Current Comment

Mr. Peter B. Whytock, who was last year a candidate for alderman in Ward 3, found it considerable of a handicap to be in opposition to union labor through his trouble with the haters over the early closing question.

It is amazing at times to read a report of a meeting from different writers as they feel about it.

It is a pity that the former by Delegates, and the latter by Delegates, of Ottawa, Mr. Chain says.

The one regrettable feature of the session was the over-optimism of international organizers and business agents.

Typographical Union is to be commended for its action in abstaining from being represented at the congress, and it is well for other international organizations to take similar action.

Provincial Conference of the International Bricklayers' Union - Large Increase in Membership - Delegates Guests of Local Members.

Several important questions are being considered at the provincial conference of the International Bricklayers' Union which opened in the Labor Temple on Tuesday morning.

Thomas Izard, the president in his annual report, recommended that the provincial conference appeal to the international organization for the right to send delegates to the annual conference of the latter.

The secretary's report was presented by H. Rymill, of London. It showed that four new locals had been formed in different parts of the province, making a total of twenty-eight locals, with a membership of 2,300.

Tuesday night the delegates attended the meeting of the local union in Herndon Hall, Wednesday afternoon, the local members, and attended the Theatre in the evening.

The delegates present were: Hamilton, C. Howard and James Anderson; Toronto, T. Izard and J. G. Campbell; Windsor, C. L. Chisum; St. Thomas, A. Chamberlain; C. E. Hart; Brantford, Thomas Harper; Berlin, Nick Armstrong; Guelph, Andy Trudley and T. Smith; Galt, W. McCreigh and C. Oliver; Oshington, Ed. Ward; Chatham, J. E. Jones and J. Cross.

Attention is called to the remarkable advertisement of the Accident and Guarantee Company, of which Ald. J. Graham is city agent.

EDUCATIONAL COMMITTEE

The Educational Committee presented the following report at the regular meeting of the District Council on Thursday, Dec. 1st:

Your committee recommends that the board of directors of the Labor Temple be asked to set aside a room in the Temple for the use of organized labor as a reading room and for general purposes.

It has been brought to the notice of your committee that one of the teachers in the Technical School is supplying the people with text books.

We would also recommend that the Council request the Board of Education to control all changes in text books, and that such changes be made only by their orders, as we understand that such changes have been effected in the Technical School in the past at the secret will of the individual teachers.

All of which is respectfully submitted. May Darwin, Secretary.

Her Last Call

By KEITH GORDON

It's the last call for dinner in the dining car, my dear girl," said Jerrod, adjusting his speech to their surroundings.

"What because of the husband's young lawyer?" "He fell by the wayside. Too many rains."

"Here's an article that says that in China a wife costs $10." "Well, a good one is worth every cent of it."

"You are the fourth," he announced shamelessly, and at the words his eyes blazed into his again involuntarily.

"Of course," he continued, as if the ten minutes of tense silence had elapsed since his last remark was the most natural thing in the world.

Let the money of the strong be moved to the weak. The Hospital pays out dividends of health and happiness to suffering childhood...

A FOOL AND HIS MONEY

The base of the sentimentality was everywhere floating in the air...

"No, no, no," said the American, looking down on him. There was something unimportant in the American's eye that held people...

"I don't know," she said, looking at him. "I don't know," she said, looking at him.

"I've got an eight-year-old boy of mine that will make either a newspaper or a doctor."
