

PREMIERS ASK CLOSER UNION WITH AMERICA

Hon. Mr. Meighen Leader in Campaign for Better Relations With United States.

NAVAL QUESTION WILL BE BIG ISSUE

Anglo-Japanese Treaty Likely to be Theme of Discussion on Monday.

London, June 24.—(By Grant O'Leary, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—In his speech at today's sitting of the conference of Premiers, the proceedings of which were confidential, Premier Meighen is understood to have stressed the view that only with the fullest autonomy for all component parts of the empire can the whole survive and prosper, and to have again emphasized the desirability of close relationship with the United States. He is understood to have been warmly supported by Premier Smuts, of South Africa, and also, to some extent, by others in the conference.

Friendship for America

Indeed, one of the outstanding features of the conference is its unanimity in the belief that friendship with the United States must remain a cardinal principle of British foreign policy.

At the conclusion of the first week of the conference it is discernible that the proceedings are going to take longer time than it was at first supposed they would, and that the general question will play an important part in the discussions. As for the decision in regard to the latter question, however, that is an altogether different matter. The Japanese Alliance, will, it is understood be taken up Monday, when will be considered the most vital and far-reaching question with which the conference will deal.

Domestic Autonomy

The sessions of the first week of the conference have made it clear that the British statesmen may have thought or said in some cases, but is not the slightest indication of any desire on their part to minimize or interfere with the progress of Dominion autonomy. The route to the ground which was founded a few years ago, and whose designs were so suspect in the Dominion is no longer a factor in British political thinking. The leaders, mostly brilliant young Englishmen of high repute and abstract theories, have either repented their views or lost the ear of the country, and it is extremely doubtful whether they command the slightest support even of the most imperious sections of the press and parliament. Their place has been taken by a more influential and practical set of thinkers devoted to the study of imperial questions and basing their actions upon the firm belief that only with the fullest autonomy for all the component parts of the empire can the Anglo-Saxons as a whole survive and prosper.

Court Martial Captain Kennedy

Charge is That He Neglected to Take Proper Precautions Against Mutiny.

London, June 24.—Captain Edward Kennedy was tried by court-martial yesterday, charged with neglecting to take proper measures to suppress a mutiny of naval reservists at Portsmouth last April.

It appeared that the men's grievances were confined mainly to such subjects as food, leave, etc., but one of the chief engineers is said to have told Captain Kennedy:

"Nine out of ten of the men are trade unionists and would lay down their arms if they were called on to use them against their fellow workers."

The result of the court-martial has not yet been announced.

HEBREW FATHER, GENTILE MOTHER, LEGAL ACTIONS

Father Claims Daughter Was to be Trained in Faith of the Jews.

MOTHER DENIES SUCH AGREEMENT

Court Will Decide if There is Any Law to Govern the Case.

Toronto, June 24.—Acting for Isadore S. Goldstein, a salesman and manager, T. H. Lemox, K. C., this morning applied to Justice Kelly at Osgoode Hall for the custody of Geraldine Goldstein, aged six and Lorraine Goldstein, aged two, who are living with their mother, Mrs. Goldstein, near seven years of married life in the home of her mother-in-law, left on the birth of her second child and has since lived with her parents. The husband and father declared that when they were married in Buffalo there had been an agreement that the children should be educated in the Hebrew faith.

No Religious Issue.

F. J. Hughes, who appeared for the mother declared that the religious question did not enter into the matter at all, although the father is a Jew and the mother a Gentile.

"Both are Protestants," said Mr. Hughes, "and the law recognizes the religious element only where one party is a Roman Catholic and the other a Protestant. Where one party is, for instance, a Methodist, and the other a Baptist, there will be no order as to the religious education of the child. That is not the law. They are all Protestants, and religion does not arise in any way in this case." Judgment was reserved.

One failure in Newfoundland was included in Canada's total.

A. F. OF L. BARS WOMEN FROM EQUAL RIGHTS

But Local Unions Are Urged Not to Discriminate Against Female Workers.

"COLOR LINE" IS DEBATED AGAIN

Federation Leave Two Issues for Other Organizations to Solve.

Denver, Colo., June 24.—The convention of the American Federation of Labor today voted down a constitutional amendment designed to give women "equal rights and privileges of membership in the union of their trade or industry." All affiliated unions, however, were urged not to discriminate against women wage earners and admit her to membership. Efforts to wipe out the "color line" in organized labor organizations also failed. The convention took the stand that national and international unions could not be compelled to recognize negro workers and that this was a matter to be adjusted by conferences between the negro wage earners and the various organizations.

Debate Was Bitter.

Both questions were the subject of long and stormy debates in which discrimination by certain unions against the negro and the woman wage earners was bitterly denounced.

HUGE SUM TO DEVELOP SHALE

Anglo-Persian Oil Co. Will Spend $6,250,000 in This Province.

Moncton, N. B., June 24.—That it was the duty of the government and people of this province to encourage the development of and the investment in its natural resources by companies financially strong enough to bring about results was in effect the statement today of Hon. W. E. Foster, Premier of New Brunswick. The statement was made on the occasion of the visit of over one hundred local government officials and private business men to the shale reduction experimental plant at Rosedale, Albert County.

Another matter of more than provincial interest was the statement made by Mr. Matthew Lodge that the Anglo-Persian Oil Company had set aside $6,250,000 for the development of New Brunswick shales.

Other optimistic speeches were given by Lieut. Governor Wm. Pugsley, A. B. Copp, M. P., Hon. C. W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines; Hon. Mr. E. A. Smith, Chairman New Brunswick Hydro-Electric Commission, G. W. Wallace, East St. Louis, inventor of the reduction process; John Henderson, Manager of the D'Arcy Exploration Company and the Hon. J. B. M. Baxter.

Haig and Foch May Visit The Dominion

Veterans Expect Great Military Leaders to Visit Convention Next September.

Ottawa, Ont., June 24.—With the strong possibility of having Field Marshal Earl Haig and Marshal Foch present for unity conferences and pageant of ex-service men in Canada next September, the annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association will likely be postponed until that time. The convention was to have opened at Port Arthur, Ont., on July 4, but this, coupled with other important developments, has prompted the proposal for a postponement, with the hope that the September gathering will bring together a more representative gathering, including delegates from other veterans organizations.

MAINE COUPLE START ON LONG HORSEBACK TRIP

Will Cross Continent and Back Again to the Starting Point.

EXPECT TO AVERAGE 25 MILES PER DAY

Intend to Camp Nights During Entire Journey—Confident of Accomplishing Feat

Phillips, Me., June 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Homer Deane Tubbs of this village have left for a trip to the Pacific coast, and will make the entire distance on horseback. Before they return to this place they will ride approximately 10,000 miles.

Their Pacific coast objective is San Francisco, California, and they expect to stay for at least three months before starting on the return trip. To reach that city they must travel by way of Weld, Humford, Goreau, and Vancouver, B. C., St. Johnsbury, Montpelier and Burlington, Vt.; crossing New York state via Niagara Falls, then passing through the border states to the state of Washington, and thence down the coast to Los Angeles. They will, according to present plans, stop at the principal points of interest along this route and it necessary in order to see some particular place, will detour from the direct trail which they have mapped out.

Trip of 10,000 Miles.

So nearly as they can compute the distance which the ride will cover is 10,000 miles. They expect to average 25 miles a day from start to finish of the trip.

From first to last this is to be a roughing it outing. Hotels will rarely be resorted to. They have with them a complete camping outfit and propose to sleep in the open and to prepare meals as they go.

