Charles F. Crandall, son of Rev. Noble Crandall, of this town, has resigned the editorship of the Montreal Star to go to Vancouver as managing director of the Vancouver World. Mr. Crandall received his education at 'Acadia College and has had considerable training in news paper work having been editor of the St. John Sun and the Montreal Herald before going to the Star.

Mr. Crandall is recognized by Canadian daily publishers as one of the best news paper executives in the country, and the to bat they also had bad luck and four good wishes of his many newspape wickets fell for only 10 runs. Timothy however batted hard and before he was friends in Canada and abroad will go with with him in his new adventure. As honretired rolled up a score of 28 and tied orary secretary of the Canadian Press the score. The total acore for the visitors Committee, he last year successfully planned and carried out the meetings and Canadian tour of the Imperial Press Conference, and thus entered into intimate relations with newspaper men from Britain and all over the Empire. He has been actively connected with the Canadian Pless, Limited, since its foundation in 1910, and as one of its most valued di rectors has worked unremittingly along the lines of Dominion-wide cooperative news gathering and distributing for which it stands.

Interviewed by the Canadian Press, Mr. Crandall said:

"The World under its new manage nent will be independently progress in policy and as good a newspaper as ade quate capital and the best procurable ability can make it. Vancouver is a great city already, and its people, its climate, its background and its commanding Pacific position ensures it a growing place among the greater cities of the world. I have looked for years to the right op-portunity to get on the band wagon of British Columbia development, and have now found it. I was never so confident of anything as I am of the useful and pros perous future of the Vancouver World in the hands of people who realize it

THE ACADIAN congratulates Mr. Crandall on his new position and extends to him its best wishes for the success of his work in the new field.

Governor Grant, Premier Murray, Chief Justice Harris, Mr. Justice Chisholm. Lieut, Governor Aikins of Manitoba Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works, the Canadian Bar Association and Manitoba Bar and officers of the Nova Scotia Historical Society. They were witnessed by a crowd of spectators composed of men distinguished in every phase of life.

Three tablets were unveiled, the first commemorating the three hundredth anniversary of the granting of the Charter of New Scotland by James First of Eng-land and Sixth of Scotland, the second commemorating the establishment two hundred years ago of the first Court to administer the English Common Law within what is now the Dominion of Can-ada, and the third tablet was in commenoration of the residence at Annapolis of Thomas Chandler Haliburton or "Sam Slick", the famous author and jurist.

The tablets unveiled were reposing on easels of birch bark standing upon the platforms erected for the proceedings. This platform was on the garrison ground close to the sally port within the ramparts Seats were arranged for the audience close by . Behind each easel was a flag pole and attached to each pole the flag which covered the respective tablets. When the moment came for the unveiling each flag was raised to the masthead revealing the tablets and unfurling its colors to the breeze.

Over the first tablet, that commen orating the Scottish Charter, was the of New Scotland, the cross of ing a few weeks in Halifax visiting friends Saint Andrew on a blue field, with the Scottish lion rampant.

Governor Grant then stepped to the back of the stage and by a deft pull on the string the flag rose from the tablet amid the cheering of the audience who had risen to their feet. The Annapolis Band then struck up "Auld Lang Syne and Governors Aikins and Grant led in the singing.

The presen-tation was made on behalf of the legal profession by Sir James Aikins, Lieut. Governor of Manitoba and President of the Canadian Bar Association; Chie Justice Harris of Nova Scotia and Mr. W. J. O'Hearn, K. C., of Halifax, President of the Nova Scotia Bar Society. # The County Nurse

Splendid Work Being Done By Miss Havden

During the past year a work has b arried on in Kings county of which little has been heard but which has been of inestimable value. We refer to the servic which has been rendered by Miss Hayden the county nurse.

It is now nearly a year since Miss Hayden took up her residence in Kent-ville. The scheme was inaugurated by the Provincial Board of Health, and if was the intention, we believe, to ma the undertaking provincial in its oper ation. The proposal is that the expend be borne by the municipality and incom porated towns under the direction of a representative committee appointed by the municiaplity and town councils.

In order that the undertaking might have a fair trial the expense of the work has been borne during the past year by the Provincial Red Cross, with a view to demonstrating its value to the com-munity, so that in future the work might be continued from year to year along the lines at first proposed.

The experience of the past year has most assuredly demonstrated the value of the service rendered as well as the wisdom of the undertaking, and immediat steps should be taken to have the work sured for the future.

Of necesity the work of the County nurse during the past year has largely been one of initiation. It was necessary for her to outline the character of the work to be done and get acquainted with the constituency. Kings county has been most fortunat in securing the services of such a com-petent nurse as Miss Hayden has proved herself to be and every effort should be made to secure her services for the ensuing year.

