NEWCASTLE WINS LAST HOME GAME

Tuesday at Newcastle
Despite the fact that several of the local players were injured and others out of town, they managed to defeat Bobby McCoomb's Nelson nine by a score of 3 to 1. The game went 5 innings and the contest was keenly fought by the opposing aggregations. The visitors worked hard throughout the entire game and played good ball, but although they showed considerable snap, were unable to hold the locals.

King made an excellent catch in centre field and Richardson scored the only run for the visitors in the second inning when Sullivan made a bad throw to second. Ward pitched a good game but was unable to tally any strike-outs to his credit, although he did not pass a man on balls.

Craig pitched a good game passing none on balls and had four strike-outs to his credit.

One man (Handley) was struck by Craig and this was the only pass in the whole game.

McMichael scored the locals first run in the second, McKenzie adding a second in the third and Craik made it three in the fourth. Sullivan was caught stealing from first claiming that Ward balked but Jenkins called him out. McKenzie was called out by Jenkins at first in the initial inning, which looked from the crowd to be safe. Zinck, who had an injured knee played right field and caught a nice fly, but being unable to steady himself after the catch on account of his injuries made a poor throw to the plate. McCabe was brought in out of the field and played a good short position, while Ryder looked after the keystone sack in the absence of Melrose. Ryder almost secured a double but missed on his throw to first which was wide. Herbert played centre in McCabes' old position.

In the third McCabe dropped a nice fly but ultimately got his man, after picking it up and getting the pill down to first. Newcastle had 4 men left on basis while Nelson had 3.

A little Gallant boy was hit by a batted ball by McCabe and for a time it looked as if the boy had been seriously hurt, but fortunately his injuries were slight. This is another reminder for the fans to keep at a safe distance, as it is never known where the pill will go next, and besides giving the players a better chance to play the game, the fans can see the game just as well.

Green umpired strikes and balls while Jenkins looked after the bases.

JURY DISAGREE IN-PARIS CASE

After more than 37 hours deliberation the jury in the fourth trial of John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley filed into the court room Monday morning at 10 o'clock sharp and reported a disagreement ten for conviction and two for acquittal.

Attorney General Byrne asked to have the jury polled. This was granted and the names were called out by the clerk and responded to.

The Attorney General said that he could not see any object in keeping the jury under the circumstances and thought that they might be discharged.

This was done. The Attorney General said that His Honor, under the status could pass the evidence before another jury.

Judge Chandler asked if Mr. Byrne would move to discharge the prisoner, but Mr. Byrne replied that he did not believe the ends of justice would be met when the jury had been ten to two in favor of conviction.

His Honor then remanded the prisoner to jail.

About 10.45 o'clock counsel for the Crown and prisoner were called into the court room and the matter of a new trial was brought up. The Attorney General said he felt the crown should proceed and asked that Judge Chandler order a new panel in order to clear up this matter, which had been hanging over for nearly a year.

His Honor asked if it was his wish to proceed at this sitting of the court and Mr. Byrne replied that it was.

The Judge said that it was the privilege of the Crown to do so and it was his duty to continue to sit if necessary.

The Attorney General said that there had been some talk of changing the law of the country to make a ten or two decision hold good for the verdict.

Mr. Vernon for Paris, said that he was not ready and could not be for some time for reasons given previously. He thought the present verdict was partly caused by the fact that all the witnesses were not present. He would have been satisfied with the result of this trial if the witnesses for the defence had been brought but the defence was unable to get witnesses. The prisoner had been forced to throw himself on the mercy of the court.

The Attorney General had been granted a delay to attend the sessions of the legislative assembly, Mr. Vernon said, and this had been the only delay asked. He himself, was not physically able to go on with the exertion of another trial, he said, as he had been for some time suffering from throat trouble. He didn't think it was fair to the prisoner that the case should be taken up again at the present session of the court. He asked that the matter be not taken up now. The Judge asked Mr. Vernon if he would have his witnesses here if the trial were taken up at the next session, and he replied that it was his intention and conviction that he would have them. Asked by His Honor if he would have other witnesses he said he would.

The Judge said he would decide at twelve o'clock.

When court re-opened a few minutes after twelve Judge Chandler said he had given the matter his careful consideration and he didn't think it would be fair to the prisoner to make him carry on with another trial at this sitting of the court. In order to give the defence an opportunity to procure the witnesses which Mr. Vernon had said it was his intention to call, the case would go over to the next circuit court to meet on the fourth Tuesday in September. Chief Justice H. A. McKeown will preside.

The Attorney General asked His Honor to instruct the clerk to see that the executions of fines imposed upon the jurors who did not appear should be made.

OPERA HOUSE ON THURSDAY

"Quo Vadis," the first big motion picture ever presented in America and one of the most sensational, thrilling and dramatic films ever produced, tells a most powerful story. The play was adapted from the world famed story of Henry Sienkiewicz's novel. In its realistic and faithful effects and detail the motion picture is a masterpiece of its kind.

The picture places before its audience the actual Appian Way, the Coliseum, the Forum, Emperor Nero's Palace and banqueting halls, the Eternal City, Rome itself, and many other historical scenes. Every scene is real.

