IMPORTANT CHANGE IN BANKING CIRCLES

James G. Taylor, Present Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce Here to Become General Agent of An Annuity Company, With His Headquarters in Montreal.

James G. Taylor, manager of the St. John branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, will, about the beginning of August, retire from his position and assume the position of general agent for the Annuity Company of Canada, for the Province of Quebec, with headquarters in Montreal.

WE STUDENTS ARE THE HOSTS

Miss Morton's Kindergarten Pupils Receiving Their Friends This Afternoon.

The annual summer closing of Miss Morton's Free Kindergarten, in St. Mary's school room, is taking place this afternoon and is of more than ordinary interest, as the children—of whom there are forty in attendance—have made particular progress during the past year.

Dissatisfaction Over Train Arrangements Between Canadian Pacific and I. C. R.

There is considerable dissatisfaction over the way the train service is conducted between the I. C. R. and C. P. R. Very often if a C. P. R. train is late the I. C. R. train with which connection should be made is sent out on time and the result is that a number of disappointed people are compelled to spend some hours here when they are in a hurry to proceed.

FIRE IN ST. STEPHEN'S

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., June 26 (Special)—A tenement house on Water street, owned by C. W. Young, was badly damaged by fire and water at noon today. The household effects, owned by the tenants, Messrs. Nicolls and Levy, were also damaged.

KENNEDY SENT TO DORCHESTER ON THE CHARGE OF ABDUCTION

Judge Wedderburn Sentenced Him To a Term of Three Years And a Half.

HAMPTON, June 26 (Special)—At the adjourned sitting of the King's county criminal court this morning, Donald B. Kennedy was brought from jail and sentenced to a term of three years and six months in the penitentiary for the abduction of Elsie Boone, of Norton, a girl fifteen years of age, on June last. In giving sentence His Honor, Judge Wedderburn said: "The only question which has made me at this stage of your case is whether I should or should not impose now the full penalty of the law for the aggravated offence of which you have been found guilty. You have already been a convict, and although the crown extended clemency to you, granting you parole, your ticket of leave had only just expired, when after evident and persistent premeditation you started out on your scheme against the child of fifteen years, and not your will or purpose prevented its consummation with the many criminal wrongs and outrages involved in it. However, I need not repeat what I have already said as your case has proceeded. Nevertheless, although the law must be vindicated, the law is not vindictive. While you are serving the short term of imprisonment which I shall impose, I do hope you will review your past and purpose to resolve hereafter to lead another and a better life."

COLLINS WAS AFFECTED AS GRIM TALE WAS TOLD

Solicitor Gen'l Jones Opens Case to the Jury.

Several Witnesses Examined—Evidence Same As at Former Trial.

HOPEWELL CAPE, N. B., June 26 (Special)—Court opened promptly at the Collins trial today. The gallery was almost bare of spectators, but a fair audience gathered in before the recess. The solicitor general opening to the jury recited the charge and designated it as a most monstrous one, and stated that although it was all circumstantial evidence, it was sometimes recognized by the law as the best evidence.

The opening was much fuller and plainer than at the former trial, and the prisoner, who followed the details closely, seemed visibly affected as the terrible story was unfolded.

Miles Dixon was the first witness sworn. He proved the indictment.

Professor Andrews, of Mount Allison University, was called and given charge of the axes and doors which were exhibited in the former trial and he is now experimenting and will give his evidence later.

William Simpson, station agent on the I. C. R. at Pettitocia, swore that on or about the 21st day of August, he sold a second-class ticket for St. John to a man whom he took to be a sailor by his dress, and a few days later he saw whom he took to be the same man in custody of Sheriff Lynds, of Albert.

Alfred Mittin swore that he drove the prisoner from Alexander Bannister's to Elgin on the 20th day of August and that the prisoner was carrying two valises, which he had no doubt were the two in court in evidence.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElwaine, Bellevue avenue, north end, was the scene of a very enjoyable gathering last evening, the occasion being the tenth anniversary of their wedding. About forty-five guests were present, and during the evening Thomas Lunney, brother of Mrs. McElwaine, on behalf of those present, presented the happy couple with a very handsome Morris clock.

A feature of the gathering was the presence of Mrs. Daniel Lunney, of Green Head, who is the mother of Mr. McElwaine.

The evening was pleasantly spent with games and dancing.

THUNDER PEALS OVER CAMP SUSSEX, BUT 'TIS NOT THUNDER OF WAR

SUSSEX, N. B., June 26 (Special)—Today broke cloudy and although before eleven o'clock it gave promise of fine weather, shortly after that time showers rumbled in the distance and rain fell in huge drops.

Very few soldiers left the grounds this morning, as today is set aside for the muster parade and inspection of troops houses. Col. White, D. O. C. and his staff, are going from regiment to regiment and Capt. Forbes is calling the roll of those in camp.

Although the thunder rolled on and rain fell the inspection went on. A line of marked horsemen can be seen riding slowly about the camps in their section of the field. Up on the hill the red coats are drilling while waiting to be inspected. This muster parade will occupy all day.

The following orders by Lieut. Col. Geo. Holt White, camp commandant, were issued this morning: From general orders 8 Hussars. The following extracts from general orders are published for the information of all concerned.

To be chaplain, with honorary rank of captain, the Rev. Henry Irving Lynds, to complete establishment. 19th Battery, C. F. A. to be provisional major on reorganization, Capt. Samuel Boyd Anderson, from 7th regiment.

6th regiment, to be "best signalling" Lieut. G. W. Riden, to complete establishment.

7th regiment, to be major, Captain W. H. Gray, vice Sanson, transferred. To be provisional lieut. "superannuated" vice W. H. Gray, promoted.

To be provisional lieut. "superannuated" Sergeant Howard Frederick George Woodbridge, vice Gregory, retired.

DOOLEY CASE WAS TAKEN UP TODAY

The circuit court session was resumed at the court house this morning. Mr. Justice McLeod presiding, and the case of Dooley vs. the City of St. John was taken up.

D. Mullin, K. C., for the plaintiff, opened the case to the jury. He pointed out that on August 3rd, 1905, Richard Dooley lost his life while at work in a ditch in which a number of city employees were working.

Mr. Dooley had been buried by the earth falling in upon him from the top of the ditch, where it had been thrown. He died while being conveyed to the hospital. The plaintiff held that the accident resulted from carelessness or negligence on the part of the city. Mr. Mullin read from the city by-laws, a section providing that the engineer in charge of such work should see to it that proper braces were installed. This was not attended to and therefore the city was guilty of negligence.

Photographs of the trench taken by Isaac Erb were in evidence after Mr. Erb had identified them.

Harry Lawton, laborer, testified to the measurements of the trench. A short time before the accident an old sewer was discovered and the earth removed from the top but not from beneath. When the accident occurred the witness was at work near Mr. Dooley and he saw the cave-in which buried Mr. Dooley and Mr. Haley.

He did not think there was any danger in the trench or he would not have been working there. He stated also that in digging out the men it was found that the cover-

SOLDIERS LOOT A ROTHESAY STORE

Scenes of Disorder Marked Arrival of York County Militia Men at Rothesay Yesterday—J. Renforth Robertson's Clerk Held Up and Goods Stolen From His Store.

Rothesay residents are indignant over the depredations committed by a party of soldiers who passed through Rothesay at noon yesterday en route to Camp Sussex.

The soldiers who are said to be members of the 7th Regiment from Fredericton arrived at Rothesay on Conductor Nicker's special train from St. John about noon yesterday. The train was stopped to permit a company of the 7th regiment to entrain and some of the men of the 7th, taking advantage of the delay left the train and went on an impromptu foraging expedition through the village.

The general store and post office kept by Postmaster J. Renforth Robertson about 100 yards from the railway station was the first to attract the attention of the rowdies, and whooping like wild Indians they made a descent upon the store. Mr. Robertson was out and a young clerk was in charge of the store when the soldiers, to the number of about a dozen, entered and proceeded to amuse such articles of stock as suited their fancy. These included bottles of pickles, boxes of candy, cakes, biscuits and cigars with which the soldiers will regale themselves while under canvas. When the clerk intimated that it was the practice of his employer to exact payment for goods supplied to customers the soldiers laughed at him and left the store taking their pillaged supplies with them.

They then returned to their train and after indulging in boisterous conduct in the vicinity of the station went on to Sussex. Mr. Robertson's clerk was powerless to enforce payment for the goods taken but the people of Rothesay who learned of the affair are highly indignant and the York county regiment has hardly added to its standing by the disgraceful conduct of some of its members.

A complaint will be made to the authorities at Camp Sussex and Mr. Robertson and his friends will spare no effort to secure redress.

PECULIAR BOSTON WOMAN BURIED IN POTTER'S FIELD

Mortal Remains of "Crazy Minnie" Buried on Sunday—Preached the Gospel of God and Chastity in Slums of Darkest Boston.

