosier in your home at once.
3. $1 weekly quickly pays for it.
4. The low cash price fixed by the factory prevails strictly.
5. No interest—no extra fees.
6. This sale is under direct supervision of the Hoosier Company.
7. Sale is strictly limited to our small summer allotment of new Hoosiers.
8. Your money back if you are not delighted with your Hoosier.

This is your opportunity—if you act quickly—to own this wonderful Hoosier on the most liberal terms ever offered. You may search the whole world and find nothing that will save you so much labor in your kitchen as this new Hoosier.

White Beauty is a wonder of convenience, it combines three roomy cupboards, a large work table and package pantry in one spot so you can sit down at work and save miles of steps.

You have places before you for 400 articles, all at your fingers' ends. You save most of the weary hours other women spend in their kitchens.

This new Hoosier on these terms is the greatest kitchen cabinet bargain you have ever seen. The few we have will be sold in no time at all. Only those women who grasp this opportunity tomorrow can be sure of getting one of these cabinets on the liberal Hoosier plan.

NEARLY DROWNED AT PORT STANLEY

PORT STANLEY, Aug. 20. — Miss Marjorie Arnup, of Port Stanley, had a narrow escape from drowning when, as she was in bathing, she got beyond her depth.

When rescued by H. Cowly, of Port Stanley, she was completely exhausted. She was taken to Mr. J. Howe's, where Mr. J. W. Parkinson, the manager, superintended the work of resuscitation. He is a St. John's Ambulance Corps' man.

The lack of sidewalk accommodation in some sections has been brought very forcibly to many visitors since the recent heavy rains.

Need More Walks.

On rainy days the cottagers at Orchard Beach are almost prisoners. There are three ways of getting to the village—away around the back by the muddy roads, around in front on the beach and be splashed with water and clay, or by the board walk short-cut over the hill.

Half of it is torn up leaving bare clay spots, on which many people slip. Complaints have been made to the councillors, but as yet no move has been made to remedy the trouble.

Mrs. A. Smith, Miss Kathleen Smith, and Master Arvida Smith, all of London, are spending a few weeks at Fort Long, Port Stanley.

Others guests at Fort Long are: Mrs. Wm. Louch and daughter Irene; Mrs. of St. Marys; the Misses Irene and Edith Foster, of London, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Faber, of St. Thomas.

Mrs. W. Hambly and daughter Dorothy, of London, are spending the remainder of the season at Fort Long.

Mrs. A. Beattie and Miss M. F. Beattie, of Ingersoll, are summering at Happy Days cottage, William st., Port Stanley.

Guests at Spruce Villa with Mrs. Mothersill are: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wardle, of Detroit, and Miss Marjorie Wardle; Miss G. and Mrs. Frank Ware, of London, and Mr. and Mrs. James McDougall, of London.

Miss Alison Boughner, of London, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Tanton, Illahee Cottage, Orchard Beach. A most enjoyable marshmallow and corn roast was held in her honor yesterday, at which most of the little girls of Orchard Beach enjoyed themselves.

A Delightful Picnic.

The youths and maidens of Orchard Beach held a delightful picnic yesterday at the cliffs. After paddling down they enjoyed themselves for a time, after which they went to J. H. Chapman's farm, where Lloyd Chapman was the host.

Miss Kate Eastman, of the Manse, has left to spend a couple of weeks at Bayfield.

Miss Isabel Armstrong, of the Regina Leader, after a few days spent with Rev. S. N. and Mrs. Eastman, at the Manse, has returned to London to spend the remainder of her vacation with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Cromwell and son Kenneth, of St. Thomas, are spending a week with C. A. and Mr. Cromwell.

The Port Stanley Telephone Company has appealed to the Canadian Railway Commission to compel the Fingal line to connect with their line.

Alfred Bobier, of Port Talbot, visited C. A. Cromwell yesterday.

Mrs. Charles Singer, of St. Thomas, visited Mrs. J. W. Clark yesterday.

Jessie Rigglesworth, of Norwich, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. G. Dennis.

Today car ferry No. 16 from Lake Michigan was put on the route with Bessimer No. 2, to aid in rushing the coal more swiftly before an embargo is placed on it by the United States. Large train loads of coal are being carried over the newly-laid rails, which was practically impossible before.

WAR IN FAR EAST---MAP SHOWING RICH GERMAN POSSESSIONS

If the Japs go to war against Germany the first blow probably will be struck at Kiao Chow, the rich possession of Germany in China. Japan controls many strategic points, including Formosa, and is prepared to strike quick. Germany possesses all the mid-Pacific territory shown in black in inset map, in addition to two of the larger Samoan Islands and one of the Guam group.

FRANCE PROTESTS GERMAN CRUELTIES

Claims Articles of Hague Convention Are Violated.

CRIMINAL ACTS UNKNOWN

Wounded Fired On, Villagers Massacred and Their Homes Burned.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, August 21.—3:40 a.m.—Telegraphing from Paris, Reuter's correspondents sends this:

"The French Government is addressing a note to the powers signatory to the Hague convention of October, 1907, pointing out that the German military authorities have violated the articles of the convention in that, on the 10th or 11th inst, this year, according to a communication from the general in command of the eastern forces, German troops dispatched a number of wounded by firing shots in their faces, and that the hands of other injured people were deliberately made worse by being torn open.

The despondent adds that the note will say further:

Villages Fired.

"'Also that same date, Bavarian troops in the Montigny and Montfoot soldiers systematically fired villages which they passed, without the slightest provocation, and villagers were forced to precede the German scouts in the march.

"'On August 1, German troops burned villages, murdered their inhabitants and drove before them women and children to the Belgian frontier; on other occasions they ordered prisoners and shot the wounded.

"'The French government will leave to the earnest consideration of the powers such revolting and criminal deeds that have never before so dishonored civilized belligerents!'"

DESPERATE BATTLE BECAME BUTCHERY

Both Sides Desperate, Aerschot Engagement

EACH LOST VERY HEAVILY

Two Belgian Regiments Held Invaders for Two Hours.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON Aug. 20.—A dispatch to Reuter's News Agency from Ghent, Belgium, says: "Yesterday's fighting at Aerschot was extremely hot. The appearance of two German aviators was the first intimation that the Germans, who had been repulsed on the previous evening, intended to renew the attack.

"Flying low, the German aviators surveyed the position, and then returned to report.

"Soon afterwards the German infantry, supported by machine guns and artillery, opened a fierce attack.

"The Belgians were outnumbered, but put up a desperate resistance.

"The troops on both sides fought like demons. The battle soon became a veritable butchery.

Held Invaders Two Hours.

"Two Belgian regiments, which already had distinguished themselves in the forts of Liege, held the invaders in check for two hours.

"Both sides were losing heavily when the retreat was sounded.

"Major Gilson, whose nose had been broken by a bullet took charge of the Belgian rear guard, which fought so stubbornly that only seven out of his force of 288 men returned.

WITHDRAWALS BRING UP CUSTOMS RECEIPTS

[Canadian Press.]

LABOR CONGRESS MAKES AN APPEAL FOR THE WORKMAN

Asks That Protection Be Afforded the Unemployed.

MANY MAY LOSE HOMES

Fear Expressed That They Cannot Pay Interest on Mortgages.

[Canadian Press.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—"What about the common people?" is a leading question in an appeal sent by the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress to every member of Parliament, issued tonight. Appeal is made for due consideration to the workers of Canada in whatever legislation will be enacted at the present session of Parliament, whereby they are likely to be affected.

"The maximum of protection is given to the great financial interests," states the open communication, which is addressed to Premier Borden and members of the Dominion Cabinet, and reads further: "You have made legal tender the note circulation of the banks. Legislation is proposed to extend the credit of the banks enormously. You are about to suspend the redemption of Dominion notes for gold.

Mortgages on Homes.

"A great many of the workers never earned enough to obtain a chance to purchase a home. Many, by struggles they themselves could tell best, have purchased homes by a deposit of cash and assumption of mortgages. Their only means of revenue is the selling of their labor power. They pay interest and principal out of the wages they earn. Now big industries are shutting down, adding to the fearful unemployed problem existing. Failure of the workers to be able to sell their labor, means they will be unable to meet the payments on mortgages. The loss of the home is inevitable if the great financial institutions and others take advantage of legal rights.

"Inasmuch as the Government is protecting the great interests to an enormous extent, we desire that the protection of the Government shall also be extended to the common people, whose interests are as dear to them as the interests of great corporations to the shareholders. We ask that you afford that protection now to the common people at this session."

LAMBETH.

LAMBETH, Aug. 19.—Miss Lillie Arthur and Mrs. G. H. Routledge were in Detroit recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Yoe, of Grand Rapids, have been visiting with his sister, Mrs. Peter Earl.

The Misses Freda and Hattie Ryckman, of Delaware, are holidaying with Mrs. D. Ryckman.

The storm was very heavy last night, although no damage was done in the village. Two fires were visible, one at Mr. Skuse's, Brick street, and another at the quarries at Delaware.

LESS MEAT
Advice of Family Physician.

Formerly people thought meat necessary for strength and muscular power.

The man who worked hard was supposed to require meat two or three times a day. Science has found differently.

It is now a common thing for the ablest physician to order less meat, and the following letter from an Eastern man:

"I had suffered for years with dyspepsia and nervousness. My physician advised me to eat less meat and more foods generally. I tried several things to take the place of my usual breakfast of chops, fried potatoes, etc., but got no relief until I tried Grape-Nuts food.

"After using Grape-Nuts for the cereal part of my meals for two years, I am now a well man. Grape-Nuts has benefitted my health far more than the medicine I had taken before.

"My wife and children are healthier than they had been for years, and we are a happy family, largely due to Grape-Nuts.

"We have been so much benefitted by Grape-Nuts that it would be ungrateful not to acknowledge it."

Name given by Canadian Postum Company, Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville," in packages. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

PUBLIC ALLOWED TO SEE THE BODY

All Classes Admitted to Thone Room, Where Pope Lay in State.

MOURNING AT VATICAN

Many Affecting Scenes as Friends and Relatives Visit Remains.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Aug. 20. — The cardinals met at the Vatican this afternoon. All wore violet capes as a sign of mourning. Cardinals Della Volpe and Merry Del Val went to the Pope's apartments to affix seals on the late Pontiff's private papers and belongings. The chamberlain took possession of the fisherman's ring, which was renewed when Pope Leo died, the old fisherman's ring having been lost at that time. Cardinal Della Volpe installed himself in the Vatican, occupying the apartment of the Papal secretary of state, who has removed to the Santa Maria House, behind the Vatican, where Carinal Rampolla lived and died.

The cardinals visited the death chamber, where they viewed the body of the Pope, which lay on a sloping bier, covered with a white cloth, under a rich red canopy. The body was clothed in a white robe and red cape. Red silk gloves covered the hands, on the fingers of which glittered the rings of his office. A miter of cloth of gold adorned his head.

The face of the late pontiff was startlingly waxen. In profile, it was quite recognizable, but sadly changed. All knelt, and after prayer, some of the cardinals handed to the monsignors, standing on each side of the body, their cruicifixes and medals, which the monsignors laid for a moment on the dead fingers. Some, and those privileged, themselves placed the cruicifixes on the hands, and also kissed the feet, clad in red slippers. Not a few of them were overcome with emotion and wept silently, and when they left the chamber it was with the prayer that he would have eternal rest.

From five to seven o'clock this evening the bodly lay in state in the throne room, to which all classes were admitted.

Pope's Will Read.

It is reported that the Pope left nothing to his family, but shortly before his death he arranged for life insurance to the amount of $10,000 in favor of his surviving sisters. Nothing else goes to his family. The will of the Pope was read today in the presence of Cardinal Merry Del Val, but it has not been officially made public.