Besides the two horses which they own, Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs will have a pack horse to carry tent, cooking utensils and supplies, while there will be a dog, a cat, a rabbit and a specimen of the German police dog.

Mrs. Tubbs will ride a stylish 6-year-old horse, called Bingo. He is from an untrained Morgan, formerly owned by her mother, Mrs. C. A. Wheeler of this place. The sire of Bingo is Beyer of Bingara and of Bingan blood, owned by Mr. Hines, also of Phillips.

Her husband's mount will be Boy, a powerful six-year-old horse by Lord Wilk, Jr., by Lord Wilk, and his mother, a coach horse, all formerly owned by the McNeills of Phillips.

Buster will be the pack horse. He is half pony and half bronco, bought in 1916 from Miss Powers, the well-known Lovington horsewoman. He was used by them on the 166-mile ride from Old Orchard to Phillips and made a fine showing. While somewhat older than the other animal, Buster is expected to go through with the ride to the Pacific coast in excellent shape.

German Police Dog

The dog which will go with them is a full-blooded German police dog, seven months old, her mother having taken three ribbons at the last New York dog show.

It is realized that the ride is going to make a big demand upon the abilities of the three horses which Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs are to ride, as well as upon them, but they are convinced that the animals will go through to the finish, which, if itself will be a remarkable record. The start of the trip has been delayed while they are awaiting the acknowledgment of the fact to which they are to be put.

TOOK MONEY TO PROTECT RUM TRADER

Such is the Charge That Magistrate Richard Harris of Sydney Faces.

INLAND REVENUE DEPT. COMPLAINANT

Magistrate Admits He Paid Part of "Moonshiner's" Fine to Constable.

Sydney, N. S., June 24.—Evidence that he has taken money to dismiss cases against alleged moonshiners and that he had also accepted bribes to return a seized still, was given today against Magistrate Richard Harris, in the inquiry being conducted by Judge L. X. Macdonald, on complaint of the Department of Inland Revenue. Testifying in his own behalf, Magistrate Harris admitted that he had failed to turn over to the Inland Revenue Department half of a $500 fine imposed by him upon a convicted moonshiner.

Claims Misunderstanding

The magistrate said, however, that he understood the statute to provide that half the fine imposed was to be paid to the person giving information leading to conviction. He therefore paid $250 to Constable Harry Finlayson, who laid the information before him, and said he could produce a receipt therefor.

J. W. Madden for the defence, told Commissioner L. X. Macdonald, that the defence admitted the facts in this connection, but held that if there had been an honest mistake, the magistrate was not to be held liable for corrupt motives but from a misunderstanding of the statute. Constable Finlayson corroborated this evidence.

An Alleged Offer

Evidence for the prosecution was also taken in two other charges, one that Harris offered to dismiss a moonshining case in consideration of a bribe of $100 and the other that he returned a still to a moonshiner in consideration of a bribe of $100.

Two additional charges were preferred against Harris today. One is that he charged excessive costs $28 in an assault case, another that he refused to return bail of $250 put up by L. G. Passerino who appeared before him on a Nova Scotia Temperance Act charge.

NAVAL PLANES CARRY CANOES

F-3 Has Been Taken to Ottawa for Repairs After Flight from Halifax.

Ottawa, June 24.—The F-3, the flying boat which was flown from Halifax to Ottawa when she had to be held up at St. Etienne for repairs, is being brought to the city by a hanger at Rockcliffe. In order to avert a recurrence of the aviators' plight when they came down in the middle of a lake and had no means of reaching the shore, they sent telegraphic advice of their plight, air board officials have completed one building of the first of a number of collapsible canoes, one of which will be in future carried aboard each flying boat, making a flight. By this means pilots and mechanics will be able to land without having to depend on establishing somebody on shore. The flying boats also carry a stock of provisions on board, and each one is equipped with a shotgun so that in the event of the fliers coming down in a region where they cannot buy meats, they have a chance of shooting wild game to supply themselves with food.

Foresee Settlement of Coal Strikes

"Real Chance of Settlement" Declares Sir Robert Horne in English Commons.

London, June 24.—Further indications of the possibility of a speedy settlement of the coal crisis appeared today. In the House of Commons, Sir Robert Horne, president of the Board of Trade, said the situation was "in a most critical position when there appears to be a real chance of getting a settlement." Because of the delicacy of the situation he declined to discuss the question further. Earlier in the day it was rumored at the Labor Party conference in Brighton that the miners' executive committee, which will meet in London tonight, was about to make "an unexpected decision."

Newfoundland May Enter Schooner

Montreal, June 24.—Newfoundland fishermen are talking strongly of entering a schooner in the international fishermen's race off Halifax this fall, but nothing definite has been decided yet.

Damascus, Syria, June 24.—An attempt was made yesterday to assassinate General Gouraud, Commander of the French army in the East, as he was travelling in an automobile from Damascus to the Sea of Galilee in Northern Palestine. The assault was committed by bandits. The general was uninjured, but had a narrow escape, a bullet passing through his left sleeve. The Governor of Damascus, who was with him in the automobile, was slightly wounded. The bandits had disguised themselves as gendarmes.

WIRELESS PLANT CLOSING STARTS MARINE PROTEST

Shippers Object to Dept. Shutting Down Partridge Island and Others.

TOO MUCH ECONOMY IS THEIR PLEA

Government Will Give a Decision in Case in About Ten Days.

Montreal, June 24.—A meeting of the Lighthouse Board was held here today to hear protests against the decision of the Department of Marine to close six wireless stations in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and one on Partridge Island in the Bay of Fundy. In presenting the case for the shipowners and developed; and now on returning he found that the government intended to close the Marconi stations at Point Amour, Point Riche, Cape Ray, Heath Point, Pictou, Three Rivers and Partridge Island. The desire to economize was laudable; but it must be recognized that the mercantile marine was going to be one of the greatest assets of Canada, and to penalize the St. Lawrence in this way would mean putting up insurance rates.

After the views of a number of practical mariners were heard the chairman, Alex. Johnstone, deputy minister of marine stated the light house board would announce its decision in about ten days.

De Valera Arrested But Later Let Go

Now Said That He Was Taken in Error and Released Next Morning.

Dublin, June 24.—Eamonn De Valera, the Irish republican leader, was arrested Wednesday night near this city and later released. It was definitely established today that he had been early denied from the Sinn Fein authorities that he had been apprehended.

It appears certain that De Valera was arrested either in error or through over zeal on the part of the officials concerned.

The arrest, it is understood, took place at Blackrock, County Dublin. The prisoner was detained for the night, and was released yesterday afternoon.

It is declared here there is no intention on the part of the authorities in Ireland to arrest De Valera. This statement would appear to be borne out by the fact of his being released when he identifies was established.

Sinn Feiners Admit It

Dublin, June 24.—An official of the Daily Breeze stated this afternoon that during a raid Wednesday evening by Eamonn De Valera was taken by British Crown forces to the Portobello barracks, where he was detained until two o'clock Thursday afternoon. He was then released.

"The motive of the British authorities in ordering his release is not known," said the official, "but the situation remains unchanged."

NO CLUB LICENSE

Victoria, B. C., June 24.—In a statement here today, defining the liquor control board's attitude toward the sale of beer in clubs, A. Johnson, K.C., chairman, declared that no agreement has been entered into by the board, by which any club, soldier or other, would be permitted to sell beer. A request from the combined soldiers clubs in Vancouver to be allowed to purchase beer from the vendors and distribute it to their members was promptly refused, stated Mr. Johnson.

SIMS VISITS PRES. HARDING AFTER REBUKE

"Got What I Deserved, the Same Old Thing" Only Remark of Fearless Admiral.

