Is Headache a Blessing in Disguise?

The better the human system is understood the more we realize the usefulness of pain as a sort of danger signal. Headache is said to be the most beneficial of all pains, because it comes as a result of so many ailments. Rarely is it found in the head itself, but usually in the condition of the system. The most persistent and most painful headache is caused by congested nerves, and are of a malarial nature. The nerves are in a tired and wasted condition, and a little extra strain or excitement brings on an attack of the nervous headache. Nervous headache is said to be the cry of the nerves for more rest, nourishment and there is manufactured the nervous energy which controls the action of the members of the body. Consequently, when nervous headache comes it is a warning that the nervous system is in a run-down condition, and must be re-energized. If some form of paralysis is to be avoided, it is a mistake to take the powerful headache pills to relieve the pain and then neglect the cause of trouble, which is of a malarial nature. You can restore and revitalize the wasted cells by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This treatment is not recommended as a Investor of Cream Separator Dead.

Carl Gustave Patrick De Laval, known throughout the world as the inventor of the cream separator, died Feb. 21, in Stockholm, Sweden, his native city, at the age of 67 years. He was best known to us for his invention of an efficient cream separator. His activities, however, were by no means confined to this, for he had achieved notable success in various other fields. He invented the steam turbine which bears his name; the milk tester; a centrifugal pump; an engine; a mechanical oil mill; a new form of lamp; a frictionless vessel; an explosive-proof steam boiler; and a process for extracting metals from ore by electrically developed magnetism. In fact, he was tireless in his activity in working out unending mechanical problems of every kind. Few men have conferred more lasting benefits upon humanity than Dr. De Laval. The cream separator and the milk tester, both conceived by him, though further developed by others have since saved billions of dollars to the world's dairy interests and largely made possible the wide use of dairy products as we know them to-day.

Fellowship.

There is a kind of fellowship in the world which is not based on money or power, but on the recognition of a common humanity.
It is a fellowship which is based on the fact that we are all children of the same Father, and that we are all members of the same family.

Somebody's Sister.

In an old school reader was a poem entitled "Somebody's Sister." It told of an old woman helped across the busy, slippery street by a bright ladle who returned to the merry group of his fellows to say:
"Somebody's sister, boys, you know, Too close to me and too good to lose." I wish a rhyme could be given as to "Somebody's Sister," to stir the nobler imaginations of our youths, and direct their devotion towards every young woman they meet.

Somebody's Sister.

Somebody's sister waits on you in the restaurant, my boy. She comes from a home with parents and brothers and sisters clustered in its memories. Her may be a lumber chieftain than your sister knows, but to her brother she is just as precious as the maiden who will greet you at dinner to-night is to you. So be gallant to the waiter girl.

Somebody's Sister.

Somebody's sister is the servant at the hotel where you sheltered last night. She has the meanest task in the house, and usually does it well.
Too often she is forgotten, except when she gives of suggestive jokes as passed. Women travelers can begeth more Christian-like habits than the waiter girl.

Somebody's Sister.

Somebody's sister clicks the type writer in your office, young man.
The angel of your home does not need to do forth the heroism that the stenographer exercises every morning as she prepares for her daily bread-winning feat. I knew a young woman whose father's sudden death compelled her to leave her piano and palliating lessons in order to qualify as a stenographer. Her skill fingers never wavered when her fall mother and two little sisters.

Somebody's Sister.

By and by, the young fellow in the restaurant cultivated her acquaintance. One day, when he thought matters were ripe, he motored her out to a lot of land his rich father had given him. After some effort he explained that if she'd have him, he would put up a nice bungalow in the country. She took the proposition home with her, balanced it with her duty to her three charges, and then, after a half day's crying, declined it and went cheerily back to her work.

Somebody's Sister.

You can afford to tip your hat to the stenographer, my son. Treat her with respect and keep a clenched fist ready for any scoundrel who doesn't.
Somebody's sister is behind the counter where you buy your box of tooth paste.

Somebody's Sister.

There are but one or two recesses between your sister and two centimes. A funeral or a failure might put her there any day. And the candy counter girl is likely just as capable of her life's fire as your sister. Bestow the same courtesy upon her which you would want to be shown the girl you guard so jealously.
Such snarling jests as you might thoughtlessly give her would soon be the channel off her purity.

Somebody's Sister.

Somebody's sister is walking by the street corner where you and your chums are congregated to sight. You are talking away with bits of loose change in your pocket and the day's work goes. A group of young fellows will suddenly make remarks about a passing woman in the evening, which one young man, alone, wouldn't think of expressing next morning. But the brand of decency against your hypocrisy. The next young woman to happen along may be your sister or your sweetheart. If your chums, not knowing, should let her see, there would be trouble trouble, wouldn't there?—Stanley.

Somebody's Sister.

