THE CROWN WANTED INFORMATION.

The Crown prosecutor had a few questions to ask Mr. Oler. He asked for a photograph of Pare, asking, "Who is that?" "That is Roach, a full face and a side part," said Mr. Oler.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Lawyers Have at Last Got Through With Pare.

The court opened with Pare again in the witness box. He was again led in. It is a Civic Holiday and, instead of going out of town every person has come to court. Prisoners Mackie, Ponton and Holden were neat bouquets in their button holes.

The Tree Getting Rotten.

"Why do you expect to get any benefit from the story you have told?" "The last month or so before I was arrested I saw that the tree was getting rotten, and I decided to take no more in my own hands and get the benefit from it."

A Little Discrepancy.

"The discrepancy in the witness' evidence regarding Port Colborne caused the witness to say: 'I don't remember being in Port Colborne, Ont.'"

The Division of the Money.

Asked to figure out what money he got, the witness said when he got to Montreal he had $5100, of which $3000 belonged to John Roach.

Richardson Took a Prominent Part.

Richardson seems to have played a prominent part in the career of Pare. Richardson was in the penitentiary with Pare when the latter put up a game on Detective Cullen. It was Richardson who went into the Montreal Bank and taking the manager while Pare examined the vault.

both about women. I had nothing to do with women while the bank robbery was on. I bet you," said the witness decidedly, while the auditors smiled audibly.

Questioned by Mr. Preston.

D. H. Preston, Q.C., counsel for Holden, asked the witness a few questions. "Was your share put up in a separate parcel?" "Yes, but the gold had to be divided between Holden and me."

An Important Admission.

Perhaps the most important admission yet made by Pare came out this afternoon. In answer to a series of questions from Mr. Porter, the witness said: "The same story I told you about Mr. Ponton's name for me to tell the story. If I told the story with Mr. Balnes' name it would have changed a few details. It was not absolutely necessary to use Ponton's name in this matter. An innocent man would have answered the purpose as well as a guilty one."

An Indian Witness.

Joseph Hill was called for the next witness. He testified that he saw the boat on the night of the robbery.

Working a Combination.

Mr. Oler made a thorough examination along the lines of working a combination, eliciting much interesting information from the expert crack-smasher, Pare.

Rested on Sundays.

In the hope of clearing up a few discrepancies, the witness was asked, "What did you do with your Sundays while around Napanee?" "I never took a day into account in my story in the stand. I told my story just as well as I could remember. I kept no dates."

ed he said: "The first time I had a drink in Napanee was in Wheeler's Hotel. Holden and I went in alone. There was no one else in the room. I was drinking and we had no discussion with any one. I was never there before, but Holden told me he was with either Mackie or Roach."

Lawyer Herrington explained the witness' position over the prisoners, he recognized Holden, who was holding a newspaper in his hands. He said he recognized Mackie also. "I saw Mackie and Holden at our place a year ago last February, one Sunday morning between 6 and 7. They stopped at our place to warm themselves. My father let them in. They said their horses ran away on this side of Deseronto."

House for Paris. Arrived there, she had Marat had demanded that she should be guillotined. The Corday bought a large knife, and wrote a letter to seeking an interview. She got no answer. The next day she wrote him a letter, intimating that she was in an important secret vital to the cause, and at 1 o'clock she went and hid in his house.

She opened the door, saw that there was danger in the woman's eye, and advised her to refuse an audience, but the butler's assistant for the blood of the girl and he demanded that she should be ushered into his room, and a copy of the precious gift of certain head of them shall fall, "croaked" at.

She was the signal for his own time has already come," shrieked she. Her knife flashed, and as it fell, his heart one feeble cry was all that she had slain her murderer's blood.

She had no attempt to fly. She tried to run, but she had slain one man to a hundred thousand; a wretch to innocent; a savage monster to her country.

She had slain the red murderer's robe, but she, serene, she met her fate on the guillotine.

NORTH-WESTERN REGATTA RACES

Several Contests Decided on Their First Day's Rowing—Argonaut Eight Again Victorious—Programme for Closing Day.

