Letter Which Takes the Legs from Under the Croakers.

Strong Case Made Out Against the Jackals of the Tory Press—How the "World" is a Newspaper Hog —It Feeds Well at the Public Crib,

The following letter, published in Wednesday's Globe, gives the other side of the shield on the so-called "office hog" question, and shows up the Toronto World in its true light. The Star won't copy it this week:

To the Editor of the Globe. SIR,-I perceive in a newspaper issued in your city, under a pretence of advo-cating a more equitable distribution of the fees accruing to certain offices, a series of disgraceful personal attacks upon our Local Government, in the persons of the Hon. Messrs Mowat and Ross. I shall not at present enter upon the primary matter farther than to state that if the convenience of the people were considered many of these inequalities would disappear. In Huron, for example, if the registry fees were divided, with offices placed at Exeter and Brussels, the income would be ample for their incumbents, the cost to the people would be no greater, while the convenience and advantage to the community would be largely increased. But to recur to our subject. The men of Huron take pride in the Hon. A. M. Ross. He served us long as treasurer without a flaw in the record. His finanbrought a couple of young alligators with awarded to Huron, and, proceeding to them—one for C. A. Nairn, and the oththe Government that, according to their own basis of division, we were entitled ders, the present lessee of the Grand Opera House, has decided to give a benefit to his predecessor, Mr C. And, sir, has not Mr Ross' career in vincial Treasurer, has he not filled his Far position to the entire satisfaction of the Liberal party? Take another instance. claims had been overlooked. He brought have been credited to Ontario. was the sneering retort of Mr Meredith

"Don't you wish you may get it?" But it was endorsed by the Government, and pressed upon the Dominion with such force that they yielded the claim, the amount was placed to our credit and this Province draws $140,000 of interest anbusiness capacity and financial ability.

And, after such services as these, because the Government have recognized his business ability, integrity and attention to matters of detail by appointing him to a position where these qualities would be utilised for the general good, they are set upon by this miserable scribbler in the World, who has the audacity to claim that certain sections of the Reform party are in accord with his yiews on the matter. I think, sir, there is not a man worthy of the name of Liberal who will not justify the action of his leaders in this regard.

And this same sheet holds Mr Mowat up to ridicule and obloquy because his son was appointed sheriff of Toronto, which action was taken at the request of the party leaders, of a large number of the leading citizens of the city irrespect-ive of party, and of a resolution passed by the County Council requesting such action to be taken. That resolution was moved by Mr Clendenan, a life-long Conservative, and his words did him infinite credit. He said, although opposed to Mr Mowat politically, he recognised the fact that he had given his time and talents to the services of the country at a nominal remuneration, and that some provision of this kind should be made when opportunity offered. And what have Mr Mowat's services been worth to this Province! Does any sane man believe that, if Mr Meredith had been Premier when our territorial rights and constitutional liberties were assailed, he would have been aught else than clay before the potter in the hands of Sir John Macdonald.

of Sir John Macdonald.

What money value could be put on those territorial rights and privileges preserved to us by the action of Mr Mowat and his colleagues? Is it worth 1,000,000 or 10,000,000? Would the Province sell those rights for 20,000,000 of dollars? No. Mr Meredith is making many thousands of dollars a year at his profession and Dalton McCarthy is estimated to make $40,000 a year. INTELLIGENCE

As a Liberal of the anti-Confederation era, I would say to the Liberal party, have faith in your leaders. Past or present, they are men of whom any party ought to be proud. Not many of them have grown rich. Lend no ear to the abuse they receive from men who, upon inquiry, you will find destitute of political principle with the exception of cheek and impudence. Many of them have given up personal advancement and professional emoluments to serve the country, and we should rejoice when circumstances are such that some partial recompense can occasionally be made. We have a stern fight before us, the cause of the people against the combines and restrictionists who, like Sinbad's old man of the sea, have got hoisted upon our shoulders, and now is not the time to allow our confidence in the leaders of the Liberal party to be shaken. I enclose my card.

