SQUIBOGRAPHS.

Does the Lord's Day Act? Not on Sundays.

"Give us this day our daily revolution," is a popular prayer down in Central America.

It is said that the Toronto bucket shop gamblers turned pail when called up for sentence.

"Shot in the ear," remarked the Manitoba farmer as he gazed on his rapidly growing field of No. 1 hard.

Sir Thomas Lipton proposes to establish a packing plant in Winnipeg. Free sample of tea given with every slice of ham.

The berry picker gleans the bush Of fruit both ripe and rare Drops pail and fruit in a wild rush "Look out! Here comes a bear."

Stew the berries, boil 'em down, Make enough to go around, Pound for pound, good and sweet Sealed fast and tight you have a treat.

The temperature of the citizens in towns that failed to secure one of the new Normal Schools is said, to be abnormal.

The shocks stand thick in every field Give promise of a mighty yield The weather is nice, everything looks fine But it costs like fun for binder twine.

The Canadian rifle team has shown that we can shoot. Sherring that we are champion long distance runners. Equipped with these essentials of war we fear no foe.

The new ordinance factory to be established in Ottawa will give our representatives pointers on the most effective calibre and range to be used in the election campaigns.

Notwithstanding Toronto poses as a summer resort a number of prominent citizens find it uncomfortably warm at present and are hastily seeking quarters out of the range of a Winchester.

If a tiger should ever venture into the confines of the Chicago Jungle it's carcass would be speedily converted into boneless bovine, and its stripes used for decorating the label on the can.

A six-year-old Welsh boy has existed entirely on milk since his birth. The only respect in which he differs from other boys of his age is in the size of his calves.

A band of British Columbia Indians have gone to England to see the King. Some of the sports out on the coast, who have asked to see four kings, could give the natives a rough idea about what the trip will cost.

President Roosevelt gave his hired man a hand with the hay while spending his vacation at Oyster Bay. Teddy's experience in handling the muck rake would make his services valuable in the harvest field.

A Toronto barrister refused to pay his bill because the waiter declined to furnish a knife with his bean order. These Toronto swells are getting too particular altogether. Next thing they will be wanting ice tongs with their breakfast food.

King Edward has announced that it will be impossible for him to pay a visit to Canada. This will be a great disappointment to the granddaughters of the young ladies he danced with on the occasion of his last visit some forty years ago.

Teach Agriculture.

Toronto, July 16th.—The Globe to-day says that it understands the education department and the department of agriculture are conjointly arranging a programme which may be regarded as the initial step in the government's policy of a series of agricultural schools throughout the province. In brief, it is the establishment of classes in agriculture in the collegiate institutes of the province, particularly those serving essential agricultural districts.

WHETHER he likes best the hot days or the cold, which have alternated so beautifully lately, is a hard question for any man to decide. The rule is, however, that we prefer the kind of weather we are not having.

THE highest marks in the county, so far as have yet been published, were obtained by Edna Boyd, of Sarnia, who received 570 out of a possible 600—88 per cent. No pupil of Lambton, in recent years at least, has ever secured such a high standing at an entrance examination.

THE other day a benevolent old gentleman was stopped by a tramp who asked for money for a night's lodging. "Well, look here, my man," the old man said, "what would you say if I offered you work?" "Bless yer life, sir," came the reply. "I wouldn't mind a bit. I can take a joke same as most people."

PETROLEUM spread on stagnant pools will prevent the growth of mosquitoes in those pools every time. There is nothing experimental about that old dodge. But this year the mosquitoes of the adjacent country are unusually well developed, and are vigorous and ferocious, and they are the chaps who are making night hideous for some Watford people.

GENTS' white linen handkerchiefs, 12½ and 15c., worth 18 to 20.—SWIFT BROS.

CLIFFORD EXPRESS: Sweet young ladies who went bare-headed last season will learn with dismay that the practice is being abandoned, as those indulging in it found that their hair dries up, becomes brittle, and falls out, or turns grey prematurely. Keep your lids on this summer, girls.

"The milk you've been selling me," complained the young housekeeper, "is watery. Now I—" "Pardon me, ma'am," interrupted the foxy milkman. "I was jest'ing to tell you about that. You see the cows got in the salt bin last week and it made 'em awful thirsty, but it won't never occur again."—Philadelphia Press.

THE Grand Trunk railway is receiving its first instalment of the ten-wheel passenger engines ordered from the Locomotive Machine company of Montreal. They are of the most improved type and capable of fast and heavy service. One of them has been placed on the Ottawa run and another went out on the run from that city to Toronto.

Prof. Campbell, the distinguished Phrenologist, and Sergeant Major, Tom Hughes, late of His Majesty's 31st Bengal Tigers, but at present engaged in the peaceful avocation of umbrella repairing, gave an open air entertainment on Ontario St. Tuesday evening. Next morning they resumed their weary pilgrimage down the pike, escorted to the city limits by the chief.

THIS is a great cheese year. The season is favorable to milk production and the price is about a cent a pound higher than it was last year. The factories are doing well. Exporters who sold short would like to see a fall, but the demand abroad is so great that the cheese does not lie in the cooling room for more than a fortnight.