The death of the pontiff has been the cause of intense grief to the Papal Secretary of State, who today could not refrain from tears, even in the presence of strangers. He said:

"I have lost the one dearest to my heart. He was more than Pontiff, more than master; he was my second father."

Meeting of Cardinals Delayed.

Contrary to custom, the cardinals up to noon had not received an invitation to go to the Vatican for the first meeting after the death of the Pope. The delay was due to the absence from Rome of Cardinal Seraphin Vannutelli, dean of the sacred college, by whom such invitation must be issued. Cardinal Vannutelli was in Naples when he received the message from Cardinal Merry Del Val announcing the grave condition of the Pope. He took the night train for Rome, but shortly after leaving Naples a dynamite bomb exploded in the train, wounding ten of the passengers. The cardinal was not injured, but was obliged to wait for the next train.

Cardinal Martinelli Ill.

Cardinal Sebastin Martinelli, prefect of the congregation of rites, is ill at Genzano. He is suffering from a mental affliction, and it is doubtful whether it would be possible for him to attend the conclave, or, if he does whether he will be allowed to vote. Cardinal Diomede Falconio, former apostolic delegate at Washington, was at Velletri, taking possession of his diocese when he was summoned to Rome. He took a train immediately and on arriving at Rome proceeded straight to the Vatican. He went to the room of the Pontiff and was able to see him before he expired.

Another affecting scene occurred in the death chamber when Mgr. Parolin, the Pope's nephew, reached the chamber, weak and trembling with emotion. He was assisted to the side of the pontiff and kissed his hand and forehead.

The Pope's brother, Angelo Sarto, had not yet left Milan, when he was informed of the Pontiff's death. He burst into tears, exclaiming: "The will of God be done." He then left for Rome with his son-in-law.

Formal Ceremonies.

Formal ceremonies in connection with the death of the Pope occurred at an early hour in the morning on arrival of Cardinal Della Volpe. Part of the ceremonies consisted of official recognition of the Pope's death. Amid deep silence, the chamberlain sprinkled the body with holy water, at the same time thrice calling the Pope by name — Giuseppe Sarto — Then, turning to those who knelt by the bedside, he announced solemnly: "The Pope is really dead."

At 4 o'clock in the morning the celebration of masses began in the death chamber, for the repose of the soul of Pope Pius X.

Montreal Bells Tolled.

MONTREAL, Aug. 20. — Solemnly tolling, the bells of the Catholic churches of the Montreal Diocese at noon today voiced the people's sorrow at the news of the Pope's death.

Archbishop Bruchesi issued the following statement:

"The unexpected death of Pius X. is the saddest trial that could have fallen the church at present. I have no doubt that the terrible war, which has set all the nations of Europe in arms, against each other, was in no small measure the cause of the shortening of his days. The Catholic universe has sustained a terrible loss. Pius X. was without doubt one of the most illustrious of the pontiffs who have sat in the chair of St. Peter."

BULGARIANS TOUCH NAPANEE PATRIOTISM

[Canadian Press.]

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 21.—A remarkable instance of patriotic fervor on the part of the people of this place occurred last night when they spontaneously entertained 40 Belgian reservists to a luncheon at the Paisley House. The foreign guests showed their high appreciation of British hospitality. National songs were sung and great enthusiasm displayed by all.

The entertainment was prompted by the fact that these men, who are employed in railway construction, left their work and came to the station to see the military trains passing and expressed their desire to go with them to fight for Great Britain. The incident had awakened the dormant patriotism of many.

LONDON, FRIDAY, AUGUST 21.

PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM.

IN this time of the empire's need, Canadian men are enlisting for the war with an enthusiasm unprecedented in history. But we cannot all go to the front, even if we wanted to do so. And those who are left home need not be idle. There is charitable work to be done, and there is ample evidence that our people will not fail in that respect. And there is something else that may not attract as much attention as either enlistment or charity. There will be numbers of men out of work, who do not want to receive charity. And work can be found for them, if people are willing to provide it.

Many manufacturers and businessmen announce that they will keep their establishments running, and the prices of their goods unchanged, and their men employed; some few have already closed down, and others are threatening to follow. Are they not willing to suffer a little with their neighbors? Their business may slacken on account of the war, their profits may be reduced. If it were a time of peace they might be fully justified in shortening sail. Unless a business firm is making a reasonable profit or has a fair prospect of improvement, it would be wise under ordinary conditions to close down. But these are not ordinary conditions. These are days when people are freely offering their lives for their country, when others are freely giving their means, and many are ready to meet cheerfully the sacrifices that will be demanded.

Our businessmen must not be less patriotic than others. They have had their prosperous days. And for that prosperity they must thank their fellow citizens, who have purchased their goods, and especially the laws that have given them protection, sometimes at the expense of the purchaser. They will be giving some return for past favors, and at the same time showing practical patriotism, and a willingness to bear a share of the general burden, if they are willing to carry on their business without profit for a time. Some of them can afford to carry it on at a loss, without denying themselves or their families any customary luxuries. There may not be much glory for them, possibly not much recognition, but it will show that unselfish devotion to country which all should show.

Of course, while we plead with business men to keep business moving and retain their employes at work, we are not unmindful of a corresponding duty on the part of the rest of us to support our own business dealers, and buy our goods at home. That will not be difficult. While the war lasts we can find all the necessaries of life and more in Canada. We can thus help to keep our factories and shops, and stores reasonably busy, and if that can be done it will help our businessmen to retain their employees and provide work for those who might otherwise be left destitute. That will be very quiet and unostentatious work, but it will be practical patriotism.

THE BATTERY MEN.

WHILE to a certain extent the troops that go from Canada to engage in the European war will be "raw" yet, if it is not a company that will do credit to the Dominion, the signs are not to be believed.

The men who enlist for the first contingents are almost always the choice of the soldiering material. They are the true adventurers who make fighters; most of them have "roughed" it to a considerable extent, and they will be able to stand up to the rigors of a campaign, because their hearts are in their work. In most of the detachments will be found men drawn from all ranks of life. Some of them are over-grown boys of men who take life none too seriously, and are perhaps known as "characters" in their respective localities, but who are the best fighting material that can be found anywhere.

The Sixth Field Battery of London has an enlistment of men who will stand up to German or Austrian, and give an account of themselves. There are no "sissies" in this corps. They are hardy men and some of them are "hard" men as the saying goes, which does not mean that a single one is not entitled to full claim to respectability. They are men for the most part who have been hard workers all their lives. They are not afraid of a horse, and a man who is not afraid of a horse is not afraid of a man. They have gained a fine record as men of action, and they have on several occasions shown their ability as marksmen.

In the battery there are a number of South African men who were with the guns on the veldts. These men, in some cases, will be worth a good many untried German gunners. Talk with them today and you find that they are not excited over the prospects. It is the kind of life they want, and to a man they will prove an addition to any force, though numerically they may be unimportant.

If by any chance it should fall to our lot to want a bunch of loyal, hard-fighting, husky soldiers, we should look for the men of the stamp that makes up Major Leonard's command. As to the latter, he is worshipped by his men. He has striven to bring his battery into an efficient unit. The battery showed its "gameness" in responding to the call as a unit. It will be the one complete force, which will represent the city at the front, and citizens should be glad that in this company there are a number of hard fights, and much ability to learn the game, and quickly.

HANDS ACROSS THE HOUSE

THE spectacle at the present time in Canadian politics is magnificent. Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier reached across the gulf of partisan division and clasped their hands in a spirit of mutual helpfulness, and to all, excepting politicians of a very small calibre, the act must have given a thrill. It was not the simple eloquence of either man. Their speeches were masterly, and there was a sincere friendship pledged between the two leading political parties during the length of the present trouble.

Such a truce must have lasting benefits. The speech of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was eagerly awaited in the country by men of both parties, because everyone knew that for depth of feeling and patriotism it would stand supreme above all efforts that have been made in Canada's history. Sir Robert excelled himself as an orator. He has never delivered a better speech than that of Wednesday. The leading Conservative papers featured Sir Wilfrid quite as much as Sir Robert, and the Liberal papers gave the Premier an unlimited share of space. For once all but a very few partisan spirits buried their feelings. Every true Canadian subscribed himself to the loyalty expressed by both leaders. The bitterness of politics has been cast aside. The superficial and unjust critic is out of place. Let us trust that this truce may set an example for an internal patriotism in the every-day conduct of Parliament that may last forever to Canada's benefit.

DOWN ARMS.

THE economic rack and ruin to European countries is going to be so stupendous that as soon as some crowns have been thrown on the junk heap the people will have to set themselves the task not only of building all over again, but of providing effectually against any recurrence of war. The work of the past 50 years has been to arm against war; the next few years should see a general disarming against war. Down with conscription and armaments, as Bertha Von Suthner demanded in her great book several years ago.

Our schools have got to do a very definite work in developing a universal pacifism. We are not without need of such education even in happy Canada. Already peace societies have begun to urge upon universities and colleges the introduction or extension of courses of lectures and study on lines of international relations, which may tend to promote peace and good will. But it is not enough to begin at the top. The elementary and secondary schools have work to do.

W. T. Stead had an excellent idea some years ago of developing the peace spirit by international correspondence of boys and girls. Many charming friendships were thus set up between children of divers nations.

Our school curricula ought to be adjusted to a twentieth century spirit. Surely Christianity ought to come to its own in twenty centuries. The false heroics, the glorification and lust of battle must be pruned out of the text books. The ghastly truths of war must be presented in unforgetable ways; by direct instruction, by positive illustration in books and in the teacher's word, by pictures on the walls, by moving pictures, however horrible, provided they effect the purpose. For, as Bryon wrote:

"War's a brain-spattering, windpipe-splitting art."

Let children know it and be made to feel it in their bones and shudder at it. No more war. Let them see the shell destroy men, maim them, the wounded writhe, the face torn off by horse's hoof or battle-maddened ruffians, the miseries of women and children at home, in the occupied town and village, the whole hell. If it be objected that defence is necessary, the educational effort simply has to be organized on a basis world-wide or as wide as civilization.

THE COCKPIT.

THERE is a little place about ten miles to the west of Namur, by the name of Ligny, where the French would be as happy as anywhere to have a tussle with the Prussians. Here, in the Waterloo campaign, as Wellington predicted a day or so before, the Prussians, under the famous old Blucher, were "damnably mauled" by Napoleon. It was the last victory in the Emperor's career, an ironical prelude to Waterloo.

Ligny was not decisive enough for Napoleon. The Prussians managed to retreat northward instead of eastwards, and thus to get into touch again later with the forces under Wellington retreating a little further west, parallel, from Quartre Bras towards Brussels. On the rainy Saturday night before "that loud Sabbath," while the British were encamping on Mont St. Jean, to make a stand if news came that the Prussians could join them, Blucher shook his remnants into order at Wavre, thirteen miles east of Waterloo. It was here that on Sunday last the Germans apparently tried to break through to Brussels. The Belgian capital is a hard place to reach, barred by Wavres and Waterloos.

A good name for the European struggle would be "The Unreported War."

Isn't it about time we began to hear from Ivanovitch?

In this war Terror and Tyranny are lined up against Happiness and Liberty.

Official dispatches show that Doc Reisling's brigade continues to rout the enemy.

Between war clouds and rain clouds life appears to be just one gloom after another.

Germany has undoubtedly made some progress in Belgium, but it has not been a walk-over.

Christendom at war hastened the death of the head of one of the greatest churches of Christendom.

When this war is over, municipalities or nations who wish to clamp on the lid good and tight should send for Kitchener.

James Bryce says that the Japanese lack originality. Well, they possess a superabundance of belligerency, which is more useful at the present time.

The Kaiser's juggernaut has again started to roll towards Paris, but the chances are that this time it will be wrecked many miles from the French capital.

