SHANGHAI, Nov. 23 .- The North China Herald publishes a secret imperial degree appointing Lin Generalissimo of the Black Flags in Tonquin. The Chinese government will supply funds and munitions to the force now being raised in Yun Nan. These troops will assist the Black Flags in repelling the French should they invade the southern provinces of China.

LONDON, Nov. 23 .- A Paris despatch says the Marquis Tzeng has notified Earl Granville that war between China and France is certain.

Private advices from Saigon, French
Cochin China, state that Dr. Harmand, the French civil commissioner in Tonquin, has disbanded his force of Yellow Flags on account of their barbarity and acts of rapine.

Sir Evelyn Wood, commander of the Bribish troops, confirming the reports of the disaster. He says the whole country has risen. The government asked Baker Pasha to send 10,000 gendarmes from Suakim to help to clear the desert, but Baker refused, thinking the troops were required in Upper Egypt. It is stated Turkey has offered to send twenty thousand troops to re-establish mussulman authority in Soudan.

AN EFFUSIVE GREETING.

Alfonso Embraces and Kisses the Crown

Madrid, Nov. 23.—The German crown prince arrived here at noon to-day on special train. The streets were crowded with people of all ranks. Many houses were gayly decorated. From the depot to the palace, a distance of two miles, the it streets were lined with troops. King Alfonso, wearing his uniform as colonel of the German Unlane, met the prince when he alighted from the train Alfonso and the prince effusively embraced and kissed each other, then drove to the palace and the palace. The each other, then drove to the palace escorted by a corporal's guard. The prince's suite, with Spanish officers and officials, all brillantly uniformed, followed in six carriages. Hats were often raised, and in some places cheers were given for the prince. At the palace ex-Queen Isabella, the infautas Isabella and Eutalie welcomed the visitor. The prince afterward held a reception, at which were present the grandees of Spain, members of the aristocracy, ladies in waiting and high court officials. In the afternoon the king and the prince drove on the Retiro promenade. He was greeted with entrusiastic cheers by large crowds. This evening the prince and the Spanish royal family attended the opera. The newspapers generally welcome the visitor, while deprecating an alliance between Spain and

DR WILSON AND THE SALVATION.

The Reverend Gentleman Narrates His experience at an All-Night Prayer Meeting—Action of the Dean. KINGSTON, Nov. 23-The greatest interest is taken here in the case of the Rev. Dr. Wilson of St. George's cathedral, who is for much recognition is beyond supposition. It is only necessary to say that in any play where Mrs. Langtry can pose as herself she will win a quick and magnificent recognition. In the School for Scandal this is a frequent thing. In She Stoops to Conquer it is an accident.

Very confidently then may we say that with a larger and more enthusiastic audience Mrs. Langtry was not as superb last night as she was the might before.

Exhibiting the recognition is beyond supposition. It is charged with attending a prayer meeting of the salvation army and with having officiated at what is called an army love feast, in which bread and wine are handed round as in the holy communion. The eupon they all took off their hats and sang some good choruses and some bad ones. The latter were, as is the custom, the loudest cheered. When dismissed a crowd of them marched up Yonge. On the way it was decided to punish a certain freshman who had written a poem satarising the upper years. But the luckless wight getting wind of their intention took to his heels, pursued by the back. He gained refuge in Hutty's drug store at Maitland street corner but the medicalled loudy for his surrender. A single policeman overawed the crowd, which thereupon set off in another direction declaring that they knew where a second freshman whom they consider d equally guilty, resided. The offensive song, lustily sung by the freshmen runs: when Jesus Christ had fallen prostrate in the dust, an humble sinner like him should not be too proud to do such a thing. He hoped that the man who raised an objection to this act would get the same glory in his soul as he got on that night. The words that God spoke to him were: "My ohild, it is all right. This is My work on the souls of those people" God's spirit worked with men in different ways. Continuing the narrative, he said he then rose from the floor, covered with dust, and in a broken tone testified for God, who was willing to accept every manifestation displayed. From that moment he had perfect peace, and never, till he breathed his last breath, would be forget that Monday night of prayer. He believed that when the angels called him home he would find his place in heaven lifted higher because of that night of prayer. It will long be remembered, not only by those who took part, but by others. The people of Kingstou coul say what they liked, but it did not matter if the angels in heaven said "all right." When he knew the angels and God were with him, he feared not the opinions of men. He spoke on this subject in view of the possible consequences that might befall him. GOVERNMENT CHANGES. George W. Ross, lats M. P. for West Middlesex, is to enter the local government as minister of education, Mr. Crooks having resigned that office. There is no reason why Mr. Ross should not make a good ninister. His election, which seems likely for West Middlesex, will give the ministry another vote, and that, we take it, is o more importance to them than anything else. For, if opening Hamilton would not have jeopardized one seat, Mr. Gibson, the talented member for that city would undoubtedly have been the new minister. So that while this last move may increase the strength of the government, it is none the less a confession of their critical condition. The all-powerful party that Edward Blake turned over to Oliver Mowat has nearly Had Mr. Meredith taken anything like patriotic stand on the boundary question he would have been at the head of affairs in the province to day. But as it is he finds that his opponents are afraid of him. And it must not be forgotten that Mr. Mowat's gain through securing him is Mr. Blake's loss at Ottawa in parting with Mr. Ross. The mother is hacked to save the home has been making some brief remarks child. Mr. Blake has parted with his most about the coming celebration of Evacuation useful man in the house, and Sir Richard Day, which takes place on Monday. From the Monetary Times If reason is on the side of University college, sectarian zeal is against her; and the clamor of the zealots might drown the voice of reason. The leading presbyterian divines of the last generation were all on the side of University college. Foremost among its champions were Dr. Burns and Dr. Jennings. Roaf and Lillie, representing the the clergy of the free church. Their theory province would be best supplied by one great unsectorian college, at which students of all denominations could get their general education; that theological education could best be supplied by the denominational colleges, affiliated with the university of Toronto. These distinguished men never countenanced the sectarian universities in their opposition to Toronto.

