HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Surprising Cure of a confirmed Asthma, after five years' suffering.

The following testimonial has been sent to Professor Holloway, by a Gentleman named Middleton, of Scotland road, Liverpool.

SIR—Your Pills have been the means, under Providence, of restoring me to sound health, after five years of severe affliction. During the whole of that period I suffered the most dreadful attacks of Asthma, frequently of several weeks duration, attended with a violent cough, and continual spitting of phlegm intermixed with blood. This so shook my constitution that I was unfitted for any of the active duties of life. I was attended by some of the most eminent medical men of this town, but they failed to give me the slightest relief. As a last remedy I tried your Pills, and in about three months they effected a perfect cure of the disease, totally eradicated the cough, and restored tone and vigour to the chest and digestive organs. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
(Signed) H. MIDDLETON.
Dated Jan. 1st, 1853.

A Permanent Cure of a Diseased Liver, of many years' duration.

Copy of a letter from Mr. Gamis, Chemist, Yeovil, to Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—In this district your Pills command a more extensive sale than any other proprietary medicine before the public. As a proof of their efficacy in Liver and Bilious Complaints I may mention the following case. A lady of this town with whom I am personally acquainted, for years was a severe sufferer from disease of the Liver and digestive organs; her medical attendant assured her that she could do nothing to relieve her sufferings, and it was not likely she could survive many months. This announcement naturally caused great alarm among her friends and relations, and they induced her to make a trial of your Pills, which so improved her general health that she was induced to continue them until she received a perfect cure. This is twelve months ago, and she has not experienced any symptoms of relapse, and often declares that your Pills have been the means of saving her life.

I remain, dear Sir, yours truly,
(Signed) J. GAMIS.

An astonishing Cure of Chronic Rheumatism, after being discharged from the Hospital incurable.

Copy of a letter from Mr. W. Moon, of the Square, Winchester.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—I beg to inform you that for years I was a sufferer from Chronic Rheumatism, and was often laid up for weeks together by its severe and painful attacks. I tried every thing that was recommended, and was attended by one of the most eminent surgeons in this town; but obtained no relief whatever. At last, fearing that my health would be entirely broken up, I was induced to go into our County Hospital, where I had the best medical treatment the Institution afforded, all of which proved of no avail, and I came out no better than I went in. I was then advised to try your Pills, and by persevering with them was perfectly cured, and enabled to resume my occupation, and although a considerable period has elapsed, I have felt no return whatever of the complaint.

I am, Sir, your obliged servant,
(Signed) W. MOON.

An extraordinary Cure of Dropsy, after suffering for eighteen months.

Copy of a letter from Mr. G. Briggs, Chemist, Goole, dated February 15th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—I have much pleasure in informing you of a most surprising cure of Dropsy recently effected by your valuable medicines. Captain Jackson of this place was afflicted with Dropsy for upwards of eighteen months, to such an extent that it caused his body and limbs to be much swollen, and water oozed as it were from his skin, so that a daily change of apparel became necessary. Notwithstanding the various remedies tried, and the different medical men consulted, all was of no avail until he commenced using your Pills, by which, and a strict attention to the printed directions, he was effectually cured, and his health perfectly reestablished. If you deem this worthy of publicity, you are at liberty to use it.

I am, Sir, yours respectfully,
(Signed) G. BRIGGS.

THE BEST EDUCATION.—The ancient Athenians were the most intelligent community the world ever saw, and yet there were few of those who had conquered the Persians, or gazed on the Parthenon, or listened to Paracelsus, or applauded the works of Æschylus and Sophocles, who knew how to write or read. What was it that taught them to be aspiring yet practical, to be valiant, yet humane? Why, that which teaches the Englishman—the tale and the habit of every-day life, the custom of self-government, the consciousness of liberty, and the electrical transit of stirring ideas that come from the common interest in public affairs; the present constant intercourse between man and man, that frank publicity of opinion, that sympathy of united numbers which carries to the multitude every most useful and vivid thought which genius or study originates in a few. It is all this which teaches the Englishman, and gives to our people the superiority, in the real enlightenment of their common ideas and the masculine energy with which they carry their ideas into practice.—Sir Bulwer Lytton.

LAKE SUPERIOR.—The Lake Superior Journal of a recent date, gives the annexed information relative to the position and prospects of the mining business in that region.

So far as Lake Superior country is concerned, the past winter has been a season of unusual interest, and one of the most encouraging success in the iron and copper business. Every step in the progress of the mining business has been attended with the most satisfactory results; the old mines, for the most part, have been rapidly increasing the amount of their produce of copper as they have sunk deeper into their copper foundations of this region; and the new mines are everywhere bringing to light new veins and new developments. But notwithstanding this prosperity—notwithstanding the mines never looked more promising than at present, we regret to say that the prospect for a corresponding export of shipment of copper, is not so good as it was last fall. The expense of getting men to land copper from the mines, which has always been very high, is this year very much increased, and the facilities on Lake Superior for transportation have not increased in business.

This has become a serious drawback on carrying forward this business with anything like true or reasonable economy, and with the prospect of this difficulty being soon removed by the opening of this canal, we notice many disposed to rest on their oars for a time, or, at most, move carefully along, with as little outlay as possible. We have always contended that the expenses of transportation and of passage would not exceed one third of the present rates, so soon as this canal shall be completed. This truth is becoming more apparent every day, and it is a matter of so much importance to the mining interests, we do not look forward to any unusual exertions being made for the shipment of copper the present season.

THE CAUSES OF THE WAR.—The present war of Russia, were he in the highest degree civilized and humane, could not control a million of bayonets, offered by men who look to their sword as the means that must win them wealth and honour. Neither can he curb an ambitious aristocracy and a fanatic people possessed with the belief that they are destined by heaven to propagate their own peculiar creed, the only orthodox faith, and give laws to the world. Nay, the enterprise is considered by every true Muscovite as a sacred duty bequeathed to him by Peter the Great, and he believes it to be as binding upon him to execute as if it were a command from on high.—[Turkey, Russia, &c.]

