British Drive On North of Ginchy

French Beat Back Enemy Seeking to Recover Territory Recently Captured By Foch's Army

London, Sept. 14.—The British have made further progress on the Somme front north of Ginchy, it was announced officially today.

"The general situation is unchanged," says the statement. South of the Ancre there were the usual artillery bombardments on both sides, heavy artillery being particularly active in the neighborhood of the Pozieres windmill and south of Thiepval.

"Some further progress has been made by our north of Ginchy. In the neighborhood of Souchez we carried out a successful raid last night, taking some prisoners."

GERMANS REPULSED. Paris, Sept. 14.—The Germans made vigorous efforts last night to drive the French from territory occupied recently on the Somme and Verdun fronts. The War Office today announced the repulse of several assaults north and south of the Somme and east of the Meuse at Vaux-Chapelle Wood.

RUSSIAN REPORT. Petrograd, Sept. 14.—On the western (Russian and Galician) front the situation is unchanged, says today's announcement from the war office.

"On the Caucasian front, in the region west of the River Falp-lanchi, our detachments captured camels and cattle from the enemy."

FRENCH SPEED TAKES ENEMY BY SURPRISE. Paris, Sept. 14.—The speed of the French advance in Tuesday's battle on the Somme front took the Germans completely by surprise according to a description of the fighting given by an eyewitness. He said:

"The attack began at 12.30 p. m. in perfect order. The officers had difficulty holding their men, some of whom started even before the appointed time. In a few minutes the first objective was carried and at 12.35 came the news that the Berlin trench was already occupied. Then steadily came information of further gains and the observers saw a stream of surrendering Germans running toward the French lines."

"Many of the Germans who surrendered were hit by the curtain fire of their own artillery. Most of them were troops who had recently arrived from the Verdun front. The prisoners declared that, though they expected the attack, the rapidly with which it was delivered took them by surprise."

GERMAN PRINCES IN COMMANDS ON WEST. Berlin, Sept. 14.—Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria has now assumed the over-command of the German armies on the Somme front. He is intrusted with the general direction of operations against the Anglo-French offensive.

Von Hindenburg's new order divides the western front into three sectors and assigns these to three princely commanders who, regardless of reasons of policy which dictated their appointment to command of armies at the beginning of the war have won their spurs by the successful conduct of operations.

Duke Albrecht, prospective heir to the Kingdom of Wurttemberg, is in command of the northern sector. He is in the first great defeat on the French in the dash northward through Belgium. Crown Prince Rupprecht was the victor in the battle in Lorraine in 1914. The German crown prince has the over-command in the Verdun sector.

IS NOT MISSING. Information has reached the Times from a reliable source that the whereabouts of William Hozen, of Mount Pleasant avenue, East St. John, who has been reported missing since September 4, is known to members of his family, and that there had been some home trouble.

LESS THIS WEEK. The St. John bank clearing for the week ending today were $1,228,822; corresponding week last year, $1,374,801.

MASSACRE BY TURKS IN KAVALA

Report That 200,000 Germans and 100,000 Austrians Are to Be Sent There; Serbs and Bulgars Fighting

Bashibazuks Pillage and Slay When Garrison Leaves THE CITY IN A PANIC

Bulgarians Drop Bombs and Kill Nine Persons—American Lives as Well as Property in Danger

Paris, Sept. 14.—The Greek port of Kavala was pillaged and civilians massacred by Turkish Bashibazuks on the withdrawal of the Greek garrison, according to a Saloniki dispatch to the Havas Agency. The dispatch says that the Bulgarians sent an ultimatum to Col. Christopoulos, commander of the garrison, on the night of Sept. 10. Col. Christopoulos then left with 1,500 men for Thessalonica.

A terrible panic occurred in the city when the garrison withdrew. The Bashibazuks entered and, after breaking open the prisons, indulged in an orgy of pillage and slaughter. All who could, fled before the invaders.

The Bulgarians are now camped at Calderon and Kuchissorman. Bulgarian aeroplanes flew over Kavala on Tuesday and dropped bombs which killed nine persons.

Athena, Sept. 18.—The British legation today informed Garrett Droggers, American minister, that the Greeks have surrendered to the Bulgarians the last of the forts defending the seaport of Kavala. Several of the forts were occupied some time ago by the Bulgarians. The Entente Allies have removed 1,500 Greek soldiers to Thessalonica.

Rioting at Kavala is reported and it is said that houses and shops have been pillaged. Some Americans are endangered as is property of American loan bonds. The amount of more than $2,000,000. No ships are permitted to remain in the harbor.

ST. JOHN PURSES OPENED TO LEND COUNTRY MONEY

Local Subscriptions to War Loans Already Large—Some Phases

That there is plenty of money in St. John awaiting a favorable opportunity for investment is demonstrated by the applications for the new government war loan bonds. When the first loan was offered it is estimated that the total subscriptions totalled about $750,000.

The lists for the present loan have been open only two days, but it is believed that this mark has been very early reached already. As all the banks, brokers and bond houses are handling applications, it is a task to get definite figures, but the estimates made by those interested agree fairly well.

It is taken for granted that the new loan will be oversubscribed. The first loan offered was $600,000, and applications were received for twice that amount. The second loan, which was placed the $750,000 loan in New York, the fifteen year bonds were oversubscribed to such an extent that the total subscriptions received only from ten to twenty per cent of the amount of their application. These bonds, which sold at less than 95 are now quoted at about par.

The experience of the previous issues has tended to make the new loan even more attractive than ever to investors. The high rate of interest, which is a term and the prospect of an advance in selling value, all tend to help in this direction, and those who held off before because they were unfamiliar with such issues, or for similar reasons, are more inclined to produce their money this time.

The government loans have been popular with the small investor who seldom has had an opportunity to get such a good investment, and before the lists were open with the new loan. While the brokers find their applications running more to large amounts this time, the banks report many withdrawals from savings accounts for the purpose of taking up a moderate subscription to the loan. One feature which militates against the smaller investor this time is the fact that the payments must be completed within three months, while last time five months' limit was allowed.