Children are more likely to contract the common diseases when they have quills. "Strangling" cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and meningitis are diseases that are often contracted when the child has a cold. That is why all medical authorities advise parents of colds.
For the quick cure for colds you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at all drug stores.

Somebody's Sister.

In the next hotel project in New York many rooms will have a bath.

Agriculture in Nova Scotia.

The Annual Report of the Secretary for Agriculture for Nova Scotia for the year 1912 has just been issued and is now available as long as the copies last for free distribution on application to the Secretary for Agriculture or to any of the members representing the counties of Nova Scotia.

Agriculture in Nova Scotia.

The report consists of an outline of the year's work in the department of agriculture, including exhibitions, agribusiness, horticulture, farmers' associations, etc. It also contains a detailed report of the work at the agricultural college, showing the progress that has been made in the various departments of the institution.

Agriculture in Nova Scotia.

Under the heading of "Swine Breeding in Nova Scotia," this series is a continuation of the series of articles which have been appearing in the report of the Secretary for Agriculture since 1907. These previous reports have dealt with sheep raising, dairying, soils and soil cultivation, sugar and horse raising. As in previous years, the series of articles on topical subjects are being printed in separate covers and may be secured either by themselves or under the same cover with the General Report of the Secretary for Agriculture.

Agriculture in Nova Scotia.

We may state that any who have not received copies of the previous reports may get them on application to the Secretary for Agriculture at the same time when they apply for a copy of the present report of 1912.

Agriculture in Nova Scotia.

The series of articles on hog raising includes a description of the various breeds of swine, methods of feeding, care, breeding, etc., and there is also a valuable article on the housing of swine which contains plans of various types of houses recommended for keeping swine. The series is concluded with a splendid article on Diseases of Swine and Their Treatment. The whole series is a valuable one and should be in the hands of every interested in swine breeding and feeding in the Province of Nova Scotia.

Agriculture in Nova Scotia.

A limited number of these reports are also available for distribution outside of the Province. Those who are interested should apply to the Secretary for Agriculture, Truro, Nova Scotia.

Like a Motor Car.

A large German woman fell up a long line of people at the money order window in a post office the other day, and all because her memory had faded. She wanted to send some money to her son, a sailor on a merchant steamer then in foreign waters, but when she presented the application at the window the clerk noticed that the address was lacking.

Like a Motor Car.

"Well, where do you want to send it?" he asked. "We can't give you the money order unless you know the name of the place."
"Yah, dot's der trouble," she replied. "I didn't bring his letter, and I can't remember der name of der town, but its name place out of China, dot sounds like the name a motor car make."
The two clerks looked at each other sublimely.

Like a Motor Car.

"What kind of a note does a motor car make?" asked one.
"Honk, honk!" suggested the other.
"Yah, dot's it!" exclaimed the woman.
"dot's der place!"
"Fill it in Hong Kong," said the clerk; and she paid over the money.

Like a Motor Car.

The man who frequently repeats that he will never do a certain thing, will inevitably do it if given time enough.

Bake!

COULD your bake day be made a little easier? Very likely it could. Read this signed, sincere truth and judge for yourself:

Easy Bakeday!

Royal Baking Powder readily yields the best quality and the utmost quantity of bread per barrel. No flour in the world yields more per barrel. The loaves it bakes are white and light. Its pastry is deliciously flaky.

Your first bakeday will tell if we in your judgment, your dealer will gladly return your money.

We, in turn, must pay him

New Strength in the Spring.

NATURE HERDS AND IN MAKING NEW HEALTH GIVING BLOOD.
In the spring the system needs a tonic. To be healthy you must have new blood just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid.
You may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp pains of neuralgia. Often there are disgusting pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What you need in the spring is a tonic medicine to put you right, and in all the world of medicine there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills actually make new, rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring. This new blood drives out the seeds of disease and makes easily tired men, women and children bright, active and strong.

Should Live to be 100.

Dr. Franks Ellsworth Allard, professor of physical economics at the Boston University Medical School, believes that our heredity should be the average life of man. The old, Biological passage about the life of man being three score years and ten, is put into our head at Sunday school said Dr. Allard to-day, and we later accept it as a matter of course. It is unfortunate that we have the limit of life in mind, we ought to live to be a hundred. All disease is a process of disintegration.

Should Live to be 100.

I believe that every degree of erythema and nature begins principally in the breaking of some of nature's laws. I believe that the body may be so trained that it becomes a perfect servant of the will. The keeping of nature's laws is the most perfect form of morality.

Should Live to be 100.

To my way of thinking we must look to sanitation for the solution of our health problems. Sanitation statistics show that among insured lives of men between the ages of forty-five and fifty-five the death rate is greater than ever before. They would live longer and accomplish more if they ate less, drank less and indulged in daily periods of rest and recreation.

