THE "SOO" WRECK IS COMPLETE

Directors Make Vain Attempt to Straighten Affairs.

AT MERCY OF THE SYNDICATE

Sault Ste. Marie Authorities Prepare for Riots—Special Police Sworn In.

New York, Sept. 21.—The directors of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, after a two-hours' meeting today, gave up the attempt to find some plan for saving the properties of the company, which are in the hands of Speyer & Co., as collateral for a loan of $5,050,000, and announced that the stockholders are entirely at the mercy of the banking firm, which can sell out the stock and bonds of the operating companies in the Consolidated Company at any time. An acknowledgment was practically made that the directors believed that their plans for placing the company in a sound position had been blocked by the great financial interests that are behind rival steel companies.

After the meeting, speaking for the other directors, Vice-President Sanborne said: "Nothing has been done, because there was nothing that could be done. We did not come here to consider any plan that had been formulated. We came here to try to find one and we did not. The whole situation is now in the hands of Speyer & Co."

Charles H. Tweed, representing the Speyer syndicate, referring to the action of the directors of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, said today: "We have been very lenient with the company. We will probably foreclose the loan, selling the collateral pledges at auction. The syndicate will seek reimbursement for its outlay." A suggestion that the syndicate might take over the company and run it pending a reorganization was not seriously entertained by Mr. Tweed.

A BIG WRECK.

A Philadelphia dispatch says: "The spectacle of a $117,000,000 corporation being lost through its failure to pay a loan of $5,050,0000 is anticipated by thousands of Philadelphia stockholders who have been mulcted out of millions. Their equity in the company, after the property is sold, will amount to little or nothing. It is an accepted fact in financial circles that they will never get a penny back for what they have sunk in the corporation. The wreck is expected to be complete, and only the unexpected will save the embarrassed concern. Already there is a growing belief that Francis H. Clergue, the original promoter of the gigantic enterprise, has organized a syndicate of wealthy Canadian capitalists, who stand prepared to buy the property when it is put up at public sale. It is understood these capitalists believe they will receive support from the Canadian Government in running the work."

RIOTS FEARED

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 21. — At no time in its history has the Soo been under such tension as today. One might almost be led to believe that the city is under martial law, for the police department has sworn in every available person as a special constable—even the street car employes—and all have been heavily armed. The reason for this is the anticipation of a big crowd of men to come from the woods and mines. They will arrive for the most part penniless, unable to get work, and unable to get pay for the work already done for the Lake Huron Consolidated, whose penniless condition is now absolute, owing to the closing of the company's industries by the Speyers, of New York, in the collection of their $9,000,000 loan. One party of Finns has already arrived. They can speak little or no English, and all are hungry and ugly. The company has prepared sleeping places for the men in car barns, but, being unable to get stores on credit, can supply no food. Consequently, the citizens will make an effort to this end. The office of the paymaster is carefully guarded by a force of armed deputies, while not infrequently parties of discharged laborers come to the building to demand their money. This, not being forthcoming, causes considerable loud talk in the native tongue of men, and threatened looks at the building and those guarding it. It is feared that riots may occur.

CLERGUE'S INTENTIONS.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 22.—Francis H. Clergue and the party of capitalists, A. H. Harvey, A. Wilson and T. Tulloch, all of London, England, who have been in the Soo looking over the plant of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, have left as suddenly as they came, and it has been ascertained that Mr. Clergue contemplates accompanying these gentlemen back to England, going by the way of New York, where they should be today.

Persistent inquiry from a hundred different sources has finally resulted in the running to earth of the fire which caused all the smoke of the last two days, and shows that the reports of Mr. Clergue's intention to secure at least a part of the properties of the consolidated are well founded.

Pittsburg, Sept. 22.—The stockholders' protective committee of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, composed of E. C. Miller, W. W. Kurtz, William Ratch Wister and Nicholas Brice, held a conference here today to decide upon a plan of procedure. A member of the committee said:

"If Speyer & Co. have decided to foreclose on the properties it is by agreement with the management. A sale is a necessary part of the reorganization plan and only a sale will put the reorganization in a position in which they can say to the stockholders: 'You must either pay an assessment or lose your interest.'" E. C. Miller said: "I think the influence of the company should be sufficient to offset any unfriendly attitude taken by any large rival steel interest. As to the receivership, I do no see what could be gained by our filing an application at this time."

WOULD NOT ARGUE

Man Killed for Refusing to Discuss Unionism.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—William H. Collins, an employee of the Parry Manufacturing Company, a non-union man, was badly assaulted on the street last night by a man supposed to be a union hod carrier. Collins refused, it is said, to discuss the respective merits of unionism and non-unionism with his assailant. The latter struck Collins a vicious blow on the head. The blow and fall caused concussion of the brain from which Collins died today.

CRIPPLES PLAY BALL

One-Legged Men Defeat the One-Armed Team.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—With nine arms on one side and nine legs on the other, two ball teams struggled through a game yesterday. One-armed men made up one team, while the other was composed wholly of men who had lost a leg each.

The one-legged men won by a score of 8 to 6, their inferiority in base-running being more than counterbalanced by the weak battery and fielding of the other side. The only disappointment of the day came when no one-eyed man could be found who was willing to umpire the game.

MONTREAL JURY GOES ON STRIKE

Objected to Being Kept In, So Agreed to Disagree—Finally Acquitted Accused.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—E. Parisi, the Italian, whose trial here on a charge of the murder of a fellow-countryman ended on Saturday, was acquitted yesterday, the jury, after proceeding in a manner unprecedented here, bringing in a verdict of not guilty. Before the tweive men were locked up on Saturday to consider the evidence the judge announced that he would receive the verdict on Monday. On Saturday the foreman of the jury told the officials that a decision had been reached, but he did not say what was its nature. He asked, however, that the jury be allowed to take a trolley ride, claiming that they were in need of fresh air. The request was not granted, the excuse being that the rules provided for no such outing. The jurors then argued that as they had finished their duties they were entitled to a change of air. The officials were nevertheless obdurate, so some of the jurors took offense and decided to disagree. When the court resumed yesterday morning the foreman reported accordingly, reciting the circumstances, and then the judge expressed his indignation at such a proceeding. There was a time, he said, when juries were locked up for days without either light of food. He sent them back. Twice again they reported no agreement. A third time, however, was more satisfactory, the accused being found "not guilty."

SAY HE KEPT $90

Which Should Have Been Sent Erie and Huron Company.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 22.—J. L. Peters appeared in the police court yesterday, charged with misappropriating $90, which was given him by F. X. Beaume to send to the Huron and Erie Loan Company at London. Peters was admitted to bail to appear in court today for a preliminary hearing.

PERE MARQUETTE PLAN

Said To Be After a Terminal at Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 22.—It is rumored that the Pere Marquette Railway is actively engaged in buyng a right of way for a terminal railway to connect the various system of the city, and also to extend from the Saginaw Salt and Lumber Company's mills in Sandwich to Walkerville. The right of way would be invaluable to the company in view of the fact of a new international railway bridge.

THE IRISH NATIONALISTS

British Government Looking to Them for Support.

London, Sept. 22.—According to a dispatch from Belfast to the Daily Mail, the Government is negotiating with the Irish Nationalists for their support of the retaliation policy. Communications on this subject have been passing for some time, and agreement will probably be reached before the expected general election. The correspondent asserts that it is highly probable a quid pro quo will be given the Irish party in the shape of a Roman Catholic College at Dublin, on the lines suggested by the recent royal commission on university education, and adds that Mr. Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, is already drafting such a measure. It would raise much opposition in Ulster, but the Government will endeavor to neutralize this by giving additional endowments and greater powers to the Protestant colleges at Belfast and Londonderry. The Nationalists desire some further powers in the direction of home rule as the price of their support.

AN ATTACK ON SIR ROBT. FINLAY

The "News" Accuses Him of Discourtesy to Americans.

MR. SEDDON TO CHAMBERLAIN

The New Zealand Premier Cables a Message of Encouragement to Ex-Minister.

London, Sept. 22.—The recent editorial in the London Daily News attacking Attorney-General Finlay for what it called his "discourteous tone" towards the United States in the argument on the Alaska dispute, and which was cabled several United States papers, is the only unfriendly reference to the Canadian case which has appeared in the British press. The News' accusation was entirely unfounded, whilst the attack on Canada was most scurrilous. The News is no longer the organ of any political party, but simply a private enterprise, so that no importance is attached to its utterances here. As showing how much the News is up-to-date, today's issue announces that Lord Alverstone, one of the Alaska boundary commissioners, is staying at Shanklin, on the Isle of Wight, five hours' journey from London.

CANADIAN PREFERENCE.

A recent cablegram from Canada stated that the proposal to give preferential treatment to Canadian wheat alone was condemned in the strongest manner by Canadian supporters of Mr. Chamberlain, and that, failing a wider application, there would probably be a secession movement or wider reciprocity with the United States. Mr. Chamberlain's secretary, replying to a correspondent, said that Mr. Chamberlain did not think there was the slightest foundation for the statement, but it would be much better to ask a distinguished and representative Canadian like Sir Charles Tupper, or others of those present in England.

Messrs. Christopher Robinson, Duff, Wade, King, and Collier have accepted the invitation to the Pilgrim Society dinner on October 6. Hon. Clifford Sifton dines the members of the Alaskan commission on Friday at Brown's Hotel.

Rowe, arrested in Toronto for alleged fraud while in the employ of the Great Fingall Company, in a letter to the board of directors asserts that he had no criminal purpose and intended to redeem the forged documents when Westralians boomed again.

Premier Seddon, of New Zealand, writing to Mr. Chamberlain, says: "Do not be discouraged: to obtain reform ever entails great sacrifice."

The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial regarding Canada's preferential tariff to Britain, says: It is only a generation since the deplorable era, dead let us hope forever, when Mr. Bright declared in the House of Commons that the separation of Canada from the emuire would be best for her and best for us, and when the Radicals of the penurious school complained of the expense of our North American establishments.

JILTED 3 TIMES SHE SUICIDES

Attempted Her Life After Each Occasion and Finally Successful.

New York, Sept. 22.—Jilted on three occasions by men who had promised to marry her, and, having, after each of the first two times unsuccessfully tried to commit suicide, Mary Evakory, a Russian servant, 24 years old, made a third and final attempt to end her life today, and was found dead with a gas tube in her mouth at the house where she was employed.

SERVIAN ELECTIONS

Extreme Radicals Score an Unexpected Victory.

Belgrade, Sept. 22.—The elections yesterday to the Skupshtina (national assembly) resulted in unexpected victories for the Extreme Radicals, of whom 65 were elected. The house otherwise is composed of 78 Radicals, 15 Liberals and 2 Socialists. All the party leaders were elected.

The Skupshtina will meet in extraordinary session Sept. 27, when the ministry will resign. It is practically certain that General Gruics will be the next Premier.

COMPANIONS OF RIEL

Honore Jaxon Is Now Attacking President Roosevelt.

Chicago, Sept. 22. — A companion of Louis Riel and a survivor of the Northwest rebellion, Honore Jaxon, is just now the center of much interest in Chicago, because of a highly sensational letter he has published touching the attitude of President Roosevelt on the labor question. Though captured with the old rebel chieftain in 1885, and condemned, Jaxon escaped, and made his way to Chicago, where he has recently become a prominent factor in the labor world. He was chairman of the Chicago Federation of Labor committee which authorized the publication of a statement harshly arraigning the executive of the republic because he stated that it is "fundamentally indecent to deny a man employment because he is not a member of a union." Jaxon admits authorship, and the document threatens to become a powerful political engine in arraying the labor element against the republican party.

GOOD FOR PRINCE HENRY

He Orders Degradation for a German Navy Brute.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—A dispatch from Kiel gives an indication of the views of Prince Henry of Prussia on the ill-treatment of soldiers and sailors. A machinist named Dittmer, belonging to the cruiser Wittelsbach, was recently tried for badly abusing a subordinate, and was sentenced to undergo 21 days detention. The papers went before Prince Henry last night, who decided that the sentence of Dittmer should have been degradation.

DROPPED 85 FEET

And He Escapes Without a Broken Bone.

Fort William, Sept. 22.—Anthony Streke, employed on the construction work of Elevator E. by the Macdonald Engineering Company, dropped a distance of 85 feet into the bottom of one of the steel tanks, and is still alive. Not only that, but the medical examination has failed to show that a single bone is fractured. He was engaged on the construction work above the storage tanks, and was assisting in moving a heavy piece of timber across the mouth of one of the tanks, when he slipped and fell through an opening about 4½ feet wide.

BRIDE'S ADMIRERS MOB BRIDEGROOM

Were Piqued Because an Outsider Captured the District Beauty.

New York, Sept. 22.—Police reserves were called out in Jersey City last evening to protect a bridegroom. Because he lived in another part of town and had captured the prettiest girl in the neighborhood, men, women and children mobilized for squares around to throw stones at his carriage. Finally, when he arrived at the bride's home, where she and a minister awaited, they congregated on the roofs and poured hot water on him.

The bride, whose beauty strengthened Joseph Krotkis' heart until he was ready to brave the entire neighborhood, was Polano Karwel, who lives in First street.

The wedding was set for 6 o'clock. It had been intended to have the ceremony at the Polish Catholic Church, at Sixth and Brunswick streets, but public feeling made a change in the plans.

When Krotkis drove up to the Karwel home the carriage was greeted by a volley of stones. At the window he saw his bride and by her side the Rev. Father Kwakowski. As he attempted to alight a brick whizzed past his ear. Krotkis dodged into the coach.

"I'll be back soon," he screamed, as he was whirled away. Twenty minutes later Krotkis made good his word. While the crowd was making ready to hurl another volley five big policemen leaped from the carriage and striking right and left mowed a path for the bridegroom to the wedding altar.

