The Revs. R. A. Penny, and A. W. L. Smith were unable to attend.

After the usual opening service Canon Morris read a critical and devotional paper on the concluding chapters of St. John's Gospel. A very hearty vote of thanks was presented to him for the long series of valuable papers, extending over a period of ten years, which he has contributed for the edification of his brethren.

His services were also enlisted for a new series on St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians. Other papers were read as follows: "Christian Science" by the Rev. J. Reeks, "Some Mosses from an old Parish" by Canon Morris, and "Boydom" by the Rev. E. Underwood. These were all interesting and provoked much conversation and discussion.

A special resolution was forwarded to the Rev. R. A. Penny, rector of Cranville, regretting his approaching removal from the Deanery and expressing the regard and esteem of his fellow-workers.

The usual routine business was transacted and arrangements made in connection with the Kings College campaign and the forthcoming meeting of Synod.

On Tuesday morning the Deanery service took place when the Rural Dean celebrated the Communion and preached a sermon ad clerum.

The visiting clergy were hospitably entertained at the Rectory and by various parishioners, and thoroughly enjoyed their short stay in Middleton.

J. Murphy, Age 76, Says He Knows From Experience Tanlac Is Good For Old Folks Too

"You can tell them that Tanlac is the right medicine for old folks, too, for I have tried it and it has done me more good than everything else I ever took combined," said John Murphy, of 46 Charlotte St., Halifax, N. S. Mr. Murphy is now seventy-six years of age and a life-long resident of Halifax. He is employed as night watchman by the Halifax Tram Co.

"For a long time I have been troubled with indigestion and took a great deal of medicines. Everything I ate disagreed with me. Food felt like a lump in the pit of my stomach and caused me to bloat all up with gas and I felt sick at my stomach nearly all the time. I had no appetite and the more nourishing foods, like beans, fat meats and things cooked in grease, I could not eat at all.

ANNUAL MEETING BOARD OF TRADE

The Old Officers Re-Elected--New Council Appointed--The Secretary's Report

The adjourned annual meeting of the Bridgetown Board of Trade was held on the 29th inst. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved, the old officers were re-elected as follows:

E. A. Hicks, President A. B. MacKenzie, Vice President W. H. Maxwell, Secy.-Treas. A committee was asked to retire and select a council which on motion was elected: W. A. Warren, W. E. Gesner, F. M. Graves, A. C. Charlton, O. S. Dunham, G. O. Thies, J. S. Moors, Ronald White-way, Dr. M. E. Armstrong, F. E. Bath, R. J. Messenger, C. B. Longmire.

The following is a copy of the secretary's annual report: Mr. President, Councilors and members:

I herewith submit to you my report for the year 1920. The annual meeting of the Board was held in the rooms on the evening of March 17th, President E. A. Hicks presiding. The councilors all present, and a good showing of members. Numerous matters were taken up during the year as is shown by the minutes. While some of our efforts were fruitless, some resulted.

NEW STRENGTH FOR VICTIMS OF ANAEMIA

Loss of Strength Follows When the Blood Becomes Thin

Anaemia is the medical term for thin, watery blood. The sufferer loses strength, becomes short of breath and complains of palpitation of the heart after the slightest exertion, such as walking up stairs. The lightest task becomes a burden. There is a loss of ambition. The victim loses weight and as the disease progresses the appetite is affected, color fades from cheeks and lips and fainting spells may occur.

Anaemia is not a disease that corrects itself, and if unchecked it progresses steadily. But it can be combated by good food, fresh air and a proper tonic for the blood. As the blood becomes rich and red under this treatment, the symptoms disappear as in the case of Miss Eveyeen Joyce, Westville, N. S. whose mother says: "Almost from infancy my daughter was very delicate, and was often under the doctor's care. As her father had died of consumption my friends feared she would fall a victim to the dread disease. As the years went by and she was merging into womanhood I began to fear that I would lose her. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I could soon see a change for the better. For the next three years, at intervals, she took the pills, always with the best of results. Now at the age of sixteen she is a fine healthy girl, and I never tire of telling those who see the wonderful change in her condition that she owes it to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Miss Joyce herself says: "It gives me pleasure to confirm the statements made by my mother. Since using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have gained in weight, and from a sickly girl, suffering from headaches, dizziness and a languid feeling, I am now as well as other girls of my age, and I owe it all to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50 cents a box or six boxes of $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BUILDERS OF NOVA SCOTIA

Mr. Fred Johnson, of Bridgetown, One of the Most Successful Fruit Growers

The Halifax Herald, which is writing up many of the builders of Nova Scotia, says: One of the most successful fruit growers in Nova Scotia is Fred H. Johnson of Bridgetown. When he purchased his farm in 1899, the orchard contained 300 apple trees. The trees had been badly neglected, being left in sod, had seldom been pruned and had never been sprayed. They were covered with a thick growth of moss and had a starved and stunted appearance. The annual crop was about 100 barrels of inferior apples.