A CORRESPONDENT says he tried putting red clover on his horses instead of branches or twigs of trees to keep the flies off, and to his surprise, not a fly bothered his team. Take common red clover in bloom, pull it fresh, and place it on the harness between the leather on the bridle and backband, and anywhere you can put a piece on it and you will be surprised to see how it keeps the flies away. It's cheap and worth trying.

"EVER go 'berrying in the deep tangled wilderness?" asked a west side man. "No! Well I did—the other day." "Went out in the woodlot of a Brooke farm. Nearly suffocated in the dense growth of underbrush through which no breezes ever blow. Tore my breeches on briars. Scratched my face on tree limbs. Ripped my shoes on snags. Got a pint of berries. Fell over a log and spilled 'em. Swore. Went home and kicked the cat."

A DRIVE out in the country these fine July days reveals a busy scene. The bulk of the hay crop is safely harvested and the field is good. Wheat cutting is now in full swing and the crop is above the average, both in quality and production. Oats and barley are looking well and will be a bumper crop. Roots and vegetables never looked better. The farmers of Western Ontario have reason to be thankful for a bountiful harvest and that their lines are cast in one of the most favored spots under the blue canopy.

THE vital statistics for Watford for the half year ending June 30th are: births 11; marriages 9; deaths 19.

PROF. DUNN is arranging to hold a recital in Caldwell's Hall, Watford, on the evening of Monday, July 30th. The Watford class will be assisted by the Strathroy class and an orchestra of seven pieces. Watch for further announcements.

WHILE engaged in digging a well on the west side the other day Henry Scott came across a peculiar looking stone. It has the brilliancy and hardness of a diamond, but local experts have been unable to classify it. It will be sent to the geological bureau for identification.

A NUMBER of citizens have availed themselves of the invitation to visit the Wire Works this week. The employees are kept very busy, and have not yet caught up with advance orders. It is worth your while to visit the works and see what is being done.

THE Toronto News contains a despatch stating that a man named Tremaine, who claimed to be an agent for the Manson Campbell Co., of Chatham, has been working a swindle on the farmers in the vicinity of Belleville. One farmer gave him a note for $13, and then sent him a registered letter containing the amount of the note. The letter was received, but the note was not returned, and the only answer was an anonymous letter telling the farmer that he should know enough to do business in the right way. Needless to say the man is not an agent of the M. Campbell Co., but a rank impostor, who has been using the name of this well known and reliable firm in order to hoodwink people into his nefarious schemes. All bona fide agents carry receipts and other forms about them, and farmers should be careful to make strangers produce proofs, so that they may know whom they are dealing with.

BASE BALL.

The first base ball match of the season was played at the Park Friday evening, between the recently organized local club and the Alvinston nine. The majority of the local players are new to the game, this being their first appearance in a match and they played in Toronto's favorite style. Errors were numerous and hits scattered. The fourth was fatal for Watford's chances, six runs being scored on one hit.

Alvinston has a well balanced and seasoned team. Patterson played a fine game at short, and Chief "Sime" Williams, who has been playing ball and hockey ever since Brannan's mill was built, did the twirling. The score:

ALVINSTON	R	H	O

BACHELORS vs. BENEDICTS.

The question whether marriage is a failure or not still remains unsettled. Two teams of ball players, one representing the broken to harness, feed out of the hand, bachelors, and nine untamed and unkempt bachelors fought it out for five innings at the park Monday evening resulting in a tie, two all. Squeeze, inside, outside and bum plays were so numerous that a Toronto fan would have felt right at home. The spectators enjoyed the fun, also the dispensers of arnica and court plaster. The line up: Bachelors—F. P. McDonnell, W. Ferguson, C. Dodds, F. Taylor, J. W. McLaren, E. A. Brown, L. Dodds, F. Walker, H. Howden. Benedicts—S. Stapleford, Dr. Kenward, P. J. Dodds, R. E. Are You Often Bilious?
 Read This And Learn How To Prevent Attacks.

Biliousness is merely a term applied to a condition that exists when the body is overloaded with bile. The complexion turns yellow, eyes look dull, pimples, itching and eczema break out, headaches are ever present. Biliousness has two great causes, constipation and defective liver action. When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are taken they not only correct the bowels, but act directly on the liver, regulating its bile secretion. Unlike ordinary medicines which purgative and give temporary relief, Dr. Hamilton's Pills removes the condition which causes biliousness; thus permanent cures are effected. Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure biliousness and liver ills under all circumstances. We prove this by the statement of Mr. Frank Luddington, New Harbor, N. S., who writes: "Three months ago I had no expectation of ever getting free of my ordinary bilious attacks. They were preceded by dizziness and dreadful headaches. If I stooped over my head would swim and a nauseous feeling creep into my stomach. Dr. Hamilton's Pills fixed up my liver, drove all the bile out of my blood and made me a well man in a few months. To-day I enjoy a good appetite, excellent digestion, and the best of health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all." Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills to-day. Sold by all dealers; 25c per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Pelton & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A. and Kingston, Ont.

 T. KEYS vs R. MITCHELL—The plaintiff sued for one ewe and part value of two lambs. The ewe died so the plaintiff claimed from injuries inflicted by the defendant, when her two lambs were but one month old. The lambs are now both runts and worth only half what others of same age are. The defendant denied having kicked the sheep but admitted that he set the dog on her "just for fun." Judgment for $13 and costs were given against the defendant.

