Watford will be just what its own business men make it. We must not expect that some men or business outside of the town is going to build us up and keep us growing and hustling, we've got to do it ourselves.

An Illinois man has lived for 20 years at an expense of $10 a month, mostly on peanuts. He has not required the services of a doctor in all that time. This is merely a statement of fact, not an advertisement for Ben Cowan or Frank Lovell or others who sell peanuts.

Microbes in everything you eat and drink, and if you eat and drink microbes you will surely die, and if you don't eat or drink you will still more surely die. Bound to surely die in any event, you had better pay no more attention to microbes than your granddaddies did. They ate and drank everything they wanted and they lived long and prospered. What did Methuselah know about microbes in his time? Eat and drink everything you want, microbes and all, and you will live until you die, and that is what old Methuselah did—he lived until he died.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. McKay on Wednesday evening, March 9th. The meeting commenced with the singing of the Maple Leaf and prayer. Seventeen members responded to the roll call, also three visitors present. Our principal business was the completing of the arrangements for the St. Patrick's Tea to be held March 17, also the School Fair. Readings were given by Mrs. Leigh and by Mrs. Brown after which the National Anthem was sung.—Secy.

The anniversary services in the Methodist church last Sunday were attended by large congregations who enjoyed two splendid sermons delivered in good style by Rev. B. H. Robinson M. A., of Memorial Methodist church, London. The choir, assisted by Miss Clark, gave inspiring music and the financial response was well beyond the objective set, when a few others who were absent have been heard from the result will probably go beyond highwater mark. The officials of the church are jubilant over the success of the occasion.

Watford has been pretty free from crime during the winter but two burglaries during the past week have caused some excitement. On Wednesday night an entrance was forced into the butcher shop through a back window and the till robbed of about eleven dollars. On Thursday evening the residence of Mr. E. McGillicuddy, Erie street, was entered while he and his daughter were at church. Miss Edwards, who boards with them, was lying down in her room and the house was in darkness. She heard someone walk upstairs and go directly to Mr. McGillicuddy's bedroom. At first she thought Mr. McGillicuddy had returned early, but in a few minutes suspicious noises convinced her that a burglar had entered the house. She ran downstairs and over to Mr. Bennett's next door and gave the alarm, but by the time the latter got outdoors the burglar was seen leaving the place by the back door and to run across lots. Mr. Bennett followed but was unable to overtake him but gained a fair description of his appearance. The burglar got nothing of value having no doubt become alarmed when he heard Miss Edwards go out. Evidently he had watched the people go to church and thought the way clear.

A surprise party was held for Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Showler at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lucas, Sutorville on Friday evening, March 11. Not considering the bad state of the roads between fifty and sixty friends were present to bid them "Adieu." Rev. S. P. Irwin made a few remarks as to the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Showler were held in the neighborhood and how much we all regret their departure from our midst. Mr. Sanford Lucas then said a few words and presented them with a fine rocking chair after which Mr. Showler made a suitable reply. After the presentation lunch was served by the ladies of which every one gave due justice. A very pleasant evening was spent in games of which "Blind Man's Buff" was played, or commonly known as "Jacob and Ruth", but this time it happened to be "Daniel and Winnie." Everyone enjoyed themselves and all join in wishing them every success and happiness in their new home in Sarnia.

PREMIER DRURY AND THE LAMBTON M.P.'S

Toronto, March 15—Major J. C. Tolmie (Liberal, Windsor) called the attention of the Legislature this afternoon to an article appearing in The Farmers' Sun, stating that a U. F. O. club in Lambton County had passed a resolution to the effect that the U. F. O. members in the Government had failed to keep their election pledges and should resign. Mr. Tolmie asked whether the Government, in whose platform the recall was a plank, intended to act on the suggestion as a body, or whether the two members for Lambton, L. W. Oke and J. M. Webster, were going to resign.

Premier Drury replied: "We'd like to resign on account of the company we're keeping, but we feel that the public interest forbids such action being taken at the present time."

