the women's efficiency has tremendously increased.

"The work we have had to do and the problems we have had to face have greatly increased our strength," she said.

Departmental superintendents for provincial work were named as follows: Evangelical, Mrs. Blanche R. Johnston, Toronto; Canadianization, Mrs. Ethel Crow, Fergus; press, Mrs. Lottie Moore, Teeswater; travelers' aid, Dr. Sara Detweiler, Kitchener; prison and police, Mrs. Jones, Toronto; exhibitions and fairs, Mrs. John Cottam, London; Canadian marine, Mrs. Wilson Taylor, Toronto; work among Indians, Mrs. B. C. Ashcroft (Howden Vale), Mrs. Shuttles (Brantford); flower mission, Mrs. Ryerson Young, Ingleton; work among colored people, Mrs. Straith, Owen Sound; citizenship, Mrs. H. M. Dettlor, North Bay; anti-narcotics, Dr. M. F. Langton, Toronto; law enforcement, Mrs. Haskett, Ottawa, and Mrs. Atkinson of Hamilton; missionary work, Mrs. S. K. McGill, Glenora; Little White Ribbons, Mrs. F. L. Thurston, Hamilton; medical contests, Miss Annie Fry, Hamilton; Miss Edna Farley, Belleville; parlor meetings, Mrs. W. W. Wylie, Ottawa; railroad work, Mrs. Dooley, Ottawa; scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. J. M. Denyes, Milton; systematic giving, Mrs. Edmund Cole, Ottawa; temperance in Sabbath schools, Mrs. Ritchie (Arner), Mrs. J. Jones (London); convener of county president, Mrs. S. G. E. McKee, North Bay; moral education, Dr. Ellen Burt Sherratt, Toronto; soldiers and militia, Mrs. Asa Gordon, Ottawa; methods of work, Mrs. Hattie Stevens, Toronto; eastern "Y," secretary, Mrs. W. J. Webster, Lansdowne; western "Y," secretary, Mrs. Wm. Klingan, Hamilton; northern "Y," secretary, Miss Marjorie A. Arden, Goderich; convener of resolutions, Mrs. C. Cameron, Toronto; convener of plans work, Mrs. U. V. Miller, Napanee.

During the morning, Miss Nettie Jones of London rendered a solo.

President Mrs. Will Pugsley gave notice of motion that at the next meeting she will move that the name of the Loyal Temperance League be changed to the Junior Citizens Temperance League.

At this morning's session, Dr. Charles Trumbull of Philadelphia conducted a consecration service.

Mrs. T. Dooley of Ottawa presented a report on "Railroad Work," and Mrs. John Cottam of London the report on "Exhibitions and Fairs."

The report of the resolutions committee which will be presented at Friday's session of the annual meeting of the Ontario Women's Christian Temperance Union promises to be the most interesting of the whole convention. It is expected that the members will be urged to see that in the coming election the candidates they support are pledged absolutely to the support of prohibition.

Elect New Officers.

At the afternoon session Thursday officers were elected, as follows: President, Mrs. Will Pugsley, Toronto; vice-president, Mrs. W. T. G. Brown, Ottawa; recording secretary, Mrs. George Edgcombe, Stratford; corresponding secretary, Miss Maud McKee, North Bay; "Y" secretary, Miss Luella Leary, Quebec; treasurer, Mrs. H. O. Britton, Galt; secretary, L. T. L. secretary, Mrs. L. L. L. secretary, Hamilton.

Report of Flower Mission.

A report of the work of the flower mission, in charge of Mrs. Egerton R. Young of Ingleton, was read by the secretary.

Mrs. E. Wiley of Ottawa reported on the good results that have followed parlor meetings. She recommended that every union that has not taken up the work do so.

A report of the work being done for the Canadian marine was presented by the secretary, Miss Maud McKee.

Mrs. Blanche R. Johnston of Toronto, in giving the evangelistic report, pointed out that great progress has been made during the year.

"To many conditions along the border," she said, "had become intolerable, but now, as a result of the referendum, the situation has changed. Though there are still breaches of the act there is no such prevailing note of dismay in the report as there was last year, but instead a deep thankfulness for victory achieved through prayer, and one step further taken in the bringing in of the Kingdom of God."

President Mrs. Will Pugsley read the report of the work done by the Loyal Temperance League.

Sabbath School Report.

Mrs. H. Gray of Toronto reported on temperance and Sabbath school work. Much educational work is still required, she said, and will be required until world-wide prohibition is secured.

Mrs. John Jones of London, who is in charge of Sunday school studies, gave a report on the work of her department. Continued educational work is essential among the young people, and will be until Dominion prohibition is effective.

Dr. Margaret Patterson of Toronto, reporting on "Health and Heredity," told of excellent work being done. Her report in part was as follows:

"Well Baby" Clinics.

"In several places the unions have given very material help in promoting 'well baby' clinics. The interest in health is so general and manifests itself in such practical form that one feels that at last the health conscience is making itself felt, and both statesmen and people are realizing that health is the basis of all enduring nationhood."

"Many years ago Dr. Parrell said the health of the people is the first duty of any statesman. Concern for public health is true patriotism; for it matters not how wealthy a nation may become, how great her cities, how vast the health of her people will rapidly perish and decay. Therefore, measures directed toward the preservation of human health must take precedence over all."

"These splendid sentiments are at last being put into practice. The number found to be physically unfit for military service because of their health is being remedied in childhood but had not been recognized, the many who were not properly developed because of malnutrition during the growing years, have led to the establishment of research laboratories to make a study of foods and their relation to growth. It has also led to the provision of inspection and health instruction in the schools, rural, as well as urban."

Governments See Need.

"Not only have governments recognized that the health of the people is a national asset, but they have become more active in their attempts to conserve health. Valuable work is being done by voluntary organizations, such as our own; indeed, it may be said that we have gone before and blazed the trail by educating public opinion so that it was easy for governments to follow."

"It is an accepted saying today that 'It is the right of every child to be just as healthy as knowledge can make it.' This knowledge must be spread so widely that it will reach every home and every parent or guardian of children."

"Who is in a better position than our members to scatter this knowledge and to demand that more adequate education on the care and function of the great human machine should be given in our schools? By our broad policy of co-operation with other voluntary organizations and with the governments we are doing very effective work in spreading the gospel of health and efficiency. As a health committee we must work with and stand by those teaching food values for proper nourishment is the basis of health and in these days of the world's best scholars are giving more attention to the problem of proper nourishment."

Herbert Hoover's View.

"Herbert Hoover expressed the sentiments of the most up-to-date reformer. 'The basis of all real child welfare work is health and physical development. The health of a child depends upon its receiving proper nourishment. Nothing else will properly nourish a child except milk and dairy products.'"

"From my observation of conditions, especially in rural communities, I feel that there are a great many children who are undernourished. They are not taking milk because no one knows its value or the life-long handicap under which they will suffer if they do not get this invaluable building material during the years when they are building up their bodies and constitutions. As women and home makers we are the guardians of the health of the people. 'Sisters of the world's best scholars have devoted themselves to a study of the best means of preserving health and attaining the most perfect development, both physically and mentally. It behooves us to give some time and attention to that they have found out for us in the scientific laboratory. As the light of research is turned on the problem of health and the interdependence of food and health, we realize the necessity of keeping abreast of these discoveries if we are to be true to the trust reposed in us of safeguarding the health of the people. Food is the basis of health, of life itself, and when we consider that one-third of all the money earned in the world is spent on food, surely it is a matter of national importance whether this money is spent wisely or now, in short whether it is spent for foods that feed or merely fill."

Milk a Necessary Food.

"Professor McCollum of Johns Hopkins University says: 'The people who have achieved, who have become large, strong and vigorous, who have reduced their infant mortality, who have the finest trades in the world, who have an appreciation of art, literature and music, who are leaders in science and every development of the human intellect, are the people who have used milk and its products liberally.'"

"As a people we are not using sufficient milk and dairy products for our own good. Another authority tells us that the most important factor in the gradual inauguration of a new regime over a period of fifteen years."

The long-awaited boundary line, according to an official communication, will follow the Oder River to Niechobitz, assigning 22 communes in this southern section to Germany, and 19 to Poland. The line is further traced in detail by the names of villages, the commune status in this more northern section Germany obtains 20 communes and Poland 21. North of Lissau the frontier will follow the old boundary line to the point where it joins that already fixed between Germany and Poland."

In order to insure the continuity of peaceful economic life in Upper Silesia after the partition, the council of ambassadors is urged to take measures looking toward German and Polish co-operation under the form of a general agreement.

SUFFERING FROM a fractured hip. Miss Martha Rogers, 87 years old, was admitted to Victoria Hospital at 8 o'clock Thursday night. Miss Rogers sustained her injuries when she fell down the cellar stairs at her home, 463 Central avenue.

conservation of health and child life, and this can only be done by education in regard to diet and health habits. Let us reach the parents and grown-ups as far as possible, but we can never reach them all. We can, however, through the schools reach all the children. Let us untidily insist, on proper graded instruction on health and food being taught in every public school, so that the children may be enabled to reach the highest state of development during the years when they are preparing for their life work, and by understanding the needs of the body, may be able to supply them, and thus retain their efficiency and usefulness over a longer period of life."

"A noted scientist has told us that as a people we could retain the characteristics of youth for at least fifteen years longer if we used more leafy vegetables and more milk. Now that we have banished the whiskey bottle let us introduce the milk bottle, and help to make of Canada the finest nation in the whole British Empire."

Urges Health Education.

"Let us create a desire for education in regard to health and the things necessary to maintain health. Awaken public opinion, so that the Government will be obliged to make provision for practical health teaching and follow up work throughout the country. Let us work with and through every organization that is doing health work, and above all let us be helped by distributing all the health publications gotten out by the Government, and uphold in every way we can the hands of those who are trying to conserve health."

"Let us work for the establishment of health centres, of well baby clinics, where mothers can have expert supervision and advice. Let us make it our slogan 'a baby book in every home and everyone interested in learning how to keep the human machine efficient.' Let us act on the splendid advice of Cardinal Gibbons: 'Expect great things of ourselves, our fellow women, our country and our God.'"

An appeal for support for the work being done among the lumbermen and shantymen was made by Thomas Joplin.

Mrs. Wright Speaks.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, the Dominion president, gave a brief address emphasizing the need of work among the foreigners. In Toronto one out of every ten of the population is a foreigner, she pointed out. The same percentage obtains in Montreal, and in Winnipeg it is higher, being one in three.

At luncheon on Thursday the delegates were given an official welcome on behalf of the chamber of commerce by Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown of the Western University. During the afternoon they were taken for a motor ride about the city.

Worry is Black Sin.

Thursday night in St. Andrew's Church, Dr. Charles G. Trumbull of Philadelphia, editor of the School Times, gave an address on "The Victorious Life," emphasizing the idea that the Christian life is the victorious life, and makes for peace, joy and happiness. Worry, he declared, is a black sin, and a sin which makes God a liar if given way to, as all have His promise that He will take care of them. The gospel, he said, takes the worry out of life.

British War Hero Arrives in New York On Aquitania.

New York, Oct. 21.—Escorted by a squadron of United States destroyers which picked the liner Aquitania up before dawn off Ambrose lightship, Admiral Beatty of the British navy arrived here today as the guest of the American Legion.

The batteries of forts Hamilton and Wadsworth thundered a salute of 19 guns as the liner bearing the commander of the Grand Fleet during the war slipped past on her way to Quarantine. Admiral and Lady Beatty were greeted at Quarantine by United States naval and army officials and representatives of the American Legion and the state and municipal governments, and taken off on the navy cutter Vigilant.

The Vigilant was scheduled to land at the Battery shortly before noon when the visitors were escorted to City Hall to receive formal greetings from Governor Miller and Mayor Hylan.

During their stay in New York Admiral and Lady Beatty will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field, hosts of the world's best scholars at the formal welcome, Admiral Beatty planned to remain in New York on Oct. 28, going thence to Kansas City, where the American Legion convention, which the admiral is to address. After the convention Admiral Beatty will go to Washington, where he is to serve in an advisory capacity to the British delegation at the important conference.

Rear-Admiral Hugh Redman, who commanded the United States squadron as a unit of Admiral Beatty's Grand Fleet during the war, will act as official aide to the British sea hero during his stay here.

Plebiscite Area Is Divided by League Council.

Paris, Oct. 20.—The decision of the council of the League of Nations on the Upper Silesian question was made public here today, and divides the plebiscite area into almost two equal parts between Poland and Germany, as to the number of communes, and provides administrative machinery for the gradual inauguration of a new regime over a period of fifteen years.

"THE NAUGHTY WIFE" STILL DRAWS CROWD

Grew Players At Majestic Continue Clever Comedy.

"The Naughty Wife," a comedy in three acts presented by the William A. Grew players at the Majestic Theatre, again attracted a capacity audience, beginning the second half of the week's run.

The play, unique in many ways, is full of color and snappy, yet could not offend the most fastidious person. All the actors are deserving of special mention, each playing his or her role to perfection.

The play deals with a young married woman who falls in love with a young man, who induces her to elope with him. The young woman's husband arrives on the scene unexpectedly, and instead of preventing the elopement, is quite in accord with it, and makes many preparations for the happiness of the couple.

All his plans are carefully arranged, his intentions being to prove to his wife her mistake in making a hasty departure. He does everything that a husband in his position would be least expected to do, but in the end the parties are reconciled and everybody is happy.

Rickey Seacrest, in the role of the philanderer, is really clever, and his acting is obviously appreciated. Gertrude Gustin, who takes the part of Nora Gail, a widow, creates much amusement.

The acting of Robert Hyman, as Harry Farrington, a novelist, and who is leader of the company, is pleasingly natural, and his continuous smile and witty remarks are very entertaining.

THOMAS MITCHELTREE IS HONORED BY ORGANISTS

Musical Organization Members Elect New Officers.

A large number of local organists were present for a meeting held at Smallman & Ingram's on Thursday. Luncheon was served at 12:30 noon, presided over by J. Parnell Morris.

After luncheon a presentation was made to Thomas Mitcheltree, who is leaving the city to occupy a splendid position in Toronto. Parnell Morris stated that Mr. Mitcheltree would be greatly missed, since he has been associated with the organists of the city for several years, and has frequently given musical selections at their monthly meetings. All wished him every success in his future work.

Mr. Mitcheltree expressed his thanks in a brief address.

Musical lovers have an opportunity of hearing Mr. Mitcheltree on Tuesday, Oct. 25, when he gives his farewell recital at Crown Hall.

The following officers for the organization were elected for the season: President, Clarence E. Gilman; vice-president, Miss Minnie Haymond; honorary president, J. Parnell Morris; secretary, Leonard G. Starling; executive, A. D. Jordan, Charles E. Wheeler and W. A. Bleuthner.

FEW APPLY FOR JAIL JOB DESPITE PREVIOUS RUMOR

Despite reports that hundreds of applications for the position of governor of the London Jail had been made, only a dozen have been received at the sheriff's office at the courthouse. It had been said that scores of applications had been sent to Toronto, but the local authorities say that in all probability these would have been sent to London had they been tendered in Toronto, as the appointment is made locally.

Only ten days of Governor Carter's period in office remain, his resignation, making effect Nov. 1. It is contended that the position must be filled by that time, for if the office was vacant long, the system would suffer as the new governor would be required to bring the records up to date before he could attempt any other work.

UNIONS RUSH PLANS FOR U. S. RAIL STRIKE

formally with their executive committees to complete strike plans, while Mr. Cassen was directing activities in the Switchmen's Union from Buffalo and Mr. Sheppard in Cedar Rapids was rounding out the final details for his organization. The executive committees of all five unions will meet in Cleveland Monday.

On the carriers' part, heads of western roads met in Chicago today in a conference aimed at the purpose of forming plans to combat a strike, while a similar meeting of southwestern roads was held in St. Louis. At each meeting, road presidents were urged saying that their plans would be rushed at the utmost speed as a result of the failure of the labor board conference to brighten the admittedly grave situation.

The union heads, before their departure for their organization headquarters, expressed resentment over the meeting with the board. Coming later in the belief that the board would present a concrete plan of settlement, they claimed that the board members had "presented nothing but words" in trying to avert a walkout, merely trying to dissuade them from carrying out the strike and presenting nothing which they considered as even a tangible solution.