The first day of the Northwestern Regatta was one long to be remembered, as the weather was perfect, the course good and the races, except for one, all close ones. Besides the Northwestern Regatta, the Citizens' Committee had arranged an exhibition eight-oared race between the two crews that rowed the first one.

The course for the Northwestern was on the city side of the bay, and gave the public a chance to see the races, the finish and start being at the foot of York-street; the distance, 1 1/2 miles, with a turn. The entries were all good, and the start was a very close one, the race in commencing, but once under way the events were run off so promptly that the time was almost made up. The third day of the regatta was, if possible, more successful than the previous days, and a larger number saw the races. The Argonaut Club was well crowded, as were the R.O.C.G. and the Toronto Canoe Club. Besides this, a number of smaller boats followed the races, carrying large parties on board.

At 8 o'clock the first race, namely, the first heat in the junior fours, took place, with four crews in it. The start was a good one. Brockville took the lead, and made the turn first, followed by the Argonauts and Detroit. The race was a very close one, the Argonauts being a few feet behind at the finish. The time was 12:05.

The second heat, again four crews faced the flag, the Leanders going to the front and maintaining the lead, coming back as winners. In this race the Dons stopped about half way to the turn on account of a broken oar, and the Leander crew were far behind that they dropped out. It was a hard race, the Leander crew being a quarter of a mile behind.

Junior Singles.

The junior singles, with three starters, was a pretty race, and went to Mason of the Argonauts. Wark got off best, and for a short way led the race, but Mason went to the front and made the turn first, Wark next and Wark last. The Hamilton crew died away in the race, and Mason finished in second place, the three finishing in order, Mason having a length the best of it.

The pair-oared race, with crews from the Toronto, Argonaut and Detroit clubs, was a very close one, the Argonauts being a few feet ahead at the finish, the Detroit crew being a few feet behind. The time was 12:15.

A four-oared race was the next, between two crews from the Detroit Club, one stroked by Warner, the other by Pier-son. The race was a very close one, the Detroit crew being a few feet ahead at the finish, the Warner crew being a few feet behind. The time was 12:20.

Eight-Oared Exhibition.

At this juncture the exhibition eight-oared race between the Vespers and the Argonauts was put on. It was a 1/2 mile race, the local men winning. The race was made at the Western pier, and the Vespers got the best of the start and led almost halfway, when the Argonauts broke away from the front, and won by a few feet, there being only a difference of three seconds in the time. This race was very exciting to the one on Civic Holiday, as it was a fast race from start to finish. After this race the crews were given by the two crews, and those on board the "Vespers" boat, the Argonauts, Mayor Shaw, heartily cheered the boys on.

The junior double was a finale. There were two crews in it, one from the Brockville and Forbes and George Carriers of the Toronto. The start was good, before the Toronto crew got a quarter of a mile they showed they could not row. At the turn they were almost a quarter of a mile behind, the Easterners being in a long distance on the way back before they got round. After Brockville had made the turn and were out of their boat, the Toronto finished, and claimed that Brockville had turned their boat overboard. The Toronto crew, however, displayed indignation. The protest was not allowed, unless it was made.

Final Junior Fours.

The day's program was brought to a close by the final of the junior fours. The race was again landing the plum in an easy way. They led to the turn, and all way back, with the Argonauts in the second. The other Argonaut crew stopped at the turn, and the Leander crew finished the race.

THE QUEBEC AGENTS

Visit the Home Office of the North American Life—An Interesting Event—Delightful with Toronto.

An interesting competition among the agents of the North American Life in the Province of Quebec, Canada, arranged by Dr. Ault and Mr. Thomas G. McConkey of Montreal, the managers of the North American's business in Quebec, resulted in an extremely pleasant outing for a number of these gentlemen. The competition was as to who of the company's agents could secure the largest policy for new business up to the middle of July. The fortunate ones left Montreal on Monday night, July 25, and arrived in Toronto the next morning. They were treated to a day of eight-sailing and to an inspection of the new Home Office of the North American Life. The admirable convenience situation of the building, its classic architecture and beautiful interior, with the many convenient and useful arrangements for the benefit of the North American's a model home office, won from the visitors the warmest commendation.