SECRETARY DENBY RECALLS OTHER OFFENCE

"Flagrant and Deliberate Disregard of Specific Instructions" He Declares.

Washington June 23.—Secretary of the Navy, Denby, today "publicly" reprimanded Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, as a result of the speech of the admiral made in London June 7, in which he criticized Sinn Fein sympathizers in America.

In the reprimand, Mr. Denby pointed out that once before the Navy Department had found it necessary to take similar action against the officer for an address delivered in London in 1911, and referring to the text of that reprimand, added:

"Your remarks on the occasion now under discussion, therefore, constitute a flagrant and deliberate disregard of specific instructions."

Visits the President

While the naval secretary was making public the reprimand, Admiral Sims was calling on President Harding at the White House. It was explained that the admiral called to leave his card, as is the custom when high naval officers return from a trip abroad, but that the president invited him to chat for a few minutes. Upon leaving the White House Admiral Sims, referring to the reprimand, said: "I got what I deserved, the same old thing." He added that he regretted having caused the administration any inconvenience, but said that he now considered the incident closed.

Text of Rebuke

The text of Secretary Denby's reprimand, in part, follows:

"On June 8, 1921, there appeared in the public press throughout the country a report of certain statements alleged to have been made by you on the occasion of a luncheon given in London at the previous day at which you were the guest of the English speaking Union.

"These public statements, if correctly reported, dealt with matters which properly should be the subject for comment by no high government official other than one to whom the care of our foreign policy is entrusted.

Your letter of June 22, in which you furnish the department with an abstract of the speech delivered by you on the occasion in question contains in essential points the aforesaid press reports.

"The department insists on maintaining both the precedent and the propriety which should be observed by the servant of your position discussing such matters in a foreign country.

"That the impropriety of such public utterances has once before been brought to your attention is shown by the fact that a public reprimand was administered to you in 1911 for making the following statement in a public speech in London:

"If the time ever comes when the British Empire is seriously menaced by an external enemy, it is my opinion that you may count upon every man, every dollar, every drop of blood of your kindred across the sea."

In the reprimand above mentioned the duties and responsibilities of officers of the navy who speak in public were clearly and fully set forth. Your remarks on the occasion now under discussion, therefore, constitute a flagrant and deliberate disregard of specific instructions."

BUSINESS MAN SEEING FAILURE TAKES OWN LIFE

He Feared Business Slump Would Force His Firm Into Liquidation.

ACT IS MYSTERY TO WHOLE FAMILY

They Point to Fact That He Was Possessed of Independent Means.

New York, June 24.—Joseph Mathers, head of the cotton goods firm of Mathers, Butler, Pfaffman & Co., of 100 Worth street, telephoned yesterday afternoon to his brother-in-law, Frederick A. Wells of Rikereid, N. J., and asked Wells to come at once to the Mathers home, on the top floor of the Chateaufort Apartment Hotel, in 1111 Dean street, Brooklyn.

Wells left his office at once and hurried to the theatre, arriving there a few minutes after 3 o'clock. He telephoned the Mathers apartment from the hotel office and went upstairs, where he received no answer. Pinned on the door of the apartment was this note:

"Come in. The door is unlocked." Wells opened the door and found Mathers in the living room, sitting in a leather chair before the fireplace. There was a wound in Mathers' head and a revolver was clutched in his right hand.

Wells summoned a physician, who said Mathers had been dead about half an hour. Assistant District Attorney Thomas Peters and detectives from the Grand avenue station, after an examination, said he had committed suicide. Mrs. Mathers, who had been away on a visit, returned to the apartment while the physicians were examining the dead man. She became hysterical.

Business Worries Cause. Wells and his sister, Mrs. Mathers, said they knew of no reason why Mathers should have killed himself, unless it was through worry over business affairs. They had heard him say a slump had come in his business and that the firm probably would be liquidated. He was well to do, however, and this is not believed by his friends and members of his family to have been sufficient reason.

Mathers was 62 and had lived with his wife in Brooklyn for many years. They have no children. He was a member of the Lincoln Club.

The average grading for the St. John Association is eighty-seven per cent. This is very creditable indeed, and the local boys are to be congratulated on this evidence of their leadership in Y. M. C. A. physical work. The following boys took part:

Mysterious Sinkings Arouse Insurance Men

British Firms Fight Shy and Owners Turn to United States.

London, June 24.—The tremendous losses of cargoes and ships at sea which created a stir in London marine underwriting circles some months ago, resulted in the insurance agents putting the shipowners and exporters of the European nation under the ban. But refusal to do business with these persons failed to end the remarkable sequence of sinking, most of which, strangely enough, occurred within reach of land, and were consequently for the most part, without casualties, and were attributed to "striking mines—although the admiralty insisted that the seas had been cleared of these dangers—"fire in the bunkers," "striking rocks" and other causes equally plausible, but equally difficult to disprove.

About the time the underwriters had become effective similar "disasters" began to befall the merchant men of another western European country. While in the latter case no concrete action has been taken by the London underwriters, many individual firms have extended the taboo to include owners of this nationality. One specific case which influenced the British to lay the ban was attend-

Girls! That Derwillo Complexion is a "Stay There" Complexion

So why waste time on face powder that comes off as fast as you put it on when you can use derwillo, the "stay there" beautifier. Hot weather or perspiration does not affect it and when applied properly its use cannot be detected. It gives the skin that youthful baby-like softness and rosy tint every normal woman craves. Just make this test: Some warm day use your regular face powder, time it by your watch and see how long it stays on. Then under exactly the same conditions use derwillo and note the difference. It not only stays on longer, but it looks more natural. Compare it with any beautifier or powder you have ever used and you will need no argument to convince you that there is nothing as satisfactory as derwillo. Try it when you go bathing and see how much better it stays on than any face powder regardless of the price. No other beautifier or face powder can give you a more attractive appearance. Derwillo is becoming a regular feature everywhere and over one million girls and women are now using it in preference to everything else. Actresses use more face powder than any other class and they know how harmful some powders are. For that reason many of them now use derwillo. They have learned by thoroughly testing it that it is not only harmless, but beneficial to any skin and instantly imparts that exquisite loveliness so much desired. That's why derwillo wears so healthy, smooth, beautiful complexions. Some of the prominent actresses using derwillo are Dorothy Dalton, Mital, Louise Glaum, Viola Dana, Anna Q. Nilsson, Louise Huff, Ruth Roland and scores of others. If you use derwillo once you will become just as enthusiastic as they are and never be without it. Another important thing to remember is that no other beautifier is sold under the same guarantee. If you don't like derwillo, the store from whom you made the purchase will gladly refund your money. This liberal guarantee speaks volumes for the satisfaction it gives. You can get derwillo at the toilet counters of all department stores and up-to-date druggists everywhere. If they should happen to be out they will be glad to order it for you. Since derwillo has made such a phenomenal success it has many imitators, but you know counterfeiters are never as good as the genuine article. Do not accept a substitute then you won't be disappointed, insist on derwillo or nothing. Any reliable store will get it for you if you insist upon it.

Note—Derwillo is sold in this city under money back guarantee at all toilet counters, including The Ross Drug Company, 100 King Street, St. John, N. B.

A lump of salt placed in the sink will keep the drain wholesome. In significant circumstances which had been common with those of many previous sinkings, The vessel in question, bought early in 1919 for £165,000 sterling, sank recently near Cape Camaret, France, as a result of "running ashore." It transpired here that the hull and machinery were insured for £180,000 on a policy that expired on the day after the date of the disaster.