Should Live to be 100.

There are thousands of women—and not a few men—whose health is being sapped by the habits of illness and gossip. These people are lazy mentally and physically, and their viewpoint on life is purely personal and usually petty. Laziness gives rise to sluggish lives and unhealthy habits of introspection, which in turn breeds neurasthenia and imaginary ailments that become real as far as the ailments of the patient are concerned.

Should Live to be 100.

Intemperance in the use of alcoholic stimulants is perhaps the greatest curse of the age. The whole problem of drunkenness should be dealt with as a mental affliction; a weakening of the will.

Should Live to be 100.

The old practitioner is bound to pass. The family doctor as we know him to-day is doomed to extinction.
His place will be taken by the physician who will fulfill the real meaning of the words which is teacher.

Should Live to be 100.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAR. 28, 1913.

Fenian Raid Bounty.

According to the interpretation likely to be put upon the Fenian Raid Bounty Act, passed at the last session of the Dominion Parliament, it appears that a number of people of this county will be able to qualify for the grant.

In the year 1866—the year of the Fenian scare—there were in the county eight regiments of volunteers which had been organized under the Nova Scotia Militia Act. In each regiment there were a number of companies (the number varying from four to ten), each with its own captain. In that year the government of Nova Scotia issued a proclamation calling out for active service all able bodied men belonging to those divisions. This must not be confused with the regular annual autumn drill, which took place every fall in accordance with the conditions of the above mentioned Militia Act. This was a special proclamation issued because of the alarm that was felt and to meet a possible danger of invasion. All those who responded to that special call should secure the proper application forms, have them filled up according to requirements, and forwarded to Ottawa.

We understand that in order to avoid confusion and afford accurate information to those who desire it, general application forms and special ones specially typewritten for Kings county, together with full instructions as to what is required of applicants and with all documents for reference that are available, will be placed with the following: Stephen Taylor, Aubrey; Samuel Baker, Tremont; S. C. Parker, Berwick; Barclay Webster, Kentville; A. M. Lockwood, Canning; B. O. Davidson, Wolfville. While, of course, all applications that are forwarded will receive the careful consideration of the Militia Department, yet we think it would be advisable for intending applicants to get all information possible that enable them to have their papers properly prepared. It would look as though this would result with most satisfaction to all parties.

Liberal-Conservative Meet.

The annual meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Kings county, which was held at Kentville on Saturday last, was an occasion of more than usual interest. The attendance from all over the county far exceeded the expectations of those who had the management of the meeting, and notwithstanding the exceedingly bad state of the roads, the capacity of Pastime Hall, the largest meeting place in the town, was also gathered inadequate to meet the demands upon it. Every available part of the standing room as well as the seating of the hall was occupied and many were unable to gain admittance.

President S. C. Parker, of Berwick, took the chair at 1.30 o'clock and after a few preliminary remarks called upon Mr. J. Willis Margeson, M. L. A. for Lunenburg, as the first speaker. Mr. Margeson is a Kings county boy, a native of Berwick, and a former student at Acadia University. On arising to speak Mr. Margeson was greeted with a round of applause from his many friends who have watched with pleasure his progress in the political arena. His address was a brilliant one and a most powerful arraignment of the Murray government, paying especial attention to its administration of the crown lands, the coal mines and the roads of the province.

Mr. A. deW. Foster, our brilliant young representative at Ottawa, was given an ovation on arising to speak and for a time was unable to proceed. He thanked the electors of Kings for the honor done him by electing him as our representative and by the splendid gathering before him. In a strong and eloquent address he discussed the naval question from its inception and pointed out the inconsistencies of the band of obstructionists at Ottawa who are doing their best to discredit Canada in the eyes of the world. His address was listened to with close attention by the large audience, which manifested no uncertainty, way the large place Mr. Foster has won in the esteem of his constituents.

Excellent addresses were also given by Mr. Barclay Webster, of Kentville, and Dr. Hayne, the provincial organizer. We regret that our space will not permit a full report of each.

The officers of the Association appointed were as follows: President—Richard Starr, Starr Point. Vice President—C. O. Allen, Kentville. Permanent Secretary and County Organizer—O. H. Dakin, Kingsport.

The collection at the Mass Meeting on Sunday before last was ample to meet all expenses, and the balance ($5.68) was handed to the Boy Scouts. We regret that we omitted to refer to the very excellent address of Rev. Dr. Martell, one of the best of the kind we ever heard. The genial doctor is always a welcome visitor to Wolfville.

JOHNSON'S MENTHOL LINIMENT

Gives speedy relief from coughs, colds, cramps, diarrhoea, muscular rheumatism, bruises, etc.

L. S. Johnson, 107, Spring Street, Boston, Mass.

The Teachers' Institute for Kings and Hants.