On Wednesday, accompanied by Mr. William McCabe, the managing director; Mr. L. Goldman, the secretary; and Dr. Thorburn, the Quebec agent, the party were taken across Lake Ontario by steamer, and the day spent in viewing the city and the scenery about that world's wonder. On turning in time for the night train to Montreal, they left for their home with the strong determination to do even better in the future for the North American Life. Before leaving-taking a special train to Montreal, they presented to Mr. McCabe an address as follows:

To William McCabe, Esq., L.L.B., F.I.C., F.S.S., managing director North American Life Assurance Company, Toronto.

Dear Sir: We, the representatives of the company of the Province of Quebec, on the occasion of a holiday trip to your city, take the opportunity of congratulating you upon the success which has attended the work of the chief executive officers in placing the North American Life in the front rank of Canadian institutions, and to assure you of our unwavering loyalty and devotion to its best interests.

It is a great satisfaction to us that your management of the company has attained such an excellent position, the knowledge of which encourages us in the prosecution of our work, and gives us the confidence that we represent a company second to none, and one that accords its policyholders the utmost security and honorable treatment.

As this is the first opportunity we have had of seeing the home in which the business of the company will in future be conducted, we desire to express our high appreciation of its imposing exterior, and to compliment you on the admirable taste and judgment with which it has been fitted up internally, making it one of the best equipped offices in the Dominion.

We desire also to record our thanks for your uniform kindness and aid at all times, and the promptness of your proposals, and to express the wish that you may be long spared to guide and control the destinies of the North American Life, and to wish that you may be long spared to guide and control the destinies of the North American Life, and to wish that you may be long spared to guide and control the destinies of the North American Life.

The bar-room and other privileges connected with an hotel of this kind are worth in the aggregate a large sum of money. Several Trust Companies of more or less importance have been formed in Canada during the past five years. It is felt, however, by those interested in the organization of the National Trust Company of Ontario, Limited, that there is ample room for a strong concern, launched under the most favorable auspices, and with a PAID-UP capital and a Reserve Fund sufficient to command the confidence of the general public in its strength and perpetuity.

Canada is gaining in wealth by many millions annually, and the field for operations of Trust Companies is consequently both wide and increasing.

The Company will act as Executor, Administrator, Receiver, Guardian, Transfer Agent, Counterparty of Securities, Agent for the investment of Funds, Trustee Under Mortgage for Railway and other Companies, etc., etc.

The businesses of Trust Companies in New York, Boston and other large cities of the United States, where organization has been such as to appeal to the public in a strong way, have reached enormous totals, with corresponding profits. The business which is already assured to this Company, together with that which will come to it naturally through vigorous and conservative management, foreshadows a large earning power, and it is believed that investments in its shares will yield very satisfactory returns.

Application will be made in due course to have the shares of the Company listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

There will be no commission payable in the flotation of the Company, the initial expenses consisting only of the cost of the charter and of this and a limited number of other advertisements. The management will be efficient but economical.

Subscribers preferring to hold securities free from all liability for calls may pay for their shares in full upon allotment.

Subscription Books will open at the offices of the undersigned on Thursday morning, the 18th day of August next, at 10 o'clock, the Directors reserving the right to allot only such subscriptions and for such amounts as they may approve, and to close the subscription books without notice.

The principle involved in the amended bill, as outlined by the Premier, is equally as vicious as that which made the first draft so objectionable to the public.

THE GREAT WAR EAGLE

Editorial in Rossland Miner. The fact that the War Eagle will, as soon as its new hoisting machinery is installed, begin the payment of dividends at the rate of thirty cents per share per month, will be hailed with delight by both the holders of the shares of that company, and those who are interested in the welfare of the camp.

The proposed new dividend will be at the rate of $90,000 per month, or $720,000 per year. Figuring it down to percentage, there are three dollars and twenty cents per share each month. This was $30,000 per month on the capitalization of $2,000,000. The proposed new dividend will be at the rate of $90,000 per month, or $720,000 per year.