(Boston Journal.)

Two brave laborers yesterday lowered a plain pine coffin into a shallow grave in Potter's Field, and with it went into oblivion the mortal and emaciated remains of "Crazy Minnie."

If any one, it was in a more unbiased way than this. The third of each obliterating clod of earth brought no pang to any heart.

Roughly smothering over the top of the sad little lot with an adroitness taught by street-trench digging, the two laborers lighted their pipes and went to their dinner, where they discussed everything except "Crazy Minnie."

The police all called Minnie crazy, for didn't she every night dive deep into the worst spots in the West End and in the drinking resorts where gaily dressed demigames of the lowest world sat arm in arm with half intoxicated marines and salacious men and pined with them?

Decent, haggard and wasted, the old woman, herself the pitiable remnants of a meal where immorality had gorged itself, would nightly plead in vain with the young women to stop the life they were leading.

And when Bertrac got old enough to know, she married and, perforce, mother had to keep away, for was she not half crazy? Bertrac soon forgot, Minnie never did. Minnie was crazy.

For the past five years Minnie had lived in a little attic room in a toy street lodging house, where she washed dishes for her room and a miserable pittance that barely sufficed for crazy woman and child. And every night, hoisted and jerked, thrust from drinking dives by hands none too gentle, and followed by epithets far too keen, Minnie tottered, trying to save.

Saturday, when they pounded on the door where Minnie slept on a rickety cot, in a little attic room in a toy street lodging house, where she washed dishes for her room and a miserable pittance that barely sufficed for crazy woman and child. And every night, hoisted and jerked, thrust from drinking dives by hands none too gentle, and followed by epithets far too keen, Minnie tottered, trying to save.

The police merely ordered her buried in the Potter's Field, when they found no one claimed the emaciated old body. But many a young girl will get an unconscious sigh of relief when she learns today that "Crazy Minnie" is dead. It is rather unpleasant to get to reminiscing over the past when you are living some kind of lives, and Minnie always dug up the past.

was allowed his liberty on condition that he leave for Boston, where he desires to procure employment.

A number of remanded prisoners were dealt with, and the majority sent back to jail for the present at least.

THE LUDLOW NEEDS REST

Wun Lung Will Replace the $90,000 Beauty on the Ferry Service.

The ferry steamer Ludlow will be taken off the route probably this afternoon, and the Western Extension will be put on in her place. The Ludlow's class certificate has expired and it is necessary for her to be examined and overhauled.

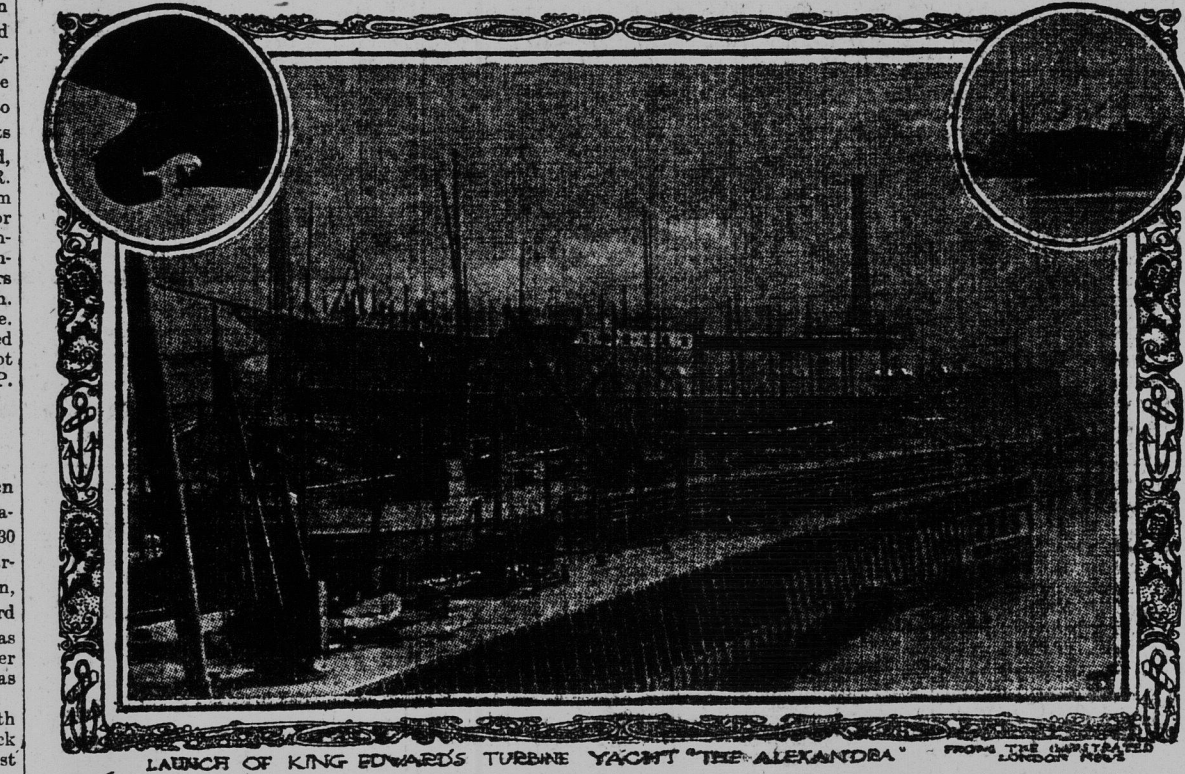

Considerable repair work will also be done, and it is expected that the $90,000 beauty will be laid up for three or four weeks.

It is possible some difficulty may be experienced in getting the Western Extension out from her berth between North Rodney and the new wharf, on account of some timber being in the way, but this will be removed this afternoon if possible, so as to allow Wun Lung to take the place of her tired partner.

WORK UPON THE WALL ST. BRIDGE

Aldermen Arrange With I.C.R. for Resumption of Light Traffic.

Aldermen McGoldrick and Pickett, with Director Peters, called upon L. R. Ross, terminal superintendent of the I. C. R. this morning and discussed the matter of the delay for teams in crossing the Wall Street bridge as a result of the repairs being made, and also of the changes to be made at Forrest street, near Gilbert's lane. It was arranged that light traffic would be resumed at once and that teams would only be stopped when it was necessary in order to replace portions of the structure.

At Forrest street the I. C. R. will put in a number of new tracks where the old roundhouse formerly stood. A landing platform will also be put in near the street, but none of the shade trees lining Forrest street will be damaged or destroyed.

THE BLUE DIAMOND

BY ALICE AND CLAUDE ASKEW. Authors of "The Shulamite," "Eve—and the Law," "Gilded London," "The Premier's Daughter," "The House Next Door," Etc.

(Conclusion.) At last he opened his eyes again. "Do you know, Patience," he said, "since I have been lying here I have thought over things, thought over them as I have never done before? And now I know that I have been treating you very cruelly. I wanted to win you for myself, because I loved you, and because I am very selfish. I lent myself to Lady Erling's scheme because it meant a chance of winning you, and, later on, I took advantage of the knowledge I had gained from your love papers to force you, to make a sacrifice of your life. I was very wrong, Patience, for I see now that I could never have hoped to win your love, and that without that there could have been no happiness for me in the future."

She was listening to him eagerly. He seized her hand and held it tightly between his own. "My friend, be my friend in the future, Patience," he murmured. "That's all I'm going to ask of you. Here and now I release you from any promise you have made to me. Take these papers, tear them to shreds, burn them, or restore them to him from whom they were originally stolen. Do as you please with them, they are yours."

His voice had become feeble, and Patience feared lest she should be anything but a selfish agreement. She was trembling with excitement, her hand pressed his convulsively and gratefully. She could hardly believe that what she heard was true.

"There, there," he went on, "I mustn't speak much today, for you see the first visitor whom I have been allowed to receive, Patience. But you'll come and see me again, won't you? And you'll be a friend to me, if I pull you through the trouble? That's all I ask—that you'll be a friend in the future."

Patience stayed with him a little longer, and before she left she had the invaluable compact between the two was settled. She had kissed him on the cheek at parting. It had been her own desire. She made her way home, joy in her heart, made her way home to her father, and before she reached the door she found a note pinned to the door. It was a telegram from Roger, begging her to come to Cornwall. It had been an accident, a slight hand slip from the cliff, which had, nevertheless, been sufficient to precipitate her, who had been walking seaward to the brink to the shore below. There was no hope for her, but she might live a few hours longer, and she was crying for Patience, her sister Patience.

It was a terrible journey that night, a journey that remained a haunting dread to Patience in after years. They arrived in Cornwall through Vivienne's wish to see, so Roger told them, it was for Patience that she cried incessantly. "Patience—Heaven forgive me!" The very words that she had written in her letter were on her lips when Patience sobbed and heart-broken, but restraining her tears as well as she could, ran to her sister's bedside. "Can you forgive me, dear?"