THE BOY HEROES. A SKETCH OF EARLY WESTERN LIFE.

When Kentucky was an infant State and before the foot of civilization had trodden her giant forests, there lived, upon a branch of the Green river, an old hunter by the name of John Slater. His hut was upon the southern bank of the stream, and, save a small patch of some dozen acres that had been cleared by his own axe, he was shut up by dense forests. Slater had two children at home with him—two sons, Philip and Daniel—the former fourteen and the latter 12 years of age. His elder children had gone south. His wife was with him, but she had been several years an almost helpless cripple from the effects of rheumatism.

It was early in the spring, and the old hunter had just returned from Columbia, where he had been to carry the produce of the winter's labour, which consisted mostly of furs. He had received quite a sum of money and had brought it home with him. The old man had for several years been accumulating money, for civilization was gradually approaching him, and he meant that his children should have a start on farm terms with the world.

One evening just as the family were sitting down to their frugal supper, they were attracted by a sudden howling of the dogs, and as Slater went to the door to see what the matter was, he saw three men approaching his hut.

He quickly quieted the dogs, and the strangers approached the door. They asked for something to eat, and also for lodging for the night. John Slater was not the man to refuse a request of that kind, and he asked the strangers in. They set their rifles behind the door, unsling their packs, and room was made for them at the supper table. They represented themselves as travellers bound farther west, intending to cross the Mississippi in search of a new settlement.

The new comers were far from being agreeable or prepossessing in their looks, but Slater took no notice of the circumstance, for he was not one to doubt any man. The boys, however, did not like their appearance at all, and quick glances which they gave each other told their feelings. The hunter's wife was not at the table, but she sat in her great easy chair by the fire.

Slater entered into conversation with the guests, but they were not very free, and after while the talk dwindled to occasional questions. Philip the elder of the two, noticed that the men cast uneasy glances about the room, and he watched them narrowly. His fears had become excited, and he could could not rest. He knew that his father had a large sum of money in the house, and his first thought was that these men were there for the purpose of robbery.

After the supper was over, the boys quickly cleared off the table, and then they went out of doors. It had become dark, or rather night had fairly set in, for there was a bright moon two thirds full shining down upon the forest.

"Daniel," said Philip, in a low whisper at the same time casting a look over his shoulder, "what do you think of these 'ere men?"

"I'm afraid they are bad ones," returned the younger boy.

"So am I. I believe they mean to steal father's money. Didn't you notice how they looked round?"

"Yes."

"So did I. If we should tell father what we think, he would only laugh at us and tell us we were perfect scarecrows."

"But we can watch 'em."

"Yes, we will watch 'em; but do not let them know it."

The boys held some further consultation, and then going to the house, they set the small door back, so that the hounds might spring forth if they were wanted. If they had suspected to speak with their father about their desires, they had no chance, for the strangers set close by him all the evening.

At length, however, the old man signified his intention of retiring; and arose to go out of doors to see the state of affairs without. The three followed him, but they did not take their weapons! The old lady was asleep in the chair. "Now," whispered Philip, "let's take two of father's rifles up to bed; we may want them. We are as good as men with the rifle."

Daniel sprang to obey, and quickly as possible the boys slipped two rifles from their pockets behind the chimney, and then hastened back and emptied the priming from the strangers' rifles, and when their father and the strangers returned, they had resumed their seats.

The hunter's cabin was divided into two apartments on the ground floor, one of them in the end of the building being the old man's sleeping room, and the other the room in which the company at present sat. Overhead there was a sort of scaffolding, reaching only half way over the large room below it, and in the opposite end of the building from the little sleeping apartment of the hunter, a rough ladder led up to the scaffolding, and on it, close up to the gable end, was the boys' bed. There was no partition at the edge of this scaffolding, but it was all open to the room below.

Spare bedding was spread upon the floor of the kitchen for the three travellers, and after everything had been arranged for their comfort, the boys went up to their bed, and the old man retired to his little room.

The two boys thought not of sleep, or if they did it was only to avoid it. Half an hour had passed away, and they could hear their father snore. Then they heard a movement from those below. Philip crawled silently to where he could peep down through a crack, and saw one of the men open his pack, from which he took several pieces of raw meat by the rays of the moon, and moving towards the window he shoved the sash back, and threw the pieces of flesh to the dogs. Then he went back to his bed and laid down.

At first the boy thought that this might be thrown to the dogs only to distract their attention; but when the man laid down, the idea of poison flashed through Philip's mind. He whispered his thoughts to his brother. "The first impulse of little Daniel, as he heard that his poor dogs were to be poisoned, was to cry out, but a sudden pressure from the hand of his brother kept him silent."

At the end of the boys' bed there was a dark window, a small square door, and as it was directly over the dogs' house, Philip resolved to go down and save the dogs. The undertaking was a dangerous one; for the least noise would arouse the villagers—and the consequences might be fatal. But Philip Slater found himself strong in heart, and he determined on the trial. His father's life might be in his hands! This thought was a tower of strength in itself.

Philip opened the window without moving from his bed, and it swung upon its hinges without noise. Then he threw off the sheet, and tied the corner of it to the staple by which the window was hooked. The sheet was then lowered on the outside, and carefully the brave boy let himself out upon it. He enjoined his brother not to move until then he should noiselessly down. The hounds had just found the meat, and they showed back at their young master's beck, and Philip gathered the flesh all up. He easily quieted the faithful brutes, and then he quickly tied the meat up in the sheet. There was a light ladder standing near the dog house, and setting this up against the building, Philip made his way back to his little loft, and when once safely there he pulled the sheet in after him.

The strangers had not been aroused, and with a beating heart the boy thanked God.