There have been some very substantial individual subscriptions from the weather citizens, but the brokers have also been surprised by the use of the applications received from persons supposed to be in very moderate circumstances, an indication of how much more money there may be in St. John than appears on the surface.

One of the brokers received a report from his head office that, before the terms of the issue had been definitely announced, and before the lists were open, they had received applications for many times the total amount they had handled for the previous loan.

Subscriptions from the United States are likely to be prominent in this issue. It is known that some very large applications have been received from across the line, and the same is noticeable in Boston, New York and Chicago also seem eager for a share in the new issue.

ENEMY EFFORT TO STEM TIDE IN THE BALKANS

Report That 200,000 Germans and 100,000 Austrians Are to Be Sent There; Serbs and Bulgars Fighting

London, Sept. 14.—A wireless press despatch from Rome says that at the general council of the Central Powers at the headquarters of the German Emperor, an offensive campaign in the Balkans was mapped out, and that Germany will send 200,000 men and Austria 100,000 for this purpose.

SERBS AND BULGARS IN BATTLE. Paris, Sept. 14.—Serbians and Bulgarians are engaged in violent fighting on the Macedonian front. The war office announced today that the Serbians had captured Bulgarian trenches near Vetrinac and a height northwest of Lake Ostrovno. An engagement south of the lake is turning in favor of the allies.

BRITISH REPORT. London, Sept. 14.—3.40 p.m.—There has been considerable activity on both our Struma and our Dobran fronts, says the official report of today in regard to the Macedonian campaign.

Our patrols have been active on the east bank of the Struma. ROUMANIANS HOLD THEIR OWN. Petrograd, Sept. 14.—Roumanian troops have repulsed a series of attacks by the Germans and Bulgarians in Dobruja.

In the region of Silistria, on the right bank of the Danube, fighting is still proceeding. The Roumanians repulsed a series of attacks by Germano-Bulgarian troops and captured eight light guns. Must Have Free Hand.

Athena, Sept. 18.—M. Dimitracopolis has asked King Constantine to allow him forty-eight hours in which to consult his friends before deciding as to whether he will undertake the formation of a new cabinet. The former minister of justice also wishes to sound the minister of the interior before reaching a decision.

M. Dimitracopolis is known to have declared that his acceptance of the premiership will be made only on the basis that he be given full power to control the national policy. He will insist that he must be free to take whatever steps the present crisis calls for, even to the entry of Greece into the war.

WHY ZAIMIS RESIGNED. Athens, via London, Sept. 14.—Every effort to persuade Alexander Zaimis, the aged premier, to remain in office was fruitless. His pride was wounded by the appearance of the Allied fleet off Greece at the very moment when negotiations had begun for the entry of Greece into the war. The arrest of Austrians and Germans in Athens by the French legation by ruffians who fired shots there, taken in conjunction with the continual internal discord in the face of a great national crisis, finally led to his resignation.

The result was not only to precipitate the retirement of the Zaimis ministry but to bring about a standstill and possibly even to end all discussion of a departure from neutrality by Greece.

"I hope the Entente now sees where its policy of trying to force matters in Greece has opposed the Greek official with sympathies for the Entente, to the moral effect of Greece's entry into the war with the Allies unquestionably will be a shortening of the war by many months. Without a figure like Zaimis detached from politics to conduct the negotiations, there is scarcely a ghost of a chance that this can be arranged. God knows nobody in Greece has opposed entry into the war for the last fortnight, and if this country does not occur in the responsibility must fall on those who are too impatient to await the end of legitimate discussion of details."

King Constantine, however, much as he may be annoyed by the delay in settling the relations of Greece with the Entente, is seeking a premier who will hasten arrangements to depart from neutrality.

Nicholas Dimitracopolis, who was minister of justice under Premier Venizelos, was approached this afternoon with a proposal to form a ministry along the lines of the desire of the King. (This despatch probably delayed by censor was written before a despatch from the same correspondent which was received last night, announcing that M. Heavyfoc had accepted the king's invitation to form a cabinet.)

Constantinople and The Dardanelles For Russia

Duma Member in United States Says Allies Have Agreed to This

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 14.—That Constantinople has been promised to Russia by the Entente Allies should the Central Empires be defeated was said here yesterday by M. M. Itchas, a member of the Duma and one of a Russian parliamentary deputation sent by the Czar to England, France and Italy to confer with these governments.

"The reason for the visit of the Duma deputation to England, France and Italy," said Mr. Itchas, "was to convince ourselves of the military and economic resources of our allies. Having seen, we are more than ever proud to go on with the war, the more so as we now have all the munitions we require and can maintain a continuous offensive."

"Russia has the solemn promise of the other allies that Constantinople and the Dardanelles will become Russian territory," said Mr. Itchas. "He came here by way of Japan, and is visiting America to consult with committees of his countrymen measures for the relief of the thousands of refugees who fled into Russia when German troops occupied Lithuania."

JUSTIFYING MURDER. German Ministers Confess That "Inmost Thoughts" are Favored to Slaughter of Innocents by Zeppelins.

London, Sept. 14.—A Rome despatch to the London Morning Post says: The German newspapers are again discussing Zeppelin raids. Theodore Kaftan, general superintendent of the Prussian Protestant church, publicly expressed the hope that hundreds of Zeppelins would drop bombs on England, on the ground that it would be the best way of serving the cause of world peace.

The Vorwarts, the central organ of the Socialist party, stigmatized this pronouncement as the doctrine of "The War of Christianity."

The Reichsbote, the organ of the Lutheran Pastors, defended the superintendent and stated "what he said is the interpretation also of our inmost thoughts."

The Germania, the Berlin organ of the Centre party and the Prussian Roman Catholics, now expresses complete acquiescence in the views of the Protestant church dignitary on this subject, and writes to the Socialist indignation writes:

"We repudiate most emphatically the notion that there is anything in aerial warfare (which is moreover a perfectly legitimate means of attack, and in our case doubly justified for well known reasons when applied to England) that Christianity can condemn. There can be absolutely no question of that."