THE NORTHWESTERN.

Notes of the Greatest Fair Ever Held in the

The indications for the coming exhibiion in Goderich continue favorable for the largest and best display and the greatest attendance of spectators ever een in this district. Entries are coming in freely, and the demand for prize lists and program bills is very brisk.

At least six herds of Holstein cattle are promised, an exhibit in stock never before seen here. In the finer grades of sheep some especially good stock of recent importations may be expected. The C.P.R. and Manitoba exhibit will be one of the best sent out this season from the Northwest. The Directors will have a full force of nen at work on Tuesday next to put all-the buildings in order.

The Wild West Show is going to be a popular card, and fully up to expectations as a vivid illustration of scenes in the West. The company will come here direct from Wisconsin, where the are filling engagements now.

A first-class band is being engaged for the three days of the Fair, which will also be an improvement on former seascns. In short, with even moderately good weather, the Northwestern Exhibition of 1890 will be worth coming to

"No, dear, and you couldn't have understood him. Two children."
"'All right," I said; but I did not think it was all right. As a near-sighted man learns by enforced observation to recog-nize persons at a distance when the face is not visible to the normal eye, so the man with a bad memory learns, almost unconscicauly, to listen carefully and report accurately. My memory is bad; but I had not time to forget that Brewster Brede had told me that he had three children, at present left in the care of his mother-in-law, while he and Mrs

It took possibly ten or fifteen minutes to sign the notes and papers, and then the couple made ready to go. Then the mother discovered that her first born was miss-ing. Should and Would.

Richard Grant White says : not know in English literature another passage in which the distinctions between shall and will, and would and should is at once so elegantly, so variously, so precisely, and so compactly ilustrated as in the following lines a song in Sir George Etherege's 'She Would if She Could' (1704):

Is the ostentatious charity of the rich man the charity of which God spoke, and which He so dearly loves? Will this so-called charity, the firm of Forrester & Moir, but some years ago he lost heavily in gold mining which wins so much applause from the world, find the same approval from above? It is certainly not a charity which "hides its light under a bushel," and the left hand is certainly well aware of what its fellow is doing, especially when it signs those big checks, the amount of which will figure in tomorrew's papers. And when the charitable rich man sees those four or five figures the deceased was missed. When night came and he did not return Mr. Moir became unwhich the world will so admire, what are his thoughts? Is his heart filled with gladness that he was able to aid in fashion.

The two women were walking off tothe sufferings of humanity, or puffed with pride at the encomiums his charity will win from the world? Let his own heart answer the question. THE GOSSIP OF A WEEK.

TORONTO.—Sept. 1. It seems like vain repetition to say day after day that the great fair for 1900 will be the greatest of all the great fairs of the Industrial Exhibitions association. But it is almost upon us and the boom is going out and swelling to a mightly roar in the streets of the city and abroad is the land. The harvest is good and the farmers and villagers and townspeople from all parts of Ontario will flock to Toronto in the second and third weeks of September. This energetic Canadian agents of the great American railways have flooded the States of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio with Exhibition literature, and a number of mammoth excursions from those States has been organized. So it is predicted fearlessly that the people will be here in hundreds of thousands. And they will see a great show. The number and variety of entries has never before been so great. The staff at the offices is larger this year than ever before and it still fluds itself tinable to overtake the arrears of work. The space in all the buildings has what sour asy.

On Sept. 8th the exhibition will be opened by the Earl of Aberdeen. It is expected that Prince George of Wales and the Governer-General with Lady Stanley of Preston and other members of the vice-regal family will visit Toronto next week to take in the big show.

a villa has been rented, and where they hope to have a quiet rest. Before the winter sets in the Aberdeens will take a flying trip to the Pacific Coast. Rumour has it that Lord Aberdeen is to be our next Governor General. It is somewhat early for such rumours, however as Lord Stanley has only served half his time.

Settle this matter up, and pay for the sheep; 1 shall not be satisfied without. And you must tell me how much."

