Terrific Attacks Made By Germans

Allies Not Only Withstand Them But Make Gains—Mighty Fleet of Airships Send Rain of Bombs on Huns

Paris, May 26—The French War Office this afternoon reported: "The checks inflicted upon the enemy yesterday in the region of Angers and at a point to the north of the height of Loreite determined the Germans to come back with an attack of extreme violence. There was furious fighting last evening and during last night. We were successful in retaining all our gains. Our troops gave evidence of magnificent courage and showed splendid tenacity of purpose. The Germans in the beginning delivered a counter attack against the works captured by us to the northwest of Angers. Furious attempts to take this position were made by them time and time again. In spite of the exceptionally intense bombardment to which our troops were subjected, we retained possession of all of our new positions. Furthermore, at the end of the day we occupied almost entirely the position near Buzal where we gained a footing in the afternoon. Here we are maintaining ourselves under a violent fire. At the same time we have captured a trench of the enemy in the environs of Souze. An artillery engagement of considerable severity developed yesterday in the region of Soissons. There was another such encounter near Rheims. "From the rest of the front no reports have been received."

GREAT ATTACK OF AIRPLANES

Paris, May 26—A great air raid in which 208 bombs were dropped was made against German military depots on Tuesday by a mighty fleet of French aeroplanes. "Terrific night fighting has taken place in the Angers region (south of Labece) and north of the Loreite heights, where the French not only held firm against the fiercest assaults of the Germans but gained new ground. Official despatches show that attacks and counter attacks in the great battle between Aras and Neuve Chapelle are incessant by day and by night. Of the bombs eighty-two were large bombs of a weight of about twenty-two pounds each, fourteen shells weighing 200 pounds and fifty five weighing ninety-five pounds each. The efficacy of this fire was proved at several points particularly at the German aviation park located at Hervilly, where a hangar and a machine were set on fire at the German reserve aviation camp at Grand Priet, to the northwest of St. Quentin, where a hangar was shattered and at the St. Quentin railway station, where the gasoline supply tanks were destroyed. During the preceding night four shells were thrown from the air on the railroad station at Douai. The outbreak of a fire in the vicinity of the freight depot was reported."

FREDERICTON SOLDIER MAY BE PRISONER

Fredericton, May 26—Robin Crookshank, son of Conductor Andrew Crookshank, fell from a truck at the I. C. R. station last evening and sustained serious injuries. He was unconscious for some hours. Today his condition is favorable. Weldon Burden of this city has a letter from Arthur Hodges at the front with the 14th Battalion stating that his son had been missing for five days. The letter was written May 8. It is feared that young Burden has been taken prisoner. Mr. Burden's other son, Bert, is at the front with the Royal Montreal Regiment. He writes that he was informed that his brother had been wounded at Langemarck. An active recruiting campaign for the 6th will be commenced here this week. Rev. G. M. Campbell of Sackville will address several meetings.

ANOTHER AMERICAN STEAMER HIT

The Nebraskan Torpedoed Off Fastnet but Apparently Has Not Suffered Much Damage

London, May 26—The American steamer Nebraskan from Liverpool, May 24 for Delaware Breakwater is reported to have been torpedoed. A later report says the Nebraskan is proceeding and that no lives have been lost. It is evident that she was not seriously damaged. The Nebraskan, Captain Green, is owned by the American Hawaiian Steamship Company of New York, and is of 2,824 tons net register. On her last eastward trip she left New York on May 7 for Liverpool. The Nebraskan was torpedoed yesterday by a submarine forty miles west southwest of Fastnet, off the south coast of Ireland. The sea was calm at the time. The crew at once took to the boats and stood by the steamer. It was soon ascertained that the Nebraskan was not seriously damaged. She had been struck forward and got the vessel under way. The crew returned on board and got the vessel under way. No lives were lost among the crew. The Nebraskan did not carry any passengers. This information was received today by the British Admiralty in London, and it was at once communicated to the American Embassy. London, May 26—A message to Lloyd from Kinsale, Ireland, says that the Nebraskan passed that point at eleven o'clock, apparently bound for Queenstown. The Nebraskan was down at the bow. She was proceeding under her own steam and flying the signal "I am not under control."

Sir John French Wires Praise of The Canadians

Ottawa, May 26—The prime minister has received the following message from field Marshal Sir John French: "It is fitting that on Empire Day I should once more tell you of the continued gallant achievements of your Canadian soldiers. They remain in the forefront of the fighting, and I feel assured that their heroism and sacrifices, which are contributing so splendidly to the attainment of our immediate ends, will bind together Canada and the British Empire with those indissoluble bonds which are forged on the field of battle. The following reply has been sent: "I thank you for your inspiring message. We are proud that our Canadian soldiers have proved themselves worthy of the great traditions of the British army which, under your leadership, has already achieved such splendid distinction by its valor and heroism during the present war in which the greatness and unity of our empire have been made more manifest than ever before."

The collision occurred a little after 4 a. m. in latitude 40, 12 north; longitude, 69, 42 west. THE SWIMMING LESSONS GIVEN AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Yesterday afternoon the first lesson was given to twelve school boys who have enrolled themselves for the course. The evening class was much larger. Forty-eight boys taking their first lesson. Of these, thirteen were from the Boys' Industrial Home. Fifteen other boys had had their first lesson on account of coming late. All those desiring to take these lessons must be ready for that purpose promptly at beginning of the period set. These classes were taken in the gymnasium first or the crawl stroke; the second consisted of the five positions of swim arms given in the late methods of swimming known as the crawl stroke; also the position of the body and the use of the feet in the scissor kick were shown. This method is said by many expert swimmers to be one of the easy methods of teaching beginners. After a short land drill the boys were taken to the tank and were then able to practice the drill given. Many were able to do quite well for the first lesson. For the information of the parents, officials say that all precaution is taken to have the rooms warm and the water heated to a temperature of 80 degrees and every boy is given personal attention. With the assistance of the instructors several senior leaders are giving their service in helping the boys. All boys taking these few instructions must bring their own towel and soap. The slogan for this campaign is to ask your friend: "Can you Swim?" Physical instructor H. O. Honk was awarded a gold medal in the United States for life saving. He is a graduate of some of the chief swimming instructors in the world.