The union chiefs steadfastly maintained, it was said, that they could not postpone the scheduled walkout. While adjournment of last night's conference was termed by Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, as a "final adjournment" with no plans for the immediate future, board members said the way still was open to again call the union presidents in a settlement conference.

Members of the board said that they "fully understood labor's views in the matter," and while not having any definite plans as yet, were of the opinion that something might yet be done by the board. To that end, they held an executive meeting today at which the situation was gone over thoroughly.

First Move Fails.

With what was considered by many as the Government's first effort to prevent the strike a failure, attention today again turned to the eleven "standard" unions which still are astride the fence with no definite indication as to which way they will jump.

These organizations, holding the balance of man power, through having more than three-fourths of the country's rail employees in their membership, have voted for a strike in protest of the recent 12 per cent wage cut, but deferred final action as to ordering a walkout, pending the labor board conference. Their final meetings began today, and it was expected that a few days would find a definite decision from them. While many leaders of these groups said at the strike call that their unions were certain to join the others in a walkout, considerable missionary work against a strike has been carried on by some of the chiefs, and virtually all of them today admitted that they could not forecast the final decision.

Advise Against Strike.

Executives of the shop crafts—six unions with 476,000 members—today met with E. M. Jewell, their head, who urged the men not to strike, although admitting that he might not be able to prevent a walkout.

The telegraphers and signal men, also held conferences today, but virtually no information that could be obtained about their possible course of procedure was that they were somewhat divided, with some of the chiefs counselling a strike and others opposing one.

Railroads Still Seeking For Volunteer Officers

New York, Oct. 21.—Official strike orders from officers of the Big Four railroad brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America were being communicated today to railway employees in the New York district. The orders, received late last night, were promptly passed down the line, and local union officials said, in order to forestall possible injunction proceedings of the Government.

In the meantime, the railroads, spurred by the failure of the labor board conference to bring forth any hope of settlement, began polls to ascertain as nearly as possible what proportion of their employees intended to obey the walkout order. Revised figures given out by local officials of the unions involved placed the minimum number of men in the metropolitan district affected by the strike order at 20,000. The district includes an area with a radius of 25 miles, centering in the borough of Manhattan. The allied railroad shop crafts of the district, which are not yet affected, claim a membership of between 125,000 and 150,000.

The railroads continue to receive applications for employment, according to official announcement, as well as offers of volunteer service from commuters and college men. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad announced it would reimburse, on similar terms, any loyal employee who lost labor organization insurance by refusal to obey the strike order.

Executives of "Big Five" Refuse To Delay Action

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—Upon his return from Chicago, where the Big Five brotherhood executives were in session yesterday, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad announced this morning that the railroad strike situation was absolutely unchanged.

The railroad brotherhood executives and the board had a full and comprehensive discussion of the general situation from the viewpoint on each side, said Mr. Lee.

A proposal to postpone strike action at 6 a. m. Oct. 30, made by the board members, was emphatically declined by the chief executives, no provision for such action having been made. Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, who returned with Mr. Lee, declined to make any comment further than to say that the situation was unchanged.

Mr. Lee has called his executive committee members in session here next Monday. The advisory board of the engineers and the executive committee of the firemen are now here.

Washington Believes Settlement Possible

Washington, Oct. 21.—A new phase of the railroad strike situation faces the Government today with the news that the conference in Chicago between the railroad labor board and the five brotherhood leaders has been terminated without having resulted in any definite plan for averting the country-wide tie-up scheduled to start Oct. 30.

Pending receipt of official reports as to what actually developed in the conference, no one in authority would comment on the result of the conference. The optimistic atmosphere which has pervaded discussion of the situation was not entirely dissipated, however, by the overnight setback and the general opinion expressed was that the situation was not entirely dissipated, however, by the overnight setback and the general opinion expressed was that the situation was far from hopeless.

Speculation today was directed chiefly upon the question of whether the railroad labor board would be called upon to make further efforts toward a compromise or whether President Harding would initiate some other plan, as yet unsuggested.

Waymen in Texas Complete Strike Plans

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 21.—Approximately six hundred members of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen employed by the International and Great Northern Railroad today completed final arrangements for a strike scheduled to begin at noon tomorrow, one week in advance of the date set for the general walkout of railroad men.

Union Circles Believe Strike To Be Inevitable

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—Lack of any provision by the unions for suspending the railroad strike called for October 30, made it impossible to accept the plan offered by the United States Railroad Labor Board yesterday. It was said today in union circles.

The strike authorization was said only for ending the strike, presumably after a settlement which, union leaders have maintained, must involve more than the question of the July wage cut, and in which the strike was technically called. Yesterday's optimism was noticeably absent in union circles today, and in its place was a seeming resignation to the belief that the strike now is inevitable, unless President Harding assumes the initiative with some drastic step.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20.—The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Taylor was celebrated Tuesday evening at their farm residence, Rockwood, Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor came from London, Ont., 48 years ago, and have since lived on their present farm. Their five sons and three daughters, together with 20 grandchildren and two great grandchildren were present, also a number of old-time friends. Banquet tables were beautifully decorated with asters.

AUSTRALIA MAKES BIG RETURNS ON SHIPPING

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Reuters' correspondent at Melbourne, Australia, reports that Mr. Hon. Sir Joseph Cook, treasurer of the Australian Commonwealth, stated in the House of Representatives yesterday that the Commonwealth's shipping line had made a profit of 467,000 pounds sterling in 1920.

A VERY GENEROUS JEW

Some people are very thrifty, indeed. Mr. Cohn was talking to Mr. Rubinstein, when little Ike ran up and said: Papa, give me some money. So Cohn said, Sure, Ike, and handed him a quarter, to the amazement of his friend, who said, My gracious, do you give those kids money as easy as that? Sure thing, I do. I give him a quarter twice a week, and he puts it in the gas meter. He thinks it's a bank. But real thrift is to buy Perfect Blue White Diamonds from John A. Nash, My Jeweler, 182 Dundas street, "where you will eventually buy."

Orphan Baby Has Time of Life When Adopted by Girl Students

Cheers Up Fair Co-Eds in Stillwater, Okla., College—Young Women Take Turns "Mothering" Infant, Whose Parents Died Shortly After She Was Deserted.

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 20.—"Oh, baby! Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?" That, in substance, is probably what David, a 12-week-old baby boy, has been thinking ever since the opening of the fall term at the Oklahoma A. and M. college at Stillwater.

Before that time David's life was not ideal. Three weeks before he was born his father abandoned his girl-wife to get along as best she could. When David was but ten days old, after struggling hopelessly, the young mother died, leaving David alone in the world. He was then transferred to an orphanage, to wait for some kind-hearted person to come along and adopt him.

But now David, instead of being one of many in an orphanage, is the official baby of the A. and M. college, and as a whole flock of pretty girl students to mother him and to satisfy his wants before he even realizes what they are. For David has been adopted by the school of home economics of the college.

In the home-makers' cottage on the university campus, where the senior girls take turns in caring for David as a portion of the practical side of their training, David will probably be-tain callers. Girls of all the under classes have been begging me every day for a chance to live in the cottage. We're going to have enough dresses soon to clothe a dozen babies."

Girls Are Willing.
Girl students not only are anxious to "mother" this orphan boy, but they're willing to support him, if necessary. If the state can't pay the expenses they'll see that the money is raised, they assert.

After all arrangements had been completed to adopt David for the period of the school year, it was found that there were no funds available to meet the expense. There wasn't an appropriation of money that could be used to buy clothes and a bed; there wasn't even money to pay David's transportation from Oklahoma City to Stillwater.

The girls of the School of Home Economics, however, were not discouraged by this little matter of finance; the state board of agriculture offered to apportion a special fund, but the girls insisted on taking care of it themselves. Members of Omicron Nu, a domestic science sorority, organized a "tag day" campaign, extending over two days; they "tagged" students, faculty members and Stillwater visitors, selling tags at 10 cents, and raised $100 for the "David fund."

So a bed for the baby has been installed in the home-maker's cottage, a buggy and rattle were added to the equipment, and Miss Mary E. Baird, practice-house matron, was dispatched to Oklahoma City to bring the child. When he arrived all the girls of the Home Economics School were down at the train to meet him.

The new departure in instruction methods, too, has aroused interest among young mothers all over the state. Since first announcement was made that the work was to be given this year, scores of letters have been received in the department asking advice about the care of children. To meet this demand a correspondence course in child welfare work is being arranged.

A new $120,000 building for the department was just completed before the opening of the fall term.

MEIGHEN AGAIN TAKES TARIFF AS HIS SUBJECT

Speaks To Two Audiences At Sarnia Convention.

REFUTES CRERAR CHARGES

R. V. Lesueur Unanimous
Choice of Tories At Sarnia.

SARNIA, Oct. 20.—By staff correspondents. Two large halls were necessary to accommodate the crowds which gathered here this evening to hear Premier Meighen and Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor, The Imperial Theatre, in which Premier Meighen spoke first, was crowded to the doors and the auditorium in the city hall was hardly of sufficient size to accommodate the overflow.

Mr. Meighen devoted his time at the tariff issue. At the overflow meeting he dealt with criticisms which had been aimed at the Government by Opposition speakers. He also voiced his condemnation of certain statements which he attributed to Mr. Crerar.

"I say to Mr. Crerar," he declared, "that when you stand on the public platform and say that I am the puppet of any man rich or poor, you say what you know is false." He defied Mr. Crerar to put his hand on any act which could form a basis for such "slandorous statements."

"I've had almost enough of this," he concluded.

Senator Robertson expressed the opinion that the maintaining of a protective tariff was of prime importance to Canadian labor. He recounted the achievements of the Government on behalf of labor.

Joseph E. Armstrong, Liberal Conservative candidate in East Lambton, also spoke.

In City Hall.
The big auditorium in the city hall building was filled to capacity with delegates and others assembled for the selection of a candidate. The Progressives have already nominated R. J. White as their candidate, while F. E. Pardee, who represented West Lambton in the last Parliament, will carry the Liberal standard.

Five names were placed before the convention for nomination, as follows: R. V. Lesueur, P. T. McGibbons, Mrs. W. J. Hanna, R. E. Lesueur and Lyall Lesueur, all of Sarnia.

All of the nominees, with the exception of R. V. Lesueur, withdrew, leaving him the nominee of the party. His nomination was made unanimous.

In declining to stand for nomination, Mrs. Hanna said that she felt that the convention was thinking of her husband in nominating her. She stated that the present Government has honored women in giving them the vote and that women should respond by doing their utmost to fit themselves for the franchise.

Mr. Lesueur, addressing the convention, emphasized his absolute faith in Premier Meighen.

The Tariff Issue.
Mr. Meighen said he proposed to discuss the tariff issue at the main meeting. At the overflow meeting he would deal with charges that had been leveled at the Government by opposition speakers.

"How long would you be in Sarnia if we leveled the tariff wall?" he queried his hearers. "Where would Canada be with her population of nine millions lying beside the industrial colossus of the world if we had free trade? Is there any mind with the most rudimentary logic which can argue that Canada could maintain and develop her industrial life under such competition as that?"

He went on to declare that the fate of Canada under free trade would be mere commercial vassalage to the United States. To lay our tariff down meant the absorption of our industries one after another and the aggrandizement of the United States.

"Mr. Crerar proposed to do away with protection by easy stages," said the premier. "He declares that protection is morally and commercially wrong, but he wants to hang on to it for a while."

The platform of the Progressives had been revised this year, he declared, and therefore, it was safe to assume that it was still correct. The revision had consisted in adding one word. Instead of promising to do away with patronage, as in the original platform, Mr. Crerar now declared for abolition of "the evils of patronage."

Mr. Crerar's policy would be fatal to industries such as those operating in Sarnia, said the premier. The tariff platform subscribed to by Mackenzie King and F. E. Pardee was almost a photographic reproduction of the Crerar platform.

Mr. Pardee declared that he would do nothing to injure his native city, said the premier, but if that was true, why was he running on this free trade platform which was bound to injure Sarnia? Mr. King would not repudiate his platform. "You can no more get him to repudiate his platform than you can get him to declare that he will carry it out," said the premier. "I've been trying for a year to do it without success."

"Every man from a baby to a man a hundred years old is either a producer or a consumer, or both," said the premier in criticizing Mr. King's declaration for a tariff for the producer and consumer. Mr. King was pursuing a policy of evasion in discussing tariff matters, he said.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF DISCIPLES OF CHRIST

RODNEY, Oct. 20.—The convention of the Western District of the Disciples of Christ was held at Rodney on Tuesday, all the churches in the district being represented. Alex. Purcell of Rodney, president of the convention, occupied the chair. Reports of churches were given by the delegates, showing a steady growth in numbers and interest. At the conclusion Dr. Fowler of Ridgeway gave an interesting summary and spoke on the necessity of individual effort. Luncheon was served by the ladies of the Rodney Church in the commodious basement of their up-to-date new building. After luncheon Mrs. Frank of Aylmer opened the meeting with devotional exercises, after which Mrs. C. B. King of London gave an interesting account of the proceedings at the international convention of the Disciples held at Winona Lake, where there were over 7,000 in attendance.

The Rodney choir furnished music between the addresses.

A pleasing effect was given at the opening session in the evening by the large chorus comprised of the singers of the various churches in the district under the leadership of J. B. Ferguson.

A. McKillop, president of the provincial board, outlined the aims and the present condition of the Forward Movement fund of the Disciples.

Traverse Harrison then gave the convention a sermon on the subject of "Christian Education," emphasizing the need of Bible study, organization and personal effort to make the work successful. Mr. Harrison is one of the best platform speakers in the province.

At this time, Mrs. Remig of Winipeg, the field secretary for women's work of all Canada, arrived, to the delight of the large audience, as she had been delayed by faulty train connections. Although the hour was late she held the attention of the large audience by outlining the plan for closer relationships in the inter-provincial work.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, E. Rowe, St. Thomas; vice-president, W. F. Farnham; secretary-treasurer, Miss Myrtle Fowler, Rodney.

Ontario Liberals.

THE resignation of Hartley Dewart as leader of the Liberal party in Ontario comes under regrettable and rather pitiful circumstances.

Mr. Dewart drops the leadership for two reasons: (1) that his health is impaired, and he has entered the hospital with a view to an operation; (2) he must go and attend to his own private business, because he can no longer afford to lead a party that has no funds with which to finance its ordinary and perfectly legitimate business.

Mr. Dewart's leadership has not been a bed of roses. He took over the work when there was division on matters of policy and personnel, but even those who were opposed to him admit that as leader of the Liberals in the Ontario House he has given his best to the cause, and his criticisms, although pointed and piercing at times, have been in the interests of clean legislation.

HARTLEY DEWART is a keen debater, and a hard hitter. He is used to giving hard blows, and he is accustomed to receiving them in turn. His letter of resignation, though, expresses a bitterness that heretofore has been foreign to his utterances, and voices the feeling that he has been through an experience parallel only to the man who has been wounded in the house of his friend.

Mr. Dewart's own words leave this impression, for he says: "I appreciate very much the loyalty with which the majority of those who were elected as Liberals supported us in expounding the policy of the party which you know I did, whether at all times it was in accord with my own personal views. But I must confess that I most keenly felt the open attacks, and the more veiled but equally appreciable disloyalty of others. I am fully conscious of my faults, and of just causes of criticism, but I did not lay myself open to attack for any lack of adherence to and enunciation of sound Liberal principles."

THE resignation of Hartley Dewart leads to the consideration of another matter—party funds. His frank statement on this matter ought to put a quietus on the whispered campaign that there was plenty of money at the disposal of the Ontario Grits. The Ontario Club in Toronto is about the only monument that shows there ever was any money in the pockets of Reformers.

This question of party funds is not a new one, but it will always be more or less old and new until it is settled once and for all.

Mr. Dewart states very plainly the position into which he was forced through the leadership of the Liberals of Ontario—and remember, the Liberals asked him to take the position.

Here is the statement of the man who has been through the mill, and who feels that he cannot afford to stay in:

"I have especially felt the failure of legitimate financial support, and the burden that was thrown upon me as leader, that I should not have had to bear. I have almost impoverished myself to try and save the good name of the party, and yet I am daily harassed by financial demands for accounts that were not of my making, and with which I had no right to be troubled. I am compelled to resume my law practice as soon as my health will permit. I am not merely referring to the meanness of some members, but to the utter lack of appreciation of their duty by the rank and file of the Liberal party generally.