"Well," said the skeptic, "if you must pay for them, you may give me what the sheep were worth when they got into your field, and pay me six per cent. Interest, and let me alone."

Hollingworth, a convict in the Kingston Penetentiary, who is doing a 5 years sentence for stealing registered letters while a mail clerk, has been fatally stabbed by another convict. It is not expected that he will live. This speaks badly for the management of the Penitentiary. That a convict could carry a large pair of selesors from a workshop to his cell and secrete them until he could make a murderous assault upon another prisoner. is a strange thing. In the same way Neil is a strange thing. In the same way Neil murdered a guard at the Central Prison some years ago. If this could be done in one case without detection, why could not all the convicts so arm themselves and make a general onslaught upon the guards? The man who did the stabbing is said to have been a good and inoffensive the stabbing in his department, but was averaged. worker in his department, but was exasperated to the deed by the insults of the other. It was understood that the prisoners were not allowed to speak to each other, and this case shows that they can not only speak, but that they can quarrel. The methods of the prison are not such, evidently, as go to reform a man, but rather to intensify the bad which

The McKinley tariff bill now passing through the United States Congress, will it seems not work so much havoe to Canadian interests as anticipated. The following shows the principal products sent from Canada to the United States last year: Barly, $6,454,000; Eggs, $2,157,000; Horses, 2,114,000; Sheep, 918,000; Hay, 822,000; Cattle, 488,000; Beans, 405,000; Peas, 313,000; Apples, 230,000; Potatoes, 193,000; Poultry, 111,000; Total $14,-

Under the new tariff bill, which it is expected will become law on the first of October, the duty on barley will be increased from Ioc. to 30c. per bushel; eggs, now admitted free, will be taxed 5c. per dozen; there will be a specific duty of $30 per head on horses and an ad valorem duty in addition of 30 per cent. on all valued at over $150, ad the duty on hay will be increased from Alsoming our export of barley to the United States to be the same this year as last, the increase in the tax would be from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000. But the export will not be so great since the acreage sown this. not be so great since the acreage sown this year was nearly 3,000,000 acres less and the estimated yield has been lessened by over 7,000,000 bushels. If our export of barley to the United States for 1890 bears the same proportion to the whole crop as did that of last year we will only send 3,000,000 bushels there and that can be marketed before the pay duty takes effect. So that the principal new duty takes effect. So that the principal blow aimed at Canadian trade will find nothing to fall upon. The 72 jurors to be summoned to Wood stock for the Burchell trial have already been chosen. Woodstock Court House is a small building, and by the time the witnesses newspaper men, artists, lawyers and County Council, with the friends of the Sheriff et al, get crowded in, there will be no room for out siders to witness the sensational case. It is reported around town that Joseph Bullock, who is confined in jail on a charge of criminally assaulting his sixteen year-oldstep daughter, Jennie Batty, is to be married to his victim.

Inspector Archibáld, Toronto's morality Inspector studied the statutes to find out whether such a marriage would be unlawful, but the law is silent on the point.

Hon. J. W. Longley, the Attorney General of Nova Scotia is in town, the guest of Prof. Goldwin Smith. Erastus Wiman, the annexationist or free trader from New York has also been here for a few days. This star combination invaded Niagara Falls last week to address a monster meeting of Canadian farmers on the advantages of reciprocity, unrestricted and otherwise. According to reports, very few farmers were present, the audience being composed in the main,

When the case came up at the Police Court Hutchinson admitted his offence, and promised to marry 'Martha, as the only reparation in his power. On this mutual understanding further proceedings were dropped, and after a lapse of four months Rev. Dr. Wild tied the knot which made Nathaniel and Martha man and wife last night. Besides bridesmaid and best man, there were few to wish them good luck and prosperity. However, the old saying still stands, "All's well that ends well."

As a coincidence to the wedding in the church, Hutchinson's brother, William H., was best man at a marriage ceremony which took place at his residence, 204 George-street, ciated at this wedding.

Sloux City a Live Western Town—Busine Rushes and Prohibition Prevails. Special correspondence of THE SIGNAL.