Neighbors warned Mr. Johnson not to buy the place. "It has never produced any crop worth while and it never will," they declared. But they reckoned without the Johnson genius for reclaiming fruit trees. As a matter of fact in the very next year, Mr. Johnson harvested 300 barrels of clean fruit and of good size. His orchard now contains 1000 trees, which yield an average crop of 2000 barrels of first-class marketable apples. He has taken twenty-one successful crops from that orchard in twenty-one years and is today considered one of the efficient apple growers of Canada.

Mr. Johnson was born at Wolfville, on October 23rd, 1866. He has been growing apples for thirty years. His early training was along fruit and agricultural lines and horticulture is the one work of which he is especially fond. This is an outstanding instance of the right man in the right place. "By all odds," says Mr. Johnson, "Nova Scotia" is one of the best countries on the North American Continent today. I have found that it pays a man to remain in his own province and dig into the work that he is best suited for. It stands to reason that his chances of success will naturally be better where he understands conditions. Every effort should be put forward to keep our native young men in Nova Scotia.

"They are the ones who are most likely to make a success and help to build up the country. In the past we have been losing our young men to the United States. To fill these vacant places we are bringing in immigrants from other countries. These newcomers are not acquainted with conditions here and to that extent their chances of success are correspondingly reduced."

LAWRENCETOWN

Mr. Henry Sanford, the movie picture man of Lawrencetown, recently purchased the store owned by the late N. H. Phinney and used by him as the head quarters of his music business. Mr. Sanf is making extensive alterations and improvements in this building. The room on the first floor will be, when completed, the best and most commodious Ice Cream Parlor in western Nova Scotia. The second floor has been made into one of the most modern and up-to-date Movie Picture Theatres in the Valley. Mr. Sanf opened his Movie Theatre on Saturday evening, April 2nd. The seating capacity of the Theatre is 300 and every seat was filled. Mr. Sanf deserves the support and patronage of the Town for his energy and enterprise.

The Lawrencetown Baptist Sunday School held its annual Easter Concert in the Baptist Church on Sunday evening last. A large and appreciative audience filled the large auditorium to overflowing. Chairs were brought in and set along the aisles. Even then a great many had to stand. The children and choir were trained for this concert under the able direction of Mrs. R. J. Shaffner and the great success and perfect rendering reflects credit on her ability. Appreciative reference is also made to the able assistance rendered by Cecil Selfridge and his mother of Aylesford and of Parker Monroe, of Nictaux. The following is the Programme:

Chorus by School and Choir. Anthem by School. Anthem by Choir. Exercise, Mrs. Balcom's class. Anthem. Solo, Cecil Selfridge. Recitation, Mabel Stoddart. Exercise, Mrs. Balcom's class. Song, Miss Jean Palfrey's class. Exercise, Mrs. Stoddart's class. Solo, Cecil Selfridge. School song. Exercise and Song, Mrs. Hanley's class. Anthem. Benediction, Rev. Mr. Currie.

HOW WOMEN AVOID SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Some Are Extremely Necessary, Others May Not Be

Every Woman Should Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 624 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Vermont woman adds her testimony to the long line of those fortunate women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after it had been decided an operation was necessary:

Burlington, Vt.—"I suffered with female trouble, and had a number of doctors who said that I would never be any better until I had an operation. I was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor and could not do a thing. My sister-in-law induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it certainly has helped me wonderfully. I keep house and do my work and have a small child. I have recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to a number of my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. H. R. SHARON, Apple Tree Point Farm, Burlington, Vt.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreads more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful. It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only recourse, but most of the common ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. In fact, many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations had been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Is Canada to Bar The Door?