"It is true that for the Christian, war is a bitter and hard trial ordained by God and that he prays and implores God it may be brought to an end speedily, prevent a Christian from regarding himself as an instrument of God in the same war as he would regard one of all permissible means at his disposal in order to gain victory for his nation and its just cause."

WARRING FACTIONS IN HUNGARY MAKE TRUCE SEVEN CASES OF TYPHOID IN MARYSVILLE, ONE DEATH

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 14.—Wireless despatches from Budapest announce a compromise between Premier Tisza and the leader of the opposition. The premier has consented not to adjourn parliament before the end of the month and the opposition leaders have agreed not to criticize the military authorities but only the administration and its foreign policies.

Count Julius Andressy, former premier, now leader of the opposition, precipitated a crisis on August 24, when he announced that he would no longer remain in office and would resign on outbreak of the war and would resign criticism of the government. It was reported at that time that the departments in the Balkans had brought a demand upon the opposition for a coalition cabinet and within the last few days it has been reported that this has been agreed upon.

DOCTOR GAVE SOLDIERS FALSE CERTIFICATES. Would Prolong Their Leave For Small Fee—Trap Laid and Matter Goes to Council of Physicians and Surgeons

Camp Borden, Ont., Sept. 18.—A practicing physician in Central Ontario has been found guilty, according to a statement by the assistant director of medical services, of rendering false health certificates to soldiers who desire to prolong their leave. For a dollar or two he would give a soldier a certificate declaring himself unfit for service for a few days because of an imaginary ailment.

A soldier was despatched to the doctor after being examined by two medical men in camp and found in perfect health. He paid $1 to the physician and was given a certificate declaring him unfit for work for several days, as he was suffering from tonsillitis. On returning to camp he was again examined and found to be in good health. The matter has been reported to the Council of Physicians and Surgeons.

SAILORS ARE BECOMING INDEPENDENT THESE DAYS

Wages for Seamen in Halifax Never Before Reached the Present Figure

(Halifax Mail) It's a great thing to be a sailor these days. Jolly Jack Jars of the merchant marine, and even the boys who can't read a reef point or the trick at the wheel of a fishing smack, walk jauntily along Water street with their trousers pocket gently squeezing a roll of greenbacks as big as their heads.

As for ship's cooks, you simply can't touch them. Another class of sea cook, that could fix up salt horse so that it would almost pass for beefsteak, and make a duff most delicious, could be had for from twenty-five to thirty-five dollars a month.

In 1909 the net earnings for Steel were $78,000,000. This represented net earnings of 21.94 per cent and the stock sold that year at $47.75. In 1910 the net earnings were $87,000,000. This represented an earning power on the stock of 24.38 per cent and it sold at $51. The value of the stock in price it can follow equals those of the first six months, it means virtually 48 per cent in the stock earned. If Steel in 1910 and the market at that time discounted on earnings of 24.38 per cent sold at $51 and the value of the stock in price it can be calculated that on its earnings U. S. Steel has a market value of 160. It does not predict this for the stock, but the comparison shows this way.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain distilled cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get multifold cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.

THE WAR NEWS.

The situation in regard to Roumania becomes clearer as the days pass. After the main Roumanian army marched north and struck heavily in Transylvania the Bulgarians also struck north into that portion of Roumania nearest the Black Sea, in territory where only a small force of Roumanians had been left to hold the frontier.

THE VERDICT OF MAINE.

"It looks good. I don't see how we can lose now." This was the comment of presidential candidate Hughes when he learned the result of the Maine elections. Mr. Willcox, the Republican national chairman, said: "The result in Maine means the election of Hughes in November."

One fact is made clear. The Progressive vote in Maine went for the Republicans. If that proves true of other states Wilson will be defeated. But the vote for the Republican candidate for governor was greater than the combined Republican and Progressive vote, which leads the Bangor Commercial, Democratic, to observe that some who before were Democrats have this year voted Republican.

A GREAT COMMERCIAL SCHOOL.

Toronto has just opened a new high school of commerce erected at a cost of over $800,000, on a site which cost $100,000. It is provided with the most modern equipment for demonstrating business methods and systems of accounting, and for presenting the various aspects of business life.

MORE GRAVE CHARGES.

Charges, the gravity of which startles the people of New Brunswick, have just been made by Mr. H. M. Blair, who was deputy minister of public works at Fredericton until dismissed last winter.

IRISH SWEPT GINCHY LIKE A WHIRLWIND

Munsters and The Dublins Did Doughty Deeds

BAVARIANS FOUGHT IN VAIN

In Dugouts and Cellars They Were Hunted Out Remorselessly After Each Advance—Callant Work on the Somme Front

(Philip Gibbs in London Chronicle and the New York Times.) With the British Army in the Field, Sunday, Sept. 10.—The capture of Ginchy by the Irish brigades should be told not in journalistic prose, but in heroic verse.

When they came out of battle this morning they were weary and spent. They had left many good comrades behind them, but the spirit of war sustained them, and they came marching steadily, with their heads held high. It was one of the most moving things I have ever seen in this war.

A great painter would have found here a subject to thrill his soul—that long trail of Irish regiments, some of them reduced by losses and with but few officers to lead them. Ahead of them walked one Irish piper, playing them to the march.

One sergeant of Munsters told me that the taking of Ginchy was the hottest thing he had seen since the landing on August 21 at Suvla Bay. He and other men of the old regulars spoke of the regiments of the New Army who had fought with them today.

They were just great. The Irish Rifles went through like a whirlwind. There was no stopping them. When the Germans saw, they couldn't see them for the dust.

Gain 600 Yards in Eight Minutes. The attack began yesterday afternoon just before five o'clock. After a heavy bombardment the Irish sprang up and went forward amid cheering and shouts of "Go on, Munsters!" "Go on, Dublins," and old Celtic cries.

The British shell fire crept up in front of them. They went from the south in four waves in open order with about fifty yards between them. From the first halting place in the village they went right across the first German trenches and dugouts in eight minutes after the starting time, a distance of 600 yards, which is a wonderful record.

On the right the Irish were checked by three machine guns, well placed for deadly work and sweeping the ground with waves of bullets. Many men dropped while others fell deliberately with faces to the earth so that the bullets might skim above their heads. At the same time the officers and men were being sniped by German marksmen, all about crept into the shell crater.