He had performed an act simple in itself, at which many a stout heart would have quailed. The dogs growled as they went back into their kennel, and if the strangers heard them, they thought the poor animals were growling over the repast they had found.

At length the hounds ceased their noise, and all was quiet. An hour passed away and so did another. It must have been nearly midnight when the men moved again, and the lad Philip saw the rays of a candle flash up through the cracks of the floor on which stood his bed. He would have moved to the crack where he could peep down, but at that moment he heard a step upon the ladder. He uttered a quick whisper to his brother, and they lay perfectly still. The fellow seemed to be perfectly satisfied that they were asleep, for he soon returned to the ground floor, and then Philip crept to the crack. He saw the men take knives, and he heard them whispering:

"We'll kill the old man and woman first," said one of them, "and then we'll hunt the money. If those little brats up there (pointing to the scaffolding) wake up, we can easily take care of them."

"But we must kill them all," said another of the villains.

"Yes," returned the speaker, "but the young one first; they may make a noise and start the old man up."

Philip's heart beat with horror.

"Down the ladder outside, quick!" he whispered to his brother. Run for the front door and throw it open—it isn't fastened! O do let the dogs into the house as quick as you can. I'll look out for father while you go."

Daniel quickly crawled out through the little window, and Philip seized a rifle and crept to the head of the scaffold. Two of the villains were just approaching the door of his father's room. They had set the candle down on the floor so that its light would fall into the bed room as the door was opened. Philip drew the hammer of his rifle back, and rested the muzzle upon the edge of the boards. One of the men had his hand upon the latch. The boy hero uttered a single word of heart-felt prayer, and then he pulled the trigger. The robber whose hand was upon the latch uttered one sharp quick cry, and then fell upon the floor. For an instant the two remaining villains were confounded, but they quickly comprehended the nature and position of their enemy, and they sprang for the ladder. They did not reach it however, for at that instant the outer door was flung open and the hounds—four in number—sprang into the house. With a deep yell, the animals leaped upon the assassins, and they had drawn them upon the floor, just as the old hunter came from his room—

"Help us! help us! father," cried Philip as he hurried down the ladder. "I've shot one of them! They are murderers!—Robbers! Hold 'em! hold 'em! the boy continued clapping his hands to the dogs. Old Slater comprehended the nature of the scene in a moment, and sprang to the place where the hounds had the two men on the floor.

The villains had both lost their knives, and the dogs had so wounded them that they were incapable of resistance. With much difficulty the animals were called off, and then the two men were lifted to a seat. There was no need of binding them, for they needed some more restorative agent, as the dogs had made quick work in disabling them.

After they had been looked to, the old man cast his eyes about the room. "They rested a moment upon the body of him who had been shot, and then turned upon the boys," Philip told him all that had happened. It seemed some time before the old hunter could crowd the whole seeming truth through his mind; but as he gradually comprehended it all, a soft, grateful, proud light, broke over his features, and he held his arms out to his sons.

"Noble, noble boys!" he uttered as he clasped them to his bosom. "God bless you for this!—O, I dreamed not that you had such hearts!"

For a long time the old man gazed on his boys in silence; while tears of love and gratitude rolled down his cheeks, and his whole face was lighted up with the most joyous, happily pride.

Long before daylight, Philip mounted the horse and started for the nearest settlement, and early in the forenoon the officers of justice had the two wounded men in charge, while the body of the third was removed. They were recognized by the officers as criminals of notoriety; but this was their last venture, for the justice they had so long outraged fell upon them and stopped their career.

Should any of our readers chance to pass down the Ohio river I beg they will take notice of a large white mansion that stands upon the southern bank with a wide river park in front of it, and situated some eight miles west of Oakesboro. Ask your steamboat captain who lives there, and he will tell you, "Philip Slater & Brother, noted flour merchants." They are the Boy Heroes of whom I have been writing.

WHAT IS THE HARDEST MODE TO DIE.

To be shot dead is one of the easiest modes of terminating life; yet rapid as it is, the body has leisure to feel and reflect. On the first attempt by one of the fanatic adherents of Spain, to assassinate William, Prince of Orange, who took the lead in the revolt of the Netherlands the ball passed through the bones of the face and brought him to the ground. In the instant that precedes stupefaction, he was able to frame the notion that the ceiling of the room had fallen and crushed him.

The cannon shot which plunged into the brain of Charles the XII, did not prevent him from seizing his sword by the hilt. The idea of an attack and the necessity of defence was pressed on him by a blow which we should have supposed too tremendous to leave an interval for thought. But it by no means follows that the infliction of fatal violence is accomplished by a pang. From what is known of the first effect of gun shot wounds, it is probable that the impression is rather stunning than acute. Unless death be immediate, the pain is as varied as the nature of the injuries, and these are past counting.

But there is nothing singular in the dying sensation, though Lord Byron remarked the physiological peculiarity that the expression is invariably languor, while in death from a stab the countenance reflects the traits of natural character, of gentleness or ferocity, to the last breath.

The order of the Sons of Temperance is fast spreading in California.

Arrival of the "ASIA."

THREE DAYS LATER FROM ENGLAND.

New York, July 13.—The Asia arrived last night. The Czar's official reply to Austria is expected on the 3d of July.

The Russians were falling back on the Pruthi, in good order.

Admiral Napier's fleet was near Cronstadt.

Bombersund on the Baltic, has been bombarded, and partially destroyed.

Austria is preparing to march 100,000 troops into the Principalities, thus interposing a barrier to further hostilities; this it is supposed, will entirely change the plan of war.

Interesting debates have taken place in Parliament on the Fishery Treaty and the Canadian Elective Legislative Council Bill.

Markets.—Breadstuffs were depressed. 1s. to 1s. 6d. decline in Flour; Corn 2s. Sugar and Tea quiet. Provisions were active. Consols 94.

By Telegraph.

