WITH HUNDREDS AT RECEPTION DUES OFFICER FOREWELL

City Hall Turned Into a Bower of Beauty, and Their Excel- lencies Hold Informal and Friendly Court.

The public reception tendered to the Governor-General and the Countess of Minto last evening was attended by a large concourse of people and the city hall presented a brilliant spectacle. The crowd began to gather early and before the doors were opened the line of waiting people extended clear across James-street. The second floor of the hall was quickly filled with an eager gathering, who sat on the points of vantage around the main staircase where they could view the proceedings on the main floor. The Queen's Own and Glendon-Marsicano Orchestra rendered musical programs and the half-hour preceding the arrival of their excellencies was passed in admiring the beautiful display of ferns and flowers made by Park Commissioner Chambers, and the coronation of the slightly elevated platform at the foot of the staircase where their excellencies were to say farewell. Col. Otter was at the head of the corps and with him were Col. Lesard, Lieut.-Col. Pellatt, Lieut.-Col. James Mason, Lieut.-Col. DeLamare, Lieut.-Col. Peters, Lieut.-Col. Williams, Lieut.-Col. Davidson, Major Hall, Major Wadsworth, Major Wylie Grier, Major A. H. Macdonell, Major F. Macdonald, Major Percy Mason, Major Nelles, Capt. Elmestey, Capt. J. O. Thora, Capt. Butcher, Capt. Shanly, Capt. Montgomery, Capt. Benjamin, Capt. George and Lieut. H. T. Hughes.

Artillery Duels Indulged in, But Neither Side Seems to Make Much Progress

Mukden, Nov. 11.—The positions of the armies on both sides remain little changed, but the fighting continues with a vigor which is not surprising in view of the object of securing important positions leading to the Russian right bank of the river. The Japanese have constructed a line of many places double and even triple and quadruple lines of trenches, wire entanglements, mines and pits. The Japanese are in a position to attack at any time, and they have already done so on several occasions. The Japanese have also constructed a line of trenches in front of the Russian positions. HYPOCRISY NOT CONVICTIONS.

The frantic efforts of the Ross government to divert public attention from its record is reflected in The Globe's loud call for control of public franchises and the junior organ's demand that the government shall take up advanced lines on the question of municipal ownership. Both these advisers of the government in Queen's Park are moving along right lines. The strange part of it is the suddenness with which they have come to see that municipal ownership is strong in the public estimation, and that the control of public franchises and the rectification of vicious contracts between municipalities and franchise-holding corporations are principles which the public will no longer allow its representatives to neglect.

The more The Globe's conversion to the sanctity of municipal rights is examined, the more it appears that it is the growth of the dilemma in which the Ross government now finds itself. We have had many battles for municipal rights in Ontario during the past two or three years. We have had the aggressive campaign which the franchise-holding corporations have since conducted against the municipalities. The Globe was not found opposing the Commes Act, nor since the evils of the Commes legislation have become so glaringly apparent has the organ said one single word in favor of its repeal.

The Globe is quite anxious that means shall be taken to revise a contract entered into between the Township of Scarborough and an electric railway company, but it has not a word to say for the repeal of the act under which franchise-holding corporations are enabled to ride rough-shod over the rights of the people they serve. The Globe is a righteous body in detail, but it has had no change of heart on the question of principle. Whatever may be said against the contract entered into between the Township of Scarborough and the Scarborough Electric Railway, this is only one of the many cases where the power of the franchise-holding corporations has fastened itself on a municipality to the latter's injury. We had the case of the Kingston Street Railway holding up the people of Kingston. We had the Hamilton Street Railway repudiating the terms of its contract and defying the city to get legal aid in the matter. We had the case of the Toronto Electric Railway repudiating the terms of its contract and defying the city to get legal aid in the matter. We had the case of the Toronto Electric Railway repudiating the terms of its contract and defying the city to get legal aid in the matter.