The war editor considers that day wasted on which he cannot sink a couple of battleships, have another power join the big melee, and announce that the forts of Liege are still holding out.

The Russian Cossacks constitute what is probably the most effective irregular cavalry in the world. They will no doubt furnish many a thrilling incident in the campaign against Germany.

PRESS COMMENT ON THE WAR

WHAT A PROSPECT.
[Toronto News.]

A Germany triumphant over Britain and France would have little respect for the Monroe Doctrine, and the Dominion might become one of the Kaiser's colonies, to be ruled by a horde of bureaucrats backed by an army of occupation.

UNPARALLELED IN HISTORY.
[Le Canada, Montreal.]

There is not in the history of the world a spectacle comparable to that presented today by England and her colonies. The other nations levy their troops. The British colonies alone offer men and money freely.

NOT A PEOPLE'S WAR.
[Toronto Star.]

It is difficult to believe that the millions of quiet folk who make up the German people can approve of a war which promises to almost exterminate the male population of the best part of Europe. Not the industrious workers of Germany, only a ruling few, have brought this about.

ARE STILL NEUTRAL.
[Guelph Mercury.]

American citizens in Toronto formed a committee to assist those going to the front, and those left at home. In so doing they are not embarrassing the neutrality of United States. They are simply acting as persons who, by living under the British flag, have come to respect and admire its true democracy and freedom.

CAN'T BE CAUGHT.
[Stratford Herald.]

It is amusing to note the sudden accession of German friendship toward China, since the Japanese ultimatum. The Kaiser would now like to make a deal himself with China. But the Chinese President is too crafty to be caught in what would be a trap, since it would queer China with the Japanese, who are ready to do China a great service.

GUARANTEE BANK DEPOSITS.
[La Patrie.]

While there is no reason for depositors in the Canadian banks to withdraw their deposits, the Government would do well to take efficacious means to prevent any possibility of a run on the banks. And the best means, even if it involve an amendment to the bank act at the session which opens tomorrow, would be for the Government to guarantee all bank deposits. With such a guarantee there need be no fear of a run, and the eleven million dollars which the banks hold to the credit of the public will remain with the banks and be used in commercial operations.

WHERE GERMANY FAILED.
[Montreal Star.]

If Germany had treated her Poles as Britain did her Boers, the Czar's proclamation would have fallen harmless today. If Germany had treated Alsace-Lorraine as Britain would have treated a similar community—as she has treated, for instance, the Channel Islands—there would certainly never have rankled so fierce a hatred in the French breast for the ravishers of these "lost provinces"—and there might have been no great European war today. Few things pay better dividends in the long run than toleration, national magnanimity and free institutions.

WAR, WOMEN AND VOTES.
[Ottawa Journal.]

"If women had the vote," said Miss Burt to a meeting of the Ottawa Civil Service Association, "there would never be a war in Europe today."

Perhaps not. Perhaps not either if men everywhere had the vote. The present trouble with Europe is kaiserdom and czardom and things of that sort, instead of votes under free representative government.

But if there had never been war, there would be no free representative government anywhere in the world yet, which in free countries at the present time is worth the thought of women as well as men.

THE CURSE OF MILITARISM.
[Montreal Herald.]

A young German in Montreal said a few days ago: "When I entered the German army I was enthusiastically loyal to the Kaiser. When I left I was an out-and-out Socialist. The intolerable tyranny of the military caste over the commoner was the cause."

Something of the same sentiment seems to animate the majority of the German people settled on this continent. It has found outspoken expression during the past week in the German colonies of Ontario; it is finding expression every day in the United States. Few can breathe the free atmosphere of this continent and not come to feel that the militarism of which the Kaiser is the embodiment is a foe to progress and liberty and a danger to the world.

ANTWERP, CITY RICH IN HISTORY

Antwerp, the city to which the Belgian royal family have removed to escape the German advance on Brussels, is not only one of the oldest cities in Europe, but has many times played an important part in the making of stirring history.

Antwerp appears in history as early as the seventh century. A century later it was an important port and market town. In the twelfth century it was commercially prosperous and under the rule of the dukes of Burgundy, who at times aspired not only to the throne of France but harbored designs on the crown of England. In the fifteenth century Antwerp was one of the most important marts in Europe, the entering point for English and continental trade. In the sixteenth century, under the rule of Charles V., it was the seat of the Hanseatic League and the money depot of Europe. In 1584-'85 it was besieged, taken and ruined by the Duke of Alva. In 1794 the French took the city and restored its prosperity. Napoleon the Great attempted to make it rival London.

Antwerp, located on the Scheldt, having and outlet to the sea safeguarded by the British and French fleet and being strongly fortified on the landward side, is regarded as impregnable, hence its selection at this time by King Albert as a place of refuge from which to direct the Belgian resistance to the German forces. The city's transit and other commerce of late years has run well over $1,000,000,000 a year. It has a large industrial quarter and is a diamond centre.

The government of Antwerp is administered by a burgomaster, assisted by five assessors and a municipal council of 39 members. The city's annual budget is about $7,000,000. Its debt is $60,000,000. Water and gas are supplied by private corporations.

The city has sixteen daily newspapers, six in French and ten in Flemish. There are many notable hospitals and educational institutions, two theatres, and noteworthy ecclesiastical and secular buildings, among them the Cathedral of Notre Dame, one of the sights of Europe, the Hotel de Ville and the museum of art, where are priceless paintings by Rubens, Winders, Van Dyck, Van Eyck, Memling, Matys, and others. Many "old masters" among painters, notably Rubens, were natives or residents of Antwerp, long famous as an art centre.

THE GREATEST CRIME OF MODERN EUROPE

[From London Public Opinion.]

We shall just have to begin all over again and rebuild all that has been thrown down in the last few terrible days.

Less than fifty men have lain Europe in moral ruin. The Austrian Emperor made the first move; the German Emperor has swept the board; and on these two men lies the burden of the greatest crime of modern Europe. They are the enemies of civilization.

War!

Today Germany is at war with Great Britain, Russia, France, Belgium, and Luxembourg. Millions on millions men are in arms. Industry is at standstill. All the amenities of civiliz... people are at an end and the voice complaining will be heard through the land. Spiritual progress is thr... ened, for Europe has turned from peaceful pursuits back to the day brute force, and the absorbing pr... of each nation at this moment is ... which can mobilize the greatest ... On that depends the first victo... day.

A Trough of Blood.

Europe is going down into a ...ble trough of blood because the W...rds have been guilty of "flagrant ...ons of the laws of nations"—that ...tual cement which binds society ...ther. But this war will see an e... the War Lords.

No man has yet prov...orally equal to the task of holdin... lives of millions of men in his hands. And yet less than fifty men ...y have pulled down a thousand ...of history and doomed thousa...of their fellows to an agonizing d...

But we shall begin a...ast dead. When the body of ...at gun's soldier is buried and ...ions are at silenced, and when th... they will peace through exha...

But ... is a worse slavery than lack of ...dom, and that is the slavery of free ...—free men who have freely sub...ted themselves to the yoke of war.

Lords of Themselves.

The Emperor of Austria and the Emperor of Germany each has been too long "Lord of himself" and Europe today knows the sequel, as Byron knew—that he who is "lord of himself" has a "heritage of woe" which he does not keep to himself.

So Great Britain today finds itself compelled to fight for its very existence.

The only leaders of men who are inevitable are those who are leaders by the moral right and puissance of their own spiritual personality. And in days to come our leaders and rulers must not give merely unmeaning lip service to the highest ideals, but must be those who have attained unto righteousness by the casting out of self.

The historian of the future will not fail to note that the week before Armageddon in Europe the bishops were discussing Kikuyu.

Moral Strength.

The world has outrun its moral strength. The world is not yet morally fit for a credit system, the safety of which depends upon personal honor and national honor, to say nothing of respect for the law of nations to which we have put our names by way of agreement.

Our credit system demands a perpetual peace, and as we cannot command that, all the world finds today that it has taken too great risks and has moved too far away from the simple and safe bases of life.

But we shall begin all over again, and shall rebuild a better and a stronger and a nobler world—with the women at our side.

Is baseball less popular than it was? Enthusiasm over the game reached its highest pitch during the championshipp games of 1912. It even spread to people who never attended a ball game or knew a short-stop from a three-bagger. For some reason, the interest in baseball this summer seems less fervid than in recent years

NEEDLEWORK

A pretty crocheted edge is made by taking narrow rick-rack braid for the star and crocheting with No. 30 thread.

Throw your thread over the hook once, fasten to the point of the braid and draw through. You have three stitches on the hook. Draw thread through three stitches on hook. Draw through two stitches; throw thread over book and fasten in next point; draw thread through two stitches. There are now three stitches on hook. Draw thread through all three, chain five and continue as before.

This will last a long time, is very cheap and pretty, and can be used as a beading through which to run narrow ribbon.

Dust cloths for trunk trays are so easily made and such a convenience in traveling that to have two or three on hand is a great comfort and well repays the little time given to their making. They may be made of china silk, cheesecloth, or any washable material. Cut them the length and width of the trays. Line with a layer of cotton batten, sprinkle with your favorite sachet and featherstitch them with silk floss.

When mending suits of clothes, if you carefully ravel out some of the threads of the goods from the inside seams you will find that the darn will hardly show, as the threads are not only a perfect match but blend in with the weave of the cloth. This is much more satisfactory than silk or thread.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No lettters can be answered privately.]

From Mirandy Spriggins.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am very much interested in the songs you publish and would like you to publish "Warden Keep a Place for Me," also "A Fine Old English Gentleman."

2. Would you please tell me if a girl of 15 should wear her hair up?

Hoping this will not be too much trouble, I remain,

MIRANDY SPRIGGINS.

Ans. 1.—Referred to readers! You may be a law unto yourself in this matter. Many girls prefer to "wear it down" until they are 16.

Waiting for the Ring.

Dear Miss Grey,—As this is the first time I have written to you I hope I won't be too much trouble.

1. What size shoes should a girl 11 years old wear?

2. I am 5 feet 7 inches tall and weigh 111 lbs., do you think I am too thin?

3. How can I wash white silk gloves to prevent them from turning yellow?

4. How can I clean white poplin slippers?

5. What would be a nice present for a young lady to give a gentleman for a Christmas gift after they are engaged?

6. After a young lady is engaged how long should she wait for the ring?

7. In a country school what book should a girl 11 years old be in who has two miles to go?

Hoping to see this in print soon.

TRIXIE ANN.

Ans.—1. The sizes vary for a girl of this age: No. 13 girl's size or No. 1 ladies' size is the average.

2. For your height, yes.

3. Use lukewarm water and white soap; immerse the gloves; leave for fifteen minutes in the water, occasionally rubbing between the hands, rinse, blue, and hang out to dry.

4. To wash them in gasoline is about the only way, unless you use pipe-clay.

5. Umbrella, fountain pen, watch fob, desk set, picture, books.

6. There is no rule in black and white. I would say until he can afford to buy it without having to keep his landlady waiting for her boarding money.

7. Ask the teacher.

To Dye Panama.

Dear Miss Grey—Would you kindly answer a few questions for me?

1. I have some green Panama goods to make a skirt and I would like to dye it black. Do you think it would shrink very much? Should it be dyed before making the skirt or afterwards?

2. What are the meanings of the following names: Grace, Mabel, Lena, Andred and Orma?

Yours truly, A READER.

Ans.—1. I do not think there would be much shrinkage in Panama cloth; but why not shrink it yourself before dyeing it? Dye before making up the skirt.

2. Grace, favor; Mabel, lovable; Lena, light. The remaining names are beyond me.

The Famous Oliver.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw in The Advertiser that the Constant Reader wanted the words of the song, "The Curse of An Aching Heart." I have inclosed the song. I hope to see it published as soon as possible. Please will you answer the following questions:

1. Can you tell me the reason why I did not get a pattern of a Balkan Blouse, which I sent for five or six week ago? It was one of The Advertiser's patterns.

