ITALIAN KING RATIFIES PEACE TREATIES BY A ROYAL DECREE

Pact Between Germany and the Allied Powers Becomes Effective Since the Third One of the Great Nations Signs Approval of Agreement—Italy Is First of Large Nations To Ratify Treaty With Austria.

Paris, Oct. 7.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy signed a royal decree ratifying the German and Austrian treaties yesterday, according to a Milan dispatch to the Eclair.

Ratification of the German treaty by the royal decree of the king of Italy virtually completes the steps necessary for putting into effect the pact between Germany and the Allied powers, which was signed at Versailles on June 28, and which stipulated it would become operative when ratified by three of the great powers. The British Parliament has already ratified the treaty, and the document now awaits only the signature of King George before becoming effective in Great Britain. Approval was given the convention by the French chamber of deputies last week and the senate is expected to ratify it on Friday or Saturday. The royal decree of the Italian monarchy must receive approval from the next parliament, which will meet at Rome on December 1, but it is considered certain there will be little trouble in securing concurrence.

Italy, by the reported action of her king, is the first of the powers to ratify the treaty with Austria.

STEEL TOWN OF GARY IS UNDER MILITARY RULE

Eleven Hundred Federal Soldiers Sent to Affected Area.

GOVERNOR MADE APPEAL

Call Was Issued When the Strikers Disregard the Mayor's Order.

Gary, Ind., Oct. 7.—Gary, the site of one of the United States Steel Corporation's greatest plants, affected for more than two weeks by the strike in the steel industry, today was under military control of approximately 1,100 federal soldiers, commanded by Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the central department of the army. Five hundred more troops, fresh from riot duty at Omaha, Neb., were on their way here by train. The call for federal troops was made by Governor Goodrich of Indiana, after thousands of strikers paraded and held mass meetings after being forbidden by the mayor, the police and the army. About 300 state militiamen stationed at Gary.

KING GEORGE SENDS SYMPATHY TO U. S. PRESIDENT AND WIFE

London, Oct. 7.—King George, who is greatly concerned over the illness of President Wilson, today sent his private secretary, Col. Clive Wigram, to the United States embassy to seek the latest news regarding the president's condition. Col. Wigram also was instructed to express His Majesty's sincere sympathy with President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson.

PRESIDENT WILSON BETTER. Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—President Wilson "showed further improvement" this morning after a very good night, and is anxious to get back to work, White House officials said.

BOLSHEVIK DEFEAT IS CONFIRMED BY MOSCOW WIRELESS

Stockholm, Oct. 7.—An intercepted Russian Bolshevik wireless message from Moscow confirms the report that the Bolsheviks have been forced to abandon the town of Dvinsk, between old Russia and Persia. The message received here from Riga, the Red troops evacuated the place after they had been defeated in violent fighting.

AN EQUAL CHANCE!

Fairness of The Advertiser's Puzzle Contest Is What Makes a Strong Appeal To Contestants.

Are you conscious of the fact that twenty-five days from tonight 50 people will have registered solutions of The Advertiser's puzzle that will entitle each of them to a prize? The only person who won't stand a chance of being among these 50 people is the man or woman who neglects to respond to the opportunity which is knocking at his or her door.

This contest as well as the puzzle presented to solve, is original with The Advertiser, and has been especially prepared along new lines for the profit and entertainment of the readers of this paper. As an entertaining diversion from the cares and thoughts of more serious things, these days when the times are all out of joint and the mind distraught, The Advertiser's "Own" puzzle will be found to perform a special and agreeable function.

You, Mr. and Mrs. Reader of The Advertiser, or any other paper, should not lose this opportunity to get into the "running" while the running is good. How to run, where to run, and what to run for will be thoroughly understood after reading the conditions in the complete announcement elsewhere in today's issue. Incidentally, it might be stated, the "running" is worth up to $64 to any man, woman or child who has the ability and perseverance to jump in determinedly and win. The only excuse for not doing so is lack of confidence in oneself, and it would be too bad to permit even that to detract this unusual opportunity to make $64.

A woman is apt to take first prize as a man, for her brain is just as active, and her application just as intense. In addition most women have a little more time to devote to it, and it would be too bad to permit even that to detract this unusual opportunity to make $64. It gives every person an equal chance, men, women, and even the children. Numerous writers have spoken about the interest they take in working out puzzles. There is a certain relaxation that comes through this diverting occupation. Most persons feel at times that they want to get off by themselves and concentrate on a book or on a problem; if, in addition to the pleasure they get from the effort, they also have a fair and honest opportunity to share in rich prizes they are spurred to do better work. Here you have the opportunity for both.

TODAY'S GAME LIKELY TO DEVELOP INTO A PITCHERS' BATTLE

Ruether and Kerr Will Be the Opposing Hurlers At Cincinnati Today.

THE REDS ARE JUBILANT

Manager Moran of Cincinnati Team Confident of Winning Pennant.

Cincinnati, Oct. 7.—Cincinnati today greeted her returning victorious baseball team, while everything was in readiness for a resumption of the world series of 1919 between the White Sox and Red Sox at Redland Field this afternoon. The forecast of the weather bureau for Cincinnati was fair and cool.

The victories of Manager Moran's men at Chicago have only added to the enthusiasm that was displayed here during last week, and today's attendance promises to be greater than ever, if such a thing is possible. The weather man was exceptionally kind during the two games played here last week, and indications were for fair weather, although the torrid baseball weather of last week can hardly be looked for.

The announcement that comes from Chicago that Moran will pitch Ruether today leads most of the fans here to believe that an additional game on Wednesday will not be necessary. Gleason of the visitors, will in all probability use Kerr, the pitcher that scored the only victory over the Reds.

DICK KERR, the White Sox's Last Hope.

that has thus far been tallied, and who held their practically lifeless, allowing them but three safeties.

A Pitchers' Battle. With Kerr and Ruether pitching, the game should develop into a pitchers' battle that might even exceed the work of the pitchers in the previous games, all of which have been good with the exception of the initial contest, when the Reds managed to connect freely with the lures of Eddie Cicotte.

The game of yesterday was the last in which the players shared in the proceeds of the game. The Reds won today, and should the Reds win today, the series will come to a close, thus ending in short order the chance of the club to make large financial returns. However, if the Sox win the two teams will do battle here tomorrow, and should the Sox again win, they will go back to Chicago tomorrow for the eighth game.

Crowds Gather Early. The crowds began to gather at the ticket office of Redland Field at daybreak today. The White Sox, three of the thousands of persons were in line. Only unserved seats and standing room tickets were for sale. The unserved seats having been purchased before the series opened. From the season in the American League, the largest crowd that has witnessed any game in Cincinnati would be at the ball park this afternoon.

The Lineup. The probable lineup for today's game will be: Cincinnati, C. Collins, 2b. E. Collins, 3b. Weaver, 3b. Jackson, 1b. Felsch, c. Knoff, ss. Risher, ss. Schalk, c. Ruether, p. Umpires—Evans behind the plate; Outley at first; Nallin at second; Rieger at third.

MANAGER OF WHITE SOX DECLARES HE IS 'SICK AT HEART'

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7.—Manager "Kid" Gleason of the White Sox, before leaving for Cincinnati, where the sixth game of the world series is to be played today with the Reds, said he was "sick at heart" over the way his men had played the game.

"I don't know what's the matter," said Gleason, "but I do know that something is wrong with my team. The team I had fighting in August for the pennant would have licked the Reds without a struggle. The bunch I have now couldn't beat a high school team. We hit something over 350 for the season in the American League, and now they are hitting us. The best hitting ball team ever did in the history of baseball. The way those 250 hitters acted against Eller, they couldn't make a place on a high school team. I tell you I am absolutely sick at heart. I certainly have been disappointed in this series. I have played baseball in a single game. There is only a bare chance they can win now."

"You know it doesn't seem possible that this team that worked so great for me all summer could fall down like this. I tell you I am absolutely sick at heart. I thought all of them were boys. I felt like a school teacher 'light' feet toward his pupils. I loved those boys for the way they fought for me this summer."

THE INDISPENSABLE MIDDLE-CLASS

Advertiser Illustration. Housewife—"All right, I'll give you more, but I warn you I'm about at the end of my tether."

ELLER'S FEAT IS ONE UNEQUALLED

Chicago, Oct. 7.—"Hod" Eller's work in striking out six men in a row, setting Gandhi, Risher and Schalk, in the second, and Williams, Leibold and Eddie Collins, in the third, constitutes a new world series record. It also is a feat that has been very seldom accomplished in any major league game.

Getting Collins was the most noteworthy, because he is not only a star batsman, and a left-handed batsman, but because the count on him was three called balls before a strike was pitched to him. Eller, also, had been out with a strain, with a bad spot on his arm, and he had been having fanned five men in a row before reaching Collins.

Eller's mark for the day, nine strikeouts, is not a series record, however. In the first game of 1912 set, "Woody" of Boston fanned eleven Giants.

Famous Pianist Abandons Art For Love of Country

Ignace Jan Paderewski Has Not Played Piano For Over Two Years.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Interviewed after the signature of the Austrian treaty, Ignace Jan Paderewski volunteered the information that he had abandoned his art to play the piano. The journalist, after asking the Polish premier numerous questions relating to the political situation in Poland, finally queried: "And your art, Mr. President, have you given it up completely?" "Yes," replied the former artist, "I have forgotten it. I have little time to devote to it now. I have been playing for two years and three months. I do not regret it. I am happy to have sacrificed to the cause of my country what I held most dear."

PROLIFIC BREEDERS OF BOLSHEVISM IS RABBI WISE'S VIEW

Notes Educationist Flays Head of Steel Corporation and His Associates.

New York, Oct. 7.—Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of the Free Synagogue, who bitterly attacked Albert H. Gary and other associates in the United States Steel Corporation, as "among the most prolific breeders of Bolshevism" during the course of the strike, declared yesterday that, if necessary, he is ready to go to Pittsburgh and deliver the same address.

After condemning the "industrial serfdom of the steel and iron workers," Rabbi Wise declared the situation has developed into a conflict between the eighteenth and twentieth centuries. "The eighteenth century is going to lose," said the clergyman. Dr. Wise charged that the officials of the steel corporation had "sacrificed and terrorized the workers through coercion and violence. He wound up by saying: 'If I am living here they have redress and they know where to find me.'"

QUEBEC FIRE-EATER FLAYS UNION GOVT. AND FINDS FAULT WITH LIBERALS

Laverne Approves General Outline of Hon. Mackenzie King's Policy.

BUT STOPS AT THAT

Declares He Will Not Become Slave of Any Party or Chief.

Quebec, Oct. 7.—Criticism of the Liberal program as mapped out at the Ottawa convention is launched out in a letter written by Mr. Armand Laverne to the committee of Liberals formed to organize for the coming bye-elections. The Liberals of this riding formed a committee from whose ranks delegates will be chosen to form the convention that will on Wednesday evening choose the Liberal standard bearer in Quebec East. The committee before allowing candidates to seek the support of the Liberal party in Quebec East, requested from each a declaration of allegiance to Mr. Mackenzie King as the chief and to his political faith, and to this Mr. Laverne answered in a letter that professes acid criticism to both the Union Government and the Liberals.

Approves General Lines. "Although I approve in its general lines the policy of Hon. Mackenzie King, and of the Liberal party," says Mr. Laverne, "and although I am a decided adversary of the present Government at Ottawa, I do not wish to be the slave of any chief or party."

Mr. Laverne says he cannot be brought to endorse the war measures that passed, he says, by the complexity of the Conservative Government and the Liberal Opposition, and which allowed the worst abuses during four years. Only a couple of Liberals, he says, opposed such a declaration of allegiance to Mr. Mackenzie King as the chief and to his political faith, and to this Mr. Laverne answered in a letter that professes acid criticism to both the Union Government and the Liberals.

WIDOW OF MURDERED FEUDIST FEARS SHE IS MARKED TO DIE

Widow, Two Sisters-in-Law, Now Wait in Terror for the Next Blow.

GIANNOLA IS BURIED

Bereaved Woman Only One of Family at Grave; Others Behind Locked Doors.

Detroit, Oct. 7.—Sam Giannola, vanquished feudist, was laid to rest Monday morning. But the deadly thing that struck him down still lives, and the heirs to the vengeance that dug a grave for the Sicilian chieftain—the widow and her children—are cowering in the shadow of the black hand that is bent upon wiping out the house of Giannola.

With the funeral of the latest victim of the feud, the survivors recalled more keenly the fact that a few days before the leader of "Little Sicily" fell before a fusillade of bullets, both he and his brother, Nito, received written warnings that the Giannola family to the last child, was to be destroyed.