Scowmen's Request Was Not Granted

Dept. of Labor State They Cannot Accede to Request for Board of Conciliation.

Because the Scowmen were connected with the lumbering trade, the Department of Labor, Ottawa, wired the Scowmen's Union yesterday that they could not accede to their request for a board of conciliation to arbitrate the proposed wage reduction of a dollar a day which local lumber concerns have advised the scowmen, must go into effect. The labor department stated that the industry appeared to be connected with the lumbering trade, and that a board of conciliation could only be appointed therefore under the Industrial Disputes' Act with the consent of both parties concerned.

Says There is an Error. When asked last evening as to what stand the Scowmen's Union would take in view of the despatch from Ottawa, J. E. Tigue, international vice-president of the Longshoremen's Association, of which the Scowmen's and Lumberhandlers' Union, Local 272, is a branch, stated that the attention of the department of labor would be drawn to the fact that it was in error. The scowmen will take the stand that they are part and parcel of a public utility, insofar as transportation is concerned. That as scowmen they are engaged in the transport of lumber and unload cars in transit to American and Canadian points. They also load lighters with lumber to be carried in deep water ships to South America, England, South Africa, and all parts of the world. For this reason they feel confident that it can be ab-

Wife Seizes Hubby's Wages

London, Ont., Averages Four Weddings Daily for June to Date.

London, Ont., June 24.—For friend wife to garnish her husband's wages is an unusual thing, but such was the experience of Edwin Schaefer, a clerk in the Grand Trunk yard office here. The case was heard in the first division court this morning and although in his remarks County Judge J. C. Judd, who presided, intimated that the garnishee is quite in order he reserved decision. The garnishee was for non-support. Mrs. Schaefer testified that she and her husband had first separated after "we had set fights and he hit me. He wrote to me and asked me to come back and give him another chance, which I did, and left him in fear of my life."

Cupid is Busy. Cupid has worked overtime in London during the past week, bringing his grand total for the first twenty-three days in June up to 76 marriages or an average of almost four per week day. However, these figures are merely the registrations at the City Hall and it is predicted that when all tardy ministers have registered their month's activities in conjunction with Cupid, a local record for the month of June will be established.

GRAIN PROBE ADJOURNED

Winnipeg, June 24.—Argument on the legal phases of the case having been concluded, Mr. Justice Curran at noon today adjourned sine die further hearing of the case to determine the status of the Royal Grain Enquiry Commission and the Canada Grain Act. The interim injunctions restrain the commission from continuing its investigation are continued in the meantime.

Undoubtedly shown that the scowmen come under the Act.

Mr. Tigue said that at the present time very little lumber was being shipped but any that was moving, and on which the scowmen were working, was being handled at the old prices.

Marysville Strike Is Not Settled

Management and Men of Canadian Cottons Ltd. Fail to Get Together.

Fredericton, N. B., June 24.—A. B. Dawson, financial consultant and general manager of the Canadian Cottons Ltd., left Marysville today for a fishing trip without having met the demand of the International Textile Workers' Union branch at Marysville for recognition of their union.

Mr. Dawson had arranged to address the employees of the Marysville mill last night, but the union, whose officers have been demanding recognition, arranged a meeting for the same hour at another place and the union members were not present. Mr. Dawson in his address expressed himself as feeling optimistic over the factory outlook, but said that efficiency must be improved and production costs lowered to meet competition from the south in the textile industry.

In a statement issued today on behalf of the Canadian Cottons Ltd., it was said that the company did not recognize the union at any of their mills, that the management had no objection to a meeting of the union and its employers at any time to discuss matters of mutual interests, but they did object to the interference of strikers on the other side of the border in the conduct of their business.

Decide To Get New Staff For School

Fredericton Board of School Trustees Make up Minds to Advertise for Teachers.

Fredericton, N. B., June 24.—The break between the Board of School Trustees and the teachers of the Fredericton High School reached a climax yesterday afternoon when the trustees at a special meeting decided to advertise for a principal and staff of teachers for the school to assume their duties at the commencement of the next school year in the autumn.

The action followed acceptance at that time of the resignation of the board of the resignations of all the members of the teaching staff upon the teachers having rendered their resignation when the board decided to put into effect the new schedule of salaries adopted for the 1921-22 school year by the New Brunswick Teachers' Association, a union of teachers of the province in which about all the teachers of higher grades as well as many of the lower classes are members.

The local situation is expected to be the crucial test of the stability of the teachers' organization as the principal of the Fredericton High School, Dr. Bertin G. Foster, is the president of the N. B. Teachers' Association, and as such has advertisements as well as letters published in newspapers during the local controversy calling upon teachers whether members of the association not to take positions made vacant by the failure of the trustees of schools to meet the new schedule of salaries adopted by the teachers' association.

Special to The Standard.

Inspect D. S. C. R. Buildings.

Major Ptasani, director of administration of the D. S. C. R.; Dr. McQuade, medical inspector and W. H. George, chief engineer, are here today and this morning an inspection with officers of this unit of the D. S. C. R. buildings here. Major Reid and R. B. Hanson, M. P., met them and discussed the proposal to close up part of the D. S. C. R. establishment in New Brunswick.

Cost of operation and proximity to the density of soldier population requiring medical treatment are said to be the two features entering into the decision as to whether the hospital here or that at St. John shall be closed. It was said that the extent of the local hospital and other buildings made their cost of operation too great for the extent of accommodations required by the D. S. C. R. with business conditions the way they are.

A number of the smaller saw mills on the North Shore are soon to close, it was learned today, because of the unsatisfactory condition of the lumber market.

Liquor Found On White Head Beach

Twelve Casks Seized and Taken to Canso—Believed Owner is Known.

Canso, June 24.—The special customs Cruiser Gribble, Captain Coffin, arrived here this afternoon with 12 casks of liquor which had been seized at White Head by Customs Officer Wells. The liquor was discovered by Wells on the beach at Cole Harbor yesterday. The owner is at present unknown, but strong suspicions point to parties well known who have made this section of coast notorious with liquor smuggling.

Collector Wells deserves credit for this seizure which was cleverly effected. Being suspicious that landing operations were contemplated that oficer drove to Cole Harbor, but found no evidence.

Not satisfied to return until careful search had been made, his efforts were rewarded by finding the casks on the beach and abandoned. The suspicion is that the owner landed it in the shore hoping to remove it after dark, but hearing that Wells was in the vicinity kept out of sight. Officer Wells got in touch with Captain Coffin of the Gribble who was then in Canso Harbor. He left immediately for Whitehead and brought the shipment to Canso.

The Lower Plate

Mechanically defined, a watch is a machine (containing not far from 150 parts) whose sole end is to "keep moving," and that watch is best as a timepiece the motion of which approaches most nearly to absolute uniformity.

If you open your watch and examine its mechanism, you will find it consists substantially of two supporting plates, between which is mounted a gearing of meshed wheels to take care of the movement recording time. These wheels are called the train.

The lower supporting plate in a Waltham watch is the foundation upon which every unit revolves and is permanently fixed. This plate is bored with minute holes to take the pivots, screws and pinions of the reciprocal parts which form the movement proper.

During the 69 years of watch development at Waltham many illustrious names have been added to the history of horological achievement—men whose genius for invention, whose supreme skill in making concrete their vision, have produced marvellous machinery that has revolutionized the art of watch-making.

One of these master minds was Duane H. Church, who, among other equally wonderful machines, invented one that drills, threads and finishes the lower plate of the Waltham watch.