Labor leaders and the Labor Press want immigration stopped. Lobbyists have been busy at Ottawa for some time picturing before members the fearful results in unemployment that would likely follow if Canada does not bar the door to immigration. The unemployment situation is not a new problem. Winnipeg and Canada have been dealing with it annually for the past twenty years. Any excess in unemployment at the present time is due to the fact that the public stopped buying goods made there by too high a cost of production, in which labor figures largely. There is abundance of work in Canada and there will be plenty for everybody to do—immigrants and all—for years to come. The present difficulty is that capital will not grant the present high cost of production. Therefore it is not the scarcity of work that is causing the trouble but the scarcity of capital.

The propaganda that Labor leaders have been spreading in the Labor Press is of an entirely selfish and class distinction. The phantasm of immigration question considered by them, is how will immigration affect Labor supply, or to be more concrete, how will it affect wages? Labor leaders speak of possible immigration aggregates that will likely flood Canada, but they never eliminate the 30 to 40 per cent. of women, school children, and under included in immigration totals, that do not enter the labor market. Statistics show that of every twenty male immigrants over 21 years of age, the average is about three skilled laborers, ten unskilled workers, and the other seven of professions and miscellaneous occupations. What would Canada have done in pre-war years without immigration? Where will Canada be if the resolution now before the Ottawa House "that all immigration be suspended until a normal condition of affairs is established" is considered. There is a general impression that the only immigrants Canada needs, are those going directly on the farms. That is true, but will the immigrant coming to Canada go directly to the farm? Mr. W. S. Bennett, member of the United States Immigration Commission, who worked two and a half years investigating the question of immigration abroad, challenges any statement that the cities are the wrong place for the immigrant, so far as the immigrant is concerned.

Mr. Bennett goes on to say that the Immigration Commission found the fact to be that 98 per cent. of the immigrants in a general way, and sometimes very specifically, know what employment they are going into before they leave their homes, their wives and their dependents. The reason why the immigrant goes to the cities, Mr. Bennett explains, is that he has a chance to earn a little ready money and that there are also opportunities for him, if he is of a foreign tongue, to talk to men of his own people, who speak his language, which is most essential during the time that he is learning the English language and the local situation. If the opportunities on the farm are greater than those offered in the city, the immigrant will soon find it out and act accordingly," says Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Bennett asks the question should anyone blame the newly arrived immigrant for going to the place where he finds compatriots, a place of worship, and helpful surroundings for him to get the right start in a new land? He cannot speak English, he has an opportunity in the first few months to gain a wider knowledge of Canadian conditions from people of his own birth who are always to be found in the cities and towns. If when the immigrant first lands he is not trained or even equipped to go out on the prairies to settle down and get a living from the soil, what is the use of sending him out there to become a disgruntled and dissatisfied citizen? Immigration is a problem of great consequence to the people of Canada to-day. Immigration has a great influence on industry and on the prosperity which is the basis of revenue for the government. The public generally shouts seriously protest against any governmental action which would prevent the entry of desirable immigration into Canada. A constructive policy of selective immigration is needed and it is up to Canada to establish a constructive policy based on a careful examination of conditions here and abroad to the end that it may safeguard our interests and promote the general welfare, regardless of any one class.

Canada needs new people, needs them badly, on the farms and in all lines of industrial activity where it is now almost impossible to get men to do the great amount of necessary rough labor to keep industry moving. Certainly, there are people who should not be permitted to come into the country, because in the very nature of things their admittance means conflict and radical social disturbance in our midst. Canada already has its share of this class. Canada is not the congested country that Labor leaders would have people think. Canada covers an area of 3,608,910 square miles. Now at us deduct one-third, or say 1,200,000 square miles of what might be classed at present, as undesirable or unproductive areas. This leaves a basis of approximately two and a half million square miles. Canada could absorb the entire population of the British Isles (England, Scotland and Ireland) and then have 350 less people to the square mile than now exists in the Old Land. Placing our present population at 10,000,000, that means an average of 4 people per square mile in Canada. If this two-thirds of Canada were as densely populated as France, we would have a population of approximately 42,500,000 people and yet France is not densely populated country. It has substantially a thrifty, farming population; it has forests and large unoccupied areas. If this two-thirds of Canada were as thickly settled as the United Kingdom, we would have a population of over 65,000,000 people. Talking Canada's greatest immigration year (1913) as a basis for computation, it would take over 250 years for this country to become as thickly settled as even the United States—not counting the natural increase.