Fear Haunts Widows. And now, despite efforts to fight off the fear that haunts them, they are facing themselves "Who will be next?" Three women whom the feud has made widows look over their broods with fearful eyes—and terrified hearts—

"Which one?" The funeral of Sam Giannola, who was killed Thursday afternoon, took place from the family home at Ford City, Mich. The women, who were gathered there for simple services, the room in which the grey-haired widow of Sam Giannola, the widow of Tony Giannola, who fell before feudists ten months ago, and the widow of Sam Giannola, who fell before the chiefs two months after Tony was killed, were huddled together in the room of the three grief-stricken women—21 of them.

Cries for Vengeance. As the assemblage stood outside the house of mourning, just as the casket was brought forth, the widow of Sam Giannola flung her arms skyward, and cried out in her native tongue. Relatives interpreted the demonstration as a call upon heaven to send down vengeance upon those who had killed her husband.

Then the procession moved off, with a band playing a death march in the street. It led to St. Patrick's Church, Wyandotte, where Rev. Fr. Leo Roberts celebrated high mass.

Throughout the ceremony the widow of Sam Giannola, who had acted as bodyguard for Giannola, until he had deemed them no longer a threat to his safety, stood by his side, and now they have sworn to guard their dead chieftain's children. But the widows fear.

STRIKE AT KINGSTON LOCOMOTIVE PLANT COMES TO AN END

Men Accept Company's Offer and Resume Work.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Kingston, Ont., Oct. 7.—The strike of metal workers at the Canada Locomotive Works, which has paralyzed the industry, is over, and citizens are rejoicing. The strike started on May 3, and this morning the plant resumed operation for the first time since that date. The strike involved 650 men, and the bulk of them will be back at their work by the end of the week. The men are accepting the company's offer, which is 50 hours' pay for a 45-hour week. This means a 10 per cent increase in wages.

MORE THAN 300,000 TURKISH NATIONALISTS PRECIPITATE A GRAVE CRISIS IN ASIA MINOR

Troops Under Control of Mustapha Kemal Bring On Serious Situation That Is Believed To Be Beyond Control of the Turkish Government—Allied Powers Not in a Position To Interfere.

Paris, Oct. 7.—Turkish nationalist troops, said to number upwards of 300,000 men and commanded by Mustapha Kemal, seem to have precipitated in Asia Minor, on a major scale, a crisis similar to that which arose in Dalmatia when Capt. Gabriele d'Annunzio seized the city of Fiume.

There is a feeling that the situation in Asia Minor has gone beyond the control of the Turkish Government and that the Allied powers are helpless, at present, to do anything to bring military pressure to bear and afford any appreciable relief. There are some who question whether the powers are sufficiently united or inclined to intervene. Konial, an important railroad centre, is in the hands of the Turkish nationalist troops. This city, which in the days of Roman power was known as Iconium, and was capital of the province of Licaonia, stands in a position which virtually dominates southern Asia Minor.

REV. WILLIAM IVENS IS NOMINATED FOR WINNIPEG MAYORALTY

OPENS NEGOTIATIONS. Paris, Oct. 7.—General Ali Riza Pasha, the new Turkish grand vizier, has opened negotiations with Mustapha Kemal, the Turkish nationalist leader, whose troops recently took possession of the city of Fiume, according to a dispatch from the special correspondent of L'Information at Constantinople.

Eight other Germans are also to be extradited, the writer states.

Count Bismarck is accused of having had 14 inhabitants of the village of Vicoigne shot "as an example" of burning several houses there. Similar charges are preferred against the others whose extradition is demanded.

Deceased on a vacation in November, 1908. Mr. Deakin again assumed control of the Federal Government in June, 1909, at the head of a coalition of free traders, protectionists and anti-Socialists formed against the latter party.

He was completely defeated in the general elections in April, 1910, and resigned as premier.

ADVOCATES PERMANENT CENTRAL TRADES UNION

London, Oct. 7.—Chairman Gosling of the mediation committee in the recent railway strike asked the members of the central trades union committee, empowered to deal with the Government in all negotiations, "What movement will break the bounds of chaos?" The result of Sunday's settlement of the railway strike merely turned aside the pole of the wedge, which labor was ready to drive home.

MY WORD, HOW THOSE ENGLISH WOMEN SMOKE!

[Associated Press.] London, Oct. 6.—Cigarette smoking is on the increase in England, especially among women, according to experts. One estimate places the demand for cigarettes at twice what it was before the war. Women smoke a good deal more than formerly. It is said one tobacco man, "and some of them can't even hang out the washing unless they have a cigarette in their mouth."

Y. M. C. A. TEAMS IN $25,000 CAMPAIGN, MEET AT BANQUET

Enthusiasm prevailed at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. last night of 125 of the 200 men organized to carry on a campaign to secure $25,000 for the Y. M. C. A. The plans of the campaign and instructions were read to the assembly, and each man was assigned to his division and team.

Supper was served at 6:30. A unique plan was followed in seating the crowd. Each of the four divisions was assigned to a separate table, and each team in a group by itself. Every team was given the name of the make of some automobile, giving the race for the honor of the Y. M. C. A. A placard bearing the name of the group and its captain indicated their assigned places at the table.

While supper was being served the assembly was entertained by the male quartet of the First Methodist Church, and everyone joined heartily in singing popular songs.

George Reid, acting as chairman, kept things stirred up, and there was no lagging. He introduced the secretary, T. Jenkins, from Toronto, then said he believed that the Y. M. C. A. is absolutely essential to the community, and any city without one is a joke.

J. S. Barnard, chairman of the school board, gave a short but inspiring talk on how the organization helps fill the spiritual life of the community with material things. He bid the campaigners goodnight.

Rev. Dean N. L. Tucker, the next speaker, complimented the Y. M. C. A. on its acquisition of so splendid a staff, and the plans to be added for the campaign. "We must strike deeper than these outward organizations," he asserted. "We must strike the heart of the Y. M. C. A. is the value of man and the infinite value of human life. We know from experience that the Y. M. C. A. are foundation-stones of prosperity in communities. The Y. M. C. A. saves men and helps them to save themselves."

"We have swimming pools, gymnasiums and tennis lawns, all these are useful, but never let us forget the spiritual aspects of man, and that he is the son of God, and that he is to be raised by lowering our standards, but by raising them still higher. So lift your standards as high as possible and keep them there."

W. K. Wendell, in replying for the Y. M. C. A., said that the spiritual staff of the work is not forgotten by the staff. He stated that the program drawn up for the year is an exceptionally strong one, and will necessitate the outlay of a considerable sum of money. A small deficit had been carried since the first two years of the war, and that by increasing the objective 25 per cent over last year it would be possible to clear up the debts. He said that this campaign was an annual affair, because an institution of this kind cannot be self-sustaining. If it were, the membership fee would be $25 to $30—a rich man's club. The boys who cannot afford money are helped to become members.

George Reid advised the canvassers, telling them how they might increase the amounts solicited. Mr. Wendell issued a challenge on behalf of his division to the Y. M. C. A. of the city to a prize to be given to the one of the two making the highest return Tuesday night. The challenge was accepted.

A supper is to be given each night to the canvassers, at which their results of the day will be turned in and chalked up. The kind campaign will last three days, during which only business establishments will be called upon.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO - PHOSPHATE

Guaranteed To Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; they are conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation which will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing. Weak, tired people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace dejection and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks are replaced by a glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the pink use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks.

CAUTION.—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advt.

Some day they will say to you: "I am glad you taught me how to save."

FARMER-LABOR CHOICE

JOHN SCOTT, Labor-Farmer candidate in North Oxford.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL EFFORT TO FEATURE I. O. D. E. RALLY HERE

One Hundred West. Ont. Chapters To Be Represented At Gathering Here.

The hundred chapters of the I. O. D. E. in Military District No. 1 will have their annual rally in Croydon Hall on Thursday, Oct. 3, when they will welcome the new president of the order, Mrs. Bruce of Toronto, and discuss with her plans for after-war work.

During the last four years the members of the society have labored to the utmost of their ability in the service of the men in the army and navy, especially those from Canada. In this city alone they have raised in money and material at least $100,000, while village chapters have done a patriotic work fully equal to that done by those in the city.

And now that the war is over the work of the members will not cease. Their energies may be directed to other plans. They are still looking after the interest of the sick and wounded soldiers in the local hospitals, providing them with comforts necessary to relieve their distressing conditions.

Periodic shipments of materials go to Halifax for the benefit of the sailors. One of the important matters now under consideration is the promotion of child welfare, and with the approval of the trustees of the I. O. D. E. Victoria Hospital it is proposed to erect and equip a wing or building for sick, which would include a scheme for chronic disease or deformity. At present there is no such institution in the city, and the need for one in this section is being emphasized on all sides.

This matter will be discussed at the rally, and it is expected that not only the Daughters of the Empire in No. 1 district, but also the scheme, which has hearty support, but that all benevolent organizations as well as the municipalities and individuals will render material assistance.

THIEVES ENTER TWO STORES AT ST. MARYS

ST. MARYS, Oct. 6.—The drygoods store of A. H. Loft & Co. was broken into on Sunday night from the rear window and exit was made through the cellar basement door. Some silk shirts, ties, socks and other articles were taken. In their hurry the thieves left some chocolate bars on the counter, which evidently had been taken from the grocery of M. Fleming.

This store also had been broken into, entrance being obtained through a rear window and exit made through a rear door, the locks of which had been broken. The discovery was not made until daylight this morning by nearby residents.

INGERSOLL HONORS LIEUT.-COL. GIBSON

INGERSOLL, Oct. 6.—At the meeting of the council tonight a civic welcome was tendered to Lieut.-Col. Gibson. He was given the mayor's chair and a resolution of welcome was moved by Councillor Skinner. Buchanan spoke briefly, emphasizing the honor which Lieut.-Col. Gibson had brought to Ingersoll.

Replying Lieut.-Col. Gibson said that much of his military success was due to the fact that he had with him the best men in the world. He praised Ingersoll for what she had done for the town, and on behalf of the men who came back and himself he thanked the citizens.

Weak, tired people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace dejection and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks are replaced by a glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the pink use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks.

CAUTION.—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advt.

LEAVE DEFENCE OF FARE BYLAW TO STREET RAILWAY

City Council Decides by 6 to 5 Vote On Issue.

COUNCIL IS DIVIDED

Line-Up Similar To One Voting For Bylaw in Summer.

Defence of the higher fare bylaw will be left entirely to the Street Railway Company, the city council decided last night by a vote of six to five, on a motion by Ald. W. A. Wilson. The decision followed after a fiery discussion. One faction claimed that the city solicitor, T. G. Meredith, should defend the actions which have been entered against the city. The other believed that as the street railway had agreed to handle any legal action it should be allowed to do so.

Ald. S. R. Manness was the first to claim that the city solicitor should look after the case. Ald. Moorhead followed, and moved that such action be taken. He said that in making any attempt to defend the action, the city was acting against the advice of the solicitor, as he had declared that the bylaw was illegal.

Charges Hedged. Ald. O. T. Cunningham said the former speakers were only hedging with the question. Mr. Meredith was only an advisory solicitor and the council was not bound to have him defend legal actions. In less than three months the people would have a vote on the matter and he thought the matter could well be left alone until that time.

What do you mean by hedging? I never hedged on anything in my life," replied Ald. Moorhead. The mayor called for order and Ald. Cunningham continued, stating that he didn't think the city should defend the bylaw.

Merely Official Notice. Ald. Seabrook inquired whether the company had not yet agreed to reimburse the city for any expenses incurred in connection with the bylaw. He said that he would not defend such actions. Ald. Holmes said that this contention was correct. Ald. Seabrook said that the thing in only one light. The street railway had given its word that it would defend any suits and the council was merely giving them official notice that action had been entered against the bylaw. Ald. Holmes said the council had nothing in writing from the city solicitor to the effect that he would not defend another solicitor defending the action.

"He is not our solicitor in any case until he is appointed," said Mayor Somerville. He agreed not to act because he had declared the bylaw illegal. After such a statement he could hardly defend an action against it.

"Insult to City." "It is an insult to the wealth and dignity of the city to ask a private corporation to defend against legal actions," said Ald. Holmes. Ald. Manness said that if the city solicitor was not willing to take the necessary action he should be asked for his resignation. Ald. Holmes believed it was likely the city solicitor would advise the city to take no action and to allow the case to go by default. "That's just what the motion says—do nothing," remarked Ald. Colbert.

Left To Street Railway. "We leave all action to the street railway," said Ald. Wilson. The matter was referred to the city solicitor. This was defeated by a vote of 6 to 5. Ald. Wilson's motion that the matter be left to the street railway was next put to the council. For the motion were Ald. Little, Harley, Cunningham, Drake, Wilson, and Colbert. Against the motion were Ald. Manness, Holmes, Watkinson, Moorhead and Seabrook. Ald. Keene was absent.