"Now, if I have been a stumbling-block, I am out of the way. Someone else may be able to raise the legitimate sinews of war for the necessary continuance of the party work."

WHAT other institution, outside of a political party, would attempt to conduct its affairs on a shoestring? The arrangement is wrong and indefensible. It leaves the party leaders open to all sorts of intrigue by those who have axes to grind. Those who are responsible for the expenses of any political party must have money at their disposal, and where to get it at once becomes an acute problem.

Two courses are open: (1) to go ahead and pound away by hat collections until enough is secured to get out of the hole and save the party's financial face, or (2) enter into negotiations with those who have money to spend, but are certain to want $2 worth of concessions and favors for every dollar invested.

Men and women come together, drawn to common ground in support of some particular religious belief. They know what their operations are going to cost them for a year, and they contribute according to their means and willingness, and the greater their interest in the cause the greater will be their contribution.

THE principles for which Liberalism stands in the provinces, or in the Dominion, are not worth paying money to perpetuate and advance, then by all the laws of common sense and good ethics, drop them.

If, on the other hand, the home realizes that conditions made by wise provincial legislation, by enactments of Liberal administration at Ottawa, are beneficial to the life of the country, then that realization ought to carry with it a willingness to pay for these advantages. Moreover, such payments should be looked upon as profitable investments in good citizenship.

Hartley Dewart has performed a real service to Liberalism in Ontario by pointing out in plain language that Liberals are not giving the financial support that is necessary to allow the provincial party to carry on in decency. Every Liberal organization in the province should take up that challenge at once. Let them put up their money, ask the leaders for a statement of its disposal. This, we are certain, will be given gladly. This is one of the first essentials toward rebuilding the party in Ontario. This cardinal principle can no longer be overlooked.

Perfection.

"The march of the human mind is slow." We realize this when we see how hard it is to right a wrong. For centuries the best of men have sought to make the laws as perfect as possible, and yet how far we are from perfection.

The new Progressive party is struggling, according to its light, to bring to the front questions it believes will benefit the people of Canada. It may find that when it would do good evil is present with it. As far as it goes it has considerable merit, but it should fall in line under the Liberal banner. Much of what it contends for it will find there. Indeed, Mr. Crerar in his manifesto says:

"From a small beginning it has spread over almost the entire country, attracting to itself support from all classes and sections of our people. The tendency of political parties is towards a reaction until a protest arises instinctively from the people against such reaction. The new political movement in Canada is such a protest, and, further, is essentially a movement of liberalism—not in the sense of a party name, but in the liberal and true sense of the word—that seeks to sweep away abuses in government and to provide policies that will meet the needs of the people. It is to all those throughout the broad expanse of Canada who desire to see purity in the government of this country restored, who desire to see public morality supplant public corruption, who desire to sweep away the abuse of the function of government for the advancement of the interest of the privileged few."

When did the Liberal party in Canada fail to do all this and more? When did its Liberalism fail to be "liberalism in the true sense of the word?" A Liberal and a Reformer mean the same, and although "the march of the human mind is slow,"

Whittier correctly sums up the work of the Reformer in these words:

"'Twas but the ruin of the bad,
The wasting of the wrong and ill;
Whate'er of good the old time had
Was living still."

The W.C.T.U. Convention

London has been this week the scene of the convention of the Provincial W. C. T. U.

Their activities are numerous, but they centre, in the long run, around making conditions better, safer and saner for the home life of Canada.

It is a favorite pastime to refer to such organizations as a body of cranks and agitators, but the progress of this old round world of ours hinges now, as it has in the past, pretty much on the convictions and visions of men and women who, in their time, were classed as cranks and agitators.

The W. C. T. U. sees life through the eyes of the mother, and the motherhood of any land is not apt to be very far out when it comes to sizing up conditions that are or are not fit to surround the child life and the period following of this or any other country.

London has been pleased to welcome the women of the W. C. T. U. May their stay here be beneficial to their endeavors and the cause which they so sincerely espouse.

Carrying Shotguns.

One particular in which the Canadian boy differs from his cousin in England is that he has more freedom. Whether this freedom is altogether for his good is a question not easily answered.

One of the things characteristic of this freedom is that the Canadian boy is allowed to wander at large with a gun and shoot pretty much what he pleases so long as he does not take pot shots at the neighbors' cattle or poultry, or does not wing a human being or two.

Now, to an English boy a shotgun is, as a rule, only seen in the hands of a gamekeeper, or while being carried by the squire or laird or some of their guests. All carriers of firearms must have licenses and the authorities would never dream of issuing a license to an irresponsible youngster. The result of all this is that shooting accidents in England and Scotland are very rare. Even with those who are authorized to carry guns the regulations are very strict, and the firing off of these weapons indiscriminately or in the vicinity of human habitations is closely guarded against.

Of course the principal reason for this is that the old country is very much more thickly populated than a new country like Canada, and there the chances of people running up against flying bullets are much greater than here. There are also the game laws, which leave very little for the ordinary individual to shoot.

At the same time there is no doubt that many of the regrettable accidents which are almost of daily occurrence in Canada, could be avoided if a little more care were exercised in the traffic in firearms. The accident at Atwood is one of the latest of those incidents in which human life is sacrificed, and such things will continue to happen until something is done to prevent them.

LITTLE 'TISERS

Three men died in Michigan. They then found out that the mushrooms they ate were toadstools.

"Put and take" is getting to be quite a game. And the newest way to play it is to put on the heavy-weight and take off the balbriggan.

The fact that there are 2,000,000 more women than men in Great Britain may account for the haste of some of the men in wanting to get to this country.

A campaign is now on to suppress jokes about prohibition. This will rob the stage of its one last chance to draw a laugh from the average crowd today.

At the Baptist convention in St. Thomas a few days ago there was a report from the "committee on nomenclature." That's the first time this chap ever got a seat at a Baptist gathering.

Chicago claims that many beggars make as high as $75 per day. So here we have the solution to that old nursery rhyme that used to sing of beggars coming to town, and conclude, "and one in a velvet gown."

The Vancouver Province states the case against using voice-producing machine for election purposes: "The practice introduced during the American presidential campaign of having the speeches of leading orators reproduced by gramophones is not being followed in Canada. There is little satisfaction for a heckler to shout 'rats' or 'sit down' to a talking machine."

The Chesley Enterprise seeks to lure its readers into a heap of trouble. Here is the plan: "The Enterprise will give a year's subscription to the person guesting nearest the result of the federal election on December 6. Guesses must be in by December 1. This is the representation of each province in the House of Commons." The reader who can guess that correctly will go down in history well nigh as famous as that cow that kicked over the lantern in Chicago at the time of the big fire.

Read Your Character

[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 14—THE ROMAN NOSE.

Such historical characters as Caesar, Napoleon, Washington, Sherman, Dewey, Lee, Lincoln and Grant had "Roman" noses. Does not that give you a clue to those traits of character which this feature indicates?

This shape of nose indicates a great many things, but if you ask what the outstanding message of it is, it's domination. It indicates in addition such qualities as physical energy, courage, power, persistence, impatience and aggressiveness. It is, in short, the sign of victory and those qualities of temperament and character that men look for in their leaders.

Of course, a man's success as a leader depends upon a great many other things than this tendency to desire to dominate. The "Roman" nose indicates only the will or tendency to leadership and a limited number of qualifications. In judging the man you must modify or amend the story of his "Roman" nose according to other characteristics.

In previous articles it has been stated that blue and grey eyes indicate the pioneer spirit, quick thought and a degree of impatience, while brown eyes are signs of conservatism, mental inertia, patience and serene emotion. Thus, if your "Roman-nosed" leader has the former he is likely to be such by virtue of his quick thought, his readiness to grasp that fleeting moment of opportunity and his impatience of opposition. But if he has brown eyes, you read in the first place that he is not so impatient after all and that he holds his following through his care and sound judgment in dealing with it, through his appeal to human nature, his emotions and through a larger degree of patience in surmounting his obstacles. THE JEST.

ONTARIO JUSTICE.

[Boston Transcript.]
An Ontario farmer caught a young woman doing a "September Morn" on his property, and had her haled before the county magistrate.
"What's the charge?" asked his honor.
"Takin' a bath in the spring, your worship," said the constable.
The aged dispenser of justice consulted a dog-eared copy of the statutes and buried himself in its pages for several minutes. Then closing the legal tome and stroking his beard, he said very solemnly: "The charge is dismissed and the miss is discharged. I find that she had just as much right to take a bath in the spring as in the fall."

ANSWER UNEXPECTED.

[Spare Moments.]
A well-known hostess was entertaining a distinguished Japanese visitor to England at her country house.

Without saying what lay in store for her guest, she conducted him to her "Japanese garden." She expected to see a far-away look come into his tear-filled eyes as the prospect waited him back to his distant and beloved land. Instead he beamed on her through his gold-rimmed spectacles, and, bowing with true Oriental politeness, exclaimed: "Beautiful! We have nothing like this in Japan."

KNEW HIS PLACE.

Nevered—I hear you've signed up as skipper of the good ship Matrimony.
Justwed—No, my wife's the skipper. I married a widow. I'm her second mate.

A FOND GOOD-BYE.

Servant (leaving)—I'm tellin' ye, Mrs. Croft, ye'll miss me when I'm away.
Mistress—Yes, I don't doubt it, but then, on the other hand, I won't miss so many other things.

THE EMIR OF KATSINA.

[Manchester Guardian.]
The Emir of Katsina, two of his wives, one father-in-law, and the members of his retinue were taking things easy at the Midland Hotel this afternoon. They all had a trying journey by road from Manchester yesterday, which took about eleven hours, including halts for prayers. At about 3 o'clock the emir—a fine black man of 58, with a little grey beard and a big smile—was busy supervising the fitting out of his two wives (the other two were at home) in their room, and they were receiving the assistance of a girl from the shop, who was draping their impassive figures in rainbow colors. These gifts were, perhaps, a compensation to these queens for their enforced isolation from the spectacle of London. From a curtained hotel bedroom London must look much like any other place. The floor of the emir's room was littered with boxes and stuffs, and the emir was running backwards and forwards, judging the effects of the trying on.

JAMES KENNEDY DIES.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 20.—The death of James Kennedy, an old resident of Dereham Township, occurred today at his home in Salford, aged 83 years. He was widely known and had spent the greater part of his life in the district, where he was engaged in farming. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

FALL WORK ON FARM IS WELL ADVANCED

Department of Agriculture Reports Hogs At $9 to $9.50.

Following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

All farm work is well advanced for the time of the year. The wet weather during the last week interfered with the harvesting of potatoes and roots, but it has freshened the pastures and put the land in excellent condition for fall plowing. A very large acreage already having been done.

Potatoes vary greatly in value. South Simcoe says that many farmers are selling rather than to attempt storage. North Simcoe puts prices at 90 cents a bag, f.o.b. Dufferin reports of sale around $1 a bag, while Middlesex quotes $2 a bag. Frontenac, $1.75, and Renfrew, $1.50.

All returns speak of mangels as being a fairly good crop, but turnips are a disappointment to many growers. Brant says there has been some soft rot.

Sugar beets, on the other hand, have given general satisfaction where grown, both as regards yield and factory quality.

Hay shows a great variation in price. Bruce says that it is being purchased for $17 A. ton in the mow, with an extra $1 for baling, while in eastern and northern counties quotations range from $20 to $35 a ton.

Buckwheat is turning out very well in the threshing.

The acreage of fall wheat is larger than usual. Lambton says that some of it has been put in during the last week or two. In some counties fears are expressed that some of the early-sown crop has too great a head for wintering well. There are a few complaints of injury to early fields by Hessian fly.

Some late rye is being sown in Brant, the farmers being satisfied to get it through the ground before the land freezes.

Norfolk says that most of the apples are being put up for domestic pack, and are selling at from $4 to $8 a barrel, and from $1 to $1.25 a bushel for windfalls. Perth quotes windfalls at $2 a bag.

Wellington is of opinion that live stock will go into winter quarters in better condition than for some years.

Huron says: "Considerable cattle are being marketed, and one of our drovers here is doing quite a business in selling stockers back to the farmers. While our grain crops were not good, there is a good supply of rough-

Hold Reception For Miss Lohr

London Drama League Members Entertain Noted English Star at Musical Art Institute.

Many Londoners had the pleasure of meeting Miss Marie Lohr at the reception given in her honor by the Drama League yesterday afternoon at the Institute of Musical Art. Miss Lohr, who was accompanied by her husband, Mr. Anthony Princeps, looked charming in a black georgette gown trimmed with cut steel beads, large black hat, and wearing a corsage of yellow mums. The other members of the cast present were Miss Helen Hays, who wore a rose colored crepe dress, heavily embroidered in grey; Mr. Herbert Marshall and Mr. Herbert Ross. The tea table, which was centered with a large bowl of mums surrounded by autumn foliage, was presided over by Mrs. Walter Hungerford. Mrs. Arthur Brickendon and Mrs. A. D. Jordan. The guests were received by Mrs. Lyne-Evans, wearing an old-rose tricolor gown and a small black hat. Mrs. G. A. Routledge in a navy blue frock trimmed with blue beads, and Mrs. Frank Ware wearing an old-rose Jersey suit and large black hat. The tea assistants were the Misses Gwen Scandrett, Doris Belton, M. Scatcherd, Mr. Rogers, Miss Moore, M. Jordan and Miss M. Glass. The convener of the tea was Mrs. E. H. Johnston, assisted by Mrs. Randle Brown.

Miss Lohr was introduced by Col. Ware, after which she thanked the Drama League for the warm reception they had given her, and hoped that they would have the best of luck with the work they were carrying on. She spoke of the hold the movies had on the Canadian public, and hoped soon to see a strong return of the drama. She urged the members of the league to give strong support and encourage them to the English companies playing in Canada.

Puppy Stories

By Vincent G. Perry.

THE STORY OF SWEET POPPY.

Sweet Poppy was the only little sister her five Boston Terrier brothers had, and how proud of her those brothers were. Indeed, they had reason to be proud of her for she was a very handsome puppy, with her dark, satiny coat, her big dark eyes, her little white front, white socks, and white part down her face. Poppy's master and mistress were very proud of her too, for she was a splendid puppy and would some day be a show dog, they thought. Now, knowing all this, made Poppy vain and conceited. She began to think her brothers were not nearly so nice as she was, and treated them badly. Of course, like all puppies, they overtook her naughty ways, and kept on thinking a great deal of her.

One by one, Poppy's brothers were sold to new homes. They were indeed glad to leave their little sister, but Poppy did not care. She thought only of herself and the good times she was having.

But by and by, when the last brother had gone, and then her father and mother and her Aunt Daisy, she missed her playmates and became very lonely. They had gone to new homes, she thought; well, so would she. So that very afternoon she ran away.

"Where are you going, Poppy?" called one of her brothers who now lived near by, and chanced to see her passing.

"I am going out into the world," Poppy answered. "Stay and play with me for a while," her brother pleaded.

Poppy played with him for a few minutes, and then her father and mother came to play with another brother who lived there. But she soon tired of him, too, and went on her travels once more. That night she discovered another brother and stayed all night at his new home.

You had better go back to mother Janie," this brother told her. "I heard my new mistress talking to our old mistress over the telephone, and she

Diamonds

There are "diamonds" and "diamonds."
There are many grades.
There are many sizes.
There are many prices.

In buying a diamond you are safe if you buy it from a good, reputable jeweler who shows that he sells

GIFTS THAT LAST

There is no gift more joyously received, more treasured for its beauty, more perfect in its beauty, than the gift of a diamond.

But be sure you buy it from a reputable jeweler—from a man who knows jewels.

And the reputable jeweler is the man who shows this sign.

Personals

Mrs. E. H. Johnston was in Chatham attending the meeting of the Provincial Chapter, I. O. O. E.

Miss Veima Perry, Talbot street, is spending a few days in Warton, the guest of Mrs. Hoover.

Mrs. How and Mrs. Wyle of Ottawa are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Morgan, Wellington street.

Miss Marie Lohr and her husband, Mr. Princeps, were entertained at lunch yesterday by Col. and Mrs. Frank Ware.

Mrs. A. J. Morgan was the hostess of a delightful bridge last evening in aid of the Lord Roberts Chapter, I. O. O. E., for their hospital fund.