A graduate of any one loudest in everything loud on that occasion. of them is sought to be passed off as of equal value with the best. By counting heads without taking into account anything else, the great universities of the United States are thrown into the shade, by this class of reaseners, and the one-horse universities are glorified

There can be no objection to the denominations doing their own work, in their own way. but their protests against the state amply equipping a non-sectarian university ought not to carry great weight. Tae state can only work through a secular

On this basis the policy of the state was settled. And that policy is not going to be reversed. It is fully sustained by public opinion. The state recognizes that its line action is different from that of the denominations. To them it leaves perfect liberty of action; for itself it claims no less. The denominations have no title to abridge its liberty of action or to impede it in the exercise of that liberty. Having undertaken to furnish higher education for the whole people, without distinction of sect, it has accepted the duty of doing so in an efficient manner. It has come under an obligation paid Reporter says, that there are men who to place University college in a position fully and efficiently to perform the duty required of it; and the present erdowment, being in dequate for this purpose, the goverrter that should be brought before parlia

They have their own methods as the state is obliged to follow. A plentigiven to University college. Among other things, it is told that it ought to raise directly contrary to the views of the university reformers of 1850. These reformers held that the provincial university should invite within its walls poor students, who might have shown marked signs of ability, but who were unable to pay high fees We are told the denominational colleges exact higher fees That is their effair ; they may be presumed to know how best it c induct their own business; but they are not at liberty to put themselves in the place of the state and to decide what that state shall or shall not do, or how University college, the child of the state, shall manage its affairs. But, say the denominational colleges, yet take our money to support University college, and we have a right to be heard. No so; the public tunds are not the property of any church; they belong to the whole people. and for the whole people, without division of sects, the government acts. In supplementing the funds of University college the government wou'd le lut discharging a duty which public opinion has imposed or it, and the fearless discharge of which is confidently anticipated by the friends of

If the interference of the sects could paralyze the action of the state or prevent it performing its duty, the death-knell to national education would be sounded. In the event of the government finding itself the event of the government finding itself incapacitated from performing its duty, in this particular, there would remain for it the particular, there would remain for it the particular incapacitated from performing its duty, in flock of disease. The university, including University college, want above everything complete freedom of action. If nothing els could be done but to cut the political connection, means of supplementing the endowment would probably be found out of private sources. One or other of these two ourses must be taken; and whatever way the choice falls, a path out of the present slough of despond will be found.

This English gentleman is evidently of a humorous turn of mind. He does not seem to mind that the nameless crop of Fourth of July idiots should go rooting about to seek an anniversary of something to excuse the unlimited firing of crackers, spread eagleism and whiskey. But he suggests they seek an appropriate anniver sary. Their century of freedom has not seemed to him much more than a slavery to unworthy masters. And the more John Kelly and the Irish fanatics control New York city baptists, stood shoulder to shoulder with the more unworthy the slavery becomes. Of course a century ago we knew that some was that the ducational wants of the Englishmen hauled down the Union Jack from the mast where some other Englishmen had nailed it. But how many of the thousands of Irish and Germans, Italians, French and Chinese who make up the bulk of the population of New York-nay, how many of the so called Americans themselves in New York are descended from those original Englishmen? Perhaps out of a million and a half people a couple of score. And these two score are not the men who will By the sectarian advocates, the smallest howl loudest next Monday either. A few river steam ers, a few coasters, a few pilot boatsmostly engaged in bringing English steamers into port. "Now if you really want a fine display, try and induce the English steamboat lines to parade their vessels. In that case you would have something to show, and you could hide your American tubs with English, French, German and tubs with English, French, German and Italian linera.