There was practically the same line-up when the bylaw was passed by the council this summer, except that Ald. Colbert, as a street railway employee, did not vote, and Ald. Keene was present and voted for the bylaw. Ald. Seabrook wanted to know whether Ald. Colbert could vote now, as he had not voted before.

Cheap Tickets Continue. "The matter is closed now," said the mayor. There were several other matters pertaining to the street railway company. Manager C. E. King gave his assurance to the council that for the remainder of the time daylight saving is in force the company will sell workmen's tickets from 6 a.m. to 8 a.m., standard time, and from 3 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., standard time. The bylaw calls for these tickets to be accepted between 6:30 and 8 a.m., so an extra 30 minutes are allowed.

Order Paving. The immediate paving of Rectory and Stanley streets was ordered, which will mean that the Street Railway Company will have to co-operate in the work. Manager C. E. King stated that he did not think the company could secure the necessary material to begin the work until the fall, but he would see that the street railway was concerned was a physical impossibility this year.

The council decided to order the restoration of the belt line service on the Ottawa car line, doing away with the stub line which has been operating on Rectory street for some time.

Want Excess of Par. In reply to a question from Ald. F. E. Harley, Mayor Somerville said that he had been in communication with the Street Railway company in regard to purchasing the road and had reported to the special committee on the matter. Nothing satisfactory had been received, he stated. The company wanted a large amount of money for its stock, and he told them that the city could consider no higher price than par. He suggested that this might be used as a minimum price as a basis of negotiation. The company replied that this would not be satisfactory.

C. P. R. CONDUCTOR FINED. William, Ont. 6.—A Canadian Pacific Railway conductor, E. W. Downey was fined $500 in the provincial police court for having accepted a secret commission. A sleeping car porter, A. H. Rudock, was fined the same amount on a similar charge. Rudock was unable to pay, and was sentenced to jail for six months. Two other conductors were remanded until Tuesday.

How Much Tobacco Will My Heart Stand

A Question Vital to Every Man Who Smokes or Chews

IT MAY COST A PRECIOUS LIFE TO FIND OUT BY EXPERIMENT.

The heart of every user of tobacco beats a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights a losing battle for supremacy. As long as the heart wins the battle, when it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others; therefore, some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day
by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigar, or chewing tobacco is taking a man-made chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results.

But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more will-power than they have, and cannot suffer that they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit make it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you, and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence.

If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it, go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you; then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day, and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished, and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure, to quit.

Note—Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days time, and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We refused the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy had possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists. (C)

RANKS OF STEEL STRIKERS HAVE NOT BROKEN YET

But Several of the Smaller Plants Reported To Be Starting Up.

BOSSSES DISAPPOINTED

Had Hoped For Signs of Defection Among Men by This Time.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 6.—A break in the ranks of the steel strikers hoped for by some of the companies did not come about today when the third week of the struggle opened, but reports came in from different sections of the striking area of a number of smaller plants.

These were at Donora, Pa., where the old, blooming and zinc mills of the American Steel and Wire Company were placed in operation after being idle since the strike began, and at Monessen, Pa., where the Pittsburg Steel Company, the Page Steel and Wire Company and the Monessen Foundry Company also put to work men who applied for their old jobs.

The Wierston Iron and Steel Company also started up part of its plant at Wierston, W. Va., while a few departments in mills in the city of Pittsburg were claimed to be in operation on a small scale.

No Stamped.
Strike headquarters said that if any serious attempt was made to cause a stampede of workers back to the mills it was a failure. It was asserted by reporters that none of the plants reported to have started up today had many men at work, and that they were not turning out in large numbers.

There were no reports today of the Carnegie Steel Company, the largest subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, to start up its idle plants.
Little change was noted in the works of that company, it was reported, but it continued to be maintained by operating officials that more men were applying for work every day.

Union headquarters have denied a report from Coatesville, Penn., where one of the plants of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company is situated, that organizers there had advised men to return to work, and that the strike in Coatesville is ended.

At Homestead union organizers report that the big works there are continually losing men. It was given out by strike leaders that very little finished product is leaving the plant.

In a summary of the general strike situation sent out to all secretaries, organizers and steel strikers by the national headquarters tonight figures are given as of October 6, indicating that 367,000 men are on strike. This is an increase of 88,500 compared with the figures given out by headquarters just after the strike started.

MAJOR POISSON NAMED BY N. ESSEX TORIES

WINDSOR, Oct. 6.—North Essex Conservative at a convention at Tecumseh this afternoon nominated
Major Paul Poisson for the Legislature with practically no opposition. Dr.
Fred Parke of Amherstburg, Lieut.-
Col. Casgrain of Windsor and Decies
Gott, also of Amherstburg, were suggested tentatively, but withdrawn without a ballot being taken, and Major Poisson's nomination was made unanimously.

Col. Casgrain told the delegates that the "Liberal party was rent in twain," and predicted Major Poisson's triumphant return on this account. In his speech of acceptance Major Poisson made a brilliant address, speaking in both French and English.

Eleven Claim Credit For Originating the War "Tank" Discovery

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The controversy between rival claimants for the honor of having invented the army tank, used with such signal success in the great war, will have a hearing before the British commission on awards to inventors tomorrow. Eleven claimants will appear before the commission. Winston Churchill, minister of war, will be among the witnesses called to the stand in an effort to settle the controversy.

BOYS OVERSEAS GOT "PORK AND BEANS" WITHOUT THE PORK

With Pebbles.

A WAR CONTRACT

D. D. McKenzie Wants Probe
Into Dominion Cannery Affairs.

[Special To The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—If there is truth in allegations supporting a resolution moved this afternoon in the House by D. D. McKenzie for the production of correspondence between the government and the Dominion Cannery Company, it would appear that one of the grossest and most glaring examples of war profiteering in the history of the war has been perpetrated.

Mr. McKenzie said he had been informed that the Canadian Cannery had provided 36,000,000 cans of pork and beans for the boys at the front in which there was no pork and in which the beans sometimes had themselves mixed liberally with pebbles. It had been stated, he said, that the cans themselves were of poor quality, and in some cases poisonous; that the factory was dirty, and that on one occasion a sewer had leaked into it, and that the company had received thousands of dollars in drawbacks from the cannery department, which was not used for that purpose.

The Liberal house leader declared that he understood that the company had reached the minister of justice and the attorney-general of the province of Ontario, but nothing had been done.
Carloads of Gravel.

In some cases, alleged Mr. McKenzie, there were four or five pebbles. On that basis he declared there must have been carloads and carloads of gravel in the 36,000,000 cans of alleged pork and beans supplied. As a matter of fact, he said, the company had been inspected by the government, and found that care should be taken that the company "canned beans, and not gravel."

He read a letter from R. R. McColl, inspector of Simcoe, written to the Milton Horsey Company in April, 1917.
This letter contained the following extract: "At 8:30 p.m. I forbade them using anything on the floor, and it was put in boxes and set by the door, apparently to be removed, from the premises in the morning."

There was evidence, said Mr. Mc-Kenzie, that stuff was being canned which should not have been sent as food to any soldier, much less to the boys at the front. In addition to the complaints which he mentioned, he had heard that the British Government had registered complaints with the justice department, and that these complaints had been transferred to the attorney-general of Ontario. Nothing appeared to have been done.

Hon. J. Doherty "had no knowledge of any contract between the Government and the Dominion Cannery." He understood, however, that the company had one with the British authorities. Certain complaints had been made to the manner of the fulfillment of the contract, but he thought these had regard to quantities, rather than to quality. He had never heard of stones being used.

Mr. McKenzie declared that the matter should be thoroughly investigated.

Lipton Issues Challenge For Another Race

New York Yacht Club Probably Will Agree To Contest in 1920.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Sir Thomas Lipton has again challenged the New York Yacht Club to a race for the America's cup. The club announced today that the challenge had been received from the Royal Ulster Yacht Club on behalf of Sir Thomas. The yacht named in the offer is the Shamrock IV. No answer to the challenge has been made, but the American cup committee, which has the matter in charge, will meet within the next two weeks. It is expected the challenge will be accepted and a contest arranged for 1920.

Railway Strike in Britain Will Have Its Good Effects

Emergency Organization Will Help Clear Dock Congestion.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—An important sequel to the railway strike will be the elimination of the congestion at British docks and railways, which ever since the war has been the subject of serious public complaint, and has been held largely responsible for the failure of proper distribution to dealers of foodstuffs.

The London newspapers have pointed out that the war organization which so successfully maintained supplies during the strike could speedily remove the congestion, and the Government has acted promptly on this suggestion and announces tonight the retention of the lorry service for this purpose.

WILSON STILL IMPROVING.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The bulletin issued by Dr. Grayson, President Wilson's physician, at 10 o'clock tonight, said:
The president had a fairly comfortable day with a slight improvement.

CENTRE HURON AGAIN CENSURES WM. PROUDFOOT

Liberals Choose J. M. Goven-lock, Farmer—Former Leader May Run As Independent.

[Special To The Advertiser.]
SEAFORTH, Ont., Oct. 6.—J. M. Goven-lock was nominated here this afternoon by an enthusiastic crowd of Liberals gathered in the opera house, to run for Centre Huron.

William Proudfoot of Goderich, former leader of the Opposition, has represented Centre Huron since 1908. Dissatisfied with his stand on Union Government, the association at a former meeting passed a resolution censuring him. Mr. Proudfoot has since declared he will contest the riding as an independent candidate.

President Mr. Murdie presided. Secretary James L. Killoran submitted the report of the credential committee, showing a full representation from all parts of the riding. A letter from Mr.
Proudfoot was read justifying his conduct. A resolution was moved to rescind the former vote of censure on Mr. Proudfoot. This received short shift from the meeting, fully 95 per cent showing their utter disapproval of the action of Mr. Proudfoot.

J. D. McGregor, a farmer of Halton County, addressed the meeting, dealing chiefly with the neglect of the agricultural interests by the Hearst Government. He also scored Sir Wm. Hearst on his temperance record, showing that his government was responsible for the votes and money of the liquor men in 1914.

A number of men and two women,
Miss Mabel Ballie of Colborne, and Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter of Goderich, were nominated, but all withdrew. Mr.
Govenlock, farmer of McKillop Township. The convention by standing vote made the nomination unanimous.

Grand Army Vets. Ask Representation Before Committee

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—The special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment resumed its work this morning.
A telegram from the president of the Grand Army of Canada, Toronto, demanding representation before the committee was read. A similar request has been received from Vimy Post, G.
A. C., Montreal. A letter was this morning received from the president of the latter post refusing the suggestion that Mr. MacNeil act as representative. The president's letter said that Mr. MacNeil was not considered efficient enough, and the post wanted representation by a member of its executive.

The committee will ask the president of the Grand Army of Canada to appear here and advise the Montreal post of the arrangement.

Jail, Bail, Wreck, Figure in Life of St. Thomas Man

William White Escapes Death
Only To Face Non-Support Charge.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 6.—Narrow escapes and excitement have filled Wm.
White's life in the last few days. Today White, who is employed by Judson Barker, drayman here, was released from jail on $2,000 bail after pleading not guilty to non-support of his wife.
Only three days ago White narrowly escaped sudden death when an auto in which he was driving was struck and wrecked by a Michigan Central passenger train north of Aylmer. He was uninjured.

White was arrested today on information laid by his wife charging him with failure to provide necessary money for her support. He was remanded to jail for one week by the magistrate, but was released later on bail pending a court hearing.

MOTHER ABANDONS BABE AT WINDSOR

WINDSOR, Oct. 6.—A baby girl seven weeks old was left on the doorstep of Albert O. Janisse, Randolph and London streets, some time last night. A note pinned to the child's clothing stated that the mother was unable to give proper care to the infant. The Children's Aid Society will care for the baby until a home is found for it.

Says Spain Will Be Republic When Treaty Is Signed

SARAGOSSA, Spain, Oct. 6.—Alejandro Lerroux, leader of the Republican party in Spain, declared at a meeting here that the signing of the peace treaty would bring about a change in the regime of Spain, which would become a republic. He declared that in the event of a revolution he would check any excesses.

SINN FEIN PRISONERS START RIOT IN DUBLIN

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—Forty Sinn Fein prisoners, including 26 brought from Cork prison, began rioting today in Mountjoy prison after a hunger strike.
They smashed the windows and furniture in their cells. Several prisoners were injured before the disturbances were quelled.

Intolerance or Compromise? A Challenge to Common Sense!

DON'T let anyone tell you that the issue on October 20th is "The Beer or the Boy"—"Is Alcohol a Poison or Not?"—"Economy or Extravagance"—any such an abstraction.

The plain situation is—three sections of the people of this Province are absolutely dissatisfied with the Ontario Temperance Act and want new legislation that will permit the sale of light beer and wine generally, and the sale of pure, spirituous liquors only through Government agencies.