It was a serious situation here unless the machine guns could be "kicked." A brilliant piece of tactics was done by the troops on the left of the right wing, who swung round and fired the machine gun position from the west and struck the German trenches and dugouts in an encircling movement, so that the German troops had to run out of the loop with their weapons to their broken trenches, 300 yards away, where they again fired until knocked out by some trench mortars attached to one of the Irish battalions.

This enabled the right wing to advance and join the left, and they then advanced together through the village with the Irish Rifles remaining to hold the captured ground and the Duffins charging ahead.

In the centre of the village among the dugouts and tunnels was the ruin of an old farm in which the Germans had another machine gun. Again the trench mortar men saved the situation. They came on with the infantry and ranged their little engines on to the farm, aiming with such skill that the hostile machine guns were put out of action by a short storm of high explosives.

The men were still suffering from snipers and ordinary riflemen, hidden in all kinds of places in the northern half of the village where there were concrete tunnels with loop-holes level with the ground.

Within a minute after reaching the line half way through the village the leading Dublins reached the northern end of it and sent out advanced parties 200 yards beyond.

Won Success Without Support. The achievement of the Irish Brigade from a military point of view is their success in taking a hostile force of 900 yards to a depth of nearly a mile with no supporting troops on either flank. From a non-military, untechnical, and human point of view the greatness of the capture of Ginchy is just the valor of those Irish boys who were not cowed by the

Steamer Elaine Proves Popular

River Craft Taken From St. John to North Shore Cuts Ten Hours Off Gaspe Schedule

That the steamer Elaine, which formerly ran on the St. John river, has filled the needs of the service for which she was taken to the North Shore, is indicated by an eulogistic article in a recent issue of the Campbellton Tribune. Extracts from the article follow:

"Since the arrival of the S. S. Elaine here to go on the Campbellton-Gaspe route a large number of our citizens have inspected the steamer and are greatly pleased with her, and are unanimous in the opinion that she is just the boat for the service. Heretofore very large boats were placed on the route, many of which were entirely unsuited for the service, with the result that the trip to Gaspe occupied entirely too much time, some twenty-eight hours being required to make the trip, where today the S. S. Elaine makes her trip to Gaspe in practically eighteen hours, a saving in time of some ten hours over the former boats.

"The trip now to Gaspe is one which may be properly termed a day trip, and one with which tourists are greatly pleased. In fact there was hardly a tourist making this trip the last month but who has complimented the management on the excellent service given, including prominent men in transportation business in Quebec."

BRITISH AIRSHIPS OF ZEPPELIN TYPE

Are Far More Readily Handled Than the German Model; Will Be Eyes of Fleet

London, Aug. 24.—Recently a sufficiently guarded description revealed the fact that Britain possessed a new class of airship comparable to some existing with the German Zeppelin. Neutral captives, it is said, arriving at certain east coast ports are enthusiastic in their admiration of the new airships. In their opinion the British model is far more readily handled and altogether less cumbersome than the German craft.

The difficulties which lay in the way of competing with the type of airship released, is the result of Count Zeppelin's life work were serious.

The small dirigible was not difficult to construct, and some time ago Great Britain was thoroughly supplied with that type. The large dirigible, corresponding to the Zeppelin, was a much more difficult thing to build, as it involved problems of aerostatics with which British constructors had little experience, and the fact that France, when she was the pioneer in this subject, had not seen fit to create a Zeppelin fleet, indicated very clearly the difficulties in the way.

But it was Britain's business, for the real value of the great dirigible is its service for the fleet, and the naval problem is of course essentially hers. The problem to be solved involved questions of new forms of valve, new kinds of dope, new methods of welding, and structure, and the acquiring of sufficient quantities of aluminum, which happily did not prove very difficult. The further work to be tackled was the creation of air sheds to accommodate such monsters, and this involved an amount of labor and material on a vast scale.

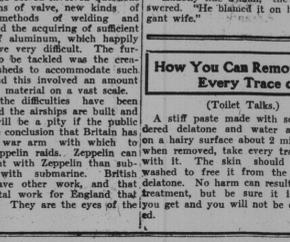

However, the difficulties have been overcome and the airships are built and ready. It will be a pity if the public jumps to the conclusion that Britain has now a new war arm with which to meet the Zeppelin raids. Zeppelin can no more fight with Zeppelin than submarine can with submarine. British wished to free it from the remaining Zeppelins have other work, and that delicate. No harm can result from this, the most vital work for England that can be done. They are the eyes of the fleet.

Hobart Bosworth in "The White Scar," a Story of the Great North West

Many pictures have come and gone, since there has been seen such a live red-blooded story as is presented in "The White Scar," a feature in which Hobart Bosworth appears to wonderful advantage. It is a tale in which Indians and trappers monopolize the cast, figures that are always responsible for the completion of a strong, virile story of the northwest.

Ulysses Davis has not allowed his reputation for the selection of beautiful and appropriate exteriors to suffer in "The White Scar." His locations are revelations, everyone of them. Not a vestige of civilization is apparent. The players appear before backgrounds of rivers, lakes, mountains and forests. They move in settings that fit the action down to the last degree of perfected realism.

And these wonderful scenes are not in the least belittled by inferior photographic work. Throughout the five reels the photography maintains an even standard of clarity. Most always it is excellent, never is it anything less than good.

The story, conceived by Bosworth himself, is of a fine character. It catches the attention at its very commencement and keeps it until the very final scene. Bosworth has painted his villain with a very black brush and consequently, as practically every other character suffers by his evil ways, the sympathetic quality of the production is considerably above the average.

Bosworth is also responsible for the subtleties, the great majority of which are modeled after the style of Longfellow's "Hiawatha."

"The White Scar" is the tale of the love of Na-ta-wan-gan and Janet, the young daughter of the factor of the trading post. The unrequited affection of Wehnomah, an Indian girl, for the trapper provides an interesting subsidiary theme; her self-sacrificing devotion to the interests of Na-ta-wan-gan and those he loves adds to the charm of the story. There are many red men in the cast, and among them are several who show an appreciation of the drama in the making of which they are a part.