CLEAN-UP WORK GOING ON WELL

The clean-up campaign was inaugurated today with every prospect of success. Speaking of the progress made this morning, George Blake, chief of the fire department, who is superintending the work, said that the results so far were very satisfactory. Fifteen teams and the big city motor trucks were in use carrying away the refuse, and able assistance was being given by a squad of twelve firemen. The officials of the Board of Health, from the medical officer down, were also busy superintending the work and seeing that it was being accomplished properly. The central part of the city, the chief said, was in good condition, with little dirt or refuse to which exception could be taken, but some of the other districts would need more attention from the authorities before they were properly cleaned up. The work will be continued tomorrow.

Italians Two To Four Miles Over Border In Austrian Territory

Troops Spread Along on Front of 66 Miles—Austrians Destroy Towns to Prevent Use by Attacking Foe

Offensive operations resulting in the occupation of Austrian territory all along the frontier from Lombardy to the Adriatic are mentioned in an official bulletin issued last night by the War Office. Italian troops have seized various towns in the Trentino and forced their way through mountain defiles. On the lower Isarco attacks were continued to gain the line of the river. The Austrians are reported to have retired, destroying bridges behind them. Italian aviators bombed Monfalcone near the Gulf of Trieste. The bulletin caused great enthusiasm. It showed that the Italians were occupying all the mountains between the Idria and Isarco rivers and that advancing, they had taken Cormons, which commands the road leading to Gorizia, an important Austrian frontier station. Passing from the north to the centre of eastern Friuli the report indicated that the Italians also had occupied the village of Veris, which is near the river of the same name and on the road to Gradisca Austria, and that, in addition, in Southern Friuli, Cervignano, another important Austrian frontier station leading to Monfalcone and Trieste had been taken. The Giornale D'Italia says: "The Italian advance occupies a front of 100 kilometres (about 62.3 miles) and has as extreme points Catoretto on the north and the Gulf of Trieste on the south. The first contingents of the Italian army penetrated into Austrian territory ranging from two to four miles." The enemy's medium calibre artillery opened fire on the Bay of Mistrizia, but without results. On the Carnia frontier, on the night of the 24th the Italians took by a bayonet attack the defile of Val Difereno and the extremity of Valdagnon. They have disposed troops on the conquered heights between the Judrio and the Isarno. Medium calibre artillery of the Austrians at Santa Maria and Santa Lucia to the southwest of Tolmino opened fire on the heights between the Judrio and Isarno, but without result. Italian aviators bombed the electric power house and railroad station at Monfalcone.

Large numbers of German troops from Galicia are passing through Austria, bound for the front in the Tyrol. An Austrian army corps from Silesia, with thirty batteries, is also on its way to the region. The Swiss government has decided that there shall be no general mobilization of the Swiss army. Prince of Wales as a Soldier

Guarded Against Capture, But Has No Privileges and Has Been Under Fire Many Times—Service Turning Boy into Man

(Henry N. Hall, in Boston Globe.)
The Prince of Wales, the twenty-year-old future King of England, faced Earl Kitchener in the War Office one day last November, and demanded that he be allowed to go to the front at once.
Three months previously, at the very outbreak of the war, within one week of receiving his commission as a lieutenant in the 1st Grenadier Guards, he had made the same request, but the Secretary of War had refused it on the ground that the prince's military training had only just begun.
For a second time the slender subaltern stood before the great field marshal. He had thrown himself into his work with such enthusiasm and patriotic fervor that now, after only twelve weeks, he was fit and ready for active service. He had been so reported by his commanding officer.

Had he not done so again, outmarched his men and led them back to camp, his youthful spring step contrasting with their heavy, footsore tramp. His request had been granted in France and was on the firing line, but he had been assigned to other duties at home. He was both angry and hurt.
Earl Kitchener listened to what the young man had to say. The British War Lord is stern and unbending, but human. He knew the prince's spirit and talked with him as one soldier with another, not from a personal, but from a national point of view.
It went without saying that the prince was eager to fight and would do his duty just the same as any other officer, taking his chance of being killed or wounded with the rest.

Must Not Be Captured
That was not what was worrying Kitchener. He would mourn if anything happened to the Prince of Wales, but he knew that if the help-apparent did get killed there were plenty of other people to come to the throne of England. What concerned Lord Kitchener was this:
If the Prince of Wales were taken prisoner and held as a hostage by the Germans, very serious embarrassment might be caused to the allies, and their whole visit lasted less than four hours. A fortnight later he made the same trip again, but this time with the personal knowledge of the king and with special permission from Field Marshal French.

He called upon General Gallieni, the military commander of Paris, and spent several hours inspecting the elaborate system of trenches which have been dug around the capital so as to make it doubly secure against any future attack.
On his arrival he went to an old-fashioned hotel in the Rue de Rivoli, facing the Tuileries Gardens, and sent word of his presence to the British Embassy in the Faubourg St. Honoré.
When the Rt. Hon. Sir Francis Bertie, the ambassador, heard about it he once wired over to Buckingham Palace, but the King and Queen evidently decided not to interfere.

So the ambassador called upon the Prince of Wales and took him round to lunch with President Poincaré. His whole visit lasted less than four hours. A fortnight later he made the same trip again, but this time with the personal knowledge of the king and with special permission from Field Marshal French.
He called upon General Gallieni, the military commander of Paris, and spent several hours inspecting the elaborate system of trenches which have been dug around the capital so as to make it doubly secure against any future attack.

On that day till April 10, when the Prince of Wales arrived in London bearing dispatches from the British command-in-chief, he has regularly performed the arduous and dangerous duties of a dispatch rider.
At times Field Marshal French has detailed him to other duties, and when he was at the front the Prince of Wales engaged with other officers in laying out a line of trenches near Neuve Chapelle, where he was constantly exposed to the fire of the heavy German guns.