Realism is in evidence in mob scenes, the torturing of the early Christians and the orgies at Nero's banquets. A group of lions are seen emerging from a den and later devour the followers of the lowly Nazarene, which is one of the arena atrocities planned by the merciless Nero and his villainous lieutenant Tigellinus. Rome is burned from end to end, while the terror stricken populace flees in confusion. Gladiators fight deadly combats in the arena, and kill each other at the sign of Nero's inverted thumb, and Nero dies by his own hand.

There is a powerful love story running through the film. Vinitius, a Pagan, is in love with Lygia, a Christian. Nero orders the girl strapped to the back of an infuriated bull, and then gives orders to release the animal in the arena. The girl is saved by the giant Ursus, who throws the animal, breaks its neck and rescues the girl.

MINISTER EXPLAINS INCREASED TAXES

An official statement has been made by the Minister of Customs and Excise, Hon. Jacques Bureau, explaining the increased taxes which come into effect on Aug. 1st. The statement of the Minister is as follows:

"The increased stamp tax on bills of exchange, bank advances, overdrafts, cheques, sales and transfers of stocks and bonds, express money orders, travellers cheques and post office money orders, becomes effective on Aug. 1st next.

"The tax on bills of exchange, promissory notes and advances or overdrafts is payable at the rate of 2 cents for every $50 or fraction thereof.

"Cheques, money orders and travellers' cheques for amounts of $50, or under, require a 2 cents stamp. If the amount for which they are issued exceeds $50, but does not exceed $5,000, a 2 cent stamp for every $50, or fraction thereof is required to be affixed thereto. Cheques, money orders and travellers' cheques which exceed $5,000 in amount require a $2 stamp.

"The tax is to be paid by means of excise tax stamps in preference to postage stamps, affixed to the face of the cheque or money order. Regulations have, however, been issued whereby the tax on cheques may be paid monthly in place of affixing such stamps to the individual cheques. Under these regulations, the cheques are embossed with a stamp stating that the excise tax has been paid. Special licenses are issued by the Department of Customs and Excise to firms who desire to pay the tax monthly."

RAILWAY STRIKE WAS AVERTED

Ottawa, July 27—The threatened strike of the railway shopmen will not materialize, it was indicated from official sources here tonight, provided arrangements already underway were made effective. The situation, which has been regarded as critical, was relieved when it was understood that a Board of Arbitration would be fully constituted and able to meet within a few days. It was stated, authoritatively, there was every expectation that the board would be functioning by the first of next week.

Montreal, July 27—Isaac Pitblado, K. C., of Winnipeg, has been appointed to represent the Canadian Railway Companies on the Board of Conciliation which will attempt to settle the dispute between the companies and the railway shopmen (Division No. 4, Railway Employees Department, American Federation of Labor). James Simpson, of Toronto, has been appointed by the shopmen to act for them, and it now remains to agree upon a chairman.

It was announced tonight, by the Railway Association of Canada, that each of the railway companies have received notice of a Board of Conciliation, with regard to the shopmen's dispute. As no official notification has yet arrived from the Department of Labor to the railway companies with regard to a conciliation board for the Maintenance of Way Men, there has been no appointment of a member to represent the railway companies, but it was intimated, today, that such an appointment would be made as soon as the notice is received.

R. J. Tallon, President of Division No. 4, Railway Shopmen, when informed of the appointment of a member for the railway on the Shopmen's Conciliation Board, stated it was certainly a step forward, but added that the shopmen were far from satisfied with such arrangement only. "While the Conciliation Board will be in session," he said, "the Railway Association is violating the law by enforcing the wage cut."

A reply from the Deputy Minister of Labor has been received by the officials of Division No. 4, to their telegram informing the department of their strike vote as follows:

"Minister absent in Western Canada. Would state attitude of railways on point raised in your telegram has not yet been made clear, and is a matter of present discussion, the result of which will be indicated to you as soon as possible."

U. S. Situation
Washington, July 27—A tentative proposal to terminate the shopmen's strike was drawn up at a conference between President Harding and P. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen, and other shop crafts officials.

Western railway executives reiterated their intention of protecting seniority rights of the shopmen who remained at work, and those that have been hired since the strike started.

John L. Lewis, head of the striking miners, predicted that interstate joint conference "will be arranged within a few days" to permit a resumption of mining.

Governor McCray, Indiana, in a statement addressed to the public, announced that "if the strike is not determined within five days from this date, I will take over one or more mines and supply the people of Indiana with fuel."

REFUSED REQUEST OF MONTREAL'S FISH MERCHANTS

Ottawa, July 27—The railway commission has refused an application by a fish merchant of Montreal to allow him to re-address boxes of fish at the railway station and have the Express Company deliver to several addresses instead of his place of business. In refusing the application, the board says that if it were granted, the same principle would have to be applied to all commodities handled by express and "the railway companies stations would become simply a clearing house for commission merchants in holding their merchandise for readdressing before express companies would complete the contract for delivery."

N.B. FOREST INDUSTRIES

By Robson Black, Manager, Canadian Forestry Association.

New Brunswick yet ranks fourth among the provinces of the Dominion in timber production. The amount of capital invested in the forest industry has steadily increased until today the capitalization totals about $45,000,000. This includes the manufacture of lumber, laths and shingles, the pulp and paper industry which has grown rapidly the last ten years and the numerous planing mills, sash and door factories, hardwood industries, etc. It is expected that with the continued growth of the industry, especially the pulp and paper and the hardwood industry, which is slowly but surely being established in this province, that the valuation of the industry will soon pass the Fifty Million Dollar Mark. Through continued development, New Brunswick is holding firmly to fourth position.