As the crowd fell back women and children on roofs took up the fight, pouring buckets of hot water upon Krotkis and his protectors. Drenched to the skin, the police and the bridegroom dashed into the Karwel house. Then, with the reserves on guard, the ceremony was performed.

INDORSES NEW POPE

Cardinal Gibbons Says the Choice Was Happy One.

New York, Sept. 22.—Cardinal Gibbons arrived here today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. A delegation of priests and laymen from Baltimore went down the bay on a revenue cutter to welcome him home. The cardinal said the ocean trip had recuperated his strength, which had been greatly taxed by the fever he suffered in Rome during the conclave. Of the new Pontiff, the cardinal said that the choice of the conclave had been most happy. He spoke of the democracy of the Pope, and said that this reign would be marked by a breaking down of the exclusiveness which has heretofore prevailed at the Vatican. The cardinal was not inclined to discuss the probable policy of the new regime, but said that no radical changes in American church administration would ensue.

MOSCOW HAS A BIG SENSATION

Wealthy Landowner Murdered by Society People.

USED A HYPODERMIC SYRINGE

To Inject the Deadly Poison—Coolly Watch Victim Die and Pack Body in Basket.

London, Sept. 22.—A case of murder by the injection of poison by means of a hypodermic syringe is reported by the Moscow correspondent of the Daily Mail, who writes that an unpleasant smell proceeding from a wicker basket which arrived as luggage at the Brest railway station in Moscow, and for which no claimant appeared, caused an examination to be made, when the body of a well-dressed man was found.

An examination showed that death had resulted through the injection of poison under the skin by means of a syringe. Inquiries were instituted which proved that the murdered man was a well-to-do land owner named Martin Tomasheffsky. The perpetrators of the crime have been discovered and have admitted their guilt. The circumstances under which the deed was committed, are of a highly sensational character.

Tomasheffsky had no occupation and resided at a hotel. He was passionately fond of card-playing and visited a club every night where he played for heavy stakes and was as a rule very fortunate. On the day of the murder his cousin called at the hotel and asked him to come to his mother's house to play cards with two other friends of the family. Then, at a given signal, he was seized, his mouth covered so that he could not cry for assistance, and the poison was injected under the skin of the forehead. The three men then watched the effects of the poison for about half an hour at the same time taking his money from his pocket which they divided among themselves. After the victim died they placed the body in a basket and one of them tied a piece of cord tightly around the throat to make sure as he says, that there could be no further trouble with the murdered man. The perpetrators of the crime were confident that their social positions would prevent any suspicion falling on them. It was only after the strong chain of evidence had been completed that they confessed.

APPOINTMENTS NOT MADE

Milner Considering the Colonial Secretaryship.

London, Sept. 22.—Premier Balfour's private secretary informed the Associated Press last night that the reported Cabinet appointments had not yet been made. Apparently Lord Milner is still considering the offer of the Colonial Secretaryship.

MORE MONEY IN WESTERN CROPS

Manitoba's Loss Will Not Exceed Ten Per Cent — Grain Will Be More Valuable.

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—In face of the fact that the total wheat yield in the Canadian West this year will fall short of last year, J. Obed Smith, immigration commissioner, after weighing the information received from various agents and other sources at the disposal of the department, has wired the chief officials at Ottawa that the cash value of the yield of 1903 will exceed that of the bumper year previous. Commissioner Smith has also sent an estimate on the damage to crops resulting from the recent storm, which is in striking contrast with the reports which have appeared in various papers to the effect that crops in Western Canada were ruined. When the commissioner was asked for the text of the crop message sent to Ottawa, he made the following statement:

"If the present fine weather continues and present high prices are maintained; farmers in Western Canada on the whole will probably receive more each for their crops this year than they did in 1902. In other words any loss in quantity and color will be more than made up by enhanced cash value to the grain.

"The loss to crops from the recent storm will not exceed ten per cent in quantity in Manitoba, although discoloration will pull down the grade a point or two. In the Territories, owing to a certain portion of the crop being uncut at the time of the storm, and, herefore, liable to loss, the damage may amount to 20 per cent, but not more."

THREE BROTHERS TO DIE

For the Murder of an Uncle Last April.

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Governor Odell refuses to commute the death sentence of Willis, Burton and Frederick Van Wormer, brothers, of Columbia, for the murder of their uncle in April, 1902. The case was brought before Governor Odell on an application for a commutation of sentence from the death penalty to imprisonment for life. The application was strongly opposed by many of the clergy and townspeople of Columbia, because the murder was a particularly cold-blooded one, and also because of the general bad character of the three brothers.

CZAR IS CAUTIOUS

Will Try to Avoid the Socialist Demonstration.

Vienna, Sept. 22.—The newspapers state that on the occasion of his approaching visit here the Czar, on account of the project formed by the socialist organizations of making street demonstrations in sympathy with the Russian strikes, will not venture in the streets of Vienna. He will only spend half a day at Sahoenbrunn Castle, whence both the Emperors will proceed to Styria on a shooting trip.

PURCHASED A CASTLE

Duke of Manchester Buys One in Ireland.

London, Sept. 22.—The Duke of Manchester has purchased for $315,000 Kylemore Castle and estate, comprising 13,000 acres, situated on Lough Kylemore, Connemara. The place formerly belonged to the late Mitchell Henry, M. P., who built the castle, which is one of the noblest and most romantically situated residence in Ireland. It has often been assigned by rumor as a probably royal residence. It is estimated that Mr. Henry spent $2,500,000 in building the castle and improving the estate.

CHRISTENED IN MIDST OF LIONS

Crying of the Baby Enrages the Big Beasts and a Panic Almost Ensues.

New York, Sept. 22.—In the center of a cordon of snarling lions, at Bostocks', Coney Island, Sunday afternoon, the christening of a 3-weeks-old boby of Harry Tudor, of West Eighth street, Coney Island, took place. The crying of the child seemed to enrage the beasts, and the trainer had hard work to control them.

Capt. Bonavita drove 27 lions into the arena. They were in a particularly ugly mood and for 20 minutes it was a question whether the christening would be possible. As Mme. Mordella, with the baby in her arms, entered the band played "America." The baby was dressed in a long gown made of a combination of American and English flags.

Just as Capt. Bonavita stepped forward to officiate at the christening the baby started to cry, Peter the Great and a big lioness jumped from their pedestals. By this time the lions were all roaring in chorus and among the spectators a panic was barely averted. When the lions were again subdued the ceremony of the christening was resumed. The baby was christened Isla.

BACK TO ERIN

Evicted Tenants in U. S. Are Making Inquiries.

London, Sept. 22.—Interest has been evoked here by a letter from Secretary O'Callahan, of the United Irish League of America, to Mr. Condon, M. P., saying that since the passage of the Irish land act many evicted tenants now residing in the United States have been making anxious inquiries regarding the possibility of re-acquiring their former holdings. Mr. O'Callahan expressed the belief that should a large proportion of the inquirers be able to do so it would go far towards solving the question of emigration, and turn the tide back to Ireland.

FASTED TO DEATH

Victim Said He Obeyed an Angel of the Lord.

Pomona, Cal., Sept. 22.—After a fast begun on Aug. 5, and lasting 45 days, during which he suffered agony that nearly drove him insane, Frank Richards, aged 55, fell into a swoon on Sunday and died within an hour.

He was warned a few days ago that a longer continuance of his fast would probably result in death, but he declared his faith that the Lord was with him and would not let him die in any event.

About Aug. 1 Richards anounced that an angel of the Lord had appeared to him and told him that he could not have salvation unless he purged himself by abstaining from food for at least sixty-seven days.

MEMBERS GET THEIR PAY

Checks To Be Issued in Payment of Indemnity.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—"The long dry spell" for the members has come to an end by the decision to issue checks in payment of indemnity. The banks were asked by officials of the House, not the Government, if they would honor the checks, and they replying in the affirmative, the difficulty was solved. It was not too soon, as many members complained that their available assets were at a low ebb. There may not be much connection between the incidents, but the parliamentary caterer, who has found odd business dull recently, has announced an increase in his rates for board.

ANTI-DUELING SOCIETY

Attempts to Stop Fighting in Austria and Germany.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—At a meeting of the Anti-Dueling League, attended by 40 delegates, at Frankfurt today, Dr. Kolb, of Darmstadt, reported that the lagest number of duels took place in Austria, and Germany took second place. Mayor Anton, of Fula, proposed that an international anti-dueling agreement should be brought about.

U. S. SURVEYORS AND SAINT PAUL

Sir Robt. Finlay Quotes Them in Boundary Dispute.

AND MAKES GOOD HIS POINT

American Counsel Accepting British View as to Measuring From Tidewater.

London, Sept. 22. — Towards the close of Friday's proceedings before the Alaskan boundary tribunal, Mr. Dickenson, on behalf of the United States, withdrew their claim that the line should be measured from the head of tidewater. The term, he said, was intended to be synonymous with the heads of inlets.

Yesterday Attorney-General Finlay resumed his argument, quoting from the reports of Mr. Mendenhall to the United States survey, to show that he contemplated a line measured at right angles to the general trend of the coast, which might cut the longer inlets, and proved, by reference to the United States maps of the survey of 1894-95, that these instructions were carried out, and that these surveys were carried only to a point ten leagues from the mouth of Taku Inlet and other points.

This is very important, as these surveys were conducted under the treaty of 1892, to acquire information necessary for a delimitation of the boundary.

Sir Robert Finlay showed that in their case the United States are sometimes constrained to adopt the British view of the line. Thus they speak of the shore line several times, meaning the general line of the continent. He discussed the meaning of words "cote" and "ocean coast." It was not necessarily shore. When St. Paul spoke of the coasts of Tyre and Sidon he did not refer to the line where the water meets the land, but to those territories. He argued that anyone asked to draw a line along the south coast of England would neglect the small harbors and bays.

He quoted from correspondence to show that the Russians discriminated between the mouths and heads of inlets, the former being in the ocean, the latter within the continent. He read from Dall to prove that a line drawn parallel to the coast, as the United States contend, for reproducing a very small inlet, was an impossibility. Such would cross itself and get inextricably tangled. He showed that twice in the negotiations it was contemplated to adopt a line, irrespective altogether of the mountains. We could not suppose they contemplated an impossible line; therefore, we must conclude that they meant the line asked for by Great Britain, which was perfectly feasible. He took up the barrier theory, and showed by many references to the law of territorial waters that Russia's barrier would not be broken by a line crossing the inlets where they narrowed to six miles, because all above that line formed part of their own territory, subject only to the right of innocent passage over them.

He claimed that even if no mountains existed within the meaning of the treaty the line of the coast from which the lisiere was to be measured should cross the Lynn Canal, where its breadth narrowed to six miles, i. e., Bernier's Bay. Under the North Sea convention, Great Britain could claim ten miles, but would be satisfied with six. The mountains, however, were presupposed by the treaty. They were not necessarily continuous, for neither the word "range" or "chain" in the treaty distinguished between the word "parallelment" in the treaty, and the general word, "parallel," the former merely calling for a general parallelism, a parallelism such as it was possible to observe. He quoted from the negotiations to show that the mountains were to be near the coast; that the Russians were apprehensive they might be so near that if the base were taken for a boundary Russia might get no lisiere at all, as the mountains might descend by an invincible slope to the water's edge. He invited the tribunal to answer question 5 by a direct negative, and the sixth question by holding that where the mountains fail, the width of the lisiere should be measured from the mainland coast of the ocean, and in case of a deep inlet, from a line separating the waters of the ocean from the territorial waters of Russia.

SHAKESPEARE'S FINISH

The Baconian Theory To Be Spread Broadcast.

London, Sept. 22.—The best organized effort yet made to dispute Shakespeare's authorship of the plays bearing his name is in operation. The most ardent supporters in London of the claim that Bacon wrote these plays have formed themselves into a society which has just been incorporated at Somerset House. Several Americans are among the incorporators. Harold Bayley, one of the founders of the society, declares:

"We intend to start a most active propaganda that ought to sweep the Shake spearians from the face of the earth. Paid searchers will be employed to ransack old libraries for evidence, and pamphlets will be distributed gratis to all public libraries.

"We, intend sending a host of speakers, who, with the help of lantern lectures, will convince the majority of people that our belief is well founded. In fact, we wish to convert the 'man in the street' to the opinion that Bacon was the author of the plays and works in question."

The society is not in want of money and is represented by a magazine published quarterly called "Baconiana."

CANNOT IDENTIFY

Bodies of Two Men Found on Beach at Port Stanley.

Port Stanley, Ont., Sept. 22.—The adjourned inquest over the bodies of the two men found on the beach on September 10th, was resumed yesterday, before Dr. Gustin, coroner, and Dr. D. J. Donahue, county attorney. No further light was thrown on the matter, and the jury returned a verdict that the bodies were of two men full grown, but were in such a state of decomposition that it is impossible to identify either of them, but from the evidence and from their view of the bodies, they are of the opinion that from the condition of the bodies they were both probably drowned many months ago in deep water.

APPENDICITIS

Increase of This Terrible Disease Charged Up to Indigestion — Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the One Sure Preventive.

So eminent an authority as Dr. Sir James Crichton-Brown has declared that Appendicitis, the terror of the present age, is caused by Indigestion. In a lecture delivered recently in London, England, he said:

"The increase of Appendicitis is largely due to Indigestion resulting from imperfect mastication and the hurried methods of living."

In plain words this means keep your stomach right and you need have no fear of Appendicitis. And Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will make and keep the stomach right. That's the experience of everyone who has used them. Hene Trudel, a student of Three Rivers, Que., says:

"I had Indigestion so badly that I was discouraged and had resolved to give up my studies when an advertisement induced me to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They made me better. Today I have no headache, no pain, no weariness. I am cured.

Take these two statements together and they prove conclusively that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the one sure safeguard against Appendicitis.

DEAD IN THE WOODS

Ghastly Discovery Made Near Chatham.