OBITUARY

The late Mrs. Acton, whose maiden name was Eliza Gilliland, was born in County Armale, Ireland, in 1832, she came to Canada in 1836. She was twice married. By her first marriage to Mr. Clinton D. Knowles, she had three sons, William D., who died in 1886, Robert, who died in 1915, John of Holland, Man., and one daughter, Mrs. Wm. Fowler of this place. In 1874 she married the late Mr. Richard Acton, who predeceased her in 1917. Mrs. Acton has spent most of her long life of nearly 89 years in and in the vicinity of Watford and so is deserving of the name of pioneer. She was indeed a very worthy woman, kindly and self-sacrificing almost to a fault, being ready at any time to give a helping hand in time of sickness or of need. She was a devoted mother both to her own children and to those over whom she took the place of mother on her second marriage. Mrs. Acton was a faithful member of the Methodist church practically all her life and was most regular in her attendance upon the services of that church as long as health permitted. She enjoyed good health and retained the use of her faculties to a remarkable degree for one of her advanced years. A little over a week before her death which took place on Monday, March 7th, 1921, she had the misfortune to fall in her room when preparing to retire and she broke her hip. This hastened the end for which she awaited with a joyous expectancy, being buoyed with the strength of her christian faith and cheered by the assurance that the end here was but the meeting of her blessed Lord and Savior and the reunion with those who had gone before to be forever with the Lord. In the early part of the winter for a few weeks she was very ill but had made a wonderful recovery and was able to be about again calling on her old friends and neighbors of whom she was very fond and by whom she will be much missed. The funeral took place from her daughter's home on Wednesday, March 9th. The service was in the Methodist church where her pastor, Rev. A. C. Tiffin, conducted an appropriate service. The Pallbearers were all nephews of the deceased, namely, Andrew and John Gilliland, Duncan and Joseph Acton, Jacob Saunders and John Manders. Interment took place in Watford cemetery.

Imported "Booze"

Shall the importation and the bringing of intoxicating liquor into the province be prohibited?

WHILE importation of intoxicating liquors into "dry" provinces was forbidden by war-time Order-in-Council, Ontario's jails were half empty. Since that order was rescinded, imported "Booze" has been filling them up again.

Jail Commitments

—Before and after the Federal war-time Order-in-Council prohibiting importation of liquor into Ontario was rescinded:

Commitments for Drunkenness.	Commitments for All Crimes.
1919 3,415	1919 13,096
1920 4,511	1920 14,756
Net increase, 1,096.	Net increase, 1,660.

Imported "Booze" is demoralizing social conditions, breeding a disregard of law, endangering the home and menacing the youth of this province. Imported "Booze" is defeating the expressed will of the people.

COURTRIGHT—HUME

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Inwood, Ont., on Monday, March 7, at the Anglican church, the contracting parties being Captain S. S. Courtright, formerly of the M. C. R. ticket offices, St. Thomas, and Miss Etta Hume, both members of the Anglican church choir, and popular young people of the village. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Streeter, rector of the church, the couple being unattended. The bride looked charming in a beautiful travelling suit of reindeer broad-cloth, with hat and furs to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. Immediately following the ceremony, a sumptuous dinner was served at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Milton Taylor, after which the young couple accompanied by a number of young people, motored to Alvinston, where they took the train for Toronto and New York. A large number of useful and costly gifts were received, and telegrams of congratulation from various relatives and friends, including one from the groom's mother, Mrs. G. S. Courtright, who is spending the winter in Florida. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Freeman, Port Dover; John Gault, cousin of the bride, Watford, and Mrs. Leonard Lewis, cousin of the bride, Sarnia. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Courtright will take up their residence at Inwood, where they will be at home to their friends after April 1st.

IT WAS EVER THUS

Behold now the spring millinery openings, for they fill the store fronts and make glad the hearts of women.

Yea, their hearts are filled with joy and wistfulness.

But the men are not so, for none know of the opening until behold, his wife appeareth before him saying "Fix thine eyes upon it, and say if it is not beautiful."

For this is the way of women. And the man knoweth not what to say, for he thinketh of the shekels.

But the women think only of the grotesqueness of the hat, and whether it maketh her more unique than her acquaintances.

For she saith, I rather guess this will make the hussy next door open her eyes.

And she careth nothing for what her husband thinketh save only that he pay the bill.

Howbeit there are other women who gaze sorrowfully into the spring millinery windows. They look at one hat and say "Isn't that a dear."

Then they straightway cross the street despite the mud, and criticize another hat and say, "I'd like this one if there were chantille lace below the flowers."

Then they follow the crowd along the street and view another display and say, "Wouldn't that look well on me."

For behold these are they who can not have the spring opening hats. And they go away and buy frames and take them home and when the house is quiet trim them with remnants and selections from old hats.

These hats are not so striking as the others but their husbands are content and smoking a pipe or cigar rest in peace and think "That saves me ten beans."

Corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Remover will remove them.