These three sections of the population are ninety per cent. of organized labor, by actual vote; a large number of returned soldier organizations, by actual vote; thousands of the rank and file of the electorate who have joined the Citizens' Liberty League.

The plain issue then is—Are you going to vote for the safe, sane, fair compromise that these men and women want; or, are you going to insist on the retention of the unsatisfactory Ontario Temperance Act —insist on the retention of legislation that is breeding and will continue to breed dissatisfaction and discontent among our workers, returned men and a large section of the citizens generally?

Which are You for—Compromise and Harmony, or Intolerance and Widespread Resentment?

Study the ballot and analyze the situation conscientiously. This is one of the most vital concerns you have just now—a settlement of Ontario's vexed temperance problem that will be in the best interests of all the people.

Vote "YES" to all Four Questions

Mark your ballot with an X. Any other marking will spoil it. Remember, also—every voter must vote on every question or his ballot will be spoiled.

AFTER THE STRIKE.

The trains whistle again in Great Britain. The wheels of industry will not be stopped. In a twinkling the menace of sudden industrial paralysis was removed.

It is pretty plain that the great trade union congress which was called for today, would have revealed a national labor sympathy of an effective kind for the railwaymen. A Toronto paper suggests that "approximately five million organized strikers" would have made "war upon the thirty-five millions in England, Scotland and Wales who do not belong to trade unions." That is a curious way of looking at the matter, as curious as the view of a correspondent who made the wonderful prediction: that Labor would lose the women's vote at the next election because of this strike! The idea is that the strikers were attacking their own women and children and families. A little arithmetic will show that five million strikers would really mean a mass of some twenty millions, including the men's families and friends, or half the whole "public" that they were represented as assailing. A movement of half the nation bearing against the other half, even though purely economic in intention, would have been dangerous to the state as well as to industrial stability, and Lloyd George, judging the situation with his clear eye, made the necessary concessions, whether Geddes and Horne were willing or not.

The latest news coming over about the strike showed as a noteworthy fact the general absence of bitterness between the strikers and the people who suffered from the strike, and a gradual softening of the tone of the newspapers. The conduct of the strike on both sides, the generous tribute paid by Mr. Thomas to the premier, the serious mood of the vast audience in Albert Hall on Sunday night, singing "Abide With Me" when the settlement had been announced, has all been typically British, fair, honest and humane, with no suggestion of mad revolution.

The terms of the settlement seem a reasonable compromise. The workers secure themselves for a full year against any reduction of wages, and it is agreed that the minimum wage demanded by the strikers for adult railwaymen shall be paid so long at any rate as the cost of living remains on the present level. The strikers have gained their main point, that it is up to the Government to reduce prices before reduction of wages can be considered. There can be little doubt that one general cause of the strike was distrust of the Government on account of its inaction in regard to nationalization of the coal mines, while it seemed ready to strike at the unions and their wages.

These huge strikes are an abomination in their waste and menace to security. Great Britain has suffered full of delay in the reconstruction of business and must buckle to greater production. It is to be hoped that the further negotiations between the men and the Government will be expeditious, conciliatory on both sides, and so crowned with success and a settled peace.

THE CONSERVATIVE SPLIT.

For some time it has been clear that the ranks of London Conservatives were badly rent over Sir Adam Beck. It is not surprising, therefore, to learn that the "harmonious" meeting of the executive, which on Friday evening endorsed Sir Adam's candidature, was given over largely to a bitter clash between the opposing factions. The hostility in the Conservative camp that has been developing ever since the hydro chairman opened his feud with the Hearst Government boiled over when he asked for renomination. His opponents on the executive complained that Sir Adam gave absolutely no indication of where he stood politically in the coming elections. His statement was a case of take it or leave it, which shows that he is running true to form. Some of the opposition was due to this arbitrary attitude, some of it to his desertion of Premier Hearst, and much of it to the uncertainty as to what party he would eventually link up with, but the important fact is that the element which fought against the endorsement was unofficially representing thousands of Sir Adam's former supporters, who are realizing in increasing numbers that in his determination to achieve one-man rule of the vast hydro system he constitutes a distinct danger. The revolt comes from a real and definite fear that if permitted the absolutism he desires, Sir Adam may involve this and all other municipalities in stupendous expenditure that will burden the taxpayer with heavy obligations. This is not the time for reckless spending. Reconstruction must be based on economy and conservatism, if it is to be strong and lasting; but if Sir Adam is given the free hand he is insisting upon to manage the tremendously expanding affairs of hydro, without restraint, there is no limit to the mischief that may fall upon the province, and, indirectly, on this city. The revolt amongst local Conservatives against sending Sir Adam Beck back to the Legislature is fully justified.

WHAT HEARST DIDN'T DO.

Premier Hearst's campaigners clamorously draw attention to what the Hearst Government has accomplished, in most cases policies launched and insisted upon by the Liberals, but consider some of the things it has failed to do, the sins of omission. Here they are:

Allowed the combines and profiteers to gorge and fatten on the public during the war without attempting in a single instance to bring the lawbreakers to punishment.

Failed to carry out their promises to settle the returned soldier on the land.

Failed to provide widows' pensions.

Failed to inaugurate minimum wage legislation.

Failed to abolish patronage.

Failed to establish a system of rural credits.

Failed to put into play a system of re-afforestation.

Failed to introduce proportional representation.

It is not surprising that rural and labor Ontario is discontented, and is calling for expulsion of the do-nothing crowd at Queen's Park, demanding a government that is live and energetic in the public interest.

A NEW LIFE OF LAURIER.

Professor Skelton of Queen's University begins in this month's Century publication of the life and letters of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a work upon which he was engaged even before the death of the great Canadian statesman. It is well known that during the later years of his life Sir Wilfrid had been placing in order the papers relating to his public career, and had, indeed, written some memoirs himself. Advancing age made it almost impossible that he should finish such a work, and the task was entrusted to Professor Skelton, who had already written a short biography of the Liberal leader as one of the volumes in the Chronicles of Canada series.

Political biography usually forms interesting reading, and is as well the basis of history. Despite the severe style in which Sir Joseph Pope wrote his life of Sir John Macdonald, the two bulky volumes issued twenty-five years ago give a strikingly clear-cut impression of the Conservative premier. "Joe shall write it," Macdonald said to his wife when the subject was discussed before his death. "He knows more about me than anyone else." Consequently at Macdonald's death all his letters and papers were turned over unreservedly to Mr. Pope, who had been his private secretary. It may be of interest to know that within the last few years all of these documents have come into the possession of the Government, and are now in the Dominion archives at Ottawa, to be used by future historians in telling our national story.

Sir Charles Tupper's memoirs, issued a couple of years ago, are probably the least interesting of any that have been left by our public men. Tupper tells in detail the things we care least about, and is silent just where we would like to have him garrulous. Cartwright left a curious mixture of fact, opinion and characteristic abuse of those whom he disliked, not sparing Macdonald's memory, a fact which brought him into difficulties in proving certain statements. The late Sir George Ross, in his "Getting Into Parliament and After," told much that was of interest in a book of short compass, and, most recently of all, Sir John Willison has given an example of what memoirs should be in the series of fine articles recently published in the Canadian Magazine. Since Pope's life of Macdonald was published, however, there have been no memoirs so important as those of Laurier which are now forthcoming. Sir Wilfrid's long connection with Canadian public life, his outstanding place in the politics of the country, first as leader of the Liberal Opposition, and then as premier for fifteen years, his intimate relations with imperial statesmen, and, above all, his own striking personality, provide scope for a biographer such as has not been offered since the death of Sir John.

WOMEN AND THE BONDS.

Women have a special interest in the success of the Victory Loan. A year ago active enthusiasm was apparent among intelligent housewives, as well as among the keen and self-reliant women who are engaged in the offices and business establishments of the country. Nor was that surprising, since women are proverbially thrifty, and since they can appreciate to the full the advantages of a safe, convenient, and profitable investment.

The Victory Loan of 1919 should be still more attractive than its predecessor. The greater number of women who invested a year ago are more than satisfied with the experiment. Their bonds were considered as a reserve fund laid up against an emergency, and there is reason for the belief that fewer women than men sold out their holdings for current needs.

No special argument will be needed this year to prove the advantages of Victory Bonds. They are well understood, alike by the housewife and the stenographer. But it may be necessary for the authorities to set forth in the clearest detail the objects to which the proceeds of the loan will be applied.

Women and men alike must understand that the necessities of the hour are almost entirely military. The funds are necessary to complete the work of demobilization, to provide the pay, allowances and maintenance of soldiers whose transportation and discharge were delayed, to care for the sick and wounded, who still number 20,000 men, and to provide a sound system of re-education for those veterans who need it.

The fact that the prosperity of Canada depends upon the extension of credits to Great Britain for the purchase of Canadian surplus products should also be emphasized, for women have a keen understanding of the evils of depression and unemployment.

It seems reasonable to ask if the women's institutes and clubs of various kinds in city and country are doing their full part to bring the national necessity before their members. This is a time of crisis. So far, the difficulties of reconstruction have been surmounted, and the spirit of unrest is less active than it was a year ago. Unquestionably the subscription to the Victory Loan will be large. If the women are enlisted, it will be overwhelming.

Rev. Mr. Ivens complains bitterly of his "brutal, cruel" treatment at the hands of the authorities when they raided his home at midnight and hurried him off to the penitentiary.

And this from the man whose arbitrary action prevented a sufficiency of food reaching thousands of men, women and children during the Winnipeg strike.

LONGFELLOW ON THE LINKS.

[Boston Transcript.]
I drove a golf ball into the air, it fell to earth, I knew not where, For I, alas, was short of sight. And couldn't follow it in its flight. I kicked my caddy into the air, He fell to earth, I know not where, For I deemed it a thing exceedingly vile. That inferior caddy's superior smile. Soon, soon the caddy was back on his feet, It had hardly budged from the tee at all; And the caddy was standing sardonically grim—I had kicked my opponent instead of him.

TO YOUR TENTS, O BACHELORS!

[Springfield Union.]
Next year being a leap year, there is an ominous warning in the news dispatches from London stating that 5,000 British women are planning to come to the United States for the more or less romantic or benevolent purpose of acquiring American husbands, the supply of marriageable males in England having been greatly reduced by the war. It may, however, be taken for granted that the American women and girls of marriageable age will take steps to meet this foreign competition, and that most of the husband-hunters from abroad will be disappointed in their quest, or at least have to content themselves with the left-overs and discards.

NATURAL CONCLUSION.

[Baltimore American.]
"He flushed when he saw I was pursuing his countenance."
Of course he did. When a man finds his countenance is being pursued, his face naturally gets red.

NEARER HEAVEN WHILE IT LASTED.

[Boston Transcript.]
A newspaper tells of a New York couple being married in an airplane. The only advantage was that they got back to earth more quickly than most newlyweds.

A PERSONAL PAST.

[Blighty, London.]
A certain young actor had a small part in a "war" drama—a very small part, and she was not satisfied. So one morning, after rehearsal, she set out to interview the boss.
"I have only one line the first act," she pointed out. "And but one in the second. Couldn't you give me a line for the third act also?"
The actor-manager thought for a moment.
"Well, yes," he replied. "When the bombardment scene is on, and the hero is crouching in his dugout, you may enter and say, 'Here is a dud!'"
"Oh, thank you," she exclaimed. "And do I bring an unexploded shell on the stage with me?"
"No," answered the actor-manager. "It's not a speech, my dear; it's a confession."

PHOEBE.

[Penny R. Poole, in Our Dumb Animals.]
The rosy hesitance of morn Is poised between a smile and tear. I hear the Phoebe plying clear: "Phoe-be," "Phoe-be," thrill is born. An ecstasy compact of June, Till throbs the saddest heart in tune.

Amid the apple's flaming snow,
The little brown bird, passion-taught,
Its rapture to my soul hath brought:
No need of longer tale, I know,
Chill winds depart, warm airs blow free,
And dreams of youth return to me.

"Phoe-be, Phoe-be"—who is the maid?
Your sweet bird bride? You'll find her soon.
And then I'll hardly hear a tune.
But your best nest in some fair shade
Beside the ledge, with moss laid—
Fairies could tell how it is made.

Were ever rhythmic notes that bore
Such wealth of music? Young lambs play
As life were one long holiday.
Bithe showers have called from dreams before,
Dew-washed flowers, but you, Phoebe,
Have preened my childhood back to me!

COMESTIBLE COAL.

[Kansas City Journal.]
"What kind of coal do you use in your lab?"
"Dear me, I am so inexperienced in these things. Are there various kinds?"
"Oh, yes. We have egg coal, chestnut—"
"I think I'll take a box of that. We have eggs oftener than we have chestnuts."

