Easter services in the Methodist church were largely attended and of great interest. The choir under the leadership of Mr. Rumford gave two numbers both morning and evening which were greatly enjoyed by all present. In the evening the assistance of about twenty of the scholars of the Sunday School in the hymn "Low in the grave He lay, Jesus My Lord" was greatly appreciated. The reception of new members into the fellowship of the church was a most solemn and impressive feature. Twenty-two persons answered the call and were given the right hand of fellowship and these will be followed by others who were detained by illness. The pastor's sermon topics were in keeping with the day, being "Jesus the Conqueror of Sin, Death and Hell." "Some inferences from the resurrection of Christ." The floral decorations were very fine and the committee heartily thank all who sent flowers for the day.

Have you seen our new Spring Wallpapers at 10 cents per roll! See our window.—P. Dodds & Son.

At the close of rehearsal in the Methodist church on Friday evening, a most interesting ceremony took place when the pastor and several members of the Sunday school and congregation appeared and called the company to order. Hicks superintendent of the Sunday School, presented Mr. Rumford with a valuable club bag as a token of esteem and appreciation of the splendid service he has rendered as choir leader and worker in the Sunday school and church during his four years' residence in Watford. Mrs. Mary Thompson and Rev. Mr. Quinn, on behalf of the choir and congregation, respectively, spoke of Mr. Rumford's willing service. Mr. Rumford, though taken by surprise, made a suitable reply. Dorothy Ellingson, the 17-year-old San Francisco "jazz" girl, whose story of shooting her mother, going to a wild party, has occupied front page position for the past two months, was on Friday pronounced insane and her trial for murder suspended. She will be lodged in the state insane asylum.

Infantile paralysis in New Zealand is so prevalent that all schools have been closed since early in January. Children may travel only by special permit. There have been 127 deaths and over 800 cases. Here is a scourge that continues to baffle medical science.

Henry Ford inaugurated his private aeroplane freight line on Monday when the Ford plane "Maiden Dearborn" carried 1,000 lbs of freight from Detroit to Chicago and return. Each trip was made in two hours and 50 minutes. Flights will be made on alternate days for the present, daily service will follow on the completion of sister planes.

Mr. Thos. Drope, of Marthaville, has a silver grey fox that during the past week gave birth to eight puppies. While they have been known to have as high as nine—our informant being another well-known fox fancier, Sam Lucas, of the London road—still that happens only once in a blue moon. The usual number is six and sometimes seven.

Early Fishing—About a third of the lake shore fishermen have their nets out despite the early date. Norman Ferguson said this morning. The opening of the fishing season is about two weeks earlier than last year, and a normal number of fish, principally pickerel, are being hauled in. The spring fishing season runs to the middle of July. The herring run usually opens in the middle of May.

Mr. Louis Ronson, Cedar Springs, is the possessor of a unique freak of nature. It is a little pig with six legs. The two extra limbs being attached to the right hip in such a manner that they in no way interfere with the animal getting around. It was born April 1st with nine others, and was evidently intended for the April Fool of the litter.

Inspector W. S. Caldwell, of London, acting as a special patrol officer under the Fish and Game Act, had a summons issued against W. Watterworth of Wardsville, for operating a dip net in the River Thames on March 27th without a license. Mr. Watterworth appeared before Police Magistrate Morrison and acknowledged the charge. He was assessed $5 and costs. The act provides that a license is necessary to use a dip net before the first of April in any year.

Premier Ferguson has introduced in the Legislature an amendment to the education laws providing for creation of township school boards instead of the present system of school sections. He announced, however, that the bill was not intended to pass the House. It will be discussed at second reading stage, and its particulars then circulated through the province during the recess, so that public opinion may be obtained. There is a strong feeling in some quarters in favor of the plan.

Wyoming comes—"Mr. J. McLean, one of the village's enterprising merchants installed an egg testing apparatus in his store last week. On Saturday he spent the day in his booth at the rear of the store, raising at eggs, of all varieties. While watching him we saw him cast aside seven from a customer's basket which were decayed. While the new law is somewhat of a nuisance at first, the consumer and producer are beginning to realize slowly that it will be of mutual benefit. The consumer will get what he is paying for and the producer will be more careful in gathering eggs daily, and in raising the best breeds of fowls for the market."