A very enjoyable time was spent on Tuesday evening when the members of Centennial Methodist Church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Read, 835 King street. About 60 guests were received by the host and hostess and the evening was spent in unique games. Musical numbers were contributed by Miss Ida Shorlock, Mr. Wm. Taylor and little Miss Margaret Jones. Later in the evening a dainty buffet luncheon was served in the dining-room. Teatime assistants were Mrs. Wm. Taylor, Miss Cora Patton and Miss Eva Lancaster.

Various members of Cronyn Memorial Church have been holding social evenings lately to make arrangements for their coming bazaar, which is to be held on Nov. 1. Mrs. Doughner entertained recently at the tea hour, the proceeds to be given to the baby booth, and Miss Bullen invited the orange tree committee to her home, the time being spent chiefly in sewing, and last evening Miss Hilda Keene entertained the young people and during the evening many lovely articles were made for the gift shop. The Sisters of Service of the church held a large meeting recently, the final arrangements being made for the men's booth.

told her you were here, so they will come for you."

Now, this was not at all to Poppy's liking for she had seen little of the world. So she waited her chance and ran away before she could be taken home. No sooner was Poppy out in the street than she was spied by a man with a suitcase.

"Just the pup for my little boy," said the man, and he picked Poppy up and slipped her in his overcoat pocket. It was very dark and cramped in there, but Poppy soon went to sleep.

When Poppy awakened she was on a train. She cried, to let her captor know she was awake, and he brought her out of his pocket. The rumbling of the train soon made Poppy's head ache and she began to wish she had stayed at home.

Who should Poppy spy in a seat near by but one of her brothers. She remembered that he was the last one to be sold, and was to live in a big city far away. That lady with the little girl was his new mistress, she guessed. Poppy tried to cry out to her brother, but the man, who had picked her up, boxed her ears and she was frightened into silence. At the next stop the lady and the little girl with Poppy's brother got off the train. How lonely and frightened Poppy was then. She did not like this man who had boxed her ears, but she looked as if she would have to stay with him. If only her brothers could come to her rescue she thought, but they were all far away.

But Poppy had one other brother. His new mistress was an actress, and would you believe it, she got on with her pup at the very next station. She spied Poppy right away.

"Why it's little Poppy," she cried, as she ran forward. "How did you get here?" And when she spied the man who had boxed her ears she cried out in surprise. The man was her brother, too. The man told his sister how he got Poppy. "I thought she wasn't a good puppy and didn't have a home," he said. "If I had known the truth I would not have taken her."

"Well then, you must send her back," the actress-lady said.

So it was that Poppy arrived home in a box. How glad she was to be safe home again, and how she wished she had treated her brothers better, for if she had not so many brothers, she might never have been discovered, and might have lived unhappily for the rest of her days.

WHAT THE GREEKS TAUGHT US

[BY MARIAN HALE.]

[By N. E. A. to The Advertiser.] NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The old Greeks discovered the secret of making all women look graceful.

Of course, Grecian ladies were not supposed to be too fat or too thin. Today we see the adaptation of the Greek robe design in the most up-to-date and so-called tailored costumes. The brought-over draped front which gives a coat effect is one adaptation, which is shown here.

The straight-lined gown with the crossed-over drapes conceals a multitude of sins against symmetry.

There is nothing in the outline to make it unbecoming with the perfect thirty-six, either.

This gown is of navy blue crepe material.

Deep reverses give the gown a coat-like effect, especially desirable for street wear. The sleeves are large and target-shaped, long and graceful.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[By Cynthia Grey.]

It is not an unusual occurrence to pick up a newspaper and read that through thoughtlessness on the part of some mother or guardian a child has lost its life.

There are many ways in which mothers or guardians may safeguard the lives of their little ones. Children love to play with fire, get matches and go off to some quiet corner to light them, and only too well do we know the result. Then again, many children have been scalded with fatal results, or burned so badly that they carry the scars for the remainder of their lives. There have been many cases also of children being poisoned or choked to death by the negligence of someone who left poison, buttons, marbles or other articles that a child could put in its mouth within their reach.

Mothers, why not insure the safety of your children and see that these articles which cause such disastrous results are put out of their way, and do not be the indirect cause of their disgraceful and possibly death?

OLD BOXITE RETURNS.
Dear Miss Grey,—It's a long time since I wrote to the Mail-Box, and for a long time I didn't even see the contents, as I've been drifting around quite a lot in the last twelve months. I used to live in London, you may not remember my old address. I wonder if any of the Boxites could send me a root of mint, the kind that's used with lamb and green peas. I want to start a garden next year if nothing prevents; no one seems to grow mint around here, and I would like to get some seeds, too, of phlox, cosmos, sweet suitana, and cactus oil beans. I wonder if the lady is still a Boxite that could make up switches, or could tell me how to make them; it's a very long time ago that I saw it in the Mail-Box, but it may be that she will see this and let me know. I will leave my address with Miss Grey. Am enclosing a ship-plaster to cover postage and remainder for the S. C. H. This time last year we were in the west, then came back to Toronto, and finally landed down here a few miles out of Kingston, right on the lake shore. I guess I'll keep my old penname.

LOVER OF THE MAIL-BOX.
I am very glad, Lover of the Mail-Box, that you have returned, and I hope some of the Boxites will send in the seeds you want. Many thanks for hospital mite.

WANTS POEM.
Dear Miss Grey,—I am another bothersome newcomer seeking information. Could you please tell me the name of the author, and, if possible, print or send me the words of a poem, the title of which I cannot remember. I can only recall a portion in which the person referred to expresses the wish that he might "Live by the side of the road, and be a friend to man." You will find enclosed a self-addressed envelope. Wishing your Mail-Box every success, I remain, yours truly, CLEOPATRA.

If any of the Boxites send in the poem you wish, Cleopatra, I will forward it to you.

RETURNS TO PAGE.
Dear Cynthia Grey,—This is for "yourself." Hope these two enclosed "nothings" will help you some day when you are tired. I wanted to help, some way, and I am not house-

WITH THE BRIDES

WICKERSON-ELLIS.
Lieut. Clarence Wickerson of London, who went overseas with the Royal Canadian Dragoons, was married in Windsor on Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, to Miss Irene Ellis of Essex. The young couple will reside in Detroit, where Mr. Wickerson is engaged in business.

PURDOM-MATHESON.
A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Matheson, Detroit, when their daughter, Cora Louise, was married to Llewellyn Purdom, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Purdom of London. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white satin, trimmed with rose-point lace, wearing the conventional veil, and carrying a shower bouquet of roses, lily of the valley, and orchids. After a honeymoon to Washington and other American cities Mr. and Mrs. Purdom will reside in London.

RYAN-GRACE.
A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Patrick's Church, London, on Wednesday morning, Oct. 12, when Elizabeth Cecilia, second daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Grace, became the bride of Harold John Ryan of Mr. Carmel, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Hogan. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother Edward of Port Colborne, was becomingly attired in a suit of navy tricotine, with grey squirrel neck piece, burnt orange feather hat, and corsage of Ophelia roses. Miss Mary Grace acted as bridesmaid, wearing a suit of reindeer tricotine and hat of American beauty red, and corsage of Killarney roses. Mr. Joseph Ryan acted as groomsmen. The groom's gift to the bride was a hand-painted French ivory toilet set, and to the bridesmaid, an onyx ring. After a short honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the young couple will be at home to their many friends.

wife enough to help the other ordinary way. It is just lately that I have been able to read the page again, as I was in the hospital the greater part of the four months. Since I have been convalescing I have formed an impression of you. Would you like to hear it some time, and would you tell me if it is true or true? Best wishes to the page. Will inclose a mite for S. C. H.

BETTY BIDE-AT-HOME.
I have received your letter, and at the first opportunity will send it, but as I have so many letters I will have to let it rest at present. Many thanks for hospital mite.

ANOTHER BID ON QUILT.
I saw in the Mail-Box where Health asked for crochet patterns for pillowcase lace. Am sending two. I have these on pillowcases and they look very nice. Hope she will like them. She need not return them. Dear Miss Grey, I am sending in a bid on the Mail-Box quilt. I know that is not near what it is worth, but it will be a start. Wishing the Mail-Box every success. L. E. P.

Thanks ever so much, L.E.P., for the bid on quilt and crochet patterns. Will send patterns to Health.

SENDS MITE.
Dear Miss Grey,—Here comes another offering. I read and enjoy the Mail-Box letters very much. There is a scramble over the paper at night, mother wants to see what is happening, and I want to see your column. Is this not lovely fall weather?

We are living out in the country. I guess I will close. Find inclosed mite for S. C. H. fund. I will sign A BROWN-EYED DAISY.

Many thanks to you, Fred Daisy, for mite to our hospital fund.

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

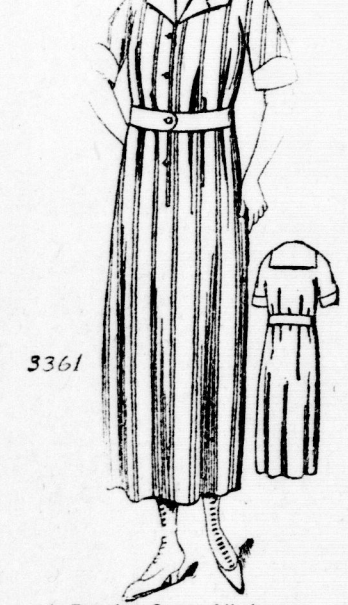

A Popular Cover-All Apron. Pattern 5361 was employed to make this design. It is cut in four sizes: Small 32-34, medium 36-38, large 40-42, and extra large 44-46 inches bust measure. A medium size will require 6½ yards of 27-inch material.

Striped seersucker with facings of white pique would be good for this, or one could have percale, gingham, drill or lawn.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps.

WESTERN ONTARIO WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Address News For This Column to The Editor of Woman's Page.

LOBO W. I.

The Lobo Women's Institute held their monthly meeting in Lobo hall on Wednesday afternoon with a large attendance. Many Hyde Park ladies were present, including their president, Miss Routledge, and Secretary Miss Alberta Venner. A good program was given and Mrs. H. D. Steele was in the chair. Miss Laura Edwards played the opening and the roll call was answered with the name of a Canadian author. Solos given by Miss Gladys McIntyre and Miss Kathleen Crawford were much enjoyed. "Current Events" were read by Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. A. R. Campbell presided at the question drawer.

The president, Miss Routledge, was then asked to give an address, in which she thanked the Lobo ladies for their kind hospitality, after which Mrs. P. Herbert, past president of Hyde Park Women's Institute, spoke briefly on the work of their own institute, also thanking the Lobo ladies. A piano duet was given by Misses E. Solis and Alberta Venner, which was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Andrew Ferguson gave a very interesting paper on "Salt." The delegates appointed to attend the convention in London were Mrs. H. D. Steele, provincial delegate; Mrs. E. T. Caverhill and Miss Ruby McVicar.

At the close of the lunch was served by the Lobo ladies. The next meeting is to be held in Lobo hall.

KNOX CHURCH W. M. S.
Knox Church W. M. S. held their thanksgiving meeting Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Murdoch McKenzie of Homan, China, was present and gave an interesting lecture, dealing with the problems of that country and their solution. The Rev. Dr. McKenzie has spent 32 years in the Eastern land and his first-hand knowledge of conditions was highly instructive to the members of the society.

Mr. Percy and the choir of the church generously loaned their services, which tended to make the evening a success. Miss Gladys McEvoy sang a very highly appreciated solo. Rev. T. A. Symington, pastor of the church, occupied the chair.

ST. JOSEPH'S ALUMNAE.

Dr. Stuart Fisher gave an interesting address to the members of St. Joseph's Alumnae at their meeting held Wednesday night. He spoke chiefly of the nervous system and pain. After the address a short business meeting followed.

London Technical School squad were victors over the Woodstock College eleven in a Middlesex-Oxford Rugby Union game at Queen's Park Thursday afternoon by the score of 5 to 2. This was the locals' first win since the league opened. A shake-up in the line-up made a big difference in the line style of play. Their tackling and line-work was much better, and they worked closer to the signals than on their former appearances.

Some Good Kicking.

Phil Birch, the diminutive little quarter-back for the Technicals, was the spearhead for the Tech's numerous line attacks. Uphillgrove scored all the locals' points. Mills made some good tackles, and McKeeough and Capt. Loveless did some nice ball-carrying work. Uphillgrove scored all the locals' points. Mills made some good tackles, and McKeeough and Capt. More Kicking.

London got their last points of the game at the beginning of the last quarter on two dead-line kicks. Woodstock tried hard to overcome the lead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Herald this morning in an editorial on the international fishermen's trophy races declared that the Blue Nose was "especially designed in the hope that she could win back to Canada, the trophy which the Captain Mary Welch won with the Gloucester schooner Esperanto last November."

The paper declares that there is an essential difference between the two boats which are to race on Saturday, saying the Blue Nose is built solely with a view of commercial deep sea fishing. It also calls attention to the difference of twenty years in age between the two vessels. Discussing the racing construction of the Canadian boat the Herald says: "Blue Nose comes within four feet of the overall length set by the terms of the trophy deed of gift which is 145 feet. Naturally she ought to have more power than Elsie, which is only 105 feet over all, with a beam of 25 feet, as against Blue Nose's 27 feet beam. If a line could be had on the speed of the two contestants, based on the respective elimination races, Blue Nose would appear to be much the faster craft, for she beat her nearest contender by 16 minutes and 22 seconds in the deciding race on Oct. 17. In the elimination race off Cape Ann on Oct. 12 Elsie beat the second boat by 10 minutes and 22 seconds. In each case the course was 40 miles around."

TENDER MEETS KANSAS IN NEW YORK TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Low Tender, Philadelphia, lightweight, and Rocky Kansas of Buffalo were expected to arrive here today to put finishing touches on training for their 15-round bout tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden. Both fighters are reported to be in excellent condition and down to the 135-pound weight, at which they were contracted to weigh in at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Tender has been established a two to one favorite and is quoted as predicting victory by a knockout within half the scheduled length of the fight.

Although Tender has had little experience in bouts of more than ten rounds, he was declared to be confident he could travel the full 15 without discomfort if he found it necessary. Kansas' supporters declared emphatically it would be necessary, but asserted Tender could not do it.

Ruth's Bosses Insured Him Against Everything But His Wilfulness

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The two jolly colonels of the New York Yanks Red Sox two years ago for the baseball player, name of Ruth.

Right away, if not sooner, they bought so much and such various insurance that they had to get a new filing cabinet to hold the policies. Babe Ruth is insured against fire, tornado and flood, murder, mayhem, measles, mumps, dandruff, falling arches, falling garages and almost every other ill or misfortune that human flesh is heir to, from oversleeping to senile decay.

Says Col. Jake.

When the policies were all indexed and the premiums paid, Colonel Jake Ruppert teetered back on his heels of new, live rubber, hooked his thumbs in his vest pockets and said, said he, to Colonel T. H. Huston: "Well, that, so to speak, is that."

"Ah, yes," Colonel T. H. Huston replied, "teetering, too, with his own thumbs in his own vest pockets, that would seem to be that or its equivalent. Whatever happens to Mr. Ruth now, we need not worry. Does a locomotive jump the track and land in his lap, we're insured."

But there was just one risk that had overlooked and this was the one that had got Ruth into trouble before—his wilfulness. One word from any constituted authority and Babe Ruth does as he jolly well likes, if convenient.

Now Judge K. M. Landis, the supreme court of baseball, may give Babe Ruth one of his famous Standard Oil decisions. This is a little thing the colonels completely forgot to cover with insurance.

Like the Babe, Judge Landis either hits 'em big or misses big. The Standard Oil pleaded homo contendere and he smashed out a line of $29,240,000.37.

MURPHY IS INJURED WHEN HORSE FALLS

Driver Thrown Over Horse—Stumbled On Home Stretch.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—Tommy Murphy, one of the leading drivers of the Grand Circuit, was injured here today when Peter Henley of the Murphy Stables, stumbled and fell in the 207th race. He had just shoved the horse into a nose lead coming down the home stretch in the third heat when the animal stumbled. The sulky and driver were thrown overboard, and horse and driver turned a somersault, Murphy hurtling over the horse's head and landing crumpled up on his shoulders. It was said tonight that Murphy was badly bruised and suffering from shock, but not seriously hurt, and it was announced he expected to be back on the track by Saturday, the closing day.