Don't miss hearing Mr. Heipel, former president of Dominion Experimental farm, Kemptville, at the Lyceum, Watford, Saturday, March 19th, at 2.30 p.m., talk on "Power Farming and Agriculture." Illustrated by actual moving pictures. It's free. —R. Morningstar. 11-2t

SAVES for Farmers

THE OVERLAND is a wonderful car for farmers. It is valued both for the smooth way it rides as well as the way it saves as it goes. Undeniable evidence of Overland economy and value is shown by the service records of more than six thousand and Canadian owners who average from twenty-six to thirty miles per gallon of gasoline. ST. PATRICK'S BIRTHDAY

'Twas the eight day of March, so some people say,
St. Patrick at midnight, he first saw the day;
While others contend 'twas the ninth he was born
An' 'twas all a mistake between mid-night and morn.
But mistakes will occur in a hurry and shock,
And some blamed the baby, and some blamed the clock.
So that with all the talk there was no one could know,
If the child was too fast, or the clock was too slow.
Now the first faction fight in owld Ireland they say,
Was all on account of St. Patrick's birthday.
Some fought for the eighth, for the ninth more would die;
And who wouldn't see right, why they blackened his eye.
At last each faction so positive grew
That each kept a birthday, and Patrick had two!
Until good Father Rourke, who showed them their sins,
Said no one could have two birthdays but twins!
Said he: "Bhoys, don't be fightin' for eight or for nine;
Don't be always dividin', but sometimes combine.
Unite eight and nine—seventeen is the mark;
Let that be his birthday." "Amen", said the clerk.
"If he was a twin, sure his history will show
That he's worth at least any two saints, that we know."
Then they all tuk a dhrop, which completed their bliss,
And they keep up the practice from that day to this.

BEAUTIFY THE TOWN

The Watford Horticultural Society lately organized has in view the beautifying of the town and it should be supported by all lovers of flowers. The Society contemplates competitions for flower gardens, etc., but in time its work may be made broader. The Mail and Empire in speaking of the Toronto Society says the mapping out of designs for flower beds or gardens that can be planted cheaply and will furnish a continuous bloom is desirable, and colored prints of these should be distributed through the schools into the homes where at least the children can be taught to take a sympathetic interest.

The fact that Watford has more homes occupied by owners than by tenants should make this village an ideal place for a beautifying campaign. Whether this takes the form of painting up, material improvements, or shrubbery or lawn cultivation, or the specializing on flower beds, and beautiful back yards, the movement converges on the one objective—a brighter community. It is well enough to hunt vigorously for the almighty dollar, in the hope that some day artistic things around a home can be bought. But, as older people usually find out, more happiness can be obtained by trying to enjoy pretty surroundings day by day than by grimly staking all on a grand stroke—that, more often than not is not delivered. When packets of flower seeds, of useful perennial varieties can be bought so cheaply, not to have a home of floral charm is a reflection on the family's taste. What is more simple, for instance, than a bed bordered by dwarf alyssum and lobelia, with a centre of geraniums, or other standard plant? What a beautiful all-season hedge can be made of dahlias, what an array of bloom of gladioli. What is needed is education of the people in the striking effects obtained with cheap plants, or the use of bulbs year after year—giving flowers that come without special attention beyond occasional watering.

Every neighborhood should have some phase of the "beautify" campaign in operation. There are delights in it, for the average person, as much as can be provided by purse-exhausting and energy-wasting pleasures. When the high cost of living and economic pinch compel so many families to stay at home in the warm season why should they not make the best of it by having some beauty at their doors?

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it cannot thrive. To keep the children well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are absolutely safe and never fail to relieve constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. Jules Fauquereau, Nominique, Que., writes:—"My baby was terribly constipated and suffered day and night, I was advised to give him Baby's Own Tablets and from the first they helped him and now at the age of thirteen months he is a big healthy, happy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

STENOGRAPHER HAS BEST CHANGE TO EARN BIG RESPONSIBILITIES

Was the title of an article in a recent issue of The Toronto Sunday World, the result of an interview with Miss M. McMahon, President of the Canadian Business Woman's largest Employment Bureau.

There is unlimited opportunity for advancement and success ahead of the conscientious well trained stenographer.

Business firms are always on the lookout for young men and women who understand business transactions and how results are arrived at from their proper record in a set of books; those who can write and read shorthand fluently and transcribe it in good English accurately and rapidly on the typewriter. The capable and wide awake young person who is willing to learn can soon make themselves indispensable to the firm with which they are connected.