BEER AND GROCERIES

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review) According to Toronto papers some of the grocers in that city will not handle the new beer. It may be taken for granted that this is true of some grocers all over the province. It may be a perplexing problem for some of them. In spite of the assurances given on behalf of the Ontario Government that 4.4 beer is non-intoxicating, the probability is that most prohibitionists will treat it as if it were intoxicating, and will frown upon the business of selling it. Thus the grocer will know that he is likely to give offense to one class of his customers if he handles the stuff while he is likely to lose the trade of others if he does not handle it.

The very fact that there is a protest against the selling by grocers of this 4.4 beer, in spite of the government's claim that it is non-intoxicating, is in itself an interesting illustration of the change in public sentiment in regard to the use of liquor. The time was when it was the rule for grocery stores to sell liquors of all kinds—if they did not sell 4.4 beer it was because it was not known and probably would not have been respected in the old days. Then came the time the grocers were compelled to keep their liquors in a separate part of the store. This was thought by temperance people to be a great step in advance, and when the sale of liquor was banished from the grocery business altogether, many people thought the end of the temperance movement had been reached. The end was not reached, however, and it may be that the end will not be reached for a good many years to come.

"Dr." Charles C. Faiman, Chicago bacteriologist, who says he sold Wm. D. He is now head of some mail order institute able to issue diplomas for bacteriology. Successfully a Minneapolis drug store clerk who experimented with perfumes as a preliminary to being a physician, a "collection expert" who bought a collection agency for $25, an undertaker's assistant and a grocery store buyer, "Chuck" Faiman, of Hopkins, Minn., finished a three years' course in three months, became a physician in west Duluth immediately afterward and two years later was a pathologist nationally known.

The ancient City of Basra, situated near the head waters of the Persian Gulf below the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers and near the site of the garden of Eden, is the great oil shipping port of Mesopotamia.

Here are located the offices of the British Oil Companies. During the world war Basra was used as the base of the British Mesopotamian expeditionary force.

One of the results of the sojourn of the British Army at Basra was the decision to extend and improve the local telephone system. Climatic conditions in Mesopotamia are exceptionally hard on telephone plant but these difficulties have been met and today Basra is enjoying at some of its exchanges that most modern improvement, the automatic or machine-switching telephones.

Who will say that distant Mesopotamia, home of "Sinbad the Sailor," race is lagging behind in business and the reputed "cradle of the human

SUGAR BEET PRODUCTION HERE

The development of the sugar beet industry in the counties of Kent, Lambton and Essex stands out as one of the most successful exploitations of natural resources in Ontario.

Prior to 1902 some farmers in that part of the province were engaged in growing sugar beets for refineries operating in Michigan, but upon realizing the possibilities of the soil of this area for the culture of this commodity and the opportunity for increasing the domestic production of sugar, some enterprising Canadians were successful in securing capital in substantial sums for the erection of a beet sugar refinery at Wallaceburg.

This plant, with a capacity of 1250 tons per day, was placed in operation in 1902. The original undertaking has since expanded and the company has been operating another refinery with a capacity of 1500 tons per day in Chatham since 1916. Today this industry forms a very important feature in both the agricultural and industrial life of Western Ontario. Its importance may be judged from the fact that the area planted to sugar beets has increased from 6927 acres in 1909, to over 31,000 acres in 1924, when a gross revenue was realized of approximately $2,500,000. The production of sugar amounted to about 90,000,000 pounds, at an estimated value of $5,500,000. This is an outstanding illustration of the importance of manufacturing finished products from native resources at home and in that way distributing a fair proportion of the increased value among Canadian citizens, says the natural resources intelligence service of the department of the interior. It furthermore demonstrates the success that has attended the efforts of those who initiated the culture of this product, after a thorough study was made of the suitability of the soil for the production of special products, and the markets of the refined products.

The average tonnage per acre has steadily increased, and reached about 9.5 tons in 1924. The average test of sugar in the beet, during the early days of the industry, ranged from 12 to 15 per cent, but of late years has gradually increased, and an average of 13 to 18 per cent, has been generally obtained, some individual tests showing as high a sugar content as 24.6 per cent.

This gradual improvement is largely attributable to the close co-operation of the company with the beet growers. The agriculturalists of the company visit the beet fields periodically, take beet samples, have sugar tests made, and in addition to arranging the timely distribution of the necessary labor, act in an advisory capacity during the weeding, thinning growing and harvesting seasons.