The annual payroll in the production of lumber, lath and shingles amounted in round numbers to a little over 5½ million dollars in 1919. Add to this the yearly payroll of the other industries which totals over $1,000,000 and we may begin to realize the great importance of this great basic industry to the prosperity of the province. Continued growth has been possible because the province yet contains a considerable amount of raw material in the shape of green forests which may be regarded as capital producing crops through the simple process of growth. About 65% of the total area of the province is wooded.

Thus is seen the necessity of keeping the forest land productive. It is most essential that the mills always maintain that industrious and healthy appearance, a direct contrast to the deserted village of tar paper shacks, rusty stacks and disbanding equipment of a worked out mine. Lumbermen have realized that judicious cutting will not hurt the forest. What they do fear is Forest Fires, which through the destruction of the raw material renders valueless the immense amounts of capital invested in plants and equipment. It should be remembered by all those going into the forest on business or pleasure that the first and foremost habit to acquire is that of being careful of fires. It is an easy habit to acquire if one will only practice it on the lighted matches, burning tobacco, and abandoned camp fires, and it will result in reduced destruction to the forest crop.

THE STORY OF THE SALMON

Make no pretense of being original in this relation. I take the subject from a recent scientific book, the Outline of Science, which ought to be far more popular than Wells' Outline of History, because science is more wonderful than man.

I choose this subject because the salmon is so familiar to us and because this gives my readers a touch of wonder—or at least it should—give them this thought, as to the beginnings and the development of familiar and common things. For the story of the salmon is probably no more interesting than the story of many other creatures—not nearly so strange as the life story of the common eel, of which I wrote in this column over three years ago.

In late autumn or winter, the salmon spawn in our rivers. For three or four months the eggs develop and eventually emerge as alevins, which lurk among the pebbles. In about eight weeks the yolk about the alevins disappear, and the fry begin to swim about. In a year they are four inches long; in two years about eight inches long. Usually, in the second year they go to sea—we are speaking, of course, of sea salmon and river salmon; not land-locked. This is in about the month of May. They feed on young herring and grow large and strong. When about three and a half years of age they come up the river as grilse and they may spawn, or they may pass through the whole grilse stage in the open sea and come up the river as full grown fish.

In many instances the salmon spawn but once and some (they are called kelts after spawning) are so much exhausted that they fall a victim to others and other enemies. In the case of the North Pacific salmon, all of them die after spawning, none being able to return to the sea.

It is interesting to know that salmon, full-grown, never feel at all in fresh water. They may be unable to resist snapping at strange-colored flies floating before their noses by anglers, but this is not feeding. It is interesting to know that the expert can read on the salmon's scales a record of his life. He can tell his age; when it went out to sea and whether or not it has spawned all told in the concentric rings upon its scales.

When the animal frequents two different haunts, in one of which it breeds, it is safe to say that the place where it breeds is its original home. The flounder, for instance, is comfortable far up fresh-water rivers; but it breeds in salt water and it is certain that the flounder is a marine fish. It has only recently learned to colonize in rivers. Its relatives, the plaice and the sole, are distinctly salt water fish. But the rule is not positive. The shad is a salt water fish, but it spawns in fresh water. The bass is a salt water fish. They belong distinctly to the sea-perch family. But some of them have left the sea altogether almost and now live in fresh water.

There has always been a great deal of controversy over the point of habitat of the salmon. There are those who call it a fresh-water fish that goes to the sea to feed, and there are others who say the reverse. You may have heard this debated by the residents in the fishing camp at Upper Dam, Rangeley, as I have heard it in the old days. Most of the experts whom I have recognized have contended that it was originally a salt water fish that came up river to breed. Yet many contend that it goes to sea for strength and food.

But the truth probably is that it is a marine fish. And the wonderful thing is that it is conquering two habitats—that it is evolving into what is probably diverse types and it afforded the pure water of streams will develop yet a higher form. It is said that even in the trout family, those in the rivers and ponds are being reinforced by migrants from the sea. It is unquestioned that many trout go to sea and live there, escaping over dams and obstructions, getting into our rivers and finally into the deep seas. A fish related to the trout, called the char, inhabits largely cold, remote and deep northern lakes. But there are Arctic forms that live in the sea, but go up the rivers of fresh water just as do the salmon, where they produce their young.

These facts are all indicative of the changing habits of various forms of life and of the wonderful development of life going on around us every day.

COMMON HONESTY

Honest people who reach that unhappy condition of mind in which they think the vast majority of their fellow-men dishonest, should stop and ask themselves a number of questions. First, how would so many banks do business if any large number of their officers or employees mishandled the funds passing through their hands, or if the signatures attached to notes and other securities were generally untrustworthy?

How would the fire insurance companies continue to operate if any large percentage of their policy holders were likely—as a comparatively small number do—to burn down their property in order to obtain money fraudulently? And how would the bonding companies be able to guarantee the honesty of so many employees, and to find less than three per cent of their risks were poor ones? Furthermore, how would it be possible for companies to insure against burglary, theft, the wreckage of automobiles and similar losses—and to do it at rates the public can afford to pay and does pay—if the majority of men were crooks?

It must be admitted that different people are honest for different reasons—some only because they do not dare to be anything but honest. But that in itself is a tribute to the excellent nature of the standard which civilized society has erected and maintains in this matter of Common honesty.