The work of the county nurse should be better understood in order to be fully appreciated. In brief her duties are to keep an oversight of the public health co ditions particularly among the young. In order to do this the public schools an visited as frequently as possible and a careful study made of the physical a mental conditions of the pupils. Pare and guardians are notified of exist ficiencies or treatment required an aftort is made to provide necessar

Special at tention is given to the care of the teeth and the body generally and the nurse i her contact with the young people of the county especially, gives valuable instruct tion in this most important matter. Some idea of the magnitude of the wor already accomplished by Miss Hayden may be gathered from the following item from the records of Miss Hayden to which THE ACADIAN has had access

SOAP WRAPPER APPEAL

The officers and members of the "Toronto District W. C. T. U." desire to again call attention to the important and nec-essity of our "Travelers' Aid" work, which has been carried on by us for more than 20 years. We began by employing one worker located at the Union Station. Now we have a "Travelers' Aid Sec retary" there as well as two workers, and also one worker at each of the other stations in the city. During the past year they have spent

6,609 hours at the stations, helping 19,-145 persons, many of whom were homeless young girls, who had to be brought to "Willard Hall" for care and protection.)

Our expense in the beginning was comparatively small, but it has gradually in-creased, and last year we paid $2,654.94 sides incidentals

Through all these years the "Surprise soap Company" has given us a small cash percentage for every wrapper collected, thus materially assisting us in securing he amount of money needed.

During recent years, however, our in come from this source has not been nearly equal to the expense incurred. We are therefore earnestly appealing to our friends for increased donations of soap wrappers and where these are not available, money will be most acceptable instead.

During the past year our Travelers Aid have found many opportunities for ervice. Many a tired and perplexed mother with her family of little ones, expressed her gratitude to the T. A. who gave asistance during the hours of waiting be tween trains and put them on the out oing train at the right time.

Then the many aged and infirm one ompelled by stress of circumstances to ravel alone, were also made comfortable and their nervousness overcome, as they were kindly and patiently helped on their urney. Scores of young girls, troubled and per lexed, having wrong addresses or none at all, were carefully looked after, and when unable to be correctly located, were sent to Willard Hall until their friends were found. Sick and injured women coming off the trains were given "First Aid", and when necessary, taken to hospitals, and their friends communicated with. A large number of children without es orts and sometimes without tickets or noney, were placed in charge of reliable ersons travelling in the same direction. Evil-minded, designing persons were in nany cases discovered, and their plans thwarted, and numberless young, innocent girls saved from ruin and misery by the timely intervention of our Travelers' Aid. In order that we may abe able to con tinue this good work, without financial embarassment, will you please send in-creased donations of "Surprise Soap Coupons", or, if these are not available, money instead, to Mrs. M. P. Freeman, Evangeline Cottage, Linden Ave., or P. O. Box 295, Wolfville.

System. High blood pressure, meaning harden-ing of the arteries and heart disease, is a condition which frequently becomes dan-gerous after the age of forty. As is well known, the blood pressure, is regulated by the state of the arteries. Hence it should be our aim to keep our arteries as young as possible. The best means of reducing blood pressure, and preventing hardening, of the arteries lies in taking sufficient out door exercise and in keeping the system well regulated. Constipation must not be per-mitted to exert its harmful effects. AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Among the policy holders of industrial insurance, mortality from automobile accidents in 1920 made a record over all previous years. This year the death rate in April at the beginning of the sporting season for automobiles was 25 per cent. higher than last year.

It is evident from this that the use of automobiles is not properly controlled. If the death rate were stationary it might be argued that it was due to an inevitable percentage of accidents. But where it is continually rising it is due to some defect in the public control and regulation of these machines, which has not yet been discovered and regulated.

The same phenomenon was visible in railways after their introduction. In the race for economy and speed, the safety for human life was neglected. Great Britain has reduced railway accidents to what may fairly be called an irreducible minimum. There was no magic about the process. The law simply made accidents harrowingly expensive to those responsible, and they began to diminish instead of increase.

It may not be a very elated way of looking at things, but it is true nevertheless that if a high monetary valuation is put upon human life it will become extraordinarily immune from accidents due to the contributory negligence of other people. It is human nature. A man will carry eggs more carefully when they are worth a dollar a dozen, than when they are only worth twenty-five cents a dozen

MUST THE SMALL TOWN GO?