This machine accomplishes many operations with such methodically exact, automatic continuity that one instinctively imagines a superhuman brain is hidden in the multifold action controlling its extraordinary work. It makes every operation (and there are 141) with infinitesimal exactness, to the fraction of a human hair; flawless, beautiful in complete simplicity—every plate a replica of every other plate, an indisputable proof that Waltham standardization gives a uniform standard of highest quality to every owner or purchaser of a Waltham watch.

To test the truth of this we have only to compare the Waltham plate with that made by hand and subject to all the variations which this hand process entails.

Almost Helpless From St. Vitus Dance The Muscles of the Hands, Face and Body Affected. St. Vitus dance is a disease of the nerves brought on by a general condition of the blood. It is common with children, and attacks girls more frequently than boys. Irritability is frequently one of the first signs noted. The child frets, is quarrelsome and does not sleep well. The jerky movements that characterize the disease come a little later. The limbs spasm, and in severe cases the power of speech is affected. Such a child should not be allowed to study, but should be kept quiet, and on a nutritious diet, remain out of doors as much as possible. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help the blood restore the shattered nerves. The value of these pills in cases of this kind is shown by the following statement from Mrs. Frank Reynolds, Windsor, N. S., who says: "When a young girl suffered severely from St. Vitus' dance, I could not keep still for a moment. I tried to handle dishes I broke them, and could not safely attempt to hold a thing in my hands. No matter what was done for me I could not control the twitching in my face and body. My parents gave me several remedies, but they did not help me. Then one day my father brought home a half dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After two boxes had been taken there was an improvement in my condition. By the time the last box was gone, to my own great joy and relief to our family my condition was normal, and I have since enjoyed good health. I never lose an opportunity to say a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Thomas Ramsey pleaded not guilty to the police court yesterday afternoon to the charge of having liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling. He requested time to secure counsel and the case was postponed to this morning. Failing the required deposit of $200, the defendant was remanded to jail. A case arising from a dispute over the ownership of a dog in which George Brown and Fred Haines are the principals, was postponed to Tuesday at 11 o'clock. The "thousand witnesses" who were to prove one of the parties' claim to the dog did not materialize at yesterday's hearing. Pat Deary, "A native of Denmark," was before the court for being drunk and having liquor in his possession. He was fined $300 or eight months in jail, and remanded. John A. Simmonds was fined $50 for leaving over the bridge at the reversing falls at a speed in excess of that allowed by the law. The caretaker, Samuel Shank, stated Mr. Simmonds' car went across the bridge at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour. The limit allowed by law is six miles per hour. Dr. Robert Fenderich, an internist at the General Public Hospital, Surgeon-Inspector Powers, and Detective Bid-descombe, gave evidence in the case of Daniel Seltman charged with a serious offense against a fifteen year old girl. The accused was sent up for trial.

$6,666 Fee For Collecting $20,000

Lawyer Says This is Quite Reasonable—Average Earnings $1,000 Per Day. New York, June 24—One-third the total amount collected for a client is not an exorbitant fee, according to Max D. Steiner, a trial lawyer, in an affidavit submitted to Supreme Court Justice Whitaker, which states that for several years his services have commanded a very high compensation, or an average of $1,000 a day for 300 days a year. The court heard the application of Mrs. Amelia Hamburger, widow of Louis J. Hamburger, to compel Mr. Steiner to return two notes, each for $10,000 of the Coastwise Lumber and Supply Company on the ground that this is unlawfully withholding them and claiming $6,666 for services not worth more than $3,500. Mrs. Hamburger said she engaged

THE TAX QUESTION

It seems to be rather a pity that such a nice, easy-going bunch of gentlemen as at present compose our City Council should get themselves "in bad" with the people, as it appears they have done, as a result of their decision regarding the discount period for payment of taxes. But such is unfortunately the case just the same. If the man in the street is to be relied upon as a fair gauge of public opinion—and he usually is—the feeling among the general body of tax payers is very bitter. They think that the taxpayers are not getting "a fair show," when all circumstances are taken into consideration. The plain truth of the matter seems to be that a very large number of them simply cannot find the money in the time allowed, and they must have a longer period in which to find it.

This shortened discount period, and the imposition of a more than six per cent. penalty on tardy taxpayers, together with the threat of execution in case of non-payment, with all its additional costs, are only further instances of the highwayman methods frequently adopted by municipal authorities, and of which the people are getting heartily sick and tired. Evidence is plain to be seen on all sides of a strong reaction against what are practically hold-ups, that have taken place on several occasions within the past few years. These big stick methods do not produce any better results than were achieved when municipalities—and governments too—got along by the use of much more reasonable methods of collection. We are compelled to pay tax stamps on cheques, notes, drafts and all negotiable papers, and are liable to heavy fines if we fail, either through forgetfulness or in the hurry of business, to do so. A pistol is pointed at us, and we are compelled under threats of imprisonment or tremendous fines to dig into ancient history for records of business done in former years, upon which the Federal tax may be collected. Under the Federal tariff we are robbed of whatever benefit might otherwise accrue to us through the working of American exchange, and are not only forced to pay duty on such exchange if our accounts are payable in American funds, but are robbed of the entire benefit if payment is made in Canadian funds.

Briefly, we are necessarily or unnecessarily taxed in an arbitrary manner, not after the people have been impressed with the necessity for this taxation, but when they have been thoroughly frightened and cowed by threats of imprisonment, seizure of property and otherwise. For years practically every employer has been under the arbitrary policy of labor unionism, which has systematically appeared to be adopting the same methods, and are outraging all sense of decency, disregarding all those feelings of the ordinary resident of this country might reasonably be expected to entertain, and bludgeoning the people into a state of mind which most eventually create a serious reaction. For even the proverbial worm will turn, in the last extremity.

LONDON NOT EXCITED

Mr. Gratian O'Leary, a clever young journalist who has gone to England as a representative of the Canadian Press has observed with surprise and sorrow that nobody in London seems much concerned in the meeting of the Conference of Premiers, about which there is much drum beating here. The situation in Ireland and England's recent defeat by Australia on the cricket field, he says, the subjects which occupy the attention of the public. "Thus far," cables the correspondent, "even the most important journals here (London) afford little indication of what the British people want, and show less understanding of what the Conference really is." Might not much the same thing be said about the people of Canada? According to the view of the Journal of Commerce, they are showing little indication of what they want from the Conference, "for the good reason that they want nothing unless it be to be let alone." When the Conference was expected to deal with the question of a readjustment of constitutional relations between the Mother Country and the Dominions the meeting was regarded as an important one. When official authority excluded that subject, what remained was not of the highest importance; though of course any meeting of the Premiers is an interesting event. It is not to be forgotten that the Conference has no power to do anything. It can only give the British Government the benefit of its opinions.

SAUCE FOR THE GANDER.

It is rumored that a cable has been despatched to Premier McEwen in London, urging him to return to Canada at the earliest possible moment in order to settle a scuffle among the members of his cabinet. The cable, it would seem, centers around the action of the cabinet in having retired in certain departments the retirement of all officials over sixty-five years of age.