To Toronto's Mayor Determined To Have Goal Supply

Toronto, July 27—All the leading coal dealers, who assembled today at the City Hall, at the request of Mayor Maguire, to discuss the local coal situation could say that they would like the citizens to wait until the United States strikes are settled, and when they were the needs of the citizens could be met.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, through J. M. McIntosh, and the Board of Trade, through D. A. Cameron, joined with the coal men in the one thing about which they were all unanimous—that they did not want the city council to import coal from Wales.

Mayor Maguire told the coal dealers very plainly that hopes which they expressed about the early settlement of the strike would not heat Toronto homes in winter. Action was necessary, and his worship was clear in expressing the opinion that, in view of the little assurance which the coal dealers were able to give this morning, there was every ground for the city finding a supply of coal from wherever it was possible to obtain it.

One other point the Mayor emphasized in unmistakable language was that there must not be any famine of coal in Toronto.

BOY SCOUTS BEING TRAILED BY MOTOR BOAT

STOPPING FOR A MIDDAY FISH FEAST, LAKE OF THE WOODS, ONTARIO

TENTING under the pines and stars of the northland has a charm that draws more and more vacationists each summer. The eastern provinces of Canada are particularly popular in this respect. There are camps for girls, for boys, for men, for women and for everybody all together.
 Down in drowsy, delightful Nova Scotia there is Camp Mooswa on Lake Annis near the picturesque seaport of Yarmouth, and a bit farther up the Bay of Fundy, in Digby County, is Aldercliffe Camp, both of which are boys' camps of long established reputation and deservedly popular. Thirty miles by good motor road, from historic Annapolis Royal, is located Kedgewick Camp and Gun Club. It is not as exclusive as its name implies, but is open to all who love the wilds. The club is situated in a veritable maze of lovely waterways. Fishing and hunting are unexcelled and draw many sportsmen in season. Cozy cabins equipped with running water and electric lights, supplemented by tents, insure privacy, while the club house with its spacious public rooms affords a social center.

 Across the bay from Nova Scotia we find the Bryn Derwyn Camps on Lake Utopia near the town of the same name in New Brunswick. This is a pleasant family camp with furnished cottages and tents. Boating and fishing are but two of Bryn Derwyn's charms.
 The Province of Quebec and its fascinating Laurentian Mountains provide plenty of fine sites for camps and rustic summer resorts. A new camp for girls is being opened on Lake Ouaouan and will be known as Camp Ouaouan. It is reached by a drive from Ste. Agathe, a railway station near Montreal. This camp is conducted along the lines of Girl Scouts' camps, instruction in swimming, boating and riding, under competent teachers, and some class work is provided.

 No less than three big camps are maintained on the islands of Lake Timagami in Ontario. They are Wabi-Koa for both men and women; Keewaydin Camp with 200 members—all Americans—and Camp Timagami for boys. Fine bathing beaches, superb scenery and good fishing are some of their attractions. Trout Lake Lodge on Trout Lake near the French River district, makes its appeal to fishermen—even the veriest novice is able to land a string of bass, they being very plentiful in Trout Lake.

BUILDING UP CANADA'S EXPORT TRADE

IN Canada's gradual return to industrial activity and resultant prosperity, the automobile factories of the country are taking a by no means unimportant part. Their shipments to foreign countries, and particularly to other parts of the British Empire are an increasing factor in trade development. The above photograph shows a train of 25 cars of Studebaker automobiles which recently left the Studebaker factory at Walkerville, Ont., where the automobiles were built on a long journey over the C. P. R. to London, England. This was only part of the shipment, fifteen other carloads having gone forward very shortly afterwards.

Cars shipped overseas require far different treatment than those shipped by rail. In the first place, an export car is enclosed in a huge wooden case, sturdily bound and bolted together so that it has ample strength to withstand the rough handling it must contend with in being hoisted into perhaps shipped overland if its destination happens to be the hold of a ship, then rehoisted upon the wharf and an inland town.

In order to create the car, the wheels are removed, top and windshield taken off, and every device employed toward making the packing as compact as possible. Compactness is desired for two reasons. First, to prevent play in the case; and second, to minimize the ocean freight charges, for steamship companies differ from the railroads in that they fix their rates on the basis of cubic feet, instead of so much per pound of weight. Many precautions in export boxing are exercised in order to regulate the contact of salt air with the finish of the car. The surfaces of all metal parts are protected by a coating of grease. The lining of the case with tar paper lends further protection.

CANADA'S PRESSING NEED FOR IMMIGRATION POLICY

Colonization and Development Expert Says First Step Towards Relieving Business Depression Is Establishment of Broad & Progressive Immigration Policy.

The immigration policy of Canada for the future is in the making. It is among the first two or three questions now before the people of this country, and no one is better fitted to advise concerning it than is Col. J. S. Dennis, of Montreal. Col. Dennis has spent fifty years dealing more or less directly with this problem. In the service of the Dominion Government in Western Canada and later with the Land Department of the Hudson's Bay Company and for the past 21 years with the C. P. R. Department of Colonization and Development, of which he is now Chief Commissioner, his activities have been largely directed towards filling Canada's vacant places with desirable settlers, producers of wealth such as are to-day more than ever needed to re-establish the prosperity of the Canadian people.