Chatham, Sept. 22.—A ghastly discovery was made on Saturday night on John Cameron's farm, 4th concession, Harwich Township, when James Wellwood was found dead in the woods. The body was in a terribly decomposed state. The deceased worked on Mr. Cameron's farm, and had disappeared about two weeks ago. Nothing was thought of it at the time, as deceased had been in the habit of going away for a week at a time. An inquest will likely be held.

DIED AT HIS POST

Presbyterian Missionary Succumbs to the Plague.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—A telegram was received yesterday by Dr. R. P. Mackay, secretary of the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board, announcing the death by plague of Dr. George Menzies, medical missionary at Mhow, Central India. Dr. Menzies went to India less than a year ago, and was appointed to care for the famine boys, for which work his medical profession and industrial aptitudes specially fitted him. Although the plague has been raging violently in Doet and Mhow, yet there was a sense of security as to Europeans, the natives being almost altogether the victims. Now there is anxiety lest the other missionaries should be cut off by this dreadful scourge. Dr. Menzies was a son of Mr. Wm. Menzies, of Ailsa Craig, Ont., and brother of Dr. James Menzies, of Honan, China.

A MONCTON WEDDING

Well-Known Londoner Wins a Bride in New Brunswick.

The Moncton, (N. B.), Transcript, of Sept. 17, has the following account of a wedding which took place on the 16th inst., in which Londoners will be interested. The Transcript says:

"The residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. King, Weldon street, was last evening the scene of an interesting event, when their daughter, Miss Emma Maud King, was married to Mr. Ernest B. Graham, of London, Ont. The wedding took place at 8 o'clock in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties, and the Rev. G. W. Fisher and Rev. J. W. McConnell officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Graham, sister of the groom, while the groom was supported by Mr. R. Moore. The bride looked charming attired in Duchess satin, and bridal veil, and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. Miss Graham, the bridesmaid, wore a handsome costume of white Parisian lawn, and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. After the ceremony, refreshments were served, and the happy couple left here on the maritime express for their future home in London, Ont. Before settling down they will take an extended wedding trip through the Upper Provinces.

"The popularity of the bride was manifested by the numerous and costly presents, which she received, not only from friends in Moncton, but from the Upper Provinces and from England.

"Mrs. Graham's many young friends in Moncton will wish her every happiness."

AN EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

Satisfactory Bond Furnished in the Windsor Case.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 22.—Ben Holman, former agent for the Dominion Express Company and C. P. R. at Windsor, arrested some months ago on the charge of embezzlement of about $800, and who was subsequently released to appear in court at a later day, was again arrested Saturday on a charge of embezzlement preferred against him by the Dominion Express Company. The money is alleged to have been taken from the Windsor bent goods factory by Holman, who it is alleged, made no record of the deposit. Holman was allowed his liberty once more, a satisfactory bond having been furnished for his appearance before the local judge a week hence.

A Police Scandal.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—A fresh sensation has been sprung in connection with the police department scandal as the result of letters sent to the police commissioners from the Allan Furness and other steamship companies doing business in Montreal stating that they had paid policemen for arresting deserters on the demand of Chief of Police Legault.

SEVERE FIGHTING ON THE FRONTIER

40,000 Turkish Troops at Bulgarian Line,

1,000 TURKS ARE ANNIHILATED

In Battle With Insurgents — 1,200 Bodies of Women and Children at Kastoria.

London, Sept. 22.—A dispatch from Guitchevo, on the Turco-Bulgarian frontier, to the Daily Mail reports that great excitement prevails in the district because of a skirmish between Turkish and Bulgarian troops Saturday, on the mountain range which forms the border line. The general impression is that war is only a question of a few days. The dispatch adds that Turkey is massing 40,000 troops in and around Palanqa, ten miles from the Bulgarian frontier, against which force the Bulgarians have only 4,000 men. The Turkish frontier officers, says a dispatch to the Times from Dubnitza, Bulgaria, report that the insurgents under General Zontcheff have been defeated with great slaughter near Melnik, and a great number of Bulgarians were massacred in the neighboring villages, several of which were burning.

TURKS DEFEATED.

Sofia, Sept. 21.—A special dispatch from Rila gives details of the fighting in Perin. On Sept. 16, 1,000 Turkish troops surrounded the village and attacked the insurgent band. The latter were reinforced, and the combined insurgent forces turned on the Turks and completely annihilated them.

It is reported here that 500 Turks have been killed with dynamite while fighting against a body of insurgents in the Kresna defile.

The favorable replies of Austria and Russia to Bulgaria's last note, and the fact that none of the other great powers has yet replied, coupled with the allegations that one of the powers is encouraging the military party at the Yildiz Kiosk, tend to create a less hopeful feeling here. Reports are in circulation here regarding negotiations between Turkey and Bulgaria regarding a solution of the Macedonian trouble. The Dvenik says Turkey has sent a note to Bulgaria, asking for the latter's assistance in reaching a peaceable solution. Bulgaria replied that Turkey must end the massacres, withdraw her frontier forces, guarantee peace and protection to the villages, amnesty to the political offenders and introduce such governmental reforms as will pacify Macedonia and Adrianople. The Bulgarian reply concludes: "If the present situation continues the Bulgarian Government will be compelled to yield to public opinion and send an army to the frontier." It appears doubtful that the Government has sent such an answer.

According to information received by the revolutionary headquarters from Monastir, 1,200 persons perished in the flames of their burning villages near Kastoria.

Over 1,200 bodies of woman and children are said to be lying unburied in the fields and on the roadsides around Kastoria.

CONTRACTOR TALKS

Of How His Lame Back Vanished for Good When He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Norwood, Ont., Sept. 21.—William N Baskin, the well-known lumberman and contractor of this place, is among those who heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills. Speaking of them Mr Baskin says:

"For two years I was laid up with Lame Back and Kidney Disease. I would at times become so weak as to have to leave off work entirely. People who knew me as contractor on the C. P. R. and Parry Sound Railway know how sick I was.

"Reading of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them. Three boxes cured me completely and I have had no pains since."

Lame Back is the first stage of Kidney Disease, and Bright's Disease is the last stage. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Kidney Disease of any stage.

HOUSE DEBATES G. T. P. CONTRACT

The Government Accepts An Amendment.

BEST OF SECURITY FURNISHED

That the Contract Will Be Carried Out to the Letter — Building of Eastern Section.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—In answer to Mr. MacLean's question in the House as to whether the original clause in the G. T. R. charter limited third-class fare on the line to one penny per mile, Mr. Fielding said the question involved a legal aspect, requiring the study of years of legislation, and the Government did not feel in a position to give any answer at the present time.

The House then resumed consideration of the transcontinental railway bill in committee.

On clause 7, Mr. Borden's amendment compelling the G. T. R. to guarantee the second issue of bonds before the Government guarantee the first issue on the western section was taken up.

Mr. Borden suggested that the amendment should be amended by making the guarantee of the bonds to be given by the G. T. R. so as to cover any difference necessary for the completion of the line, in case of any bonds of either issue being sold below par.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, who had been willing to accept the first amendment, did not accept the second edition.

Mr. Barker said that in case the amount of bonds, three-quarters being guaranteed by the company, did not prove sufficient to build the road, the public would have to find the amount wanting. The amendment would prevent this, by providing that the G. T. R. must guarantee sufficient bonds to produce money sufficient to build the road.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said the bill provided that the Government should guarantee 75 per cent of the bonds, the balance of the bonds necessary for the completion of the road.

Mr. Barker continued by saying that the amount necessary to complete the road might be largely in excess of 25 per cent.

Mr. Fitzpatrick thought the act clear. However, he felt they could not do better than accept the amendment offered by the leader of the Opposition and he was happy to say that that amendment fully maintained the construction he put upon the bill.

The Grand Trunk Pacific contract was again under discussion in the House of Commons this afternoon and evening.

Mr. Fielding said Mr. Borden had moved an amendment, whose general import was to require the G. T. R. to become responsible for all the undertakings of the G. T. P. The Government objected to that, because it was not in the contract and was inconsistent with it. The Government could not exact more than was contained in the contract. It was desirable that the two companies should be as far as possible identical, and he did not object to the statement that, in a sense, they became practically one; but it would be unreasonable to ask the G. T. R. to do more than was agreed to in the contract, to which the G. T. R. was not a part.

Mr. Gourley (Colchester) contended that the contract was a provisional contract, and that Parliament could amend it. It would be farcical for the Government to submit to Parliament that which could not be amended.

Mr. Gourley supported the Borden amendment, although personally he did not believe it was desirable to have the Grand Trunk interested in the scheme at all.

The Minister of Justice contended that in spirit, if not in letter, the Grand Trunk was bound to stand at the back of the Grand Trunk Pacific. It was inconceivable that any Government would allow the Grand Trunk to use the Grand Trunk Pacific line from North Bay west and abandon the operation of the eastern section. Mr. Fitzpatrick urged that even if the amendment were accepted it would not bind the Grand Trunk Pacific direct.

Mr. Fowler (King's, N. B.) argued that during the long period that would elapse between the building of the western division and the completion of the eastern line the western freight would certainly go by American lines to the coast, and that was why Mr. Borden's amendment was being passed. As to the much vaunted $5,000,000 security to be posted within 30 days of the ratification of the contract, there was no guarantee that this would be put up by the Grand Trunk.

Mr. Charlton argued that the Government's security was ample. The success of the eastern section was dependent on the success of the western section.

Messrs. Oliver, Hughes, Brock and Charlton also took part in the debate.

ALIMONY FROM ANGLES

Young Man and Wife Settle Troubles in Court.

Mrs. Geo. B. Angles to Get Allowance and Have Custody of Child.

When the name of George B. Angles was called in police court this morning, a good-looking and well-dressed young man stepped forward. He was accompanied into the room by his wife—a pair between whom the world would never have suspected there was any trouble. Yet the wife at his side, Mrs. Maude Angles, was the complainant, and the charge against her husband was that of non-support of herself and child. Mrs. Angles is an attractive-looking young woman, becomingly attired, and tall like her husband.

As the young couple came forward it was thought by those who knew of the arrest that an amicable settlement had been made. A settlement had been made, but one by which the two will live apart. The magistrate said to Angles that he understood this was the arrangement and that Angles was to pay his wife $8 a week. On this condition he said he would be willing to suspend sentence. The young man, therefore, elected summary trial and pleaded guilty to the charge.

The magistrate then pointed out to him the gravity of his conduct, and said he would suspend sentence with the understanding that the above alimony would be paid regularly and that Mrs. Angles should have the custody of their child.

"I suppose you are willing that Mr. Angles should come at any time to see the child?" asked the magistrate of the wife.

"Yes, certainly," said Mrs. Angles, "he can at any time."

As a few details were being arranged between the solicitors, the man and wife who had just agreed to live apart from each other stood side by side, and they went away together as if no love had ever been lost between them.

Letters to the Editor.

THE HOSPITAL SITUATION.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

After the adoption of the plans for the Nurses' Home by the council last evening, further discussion of the matter would be out of place.

I merely wish to restate the views which, for lack of an opportunity to place before the trust, I was forced to discuss before the council.

1. The hospital expenditure for maintenance in 1902 exceeded $49,000, which, I find upon comparison with other Ontario hospitals, to be abnormally large. Our hospital debenture debt is $105,000. I claim, therefore, that we have reached the limit of hospital expenditure for some time to come.

2. The most pressing needs in connection with the hospital are more accommodation for infectious diseases and for the nursing staff.

3. Diphtheria and scarlet fever are now treated under the same roof, and the isolation of one disease from the other is so imperfect that several patients, who have been sent to the hospital with one of these diseases, have contracted the other. Three people have come to me voluntarily and have informed me that their children have been the victims of this imperfect isolation. I can give names and addresses to anyone wishing them.

I am told also that many more have suffered in this way. I say that this is scandalous and should be immediately remedied. It makes no difference whether the infectious pavilion is crowded with patients or not. It is the imperfect isolation which causes the need of extra accommodation. It is improper to treat scarlet fever and diphtheria under the same roof.

But what remedy is available for this state of things now that the engineer's plans are to be followed? The trust may be compelled to close the infectious pavilion, and then the city is at once face to face with the whole question of infectious diseases and with a greatly increased annual expenditure.

The board of health cannot at present build a permanent isolation hospital; they can only provide for emergencies by erecting or renting a temporary hospital. It is prophesied that at some future time they will be given greater powers, but of this I am very doubtful.

The enforcement of the new isolation regulations has now begun. A citizen was summoned yesterday for leaving his house while his child had scarlet fever; for six weeks he and his family must not leave the house, if there is scarlet fever in it. Can any working man afford to be shut up for such a period? Surely he must have a proper place to send his child for treatment, so that he can go on with his work and support his family. Many cases of hardship occurred last summer from lack of accommodation and many will undoubtedly occur again, if the new isolation regulations are rigidly enforced.

4. The chief reason why I favored the remodeling and extension of the present home was that it would have to be abandoned, unless it was so used.

Now it is to be abandoned. Some day the city will be asked to spend $10,000 on it to fit it up for medical purposes. It will be good enough for patients, but unfit for nurses.

5. The new home will increase the annual maintenance about $2,000. This of itself is worth consideration, when fuel, food, wages and supplies are all more expensive than they were one year ago.

Let me say in conclusion that in my opinion nothing is to be gained by hiding the truth in connection with our hospital. All the progress of the last few years has been due to a full and free public discussion of the needs of the hospital, and I consider that I am only following in this course, and that the success of the institution depends to a large extent, not in pretending that we have a perfect hospital, but in showing the citizens that we know its defects, and are doing our best to remedy them in an economical way.

Yours truly, R. A. BAYLY,
Chairman, Hospital Trust.