It is admitted that even with the present fine development of the War Eagle mine there are available areas of unexplored ground, and the full possibilities of the property are not yet known or realized.

At $4 per share the total value of the War Eagle property would be $8,000,000, and this is not too high a valuation on a mine of this character. It is not outside the range of probabilities that a mine of the War Eagle's capacity may produce $10,000,000, or even $20,000,000, 000 before it is worked out.

It is certainly among the best, if not the best, mines in the camp, and its stockholders are in the position at which they hold their shares. The effect of this proposed increase in dividends is going to be of great help to the camp.

The Canada Mutual holds the Gladstone group, a silver-lead property on the head of O'Neill River, near Mission, Washington.

The Dundee. J. L. Parker reports that it is in excellent condition. Further in addition to this a 50-horse power hoist will be installed. The entire plant will cost over $20,000. When all this machinery is in place the work will be pushed with great energy, and it is anticipated by the management that inside of the next six or eight months the Dundee will be ready to ship, but that it will be a dividend payer. Mr. Parker visited the Kenneth, Wild Horse and Sarah Lee, but made nothing more than a superficial examination of them.

The Late Dr. Pattullo. Many friends will attend the funeral to-day of Dr. Alexander Pattullo, late of 282 College-street, who died after three months' illness of cancer of the stomach.

Three Months in the Central. Yesterday morning Judge Morgan sentenced James Langridge to three months in the Central Prison.

Forty-Fourth Annual Session Opened at Galt Yesterday.

Grand Master Young's Address an Elaborate Review of the Work of the Past Year - An Organ Wanted - Grand Secretary King's Report Shows the Order to Be Flourishing.

Galt, Aug. 10.—The forty-fourth annual session of the Grand Lodge of the I.O.O.F. of the Province of Ontario opened this morning in the Town Hall, Grand Master J. A. Young of Thamesford presiding. A large number of representatives were present and the following grand officers: J. B. Farwell, deputy grand master, Whitby; James McLary, grand warden, Woodstock; J. B. King, grand secretary, Toronto; W. J. McCormack, grand treasurer, Toronto; W. H. Hoyle, P.G.M., Grand Representative, Hamilton; George Giddes, grand marshal, Mississauga; R. H. Perry, grand conductor, Peterborough; J. W. Simpson, grand guide, Toronto; R. H. Howe, grand herald, Espanoke; Rev. A. L. Gee, grand chaplain, Hamilton; Henry White, jr., past grand master, Port Hope.

The Grand Master appointed Abner Fraser, P.G.P., of Hamilton, press reporter for the session, and Joseph Powery of Toronto Assistant Grand Secretary. The business transacted to-day was of a preliminary character, and consisted of receiving the credentials of the delegates and the voting of the Grand Lodge degree on the new representatives, of whom there were about 225. The Grand Lodge degree was exemplified by Grand Warden James McLary in a very efficient manner. The reports of the Grand Master, Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer were submitted in pamphlet form, and were very exhaustive.

Grand Master's Report. Mr. J. A. Young of Thamesford, the Grand Master, presented his annual report, which was a lengthy document, and conveyed much information. The report says: While the increase in members has not been as large as may have been desired, it is satisfactory to know that the new members introduced are of the best material. The Grand Master instances the large expenditure for relief during the past year, the sum expended in Ontario alone being $22,618; the increase in membership the past term has been nearly three times that of the previous year.

The Grand Master then goes on to give details of his visiting work during the year. Every lodge he visited, and was warmly welcomed in every section visited. The Grand Master regrets that so many of the members have been prevented from payment of dues, and suggests that it would be profitable to introduce into the lodges a more active business management and hints that the secretaries who are paid should faithfully perform their duties.

During the year two lodges, viz., Avon Lodge, No. 203, and Orient Lodge, No. 204, suffered loss by fire, and in both cases the charter and effects were burned. New dispensations were issued to these lodges and new supplies sent. Beacon Lodge at Port Colborne had a new hall dedicated on Jan. 12, and Tecumseh Lodge of Ottawa had a similar ceremony on Jan. 14.