LOYD GEORGE'S REWARD.

[Boston Transcript.]
A country yokel dropped in at an English tavern and overheard some conversation which led him to remark to the landlord: "So this is St. George's Day, is it?"
"Yes," said the landlord, "and every Englishman should know it."

"Well, I be English, but blowed if I knowed they'd made 'im a saint," cackled the old gaffer, raising his glass. "Ere's to you, David!"

ART.

[London Answers.]
The artist dripped his brush in a bucket of paint and wiped it across the canvas several times horizontally. When he had done this he took his labors in hand and carefully placed it in an elaborate frame.
"What's the idea?" his boon companion inquired. "Impressionistic study?"
"Do you mean to tell me that is a finished painting?"
"Certainly."
"What are you going to call it?"
"A village street as seen from the rear seat of a motorcycle."

ACQUIRING POLISH.

[Philadelphia Bulletin.]
"Francis," said the little girl's mamma, who was entertaining callers in the parlor, "you came downstairs so noisily that you could be heard all over the house. Now go back and come downstairs like a lady."
Francis retired, and after a few moments re-entered the parlor.
"Did you hear me come downstairs this time, mamma?"
"No, dear; I am glad you came down quietly. Now, don't ever let me have to tell you again not to come down noisily. Now tell these ladies how you managed to come down like a lady the second time, when the first time you made so much noise."
"The last time I slid down the banisters," explained Francis.

A NEW STEAM AUTOMOBILE.

That steam is not an antiquated method of propelling motor cars is to be demonstrated by a Chicago company that won prominence during the war through the design and manufacture of shell-turning and gun-boring machinery. This company, we are told by a writer in The Iron Age (New York), has focused its engineering capacity on the motor industry with the aim of showing the advantages of steam as a motive power for passenger and industrial vehicles. We read:
"The company does not propose to launch a large-production program until it has perfected a steam-driven automobile which merits a place at the head of existing designs of motor-driven cars. To this end a number of patents have been acquired and every effort will be exerted to supplement these with features which will make for maximum efficiency and endurance. The first aim of the corporation is to make a high-class pleasure car. When it has done this to its own satisfaction, attention will be directed to the manufacture of other types of machines embodying the same principles of design. The patents now in the possession of the company combine the better features of a number of steam plants heretofore manufactured by separate interests. One of the most important advantages of the vehicle with propulsion will build will be its ability to burn a non-volatile fuel without vaporization, and to control combustion without the use of a pilot light. An experimental machine which has already been constructed consumes but one gallon of kerosene every fourteen miles. The engine will be equipped with an air-cooled condenser, forced draft being supplied through the agency of a turbine operated by exhaust steam from the engine before it passes into the condenser. The use of a condenser is expected to eliminate all troubles arising from accumulations of scale and the bother of frequent refilling of the water reservoir. One filling of the water tank, it is asserted, is good for 1,000 miles. The boiler is of welded water-tube type, equipped with a superheater, and constructed of interchangeable sections."

SLIPPERY FOG.

By Dora Molan.

If you had been unceremoniously hustled out of a beloved city and deposited in a furnished seashore cottage, left in the most despectably unhygienic condition by its previous occupants; if for the first three days after your arrival it had fogged so persistently and consistently that the windows might as well have been blank walls; if you had nothing more interesting to read than a month before last's magazine, and nothing more inspiring to look at than a framed print of a Gargantuan muskito biting the elephantine leg of an amazingly corpulent lady; if at intervals of thirty seconds the damp silence was broken by the dismal, prolonged wail of a fog siren; and if, so foggy it all hour but just returned and soldier-husband—to whose recently acquired passion for the open air these present miseries could be traced—had departed on a business trip which to you did not seem to be the least bit necessary, would you, or would you not, provided you are a young married woman, have done with Sally Anne and her wonder?

When the time set by Jerry for his return came and passed without a word, after the door had been opened the door at least twenty times, peering into the impenetrable wall of fog in the hall, Sally Anne, feeling the damp more resolute contemplation of the fat lady's plump member, she plunged into the bath, and emerged, wearing a lifetime of the utmost correctness down into the depth of attending alone and unchaperoned, a public dance.

Feeling desperately from her boredom, Sally Anne felt the end of the little beach street and there took a trolley for a mile or so to a mammoth pavilion, she had noted on the day of her arrival, where a great sign read: "Dancing Every Evening."

A long flight of steps led toward circles of blurred light, from beyond which came the fog-muffled sound of music. Half way up a ticket booth challenged. "The tone of the man behind the grating was firm; referring to his top sergeant and often to his first lieutenant, but never calling them by name."

A couple nearby spoke of the hour, which was late. "Hurry, Sally Anne, hurry, saying she must go at once. Suddenly a full realization of what she had done came to her. She had walked silently down the steps beside her. At the bottom Sally Anne suggested nervously that he leave her there; she could get home safely. The tall man whistled sharply; a couple appeared out of the mist. "Take the lady to the address, she gives you, 'Henry,'" he ordered. Then he assisted Sally into the car, thanked her for a very pleasant evening, lifted his hat and closed the door.

The next morning dawned bright and sunny. To Sally Anne the fog and her dereliction of the night before seemed a dream. She prepared to think of them as such. But she couldn't help pondering a little as to who the tall man might be. He had not appeared to be more familiar with the place than herself. Jerry's cheerful signal whistle from down the street interrupted these thoughts before Sally had decided just how and when to "fess up to her escapade. Of course, she would do it sooner or later; she had never kept anything from Jerry, and she was going to begin now.

Almost before the first hug and kiss were over Jerry sprang the news. His beloved captain was spending the summer nearby. It seemed they had just met at the station. "Black's wife isn't here yet," Jerry explained. "She stayed in town to go to some social high-lights—thought she was going to have a fine chance to show him off. Blake hates that sort of thing, so she skipped. They had some sort of tiff, I imagine. Guess that, or the fog or something got the goat, because he told me she was going up to that big public dance hall last night. Picked up some fair mystery and danced with her all evening—said, she wore a wedding ring and didn't act as though she were used to being married. That sort of thing isn't in Blake's line usually."

Sally Anne thanked her lucky stars that Jerry couldn't see her face. She didn't reply. "How would you like it if I did a thing like that?" Jerry asked. "How would you like it if I did?" counter-queried Sally. "I refuse to consider because it's inconceivable," replied Jerry in a voice he seldom used. "I way, dear, I asked Capt. Blake to lunch tomorrow—is it all right?"

"Is he a tall, dark man with a deep voice, Jerry?" Sally Anne's head was pressed close to her husband's coat lapel. "Why, yes," answered Jerry, puzzled. "Then I think, Jerry, it's up to you to decide whether you want him or not."

"I don't quite get you, Sally." Jerry tried to lift the little head from his shoulder, but didn't succeed. "I want you to like my captain; he's a mighty fine man."

"I do," half laughed, half cried Sally. "Oh, Jerry, you haven't an idea how lonesome I was here without you—in that awful fog. And when you didn't come last night I thought you didn't care, and it seemed as though I should go mad without someone to talk to. And, by the way, dear, I asked Capt. Blake to lunch tomorrow—is it all right?"

"I don't suspect it at the time; so it wasn't so horribly, awfully, impossible."

unpardonably wicked, was it? And he danced wonderfully, Jerry—and I love it so—and you never take me." "Sally! Are you trying to tell me that you were Blake's fair unknown?" "Yes," replied Sally Anne, bravely. "Can you forgive me, Jerry—this first and last time?"

"There's no room in my heart for blame, dear; it's too full of thankfulness that it was Blake's hands you fell into. If some boulder had insulted you! But it would have been my fault for bringing you here and then leaving you as I did. Guess I sort of forgot you weren't a soldier. Guess I need some reconstructing, dear, as a husband."

"But how about having Capt. Blake here, Jerry?" "Sure we'll have him. Blake's a man—a big man. His kind would understand. He'll know you just slipped on the fog."

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

COSTUME HINTS FOR THE WOMEN OF FULL FIGURE

How Designs That Favor Roundness of Outline Are Artistically Met by the Newest Materials.

[By Mme. Frances, Famous Creator of Fashions, New York City.]

THE FASHION FORECAST. Youthful suits developed in Russian blouse lines, collared, cuffed and bordered with long-haired fur, such as Fisher, Hudson sable, grey wolf, black fox and lynx, will be extensively worn by the younger women this season.

The first rule for the full-figured woman to observe is this: She should wear her belt at the normal waistline. That is the most slender line of the figure. The short-waisted line will make her look thicker and the long-waisted line should cross the broad part of the torso and back will have the same effect. The stout woman should never, never wear a wide belt. It cuts her off and makes her look thick. Three inches is the maximum width of any giraffe for the stout woman.

Importance of Skirt Lengths. Whatever the fashion in skirts, the full-figured woman, even though she may have a small ankle and feet which are frequently a characteristic of fat women, should never wear her skirt dresses more than four inches from the floor. Her evening gowns should always be quite long and made with trains if possible.

Dressing her hair high will accent the appearance of height in the stout woman. The most successful dress for the full figure is a gathered tunic dropped over a moderately tight undershirt, which shows about eight inches between the tunic and the lower edge of the skirt. The dropped skirt should reach within four inches of the floor, or if an evening gown it may be made with a train or carry an attached train.

The tunic should be light, with small, taped weights that run around the hem or under the edge of fur or any trimming that is used. It also gives a good line to shorten the tunic at the back a little, making a point or rounded dip at the center front. Lines that run up and break the width of the body are best on the full figure.

Value of Dark Colors. Dark colors make a stout woman appear much thinner than she looks in light shades. Dignity should be the aim of the stout woman. She will look far more distinguished in black, navy, seal brown or taupe, than in any of the lighter colors. Black is her best choice for evening wear. Dark colors will be lightened with touches of light colors in the facing of narrow ash ends or in a bit of corsage trimming where silver and gold are good if used sparingly.

Long-haired furs are not for the full-figured woman. Her gowns and suits if trimmed in fur should have softening, broadtail or sealskin. Around her face she may, however, wear long-haired fur, because this class of fur is softening and in enveloping the throat cuts off the double-chin line, which most stout women possess. For the same reason a veil should be worn whenever possible. If draped beneath the chin and pinned snugly and neatly where the hairline meets the neck in the back or just above that point, the soft folds of the veiling improve the throat line.

Small, high hats are best on the stout woman. Her hat should invariably carry a brim, however narrow. The close turban pulled down over her hair broadens her face.

Suit Effects. The stout woman usually looks extremely well in a suit, but in wearing a suit she should avoid taking off her coat. If she must remove her coat, her waist should be the same color as her skirt, and if possible made in combination with its material, which will give length of line to her figure. She should never wear a satin blouse. The high

RIPLEY BRANCH WOMEN'S INSTITUTE TAKES DECIDED TEMPERANCE STAND

"We, the members of the Women's Institute of Ripley, feel that the approaching referendum vote on the Ontario Temperance Act lays upon all voters, and especially upon the women of the province, the most serious and sacred responsibility that ever weighed upon the citizens of any country."

"We feel that the benefits of prohibition during the war have been of such tremendous value to industry, to society, and especially to homes and to women and children in particular, that going back to any form of license for the liquor traffic would be destructive in the extreme."

"We would urge every woman in our township to see that her vote is polled correctly for temperance on October 20, and we earnestly pray that our women may use their greatest influence to get every voter to put an 'X' opposite each of the four questions on the ballot, under 'No.'"

"We feel that an 'X' in the 'Yes' column on the ballot would be a vote to restore the bar-room and the traffic in some shape or form. We would respectfully suggest that our women set aside the forenoon of the voting day to go to the polls so as to make sure of getting in every vote."

The above resolution was brought in by Mrs. W. J. Crawford, and seconded by Nurse Stinson, and unanimously carried at a large meeting of the Ripley Women's Institute.

The women present offered to do everything in their power to carry the temperance vote, feeling that if it is lost all the rift-raff bottle-noses of the United States will be dumped into Canada.

Women At Home and Abroad

NO PLACE FOR BABIES TO GROW.

In the whole of this city there is no place for homeless babies under three years of age, except the Roman Catholic Infants' Home, which is always crowded.

There is agitation constantly for a sick children's hospital here, and well, there should be. But what about the well children? The children who, if properly nourished and cared for, have every chance in the world of becoming healthy and prosperous citizens?

It is pitiful to see these children passing from one institution to another, from one home to another. No one wants them, and there has been no place specially prepared for them. The children's shelter will not take them until they are three years old. How well they are they to put in the important intervening years, suppose they are unfortunate enough to be left homeless at one year old or even at one month?

Oh, we'll take care of them eventually. Just let them drift until they are three years old and then if they've become diseased, undernourished little pieces of humanity, we are willing to spend money in an endeavor to bring them back to health again. Is that the kind of a thing to do? Is that a problem? Yet, that is the very attitude which the city of London is taking in the failure to rectify this state of affairs.