Mistake That Added to the Socialistic Ranks.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—After having been under arrest for a fortnight, Herd Rehbein, a reporter on the Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts, has been released without a trial. The explanation of Herr Rehbein's arrest is that a soldier had informed him about certain cases of maltreatment of men in the service. Instead of publishing the story Rehbein informed the military authorities, but because he refused to give the name of his informant Rehbein was arrested. The indignation over his arrest is widespread, and is voiced particularly by the newspapers of the middle class, which complain that the Government by its blunders is constantly recruiting the forces of the Socialists.

2,000 MILES IN 39 DAYS

Rider Lost 29 Pounds in Record Breaking Feat.

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Trooper Davis of the Eighty-eighth United States Cavalry, has reached West Point, being the first of a detachment of twelve troopers who started from Oklahoma 39 days ago on a test ride of 2,000 miles. The men were allowed to eat and sleep when they pleased. Relays of horses were provided every 30 miles, the object of the ride being to cover the distance in the shortest practicable time.

Davis, the lightest man of the party, led his comrades at the start and had the advantage of getting the pick of mounts at the relay stations. He rode up to the east bank of the Hudson River after reaching New York until near Garrison, where his horse gave out. Davis weighed 137 pounds when he started, and now weighs but 108 pounds. The record for the distance was 40 days. The ride is one of several taken to test the stamina of men and horses, made at the suggestion of Gen. Young, the new chief of staff.

Canadian Interference.

Canadians in England have formed a committee to work for the Chamberlainites, and Sir Charles Tupper is among those who have taken the stump. The amazing vigor and pluck of the veteran politician, now in his 83rd year, compel admiration, but it may be questioned whether the cause of preferential trade will be aided in the mother country by colonial agitation, no matter how able and eloquent its advocates may be. It is part of the tactics of those who are opposing Mr. Chamberlain to represent preferential trade as a scheme promoted by the colonies for their own advantage at the expense of the mother country. The active interference of Canadians in the contest in Great Britain would be pointed to as proof of colonial self-seeking. It is important that Canada should not be placed in a false light before the British electors. Canadians are less concerned about this great question than they would have been a few years ago, if it had been then a matter of practical politics. The prosperity of the country, the growth of its commerce, and the expansion of the home market have made the problem of securing foreign markets appear to be less pressing; and a preference in the British market, which at one time would have been looked upon as the salvation of this country, is something which we now approach in a calculating spirit. Canada is not a suppliant for the bounty of the over-burdened mother country, and does not wish to be humiliated in the eyes of British people, as she would have been if Sir Wilfrid Laurier had yielded to the clamor of a few Canadians and demanded a quid pro quo for the Canadian preferential tariff. The majority of Canadians prefer that the British people shall fight out the issue put before them by Mr. Chamberlain solely with a view to their own interests. Let them regard it as a purely domestic issue, the question being, Is it good for Great Britain? If Mr. Chamberlain and other British statesmen cannot convince them on that point, it is not likely the arguments of colonial statesmen will have much weight.

The Situation at the Soo.

The banking syndicate, Speyer & Co., are now in control of the situation at the Soo. They hold all the assets of the Consolidated Company, including stocks and bonds, as security for the loan of $5,050,000, and they refuse the further advances which were necessary to tide the company over its difficulties. A director estimates the amount spent on the various properties of the company at $30,000,000. There are prior liens of $4,500,000 on these so that the banking syndicate is really involved to the amount of $9,550,000. It is not to be supposed, that with this tremendous stake, the syndicate will let the magnificent plant lie idle long. If they do not operate it themselves they will dispose of it by auction. They may sell it piecemeal as all portions are not essentially related. The main difficulty has been that while the majority of the undertakings have been all along profitable, a great deal of money that should have been retained as circulating or working capital, was tied up in enterprises that were not necessary to the general scheme. A new purchaser profiting by this experience, would be able to select the productive industries. There will be much sympathy among Canadians for those who invested millions and will save little or nothing from the wreck. Canada owes a great deal to American capital at this stage of her development, but in this particular case it is gratifying to know that American investors were not the victims of misplaced confidence in the resources and capabilities of this country. They were misled by the sincere enthusiasm of their own countrymen. The loss to Canada will be only temporary.

Reclaiming the Desert.

A remarkable event last week was the irrigation congress, held at Ogden, Utah. The claim was made by experts that an adequate system of irrigation would reclaim a territory in the Western States sufficient to sustain a population of twenty or thirty millions. Hundreds of thousands of acres have been made productive by artificial methods, through private enterprise, but only the edge of the irrigable area has been touched. The national Government is taking a hand in and is employing its energies in two ways. It is trying to insure the widest possible use of the waters available, and is taking alkali and other harmful mineral substances out of the soil, so as to render it arable. This movement calls attention to the fact that the productive land of the United States is already so fully occupied that the desert lands are being resorted to by the agricultural population. These conditions have resulted also in the migration from the Western States to the Canadian Northwest. Although irrigated land is more valuable than any other, the initial cost of reclaiming desert areas is as yet too great for the farmer of limited means. He turns in preference, to the cheaper fertile lands, and these he finds in abundance only in Western Canada.

A Socialist.

[Washington Star.]

"Your wife is something of a socialist, isn't she?"

"I should say so," answered Mr. Meekton, absent-mindedly. "Our church never thinks of giving a social unless she runs it."

Devery Crushed.

[New York Evening Sun.]

Bill Devery shrieking fraud, calling his opponents grafters and threatening voters with prison stripes is a figure of fun. Posing as the victim of a high-handed political outrage, a wicked subversion of the liberties of the people, he calls the opposition robbers, thieves and crooks. He declares that they voted 1,000 repeaters. In his passage through the district he behaved like a common heeler, voiding billingsgate and punching his enemies.

Tame Times in the West.

[Spokane, Wash., Journal.]

Why don't somebody get born, get married or die, or run off with some other man's wife, kiss the hired girl, kill one of the valuable town dogs, burn out some place of business so as to get the insurance, or commit suicide—or, in fact, do any goldurned old thing so as to liven up matters—be metropolitan, the same as in cities, as elsewhere—gosh! but this is a dry old burg, no excitement of any kind—hasn't been a fist-to-skull encounter for so long that the boys have almost forgotten the manly art of self-protection. If we go on behaving in this manner what do you suppose our dear friends in the elite east will think of such conduct out here?

Choking Him Off.

[Chicago News.]

"There's no use talking," began old man Growells as he sat opposite Mrs. Growells the second at the dinner table, "my first wife's cooking——"

"That will be about all from you, Mr. Growells," interrupted his present other half. "Never let me hear you speak disrespectfully of the dead."

Patriotic Sympathy.

[Chicago Evening Herald.]

Once upon a time Professor Wilson, of Edinburgh, wrote on the blackboard in his laboratory:

"Professor Wilson informs his students that he has this day been appointed honorary physician to the Queen."

In the course of the morning he had occasion to leave the room, and found on his return that a student had added to the announcement the words:

"God Save the Queen."

Bobby Mystified.

[Exchange.]

Bobby—Do I have to go to school again, mother?

Mother—Of course, Bobby.

Bobby—Why, mother, I heard you tell father last night that I knew entirely too much.

Salisbury and Rockefeller.

[New York World.]

A million and a half is not much of a fortune as riches are reckoned in these days of coal kings, Standard Oil Croesuses, steel Monte Cristos and railway magnates, not to mention the beef princes and lard lords. Yet the Marquis of Salisbury managed to live an ideally dignified, leisurely, refined and useful life and maintain several unproductive estates on a capital property no greater then Mr. Rockefeller's income for a week. He lived at the beautiful Hatfield House, one of the family country seats, of which there were four. He had a comfortable house in London. He possessed a fine library and was acquainted with its books. He had besides a laboratory and shop where he could pursue the studies and experiments in science in which he found his keenest enjoyment. He had, of course, a store of good wine, fine gardens and plenty of horses, dogs and cattle—everything, in fine, that was needed to make life in the country satisfactory. Upon occasion or at his inclination he could go to London and enjoy the pleasures of the great city in a perfectly independent manner.

What more could a reasonable man ask? And yet Lord Salisbury had only £500,000. He could not buy diamonds by the pint, nor maintain a racing stable, a steam yacht and a half dozen automobiles for diversion. He did not travel in special trains of "palace cars," nor feel constrained to endow libraries to avoid the disgrace of dying rich. He simply had enough, with reasonable prudence, to maintain himself "in the state to which he was born"—living like a gentleman, a scholar and a statesman, unostentatiously but adequately.

Such an example, viewed in contrast with the expenditures of our modern Midases, inclines the reasonable person to this up-to-date modification of the prayer of the wise man: "Give me neither poverty nor riches, but a simple million and a half!"

The Glory of Blenheim.

[Toronto Telegram.]

Just as Napoleon's soldiers each carried the baton of a marshal in his knapsack, so the daughter of every great American millionaire carries the coronet of a duchess in her shopping bag.

Already the United States is able to sit up in bed and take notice of the stately homes of England.

Soon there will be no English duke without his American duchess.

And Blenheim Palace is famed in English history as the ancient home of John Churchill, the conqueror of France. It is still more celebrated in United States newspapers as the modern home of Commodore Vanderbilt's granddaughter.

The martial genius of Marlborough illumined Blenheim Palace with a glory that blazed until eclipsed by the brilliance of Miss Vanderbilt's bank account.

The Patient Objected.

[St. James Gazette.]

A well-known English surgeon was imparting some clinical instruction to half a dozen students who accompanied him on his rounds the other day. Pausing at the bedside of a doubtful case, he said: "Now, gentlemen, do you think this is, or is not, a case for operation." One by one the students made their diagnosis, and all of them answered in the negative. "Well, gentlemen, you are all wrong," said the wielder of the free and flashing scalpel, "and I shall operate tomorrow." 'No, you won't," said the patient, as he rose in his bed, "six to one is a good majority; gimme my clothes."

Neighbors.

[Puck.]

The neighbors called worthwith.

"You and your husband have differences?" they suggested, tentatively.

"None worth talking about," replied the woman.

The neighbors knit their brows.

"That is for us to decide," said they, severely.

New Name for Weather

[Daily Ontario.]

Being so changeable, why can't this be called autumn mobile weather?

The Salesman's Heart.

[Tid-Bits.]

This offer of your heart and hand is very sudden," said the Margate girl, "but I will take it."

"Ah!" gasped the swell salesman, unthinkingly. "Well you take it with you or shall I send it home?"

Cruelty to the Horse.

The horse, the most useful of all animals is the one marked for the most of men's ill-treatment. For the most part housed in ill-lighted, ill-ventilated and ill-smelling quarters, worked to its full capacity, cared for to the degree that only selfish interest prompts, the animal is delivered over as the unprotected object of the unrestrained passions of men. The average man fails apparently to understand that animals have a nervous system, among them in marked degree the horse, and that were he to govern his own temper he could with a little patience get control of the horse's nervous system and make out of it a servant vastly more efficient than it is under the system in which he beats and jerks and drives it to distraction.

A short walk in any city will discover many blind horses. Why? There are no blind cows, comparatively. And yet the sight of the one naturally is as good as that of the other. The difference is simply that the horse from the beginning has been abused, ill-housed, overworked, and worked under conditions that have driven him blind. Its eyes are shut in by blinders at each side, for which there is no use but to satisfy the caprice or fashion of man. So its vision interfered with, and deprived of air, the wonder is that with the other treatment it gets it is not blind oftener. Besides this, in other cases its neck is almost pulled out of joint by overhead check-reins that raise its face to the air and turn its eyeballs to the glare of the sun unprotected. Or, on the other hand, deprived of check-rein, it is bitted with a curb that pulls its jaw to its breast and tortures it in this fashion. And then according to the spreading fashion of the day, it is subjected to that most cruel of all practices, docking, which not merely tortures in the practice, but leaves it to the torment of flies for the rest of its life. If it is the merciful man that is merciful to his beast, and if it is the merciful that obtain mercy, we have, as a people, some way to come before we get that blessing.—Indianapolis News.

How Animals Swim.

Almost all animals know how to swim without having to learn it. As soon as they fall into the water or are driven into it, they instinctively make the proper motions, and not only manage to keep afloat, but propel themselves without trouble.

Exceptions are the monkey, the camel, giraffe and llama, which cannot swim without assistance. Camels and llamas have to be helped across water, and giraffes and monkeys drown if they enter it. Now and then both of the latter species manage to cross waterways when they are driven to extremities, just as human beings occasionally can keep themselves above water through sheer fright.

A funny, though able swimmer is the rabbit. He submerges his body with the exception of head and tail. The latter sticks away up into the air and this hind legs make "soapsuds" as he churns the water madly to get away. But with all his awkwardness he is a swift swimmer and is only beaten by the squirrel among the land animals.

The squirrel swims with his heavy tail sunk away down in the water and his head held high. He cleaves the waves like a duck, and a man in a rowboat has all he can do to keep abreast of the swimming squirrel.

One thing that none of the land-living animals does is to dive. No matter how hard pressed a swimming deer, rabbit, squirrel or other purely terrestrial animal may be, it will remain above water. But the muskat, beaver, ice bear and otter dive immediately.

It is estimated that half a million New Yorkers are awake and busy, legitimately or otherwise, all night.

Radium, when brought near a diamond in the dark, will make it sparkle. Paste diamonds are not so affected.

AFTER

The guests are gone the smile slips from the face of the hostess and she gives up to the pain which racks her body. Many a woman entertains and wears a smile while her back aches and her nerves quiver with pain. Surely any medicine which offers relief to women would be worth a trial under such conditions. But when the woman's medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is offered with the proof of efficacy in thousands of well attested cures, what excuse can then be offered for suffering longer?

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure I write you the benefit my mother has received from your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" says Miss Carrie Johnson, of Lowesville, Amherst Co., Va. "She suffered untold misery with uterine disease and nervousness, and had a constant roaring and ringing noise in her head. After taking six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' she was entirely cured."