The regular stenography course as given in the Sarnia Business College gives the requirements of education for a successful business career. You may commence this course on March 29, the first Tuesday after Easter, the beginning of the Spring Term, which continues throughout the summer months. Those interested should write for information.

to guard against skin injuries, is germs infection. This is what causes the throbbing, shooting pain in your cuts, scratches and burns—it's the real source of blood-poison and inflammation. One touch of Zam-Buk will save you this peril.

Zam-Buk's powerful antiseptic properties make it the safe and ideal first-aid. At the same time as it allays the pain and irritation of a burn or a scald, Zam-Buk also drives out any poison or germ disease that may be in the broken tissues. It sends all danger of your wound or sore going "the wrong way."

In Zam-Buk there's no trace of animal fat or mineral impurity such as you get in ordinary ointments and salves. It's just the purest, safest and most concentrated healing substance ever discovered.

Mrs. S. Cliff, of Melrose, S. D., says: "I gashed my fingers severely with a piece of tin. The wound became infected and swelling and throbbing spread right up into my shoulder. So long as I live I shall remember the wonderful relief experienced the first time I used Zam-Buk. Every bit of inflammation and poisonous matter was drawn out of the wound by Zam-Buk, and perfect healing resulted."

If you have not already tried this famous healing balm, it is time to try Zam-Buk. Buy a box, Toronto, will bring you a free trial box.

THE CHIC FRENCH CHAPEAU

This is one French fashion that has been successfully landed "over here." It is the small hat veiled with soft becoming lace, constructed from silver cloth and black tulle.

MAY MAKE LINGERIE AT HOME

Printed Articles of Underwear Can Be Made at Saving and as Attractive as Store Goods.

Making lingerie is attractive work for most women, and by so doing it should be possible to buy fine materials and trimmings. The lingerie shown in the shops is certainly attractive, and makes one want to buy generously, but many cannot afford the prices asked, and so the woman of fastidious taste who hasn't a long purse will make the dainty garments herself.

It is a good idea to be familiar with the different lengths required for the different undergarments, for there are always remnants of white goods, some of them beautiful fine batistes and lincens, as well as fine cambrics. A distinct saving can often be made by buying these remnants if one is familiar with the lengths required, so there will be no waste in cutting.

The long seams of garments may be stitched on the machine, but the finishing down of these seams should be done by hand. Hems look best when done by hand, and, of course, all lace is set in the same way. Lace edgings should not be pulled on, but held easily in the hand and overhanded on, always holding the edge next to you. This eases it sufficiently.

Nearly all insertion used in lingerie comes with a thread in each edge that can be pulled up. In this way the lace can be made to take any desired line. In basting the insertion on curved lines, always baste first on the outer edge of the curve; then the opposite edge of the lace can be pulled up to fit.

The lace should be basted down on both edges, then hemmed to the material. After this the material is cut away on the wrong side, leaving a one-half inch margin. These edges can be finished in rolled hems, or the edge turned sharply back and a fine overhanding stitch used through both the folded edge of the cloth and the edge of the insertion. The stitches must not be drawn too tight, but must be small and taken close together, and when the work is smoothed out it is almost impossible to see how it was set in.

A Glorious opportunity. Aunt Eleanor was very strict—too strict for Eric and his little sister, who were tired of staying with her. She certainly tried her best to amuse them, and one morning took them to the Zoo. But it was a failure. "Eric, keep away from that cage! Molly, your hat's crooked! Those seats are dirty, Eric—keep off them. If you bite the finger of your gloves again, Molly, I shall take you straight home!" It was like a never-ending sort of gramophone record on good behaviour, and aunt Eleanor never seemed to tire. At last the little party paused before a cage, and aunt Eleanor consulted her catalogue. "This, children," she announced, "is an ant-eater." Eric looked cautiously round as he whispered to Molly, "Can't we push her in?"

Found Bones of Cortez. After almost 100 years of search, the bones of Cortez, the Spanish conqueror of Mexico, have been found in the Temple of Jesus, one of the many Roman Catholic churches in the City of Mexico.

Internally and Externally it is good.—The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has curative qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs so little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

Internal parasites in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels of children sap their vitality and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest and, if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

WHAT HYDRO HAS DONE.

Ontario Will Soon Own World's Biggest Power House.

Ontario will be able to boast next summer of possessing the biggest power house in the world. It is now in course of construction and when it is completed it will be the last word in electrical and hydraulic equipment.

Here's the most vivid way of illustrating its size: If it were possible to place that power house immediately in front of the American or Horseshoe Falls that great sheet of falling water would be entirely hidden by the big structure. It is high enough to extend from the lower waters to the crest of the fall, and when complete it will be quite as wide as the American Falls.