This should not be repeated, of course, but very unreliable authority has it that the Hon. Mr. Wigmore and the Hon. Mr. Biondia, in whose department the superannuation axe has fallen, burst into a recent meeting of the cabinet somewhat hot under the collar at losing some of their best and most efficient departmental heads who happened to be just over the age limit arbitrarily determined. The Hon. Mr. Wigmore, an impetuous youth of some forty-eight summers and approximately the same number of winters, spoke right out in meeting. It is understood, and said that it seemed as if he were about to resign, and that he was at sixty-five years of age, then he jolly well thought the chairman and some other members of the cabinet should take a dose of their own medicine. The chairman, Sir George Foster, who is seventy-four years young, said that that was something different and that Mr. Wigmore was not respectful. A man, Sir George thought, as young as he felt, and he personally had lots of kick left anyhow. Besides, he had not yet saved enough money, and he had a young family to think of. The Hon. Mr. Doherty expressed his opinion that Mr. Wigmore was most unfair in attempting to turn him out before the practice had been established of pensioning cabinet ministers the same as judges. Dr. Reid became sentimental and said, with tears in his eyes, that he wanted to be there when good old Bob came back. He calmed up, however, when reminded that he still had two years to go and could last out this government anyhow. Sir James Longhead, a hoary old gentleman of sixty-seven years, was the least concerned. He always had the Senate, he said, to fall back upon, where age was no disability. He stated, however, that if Wiggy continued to be silly, they would not let him stay in the nice cabinet, so there!

It is rumored that after a considerable amount of wrangling, someone suggested calling for Arthur to come home quick and give Wiggy a good spanking. After the shock had subsided, and good humor was once more restored, the senior members of the cabinet, feeling that they had disposed of a knotty problem of state, elevated their feet to the top of the frayed-jute cabinet and gave the frayed-jute cabinet and gilly, they with hearty good feeling the rousing old college part-song in the following manner:

Sir James: "O, who will smother my meerschaum pipe?"
 Sir George: "O, who will go to see my gal?"
 Jim Calder: "O, who will wear my cast-off boots?"
 Dr. Reid: "O, who will have my green umbrella?"
 All: "When we have gone away,"
 Ottawa Citizen.

THE LUCKY THIRTEEN

Yesterday afternoon a number of young ladies, to the number of thirteen we understand—in this case apparently the lucky thirteen—were presented with medals in recognition of the work they performed during the war as V. A. D.'s. Application has been made for medals for thirteen other young women whose qualifications had not been ascertained beforehand. Each of these young ladies put in at least one thousand hours' work either on war account, or 'flu epidemic, or some other equally necessary work. Some of them were compelled to work during their living five days in the week, cheerfully gave up the other two days on which they might have rested and devoted their energies to patriotic service. All these young women are certainly deserving of the highest commendation for the sacrifices they made. We wonder how many young men who could have taken an active part in the struggle, but did not, spent any portion of their time in any kind of service that would have been of any practical, patriotic benefit? The example set by these young women apparently didn't touch the young men at all. Their mothers' apron strings held them too tight.

A Soothing Force.
 It must be admitted by the most casual observer that the presence of the Black Watch has had a more soothing effect upon the situation in Silesia than all the activities of the League of Nations, just as a good and efficient policeman is more useful in a street brawl than an amiable old lady.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Railroad Strike Talk Purrie.
 If every one of the hundreds of thousands of track workers and other laborers on the American railway system should strike this afternoon against the United States Railroad Labor Board's order to reduce their wages, there would be three men standing in line to fill every vacant job tomorrow morning. That is why there could be no strike to which the carriers, the shippers, the public or anybody but the old men who want off the payroll to make room for the would ever give a second thought. In the leaders of the four big brotherhoods should canvass the membership of their organizations as to going on strike against the Labor Board's order the locomotive engineers, firemen and trainmen would be able to tell them that without any strike too many men are already off the payroll. There is no body of men in the United States to surpass the workers on the railway trains in Canada, as a whole. Hard sense tells any man who possesses it that going on strike these days "against lower wage scales, when there isn't a work enough by a big margin for those who want to work, is about as sane as going on strike against eating three square meals a day.—New York Herald.

 And my fingers wandered idly

 With a touch of real Blondine.

DUKE AND GLADYS MARRIED.
 Paris, June 24.—The civil marriage of the Duke of Marlborough and Miss Gladys Deacon was celebrated at the British consulate in this city at 11 this morning. The witnesses for Miss Deacon were E. Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

I was wawking along yest'day jest wawking along and I saw a horse shoe out in the street, thinking, Gosh, some horse must of lost that without knowing it. And I picked it up and started to take it home on account of loose horse shoes being good luck, thinking, This is a good chance to prove weather they really are or not.

Wich jest then wat did I do but trip over a stuck up brick, and I fell down holding on to the horse shoe for good luck, and it gave me a fearse crack on the nuckles wen it hit the pavement, me thinking, Owch, heck.

And wen I got home I got a hammer and a nail and put 2 chairs on top of each other in my room and climbed up to nail the horse shoe over my door for good luck, and every time I misse the nail I'm my thum, being about every other time, thinking, Heck, owch, wens this—good luck going to start?

Wich jest then the 2 chairs fell off of each other and I fell off of both of them and landed in a setting position on the floor with a fearse bump, thinking, O well, the horse shoe is up anyway.

Wich it was, but not very good, the nail only being in a little ways on account of being misse sh awfen, and pop came up stairs to see wat made the fearse bump and he opened my door and the nail came out and the first thing pop knew something hit him rite on top of the hed, being the horse shoe.

Wat in the name of blinking blazes, sed pop.

Its only a loose horse shoe pop, its supposed to be good luck, I sed.

You dont tell me, sed pop, And the next thing I knew I was being shook and smacked both at the same time, and pop still gets mad every time he feels the top of his hed.

Proving loose horse shoes may be good luck for some people but mine is out in the alley.

Bricklayer Says Work Has Doubled

Well Known Moncton Man Says He Is In Best Shape In His Life Since Taking Tanlac.

"I was never more completely surprised in my life than I was at the way Tanlac knocked out my troubles," said Edward E. Bourque, 241 Lutz street, Moncton, N. B., well-known bricklayer and no-longer resident of that city.

"I had indigestion for years, but last spring it got lots worse and everything I ate seemed to do me more harm than good. I was nervous and out of sorts generally, and I had such a pain in my side I actually thought I had appendicitis. I had no energy and tired out so quickly that I often had to knock off before the day's work was done.

"Tanlac gave me such an appetite I can hardly wait for meal times. I eat anything I want, and never worry about indigestion, as my stomach is in the best shape it ever was in my life. I just feel good to my fingertips and can lay more brick in half a day than I could all day long, a few months ago. That awful pain in my side has gone, too. If anybody wants to know what I think about Tanlac, just send them to me and I will tell them pretty quick."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and other leading druggists.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

To the Editor of The Standard, Sir.—At present there is a movement to more seriously and intelligently consider Maritime rights under Confederation. Criticism has been directed at the manner in which the Federal government has treated these rights as interpreted by representatives of the different Maritime interests, both political and commercial. The force of this belief is that while the government's actions have displayed a certain amount of inefficiency, there is a very large amount of ignorance blended with it.

Incompetence and playing politics with national resources means no worse than other governments have done, and the individual liability is seriously allowed to be forgotten, because of the knowledge that some other fellow must do likewise, and pay up, and we have no time or courage to make a noise over it. No one appears anxious to make even a serious gesture in the way of calling the government to account and demanding reformation. What wonder then that Ottawa accepts the situation complacently and as though it were a thing ordained by some special interest, perhaps political as well. So long as we remain contented with numerous delegations carrying lengthy resolutions Ottawa will find it more convenient to play and play politics than to seriously interpret our rights under Confederation. We will continue to pay the price for our muddle of apathy and blunder of procedure in not asserting our rights even to a point of informing the people of the Maritime Provinces as to what they actually are. We are up against the selfishness and ignorance of the people west of Ottawa who know no East but Quebec. Politics may be the chief business of our government, and the conservation of special rights of sections of the Dominion may be considered too trivial for serious consideration, but so long as the people of the Maritime Provinces refuse to call time or to exhibit a different temper towards Ottawa's indifference, the same old treatment will be applied to them. It is about time to discourage the feeling that the Maritime Provinces must be satisfied with whatever is handed them, either in impossible freight or passenger charges imposed upon them as a license to do business with not only Western Canada but among themselves, or by having Western men sent here to perform such duties as our own men are more capable of doing. The treatment accorded the recent Maritime delegation was simply a nauseous and high-handed violation of the principle of political liberty, a flouting of constitutional guarantees and as such must become at once as of Maritime importance, for there appears to be at work a sinister influence that would make a register of the legislative expression of political views the opinions of those who happen to be in power, merely because such views might contemplate a perfectly constitutional procedure for changing the government's scheme to impose upon the East for that portion known as the Maritime Provinces such conditions as will practically destroy inter-Provincial trade and place an intolerable burden upon the Maritime people never contemplated at any time and wholly at variance with the terms of the Confederation agreement.