The teachers from this Inspectorial District began to arrive in Wolfville Tuesday afternoon, March 18th, and by 10 a. m. Wednesday, March 19th, one hundred and forty had met in convention in Alumnae Hall of Acadia Seminary for the purpose of discussing various phases of the work in which they are engaged.

The program of work, which was arranged by Inspector Robinson and Principal Ford, made the meeting quite different from the ordinary type of teachers' conventions. Instead of a succession of papers theoretically dealing with the teaching of various subjects, classes consisting of pupils from the Wolfville public school were introduced and skilled teachers taught lessons as in their own schools. Previously prepared questions on each subject taught had been printed and these lists of questions were distributed to the teachers. These questions furnished a basis for discussing the merits and demerits in the methods of teaching each subject. By this device a mass of valuable opinion upon correct methods of teaching, as well as criticism and condemnation of radically incorrect methods, was elicited.

The teachers were much pleased to have with them at the various sessions, Dr. A. H. Mackay, Supt. of Education, Prof. L. A. DeWolfe, of the Normal College, and Inspector W. R. Campbell, of Colchester county. The valuable ideas of these gentlemen added much to the utility of the discussions. Among visitors present were, I. B. Oakes, Esq. and Prof. F. R. Haley of the corps of provincial examiners of high school papers.

Inspector Robinson opened the institute, introducing Dr. G. B. Catten, President of Acadia University, who welcomed the visiting teachers to Wolfville on behalf of Acadia. Principal R. W. Ford, of Wolfville high school, read a letter from C. W. Roscoe, who was so long the esteemed inspector of this district, expressing his deep regret at inability to attend the sessions of the institute.

Inspector W. R. Campbell held the attention of the teachers in a clean cut talk on elementary arithmetic. Numerous questions were asked by teachers which provoked profitable discussions.

Miss Jessie B. Campbell, of Berwick, read a paper on her method of teaching geography. Her treatment of the subject raised it from the common level of memorization of a mass of dry-as-dust facts to an attractive dignified outlook upon the world as the later-related home of the human race.

In the afternoon session Miss Sadie Wyde, of Kentville, conducted a class in reading. The children were from grade one. The lesson was well conducted and showed Miss Wyde a skilful teacher, well able to interest and ready to teach little children.

Miss Gertrude Reddy gave a brief outline of the work in object drawing adapted to grades four, five and six. It was well done and must have been valuable to teachers who find difficulty in carrying out such work in school.

Miss Barrett, of Kentville, gave a clear exposition of the solution of chemical equations, showing how to work from given weights to volumes and vice-versa. It was a great help to those who have found this matter difficult. In the evening a public meeting was held in College Hall.

Inspector Robinson opened the meeting by calling upon Mayor Chambers, who welcomed the teachers on behalf of the town.

Dr. H. T. DeWolfe gave a pithy, forceful and inspiring address on the meaning of an education.

Dr. G. B. Catten, in his usual attractive and rugged style, discussed the raison d'etre of habit and its influence in the educative process. The superintendent of education, Dr. A. H. Mackay, at some length, discussed the problems which the rural schools have to solve. Music was provided by the Seminary Sextet Club, a stringed instrument combination with piano accompaniment. Miss Evelyn Smith, of Acadia Seminary, gave a very pleasing vocal solo. Miss Prescott charmed the audience with a delightful piano solo, rhythmic in movement and melodious in quality.

At the close of this meeting the visiting teachers were entertained at a reception by the faculty of Acadia Seminary.

The Thursday morning session began with a reading lesson to grade ten, taught by Miss Lockhart, who skilfully managed her class and won the approval of all present.

Principal R. W. Ford then taught a lesson in geometry to grade ten of the Wolfville high school. It was a fine exhibition of skilful teaching and drew many commendations.

Principal Ford delivered an address which was a short talk upon the subject, covering many questions put by the teachers. The institute was closed by an impressive talk in nature study by Professor L. A. DeWolfe, of the Normal College, who took upon himself in his usual happy and effective manner.

The Late Mrs. Jessie Coldwell.

AN APPRECIATION. There passed a ray less than a fortnight ago, at the age of 60 years, who was born and practically spent the whole of her life in this town of Wolfville, whose distinguished her education, married and brought up a family, and occupied a prominent position in the social and religious life of the community. The late Mrs. Coldwell was in many respects a remarkable woman and at more than the average intellectual power. She was very widely read and took a deep interest in many subjects outside the range of ordinary reading. Her speciality was also interested in Psychology, which has of late occupied the attention of some of the greatest intellects in Europe and America, known as Abnormal Psychology. To this fascinating, if elusive subject she had devoted a good deal of critical study, and at the time of her death she had acquired a knowledge of it which would enable her to discuss the same to her own satisfaction and the satisfaction of the students of the subject.