In view of the fact that the question is to-day of greater public importance than it has ever been, Col. Dennis has made a statement on the subject which will be read with interest in all parts of Canada. In voicing the need of an aggressive and progressive colonization and development policy Col. Dennis points out that it is the foundation upon which the superstructure of the solution of Canada's railway, industrial and unemployment problems must be erected, and he continues:

"In Canada to-day we have 1 mile of railway for every 236.5 of our population, and in the four Western Provinces, 1 mile for every 110. Compare with this, the United States has 1 mile of railway for every 404 persons, and Great Britain one mile for every 1,804.

"In the three Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, are 80 million acres of land suitable for immediate cultivation, unoccupied and non-productive, within 15 miles of each side of the railways now in operation.

"In the older provinces of Canada we have many thousands of improved farms, unoccupied and non-productive and waiting for colonists.

"The National Debt of Canada to-day is $2,372,000,000, or about $275 per capita of the population, and the annual interest on this debt amounts to $114,000,000 as compared with a total Federal revenue in 1913 of $168,000,000.

"Population of Canada
"The census of 1911 showed that we then had a population of 7,206,643. The last census shows a population of 8,789,484, a growth that is even less than normal. What are we going to do about it? My answer is—'colonize and develop.'

"When I say 'colonist,' I use the term in the broad sense of the immigration to Canada of the colonist who will occupy and make productive, available agricultural areas, and also laborers, skilled and unskilled, who will develop our mineral and timbered areas and extend our industrial life, and finally, colonization of the necessary capital to make both of the preceding activities possible.

"Really Old Days
"During the war, and practically up to date, both our colonization and development have been standing still. We are now faced with the question of how we can again stimulate a large movement of desirable colonists to Canada and where they can be obtained.

"Naturally, as part of the British Empire, we should first look to obtaining the greatest possible number from Great Britain and Ireland.

"The present population of the United Kingdom is 47,000,000, but of this number, less than 4,000,000 are engaged in agriculture, and unless we are prepared to take a large number of colonists without any previous knowledge of agriculture we cannot look for the immigration of large numbers from Britain. Further, it would now seem to be perfectly clear that the United Kingdom, and particularly England, must look forward to the emigration of many millions of its people and our policy should be aimed at co-operative action between our Government and that of the Home Country to evolve some scheme under which many of these people of the younger generation can be fitted for agricultural life in Canada by some preliminary training at home and finishing the training here, together with final assistance to enable them to establish themselves as farmers after this training has been obtained.

"We must, naturally, look for a large proportion of our agricultural colonists from the United States.

"We should also look forward to the immigration of large numbers of desirable colonists from Central Europe. While it should be our aim to maintain and extend British ideals and our Canadian citizenship, we must not forget that many who have come from so-called foreign countries are to-day amongst our most progressive and valued citizens and who have been, and are taking an active part to solve our national problems and are proving their willingness and desire to become good Canadians, as is proved by the fact that in one of our Western Universities, over 50% of the students are of so-called foreign parentage, and that, during the war, many of our military units contained upon their rolls the names of many so-called foreigners.

"Canada has no definite emigration or colonization policy at present, and, in fact, the enforcement of the existing Immigration Act, and the regulations thereunder, during the past two years has done more to discourage immigration and colonization than to encourage it. So far as Great Britain is concerned, our excessive regulations and unwarranted deportations have created a general feeling that we in Canada have closed the door and do not want British colonists.

"We have, under our existing law and regulations, a provision for the deportation of colonists who do not come to Canada on a so-called 'non-continuous journey.' The enforcement of this regulation has resulted in the deportation of many desirable colonists, and, if followed to its logical conclusion, the regulation to date can be utilized to refuse admission to Canada to any desirable colonist due to the absurd fact that he did not happen to start on his journey from the country of his nationality—and the application of this regulation will be realized by you when I say that of the deported immigrants handled by the Canadian Pacific during the last year, 20% were deported on the ground of non-continuous journey.

COL. J. S. DENNIS, Chief Commissioner C. P. R. Department of Colonization and Development.

continuous journey, irrespective entirely, apparently, of whether they were the character of colonists we wanted or whether they would have made good citizens.

"In considering the question of development, I would direct your attention to the fact that Nature has blessed us in Canada with resources of agricultural land, timber, minerals and other things which, potentially, are ample security for our vast National debt, but the possibility of taking care of and discharging that debt is entirely dependent upon our development policy. These resources, undeveloped, are of no value, and, without men and women, cannot be developed.

"I admit, frankly, that, particularly in Western Canada and in certain of our older provinces, recolonization of our unoccupied farms and agricultural development are the main factors in the problem we are discussing. But let me point out the following facts to you.

"Taking the railway traffic of Canada as an indication of wealth resulting from development. In 1920, the products of mines provided 35% of the railway tonnage, the products of the forests 18%, while agricultural products provided only 17%. It is true that these figures indicate the necessity for increasing our agricultural production, but, at the same time they point out the existing importance of the extension and further development of the products of our mines and forests, and the important part that that development will play in aiding the solution of our railway problem and in adding materially to the general welfare of Canada.

"Policy Non-Political
"In conclusion I desire to affirm that the problems I am outlining are non-political, and that a policy for their solution must be developed on broad lines and with the assistance of all interests and must include, in the development of the means of establishment of a well-organized, non-party, world-wide organization to make our principles known and to create that we can carry on the development of colonization and development, through the medium of men and money, of the resources with which Nature has so bountifully blessed Canada.