The question is not whether a group of politicians and their financial cohorts shall be supreme. It is deeper. It is whether all the provisions made for the Maritime Provinces by the people of a united Canada and the same embodied in a confederation part are to be thrown into the discard. It is whether their rights which can be clearly established shall be denied. It is whether the constitutional rights of the Maritime Provinces shall be declared not to be supreme. It is whether the Maritime Provinces shall be told that the promises held out to them in order to secure their assent to Confederation are inscribed on scraps of paper.

Two Executed Yesterday.

Chicago, June 24.—Grover C. Redding and Oscar McGavick were hanged together at 7:25 o'clock this morning for the killing of Robert C. Rose, a sailor, in connection with the "Abyssinian riots" in June last.

Both appeared cool when they walked up the scaffold. McGavick started a chamber while a priest repeated a prayer. Redding closely followed the movements of those who adjusted straps about his arms and legs.

Weddings

Branscombe-Hall.

An interesting wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hall, Penobscot, on Wednesday, June 23, at 4 o'clock, when their daughter, Ella N., was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence Branscombe. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The wedding march was effectively rendered by Mrs. Clarence Walker, sister of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Abraham Perry under an arch of evergreen and snowballs. The bride was becomingly attired in white champagne satin with pearl trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern. Little Miss Verma Walker, niece of the bride, was flower girl and was daintily dressed in blue silk.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served to about forty guests, the dining-room being tastefully decorated in white. Many beautiful presents were received, including a cheque from the bride's parents, a piano from the groom's parents, and a handsome oak rocker from the Cardwell Church, of which the bride is organist. The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial cheque.

After the honeymoon trip through the province, Mr. and Mrs. Branscombe will make their home in Penobscot, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

DULL DAY BUT NO BIG BREAK IN N. Y. LISTS

Speculative Favorites Were Fairly Steady and Occasionally Strong.

MEXICAN OILS SHOW STRENGTH

Exchange Dealings Were Light and Mainly Downward, London Setting the Mark.

New York, June 24.—Business on the stock exchange today was comparatively dull and narrow. Dealers for the most part lacked the reactionary elements which contributed to the recent depreciation of prices. Speculative favorites, especially those embracing the oil, steel, motor and chemical groups, were fairly steady and occasionally strong. Heavy losses which resulted from the weakness was manifested, however, by some obscure preferred issues. Conspicuous examples of this class included American Writing Paper, International Alcohol, Baldwin Locomotive, Central Leather, United Drug, Columbia Graphophone and Mercantile Marine, the last making an extreme decline of almost 100 per cent. For the first time in several weeks such leaders as Mexican Petroleum and United States Steel showed consistent strength. Mexican increased its early gain to a net of 3 1/2 points, and steel closed 1 1/2 points above yesterday's low record.

Corn Products Stronger

Corn products strengthened on declaration of the regular dividend. Sears-Roebuck rallied on news that the company was buying in its own standing notes, and a note recovered three points on settlement of threatened litigation. Sales amounted to 2,500,000 shares. Plenty of money was available on call at five per cent, extending into next week and some thirty and sixty day loans expiring at the end of the month were in process of renewal at prevailing rates. Dealings in exchange were light and mainly downward, dealers again taking their cue from London, where a lower quotation ruled. Liberty 3 1/2's were strong, but others of that division recorded mixed changes. Further strength was shown by convertible rails and City of Paris sixes featured the former trend manifested by international issues. Total sales, par value, aggregated $117,150,000.

PAPER STOCKS DECLINE LOWER

Spanish Pfd. Lost 12 Points, While Abitibi Fell Seven in the Day.

Montreal, June 24.—Bearish sentiment regarding paper shares set up a wave of liquidation, which extended to nearly the whole list on the local stock exchange today. With buying power absent during the greater part of both sessions, prices melted rapidly, though in many cases there were material rallies towards the afternoon close. Total dealings on all stock amounted to 20,627, the largest turnover of the year. The strength of the market was shown by the fact that net losses run up in the papers to 22 points, the latter amount being lost by Spanish River preferred. That issue sold as low as 47 1/2 and rallied to 54 at the close, with 54 1/2 bid for more stock and none offered. The common got down to 41 and then rallied to 48. The strength of steel stocks in such a market was a noted feature. Dominion sold higher at 23 and Steel of Canada gained a similar fraction at 43 1/2. Abitibi's decline was almost as large as Spanish River, with a smaller rally at the close, the lowest price being 22 and the close 25, the latter a net loss of seven points. Laurentide tumbled 1 1/2 and closed at 21 1/2, a net loss of 5 1/2 points. Asbestos, General Electric, Detroit, Textile, Power and Shawinigan lost from two to fourteen, and some of them were very active. Toronto Rails were steady at 71 1/2. The bond market was very active, a total of $205,400 changing hands.

New York, June 24.—The raw sugar market was steady and unchanged at 4.80 for centrifugal with no new business reported this morning.

Raw sugar futures were easier for near positions under scattered liquidation, with prices one to four points net lower at mid-day. New crops were steadier on covering and about three points net higher.

The market for refined was unchanged to ten points lower at 5.04 for the fine granulated, the lowest price recorded in over five years. The demand was moderate. Refined futures were nominal.

Grand Trunk Case Is At An End

Seven Thousand Pages of Evidence for Arbitrators to Study.

Montreal, June 24.—After sixty-three days of actual sessions, the taking of evidence in the Grand Trunk Railway arbitration came to a conclusion this afternoon and the board adjourned until Monday. It is possible, however, that counsel for the Grand Trunk may ask an opportunity to bring in some further evidence in rebuttal of that adduced by the government counsel.

The board is anxious to hear argument without delay, but it was reported today that counsel would ask for time to study the 7,000 pages of evidence and 500 exhibits. The work before the board today was of a mop-up character.

At the afternoon session, A. G. Atwater, K.C., counsel for the Grand Trunk, while cross-examining H. E. Brown, expert railway accountant, brought up the question of the reserve, which has been so much under discussion.

"What reserve do you refer to?" asked the witness. "The sea serpent, probably," interjected Sir Thomas White.

Mr. Atwater said a matter of $5,000,000 was called an inside reserve. "Or a midnight reserve," suggested Mr. Butler. Mr. Brown, the witness, said this was a reserve against operating expenses, which could be used to reduce these accounts.

Wheat Market

Winnipeg, June 24.—With adverse crop reports and a better tone to the short side, the local wheat market was strong and more active today. COLONIZATION MOVEMENT IN NORTH QUEBEC

Many Lumber Camps Are Found in Midst of Laurentian Hills.

THE NILE RESERVOIR HAS BEEN OUTCLASSED

Fur and Fish Products Abound in Paradise of the Hunter and Trapper.