ANNE BOLEYN'S CASTLE

W. W. Astor Buys and Admits the Vulgar Public.

London, Sept. 22.—Departing from his usual peevish custom of exclusiveness, William Waldorf Astor has opened the grounds of Hever Castle, which he bought recently, to the public. This is such a departure from Astor's long established custom that it has started a rumor that Astor intends to seek the Tory nomination to Parliament from the constituency of Sevenoaks, Kent, where the castle lies.

Astor continues to exclude the public from using the river bank at Cliveden, which had been a public thoroughfare for a century.

Astor is building a bungalo near the castle. It is reported he intends to occupy it occasionally, and is permitting Hever Castle to be open to visitors. Anne Boleyn lived at Hever during her brief reign as queen. It is one of the most historic castles near London.

MILITARY TRAINING

Lessons To Be Derived From West Point System.

London, Sept. 22. — The Times, which has been publishing appreciative articles describing the thoroughgoing, many-sided education and training given to United States cadets at West Point, says editorially that British army reformers will find in the articles much food for thought. The Americans have been too shrewd to allow room for the plea sometimes advanced by idle young officers in Britain that they are inadequately paid. This is shown by the pay granted the cadets during the residence at the West Point Academy as well as by the pay after they are commissioned. The Times says it does not follow that we ought to blindly follow the American lesson, but the lesson we can derive from America should by no means be neglected, though the differences between West Point, Sandhurst and Woolwich are too great to be overbridged in a single generation.

AN ENGLISH CAT-HERO

Save Lives of Master and Lady in Burning Hotel.

London, Sept. 22.—With two human lives to his credit and possessing the alleged nine lives belonging to his own species, Jim, the house cat belonging to Landlord G. Bailey of the Warren House Inn, near Woking, England, has come at a bound into the notice of half the cat fanciers of Great Britain.

A month ago Jim simply was an unusually big specimen of cat who had no pedigree to speak of and no record beyond that of keeping the premises of his master clear of rats and mice. He was devoted to his master and to the sister-in-law, who was housekeeper for the inn. Each night Jim chose as his bed a rug just outside his master's door, but that he had taken up this post as a sentinel was not dreamed of until suddenly one night Mr. Bailey was awakened by several sharp slaps of something soft on his cheeks, followed by a distressful wail in his ear, such as he never before had heard from Jim.

Bailey landed on his feet, standing, and the first waking thought was for his sister-in-law, who was sleeping at the other end of the hall, into which a roaring fire was eating. Dashing through the blaze into the room he found the sister unconscious and carried her out of the stifling smoke just as the floor sunk through. Jim kept sharply at his master's heels through the rescue and flight and once in the road showed the liveliest interest and affection for the two persons who owed their lives to his intelligence. The hotel was burned to the ground.

More than $5,000,000,000 is represented in the largely fictitious capitalization of industrial combinations in the United States within six years.

"Well, I think I've made an impression on her anyway," said the automobile enthusiast, as he glanced back at the fair young woman lying in the road.

Pandora Range

A VENTILATING OVEN THAT VENTILATES:

There is only one practical way of ventilating the oven in a range and that way has been adopted in the "Pandora"—is an actual working feature and not a mere talking point.

Fresh air is drawn from the outside through small vents into the oven and is quickly heated and disseminated, while the odors and cooking fumes escape through small vents into the smoke flues and up the chimney.

Result is that expensive, juicy roasts retain their rich, natural flavors and are entirely free from cooking odors and taints, to which the palate is so sensitive. Puddings, bread, etc., when baked, are always light, fresh and free from taint.

In the production of the "Pandora" range you have all that scientific study, practical experience, skilled workmanship, and an immense and finely equipped plant combined, can produce.

PARKS STILL FIGHTING

Says There Will Be a Split in the Big Union.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 22. — Samuel J. Parks early today predicted a split in the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers if the annual convention today should refuse to recognize union No. 2, of New York city, of which he is a member.

The credential committee was ready to report when the convention met today, and when President Buchanan called the delegates to order shortly after 10 o'clock the feeling was intense. The meeting of the committee had been held in secret and no intimation of its conclusions had been given out.

"I do not care what they do," said Mr. Parks. "I am going to win out in the end. If the convention sustains the committee we will walk out and go back to New York, and continue our little local of 5,000 men, just like we did before there was any international union."

Before the convention opened President Buchanan intimated that his candidacy for re-election would depend upon the convention's action in the Parks case. If the delegates from the union suspended by the president are seated, he probably, it is stated, will not run.

A CHICAGO MYSTERY

Boy Thought to Have Been Kidnapped and Drowned.

Chicago, Sept. 22. — For two days the police searched for Arthur Eaton, the 11-year-old son of C. W. Eaton, of 318 Washington Boulevard, and last night his body was found floating in Lake Michigan. Two of young Eaton's playmates declare that they were playing with the boy, when he was seized and dragged away by Albert Shupe, who accused young Eaton of stealing $5. Shupe has been arrested, and several of his conflicting stories as to his whereabouts when the boy disappeared, have been proved false. It is thought by the parents of young Eaton that Shupe dragged the boy to the lake and dragged him in. There is no direct proof of this, however.

SUFFERED FOR YEARS WITH PELVIC CATARRH--PE-RU-NA CURED.

MISS ROSE DE LA SEN,
A Pretty Canad'an Girl.

Miss Rose De la Sen, Secretary of the French Women's Clubs of Ontario, Canada, in a letter from Windsor avenue, Windsor, Ont., says:

"I have been a sufferer from ovarian troubles for over four years, which caused me excruciating pains at times and life looked very dreary to me. My family physician and other doctors prescribed for me, but I am pleased to state that after years of suffering I have been entirely cured b your woman's friend, Peruna."—Miss Rose De la Sen.

Pelvic Catarrh.

Catarrh is a very frequent cause of that class of disease popularly known as female weakness. Catarrh of the pelvic organs produces such a variety of disagreeable and irritating symptoms that many people—in fact the majority of people—have no idea that they are caused by catarrh.

The Nervous System.

Weakness of the nervous system not only produces catarrh of the mucous membrane, but also causes nervous prostration in some cases, and different degrees of nervous debility, derangements of the stomach, sleeplessness and tired out feelings.

Catarrhal Weakness.

A great proportion of women have some catarrhal weakness which has been called by the various doctors she has consulted, by as many different names. These women have been treated and have taken medicines with no relief, simply because the remedies are not adapted to catarrh. It is through a mistaken notion as to the real nature of the diseases that these medicines have been recommended to them.

Ada M. Rennison has returned from a pleasant holiday spent in Toronto.

Miss May Frost has gone to Detroit, where she has secured a good situation.

Mrs. A. E. Burgess, Sparta, was a recent guest of her brother, Alex. McCulloch. As her husband has purchased a business in Burford, she expects to join him there in a few days.

Rev. Mr. Farney, Aylmer, will preach the anniversary sermon in the English Church next Sunday.

Miss Cora B. Jelly is the guest of her cousin, Mrs P. McInnes, London.

Mrs. Smith, Lambeth, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. Barr.

Miss Hester Alway, London, filled the apointment at the Baptist Church at Gladstone on Sunday very acceptably, the sermon being a deep and powerful one. While here she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry Finch.

Seth Barr, Merlin, was the guest of his brother Robert last week.

Miss Emma H. Hunter, Ingersoll, visited her sister here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Learn, St. Thomas, are guests of the former's parents at South Dorchester.

Samuel Adams is entertaining his brother from Prescott.

William Chalk last a valuable horse last week. He had hitched it to the buggy to go a short distance in the country, when it reared, coming down with such force as to break its spinal column. Dr. Jelly was called in, but could offer no encouragement as to recovery. The animal was killed the following day to end its suffering.

A serious runaway occurred a few days ago, the horse being a valuable driver belonging to Dr. W. Doan, of this place, which was being taken to Ingersoll by Cinnamon Pyatt, of Mossley. On nearing the C. P. R. station at Putnam the animal took fright at a train and started to run. Its driver pluckily held to the lines, but soon the holdback strap broke, making the situation rather serious. Mr. Pyatt was finally thrown out, while the horse continued to run at a very fast clip, being at last stopped near Partlo's mill, Ingersoll. The animal was taken to Walker's livery stable, where it was found to be in a very serious condition. The probability is it may have to be shot. The buggy was damaged to some extent, several spokes being knocked out, and one of the axles bent. Beyond a bad shaking up, Mr. Pyatt was uninjured.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circularrs and testimonials. Address

COUNCIL ACCEPTS ALTERED PLANS FOR NURSES' HOME

New Tenders Will Be Called For Immediately.

King Street Pavements Will Also Be Constructed at Once

City and the Street Railway Co. Fail to Agree as to the Much Talked of L.junction.

Last night's meeting of the city council was marked by frequent explosions of oratory, which so delayed business that it was getting on for midnight before an adjournment was made.

Several important matters came up, chief among which was the building of the Nurses' Home, the laying of the King street pavement, and the appointing of a park ranger. Despite the flood of speeches, all three matters were dealt with. The council decided to call for tenders for the Nurses' Home, the petition of the residents of King street for a pavement between Maitland and Wellington streets was granted, and the pavement will be advertised, and Mr. John S. Pearce was appointed park ranger at a salary of $700.

THE NURSES' HOME.

The report of the hospital committee was read by Ald. Judd, and was substantially as given in the report of the committee's doings on Friday evening last. In order to get inside the appropriation of $25,000, the plans had been changed and cut down. The attic in the home will not be finished, some fancy stone trimmings are to be done away with, only the lower floor will be finished in oil, and a change will be made in the manner of heating the building—all of which will put the building, according to the report of the architects, well inside the amount the committee have to spend, $25,000.

Some of the aldermen thought the home should be built properly now, as to leave part of it unfinished now would only entail a greater expenditure when the attic was needed later on.

Then Ald. Cooper raised the question who was to furnish the home when it was built. Mayor Beck, in answer, said the city would not be called upon to spend a cent for furnishing. Already the trust had been given $1,500 for that purpose, and he would almost guarantee that all moneys necessary would be forthcoming by subscription.

At this stage Ald. Matthews created a sensation by declaring that "things were so fixed that some contractors would not get at the plans in the city hall, and upon which figures had been secured by the committee, the contractors in question being unable to figure on the job."

Ald. Gerry joined in the discussion, and remarked that "he didn't think he'd be allowed to see the plans," and that there was something peculiar about the whole business.

This aroused the ire of Ald. Judd and the mayor, and the latter called Engineer Graydon in to state if anyone had been refused access to the plans. Mr. Graydon said that there were two sets of plans in his office, and that part of the time non of them were in use. He had permitted several contractors to take them home and figure on them, but there were at least six or seven nights upon which the plans were not out of the city hall, and any contractor could have had them for the asking. After some little explanation, all round, the matter dropped.

The mayor then left the chair, and said that the proposed alterations in the plans, and the discussion to not finish the attic now, would not affect the efficiency of the home in the slightest. The home was needed and should be built within the appropriation. There was no need for further contagious accommodation at Victoria Hospital; the laws will be modified shortly, and if people who break the provincial board of health laws regarding contagious diseases were prosecuted and punished, there would be less of it in the city.

The motion of Ald. Judd, which was seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the plans as altered be accepted by the council, and that new tenders be called for, was then accepted. All contractors will be notified by postcard, in addition to the advertisement in the papers.

THE KING STREET PAVEMENTS.

It was when Chairman Wyatt read the report of No. 2 committee that the King street pavements came up. The report recommended that the tender of the Barber Asphalt Company be accepted for a Trinidad Pitch Lake asphalt pavement, on King street, between William and Adelaide streets.

Two tenders were received—one from the Barber Company, the figures being $1 95 per yard, and 55 cents per lineal foot for curbs and gutters. The other was from the Contracting Paving Company, of Toronto, and the price was $2 05 a yard and 60 cents a foot for gutters. The Barber Company's tender amounted to $3,984 35, and the Constructing Company's to $4,219 for the block.

The mayor said the city had an agreement with the Forest City Paving Company to put in curbs and gutters of the same quality as called for on King street at about 35 cents a foot, or 20 cents a foot lower than the best tender. Engineer Graydon said the price was about 38 cents a foot. After much discussion, a motion to award the contract to the Barber Company for the asphalt and to have the Forest City Company put in the gutters and curbs, was carried through the council.

It means a saving of $135 to the ratepayers of the block if the Forest City Paving Company will do the work.

Then the matter of paving King street between Maitland and Wellington streets, loomed up. Ald. Matthews moved, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the petition of John Greenaway and others for a Trinidad Pitch Lake asphalt pavement on King street be granted, the assessment commissioner and city clerk having reported the petition to be sufficiently signed, and that the work be advertised at once in accordance with the local improvement bylaw.

Several of the aldermen at once began to rehearse all their former arguments against the work being proceeded with this year, when a deputation of King street residents was announced. Quite a large number had intended to appear before the council, but as the aldermen talked away the time, they became tired and went home. However, Mr. Wm. Heaman addressed the council, and advocated the putting down of the pavement the people wanted at once.

Mr. Cassells, the Barber agent, stated that his company was ready to begin work at once, and would finish the job before the frost came if they secured the contract.

Ald. Judd took occasion to remark that just what they had been told would happen, had happened on the other block on King street. The Barbers had put in a tender, and what looked to be a "straw" tender was put in by the Toronto concern. He was against the whole business, and would vote against the petition for Trinidad asphalt and no competition.

The discussion was getting warm, when the vote was taken. Ald. Matthews' motion carried, and the pavement will be advertiser at once. Ald. Cooper promptly gave notice that he would move for a reconsideration at the next meeting.

Ald. Judd's notice of motion, which came over from the last meeting, asking for a reconsideration of the King street pavement matter, was defeated, failing to secure the necessary two-thirds vote.

THE PARK RANGER.

Seventeen applications for the position of park ranger were secured. The names of the applicants, together with the salaries they asked, were as follows:

John S. Pearce, London	$ 700
W. A. Hayden, London	600

The names were voted upon and Mr John S. Pearce finally secured the position.