Mr. Bosworth's portrayal of the bearded trapper will add to his fine reputation. It is dignified, powerful. Anna Lehr makes an impressive Indian girl. Norval McGregor is Mackintosh, the factor who rules the little community of white and red inhabitants. Jane Novak is the daughter, who, with her brother, encompasses the escape of the trapper when he has been condemned as the thief and sentenced to go to death via a long traverse. Her portrayal of Janet, following his assumption to the theft for which the girl's brother has been adjudged guilty, is well done. Ronald Bradbury is Henri, the bad young man who makes all the trouble—a convincing characterization—and Frank Newburg is Robert, the brother of Janet.

Na-ta-wan-gan is one of Mr. Bosworth's best impersonations.

"Katie's Lover's Knot," a Joker programme in good measure. Tonight at seven and eight thirty o'clock will be the last opportunity for the citizens of St. John to see this excellent programme.

POOL GOLD RESERVE TO ENLARGE CREDIT

Arrangement by Allies to Make Collective Financial Position More Solid; Loan Made to Britain

London, Sept. 14.-The Times Paris correspondent sends a statement made to him by M. Alexandre Ribot, minister of finance, on France's financial strength. He said: "The confidence of Frenchmen in the future is absolute. The strongest proof of this is the loan we raised last year, which furnished us with a capital of 16,000,000,000 francs (80,000,000,000 and still stands three points above the issuing price. "The point which is occupying our serious attention at the present moment is how to devise ways and means to pay for our purchases abroad and to ensure greater latitude on the American market in the matter of trade. We are endeavoring to enlarge the basis of our commerce, which is somewhat hampered by the methods in practice in the United States. "In this matter we hope shortly to secure a definite improvement. I may mention that a very satisfactory arrangement was arrived at during the last meeting I had at Calais with Premier Clemenceau and Mr. McKenna on August 24. "England is anxious to strengthen her gold reserve in order to maintain her gold standard and enlarge the scope of her credit in the United States. The Bank of France has even this stage of the struggle a gold reserve exceeding 4,000,000,000 francs (80,000,000,000). We were, therefore, in a position to propose England a considerable sum out of our abundance. Russia also promised a certain amount of gold and Italy likewise, in proportion to her capacity. "The allies are, if I may say so, pooling their gold in order to render their collective financial position still more solid. We are placing this gold at the disposal of the British treasury as a loan, and the treasury will open credit for pounds sterling to the extent of £100,000,000. The arrangement, as you see, covers both ways and is altogether in the common interest of the allies. The gold loaned by us will return to the coffers of the Bank of France after the war."

Tells of Hold up of Contracts For Large Sums—Sensation in Carleton Bye-Election

Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 13.—A sensation was sprung at the Lakeville meeting last evening by H. M. Blair, former deputy minister of public works. Messrs. Venois and Adair were advertised to address the meeting, and when they had done so Chairman King invited any one, Conservative or Liberal, to address the audience. There was no response for a moment, until someone shouted: "Harry Blair is a good Tory; let him talk."

The chairman called on Blair, and for half an hour there was at times a shouting crowd and at other times intense listening to the speaker. Blair did not mince matters. He enlarged upon his affidavit and told them that at the present time the treasury chest was empty and the accounts were being tucked away to be paid after the close of the financial year and so create the impression that the bills had all been paid and a surplus in the treasury.

BUT THE MOST SERIOUS STATEMENT BLAIR MADE WAS THAT RAILWAY CONTRACTORS HAD BEEN HELD UP WHEN THE ACCOUNTS WERE SETTLED BY THE GOVERNMENT LAST FALL, AND LARGE SUMS DEMANDED TO EXPEDITE THE SETTLEMENT WITH THE GOVERNMENT, AND THAT A PROMINENT MEMBER OR MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNMENT HAD KNOWLEDGE OF THIS AND CONSENTED TO IT. HE SAID THE CHECKS BY WHICH PAYMENT WAS MADE ARE IN EXISTENCE AND WILL BE PRODUCED BEFORE THIS CAMPAIGN WAS OVER.

AND ANOTHER STATEMENT HE MADE WAS THAT HE HAD ACTED SINCE 1912 AS THE AGENT OF OTHERS AND PAID LARGE SUMS TO MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE TO INFLUENCE THEIR VOTE UPON CERTAIN MEASURES. THIS, HE SAID, HE WAS PREPARED TO PROVE AT ANY TIME THERE WAS AN INVESTIGATION.

GRAVE STATEMENTS.

The very great gravity of these statements was realized by those present, and little else is talked of today. Blair apparently did not spare his own party in regard to these transactions. He told how for years he had been a blind and unquestioning follower of those corrupt legislators; that he was their instrument and they had used him to the limit. He paid his respects to the government papers, the Gleaner and Standard, saying he was not sure when he got up in the morning whether he had spoken the night before or not, as the Gleaner and Standard had represented him as speaking at opposition meetings when he was actually in Maine and again when he was actually present at a government meeting. He said he was not in the county at the request of the opposition. His affidavit and statement had been prepared when the opposition organizer, Mr. Carter, was in Westmorland. In spite of what the government press said, he was just as ready to speak at a government meeting as at an opposition gathering.

STYLISH YOUNG MAN ALSO WAS A BURGLAR

Police Find Costly Loot in Room of Di Stigny

A Connoisseur in Art

Only Valuable Paintings, Cut Glass, and Silver Taken by Man Now in Hackensack Jail—Thousands of Dollars Worth

New York, Sept. 13.—The discovery of more than $100,000 worth of jewelry, rare silverware, fine cut glass, costly paintings, and many pawn tickets in a furnished room at 228 East Sixty-second street by John Pyle, chief of police of Englewood, N. J., is said to have cleared up robberies that have taken place in that town during the summer.

Ralph Stigny, known as Raphael Di Stigny, has been in the Hackensack (N. J.) jail since Aug. 24, charged with having committed the thefts.