The race in which the spill occurred had proved the most exciting of the program. Mabelle Direct, piloted by Gray, won the race, while piloted by Cox, took all three heats.

The summary:

Compulsory Physical Training Is Inaugurated At Western "U"

For the first time in the history of Western University, compulsory physical training and gymnasium classes have been inaugurated for junior male students.

Under the new timetable drafted for the fall term recently opened, arts and medical students of the first and second years must attend these classes held in the gymnasium of the new medical school every Tuesday and Thursday from October 5 to May, from 5 to 6 p.m. Under these arrangements each junior student spends two hours weekly in the gymnasium.

These classes will be under the direction of M. L. Blake, physical director of Western University. With the fall term well under way, athletics are in full swing at Western. The medical school is also in session. The Inter-Year Basketball League every Tuesday evening from October to April with four games scheduled per week.

Will Run in Series.

This league will be run in two series, with the winners of the first playing off with the winners of the second. The Gibbons trophy won last year by Meds '23, W. C. Beamer of Arts '23, was elected president of the league. The meeting held last week, J. A. Sifton, Meds '23, is vice-president, and W. W. Briddle, Arts '23, is secretary for the ensuing year. E. L. Douglas of Meds '23 has been chosen to act as an advisory member of the basketball league executive.

Keen competition has always been the keynote of the Inter-Year Basketball League at Western, and with twelve prospective teams on the schedule this season will prove no exception. The medical students will devote a portion of their surplus energy to push ball contests this year, the above game being introduced at Western for the first time, Monday evening, Nov. 1, from 7 to 9 p.m. will be assigned to the Meds for this strenuous pastime.

Friday evenings throughout the year will find the arts students of Western indulging in basketball at the medical school gymnasium, while the first and second university basketball teams will practice at the Y. M. C. A. gym on Mondays, and play in the "C" league on Thursdays or Saturdays evenings.

In addition to regular assignments for the medical school gym students will be permitted to enjoy a work-out and shower during spare moments which do not conflict with lectures.

Hockey Plans Drafted.

Boxing and wrestling classes will be in order at Western this term, Thursday evenings being selected for this work. The old university gym on Oxford street has been allotted to girl students of Western, and their basketball league, which has been operated in previous years, will claim its share in previous years. The girls' basketball games will be played on Thursday evenings, so that the boys will not clash with the men's games on Tuesdays.

Rugby will be indulged in by the more husky students until about Nov. 15, after which the players will doff their uniforms until the fall of 1922. Hockey plans are being drafted for an inter-year league at Western this winter similar to that of last year, when Meds '24 copied the cup.

The Western University Canadian Officers' Training Corps will be re-organized in the near future, this rounding out a bumper program of athletics and training for Westernites during the present academic year.

Lucan and Parkhill To Attend Exeter "Day"

EXETER, Oct. 20.—The Athletic Association of the Exeter High School have planned holding their annual field day Friday at a weather and wind that a game wouldn't take place, the coaches called it off and spent a couple of hours at signal practice. The ground was heavy anyway.

Signal drills will be repeated again this afternoon so that neither team will line up before Saturday's games.

Lucan and Parkhill To Attend Exeter "Day"

Yesterday a game was billed between Western and Taylor's L. C. I. crew, but when a few members of both teams took to judging the weather and wind that a game wouldn't take place, the coaches called it off and spent a couple of hours at signal practice. The ground was heavy anyway.

Signal drills will be repeated again this afternoon so that neither team will line up before Saturday's games.

Will Concentrate On Signal Drill Today Again—Game Yesterday Called Off.

Sometimes a defeat is a greater stimulant to a team than victory, and seems to be the case with Western, for the squad is putting some real spirit into their workout in preparation for Varsity's invasion Saturday. Probably the biggest crowd that ever watched the Collegians in action will see this game, as rugby is beginning to attract the attention it should have received for years past.

This will be a miniature edition of a McGill-Varsity clash, for a good deal of the ancient McGill feeling against anything appraised in blue and white goes into the coaching of Buster Reid, Fifty Per Cent Improved.

The Western outfit will go into the fray tomorrow fifty per cent better than they were yesterday, and while they were tackled by St. Mike's, and while victory over the invaders won't be given a banquet at noon.

Co-Eds Enter Two City Teams

Competition Will Be Keen in City Basketball League.

Western University will have two girls' basketball teams in the City League this year, Physical Director Blake announced last evening. A meeting was held Thursday afternoon and plans made for the formation of teams. The inter-year league games will start next Thursday. Considerable interest has been shown by the girls in this league. All teams are fairly evenly matched, and some snappy and close games are looked for.

The ladies' gymnasium class is larger this year than in any previous one. There are 79 girls taking the course. The men's course begins on the first Thursday in November.

Mr. Blake also stated last evening that there was a possibility of the girls having a basketball team in the L. O. B. A. A.

REACH FINAL ROUND OF LADIES' SINGLES TODAY

Will Wind Up Big W. O. Tourney on Saturday.

The ladies' singles tennis event of the Western Ontario championship tennis tourney will be continued today with the final round of play. The finals will be played on Saturday.

When this event is finished the tourney, which has been in progress for the past two weeks, will be completed.

PUBLIC SCHOOL "DAY" TODAY

If the weather man permits, the annual field day of the London public schools will be held this afternoon at Queen's Park. The "day" was postponed three weeks ago owing to bad weather.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—Even though Saturday's game looms up as a crunch for the locals, the members of the Ottawa rugby team were out in full force again last night and will take no chances of the unexpected happening on the occasion of the Winged Wheelers' visit to the capital.

The practice was featured by the return of Coach Cory to active work.

LICENSE INSPECTOR RESIGNS.

WALKERTON, Oct. 20.—Joseph M. White, license inspector for South Bruce, has resigned owing to ill-health. During his ten years as inspector Mr. White has had the reputation of being one of the best inspectors in the province, and during the past three months alone has secured no less than seven convictions where heavy fines have been imposed. The department has not yet named a successor and Mr. White will continue to act until an appointment is made.

Liquor Smuggling Is Scandal, Says Premier.

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Oct. 20.—The Odelssting section of the Storting has passed, by 54 votes to 35, the Government bill extending the limit of Norway's territorial waters to ten miles as far as regards customs. The prime minister, M. Biehr, laid stress on the importance of preventing the present smuggling of liquor, which was a scandal.

The foreign minister, M. Rastad, dwelt on the difference between the customs limit and the fishing limit. Each state was sovereign, and could change the former at its own accord.

A Norwegian order-in-council was issued on September 2 extending the authority of the customs authorities to ten miles from the coast. Liquor smugglers, mainly German, have been active of late off the Norwegian coast, the vessels keeping just outside the three-mile limit.

RHEUMATISM?

Health is the Most Valuable Asset You Have. You cannot Afford to Neglect It

Crofton, B. C.—"I was troubled for years with inflammatory rheumatism and rheumatic fever. I tried several cures for rheumatism, but did not receive any benefit from any of them. I had been in the hospital for months, being unable to walk. A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. After taking the first bottle I began to improve, and after taking six bottles I had no more rheumatism. I think Dr. Pierce's Anuric is the most wonderful medicine that any one can take for rheumatism. I have recommended these tablets to several of my friends and they, too, have all been benefited by them."—Melville Collinson.

People are realizing that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs any one would do well to get Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets which are to be had nowadays at almost any drug store or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., for trial package and write for free, confidential medical advice.

PLOWING MATCH

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR ABSENT

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 20.—The 1921 plowing match of the Provincial Plowman's Association now in progress here has already far surpassed in number of entries all attendance any previous match and demonstration held by the association. Despite the adverse weather conditions which early today threatened to seriously interfere with the match, an enormous crowd was in attendance. It was estimated that 25,000 people from all parts of Ontario were present. It was Woodstock's record crowd of visitors.

To bring this big crowd of visitors to the plowing and demonstration grounds, which were situated one mile north of the city, it was estimated that 6,000 autos and countless other conveyances were used. The arrangements for parking, handling the crowd and carrying on the program of the day were perfect. The directors had secured accommodation for any number of cars, and these parking places, and easily 2,000 others were parked elsewhere.

Lieutenant-Governor Absent. One drawback marred a perfect opening, the absence of the Lieutenant-governor of Ontario, Col. Harry Cockshutt, who was unavoidably absent through the illness of Mrs. Cockshutt. However, the great crowds, the record entries in all classes and the unequalled success of the second day of the match swept away the disappointment of the directors. There were 104 entries for today's program which is larger than for the combined three days at any previous year's matches, and the judges, after completing their work, stated that it was the best plowing match ever held in America. The rains of the night and early morning had only served to put the soil in perfect condition, the drainage on the asylum grounds being of the best.

There were many special features to the day's doing. Perhaps the one of the greatest interest was shown was the competition between a tractor drawing a two-furrow plow and four teams drawing single furrow plows. The teams were handled by four of the directors, and they won the competition both for time and workmanship. The acre was plowed by the teams in one hour and ten minutes.

The plowing days of the pioneers of this country were vividly brought back when William Fletcher of Dereham Centre gave an exhibition with a team of oxen and an old-time wooden plow. Mr. Fletcher drove the oxen, while A. J. McKay of East Zorra handled the plow. At the work done drew forth rounds of applause from the thousands who looked on.

The big competition today was in the class open to all plowmen, the winner carried away the Renfrew trophy, emblematic of the Ontario

500,000 U. S. HUNTERS
AWAIT OPEN SEASONGovernment Ready To Control
Game Slaughter After Nov. 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—An army of 500,000 hunters is preparing to take the field in the United States Nov. 1, when the open season for game begins in most states.

Attorney-General Daugherty, officials of the department of justice and game wardens in every section are ready to supervise the slaughter to insure recognition by the hunters of the multitude of laws intended to protect game.

Manufacturers and dealers in guns, shells, hunting outfits and sporting garments are beginning to experience a rush of business in anticipation of the open season, which in most states continues throughout November.

Farmers are anxiously awaiting the day when shots will begin to echo through the fields and woods. Amateur sportsmen have been known to destroy cows, horses and other stock by accident.

Physicians and nurses in hospitals in big cities know that their services will be needed in many cases of accidental shooting. Scores of amateur sportsmen have been wounded and killed during the hunting season last year.

Miners Mighty Hunters. Mine operators expect to experience difficulty in filling their payroll lists. Miners, experience shows, are inveterate hunters. The number of employees always falls off in all mines during the open season for game, it is well known. Lack of employment this year is not expected to discourage those miners who are enthusiastic for the sport of tracking game.

Express companies know that their services will be needed by many hunters to transport big game from the field to the home. Additional cold storage facilities are being made ready by the railroads.

Next week hunters will begin to gather in the foothill towns of the Rockies, in the marsh districts of the river valleys of the eastern states and in the towns on the edges of the forests of the Michigan Peninsula.

In the northern states guides are getting ready the accommodations for the visiting hunters in anticipation of a record number of guests. Camps and boats are being painted and patched. In small towns hotel-keepers expect a rush of business. Restaurants of big cities are looking over for game to be delivered during November.

Outdoor "Art" Coming. Signs announcing the sale of venison steak soon will appear in the windows of the corner meat shops of big cities. Hunting will soon become the major topic of interest and talk in circles of sportsmen in every section of the United States to the exclusion of football, bowling and other sports. News-papers and magazines within a few days will begin to blossom with stories and articles of the great outdoors "art" based on camp fire scenes. In the larger cities heads of health boards are preparing lists of "don'ts" to amateur hunters and direction as to the proper manner of climbing a rail fence when impeded by a heavy rifle or shotgun. Veteran hunters are nervously awaiting the advent of the amateur who negotiates the rail fences with his shotgun loaded in both barrels and with both hammers placed at full cock.

The department of commerce today officially recognized the sportsman by making public a general invitation to all American hunters to visit Siam, which is now regarded as the world's best remaining hunting ground. Tigers, leopards, rhinoceros, wild cattle, Himalayan black bear, deer and wild pig are some of the varieties of game which may be pursued and slain in the wilds of Siam, according to reports of American Consul James P. Davis at Bangkok.

Elephants Obtainable Cheaply. American sportsmen who wish to visit Siam for hunting may lease elephants on which to tour the jungles for $1.50 a day, according to the report of Mr. Davis, which gives minute directions to sportsmen as to the most approved manner of planning trips. Scores of Americans are expected to accept the Siam invitation for a few months' big game slaughter, officials say. Hunting in Siam is a matter of at least a month in the jungle, Mr. Davis's report makes clear.

"Any one thinking of running out from Bangkok for a few days' tiger shooting between boats had best stay at home," Mr. Davis warned, "but the sportsmen prepared to remain a month or more in the jungle at a cost of at least several hundred dollars and willing to take the chances of failure and fever will probably be well rewarded for his efforts."

Explorers' Gun Best. "The outfit," directs Consul Davis, "should include all arms and ammunition, suits of heavy duck, with ties, coats, mosquito nets of small mesh, cooking materials and supplies of medicine. All except provisions should be brought from home in order to avoid the high market prices of Bangkok. The long, high power rifle is not likely to be useful, as most shots are at ten to thirty yards. The so-called explorers' gun, taking ball or shot cartridges, is most useful. The denseness of the jungle makes long-range shots impossible everywhere. It should be also noted that suitable arms and ammunition cannot be obtained in Siam.

"It is desirable to employ for arrival a Siamese interpreter to accompany the expedition, to make purchases and also make arrangements for the hiring of hunters, trackers and coolies."

$600,000,000 A YEAR AT STAKE SHOULD U. S. RAILMEN WALK OUT

WAGE CUT ORDERED BY LABOR BOARD EXCEEDS $300,000,000

Further Reductions Which Railway Executives Ask the Workers To Accept Total $250,000,000.

[By N. E. A. Service to The Advertiser]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Six hundred million dollars in annual wages is the stake for which railway workers have declared to strike, Oct. 30, for the re-establishment of wage schedules in effect during the last half of 1920 and the first six months of 1921.

More than $300,000,000, or over half this sum, already has been ordered stricken from the rail workers' payroll. This was by the decision of the railway labor board, effective July 1, 1921, cutting wage schedules of railworkers an average of about twelve per cent.

The remainder, aggregating about $250,000,000, is the further reduction the railway executives have announced their intention of asking, even in the face of the strike vote.

In simple terms, the strikers are demanding the maintenance of wage schedules established by the rail board in 1920, while the railroad executives are seeking the return of rail pay to the basis established by the United States Railroad Administration.

There exists a general feeling that the strike call is rather for the purpose of frustrating the executives' plans for a further reduction than in the hope of gaining reconsideration for the reductions already ordered.

Bare Average Wages.
How the wages of the various classes of railway labor are affected by the recent reductions, against which the strike was called, is shown by the following average figures on rail pay.

Passenger engineers under the scales which the Brotherhoods seek to have retained average $288 a month. The new scale would cut their pay 48 cents a day, or $14.40 monthly, leaving an average of $273. The monthly rate under the railroad administration averaged $253, while the average prior to government operation, in 1917, was $186.

Freight engineers, who under the award of July, 1920, averaged $275 monthly, draw only an average of $256 under the July, 1921, scale. Under government operation these men averaged $239, while in 1917 their average was $175. The reduction against which they strike is 64 cents a day.

The average fireman's pay, on a through run, was $219 on passenger trains, and $202 on freight, under the maximum scale. The reduction against which they strike is 48 cents a day for passenger firemen and 64 cents for freight, which would bring their monthly pay down to about $205 and $183 respectively.

Under government operation these men drew an average of $184 and $166, while prior to government control they averaged $112 and $106 respectively.

Conductors in Lead.
Average monthly pay of other classes, for which the men are striking, same being the scales fixed by the railroad labor board in 1920, are: Passenger conductors, $257; baggage men, $197; flagmen and brakemen, $183; freight conductors, $247; freight brakemen, $194; yard foremen, $194; yard helpers, $181; switch tenders, $152; yard engineers, $200, and hostlers, $176.

Against which the men have voted to strike, call for cutting the pay of passenger conductors, baggage men, flagmen and brakemen, $18 per month; of freight service employees and yard hostler help, 64 cents a day.

How Total is Reached.
The total of decreases, running through all the shop and clerical forces, contained in the downward revision of the last wage order, has been variously estimated at between three hundred and four hundred million dollars. On the basis of present railway employment, however, $500,000,000 is believed about correct.