We don't have to go abroad for comparisons. Let us take the province of Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. If the four Western provinces were as thickly settled as these two Eastern provinces, we would have a population West of the Great Lakes of over 27,000,000 people and to settle this many people it would take about 125 years with as great an influx as we had to the West during the banner years of 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914. If we take into account the natural increase. Here is the situation in so far as Western Canada is concerned. Speaking in round numbers these two Eastern provinces, we have to every square mile, Saskatchewan, two to the square mile, Alberta less than two, and British Columbia practically only one to the square mile. Giving every possible allowance for waste land and reducing our square mileage down to productive areas, the very suggestion that immigration should be curtailed in any restrictive capacity at all, permits of no basis for argument.

The population per square mile for Great Britain and Ireland is 374. The population of France taken by the census of 1913, gave 40,412,220 or a population of 193 persons to the square mile. In 1912 the population of Belgium was 7,510,418 and the population per square mile was 658 persons. The population of the German Empire in Europe in 1911, was 60,100,000, or a population of 312 to the square mile.

In face of the above, is there any wonder why the people of Great Britain, of France, and of Belgium, should not be turning their eyes to a country such as Canada where the possibilities for the future are so great? There are many reasons why as a part of the Great British Empire, we should close our gates to the people of Great Britain especially, or to the people of France, Belgium or the United States, from whence so many desirable citizens have come to us. In the interests of the country, we should have a constructive and not a restrictive policy of immigration.—Employers' Association of Manitoba.

Canada's Timber Crops—A Great Possession

It is commonly agreed that Canada holds the largest and finest areas of spruce timber of any country in the world. At the same time the total forest resources of the Dominion are less than one-third of the forest resources held by the United States, and Siberia outranks all other countries in the vastness of its timber supplies. As regards the forests of Canada, there has come about a remarkable transformation in the public point of view during the past fifteen years. In the days when timber industries were only moderately important and when the lack of accurate information concerning the forest resources fixed upon the public mind a fictitious view as to the supposed "inexhaustibility" of the storehouse of timber, it was not surprising that conservation policies should have been mostly of sentimental rather than practical value. Investigation has demonstrated that the forest area is very much more extensive than was first thought to be the case. It was also learned that, contrary to common belief, forests once burned down or devastated by the axe did not usually reconstitute themselves except at incredibly long periods. On the basis of this new information, the man-on-the-street was not slow to recognize that unless the rate of forest destruction were abated by public laws and vigorous administration and an awakened sense of public responsibility, Canada would sacrifice a great industrial magnet and would put beyond reach the essential wood materials without which the most ordinary business of the country cannot be undertaken.

Noradays, with the enormous increase in the manufacture and use of print paper for newspaper purposes and the adaptation of wood to a thousand of the every-day necessities of mankind, the timber-covered county has come to be looked upon, not as a barrier to agricultural development, but as an incredibly rich asset, capable of attracting industrial capital and providing employment for new population and contributing directly to the prosperity of the country in which it is situated. An excellent example of how a forest area, which yesterday was a wilderness, can become in a few months the scene of a highly prosperous industrial town, is supplied by the history of Iroquois Falls in Northern Ontario. Only a few years ago the townsite was occupied by a few settlers and travellers. To-day, by the establishment of a pulp and paper industry, 2,500 men are given regular employment and the wage distribution each year is over $2,750,000.

The term, "forest conservation" is frequently misinterpreted to indicate that the conservationist would place a Chinese wall about the standing timber and slow down the wheels of all wood-using industries. This, however, is the antithesis of the aim of the true conservationist. The desire is not to prevent the utilization of timber trees but to encourage such a system of forest fire protection accompanied by such scientific methods of timber cutting as should maintain the forest areas as a productive source for all time to come. In the past, the areas cut over were in many cases turned into permanent barrens. Increasing value of timber and the present enormous costs of establishing a pulp and paper mill have rendered necessary in the eyes of all progressive forest owners a changed method of operating so as to keep each area growing successive timber crops at regular intervals. The forest must be "anchored" as securely as the mill dam. Of the total area of Canada, about eighty per cent. is designated as a permanent forest-growing estate and for that reason quite useless for agricultural development. This means, of course, that over one-and-a-half million square miles can return no useful services unless it is made to grow timber. The weakness in Canada's national position as a forest-growing country at the present time is not the scarcity of natural forest land but the low average production of timber per acre characteristic of the areas east of the Rocky Mountains. In the radically-changed economic conditions which have automatically placed a high market value upon every square mile that produces timber, the annual damage to the forest resources through the single cause of fire, takes on a more and more sinister aspect. Forest engineers are agreed that while the axe has cleared possibly one hundred thousand square miles of the Dominion, the Fire Fiend has stripped fully one million square miles. That the forests have not sprung up successfully in the wake of this devastation is indicated by the fact that nearly two-thirds of the original forest re-