To Assist Farm Drainage.
 To the Editor:
 Dear Sir—

The Department of Physics at the Ontario Agricultural College is endeavoring to emphasize the importance to farmers of proper drainage of their land. This meets with such hearty approval by the minister of Agriculture that he has authorized us to go out among the farmers where requested, take the levels of their land, locate the drains for them and give information generally on the subject, the only expense connected with it being the travelling expenses of one man. Where two or three persons in the same vicinity have work to be done they arrange together to have all done during the one trip, each one paying his proportionate share of the expense. This reduces individual outlay to a very small sum indeed. I shall be glad if in the next issue of your paper you can find space to make fitting mention of this manner. All communications on the subject should be addressed to me.

We are also endeavoring to collect information with regard to damage by lightning, in the hope that a fuller understanding of its habits and freaks may lead to more efficient protection against it. Hence we shall be glad if at any time you can send us a marked copy of any issue of your paper that contains accounts of, or reference to, lightning strokes.
 Yours very truly,
 WM. H. DAY.

EXPECTS LATE HARVEST.
 Mr. F. W. Thompson Speaks of Broop Outlook in the West.

Speaking of the latest crop reports from the West, on Saturday, Mr. F. W. Thompson, vice president and managing director of The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Ltd., said: "Our advices from the West are generally favorable. The growth however is very rank, and we do not look for the harvest to be general before the last week in August or the first of September. It is also impossible to make any predictions regarding the probable yield at the present time and the growth is running so much that we certainly do not look for an early harvest as some people are predicting. Allowing that it will generally be headed out by July 10 or 12, the period of the harvest would be then in about six weeks, which would mean from August 21 to 23 under ordinary conditions, but with so much straw as this year, it will require from ten to 14 days longer. "It will be seen, therefore, that under favorable conditions, based on past experience, it is not reasonable to expect harvesting to be general before September 1, although it is quite possible that here and there favored spots may get started earlier." Mr. Thompson added that up to date there had been some damage by hail. He noted that 1,200 had been damaged on the night of July 3, at Manitou, Man., 2,000 acres at Grand View, and 1,500 acres at Oakville, but in the aggregate the quantity destroyed by hail did not go beyond the average of past years.

Ballad of Vegetables.
 A potato went on amash
 And sought an onion bed
 "That's pie for me!" observed the squash,
 And all the beets turned red,
 "Go away the onion weeping, cried,
 "Your love I cannot be
 The pumpkin be your lawful bride—
 You cantaloupe with me."
 But onward still the tuber came
 And lay down at her feet—
 "You cauliflower by any name
 And it will smell as wheat
 And I, too, am an early roe.
 And you I've come to see
 So don't turnip your lovely nose
 But spinachat with me

"I do not carrot all to wed
 So go, sir, if you please"
 The modest onion meekly said,
 And lettuce, pray, have peas
 Go, think that you have neve seen
 Myself, or smelled my sight
 Too long a maiden I have been
 For favors in your eye"
 "Ah, spare a cuss!" the tuber prayed.
 "My cherrished bride you'll be.
 You are the only weeping maid
 That's currant now with me"
 And as the wily tuber spoke
 He caught her by surprise,
 And giving her an artichoke,
 Devoured her with his eyes.

LITTLE BELL BIOGRAPHIES
Anton Rubinstein
 ANTON GREGOR RUBINSTEIN continues the line of the so-called "brilliant" pianists that began with Liszt and ends with Paderewski. He was born of Jewish parents in Russia, 1829, and died in 1894. Receiving instruction only from his mother and a teacher named Villong, he progressed so rapidly that in 1839, at the age of 10, he made a concert tour as far as Paris, where he remained to study technic under Liszt, and later composition at Berlin. As a composer Rubinstein wrote in every department of music. His compositions are full of pure and genial melody and natural harmony. But with the exception of his "Ocean Symphony," his chamber-music and songs are his only genuinely popular works. In particular, his setting to Heine's "Du Bist Wie Eine Blume" and his "Melodie" (in F.)—sometimes called the "Thumb Melodie"—besides other piano pieces like "Kamenoi-Ostrov," are universal favorites. It was, however, as a concert pianist that he achieved marvellous success. After several tours in the European Continent and England, he came to America in 1873, where he was popularly appreciated as the "Lion Pianist." But while in technic the only rival of Liszt and the most remarkable virtuoso of his time, he was no mere technician. If he could make the piano roar, he could also play with such tenderness a simple piece from Haydn or Mozart as to bring forth the tears of pure joy and sympathy. All this was possible because at the time he had to hand an instrument that later reached the acme of perfection in
The Bell Piano
 What he might have done, assisted by the beautiful and toneful Bell Art Piano, we may partly guess. But certainly he would have pronounced it The Perfect Concert Piano.

Died From Injuries Received in a Runaway.

A very sad accident occurred on the farm of Mr. Edward Peters, lot 32 con. 1 Ennisville, on Saturday, June 30th which resulted in the death of Mrs. Peters.