The dimensions of the building will be approximately as follows: height, 160 feet; length 600 feet; depth 160 feet. To descend from the top of the cliff in front of which the power house will stand, down to the water level, would be like stepping off the top of the Toronto City Hall tower into Queen street.

The building will be of structural steel and concrete, and the floor is 60 feet above water level. The engineers expect to have some of the roof trusses ready in January. Whether the face of the cliff will be used as a natural roof is a point yet unsettled. The cliff runs up at an acute angle back of the front part of the building where the generators are constructed.

The power is generated at 12,000 volts and is stepped up by transformers to 110,000 volts and goes out for distribution from a variety of lines on the top of the bank. One of these generators—and there are five—will produce 55,000 horse power.

The rear part of the building will be used for storage purposes, equipment, offices, and a supply of spare parts for the electrical apparatus, for the Hydro Commission believes in leaving nothing to chance.

The work on the power house, which by the way, is at the end of the Chippawa canal, near Queenston, is provided for at the top of the cliff. There is an elevator down to the half-way level and a tunnel leads to the generator room. The main generator room will be 60 feet high by 50 feet wide. The thrust bearings in these generators are designed to carry a load of 1,000,000 pounds. About 100,000 cubic feet of air per minute will be required to cool the generators at full load. The weight of air passing through the generator every three hours equals the weight of the generator itself.

The Hydro is strong on organization. The work of each branch is well defined. Chief Engineer F. A. Gaby supervises the whole work. The hydraulic end of the work is looked after by Harry G. Acres, hydraulic engineer, whose duty it is to take the water out of the river, convert it from hydraulic energy into electrical energy, and then comes in the electrical end.

The work of each branch is well defined. Chief Engineer F. A. Gaby supervises the whole work. The hydraulic end of the work is looked after by Harry G. Acres, hydraulic engineer, whose duty it is to take the water out of the river, convert it from hydraulic energy into electrical energy, and then comes in the electrical end.

An interesting point is that nearly all the equipment for the electrical work is Canadian-made, the cost reaching close to $4,000,000.

It Is Not American. In one of Stephen Leacock's latest Novels he represents a New York editor as seizing a telephone and saying: "Hello, Operator! Put me through to two, two, two, two, two."

In New York Life "B.M." protests that no New York editor would ever ask to be "put through," although a British editor would. The New York editor would say "Give me" the number he wanted. In Canada we use the same telephone talk as they do across the border. In England they ask for "trunk lines" where we call for "long distance." But the writer in Life goes on to say: "After all, the telephone is an American invention, lock, stock and barrel; its vocabulary is of our devising; and we cannot but feel fraternal grief when a Canadian trips over one of its technicalities."

This is too much. The telephone is a boon which Canada conferred on the world. Alexander Graham Bell is a Canadian, he invented the telephone at Brantford, Ont., and there it is put in successful operation, because of which fact Brantford is known as the "Telephone City." When the Americans lay claim to the telephone they must do it on about the same grounds as that on which the Germans lay claim to the telephone—the ground that they profess to appreciate him better than anybody else does.—Toronto Star.

TWO OLD PAPERS.

Pictou Gazette and Brockville Recorder Reach Ripe Old Age.

To the Pictou Gazette at 90 are to be extended the congratulations due, not to a hoary patriarch, but to a senior of the press whom time has touched but to improve. The years of a man can seldom exceed three score and ten, but who can say what shall be the span of life for a newspaper that never falls into bad hands? Editors may come and editors may go, but the newspaper that is well edited and well managed goes on forever. For it, length of days is an asset. All other conditions being the same a newspaper at 90 has a stronger hold on life than the same newspaper had at 60. Most papers in this country have been subjected to severe tests in the last few years. The newspaper casualties of that period were numerous, and the papers that lost their identity through absorption by rivals were also considerable in number. The press has by no means come to smooth sailing yet, for the price of newsprint is higher than ever, and scarcely anything entering into the production of a newspaper costs less to-day than it did in the crisis of the war.

Started as the Hallowell Free Press on December 26, 1830, the Pictou paper afterwards, the Gazette six years afterwards, the Recorder six years afterwards, was a favorite name for early Canadian newspapers. In a letter to the editor of the paper Mr. Wellington Boulter, for many years one of the prominent business men of Prince Edward County, has this to say: "The Gazette has steadily been the organ of the grand old Liberal-Conservative Party, established by Canada's greatest statesman, the late Right Honorable Sir John A. Macdonald, who came to Prince Edward from Scotland." In its anniversary issue the Gazette has a poem in which the paper itself is represented as soliloquising. One stanza is as follows:

"By the flickering candle-light
 I was read by dame and squire,
 Or, when pine knots, blazing bright,
 Served alike for light and fire."