We commend this Englishman's humo as being much pleasanter to the taste than that of "Admiral" (otherwise steamboat inspector) John H. Starin, who expects to head this remarkable parade.

WATERED STOCK.

To the Editor of The World. SIR: You have reproduced in your edi-American Counting Room on Watered Stock, and somewhat facetitiously pointed out that the ideas of the editor of the magazine and mine do not exactly agree. Kindly permit me to say that there are various phases of this question. The editor points out one phase, and illustrates it by reference to the notorious case of the Western Union. I describe another phase of it, and illustrate it by reference to a certain gas company which I did not name. I am somewhat surprised that it did not occur to you that the company I had in view was the city gas company of Montreal about which there is so much newspaper controversy now, and which is moving every power at its command to prevent the chartering of a rival that would deprive it of its monopoly,

The watered stock of the Western Union, created as the editor pointed out, is a much less desirable property than the watered stock of the City Gas company of Montreal, originated in the manner I point out; each is watered stock however.

"She Does Not Know Chicken from Turk

Helene is the handsomest girl of her race, She's an elegant form and an exquisite face, And she dresses with perfectly consummate grace, But she doesn't know chicken from turkey; She knows many languages, living and dead;
In science and fiction is very well read,
But she cannot cook meat, and she cannot make bread,
And she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She can play a "Fantasia" or "Nocturne" with skill; Can sing up to "B"—has a wonderful trill; Can write a good story or somet, but still

She doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She's been up the Tiber, the Rhine and the Nile, She's a painter in every popular style—
Can decorate china, a plaque or a tile,
But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She's always self-satisfied, graceful and cool; She's always self-satisfied, graceful and coor,
A critic, both just and correct as a rule;
And knows every stitch of the Kensington school,
But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.
She can work a design by Lansing or Burt;
But she cannot cut out for her children a skirf,
Or make for her husband a well-fitting shirt—
She doesn't know chicken from turkey.

I'm willing a girl should read Latin and Greek; Should German and French and Italian speak;
And be "up" in the latest esthetical freak,
It she only knows chicken from turkey. It she only knows chicken from turkey.

I'd like her in music and song to take part;

Read poetry, science and cultivate art,

If husband and children were first to her heart,

And if she knew chicken from turkey.

Knew barley from rice, knew a tart from a pie;
A boil from a stew, a broil from a fry;
And if she went into the market to buy,
Knew very well chicken from turkey.
For, to make a home happy, all knowledge must blend
Art, science and service their benefits lend;
Then, ladies so dever and wise, condescend
To know about chicken or turkey.

Now, here comes the moral of this little tale, Which showed that Helene did not know the word "fail," For she went to where cookery books were for sale.

And made known her desire to the clerk. He,

From several volumes, immediately took
A copy of "Mrs. Clarke's Cookery Book,"
And said. "You'll soon know, if through this you will look,

What to do with a chicken or turkey."

In 1868 Sir Ge). Chetwynd's recently defunct 5 years old Hornpipe, by Uncas—Quickstep, did not start in any race until he was five years eld last year. The first five attempts in the name of his trainer, T. Brown, were failures, but when purchased by Sir George the first time of asking he won the Third Welter Haudicap at the Newmarket July meeting, for which he was very heavily backed. After that he won six races, winding up with the Rous Stakes at Brighton.

It restores gray hair to its youthful color, prevents baldness, makes the hair soft and glossy, does not stain the skip, and is altogether the best known remedy for all hair condition. As I failed to get any better I determined to try a remedy made by a gentleman in whom I had the greatest confidence. I am happy to say it effected permanent relief and that I am well to-day through the influence of Warner's SAFE Cure. After such an experience I can most heartily recommend it to all sufferers.

A LBION HUIEL—GREAT ALTERATIONS have taken place at this hotel for the reception of travelers and agricultural people in general. It has long been felt that there was not sufficient room to accommodate the increasing trade of the hotel, and to meet this demand the proprietor has, at an expense of over $18,000, purchased the late promises occupied by the St. Lawrence coffee house association adjoining the Albion, and has now $125 bedrooms, accommodation for 250 guests. The house has been re-modelled and re-furnished throughout at an outlay of $5000—gas in every room, new dining-room $0x60, capable of seating 200 people at one time. The nouse is the best $1 house in the Dominion.