Just Like the Rest
I had the honor of being presented to the Prince of Wales and talking with him on two occasions, but it was understood that I was not to interview him or in any way quote what he said. But I had the fullest opportunity of studying him and observing the manner and spirit in which he performs his duties.
There is nothing in his uniform to distinguish him from any other staff officer. It is the same plain khaki without any insignia of rank except the single star upon his sleeve.

The same spirit of democracy is shown in all the prince's dealings. He goes into the trenches and talks with the "Tomnies" about their work, interests himself in their daily life, and places them on entirely at ease that they refer to him as "Wales" or "W". He is intensely popular with the rank and file. The same is true of his relations with the other officers of General French's staff. He enjoys no special privileges, unless it be that as dispatch rider he uses his own car instead of a motorcycle.

To Give The Tracks A Permanent Foundation
Policy Decided on in Connection With Street Repair Work

The city commissioners met in open committee at noon today and devoted their time chiefly to the discussion of matters relating to the public works department.
Commissioner Pitts reported that the street car rails at the corners of Princess and Duke streets in Sydney street, where the department is laying a new street surface, need attention. The rails have sunk below the grade and, while he is repairing the street, he wants the tracks given a permanent foundation so that they will not settle again and spoil the new street work. He suggested that a concrete foundation should be placed under the ties by the company and that this policy should be adopted when any new street work is being done. This view was concurred in by the other commissioners.
The mayor suggested that the two commissioners who have recently taken trips to New England cities should embody their observations and recommendations in reports to the council.
When the meeting adjourned the commissioners visited the intersection of Sydney streets which had been under discussion.

BACK TO THE LAND POLICY IS ADVOCATED
Ottawa, Ont., May 25—Municipal representations from all parts of Canada waited upon the government this afternoon and presented a "back to the land" policy by which unemployed agriculturists may be met in Canada.
Of outstanding importance was the recommendation that the government should inaugurate a "back to the land" policy by which unemployed agriculturists will be allotted forty acres of land each, provided with implements, and maintained until self sustaining, when repayment will be made. That all public works projected should be proceeded with at once was another suggestion.

Mrs. Richard Adams died this morning in the hospital after an illness of four weeks. She was in the 46th year of her age and is survived by her husband and eight children. The children are: Mrs. James Adie of New York; Jessie, Jean, Mamie and Ella at home, and two sons Archibald and William at home. A wide circle of friends will hear of her death with regret. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon.

PUBLIC UTILITIES
The New Brunswick Public Utilities Commission met this afternoon in the provincial government rooms, Prince William street, in monthly meeting. Chairman G. D. O'By presented the report of the Commission and B. Connell of Woodstock and Felix Michaud of Burdock, and Secretary F. E. Robinson of Fredericton present. Only routine business was transacted.

TWO BARKS LOST; SEVENTEEN DROWN
Panama, May 26—The British bark Reliance has brought here from Colon news of the wreck of the bark Bertha on a reef forty miles north of Old Providence. The captain and seven members of the Bertha's crew are missing, and are believed to have been drowned in attempting to reach Jamaica in a small boat. The Reliance rescued the mate and the other nine sailors.
The Bertha was on her way from Portland, Oregon, to Falmouth, England, with a cargo of wheat. She passed through the Panama Canal on April 25. The bark was wrecked at Faja Grande, about 14 miles from the mouth of the canal. The bark was on her way from ten days late had considerable to do with the early biding. On the other hand, Liverpool reported the damage reports from this side were offset by the belief that the wrecked outboard Great Britain and her allies. After opening, nine men of her crew perished. Fourteen were saved. The ship was bound for New Caledonia to Glasgow.

THE MAN WHO NEVER SLEPT

Striking Cure by Dr. Cassell's Tablets Recalled.

One-time Victim of Nerve Failure and Sleeplessness, Writes Again: Says he Never Felt Better in His Life.

Confirms His Amazing Cure by DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS

UTTERLY RUN DOWN From Neuralgia and Dyspepsia

A recent letter from Mr. Arthur G. Felton, the man who hardly ever slept, recalls the story of a cure by Dr. Cassell's Tablets, which last year aroused great interest all over Great Britain. Here was no ordinary insomnia, but practically unthinking wakefulness, which was cured with no hope of relief, till, in the end, came Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and then the blessed rest of natural and refreshing sleep.

Now, writing from 6, Chippstead Villas, Chippstead-road, Coulsdon, Surrey, England, Mr. Felton says:—"I am delighted to tell you I feel very fit—never better in my whole life."

The story as originally given was so extraordinary, the cure so remarkable, that we felt justified in publishing it again that sufferers from sleeplessness and nerve failure in Canada may know how great is the curative power of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Here is the story:—"Dr. Cassell's Tablets freed me from the terrible affliction of sleeplessness and nerve failure," said Mr. Felton, "when the best treatment could not give me even temporary relief. In 1906, as a result of an accident, an operation had to be performed, after which I suffered from Neurasthenia, and ultimately entered a sanatorium, where I was treated for Nerve Failure. I was taken into a special institution, only to be turned out after months of suffering as hopelessly incurable. I had claimed compensation for my accident, and even the Insurance Company declared that I should never work again. I could just get about with the greatest difficulty, dragging my right foot along the ground, and my right hand hung helpless. Then came sleeplessness. Do what I would, or take what I would, I hardly ever slept night or day. For five years altogether I never could have slept more than a few minutes at a time for I heard every hour strike every night. Often I wished I could die. Sleeping draughts of opium, and injections of morphine had no effect.

"I was almost hopeless of ever being cured, when I got my first supply of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. They did me good, so I preserved, and the result is that I am now well and strong again, and in regular work."

Each of these cures is a personal story, the accuracy of which is beyond doubt. They are given freely and gratefully with a view of pointing a way to relief to all who suffer. Try Dr. Cassell's Tablets today and know at first hand their remarkable power to renew health and fitness. Take them for Nervous Breakdown, Nerve Failure, Infantile Weakness, Neurasthenia, Sleeplessness, Anæmia, Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia, Stomach Disorder, Wasting, Palpitation, and they are equally valuable for nursing mothers and girls approaching womanhood. All druggists and storekeepers throughout the Dominion sell Dr. Cassell's Tablets at 50 cents. People in outlying districts should keep Dr. Cassell's Tablets by them in case of emergency. A free sample will be sent on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing, by the sole agents for Canada, H. F. Ritchie and Co., Ltd., 10, McCall-street, Toronto.