2. What day of the week did the 8th of March, 1888, fall on?

2. How could I get some stains off a dark blue silk dress I was in the rain and all around the edge is marked.

Thanking you very much for your trouble, I am, OLIVER TWIST.

Ans.—1. The pattern has evidently got lost in H. M. mail. Why did you not send a card to the pattern department and a duplicate would be sent you? I can do nothing towards tracing your order, as you have not signed your real name.

2. Thursday.

3. I am afraid nothing will remove rain spots off silk.

"Distance Lends," Etc.

Dear Miss Grey.—This is the first time I have come to you for advice, and hope I will not bother too much by asking you a few questions. I am sending you the words of the song called "The Curse of An Aching Heart," and hope to see it in print soon for the Constant Reader.

1. Could you tell me of some nice present that would be suitable to send to a gentleman whom I have been going with for the past year and at the present time is far away, and I think a great deal of him?

2. What kind of books should a girl at the age of 18 read? Should she read love stories, which after she reads causes her to be downhearted?

3. Could you print me the recipe for Devil's Food?

Hoping to have a reply soon, I remain,

SUSAN.

Ans.—1. A very practical gift and one which he will be sure to like is a subscription to The Daily Advertiser. You could have it sent by mail for one, three, six or twelve months. There are pretty gift editions of books which are easily packed and sent by mail; or you might send a box of handkerchiefs.

2. I think that you allow your mind to dwell too much on yourself and your affairs. Read something else besides love stories. Go to the library and delve out some book on travel that looks interesting, and keep at it until you have a real grasp of its contents. A well-illustrated volume about Germany or Belgium or Austria would be particularly good just now. Get a book of German legends, or old traditions of the Rhine valley—they are very fascinating. Or, if you still crave "love stories," why not read about real peoples' romances? There are thousands to be found in history and biography, past and present.

3. Dissolve two ounces of bitter chocolate in half a cupful of boiling water. Beat two-thirds of a cupful of butter to a cream, with one cupful of sugar; then add three well-beaten eggs, and one cupful of sour milk or sour cream in which an even teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Beat in two cupfuls of flour, then the melted chocolate, and finally a teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake in layers and fill with dark chocolate filling, icing the top with white frosting or chocolate.

The Tinder-Box

AS TOLD BY AUNT GERTIE

CHAPTER V.

Well, well, well!

The next night the soldier again summoned the dog and ordered him to bring the princess to him.

But what do you suppose the wise court lady did? Why, she followed the dog and as soon as he disappeared into the house, where the soldier lived, she put a white cross on the door. Then the King could go next day and find out who was sending for his daughter.

The soldier would have been discovered, then and there, if the wise dog hadn't noticed what the court lady did.

As he was returning, he saw the white cross on the door. So he marked each of the other doors in the town with the same kind of a cross.

Of course, the court lady didn't know this. She went back to the King and Queen the next morning and told them she had found out just where the Princess went the night before.

The King and the Queen, greatly pleased, started out early to go to the house. But as soon as they got into the street they noticed each house had the same mark upon it. "Oh, dear," sobbed the court lady, "someone has tricked us again. We shall have to try some other means tonight."

Though this search had been in vain, the Queen would not be done. She had a clever idea and immediately went home to put it into practice.

She made a little bag and put flour into it. Then she snipped a tiny hole in the bottom with a pair of silver scissors, so that the flour would run out very slowly. This she tied to the Princess' waist.

The next night the soldier ordered the dog to bring the Princess to him again. And he did.

All along the road, though, the flour dripped ever so slowly. It left trail which could easily be followed.

The dog didn't notice this little scheme. The next morning the King and Queen easily found the place where the soldier lived.

They took the poor man out and imprisoned him!

Oh, how dark it was! Oh, how dreary it was! Oh, how lonely it was!

"They are going to hang me, too," cried the soldier, in despair. He could see the people all hurrying toward the scaffolding where he was to hang.

As he watched, he threw his slipper through the railings at the window, and it hit a small boy. The boy turned around and the soldier called and asked him if he wouldn't do something for him and earn some money for himself.

"Well, I guess I just as soon," replied the boy. "What do you want me to do?"

"I want you to go over to my room and bring me a little old tinder box you will find there."

"Very well," said the boy. "I will."

The boy brought it. And what do you think happened?

Clean as usual, and dissect so thoroughly that the carver will have nothing for his knife to do in "helping" the dish. The breast and back should be in two pieces, each, and every joint be separated from the next.

Wash, but do not wipe. Arrange the pieces, dripping wet, in the pot, scatter over each layer minced onion, parsley and chopped fat pork; season with salt and pepper. Cover the pot very closely and set it where it will not begin to boil under an hour. Increase the heat somewhat, but cook slowly throughout. Cook until done. The toughest tendons will yield to slow stewing in time.

When assured that your end is gained, take out the meat with a split spoon, heap upon a platter and keep hot while making the gravy. To do this pour into a bowl, set in iced water, to make the fat rise. Skim, return to the pot, and add a cupful of hot milk, thickened with a tablespoonful of butter rubbed into one of flour. Boil for one minute—when you have added a pinch of soda. Have ready two well-beaten eggs, add the boiling gravy gradually and pour over the chicken. Serve boiled rice with this dish.

Life is too short for aught but high endeavor—

The Horoscope

Saturday, August 22, 1914.

Venus exercises a strong influence for good today, according to the reading of astrologers. Late in the afternoon Neptune is unfriendly, but the dominating influences are held to be lucky.

It is an auspicious time for weddings. Love affairs should prosper under this government of the planets.

There is a prediction, however, that the summer romances of this year will not lead readily to marriage, as conditions are said to be conducive to extreme reluctance to accept responsibilities of every sort.

This is believed to be a particularly auspicious day for those who seek engagements in threatrical companies or opportunities to win public acclaim. Artists of every rank should benefit.

The wearing of new clothing is supposed to be especially fortunate, when Venus is in benefic aspect.

Confectioners, hotelkeepers, managers of restaurants and florists should benefit greatly by this configuration.

The omen is promising for certain theatrical ventures, but the successes will come from unexpected sources and those that are imported will divide honors with domestic production. The vogue of cheaper places of amusement, where legitimate drama is presented is foretold.

The approaching autumn is likely to be an exceedingly critical time for Japan. Warlike feeling will be difficult to control.

San Francisco is subject to a rule indicating increase of taxation in October and much public discontent, but the outlook for the Panama-Pacific Exposition is better than at any previous time. Prosperity in California, if labor troubles can be avoided, is foreshadowed.

Ever since the first of the year astrologers have prophesied that women would be subject to influences tending toward crimes. Again a warning is given that scandals and untoward incidents will multiply.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a quiet year. They should beware of accidents.

Children born on this day will probably be keen and argumentative. Both boys and girls have the promise of success in life. They should be able to attain high position through personal merit.

GLOVE FAMINE WILL RESULT FROM WAR

A glove famine is another possibility uncovered by the European war. It is possible glove wearers — more particularly the masculine—can get through the coming winter without discomfort, but if the conflict abroad continues for any length of time there are likely to be hard and expensive times next year.

Another month's developments in Europe will determine whether the price of gloves rises this autumn. Nearly all the gloves worn are of foreign manufacture.

About Women

According to the last volume of the British census returns in the United Kingdom women have succeeded in establishing themselves in a number of industries where their presence is unexpected.

Several women are paperhangers and whitewashers, and four are bricklayers all of them widows. There is only one woman coachman. Three women appear under the heading of clergymen, priests and ministers," and four are coalheavers.

Then there are 347 women "carmen" and wagoners, and 231 women blacksmiths and "strikers."

One woman occupies herself with making patent fuel, and there are three women shipwrights, and five women "tramway car makers."

Finally, England and Wales can boast of fifty-six women carpenters and joiners, and fourteen women masons. Of the latter thirteen are widows.

For the first time in its history qualified women physicians have been admitted as internes to Bellevue Hospital, New York.

Mrs. W. P. Burton, wife of the man who will be at the wheel of Shamrock IV when Sir Thomas Lipton tries to take the America cup in September, will be her husband's right-hand "man" during the races.

Chicago suffragists, in connection with the "self-denial" day, have planned to dispose of their "white elephant" wedding gifts at a rummage sale.

OLD SONGS AND POEMS

MY COTTAGE HOME.

I am dreaming of a cottage,
Half concealed beneath the shade,
Where the robins sweetly carolled,
And the idle zephyr played,
And I weep as o'er me stealing
Comes an echo soft and low,
From a lute whose chords were broken,
By the touch of long ago.

Chorus.

Still in pensive thought I linger
By that rustic cottage door,
But the zephyr moans in pity,
And the robin sings no more.

I am dreaming, fondly dreaming,
Of a blue-eyed maiden fair,
With her cheek of merry dimples,
And a step as light as air,
But we laid her with the roses,
Where a brooklet murmurs low,
And my life's young love is sleeping,
In the grave of long ago.

DRESS TRIFLES THAT COUNT.

"I am sure I spend just as much time and money on the little things that don't count as I do for my suits and dresses and hats," complained one woman who was having difficulty in finding a moderate priced collar dressy enough for her new crepe de chine blouse.

It is very true that one must spend a large portion of one's dress allowance for these little accessories, but instead of not counting at all they are wonderfully important.

There is a very great difference between the woman who is nicely dressed and the woman who is entirely "chic." The former, perhaps will have well-made clothes, good hats and furs, and, as a rule, look very charming, but unless she pays an indefinite amount of attention to all the tiny details and allows herself an ample margin in her dress allowance for the small things, such as neckwear, stockings, gloves, etc., she will never achieve perfection so far as matters sartorial are concerned.

To be perfectly turned out a woman must spend no inconsiderable sums on the less remarkable items of her attire. For instance, the fashion for lace collars, jabots and frillings of all kinds attached to blouses and costumes, means a considerable renewal of delicate laces, while pretty blouses, hats for every occasion, belts, ribbons and ties by the end of the year will be found to have cost as much as, if not more than, the usual sum spent on costumes and gowns.

However, there is no need to begrudge this fact, for any expenditure on pretty, small things is well rewarded by the immense difference made to the whole appearance and the satisfaction thereby entailed.

Pleasant Work

I'd be the last one in the world to depreciate womanly avocations such as crocheting and the like. But I do say this: that interest in outdoor sports at this present time is just as womanly and a lot more profitable than shaking the daylights out of a knitting needle. There's money to be made on our Summer Pastime, perhaps as much as a thousand dollars.

It hasn't any particular labor about it either and that's more than you can say concerning knitting, crocheting and a dozen other such things. I know because I've tried most of them.

There's nothing against combining the hard with the easy. For instance, crochet as long as you want to or until the paper comes. Then work out the name in the rebus picture and later on, see which has been more profitable—the knitting or the Pastime. If you're really as careful about not making mistakes in your pictures as you are in your tidies I'll bet on the contest every time. But, of course, that all remains with you.

AUNT LUCY.

ATTAR OF ROSES.

In 1896 an emigrant from Bulgaria secretly brought away with him to Sparta a few slips of the rose bush (the export of which is prohibited by Bulgaria) producing the rose from which the best quality of attar of roses is distilled, and planted it at Sparta, in the region of Smyrna. The climate and soil proved favorable to the venture, and from this small beginning the industry has grown to its present proportions, and is still increasing in importance. Broussa produces a certain amount of attar of roses, but the quality is said to be inferior to that of Sparta. The Turkish Government, in order to encourage the industry, exempts the cultivator of roses from taxes for a period of seven years.—Boston Transcript.

London and Peterboro Will Play a Double-Header on Saturday—Hammond or Reisling Will Pitch Against the Petes Today.