"Don't, Vivienne, don't! Oh, my darling, I forgive you from the bottom of my heart."

But the dying girl was not yet content. "I want to tell Roger," she whispered, "to tell him everything. He thinks ill of you, Patience, and it has been my fault, my fault. But oh! I loved him so, and he loved me. His love meant everything to me, everything in the wide world. I couldn't sacrifice it, Patience. I hadn't the heart to do so, I hadn't the courage. But now I feel that I must speak—for your sake—for you who are going to live—and it is only my memory that will be reviled."

"No," cried Patience, "not a word; was sinking fast. Roger shall bless your memory, shall love the remembrance of you."

"THE END."

WEDDINGS

Hamilton-Brookings. The home of John Brookings, of 47 Moore street, was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon, when his daughter, Louise, was united in marriage with Charles Hamilton. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock, Rev. R. P. McKim being the officiating clergyman.

The happy couple left on the Boston train last evening for a honeymoon trip to Boston and Philadelphia. The popularity of the young couple was attested by the numerous handsome presents received. The groom, who is bookkeeper for Clark & Adams, was remembered by his employer, who sent a substantial cheque, and the bride, who was in the employ of T. Rankine & Sons, received a handsome rocking chair from that firm. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton will reside at 566 Main street.

Miss Maimie Marson, of Montreal, is the guest of Miss Lantulum, Union street.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. It is not one weak heart in a hundred, it is in itself, actually disease. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This disease nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more vitality, more control, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

THE SEPARATE SKIRT FITS INTO MANY OCCASIONS.

No garment in a woman's wardrobe is so practical as the separate skirt. Many women make the mistake of wearing their suit skirts without the coat, and in this way the skirt is very often worn out long before the coat begins to show any signs of wear at all. Newly worsteds, mohairs and serges are best in separate skirts of fine linen and madras, but where the waist is a lingerie model elaborate with fine lace and embroideries or a creation of net or lace, the skirt of latest design, voile or some soft skirt material is considered best choice. Drapes of these materials are laid in fine or wide pleats over the hips and stitched to whatever length is most becoming to the figure, being allowed to flare gracefully, from the stitching down. The illustrated skirt, topped by a waist of white net, shows plain panels between clusters of pleats, these panels embroidered in a conventional design with fancy machine stitchings which resemble soutache braid. These braiding appear on each panel above the hem and extend to the knee, and again in similar design halfway between the waistline and the knee. The skirt is of black voile mounted over a foundation of black orisla silk.

SAY PETER FONTAINE WAS KILLED BY OFFICER SEELEY

Jury However Disagree As To the Criminality of the Dalhousie Policeman's Act.

Dalhousie, N. B., June 25.—The coroner's court in the Fontaine inquest resumed its work at 10 o'clock today. A large number of spectators were in attendance, including the widow of Peter Fontaine.

John J. Lepoint, coroner, I reside in Dalhousie, N. B. I was at the graveyard in Dalhousie on Saturday last. I swear that the body that was raised and upon which Dr. Martin made an examination was the body of the late Peter Fontaine.

Doctor Martin, sworn—Am a physician residing in Campbellton; am duly registered. I was not acquainted with the body that was raised and upon which Dr. Martin made an examination. I found several marks on the leg. There was a bullet wound situated about five inches from the spine. The bullet hole was about quarter inch in size but could not locate the bullet in the back. The second bullet hole was in the left side about five inches from the spine. This size of this second bullet hole was exactly the same size as the first bullet hole described, also clean cut.

To the coroner—There were no marks of powder around first described wound while in the second there was, especially in the right side, a sign of burning. I could not say if it was powder in that state of matter of the skin. I could not locate the bullet. I then opened the skull to examine the brain but no sign of blood, therefore no hemorrhage of the brain.

I found that first bullet did not injure any blood vessel. In examination of the heart I found no traces of bullet holes in the liver. There was no trace of any large quantity of blood from the hemorrhage of which Peter Fontaine died. The wound in the buttock would not be fatal. He might have been shot while stooping or climbing the stairs. A man firing at seven feet could not injure the wound on a man crawling on his hands and knees. To do so he would have to be very close.

To the coroner—Both wounds by appearance were about the same size. Coroner was witness bullets, size 22 and 32, who replied: "The latter size bullet caused the wounds. It was impossible for a cartridge No. 22 to cause either of the wounds. They were caused by bullets of same calibre."

To Mr. Mott—Mr. Gallop mentioned Mr. Seeley's name. I said you had better get someone who knows the locality. To Mr. Lawlor—I may have told the officers that it would be better to go early in the morning. Mr. Doyle asked me for a warrant.

To Foreman Powell—It was his duty to make the arrests as soon as possible. To Jurymen Hallett—It would be the duty of the officers to say "I arrest you in the king's name." Putting his hands on the prisoner.

To Mr. Mott—It is all a question of circumstances whether a constable should point a revolver or not. This coroner addressed the jury for more than an hour.

Coroner Ferguson spoke briefly, leaving the matter in the hands of the jury. The jury retired at 3.30, and reported at 8 o'clock the following verdict: "We find that Peter Fontaine was killed by a bullet discharged into his body from a revolver in the hands of George Seeley, a peace officer, while investigating the death of the said Peter Fontaine, and we cannot agree whether there was any criminality on the part of the said George Seeley in the act or not."

Mr. Lawlor spoke briefly, congratulating the coroner and jury for the way the investigation had been conducted. In this he was seconded by Mr. Trueman.

ABOUT FEMALE AILMENTS

Not Hard to Cure if Properly and Promptly Treated. Ask any intelligent physician what causes nine-tenths of all female diseases, including anaemia, nervousness and consumption.

Back comes the answer quick and sharp "Constipation, Bowels." There is scarcely a single female ailment that had not in its earlier stages symptoms of constipation. How much clearer the completion of how much fresher one feels when the system is pure and clean.

Think it over yourself. There isn't a single ailment that a bowel regulator and liver stimulant like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is sure to do good? Gay spirits, good looks and happy health have returned to many a sick woman through Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Better get a few boxes today; purely vegetable, free from injurious ingredients, healthful and antiseptic. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will assist you in a thousand ways. As delay is always dangerous, your physician is to follow the example of Mrs. F. Rowe, who sends the following letter from Graves, Port Au Port, Newfoundland: "Four years ago I got kidney and bladder trouble. I thought it was female trouble and treated it accordingly. Even my doctor in St. John said it was so. In reading about Dr. Hamilton's Pills I noticed symptoms like mine and I bought six boxes. These pills went right to work on my sick condition and helped me from the first. My supposed female trouble, which was bladder disease, was cured. My weight increased eight pounds and never before was I as well as today. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all!"

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co. Hartford, Conn., U. S. A. or Kingston, Ont.

FIGHT WITH MOONSHINERS

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 25.—The party of revenue officers who had a fight with alleged moonshiners in Stokes county, on Friday last, returned here yesterday, having captured 25 moonshiners and destroyed 13 illicit stills. The captured men were chained together and taken to Mount Airy, this state, where they were lodged in Dobson county jail by United States Commissioner F. W. Simmons. The officers state that between three and four hundred shots were exchanged with the moonshiners in the darkness when the combined force was made, beginning about 2 o'clock Friday morning. It is thought that several of the blockaders were wounded, but the officers did not stop to learn the facts, being anxious to get away with their prisoners before there was an opportunity for rescue by confederates.

AN INTERESTING MEETING OF THE CIVIC BOARD OF WORKS

Discussion As To Dredging for the 600 Foot Berth—Committee Will Ask Government to Permit Both Dredges to Work.

At the meeting of the board of works last evening it was decided that the west side committee should take steps to urge the government to allow both the large dredges to work on the site for the 600-foot berth. Hurd Peters, who was temporarily appointed director at the previous meeting, was given an additional salary of $60 a month for so long as he performed extra duties. The council was recommended to appoint a committee to consider the question of reorganizing the city officials and their departments. A large amount of other business was transacted. William Downie, general superintendent of the C. P. R., wrote urging the necessity of increasing the width and depth of berths Nos. 2 and 3 at Sand Point. The berths, he contended, were to have been made 120 feet wide and thirty feet deep, but were dredged only to a width of sixty feet and several of the C. P. R. steamers had touched bottom. Berth No. 1 also required attention. He also requested that the entrance to the ship might be widened so that the large steamers could be brought out at an angle up stream instead of straight across the harbor.

Ald. Baxter referred to G. S. Mayne having received instructions to continue work under his old contract, on the channel, which could be done at any time and suggested that as the widening and cleaning of the berths was of the first importance the government should be urged to have the Beaver put to work there. He stated that the west side committee he authorized to press this matter on the government.