To St. Andrews Reading Room.

July 18th, 1854.
Franklin from Southampton 5th inst. went ashore yesterday off Montauk—one hundred and sixty passengers—eight hundred tons merchandise.

Passengers and mails arrived at New York this morning. The Franklin remains in a dangerous position.

In reply to Austrian note, Czar declares he will fight to the last ruble and last man. Twenty thousand Austrians entered Moldavia. No other important movement.

Formidable insurrection in Madrid under General O'Donnell head of four thousand insurgents—reports indefinite.

Markets.—Liverpool Flour six pence to nine pence decline.

A letter in the Liverpool Times represents St. Petersburg as strangely altered in its appearance since the Turkish War commenced. Everything looks very gloomy in doors and out of doors. The city, once so beautiful and full of life, is no longer to be recognized. The palaces are converted into barracks, bridges are broken down, the streets covered with tents, for more than 40,000 Bashkeers are said to have come from the governments of Orenburg and Perm, for their steppe and nomad encampments, and to have entered St. Petersburg for the protection of the city, where they make a hideous impression. But the proud magnificent guard has gone away partly to Poland, partly to Finland, and thus, in the total absence of moving life and daily intercourse, the city looks desolate.

There must soon be a reaction. We find bitter complaints in the eastern papers of the high prices of all kinds of provisions. Flour is very high; beef and pork are higher; butter and cheese are higher still; and vegetables are out of all character.

The New York papers ask how far this distressing state extends. We can respond that it extends all the way to Buffalo; and Detroit and Chicago can say the same of their localities. And what seems singular enough is the fact that there is a completely reversed order of things in this respect. Flour and beef are higher in Chicago than they are here; they are higher here than in New York, they are higher in New York than they are in Liverpool; and they are probably higher at Liverpool than they are at Constantinople. A table in the Tribune or Times, we do not now remember which, showed that the price of flour at New York was more than one dollar higher than at Liverpool. At this rate it would pay very well to ship it there and bring it back.—Buffalo Republic.

DECIMAL CURRENCY.—A proclamation in Wednesday's Canada Gazette extra, announces that the Currency Act of last Session will come into force on the first of August.

The new law sanctions the Dollar and Cent system, but retains the pound, shilling and pence at their present value.—Quebec Chronicle.

From Aspinwall.—British War Steamers in search of Privateers!—A correspondent of the Panama Star and Herald, writing from Aspinwall, under date of June 25th, says:—

Allow us to make you aware of the fact that the steam ship of war Argus, Commander Parry, anchored here yesterday morning, and sailed, or steamed, this morning for Jamaica. Her object in coming to these parts was for the purpose of conveying the steamer Dec, as two privateers are said to be lurking about in these latitudes. Unluckily she arrived a few hours too late. We hear that the Devastation is to come for the express purpose of conveying the Teviot on her homeward trip.

A Dreadful Railroad Accident occurred on the Susquehanna road about nine miles from Baltimore, on the 4th inst., between an excursion train and the regular passenger train. The locomotive attached to the excursion train was behind, pushing the cars; that attached to the other train was in front, and literally plowed its way into the cars, loaded with passengers, in front.

About half a dozen cars were crushed and shivered to atoms, and a large number of their unhappy inmates either killed upon the spot or dreadfully injured.

Several of those killed and wounded were so caught in the wreck of the broken cars, that they could not be released for a considerable time.

On all the platforms of the wrecked cars the destruction of life and limbs was immense and the cars being so closely wedged together it was utterly impossible for more than an hour to relieve any of them, although the screams of the sufferers caused the most superhuman exertions for their succor.

The number of killed was twenty eight, and several of the wounded were not expected to recover.

The Railroad company are greatly censured as the accident was no doubt caused by carelessness.

The only public demonstration on the 4th of July in Philadelphia was made by the democratic party. No notice whatever was taken of the anniversary by the whig party or any of the organizations affiliated with it.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

The Steamship George Law, with the California mails of June 15, and $1,150,000 in specie, arrived at New York Monday 10th inst.

The California news is of but little importance. The markets were dull and unchanged. Serious disturbances have taken place in San Francisco growing out of recent decisions adverse to Squatter rights. The harvest has commenced, and the yield is unusually abundant. A man named Richie has been hung for stealing mules!

Dates from Sandwich Islands are to the 23d of May, and from Oregon to the 10th of June.

A Russian frigate was at anchor at Honolulu, and the British ship of war Trincomealer, 32 guns, had arrived, and quietly anchored alongside the Russian ship. The Diana afterwards sailed for Sika.

The King had issued a proclamation proclaiming neutrality in the war now impending between the great maritime powers of Europe.

To the Editor of the Standard.—

SIR,—I observe in the St. John's Morning News, of the 17th inst., a letter signed "Julius Thompson," purporting to explain the manner of electing the President of the Railroad Board. I regret exceedingly that in a small community like this, that such little matters should be made public; what boots it, whether two, five or nine, elected a man to office, unanimously. It appears to me, Messrs. Wilson and Frye and the Colonel himself, had a perfect right to vote as they thought proper, and further they what ever made use of the word "unanimously" did so in its true sense and meaning, according to the best English dictionaries, viz: "with one mind." I should imagine that the writer alluded to was not actuated with a desire to give the Public "correct information," but to gratify private spleen, smacking perhaps under reproach. I notice he complains of your not inserting his letter without being paid for it; allow me to say I think you acted properly, as it was personal and private matter, with which the Public generally had nothing to do. As evidence of my opinion, that personal matter should be paid for, I beg to enclose an amount sufficient to defray the expense of this short letter. Wishing success to the Railroad, its President and Directors, beg to subscribe myself, Yours, &c.

