The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

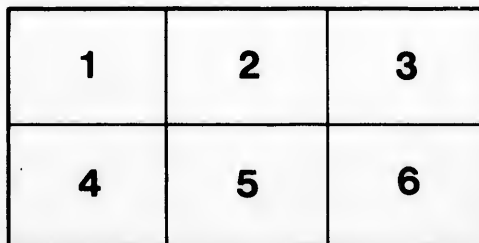

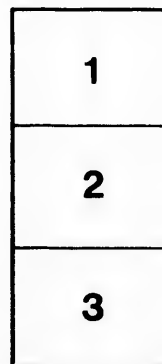

Hamilton Public Library

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▼ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Hamilton Public Library

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▼ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

PROLOGUE.

Go little Book, thyself present,
As child whose parent is unkent ;
Come tell me, what was said of me,
And I will send more after thee !

In ye yeare of grace nynety-three
Sanct George was bent on charytie ;
" I must fyll uppe my purse," quoth he.
In wynters colde he tyned his gold
To feed and clothe the younge and old.
Though wyntry day has sped away,
And sprynge ys here wyth hopefulle cheere,
Ye wyntere cometh back agayne,
With pangs of hunger, cold and payne ;
And so the saynte doth make complaynte.
" To you, my purse, and to none other wight.
" Complain I, for ye be my lady dear !
" I am sorry now that ye be so light,
" For certes ye now make me heavy cheere :
" Me were as lief be laid upon my bier.
" For which unto your mercy thus I cry,
" Be heavy again, or elles must I die !

" Now vouchesafe this day, ere it be night,
" That I of you the blissful sound may hear,
" That of yellowness hadde never peer ;
" Ye be my life ! Ye be my hearte's steer !
" Queen of comfort and of good companie,
" Be heavy again, or elles must I die !

" Now purse, that art to me my life's light
" And savour, as doune in this worlde here,
" Out of this Towne help me through your might
" Since that you will not be my treasurere,
" For I am shave as nigh as any frere ;
" But now I pray unto your courtesie,
" Be heavy again, or elles must I die !"

EPILOGUE.

O, open-fisted Hamilton !
Ye wolde not say me naye ;
My empty wallet fille ye uppe
Agaynst ye rayny daye.
Ambytyous Cytee !
To you this song I send—
To you who may my harm amende ;
Ye wolde not shame
Your Mountayne greene,
Your Paxfulle bay—
The loveliest scene—
To saye me naye and turn away

Walker's Exhibition

I do declare of all the sights
That I have seen,
WALKER'S EXHIBITION
Is by far the best, I ween.

I went up to Hamilton,
On a visit to my son,
And I saw the Exhibition,
As he said, "to see the fun."

"Well," says he to me one evening,
Dearest mother, let us go
To see the Exhibition,
To see WALKER'S Show."

Such Furniture and Carpets,
Such Curtains, Stoves and Beds,
Such Clothing and such Jewellery,
I was enough to turn my head.

St. George and Ye Dragon.

Why doe you boast of Arthur and his knightes,
Knowing well how many men have endured fightes?
For besides King Arthur and Lancelot du Lake,
Or Sir Tristram de Lionel that fought for ladies' sake,
Read in old histories, and there you shall see
How St. George, St. George the dragon made to flee.
St. George he was for England, St. Dennis was for
Fraunce;

Sing "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

Henry the Fifth, he conquered all France,
And quartered their arms, his honour to advance;
He their cities razed and threw their castles downe,
And his head he honoured with a double crowne;
He thumped the Frenchmen, and after home he came,
But St. George, St. George he did the dragon tame.
St. George he was for England, St. Dennis was for
Fraunce,

Sing "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

St. David of Wales, the Welshmen much advance,
St. Andrew of Scotland, that never yet broke lance,
St. Patricke of Ireland, which was St. George's boy,
Seven years he kept his horse, and then stole him away,
For which knavish act, as slaves they doe remain,
But St. George, St. George the dragon he hath slain.
St. George he was for England, St. Dennis was for Fraunce;

Sing "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

Richard Cocur de lion, erst King of this londe,
He the lion gored with his naked hand;
The false Duke of Austria, nothing did he feare,
But his son he killed with a box on the care;
Besides his famous acts done in the Holy Londe,
But St. George, St. George the dragon did withstande.
St. George he was for England, St. Dennis was for
Fraunce,

Sing "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

Noble Earl of Warwick that was call'd Sir Guy,
The infidels and pagans stoutlie did defie;
He slew the giant Brandimore, and after was the death
Of that most ghastly dun Cowe, the de'il of Dunsmore
heath,

Besides his noble deeds all done beyond the seas.
But St. George, St. George the dragon did appease.
St. George he was for England, St. Dennis was for
Fraunce,

Sing "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

BE UP TO DATE.

In merrie England's olden days
Our forbears, when a light they needed,
Following in their forefather's ways,
With flint and steel to strike proceeded.

So with their pails and tubs and such,
Convenience was not greatly sought for,
If ware was strong, they cared not much
How long 'twould last or what twas bought for.

True, pretty Dorothy might find
The heavy bucket tire her slightly.
And if it did smell sour, who'd mind?
Such trifles troubled them but lightly.

But here in Canada's fair land,
The flint and steel, those tools unready
Have given place to matches, and
These matches are all made by EDDY.