Mr. Peters was starting for town with a load of baled hay when his team, in his own lane, balked and then ran away. Mrs. Peters who was opening the gate to allow the team and load to pass out, when she saw the horses start endeavored to shut the gate to stop them. Before she could completely shut it she was knocked down with the gate on top of her. The team, wagon and load passed over her. The unfortunate woman had her right leg broken in two places, and an arm broken and her head trampled by the horses. She was also cut and badly bruised about the face, neck and shoulders. Mr. Peters was thrown off the wagon, the wheel of which passed over his leg just above his knee crushing his limb terribly.

A day or two after the awful accident it was thought that there was a slight chance for Mrs. Peters to recover but she passed away on Friday July 6th. The funeral took place Sunday.

Mr. Peters is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters are among the oldest and most highly respected residents of that part of the township and are receiving the sympathy and assistance of their neighbors and friends.

Never Killed a Passenger

Officials of the Michigan Central are again congratulating themselves upon the wonderful record for safety that has been made by the Canadian division of that line, says the Buffalo Express. Although the division, which was formerly known as the Canadian Southern, has been in operation for more than 31 years and has a mileage of nearly 500 miles, it has never killed a passenger. This is a record, the officials believe, not equaled by any other railroad in the world of an equal mileage and that does as heavy a passenger business. This road has long had a reputation for careful operation, and the entire Michigan Central has had but two wrecks in 25 years, where there was any considerable loss of life.

REFERRED TO SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Manufacturing Proposition Under Consideration.

A special meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the council chamber Monday evening to further consider the proposition of the Lloyd Mfg. Co., of Minneapolis, as outlined in these columns last week. Reeve Hume occupied the chair. Mr. Thompson, of Toronto, of the Lloyd-Thompson Wire, was present and was called upon for a few remarks. Mr. Thompson explained that the present proposition had no direct connection with the Lloyd-Thompson Co. It was a better proposition than their own inasmuch as it was not an experiment but a successful going concern. He felt no reproach at the progress and prospects of his own company, which was fulfilling its obligations to the municipality, and the outlook for increased trade was very encouraging.

The question now before the citizens of Watford was whether or not they were desirous of considering an addition to their industries. He knew of no proposition before the people that had in it as many elements of success as the present one. It was not an untried experiment, but a demonstrated success. The factory would certainly be located in Canada, and the Co. would naturally locate where the best inducements were offered. Personally he would prefer to see it come to Watford, as it would be greatly to the interests of both companies to be contiguous to each other. One advantage would be that C. S. Lloyd, who is thoroughly familiar with the mechanical details would be able to supervise the work of both companies and this fact was an important consideration with Mr. M. B. Lloyd, the executive and financial head of the Minneapolis concern. Aside from this the management would be distinct and each Co. would work on its own lines. The Lloyd-Thompson people did not purpose removing from Watford in the event of the Lloyd Mfg. Co. locating in another town. The importance of having a practical man in charge of the mechanical department could not be overestimated. The outlook for an industry of this kind was very encouraging. The field here was larger and competing less than in the U. S. Here they would only have one competitor. It would be necessary to act promptly if they desired to take advantage of the present opportunity, as other towns were negotiating for it, Strathroy and Alliston among the number. In regard to the location of the main office here Mr. Thompson did not think that it would be practicable. It was necessary to have the business department in some large centre with a show room in connection. In this way they were more in touch with the business interests of the country, and would be more apt to meet customers and place their wares before them. They had no connection financially with the present proposition, but the two companies would greatly conserve their energies by being located together and working in unison. If the citizens of Watford displayed the same energy and enthusiasm in connection with the present proposition as they had with the present there was no doubt about it being carried. President Swift thought a public meeting should be called where the proposition could be explained in detail and thoroughly discussed. Mr. Caldwell was favorable to the project. If citizens would visit the wire works and see for themselves what was being accomplished there would be less kicking. C. S. Lloyd claimed that they were doing exactly what they said they would do. He would like to hear any statements they had made successfully contradicte. Mr. Parker was of the opinion that the people did not understand the proposition. Its exact cost had not been figured in a way that could be shown to the electors.

The Reeve stated that the cost in round numbers would be about $800 a year.

W. E. Fitzgerald stated that the proposition appealed most favorably to him and thought the town could not afford to lose it.

P. J. Dodds considered if the town was out for industries now was the time to act. Favored calling a public meeting to get the feeling of the people. Thought the bylaw would carry.

G. L. Bryce, said proposition struck him favorably, the only question was, could we carry it, should not let go by default. Suggested sending a delegate to Minneapolis to investigate. An informal discussion took place as the best method of placing the matter before the people when it was moved by J. W. McLaren, seconded by C. A. Class, that a special committee consisting of Messrs. Swift, Parker, Fitzgerald, Brown, and Caldwell be appointed to obtain all possible information regarding the proposition, cost, etc., and submit same to the Municipal council for consideration and action. Meeting then adjourned.

The 12th at Wyoming.

Wyoming, Ont., July 12.—One of the best attended and most successful demonstrations of the Orange Order in East and West Lambton was held at this place today, fully one thousand of the brethren being in the march, and between four and five thousand people present. Twenty-four lodges were in attendance, forming a procession fully a mile long. After dinner the brethren formed in line and marched to a grove at the south of the village, where speeches were made by Master James Cox, of Lucasville, and Paul Kingston, of Warwick. Addresses were also delivered by William H. McMahon, County Councillor. Rev. H. J. Condell, Point Edward; Rev. J. Mahon, St. John's; Rev. R. Hamilton, Petrolia; Rev. H. Birrell, Forest; Rev. W. G. Richardson, Wyoming, and Messrs. A. T. Gurd, Petrolia, Geo. Crawford, Marthaville, and R. E. L. Sneur, Sarnia.