(From the Pictou Advocate)

A recent issue of the Farmers' Sun has an editorial leader of half a column entitled "The Small Towns Go Under." The Sun argues that "unless the tendency towards centralization is soon stopped, Toronto will sap the very life-blood of Ontario." It is passing strange that in view of this statement The Farmers' Sun is every week urging by its advertisements that very thing it would lead us to believe it deplores Take for instance the advt. of the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., Limited, soliciting business from all the small towns of the province, and sapping the very life blood of all the small town merchants which is so very necessary to their exist-This centralization of purchasing ence. cannot but react in lessening the value of property in all these small towns and incidentally taking from the farmer the convenience of a ready market at his door for his product. In fact it reacts further because the reduced value of property in an impoverished town cannot help but bring down the selling value of the farms contiguous to the town. Departmental store buying does the same thing. Every dollar sent to a departmental store both by the farmer and the townsman helps to make it more difficult for the town store keeper to carry as complete and varied a stock as he would if assured that the trade in his district would come to him or his neighbor in the town. We are quite often met with the argument by departmental store buyers that "I can buy more cheaply from the catalogue; why should I pay more and buy at home." The reason this impression is prevalent cannot be laid at the door of anyone but the town merchant himself—he dosen't let people know through advertising just what goods he has on his shelve and the great majority of town busines men do not quote prices. Times without number we have heard of an article being bought from the city store at a certain price while the town merchant had on his shelves a superior article at the same and in many cases, a lower price. The trouble was he did not let it be known and if he did, no price was quoted.

American papers announce that whole sale meat has reached the lowest price in ten years. Retailers ought to read the papers and find out these things.

(From Pictou<sup>1</sup> Advocate) Some people are born late and never ontrive to catch up. They always rise

BEING LATE TO CHURCH.

they are not aware of the existence of the is insurance the loss is saddled onto the clock, or it represents a hopeless ideal, which they admire afar off, but which they long since gave up attempting to achieve. If by any chance they sometimes manage to meet the stern necessities of train and other inconvenient fixities, it is usually of the insurance premium you pay. by the considerate assistance of friends

Those people are bet to church as they are to everything else. We expect it and admit it and tolerate it and smile.

But there is a very different class of persons, who are late when it suits their own convenience and not otherwise. Those people are perfectly aware of the nature of promptness and the demands of time. If there is anything to be gained by punctuality, anything to be lost by they arrive with the exactness of the clock But when it is merely a question of others comfort it is another matter. At a directors meeting, or a dinner party or a funeral, these persons of discriminating inpunctuality always appear five or ter or fifteen minutes after the appointed nour, and a dozen or fifty of the more precise are incommoded.

No doubt a good deal of valuable time is saved by the practise. On every public occasion some one is always late, and by being the last arrival you avoid waiting and will gain a few minutes that can be profitably employed elsewhere. All the same, one of the worst objections to un-punctuality is its abominable selfish-You are piling up other's waste minutes into hours to effect a small saving of your own.

The people of deliberate tardiness are always late to church. After everyone else is seated and the service is well begun they walk in with leisurely indifference and seem to think they have honored God sufficiently by coming at all.

Now, you are not obliged to go to church at all. If you do not go, you are the worst sufferer. But if you do go, a proper respect for the minister, for God and for yourself requires that you should be there and decently composed when the service begins.

The service begins. For years I have never considered my stock of household remedies complete un-less a bottle of Minard's Liniment was in-cluded. For burns, bruises, sprains, frost-bites or chillblains it excells, and I know of no better remedy for a severe cold in the head, or that will give more immediate re-lief, than to inhale through the nasal organ. And as to my supply of veterinary rem-edies the sesential, as it has in very many instances proven its value. A recent ex-perience in reclaiming what was supposed to be a lost section of a valuable cow's udder has again demonstrated its great worth, and prompts me to recommend it, in the highest terms to all who have a herd of cows, large or small. I think I am safe in saying among all the patent medicines there is none that covers as large a field of usefulness as does Minard's Liniment. A real trueism.good for man or beast. Chebogue Point.

We understand that a meet ing of the Railway Commissioner is to be held at Kentville on Tuesday, Sept. 6th, at which the matter of better protection of the crossing at Port Williams station will come up. Because of the great amount of traffic over the crossing it is one of the most dangerous on the line and certainly ought to be properly safe guarded. The possibility of another fatality occuring here more than justifies any expenditures that would be necessary to add to the public safety. It is hoped that sufficient pressure may be brought to bear on the Commission to assure the necessary steps being taken.