(BY BERT PERRY.)

There was no game between the London and Peterboro clubs yesterday afternoon owing to the fact that the diamond at Tecumseh Park did not dry off in time after the heavy rain that soaked it during the morning. As a result, a double-header will be staged Saturday afternoon.

Only one game will be played this afternoon, weather permitting. "Doc" Reisling or "Cuz" Hammond will do the pitching. If the weather is damp, Hammond will, in all probability, be the London manager's selection, as it is impossible to work a spit ball effectively on a damp day. Manager Blount, of the Petes, will, in all probability, start Louis Schettler, his best pitcher. Schettler beat the London club the last time he started here, the morning of civic holiday. Hammond opposed him at that time, but the London team could not score off the former Philadelphia slab artist.

Only one game was played in the Canadian League yesterday, and that one resulted in a tie, being called at the eleventh owing to darkness. At Toronto, Hamilton and London, rain prevented the teams getting together. It is likely that every team in the league, with the exception of London and Peterboro, will play a double-header today as a result. At Ottawa, the Saints gave the Senators a great battle, and only for a home run by Nill in the tenth inning, would have won. Manager Midge Craven's team can be depended upon to give the Shagmen a battle in the remaining games of the series.

Ottawa Objects to St. Thomas Transferring Games to London

Despite the Fact That the Senators Have No Say in the Matter at All, Shaughnessy and Company Will Try to Prevent Transfer

According to dispatches from Ottawa, Frank Shaughnessy and the other members of the Ottawa Baseball Club will offer strenuous objection to the transference of the remaining games London is scheduled to play in St. Thomas to this city. The Ottawa management is all wrought up over what the Ottawa papers term "taking an unfair advantage," and if the games are transferred here, Shaughnessy and company will demand that President Fitzgerald transfer one of Ottawa's trips on the road to the capital in order to equalize matters.

President Gives His Sanction.

The Ottawa management is putting itself to a lot of unnecessary trouble if it does any such thing. President Fitzgerald has sanctioned the transference of the games to this city in the best interests of the league, and it now remains for the London and St. Thomas clubs to agree on the matter. The Ottawa club or any other club in the league have no say at all in the matter. Last year the Shagmen had a series with Peterboro transferred to Ottawa and London offered no objection.

A Questionable Advantage.

As far as it being an advantage to London, the Ottawa club has only to turn to the records of the London-St. Thomas games played here and see how advantageous it is. The Saints are harder to beat here than they are in St. Thomas. The London club has only lost one game in St. Thomas this season, while the Saints have won five of six on the local lot. London has been only able to get an even break in any series here with the Craven crew, and it is a very doubtful advantage indeed to have the games transferred here.

As yet the London and St. Thomas clubs have not completed the arrangements to transfer the games, but it is expected they will do so shortly.

WORLD'S CHAMPS MADE IT TWO STRAIGHT FROM TIGERS

All of the Runs in the Contest Were Scored on Homers—Eddie Collins Was Responsible for All of the Runs Made by the Athletics.

PHILADELPHIA, August 20.—All of the runs in today's game were scored on homers, Philadelphia defeating Detroit by 3 to 1. Moriarty's hit to deep centre in the first inning bounced into the bleachers for a four-bagger. In the third inning, Collins drove over Veach's head and hopped into the bleachers for a home run, Wyckoff and Murphy also scoring. Score:

"Cuz" Hammond Is Hard-Luck Twirler of Canadian League

"Cuz" Hammond is the hard luck twirler of the Canadian league, without a doubt. The London righthander is one of the best twirlers in the league today, and yet he has only won nine games and lost 11. But it is not because of his pitching. His real record should be 15 games won and about 5 lost, because in five of the games he has pitched, the London club failed to score a run, while in only one of the games was the opposing team able to make more than four counters. Two of the defeats were 1 to 0 games, and one was 2 to 0. The other two were 4 to 0 and 8 to 0 respectively.

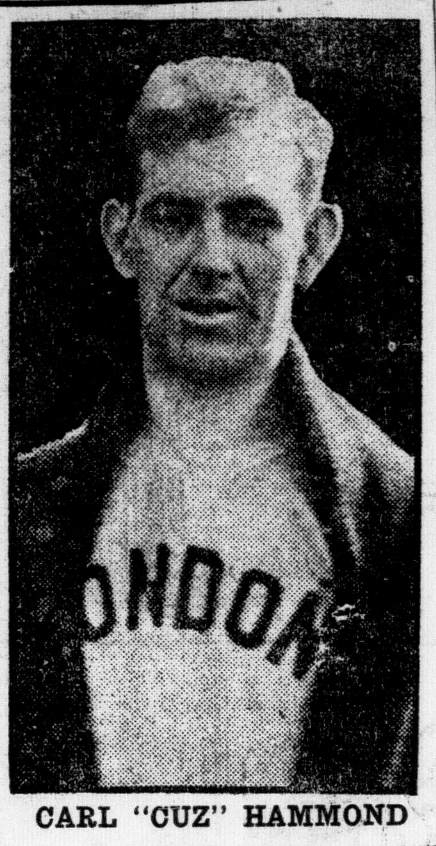

Hammond has also lost two other games by a one run margin, one game by a 2 run margin and 2 games by 5 run margins. The other game he lost was by the score of 6 to 2. Only twice this season has he been batted out of the box.

"Cuz" Hammond was being kidded over the London players' inability to score when he is in pitching.

"What would you do if London ever scored two runs in a game you pitched?" he was asked.

"I guess I'd be so surprised I'd hand them back again," replied "Cuz."

Hammond hails from Cambridge, Ohio, and this is his first year in professional league ball. He is one of the most promising twirlers in the league today, and London fans fully expect to see him go up at the end of the season. His record so far this season is as follows:

Ottawa Gets Fred Bramble To Strengthen Pitching Staff

Former Berlin Twirler Bought From Ft. Wayne Club of Central League and Will Report Here on Monday—Shag Sparing No Effort to Land Pennant.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, August 20.—It was announced tonight that Ottawa had purchased Pitcher Fred Bramble from the Fort Wayne club of the Central League. Bramble was drafted last season by Fort Wayne from the Berlin club of the Canadian League. He will join the Senators in London on Monday.

The above dispatch was received by The Advertiser from Ottawa last night, and it goes to show that Manager Frank Shaughnessy is sparing no effort or expense to beat the London club out of the pennant this year and make it three straight championships for Ottawa. Fred Bramble was one of the best curve ball pitchers in the Canadian League before he was drafted by the Fort Wayne club. This season he has been pitching great ball for the Fort Wayne club, and has also been playing in the outfield owing to his hitting. No doubt, the only reason Fort Wayne let him go to Ottawa was because Dayton has cinched the Central League pennant, and the Fort Wayne club is hopelessly out of the race. The Central League is having trouble with a couple of its franchises, and the rest of the clubs are cutting down their players and salary lists.

Bramble will greatly strengthen the pitching staff of the Ottawa club, and there is no doubt the Senators will give the London team an extra hard battle for the bunting with him taking a regular turn on the mound. It is questionable whether the Ottawa club has purchased him outright. At this late date, it would appear to be a case of wasting money, but Shaughnessy has demonstrated in the past that he will go to any length to give Ottawa a winner. However, it is more likely that Fort Wayne only loaned him on an optional agreement. Shaughnessy is very friendly with the Fort Wayne management. The London club obtained Oskee Neale from Cleveland in the same manner.

THE WOBBLY LEAGUE STANDING TO DATE

The official standing of the Wobbly League has been announced, and including all games played to date is as follows:

Team—	W.	L.	P.C.
Galt	24	17	.585
Woodstock	19	19	.500
Stratford	21	21	.500
Guelph	16	21	.432

The games won and lost do not total up evenly, but this is accounted for by the fact that Berlin and Brantford dropped out in the middle of the season, and some of the teams had played more games with them than the others. Adding the games won and lost by the Berlin and Brantford clubs to the present standing would balance the two columns.

WHEAT CARGOES LEAVE FOR EUROPEAN PORTS

Three Ships for Switzerland and Three for France.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Aug. 21.—More than one million bushels of American wheat are on the way to Switzerland in British bottoms, the shipment of three cargoes having been arranged by Dr. Charles Paul Hubscher, charge of the legation here. Arrangements have been made to allow the passage through France and Italy of foodstuffs intended for Switzerland.

The legation has little fear that the cargoes will be taken by Great Britain, although she could do so, provided payment were made. At the British embassy it was said Britain did not need more supplies than she was procuring.

WALKED NILL TO GET SHAUGHNESSY

George Nill, who saved Ottawa from a defeat yesterday by hitting a home run in the tenth inning, is a bad man in a pinch. When Steiger beat Ottawa last week by 1 to 0, Nill came up, with two on bases and two out, and Heinie walked him in order to get Shaughnessy. Shag was raving when he came to the plate. But Heinie had him doped out right, and all he could do was pop up a little foul fly which Louis Bierbauer quickly smothered.

VERY FEW SMITHS PLAYING BASEBALL

Despite the fact that there are millions of people named Smith in the world there are not many ball players of that name. The number of Smiths in the major leagues could be counted on the fingers of one hand. The name of Smith has never been very prominently connected with baseball.

In the Canadian League at the present time there is not one player bearing the name. Last season there was only one, Jack Smith, who played third base for the London club. This year, as far as the records show, no ball player named Smith signed with any of the clubs.

In past seasons the Smiths in the Canadian League have been few and far between. The first year of the league, Sammy Smith, of the London club, and "Lefty" Smith, of Brantford, both pitchers, were the only players in the league bearing that name.

OUIMET IS STRUGGLING TO RETAIN HIS TITLE

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Honors held by Francis Ouimet, the young Boston amateur, was the price sought in today's final play for the open golf championship at Midlothian Country Club. Among the 61 survivors of the original field of 135 scheduled to start the remaining 36 holes of play, were Jack Burke, Port Arthur, Ont., G. R. Murray, Montreal, and George Cummings and W. J. Bell, of Toronto.

Ouimet, encouraged by his good showing yesterday in the first half of the championship play, was confident he would retain his title. He turned in a card of 145, third in the list yesterday, and came within one stroke of equalling the performance of Walter C. Hagen, a professional of Rochester, N. Y., who established a new competitive record for the course with a 68.

OUIMET THIRD IN GOLF TOURNEY FINALS

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Francis Ouimet, defending his title today, made a splendid 69 in the first round of the 72-hole finals of the national open golf tournament at Midlothian Club. Ouimet, however, fell off in the second round, taking 76. W. C. Hagen, Rochester, N. Y., 142, led the field of 65 in the first day's play and gave him a good chance for the title. Ouimet with 145, was third, temporary second place going to Tom McNamara, of Boston, who secured an evenly balanced 143.

Jimmie Anguish, the Chicago semi-pro., has gone to play with Saginaw, where the fans are as long-suffering as his name is.

Rather hard to keep interested in baseball these days, eh? If you can, you're a real fan.

LONDON LACROSSE CLUB PLAYS THE BRANTS SATURDAY

Local Club Journeys to Brantford To Play Game That Has Important Bearing On District.

The London lacrosse team will go to Brantford tomorrow to play the final game of the district with the Brantford Indians. This game will have an interesting bearing on the district title, as a win for Brantford will tie the London and Brantford clubs, necessitating a play-off to decide who will go into the next round.

The London team is confident of winning. The players had an off day when the Brantford club came here and beat them, and now that they know what they are up against they expect to go out and reverse the tables.

The strongest lineup the team has presented this year will meet the Telephone City team, which will also be strengthened for the game.

BOLT WORKS MAY MEET STRATFORD AT WOODSTOCK

Sudden Game Ordered For Saturday, But Final Arrangements Have Not Yet Been Completed.