A contest between the five and drum bands present resulted as follows: First prize, Brooke Lodge; second prize, Warwick Union; and third, Inwood.

COMMUNICATIONS.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

The Richest Gold Mine in the World is in Northern Ontario.

MR. EDITOR:—As there has been a good deal heard and said lately in regard to Cobalt silver mines I thought it might not be out of place to say a little about our Canadian gold mines which few of us realize we have, but nevertheless we have right in our Rainy River district. Having been introduced through the good services of our genial friend, Dr. Gibson, on board the Saronic between Sarnia and Port Arthur to a Mr. Johnston, president of the Ideal gold mine, and a Mr. A. Gerow, a capitalist and 33rd degree Mason, both of Detroit, who in the course of conversation invited me to accompany them as their guest on a tour of inspection of their mines, which invitation I gladly accepted. Having never seen a real paying gold mine, although having considerable financial experience in the celebrated D. L. Co. mines, so, on reaching Dryden, a station on the C. P. R., half way between Port Arthur and Wainwright, I bid farewell very reluctantly to my fellow passengers Messrs. Gibson, Howden and Glass, as we were having a very enjoyable trip together, and launched out with my new made friends to inspect the hidden treasures of old mother earth. After dinner at Dryden we took the little 24 foot boat to the Redeemer mine through Lake Wabigoon, and I don't know how many more small lakes, a distance of 8 or 10 miles. This mine is owned by a syndicate from Toledo and is operated very successfully through the management of a Mr. Hines who told me that he was very pleased to know that the Ontario Government would not allow liquor to be sold nearer than six miles of a mine. After supper at his camp we started for our destination a distance of two miles over corduroy roads and bare rocks to the Ideal, Mr. Johnston's mine, where Colonel Buxton, of Baltimore, is general manager and superintendent and gave us a royal welcome. This mine shows very rich pay ore and free milling and although only down 80 feet is getting richer with every blast of dynamite and in the future with up-to-date machinery will doubtless be a heavy dividend payer, but at present is in its infancy. After spending 4 days here, mining, fishing and shooting, we resolved to visit the Manitowish mines a distance of 30 or 35 miles, which included the Anthony Blum mine, reputed to be the richest gold mine in the world. After taking a short farewell of our new friends and receiving a letter of introduction from Colonel Buxton to Mr. Blum we left the Ideal camp for the Redeemer landing, where we chartered the little steamer Dryden Bell for the round trip. The crew, all told, consisted of Captain Shackleton, commonly called Shack, and Joe, who acted as fireman, engineer, purser and general navigator, besides the captain's dog Carlo, who to look at was a very ordinary common ugly looking yellow cur, but insisted upon cleaning up on every champagne or aristocrat looking dog, at every place of landing which I feared at times was going to get us into serious trouble, but being like Dr. Newell's Jack a good fighter but a poor judge of dogs his defeat usually turned the sympathy our way. A word about the passenger list, which consisted of J. A. Gerow, of Detroit, myself and a very fine and enterprising little individual called Judd, of Wabigoon, who had mined and prospected at one time in the Black Hills and at present knew of more gold mines than King Solomon himself. A word also about the Dryden Belle, which the captain takes great pride in and would wager that he could run it faster than any other boat on the lake. He got last fall that he can develop a speed of 8 miles an hour and to please him we had to raise the little 24 foot boat which persisted in running lop-sided no matter which side of the engine the dog would lie or the wood was piled on. After a trip of about 6 or 7 hours we landed at Gold Rock landing leaving us 7 miles to walk over corduroy and swamp roads to our destination, and oh, that walk, I will never, never forget it. I thought truly this is the Rainy River district for it rained and poured nearly all the way and such bloodthirsty and savage mosquitoes, many of them would weigh a lb. After supper and drying ourselves the best we could we went over and presented our credentials to Mr. Blum who received us very kindly and showed us many rich specimens of ore and his system of working the mine generally. It was from this mine that two thousand five hundred dollars worth of gold was produced from a forty pound rock, and we saw one of these competent engineers estimate to be worth four hundred thousand dollars to the ton. He has just completed a twenty stamp mill with all the latest machinery and as the gold here is free milling and easily secured, not as I expected to find it sprinkled through the rock but actually in flakes, some nearly a half an inch thick it has the Klondike beaten in many ways, and what surprises me most is that we do not hear more of our Canadian gold mines as they are near home and easy of access and strange to say every working mine is being operated and owned by Americans. It is a very wild and interesting country to visit, the lakes, which are very numerous, are well supplied with large fish, and mose and bear meat are staple articles nearly the year round. I would like to say more, Mr. Editor, about the country but must not impose on your valuable space. I am now at Girvin, Assa., and find the place growing very rapidly. We have 3 stores, 2 elevators, butcher shop, school and hotel. The crops never look so better. I found the Watford colony at Regina all well and prosperous.