Ald. Bullock thought the city dredge should be put in operation in the meanwhile. He was anxious, he said, to see what material had been dumped from the steamers. The cost to the city for dredging the berths last year had been $8,284. The alderman quoted the following extract from the director's report for 1906 giving details of the dredging:

Table with 5 columns: Berth, Saw Loads, Cubic yards, Yards, and other details.

From No. 1 berth—Seven-seventy old wire ropes and three cells saw. From No. 2 berth—Eight old wire ropes and 10 cells full wire and lumber. From No. 4 berth—Considerable hay wire. From old wire ropes were expensive to remove. They were not coiled up and were 15 tubs and over in length.

Ald. Bullock added that he did not want any repetition of these conditions. No steamers, as far as was known, were dissatisfied with the berths last year but as long as dredging operations were in progress in the vicinity no doubt silt would be deposited.

Ald. Baxter said he understood the second dredge was proposed to assist in getting the 600 foot site ready. He thought it would be a pity to take one away. Ald. Bullock—"Only one, the new dredge, has the contract to do the work."

Ald. Baskin—"That's a very extraordinary thing. The city was led to expect both would continue."

Ald. Bullock—"That was the request also of the board of trade."

Ald. Baskin—"Then what was the idea in sending a second dredge? We shall not do a bit further ahead."

Ald. Bullock—"Well, we've got the dredge, let it go at that."

Ald. Baskin—"I'm not satisfied. I don't understand the inner workings of this scheme."

Ald. Baxter—"All we can say is no one in St. John is responsible. The delegation to Ottawa last February backed by the board of trade and the press urged on the government to purchase a dredge so that the two should co-operate. Information was forwarded as to certain dredges being available. One of these dredges is now the property of a private individual or a company and is in the harbor of St. John under contract with the government to do the work. These are the facts. You must ask the responsible minister why."

Ald. Baskin—"I'm not satisfied. I don't understand the inner workings of this scheme."

Ald. Bullock—"Then what was the idea in sending a second dredge? We shall not do a bit further ahead."

Ald. Bullock said he doubted if, with two dredges, the 600-foot wharf would be ready next winter on account of the delay which had already occurred. The council must, in any case, see that the D. C. Clark wharf was ready.

The chairman thought the government should satisfy the city as to the dredging work being done as quickly as possible. The motion was carried.

On motion of Ald. Baxter the committee were authorized to use the city dredge when and where they might deem advisable. D. C. Clark would be likely to complete his wharf.

Mr. Peters replied in his judgment in about three weeks.

Paralyzed With Lumbago

The surest relief in Nerville—it sinks to the core of the pain, limbers the muscles, gives relief at once. No other liniment one-fifth as strong as Nerville. Try a 25 cent bottle.

Strawberries Au Lits—Make a jelly by soaking half an ounce of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water until soft; add one cupful of granulated sugar, one cupful of hot strawberry juice and one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water. Stir until sugar and gelatin are all dissolved, then add three-fourths of a cupful of lemon juice. Pour the gelatin into small wetted molds and set on ice until firm. Half an hour before serving turn the jelly out carefully on small fancy plates, scoop a neat round hole in the center of each, and fill with fine, ripe, sweetened strawberries mixed lightly with whipped cream. Keep very cold.

French Salad Dressing—Mix together one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, a little pepper, two tablespoonfuls of salted oil; mix thoroughly; then add three-quarters of a cupful of vinegar and a spoonful of Worcestershire sauce. This is used especially for simple lettuce salad.

FINANCIAL and COMMERCIAL

MERCHANTS AND MANUFACTURERS

Agree That Times Are Good And the Outlook Bright in Canada.

(Montreal Witness.) A score of representative Canadian industrial firms have been interviewed by the Witness with a view to gauging the temper of the business houses in regard to the present state of trade, and that of the immediate future.

It is remarkable with all the talk of trade recession, that not one of the well known houses has a note of pessimism, but is rather brim-full of a most hopeful sense of a continuation for some time to come of the phenomenal commercial and industrial development witnessed in the Dominion for the past two years.

(Collections and remittances are generally satisfactory, and it will be noted with interest that the money situation has been practically ignored in the majority of the statements appended. It would seem that the stock market is the only large centre of operations that has been materially affected by the money stringency.

TWO CENT RATES ON RAILWAYS

May Soon Become Universal in the United States and Affect Canadian Lines.

(Montreal Witness.) A despatch from Chicago stated that the reduction of passenger rates throughout the United States to a basis of two cents a mile within a very short time is practically assured by the action of the presidents of the principal western railways, at a meeting in Chicago on Saturday. It would seem that at this time in the courts against the two-cent basis of rates will be withdrawn throughout this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and the lake to the Gulf.

The matter did not get far without a long and anxious discussion by the railway presidents. The opinions of the heads of their legal departments as to the probability of litigation over two-cent fare laws, and the other side of the coin, considered, while the attorneys predicted that the courts would declare the law unconstitutional, because the rate of two cents a mile is unreasonably low and practically confiscatory, and all because the laws deprive the railways of their right of equity, the general view taken by the presidents was that with the public sentiment so strongly in favor of the two-cent fare and the probability of the railways to reduce interstate rates to two cents a mile in main states, it would be unwise to continue this litigation.

The lowering of the rates to a two-cent basis will have a serious effect on both the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern. The Canadian Northern has lines over the preparation for the large July disbursements, it is assumed that all stock market interests will be duly conservative. Somewhat easier monetary conditions temporarily at least, are looked for after the 10th or 15th of next month unless the European demands for gold from this side are larger than are looked for. It is believed, however, that the tendency of the money market a little later will be toward more stringent conditions than have existed in recent weeks.

CHEESE MARKET TURNS EASIER

(Montreal Gazette, Saturday Report.) Prices for cheese in the country today were on a lower level than last Saturday. The ruling price was 11.34c. Today the ruling figure was 11.18c. for colored, and 11.16c. for white. The market is commanding a premium over white. Judging from the offerings at some of the boards today, the market is high-water mark, though it is behind the output at the mark.

THE OFFICERS OF BURNED BOAT SAY FIRE WAS NOT ACCIDENTAL

Inquest Into Cause of Fire on Crystal Stream Began at Cole's Island Yesterday.

COLE'S ISLAND, Queens Co., N. B., June 25.—The inquest into the cause of fire which destroyed the steamer Crystal Stream and brought death to four members of her crew was continued today before Coroner Earle, W. H. Treuman appearing for the crown, and three witnesses, Engineer Roberts and Purser Belyea of the steamer Aberdeen, were examined. There were no startling disclosures but the general feeling here is that the fire was the result of an accident, and not startling developments are looked for. Engineer Winford Roberts was the first witness. He said that hoop poles were stored in the forward part of the boat and about two tons of pressed hay amidships. He always went through the boat every night before retiring, to see that everything was all right. He then described his actions at the time of the fire, as already published. Alfred West, a fireman—'What was between the boilers and the bottom of the boat?'—'On the timbers of the boat was first a two inch plank, that was covered with two inches of plaster of paris on top of which was a layer of bricks. Cracks between the bricks were full of cement. On top of the brick was an inch and a half coating of cement. From that bottom to the fire grate would be about 18 inches.'

Witness said he had never known of that floor cracking and consequently had never had any trouble with fire. There was no possible way of the fire being caused by friction of the machinery. To Junior West, witness said there was a lantern about fifteen feet from the hay. The boat was all open on the side next to the wharf and any person could come aboard if they wanted to do so.

The Portland Y. M. A., is still in a thriving condition. This would be a convincing statement if it were known how they are hustling their excursion by steamer to Gagetown and Fredericton on July 1st. We would all do well to be one with this jolly crowd.

THE SECRET OF HERNER'S. Hermer's Dyspepsia Cure is a formula designed to assist nature in the assimilation and proper digestion of food. This is a dyspeptic stomach aided in its functions, and is totally destroyed by the curing and is toned up. Sold by all good druggists at 35c. and $1.00 per bottle.

The comfortable farm house of James H. Ross, at Lower Tower Hill, Charlotte county, about nine miles from St. Stephen, was totally destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, together with a large barn and the woodhouse and all the contents of house and outbuildings. The loss is roughly estimated at $3,000.

ANOTHER POSITION. Bliss Smith has been selected to fill the position of accountant for the Canadian Drug Co., Ltd. Mr. Smith received training at the Currie Business University.

MORE THAN ANY OTHER. A bottle of Dr. Scott's White Liniment contains more pain-relieving mixture than any other liniment on the market. It is a big generous bottle—generous in quantity, generous in those ingredients which contain curative properties, and clear, clear ability to soothe suffering from rheumatism, cuts, burns, neuralgia, sprains, etc. At all good druggists.

In the police court yesterday afternoon Harold Chamberlain, Wm. Clayton, Peter Moran and John McDonald, who were arrested in connection with the recent robbery of D. McEade's meat shop on St. Patrick street, were given good advice from the bench and allowed to go on condition that better interest be taken in their moral welfare. McDonald is to leave the city for a few days.