The board estimated the increase of July, 1920, to have added six hundred millions to the annual payroll, which leaves another two hundred and fifty millions which the executives urge be "chopped off."

Total rail forces which would be affected by a general railway strike would approximate 1,800,000, as follows: Engine service employees, 136,000; Train service employees, 189,000; Shop employees, 445,000.

NEW TEACHERS' COURSE OPENED AT NORMAL
It has been announced by the minister of education that Saturday classes in household science and manual training will be held at the Normal School, starting Saturday, Oct. 22.

The classes are open to any teacher actually employed in any rural inspectorate. The course provided will be parallel to the training courses given in the summer school at Toronto, and the same credit for elementary certificates will be given.

The department of education will make an allowance of $1.25 a day to each teacher attending to help defray expenses.

BANK OWNED BY ENGINEERS HAS BEEN SUCCESS.

RAIL ENGINEERS HAVE OWN BANK

Have Deposited To Date More Than $10,000,000.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—Most of the $5,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have healthy savings accounts in the brotherhood's own co-operative national bank that was organized here in November, 1920.

The primary purpose of the bank was to care for the funds of the organization and to handle the money of widows and orphans of dead brotherhood members.

Original deposits were $651,000. To-day the institution has drawn in $10,000,000 and is gaining at the rate of $1,000,000 a month.

The president of the bank is Warren S. Stone, who also is chief of the brotherhood and who once ran a locomotive on a single track division of the Rock Island.

Will Pay Six Per Cent.
"We'll pay at least six per cent dividend on stock in the first year of our existence," says Stone. He's now creating savings clubs among the 875 lodges of the brotherhood.

"Our main object is to inculcate thrift among the men," he says. "When they accumulate savings we'll recommend good investments."

"Our brotherhood pays out $3,000,000 a year to widows and orphans of deceased members. In the past 75 per cent of this money disappeared in a year, for the inexperienced folk got into the hands of shippers. Now our trust department takes care of the funds for these people."

Stone is a firm believer in the future of the co-operative movement and in the power of labor.

Would Rule Nation.
"If labor would only conserve its resources and put it in the banks, it would be able to dictate the financial policy of the country in ten years," he says.

"Labor's income is $25,000,000,000 a year. The whole problem is one of education in co-operation, a problem that we have tackled in real earnest."

The brotherhood bank is now located in an unpretentious building, formerly occupied by a saloon. The main banking counter once served as a bar.

But the brotherhood owns sufficient land adjoining to accommodate a 21-story bank building, for which plans already have been drawn, and which is to be built within two years.

KERWOOD, Oct. 20.—The Ladies' Aid of the Anglican Church met on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 20, at the home of Mrs. H. Eastabrooke.

The W. A. of St. Paul's Anglican Church met at the home of Mrs. H. Watson last week and had a very successful meeting. The ladies decided to form a Little Helpers' Society. Mrs. Ern Denning and Miss Irene Eastabrooke taking charge. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. de Gex on Nov. 8. A thankoffering will be taken and a social time spent.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met last week at the home of Mrs. Frank Hull with seventeen members present. A very interesting reading on China was given by Mrs. J. H. Richardson, and a special topic entitled, "Little Ways of Bettering the World," was given by Mrs. John Johnson. Mrs. H. Watson read the Scripture lesson. Several of the ladies were appointed to attend the W. M. S. convention in Petrolia. Mrs. F. Hull will give a paper on "The Value of Our Prayer in Our Society" at the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Johnson.

Bella Pontiac, the famous Holstein, owned by Thomas A. Barron, Cock-shutt road, has just presented her owner with a fine heifer calf. Bella Pontiac has made this country famous by her one and two-year records in butter production. Mr. Barron expects her to make a greater record than ever this year.

ROOF DESTROYED BY FIRE.
BRANTFORD, Oct. 20.—The roof and furnishings at a cottage owned by William Clouse, 149 Bruce street, were destroyed by fire this morning. The fire started in some unaccountable manner when the owner and his family were away.

The latest official figures available for all roads show the total outstanding capital of all companies to be $20,781,324.81, in addition to outstanding stock of switching and terminal companies amounting to $486,602,296. Railways themselves hold $1,330,491,806 of the former and $112,578,658 of the latter, leaving $16,828,362,773 in the hands of nearly 700,000 scattered stock and bond holders. Many of these have only small holdings.

WILL Tie Up Systems.
The strike as planned, will tie up completely railroad systems whose net earnings in 1920 were $461,922,776. It would paralyze an industry that in one year—1918—paid to its stock and bond holders more than $830,000,000 in interest and dividends.

The latest official figures available for all roads show the total outstanding capital of all companies to be $20,781,324.81, in addition to outstanding stock of switching and terminal companies amounting to $486,602,296. Railways themselves hold $1,330,491,806 of the former and $112,578,658 of the latter, leaving $16,828,362,773 in the hands of nearly 700,000 scattered stock and bond holders. Many of these have only small holdings.

BIG RAIL STRIKE WOULD ENTAIL 4-WAY LOSSES

Means Great Hardships To Public, Shippers, Road Owners and Employees.

WILL CURTAIL TRAVELING Public Utilities, Schools and Other Institutions Might Face Coal Famine.

[By N. E. A. Service to The Advertiser.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Because of America's dependency on railroad transportation facilities, with the great distances between the sources of food supply and the markets, a protracted railroad strike would bring extraordinary hardships.

This shows the four-way losses that a strike of railroad men, such as is called for Oct. 30, will entail to the public, to shippers, to railroad employees and to the railroad owners.

The 1,100,000 persons who travel on our railroads annually will find their traveling congested and curtailed, if not cut off altogether. Thousands of these men to continue will bring an added slump in many businesses, and possibly additional unemployment for some factory forces.

The freight—amounting to more than 2,500,000 tons yearly, will pile up on sidetracks or in warehouses.

Much of this will be foodstuffs and coal. Failure to keep foodstuffs moving will bring hardship to the public, and the inability to move coal will mean a shortage of power plants and street car systems, and of schools, and bring hardship into hospitals and other public institutions.

Mail delivery would be delayed, still further paralyzing business.

According to the latest figures obtainable, $29,709 freight cars are being loaded weekly on American railroads. This enormous output, with the exception of the small amount that could be distributed by motor units, would be cut off.

The part that vital living necessities, such as food and coal, play in this distribution is shown by the figures for the first three months of 1920, when a total of 11,731,247 cars, or 401,818,363 tons were shipped.

Of this amount, agricultural products made up 1,045,728 cars, or 26,022,957 tons; animal products, 801,734 cars, or 9,825,151 tons; mineral products, 4,318,449 cars, or 206,296,128 tons; forest products, 1,360,465 cars, or 38,423,275 tons; and manufactured and miscellaneous products 3,660,460 cars, or 78,261,469 tons.

Menaces Perishable Freight.
Millions of tons of perishable freight, made up in the making for shipment, would become a total loss if cars were unavailable.

The number of railroad employees today, as shown by the figures for 1920, is approximately 1,700,000. This is a reduction of about 300,000, or roughly 15 per cent.

In 1920 the total payroll of the railroads, exclusive of officers, is estimated at $3,599,000,000 for the 1,995,524 persons who then were employed, or an average wage of $1,806.

Wages will be a total loss, despite strike benefits.

Thousands of persons are engaged in directly in work that has to do with the railroads. When the men walk out these thousands also will be out of jobs, and they will have no strike benefits to fall back on.

Will Tie Up Systems.
The strike as planned, will tie up completely railroad systems whose net earnings in 1920 were $461,922,776. It would paralyze an industry that in one year—1918—paid to its stock and bond holders more than $830,000,000 in interest and dividends.

EXPLAINS ECCENTRIC VARIATIONS OF WINDS

U. S. Geographic Bulletin Says Airships' Speed Limited.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—"To the layman, the world's rotation plays queer pranks with the atmosphere," says a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society, "but scientists find the various swirls following fairly definite laws. The world's winds and their complexity are due in general to two forces: the rapid rotation of the earth, which is imparted to the air surrounding it, and modification of this motion, due to difference in temperature on the earth's surface.

"If the temperature differences did not play a part in the matter, it is probable that there would be only west winds in the temperate and polar zones, and no winds at all in the tropics. The situation would be somewhat like that brought about in a glass of liquid at a soda fountain in which a rotary stirrer is introduced.

"The liquid swirls faster and faster until finally it attains practically the speed of the rotating rod. So, but for temperature differences, the earth would have the great sea of air which surrounds it swirling with it practically at the speed with which the earth moves at the equator—approximately a thousand miles an hour. But since both the earth and the air at the equator would be moving at the same speed, there would be no wind there.

Air Would Outrun Earth.
"As one went from the equator he would find a wind blowing harder and harder as he approached the poles. This wind would be from west to east, the direction in which the earth is turning, and would result from the fact that the air was turning through space actually faster than the earth. For while the surface of the earth at the equator is moving at about a thousand miles an hour, being on the rim of the wheel, so to speak, the surface in the temperate zones, being nearer to the 'hub' is moving at a slower speed.

"But the air above the equator swirling at a thousand miles an hour, would communicate its speed to the air on each side of it and would tend to throw the entire atmosphere spinning at the rapid equatorial rate. As a result, it would outrun the earth between the equator and poles and create a mighty west wind.

"As a matter of fact much of this assumption is true. The earth does impart its rotary motion to the atmosphere in general, but because of counter influences and side currents, due to temperature differences, the assumed calm is not found in the tropics.

Earth Outruns Air.
"Instead, the earth outruns the air somewhat there, and the air 'drags' as the earth spins under it, makes winds blowing from east—the famous trade winds. But even though the atmosphere is moving eastward more slowly than the earth at the equator, it is moving faster than the earth in the temperate zones, and there the prevailing winds are from the west.

"Temperature differences, of course, change the general directions of these 'planetary' winds, especially at the surface of the earth. But in the United States, at an elevation of six or seven miles, a nearly constant wind may be found blowing from the west at from 60 to 75 miles an hour.

"There seems to have been much optimism in regard to speeds that can be attained by aircraft with the help of these planetary winds. It has been stated in some instances that in upper currents moving at 300 miles an hour aeroplanes with powerful motors could reach speeds of 400 or 500 miles an hour.

"The difficulty is that no winds have been found in the upper air by the United States weather bureau in many years of observation that much exceed 100 miles an hour, and the normal speed of the west winds at high altitudes over the United States is between 60 and 75 miles an hour. If such tremendous speed as that suggested is to be attained by aeroplanes, therefore, the motors will have to be responsible for the greater part of it.

"The winds of highest velocity have been found about six or seven miles above the sea at the level of the highest clouds. Both above and below this level the speeds fall off.

Motion Rates Checked.
"The rates of motion have been checked by observing the drift of spe-

C. P. R. OFFICIALS GUESTS OF INGERSOLL KIWANIS

Entertained to Banquet and a Ride Round the Town.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 20.—Sixty officials of the C. P. R., from Montreal to Detroit, were the guests of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday at a banquet held in the market building, where many of the local manufacturers had a most creditable "Made-in-Ingersoll" exhibit. In connection with the visit the railwaymen held the monthly meeting of the Ontario District Traffic Association. The visitors were met at the depot by Kiwanians in autos and given a ride around the town.

During the social hour, at which H. P. Stoneman, president of the Kiwanis Club, presided, warm tributes were paid to C. P. R. Agent James Enright of this town, who has rendered faithful service for 35 years. A reminiscence speaker was Wm. Coulter of Toronto, a former resident, who noted with pride that he was a member of the champion Dufferin lacrosse team 30 years ago along with Postmaster S. A. Gibson. President Stoneman referred to the importance that the C. P. R. attaches to Ingersoll, and stated that during recent months the freight shipped out of here amounted to more than a million dollars a month.

Thomas Husband, died Wednesday at the family residence, Concession street. She had lived here for many years, and was widely known. She was in her 73rd year, and is survived by four daughters and two sons.

DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE ASSEMBLE IN CHATHAM

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—The provincial meeting of the I. O. O. F. opened at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Mrs. Burkholder of Hamilton president. Over 150 delegates are in attendance and have come from as far east as Kingston and as far west as Windsor. A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in the Hotel Garner, the visiting delegates being the guests of the mayor, city council and the Municipal Chapter. The afternoon session commenced at 4 o'clock, and on the conclusion of business tea was served by the city chapter.

A Danger Warning —Bleeding Gums

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhea.

This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.

Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

MANY W. O. GAS MEN GOING TO HAMILTON

Will Attend Annual Convention of N. G. and P. A. of Canada.

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—A large representation of natural gas companies from Western Ontario will be present in Hamilton on Friday next when the third annual convention of the Natural Gas and Petroleum Association of Canada will be held in the Royal Connaught Hotel. S. A. Morse, secretary-treasurer of the association, in a statement Wednesday said that the attendance this year will be considerably larger than in previous years, as the membership is now close to 140 gas and oil companies.

The Union Natural Gas Company will be represented by General Manager F. W. James, General Superintendent E. C. Steele, Chief Accountant G. J. Oldershaw, J. McKee, George Robinson and Charles Klopfer. P. S. Coats will represent the Chatham Gas Company; R. L. Pattinson, the Central Pipe Line Gas Company; T. P. Pinckard, the Windsor Gas Company; J. B. Williams, the Sarnia Gas Company.

Samuel S. Wyer, a natural gas expert of Columbus, Ohio, will give an interesting talk; E. C. Steel of Chatham will give a paper on "Distribution Problems"; a member of the northwest staff of the Imperial Oil Company staff will give an illustrated lecture on the oil development in the northern oil fields, and "A History of Natural Gas in Southwestern Ontario," prepared by Messrs. P. S. Coats, F. W. James, T. P. Pinckard and S. A. Morse, will be read by the former.

LIVED 67 YEARS IN GALT.

GALT, Oct. 20.—Another old resident has passed away in the person of James McDougall, 13 Harris street, in his 92nd year. Deceased was born in Kelso, Scotland. He came to Canada and Galt, where he has resided ever since, in 1854. He was a great checker player until two weeks ago, when he was taken ill. Four daughters, one son, and one brother, Thomas McDougall of this city, survive.

There is a movement on foot among the manufacturers to hold a "Made-in-Galt" fair in the very near future.

W. J. Davidson, Sr., of Ottawa, father of Rev. M. B. Davidson, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, died in Ottawa on Wednesday.

SACRIFICE LIVES TO SAVE MEN ON BURNING VESSEL

Freighter William S. Wolfe Beached On Rocks in River St. Clair.

MARINE CITY, Mich., Oct. 20.—With the charred bodies of her first mate, Edward Henry, of Detroit, and Wheelman Anthony Smith of Ashland, Wisconsin, on board the big lake and river freighter, William S. Wolfe, which was blackened and beached on the rocks off Fawn Island in the St. Clair River, just opposite Sombra, Ontario, the result of a fire which broke out on the ship last night.

The survivors, who are being cared for at the Colonial Hotel here, credit the dead with performing deeds of heroism. The equal of which has seldom been seen, even by old sailors who have weathered many a terrible storm on the Great Lakes.

Shortly after leaving Port Huron, downward bound, fire broke out on the ship. Flashed by a fast gate, the blaze sealed the ship's doom before an effort could be made to halt the blaze.

"Run her onto Fawn Island," shouted Captain J. P. Hanson of Detroit. Wheelman Smith obeyed although even then the smoke and flames were rapidly encircling him.

The freighter was beached, and simultaneously the boats were lowered, and most of the crew leaped into them. Henry saw that all their comrades put away safely from the flaming ship. Captain Hanson was the last to leave for safety. He only leaped to save his life when he could no longer stand the terrible heat in doing so he fractured both legs.

Not until they had reached land did the crew learn that Henry and Smith had stuck to their posts.

Henry leaves a wife and children in Detroit and Smith a sister in Ashland, Wis.

The burned vessel had plied the lakes for years. In winter she laid up at Houghton, Mich., and in the trading season called at Port Arthur, Port William and Detroit. She was owned by Detroit and Port Huron. Just prior to leaving on the disastrous voyage she had discharged a load of pulpwood at the latter port.

Three Survivors From Wolfe Reach Sarnia

SARNIA, Oct. 20.—Three Sarnia men, members of the ill-fated freighter William S. Wolfe of Detroit, which burned to the water's edge at Sombra today returned to Sarnia tonight following their rescue from the burning ship.