Even when one's affianced has the reputation of being, besides fairly rich and more than passably handsome, the most whimsically irresponsible practical joker in New York one has a right to expect that joking on one's birthday, of all days, will be shelved. At least Carrol Merrifield so expected, but she was disappointed, and that started the trouble.

Hunter Johnston was in love with Carrol, thoroughly so, but the practical joker instinct is like conscience and a taste for olives—hard to forget when once acquired. A brilliant idea in the festing line came to Johnston the morning of his sweetheart's birthday, and he immediately set about giving it to that portion of the world in which he was most interested.

Carrol's birthday gifts from her particular circle were all that heart could desire, and she waited with happy anticipation for her fiancé's offering.

At 1 o'clock a messenger boy appeared with a long, slender package for

"MAY I ASK WHAT THIS MEANS, CARROL?" HE ASKED QUIETLY.

Miss Merrifield. She opened it with eagerness and found a single magnificent American Beauty wrapped carefully in waxed paper and sparkling as if with the dew of June. Within five minutes another messenger with another long, slender package rang the bell, and this also yielded up a rose. When with the regularity of clockwork five uniformed lads had come and gone in twenty-five minutes, all with similar votive offerings, the girl comprehended—Johnston of the fertile mind had hit upon the plan of sending her twenty-three roses, one for each year of her life, but the gift was to be delivered on the installment plan.

The ingenious idea was pleasing—for a time. With the tenth rose the Merrifield family was holding joyous council over the ever increasing pile of boxes in the library, and Carrol was restless. When the fifteenth bona fide messenger had come and gone, not counting four small curiosity seekers, who smiled expansively, murmured something about "de wrong number" and retreated, Carrol was thoroughly angry. When on the heel of the twenty-third accredited flower bearer Johnston appeared, a particularly desirable brooch in his pocket and a sense of duty well done in his heart, she was composed, but the anger, though not visible, was present and controlled.

With true masculine density Johnston noticed nothing out of the ordinary with his sweetheart. She thanked him gayly and with the proper degree of warmth for brooch and roses.

"Mr. Practical Joker must have a lesson," Miss Merrifield declared to herself after his departure as she nibbled with lips as red as the petals themselves at the eighteenth rose. "I didn't mind so much his other tricks, but this time he has gone too far."

"He'd only laugh if he knew old Mrs. Froude sat in her window and counted those messengers. With the extra ones mixed in—little wretches!—there were thirty-one of them."

"She knows today's my birthday and saw through Hunter's scheme as quickly as I did. And she'll never believe but what I'm thirty-one. So, Mr. Hunter Johnston, beware of an old maid's vengeance." And she waved the rose theatrically in air.

On the morning of his own birthday, five days later, when his man brought up the small Johnston's eye was immediately taken by one long white envelope. It was certainly peculiar in appearance, for his name and address were formed of letters clipped from newspapers and posted upon it. The envelope contained the following mischievous, similarly constructed:

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRAISE FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just in Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words."

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day."

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Do you care to see your sweetheart sloping with another man? Be at the Twenty-third street ferry Thursday afternoon at 4.

Like many other practical jokers, Johnston had his "blind" side. He never suspected that any one would attempt to hoax him. He took the missive in deadly earnest and interrupted dressing a half dozen times to reread it.

His first sensation was one of anger that any one would dare libel his sweetheart so. He resolved to telephone Carrol immediately—or, better, to call upon her and enjoy a good laugh with her over the letter. Yet even while he smiled at its very absurdity, a sickening qualm of doubt, slow fitting and ugly as a vulture's shadow, passed over his mind. Supposing it were true?

That was the most unpleasant day Johnston ever experienced. Breakfast was a farce; luncheon, "no performance." Long after the time for the latter meal he remembered that he had promised to spend the day with a married sister over in Jersey.

He tramped the snowy streets aimlessly, pausing occasionally to pore over the mysterious message, while policemen stared curiously and householders thought of Raffles. All his journeys brought him back somehow to the neighborhood of Carrol's home. But he could not enter. Something held him back. At 3 o'clock he was at the ferry and sat himself down with such patience as he could muster to wait for 4 o'clock. "I'll see it through," he said.

At ten minutes of the hour Johnston's heart gave a painful throb, for Carrol, rosy from the searching wind, entered the ferry building. A tall, athletic young man, with the air of the outlander about him—he was well dressed and evidently well bred, but not a New Yorker—followed her in. He was carrying two heavy suit cases.

Johnston confronted them. "May I ask what this means, Carrol?" he asked.

ed quietly.
The girl halted and seemed to shrink from him. The athletic stranger stepped forward. "And may I inquire how it concerns you?" He did not raise his voice, and the attention of none of the jostling scores was attracted to the group.

Johnston ignored him. "Did I deserve this, Carrol?" he went on. "If you'd ask, I'd release you. When I got this letter!"

"The girl had determined to punish him thoroughly, but at the sight of his weary, troubled face she relented.

"Do you know," she interrupted blithely, "I'm proud of that letter? I avoided telling a lie in it, even a white one, although I came pretty close to fibbing, didn't I? But I blistered my hand cutting out those letters. Wasn't it a real sweet little birthday gift?"

Doubt and dawning comprehension struggled in Johnston's eyes. "But, why—why?" he began.