The robberies all took place in the most fashionable district in Englewood, and in every case the thief took only articles of value. His knowledge of old silver and cut glass was that of a connoisseur, while his choice in pictures showed that he was a good judge of art.

Stigny was captured at midnight on Aug. 24 by Policeman William Mooney, of the Englewood department as he was forcing a rear window in the home of Walter Dodsworth in Hamilton avenue. At that time he was dressed in very expensive clothes and was without a hat. He wore pumps and seemed to be the young man of leisure he had pretended to be during the summer months, when he drove about Englewood in a fast automobile. Stigny pretended to be very indignant when he was arrested and threatened the policeman with dire punishment.

Nevertheless, Mooney would not understand why Stigny had an assortment of skeleton keys and a short "jimmy" in his pocket, and he took him to the police station.

The next day Stigny was held in $5000 bail for the grand jury on a charge of attempted burglary and in default of bail was sent to the Hackensack jail. Only the police would believe that Stigny was implicated in the robberies. Those who had met him had found him to be a very attractive young man, seemingly much younger than his thirty-seven years.

Chief Pyle learned from Stigny that he lived at 224 East Sixtieth street, and the policeman paid a visit to that house. He was told that Stigny's family lived in East Sixty-second street.

The chief started an investigation, taking with him Stigny's picture. At 224 East Sixty-second street the landlady recognized the picture as that of Raphael Di Stigny, her lodger who was ill in a hospital somewhere in New Jersey, according to the word she had received from him.

An investigation of Stigny's room followed. In it was practically a vanload of cut glass, silverware, pictures, fine clothing and a large bundle of pawn tickets. All this the chief of police loaded into an automobile and took to Englewood. Immediately on his arrival word was sent to all those who had been robbed, and they began to arrive at the police station.

Harry Fuchs, a banker, whose home was robbed on Aug. 1, identified a mass of cut glass and silverware. Arthur E. Fuchs, an advertising man of this city, whose home was entered on Aug. 3, identified $2,000 worth of silverware and jewelry and two oil paintings, which he said were "priced."

Charles F. Parks, Jr., a banker of 14 Wall street, whose home was robbed on Aug. 18, identified $1,700 worth of silverware and cut glass. Frederick C. Walcott, a broker of this city, whose home was entered on Aug. 17, identified more than $2,000 worth of cut glass, silverware and other articles. Others who have been robbed are expected to pick out their property, as there is much yet unidentified. The articles pawned by Stigny will be redeemed.

True to his character as a "gentleman burglar," Stigny gave a characteristic excuse for his presence in Englewood on the night he was captured. He was unable to explain why he was forcing the window of Mrs. Dodsworth's house, but he was in Englewood, he explained, to keep an "engagement with a lady." On being pressed for the woman's name, he indignantly refused to give it. "No gentleman would," he added.

WEST SIDE FAIR.

The Christmas Soldiers' Stocking Fair, which is being held nightly in the West St. John curling rink, drew an exceptionally large crowd last evening, the number in attendance surpassing even that in opening night. The various games and amusements were well patronized and large numbers availed themselves of the excellent supper served by the ladies at a minimum cost. G. E. Barbour donated the tea which is being served at the fair and a numerous article staff was on hand to assist in dispensing it. The winners of the prizes last night were:

Door prize, $5 in gold—Mrs. Walter Peterson.

Bean board, ladies—Miss E. McAllister, prize a sofa cushion; gentlemen, John Carr, prize an order for a hat.

Temple gun—Ladies, Miss Young, prize, hand-bag; gentlemen, John McAndrews, carpet sweeper.

The Temple of Honor Band was present last night and played throughout the evening. Tonight the City Cornet Band will provide the music.

FRENCH STRENGTHEN THEIR POSITION NEAR COMBLES

Paris, Sept. 13.—North of the Somme the French enlarged their positions opposite Combles, and stormed new trenches south of Priez Farm, says the official statement issued by the war office tonight. After desperate attacks the Germans, having lost their lines of communication, recaptured a farm in L'Abbe Wood and Hill 76. But both were retaken by the French, who maintained all their gains on the centre and on the right. The total captures of yesterday and today were 2,300 prisoners, ten guns and forty machine guns.

SOLDIERS' COMFORTS

At the monthly business meeting of the Soldiers' Comfort Association, held yesterday, many interesting reports from the circles and prominent branches were heard and all are busily engaged knitting and packing boxes for the Christmas shipment which will be forwarded to England the later part of September or the first of October so that the boys may have them in time this year. Shipments are forwarded weekly and all cases forwarded through the S. C. A. have reached their destination.

Some slight delay may occur in transportation but in nearly every case they reach shore in six weeks from date of sailing. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. J. Walter Holly, showed the balance on hand to be $12,926.07; during August fifteen hundred pounds of wool was purchased and will be supplied to any who are willing to knit on application at the depot. The returns in knitted goods for June-July and August was $291 pairs socks. East St. John reported that a successful fair was held during the summer and the proceeds divided between the Y.M.C.A. work in France, the Blind Soldiers' Fund and in purchasing comforts which will be forwarded in one hundred Christmas parcels to France.

The Douglas avenue circle have already picked one hundred Christmas parcels as have also the Girls' circle of the S.C.A. The West St. John circle, under the leadership of Mrs. Fraser, have raised over $280 and will forward two hundred Christmas parcels to France to earn talent money, will take orders for plain sewing.

Mrs. Robinson, president of the Alexandra circle, reported that this busy circle gives a regular monthly subscription to the year fund, and are now working on their Christmas parcels. From Sussex, Chipman, Ingleside, Ononette, Fandene, and from many others generous cash donations have been received. All of these are acknowledged monthly by the president.

Large khaki stockings with S.C.A. posters will be placed during the next week in some of the stores in which it is hoped the friends of the boys will drop their contribution in the form of candy, gum, soap, notepaper, etc. These will be made up into parcels for the lone soldier who will appreciate the fact that some one in St. John has remembered him. A package of tobacco and a pipe is always welcomed by the boys in service in the trenches. The association has adopted a pin in the form of three links done in red white and blue enamel, with the letters S.C.A. inset. This pin is a badge of membership and will sell for forty cents. The annual fee is only twenty-five cents, and the treasurer would like to enroll at least five hundred as regular members. Christmas parcels may be sent to any Canadian soldier, whether in France or England, hospital or camp. All must be securely wrapped and correctly addressed.