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. SCANDINAVIANS IN CANADA

Nearly all authorities on Canadian immigration concur in the opinion that the very best immigrants that have come to Canada from foreign countries are those from Iceland, Sweden, Norway, and Denmark, and it is a very gratifying feature of the tide finding its way to our shores that it still contains a substantial proportion of these peoples, while a handsome contribution of this same fine stock is annually donated by the United States.

Physically of a sturdy, handsome type the Scandinavian peoples are found, almost without exception, to be cleanly, industrious, and progressive in every respect, making the most desirable class of citizens and being numbered among the most successful and prosperous farmers the Dominion possesses. Education is widespread in their native countries, and they come to Canada imbued with the same high ideals of learning and culture. There is no language problem with them as they are eager to master English and to develop all the requisites of complete and successful citizenship. They employ the new tongue with-out embarrassment and learn rapidly.

The Scandinavian races are the most readily assimilable of Canadian immigrants mixing freely and readily with the Anglo-Saxons, intermarrying, and avoiding the handicap which colony settlement gives to the progress of foreign people. They are deeply religious, adherents of the Lutheran faith for the most part, and churches spring up wherever settlement takes place with social life centering there. A highly sociable people they have their own social and political organizations wherever settlement warrants this, and their own papers are circulated throughout Western Canada. From their first days in Canada they take deep interest in Dominion politics, turning readily to matters of government. Several have attained the honors of the provincial legislatures while men of the Scandinavian race are to be found occupying public offices of every nature in the West. They are sincere and earnest students, and their achievements in learning are remarkable when their

(2) After a Lutheran Church service at Claresholm Alberta. Several Rhodes scholars from Manitoba have been Scandinavians. The first settlers came to Canada from Iceland in the year 1872, but the real movement began in 1874 when some five hundred left their native shores for the new continent. More than fifteen hundred new settlers came in 1876, settling in Manitoba and North Dakota. Since 1880 they have come to Canada in a more or less uninterrupted stream from their northern homes, whilst the Dominion has received a substantial number of those who first settled in various parts of the Western United States. At the time of the 1911 census there were 49,194 Canadian citizens who had been born in Norway and Sweden; 7,109 in Iceland; and 4,367 in Denmark. From 1906 to 1916 there were admitted to Canada 6,546 citizens of Denmark; 4,591 from Iceland; 20,618 from Norway; and 28,337 from Sweden. Of the Scandinavians in Canada 97.82 per cent are to be found in the four Western provinces.

In Manitoba the greater number of these people centre about the city of Winnipeg and few are to be found elsewhere in the province. Large settlements are prospering at Langenburg and Stockholm, at Buchanan and Wadena in Saskatchewan, whilst there are also many in the Deck Mountains and at Fort Polley, Alberta has by far the largest share of these people and they are to be found all along the Calgary-Edmonton line in some of the most fertile and prosperous farming communities. In British Columbia where extensive settlement has taken place the same pleasing progress is exhibited. A most gratifying feature of Scandinavian settlement in Canada is that it is almost wholly agricultural, and in the West they will be found in the richest and most progressive districts. Whilst retaining their national individuality, their customs, language and religion they are most truly British in sentiment and intensely patriotic as their fine contribution to Canada's army evidenced. With an inherent realization of their own worth they stand upright, without embarrassment, upon their own feet and are absorbed as Canadians without losing their fine individual qualities. Clean-blooded, thrifty, ambitious and hard-working they are of the best of Europe's contribution to a pioneer nation.

Herrings and Whales

At Sydney Inlet, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Interior Copper Co. are working some mines. They say that the future wealth of Vancouver Island lies in copper, there is so much of it about. There is also placer gold in most of the rivers, and gold and silver quartz veins in the mountains. There is coal and iron limonite and quantities of magnetite on Barclay Sound, Quatsino and up at Quinsam Lake. The Nootka Packing Co. have a plant up Nootka Sound where they can 2,000 cases a day in the season, of salmon, herring and pickleds, for which latter they have more codders than they can fill. Their record catch was 25 tons of pickled in one night!