Blemishes of the Skin

Are Proof the Blood is in a Weak and Watery Condition

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order are the pimples and unsightly eruptions that break out on the face and body. The same condition is indicated by an attack of eczema or scrofula. You cannot get rid of these troubles by the use of purgative medicines, as so many people try to do. Purgatives merely gallop through the system and leave it still weaker. What is needed when the blood is shown to be out of order is a tonic which will restore its missing elements and leave the blood rich and red. For this purpose there is no other tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, every dose of which helps enrich the blood, drives out impurities, and brings a new feeling of health and energy. Mrs. R.E. Bishop, Hawthorne Ave., Hamilton, Ont., tells for the benefit of others what these pills did for her. She says: "I was suffering terribly from scrofula. I doctored with several doctors, but without success. My complexion was sallow, I had no strength, feeling very weak and languid. My neck was full of lumps called scrofula. After trying several so-called blood medicines, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and I got half a dozen boxes. After taking them I found a decided improvement in my appearance, and to my joy the lumps were disappearing from my neck. I persevered in the treatment, and finally the only sign left of the trouble was a scar on my neck where one of the swellings broke. Since that time I have been in robust health and heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any suffering from impure blood."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 3

Mountain-Grown Teas Best

The tea plant grows best in the pure cool atmosphere of a mountain tea garden. The higher the garden, the finer and more delicious the flavour of the tea. This is partly due to the clear sunshine on a high mountain side, partly to the more invigorating air, partly to the more frequent rainfall and perfect drainage. The largest and roughest leaf grown at an elevation of 7000 feet is much superior in flavour to the tiniest tip grown only 2000 feet above sea-level. All teas used in the "SALADA" blends are grown from 4000 feet to 7,500 feet elevation. The trademark "SALADA" is a guarantee of quality.

WEDDINGS

LUCAS—VON ZUBEN. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Von Zuben, Listowel, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, April 11 when their only daughter, Marjorie Myrtle, became the bride of Serle D. Lucas, of Watford. The ceremony was performed at one o'clock by Rev. (Capt.) E. W. Edwards, of the Methodist church, before an altar of ferns, roses, Easter lilies and tall white tapers. Above it hung a large white bell containing rose petals which were released in a shower at the close of the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of broadened white crepe with silver trimmings, and bridal veil, in coronet style, was held in place by a band of orange blossoms and pearls. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas, Miss Margaret K. Ewart, R.N., of Petrolia, was the maid of honor, wearing a frock of orchid taffeta and carrying a bouquet of pink roses and orchid sweet peas, while Miss Frances Millyard, R.N., of London, in maize broadened satin, with silver trimmings, was the bridesmaid, and carried a bouquet of red roses and sweet peas. Little Alice Luckham of Sarnia, and Master Tom Showler, of Alvinston, were the flower girl and ring bearer. Miss Barbara McIntyre, R.N., of Stratford, played the wedding march. Miss Ada Troubridge, Port Huron; Miss Violet Durham, Elmira; Miss Mabel Rhein, Toronto; Miss Goldie Lucas, Watford; Miss Edith George and Miss Della Lavery, Listowel, wearing dainty frocks in pastel shades, held the ribbon which formed the bridal path. During the signing of the register Mrs. E. D. Bennett, aunt of the bride, sang "Because" very sweetly. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, which was decorated in pink and white, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lucas then left immediately for a trip to Detroit and Chicago, the bride travelling in a costume of sand crepe with shoes and hat to match, and a green broadcloth wrap trimmed with white fur. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lerne Lucas of London; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lucas, Watford; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Von Zuben, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Chester, Applegate, Mich.; Mrs. Peasley, Watford; Mr. and Mrs. Showler, Alvinston; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luckham, Sarnia; Miss Ruby Lucas, Watford and Harrison Seaman of London. WILLIAMSON—SHEANE. A pretty house wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sheane, Murphy road, Sarnia, on Wednesday, April 8th, when their eldest daughter, Mary, was married to F. R. Williamson of Detroit. The bride was charming in a gown of ivory tulle with tulle veil knotted with orange blossoms, sweetpeas and ferns. She was given in marriage by her father, Mendelsson's wedding hamson, cousin of the bridegroom. Williamson, cousin of the bridegroom. Rev. J. J. Patterson, D.D., of St. Andrews church, Sarnia, officiated. After the signing of the register a wedding dinner was served in the diningroom, where attractive decorations of pink and white were carried out. Later Mr. and Mrs. Williamson left for points in Michigan, the bride going away in an ensemble suit of navy and sand, with sand hat and squirrel choker, the gift of the groom. On their return they will reside at 414 Dickerson avenue, Detroit. Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Allen Robertson of Kincaid; Mrs. Jean Johnston, Bluevale; Mrs. and Mrs. J.