Free Advice About Your Manly Strength

TO MY READER: Whether or not you lack an abundance of vigor here is a free offer which will surely interest you, and through which you may easily profit from now on to the end of a vigorous, healthy, advanced age. I have compiled a little treatise for self help (book form) which I am pleased to send absolutely free by mail in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope to any man anywhere who writes for it. Over a million copies have already been thus distributed to those who wrote for them from all over the world. There is no obligation whatsoever involved in this offer, nothing which you are required to buy, nothing which you are required to pay for in any way, either now or in the future. It is just simply an out-and-out free proposal. In this little book of 72 pages, 8,000 words and 50 half-tone photo reproductions, I have endeavored to give a straightforward talk to men, young and elderly, single and married, a concise compendium for self-reference, a perfectly plain discourse upon those important, personal matters relating to vital strength of men, the preservation of vitality, its possible self restoration, its physical mechanical vitalizer, which I make and distribute, but whether or not you wish to use one of these vitalizers for yourself to determine. However, aside from anything it contains in reference to my vitalizer, the book should be read by all for its own real worth. Therefore, please use free coupon below.

Reader, the whole world is today alive to the importance of a better general understanding of sex hygiene. The much discussed science of eugenics is teaching the greatness of people that strong, healthy, rugged parents beget equally sturdy children. Manhood, no matter where or in what condition of life we find it, is the single power that most fascinates both men and women. The one who radiates this manly influence, this result of a vigorous, sturdy nerve force, is the one who forges in the "front," while weaker people stand aside.

It is my opinion that any man may hope for a complete restoration of his manhood and vigor if he but make up his mind that he WILL conquer himself.

Let Me Send You This Book FREE

If you live too far to call, or if you cannot call, please fill in the coupon below and send it to me. You will receive free, sealed, by return mail, my 72-page illustrated book, containing 8,000 words, a complete compendium of useful information for men young or elderly, single or married, who want the truth about the subject of vital strength, its preservation, its possible self-restoration and its legitimate uses and wants abuses. You get it all free.

WITH THE 6TH AT AMHERST

Proud of Their Colonel and He is Proud of Them

SUNDAY IN THE CAMP

A 23 Mile March Without Turning a Hair—The Men Glad as Nails—The Cartoonist—They Have a Band

Col. Ryan of the 6th Mounted Rifles, at Amherst a few days ago asked his men if they would be willing to go as an infantry unit if it became necessary. The response was entirely satisfactory.

Col. Ryan is proud of his men. Sitting in his office in the Amherst hotel he told a Times man on Monday that in twenty-two years military experience (and he has seen much active service) he never saw a better lot of men more willing to do all in the line of duty than the 6th.

There is a large surplus of hay, especially in Prince county. Loose hay is being bought at $10 a ton and pressed hay from $12 to $14.

There will be a large increase in the acreage of wheat and oats sown this year, about 80 per cent. in the former, showing that the farmers are responding well to the "patriotism and production" movement.

SPRING MEDICINE

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Great Blood Purifier, is the Best

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devalued blood.

It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of derangement. The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Get your blood in good condition at once—now. Delay may be dangerous. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, and insist on having it, for nothing else can take its place.

ed in bands in St. John are members. The Amherst band, however, is always at the service of the regiment for the parade to church.

They have a cartoonist in the 6th who is a great safety valve. He enables the men to give pictorial expression to any feelings of passing resentment or dissatisfaction. For example, if there is a comrade who gets himself disliked, he may have the pleasure of seeing himself depicted on the wall (on paper) with his head at some distance from his body and other portions of his person scattered about as might be the case if he stayed around to watch a shell burst.

They have the highest respect for the 6th, and speak of him in terms of the kindest regard, but they add that he has an eye like the eye of a hawk. An officer who entered the 6th's office hurriedly one day with the back of his belt where the front ought to be was met by a cold eye and the query: "Are you coming going?"

The Times man had a pleasant greeting from Major McLean, Major Markham, Capt. Sprout, Capt. Emmerston, and other officers. They were all in the ranks. They all look forward eagerly to the mounted drill preparatory to leaving for the front. The general expectation is that the regiment will go to Valcartier within a week or ten days.

Amherst will be sorry to lose the 6th, for officers and men have won golden opinions by their general conduct, both on and off duty.

The New Waltham Military Watch "Design Reg'd"

The regular Waltham Military Watch, as already supplied in great numbers to Canadian soldiers, is a splendid sturdy timekeeper.

We now offer an improvement of which will be noted from the above illustration. The watch has its own armor plate which protects and partially covers the crystal.

This is the most substantial wrist watch made for military men. It has a solid back case with two bezels, rendering it weather proof.

We venture to say that the strength and reliability of these watches will well correspond with the same fighting qualities of the Canadian soldiers who wear them.

German Press Defends Gas As More Humane Than Guns

Berlin Newspapers Exult Over Gains Near Ypres—Cologne Gazette Says President Wilson's Observations "Sound Almost Like a Joke"

Comment of the papers of Germany upon the recent success of the Germans by means of applying gas is interesting. The Frankfurter Zeitung says: "It is quite possible that the bombs and shells made it possible for the enemy to remain in his trenches and artillery positions, and it is even probable that missiles which emit poisonous gases have actually been used by us, since the German leaders have made it plain that, as an answer to the treacherous missiles which have been used by the English and the French for many weeks past, we too shall employ gas bombs or whatever they are called. The German leaders pointed out that considerably more effective materials were to be expected from German chemistry and they were right."

"But, however destructive these bombs and shells may have been, do the English and the French people think that makes a serious difference whether hundreds of guns and howitzers throw hundreds of thousands of shells on a single tiny spot in order to destroy and break to atoms everything living there, and to make the German trenches into a terrible hell as was the case at Neuve Chapelle, or whether we throw a few shells which spread death in the air? These shells are not more deadly than the poison of English explosives, but they take effect over a wider area, produce a rapid end, and spare the torn bodies the tortures and pains of death."