The Grand Master notes in his report that a number of Ontario lodges have had their names changed from the Grand Master, George Robinson, and requests that his name or grand rolls be changed from Robinson to Robinson.

The report condemns the practice of sending two or three representatives to the Grand Lodge from one subordinate lodge, saying it results in wasteful expenditure of lodge funds without any advantage. The principle of one lodge one vote is advocated.

Rebekah Degree Lodges. Rebekah degree lodges have been instituted as follows: Endeavor Lodge, No. 57, Forest; Carnation Lodge, No. 58, at Wallaceton; and Phoenix Lodge, No. 59, at Dundas. A lodge was also instituted at Petrolia. The Grand Master urges the importance of a system of uniform administration and degree fees for subordinate lodges.

A great lack of knowledge by the officers of some lodges in keeping books and making returns is painfully apparent. The Grand Master expresses his pleasure because the following cases of disputed benefits have been settled: Parker v. Hayden Lodge, No. 152; Thompson v. Waverley Lodge, No. 75; Reid v. Ashram Lodge, No. 205; White v. Saxon Lodge, No. 121, and Hood v. Carleton Lodge, No. 240.

The Court of Appeal decided two cases, viz., Baker v. Forest City Lodge, and Parkhouse v. Dominion Lodge. Both judgments were given in favor of the lodges, thereby definitely establishing the right of a lodge to reduce the amount of the sick benefits payable to a member while in receipt of the same. After reviewing District Committee resolutions, the Grand Master goes on to express his pleasure at having instituted the following new lodges under most favorable conditions: Strathcona Lodge, No. 326, at Shelburne; Sauguen Lodge, No. 327, at Markdale; Underwood Lodge, No. 328, at Underwood; Milton Lodge, No. 329, at Delhi. These lodges have been placed in districts as follows: Strathcona in District No. 21, Sauguen in Georgian Bay District No. 24, Underwood in Lucknow District No. 21, and Prosperity Lodge in District No. 5.

Oddfellows' Relief Association. Touching upon the Oddfellows' Relief Association, the Grand Master tells of his visit to the annual meeting held at Kingston on July 29. He is impressed with the belief that were it not for the advantages offered by this association to the members of the order, the want would be severely felt. The affairs of the association are carefully and wisely managed, and the Grand Master thinks the association should be earnestly supported by every member of the order. During the year 88 decisions were given, more or less, important to the order. Substantial progress was made during the year, and a large sum added to the reserve fund. The association has made another forward movement by extending to the Sisters of Rebekah degree lodges the privilege of becoming members, thereby securing insurance to the extent of a thousand dollars.

Various Matters. The Grand Master, reviewing the 88 decisions, remarks that the correspondence of the office has been very heavy, and that many questions were asked that were of an unofficial character. From several members seeking information, he then points out that there is apparently a strong desire among the members for an official organ for the order, and suggests that the present would be a good time for some enterprising member to enter upon the publication of a journal devoted to the interests of the order. Grand Master Young follows up several of his predecessors in urging the appointment of a special committee whose duty shall be to supervise, instruct and help in the upbuilding of lodges, and suggests the appointment of a special deputy grand master to perform such duties as the Grand Lodge would require.

Proposed Home for Oddfellows. The establishment of a home in the province in the interests of Oddfellows is favorably viewed by the Grand Master, who believes considerable progress has been made looking to that end, and a considerable sum of money has been received by the treasurer of the home fund for that purpose. In this connection, he says, the Rebekah branch has rendered valuable service.

A central guarantee fund is advocated in order to secure a beautiful membership, and the Grand Master points out that during the last few years the increasing attention in requiring that applicants for admission shall be physically sound has had the effect of reducing the sickness rate of only 48 per cent. of the sickness rate of members of other societies. In order to secure the object aimed at it will be necessary for lodges to work under a uniform system of dues and benefits, and the benefits should be paid from a central fund. By such a system the weakest lodge would have the same security as the strongest lodge, and transference of membership would also be more easily accomplished.