Railway News

Irish newspapers follow up the careers of Irishmen who leave the Green Isle. The Irish Independent had the following item a few days ago:

Sir Herbert Samuel Holt, of Montreal, whose eldest son, Capt. H. P. Holt, M.C., is to marry Aileen Elizabeth, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Cairns, of Montreal, is a man of considerable standing in Canadian commercial circles. He is a banker and railway engineer, and, besides being President of the Royal Bank of Canada, is a director of the C.P.R.

He is an Irishman, being born in the Co. Kildare in 1856, the son of late Mr. Gratton Holt. Capt. Holt was in the 3rd Dragoon Guards.

J. M. Gilmour, chief clerk in the C.P.R. general offices at Lethbridge, has been transferred to the same position in the superintendent's office at Medicine Hat. J. H. Fairley, chief clerk at Edmonton, will succeed Mr. Gilmour at Lethbridge. The former is being replaced in Edmonton by S. C. Connelly of Medicine Hat. J. M. Gilmour was the first chief clerk in the Lethbridge division, having been placed here to open the office August 1, 1914. He has been with Supt. C. D. MacKintosh since that date. He has always taken a keen interest in the activities of the C.P.R. Social and Athletic club.

No man in Canada has the reputation of equalling Geo. H. Ham, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., as a raconteur and a wit. Sir Thos. White once called him "a great national asset."

Mr. Ham added that he was glad that Sir Thos. had fortunately not forgotten the "et." Even in the hospital undergoing an operation for appendicitis, Mr. Ham sustained his reputation, as his best story, probably, will show.

When he lost consciousness, he says, his last thought was "This is eternity."

"When I recovered from the effects of the opiate, I found myself in a darkened room, and wondered where I was and what it was all about. The kindly-featured nurse quickly discovered that my consciousness had returned, and came to my bedside, and then I remembered everything. 'But why this dark room? It was early morning when they operated on me, but now it can't be night.'

"'No, it isn't,' she seriously responded, 'but we were afraid of the shock you might get.'

"'Why, what shock?'

"'Well, there was a big fire just across the street, and we were afraid if you awoke, and saw the flames, you might think that the operation hadn't been successful.'

"'That shows you what it is to have a reputation.'

The Commercial Cable Company and C.P.R. Telegraphs have taken over the Postal Telegraph Service in Newfoundland and are now handling all business over the Newfoundland government's cables and land lines.

Whatever the volume of the coal and grain business this fall, the Canadian Pacific would be in position to handle it. This was the assurance given by Grant Hall, vice president of the company, at Calgary. Mr. Hall is on his annual tour. He is in a most hopeful frame of mind regarding the crop situation in the three western provinces. Present prospects, he stated, were that there would be a fair average crop.

"No, I do not anticipate any complications arising on this side owing to the strike among United States shippers," he remarked in reply to a question. "There is no occasion to think this at the present time," he added.

Assistant Superintendent W. M. Neal of the C.P.R., who is leaving Toronto, to become general superintendent of Algoma district with headquarters at North Bay, and H. J. Humphrey, superintendent of the Trenton division of the C.P.R., who is to succeed Mr. Neal, were entertained to dinner by C.P.R. officials at Toronto recently. Mr. Neal was presented with silver candlesticks and Mr. Humphrey with an umbrella.

A meeting of a committee of citizens named to consider the building of a Seamen's Institute at Quebec, on the site in the harbor secured from the Government, was held recently at the Royal Bank building.

Mr. J. T. Ross presided over the assembly, and a letter was read from Commander Elliot of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, stating that he was authorized by Mr. George M. Bosworth, on behalf of Mr. E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., to say that the latter company would subscribe $5,000 towards the building, provided that the remainder of the amount required for the purpose is obtained from other sources.

The plans call for an expenditure of from $25,000 to $30,000.

It was decided to accept this offer with gratitude, and preliminary discussion took place as to ways and means of collecting the balance of the amount.

TRIBUTE TO DEAD

German Writes of American Cemetery in France.

Spot Where More Than 21,400 of the Bravest of Our Land Are Buried, is Field of White.

Paul Block, Paris correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, was recently a sympathetic observer of the destruction wrought by his countrymen in northern France, and sent to his paper a detailed report of his trip through the devastated region. Of a certain point in his journey he writes: "The guide relates in a matter-of-fact way that of the 131 villages which he covers in his trip some eighty have been utterly destroyed. This part of the journey, from Clermont-en-Argonne to Boureuilles, has all been wrecked by the war, but the worst came after we reached Varennes. From there to Verdun it is a desert—over which the horsemen of the Apocalypse have swept.

At only one point is there any evidence of restoration, and this has become one of the sights of the region. I mean the American cemetery at Romagne below Montfaucon. Whenever the Americans take anything up they do it in a wholesale way. Although we had come solely to see ruins, we could not pass this cemetery without a visit. It is the only one of its kind.

On a gently rising hill purchased outright for this purpose are buried the 21,400 Americans, who fell during the fighting around Montfaucon. Some kilometers before we reached this point we noted little white signboards along the road directing us to this gigantic graveyard; for many of the relatives of the fallen cross the sea in order to visit the last resting place of those dear to them.