On January 16 the Brockville Recorder rounded out a full century. A hundred years is a long time in the history of this province, and a little short of the whole stretch covered by the history of Ontario journalism. The Recorder's files reflect the joys and sorrows of pioneer life in a section of Ontario that from the first has taken an important part in the affairs of Ontario. The Brockville Recorder and Times is an enterprising and influential paper that is published every day. It has been owned and edited by men who have taken a prominent part in the work of promoting the interests of the newspaper business in the province. In 1863 Col. Wylie, who was the founder of the paper, was president of the Press Association of Ontario. He delivered his presidential address in verse. Hon. George P. Graham, who has conducted the paper since early in the nineties, is the president of the company by which it is owned. Throughout the hundred years of the Recorder's existence politics was a matter of potency, in which that newspaper bore its due part on the liberal side. Few Ontario Liberal papers published outside the principal cities were more widely quoted in political discussions than the Recorder.

More Trees in Quebec.

There are people who have never been east of Ottawa, who nevertheless speak wistfully of the Quebec Woods. They have been expecting to visit that inspiring wilderness for years, and will plan for it for years to come, whether they ever go or not. If they knew how dangerously those reaches of forest, though they seem almost endless, have been threatened by fire and the pulp mill's maw they would rejoice to hear that Quebec now is planting two pine or spruce trees for every one that is destroyed. So the north woods will still be there when at last your hunting trip is made. Three million pines and spruces have been planted this year.

Improving the Watch.

A serious obstacle hitherto in the attainment of perfection and precision in the watchmaking industry has been what is called the "secondary error"—i.e., variations in time caused by changes in temperature which expand and contract the parts of the watch.

This trouble has been removed by the invention of a Swiss expert, C. E. Guillaume, who has found that by nickel-steel-chrome alloy the problem of compensation is solved.

Our Export Problems

IN two years since the signing of the armistice there has been more money spent by Canadian manufacturers in endeavoring to develop export trade than in any ten years previous to the war.

There have been many export organizations formed to facilitate trade between Canada and various other countries. Many branches of Canadian banks have also been established in foreign countries to assist in developing trade.

The basis for all good export trade is the ability of the customer to pay. In large areas throughout the world to-day many business firms have neither the cash to finance transactions nor the requisite credit to enable the seller to assist in financing.

A Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available.

There were great essential requirements that had to be fulfilled almost regardless of price. Many of these transactions were conducted during the period when exchange was pegged, and were, therefore, on a purely fictitious level exchange basis.

A comparison of the export records of the six months ending September 30, 1919, and the same period in 1920 shows that if the natural diminution of export to Great Britain is omitted, Canada's export trade to other parts of the British Empire has increased in the 1920 six months' period by $23,000,000.

In trade with foreign countries, France omitted, an increase of exports amounting to $17,000,000 for the six months ending September, 1920, over the same period in 1919 is shown. The principal increases occurred in trade with Argentina, Belgium, China, Cuba, what was formerly German Africa, United States, Greece, Italy, Norway, Spain and Sweden.

The proportions of manufactured goods forming the exportations of Canada has steadily risen. In 1880 the proportion was only 5 per cent. of manufactured goods to the total volume of exports. In 1890 the proportion of manufactured goods was 7 per cent. In 1910 it had increased to 13 per cent., in 1916 to 32 per cent. and in 1919 to 43 per cent.

One source, and possibly the only source, for better conditions and better economic relationship is the setting up of some administrative organization which can superintend credit operations based on bonds issued by individual countries now in financial straits covering the national assets which undoubtedly exist in each.

It seems more or less incongruous that manufacturers should be blamed for not selling goods to Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, the Serb-Croat-Sloven States and some other countries when in those very places millions of people are starving and the Canadian and American agricultural interests are having difficulty in finding a market for their wheat and other foodstuffs.

Coincidence's Curious Chain. At Ramsgate, N.B., the two daughters of J. E. Smith died on the same day. They were twins and were brides at a double wedding twelve years ago.

Sheep. Canada has 3,500,000 sheep; Australia, 80,000,000; United States, 40,000,000; Britain, 27,000,000.