EXCURSION TO ST. MARTIN'S. The St. Martin's Railway has arranged for excursions to Dominion Day. Passengers can leave St. John at 7:15 o'clock in the morning spend the day at St. Martin and return same day arriving at St. John at 9:30 o'clock in the evening, or return the following day, fare for round trip only $1.00. Through passenger cars no charge at Hampton Junction.

ALL KINDS OF MONEY. Exposed to public view in the show windows of the Currie Business University office and employment bureau, are some forty-eight cards of gold which are exact replicas of the coins of all countries including the pontifical coinage. Upon each card is a table of exchange giving the value of each coin in four different countries. The collection is a most unique possession and is being used by the school for the benefit of the students in studying foreign exchange. The collection has already attracted considerable attention.

NEW CALENDAR DEVICE. The Annuity Company of Canada, with headquarters in Winnipeg, sends out a unique and very convenient calendar, a patent for which has been applied for. If wished two or more months can be shown upon the face of the calendar. For instance, if necessary to ascertain the day of the week for any certain month through the year it is only necessary to follow up one column of the calendar. The first reference is usually made in connection with the date of the month and it is much more convenient to have the location of the day fixed. When the location of the date of the month changes with each calendar sheet, there is loss of time in finding that date; whereas in this device the date of the month remains fixed and there is only one change of location—namely, that of the day of the week. Beverly R. Armstrong is the provincial manager of the company for New Brunswick.

LAST OF ALADDIN'S LAMP. This afternoon and evening the first programme of the week at the Nickel will be produced for the last time; tomorrow a new bill is to be introduced. It is doubtful if the audience will be regular patrons of the house to learn that Mr. Austin, who has been so ill with quincy, is now able to resume his seat at the piano, but it will possibly be some days before he can resume his illustrated songs. However, Grover Lee of Boston, is proving an excellent substitute, and everything is going along pleasantly and entertainingly. The pictures illustrative of Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp. How the Office Boy Saw the Bell Gane, and Pigeon Fairy are proving a regular fountain-head of amusement for old and young.

Edgar H. Folkins. On Monday evening, June 17, the death of Edgar H. Folkins, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Folkins, of Midland (N. B.), occurred. Deceased was thirty-two years of age and for thirty years had been an invalid in consequence of a severe attack of spinal meningitis in infancy. For nearly five years he had been confined to his bed, and death finally came as a relief to his suffering. His father, mother, four sisters and five brothers survive. The body was interred in the Midland burying ground on June 19, the service being conducted by Rev. H. Penna.

THE CHILDREN

Very soon many hundreds of children will be released from school for the holiday season. Only a very small proportion of them will be able to go to the country. The others must stay in the city. What will they do? What provision is made for their welfare during the weeks of idleness? What can be done?

The playground committee of the Women's Council will conduct supervised playgrounds in the Centennial and Winter street school yards. These are small, and street school yards. They are small, and street school yards. They are small, and street school yards.

After all, it is not the ladies who appeal. It is the children. They are the ones who need a place for healthful play, under refining influences. If it were even possible to secure one competent supervisor with some swings and teeters and other sources of enjoyment which could be provided at small cost, how much better the children would be there than on the dusty streets or in the gutters.

CLEAN UP THE CITY

There should be a combined and co-operative movement on the part of the city authorities and the citizens to make and keep the streets, gutters and sidewalks clean. The impression formed by visitors to St. John as they go about the city cannot be flattering to the good taste and general orderliness of the people. There is rubbish on all sides. The work that is done by the street cleaning department is rendered of no account by the careless habits of householders and others, who throw or sweep rubbish into the gutters to be blown about the streets.

MAY SPEAK IN ST. JOHN

At the last meeting of the executive of the Canadian Club of this city the question of inviting Mr. Saint N. Sing, a Hindu for who has addressed a large number of Canadian Clubs between Toronto and Victoria, to address the club here, was considered and the secretary was authorized to get further information. The Toronto Globe recently published a long article by Mr. Sing, on the present state of affairs in India. The following paragraph from the Winnipeg Free Press will therefore be of local interest:—

"Mr. Saint N. Sing, the native Hindu, who passed through Winnipeg last year and addressed the Canadian Club, is still on the 'trot' around the world. At the present time he is in Chicago, and in a little brochure issued regarding him, he is described as a 'journalist, lecturer, author, globe-girder, and literary tramp.' Writing to a member of the Free Press staff he says that his tour over Canada last fall was a complete success, and he intends starting from Halifax early in September next, and will lecture through-out Canada, ending at Victoria. He speaks of India as now being in the 'throes of a revolution.'"

AN "ALL RED" CABLE

The question of an imperial cable system, so long advocated by Sir Sandford Fleming, has again been brought to the front by the Ottawa board of trade. A deputation from the Ottawa board, including Sir Sandford Fleming, waited upon the governor general last Friday with a memorandum embodying their ideas of the advantages of an imperial system of cables, and asking him to bring to the attention of the various governments in the empire the scheme proposed. The memorial pointed out, says the Journal, that in May the board of trade had placed upon record its approval of a system of inter-recorded telegraph lines, now talked of as the "All-red" scheme, now talked of as the "All-red" scheme, now talked of as the "All-red" scheme.

ing Sir Sandford Fleming, waited upon the governor general last Friday with a memorandum embodying their ideas of the advantages of an imperial system of cables, and asking him to bring to the attention of the various governments in the empire the scheme proposed. The memorial pointed out, says the Journal, that in May the board of trade had placed upon record its approval of a system of inter-recorded telegraph lines, now talked of as the "All-red" scheme, now talked of as the "All-red" scheme, now talked of as the "All-red" scheme.

The Journal points out that "Sir Sandford Fleming has for years devoted considerable time to the collection of material showing the value of such a system of communication between the different parts of the empire, and already the state-aided cable between Canada and Australia is in operation—largely as a result of his continued agitation." Earl Grey, in reply to the deputation, paid a high tribute to Sir Sandford for his efforts to secure an inter-imperial cable service, and complimented the Ottawa board on its "far-seeing imperialism." He promised to forward the memorial to the colonial office, to be sent thence to all parts of the empire, and expressed the hope that the establishment of such a service would not be many years delayed. He had himself gone to England largely to support Sir Wilfrid Laurier in an endeavor to impress upon the British government the necessity of a fast trans-Atlantic steamship service, and he was glad that through Sir Wilfrid's representations, the colonial government had agreed that the time was ripe for this. Regarding an "All-red" cable system, he was sure that the sympathetic impulses of every Britisher would be with the proposal to adopt it.

The Winnipeg Commercial estimates this year's wheat crop in the west at 120,000,000 bushels, and says this is a conservative estimate. Commenting on this statement the Toronto News observes:—"The Canadian financial world, should be encouraged by The News' despatch from the west today giving the Winnipeg Commercial's estimate of this year's wheat crop prospects in the three western provinces. As last year's total yield west of the Great Lakes was only 92,000,000 bushels, the Commercial's forecast of 120,000,000 bushels seems optimistic—especially in view of the late planting and the bad weather experienced early in the season. Apparently the increased acreage in the two new provinces more than offsets any possible shortage in Manitoba. The tone of the news from Winnipeg is wholly cheerful."

The latest word from MacKenzie and Mann, brought by Hon. Dr. Pugsley yesterday, is that they want the grade of the St. John Valley Railroad so nearly level as to enable them to haul with ease the heaviest trains of a transcontinental system over this section of their line. The statement is an evidence of good faith, and an assurance that they mean business.

We have it now on the authority of an alderman that there is little or no hope of completing the new 600-foot berth for next winter's business. At least, we might try. What are St. John business men thinking about?

If steamships will not otherwise regard the request not to dump ashes in the harbor the city must have the ash compartments sealed up while the vessels are in port.

The citizen soldiers who disgraced themselves at Rotheray yesterday should be stripped of their uniforms and sent to jail for a few months.

The aldermen have been given fair warning. More dredging must be done at the Sand Point berth—and it must be done in time.

DON'TS

Don't be fooled by the boasted self-martyrdom which wears its life just like the buffalo does his hide—with the rough side turned to the weather. The very moment you put your soul into your work that moment you dignify it—whether it be to carry the load or to paint a picture of the rarest beauty. A man had better die poor if his hoarded wealth comes by piracy and pillage, even though it be under the guise of progress and the commerce of the age.

Your dearest friend may utterly destroy your aim if perchance he touches your bowstring when the arrow is on the feather. It is a crucial moment. And there are definite moments when every man must act solitary and alone. Conscious at one-time, that the sublimest reach of peace. For this the whole world is sighing. After all the poet's dreaming, heaven is no more than a perfect adjustment to our surroundings. And for that very reason our highest heaven may be right here—and for the very same reason, our deepest hell.