The action of the Scarborough Township Council in granting a perpetual franchise to a street railway company shows the need of legislative or constitutional safeguards against such unwarranted assumption of authority. The people of today have no right to bargain away the rights of their grandchildren, and it follows that the grandchildren are under no moral obligation to respect the agreement. They are not consulted on a matter in which sensible human beings are willing to subscribe. . . . The people whose rights have been stolen from them are justified in claiming their own, just as they would be in the case of any other property wrongfully taken. . . . Some day the love of right will be sufficiently strong to demand the rectifying of wrongs against that large class of individuals who will be reassured and the income which have been legislated away will be thrown off. At the present time we need legislative safeguards against the tendency to ignore the rights of coming generations. The more these rights are respected the less drastic will be the restorations and compensations of the future."—Globe editorial, Friday, Nov. 4.

The foregoing is what The Globe said on Nov. 4 last. How it compares with The Globe's utterances of a little over two months ago when it attempted to justify the Hamilton Street Railway is left to the public to judge. Here is an editorial extract from The Globe of Sept. 10:

"The whole business (the Hamilton Street Railway trouble) is, in fact, a mere's and the amount of humbug and crude sense derogating in which The World indulges in promoting public ownership does the cause harm rather than good. That cause cannot be advanced by preaching or hinting at the repeal of contracts. The solemnity of contracts is one of the cornerstones of civilized society, and the interpretation and enforcement of them is one of the chief duties of the law courts. This is the A, B, C of the social relations of human beings, but The World is not disposed to admit that it is, otherwise we should not have the double-barrelled farragoes of fake and humbug in its columns. The City of Hamilton and its street railway company have a contract. If there is any doubt about its meaning, the courts will interpret it and see, moreover, that the interpretation is enforced."

Two months ago The Globe was prepared to occur in any injustice which a franchise-holding corporation might inflict on the people. It was not then considering the interests of the people. Its whole concern was over the sanctity of contracts, which, in the words of its editorial, is one of the cornerstones of civilized society, and the interpretation and enforcement of them is one of the chief duties of the law courts. Yet this contract which The Globe was defending with every argument it could command was entered into in precisely the same way that the Township of Scarborough conferred a franchise on the Scarborough Electric Railway. In one case the contract was for thirty years and in the other it was a perpetual franchise. The difference in the two evils is merely one of degree. In the light of what has happened in the City of Hamilton, and what is happening there today, it is obvious that the Hamilton Street Railway contract was an ill-conceived compact as between the municipality and a street railway. So inadequate is the agreement that the company is able to take the position that if the city forces the company to live up to the clause in its agreement which requires vestitures on the cars, the company will forthwith retaliate by cutting down its service to three cars for the whole city.

Does The Globe think that a contract under which a street railway is able to thus tyrannize a municipality and to so shamefully repudiate its obligations to the city is as solemn as it declares. Its whole concern is over the sanctity of contracts, which, in the words of its editorial, is one of the cornerstones of civilized society, and the interpretation and enforcement of them is one of the chief duties of the law courts. Yet this contract which The Globe was defending with every argument it could command was entered into in precisely the same way that the Township of Scarborough conferred a franchise on the Scarborough Electric Railway. In one case the contract was for thirty years and in the other it was a perpetual franchise. The difference in the two evils is merely one of degree. In the light of what has happened in the City of Hamilton, and what is happening there today, it is obvious that the Hamilton Street Railway contract was an ill-conceived compact as between the municipality and a street railway. So inadequate is the agreement that the company is able to take the position that if the city forces the company to live up to the clause in its agreement which requires vestitures on the cars, the company will forthwith retaliate by cutting down its service to three cars for the whole city.

The Globe is torn with a righteous endeavor to rectify the franchise which has been laid on the Township of Scarborough; but it fought with all its fury against the rectifying of the wrongs against the large concourse of individuals who will be reassured and the income which have been legislated away will be thrown off. At the present time we need legislative safeguards against the tendency to ignore the rights of coming generations. The more these rights are respected the less drastic will be the restorations and compensations of the future."—Globe editorial, Friday, Nov. 4.

Such is The Globe's record in its attitude towards municipalities fighting for their lives with franchise-holding corporations, and such are the variations in the enunciation of public policy as between the corporations and the people that the organ's eleven-hour professions of regard for municipal rights must be accepted as the inspiration of political expediency rather than sincere conviction. The time for The Globe to have revealed itself as the strong champion of municipal rights was when those rights were being assailed by the enactment of the Commes law, by the arbitrary action of the Kingston Street Railway and by the tyrannical methods of the street railway of Hamilton. In all these fights, which The World was obliged to witness, it was the Globe that stood strong to demand the rectifying of wrongs against that large concourse of individuals we call the community in the City of Ontario. Even at this late hour The Globe has a chance to people of Hamilton. Even at this late hour The Globe has a chance to people of Hamilton. Even at this late hour The Globe has a chance to people of Hamilton.