After this new demonstration of the superior humanity of German methods the Frankfurter Zeitung compares the results achieved as follows: "The shells of Neuve Chapelle cost the Germans a trench and a village, but on the edge of the rain the German ring remained firm and strong. How was it at Ypres? The enemy was thrown back on a front of more than five and a half miles. Along this whole front the Germans advanced only a few kilometers from their strongholds."

The leading Prussian military organ, the Kolnische Zeitung, says: "The moral success of our victory to the north of Ypres is quite upon a level with its strategic value. It has again been proved that the British are not at any time in a position to take the offensive, and that, notwithstanding their most violent boasts, they are unable for the English and the French to throw back or to break through our battle line."

The news of the German advance north of Ypres was published in the German press with jubilant headlines, and provided a welcome relief from the laborious discussions of the question "Who was the real victor at Neuve Chapelle?" and from even more laborious discussions, such as that the British recaptured Hill 60 only because they drove German prisoners in front of them.

It is semi-officially announced in the German press that the following four commanders have been promoted to the rank of Major-General: Major-General von Kleinschmidt, in command of the 90th Reserve Infantry Brigade; Major-General von Schimmelmann, in command of the 17th Cavalry Brigade; Major-General von Prütz in command of the 8th Cavalry

Brigade; and Major-General Nordbeck in command of the 44th Infantry Brigade. In a careful article on the military situation in the east the Vorwärts says in effect that the only real service rendered by Turkey for her allies is that she keeps Russian, British and French forces engaged which might otherwise be employed elsewhere.

The Kreuz Zeitung says: "When the French report says that we used a large number of applying gas bombs on our own expense, that this new method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all weeping, and all those terrible paroxysms at once and for all time. This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and then begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it today."

BRITAIN'S NEW GOVERNMENT; THE NAMES OF MEMBERS ANNOUNCED

London, May 25, 9:14 p. m.—Lord Kitchener retains the post of secretary of war in the coalition cabinet, which has received the approval of King George. The new first lord of the admiralty will be Arthur J. Balfour.

Herbert H. Asquith retains the premiership, and Sir Edward Grey the ministry of foreign affairs. David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer in the old cabinet, will be minister of munitions in the new one. The constitution of the new cabinet follows: Prime minister and first lord of the treasury—Mr. Asquith. Minister without portfolio—Lord Lansdowne. Lord high chancellor—Sir Stanley O. Buckmaster. Lord President of the council—Lord Curzon. Lord of the privy seal—Lord Carson of Kedleston. Chancellor of the exchequer—Reginald McKenna. Secretary of state for home affairs—Sir John A. Simon. Secretary of state for foreign affairs—Sir Edward Grey. Secretary of the colonies—A. Bonar Law. Secretary for India—J. Austen Chamberlain. Secretary of state for war—Lord Kitchener. Minister of munitions—David Lloyd George. First lord of the admiralty—Arthur J. Balfour. President of the board of trade—Walter Runciman. President of the local government board—Walter Hume Long. Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster—Winston Spencer Churchill. Chief secretary for Ireland—Augustine Birrell. Secretary for Scotland—Thomas McKinnon Wood. President of the board of agriculture—Lord Selborne. First commissioner of works—Lewis Harcourt. President of the board of education—Arthur Henderson. Attorney-general—Sir Edward Carson.

Redmond Declines. The official announcement on the new cabinet says: "A place in the cabinet was offered to John Redmond, (the Irish Nationalist leader), but he did not see his way to accept it." "The prime minister has decided that a new department shall be created, to be called the ministry of munitions, charged with organizing the supply of munitions of war. Mr. Lloyd George has undertaken the formation and temporary direction of this department, and during his tenure of office as minister of munitions will occupy the office of chancellor of the exchequer."

"It is understood that Mr. Henderson will assist the government in matters relating to labor questions, especially those arising out of the war." "The king has been pleased to confer upon Viscount Haldane of Clun (the retiring lord high chancellor) the Order of Merit." "The cabinet is composed of twelve Liberals, eight Conservatives, one Laborer, Arthur Henderson, and one non-partisan, Earl Kitchener. Thirteen members of the old cabinet remain in office. Of these Mr. Asquith, Sir Edward Grey, Earl Kitchener, Mr. Runciman, Mr. Birrell and Mr. Wood retain their old portfolios." "The Marquis of Lansdowne, whose health forbids hard work, becomes a member of the cabinet without duties, except participating in its councils, and Mr. Churchill's position is virtually the same. His willingness to accept a subordinate position and work for the success of the new government is likely to make him popular with the country and his future political career."

"Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Henderson will be especially charged with the task of rallying the workmen to the government's support, and much is expected of the former chancellor in organizing the country's industries." "Sir Edward Carson represents the Ulster faction of Ireland, and there is regret that Mr. Redmond declined to enter the cabinet. The party issued a statement declaring that the events of last week have created a situation demanding the serious and careful consideration of the Irish people."

The statement says that the great lesson of the events of the past week for the Irish people is the necessity of thorough organization, and appeals to the local leaders to reorganize the United Irish League in every parish where it is inactive.

GERMAN WAR LORDS NOT AGREED ON U. S. NOTE

Berlin, May 26.—It is learned on the best authority that a great conflict is proceeding in Berlin as to how the American note regarding the Lusitania is to be answered. The majority of war lords favor a sharp and decisive reply, and the Tagliche Rundschau speaks not for itself alone when it says: "Germany, which at present is resisting six powers, is not afraid of dealing with the seventh."

IN A WAR HOSPITAL. Alexander Powell, war correspondent, writing to the New York World from a hospital at Bailleul, France, with mostly British wounded, tells among other things: "On one cot was stretched a young Canadian. His face looked as if it had been stepped upon by a giant in spiked shoes. 'Look,' said the surgeon, and he lifted the woolen blanket. That man's body looked like a field which has been gone over with a disc harrow. His feet, his legs, his abdomen, his chest, his face were furrowed with gaping, angry wounds."