The publishers of THE ACA-DIAN are receiving very flattering commendations these days concerning the appearance and the general character of the paper. It is our endeavor to make THE ACADIAN as newsy and readable as possible and we are exceedingly glad to know that we are satisfying our patrons in this regard. If you are pleased with THE ACA-DIAN you can aid us best in our work by telling your friends about it and asking them to become themselves readers. If you have any complaint to make tell us about it-we, alone, can make it right, and we want to do so.

While it is true that there has been some improvements made in recent years in the trunk highways of Nova Scotia, it cannot be denied that under the old statute labor laws the residents would never have tolerated such conditions as the province

The pictures have been taken direct from the ringside by a battery of twenty cameras, and the whole event has been thoroughly

The Canadian Baptist says that Prof. E. M. Keirstead, D. D., L. L. Dr. Keirstead invariably rises to the occasion and gives utterance to thoughtful, inspiring ad-dresses. After the completion of his engagement at Gull. That the United States' so-called "emergency" tariff has had an even greater effect upon Canada's farm exports across the border than was anticipated, is evidenced by the foreign trade returns for July, the second full month the new regulations have been in force. The dairying industry is perhaps the chief sufferer, for the exports of butter that month amounted to only 104,310 pounds as against 1,699,158 pounds in July last year, while 195,936 pounds of condensed or preserved milk were shipped to the United States as compared with 24,938,678 pounds in the same period last year. The same decline in the exports of fresh and frozen meats, 966,800 pounds last month and 2,040,300 pounds twelve months ago. The shipments of Canadian cattle' were reduced to two-thirds and practically no wool at all was sent out of Canada; to be exact, only 409 pounds, while in July, 1920, 178,320 pounds were sold to United States buyers.

CHURCHES AND ADVERTISING.

The fact that the Conservative Episcopal Church of the United States, has announced its intention of carrying on an advertising campaign sets the seal on a policy other denominations have adopted with success. Authority for adopting modern forms of advertising is derived from the ancient forms of publicity long up in places. recognized. Such as church bells, steeples and colored windows.

In a Handbook on Church Advertising Francis H. Case points out that the Northern Baptists of the United States Northern Baptists of the United States of America expended more money in display advertisements in the spring of to war. Some of those roads are there now and in good condition. Roads of to the angle and construction space in one year; and as to the results, he quotes the director of this publicity, L. S. Wilkinson, as saying: "If the results L. S. winkinson, as saying: If the results were measured coldly and from the standpoint of money alone, that ap-propriation would rank as one of the wisest a religious body ever made," As to the general importance of Church and the rains have undermined them. The Advertising Mr. Wilkinson is further quoted:

'Only lack of constructive effort on the part of the advertising profession them. The same condition is being seen can delay the day when religion will all over the continent. The Rochester, tell its story from the educational and inspirational standpoint, from month matter: to month and week to week, in the great organs of written salesmanship. A campaign of common-sense sermonizing in the original bonds were even partly paid for. press, on a scale surpassing any industrial For years to come the tax-payers of this display campaign, is certainly within the range of events which the advertising since were worn out. Building more man brings to pass.

'It is the glory of the Church that the argument of efficiency alone will never convert the Church wholeheartedly the highways has become so heavy that to advertising as a major tool. The quest-Macadam roads will not stand up. It is tion which I have had constantly to face in the development of the advertising idea among Baptists is: 'Is it Biblical? Does it follow the basic principles of the New Testiment, or is it some material substitute for the proper way of advancing the Kingdom of Christ?" build a highway with a good broken stone foundation and cap it with concrete right-

"This attitude is a problem the advertising man must face. If industry had to only a few dollars per mile each year to be sold, painstakingly and with infinite skill, is it not natural that the Church, yet fully tried is to invite oneself to pay which feels it has a sacred trust, should for it three or four times and to pay skill, is it not natural that the Church, demand that it be shown in the matter of ultimate spiritual gain?

'That which is most likely to hold back the progress of church advertising is the attitude that religion and religious leaders are out of date and that advertising is the summon bonum which will save the Increased cost make it more necessary that Church. If a man holds to those beliefs, subscriptions be paid promptly. If you he should, in justice to himself, his pro-fession, and the Church, devote his cause we are very busy. the Church has the divine fire within it. It is the highest expression of the idealistic impulse in man, we spirit of aspiration that distinguishes him from the lower orders. Advertising must, to achieve full fellowship, come to the Church not with a boast to improve, but with a sincere and humble desire to be of service.

Advertising owes the Church far more than the church will ever owe advertising, and if you are skeptical enough to doubt that, note for a while how consistently the unselfish ideal set forth in the Sermon on the mount illuminates the higher levels of industrial display copy.

There are two kinds of thieves: Plain thieves, and those who take THE ACADIAN and know that they don't plan to pay for it.