So with the pails and tubs; who'd think
Of using the old wooden bucket,
Which used to water soak and shrink
And fall to pieces if you struck it?

Here, EDDY helps us out again.
His Indurated Ware's the neatest
Ware made in Britain's wide domain,
The strongest, lightest, cheapest, sweetest.

Semi-Centennial or Jubilee Report

OF ST. GEORGE'S BENEVOLENT SOCIETY, HAMILTON, 1893.

The Jubilee Report of St. George's Benevolent Society forms a pivotal epoch in the historical records of the Society, and calls for brief Retrospect.

On the 18th April, 1843, the St. George's Benevolent Society of the Town of Hamilton was organized, and embodies in Constitution and By-laws two of the noblest and highest sentiments of the human mind—Loyalty to Queen and Country and Love and Charity to the Brotherhood of Suffering Humanity. The Society has passed through seasons of cloud and depression, as well as times of sunshine and success, but on the whole, recorded minutes tell of a long career of prosperity.

The Roll of Past Presidents, Office Bearers and Members, so many of whom have passed on to the silent land, bears names which are interwoven in the professional, mercantile, commercial, educational and philanthropic rise and growth of the City of Hamilton. Settled by U. E. Loyalists and British Colonists, Hamilton soon, under the pluck, energy and determination of her sterling founders, became distinguished as the Gore District. The feeble hamlet spread soon into a village, the village into a thriving town, and now in this year of Grace, 1893, ranks as a Royal Princess City in the great Dominion of Canada.

On the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Society, honourable remembrance is due to the memory of one of its most venerated members, the late Captain Zealand, who served under the immortal Nelson at the taking of Copenhagen, and on duty under Sir John Moore at Corunna. In 1812 he again upheld the honor of the flag he loved so well in repelling the attacks of the invaders of Canada at Oswego, Sackett's Harbor and Ogdensburg. Again in 1837, when rebellion stalked through the land, he was one of those who sent to swift destruction the piratical steamer Caroline over the Falls of Niagara. Again in 1866, when in his 74th year, we find him standing watch and guard in this city against Fenian incursion.

From its inception, St. George's Society "rejoiced" as well as "wept," with the sister societies of St. Patrick and St. Andrew, and enjoyed fraternal celebrations at different periods with the Sons of St. George of Philadelphia, Petersburg, Virginia, United States, Toronto, Guelph, Barrie, Kingston, St. Catharines, London and Brantford. The same spirit of unity and brotherly love towards suffering humanity identifies the St. George's Benevolent Society of to-day with the associated charities of our city, though as far back as 1848 recorded minutes register of a "desire on the part of the Council to relieve distress in Ireland and the Highlands of Scotland, and also the propriety of contributing to the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the town." The Guerdon of the benediction of the stranger within our gates, the sick, the poor, the widow and the orphan has been gained during the past fifty years by the Society, which has thus crystallized into living action the type set forth in the legend of the Patron Saint of England and her sons, wherever they may be found, as slaying the great Dragon of Evil, with its pestiferous influences of sin, sorrow, sickness, poverty, hunger and distress, through the might and power of Christian Armour of Light Truth and Love.

What nation has so well embodied into daily life, individually and nationally, the virtues and examples of her patron saints as the great empire of Britain? England shines on the page of history as the righter of grievous wrongs, emancipator of shackled slavery and the peace-maker of an angry world.

Wherever floats the Union Jack, emblem of the trinity of her three patron saints, George, Andrew and Patrick, floats the signal of Greatness, Virtue, Prowess and Power. Under such inspiration the true sons of England, Scotland and Ireland still slay the dragons of slavery, injustice and wrongs. "Know and do; victory or death," the battle cries. Action swift on the heels of words. Where such patron Saints? Where such mistress and followers?

"By this sign I conquer," saith the saint, and still by virtue of the Christain cross, the dragons of cold, disease vice, and intemperance, wherever met, are not only slain, but Christian burial given the victims. Yet not without cost is all this done.

It is for the sake of "sweete charitie" that the St. George's Benevolent Society of this city, in the first bi-centennial year of its existence, asks for generous assistance and support. For alas! "How scanty the healing leaves!"

Saint George and the Dragon.

A BALLADE.

I.

Pestilent Dragon, maiden forlorne ;
To the rescue, Saint George ; breast-plate and greaves,
Lance-thrust and sword-stroke, wounded and worn ;
But, ah ! how scanty the healing leaves !
The pause from the combat only reprieves ;
No conquest final, we cannot know why ;
There no garlands the victor receives ;
Naked we came, and naked we die !

II.

Dreams ever flit through the " Gates of horn ;"
Judge not a brother, for what he conceives
May be truth, and thy error his scorn ;
But, ah ! how scanty the healing leaves !
Dreamer of dreams, the foul dragon heaves
His poisonous bulk ! Shout the battle cry—
God and Saint George ! who shirks disbelieves !
Naked we came, and naked we die !

III.

Glory of evening, freshness of morn,
Shuttle of seasons, that ceaselessly weaves
Airs that are ripening the golden corn ;
But, ah ! how scanty the healing leaves !
Turn the kaleidoscope, cold earth grieves
An empty bin and a cruse run dry ;
And grim death garners the surplus sheaves—
Naked we came, and naked we die !

ENVOY.

Knights, gentle ladies—lowly and high—
Naked we came, and naked we die !
Work while 'tis day, and garner the sheaves,
How scanty soever the healing leaves !