"He was shot through the hand," said the surgeon. "He made his way back to the dressing station in the reserve trenches, but just as he reached there a shell exploded at his feet." "I patted him on the shoulder and told him that I, too, knew the land of the great forests and the rolling prairies, and that before long he was going back to it. And though he couldn't speak, he turned that poor, torn face of his and smiled at me. He must have been suffering the tortures of the damned, but he smiled at me. I tell you, he smiled at me!—Exchange."

How Italy Comes into The War

German Diplomats Pleaded and Tempted in Vain After People Demanded Lost Territory Back

The entrance of Italy into the world war which began last August brings the number of states engaged in the conflict up to 11. Italy, allied with Germany and Austria-Hungary since 1882 in the Triple Alliance, was called upon last summer shortly after the assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince at Sarajevo, Bosnia, to support the Germanic empire. She declined, and there began a series of diplomatic negotiations which soon resolved themselves into efforts on the part of Germany and Austria-Hungary to induce Italy to remain neutral.

Prince von Bülow, an astute German statesman, whose wife is an Italian woman, says the Boston Post, was sent to Rome with instructions to do his utmost to save the situation. He labored indefatigably for months, but in vain. He offered Italy certain parts of Austrian territory as the price of her neutrality, but her answer was always: "It is not enough." It now appears that Austria did not really believe that Italy would enter the field against her.

In the meantime there had arisen in Italy a war party led by the "Irrédentists," which made its voice heard in no uncertain terms. Deputies from Rome for months past have indicated that the sentiment for active participation in the war was far stronger than that in favor of continued neutrality. For months the diplomatic exchanges between Vienna and Rome have been constant, but the most persistent efforts of the diplomats to keep Italy out of the war were futile. The Triple Alliance was announced by Italy May 4, but even after this diplomatic endeavor was continued, Austria offering Italy further concessions as late as May 10.

So far as known the Italian fleet is mostly in the Adriatic, under the command of the Duke of Abruzzi, who is known to most Americans through his visits to the United States some 10 years ago. It is generally believed that the fleet will proceed promptly against the naval strength of Austria in these waters. On the Adriatic are the Austrian ports of Trieste and Pola, and Fiume is in Hungary. The Dalmatian coast is also Austria's. The Dardanelles are less than 800 miles from southern Italy, and her participation in the operations against these Turkish positions should be expected.

One great purpose of Italy in entering the war is to gain possession of "undiscovered Italy," a sweep of Austrian territory to the north and east near the head of the Adriatic Sea. This region, which includes Trent and Trieste in Italian in all but nationality, "to obtain it has long been her cherished ambition. The territory in dispute may be defined roughly as the sections of Austria south of a line drawn in the Rhaetian Alps, where Italy, Austria and Switzerland meet, eastward to the Carnic Alps, and thence southward along to the Italian Alps and again eastward so as to include Fiume.

The first part of this territory forms a wedge penetrating Italy between Lombardy and Venetia and cutting Lake Garda, while the second portion includes the peninsula of Istria and runs northward to the Julian Alps, between the Tagliamento and Saverisera. This territory is called "Italia Irredenta" (Undiscovered Italy) because it once formed part of the Italian states of the Middle Ages, and because the majority of the people are of Italian stock. For the same reason the Dalmatian Islands are considered to be part of "Italia Irredenta."

The district of the city of Trent known in Italy as "Trentino," once formed a part of the Roman colony of "Trentini" which in 1027 passed under the rule of a bishop and then, after various changes, came into possession of Austria, together with Lombardy and Venetia.

After the defeat of Austria in 1859 by Piedmont and France, and even after Piedmont had taken over Lombardy and the kingdom of Italy had been founded in 1861, Austria continued to hold Venetia, until her defeat in the Austro-German war of 1866 gave it to Italy. There was left in possession of Austria, however, the wedge of the Trent district, as a menace to Italy. The territory to the eastward which Italy desires is made up principally of Istria. In early days a part of the Republic of Venice, it passed to Austria together with Dalmatia, with the abolition of the republic in 1797. In 1806, Austria was compelled by Napoleon to cede Istria to France, but in 1813, Austria seized it and has held it since that time. Aside from the Dalmatian Islands, the territory sought by Italy includes about 8,000 square miles, with more than 1,000,000 inhabitants.

When the war began Italy's army was considerably below the normal peace footing, estimated at 800,000 men. Almost half of these troops were in Tripoli. Three classes of men were called to the colors immediately and others were summoned from time to time until now the active or first line army numbers more than 1,000,000 men of all arms.

The age limit of active service in Italy is 32. Men between that age and 40 form the Territorial army, consisting of eight classes amounting to about 1,150,000 second line troops. There are also about 1,000,000 men trained, but exempt from military service, who in case of urgent necessity could be called to arms. Volunteer corps likewise could be formed, so that Italy's total war strength including resources of all kinds, is figured at about 4,000,000 men.

In eight months she has spent $400,000,000 in military preparations. Profiting by the lessons of the war to date, particular attention was paid to artillery, and her equipment in this arm, from machine guns to heavy guns are reported to be superior to the now famous German and Austrian type, and in military circles there have been rumors that she has evolved a field piece of about three-inch calibre exceeding in range, accuracy, ease of handling and effectiveness of projectile even the famous French "75."

Italy has a powerful fleet of modern warships. The Duke of Abruzzi, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, who is the chief naval officer of Italy, recently assumed command of the five dreadnoughts, the most powerful squadron ever assembled under the Italian flag. In addition Italy has eight battleships of the pre-dreadnought type, nine armored cruisers, thirteen protected cruisers and the usual complement of destroyers and torpedo boats. She also has twenty submarines.

Italy's population (1911) is given as 33,283,000. Military or naval service is compulsory and universal. QUITE EFFECTIVE Where the Little Man Was as Strong as the Borgia.

Little Smithson was a meek, nervous-looking five feet of humanity. His manner suggested the probability of his heart breaking were he at any time compelled to kill a fly, even though it were in self-defense.

When, therefore, a burglar paid him a visit one night, he was a bit scared. The nocturnal visitor having been captured, Smithson had to give evidence at the trial. The prisoner's counsel, a big, hulky sort of chap, evidently thought he had got an easy job on when the little man entered the witness box.