WILL FIGHT STREET RAILWAY.

City Solicitor Meredith wrote, stating that he had suggested to the London street railway, that the trial of the action against the city should stand over till the November sittings, by which time the court of appeal, if it sat in two sections, as was then contemplated, might have heard the appeal in the first action of the London street railway against the city. The railway's solicitor, however, declined, and gave notice that the case will go to trial at the assizes on the 28th, and the company will proceed with the case, unless the city is prepared to consent to the injunction (which was some months ago obtained by the company) being continued until the final disposition of the court. As it is impossible to say when the final disposition of the court in the first action will be, Mr. Meredith stated that he did not feel like giving his consent to the demand of the company without the consent of the council. Ald. Judd moved, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the letter be filed, and that the solicitor proceed in the ordinary way.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS.

The following communications and petitions were received and dealt with:

From James I. Anderson & Co. and others, asking that the council pass a bylaw prohibiting the showing of limelight or other views on the public streets. The petitioners who are all merchants, declare that the streets are blockaded by such exhibitions and that they are a detriment to the merchants doing business in the locality. Referred to the city solicitor to see if the council has power to pass such a bylaw.

From Bell Foster, asking to have her taxes for 1903 remitted. No. 1 committee.

From W. A. Wilson and fourteen others for a cement curb on Hyman street, both sides between Richmond and Wellington. No. 2.

From Wm. Patrick, complaining of the state of the street opposite 312 Wharncliffe road. No. 2 committee.

From Edward Walker and others, complaining of the sewage of the McCormick Home on Richmond street, which they claim is a grave nuisance, causing a large amount of scarlet and other fever. Board of Health.

From C. E. A. Carr, re pavement on Dundas street, and stating that the company was desirous of paving their track allowance with vitrified brick, similar to that laid on York street. No. 2.

From F. L. Dole, of Chicago, asking what London has to offer their firm in the way of inducements to establish a branch of their special farm machinery factory. The Chicago factory employs 500 men. Manufactures committee.

From Jos. Marks, secretary L. T. and L. C., asking for the free use of Victoria Park for a band concert in aid of the Trades and Labor Council on the evening of Sept. 24, or the following night. Granted.

From Roland Hill and others, asking for the free use of the city hall from Oct. 15th to 18th, inclusive, for a Christian convention, when 200 delegates from Western Ontario will be present. Granted.

From J. W. H. Griffith, on behalf of the wholesale milk dealers of the city, asking for the use of the city hall on Sept. 26, for a meeting. Referred to the clerk and treasurer.

Evans Cochran, re damages claimed through an alleged defective walk. No. 2 reported to file the claim, but the council thought differently and will try to settle it. The teamster who broke the walk, as well as the man who owns the property abutting on it, will be called in to pay their share, if a settlement be effected. Referred back to No. 2.

Those present were: Mayor Beck, Alds. Gerry, Abram, Wyatt, Saunders, Matthews, Greenlees, Judd, Stevenson and Becher.

SOME PERSONS have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Changes of water, cooking and green fruit is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed.

ASSASSIN GANG RULES SERVIA

Belgrade Regicides Are in Complete Control.

KING PETER THE MEREST TOOL

New Conspiracy a Far More Dangerous One Than the Government Will Dare Acknowledge.

London, Sept. 22.—A dispatch from Belgrade to the Times says that although King Peter recently declared to the officers of the Belgrade garrison that there was no discord in the army, and that there was a full agreement between it and the people, the facts are otherwise. The correspondent says that in reality the new conspiracy is a far more dangerous one than the Government could dare acknowledge. Out of a total of some 1,500 officers at least 1,000 are believed to be concerned in the movement, and, excepting personal friends and relatives of the 68 assassins of the late King Alexander and Queen Draga, there are probably few Servians who do not at least secretly sympathize with them.

The revolution, the correspondent says, has led perhaps to worse corruption and tyranny than ever existed before the clique of assassins hold all the chief civil and military offices, and the keys of the arsenal and treasure chests. Any man who crosses them is doomed. The King himself is surrounded and ruled, and many are now losing hope that he will ever be able to shake himself free. Minister Gentchitch, in whose house the murder plot was hatched, and who conducted the secret negotiations with King Peter, is openly stated to possess an incriminating letter which is always kept hanging over the royal head and Gentchitch, with Col. Maschin, one of the principle assassins, have hitherto been supreme in the Ministry, while Col. Mishitch, though not actually Minister of War, has ruled the War Office, and Col. Popovitch, the first aide-de-camp, has acted as chief warder in the palace.

The regicides, indeed, seem to be beginning to realize that they have gone too far. Col. Nishitch no longer openly, swaggeringly boasts of his active participation in the murders, and is careful to explain that he only arrived on the scene when all was over. He professes to regard the new conspiracy as the work of a few foolish young officers, but the fact is, the Government has been afraid to arrest the senior officers incriminated in the new conspiracy, as they fear the showing of how widespread it was, and has only taken hostages from among the most influential well-to-do younger officers connected with it. Col. Meshitch has been removed from the War Office, and is now profesor of strategy at the Military College.

STOCK MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

H. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Sept. 22—Noon.—A distinctly better tone has developed in the stock market during the last half-hour, and there seems to be an element of strength in trading which the early dealings lacked. The market is to a great extent governed by technical conditions, rather than by those factors that influence price movements generally. Trading has been quiet, and the market is wholly professional. The greater stability is apparent in the industrials in the later trading, and there is reason to hope that that particular list has recovered partially, at least, from its weak spell. The early trading was somewhat dull and particularly stupid. Fluctuations were narrow and uninteresting. Even Steel failed to vary the monotony by establishing a new low record. In fact, it has acted fairly well during the day. The minor Steel and Iron securities are also better. New York Central was under pressure at the opening, presumably inspired by that well-known yarn that it will need funds for terminal improvements immediately, and that it will have some difficulty in securing them. That particular story is pure rubbish. When the New York Central wants the $5,000,000 that it will need for preliminary work, it will have no difficulty in securing it. The stock has rallied very sharply. The grangers are showing better tone and the railroad list generally exhibits a trace of strength which makes for substantial advances when the time is right for such a movement. Still, even the grangers have not yet fully responded to the favorable conditions affecting them. Already the Sub-Treasury has transferred today to New Orleans $850,000, indicating the heavy demands for cotton moving money. Still the banks are in a better position than they were at this time a week ago. Sales to noon, 154,300 shares.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Tuesday, Sept. 22.

For this day of the week there was a very good attendance at the market held here this morning. The supplies were principally small stuff, although the heavier lines were well represented, such as hay and oats. Sales were brisk and prices firm.

Speaking about the potato crop, a well-known Caradoc farmer gave his opinion that about 25 per cent of the present crop will be rotten. To offset this, the yield will be fully 25 per cent larger than last season's crop.

Grain—New oats sold at 86c to 88c per cental, and old oats at 98c to $1; there was quite a large supply. Wheat sold at $1 30 per cental.

Hay and Straw—There were 25 loads of hay offered today, and sales were brisk for the choice loads at $8 50 to $9 per ton; inferior loads were slow of sale, at $7 per ton. Straw was scarce; only one load offered, which sold at $3 per load.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was in good demand, at 18c to 19c for crocks and 20c for pound rolls by the basket. Eggs sold quite readily at 16c to 17c per dozen, wholesale.

Fruits—Apples were in fair supply and the demand good, at 50c per bushel for fair quality, or 75c per bag; peaches sold at 40c to 50c for the 12-quart basket; grapes were scarce, at 30c to 40c per basket; pears were in good demand at $1 to $1 25 per bushel; plums were scarce, at prices quoted.

Poultry—There was not much offered today; a few pairs of dressed ducks sold at 85c per pair; a couple of lots of live chickens of good size went at 60c per pair.

Dressed Hogs—About 20 carcases were offered and most of them sold at $8 per 100 pounds.

Butchers' Meats—There was a medium supply, and prices are steady, as per quotations.

LIVERPOOL DAIRY REPORT, WEEK ENDING SEPT. 11.

[Reported by Hodgson Bros.]

Cheese—We have to report a further advance of fully 1s per cwt, and the maket has ruled firm all week. The demand, however, has been less active, probably owing to the depressing climatic conditions, business being much restricted and of a retail character. We quote today: Finest Canadian cheese, colored, 52s to 53s; do, white, 52s to 52s 6d; finest States cheese, colored and white, 51s to 52s; secondary grades, full creams, 46s to 49s; lower qualities, skims and half-meats, nominally, 20s to 30s.

Butter—There is a further improvement in the demand and prices are a little higher, with prospects of a further advance. Medium grades of butter are in moderate request. The Copenhagen quotation is again unaltered for next week. We report values today: Choicest Canadian creamery, in 56-lb boxes, 95s to 96s; medium Canadian and States, 76s to 82s; choicest Russian, in Kiel casks, 86s to 90s; finest Russian, do, 76s to 84s; choicest Danish, do, 103s to 108s; choicest Irish creamery, 96s to 98s.

AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington, yesterday:

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Wheat opened lower this morning on the fine weather in the Northwest and lower cables. Selling of long wheat was the feature of the day. On our first break large shorts covered speedily, taking profits, but when they finished the market became heavy and closed at about the low point of the day. It is reported that there were 50 loads of wheat taken at the seaboard for export, and the takings here for shipment to the seaboard was something like 20,000 bushels. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 130 cars.

Corn—The weather throughout the corn belt was very nice and liquidation started in at the opening. The buying power in corn seems small. A few shorts would cover at times, which seemed to check the decline. Then fresh selling orders would arrive in the pit, causing a further decline, and the market tonight closes nearly 2c a bushel lower than Saturday, making a break of 5½c in four days. There was quite a good demand for corn for shipment from here today, and the foreigners took 40 loads at the seaboard. Receipts today, 794 cars. Estimated tomorrow, 690 cars.

Oats—The market opened sharply lower, with general selling by the commission houses on stop-loss orders. The offerings were well taken by professionals and a fair upturn resulted. The general trend of the price was in sympathy with other grains, selling by influential provision houses at the close augmenting the softness.

Provisions—Continued liquidation in May pork was the feature of the day, opening $13 30 to $13 20, and sold as low as $12 90. October ribs were strong early, selling as high as $9 50; a selling order of about 20,000 forced them back to $9 32½. Towards the close the market was active and prices at about bottom figures. Selling orders by commission houses and supporting orders came from the packers. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 16,000 hogs.

The Rose of Wentworth

CHAPTER XL.

Arley was literally stricken dumb by this wonderful intelligence. She could only rest in those clinging arms and stare helplessly up into Lady Elaine's face, her own as white as snow; while all her strength forsook her, leaving her weak and almost fainting.

From the hour when she had first met the young countess in the home of their mutual friend, Annie Hamilton, she had experienced an affection, as deep and strong as it was strange, for her. It had been reciprocated by Lady Elaine, and both had often wondered why they should feel such peculiar tenderness for each other.

Now they understood it; the same blood flowed in their veins; they owed their being to the same father and mother, and nature and instinct had both asserted themselves long before it was possible for them to comprehend the reason for it.

"It is no wonder that we have loved each other if this is true," Arley breathed at last, while she twined her arms more closely about the form beside her. "My sister! Can it be possible?"

"Not only possible, but an absolute, indisputable fact," Lady Elaine returned, kissing her again and again.

The tears rained over Arley's face, and sobs shook her.

"I have so longed for some one who was my own to love, and who would love me. I have been so lonely all my life, yearning for some congenial companion; and now, just when it has seemed as if life was wearisome and unsatisfying—hardly worth the living—this great blessing comes to me. Oh, Elaine, I am greatly comforted; I am very thankful!"

"Yes, we have found each other just when we most need each other. Our Father knows best just when to send His good gifts to His children," reverently replied the young countess. "I know all your trouble, dear," she went on, tenderly, "or, at least, enough of it to guess at the rest, and my heart has been very sore on your account; but we will be all in all to each other now; we will live together, and do good together, and try to forget our sorrows; or, if we cannot forget them, we can soften them by our love, and by doing for others."

But the words, submissive as they were, seemed to unseal the fountain of the fair girl's grief, and the two strangely-united sisters abandoned themselves for the moment to its sway.

Arley was the first to recover herself, and, wiping first her own and then Lady Elaine's tears, she said:

"Now, dear, tell me all about this strange discovery. I can scarcely realize it even yet, though my heart tells me that your words are truth—that I am of one blood with you."

"It is like a romance," was the reply; "though there has always been something about you that has moved me strangely—something almost familiar in your looks and movements, although I never mentioned it to you."

"I presume I should have regarded it merely as a fancy if you had," Arley returned.

"Well, it was not a mere fancy, and now I am going to prove it to you;" and, as she spoke, Lady Elaine drew from her pocket a small package.

"Ah, such treasures as I have here!" she continued, smiling, "for without them it would have been almost impossible to prove your identity."

She removed the papers from it, and revealed a small, black velvet case in a box.

Opening the case, she disclosed a picture painted upon porcelain.

"Look, dear," she said, putting it into Arley's hand. "This is a portrait of our mother, taken just before her marriage. Now tell me if your face did not remind me of some one I had known?"

Arley gazed upon it wonderingly.

There was, indeed, a striking resemblance, though nothing like that of Ina Wentworth to her mother.

The shape of the face in the picture was much like Arley's. The shapely brows, the curve of the dark, sweeping lashes, the large, liquid, brown eyes, the piquant mouth and rounded chin were strangely like the happy, spirited girl whom Lady Elaine had first met and loved at Hazelmere.

She gazed upon it breathlessly, holding it in her hand with a reverent clasp, her heart fluttering, like a restless bird, in her bosom.

"Was this my mother?" she whispered.

"Yes, our mother, dear; do not leave me out, please, for I am very jealous of my rights now that I have found my sister," Lady Elaine said, dropping her golden head upon Arley's shoulder. "Is it not strange that I could never think whom you resembled? Do you not think that you are very like her?"