What The Globe will do is to preach these principles of municipal rights until the Ross government is either tired through its difficulties or swamped in defeat. Then it will return to its principles of two months ago, when it assured The World "that the cause of municipal rights cannot be advanced by preaching or hinting at the repeal of contracts, the solemnity of contracts is one of the cornerstones of civilized society, and the interpretation and enforcement of them one of the first duties of the law courts."

STATUS OF LACROSSE PLAYERS.

O.H.A. Vice-President Says C.C.A. Seniors Cannot Qualify in Hockey.

Vice-President Francis Nelson of the Ontario Hockey Association was asked yesterday: "What is the position of senior lacrosse players in regard to hockey this winter?"

"The same that it has always been," he said. "If you refer to the Ontario Hockey Association, it is for amateurs, whether they are lacrosse players or not. If they are not amateurs they cannot play in the C.C.A. any you depend on that. That association not only uses rules, but is able and willing to enforce them. I don't know of any senior lacrosse players who qualify under O.H.A. rules. They don't even qualify under C.C.A. rules, but that is a fact understood in that association that, so far as the seniors are concerned, the amateur definition does not apply. No such laxity, however, exists in the governing body of the winter game, and senior lacrosse players would not be eligible. Nor would they be eligible to the convention. You wouldn't expect professionals to be just the right person to formulate legislation for an amateur body."

Lacrosse Club Notes.

The second game of the polo tournament at the Toronto Club will be played tonight at the club house. MUNICIPAL POWER INQUIRY WHAT IT MEANS TO PUBLIC Ontario Has Never Yet Enjoyed Its Own In Respect to the Great Power Sources.

"Electrical power as a driving and lighting medium is one of the great instruments of modern trade and commerce. It is a most important factor in the industrial and commercial development of the country. The benefits accruing from an abundant supply, distributed according to the needs of consumers, at a price within any reasonable degree of the cost of production are incalculable and far-reaching," said W. P. Ellis, chairman of the Municipal Power Commission, to The World yesterday.

"Every dollar that the manufacturer saves in his cost of production enables him to make a still larger abatement in the selling price of his product and gives him so much extra leverage for the invasion of export markets and the building up of that great fabric of foreign trade which in the past has been described as the source of Britain's wealth. Every dollar that the manufacturer saves in his cost of production enables him to make a still larger abatement in the price of his domestic product and thereby increases the wealth of the home market, the consumers, upon whose prosperity and accumulating wealth depends the power of a country to finance its own development and the giant undertakings that such development involves in the case of a young country like Canada.

Ellis, "are not accomplished at the cost of the manufacturer; they represent the necessary consequence of a decreased cost of production under the normal operation of competitive laws. Neither of course are they accomplished by any wave of the magician's wand. Time is required to reveal the full effect and reap the harvest involved. The harvest however is none the less real.

By Gradual Development.

"In laying down a great railway system, such as the Canadian Pacific Railway, from ocean to ocean, there must be, first, the conception of the project, the survey of the route, following which comes the building of the lines and equipment with all the chemical construction involved, finally, the operation of the system, and, as an ultimate consequence, the linking of previously inaccessible wealth to the ports and markets of the World's commerce. Then, and not till then, does the foreseen fruits of the great project gathered. By similarly gradual stages is the production of the nation's wealth increased by an intelligent utilization of the gifts of nature and the scientific application of every means of increased efficiency.

"The manufacturer shares in the advantage of the increasing export and weather home markets amply compensate him in their larger demands for his far-reaching products. The public of the savings effected by the various discoveries and improvements for diminishing costs. The direct benefits conferred upon manufacturers as a class, by economical development of this kind, are not monopolized by them, but are conferred also with a liberal hand upon society generally. Municipal corporations, therefore, participate to the extent of their reduced power and lighting bills, the consequence of which is a diminution of taxation. Private householders participate similarly in reduced lighting accounts, with, in consequence, increased savings.