I have now been here four months and have seen some of the country, and come to some conclusions as to how it looks to an Ontario man. Sioux City, where I live, is one of the most bustling and wide-awake little cities to be found any-where. It is fully equipped with numer-cus street-car lines, rapid transit rail-ways, &c. Built on a series of bluffs, there is agreat deal of energy displayed in grading the heights and hollows to street grades. There are numerous beef and pork packing and canning establishments, and the visitor will remark that the odors from these places are none of the sweetest: in fact, they smell worse than an oil refinery. The wholesale houses are large and important, and do a very large business West, South and North from here. Eight lines of railway centre here, and there is now being built a splendid Union Station—also large ter-minal storage buildings. On getting inwhich we entered at Dubuque, you will be struck by the numerous and extensive corn cribs built at the different stations, mostly full of corn in the ear; also you will observe the very large droves of cattle and hogs, showing that you have enbeats the world. Odly enough, the price of farming lands is low; I am informed that you can buy excellent land within twenty miles of Sioux City for $15 to$ 20 an acre, which would strike me as being very cheap considering its great fertility, of which there can be no doubt. The price of city lots here, however, more than makes up for the lowness of farming lands. Residence and business property is being sold and bought in this city at the most extravagant prices Many and large buildings are in process of erection, and the city presents a scene of the greatest activity in that line.

THE CORN PALACE FOR 1890 is being built at present, and takes the time and attention of an army of workers. It will present a fine appearance and is a first-class attraction to draw a crowd. The Missouri River separates Iowa from Nebraska. It is navigable here and for one thousand miles above, more or less, but it presents a very poor appearance. The water is very muddy. The river is wide at high water, but at other times, and that is most of the time, there is far more dry sand bar than water to be seen. During high water it cuts into one bank and deposits at the other so as to change its course. At some points it is said to have shifted four miles in a season, at any rate it cuts new channels in the above mentioned sand bars so that it is difficult to tell where there is water deep enough for a boat to float. Trees are continually undermined and washed in, and float down stream until they get aground on a shallow spot, and these form snags which are danger

THERE IS ONE BOAT running between Sioux Cityand Bismarck this season, and that is the first boat on the river for some years. It is one of the most antiquated kind of stern wheelers and a Goderich man would laugh to see it. A recent amendment to the law, by Congress has spoiled the plea, and the original package people have all closed their places of business, to the manifest improvement of the peace and quietness of the city. The pontoon with the necessary gates is being put in readiness to proceed up the canal to repair the gates. It is impossible to tell how long the delay will be; it may be two days and perhaps five. There is nothing bound up in the canal this side of the break at present, but at the other side of the break are the barge Glenora and the steamer Rhoda Emily, with prospects of several more by morning

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

The Domestic Doctor. A little sods water will relieve sich headsche caused by indigestion. Dr Flint is quoted as saving : "I have never known a dyspeptic to recove vigorous health who undertook to live after a strictly regulated diet, and I have never known an instance of a healthy person living according to a strictly diet etic system who did not become a dyspeptic. Camphor in various forms is frequent y recommended for cold in the head, although Dr George Johnson and others long since indicated the dangers attend-ing the use of concentrated alcoholic solutions. The fellowing method of application is suggested in a Swiss pharma-ceutical journal, and certainly has the merit of simplicity: A jug is half filled with boiling water into which a teaspoonful of well-powdered camphor is thrown. A funnel-shaped paper cap is then placed on the top of the jug, and a hole torn in it just fitting the nose. The camphorated steam is inhaled through the nose for ten or fifteen minutes, the inhalation being repeated, if required, every four or five hours. It the patient resolutey persists with the inhalation in spite of its unpleasantness, it is said that three repetitions will always effect a cure, however severe the coryza may te. In severe cases of bowel and stomach trouble it is often difficult to find food that can be retained in the stomach long enough to nourish the patient, or that does not act as an irritant. Now, there is something called mutton custard which one tablespoonful of flour. The suct from all tough membrane. Shred i with the cinnamon and milk, reserving however, a gill of the cold milk. Cook for one hour, and then strain. Return to the double boiler and place on the flour, and stir into the hot mixture. Cook for ten minutes. Give the patient as much of this as he will willingly take, say half a pint every four or five hours. Keep the patient warm and quiet. One other point in the care of the sick. When one is suffering from neuralgia in the head, put him in a warm bed Make a brick very hot and cover it with several thicknesses of flannel. Fold a coarse, thick cloth and place it on the pillow. Lay the brick on and this wet then bathe in alconol or rum, to preven the taking of a cold. Another remedy to make salt very hot by straining over the fire in a frying-pan; then pour it into a bag, which should be securely tied. Have the patient lie down and cover him well. Peace the bag of hot salt on that part of the head or face is much easier than the first, but it will not relieve one so quickly nor so thoroughly.