The Grand Master goes on to say that the little tract, entitled "What is Oddfellows'?" has been warmly received, and he suggests that the next edition should be enlarged. He especially mentions the constitution enacting an extra assessment on members in good standing, in order to make up deficiencies under the assessment system has been the Grand Master says, practically a dead-letter for many years, and he recommends that it be annulled.

In conclusion, the Grand Master thanks to various leading members of the order, and to the membership in general for kindness and consideration in the discharge of his duties. He especially mentions the Grand Secretary, and expresses the hope that that official may be spared to fill the position he so worthily occupies. He mentions that during the past year death has visited many of the homes of the Oddfellows, and especially mentions Bro. W. H. Hoyle, P.G.M., who has lost his talented son; Bro. R. H. Perry, Grand Conductor, whose father passed away, and Bro. William Robinson, who lost his wife. Then he notes the awfully sudden death of Bro. J. W. Grote of Empire Lodge, St. Catharines. The death of Bro. A. C. Stewart, for many years Grand Auditor, and a valued member of Eureka Lodge, London.

Grand Secretary's Report. J. B. King of Toronto, Grand Secretary, in his annual report pays a neat compliment to Galt, the Manchester of Ontario, and goes on to report that notwithstanding the heavy losses in membership from suspensions, death, etc., the results of the past half year show a net gain of 223 members, though the gain for the year ending Dec. 31 last, was a trifle less favorable.

The total expenditure of the order in Ontario in all departments for sick benefits, relief of widows and orphans, funeral benefits, death indemnity and special relief since 1886—forty-one years—aggregates the magnificent sum of $1,048,891.22, and adding expenditures for relief for the past term, would swell the amount paid two million dollars. In this province alone, in works of relief, benevolence and humanity, the list is made up as follows: Paid by subordinate lodges, sick benefits, relief, etc., $1,229,993.71; paid by subordinate lodges, $48,420.01; Oddfellows' Relief Association, death claims paid, $635,867; Oddfellows' Relief Association, disability claims, $1,048,891.22; Grand Aid Association, London, death claims paid, $351.40; Funeral Aid Association, Lincoln and Welland, death claims paid, $5,065; total $1,043,680.12.

After referring to the members who have passed away and other matters of interest to the order, the Grand Secretary concludes his report as follows: "Our field in Ontario is not by any means all occupied. There are many eligible places where good things should be instituted, and successfully carried on. Our indefatigable Grand Master, Bro. Young, has by his untiring labors in the interests of the order, during this year, fanned into life the smouldering embers and awakened the interest of many a fastidious lodge, and has caused a widespread inquiry to be made regarding Oddfellows' and its work. His labors seconded, as doubtless they will be by his incoming Grand Master, Bro. Farwell, will result in the institution of a number of good lodges, and let us hope, a large addition to our membership.

The Grand Secretary desires to express his highest appreciation for many courtesies received during the year, and also to the order in general, more especially to those who have helped in any way to lighten the burdens and cares of office by acts of courtesy and words of kindness. "To our brethren across the border, whose country is agitated by war, and by reason of which no doubt many a lodge and many a home is in mourning, let us extend our sympathy to their brethren in Ontario who will be heartily extended, and may it be that the Angel of Peace will soon dispel the gloom of war. May it be that the baptism of blood, bringing in of an era which will cause wars and rumors of wars to cease, a result that has ever been one of the predominant features of Oddfellows' work, to which we are due very much of this noble sentiment, then, peace, joy and goodwill will brood over our lands."

The Grand Auditors, Charles Packard and Abner Fraser, report having examined the books and accounts of the Grand Secretary, and the statements connected therewith and find them correct.

Grand Treasurer's Report. The Grand Treasurer reports receipts and disbursements for the year ending Dec. 31, 1892, showing a cash balance on hand of $648.60. The total receipts amounted to $12,850.04, and disbursements to $12,201.44. The annual statement for the year ending Dec. 31, 1892, shows one lodge instituted during the year, and one resigned. Total number of lodges 274. The membership on Dec. 31, 1892, was 22,742, an increase during the year of 75. During the year 328 members received sick benefits, amounting, along with surgeons' fees, nursing, relief of widows, burial expenses, and special relief and charity, to $22,618. The assets of the Grand Lodge amount to $1,025,828.29, less the amount due on benefits, $39,744.48. The assets are invested as follows: Cash in bank and in treasure's hands, $184,541.01; invested in mortgages and securities, $816,024.24; invested in buildings, land, etc., $300,375.44; invested in furniture and regalia, $182,000.60; all other assets, $39,903.81.