But when you come within half a mile of the point you need no further guidance. An apparently limitless field of white suddenly greets the vision in the distance. This is the effect of the 21,400 tombstones of equal size shining in the sunlight. There are crosses for protestants and Catholics, and stars for Jews, ranged closely side by side, at the heads of 21,400 uniform, well-kept graves. They all lie there, the officers in the middle. A great star of foliage plants separates the world of the dead from the world of the living. High above the graves flutters the Stars and Stripes. Sad, indeed, as is the thought that a whole army of vigorous young boys here slumber in death, this cemetery has nothing gloomy about it. It is a bright and cheerful burial place.

And the army of the dead has its commander. An American officer and his staff reside in the group of tidy houses opposite the entrance, to guard the resting place of their dead countrymen. One of them came forward and greeted us, a cheerful, young man with a wholesome ruddy countenance. What had induced him to exile himself here in this solitude? High pay? A sense of duty? Love for France? The last suggestion is not very plausible, for he does not know a single word of French. In any case, his nerves must be sound, else he could not live here day after day, hour after hour, guarding these 21,400 graves, without going mad.

PROGRESSIVES MAY GO OVER TO SIDE OF THE GOVERNMENT

A special Ottawa despatch to L'Evenement states that in well informed political circles in the capital it is affirmed that 52 progressive members, partisans of Hon. T.A. Crerar, remained in Ottawa a few days after prorogation and offered to go over to the Liberal side of the House at the next session.

The despatch reads in part as follows:

These 52 Progressive members would, it appears, be ready to join the Liberal party, unconditionally apart from the understanding that later on two of their number would be taken into the cabinet. The conversion of these Progressives is attributed to Hon. A.B. Hudson, and he would also be taken into the cabinet and would become the leader of the Progressive group who are prepared to join the Government ranks.

Hon. Mr. King looks with favor upon this alliance which would assure him an imposing majority.

"If the Government had 52 additional members on its side it would have an overwhelming majority and with such the King Government would not call elections before two years at least, and perhaps even three years after redistribution of the electoral divisions.

This projected alliance will probably be studied by the King cabinet next week. It is stated that all the ministers do not approve, but if the alliance be realized, the old party system will be restored for it will sound the death-knell of the Progressive group in parliament."

HOUSE FLIES KILL CHILDREN

Three Become Suddenly Ill—Two Die in Agony—Doctor's Baffled.

From the Toronto Globe, Nov 17th, 1921.

Milton, Nov. 17—As the result of a strange disease, the origin of which is baffling the doctors in this part of Ontario, two children belonging to a well-known family of Nassagaweya township, near Milton, have died in agony.

Two weeks ago three of the five children became suddenly ill with the disease, which was accompanied by convulsions. Dr. McNiven of Acton was called, but was unable to diagnose the case. Dr. Howitt of Guelph was then sent for, and he, too was baffled, as were other physicians who have since been called.

The first child, a girl of 15 months, passed away a few days ago, and the second, a three year old boy, was buried yesterday. The third child, a boy five years old, is still seriously ill.

Dr. Howitt believes the sickness was caused by a fly carrying a contagious disease, and depositing it on apples which were eaten by the three children. The lining of the bowels of the two children who died came off, and their bodies were reduced to skin and bones.

Dr. Grant Fleming, Deputy Medical Officer of Health for Toronto, stated yesterday he did not think these children were suffering from any unknown disease. The condition of wasting of abdominal tissue, he said, was not unusual in cases of children violently infected through fly-tainted milk or food. He thought their symptoms resembled an acute form of sickness common among children in summer.

Health Department Demanding Payments From Municipalities

Demands have been served upon the secretary treasurers of six municipalities in N.B. on behalf of the Provincial Department of public health calling upon them to pay over amounts for which judgments have been secured, the total of which is between $20,000 and $30,000.

It was stated in official circles that if the six recalcitrant municipalities declined to pay, as demanded, steps would be taken to enforce payment. The public health act provides for the arrest of secretary treasurers of municipalities which fail to pay assessments and extreme measures of that kind, it was said, would soon be taken unless payments are made.

The counties which have failed to pay and of which amounts are now being demanded are Albert, King's, Queen's, Sunbury, Kent and Northumberland.

YOUR STARVED NERVES

The Cause of Neuralgia—Must be Treated Through The Blood

Neuralgia is the cry of the nerves for more and better blood. It means that the nerves are being starved. Like every other part of the body the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood. There is therefore no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will prove beneficial even in extreme cases of neuralgia.

Indeed, I was becoming a wreck of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I am more than glad that I followed the advice, for they have restored me to my old time strength. I cannot recommend the pills too highly and hope other persons in poor health will give them a fair trial.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

N.B. A MAGNET FOR TOURISTS

This province is being visited by increasing numbers of tourists each year. The many beautiful streams, secluded lakes and camping grounds are made accessible by a network of highways.

The brooks and streams teem with trout and salmon and the forests abound with large and small game. Last year over 13,500 game and fishing licenses were sold, of which about 1000 were non-resident licenses.

And this does not include the thousands of local fishermen who do not require a license to fish. The annual revenue to the province from fish and game amounts to $100,000. But the actual benefits may not be measured by dollars and cents alone. It is impossible to determine the extent of the benefits arising from these recreation trips in the open. All one knows is that the recreation seeker, who spending his holidays in the woods and forgetting the monotony of office work and routine or the drone of machinery comes back with all the enthusiasm and joy of youth, his whole being as it were made over.