Give the Baby Water to Drink. It is a mistake to suppose that because milk is a liquid food it is at the same time a drink which is capable of satisfyng the thirst of infants. The Pacific Health Journal asserts that although milk appeases hunger it makes thirst more intense after it has remained some time in the stomach and digestion of it has begun. It is thirst which causes healthy breast nourished infants to ery for long periods of time in many instance es. There are many cases of indigestion due to weakness or insufficiency of the child's gastricjuice which would be great ly benefitted, or even cured, if the child were allowed an occasional drink of English Aid for Australians. London, Sept. 3.—At a meeting of trades union delegates yesterday arrangements were made to raise a fund for the Australian dock laborers now on strike. Mr. Tillett, who presided, said he believed the generous assistance received from Australia during the strike of the London dockmen would now be repaid. The dockmen alone, he thought, would be able to raise from £15,000 to £20,000 for their Australian brethren. Regarding the proposed union of ship owners, Mr. Tillett said the men had no cause for fear. A committee to raise funds or the strike s was appointed. The gas workers and sailors' unions have decided to raise £1000 each for the strikers by means of a levy upon their members, and other trades unions promise to follow their ex-

The Central Strike Investigation NEW YORK, Sept. 3.-The State Board of Mediation and Arbitration to-day resumed its investigation of the New York Central that he had an interview with Lee some time ago, in the course of which Lee alluded to the watering of the company's stock, intimating that someone was making a good deal of money and that he and the other men ought to have some of it.

In reply to a question by Mr. Pryor witness said he did not discharge Lee. Before the talk about stock watering Lee made certain demands on behalf of some of the men and they were refused. Superintendent Voorhees testified that he had nothing to do with the discharge of any of the 78 men. He was out of town for three weeks before the strike. Master Mechanic Buchanan testified that in discharging Lee he did so by order of Vice-President Webb and had no knowledge of the causes for his discharge. Of the 78 men he knew the cause of discharge in two only-Malloy and Conway. Malloy was discharged for obtaining a pass under false pretences. Conway was discharged for neglect of duty; he absented himself without leave and was several times late in the morning and at noon.

SMITH GAVE UP PREACHING-And Now He Is Accused of Bigamy and

NEWBURG, N.Y., Sept. 3.-William J. ith, the young man who was arrested Rochester and lodged in jail at Scranton, Pa., on a charge of embezzlement and bigamy, is a son of William Smith of this city. The family lived at Poughkeepsie, where Smith's father inits investigation of the New York Central herited some money from a relastrike. General Manager Toucey testified tive. William was the elder son of the family and the bulk of all the inheritance was devoted to his education. He had been attending a preparatory school in New York, intending to become a minister. Three years ago he finished his course and about this time he chanced to meet the girl whom he is said to have married first.

About that time the Smith family removed to this city, and William, becoming sick, came home and was nursed back to health by his mother and sister. During the three or four months he was here nothing was heard of the wife. On recovering he left here to meet her, abandoning the idea of the ministry. That was the last heard of him until a short time since parties came here from Scranton to learn something of his history. Last week a letter came from the sec retary of the Y. M. C. A. at Scranton informing his relatives that the young man