If YOUR family were living in Belgium NOW

You'd Look on the Belgian Relief Fund As the Finest Thing in the World.

King Albert's war-worn soldiers, holding the line at the British left, certainly look on it in that light. It gives them courage for the fight, and hope for the future, for it is saving the lives of their loved ones.

The work which the Belgian Relief Commission is doing for humanity has never been equaled. For nearly two years now, from two to three million destitute Belgians have been fed, and horrible wholesale starvation averted. While the Relief Fund has only been sufficient to provide the barest necessities, these people, who have absolutely nothing else, have been saved by the three slices of bread and the pint of soup dealt out to each one daily.

Can it be kept up, on a steadily growing scale, till Belgium is free again?

That depends largely on Canada, and partly on YOU.

The demands on the Fund are steadily growing, as more and more Belgian families reach the end of their resources. More money must be given to keep up even the slender rations now possible. But the end of the war does not seem so far off now, and if we can keep up and even increase our givings for a little while longer, we shall be able to save the heroic Belgian people for a new and regenerated Belgium.

Will you do your part? Will you undertake to feed one—or several—Belgian families till the war is over, by contributing $2.50 per family per month?

The War Situation

(By the Military Expert of the New York Times.)

The Russian attacks against Halicz and the railroads radiating from that town are leading back all resistance. The accounts of the fighting are still meagre, nothing being given out yet which would show exactly what has taken place. The name of not a single town is mentioned in the official reports, although it is positive that several have been taken and left well in the rear by the Russian advance.

than was the position on the Ziota and on the Stripa. Retirements from the latter streams could be made without immediate danger. In each case there were two railroads well suited to such a purpose. In the case of Halicz and the Ziota, there are practically none.

The Russian report of yesterday stated that the Austrians had fallen back to the western bank of the Ziota and were firing on their advancing columns. No mention of any point of crossing is made, and whether the entire Austrian line has fallen back is not apparent. But the Austrians are on their last line of defense is certain.

This brings about a peculiar condition in this section. South of the Ziota the Russian lines run northeast and southwest, while north of the city they run practically at right angles to this course. They are fighting, then, on two fronts—one facing east and the other south. In the angle between is Halicz. This means that the town is under fire from three sides. Its escape from Russian capture seems impossible.

Another point in connection with this offensive in Galicia must be borne in mind. As the Russians advance along the Dniester line the Austrian right wing is constantly being pressed back against the Carpathian Mountains and the entire Austrian line is being driven back. Every retreat makes the new line more difficult to hold, as it makes it longer by the degree of the angle it makes and leaves a smaller number of men to hold it. There must be a limit to this. What it is no one can say, but a power or group of powers, whose resources in men are limited cannot continue indefinitely to play this sort of a game without end.

Borden. It was Mr. Carvell who proved graft and corruption against Premier Fleming, and drove him from office and from the New Brunswick Legislature. It was Mr. Carvell who was to the fore in exposing the Garland graft in war supplies and the infamous Foster horse deals. It was Mr. Carvell who uncovered the operations of Colonel J. Wesley Allison and that grafter's American friends whereby Canada and the Empire were bled by the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

These are reasons why the upholders of graft and corruption are constant in savage attacks upon him. Mr. Carvell's own record is the best answer to the abuse showered upon him by the grafters' press. He has been in public life for twenty years and through-sided press is that when he applies the term he is always able to prove the description merited. Canada is the better of Mr. Carvell's services. His own record clean, he has driven influential grafters from the place of plunder and, no doubt, the knowledge of his vigilance has been a deterrent to grafting in other instances. This is the explanation of the attacks upon him by representatives of the corrupt elements in public life, and the explanation should be kept in mind.

BURROUGHS JOINS EDISON CAMPERS

Tents Are Pitched in Naturalist's Orchard

Ford's Name Cut on Boulder; Pair Chat Before Roaring Wood Fire Like Happy Schoolboys

Roxbury, N. Y., Sept. 14.—When Henry Ford reaches Roxbury to join the camping trip through the Catskills and Adirondacks, which Thomas A. Edison, Harvey S. Firestone and John Burroughs are taking he will find his name immortalized in John Burroughs' own handwriting. It is engraved in solid rock beside the road a few rods from Woodchuck Lodge, Md. Burroughs' Roxbury cottage in the mountains. The naturalist has just put it there himself with hammer and chisel, which Mr. Ford sent him for the purpose.

Two years ago Mr. Ford was visiting Mr. Burroughs in Roxbury. One day time was hanging heavily on their hands. Mr. Burroughs said to Mr. Ford: "I have a lot across the road which has not been of any use to me because it is full of rocks, and I don't know what to do about it."

Mr. Ford, being a practical man, replied: "Why can't we go over and clear them out?"

For two whole weeks, with the occasional assistance of two farm hands, John Burroughs and Henry Ford, with their shirt-sleeves rolled up, dragged rocks out of that field. Mr. Burroughs admits that they paused occasionally and that there was a day once in a while when they did other things, but the fact remains that the field is now clear of boulders.

In honor of his distinguished helper, Mr. Burroughs named the plot "Ford Field." He spent most of Tuesday being stretched out on a big boulder at the side of the road getting the title chiseled into it. Below the name is a huge hand pointing out the location of the field.

Like Happy Schoolboys. At eight o'clock John Burroughs and "Tom" Edison were sitting together like two happy school boys before a roaring wood fire in front of their tent, discussing the nature of primitive man. The camp was pitched in the orchard in front of Woodchuck Lodge on the high hills, with the beautiful Delaware Valley spread out before them.

They reached Roxbury about six. Mr. Edison was in high good humor. He pointed out delightedly the arrangements made for the comfort of the campers—the electric lights in the tents, the camp cots, and the stores of good things that had packed away in the trunk which Mr. Firestone added to the commissary department.