Having described the events prior to the burglar's capture, Smithson said: "Of course I got him all right, but I had to use considerable force before he gave in."

"Of, indeed," replied the lawyer, with a skeptical smile, as he looked the little man up and down. "And what force was it you used?" evidently scouting the idea that it was of the physical variety.

"O," replied Smithson, with a bland smile, "it was the police force."—Rehebeboth Sunday Herald.

Amazon Explorer Swears By Grape-Nuts

Algo Lange—famous tropic explorer—recently made a perilous exploration of the lower Amazon. The question of food supplies was a big one. Economy of space—food value—keeping qualities—palatability—all had to be considered.

Grape-Nuts

Here is the way he refers to this food here and there through his book, "The Lower Amazon." "I have included in my supplies Grape-Nuts." "At lunch I eat some Grape-Nuts (an American breakfast cereal) with condensed milk." "After this egg (turtle) meal comes for me Grape-Nuts from sealed tins." "I go back to the moloca at noon to eat my lunch of roast turtle, Grape-Nuts and hard-tack."

Everywhere—at home or abroad—wherever big things are accomplished—this famous wheat and barley food is relied upon to build and sustain vigor and energy of body, brain and nerve. Ready to eat—delicious—economical—nourishing.

The Co-operative Tire That Canadian Workmen and Canadian Users Put on Top in 4 Years

This is the famous Fortified Tire—made in the big Goodyear factory at Bowmanville, Ont. Note its balance—note its matchless beauty. It was started four years ago in a modest way. But here is a tire that skillfully fortified users against the major causes of trouble. Some soon found it out and told the many. Hence on March 1st we doubled our capacity. For men bought in numbers last year, more than one Goodyear Made-In-Canada Tire for every car in the Dominion. And thus as users multiplied our output they cut our factory cost per tire.

Prices Reduced So in the face of the February war tax, we announced our third great price reduction. Co-operation brought that saving largely. And now you can buy Goodyear Fortified Tires 37 per cent lower than the prices of two years ago.

Yet in those two years we added costly defenses. They protect you against the worst attacks that a tire must meet. And Goodyears are fortified now in five separate ways—all allied for balanced construction.

Exclusive Features Our No-Rim-Cut feature best combats rim-cutting. Millions of tires have proved that. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Limited, has no connection with any other Canadian Company using the Goodyear name.

SHOWS UP KAISER AS A HYPOCRITE

Has Conspired Against Peace of the World For 25 Years? Tale of One Who Knows

London, May 25.—The German Kaiser, a hypocritical, cunning potentate, who for twenty-five years secretly conspired against the peace of the world, is thus described by a German nobleman, claiming to be one of his most intimate friends, in a volume of memoirs published in London under the title, "The Berlin Court Under William II." In what purports to be an unembellished diary record of moments spent in friendly talk with the Emperor during the days preceding and immediately following the outbreak of hostilities in the present war, statements of the Kaiser are quoted which show him to have been hoping for such an incident as the Sarajevo crime, to have welcomed the break between Serbia and Austria as an opportunity for him to throw off the mask of peace-maker he had grown weary of wearing so that he might emulate and continue the great deeds of his grandfather, William I, strike terror to the heart of the world, and put Germany on a pinnacle of glory and power where none other will be worthy to be mentioned beside it.

Birmingham Released.
Cleveland, O., May 25—Joe Birmingham has resigned as manager of the Cleveland American League baseball team. According to announcement made by President Charles W. Somers, Birmingham's resignation was requested.

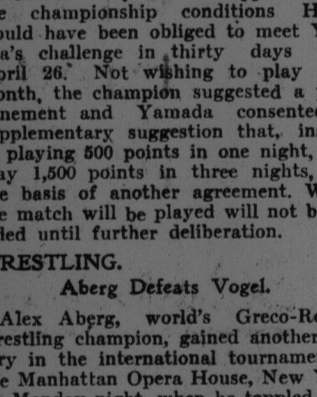

ingham succeeded Harry Davis as manager in 1913. He had played in the Cleveland club as an outfielder since 1899. Poor showing of the team last year and so far this season led to his retirement.
Lee Fohl, coach of the team and former manager of the Waterbury, Conn. team, will have charge of the team temporarily. Heine Wagner of the Boston Red Sox is one of those mentioned for the vacant position, but President Lavin says that Wagner will not leave the Boston club.
Camnitz Unconditionally Released
Pittsburg, May 25—Howard Camnitz, pitcher, was unconditionally released by the Pittsburg Federal League baseball club yesterday. His contract contained a clause which allowed the club to release him on ten days' notice.

McGoorty to Australia
Ed McGoorty, who sailed for Australia the other day, told some truths about the game before leaving.
"The boxing game hasn't the hold on the people that it formerly had," he said. "I can sense it and I think I know the reason. I guess the commercialism that has come into boxing has taken away the spirit of the contest. Fight fans are no longer fooled by the talk about 'knocking off this fellow's block' or words to that effect."
"Neither are the fans deluded by the champions and near champions insisting on having their own referee officiate in the bouts they engage in at the different cities. That also has hurt the game, for they know it is a financial proposition with us fellows in the ring."
"Then, too, there isn't any question that decisionless matches have had a bad effect. Take Freddie Welsh as an example. He has taken part in fifty or more of these worthless bouts in which there has been a mighty small chance of his losing his title. If there is something hinging on the outcome, it would be different. The loss of California as a state where twenty-round bouts could be held was the worst possible blow. It has brought the making of new champions almost to a standstill. Things will have to change if there is to be any future to pugilism."
For three fights in Australia McGoorty is to receive a guarantee of $12,000. Admittedly two months more for his traveling and he will have given close to half a year to the trip.

Sandy Objects.
Sandy Ferguson takes exception to the statement that he is "an ex-prize fighter." He writes that he is still good at the game, that he is no has-been.
Jack (Twin) Sullivan To Meet Bell.
Once more Jack (Twin) Sullivan will don the gloves and show the fans that he is still able to keep step with the young speed merchants of the glove game. One week from Saturday the veteran Cambridge glove wielder will clamber into a New York ring and endeavor to outpoint Colin Bell, a big Australian boxer.