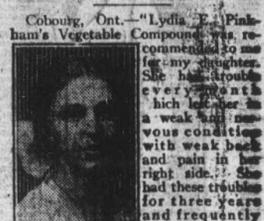

Time to Move. Uncle, to niece—"Dolly, I'll give you a sum. Supposing your father owed to the butcher fifteen pounds eleven shillings and twopenny halfpenny, seven pounds three shillings to the bootmaker, fourteen pounds and ninepence to the milkman, and thirty-one pounds nineteen shillings and threepence three-farthings to the coal merchant."

Deer Horns as Medicine. So extensively does powdered animal horn enter into native remedies in China that some of the larger medicine factories maintain herds of deer for their horns.

This has arrived and when erected we will move in what machinery we require, then watch our smoke—We mean dust—no smoking allowed.

NO GAINS WITHOUT PAINS

Industry need not wish but he that lives upon hopes will do fasting. There are no gains without pains. He that hath a trade hath an estate and he that hath a calling hath an office of profit and honor but then the trade must be worked at and the calling followed on neither the estate or the office will enable us to pay taxes. If we rise industrious we will never starve for at the workingman's house hunger looks but does not enter. Nor will the bailiff or the constable enter, for industry pays debts while idleness and neglect incur penalties.

Dr. C. M. Hincks, of Toronto, addressing the Canadian Club at Montreal, stated that the cost to the Dominion of mental abnormality through the avenues of crime, diseases and pauperism amounted to $13,000,000 a year, and he claimed that there are 160,000 mental defectives who contribute to crime, prostitution and disease. Dr. Hincks is Secretary of the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

With a good heavy rain, followed by a few days of fine weather, farmers in Lambton would be able to get started at their plowing considerably earlier than usual. It is said that in some parts of Ontario a few farmers are already working on the land and find it is in pretty fair condition. If present weather conditions continue it appears likely now that it will be possible to get ahead with the spring seeding considerably earlier than usual.

On the basis of the $1,620,000 set aside in the estimates to pay the expenses of the decennial census beginning on June 1 next, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics evidently expects the total cost to be about 18 cents for every man, woman and child in the Dominion, if the population proves to be the nine millions confidently predicted by many Government officials. The pay for the enumerators is so much for every name about which information is obtained, with an allowance per hundred names, differing with the various Provinces, for the expenses of driving.

WHY ESKIMOS MATURE EARLY.

Heat of Igloos Responsible, Says Explorer Stefansson.

It has generally been supposed that among the peoples of the earth the age of maturity comes earliest in the tropics, and increases gradually as one goes northward through the temperate and eventually into the Polar zone. It has been presumed that a similar condition would be found in going south from the Equator toward the Southern Pole.

If the age of maturity increases with fair regularity as one goes north through Europe from Sicily to Lapland, it would seem reasonable that this direct connection with the decrease in temperature, and the assumption has accordingly been generally made. But in North America a striking exception, writes Vilhjalmur Stefansson in the Journal of the American Medical Association. It is not rare among Eskimo women that they have their first child at the age of twelve; and children born before the mothers were eleven have been recorded in places where the age of the mother can be in no doubt, because of the fact that her birth had been recorded by a resident missionary.

It is a curious thing that during twelve years of association with the Eskimos, during which time I have spoken and written a great deal about their manner of life, it never occurred to me until some two or three months ago that their early maturity is strictly in accord with the supposition that the hotter the environment the earlier the maturity.

For to all intents and purposes the typical Eskimo in the country known to me lives under tropical or sub-tropical conditions. During the winter of 1906-1907 I recorded the estimate that the average temperature within doors of the Eskimo house in which I lived at the mouth of the Mackenzie river was a good deal above 80 F., and frequently rose to 90 F. From the point of view of those who spent most of the winter indoors in that house, it was a matter of no consequence that the temperature was perhaps 40 or 50 degrees below zero outdoors, when the outdoor air seldom came in contact with their bodies. Even when they go out, this cold air does not have a chance to come in contact with the body, except for the limited area of the face.

When an Eskimo is well dressed his two layers of fur clothing imprison the body heat so effectively that the air in actual contact with his skin is always at the temperature of a tropical summer. It is true, therefore, that while an Eskimo is indoors his entire body is exposed to a local climate as warm as that of Sicily, and when he is outdoors he carries that climate about with him inside his clothes and applicable to 90 or 95 per cent. of his body area.

Mr. Stefansson says that the Indians have no such means of protection from the cold, and that therefore the more northerly of these mature late.