CHARGES OF CAVALRY.—The Great Frederick won his principal battles—fifteen out of twenty-two—by cavalry charges. It was a maxim of his day, and of his army, that infantry and artillery were powerless against the mad surging wave of the Prussian horse. His two chief officers were Ziethen and Siedlitz. These two generals devoted all their thoughts to making the men good horsemen. The great point to obtain was, that they should charge at full speed for 1,000 yards without breaking their array.—This point was gained, and with it the fate of battles. In many of the contests, during the Seven Years' War, the Prussian cavalry literally swept whole armies out of the field like chaff before the wind. The arm of these horsemen was the sword—the secret of their victories, good horsemanship.—[Review of Capt. Nolan's Cavalry Tactics.]

SOLDIER'S DEATH IN BOSTON.—We understand that Mr. James Gallagher, of this city, who was on a visit to Boston on the 4th inst., was overcome by the heat, and died in a few hours. He was a warehouseman in the employ of John Kinnear, Esq., and bore an excellent character. He leaves a wife and family.—[Courier.]

Freeman Murray, Esq., who lately sold out his commission of Lieutenant Colonel of the 72d Regiment, and retired from the Garrison of Halifax, is appointed Lieutenant Governor of Bermuda.—[Ib.]

EXTRAORDINARY SHORT PASSAGE.—The Collins steamer Baltic, Capt. Comstock, arrived at New York on Friday night quite unexpectedly. The Baltic on this passage made the quickest trip that has ever been made. She left Liverpool at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of June 28th; passed Cape Race at 8 o'clock on the evening of July 4th. At half past 9 o'clock on the morning of the 7th passed the light ship on Nanuet's south shoal. Same day, at 11, 43 P. M., passed Sandy Hook, and arrived off Castle Garden (Battery) Saturday morning at 15 minutes past one o'clock. This voyage was performed by steam alone, Capt. C. not having used square sails at all, and only for a few hours set the fore and aft canvass. The passage was made in nine days, twelve hours and fifteen minutes apparent, or nine days, sixteen hours and fifty-three minutes actual time, from port to port—the shortest passage ever made by one hour and fifty-two minutes.—[Boston Journal.]

GREAT CONFLAGRATION!

TRENDONOUS EXCITEMENT.

Frederick July 18, 1854.

A fire broke out this morning about half past one, in the shop of Mr. Wiley, Cabinet maker, which consumed the greater part of three blocks, between King Street and the river, north of the Temperance Hall. The loss will be very heavy.—By Telegraph to News Room.

There appears to be a considerable share of speculation abroad as to the political complexion of the new Assembly. Our brethren of the Press, are apparently desirous to form a government, according to their own peculiar views, and hardly any two agree—true there may be in some cases a "distinction without a difference"—but after all there is a little too much of "Compact Party," "Reformers," "Liberals," "Opposition," "old Tory faction" in their leaders. The constitencies have elected such men as they saw fit, we believe without calling upon them to state their political principles. From the published cards and speeches of the members elect, we are strongly inclined to the belief that a majority of the next Assembly will be Reformers—men of progress—men who will work for the benefit of the Province, and whose interests are identified with those of the people.

We are sorry to observe a mistrust, as to the political integrity of the new members, as well as some of the old. Surely no one will doubt the political honesty of Messrs. Fisher, Tilley, Brown, Connell, Ritchie, and Johnson, who have been members of the House heretofore, or others who voted with them, nor is there any necessity of calling in question the politics of some of the untried men, such as Gilmour, McAdam, McLeod, and others who declared themselves liberals. The Government even were it inclined, (which we have reason to doubt,) could not purchase such men. We like to look at the bright side of the picture, and in our humble opinion, the new House will possess the balance of power in favor of reform, progress and honesty of purpose.

From a rumour abroad, which we copied into our columns, it appears that the Governor of the Province, Sir Edmund Head, is soon to leave it. It would be just as well, perhaps, if he would take with him the tail of his government, they might more easily fill their pockets in another Province.

It is really laughable to hear the remarks of some would be critics, who are fond of measuring others abilities according to their own ideas,—persons who never were accused of writing ten lines of plain English on any subject; and yet have the effrontery to assert such a one wrote this article, or A. B. wrote the notice of C. D's lecture. Let these wiseacres beware, or perhaps it may become necessary to show up their incompetency to fill the situations which they hold.—Verbum sat Sapientia.

THE CHURCH WITNESS.—Persons who desire religious, and well conducted newspaper can obtain one, by applying to Messrs. Barnes & Co., St. John, publishers of the "Church Witness," at the low rate, of 10s. per annum. Its columns are well filled with sound information together with a summary of English and Colonial news.

British American Friendly Society of CANADA.

We notice that Mr. D. Fraser has been appointed agent for the "British American Friendly Society of Canada" in Saint Andrews.

From what we heard of this society, and of its beneficial results to those who are already its members, we are assured that too much cannot be said in its favor.

This society is equally beneficial to the poor as well as the rich, and is calculated to bring together the high minded, benevolent, and humane men of the Provinces into paternal phalanx—a brotherhood of mercy whose efforts will be felt, in every city, village, and hamlet in the Provinces.

A copy of the "Monitor," a paper printed by the society explaining its objects and advantages, can be obtained from the agent, gratis at his office.—Com.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

The Pacific arrived yesterday morning at Halifax.

As no telegraph report to News Room was received up to our going to press, we cannot give any further than—

It is reported that the Czar's reply to Austria was received—that he would evacuate Wallachia, leaving free the Danube.

It is reported that the Hon. John Manners Sutton, has been appointed Governor of New Brunswick.

Bomarsund was besieged and great battle fought, which lasted two days—Russian loss 2,000, 500 killed.

St. Arnaud and Prince Napoleon are still at Varna.

The rebellion in Greece is ended.

The garrison at Cronstadt attacked with cholera.

There was a falling off in the British revenue for Quarter ending July 3.

The Hon. JOSEPH HOWE, Chairman of the Nova-Scotia Railway Board, arrived here yesterday morning, and left by steamer for Boston.

