Then a curve ruffled Green's shirt-front, and Mr. Green skeddadeled to first, "Startzell does not Startwell," said a crank but the crowd was too excited to put him out. McElroy came to bat, and then followed the rarest phenomenon on the home grounds-a triple play. McElroy hit a grounder to Sippi, who threw to Ward at second. Ward cut off Green, and drove the ball t Gunther, retiring McElroy. In the meantime Vigneaux was making for the plate as fast as his short legs coul carry him. Gunther wheeled aroun and threw to Snider, who caught fiant sport, which had retired the whole side when one or more runs Toronto...

In the second and third innings the and Casey. Leafs amused the crowd by knocking little pop flys to the infield, three of them dropping in Ward's mit.

In the fourth it looked as if they had solved the delivery of the Buffalo pitcher, but it was probably accidental. Green singled and McEvoy struck out, much to the satisfaction of the grand stand. Then O'Brien, Fisher Providence.

THE HAMS WIN ANOTHER. Hamilton, Ont., June 21.—The Hamilton ball team defeated Toronto in a very uninteresting game at Dundurn 1:02½. Alice Farley, Katie H., and 700 spectators. McGemwell went into the box for the visitors, but he had no control of the ball whatever, and after giving seven or eight batters their bases on balls, and forcing in a couple of runs, he was replaced by Hardy. and city officials.

The route from the market square to Princess rink was west on King street to Ridout street, north to Dundas street, east to Maitland street, thence to Queen's avenue, and to the rink. Over a thousand society men were in line, double file, and the moving procession was more than five blocks long. It was the largest society church parade ever held in London, and so many men in brilliant regalia, and marching in good order, presented an appearance that will be long rebered by the thousands who view-

Sage, B.A., of St. George's Church, took charge of the service, which began at 4:20 by the singing of the doxology, followed by reading and prayer. The most remarkable feature of the memorable service was Lon-don's share in rolling the National Anthem through the British colonies around the world. Starting on the Fiji Islands at 4 p.m., sun time, which, in this city, would be exactly as the clock National Anthem was sung continuously in British possession as the hour of 4 o'clock, sun time, arrived. At the appointed time, 4:26, standard time, the gathering in this city sang the grand old anthem with expressive fervor. The choir of 300 voices and the Seventh Band, under Director Roselle Pococke, led, and nearly 4,000 voices joined in the singing with fervor. It was a thrilling moment, and the patriotic

Sixty years have passed away since Queen Victoria came to the throne. Sixty years ago a young noble woman awakened to be told that she was Queen of the realm of England. Her antly between Saxon and Scott have long since ceased to be. The sons of first impulse, like that of the youthful Colomon, was for divine guidance. The thought which oppressed her soul was that which perplexed the wisest of Israel's kings: "Who can judge this, thy people, that is so great?" She turned to the official deputation, who can be turned to the official deputation, who who were the same battlefields, and have side by side founded colonies, which are a common heritage. As for our brothers, the sons and grandsons of the battlefield of the same battlefields, and have side by side upon the same battlefields, and have side by side founded colonies, the sons and grandsons our brothers, the sons and grandsons of the color of the United Kingdom side the honor of the United Kingdo brought her tidings of her high honors, and, addressing the Archbishop of Canterbury, said: "I beg your grace to pray with me." So at the dawn of June 20, 1837, while the birds sang their morning song in Kensington Gardens without, the reign of Victoria I. was inaugurated with prayer. This was a fitting initial act for a sovereign, who has acknowledged God in all her ways has acknowledged God in all her ways for three score years. She has realized the fulfillment of the inspired promise, "A woman that feareth the Lord shall be praised." A year later, June 28, 1838, the crown was placed upon her head at Westminster Abbey, the coronation place of England's kings, and the sleeping ground of her mighty dead. There she was proclaimed "the undoubted Queen of the realm," and a Bible was received by her in token that her rule would be in accordance with the will of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. His aid can make the weakest strong, and the most inexperienced wise. Carlyle wrote of her from which an archangel might well think." Behind her were the everlasting arms, which have shaped the destinies of this nation for more than a thousand years. "Thire, O. Lord is the definite marks of God's footsteps history. Great Jubilee Celebration by the School Children.