"Yes," Arley answered, with tremulous lips, "and I am so glad, while I believed myself to be Arley Wentworth, it was always a great grief to me that I could trace no resemblance in my features to those of my supposed father and mother. I remember that you told me when we were at Hazelmere that your little sister, Alice, was dark and very like your mother, while you were a thorough Mordaunt, in form and feature. How happy I am to have this picture! but, oh, if she could have lived to own me her daughter, and hold me for one moment to her heart! Oh, Elaine, how I have wanted a mother all my life."

"Don't, dear," Lady Elaine cried, in a voice of pain, "do not let us begin to long for the impossible, for if we do our hearts will surely break," and Arley knew that she was thinking of Wil as she spoke.

She touched her lips softly to the white cheeks resting on her shoulder, and whispered with her eyes still on the beautiful picture:

"Tell me about her."

"There is not much to tell," Lady Elaine said, "for I was only ten years old when she died, but I remember her as gentle and sweet, very affectionate, but with a sadness about her which was extremely pathetic. This was caused as I was afterwards told by the loss of my little sister, Alice, while returning from India, where my father had been obliged to go upon political business soon after his marriage, and by the subsequent death of my only brother, who was the last of the Mordaunts. You have heard of that dreadful voyage from India from Jane Collins, so I will not repeat it; but you were supposed to have been drowned, and were always spoken of as being dead. You are two years older than I, for I was not born until sometime after our dear mother's return to England. She devoted herself to me, but she could not get over the loss of her first-born, and almost the first thing I remember was her teaching me to say Alice, and telling me about my little dark-eyed sister. When I was three years old an heir was born to the house of Mordaunt, and my father's heart was filled with joy and pride, for now he believed that his name and title would be perpetuated. But Arthur only lived to pass his fifth birthday, and our mother never recovered from the shock occasioned by his death; she grieved until she undermined her health and gradually faded out of life. She died, as I have told you, when I was ten years old, and five years later my father was taken from me, leaving me to the guardianship of Sir Anthony Hamilton, only stipulating that I was to remain at the convent where he had placed me, excepting during the annual vacation until my education was completed. So, you perceive, Arley, that my life has been as lonely as your own, even more so, indeed, for you had Dr. and Miss McAllister, who, believing you to the child of their dear one, loved you as their own. Oh, if we could only have known years ago that we belonged to each other, how happy we might have been!"

Bleeding Piles and Erysipelas

Two Severe Cases Which Illustrate the Extraordinary Soothing, Healing Virtues of

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Scores of people do not think of trying Dr. Chase's Ointment for bleeding piles because they have used so many other treatments in vain and do not believe their ailment curable. It is by curing when others fail that Dr. Chase's Ointment has won such a record for itself. It will not fail to promptly relieve and completely cure any form of piles, no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Mr. James Uriah Pye, Marie Joseph, Guysborough County, N. S., writes: "I was bad with bleeding piles for about four years and could get no help. Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me in a very short time, and I cannot praise it too highly for this cure. Mrs. Thomas Smith was troubled with erysipelas in the feet and legs and was all swollen up. I gave her some of the ointment, which took out the swelling and healed all the sores. She had tried many treatments before, but none seemed to do her any good. I am telling my friends about the wonderful cures which Dr. Chase's Ointment made for Mrs. Smith and myself, and would say that it is only a pleasure for me to recommend so excellent a preparation."

Wherever there is irritation, inflammation, ulceration or itching of the skin, Dr. Chase's Ointment will bring quick relief and will ultimately heal and cure. On this account it is useful in scores of ways in every home for the cure of eczema, salt rheum, tetter, scald head, chafing, itching peculiar to women, pin worms, piles and all sorts of skin diseases and eruptions.

The number of crimes increases necessarily as civilization advances, because new laws are made constituting new crimes. While the number of violations of law increases the number of atrocious crimes diminishes. The fact is that the increase in the criminal statistics is almost entirely in the newer and lighter offenses.

TESTED BY TIME.—In his justly-celebrated pills, Dr. Parmelee has given to the world one of the most unique medicines offered to the public in late years. Prepared to meet the want for a pill which could be taken without nausea, and that would purge without pain, it has met all requirements in that direction, and it is in general use not only because of these two qualities, but because it is known to possess alterative and curative powers which place it in the front rank of medicines.

Radway & Co., New York:

Gentlemen,—In regard to "Radway's Pills," I wish to say that I have never found any remedy that can equal them. For the past two years I was suffering from nervous dyspepsia and constipation. After eating I would have a sensation of heaviness in the stomach, feel like vomiting, pain and dizziness in the head, and then I would become nervous. I tried everything that was recommended to me. My physician told me I had chronic constipation, and a sour stomach. He could relieve me somewhat, but stil did not cure me. I was almost in despair. At last a friend persuaded me to try "Radway's Pills," which I did. And I am glad to say that they not only relieved me but positively cured me. Even after taking them only a few days, a regularity of the bowels was established, and the dyspeptic symptoms have already disappeared. Now I feel like a new person.

May God bless you and your wonderful remedy. I remain,

Yours for health,

FOOTBALL IS GETTING GREAT IMPETUS IN LONDON

Executive Receive Encouraging Words From Toronto.

St. John's A. C. Affiliate With the L. R. F. C.—Good Practice Monday.

Evidence of the fact that much good work is being done was given last night, when the executive of the local football team met at the Tecumseh House and transacted some important business.

The first matter was the appointment of a secretary, Mr. Bert Sheere having declined the honor owing to affairs of business. The name of Mr. Walter Little, always known as a hard worker in any sport he is interested in, was proposed, and he was elected unanimously. Mr. Little, it can be relied upon, will shoulder his share of the work to the club's advantage.

Treasurer Dr. Clarke, who was acting as secretary pro tem., read a communication from Mr. Frank Woodworth, secretary of the O. R. F. U. The letter was a reply to one sent to Toronto by London, and was quite the opposite of being discouraging. It gave the assurance that when the schedule was rearranged, London would not be ushered to the second row from the back, and that generally they would be given above-board treatment. In reference to the application for Harry Peel's reinstatement, it stated that Peel had never been professionalized, by the O. R. F. U., and that his case would be given a hearing.

In connection with this communication, it was decided to send an answer ginving details of London's contentions. The treasurer was accordigly instructed to explain that London could not play under any consideration on Saturday, Sept. 26. Because of the fair, and the fact that the players who had turned out were not acquainted with the new rules, it would be impossible to get a team in shape with any hope of success. London didn't want to fall flat on their first game, and to prevent it this course was taken. Another objection that was coming was that London didn't want two home games on the start-off. However, they would like to have one of the two games in the city, preferably the first one.

The letter, which will be received in time to be considered at tonight's meeting in Toronto, will contain the information that declarations regarding the amateur status of Harry Peel and George Black, will also be forwarded. The latter was never made a professional in Canada, it being a personal desire to take the affidavit that caused this to be done.

Mr. Wm. Meredith will likely represent the locals at the meeting tonight, which is a guarantee that its interests will be safeguarded.

The executive were gratified over the receiving of a letter from Mr. A. B. Cox, president of the St. John's Athletic Club, stating that the organization would be pleased to affiliate with the team, and help out generally. Mr. Cox was elected to the executive, and it can be taken for granted that the election will be productive of much good.

Mr. Ewart Fields was appointed to act as field captain temporarily. He is a good player and well acquainted with those who will appear on the gridiron.

It was decided to postpone the matter of appointing a trainer. The services of Mr. Gordon Fleck, of the Toronto University team, who is here for the purpose of teaching the players the technicalities of the new rules, were thought all that was needed along this line for the time being.

Tickets have already been printed, and each member of the executive has volunteered to handle a number of them. They will cost $1, a moderate figure, and will be for the season's home games.

On Saturday a practice match between teams captained by Jack Hobbs and Will Meredith will be held at Tecumseh Park at the conclusion of the baseball games.

MONDAY NIGHT'S PRACTICE.

It was easily seen by the attendance at Monday's practice that the fair had been the cause of the rather small turnout of last week. Last evening the park was the scene of some fine practice work. About 25 men, all of whom were more or less promising, had their sweaters on, and for an hour Mr. Fleck taught them the peculiarities of the Burnside code. He remarked after the preliminary brush-up that many of the men were apt scholars, and that a good team should materialize, if steady, conscientious practice was indulged in. From now on practices will be held nightly, and it is important that every man should put in an appearance as often as possible, especially this week, when one of the best-posted men in the business is giving lessons that are essential to the making of the good player. Dressing-rooms have been secured and as the weather and grounds are ideal for the famous sport, all intending players should endeavor to come out and show themselves.

At the meeting President George B. Gerrard occupied the chair, and Dr. Clarke (treasurer), and Messrs. Gordon Crawford, Jack Hobbs, Will Meredith and Frank Reid were also in attendance.

L. W. GREYS WIN JUNIOR HONORS

Defeated Imperials and Landed League Championship—One Game More to Be Played.

At Springbank on Saturday afternoon the West London Grays defeated the Imperials in the Junior City League series, thereby winning the championship for 1903. This is the second time that the Grays have landed the honors, and this year, as last, have won strictly on their merits. Some splendid exhibitions have been witnessed in the junior league this season, and the league has done much to bring out young players, who, within a year or so, will likely figure prominently in senior company. The junior league has been self-supporting, and the different clubs have stood loyally to their colors and done everything possible to make the enterprise a success.

Both teams made a good run for first place on Saturday. They were tied and this made the game particularly interesting. The Grays proved to be too fast for the Imperials, whose finishing game was rather loose at times. The Grays' heavy hitting stood them in great stead, and it was this feature of their playing that won the game. The league will close next Saturday with a game between the Aberdeens and Strollers, to decide the third place. The score of Saturday's game follows:

									R.	H.	E.
Grays	2	1	1	1	5	0	0	5	*—15	18	6
Imperials	4	1	3	0	2	0	0	1	—11	12	6

Batteries—Clark and Mines; Whitehall and Orchard. Umpire, H. Luney.

JUNIOR LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.
Grays	7	2
Imperials	6	3
Aberdeens	3	5
Strollers	1	7

FOOTBALL.

ST. MARTIN'S SCHOOL THE VICTORS.

A good game of football was played on Payne's field, between teams representing Wortley road and St. Martin's school. The latter won by a score of 2 to 0. Captains—Wortley road, G. Monohan; St. Martin's, E. Evans.

FUNNYSIDE WON AT GRAVESEND

Landed the Albemarle Selling Stakes—Jersey City Wins Championship.

The reduction of world's records this season by harness horses has been little less than astonishing, and they have followed so fast upon each other as to furnish ground for added wonder. In brief they are as follows:

Lou Dillon reduced the trotting record to 2:00.

Major Delmar reduced the record for trotting geldings to 2:00¼.

Dan Patch reduced the record for pacers on a half-mile track to 2:04.

Prince Alert clipped a quarter of a second from the record of Dan Patch, so that the half-mile track record for pacers is now 2:03¾.

The Monk and Equity, driven by Mr. Billings, reduced the record for trotters in double harness from 2:12½ to 2:09¾.

Sadie Mc reduced the record for 3-year-old trotting fillies in a race to 2:11½.

Lou Dillon reduced the high-wheel sulky record to 2:05.

Of course, Lou Dillon and Major Delmar have had the center of the stage, and it is safe to say that no other trotters like them have been seen since the history of harness racing began.

A mile in 2:11¼ by a green trotter, and by a horse that has had harness on but five months, is a prize package, and those who saw John H. Brown's 7-year-old flyer step the distance in the above named time are still talking about the wonderful performance. Few were acquainted with the name of this wonderful trotter, and Cast Off is what they called him at the Grosse Pointe track, Detroit, Saturday. However, his name is Stanley Dillon, by Sidney Dillon, being a half brother to Lou Dillon, the trotting queen of the turf. Mr. Brown bought the horse at the Cleveland sale and is so impressed with his purchase that it is doubtful if he could be tempted to sell, several big offers having already been made.

Manager Selee, of the Chicago National League team, is strongly opposed to the practice of playing "double headers," which has come to be the common term for two games in an afternoon for one admission, the object being to make up for games postponed during the season. He wants them abolished. His reasons are sound. From the standpoint of the players and public, he says, it is too much of a strain on the players, who cannot maintain top speed for three or four hours as well as for half that time. Consequently the public does not in reality get any more for its money. From a business standpoint, it cheapens the games in the eyes of the public and is certain to diminish the attendance just previous to or just after a double game or a series of them. This is because the patrons, under the impression that they are getting a bargain, will wait for it and then feel surfeited for a few days after. There is no way of refuting Mr. Selee's argument. Every word he says is true. The only excuse for the playing of "double headers" is the desire to give every team an equal chance for the pennant by permitting the playing of as many as possible of the scheduled games. Without this practice many games would never be played at all, and it might happen that the majority of games between a weak and a strong team would be postponed during a season, while another team might play all its games with the same weak nine and in so doing win a pennant over its nearest opponent in the race. The abolition of "double headers" would eliminate a lot of the evenness in the number of games played by each team. Whether that would be a lesser evil than the "double header" is a question. There does not seem to be any adequate way to provide for postponments except by the "double header" system. If Manager Selee can suggest a substitute, he will do the game a greater good than he ever has yet, and that is considerable.

THE TURF.

AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 21.—Frank Bell, the favorite, won the feature of Delmar's card today on a fast track. Van A. entered in the fifth race, would not leave the stable, and was scratched. Summary:

A System of Units

SEMI-READY system of specialized tailoring—a sleeve expert for sleeves—a collar specialist on collars alone, etc., economizes heavily on cost.

Because, such specialists will thus turn out more, and better finished garments, at a given salary, than the same number of tailors would if each made a whole coat in the usual Custom way.