NEW LEGISLATIVE COUNSELLOR.—Dr. GORDON of Bathurst, has been appointed by Her Majesty a member of the Legislative Council of New Brunswick.

FROM THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—A Sandwich Island dates are to May 23d. King Kamahameha had declared the neutrality of the kingdom during the present European war. The Russian frigate Diana, 60 guns, and the English corvette Trincomealer, 22 guns, were at Honolulu. The news of open war between Great Britain and Russia had not been received. The Friend says:—"It is known that other frigates besides the Diana are to rendezvous in the North Pacific, with the object, it is supposed, of interrupting English and French commerce."

DISTINGUISHED PRINTERS.—Blackstone, the distinguished jurist, was a printer; Wm. C. Bryant, the poet, was a printer; N. P. Willis, the scholar and poet, was a printer; Judge Buchanan, Judge of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, was a printer; ex-United States Senators Isaac Hill and Simon Cameron, were printers; Edwin Forrest, the American tragedian, was a devil in a printing office; Wm. Bigler, the present Governor of Pennsylvania, was a printer; and now, Louisiana has one of the brightest ornaments that ever adorned the criminal bench, and he a disciple of Gutenberg, Faust and Schaffer.—Hon. John C. Latane. The American Senate, the House of Representatives, every Legislature that has sat in this country, and every branch where the genius of intellect, soundness of judgement, and depth of profound thought have been essential, has been graced by the poor type, who once received journeyman's wages.

It appears there have been six gentlemen elected to the Mayoralty of Washington, at different periods, who were Printers by profession. Their names are Roger C. Weightman, Daniel Rappaport, Joseph Gale, Wm. W. Seaton, Peter Force, and J. T. Towner.

FROM ST. HELENA.—The New Bedford Mercury has a copy of the St. Helena Herald of May 18, which states that the Russian ship Ceteravich, of 528 tons, with 10 guns and 70 men, anchored in the roads at Saint Helena May 16. The arrival occasioned considerable speculation. The Herald says, the vessel proved to be in the employ of the Russian American Company, and the men chiefly workmen, on their return home, having fulfilled the period of their engagement in the foreign service. Of course she was suffered to pass without molestation.

FROM AUSTRALIA.—By the steamship Golden Age, at Panama, we have Melbourne dates to May 14.

The price of Gold was at £3 19s., and the demand quite active. The accounts from the mines are not favorable, and miners are leaving and seeking other business. The markets were over stocked with goods of every variety.

The warlike news from England had advanced the rate of Exchange on London from 3 to 3 1/2 per cent. on short bills.

TWO MEN DROWNED.—Two Englishmen were drowned while bathing in the pond near Fairbank's Factory in Holliston, on Sunday. Their names were William Percival, aged 20 years, and Eli Hoyle, aged 24. The latter arrived from England only the day previous. He lost a brother in law on the voyage from England by drowning.—(Boston Transcript.)

The Cholera at Barbadoes.—Advices to the 15th ult. state, that the deaths averaged four hundred a day, and that the total number of victims at that date was about five thousand.—[Ib.]

It has been rumoured for some days that our esteemed Governor, Sir Edmund Head, is soon to succeed Lord Elgin as Governor General of British North America.

Holloway's Pill for the Cure of Liver Complaints, Indigestion, and Disorders of the Stomach.—Mr. Richard Haynes, of H. M. Dock-yard, at Plymouth, had not had the enjoyment of a day's good health, for several years, constantly suffering from indigestion and liver complaint. He had the best medical advice, both from Army and Naval surgeons, but the disease yielded not to their treatment, and various remedies were tried with a like result. As a last resource he began to use Holloway's Pills, and this fine medicine has so strengthened the tone of his stomach and invigorated his constitution that he is perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

This Paper is filed, and may be seen free of charge, at Holloway's Pill and Ointment Establishment, 244, Strand, London, where Advertisements and Subscriptions will be received for this Periodical.

VALUABLE PROPERTIES FOR SALE.

THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE THE REAL ESTATE HERE—(NATIVE MENTIONED.)

A FARM situated one mile from the lower, and 7 miles from the upper Falls, on the beautiful romantic River, Maguadavic, containing about 300 acres of excellent LAND, well timbered with the usual indigenous growth, suitable for fuel, fences, ship timber, and other purposes. The River forms its Western boundary, and Lake Utopia constitutes its Eastern limits. There are on the place a convenient BARN HOUSE, Barn, and Out Houses, good fences, and about 40 acres on the front, well cleared.—The Farm is 45 miles from St. John, 20 from St. Andrews, and from Eastport, by water, about 6 leagues. The scenery on the margins of the River and Lake, and of the surrounding country, cannot be surpassed for native beauty in any other part of the Province.

A Tract of LAND, some 300 acres, fronting on the East side of Lake Utopia, situated on the highway leading from the St. John Road to Fredericton, and being about 3 miles from the Maguadavic Village. There are some 50 acres cleared and under improvement; the tract is covered with all sorts of wood common to the country, and is abundantly supplied with brooks and springs of salubrious water.

A Lot of LAND situated on the St. John Road, 5 miles from St. Andrews, about a mile from the railroad, and the beautifully cultivated and extensive improvements appertaining to J. Wilson, Esq. The Lot contains 120 acres; it fronts on Passamaquoddy Bay, where there are 30 acres cleared and cultivated; on the rear there are several Dwelling Houses, a good Barn, and other improvements.

A FARM LOT, 200 acres, on the West side of Lake Utopia, having about 30 acres under improvement; there are a House and Barn on the place, and a small Orchard, and the premises affords opportunity for the grazing of cattle and it abounds with a fine growth of wood, of all the varieties common to the country; this Lot is on its front bounded by the lake shore, and is in immediate proximity to the most famous trout streams.