Rebekah degree lodges, 52, with a total membership of 3074, of whom 716 were admitted during the year. During 1892 seven males and ten females died, leaving the membership on Dec. 31, 1892, at 3030. The balance of cash on hand at the same date was $5,122.28.

Mr. W. J. McCormack reports to the Grand Master regarding funds for the building home, and states the requirements in the way of the selection of ground on which to establish the home. He reports total funds sent in at $45,547.05.

The Committee on General Purposes reports that the board had five regular meetings, namely, Sept. 2, 9, Jan. 29, April 23, May 18 and July 1, '93, and very many more consultations were held. The committee is composed of W. F. Mountain, W. J. McCormack and J. B. King.

Courtesies Offered. An invitation was received from James Kerr, vice-president of the Galt Public Library, extending the use of the reading room to the delegates during their stay, also an invitation from Waterloo Lodge, No. 107, of Galt, to take part in a demonstration at the Park in the afternoon, which Beaver Line Fleet to be Increased by Another Boat. The Beaver Line (Messrs. D. & C. MacIver) have acquired the steamer Tongaroro, so well known in the Australian and New Zealand trade. This vessel as built on the Clyde by Messrs. John Elder & Co., in 1883, and is 4103 tons register; is barque-rigged, and has a very fine appearance. She has been in the New Zealand Shipping Company's service, therefore sailing out of London, where she was a favorite. She is fitted with electric light, refrigerating machinery, and all modern appliances, and is an excellent accession to the Beaver fleet. She comes round to Liverpool at the end of the month, and takes her first sailing under the new flag and management on Aug. 6, and will then follow on Aug. 24, from Montreal Oct. 15, displacing the Lake Winnipeg, which will then fall out of the mail service. This step does not probably excite the least indignation, it is followed by the Beaver Line. Anyway it is satisfactory to see measures taken by that company's line to maintain a difficult position in these competitive times.—Montreal Gazette.

The following is from Bulletin, now in course of publication by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The figures of acreage published in a few days. Detailed reports from the surveyors as to the completion of the three to July inclusive, indicate a crop of wheat above the average at this province, the difference being as high as 6.5, as compared with the average for the previous 16 years.

The crop of fall wheat ever harvested in the province has yielded more than 100 bushels per acre by a heavy return crop was cut early, in good condition generally, and as being plump, grows considerably over Spring wheat. Many correspondents report an increase in the acreage of wheat. This crop, like early, owing to the weight of the heads from filling well, however, will be an average, especially in the eastern counties, both in yield and in the number of bushels per acre. The main drawback to the crop is a slight injury from rust reported.

The crop is generally few exceptions the grain condition, though in weight, owing to the moisture. The rust inflicted some damage on the crop. There will be about a 10 per cent. increase in the quantity promised splendidly during the season, having as a result from the late frost, and the fact that the crop is so early, and consequently short, and light in some sections, eastern counties, both in yield and in the number of bushels per acre. The main drawback to the crop is a slight injury from rust reported.

Walking on Air. TREMBLING HANDS AND SHAKY MEMORY. A HAMILTON MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH A NEW MEDICINE. DEAR SIR, I have spent half a fortune in doctors' bills, all to no avail. These Pills seemed to reach the seat of disease at once, and they also seemed to possess a remarkable influence over me. The violent palpitation of the heart, the trembling of the hands, the loss of manly vigor, the frightful dreams, the loss of memory and general collapse of the entire system have yielded to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Great were the relief and the recovery of my health. I am enjoying the very best of health. I fully believe they are able to do for others as much as they have done for me. Before using them I was a miserable wreck. To-day I am a well man. Yours truly, THOS. FLYNN, 51 Elgin St., Hamilton, Ont.