"Why—why?" mocked his sweetheart, her head tilted saucily, a roguish smile on her face. "Just to show that two can play at practical joking as well as one. Thirty-one messenger boys, sir! You should have a whole month of anonymous letters."

"But this gentleman!" He waved his hand toward the athletic stranger who appeared to be enjoying the conversation overmuch.

"My cousin, Phil Hudson of Omaha, Mr. Johnston. He came last night, but could only stay with us a few hours."

"You were the victim of a base conspiracy, Mr. Johnston," laughed Hudson as they shook hands. "I beg pardon."

"Oh, nothing of consequence!" responded Johnston. "I just said 'Stung!'"

American Geographical Names.

America can show many geographical names taken from novels. California comes from the name of a fairy kingdom in a Spanish romance of the early sixteenth century. The Antilles take their name from Antiglia, an imaginary island figuring in Italian legends connected with the wanderings of St. Brendan, and marked in the latitude of the Sargasso sea on Catalan and Genoese Portulan of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Montreal is by some said to take its name from a legendary castle mentioned in French romances of a very early date. The island of Barataria, lineally descended from Sancho Panza's imaginary governorship, also figures on the maps of Louisiana, while it is a moot question whether the strait of Juan de Fuca does not take its name from a historical geographical romance, a la Rider Haggard, devised by a Greek sailor of Queen Elizabeth's day for the benefit of her majesty's resident at Venice and his own pocket. "Brazil" is found in early Irish legend as an island in the Atlantic, and it is a moot question whether the empire of Brazil derives its name from this creation of the Celtic fancy or from wood from which a dye resembling in color burning cinders was made.

Field's Meerschaum.

When Eugene Field worked in Newark he used to smoke a cob pipe, greatly to the disgust of his employer, who was a man of taste and refinement and liked his employees to observe the niceties of personal appearance. Knowing this, Field still smoked his cob pipe until it fell to pieces, whereupon he bought a common two cent pipe of clay and made a great display of it around the office.

"Can't you find something better to smoke?" asked his employer one day in early December. "To see you with that thing in your mouth one might take you for a workman."

"It's the best I can afford," said Field, and every day thereafter he made it a point to meet his patron in the hall puffing away at the obnoxious duoden.

He found a handsome meerschaum pipe on his desk Christmas morning.—Newark News.

Immune to Colds.

"A Quakeress," said a physician, "never catches cold. Her immunity is due to her bonnet. If I had my way, all of us, women and men alike, would wear Quaker bonnets. This bonnet protects the back of the head and the nape of the neck, two very tender spots. The nape especially is tender. Let a good draft strike you there for just a second and I'll guarantee you a week's cold. The Quakeress' bonnet may not be beautiful, but, protecting her nape as it does, it keeps her free from colds year in and year out."—New York Press.

A Venomous Snake.

The only sure way to tell a venomous snake is to kill the reptile, open its mouth with a stick and look for the hollow, curved fangs. When not in use they are compressed against the roof of the mouth, beneath the reptile's eyes. They are hinged, as you can see if you pull them forward with a pencil. The venom is contained in a sack hidden beneath the skin at the base of each fang.—Field and Stream.

Toronto, July 17.—The run at the City Cattle Market today was 63 loads, with 850 head of cattle, 1,178 sheep and lambs, 275 hogs and 277 calves.

It was a light run today, and the market was anything slightly firmer and business a little brisker than last week. Prices were certainly no lower, and in some cases the tendency appeared to be towards slight advances. This applies to choice export and butchers' cattle. Inferior quality are in no better demand, and during this warm weather do not seem to be wanted except at very low prices.

In the export trade there is a little better feeling, owing to the slight improvement this week in the old country market. Several choice loads of export cattle sold this week at $5 to $5.15. Choice picked butcher cattle sold at $4.75, and a few picked cattle sold at $4.75.

Stockers—The market is decidedly off for stockers. There is almost no demand at all for this class of cattle just now. The farmers are busy in the hay harvest, and are not looking for stock at present. Besides this, there is said to be a general feeling among the farmers that prices for stockers have been too high, and many who bought at the high prices have not been at all encouraged by the results after all the trouble and expense of feeding them up for the market. Unless prices reach a considerably higher level in the export markets, many will be deterred from going into the feeding business.

Sheep and lambs—The market is steady, prices showing no quotable changes this week.

Hogs—There was a very light run today, and the market is steady to firm at last week's quotations.

Export—Market steady; extra choice, $4.75 to $5; medium export, $4.60 to $4.65. Good short-keep feeders, $4.50 to $4.60; market quiet.

Heavy feeders—Good and heavy feeders at $4.25 to $4.50.

Butchers—Market steady for good quality, but weak on common; choice picked butcher cattle, $4.50 to $4.70; medium heavy butchers at $4 to $4.35; mixed lots and cubs at $1.75 to $2.50; fat cubs, $3.50 to $3.60.

Light stockers—Market quiet, $3.25 to $3.60.

Sheep and lambs—The market is dull at $4 to $4.25, with prospects lower.

Spring lambs steady at 6c to 7½c per pound.

Calves—Market steady and unchanged;

prices range from $4 to $7 each.

A BROOKE WOMAN DROWNED.

Found Floating in the Lake Near Sarna.