A Great Factor.

"The individual saving should be small and insignificant, and even that it should be apparently insignificant and unproductive in a savings bank account, it swells the great fund that performs a most important function in the development of the country. At 21st December, 1902, the small savings deposited in postoffice and government savings banks, in savings banks, in the loan and savings societies amounted, after making allowance for sums held in the chartered banks under deposit receipts, probably to the sum of $250,000,000. By means of this enormous fund the commercial and industrial development of the country is assisted and the financial necessities of government in part supplied. The indirect result of this is a great accession to the national wealth, and therefore, a great impetus will be given to the trade and prosperity of the country.

There'll Be Obstruction.

"The work will not be carried to completion without criticism. It stands to reason that the electrical companies already in the field will not welcome the advent of a competitor whose single object is that of the most economical development and transmission of power for the public good. The public and the future may be trusted, however, to grasp at the proper time the advantages to be obtained by the municipal development indicated. Manufacturers will not pay from $100 down to $25 per horse power per annum for the water power consumed. They get an opportunity of acquiring the same service at, say, $15 per horse power per annum, or even less.

"Municipal and individual lighting bills at present rates will cease to be palatable when the opportunity presents itself of acquiring an equal service at a price involving reductions proportionate to the above. The public spirit of the municipalities, the whose efforts the authorizing legislation was secured, is commendable in the highest degree, and I can safely say that the work of the commissioners, who are charged with the duty of investigating the problem and advising the best mode of development will be watched with great public interest. The result of their investigation is awaited with equal interest, and most important of all, with the confidence which is expected as a consequence thereof."

WOMEN AND HOME MISSIONS.
Baptist Society Convenes Convention—Discusses Canadian Affairs.

A busy day's work, Thursday concluded the annual convention of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society. It was held in the mission hall and most encouraging reports were received from the officers in charge of the home section of the society's work.

The Northwest was the subject of an address by Rev. D. B. Harkness at the morning session. There were in the past year 624 conventions and 327 baptisms. The church membership in 1904, 11 new churches have been organized. The membership 30 years ago was 1.

In the afternoon the following were elected to the mission board, to retire in 1905, Lady Boyd, Mrs. Dryden and Mrs. Alexander of Toronto; Mrs. Popplewell, Hamilton; Mrs. W. J. Jones, Brantford; Mrs. John Hunt, Port Hope; to retire in 1907, Mrs. Hurd, Toronto; to retire in 1908, Mrs. W. J. Jones, Toronto; to retire in 1909, Mrs. Moore, Toronto.

A resolution of appreciation was sent to the W.C.T.U. convention, held in season at Toronto, and out of sympathy to the relatives of the late Mrs. John Harris of Brantford.

An address was delivered by Mrs. Peir, wife of the pioneer missionary in the Toronto district and there were two Hills women and several other speakers. The Institute had 175 pupils, French, Protestant and Catholic. Among the Indians and Chinese there had been 21 conversions.

Miss Little, the corresponding secretary, reported a cash balance of $2,002. The sum of $500 had been spent on the Galician work in the Northwest and the first Galician Protestant church in the world had been established. Over 1000 of the society had spent $2100 on the work in Quebec.

Miss C. J. Holman gave an interesting talk on "Self-Abnegation."

Dr. Perry addressed the evening meeting, taking as his text: "The Harvest Truly is Out there, but the Laborers are Few." The steps in mission interest, he said, were: first, prayer; second, prayer; third, personal seeing. Sheep without shepherds were to be found all over the world and they needed help and sympathy. This created in personal sending.

PERSONATOR GOT MONEY LETTER.

Edgar Horton, who lives on Elm Grove-avenue is a student at Dr. Smith's veterinary college. So is J. E. Duff, whose home is in Cookstown. Duff receives remittances from his father.

A few days ago the postman left word at the college that there was a registered letter in the postoffice for Duff. When Duff went for his letter he was surprised to learn that some one had impersonated him and received the letter.

He told his troubles to Inspector Stark, who instructed Detective Cuddy to find the money on the thief. The result is that Young Horton is looked up on the charge of being the man who got the first thing.