Lucan, June 19 .- In response to a request recently made by the minister f education with regard to the ob servance of a holiday in honor of her Majesty's reign of 60 years on the British throne, the public school teachers and pupils set to work in real arnest to make the afternoon of June 18 one to be long remembered by the Lucan and vicinity. magnificent programme was prepared by the children, and invitations were extended to the high school teachers and pupils, and to the public generally. The town hall was tastefully decorated with bunting and evergreens, and ooked charming in its new dress. Above the front entrance conspicuously hung two Union Jacks, between which lay proudly the emblem of our land, a cluster of maple leaves. Over the opposite door was erected an arch of maple leaves and branches, under which were entwined the shamrock, rose, thistie and lily flower of France, to correspond with a song in the programme entitled, "Canada, the Land of the Maple." On the west end of the room hung a magnificent portrait of the Maple." On the west end of the room hung a woverarched with maple, which gave a real lustre to the scene, which gave a real lustre to the scene, which gave a real lustre to the scene, which gave a real correspond with maple, while the Union Jack of old England floated proudly over the heads of the vast concourse of people. On the whole, the teachers and children deserve great.

Fleecy clouds driftspeaker, and the large British flag which covered the temporary pulpit, set off by the green background, presented a striking picture. Rev. Canon Richardson took for his text I. Kings, i and the latter part of verse 39: "And hey blew the trumpet, and all the people cried, God save King Solomon. He said: "It was a glorious day in Israel when that trumpet was blown, and when the armies of the Lord joined in that prayerful shout. Saul's rebellious term of office had expired; a new era was about to dawn upon the nation, and the eyes of the great majority of the people turned to David's favorite son. They went to him and told him of David's near approach. After the close of 40 years' reign the people brought him to Jerusalem; they blew the trumpet and shouted a shout that never ceased to prevail. Just 60 years ago today William IV. lay dying, and at 5 o'clock in the morning a message was carried by the primate of England to inform the youthful child of the Duke of Kent that she was to succeed to the throne of her uncle. ### QUEEN'S DIAMOND JUBILEE

The enthusiasm of trade last week has given us fresh inspiration, and today and all this week we're prepared to add to the occasion special displays and special bargains all over the Big Store.

It's really wonderful to see the crowds that congregate here from day to day. There certainly must be an attraction both in goods and prices, for the swing of trade is coming this way more than ever,

The comfort of shopping in this bright and busy store, and the convenience of finding nearly everything you want under one roof, coupled with economy in buying, makes this the great center of attraction, and headquarters for general merchandise.

But in order to further stimulate trade and add to the general enthusiasm which prevades the whole establishment, we've put forth extra exertion to make this week the busiest yet.

All our Saturday bargains will be repeated to day and additional specials will be added through the week, so that no matter when you come you'll be sure to find something new and something you haven't seen before.

A new lot of Fine French Organdie Muslins, beautiful goods, didn't arrive till Saturday afternoon, when we were too busy to open them. They are on sale now at 20c a yard, worth 30c, 35c and 40c. Don't miss them.

Also four cases Ladies' Assorted Sailor Hats (trimmed) at 25c, worth 75c and $1. And 8,000 yards Beautiful Silk Ribbons, elegant goods, half price, Specials all this week in Silk, Cashmere, Lisle Thread and Cotton Hose, also Lace Mitts, Silk and Kid Gloves.

Canadian Missionaries in the Orient -A Remarkable Scene,

The Methodist mission executive officers are much encouraged by reports of the work of the Canadian missionaries in Japan. Rev. Dr. Scott reports that 25 persons have been baptized in Tokyo during the past few months; the new church at Komagome was expected to be dedicated in May; twelve persons have been baptized at Kusakabe. The meetings at Tokyo, conducted by . Mr. and Mrs. Coates, are attended by large congregations. At one o the meetings at the tabernacle a young rose and said he was a at Tokyo when the news of the tidal wave reached him. He hastened to his home, only to find that all his relatives and home had been swept away. THE JUBILEE IN THE CHURCHES.

In all the city churches yesterday the Queen's jubilee was signalized by special sermons, special music, or special prayers—in the majority by all three. Many of the churches were prettily decorated with flowers or national colors, and in all the most fervent patriotism found expression. When in every church, Catholic and Protestant, the Queen was honored with equal enthusiasm, it would be unfair, and perhaps invidious, to single out any one service for special commendation. All pastors alike did justice to the great occasion.

The Greater Jubilee.

Sweet year of jubilee, Proclaimed with trumpet sound, Tells to the abject slave, His ransom's found.

A year of liberty, In which bondmen are free Free from oppression's power By God's decree.

A year of God's redeemed, Precious atonements cost; Begun 'midst sacrifice For sinners lost.

A year acceptable To God, as well as man, Reveals God's purpose good, His gracious plan.

On Calvary proclaimed, When Christ a world redeemed. And Satan chained.

Glad tidings to the poor. Heart-broken ones made whole. Salvation's message preached From pole to pole.

Till all the slaves of sin. Shall hear the message free; Accept the proffered grace, Glad jubilee.