SUMMER MORNING

"Tis sweet to meet the morning breeze, Or list the gurgling of the brook; Or, stretched beneath the shade of trees, Peruse and pause on nature's book.

When nature every sweet prepares To entertain our wished delay, The images which morning wears, The waking up of every day.

Now let me tread the meadow paths, Where glittering dew the ground illumines, As sprinkled o'er the withering swaths, Their moisture shrinks in sweet perfume.

And hear the beetle sound his horn, And hear the skylark whistling high, Sprung from his bed of tufted corn, And sweetly dancing on the air.

First sunbeams calling night away To show sweet dawn's summer beams, Spill by the willow's wavy gray, And sweetly dancing on the air.

How fine the spider's web is spun, Unnoticed to vulgar eyes; Its silk threads glittering in the sun Art's bungling vanity defies.

Roaming while the dewy fields Breathe their morning burden lean, While I creep my searches shields, Sweet I scent the blossomed bean.

Making oft remarking stops; Watching my rambling things Climb the grass's spiky tops, Ere they fly by gray wings.

So emerging into light, From the ignorant and vain, Parting gentle shades of night, Skimming o'er the lowly plain.

"But don't you pay any attention to its finish?" asked the salesman, who had been showing the upholstery and brass trimmings.

"Oh, no. All of my automobiles generally finish up in a tree or in a haystack." —Chicago Daily News.

A bluejacket three sheets in the wind was creating a big disturbance on shore, and it was only after the sixth policeman had arrived on the scene that he was overpowered and handcuffed—the six after-wards laughing him on board his ship. Saluting the officer of the watch as best he could, he reported:

"Brought ashore three men, 'board, sir.'" "You mean they brought you on board."

"Beg to differ, sir. I brought them, sir—I abandoned them, sir!" —Illustrated Bits.

IDLE MRS. GILES. "Your young wife appears to be rather blue," ventured the country doctor to Farmer Giles.

"Yaas," drawled the old farmer with the bunch of rabbit-skins under his arm, "she is one of those city buns and I am afraid she hasn't enough to occupy her mind."

"Think not?" "Waal, no. After she has milked ten cows before breakfast and cooked breakfast for the ploughmen and fed the pigs and chickens and started washing and put dinner on and put up preserves and shelled a bushel of peas and done some ironing and put supper on and done some darning and patching for the household and peeled a couple of pounds of apples for tomorrow's dinner, why, she hasn't anything more to do until bed time. I think I'll turn her how to make our own oilcloth for the cows, so her mind will be more occupied. Yes, sir, the only way to keep a wife smiling and happy is to keep her mind occupied." —Tit-Bits.

THE CANADIAN BANK STATEMENT

The statement of the chartered banks of Canada for the month of May, just issued, gives some interesting details. The statement serves to indicate that the banks are reducing their loans and strengthening their cash reserves, but when comparison is made, the greater part of the revision of the assets of the Sovereign Bank, the decrease in current loans from April 30 being largely explained by that revision. The statement shows that deposits increased about $6,500,000 for the month, the total now being $466,077,000. A year ago the total was $278,876,000, so that the increase in that period is over $187,200,000. Total discounts aggregate $610,110,000, or a decrease of $4,982,000 for the month, the greater portion of this decrease being in the accounts outside Canada. A year ago the total discounts were $527,000,000, so that the increase for the year is $83,000,000. Call loans in Canada decreased $470,880 last month, while this class of loans made by our banks outside Canada increased $3,851,000 last month. Circulation is now $70,741,000, as against $72,840,000 in April and $64,217,000 in May of last year.

BOND RATES IN CANADA

The conditions of the Canadian money market is indicated by some recent sales of municipal bonds. Brandon has just disposed of $20,000 of 4 1/2 per cent debentures at 92.77, the yield being 5 per cent. The Sovereign Life Insurance Company took this issue. The city of Hamilton has disposed of $197,000 of 4 per cent bonds at 91 to Wood, Gundy & Co. The rest of the city's proposed issue is held back for more favorable conditions. Peel county offers for sale $100,000 of 4 per cent thirty-year gold bonds, and York township will up to June 25 receive tenders for $25,000 4 1/2 per cent thirty-year school debentures.

Mrs. G. E. Black, who was Miss Mand Blanche Bell, has resigned her position as bookkeeper in the Royal Hotel, which she has filled with much acceptance, and will leave on Monday morning next to join her husband, who is engaged in the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway work on the Ed-wardston place section. They will make their home for the present at Cabano.

The engagement of Miss Winifred W. Flaglor, daughter of J. S. Flaglor, of the post office staff, and Robert Edgar Hills, a prominent resident of West Newton (Mass.), where Miss Flaglor has been for some time a trained nurse, is announced.

JUDGE LANDRY'S DECISION SENDS CASE TO NEXT TERM

His Decision Practically Amounts to an Acquiescence With the Wishes of the Crown Counsel--Defendant is Released on Bail.

Fredrickton, June 25.—Judge Landry this evening rendered his decision in the Crockett-Emmerson suit upon the motions pending, declaring to grant the crown's application for a postponement until the January circuit, but denying Mr. Hazen's application to dismiss the indictment and compelling the defendant to enter into recognizance in the sum of $300 for his appearance for trial at a future term of the court.

Mr. Hazen moved for the discharge of the accused, but the judge stated that it would not be dealing fairly with the crown to grant the application. He refused to interfere with the indictment and held Mr. Crockett in his own recognizance. The failure of the court to dismiss the indictment seemed to be very disappointing to Mr. Crockett and his counsel. The full text of his honor's judgment was as follows:

"To decide this application I feel the necessity of reciting some of the facts that my reasons may be better understood. The defendant is charged with having published a defamatory libel. The words published that are said to be defamatory are: 'Reserve any question of law arising either on the trial or any of the proceedings preliminary, subsequent or incidental, or arising out of the direction of the judge,' etc.

There is authority to show that in such cases the matter is treated as though it arose 'during the trial.' In my opinion, then, the right of the crown to get a postponement of the trial remains the same as though no reserved case existed, leaving aside therefore the consideration of the reserved point no case has been made by the crown for a postponement. Hence I must refuse it.

I do not think I am called upon to note or consider in the application what the representative of the crown said on Friday last, viz., that the crown would not go on with the trial till the decision I had given was reversed. If the meaning of that declaration was that the crown would be able to convince me that it had sufficient reasons for asking and obtaining the postponement, it has far failed to present those reasons. If the declaration meant that the crown had means to postpone the trial until an order for that purpose from the presiding judge, then leave it to the crown to exercise those means or to go on to trial. In the mean time the defendant remains as far as the crown is concerned ready for trial and demanding from me disposition of it.

From what was said by the counsel for the defendant on Friday last I presume that my learned friend, Mr. Hazen, will now ask for the discharge of the defendant. The question now is to discharge the defendant from the indictment, and afterwards another grand jury should be sworn to try the case. It would be to find an indictment against him for the same libel my own opinion would be that he could plead that he was previously acquitted and that matter was res judicata.

To show your honor how impossible it would be for the crown to accede to the discharge of the defendant it is only necessary to point out that there has really been no trial upon the questions of fact. It must not be lost sight of that Mr. Emmerson by his replication denies absolutely the allegations set up in the defendant's plea of justification. The issue thus joined has yet to be tried. The demurrer and the legal phases of the case have been fully discussed before you and decided, and the questions involved in your decision have been reserved by you for the opinion of the full court.

As stated by Dr. Pugsley on Friday last the crown is not ready to go on at this time, and desires to have the questions reserved to be tried by the full court. It is to be noted that it should be called upon to try out the issues of fact raised by the plea and replication. The indictment can only be disposed of absolutely by trial or by the entering of a nolle prosequi by the crown.

is quashed, though the full court may not agree with such a conclusion. To give such a decision may work a hardship on the crown and though no reason had been presented why the case should stand, yet at the same time he could not close his eyes to what had occurred in the case and looking at the matter in this light and the point raised by the demurrer which raised an important point and upon which the full court would be asked to pass upon, he did not feel like taking the responsibility of dismissing the indictment. In view of this he would express no other opinion than that he would give no decision on the indictment whatever and that it would have to stand on its own merits.

He refused the postponement and the indictment must look after itself. This being the conclusion he had reached he would ask Mr. Crockett to give his own recognizance to the amount of $300 to appear at any circuit he may be called upon to answer the indictment.

Mr. Hazen—I think your honor that such a recognizance very indefinite as an indictment may be held over for the rest of his life. I think probably at another circuit if the indictment was not proceeded with the judge then presiding would take into consideration the question as to whether or not the recognizance should any longer hold.

Mr. Hazen—If the recognizance was made with the condition that Mr. Crockett appears at the next circuit in January next it would be sufficient.