The Bolt Works and Stratford soccer teams will likely play off their tie for the senior W. F. A. championship at Woodstock tomorrow. Owing to the fact that the teams have played four home-and-home games without settling the title a sudden-death game has been ordered by the W. F. A., and both clubs have agreed upon Woodstock as the meeting place. The game may be played in 45-minute halves, making it 30 minutes longer than the regulation length. The Bolt Works is eager to play this length of time, as they figure they have more staying power than the Stratford players.

The final arrangements for the game have not yet been completed, but it is expected they will be by this evening.

CY. REIDY WANTS TO QUIT BASEBALL AND GO UMPIRING

The London club is going to lose one of its most interesting and popular players at the end of this season if Cy Reidy lives up to his determination to quit the game. Cy's ambition is to become an umpire, and he intends to apply to President Fitzgerald for a job of umpiring in the circuit next season.

The Only Way To Go Up.

"That's the only chance I have to go up now," he stated this morning. "This baseball doesn't get you anything if you stay in it too long, and nowadays good umpires are in demand. I think I can become as good an umpire as anybody, and if I umpired a season in this league and made a success of it, I would be sure to get a better position in some higher league the following season."

Cy is apparently sincere in his determination to quit the game at the end of this season. He has been playing ball a number of years, and although he has had a remarkably good season this year, he figures that he will have to quit soon, and it might as well be at the end of this season as any other time. Besides, the sooner he quits the quicker will he become an experienced umpire and land a better job. There is no doubt in his mind that he will make good at umpiring, and those who know him best are sure he will. He knows as much baseball as any player or manager in the Canadian League, and a great deal more than the average umpire. The Canadian League, or any other baseball league for that matter, needs umpires who have had the playing experience Reidy has.

GEORGE NILL'S HOMER SAVED THE SENATORS

Tied the Score in Tenth When Pinch Hitting.

DARKNESS ENDED GAME

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, August 21.—Ottawa and St. Thomas played eleven innings to a deadlock this afternoon., darkness halting a somewhat sensational game with the score 4 to 4. It looked all over but the shouting when St. Thomas garnered a run in the tenth. George Nill, however, proved himself a real pinch-hitter when he was sent up to bat for Roberts in Ottawa's half, and smashed a home run to right centre, the pill going clear back to the race track. One man was out at the time, and Mitchell got on immediately after Nill's circuit drive, but was run down between first and second, Umpire Halligan giving the visitors the best of the decision. Rogers followed with a single, but Bullock popped out. In the eleventh, Shocker was sent in to pitch for Ottawa and fanned the first three men who faced him. Stewart and Smykal singled in Ottawa's eleventh, but no one could bring in the winning run. The game was then called.

Pitchers Were Good.

Wilkinson and Roberts were the opposing pitchers, and twirled good ball. Indifferent support robbed Roberts of a victory, Bullock slipping twice on chances that resulted in runs. The Champions found Wilkinson's hook difficult to decipher till the seventh when a base on balls and two bunts, both of which were beaten out, filled the bases. Shaughnessy's doubie to left then sent a pair of runs across, tying the score. They were two on and one out in the eighth, but Shag fanned, and Rogers was doubled trying to steal third.

Bullock's Error Let Saints Score.

In the first of the tenth, St. Thomas was smothered with horseshoes. Two swinging bunts went unfielded, and placed two on with one out. Hadley hit down the third base line, and Bullock should have had the ball in his hip pocket for a double play, but it went through him to left field, a run coming across and the other two men on second. Kading hit a fly to centre, and Shaughnessy doubled Craven at the plate.

Kirbat was sent up to hit for Powers in Ottawa's tenth and struck out. Nill, however, did better, when he went in to hit for Roberts, cracking out a home run.

Poor Crowd Out.

The receipts of the game were turned over to the Canadian hospital ship fund, but the fans did not show very much enthusiasm over the project, the poorest crowd of the season being out. The dark-threatening weather, of course, had considerable to do with the gathering.

OUR AIM is to sell ONE THOUSAND SUITS of these two lines. We are well over the five hundred mark now. We placed a heavy contract at sweeping reductions for quantity and cash, and renewed a repeat of it. Here's a clean saving of five to seven dollars on every suit. The store depending on a single maker or buying in small quantities is simply not in the running when it comes to such extraordinary value giving. Come and see. We are now the largest independent clothing buyers in Western Ontario. Our Mr. J. Dowler has been in the English markets for the past five weeks.

WE'RE ROUNDING UP ALL STRAGGLERS IN THREE OTHER MOBILIZATION SPECIALS

Winnipeg, August 20.—With no buying power on the market, wheat prices today eased off considerably. General sentiment prevails that while values may go much higher the advance for the present is high enough. A heavy movement is on the eve of starting, and this will depress prices to some extent.

Wheat opened unchanged to 1⅛c lower, and about noon had dropped from the opening point ⅞c to 2c further.

Oats were lower by ¼c to ⅜c at the opening and held steady. Flax opened at an advance of 2c to 3c and held firm.

Wheat closed 3½c to 3¼c; cash wheat, 3½c to 5½c lower.

The cash demand for wheat was good, Ontario millers only being buyers. Prices are out of line for export, and no business is being done.

Inspections—Wednesday, 75 cars, against 96 last year. In sight today, 85 cars.

Cash quotations:

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Wheat opened unchanged today, advanced 1⅝c to 2c, and then dropped back to 1c. Fluctuations were due apparently to sentiment rather than to anything in the news, and the volume of trade was small. Liverpool was lower and a private estimate made the Canadian crop 45,000,000 bushels under last year.

ANNOUNCEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

Exhibition of Celebrated Painting

BEGINNING FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, and for a limited time, we will have ON EXHIBITION, admission WITHOUT CHARGE, the world-famous

NATIVITY OF CHRIST

BY THE IMMORTAL BENJAMIN CONSTANT

Valued at $65,000

We take much pleasure in placing this celebrated painting in a specially prepared place on our Second Floor, that all may have the pleasure of viewing it to the best advantage. It has been on exhibition in all the largest cities, where thousands have admired it. It is one of the world's greatest art treasures. We invite you to enjoy this great art treat with us, which is entirely complimentary.

The Nativity of Christ

By Constant.

"The Nativity of Christ" was painted in Cairo, Egypt, 1887. It is a canvas 7x11 feet, the figures being almost life size. The shepherds who were guided by the star to Bethlehem are entering the open door.

The mother with the Babe in her arms sits on the straw in the middle foreground.

All the light in the little stable seems to shine forth from the Holy Child, and illuminates every object within its reach with a pale, soft light. Joseph kneels before the Mother and Babe, seeming awed at the sainted picture before him. Drowsy lambs and sheep are huddled in the soft shadows.

The turrets and round roofs of Bethlehem can be seen in the night through the open door. The picture is commanding and bears long acquaintance. Study its light and wonderful coloring before you go away from it.

M. Jean Joseph Benjamin Constant was born in Paris, France, June 10, 1845; died there May 26, 1902. He studied in the Ecole des Beaux Arts and under Cabonet; he has exhibited with growing distinction at successive Salons from that of 1860 with his "Hamlet," his "Samson" in 1872; his "Scenes from the Algiers," in 1873-4; his great historical painting of "Mahomet" in the Exposition of 1878 and in 1885, a large Oriental subject as melodramatic as possible with splendid rendering of the human figure and the strong effect of the color. Other noted canvases by him winning distinction are his "Holy Family," 1898, "Le Roidu Disert," a heroic canvas of Queen Victoria, a portrait of Mrs. J. J. Astor, Mrs. Walters and President McKinley. In fact, in the latter days of his career his portraits were so much in demand that he had time for nothing else.

His "Nativity" is really the most popular of all his works, because of the presence of love and reverence and the lack of dramatic horrors. This canvas is held now by its present owner at $65,000, and probably could not be bought for that sum. It is without question one of the most marvelous and unconvential works in the world.

It has been described by Meissonier thus: "It is alive; there are no mistakes in it."

We take much pleasure in placing this wonderful painting in a specially prepared place that all may have the pleasure of viewing it to the best advantage. It has been on exhibition in the largest cities, where thousands of people have admired it as a wonderful production of the artist's brush.

The figures—the lights—the colors—seem so real that one forgets that it is but a painting.

The "Nativity" is one of the world's greatest art treasures and is not alone interesting to the art circles but enjoyable to all.

PATRIOTIC CONCERT WELL PATRONIZED

Artists' Contribution to Red Cross Evokes Popular Response.

That sentiment in the city of London strongly supports the attitude England has taken in the European war, and that national patriotism and enthusiasm is not confined to any class, was demonstrated last night by the turnout of nearly 1,000 people, who patronized the patriotic concert in the Armories given in aid of the Red Cross Society and the hospital ship. Major H. A. Stevenson and Sergt.-Major Alf Burwell, who handled the tickets at the door, estimated the returns today as more than $600. That amount in cash has been secured with a great many tickets unaccounted for.

Harold Meek Delighted Audience.

The concert itself, arranged by Harold Meek, London's favorite baritone, delighted the large audience which made the large drill shed echo again and again with vigorous applause.

Besides aiding a worthy cause, those who attended the concert were fortunate in hearing classic music sung and played by the best artists in the city.

Caven Barron Accompanist.

Mr. Meek strengthened the program considerably by securing Prof. Caven Barron, of the Boston Conservatory of Music, as accompanist. Prof. Barron is spending his holidays in the city.

The singing of Miss Ruby Brock, soprano, was a great surprise to the audience, and delighted her friends. It was her first public appearance in London. She only recently returned from Germany, where she studied grand opera for three years. She arrived in London on the day Germany declared war against Russia. She was compelled to respond with several numbers not on the program. Her rendition of Puccini's "La Boheme" and "La Tosca" revealed her wide range of voice and mastery of expression.

Mr. Meek and Angelo Cortese, the harpist, who furnished other numbers on the program, were recorded a reception which told unmistakably that they were not strangers to a London audience.

Program Chosen With Taste.

Mr. Meek chose his program with good taste, and his singing added materially to the success of the evening.

The floral decorations were furnished by W. Gammage and Sons, the piano by Heintzman & Co., while privates attached to the different corps at the Armories volunteered their services as ushers.

All the details were well looked after, and the entire affair reflected great credit upon those who were in charge.

Per Cent Increase On Chief Items

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The percentage of increase in rates of duty and excise on the principal items in the war budget are as follows:

Raw sugar, 147 per cent; refined sugar, 93 per cent; canned fruits, 25 per cent; condensed milk, 15 1-3 per cent; desiccated cocoanut, 12½ per cent; bottled beer, 87½ per cent; beer in casks, 75 per cent; spirits, 25 per cent; manufactured tobacco, 20 per cent; cigars and cigarettes, 16 2-3 per cent. Excise on domestic products—spirits, 25 per cent; beer, cigars, tobacco, 50 per cent.

FULL SERVICE CORPS GOING TO FRONT

But Not as Unit, Is Latest Order to Sixteenth Company.

The entire Army Service Corps of this city has been ordered to the front.

A dispatch from military headquarters at Ottawa was received by Major W. G. Coles, in command of the corps, shortly after nine o'clock last night, under circumstances that were almost melodramatic.

The "select forty," those men of the corps who were to be allowed to go from London, were being picked by Major Coles in the big recreation room in the basement of the armories, while the benefit concert was going on above. Al lof the corps, 83 strong, wanted to go. About thirty men had been singled out, and there was bitter disappointment in the hearts of the remainder.

It was at this juncture that the dispatch stating that the entire corps would be taken instead of only 40; was handed in at the door by an orderly. Major Coles opened it and read its contents to the men.

A Dramatic Moment.

For several minutes there was wildest excitement. Men who had thought they were going to be denied the privilege of battling for the flag, when they realized that the order was for their special benefit, gave three cheers and a tiger for everybody they could think of. They became so hilarious that there was a danger that their genuine mirth would interfere with the concert in full swing on the drill floor above.