The men saved and who reside here, are: K. Termeria, George Taylor and W. Wallburg. Well known in Sarnia, Edward Henry, first mate, a resident of Detroit, and Anthony Smith, a former resident of Toronto, lost their lives when their escape was cut off and they were burned to death aboard the burning freighter which sailed from Port Huron on Wednesday.

BAPTISTS INSIST ON SEPARATION POLICY.

resolution, as in the past, should be adopted until everyone has a clear interpretation of the same.

An amendment referring the resolution back to the committee was subsequently adopted, with Rev. Mr. Leichter's name added to the latter group.

The resolution in question urged that the pastors of the convention and their congregations use every means to arouse proper interest in the League of Nations Society of Canada, while encouragement be given to the study of international relations from a religious viewpoint. This did not include, it was explained, that endorsing in the League of Nations covenant be approved.

Objects To Coupling.

Rev. Mr. Leichter based his objection on the fact that the United States was coupled with Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary.

"That association is perfectly correct in some ways," he contended, "but distinctly wrong in others. The United States is not to be associated with that other trinity. I consider the resolution dangerous and probably objectionable to many."

"A new era has dawned for educational and denominational activity," asserted A. L. McCrimmon, M. A., LL.D., chancellor of McMaster University, and president-elect of the convention, upon assuming formally the latter office at Thursday's gathering.

"With my departure today," he continued, "I want to leave two thoughts with you. The first is, your responsibility. I recall the recent words of President Harding, who by the way is a faithful Baptist, when speaking of Anglo-Saxon solidarity, 'I am not so impressed by Anglo-Saxon achievements as by Anglo-Saxon responsibilities of the hour.'"

"My other thought is that there is always the pressing danger of being lifted to enthusiasm but neglecting to link up with practical enterprise. There is always the danger of burning out the fuse of spiritual conviction."

Vice-Presidents Speak.

C. S. Moore, first vice-president-elect and retiring president, when next introduced by Chairman McCrimmon, declared "that the reception accorded him was worth coming from California to receive." He expressed heartfelt pleasure to be a lieutenant under Dr. McCrimmon.

Dr. Graham, second vice-president-elect, urged greater evangelism for 1922, emphasizing his warning that nothing but "an exposition of the Word of God can solve the many intricate problems that must be solved." In order to give adequate expression to their feelings as to the choice of officers, the assembled delegates joined in "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

"There is one phase of unrest that I reason to be desirable and welcome," Dr. J. R. Stillwell, missionary on furlough from India, declared Thursday afternoon. "Show me the nation," he continued, "where no unrest to any degree is discernible and I'll show you a country that is either perfect or stagnant. Unrest is created by the people endeavoring to break through certain conditions they have been caught in and what is prevalent in other places is quite apparent in India."

"Once known as that 'unperturbable, unblinking and unchanging East,' those forces of unrest, one of the results of the great war, are breaking ground in India. Its state of total isolation has ended and although conditions are far from being normal, great hope is extended for the future."

"In the past India's crystallization of ancient forms, castes and other things has seemed to make her impregnable. Other nations have changed and intermingled, but these vast millions have remained outside.

Transformation Is Great.

"Nevertheless, a great transformation is in progress, and India is being gradually reduced to a proper state for re-molding. Educational achievements are on the increase, and the teaching in the schools and colleges is quietly eating the heart of paganism."

"There are, of course, extremists in India, as elsewhere, and super-extremists—men of unbalanced judgment who have been expounding to their own undoing. You have all heard of Mahatma Gandhi, head of the non-co-operative movement in India, and the one who advises passive resistance to the British Empire."

"He is sold by his followers to be somewhat of a saint, but he has been accomplishing much wrong. Although he has never been prosecuted by the British authorities, he is liable to be today really mean: 'Give us light, His program of 'passive resistance' includes the boycotting of schools, courts and foreign goods. Concerning the former he has been largely unsuccessful."

"Britain has said his endeavors are absurd. Do not be alarmed; the British Government cannot be stampeded in India or elsewhere. (Applause.) The great religious educational enterprise is going on as well. India's great philosophical religious class has made the big discovery, and its great unrest of today really means: 'Give us light, we do not want to live in the dark!'"

Need Medical Missionaries.

Urging increased medical missionaries for the Far East, Mrs. (Dr.) Chute, who with her husband is also on furlough from India, declared that a few days since in Toronto she counted twelve doctors' plates on one building on College street. "If they really seek employment," she said, "let them come to India. I know of one doctor who cried because she had too many patients. Is that the usual case here?"

A pleasing and appropriate incident marked the conclusion of Mrs. Chute's address. In, on behalf of the ladies of the church, Mrs. Rinsse tendered her a substantial cash presentation.

Explaining "Why He Was Going to Bolivia," H. E. Wintemute, B.A., pastor of the Weston Baptist Church, who leaves in December for that country, stated that it was because he had been convinced that South America was a problem to be solved by North America alone.

The tenth annual report of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board of Canada, submitted to the convention Thursday afternoon, revealed the fact that two foreign missions are now maintained; one in India with twenty-two stations, and one in Bolivia with four.

One hundred and ten men and women comprise the personnel of these posts. They are assisted by seven hundred native preachers and teachers. H. E. Stillwell, general secretary of the mission board, presented the report.

Elect New Officers.

The following officers were elected Thursday: Church edifice board, O. Masters, Weston; Rev. W. F. Roadhouse, Toronto; Rev. J. L. Sloat, Niagara Falls; publication board, F. L. Ratcliffe, Toronto; Dr. Wallace, Montreal; Prof. W. McLeay, Toronto.

The increased cost of paper, the difficulty in securing it, the printers' strike, high wages, and a general advance in the cost of production, were included in the annual report of the board of publication, as the principal reasons why the year's profit failed to exceed the sum of $56.88.

That even this showing was made is deemed gratifying. In moving the adoption of the report, J. H. Pettit, Toronto, entered an earnest plea for increased patronage.

Moving the adoption of the 54th annual report of the church edifice board, Rev. W. F. Roadhouse, Boon Street Church, Toronto, deplored the great lack of interest and identification of this branch of endeavor.

"They tell me," he explained, "that down in the press gallery at Ottawa the reporters have a list of a dozen

Anthracite Prices

AS dealers in Anthracite we wish we could reduce prices. But we can't.

The causes of high Anthracite prices are higher costs of LABOR and higher FREIGHT RATES—both fixed by law—not higher PROFITS.

Neither producers nor coal dealers are making any more money than they made when prices were lower.

The increased price ALL gas to pay higher costs of production and transportation.

How, then, can prices be reduced?

It is wise to lay in your winter's supply now rather than wait until thousands of consumers are trying to have their coal bins all filled at the same time.

Claims Heart of Peace Problem Is Closer Anglo-Saxon Union

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Under the heading "Ending Anglophobia," the Tribune this morning discusses President Harding's address at Yorktown yesterday, in which the United States chief executive emphasized the necessity for close union between Great Britain and the United States. Declaring its object to be to show respect for a great cause by candor, the Tribune continues: "It is said war between two peoples is unthinkable. Would it were so. But, alas, too many not only think, but talk of it. More than one generation of petty American politicians have devoted themselves to twisting the British Lion's tail."

The paper remarks that sometimes the object of this tail-twisting has been "to hoodwink those whose emotional center is Ireland," and recently it has been done "to cater to those whose major interest is Germany." Men and women in the United States who have seen that it was peculiarly desirable to have concord between peoples which in many things are strikingly alike have been attacked as "Anglophobes" and "imitators of alien ways," continues the Tribune, adding that "to dwell on the good qualities of other peoples was permissible, but Great Britain was always had." Yet by emphasizing the necessity of close union between the U. S. and Britain the president strikes at the heart of the peace problem. The editorial continues: "No one can tell what conditions will exist 50 years hence, but so far as concerns the immediate future, a wholesome association of nations is impossible unless there is an end to American and British discords, with wholehearted friendship and confidence of each nation in the other."

TIPLESS, MANLESS HOTEL WILL WELCOME BABY AND MOTHER

U. S. National Board of the Y. W. C. A. Launches What Its Members Term an Experiment in Woman Psychology, by Opening Novel Hostelry in Washington.

(Copyright By The Advertiser and N. E. A. Service.)
Washington, Oct. 21.—Washington, city of tips, has a tipless hotel! And that isn't the only "less" about it. It is manless as well. The Grace Dodge Hotel, which was opened Oct. 19, is intended to demonstrate that an up-to-date hotel can flourish without the accompaniment of male servants with their hands out.

From the woman manager down through the women clerks, chefs, chambermaids and porters, the staff and the help will be—if the plan works—high-class and so well paid and lodged that not even the least of the bell-girls will have an excuse for taking the tips the management forbids.

Will Be Experiment.
But why, the curious may ask, may only women have these tipless privileges? Has the national board of the Young Women's Christian Association, which owns and runs the hotel, a grudge against men? Not the least in the world! It believes that the time is ripe for an experiment in woman psychology. There are hotels for men, and hotels for women, but in some ways a woman traveling alone can be better served in an all-woman hotel.

But it won't be babyless. There is one "less" you find in many high-class apartment houses and hotels that does not exist here at Grace Dodge. There are special suites where mother will find a nice crib and sanitary devices for preparing her babies' milk. Men will be admitted to the first floor, as callers, to admire and envy, but above that they may not go. On the first floor they may test the lounge, which is both wide and lofty, planned to give full scope to the eloquence of women's conventions meeting there.

They may observe well-groomed women guests rising from the commodious vanity parlors, and they may even profit by the knowledge of the lady information clerk, who has political Washington at her tongue's tip, and will tell anybody anything they want to know on a woman's terms. But they won't see the best features, for those are in the upper regions.

Provides Valeting Rooms.
They are: A valeting room on every floor, where guests may check the highest cost of traveling by doing their own pressing with electric irons furnished by the hotel; shampoo basins where guests may launder their hair; sunny parlors where women can talk endlessly in the serene knowledge that there's no man creature anywhere around; all outside bedrooms with windows mostly trained upon the Capitol, so that lobbyists, hovering their breakfasts in bed, can keep one eye upon the dome under which their congressional perform.

WYOMING ROBBERS LEAVE FEW CLUES

captivity, then dragged him to the door of the vault.

Still Refused Information.
Still the teller refused to give the information desired.

The muzzle of a gun was shoved against his back and finally under threat of death, he opened the vault. Meanwhile, the bandit in the manager's office was dragging his prisoners to the vault, having secured the combination from the manager after declaring that he would kill him. The fourth man brought Miss Macintosh to the safe. As soon as the money in the safe had been taken, the gang threw the three employees and McKay to the floor of the vault and closed the door on them. Only an electric light wire which led from the outside to the fixture within, prevented them from shooting the bolts.

Boy Offers Battle.
While the robbery was taking place, Ronald Brown, a junior in the bank, who had seen the four gunmen coming toward the building and who had suspected that something was about to happen, obtained a revolver and slipped out the rear door of the bank. Then as the bandits left the bank, carrying the cash and three revolvers which they had found in the bank desk, he exchanged shots with one of them. The man with whom he battled, stumbled and fell, but whether he was wounded is not known.

More than a score of persons watched the bandits retreat, but none of them, except young Brown, offered any resistance. Just before the men came out, Brown had planned to puncture the gasoline tank in their car, but his mother, who was with him, would not allow him to interfere, fearing that harm might come to him.

It was not known that a man was in the car until his comrades rushed out of the rear door. Then he was seen to emerge from a pile of robes and start the car. Picking up speed rapidly, the auto shot north, closely pursued by Percy Hayes and Thomas Schaff. At the end of three miles the chase was dropped. Schaff then returned, and accompanied by Taylor, the teller, and Earl Brock, set out again in a car owned by the Ingersoll Packing Company, and driven by its agent, Fred Carlock. The tracks left by the bandit car were fresh on the road, and was followed to Fernhill. Apparently the robbers had their path of flight mapped out for they avoided all obstructions on the Sarnia gravel road by detouring.

Went Through Wanstead.
J. W. Robinson, immigration officer at Sarnia, told The Advertiser that when he was at Wanstead this afternoon the bandits passed him on the road traveling at a terrific rate of speed. They struck a mudhole, he stated, and although the car skidded to the side of the road and almost upset, they did not slow down. Their car, the marks on the road showed, had diamond tread tires, covered by chains.

The only descriptions of the men secured was that one was short and dark and was wearing a heavy beard, a dark suit and a cap. Another one, who was masked, wore a dark overcoat. None of them appeared to be of the gang and he was that one who ordered good English. Methods similar to those used during the hold-up of the Bank of Hamilton in Toronto a few days ago were employed throughout.

None of the gunmen hesitated to shoot while the chase was on. However, instead of firing at their pursuers, they emptied their guns at anyone and everyone of the pedestrians who were on Broadway street when they were leaving town.

Manager Lambert stated that he had given his staff instructions to be carried out in case of a hold-up. He had told them, he said, that if robbers began operations in the bank, that one of the staff was to go out the back door and secure assistance. Brown, the junior, did this, but as none of the villagers had weapons handy they could do little or nothing. The young clerk, however, was not to be halted in his attempt to prevent the entire band getting away unscathed.

Soon after the manager had wired his head office in Toronto of the affair, he received orders not to give out any information for publication.

The girl accountant was greatly unnerved as a consequence of the excitement fifteen minutes she went through.

Princeton

PRINCETON, Oct. 20.—The Masons of Blenheim Lodge, No. 108, held their annual church parade on Sunday evening to St. Paul's Church. The brethren were addressed by Rev. Bro. Captain C. R. S. Pike, B.A. There was a good attendance, about two-thirds of the brethren being in the procession. Special music was well rendered. The lessons were read by William Latham, lay reader. There was a large congregation.

Charles Myers is exhibiting a citron from his farm, which weighs 40 pounds 15 ounces.

Anniversary services were held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, which was crowded to the doors. The preacher for the day was Rev. K. J. Macdonald of Galt. A ten meeting and entertainment on the following evening brought out a great crowd. The Elgar sisters' quartet of London furnished the program, which was much enjoyed. The Princeton orchestra assisted, and speeches were given by resident and other clergymen. Hugh Allen of Drumbo presided. One hundred and seventy dollars was taken in on Sunday and Monday.

A very successful auction sale was held by Arthur Cockburn near Boston last week. Stock and implements, etc., all brought good prices. Cows averaged $100 each, and horses, $250. Mr. Cockburn is retiring and moving to Brantford.

CLAIMS EGYPTIAN MINDS LIKE INTELLECT OF TODAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The intellect of the modern average adult is identical with the intellect of the earliest Egyptians—we haven't progressed intellectually. This is the indictment of the men and women of today made by Miss Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr College, who was one of the delegates to the "Zompers" conference on armament limitation.

"We have progressed wonderfully in only one way since the time of the Egyptians," Miss Thomas said, "and that is in social development. There is an ever-growing desire to help one another."

"The youth of today I do not include among those having intellects the equivalent of the Egyptians. I would prophesy they will prove to be the saviors of civilization. For they are being educated in the ways of peace."

A Stitch in Time

Quick action is the only hope when kidney disease appears.

There is a whole train of dreadfully painful and fatal ailments which soon follow any neglect to get the kidneys right. Among others are rheumatism, lumbago, Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

In Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will find a treatment which is both quick and thorough.

Mr. C. E. Raynson, Lindale, Alta., writes:—

"I was a great sufferer from kidney disease and have been for more than a year. A friend of mine one day told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and acting upon his advice I tried them. After I had taken one box I felt better, so I continued until I had used five boxes. By this time I felt as well and strong as ever, and am glad to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anyone suffering as I did."

"Record in Writing" From All Nominees.

MAXWELL IS RE-ELECTED

Will Be First President To Receive Remuneration For His Services.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press).—Robert Maxwell of Winnipeg will continue for another year as the president of the Great War Veterans' Association, it was decided this afternoon at the annual convention and will be the first president to receive remuneration for his services. The name of C. G. MacNeill, Dominion secretary-treasurer, was also placed in the nomination, but Mr. MacNeill withdrew in favor of the present incumbent, T. Dace of Edmonton, who had no opposition in the nomination, is first vice-president.

A principle of obtaining legislation was decided upon early this afternoon and the convention then started discussion of a lengthy resolution making certain pension recommendations.