RICH ELABORATION FEATURES NEWEST BLOUSES. Gorgeous embroidery, silk fringe, bright colored beads all vie with each other to produce garments of original splendor, which the women of the simple name of "blouses." Many of these are cut Russian-fashion, with the waistline low and the sleeves short and wide. Some of these garments have taken for their inspiration even such absurdities as a coat-of-mail.

Of course, there must be tailored blouses too, and these men's shirts are largely used, although there are some plain dark silk taffeta models. A novelty waist this season is made of two-toned wash silk in small checks. The sleeves of the blouses are mostly white, although sleeves prevail in the fancier styles.

PRESIDENT OF THE WINNIPEG CANADIAN CLUB IS IN LONDON

Mrs. Code Was An Energetic Worker At Time of Strikes.

An interesting guest in the city is Mrs. Code, president of the Winnipeg Women's Canadian Club, who is being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Johnston, Colborne street. Mrs. Code is on her way to Ottawa, where she will attend the big Canadian club convention to be held there on October 16 and 17, when arrangements will be made for greater co-operation among the various women's Canadian clubs of Canada, providing for regular interchange of speakers.

The membership of the Winnipeg Club is 1,700; she declared to The Advertiser, and at a meeting held on Tuesday in honor of General Sir Arthur Currie, over 850 women were present. Our club is known as a "Ladies' Club" because we do not interfere with the work of any other organization, but merely provide audience for speakers when they come.

Mrs. Code is further an interesting personality in that she was an energetic worker at the time of the big strike in Winnipeg.

Two interesting papers were given, one on "Physical and Moral Effects of Fault-Finding," by Mrs. Jas. Angus, and one on "How To Keep Boys and Girls on the Farm," by Mrs. Geo. Collett. She advocated giving the young people a financial interest in the farm and surroundings and also making the social life more interesting.

A reading on "The Town Without a Bar" was given by Mrs. Smith, and a solo by Miss Reta Gee.

Mrs. Myrtle Brown was appointed chairman, and Mrs. J. B. Harding and Mrs. Arthur Brown were elected delegates to the convention to be held in London shortly.

REDS TAKE FOURTH VICTORY FROM SOX WITH 5-0 SHUT-OUT

"Hod" Eller, Former Sox Cast-Off, Humiliates Chicagoans, and Sends Hopes To Vanishing Point—Williams Pitched Good Game Against Sensational Batting and Wonderful Defence of National Leaguers.CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—"Pat" Moran telegraphed this evening to have the big staff in Redland Park at Cincinnati measured for the latest style world-championship flag.

The Reds today won the fifth game of the world's series, defeating the Chicago White Sox 5 to 0, in a contest that developed sensational pitching, sharp fielding, one-sided batsmanship, and nearly deprived the Sox of their last glimpse of hope.

The National League champions have now won four games, and, therefore, need but one more to clinch the bunting. By the same token the Sox can annex the major share of the money only by winning four straight games. The teams left for Cincinnati tonight for two games, if that many are required.

"Hod" Eller, a White Sox cast-off of four years ago, gratified the deepest wish of his heart by attaining the victory. He held his former teammates practically helpless throughout. He pitched only three widely segregated hits, gave but one pass, and established a record for consecutive strike-outs in a world's series contest. In the second and third innings he fanned six batters in a row, and in the fourth he was going so strong that the first two Sox batters who faced him dribbled the ball to him for easy outs at first, and the third man struck out. He delivered two more doses of the same medicine before the game was over, a total of nine strike-outs for the game.

Williams Good.

Claude Williams, who was defeated in the second game of the series at Cincinnati, hurled for the White Sox, and did about all that pitcher could do to win. He walked but two men, and did not allow a hit until the fifth inning. The Reds delivered only three more hits off his delivery, but these, after the world's series fashion of the Reds, were forthcoming in the one inning in which they were most needed. In this instance the avalanche descended in the sixth round. The air was fairly foggy with hits, intensified by a walk and an error, and when the air cleared the score-board showed that four Red-legs had reached the counting station. It was enough—plus.

In the eighth Williams retired to allow Murphy to appear in the role of pitcher, but he merely added to Eller's strike-out record in the ninth. Eller went to the mound for the Sox. His wildness was partly responsible for the final run with which the visitors capped their score.

Ray Schalk, premier catcher of the American League, or any other league, according to his admirers, came forward as the first player to witness the exhibition during the series. It was in the sixth inning, when most everything happened, that this occurred. Groh had slid to the plate, accumulating large holdings of base-line real estate on the facade of his anatomy, and Schalk claimed that he touched the runner before the latter had plowed his way to the plate. In his excitement he jumped up at Umpire Rigler's protector, and with his fists jolted the judicial air there impounded. Rigler pointed to the coop and Schalk, numbing things that the late Noah Webster never envisaged in his researches, made way for Lynn, who caught the remainder of the game for the Sox.

Field Good.

The field was in excellent condition despite the rain of yesterday, and 3,375 persons paid to witness the exhibition. The sun shone brightly and the temperature was to the liking of players and spectators alike.

In the first round Rath reached first on free transportation and was sacrificed to second, but neither Roush nor Groh could deliver and he got no farther.

In the Sox half they did a little better. Liebold was passed, was sacrificed to second and reached third on Weaver's single. The partisan local crowd began calling for a run, but Jackson went out on a pop fly to Groh and Felsch flew out to left.

Big Sticks Fanned.

In the second and third innings the crowds were treated to the remarkable exhibition, in which Gandil, Risberg, Schalk, Williams, Liebold and Eddie Collins struck out. In the Red's half of the second Duncan and Neale fanned and Kopf interspersed a foul out to Schalk. In the third the Reds did but little better, going out in rotation on infield blows.

In the fourth, after Daubert and Groh had fled out to Felsch, Roush was

THE FOURTH VICTOR

"Hod" Eller, newest sensation, not content with hurling unbeatable ball, started Sox's bad sixth with two-bagger.twirler. He sent one to Roush, which the Reds' outfielder tapped toward Eddie Collins. The Chicago captain fumbled the ball, and Roush was given a life. Mayer was unsteady, and Duncan drew a free ticket to first. Kopf came along with a perfect bunt toward Weaver, and while he was being received at first Roush reached third. Neale grounded to Risberg, and on the play to first Roush registered. Eddie Collins retired the side by throwing Rariden out at first.

There were two down in the ninth inning, when Weaver posed a triple to far right field. Rath came in and said something to Eller, who at this point faced Jackson. Jackson swung mightily, but dribbled out to Groh, who threw him out at first, and the game was over.

CECIL GAULD WINS L. C. I. FIVE-MILE ROAD RACE IN GOOD TIME

Harold Deeley Takes Junior Event in Preliminaries of Collegiate Field Day Sports.As a preliminary to the big field-day to be held by the Collegiate on Friday of this week, the five-mile road race was held last evening. Cecil Gauld taking the senior race, and Harold Deeley, the junior event. The race was held around Victoria park and while not officially measured as five miles, it very closely approximates that distance. Gauld's time was 23 minutes and 15 seconds, and the Junior's was 37 minutes and 50 seconds. Thomas Higgins, who was second in the senior event, ran a good race, and Jack Jackson, in the junior race gave the winner a tidy battle.

This year's field-day sports promise to be one of the best ever held, and the school this year is possessed of a particularly large number of promising athletes, who are taking a real interest in their work.

All the events on the large program are nearly filled now, and will be finished up by Wednesday. The football game between St. Thomas and the locals promises to be especially interesting, after the defeat of the L. C. I. in the Railway City last Friday. The squad was out last night, and put in a hard workout, and claim that the outcome of the game will be reversed in the next clash.

HOW "HOD" APPLIED THE WHITEWASH

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—"Hod" Eller's sensational pitching for Cincinnati in today's game of the world's series stood out clearly in the pitching analysis. After his two-base hit had paved the way for his team's four runs in the sixth inning, he checked up for a moment on the Chicago batters, but in the first five innings he was using his best brand of shoats, lobs and bendovers on every 36 came in the first five innings, and half of that number were recorded in the second and third innings. He had six successive batters, in the third and fourth innings, who were struck out by Eller. The only Sox player to touch the ball to Eller's was a high foul into the upper tier of the grandstand for a strike.

In the sixth Eller threw only five times. One of these efforts was a ball, another was fouled and a fly, and two easy grounders disposed of the three batters. The big Red twirler missed the plate eighteen times in the first three innings, but in the last six had only seven bad ones called. This was largely due to the fact that he was putting practically every ball across the plate, and the Chicago men quit trying to wait him.

While Eller's work was unusual, Williams pitched a fine brand of ball, and made a creditable record. He had 43 strikes in eight innings, and only 28 balls; a performance which was far ahead of his exhibition at Cincinnati in the second game of the series. Williams was working the inside corner constantly, and it was a pitch of this species below his knees that Eller tilted between Jackson and Felsch after waving weekly offerings.

Williams yielded four hits to Eller's three, struck out three to Eller's nine, and gave two bases on balls to Eller's one. Mayer, who pitched the ninth for Chicago, exhibited a lack of control, giving one pass and missing the plate twelve times out of 21 attempts. All told, the Chicago pitchers threw 128 times. Eller got through with 94 throws.

DETROIT ROSES TO COME.

Detroit Roses soccer team, which handied the local Grand Trunks 4 to 3 to a defeat in Detroit Sunday, will play a return game here the week after next it is expected. The game while the American League representatives gathered only three off Eller.

Tonight the clubs are separated by 23 points, with the advantage in favor of the National League club. Cincinnati is hitting for a club average of .212, compared with a mark of .180 made by the Chicago Club. Four men on the Moran aggregation are above the select .300 mark. They are Ruether, with his perfect score of 1.000; Wingo, Fisher with .500, and Eller with .333.

On the Sox aggregation four men are hitting in the select crowd, but none has a perfect average. McMullen leads with a mark of .500, while Joe Jackson, the mighty slugger of the Americans, is batting .316. Schalk has an average of .308, while Weaver is just under the .300 mark.

The National League Club has made thirty hits in 141 times at bat, while its American League rival has gathered 29 in 152 times at bat.

NATIONAL LEAGUERS LEAD IN SERIES SWATTING

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Both the Cincinnati and Chicago Clubs suffered a slump in their batting today as a result of the great pitching duel waged between Claude Williams, the star south-paw, and "Hod" Eller, Moran's great right-hander. The former held the National League champions to four hits, while the American League representatives gathered only three off Eller.

Western U. Has Prospects for Dark Horse Team

Varsity, Little Heard From, Has Squad of Forty Out of Which Surprise of Intercollegiate Series May Be Expected — Many ex-Ridley and L. C. I. Players Add Experience To Lots of Weight.Western U. regby practices look like the real thing these nights, and prospects are very bright for a real team this season. Thirty-five men were in uniform last night, and while many of them were very green, yet a few more than they are now getting. Work last night commenced with a half-hour drill in kicking, catching, and running back punts. This was followed by a turn at the tackling dummy, which Honorary Coach Mel Brock has had installed. It looks like a good idea, as green men learn the rudiments of leaving their feet when tackling their main, as they discover that the harder you hit them the less chance there is of the tackler getting hurt, they gain confidence in themselves and their ability.

After a short signal practice on the part of both scrubs and "team" there was a forty-minute line-up and every one was moving all the time. The candidates are in much better condition than was expected and with constant practice should go far in the intercollegiate series, in which they are placed. Tonight there will be the usual dummy tackling, followed by a line-up against the scrubs for half an hour. Then the L. C. I. team will be taken on for another half hour. On Thursday night the varsity will line-up against the local intermediates.

PUNTS.

Western have a host of beef on the line, and as soon as they grasp the idea of holding, making holes and keeping their heads down, they will take a lot of hammering.

The half line last night looked good. Chew, the English three-quarter, was at left half, and has a good pair of hands as well as a good tackling drive. Trainer, an old St. Mike's man from Toronto, carries well and has a lovely boot. A former Queen's II, player was at right half and showed up well. Then Cline at flying wing has all his old speed and is a splendid ball carrier.

Scouts did not let up for a moment on Team, as no one has a place cinched on Team and they are all anxious to show what they have. The line was changed several times last night.

There are several nifty tacklers trying for outside positions. Among these are Wainwright and McMahon, two Ridley boys, and they have not forgotten the name of Harry Griffith's crouching. Kingswood is expected out in the near future. He would round out an already speedy half line.

Cowley, the L. C. I. star of two years ago, is out every night and will make an awful bid for a place.

RUETHER OPPOSES KERR IN CRUCIAL GAME AT CINCI.