BILLIARDS
Yamada To Meet Hoppe.
Koyi Yamada, a Japanese expert, who challenged William F. Hoppe for the 141 balling billiard championship, arrived in New York last week and had a conference with Hoppe, at which it was agreed to defer the match between them for the 141 trophy until September or October. By a strict application of the championship conditions Hoppe would have been obliged to meet Yamada's challenge in thirty days from April 28. Not wishing to play this month, the champion suggested a postponement and Yamada consented. A supplementary suggestion that instead of playing 500 points in one night, they play 1,500 points in three nights, was the basis of another agreement. When the match will be played will not be decided until further deliberation.

In a town in the west there is a church that has a bright young pastor, but the attendance is unfortunately small. Among the parishioners there is a beautiful young widow. One evening just as the little widow was about to leave the edifice she was addressed by the deacon.
"Good evening, sister!" he cordially remarked, with the usual handshake, how did you like the sermon this evening?"
"I think it was just too perfectly lovely for anything!" was the enthusiastic reply of the widow.
"It was indeed!" he heartily returned the deacon. "I only wish that larger congregations would come to hear him."
"The congregation was so small tonight that every time the parson said 'dearly beloved' I positively blushed."
"Quite."
"He has queer tastes!"
"So? In what way?"
"He even goes to amateur theatricals when there's nether a relative nor a close friend in the cast!"

IMPERIAL
Jesse L. Lasky Presents the Favorite Comedy Star EDWARD ABELES in
"AFTER FIVE"
A Picturization of the Extraordinary and Altogether Unusual Comedy by Cecil B. and Wm. C. DeMille
The Story of a Man Who Planned an "Accidental Death" and Then Barely Succeeded in Saving His Own Life
EDWARD ABELES, who plays the leading role in this successful and very unique comedy is fast acquiring renown as the foremost legitimate comedy artist on the moving picture screen. His vast experience as a legitimate comedian of first-most Broadway hits has given him just that degree of refinement and lightness of touch which distinguishes him from all of the old-time screen farceurs and makes him a delight to people who appreciate humor rather than buffoonery. Under the direction of Mr. Lasky, Mr. Abeles has already achieved sterling successes in "Brewster's Millions" and "The Making of Bobby Burnell." It is no exaggeration to state that he has far wider laugh-provoking opportunities in "AFTER FIVE," and that he has become wonderfully adept at giving the full screen value to every situation.

SAVE THE KIDDIES
Alfred G. Vanderbilt's secretary has offered a reward of $1,000 for recovery of Mr. Vanderbilt's body. But his son has gone marching worthily on to the echo of the words: "Save the kiddies!"
THE KIDDIES.
"Come let's save the kiddies," These words will re-echo whenever we think of the crime just committed. The words of a man, who, when facing death's terrors, remembered the young, and their suffering, "Greater love hath no man," in the Bible, "is spoken," "Than one who lays down his own life for a friend," And thus, this great man, with a heart strong, unbroken, Massey, U. EVERY MAN NEEDED DESCRIBES CHARGE MADE BY CANADIANS
Letter From Earl of Buckingham to St. John Citizens—"In Tight Place But We Shall Win"—Praise For Canadians
Rupert Taylor, of Taylor Brothers, has received an interesting letter from the Earl of Buckingham from his home, Hampden House, Great Missenden, Bucks, England. After sympathizing with Mr. Taylor in the death of his father, the writer goes on to express his pleasure that the St. John man is again in the service, though as a soldier this time and not as a sailor, as you used to be.
"The old country and her colonies," he wrote, "are in a tight place and it will take us all our time to pull through. Every man is needed to do all that he can. We shall win, but it may take a long time and it must cost a terrible lot of lives and suffering. The Canadian troops have done magnificent work to the north of Ypres. The whole country is proud of them."

EVIDENCE IN CASE OF WALTON AND MENETT
The preliminary hearing in the case against William Walton, charged with assaulting and doing grievous bodily harm to George Menett, was commenced in the police court this morning. Mrs. Margaret Driscoll, sister of Menett, testified that on Saturday evening, May 15, she saw two men fighting in Landowne avenue, a short distance from her home. The man whom she did not then recognize as her brother was down and Walton, she said, was hitting him in the face, he also kicked him about the chest. She and her husband rushed out and begged Walton not to hit the man any more, and she said, he cried out repeatedly, "if any man slaps me I will kill him." She later saw Menett taken away by some soldiers.
Corporal Jack Redford told of being on duty at the magazine, when he heard a woman screaming. He went to investigate and saw two men fighting some distance away. One man was on the ground and the other, who was much larger, was kicking him and punching him in the face. He ordered the guard to interfere and also sent for an ambulance and the ambulance. When his men brought Menett to the camp, he said, the man was covered with blood and was in a terrible condition.
Doctor F. T. Dunlop told of dressing the wounds on the face and head of Menett. He said the man was badly beaten and ordered him to the hospital. He said he also dressed a wound on the shoulder of Walton. It was about one half inch deep and about the same length.
After the witnesses had been cross-questioned by Leonard A. Conlon, who is appearing for Walton, the latter was remanded. Menett is also under custody on a charge of slapping Walton with intent to do him grievous bodily harm.

SOUTH END LEAGUE OPENED
Victorias Have it Easy in First Game With Curlews
The South End Baseball League was opened last evening on the Barrack Square, when the Victorias, champions of 1914, decisively defeated the Curlews, 11 to 0. The official opening was witnessed in by Commissioner Potts, who threw the first ball over the plate, amid the cheers of the assemblage and a merry tune played by the 28th rifle and drum band.
The Victorias took the field, and with Doyle pitching in good form, kept their opponents from scoring. The Curlews presented a weak line-up, as some of their best men were unable to attend. Heavy hitting featured the game, and at the close of the fourth inning the Victorias had tallied eleven times. The batsmen were—Victorias, Doyle and Gorman; Curlew, Harley and McDonald. More than 700 fans were in attendance, and, considering that it was the first game of the season, they apparently overlooked many of the errors, and were generous with applause when a good play was made by either side.