Judge—I think that you are probably right and I will ask that the recognizance be drawn in that way, the circuit judge shall deal with the matter.

Mr. Hazen—Mr. Crockett will enter into this recognizance at once.

On Mr. Hazen's request Mr. Crockett stepped forward and entered into the recognizance in the above named conditions.

The court then adjourned and the indictment goes over until next January. In the meantime it is expected that the reserved point will be argued before the full bench.

BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND SUFFER FROM HEAT WAVE

Cambridge and Somerville Schools Closed and Factories Shut Down --Two Deaths and Many Prostrations.

Boston, Mass., June 25.—Death and extreme discomfort throughout Massachusetts and northern New England attended the eighth day of the present severe hot wave. Today was not the hottest of the season, but the most uncomfortable with the humidity at 87, seventeen degrees above normal. The river valleys of New Hampshire and southwestern Maine received temporary relief from the oppressiveness tonight by severe thunder storms which, however, brought death and destruction in their track.

At least two deaths and probably another fatality, with about two score prostrations were charged to the heat today. Edward S. Hathaway, of Lynn, one of the Mystic Shriners who participated in yesterday's big parade in Boston, fell victim to the heat today following his sufferings from yesterday's exposure to the sun.

In Berwick, Maine, Mrs. Herbert W. Johnson, formerly of Arlington (Mass.), was struck by lightning and instantly killed, while Henry Charette, of Somerville, N. H., was hurled from his wagon east by a lightning bolt and physicians said his chances for recovery were slight.

Boston had the most marked distinction for being the hottest place on Uncle Sam's weather map, with a temperature in the middle of the afternoon of 91. While the degree lower than the best previous temperature of this present hot wave and seven degrees below the record-breaking June temperature of 1901, the humidity, coupled with the severe strain of the past eight days upon the public health, caused many prostrations. At midnight fully 25 prostrations had been reported to the police.

So intense was the discomfort that in Cambridge and Somerville the schools were closed and in Boston and large and manufacturing establishments throughout northern New England and Massachusetts factories were closed down for half a day.

DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE BETWEEN SPAIN AND FRANCE Will Take Common Action If Their Possessions Are Threatened.

Paris, June 25.—The official text of the French-Spanish understanding was published today. It declares that each government is firmly resolved to maintain intact its insular and maritime possessions in the Mediterranean and Atlantic, and binds each country in the event of circumstances arising which threaten to modify the status quo to consult the other with the view of 'common action.' The latter is the most important provision, amounting practically to a military convention for the mutual guarantee of their possessions.

In a note for transmittal to the powers, each country distinctly points out that the agreement was made in the interest of peace, as the status quo cannot be modified without prejudicing the vital interests of the signatories. The declarations contained in the agreement were exchanged May 18.

ONTARIO MINISTERS TO BE EXPELLED

London, Ont., June 25.—The Baptist council, which has been hearing the charges preferred against Rev. W. M. Coulman, formerly of St. Catharines, decided to publicly expel Mr. Coulman from the ministry. The accused was summoned to offer a defence but failed to do so.

SUCCESSFUL EXERCISES

Pupils of New Brunswick School for Deaf Held Annual Closing Exercises Yesterday.

The closing exercises of the New Brunswick School for the Deaf, were held in the Opera House yesterday afternoon and were attended by an interested gathering. Mayor Sears presided, and G. W. Hansell, principal of the school, conducted the demonstration.

During the school year the following pupils have attained the highest averages in the different classes:

In Grade IV, that of the youngest pupils, Oswald Crawford, of Newcastle Creek, Queens county, was the leader, with an average of 92 per cent. Mr. Hansell is the instructor in this grade.

In Grade II, Sarah Leaman, of Clint Hill, Albert county, leads, with an average of 94 per cent. Miss Lamont, instructor.

In Grade I, Robert Sowerby, of Shediac, leads, with an average of 90 per cent. Miss Prince, instructor.

The pupils and teachers are now leaving for their homes to enjoy a vacation until the resumption of work on Sept. 20. No change will take place in the school staff. During the past year thirty-eight pupils have been in attendance, twenty-one of whom are girls and seventeen boys. Principal Hansell will leave today for Montreal to take steamer for his home in Scotland.

The schooner Hattie C. Capt. Kitz, which brought a cargo of sulphur here from Peru (Peru), and landed it at the Miramichi Mills cleared yesterday for Windsor (N. B.), to load lumber for Miramichi.

CHARLES M. SCHWAB DROVE MAIL CART
But in Less Than 25 Years Was Worth Nearly $40,000,000.

Probably no man has made his way to colossal wealth more rapidly than Charles M. Schwab, the American "steel king," who is said to be weary of extravagant living and to be anxious to sell his $3,500,000 worth of American Steel Company stock. Only 25 years ago this man of many talents was driving the mail cart between Carson and Loretto and filling in his spare hours by working on neighboring farms. A little later he was selling sugar and tea over a grocery counter in Bradford. From the point his advancement towards wealth was so meteoric that a year before he emerged from the thirties he was recipient of a salary of $300,000 a year, and three years later we find him superintendent of the Homestead Works on a British cabinet minister's income. TO GO TO NORTHFIELD
A number of St. John men who were students at the Maritime province colleges, left today by steamer Governor Cobb en route to Northfield, Mass., where they will attend as delegates the annual convention of the college students' Y. M. C. A. Those to go from here are Ralph Hayes, son of R. P. Hayes, Douglas avenue, who will be one of Mount Allison's representatives; Willard F. McIntyre, son of Rev. Dr. W. E. McIntyre, of Main street, who is one of the delegates from Acadia University, Wolfville; and Stanley Smith, who also will be a delegate from Mount Allison. They will be joined at Northfield by other delegates from the Northfield gathering.

The conference will open on Friday next and will continue for one day. It is made up of representatives of the students of colleges of all eastern Canada and the eastern States, and there will be some noted speakers there.

NATURALLY. He-Do you always take your dog with you when you go driving? She-No; only when I go in the dog cart.

HER CHANCE. Mr. Shyboy (out horseback riding)-Shall we take the bridal path? Miss Ouldin-Oh my! Mr. Shyboy; this is so sudden!

NOW THEY DON'T SPEAK. Miss Antique-I'll never marry a man who is a coward! Mrs. Jinks (at breakfast)-That is a new health food. Mrs. Jinks-No; the man who marries you will be a coward-he'll be in here.

NOT AN EXPERIMENT. AN ESTABLISHED AND ADMITTED FACT. 3,000,000 USERS PRAISE IT.

BASE BALL

The disagreeable weather of last evening did not keep away the enthusiasts from attending the game on the Shannon grounds between the St. John's and St. Peter's.

St. Peter's battery was switched about how catching and Rogers pitching, and they did good work. Downey was on the star for St. John's and pitched excellent ball.

On the Victoria grounds last evening the ball game in the Amateur League series between the Marathons and Clippers proved a defeat for the first mentioned team.

At New York-Boston, St. New York, 6; Pittsburgh-First game-Bronx, 11; Philadelphia, 2; Second game-Philadelphia, 8; Brooklyn, 2.

At Boston-New York, St. Boston, 2; At St. Louis-First game-St. Louis, 4; Second game-St. Louis, 10; 0-2-6.

run and pulled off sensational fielding stunts until the visitors were as dizzy as a drunken sailor on a merry-go-round.

The following gem is particularly choice: "Brown had not met the travelling man from Johnsville, and a moment of joyous anticipation panned up a nice easy breaking out. Bostonian Buck glued his eye on the approaching ball and hawked back with the intention of paralyzing it.

matic type. Recently the plant, which has been held under lease, was purchased outright by the Ford Motor Company for considerably more than $200,000.

Its location is about four miles from the Ford Motor Company's plant which caused much inconvenience in the transportation of parts to the assembling factory. It now becomes a part of the Ford Motor Company, and will be conducted to the improvement and perfection of the product, inasmuch as Mr. Ford will now be able to supervise the making of every part and follow the progress of the material at through every stage to the completion of the car.

Jack Pugsley is the local agent for the Ford machines.

Lamb Cutlets—Chop fine a little steak, mix it with bread crumbs, add salt, pepper and a little chopped parsley and herbs to suit the taste; mix with a beaten egg. Scoop out the center of six or eight tomatoes, fill with the mixture, arrange them closely in a pan, put a small piece of butter on each and bake. Wash dry and peel a pile of mushrooms, put them into another pan with two tablespoonsful of butter mixed with a teaspoonful of flour. Add salt, pepper and a little water and stew for about ten minutes. Trim the cutlets, rub each over with butter and bake. When done arrange them standing up in the middle of a dish with the tomatoes and mushrooms around them. Pour the sauce from the tomatoes and the mushrooms together and serve it with the lamb as sauce. Serve hot.