About half past eleven o'clock this morning some of the residents at Weesbeach noticed a human body floating in the lake about three hundred yards out from Lake Huron park pavilion. Mr. French was notified and in company with another gentleman procured a boat and rowed out in the lake to the body which proved to be that of a woman. The body was brought to shore and Coroner Bradley notified. After viewing the body and making inquiry regarding the finding of the same, Coroner Bradley ordered the remains removed to the undertaking rooms of Messrs. Phippen & Simpson, where they now lie. The body was that of a respectable dressed woman apparently about 45 years of age. In one hand were grasped her false teeth. The body is clothed in a black cloth skirt, black stockings, white print shirt waist with black and red dots. On the hands are a pair of black silk mitts. The shoes are laced and have recently been, the soles of the shoes were black velvet with oxidized silver buckle. A black silk ribbon around the neck is held in place by a small gold brooch with rhinestone setting. The body is that of a woman about 5 feet 3 inches tall, slight build and thin featured. No marks of violence are to be seen on the head or face. The body has the appearance of being in the water not more than twenty-four hours. Dr. Bradley will hold an inquest to ascertain the identity of deceased and also the cause of death.

The body of the drowned woman has been identified as that of Mrs. Taft, an inmate of the house of refuge, from Brooke township. Mrs. Taft was at breakfast as usual at the house of refuge this morning, but shortly afterwards disappeared. Nothing was heard of her up to noon and then inquiry was instituted with the result above stated.—Observer.

DISEASED KIDNEYS.

Made Sound and Strong Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The doctors told me that I was incurable, but thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I am a well woman to-day. This strong statement was made by Mrs. Ed. Rose, of St. Catharines to a reporter, who hearing of her remarkable cure called to see her. "A few years ago while living in Hamilton," continued Mrs. Rose, "I was attacked with kidney trouble. The doctor lulled me into a state of false security, while the disease continued to make inroads. Finding that I was not getting better I consulted a specialist who told me that the trouble had developed into Bright's disease and that I was incurable. I had dwindled to a mere shadow, and suffered from pain in the back, and often a difficulty in breathing. Insomnia next came to add to my troubles and I passed dreary, sleepless nights, and felt that I had not long to live. In this despairing condition my husband urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and to please him I began to take them. After using several boxes I felt the pills were helping me and I continued taking them until I had used some twenty boxes, when I was again restored to perfect health, and every symptom of the trouble had disappeared. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills brought me back from the shadow of the grave, and I have since enjoyed the best of health."

Every drop of blood in the body is filtered by the kidneys. If the blood is weak or watery the kidneys have no strength for their work and leave the blood unfiltered and foul. Then the kidneys get clogged with painful, poisonous impurities, which brings aching backs and deadly Bright's disease. The only hope is to strike without delay at the root of the trouble in the blood with

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new blood. They flush the kidneys clean, heal their inflammation and give them strength for their work. Common kidney pills only touch the symptoms—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure the cause. That is why they cure for good, and at the same time improve the health in every other way. But you must get the genuine pills with the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

Windsor Wife Murderer Hangs Himself in Jail.

Windsor, Ont., July 17.—Bludgeoning the vigilance of a special watch placed on him, Christopher Spindleman, who on Saturday killed his wife, hanged himself at Sandwich jail early this morning. His body was found a few minutes before six o'clock by Turnkey Iler, who was on his morning rounds. The murderer had successfully wound a pair of shoe laces around his neck, tied one end to a chain which is attached to his cot, and slowly strangled himself. With Spartan fortitude he waited for death at his own hands. He had carefully laid his plans for taking his life. There is no doubt he intended self-destruction after he was first arrested, having been thwarted by his son in his attempt to shoot himself.

Chief Willis ordered a special watch on the prisoner. Sergt. Jackson and Officer Lister purposely removed his shoes and took them away from him. They searched carefully for an instrument to commit suicide and made his detention so secure that he had no means of "snuffing out."

Sergt. Jackson said: "Spindleman would have done the deed here if we had given him the chance. We left him with only his underclothing, and he would have a hard time in ending his life by hanging or strangulation."

The murderer took advantage of the first opportunity to carry out his original plan. After being committed to Sandwhich the prisoner was under a special watch. Jailer Sparks detailed two men to keep an eye on the cell and have an electric light burning in the corridor all night. Spindleman waited until the vigilance was relaxed, having hid his shoe strings after taking off his shoes. With dexterity born of despair, he made a noose to slip over his neck and attached the other end of the string to the cot. Drawing the noose taut, he turned over on his face, and death must have resulted in a few minutes from strangulation.

Ontario Farmers Eager to Greet 700 Immigrants.

Toronto, July 16.—Between six and seven hundred immigrants have arrived since Saturday. The officials of the immigration office slept on the premises last night to look after the lot that arrived early this morning. Fifty-five families averaging five each, came over with the lot, and eight hundred dollars forwarded by the East End London Emigration Society was distributed among them by Mr. Taft this morning. The families received from $7 to $87, according to the number of children. Forty of these families were placed on farms, the remainder being distributed between the Oshawa Malleable Iron Works and the Kingston Cotton Mills.

So eager are the farmers to obtain these men that a number of them actually waited around the station all night waiting for the train to arrive.