I FEEL LIKE A YOUNG MAN AGAIN,
Writes Capt. James Moo of the Steamer Eva Stewart, Parrisboro, N.S.

Dear Sir, I am perfectly satisfied with the Belt and feel like a young man again. I would not take a thousand dollars for it if I was sure I could not get another. I think I can make some sales for this winter. I hope you will call on me personally. Yours respectfully, CAPT. JAS. MOORE, of the schooner Eva Stewart, Parrisboro, N.S.

It cures a claiming a great deal, but I've got a good remedy, and there are thousands who say and write that I've made good every claim; that they are now big, husky and frisky specimens of vigorous manhood, and they haven't an ache or a pain in their bodies since using my

NEWFOUNDLAND AGREEMENT.
(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)
Canada, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The objections to the Newfoundland agreement in the House of Commons to-day. Premier Borden said the government deserved commendation for safe-guarding the interests of the French fishermen. The situation was becoming more and more difficult, and it was wise to effect an arrangement to secure peace. The agreement preserved to France the right of fishing for cod and lobster on the treaty shore. France gave bounties to fishing boats, thus giving an advantage over Newfoundland rivals. The fishermen could get the necessary bait if the owners of the fishing boats were willing to send supplies by steamer.

THE WAY TO DEAL WITH THE BELL MONOPOLY.

Mayor Urquhart is mistaken in his theory that the city's way out of its difficulties with the Bell Telephone Company is an appeal to the Dominion government. The only solution of the situation is a municipal telephone system, and preparation for the early installation of a people's service is the duty of the hour.

Every other recourse open to the city has been tried and has proved a failure. We have appealed to the Dominion parliament, and we have appealed to the courts. In each case the city has met with defeat.

It is time now for the city to look neither to Ottawa nor to the courts for protection, but to itself. A municipal telephone system should be terminated the city's submission to the will of the Bell Telephone Company.

In no other way can relief from the domination of the Bell be obtained. The Bell Telephone Company has steadily pursued a policy of aggression against the city and its latest achievement in securing judicial authority to plant its poles and tear up pavements at its own sweet will is something more than the city will stand.

The Bell monopoly is not only a practical possession on the streets, but a municipal system will soon teach the company that it bought its supremacy at a dear price.

The duty which confronts Mayor Urquhart and the city council is clear. Mayor Urquhart must establish a platform of municipal ownership, and the hour has now come for the practical application of the principle to the telephone situation in Toronto.

Upon this and no other issue should the coming municipal election be conducted. The Bell Telephone Company has thrown down the gauntlet to the City of Toronto. Let Toronto respond by proceeding to provide for a municipal telephone system, a policy which will at once assert the city's control over its streets and give the people a cheap and efficient system of telephones.

A CORRECTION. The Halifax Chronicle, quoting from World editorial comment on the result of the Dominion elections, credits us with this explanation of opinion.

"The Star's explanation of the result of the Dominion elections is not only something to do with the majority rolled up against the Conservatives. They had better get a new organ."

These words never appeared in the columns of The World. The Chronicle, by mistake, no doubt, has included some of its own comment in the article attributed to The World and in this journal the justice of a correction.

A PITY PREVALENT. It is not true, therefore, that the election is being held a year before the accustomed time. The assembly was dissolved at the end of the second year of its life allotted to it under the constitution, and the people of Quebec were not so well aware that an election was due."

maintained and enlarged with much eloquence on the greater value of the bonds of sympathy than of material benefit. This declaration was avowedly made for the purpose of refuting the prevalent idea that the opposition party in Britain are, to say the least of it, not greatly enamored of the movement apparent in all parts of the empire towards closer union.

Singularly enough, Mr. Morley, before giving this assurance of the political faith of his party, had strongly advised his Canadian hearers to separate their interests entirely from those of the great British Empire. He said, to be caught in the quarrels and entanglements of the old world. You have the advantage of being able to do so, and you will do well to do so, if you are to be one of the few who are to be benefited by the assurance.

The assurance and the advice are absolutely inconsistent. If Canada is to remain within the empire it cannot remain aloof from the things of the empire. When the empire is at peace, Canada is at peace. When the empire is involved in war, Canada is also involved.