Gleason Says Sox Will Fight to Finish, and Predicts Sox Victory for Today.CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—With the Reds victorious in four of the five games, Manager Moran of the triumphant Cincinnati club, indicated tonight that he would start Walter Ruether against the White Sox in the sixth game of the series, scheduled for Cincinnati tomorrow.

Ruether pitched the Reds to a 9 to 1 victory in the opening game of the series, and has been clamoring for a return engagement against the Chicagoans.

Manager Gleason's pitching selection undoubtedly will be Dick Kerr, the diminutive left-hander, who scored Chicago's only victory in the series. He pitched a remarkable game, holding the Reds to three hits, and is ready to face them again.

"It's all over but the shouting," said Manager Moran tonight. "We'll win again tomorrow, no matter who Gleason pitches."

PROVISION FOR VETS SHOULD BE MORE EQUITABLE

G. W. V. A. Council Tells Special Committee of Shortcomings.

PENSIONS INADEQUATE

And Re-Establishment Measures Need Considerable Revision.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—The case for the Great War Veterans was presented to the special House committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment by the members of the G. W. V. A. advisory committee this evening. The House committee had been anxious to get the G. W. V. A. representatives before them.

C. G. MacNeil, who has acted as G. W. V. A. counsel, dealt with the evidence submitted to the committee. He submitted that the re-establishment measures had not equitably provided all members of the Canadian forces with reasonable opportunities to overcome handicaps.

Further provision for dependents was a necessity, and large numbers of dependents and men had been left unprotected. Present pension provisions were inadequate. The war service gratuity was distributed in such a way that those who needed most often got least. The soldier settlement act benefits went only to a limited class of agriculturally trained men. A comparatively small number of men benefited by vocational training and, as administered, students had only a minimum chance of success.

Canadians who served with imperial forces were debarred from complete participation in post-war benefits, and dependents who returned to Canada from England prior to the armistice were under a disadvantage as compared to those repatriated subsequent to the armistice.

(3) Suitable educational advantages for all those whose training was materially interrupted and retarded by enlistment, or who prior to enlistment had not the opportunity to prepare for any definite vocation.

(4) Equal treatment for all Canadians, irrespective of military rank and whether service was performed in the imperial forces or in the case of dependents, whether repatriated was accomplished prior to Nov. 11, 1918.

(5) Reasonable assistance for all those who require aid in re-establishment by reason of protracted absence or loss of efficiency on active service in a manner calculated to develop the resources of Canada, cause increased production and foster contented citizenship.

The detailed plan of re-establishment was submitted by the members of the Great War Veterans' Association committee. Briefly summarized, the plan proposed development of resources, from both the human and material standpoint, as a means of re-establishing the soldiers as producing units. The advantages are to apply only to those who are able to establish their need for assistance in order to regain their pre-war status.

The extent to which aid is to be granted is to be determined by the date of enlistment and zone of service. The highest amount available of the various forms of re-establishment prescribed is $2,500 and the plan provides for all beneficiaries equitably.

Disabled men could not secure life insurance, and housing relief to returned men was inadequate.

Further requirements of re-establishment as disclosed by the present inquiry, were summarized by Mr. MacNeil as follows:

(a) A generous standard of maintenance for the dependents of deceased soldiers and the totally disabled commensurate at all times with the cost of living, and coupled with suitable educational opportunities for the children of such soldiers.

(b) Adequate provision for all those disabled on service which would insure restoration to a maximum of usefulness with permanent placement in the commercial, agricultural or industrial life of the community under administration of sufficient elasticity to provide for industrial requirements.

(c) Special restorative care for those of weakened mentality and general physical debilitation due to war service, with the removal of all cause for financial worry.

(d) Life insurance facilities for disabled men debarred from the benefits of ordinary life insurance, enabling them to safeguard the future of their dependents.

The total gross expenditure estimated is $200,000,000.

The principle is to make re-establishment available to all ex-members of the forces and dependent next of kin by means of financial grants from the state, regardless of any re-establishment benefits which may have been received. It also provides for soldiers of the allied and imperial forces or their dependents who were residents of Canada prior to Aug. 4, 1914.

Provision is made for the anticipated stress of the coming winter by a cash grant not exceeding $500 on Nov. 1 this year, to be used by the person concerned to meet current and legitimate obligations, the balance of the grant to remain under Government control.

The Great War Veterans' Association officials submit the resolution carried at their recent national convention which deals with the problems of re-establishment and desirability of such grants.

Three Grades. It is pointed out that there must be recognized three distinct grades of service, namely, (1) Canada, (2) England and (3) France. Benefits are to be available to all persons who served in the Canadian naval, military, mercantile marine and air forces.

A commission shall be constituted for the administration of the plan, to consist of five members, four of whom shall have seen service during the great war as combatants. The board shall be named by the governor-in-council, and shall have headquarters at Ottawa, with authority to appoint provincial and qualification boards as necessary.

It is proposed that the board secure the information by means of a questionnaire setting forth the necessity for assistance and the end to which the grant is to be used. Any false declaration will disqualify the applicant from any of the benefits under the plan.

Basic Table. The basic table of re-establishment sets forth the maximum grants as follows: Enlisted 1914 for service in Canada, $500; service in England, 1914, $1,000; service in France, 1914, $1,000; total $2,500; for a man enlisted in 1915, and reached France the same year the total would be $2,000; this is graded down until a man enlisted in 1918 and reached France the same year would be entitled to receive $100 for service in Canada and $200 each for service in England and France, a total of $500.

Non-Combatants. A non-combatant in all cases shall be awarded 25 per cent less than the accepted standard for combatants. The grants shall not apply to any persons who were children or dependent next of kin who intend leaving Canada.

An applicant must prove that his motives in obtaining a grant are in the interest of re-establishment, and the board must be satisfied that the sanest course possible will be followed.

No member of the permanent forces who did not transfer to the overseas forces shall be eligible for a member of the naval forces except those who can be classified as combatant.

In case of a civil servant receiving both civil and military pay while on active service, the amount of wages paid by the Government during such service shall be deducted from the applicant's grant, with due attention paid to separation and patriotic fund allowances which were not paid in these cases.

A qualified applicant, who with his wife or dependent next of kin, received more than $500 war service gratuity, shall have that excess deducted from his grant.

Sex No Bar. Female members of the forces shall rank as males. V.A.D.'s and similar non-attested voluntary workers shall also be eligible, but at the discretion of the board, who must determine that actual need exists.

The estimated cash outlay, it is estimated, would not exceed $200,000,000. An estimated summary of the costs follows:

Cost of administration, 2 p.c. of total, $7,800,000.

Actual gross cost, $397,800,000.

(1) From the above it is assumed that a percentage will be unclaimed, or the need of re-establishment is not proven, amounting to 25 per cent.

(2) Also that Government departments such as land settlement, insurance and housing, will absorb the financial aid to a further 25 per cent.

Therefore, the actual cash outlay should not exceed $200,000,000.

In presenting this plan the members of the committee pointed out that these were suggestions, not demands, and that the plan had been evolved after careful study.

It is likely that the major part of tomorrow morning will be taken up by the members of the House, members of the G. W. V. A. committee.

MUST BRING LABOR AND CAPITAL INTO CLOSER HARMONY

Need Is Voiced At Industrial Conference in U. S.

A SERIOUS PROBLEM

All Parties Must 'Get Together' To Repair Wastage Caused by War.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Representatives of the public engaged in a spirited desire for action, rather than oratory at the opening session today of the industrial conference called by President Wilson.

Apparently with the determination of differentiating this conference from similar gatherings held in Washington, the public delegates demanded that sessions be held night and day, if necessary, to establish a basis for harmonious relations between capital and labor during the present abnormal economic conditions.

Bernard M. Baruch, of New York, one of these delegates, was active in directing the affairs of the conference, and considered significant in view of his close friendship with President Wilson, and his frequent visits to the White House.

After the appointment of committees on nominations and rules, the conference adjourned to meet tomorrow morning. Gavin McNabb, of San Francisco, a representative of the public, was mentioned prominently for permanent chairman of the conference, but members of both sides declined to intimate what their recommendations would be.

Splendid Opportunity. Secretary Wilson, of the department of labor, told the delegates representing capital, labor, and the public—that a splendid opportunity for service to mankind lay before them. A road to stable relationships between capital and labor must be found, he said, adding that surely human intelligence could devise some acceptable method of adjusting this relationship.

After expressing regret that President Wilson could not be present, Secretary Wilson said the world was faced the most difficult peace-time problem it had ever had to deal with because of the wreckage of the war. The material resources of the world had been impaired, he said; the power of replacement of the things destroyed had been seriously impeded, and industry disarranged. This, with financial inflation in all commercial countries, had "played havoc with the relative values of money, wages and commodities."

"The effect of these things has been reflected in the high cost of living," Mr. Wilson continued, and the consequent demand for higher wage rates to meet the increasing burden of the family budget.

"Yet increases in the wage rate do not always give relief. The more we will replace the wastage of war, return to normal price levels and abolish the opportunity for profiteering."

All Interested. "For that reason we are all interested in the maintenance of industrial peace, but there can be no permanent industrial peace that is not based upon industrial justice. Surely human intelligence can devise some acceptable method of adjusting the relationship between employer and employee."

The only discordant element affecting the conference was the absence of John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, who is engaged in wage negotiations that threaten a strike, and Frank Duffy of the carpenters, who was said to have declined to attend the conference. Officials of the American Federation of Labor, however, said that as representation in the conference was on the basis of trades, both miners and carpenters might be said to have spokesmen in the other labor delegates. All of the railroad unions sent delegates.

HAS ACCEPTED OFFER. HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—Secretary Rolfe of the trades and labor council, and labor candidate for the provincial riding in West Hamilton, has wired the federal minister of health accepting an offer to become a member of the Dominion Council of Health.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ailments. Food ferments and sours, creating gas, which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from our drug stores a few ounces of Blaud's Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloated feeling out of the body, soothe the stomach, neutralize the acid, and prevent its formation, and there is no sourness or pain. Blaud's Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk)—is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

How Lack of Iron in the Blood May Change a Woman's Appearance and Break Down Her Physical Strength

While Plenty of Iron Makes Rich, Red Blood Corpuscles That Give Health, Vitality and Beauty

Every Woman Who Looks Pale, Haggard and Worn Should Have Her Blood Examined for Iron Deficiency—Administration of Simple Nuxated Iron Will Often Increase the Strength and Endurance of Weak, Nervous, Care-Worn Women in Two Weeks' Time and Make Them Look Years Younger.

Longing for the keen activity, the youthful step, the fresh rosy cheeks, the sunny disposition of buoyant health is making many a woman unhappy. Discontented, wringing and old before her time. Sleepless nights spent worrying over supposed ailments, constant dosing with habit-forming drugs and narcotics and fruitless attempts to brace up with strong coffee do not help the real cause of the trouble, which may be nothing more than lack of iron in the blood. For want of iron a woman may look and feel old at thirty, pale, haggard and all run-down—while at 50 or 60 with good health and plenty of iron in the blood she may still be young in feeling, and so full of life and vigor that she is able to defy detection of her real age.

That women may become stronger, healthier, more beautiful and better able to meet the cares of home, social and business life by increasing the supply of iron in their blood is the opinion of Dr. George H. Baker, formerly physician and surgeon of Monmouth Memorial Hospital, New Jersey, who says: "What women need to put roses in their cheeks and the springtime of life into their step is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs, but plenty of rich, pure, red blood. Without it no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood-builders, and I have found nothing in my experience so effective for helping women to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron. From a careful examination of the formula and my own tests of Nuxated Iron I feel convinced that it is a preparation which any physician can take himself or prescribe for his patients with the utmost confidence of obtaining highly beneficial and satisfactory results."

Among other physicians asked for an opinion was Dr. Ferdinand King, New York City, who says: "I have prescribed the blood and increasing its oxygen carrying power. Nuxated Iron will often transform the pallid, feeble, nervous, and make them look years younger within a surprisingly short time."

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-Door Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says: "As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is one of the greatest of all strength-builders. I have prescribed Nuxated Iron—organic iron—many, many times, and I have seen frequent instances where it gave renewed strength and energy, increased power and endurance, steady nerves, and the rosy bloom of health in about ten days or two weeks' time. Considerable Nuxated Iron one of the foremost blood and body builders—the best to which I have ever known recourse."

It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. They are not strong or energetic. They are not able to make the following test: See how long you can stand on your feet. If you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

MANUFACTURER'S NOTE: Nuxated Iron is a powdered and recommended form of iron. It is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the old iron pills it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the stomach. It is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists. These illustrations show how a woman may look when she has only 25 per cent red blood corpuscles and her blood is starving for iron and the change that takes place in her appearance when the percentage of red corpuscles increases as her blood becomes filled with strength-giving iron.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

How Madge Prepared to Meet Dicky.