Also, a small LOT of LAND, about 30 acres, on the North East side of the Digdiggunsh River, near to the Episcopal Church, being part of a farm belonging to Alexander Cockburn.

A liberal time will be given for the payment of the purchase money, 4, 5, or 6 years, in annual payments, one fifth of the amount only will be required at the time of sale.

Apply by letter, or otherwise, directed to the subscriber, Maguadavic.

R. STOKR & CO.,

BEG respectfully to inform the Inhabitants of St. Andrews and its vicinity, that they have taken the Store in Water-street, immediately opposite the Post Office, and that they have OPENED IT UNDER THE ABOVE TITLE

MAGNIFICENT & MOST EXTENSIVE STOCK OF DRY GOODS, of every description.

The Subscribers have been induced to take this step from a conviction that the people of St. Andrews have hitherto enjoyed these advantages for buying goods from a LARGE, WELL ASSORTED, AND FASHIONABLE Stock, that the extent and importance of the place, would warrant them in expecting. With the view of affording this desideratum, a partner of this Establishment, has visited the European and American markets, and bought with great advantages, a stock of Goods, which for taste, variety, quality and CHEAPNESS, cannot be surpassed by that of any house in the Province. It would be impossible in the limits of an advertisement, to particularize, but on inspection it will be found to contain everything that is supplied by the most extensive houses in the first cities in B. N. America, from the minutest article in Haberdashery to those of the more costly character in DRESSES, SILKS, SHAWLS, VELVETS, &c. &c.

Particular attention has been paid to the Woollen department, which will contain every novelty of the season, together with a large supply of BROADCLOTHS, DOESKINS, CASSIMERES, &c.

with a full assortment of Linings, trimmings &c. In making this announcement we trust the public will encourage us in this undertaking and we pledge ourselves to carry on this business in a spirit of liberality and continue to offer to purchasers advantages which will have no doubt be appreciated. The above will be disposed of for Cash.

THE ALL-HEALING REMEDY!!!

Holloway's Ointment.

A most astonishing cure of Scrofulous Ulcers—a case certified by the Mayor of Boston.

Copy of a letter from J. Noble, Esq., Mayor of Boston, Lincolnshire. To Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—Mrs. Sarah Dixon, of Ligon-pood street, Boston, has this day deposed before me, that for a considerable time she was severely afflicted with Scrofulous Sores and Ulcers in her arms, feet, legs, and other parts of her body: and although the first of medical advice was obtained, at the cost of a large sum of money, she obtained no abatement of suffering, but gradually grew worse.

Being recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, she procured a small pot, and a box of the Pills, and before that was all used, symptoms of amendment appeared. By persevering with the medicines for a short time longer, according to the directions, and strictly adhering to your rules as to diet, &c., she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

I remain, dear Sir, your's truly, (Signed) J. NOBLE.

Dated August 12th, 1852.

An extraordinary and rapid cure of Erysipelas in the leg, after medical aid had failed.

Copy of a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Yeates, of the Post Office, Aldwick Road, near B-guor, Sussex, dated Jan. 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I suffered for a considerable period from a severe attack of Erysipelas, which at length settled in my leg, and resisted all medical treatment. My sufferings were very great, and I quite despaired of any permanent, when I was advised to have recourse to your Ointment and Pills. I did so without delay, and am happy to say the result was eminently successful, for they effected a radical cure of my leg, and restored me to the enjoyment of health. I shall ever speak with the utmost confidence of your medicines, and have recommended them to others in this neighbourhood similarly afflicted, who derived equal benefit.

I am, Sir, your obliged and faithful servant, (Signed) ELIZABETH YEATES.

A dreadfully diseased Ankle cured after being given up by the Faculty at Malta and Portsmouth Hospitals.

The following important communication has been forwarded to Professor Holloway for publication, by Mr. B. Dixon, Chemist, King St. Norwich.

Copy of a letter from Captain Smith, of Great Yarmouth, dated January 19, 1853 To Mr. Dixon.

Dear Sir,—I send you the particulars of a cure effected by Professor Holloway's invaluable medicines.—Mr. John Walton, late in Her Majesty's Service, in the British fleet at Malta, had a very bad ulcerated ankle, and after being in the Malta Hospital for six months, was sent to England as an invalid to Portsmouth Hospital, where he remained an inmate four months, there, as at Malta, refusing to have the limb amputated, he was turned out incurable. He then came to Yarmouth, and was under a medical gentleman for about three months, but his ankle became so much worse that all hope was lost. At this period, by my advice he tried Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which by unremitted application, healed all the ulcers, and restored him to perfect health and strength.

I remain, dear Sir, your's very truly, (Signed) JOHN SMITH. Albert Hotel, Great Yarmouth.

Surprising cure of a bad Breast, Nervous Debility, and general ill health.

Copy of a letter from Mr. T. F. Ker, Chemist, &c., Lower Moss Lane, Manchester, dated Feb'y 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in forwarding to you the particulars of a very extraordinary cure of a bad breast, effected solely by the use of your celebrated Ointment and Pills. Mrs. Martha Bell, of Pitt street, in this town, had been for a considerable time labouring under nervous debility, loss of appetite, and general ill health, occasioned by ulcerated sores in the breast. She had much experience in the use of all the known remedies for the cure of ulcers, but without any beneficial result, in fact she had nearly lost all faith and hope of a cure being effected. In this distressing and painful condition of body and mind, she was persuaded to have recourse to your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which she immediately did, and in the course of a very short time the effect produced was most astonishing; her appetite was speedily improved, the sores and ulcers in the breast gradually healed, and the nervous excitement of her system was wholly removed.

I remain, dear Sir, your's faithfully, (Signed) T. FORSTER KER.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs, Chiefo-foot, Chilblains, Corns (soft), Chapped hands, Cancers, Contracted and Stiff Joints, Fistulas, Glandular Swelling, Lumbago, Piles, Rheumatism, Scalds, Sores Nipples, Yaws.