Mr. Morley's advice was eagerly seized upon by the government organs, who saw in it a declaration in favor of their cry of "militarism" in Canada. A cry not unknown in Britain, and with which he is in entire sympathy. His remarks were probably an oblique allusion to the outcry against Lord Dundonald, which, had he only known, was a piece of the most invidious election tactics possible, even in Canada.

Lord Dundonald was not objected to on account of "militarism," but as the name was a bug-bear to a section of the community the cry was greedily raised that it might prejudice their judgment and inflame their sentiment. Had Lord Dundonald acquiesced in Mr. Fisher's deluge while acting minister of militia he would have remained the high obnoxious gentleman whose only ambition was to do his duty and serve Canada to the best of his ability.

There is no party in Canada that favors "militarism." But there are many Canadians who want to see the public services kept free from improper interference. And if Canada is to have an integral part of the British Empire she has duties as well as rights. Part of these duties is to be able to defend herself, and whatever establishment is necessary for that purpose is known as the "Quarantine Investment Plan." By this policy the insured has a positive guarantee of advance on his policy should he die before the close of the dividend period.

For instance, if he should die at the end of the first year, not only does he leave a sum of money to his heirs, but also all the premiums paid after the tenth would be returned. Another feature is that all premiums after the fifth will be loaned, if necessary, and if the policyholder should die between the tenth year and the year of maturity, all the loans for premiums after the tenth would be cancelled.

BARRIE'S MURDER TRIAL. Expected That the Case Will Go to the Jury To-day.

Barrie, Nov. 11.—At the assizes to-day, the case of the murder of Mrs. Saunders was tried. The evidence given to-day showed the birth of the child and its death half an hour later, not only in its head were found marks as if made by a blow from some sharp instrument, but also in the face of the child was buried by its putative father. The testimony of the doctor who performed the autopsy was given to-morrow and it is expected the case will be given to the jury before noon.

DEER IN CIVILIZATION. Seaford, Nov. 11.—On Tuesday morning, as a farmer was coming to town, he saw a deer browsing at the straw stacks on Robert Govett's farm, a mile and a half from town. It was nibbling away quite as leisurely as it was in its native haunts in Muskoka, instead of being in the midst of McKillop's civilization. As soon as the deer reached town, four of the most authentic sportsmen in the district started out. Standing where the deer had been seen they followed to the small patch of woods on the 3rd concession. Here the deer was sighted, but on the speaker in his excitement had left his gun in the rig, another deer and missed, while the other two did not even get a sight of it.

ANOTHER DEPARTMENT STORE?

Rumors have been gathering during the past few weeks to the effect that an agent, working in the interest of a big American department store, has been casting a prospective eye on a site in Toronto.

Just let the leader of the Quebec government change his name to Mr. O'Parent and Mr. Flynn will readily try conclusions with him.

The Bell Telephone Company, having established ownership of Toronto's streets, will at once assume the functions of the police and order citizens to "move on."

Ottawa is trying to buy the street railway. It has not yet developed which of the city expects The Ottawa Free Press to be included in the street railway plan.

It has been judicially affirmed that the Bell Telephone Company owns Toronto's streets, but the company may graciously allow us to shovel the snow off the sidewalks.

Ten thousand trees are soon to fall before the ax in Toronto, as that we can soon say, in the words of the Montreal Star, "the merry music of the stumping machine is again heard in our midst."

A POLICY OF GUARANTEES. The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company issues a most remarkable policy, known as the "Quarantine Investment Plan." By this policy the insured has a positive guarantee of advance on his policy should he die before the close of the dividend period.

Bell Phone Company Boss Owns Streets of Toronto

Judgment of Privy Council Dismisses the Appeal of the City Against the Monopoly.

The privy council has dismissed the appeal of the city against the Bell Telephone Company, in which it was sought to restrain the company from entering upon or tearing up the streets of the city for the purpose of erecting poles or strutting wires. The decision practically gives to the company power to do as it pleases in the city, without being under the necessity of obtaining a license or securing any authority from the city authorities.

The action was tried before Justice Street, who gave a decision favorable to the city. The same Justice Street, however, who gave a decision favorable to the city, was overruled by the privy council. The company's argument was based on the fact that it had secured a franchise from the Dominion government, and that the city's appeal was an attempt to interfere with the franchise.