Here is the Nootka tribe of Indians, where they have a wonderful and well-kept burial ground. Passing Nootka Sound by way of Esperanza Inlet and so up to Narrows Cut Creek where there is a big Whaling Station, and this you may know by the hideous smell that greets your nose as you draw near. They kill the whales about thirty or forty miles out, blow them up with air and tow them back to the Station. Every particle of the great fish is put to some useful purpose, whale-bone, fertilizer, whale-oil and some 2,000 cans of whale-meat a day. Each whale brings in a revenue of $2,000 and a sperm-whale $5,000.

At Kyuquot Village in the Sound there is a spruce logging camp. Coming out of this into the open sea again, the coast-boat heads due north for Cape Cook off which is Solander Island where the sea-lions bark and flop down off its sloping side into the sea with a great fuss and show of fright when the occasional boats pass by. Still north up into Quatsino Sound, another fishing centre and quite a large settlement of two hundred whites.

A mariner's maze is Quatsino Sound, branching after twenty miles or so inland into yet three other arms, two of them stretching at least another twenty miles or so in opposite directions.

The Coast Copper Co. have a mine thirty miles inland from June Landing. The interior country here is scarcely yet explored, much less exploited and many a fortune may lie unknown for years to come covered and hidden by generations and centuries of forest growth.

At Port Alice the Whalem Pulp and Paper Mills have a sawmill for airplane spruce. From Coal Harbor on the West Arm of the Sound there is a trail through to Hardy Bay on the east coast of the Island where one may sometimes catch the mainland coast-boats, but this trail is so bad that the settlers prefer to use the west coast boats.

Further north than this no boat goes. There are not enough settlers to make it worth while, though fishermen bring tales of sheltered coves with dream-land beaches where the spent breakers of the Pacific froth and fume their life away waiting vainly for the laughter of the children that never come. And prospectors bring tales of thousands of acres of untouched timber and mountains unknown, un-named, jealously guarding the secrets of their treasure-trove.—H. G. W.

Development of the West

The proceedings of the Grand Trunk Arbitration Board, now sitting in Montreal in connection with the valuation and acquisition of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways by the Canadian Government, were examined by Col. J. S. Dennis, of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Called as a witness to the history of the Canadian West, Col. Dennis—who perhaps has a wider personal knowledge of its growth and development than any other man

Described graphically, the changes that have taken place in that great Western territory from the time when a young man, in 1872, he first went West in the employ of the Department of the Interior until the present day—its early settlement and struggles, the method of land survey, first transportation lines, its agricultural beginnings, commercial extensions, mineral resources, etc.—showing by tabulated statements the value of a settler to the Department and the prospect of the Alberta oil fields.

Before cross examination by the Government counsel, and after a brief description of the proposed work of the Western Canada Colonization Company, the witness was asked to give his opinion of the future of the development of Western Canada.

"Very briefly, then," said Col. Dennis, "my opinion with regard to the development of the Western Prairie Provinces is conditioned on one fact only. We have, as I have shown, at the present time, thirty-two million acres of land being cultivated and made productive. We have adjacent to the railway lines that serve that present productive area, an area equally large that is absolutely unproductive. If in the near future we can make this two or three million acres of land that lie within fifteen miles of existing railway, productive of settlement, it is a fair estimate that it will more than double the productivity of the country, because, if the thirty-two million acres that we now have under cultivation produce the traffic we have at present, the colonization of the additional thirty-three million acres will produce a great deal more than a similar amount."

"Now," he continued, "whether we can colonize it or not depends upon the government. If the government—in view of the present railway situation, — are going to impose restrictions with regard to colonization, of course that means a lengthened time within which development can be carried out. Assuming, as is suggested, that we have the door open to the character of colonization which brought about the settlement of the thirty-two million acres and the development of that country from what it was forty-nine years ago to what it is to-day, which resulted wholly and solely from the settlement of the country — there was not anything else which brought about this development — my opinion is that a very rapid development can be produced within the next few years, and the future of the Grand Trunk Pacific absolutely depends upon it."

"To sum up I would say that if all interests take hold of the matter intelligently and aggressively and the Government will consider the interests of the National Railways and not bar the door, it is my opinion we should have a very marked movement of people to Western Canada, in fact, will be disappointed if our immigration does not double within the next five years."