OUR NORTHERN EMPIRE, No. 3.

The through Transcontinental train passes La Tuque about midnight. In our border with driving trains we are oblivious to the wild mountainous scenery, through which the train winds up the St. Maurice River, and its tributary the Vershire. Before daybreak we pass several important places that contribute to the lumber traffic of the railway. Fifty miles from La Tuque the lumber camps appear. Flanagan, Windsor, Ferguson, Vandry and Westport are the centre of lumbering activities carried on by the big corporations operating mills on the St. Maurice, towards the Rivers. The lumber jacks with his axe and pike pole makes up the population. It looks simple enough to cut the logs and let them tumble from the side wall of the mountain into the hurrying stream below, but outcrops and reefs complicate the problem. When the logs reach the water, they dash along with exuberant glee until harvested in their booms many miles below. They would scarcely be there if those out of the way hills contain one of the most gigantic engineering undertakings in the world, one that outdistances Egypt's great work—the Assuan Reservoir. It is called La Loure Storage Reservoir. It controls the water supply of a territory of over 300 miles in extent. It is located at the junction of the St. Maurice and Manuan Rivers. The dam is a third of a mile long and eighty feet high. Its purpose is to hold the water of the Upper country, to be used by the mills and factories in the lower St. Maurice, during the dry season. Four times as much water for distribution is held in its tanks as is used to irrigate the lands of the Nile. The Gouin Government is responsible for this splendid work.

Great Fur Belt.

Thirty miles further west, we pass a fine sheet of water called Oscasen Lake. Its outlet is in the St. Maurice River. The devotee of the canoe can travel easterly from this point for days on the southerly side of the divide through a country of picturesque wildness. We are reminded we are now within the Great Northern Fur Belt, by a large sign on a small shack at Oscasen Lake, advertising it as a trading post for hunters. In those lonely woods and mountains the moose roam in security and the bear has long sight of his human antagonist. The silent hunter pitting his wits against the wiles of the wild denizens of the woods, sets his traps on their trail and packs of poils of beavers, foxes, otter, and lynx, and their way to the Quebec market. The trapper has done his work too well; fur-bearing animals are becoming every year scarcer. Larger game attracts the sportsman, Vermilion is a gathering place for game in the month of August. They follow the deer in their streams. Here they have erected a large club house to note the places put on the map by the Canadian National Railway the past four years—over seventy all told in Quebec, and over a few in Ontario, each one contributing something ready to the traffic of the railway in the way of pulp wood, lumber, fish, etc., and promising much more in the future, as the operations of the settlers are so far almost entirely in sight of the railway. About 20,000 people have already made homes for themselves.

Trappers Came First.

The earliest explorers were French trappers and traders, who penetrated these regions for furs, but it remained an unknown wilderness save to them and missionaries to the Indians until about half a century ago, when the lumber operators found their way up the St. Maurice and the Ottawa. There are also valleys in these wilds. They follow the deer in their migrations. An old sportsman gave the writer an account of a herd of them attacked by a pack of wolves, when formed in a circle, with horns and hoofs in front to give battle, such an affair would be an interesting spectacle—a sensation for the movie picture artist to arrange.

OUR NORTHERN EMPIRE, No. 3.

The through Transcontinental train passes La Tuque about midnight. In our berth with drawn blinds we are oblivious to the wild, monotonous scenery, through which the train winds up the St. Maurice River, and its tributary the Vermilion. Before daybreak the lumber jacks with his axes and pike pole makes up the population. It looks simple enough to cut the logs and let them tumble from the side of the mountain into the river, but outcrops and reefs complicate the problem. When the logs reach the water, they dash along with exuberant glee until harvested in their booms many miles below. One would scarcely imagine that these out of the way wilds contain one of the most gigantic engineering undertakings in the world, one that outdistances Egypt's great work—the Aswan Reservoir. It is called La Loutre Storage Reservoir. It controls the water supply of a territory of over 300 miles in extent. It is located at the Junction of the St. Maurice and Manuan Rivers. The dam is a third of a mile long, and eighty feet high. Its purpose is to hold the water of the Upper Country, to be used by the mills and factories in the lower St. Maurice during the dry season. Four times as much water is stored in the lands of the Nile. The Gouin Government is responsible for this splendid work. At La Loutre a hydroplane had been put in use for surveying and observation purposes. Early in the morning we pass a place where the waters, ships, etc., pertaining to a divisional point, having ascended in the world 900 feet from La Tuque, that place having an altitude of 500 feet. This is a place of mountains, saw mills and lumber.

Great Fur Belt.

Thirty miles further west, we pass a fine sheet of water called Ocasene Lake. It is in the St. Maurice River. The devotee of the canoe can travel easterly from this point for days, on the southerly side of the divide, through a country of picturesque and interesting features. It is now within the Great Northern Fur Belt, by a large sign on a small shack at Ocasene Lake, advertising it as a trading post for hunters. In these lonely woods and mountains the moose roam in security and the bear has a long sight of his human antagonist. The silent hunter puts his wits against the wiles of the wild denizens of the woods. Sets his traps on their trail and packs of packs of beavers, foxes, otter, and lynx. In their way to the Quebec market. The trapper has done his work too well; fur bearing animals are becoming every year scarcer. Large game is a gathering place for game hunters, and here they start to range the woods and streams. Here they have erected a large club house. It would be useless to note the places put on the map by the Canadian National Railway the past four years over seven hundred miles long, and over fifty west of Parent-lee, and one contributing something already to the traffic of the railway in the way of pulp wood, lumber, fish, etc., and promising much more in the future, as the operations of the settlers are so far almost entirely in sight of the railway. About 20,000 people have already made homes for themselves.

Trappers Came First.

The earliest explorers were French trappers and traders, who penetrated these regions for furs, but it remained an unknown wilderness save to them and missionaries to the Indians until about 1800, when the lumber operators found their way up the St. Maurice and the Ottawa. There are also wolves in these wilds. They follow the deer in their migrations. An old sportsman gave the writer an account of a herd of them attacked by a pack of wolves. When formed in a circle, with horns and hoofs in front to give battle, such an affair would be an interesting spectacle—a sensation for the movie picture artist to arrange. During spring and autumn migrating black ducks gather in the marshy bays of the lakes. Amos is another centre for sportsmen, especially from the United States. From that point they gravitate north, fishing and hunting. The Hudson Bay Company's long ago established trading posts across the continent and still retain them at Parent, Sarnett and Narrot. From the train we catch an occasional glimpse of groups of dogs, reminding one we are in the latitude where in the winter dog teams start for more northerly posts.

Ocasene Lake, south of the divide, is a starting point for canoe voyagers taking in an endless variety of streams and lakes, circling around the mountains dark with this coating of jack pine. Some day these remote spots will be a summer haunt of pleasure-seekers. The character of the country and the scenery is not changed until we reach Not-

WELL SAY YOU DID advertisement for Clifton House. Includes text: 'We're willing to bet that anyone looking in Dykemans' windows at that lovely, cool silk underwear Friday washed more than a number of times they could slip right into them then. Well, it may have been the heat that prompted this thought first; but anyway, we can't blame it all on Saturday's heat. Why, as one lady said, seems a shame to cover up such daintiness—she's right, too. A great many people have seen this underwear and think that the price of these garments is the next wonderful thing about them; for instance, the pink pyjamas in best quality crepe de chine sells for $15; the blue bridge set for $42, not half of the regular value. Look in Dykemans', then go upstairs and see the rest. CLIFTON HOUSE, ALL MEALS 60c.'