The city contended that the provincial franchise was at least so far as the local laws were concerned, and that if the Dominion government had intended to give the franchise to the company, it would have done so in a different manner.

Apply to Parliament. Mayor Urquhart reported it to the board. He said that he had written to the privy council, but in equity it was indefensible, and he would refer the matter to the Dominion government.

Point as Final Reply to Be Argued—Confession Was Proper Evidence.

They have been tried on the charge of murdering their seven-month-old child. The verdict returned by the jury after considering the evidence for two hours was: Alexander Martin—Guilty. Ethel Martin—Not guilty.

Chief Justice Falconbridge immediately discharged Mrs. Martin from custody. On behalf of Martin, his counsel, Mr. Hassard, asked for a reserve table to the court of appeal for two reasons: whether the confession of Mrs. Martin should have been introduced, and whether the counsel for the defence should not have been permitted to address the jury after the crown prosecutor.

His lordship said: "I think I shall reserve the case, because there is a judgment of the court in favor of Mr. Hassard's proposition, and the right of reply. Otherwise, on the first ground, I shall feel very little doubt or difficulty as to the result of my judgment in that direction, I shall reserve the case and direct the prisoner to be re-arrested for sentence. The judgment of the court of appeal has been pronounced."

Subsequently his lordship sent for counsel for the defence, Mr. Hassard had left the building, but Mr. Roberts was found. He reviewed the case and was positive he was right in allowing the confession of Mrs. Martin to be introduced, and the defence could not get the higher court on the right to reply only.

The Judge's Charge. The charge of Chief Justice Falconbridge to the jury was thorough, intense and sympathetic. He reviewed the evidence from start to finish, to the minutest detail. He pointed out that the evidence was more circumstantial than direct. He justified the verdict on circumstantial evidence.

"If you conclude that the chief justice, that the child came to its death at the hands of its mother, and that the circumstances which justify the reduction of your verdict from murder to manslaughter are not proved, you must acquit the woman you may come to a different decision. Here you have three courses open before you. You may not acquit or pronounce the death, she cannot be held guilty even though she was acquitted after the trial, and her husband over to justice. If she was in any way a party to the crime, it is guilty of murder. If she was not, she should be acquitted. If she was under the influence of her husband, you may word your verdict accordingly."

A Life is a Life. "I was sorry," said his lordship, "to hear eminent counsel, Mr. Hassard, twice speak of the life of an infant as being hardly of great importance to society. It is hardly so, but such a doctrine is to be utterly repudiated. There is no foundation in law or in morality for such an idea. The child who has just breathed its first breath under the law to have its life protected."

The court-room was filled and there were many spectators. The judge, Mr. Justice Falconbridge, presided. The case was heard in the Court of Appeal.

NEWSOME & GILBERT

FACTION FIGHT IN MONTREAL. Straight Liberal Candidate is Declared to Be Mr. Rainville.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 10.—(Special)—One of the most interesting features of the faction fight now going on in St. Louis and St. Ann's divisions is the announcement that Hon. S. N. Parent, premier of Quebec, will come to Montreal in a few days and deliver speeches in both constituencies in favor of Hon. Mr. Rainville and Hon. Dr. Guerin.

Mr. Rainville, who at present is the question of which candidate is considered the official standard bearer of the pro-Quebec government.

Hon. Senators Dandurand and Cloran at Mr. Langlois' nomination held that the premier telegram to Mr. Rainville was not a manifestation of the premier's preference, but rather a solicited message sent to a supporter.

In reply to Senator Cloran's boasts that even Sir Wilfrid Laurier could not impose Mr. Rainville's candidature upon St. Louis division, Le Soleil, the premier's Quebec organ, says: "Rainville's candidature has had him chosen candidate by a group of friends among whom are the Liberal Parent and Hon. Mr. Rainville."

As a matter of fact Mr. Rainville is the candidate recognized by the Hon. Mr. Parent and his colleagues. The Conservatives took part in large numbers in the election of Rainville the other day, but they were not sufficiently numerous to secure his election.

It seems in walking over Mrs. Kimmis' lawn, she saw a bundle wrapped in the corner of Mrs. Wilson's lawn. This explains how it came to be found there.