Another practical economy is the use of cloths that take shape easiest and retain it longest.

Such cloths as English, Scotch and Irish tweeds cost more than Canadian, but need less labor to convert into perfect fitting clothes.

And Semi-ready grade of labor is the most expensive factor that can be put into good clothes, anywhere.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Held in St. John's Church, London Tp.—Musical Festival on 30th.

The Harvest Thanksgiving services of St. John's Church, London Township, were held last Sunday, and passed off very happily. The church was handsomely decorated with the fruits of the field and the garden, with corn and grain and bright harvest flowers. The attendance was large and the services praiseful and joyous. Rev. Principal Waller, of Huron College, preached a thoughtful sermon in the morning from St. John vii., 37. In the evening the sermon was by Rev. G. B. Sage, rector of St. George's Church, from the words "Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he reap" (Galatians vi., 7). Both sermons were highly appreciated. The choir, at morning and evening service, rendered its part most effectively in special hymns and anthems. In the evening Miss Eva Barrell sang very sweetly a sacred solo, well suited to the occasion. The harvest super and musical festival is announced to take place in the St. Johns town hall on Wednesday evening, Sept. 30.

ALL DENOMINATIONS SPEAK HIGHLY OF ST. ANDREW'S

Congregational Union in Connection With the Anniversary.

The Bishop of Huron Expressed Some Worthy Thoughts

Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists, All Say Kind Things of the Grand Old Church.

No better evidence of the growing fellowship between the various Protestant denominations could be found than the appearance last night in St. Andrew's Church, of representatives of the Anglican, Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and Presbyterian bodies. It was the "Congregational Reunion" in connection with the anniversary of St. Andrew's Church, and there was a fair attendance of members of the congregation. The meeting was presided over by Mr. C. R. Somerville, and a feature of the evening was the special music rendered by the choir, assisted by Miss Eva Robiyn, soprano soloist.

The chairman, in opening, referred to the unavoidable and regretiable absence of Rev. Dr. Johnston. Speaking of the 60 years since their first church was built he said that two members of St. Andrew's congregation today remembered the building of that church 60 years ago, Mrs. Darch and Mr. James Gillean. He went on to show that the church had had but three pastors, the first, Rev. Dr. Scott, having had charge for 25 years, Rev. Allister Murray for 20 years, and the present pastor since 1894. He hoped this condition would continue—that the church would be of long pastors. He referred to the reverend gentlemen present from other churches, and how a union of love and sympathy was better than any physical union.

He then read two letters of congratulations and best wishes, one from Rev. Dr. Fletcher, of Hamilton, moderator of the General Assembly, and the other from the mayor of London, the latter referring to the part St. Andrew's Church had played in the city's history. Chairman Somerville called on Rev. Dr. McCrae first.

HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS.

Rev. Dr. McCrae, moderator of the Presbytery of London, said that the presbytery had appointed Rev. Mr. Clark and himself to convey to the congregation of St. Andrew's Church the heartiest congratulations and best wishes. It was a pleasure to all to have with them Dr. Gordon, who had done much for Canada as a churchman, as an educationalist and as a citizen. He could assure the principal of Queen's University that he would find in all Western Ontario friends who would help make Queen's a great university. It spoke well for the congregation that during the 70 years of the church's existence they had only three pastors, all of whom Dr. McCrae had known, and he recalled their many good qualities. The Presbytery of London specially liked to remember the liberality of St. Andrew's Church. Again extending the greetings of the presbytery, Dr. McCrae concluded by saying that he hoped the remembrance of this jubilee service would long remain green.

Rev. W. J. Clark, in extending his congratulations as pastor of a neighboring church as well as a representative of the presbytery, referred to the time when London had but 1,100 inhabitants. The changes were recounted that had taken place in the way one branch of the church was looked upon by another. He also recalled the labors of Mr. Murray, who was pastor here when he came to London, and he spoke, too, complimentary of the present pastor. Dr. Johnston was a gifted man and a man with tremendous energy. He doubted if a more earnest, a more energetic or better worker than Dr. Johnston could be found. He congratulated them in their prosperity and he prayed for a continuance of it.

His Lordship the Bishop of Huron was at this juncture invited to the platform. Rev. D. S. Hamilton, of the First Congregational Church which, like the First Presbyterian Church, St. Andrew's Church was indebted to, was called upon to speak. He referred to the incorporation of Montreal and Quebec, and other important events that happened in 1833. He recounted the stirring times of 1837, and the inception of this congregation at such a time. The place of the church in the history of London was no small one. He recalled with pleasure the fact that this was the first church outside his own that he had spoken in after he came here, and he referred gratefully to the help given his church by St. Andrew's during the recent union held in London. He brought the greetings of the Congregationalists of London.

Rev. Thomas S. Johnson spoke on behalf of the Baptists of the city. He had come to London 20 years ago, and his experience since that time showed him that St. Andrew's had made the most of its opportunities.

The Methodists were represented by Rev. George Bishop, of the First Church. He had been appointed at a recent meeting of the Methodist pastors of the city to extend congratulations on this happy and interesting event. The meeting together of ministers of different denominations last night was an evidence of the love that existed between them. As to the work that had been done by the church during the past 70 years, Mr. Bishop said it was inestimable, and in bringing out this idea he referred to what the ministers had done in the way of influence; perhaps the whole circle of the world had been touched by the work of this church during these years. Mr. Bishop spoke hopefully of the future of the church.

THE BISHOP OF HURON.

One of the most effective addresses of the evening was made by his Lordship the Bishop of Huron. From all he had heard St. Andrew's Church had worked earnestly and well to spread the Gospel. Upon this subject the bishop talked earnestly. He looked back upon the ages when the great churches of St. Augustine were established. Where were some of the old churches of North Africa? They were swept away, and the accursed crescent stood today where once was the cross of Christ. But, again, there was the great missionary spirit which the bishop looked upon as of special comfort. The church was awake now, and was sending missionaries everywhere. He congratulated the Presbyterians on the missionary work they had accomplished in the Northwest. He sincerely congratulated St. Andrew's Church on the success of the past and the prospects for the future.

By the time Rev. Principal Gordon was called upon it was 10 o'clock, and he made his address very brief. He prefaced his few remarks by some humorous references. His address brought the meeting to a close. Dr. Gordon said that 1867 was the year in which he had first visited London. The date recalled confederation, when the people down east thought westerners more strangers than the people across the sea. The church divisions of those days had since been found to be unwise. He recited a trip he had had throughout the Northwest, and drew a picture of Canada's grand extent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. This was a country worth fighting for, he said, and we should fight for its evangelization. Dr. Gordon referred to the immense immigration into the west and the necessity for missionary work there. As Presbyterians they could assure their brethren of other denominations that they would not be behind any in co-operating in the spread of the Gospel. He concluded his brief address by again congratulating the church on its anniversary.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE MUSIC IN "MR. PICKWICK."

There are seventeen classified numbers in "Mr. Pickwick." These include "Love," the waltz melody sung by Polly (Marguerite Clark) and Arabella (Marion Field); "Gratitude," the lively two-step, sung by Polly, Sam Weller (Digby Bell) and Weller, sen. (Frank Belcher); "Golden Rules," the simile-verse number, sung by Alfred Jingle (Louis Payne); "What's the Latest News From Town," a choral feature; "The Pickwick Club," by Mr. Pickwick (De Wolf Hopper) and chorus; "The Lay of the Merry Ha, Ha," a quartette number by Mr. Pickwick, Arabella, Polly and Mr. Winkle (George Chapman); "Boys Will Be Boys," by Mr. Pickwick, Weller, sen., and Mr. Wardle (J. K. Adams); "Speak Low" and "The Story of the Rainbow," by Arabella and the School Girls; "On the Side," Sam Weller's humorous offering; "Pickwick's Horse Brigade," the principal march of the production, by Mr. Pickwick and chorus; "You Can Never Tell How It's Going to Turn Out," by Mr. Pickwick, Sam Weller, Arabella and Polly, and "Acting," Marguerite Clark's principal solo. By special request De Wolf Hopper will give his famous recitation "Casey at the Bat," between the acts. Those who have heard De Wolf Hopper give this recitation, declare that it alone is worth the price of admission.

By special request, Mr. De Wolf Hopper will at the Grand tonight, between the acts, recite, "Casey at the Bat." This famous recitation as much as anything else served to make Mr. Hopper famous, and it will no doubt prove a rare treat to the theater-going public of London.

"Alphonse and Gaston," a bunch of music and frolic, greatly pleased a large audience at the Grand last night. It is a continuous round of fun, and is well put on by a fair company. Many new songs were sung during the performance, but some of the jokes had lived for more than one season. But there were plenty of good things in "Alphonse and Gaston," and taken all round the piece was satisfactory. Though the company is not a large one the chorus was very good, and showed to good advantage in "The Ragtime Chinaman," and there are some good individual voices in the caste.

A LESSON IN POLITENESS

The Alphonse and Gaston Idea Put in Practice.

School Children Practicing the Suggestions of the Play.

"I was not at the show last night," said a well-known school teacher today in conversation with an Advertiser reporter, "but I do know this—that the Alphonse and Gaston idea has not been without its good results."

"What good could it have done?" was the natural question.

"Well, it's just this way," replied the pedagogue, "children have up to the past year been rather inclined to go to extremes in their lack of politeness—that is, many of them who are not enough under home influence, and since the pictures have become so popular in the Sunday papers I find that many of the children are aping the heroes of the Alphonse artist. It is no uncommon thing to see one boy or girl give their place in a game or something with the well-known phrase "After you, my dear Alphonse,' while if his or her companion is equally polite, according to this new etiquette the companion will say "Pardon me, my dear Gaston, I insist," etc.

"Naturally many new uses are found by the children, and if they keep up their politeness, which may be mockery, if you will, it will no doubt leave an impression. I think the tendency is to make them more considerate of one another and develop their manners Yes, I think the Alphonse and Gaston idea is such a good one that it might be put on the school curriculum.

PAY WHEN WORK IS DONE

Water Commissioners' Action Re Hydraulic Pumps.

Springbank Pavilion Lessee's Annual Rental Reduced by About $200.

The request of the London Machine Tool Company for the last payment for installing the new hydraulic pumping plant at Springbank brought forth considerable comment at the meeting of the water commission held yesterday.

The letter was filed and the board's decision was that no money be paid out until the work was completed as per the contract. The work had been delayed for some reason or other, but now the foundation for the machinery is being built so that the pumps will probably be in position inside of a few weeks.

City Solicitor Meredith submitted a copy of the agreement between the commission and Wm. Lowrey, the present lessee of the Springbank pavilion for their execution. The agreement provides that the tenant shall pay $650 a year for a three years' lease. The rent was formerly $825, but in view of Mr. Lowrey's capable conducting of the pavilion, and the poor busines of the past wet season, the board decided to reduce it to the former sum. The agreement was filed pending Mr. Lowrey's answer.

The report of the auditors showed that the books had been audited for the quarter from April 30 to Aug. 31, and had been found correct.

The mayor was the only absentee, Chairman Wm. Jones, Commissioner J. W. Jones, Engineer Moore and Secretary Ellwood being present.

JUST ABOUT A WEEK LATE

Man Came Into the City to See the Fair.

Watched for a Car Bearing the Legend "Exhibition."

It is one of the things that psychologists have never been able to solve, the fact that some people can never get a date into their head. There is the man who makes an engagement and never keeps it, or more likely, the woman. But the more prevalent form of the malady is that which is seen in the person who sees a date in print over and over again and does not connect it with that of the calendar.

A man who has this bad habit came into the city today. He came from back in one of the townships, where he seldom sees anyone. But he gets the weekly paper and reads it about once a month. Some time ago he noticed an announcement that the Western Fair was held in September, but he did not get the date clearly into his head. For the first time since the fair a year ago he decided to visit the city once more and came in today, thinking this was the right week.

He remembered that last year everything was bustle on the street, and the street cars that went to the fair grounds all had "Exhibition" on them. He did not say anything to anyone at the hotel around the square about his intentions, but quietly had his horse put up for the day and went to the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets to wait for an "Exhibition" car. He let about 20 cars go past his each way, and then he inquired which was the way to the fair grounds. The policeman told him what car to take and also asked him what he was going there for.

"Why, to see the fair, of course," he said.

The policeamn had to get a bystander to corroborate him, that the fair for 1903 was a thing of history before the man who had got his dates mixed would believe he was being told the truth.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR

Year 5664 Commences Today—Much Rejoicing.

The Jewish New Year begins today and the occasion is being celebrated here as elsewhere by special services. It is the commencement of the year 5664 in the Jewish calendar, and is a most solemn occasion with Jews the world over. During the period of celebration, which extends from sundown last night until sundown Wednesday night, no work of any kind is done by them, but during this time services are held at sundown and this and tomorrow evenings in the synagogue.

The celebration marks the first of ten penitential days, when special prayer for help is made. The blowing of trumpets this morning was the signal for the commencement of the year, and to remind the worshipers of the necessity of preparing for the day of judgment. Thursday, the Day of Gedaliah, is a day of fasting, but New Year's Day is a day of feasting and rejoicing in the Jewish homes and synagogues.

FOOD, NOT MEDICINE.—Ninety-nine babies out of every one hundred who are emaciated, weak, sickly and almost lifeless, require food, not medicine. When we say food, we do not refer to the poor preparations such as many babies are now fed on, but Lactated Food, that perfect substitute for healthy breast milk—a food that babies love, that builds up flesh, bone and muscle, and that makes the little ones happy and contented. Infants fed on Lactated Food are never sick; they are raised to childhood vigorous and strong. Try it for your baby, dear mother, if it is not thriving. All Druggists.

IN FIELDS FAR OFF.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is known in Australia, South and Central America, as well as in Canada and the United States, and its consumption increases each year. It has made its own way, and all that needs to be done is to keep its name before the public. Everyone knows that it is to be had at any store, for all merchants keep it.