The receipt of the order does not change that phase of the arrangements that relates to the corps going as a separate division, however. The order specifically stated that the corps would not go as a unit.

In view of this fact, the dispatch does not affect to any great extent the officers of the corps. Two lieutenants will be selected, but the appointments have not been made as yet, according to information received last night, following the receipt of the instructions.

A subsequent order instructed that 30 riding horses and 73 draft horses be secured as soon as possible, to accompany the corps to Val Cartier, the mobilization centre.

Date of Leaving Not Set.

Dispatches conveyed no intelligence as to when the corps would be called away. The fact that more than 100 horses must be purchased, however, would go to show that the A. S. C. will not be called at once. The acquiring of sound horses will take up considerable time, and the unexpected order, which doubles the size of the contingent on a moment's notice, will necessitate additional work that obviously has not been taken into consideration.

On the arrival of the corps at Val Cartier the men will be merged into some other corps, it is stated, with the idea of bolstering up and bringing that unit to full war strength.

BATTERY GETS DOWN TO WORK

New Horses and Men Being Broken In to Gun Handling.

MORE ANIMALS SECURED

Three Hundred Are Being Purchased and Equipment Will Be Complete.

Owing to the floor of the drill hall at the armories being taken up by the chairs used at the benefit concert last night, regimental drill could not be held there this morning. The different companies of the Seventh Fusiliers were marching to Wolseley Barracks for their daily manoeuvres. The Army Service Corps was also inconvenienced in its drill and this morning was spent in parading the men in black through down-town streets and getting them accustomed to changing formations while on the march.

Dry Weather Helps

Better weather has allowed the Sixth (London) Field Battery, under canvas at Queen's Park to resume activities. The rain which fell intermittently during the last few days softened the ground to such an extent that gun work was at a disadvantage.

Today, however with better weather the "Sixth" got down to real business and men and animals were put through a stiff workout. Considerable attention is being given to physical exercises and the troopers are rapidly getting "into the pink."

More Horses Secured

A half dozen more serviceable horses have been added to the forty already in the possession of the battery. They were purchased by Dr. C. S. Tamlin and are being brought into the city for service with the battery.

Every effort is being made to get the required three hundred within the shortest possible space. No intimation has been received as yet as to when the "Sixth" will leave, but it is expected that another week will about conclude their bivouac here.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Charles Annis, was dismissed from police court this morning. During the Old Boys' week, Annis one night had walked mincingly across the main streets dressed in woman's clothes.

The walk was too mincing to please the traffic cop, who arrested him.

Using hard luck stories for a meal ticket, James Ward admitted in court this morning that he had lived in London for some time without working. He was fined five dollars or ten days in jail.

Charged with cruelty to animals by Adam Maguire, inspector of the Humane Society, Fred Riddle was fined $1 in police court this morning. Riddle drove a horse in his dray on Monday, August 17, with a sore back. On Wednesday he had the horse destroyed, losing $30. Magistrate Judd considered that the loss was sufficient punishment and levied a nominal fine of $1.

COMMITTEE APPROVE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Advocates City-Owned Garbage System—Estimates $13,000 Saving.

The board of control today received the report of the special committee of the city council which has been investigating the garbage system in the city. The report recommends a municipal system, and places the estimate of cost for same at $10,050 and annual running expenses of nearly $26,000. A saving of $13,000 is pointed out as one of the direct benefits of the municipal plant.

The committee declares that considerable time and labor could be saved if the city would adopt new and modern methods at the incinerator plant. It urges a further reduction in the cost of the present system by a rearrangement of carts, wagons and districts.

One of the most important recommendations is that the horses owned by Contractor Boss be purchased by the city in the event the municipal ownership idea was adopted. The value of the horses is to be arrived at "by arbitration or agreement."

The members of the board of control made no comment when the report came in, and the consideration of it in detail was put over until Monday, when each member will be provided with a copy.

ASKS EXTENSION

Street Railway Wants More Time to Put in Switch

The London Street Railway Company has asked the city for an extension of time in the laying of the Wharncliffe road switch. The switch was to have been laid about September 1, as a necessity to guarantee a ten-minute schedule on the Dundas street line. The company claims the stringency of the money market has hit it, and therefore ask the time be extended.

The city recently indicated that it was going to bury the hatchet with the company by calling off the checkers who were secretly taking note of the company's business, so the council would have the proper data in an investigation. The war and other things have softened the hearts of city officials, and there is every prospect that for the first time in its existence the street railway will not be on the municipal grill this winter.

WILL SUBLET WORK

Contractor for Big Storm Sewer Job Asks Relief from Council.

McKay, McKay & Webster, contractors, of Toronto, asked the board of control for its approval today on to over the storm-sewer work on Hamilton road, which is held under contract by T. W. Nicholson, of Cleveland. The Toronto firm is willing to take city debentures on public work, but Mr. Nicholson finds he cannot do so, but he is willing to sublet his job to the Toronto firm.

The board will probably approve the change when the papers are duly presented for their signatures.

LONDON TEACHER APPOINTED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WALLACEBURG, August 20.—C. J. McKinnon, of the Board of Education of Toronto, has been appointed principal of the public school, succeeding H. N. Shephard, of Toronto, who resigned. Miss Leila Taylor, of London, and Miss Annie Holloway, of St. Thomas, were appointed to the teaching staff.

RURAL CONCENTRATION IS NOW COMPLETED

Headquarters Announced That All Western Ontario Troops Have Been Gathered.

Concentration of all rural troops in Western Ontario is completed, according to information received at military headquarters today.

The various units, most of which entrained yesterday at the different recruiting stations, are now either on their way to Valcartier or have already detrained there and are under canvas.

It was stated this afternoon that no further instructions were at hand regarding the formation of a second contingent. It is thought probable that another fighting body from Western Ontario will be raised before long, probably for home guard work.

The action of the Seventh Fusiliers in continuing to enlist additional men, even after the volunteer list has been completed, goes to show that a second army in miniature is planned.

Meanwhile the countryside has resumed its normal tone, after the activity occasioned by the recruiting of men.

FRENCH SUCCEED IN KEEPING OUT GERMANS

Conclave at Rome Will Make Effort To Bring About Peace.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON Aug. 21.—1:20 a.m. — The Germans have at last occupied Brussels, but in Alsace they seem to be making no advance. The latest report is that the French have recaptured Muelhausen, and it still seems true that after eighteen days of fighting, there are no German troops on French soil.

On Germany's eastern frontier there has been considerable outpost fighting, which would indicate that the Russians are completing their work of concentration. There has, however, been no big collision in this region as yet. Austria is too much engaged with Russia, and with the need of helping Germany to make much progress in her campaign against Servia.

No Naval Movements.

No news whatever has been received of any naval movements, either in the North Sea or the Mediterranean.

The death of Pope Pius will be made the occasion for another effort to bring about peace. It is stated that when the conclave meets in Rome to elect a new pope it will send an appeal to the warring nations for peace, and will ask the United States to aid in bringing about tranquility.

Normal in German Capital.

According to the small amount of news that has been allowed to come from Berlin, something like normal conditions prevail in the German capital. The price of food is declining, and now the troop movements have been accomplished a resumption of general work on railways is beginning.

RED CROSS WILL BE ORGANIZED IN EACH CITY

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The Red Cross movement in Canada, for the administration to the sick and wounded in the campaign now raging on the continent, was given a start tonight when an enthusiastic meeting indorsed the objects of the campaign, and promised support.

His Royal Highness the Governor-General and the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia were present, and the Governor-General made his first public pronouncement since the beginning of hostilities.

He said that everything possible had been done to prevent the war, and while it was deplored, the empire was in honor bound to take its part. The chairman announced that the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways had arranged to carry all Red Cross supplies free.

It is hoped to have active Red Cross organizations in every city and town in Canada for the collection of subscription and supplies.

GREAT CROWD SAW MEN OF 33RD OFF.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GODERICH, Aug. 20. — A detachment of seventy men representing the Thirty-Third Huron Regiment entrained here today by G. T. R. for Val Cartier, Que., to join the Canadian war contingent. The detachment was in command of Lieut.-Col. Wilson, with Lieuts, Hodgson and Adams.

A great crowd headed by the band of the Thirty-Third Regiment, accompanied the boys to the station in a pouring rain and gave them a hearty send-off. The volunteers received a variety of gifts before leaving, including a wrist watch for each, presented by the Daughters of the Empire.

AEROPLANES INSTEAD OF CARRIER PIGEONS.

LONDON, August 20—10:10 p.m.—Aeroplanes now are playing the part in war, which formerly only carrier pigeons could perform, and seem to have greater possibilities than pigeons.

An official notification issued tonight to the people of England, requests them to be watchful for messages dropped from aeroplanes, describes the peculiar wrappings which will enclose messages, and instructs the finders to forward them immediately to the addresses they bear.

French aeroplanes scattered messages to the inhabitants of Alsace in the early days of the war, and the Russians adopted the same method for announcing the proclamation of Emperor Nicholas to the Poles.

TREACHERY BRINGS TERRIBLE CARNAGE

German Soldiers, Who Fired On French From Red Cross Houses, Were Slaughtered.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21—5:15 a.m.—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Belfort, by way of Paris, says:

"The battles around Muelhausen have been particularly bloody for the Germans, who, knowing the French would spare as much as possible the Alsatians and their property, hid themselves in houses protected by the Red Cross, whence they fired on the French.

"The French directed a violent rifle and artillery fire on their assailants, causing veritable carnage. Every German leaving these houses was shot down.

"A battery of six guns, with their caissons filled with ammunition, was captured from the Germans. They were taken to Belfort today, where crowds of curious townspeople gathered to see them. Eighteen other guns captured today are expected to reach Belfort tomorrow, together with 600 prisoners."

BRITISH BOMBARD AN AUSTRIAN FORT

Much Damage Done by Fleet to Cattaro — French Ships Support.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 21.—7:30 a.m.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Cettinje under yesterday's date says that a British fleet, supported by French warships, in conjunction with Montenegrin batteries on Mount Lovchen, on Wednesday bombarded the Austrian fortifications at Cattaro, greatly damaging them.

The correspondent adds that in an engagement between Montenegrins and Austrians in Bosnia the latter suffered 200 casualties. The British war information bureau has not confirmed these reports.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY CLOSES FLOWER SHOW

Final Day of Exhibit Attracted Large Attendance of Admiring Visitors.

The closing day of the London Horticultural Society's flower show in Hyman Hall, saw a large attendance. In the majority of cases the flowers of the first day were replaced by fresh ones, giving the exhibits an exceptionally fresh appearance.

More entries were made yesterday which turned the large hall into a bower of beauty.

The large collection of double and single petunias showed by W. H. F. Bartlett, of 29 Garfield avenue, called for much favorable comment. He has the best display of petunias at the show.

Mrs. (Sergt.) Birrell has a fine collection of phlox, which all visitors to the show admired. The success of the show is entirely creditable to the officers of the society. The flower shows are an attractive feature of the society's yearly program.

BUY IN CANADA SAYS M'CLARY'S MANAGER

Col. Gartshore Declares People Can Help Country's Industries.

Col. Gartshore, of the McClary Company, yesterday indorsed the "Buy in Canada" slogan, and added that if Canadians, in making purchases, would ask for goods manufactured in this country it would go far toward helping Canadian enterprises to run full time. Said Col. Gartshore, "I always make it a point to ask where the goods are made, and if they are not Canadian, I ask if they can get me the same thing made in this country."

The McClary Company received several large orders for camp kettles and enamelware from the Government, and are working day and night to fill the orders.

NO FURTHER ADVANCES

Wholesalers Say Food Prices Will Go No Higher.