Sold at the Establishment of Professor Holloway, 241, Strand, (near Temple Bar) London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the Civilized World, in Pots, at 1s. 4d., 5s. and 5s. 6d. each.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder, are affixed to each Pot.

Sold by all Vendors of Medicines throughout New Brunswick, and by A. H. Thompson, St. Stephen; Billings & Dyer, Esquiport, and

ON THE
Philosophy of Marriage and the Secret Influences of Youth and Maturity.
With fifty Coloured Engravings on Steel.
In a Sealed Envelope, price 2s. 6d. sterling.
SELF PRESERVATION: an Analytical Investigation of the Physiology and Functions of Marriage, in all the bearings in which that important subject affects the health and happiness of man, with its disqualifications, and impediments, tracing their origin to the effects of juvenile solitariness, youthful excess, tropical climates, or close study; followed by practical remarks, founded on twenty years experience in the treatment of impotence, nervous debility, local weakness, spermatorrhoea, syphilis, and all diseases of the urinary and generative system. Illustrated by fifty Coloured Engravings on the anatomy of the reproductive organs and their relative conditions in health and disease. By SAMUEL LA'MERT, M. D., No. 37, Bedford-square, London, Doctor of Medicine, Matriculated Member of the University of Edinburgh, Honorary Member of the London Hospital Medical Society, Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, London, &c.
The essential object of this treatise is to point out, the fearful consequences resulting from certain habits, irregularities and excesses, which have produced more misery in youth, degradation in manhood, and premature decay at all stages of life, than perhaps, any other class of disease known to modern pathologists. Its perusal is particularly recommended to persons entertaining secret doubts of their physical conditions, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness, and privileges to which every human being is entitled. The contents embrace the origin, effects, prevention and treatment of the deplorable catalogue of maladies connected with nervous debility, exhaustion of the vital energies, prostration of mental and physical capacity local and general weakness, acute and chronic spermatorrhoea, and their end less modifications. The treatment adopted is founded on experience gained in the most celebrated schools of medicine, and by the most eminent practitioners, both in Great Britain and in Continental Europe. Every peculiarity relating to the physiology, pathology, and general treatment of the diseases incidental to the generative system is clearly explained, and the means of immediate relief and ultimate cure described in detail. The professional reputation of Dr. La'Mert, who has taken the most distinguished medical and academic honours, at home and abroad, is in itself a sufficient guarantee that those who may place themselves under his care will, in every instance meet with that delicate consideration and inviolable secrecy which are so requisite in the treatment of these cases.

"CAUTION.—In consequence of the extensive sale of this work, which has now attained its sixtieth edition, several spurious and imperfect copies are in circulation. New Publishing
By JOHN TALLIS & CO. OF LONDON
THE LIFE AND TIMES OF THE LATE
Duke of Wellington:
By Lieut. Col. Williams; (a Companion in Arms, of His Grace.)
Comprising the Campaigns and Battle-Fields of Wellington and his Comrades, the Political Life of the Duke and his Contemporaries, and a detailed account of England's Battles by Sea and Land, from the commencement of the Great French Revolution to the present time, interspersed with Anecdotes, Personal Incidents, and Adventures, &c.
ADDRESS.
The earthly career of Arthur Duke Wellington has closed; one of the greatest men of the nineteenth century, the foremost military commander of any age has paid the debt of nature. The time has not arrived for giving to the world a History of the Great Captain—of the Events of his Life and Time—a life marked by patriotism, probity and honour, and events the greatest which have ever agitated the civilized world, and whose influence will be felt upon society till the end of time. Such a work must appeal to the best and proudest feelings in the heart of every Briton—the glory of his country, the honour of his name and position among the nations—may his own existence as a freeman, are recorded and engraven in the annals of the "well-fought fields," and the deadly imminent breaches, the immortal battles and the glorious sieges in which Wellington and his Companions in arms gathered undying laurels, placed their country's honour and renown on the highest pinnacle of fame and glory, and tore the victor's wreath from the brows of heroes decorated with the trophies of Italy, Egypt, and Germany.
To supply such a desideratum in English literature, the publishers of The Life and Times of the Duke of Wellington have determined to produce a work which shall present to the reader, not only the dry details which a mere biographical sketch would afford, but a comprehensive work, embracing the contemporary history of the period; exhibiting the circumstances in which he fought about the great events in which the Duke and his contemporaries were engaged, and giving to the reader a connected narrative of the lives and actions of the Warriors and Statesmen of the nineteenth century; and this from the pen of one who was a companion in arms of the great hero, and participated with him in many a well-fought field.
In order to carry out their views, the Publishers have determined that the work shall be profusely illustrated by Portraits of the Warriors and Statesmen of the last half century who have shed a lustre upon the history of their country; also representations of the most important engagements by sea and land from the period of 1780 till 1832; so that the work, when finished, shall form an illustrated Gallery of the Naval and Military Exploits of England.
It has been well said, "Character is the true strength of nations; true glory their best inheritance. When the time shall come that the British heart no longer thrill at the names of Cressy, Poitiers, Agincourt, Blenheim, Ramilies, Oudenard, Malpique; of Talavera, Salamanca, Temora, Waterloo,—the last four of the British Empire will be struck." The promotion and elevation of national spirit and feeling is therefore the duty and interest of every true and loyal son of England. May Heaven inspire the hearts of every one of us with that spirit and feeling.
"Conditions of Publication.—The work will be issued on the 1st and 15th of every month, in Paris at 1s. 3d. and Divisions handsomely bound at 9s. 4d. printed on Imperial 8vo. double columns, each part will be embellished by two highly finished steel Engravings, and will contain 32 pages of text, press. A beautiful steel Engraving, 12 by 18 inches, the storming of Seringapatam, the first victory in which the late Duke of Wellington was engaged in India, to every subscriber to the work.