I felt as fluttered as a schoolgirl as I went to my room to dress for Dicky's return, of which I felt assured, though I only had the arrival of the big box for Junior as my warrant. But I would allow no shadow of doubt to cloud my anticipation, and I hummed through my dressing in search of my small son.

Sometimes I hesitate over the choice of a gown, fearing the one I have chosen first may not be quite suited to the occasion for which I am dressing it. But today there was no hesitancy. The very frilliest, fluffiest, prettiest one I possessed was just too good for the homecoming of my husband.

I took down from the padded hanger and its white wrappings a gauzy, floating, fragile gown of robin's egg blue and cream. When I had fastened its last button, and remembering one of the things Dicky liked—had tucked a rose at the side of my corsage, I went down the stairs in search of my small son.

Mother Graham's Greeting.

For I meant my husband to find me in the garden, that wonderful group of rose bushes which we together had pruned and trained as much as such a neglected garden could be trained. Now it was a fragrant wilderness of blossoms, and it called to me insistently. Somewhere I felt that my husband would remain angry at me in such a setting. My mother-in-law was pushing Junior up and down the stairs—Richard, veranda when I came there in search of him. "Well," she ejaculated, open-mouthed, when she caught sight of my costume.

I knew as well as she if she had spoken her thoughts aloud that her first glimpse was to give utterance to a caustic criticism of the unsuitableness of my gown. But her anxiety for a reconciliation between Dicky and me gave her comprehension. I think of my motives in donning it, for after a moment's silence she said in kindly accents: "You look very nice indeed, Margaret. Do you want Richard Second now?"

"Yes, if you please, mother," I returned. "I am going out into the garden to gather some roses for the rose garden in the living-room. I filled every thing but that—and as there is nothing to do here, I thought I would sit out a little while with Junior—Richard Second."

An ironical smile flitted across my mother-in-law's face at my substitution of her name for the baby instead of my own. But that that pleased her. I was sure she had heard her husband's name in my plan.

"Surely, stay as long as you like," she said heartily. "When Richard will tell him where you are!"

With a sudden impulse I kissed her warmly as I took the perambulator from her hands.

"Thank you, mother, for—everything," I said.

What Madge Planned.

She patted my cheek, one of her rare caresses, and uttered one of her rare expressions of approval as she fairly pushed me toward the door.

"You are a good girl, Margaret, a good girl," she said.

Cars Stop at the Door

That? Do come in the house and open it!"

"Presently—presently," Dicky said, provokingly.

Then he snatched up Junior, held him high above his head, and watched the adoring father-look spread over his face, a look on Dicky's countenance which always brings a lump into my throat, so wonderfully does it fulfill the dreams which for so long I feared never to be realized.

For the memory of the anguish which was mine when I feared that the precious little son of my life, my husband, would always remain with me, but I found myself to my own surprise, wishing that the coming moments might not hold so much of keyed-up emotion.

"How About It?"

And then Dicky was standing in the doorway, grinning at me—there is no other word with which to describe his expression.

"Well, old dear, how about it?" he asked saucily.

I felt a little as if I had been pushed under an unexpected shower bath, then the stimulating effect of just such a procedure began to have its way with me. My husband had come back to me in the friendliest sort of fashion, evidently intending to avoid even the semblance of an emotional reconciliation. It was just the attitude I wanted. I told Dicky, scoring myself for while that with feminine inconsistency I wished Dicky need not be quite so nonchalant about his return. But his words and cordial impertinent smile made it easy for me to answer him with equal friendly carelessness.

"Oh, Dicky, I'm terribly glad to see you!" I cried in exactly the same tone with which I would have welcomed Fred Durkee or his mother. "I thought you'd be here today when I saw that big box for Junior was the direction of curiosity. Whatever you can have bought baby to fill such a box as

Tomorrow's MOROCCO

By Carlisle H. Holcomb

THE HOME OF OLD MAN FOX.

"Tell us what makes you cry," said Tinker Bob.

"We are afraid and hungry," was the reply.

"Where is your mother?"

"We have no mother," answered the larger one of the three. "While she was out one day looking for food, a hunter and his dog caught and killed her."

"Show me where they are," said Tinker Bob.

Lady Duck led the way into the forest. She was very shy, and was frightened by the sound of the hunter's gun. She was out one day looking for food, a hunter and his dog caught and killed her.

"Come to my side," said Tinker, as he seated himself on the edge of the great rock.

The three little foxes came out. The larger of the three seated himself at Tinker Bob's right side, the other two at his left, and they cuddled up close, because they were afraid.

"It will tell you," began Tinker. "The wonderful story of what happened to Old Man Fox." They picked up their ears and listened eagerly. "You know, and Lady Duck looked at them in pity.

What Women in Their "Forties" Need

BY A SPECIALIST.

Many women approach the critical changing period of their lives that comes between the ages of forty and fifty, unmindful of its tremendous importance to their future health and happiness. Not understanding the functional changes taking place in their bodies, they work beyond their strength, often break down, and their nervous wrecks, their bodies suffering with fatigue and their weakened nerves trembling at every step. Often in their very condition of early laboring become excessive, this added drain compelling them to take heavy loads from nervous exhaustion.

What these women need is something that will instantly relieve the pressure on the overworked nerve centers and give them the vitality to stand up under the grueling strain. Wonderfully effective results are often obtained by the simple use of Ferro-Peptide, a skillful combination of six of the best nerve-vitalizing elements known to modern chemistry. These little tablets contain no dangerous habit-forming drugs, and are entirely harmless in their action.

Thousands of women can testify that Ferro-Peptide strengthens the faded nerves, revives the tired brain and puts the energy and courage into the body that enables one to stand up under the unusual strain of the changing period. Ferro-Peptide has to do these things or it costs nothing, as the Standard Drug Company and other leading druggists sell it on a positive guarantee of relief or money back—Advt.

GETTING READY FOR RIDGETOWN FAIR

RIDGETOWN, Oct. 6.—The 64th annual fall fair of the Howard Agricultural Society takes place at Ridgetown on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and bids fair to be one of the largest and best.

The prizes in the field-crop competition have already been awarded and were won by the following:

EMBRO PRESENTATION.
EMBRO, Oct. 6.—The members of Baynes Sunday school and Superintendent Rev. E. G. Warren gathered together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Somebody's gold watch, chain and a noisy clock. Mr. Warren made a feeble reply. Short addresses were made by Geo. McWilliams, Hugh McKay, James McPherson and Thomas White. Music was furnished on the violin by the Brinn brothers, and on the piano by Misses Helen, Rose, Jean Hossack and Anna White.

Mrs. G. M. McKenzie met with a painful accident. A pan of hot water upset and scalded her arm badly, also her leg and back.

PERHAPS YOUR BACKACHE COMES FROM KIDNEYS

Not all backaches are kidney backaches, but many of them are and at the first sign of back pains, twinges or weakness in the kidney regions it is a good plan to use a good safe kidney regulator such as a little Solvax, as even two or three doses will often enable you to see right where your kidneys stand.

If the kidneys are all right Solvax can't do them a bit of harm and if they are weakened or run down it will do them a world of good, for Solvax acts directly on sluggish kidneys and cleanses and strengthens them so that almost immediately they begin to filter and sift out of your body all the clogged-up poisonous impurities from the blood. Solvax usually will act in less than twenty-four hours and with the kidneys acting normally you should begin to feel better right away. Solvax is a guaranteed remedy.

For Disordered Kidneys in that your druggist and leading druggists everywhere, who sell it agree to return its price in any case if it does not give perfect satisfaction. There is no time like the present for doing a thing that ought to be done and if there is any doubt about the kidneys, today is the best time to find it out before serious trouble may begin.

If your druggist cannot supply you, write inclosing 50 cents to Booth's Syriamel Company, Postoffice Box 388, London, Ont.

at the Theatre

At the Majestic

"Choosing a Wife" Tells How.

"Choosing a Wife," the feature picture of this week, is showing at the Majestic today and Wednesday. Many patrons, as they were leaving the theatre, remarked that it is a picture that will stand a second or third time showing.

The three figures about which this very unusual love story revolves are Andrew Quick, the scientist; Barbara Blossom, a girl of twenty; and her aunt, Dorothy Blossom, who is approaching middle age. Just before starting for the South Seas, Quick sends a letter of proposal which he intends shall be for the younger woman, with whom he is in love. By a mistake, for which nobody was to blame, the letter falls into the hands of the older woman who had previously had an intimation that Quick was in love with her.

Faces Dramatic Problem.

In the South Seas, where he has many adventures among the natives, Andrew Quick has received what he thinks is an answer from the young woman.

Obtain Funds for Sailors' Homes is Navy League Plan

Among the recent important appearances of Herman Brouwer was on June 8 at the Organ Building, San Francisco, where he sang to an audience of 4,000 people with tremendous success. On August 8 he was sent as official government representative to sing at the Clumer Auditorium, Los Angeles, where a function was held for the purpose of welcoming the fleet and doing honor to the commander, Admiral Sims. Here also he sang to an audience which taxed the hall to its full capacity.

A comic trip of harmony singers is a great addition to the program, as well as a most excellent comedy picture and exceptionally fine number of the Universal Screen Magazine.

GORGEOUS FROCK SHOW IN FEATURE BILL AT GRAND.

At the Grand Theatre, five splendid acts of E. F. Keith's exclusive vaudeville are being offered the first half of this week, while the most thrilling and expensive photographic play has ever been seen in this city is a big feature for the whole of the week.

The excellent vaudeville bill, abounding with talent and variety, is headed by the De Wolfe Girls, Georgette and Capitola, who present their beautiful musical display, "Clothes, Clothes, Clothes."

Frocks, Dances, Songs.

It is one of the best vaudeville acts of the season, for in addition to the many gorgeous gowns exhibited by the two young ladies, they offer splendid singing and dancing numbers.

Other headline attraction is Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "One of the Blood." It is in eight reels and owing to the long vaudeville program, and the length of the picture, it can only be shown once during the evening performance.

Fairbanks has a large number of successful pictures to his credit, but this production easily tops the list, it being his first independent screen appearance under the release of the recently-formed United Artists' Corporation, commonly known as the "Big Four," and which consists of Mary Pickford, Charles Chaplin, D. W. Griffith and Douglas Fairbanks.

The picture is novel, with a number of things in it which have never been enacted before.

Has Scenic Beauty.

It is portrayed with delightful simplicity, and contains a heart-breaking love story. It is a beautiful photograph, and the settings are among the finest that recent films have disclosed. The star is ably supported by a cast of talented players, including Markeday, Dave Frank Campeau and Lillian Langdon.

Action, thrills, pathos, love and adventure are all combined in this remarkable feature.

More Varied Features.

As an added attraction, the Hirsch-Gipsies, six specialty artists, young, graceful and pretty, offer an exceptionally and picturesque program, consisting of singing, dancing and music. With the aid of elaborate stage settings and special lighting effects they contribute a series of interpretative dances. Their singing and musical efforts are equally as satisfying.

The Mystic Hanson Trio, a male member and two winsome misses, present a novel departure from the beaten path of mystery acts. They have a bagful of brand new tricks and spectacular illusions, interspersed with comedy talk, exclusive songs and dancing.

Being "Caught by Surprise," may be pleasant or otherwise. With Duval and Lee it is decidedly pleasant, a surprising routine of comedy gymnastics which these two men have worked into an effective way.

Although the feature film, "One of the Blood," will remain at the Grand all week, the management have arranged for a complete change of the vaudeville program on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. For the latter half of the week another big-time Keith bill will be offered.

THEORA BARA ANSWERS KIP-LING'S "THE VAMPIRE."
Theora Bara, the great screen vampire, scored a success again last night at the Patricia Theatre, when she was seen in "A Woman There Was," written in answer to Kipling's poem, "The Vampire."

Here a native princess of a southern island kingdom falls in love with the missionary who comes there to minister to the people. Her wild and primal passion is excellently depicted by the actress, amid a tropical setting.
After repeatedly protecting the white man from the barbarous weapons of her savage subjects, the tragedy of the play is gradually evolved when the princess learns that the love of the white man is already given to a girl of his own kind back home, and when she offers herself a sacrifice to the waves as a peace offering to the great pearl god.

Thrill Picture.
The daring of her leap into the water during a violent typhoon, and the heroic rescue of the missionary, are but two of the sensational features of this picture. The display of pearls in the temple of the pearl worshippers is gorgeous, and they are constantly appearing in the picture where the old king keeps guard over his treasures, and the young heathen blood, in spite of the awe of the great pearl god, dances as a means of winning a maiden's love.

The tragic death of the princess at the close of the picture is essential to the completeness of the theme, and made a spectacular effect on the whole.

A comic trip of harmony singers is a great addition to the program, as well as a most excellent comedy picture and exceptionally fine number of the Universal Screen Magazine.