(A Million on Roads)
Each year the province is being patronized more as a mere camping and recreation ground, due to a great extent to the wonderful improvement of late years to the highway roads, making the country accessible by automobile. Over a million dollars are spent in the maintenance and improvement of roads and bridges each year. And the roads of today will be greatly surpassed by those of tomorrow.

One may then realize that the province is being regarded as a great recreation ground which will be developed further as time goes on. The investment in improvements which will facilitate tourist traffic is great. The returns in money to the province merely cover the administration and protection of the fish and game. But what of the losses? Every year the loss of forests and property amounts to a quarter of a million dollars, due almost entirely to the carelessness of a few of the fishermen, picnickers and campers, unextinguished matches, tobacco, and camp fires spread through the forests and destroy immense quantities of timber and often property as well. Camp hunt, fish and enjoy your holidays in the forest, but be Careful of Fire. Don't be a kill-joy.

Railway News

Guelph. — Realizing that some effort should be made to preserve the old C. P. R. station building, the first house built in Guelph, which is located on a piece of ground at the foot of Woolwich Street, and which is fast going to ruin, the civic improvement committee of Guelph decided to make a move towards having improvements carried out to preserve the building.

Galt.—General Manager M. W. Kirkwood of the Lake Erie & Northern and Grand River Railways has announced that early in July work would be started on the new Union Depot on Main street. The plans have been finally approved and tenders have been called for. The building, which will be of rug brick construction, one storey in height, but later it is intended to add another storey, to accommodate the general offices now located in Scott's Block.

Moose Jaw.—The roof is now on the Dominion Express Company's new building, west of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company office building, and the work is being rushed with great speed. As soon as the Express Company building is in shape to be occupied, the old building will be removed and the work of installing the new tracks will be commenced.

In front of the new depot the concrete roadway is laid in squares of ten feet. The city electricians have completed the installation of the two electric light standards at the outer edges of the sidewalks on both sides of the roadway.

Galt.—After 40 years of continuous and faithful service as an employee of the C. P. R., Alex. McKean, city ticket agent here for the past 16 years, joined the list of the superannuated and his place was taken by John Campbell, for many years a permanent resident of Galt, at one time depot and freight agent, but for the past several years travelling passenger agent.

Mr. McKean commenced his railroad career in the freight audit department at Winnipeg, was agent at High Bluff, Manitoba, for a couple of years and for 17 years successfully conducted a mercantile business in Mount Forest, handling railway, steamship, telegraph and express services. It was from Mount Forest that he came to Galt in 1906.

Vancouver. — Vancouver's first transcontinental railway train entered the city thirty-five years ago, when prophecies were made which have now reached full realization. In the address of welcome to Henry Abbott, who was then superintendent of the Pacific Division of the C. P. R., Mayor M. A. Maclean drew a word-picture of Vancouver in the future which is now a fact.

Vancouver's first train was drawn by an old wood-burning type engine and included a baggage, colonist sleeper and pullman and drawing-room cars of the latest type at that date. The engine was draped in evergreens and bore placards bearing inscriptions "From Ocean to Ocean" and many mottoes declaring the achievements of the men who undertook the construction of the C. P. R.

P. Barnhardt was conductor and P. Richter, engineer, the Missouri train was carried on far into the night, the city band serenading officials of the C. P. R. and a torchlight procession being staged through the city.

Woodstock, Ontario.—In the death of Charles Garden, C.E., which occurred at the residence of Col. F. H. J. Dibles recently, there passed away the last male member in his generation, of a family associated with the history and progress of Woodstock for well-nigh, if not quite, a century. Mr. Garden was connected with the building of the C. P. R. through the Rockies. He was one of the advance guard of the exploration party. The route of this party was via the N. P. R. to Bismark, Dakota, up the Missouri to Benton and thence by trek to Calgary and up the Bow. Only one party came over the Rockies' summit. Mr. Garden was transit man and the party consisted of fifteen men. They came through the Vermillion, south of Kickinghorse and made their way to what is now called "Golden." They built "The Cache" which has ever since remained, with, of course, extensive restorations and is now known as Moodie's House.

In 1884-5, Mr. Garden worked on C. P. R. construction near Lake Superior on White River, Peninsula Harbor, and it was at this time that the first through C. P. R. train went to Vancouver. He was later engaged on construction on the Deloraine branch to the Coal Mines for the C. P. R. He had charge of location and construction on Souris Branch and was for some years in office work in Winnipeg. In 1897 he was on the location of the Crow's Nest branch, locating the loop and tunnel at Michael Creek.

Canada has 25,000 commercial travellers.

PRIZES FOR SCHOOL
During the past year, the only merchants to take sufficient interest in their High School, to offer prizes as an incentive to better work on the part of the pupils, have been the A. D. Farrah Co., who offered two prizes, one to the boy preparing the best collection of North Shore "Woods" of commercial value and the other to the girl submitting the best composition on the resources of the North Shore.

The first named prize—a suit of clothes was won by Yrstoia Benn. His collection of native woods may be seen at the A. D. Farrah Co store. You will be surprised at the great number of native woods.

The other prize a pretty dress was won by Adelaide Blackmore.

We hope that other merchants of Newcastle may show the same "PRIZE" interest in their High School.