The Wabash Railway proposes to reduce the wages of its 3500 unskilled laborers. The Northern Pacific and Great Northern contemplate a reduction from 48 to 25c an hour and the Maine Central management says that a reduction of wages would be proposed soon to 4,300 employees, including clerks, mechanics, machinists, maintenance of way men, station men and heads of departments.

Farmyard Superstitions.

Farmers who get a crowing hen among the brood in the yard often look upon it as an evil omen.

A superstitious farmer considers his poultry as prophets; thus, if his own death is near, he will tell you that they will go to bed at noon instead of at their usual roosting time.

Numerous birds are mixed up with signs of death. Let a pigeon enter a house, or a robin come through the door, and some people expect calamity. Owls, again, are ominous birds to the superstitious, especially if they hoot from the housetop.

For a single magpie to cross the path of the superstitious is enough to send them into a cold perspiration, and they hasten to lay two straws across each other to avert the evil influence.

When swallows and martins build about a farmyard the superstitious farmer is troubled if they do not appear regularly year by year, for should the desert their old nests he expects misfortune.

The call of the cuckoo has always been mixed up with good and bad luck. Hear it while walking, and provided it is the first time you have heard it that year, it is said to indicate a happy new year for you.

When the farmer's wife sets eggs she will sometimes place an odd number in the nest if she wants her chicks to prosper. The superstitious farmwife will not bring eggs into the house after sunset.

Feasocks' feathers in a house are said to mean misfortune, but for an eagle to hover over a person or house is thought to indicate an approaching success.

He Got a Meal.

A city man tells of an incident at a railway junction in the back country. He was hungry and it was only two minutes before the departure of his train. He rushed up to the counter and exclaimed: "Give me a sandwich and a cup of coffee, quick! I haven't time for anything else." "My friend," said the man behind the counter, "take all the time you want. Just cast your eye over this menu and I'll phone the superintendent to hold the train a while." "Do you mean to say that he will actually hold the train while I eat?" "Sure. This is a branch road, and there's no other train coming or going over it this morning. The superintendent will want you to have a good meal—he owns this luncheonroom."

Eskimo Jazz.

A sergeant of the Canadian Mounted Police, who recently returned to Ottawa from Tree river, asserts that the jazz fever has seized the Eskimo population of the villages in the north of the patrol. At the most recently opened police post on the shore of Coronation gulf, the Eskimos are busy sealing, but manage to get sufficient leisure to indulge in the tergalchorean art, which is immensely popular and for which they have erected a special igloo of commodious proportions.

RHEUMATIC PAINS

HAVE DISAPPEARED

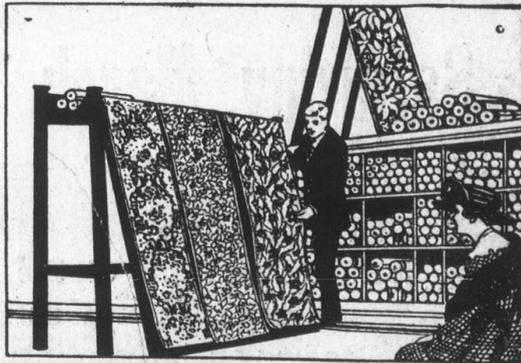

As a Result of Treating the Trouble Through the Blood.

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. The most successful treatment is the one that most quickly relieves and banishes the pain. Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood; when rheumatism is associated with thin blood it cannot be corrected until the blood is built up.

Mr. Ed. Hall, Main-a-Dieu, N. S., suffered from rheumatism for years, but was more fortunate than many victims of the disease for he found a remedy that he is now free from rheumatism. Mr. Hall says: "I was taken down with rheumatism and at times was under the treatment of several of the best doctors in Cape Breton, but they held out no hope for my recovery from the trouble. I was confined to bed for three years and a helpless cripple from the trouble. I could not move, and had to be turned in sheets. My legs and fingers were drawn out of shape, and sores developed on my body as a result of my long confinement to bed. I was in this serious condition when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking them. The first benefit I felt from the pills was an improved appetite, and then I began to feel stronger, and was finally able to get out of bed and go about on crutches. I continued taking the pills for months, slowly but surely getting new strength, and finally I was able to lay the crutches aside. I will always be lame, as the result of my long stay in bed my left leg has shortened somewhat, but otherwise I am feeling fine and able to do my work as Fishery Overseer. I may add that when the rheumatism came on I weighed 140 pounds, and when I began going about on crutches I only weighed 67 pounds, and now I am at normal weight. There are many here who know and can vouch for the truth of these statements."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Many horses in different parts of North Dorchester township have been stricken with influenza of a very serious type.