The import of the legislative recommendation is that political leaders and candidates would be requested to go on record in writing on soldiers' civil re-establishment requirements. The candidates will be asked if they are prepared to speak in Parliament and elsewhere in accordance with their attitude stated in writing.

Chief among the pension recommendations was a petition that the pension awarded a widow, without children or dependents, be increased to $75 a month without regard to income from other sources. This would also be the basis for widows with children and $25 for the first child was asked, $15 for the second and $12 for the third. The present scale of $60 was not adequate to the cost of living, especially in the cities, it was stated.

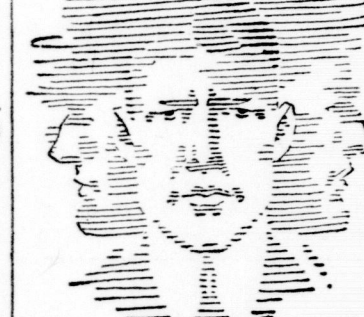

HOLD TWO IN WINDSOR

MAIL VAN ROBBERY

DETROIT, Oct. 20.—Warrants were issued Thursday for the arrest of Alexander McClean, Thomas Ferris and James Logan, charging them with robbing the Royal Canadian mail wagon on Oct. 7.

The warrants were issued following the positive identification of two of the men Wednesday, police say. They are being held on $10,000 bail each.

The men were arrested by police and postoffice officials, Oct. 18.

You're constipated! Take "Cascarets" tonight to thoroughly clean your bowels of the constipation poison which is keeping you dizzy, headache, half-sick and upset. No other cathartic or physic is so pleasant or moves clogged-up bowels so nicely, so fully, and Cascarets cost only ten cents a box.

WINDSOR, Oct. 20.—Word reached here today of the double shooting in Chicago Sunday of "Curley" O'Neil, formerly of Windsor, and Jim Butler, fugitive from justice, wanted by Winnipeg police for the slaying of two policemen. Both men were shot and killed by a Chicago policeman who caught them in the act of carrying out a robbery, reports state.

Though O'Neil has no criminal record here, he was known to Windsor police, an officer said to the Canadian Press today. Butler had a purse of $2,500 hanging over his head for his arrest in connection with the Winnipeg killings. He was cornered by two policemen in Winnipeg, about a year ago, caught in the act of committing a robbery, and drew his gun, shooting to kill, police say. He escaped and Canadian police could secure no trace of him despite a Dominion-wide search.

His body was brought to Ridgeway, Ontario, his birthplace, for burial.

BURGLARS ARE BUSY IN CHATHAM DISTRICT

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—Two attempts at burglary, one of which was successful were perpetrated in North Chatham last night, when the grocery store of A. Deloge was attacked, but bars over the windows prevented an entrance.

The store of R. H. Jones was broken into, however, and a large quantity of tobacco, cigarettes and chewing gum taken. Part of the loot was located under the Third Street Bridge this morning by Captain Crow of the police department.

Chief Peters of the county police is investigating several thefts that are stated to have occurred in hunters' shanties in Hawke's Township close to the Rondeau shooting grounds. One of these robberies was committed in a shanty owned by Gordon Tennant of London.

TORONTO GIRL AWARDED $4,500.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—A verdict of $4,500, with costs, was returned by the assizes jury at 1:50 o'clock this afternoon in the suit of Miss Eileen Young against P. C. O'Leary, a Toronto barrister, for breach of promise.

ALL ENTITLED TO TO SAME HONORS

Welcome To Meighen Cause of Debate in St. Thomas Council.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 20.—The city council at a special meeting this afternoon decided to submit a bylaw on Nov. 14, asking the consent of the ratepayers that $100,000 be raised to assist in the erection of a memorial hospital on the grounds of the Amasa Wood Hospital. The debentures would run for 30 years, at six per cent, and the annual payment would be $7,264.30.

Ald. Stokes urged that the measure be submitted to the people on the date of the municipal elections as an item of economy, but the alderman was told the county council, which meets on Nov. 24, must be assured of the amount that St. Thomas will contribute before the councillors would move for a grant from the county for such a purpose. Land in the vicinity of Amasa Wood Hospital will be secured to increase the conveniences in connection with the proposed healing establishment.

To Borrow $125,000.

The council authorized the borrowing of $125,000 to be applied to local improvements.

The entertainment committee was instructed to make arrangements for the reception of Premier Meighen, who will visit the city Saturday afternoon.

Ald. Stokes was willing that every courtesy be shown the Canadian premier, but he had fault to find with the council in not giving a similar official recognition to Premier Drury when he was in the city last summer.

Several of the aldermen excused their apparent oversight to the failure of Mr. Drury's local friends in not advising the council as to the time the provincial premier would arrive in the city.

Mayor Brinkman declared that he had done his part, but like the other members of the council, no person could tell him the hour of Mr. Drury's arrival.

Ald. Meighen was opposed to any sectionalism where public men were to be received and given a public welcome when coming to St. Thomas. Mr. Drury, said the alderman, was as much entitled to any favors that were going as Mr. Meighen and the alderman regretted that Mr. Drury was, through some mistake, overlooked by the council.

Assaulted His Wife.

David Pelkey, a man from Stratford, pleaded guilty today before Judge Ermatinger of assaulting his wife and was remanded until Monday for sentence. The judge will, in the meanwhile, confer with Pelkey's wife and he told of the condition concerning his family. As Governor Luton has no prison help to assist him in the courthouse lawn operations, the judge advised the governor to make good use of Pelkey while he was under remand.

Charged With Forgery.

William McVey was allowed out by Magistrate Maxwell today on an information laid by Ernest Armstrong charging him with stealing his auto. But another and more serious complaint was made out by the Aymer authorities that he had forged a check of $10, payable at the Imperial Bank, Sparta.

The accused pleaded guilty to forging a check of $1 in July, last, and was given a week's suspended sentence.

The East Elgin hospital board has rejected all bids by contractors for the building of the proposed hospital.

WILL RETURN TO PT. HURON

Sheriff H. Maines Bringing Stipe Back On Theft Charge.

SARNIA, Oct. 20.—One of the trio of jail-breakers charged with theft of lumber from Sarnia companies, will return to Port Huron to face alleged theft charges and a charge for breaking jail, according to information received tonight from the federal police, who announce that Sheriff Harrison Maines will return to Port Huron with Henry Stipe.

Herman Esau and Kenneth Smith, Stipe's companions, are being held by the Tennessee police to answer to a number of serious charges pending against them in the southern states. It is unlikely that they will be returned to face the theft charges pending against them for the theft of lumber from Sarnia firms.

FORMER RIDGETOWN MAN

SLAIN BY CHICAGO POLICE

WINDSOR, Oct. 20.—Word reached here today of the double shooting in Chicago Sunday of "Curley" O'Neil, formerly of Windsor, and Jim Butler, fugitive from justice, wanted by Winnipeg police for the slaying of two policemen. Both men were shot and killed by a Chicago policeman who caught them in the act of carrying out a robbery, reports state.

Though O'Neil has no criminal record here, he was known to Windsor police, an officer said to the Canadian Press today. Butler had a purse of $2,500 hanging over his head for his arrest in connection with the Winnipeg killings. He was cornered by two policemen in Winnipeg, about a year ago, caught in the act of committing a robbery, and drew his gun, shooting to kill, police say. He escaped and Canadian police could secure no trace of him despite a Dominion-wide search.

His body was brought to Ridgeway, Ontario, his birthplace, for burial.

BURGLARS ARE BUSY

IN CHATHAM DISTRICT

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—Two attempts at burglary, one of which was successful were perpetrated in North Chatham last night, when the grocery store of A. Deloge was attacked, but bars over the windows prevented an entrance.

The store of R. H. Jones was broken into, however, and a large quantity of tobacco, cigarettes and chewing gum taken. Part of the loot was located under the Third Street Bridge this morning by Captain Crow of the police department.

Chief Peters of the county police is investigating several thefts that are stated to have occurred in hunters' shanties in Hawke's Township close to the Rondeau shooting grounds. One of these robberies was committed in a shanty owned by Gordon Tennant of London.

TORONTO GIRL AWARDED $4,500.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—A verdict of $4,500, with costs, was returned by the assizes jury at 1:50 o'clock this afternoon in the suit of Miss Eileen Young against P. C. O'Leary, a Toronto barrister, for breach of promise.

'Have a Cigar?' Offer Bandits When Prospect Calls Bluff

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—There are many kinds of armed bandits, according to Mr. Sidey of 178 Sackville street, and he is ready to debate the question with anyone after his experience with three gunmen who held him up on Kingston road early this morning.

Some bandits shoot to kill, some flash guns and menace people, others enter banks and say: "Hands up—lie down!" But let Mr. Sidey's experience speak for itself.

Mr. Sidey was going along the Kingston road with his horse and wagon. An automobile ran in front of him, and three young men jumped out and shoved gun under his nose.

ST. THOMAS ADOPTS

KIDDIES' STORY HOUR

New Department At Public Library Under Miss M. Price.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 20.—A "story hour" under the supervision of Miss Marion Price will be established at the public library. The new department was recommended by the local women's clubs and the movement has the indorsement of the board and the children's welfare department of the Y. W. C. A. The beginning of the stories has been set for Saturday next. All little ones, from twelve years downward, are asked to present themselves at the auditorium at 10 o'clock. The best books will be storyfied for the youngsters.

WARDEN ELECTED COUNTY

CLERK.

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—Warden John Fletcher was elected clerk of Kent County at a special session of the county council in the city this afternoon by a large majority over Reeve Harry Smith of Dover. This may result in the election of a new warden for the balance of the year.

"Hold up your hands!" they ordered. "What for?" "Come on, hold up your hands and cut out the funny stuff," they chorused.

"I am not going to hold up my hands—shoot me and the old horse and we will both die together," he replied, and the three gunmen looked aghast.

Then one of them walked over to Mr. Sidey, and pulling out a cigar from his pocket, said: "Here, have a cigar, you are a plucky old man"—and Mr. Sidey took the cigar and climbed back on his wagon as the three men jumped into their automobile and dashed away cityward.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS ARE KILLED AT LISBON

LONDON, Oct. 20.—According to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Paris, several of the cabinet ministers were killed in Lisbon during the disorders of Wednesday, including Antonio Gatojo, premier and minister of the interior, Genesal Machado, minister of instruction, and Senhor Santos.

BABY CLINIC IN BLENHEIM.

BLENHEIM, Oct. 20.—All arrangements have been made whereby Miss Riddell, a trained nurse from the provincial board of health, will open a baby clinic in the council chamber in the town hall on Saturday. Dr. Bell, a specialist from the public health department, is expected to be present as well as Miss Riddell, and a general invitation is extended to all parents to bring their children under five years of age and receive free consultation and advice as to the health and care of their infants. This is a new feature here and the outcome will be watched with very much interest.

Mac McLeod, the local man who has six charges laid against him as a result of a general row put on in the Lawrence home a few nights ago when under the influence of liquor, comes up for trial in the town hall Friday.

MOVIES

AT THE ALLEN.
Beautiful scenes of the frozen north characterize "The Golden Snare," a James Oliver Curwood story, which had its first showing at the Allen Theatre last night. The mystery and indescribable loneliness of the northland is brought out effectively in this picture, which tells of the moving of dog-trains,
the operations of the north-west mounted police, and of the outlaw Esquimaux.

The story centers about a beautiful maiden brought up under the care of a madman, the terror of all who come his way, and a member of the mounted police force, who goes north on a mission and becomes ensnared by the loveliness of the girl. It is full of the thrills characteristic of such pictures, which, of course, couldn't be complete without a daring rescue of the lovely heroine, who just as certainly must turn out to be the daughter of a high-born Arctic explorer.

The other features shown are also very satisfying, and include not only a comic film, but another film as well, so that the program is really a double one.

AT THE PATRICIA.
A William Fox production entitled
"The Primal Law," with Dustin Far-num as the star, is the feature-offering at the Patricia the latter part of this week.

Like most of this star's films, the picture has a western setting, which has enabled the producers to employ beautiful backgrounds for the melodramatic events of the story.
Farnum's appeal in this picture rests on his portrayal of a strong, silent type of character, and Brian Wayne (Dustin Farnum) was that kind of a man. He and his partner Carson owned Willow ranch in the west. Brian and Carson's son Bobby were "pals," so when Carson was killed by Mexicans in a raid Wayne determined to protect the boy against his mother, a dance hall girl. At this juncture, however, Travers, a crooked promoter, attempts to buy the ranch, on which oil has been discovered unknown to Wayne. Travers and Bobby's mother plan to obtain guardianship of the boy and the oil field, but with the aid of Janice Webb (Mary Thurman) an eastern girl, Wayne defeats the plot.

Adams and Taylor display various clever tricks in their novelty juggling act. A Century comedy completes the bill.

AT LOEW'S.
A winsome tale of two countries is appearing as the feature picture of Loew's Theatre during the first half of this week under the rather meaningless title, "Puppets of Fate." The picture story, however, is not nearly as trite as its name would suggest, for from beginning to end it abounds in pathos, with here and there touches of lightness and laughter and bits of near-tragedy.

It is not a picture that perhaps would awaken deep thought or emotion in those who see it, but it most certainly entertains, and with its human appeal it must surely undam floods of warm sympathy.

It is a story of romantic Venice and of New York, and from the two picturesque backgrounds it draws all manner of color. It is not in its settings, however, that the picture makes its greatest appeal, for that honor must be awarded to the acting of Viola Dana, starring as a pretty and brave little Italian wife left home to dream and pray while her husband, a rather milk and water sort of person, goes to America to win fortune and wealth. It is forgetfulness of what he has left behind that leads him to live happy ever after.

The three vaudeville acts offer a good variety of entertainment which proves, as a rule, quite welcome. The most pretentious act of the three is a comedy skit by three persons appearing under the names of Johnston, Fox and Gibson. It is permeated throughout with sufficient sentiment to keep the house in continuous uproar and to win an encore or two. The act contains considerable and really funny slapstick, one good dance, one fair song and many laughable lines, none of which, however, goes over the heads of the audience.

King and Cody, a man and a woman, dance their way through one very good act. Many of the steps in the medley

USED CAR OWNERSOUTNUMBER NEW

BUYERS 20 TO 1

Says J. C. Beemer, of Beemer & Co., Limited.

"Second-hand" Only Refers to Ownership, Not Condition.

Every automobile that passed your home today is a used car, and you will be just as satisfied as the most enthusiastically satisfied of those drivers if you buy your used car from us.

No, only satisfied, but you'll be proud.
When you tell your friends where you bought it, you won't have to apologize for buying it from us. Just answer
Beemer & Co., Limited—and that settles it.

"Second-hand" only refers to its ownership and implies nothing as to its condition, but when you say "Beemer & Co., Limited," your friends will know it's a good car and it's "second-hand" in fact—"second-hand" with us—"third-hand" with you. And because it's passed through our hands, you'll deserve to be proud. Its pedigree is established.

Pride of ownership is the greatest joy of motoring. To be obliged to tell your friends that you dragged the car off some vacant lot or bought it "for a song" from some stranger takes the edge off your sense of pride.

If you buy it from some sidewalk vendor, who speaks one word for the car and two words for his commission, you'll still be in doubt, and when something happens, when you're out with friends, you'll apologize for your judgment.

But if you buy a car from us, you say, "Never mind, Beemer & Co. are behind it. They are reliable people."

You will not pay us more than it is worth—you won't pay a long bonus to buy it on time—and we will see to it that you won't go broke running it. We don't sell that kind—Beemer & Co. b

Overcoats

Besides the new garments sent to me on my regular order, I have received a further assortment of 100 Overcoats, specially for this week-end. Some of these coats sold for $75 last season—many of them for $60. I'm going to sell any of these coats for $40. A few as low as $20.
Think of it—an overcoat just as the season opens at the end-of-season sale price.

Suits

I have Suits to show for $25. These are made from the quality of British cloth that sold less than six months ago at $50. All good patterns, in tweeds, ready-to-wear and made to special order. Then I have the "King's Own Serge," a beautiful quality cloth, made from the finest Botany wool and guaranteed a permanent dye. I make these to measure for $45. No suit of blue in my stock will cost you more than $45.
Some of them are worth $70.

Hats

After a record-breaking hat season, my stock is somewhat broken up,
but I still have a full range of sizes in genuine Berg hats, in all shades of brown and grey felt. These sold