A variation of the bell hat was noted in Sherry's the other day. It was a black chip and set quite well back on the head, as are all the bell hats. But instead of a straight brim, it was punched down sharply in the center front, giving an entirely new outline. The crown of this hat was of black spotted net, over a black India silk and the only decorations a beautiful pink rose set to the left and a little pink.

WITHOUT YOUR MAN

Abner Wilson slipped out of bed, and dressed in the semi-darkness of the early spring dawn. Without looking at the little clock on the shelf, he knew it was a few minutes till five. Habin, born of a traditional custom, had taught him to arise at that hour. He tapped lightly on his wife's door and hurried down to the kitchen to start the breakfast fire.

It had always been a delightful thing to him to be bathed from hat to boots in the cool fragrance of the early morning. The hawking of the calves in the lot, the squealing of the pigs from the sty, and the huggy nickering of the horses as they bugged their heads over the stanchions when he opened the feedbox had been music in his ear.

On this morning it all seemed a mockery. The cries of his beloved beings were heard in a discord that nagged his ear. It was all because Mary was going away—going to leave the ranch and return to the city.

"I'm going back to Ohio on a visit. I have not seen my folks for four years." "No, he can't leave now. But I can't stay here any longer, even though I have to leave him for a while."

PROPER CARE WAS NOT TAKEN

This is the Verdict of the Coroner's Jury on Michael Gillen's Death.

"While we deplore the sad accident and the loss to the family, connections and friends of deceased, from the disposition of those engaged on the structure, testimony in the hands of Coroner Berryman—before whom inquest has been carefully held—

"We find that the workmen engaged on the vault door did not take the proper precautions to keep the blocking up to the brick work, causing the accident and death of said Michael Gillen."

The first session of the inquest into the death of Michael Gillen, who was crushed by the door of a vault while at work on the new Royal Bank building on June 8, 9, 10 and 11 last night, when the following verdict was returned by the jury, R. B. Tennant, foreman:

"The coroner next addressed the jury. He reviewed the evidence and said that the gross negligence existed in their duty to bring in a verdict to that effect. He reviewed the evidence and said that the gross negligence existed in their duty to bring in a verdict to that effect.

Tut! Tut!! Mother!!!

Don't slave all your life! There's no need to bake bread, especially in the hot summer-time.

Scotch Zest Bread is baked to save you: it's moist and nice, good flavored, and a real pleasure at meal-time.

Lots of mothers bless the day Scottie started baking it in St. John and will have no other bread.

Long life to you, mother! and less work, if you feed the family on Scotch Zest Bread.

THE BALMORAL AFFAIR

Dalhousie, June 24. To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—As I have been a subscriber of your paper since its first issue, and as I am one of the conscripts who is connected with the Balmoral shooting affray, I would ask you for a little space in your paper.

On June 13 or 14 your paper prints an account stating that two or three bullets were found in the region of the man's heart.

The post mortem showed only one bullet there.

We did not go to Balmoral to kill anyone.

We are officers of the law and have to do our duty; if we refuse to act we are liable to a fine. We were given a warrant to arrest these men, who are wild and have before defied arrest.

A day or two previous to this affair they held up the team of Charles Doyle, and attempted to do him injury; this is no more or less than the act of a highwayman.

We went to arrest them; they resisted. The revolver was not discharged at Fontaine, it went off accidentally while Officer Sealey was struggling with Fontaine, and another man on the ground. The shot caused Fontaine's death.

Whoever writes from here to the St. John Telegraph is clearly favoring one side, viz: Fontaine's, as anything given to make our case clear is not published at all.

La Presse, of Montreal (printed in French), is printing some very damaging statements, and on June 17th states that we were two Protestant men and murdered a Roman Catholic, and goes on to state several things concerning race and creed. This inciting and exciting the French element against us.

This thing is being carried on mainly through glaring reports of some papers, and by troublesome people who wish to make it a race cry, with religion dragged in if possible.

I do not ask you to print my letter, but I wish you would kindly give this matter your consideration and deal on the subject a little, pointing out the absurdity of anyone making this a question of race and creed.

Yours truly, WM. GALLOP.

WEDDINGS

Codner—Morrow The wedding takes place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride, Kennebec Island, of Miss Ebel Morrow and Walter Codner, son of Henry Codner, of Millville. Rev. Mr. Young will perform the ceremony.

Reed—Colwell

The numerous friends of Miss Wilmina Colwell have been looking forward with interest to her marriage to Rev. P. C. Reed, which will be quietly solemnized at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon at her home 89 Paradise row, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. W. W. McMaster, of German street Baptist church, and the bride, who will be given away by her father, W. H. Colwell, will wear an elaborate costume of blue-embroidered white silk, and will be attended by her cousin, Miss Jeanette R. Brittain, of Annapolis, N. S., who will be given away by a very dainty creation of blue voile.

The bride's little niece, Miss Berta D. Colwell, of Halifax, who is the daughter of the groom, will wear white Swiss muslin with trimmings of lace, and will carry a shower bouquet of sweet peas.

The groomsmen will be Rev. F. S. Porter of Fredericton.

The house has been tastefully decorated with flowers and potted plants, and the bride will stand under an arch of chaisies.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, luncheon will be served, after which the newly wedded couple will leave by the 6.40 train for a tour of Nova Scotia.

After August 1st the bride will be at home in Toledo, Ohio.

Among the numerous wedding gifts is a unique message from the bride's sister in Honolulu, which consists of an excellent representation, on oriental paper, of Mount Fuji-Yama, and expresses the wish that the bride's happiness may be as the snow on the mountain peak just referred to. Another present worthy of note is a beautiful table cover from Hong Kong, China.

While the bride's many friends will regret her removal from St. John, they unite in wishing her every joy in wedded life.

Cummings—Morrow

St. Peter's church was the scene of a pretty wedding at 6 o'clock this morning when Miss Agnes J. Morrow became the wife of John A. Cummings. Rev. E. Scully performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Florence A. Shannon, Kathleen Carey and Gertrude Connolly, who were maids of honor. The bride wore white organza trimmed with Irish point lace with hat to match.

The bride and bridesmaid carried white paper books, the gift of the groom. At the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. The popularity of the young couple was shown by the numerous and handsome presents they received, among them being a substantial cheque from the groom's father, the bride's brother, who is in Hartford, Ct. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings will reside on Douglas Avenue.

Boggs—Haley

The wedding of Theodore H. Boggs, son of Dr. W. B. Boggs, a missionary in India, to Miss Muriel Haley, daughter of R. G. Haley of this city, took place in St. Luke's church at 6 o'clock this morning. Rev. W. W. McMaster performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were unattended. The bride's costume was of grey cloth with hat of corresponding colors.

Mr. and Mrs. Boggs accompanied by other members of the groom's family left on the steamer Prince Rupert for Digby.

Dr. Boggs who has been in India for the past thirty years, plans a family gathering at Bedford Basin and all the members of the family will be together again for the first time in many years. They will be the summer months in Halifax. The groom is a student at Yale University, and will receive Ph. D. next year. The couple will reside in New Haven, Conn.

Among those present at the ceremony were Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Boggs, Albert Boggs, brother of the groom; Evangelina Boggs of the Northfield Seminary, sister, and Miss Moir of Halifax.

Belyea—McKenzie

A very quiet but pretty nuptial event took place at 6 o'clock this morning in the rectory of St. Luke's church when Rev. R. P. McKim united in marriage Hilton Arthur Belyea the well known stater and carman of the west side and Miss Minnie Gard McKenzie, daughter of Kenneth McKenzie, of Simonds street.

Miss Ida Belyea was bridesmaid and St. Sulpician supported the groom.

The happy couple left on the steamer Prince Rupert for a trip through Nova Scotia and on their return will take up their residence on the west side. Both bride and groom are very popular and many handsome gifts testified to the esteem in which they are held.

Flewelling—Puddington

All Saints' church, Clifton, was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening when Miss Celia Puddington was married to Alexander H. Flewelling, son of J. H. Flewelling, proprietor of the winter Half-way House at Reed's Point, Kings county. The bride is a daughter of Norman Puddington.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. H. S. Wainwright, the happy couple were given a charivari at the home of the bride's father, after which they drove to the groom's new home at Reed's Point, where the residents will give them a charivari this evening.

Numerous wedding gifts attest the popularity of the happy couple.

Crocker—McKee

FREDERICTON, June 26—(Special)—The residence of Hamilton McKee was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon when his eldest daughter Miss Mabel Beatrice, was joined in matrimony to Dr. J. Berton Crocker, surgeon dentist of this city, formerly of Millerton, Northumberland Co. Rev. Willard McDonald performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives and immediate friends. There was no bridesmaid or groomsmen, but Miss Maude McKee, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bride wore ivory satin lace over a dress with orange blossoms and tulle veil and the maid of honor was costumed in silk voile over taffeta of Copenhagen blue.