That there would be no further change in the prices of food for the present was the intimation made yesterday at the office of T. R. Escott & Co., wholesale grocers. It was stated that so far as the firm could now tell prices would remain stationary and as normal conditions were restored the advance made on sugar, flour and a few spices and cereals would be taken off and the old prices would prevail.

It is admitted by local wholesalers that the panic of buying which seized the people directly after the declaration of war was responsible for the boost in price and with the demand for the more needed commodities falling off the old prices would soon prevail.

HOSPITAL DRUGS GO UP IN PRICE

Victoria Trustees Hear That Medical Supplies Will Advance.

The hospital trustees' meeting at Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon heard that the price of drugs had gone up from one to 400 per cent, and there will be a considerable change in the list price when the contract for the hospital supply, which expires this month, is renewed for another year.

Coal also threatens to take a boost, although the trustees can see no reason why the price of coal should change at all. In fact, everything which is supplied to the hospital under yearly contracts, with the exception of milk and eggs, will take a rise in price.

Notice from the dealers that they would change some prices when their contracts expired caused the trustees to say that tea, for which the hospital is paying 40 cents a pound, is, in many instances, not worth ten cents. The coffee was also said to be bad, while Trustee Meredith declared chicken and other meats, which had come under his observation when visiting the hospital, did not seem very appetizing for patients.

The trustees will advertise for tenders for yearly supplies, and their price list in the meantime will be revised by Secretary Heard and Trustee Screatoy.

The superintendent's report for the month of July showed the total receipts to be $4,117.47. The total number of patients admitted was 283, of which 82 were males, 116 females and 85 children. The total number discharged was 268, of which 70 were males, 121 females and 77 children. The number of deaths was 19, births 33, operations 103, and number treated at free dispensary, 105.

NO WORD YET FROM MISS FLORENCE EGGLESTON

Mother of Talented Violinist Anxious For Her Daughter's Safety in Germany.

No word has been heard lately from Miss Florence Eggleston, of 202 Hamilton road, the talented young violinist, who was in Germany when the war started.

The latest letter received by Miss Eggleston's relatives was dated July 29, and was written in the little village of Sanct Peter, a German summer resort on the North Sea. Miss Eggleston made no mention of war in her letter, devoting most of it to a description of the country's beauty and of the people. She was staying with the family of Prof. Hering, with whom she was studying.

Miss Eggleston's mother is very much worried at not receiving any news of her daughter, but recognizes the fact that Miss Eggleston would find great difficulty in communicating with her relatives, and is hoping that she has escaped to Holland, which is not far distant.

SEVENTH BAND CONCERT WILL CONCLUDE TAG DAY

Saturday Night Program To Be Given in Victoria Park in Aid of Hospital Ship Fund.

The Seventh Regiment Band will give a concert in Victoria Park Saturday night under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire, as a fitting climax to Flag Tag Day. A collection will be taken at the gates, and it is hoped that a large sum will be realized, in order that London's contribution to the hospital ship fund may not be behind the other cities' offerings.

Yesterday boxes were distributed to those who will endeavor to tag everyone in London on Saturday, and there is no doubt that nearly every Londoner will wear a flag tomorrow.

It is not necessary to make a large contribution for a flag. The Daughters of the Empire wish this fact emphasized and state that any contribution, however small, will be gladly and gratefully received.

ANXIOUS TO RETURN

School Teachers Abroad Hope To Be Back When School Opens.

Mrs. James Colerick, of 324 St. George street, is in receipt of a letter from her sister, Miss M. Nelles, one of the London teachers who are at present in England.

Miss Nelles states that at the time of writing (August 7) the teachers' chances of getting back to Canada were not bright, but that they were all hoping that matters could be arranged so that they could return early in September.

As the Atlantic ocean is practically safe at the present time, the chances are that the teachers will be back when school opens.

Antwerp's Trenches Are Preferable

Citizens Would Rather Face Them Than South London's.

The heavy rains of the past few days are causing the residents of South London to wonder if war-swept Belgium is worse off than they are. All summer long their streets have been dug up and the dust lay nearly a foot deep on the roads. The trenches in which sewer, water and gas pipes have been laid are settling from the rain. The dust has been reduced to mud, and the mud is over the ankle and nearly to the knee in depth. Some residents cannot get into their homes with an aeroplane. The "one step" is the most popular thing in getting across a street. He who "hesitates" is lost.

Some residents have gone so far as to tell the city engineer's office that they would rather be before the trenches of Antwerp than fall in the trenches of South London. Outside of all this, conditions remain the same, and the engineer's office is telling all complainant that they should be thankful it is no worse. Next year there will be a permanent pavement through South London, which will make the present conditions impossible.

BOY SCOUTS WILL ASSIST IN FLAG-DAY CANVAS

Arrangements Made at an Enthusiastic Meeting in Cronyn Hall.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Boy Scouts of London was held in Cronyn Hall last evening, when they arranged to patrol a district on Saturday to sell flags for the hospital ship fund, under the direction of the ladies who are conducting the Flag Day canvass.

Commissioner Dr. H. Reason presided at the meeting and discussed the present war crisis, and the affairs of the Empire, pointing out that every scout could do his part for the Empire if only by selling a few flags on Saturday.

District Scoutmaster G. F. Copeland arranged the program for the day and Rev. A. S. H. Cree will take charge of the district.

BUSINESS NOT HURT BY WAR, SAYS LONDON FIRM

R. H. and J. Dowler Believe Prospects for Canadian Trade Are Very Bright.

On August 14, the Lowndes Company, Limited, clothing manufacturers, sent out a circular letter to retailers, designed to encourage the latter not to join the ranks of those who had been stampeded by the unsettled financial conditions caused by the war, and to stay the cancellation of orders, which had begun. The Lowndes Company pointed out that Canada was harvesting a good crop, that, outside of the war, conditions were fairly good and that inevitable victory, which must come to the arms of the allies, would spell a new era of greater expansion and prosperity for Canada.

The first reply to this letter came from R. H. and J. Dowler, of this city. It showed the Lowndes Company that they were not alone in taking an optimistic view of the present situation. The letter was so reassuring and encouraging that the Lowndes Company are sending copies out to all the trade.

Referring to the manufacturers' letter on "war conditions" and "business," R. H. and J. Dowler, of this city, say:

"We are surprised at the necessity for it. No doubt, it was sent out because of the cancellation of orders by some weak-kneed merchants, stampeded by travellers suffering from the 'blues.'

"On the contrary, we never found business as good and we think that prospects for the future are very bright for Canadian trade, particularly so in Ontario. The difficulty with the merchants, we believe, will be to get the goods."

Parties having horses that will fill this bill should write or telephone immediatly to the Union Stock Yards, as the army inspectors will be on hand on Sunday morning at 9.30 to inspect all horses offered for sale. b

ENGLISHWOMEN BRAVE AS LOVED ONES GO TO WAR

But Frenchwomen Weep in the Streets, Says London Woman's Daughter.

Mrs. Fred E. Tobias, 30 Yale street, received a letter Wednesday, from her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Flynn, who, with her sister, Miss Ethel Tobias, was in Paris when war was declared.

Mrs. Flynn states that she had to stand six hours in front of the police department building and with people of all nations, awaiting her turn to declare her nationality before the prefect of police.

Mrs. Flynn noticed a great difference in the attitude that the women of France and England exhibited towards the departing of loved ones for the front. She states that the Frenchwomen walked the streets of Paris weeping and wailing, while the women of England said farewell to husbands, fathers and swee hearts with brave hearts and smiles on their faces.

Mr. and Mrs. Flynn left Paris on August 8 with little or no baggage. "We were lucky to get away even without our baggage," said Mrs. Flynn in her letter. The boats were crowded to capacity, while hundreds were left behind.

Miss Ethel Tobias has joined the American Ambulance Service in Paris and by this time is probably at the front. She volunteered and was accepted immediately, as she is a graduate nurse and has been nursing in Paris for some time.

Yesterday, Mrs. Tobias received a cablegram from Mrs. Flynn saying that she and her husband were sailing on the Victorian for this country.

G. T. R. CHIEFS FROM THE RANKS

How Big Railway System Develops Executive Officers.

TWO NOTED INSTANCES

Vice-Presidents Scott and Dalrymple Both Started With Clerkships.

The railways on the North American continent employ over a million and a half men, who are paid considerably more than a billion dollars in wages in a single year. These great enterprises demand the highest degree of efficiency and ability from their directing chiefs and managers, and our railway presidents are admittedly among the ablest men of the day.

But while they demand the utmost in individual services the railways offer to the ambitious and capable youth wonderful opportunities of advancement. It is from the ranks, and from the ranks alone, that the generals of the railway armies are chosen. The big Grand Trunk System affords some very striking instances of how ability plus industry can win recognition. Mr. E. J. Chamberlin has arisen from the position of timekeeper in the car shops of the Central Vermont Railway to the presidency of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways and their subsidiary companies, comprising nearly 9,000 miles of track. He has never spared himself, and has little use for the type of employee who has been described as knowing only two stations on the line, "Sundown" and "Payday."

Stepping Up.

The recent changes in the ranks of the vice-presidents of the Grand Trunk System led to the elevation of Mr. Frank Scott to vice-presidential rank. Thirty years ago, two boys entered the treasurer's department of the Grank Trunk. They were both Canadians, and both born in Montreal. Young Scott and young Dalrymple—for the other boy was J. E. Dalrymple, now the vice-president in charge of traffic on the company's lines—worked side by side for several years. Mr. Dalrymple was later transferred to the traffic side of the organization, and has gone from post to post on an ever upward grade until three years ago he was made vice-president, and was given the important task of looking after the company's freight and passenger traffic.

Mr. Scott, on the other hand, specialized on the financial branches of the railway's work and his recent promotion to the vice-presidency was a fitting recognition of his ability. This has already been marked by his being chosen president of the Society of Railway Financial Officers of America.

A Record.

Few railways can duplicate this record of having two vice-presidents who have risen from junior clerkships in the service, without having to leave the organization in which their had their first business training in order to win laurels. Their success should be an inspiration to the thousands of young employees in the company's system.

For, in the case of the Grand Trunk, these are by no means isolated examples of advancement from small positions to important offices. Many of the men now superintending the various branches of the company's operations have climbed step by step up the ladder. Another appointment announced this month was that of Mr. Walter Hardman Ardley as comptroller, in charge of all accounting. Mr. Ardley for the past six years has been general auditor of the system. He won his spurs and his experience right in the Grand Trunk offices. His schooldays were spent at the City of London College, under the shadow of St. Pauls Cathedral, and it was as a clerk in the audit office of the Grand Trunk that he began his railway career.

It is to the young men in service today that the directors are looking for their supply of executive officers in the future.

More Harvesters Wanted

Many thousands of men will be required from Ontario to help in the great work of harvesting the Western crop, and practically the entire task of transporting this great army of harvesters to the West will fall to the lot of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Excursions from points in Ontario to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run, and special trains operated, making the trip in about 36 hours and avoiding any change of cars or transfers. This will be a day shorter than any other route.

"Going Trip West," $12.00 to Winnipeg.

"Return Trip East," $18.00 from Winnipeg.

Good Times Ahead

THE sudden breaking out of war caused many to "run to cover." Like the chicken on whom the rose leaf fell, some of us became a prey to fear and were ready to declare "the sky is falling."

Now our vision is clearing, our alarm has fled, we have recovered our poise and our courage. We are seeing, also, our opportunity. Swiftly and almost overwhelmingly has come to us the perception of the fact that the competition of Continental Europe has been taken away. We are faced with a condition and an opportunity both tending to our advantage as a country of industry, agriculture and trade. Good times are ahead, if Canada and Canadians see and seize the present opportunity for enlarging their industries and trading.

We must be careful. We must have courage