The crowd dined on fish. Did they catch the fish themselves? That was what John Burroughs wanted to know. They didn't exactly catch those fish. But they got them off the man who did, which is certainly closer to nature than buying them in a fish market.

It must be added here that before the automobile party arrived Mr. Burroughs was a tiny bit uncertain as to what he was getting into. "Doesn't fit into book."

"There is nothing like camp life," he said. "I've been camping all my eighty odd years, but I'll have to admit that at my age a bed feels pretty good to me, and I haven't particular scruples against a hotel once in a while. I find that my body doesn't fit into the crevices and bumps of a camp bunk as it used to."

When he heard that the expedition was to include tents, cots and other accessories, with four husky men to take care of them, he looked relieved.

No one can charge that Mr. Burroughs is losing his hunter's eye.

"I've been doing a bit of gardening here," he said, with pardonable pride exhibiting a handsome squash and a peck of huge potatoes. "It's a bit difficult sometimes to get rid of the rabbits and woodchucks, but I've forced out the rabbits, and as for the woodchucks, well, I've shot twenty-six from my porch, and that's seventeen better than the record of my nearest competitor among the neighbors."

Although the post-naturalist would like to have his guests of the night remain in Roxbury, the spirit of expedition has seized upon them all, and under Dr. Burroughs' guidance they were off

Large Crowds Enjoy Cabaret

Novel Entertainment Under Auspices of Royal Standard Chapter Proves Huge Success

The cabaret under the auspices of the Royal Chapter I.O.O.F., held in St. Andrew's rink last evening was very enjoyable and the huge crowd that taxed the capacity of the spacious building was treated to a programme which was heartily enjoyed. There were about fifteen hundred in the rink and the event, which commenced about eight o'clock and ended at eleven, was a huge success. The programme was well executed. Miss Lorna Waring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Waring, captivated the audience in her really excellent parlor dance. The dancing of Miss Constance Campbell and Grace Kuhnring was also greatly enjoyed. Miss Kathryn Gallivan was heard to good advantage in her solo selections. The ballroom dance given by sixteen girls was a feature of the evening. Dancing was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

The programme carried out was as follows: Patriotic selection—City Cornet Band. Valse. Selection—Miss Climo. Mr. Pidgeon and chorus. One step. Fancy dance—Miss Lorna Waring. Two step. Song—Miss Anderson. Valse. Fancy dance—Miss C. Campbell. One step. Ballroom dance—Sixteen young ladies. Valse. Song—Miss Kathryn Gallivan. Banjo solo—Mr. Davidson. Valse. Fancy dance—Miss Grace Kuhnring. Solo—Walter Pidgeon. Selection—City Cornet Band. God Save the King.

The evening was a truly enjoyable one and the large throng remained until the very last number had been played. The proceeds will be devoted to patriotic purposes.

FORD ANSWERS LIBEL SUIT.

Declares His Statements About Navy League Substantially True

Washington, Sept. 13.—Henry Ford, through his attorneys, has filed answer in the supreme court of the District of Columbia to the charges of the Navy League, which instituted a libel suit to recover from him $100,000 damages. Mr. Ford in display newspaper advertisements said that the league was supported by the munitions makers. The suit was filed at the instance of Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the league.

Mr. Ford denies that he was guilty of defamatory libel, and insists that his statements were substantially true. He also contends that the statements were privileged, as the matter with which they dealt concerned the people of the United States. He also points out that similar statements had been published in broadcast and made in congress without denial from the Navy League.

Act as Checkers and Assist in Unloading Lighter Parcels; C.P.R. Well Satisfied

(Toronto Mail). Women are now working in the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's freight sheds at the corner of Simcoe and Wellington streets, and are, W. Coulter, local freight agent, says, giving satisfaction. They will be employed at Parkdale, West Toronto and North Toronto and at many points of the company's system, including Montreal.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has been impelled to avail itself of the services of women in its freight sheds by the shortage of labor. It has in the last few days engaged about 15 girls at the front of the shed at Simcoe and Wellington streets. All of these are the wives or members of the families of soldiers. Eligible for that work, that is, they check all the freight delivered by teams outside the city for shipment to points outside the city. Shortly more women will be engaged to act as delivery checkers, that is, check incoming freight handed over to teamsters for delivery to the consignees.

In the sheds the young women can be seen, busy in handling parcels of the packages brought by teams to the sheds to be placed on cars and sent to other places. In the past checkers were required to assist the teamsters unload the lorry. The young women do help with some of the lighter parcels, but are not called upon to handle heavy ones, because the men, who are displaced by women, are given other positions. General Manager A. D. MacTier recently visited the freight sheds at Simcoe and Wellington streets, and he saw the young women at work, talked to them and expressed himself as well pleased with the innovation.

RALLY FOR RECRUITS IN IMPERIAL TONIGHT

Recruiting still continues dull and unless something develops before the last of the week the city will fall into prostration in the weekly returns.

The only bright feature in prospect is the recruiting rally tonight at the Imperial, 10 o'clock, in an effort to secure 100 men to complete the establishment of the 140th Battalion. The speakers of the evening will be Lieut.-Col. F. A. Gathrie, O. C. New Brunswick Command, Lieut. Col. Beer, Captain Conroy and Sergeant Bradbury, and if anticipations are realized the visit of the recruiting party will not be in vain.

The meeting will follow the second performance at the theatre and young men personally interested are earnestly invited to attend. The object is to secure immediately the men to complete the unit as it is going overseas within two weeks. The attractions are manifold. There will be no delay in Canada to train, and assurance is given that the body will go to the front intact. Furthermore, the regiment is more representative of the city than any yet sent across, twenty-two of the officers and 400 of the men belonging here. And this is no small inducement to be identified with a unit so thoroughly St. John. Units composed of St. John stock have played prominently in events at the front so that her soldiers as a whole are being recognized as the most courageous and ingenious soldiers in the service.

Apple Crop Will Be Poor

Daniel Johnson, Dominion Fruit Commissioner, who is visiting the Toronto Exhibition, says that the Ontario apple crop will be sixty per cent. of that of the year and that Nov. 1 and 2 qualities will be half as large as the crop of 1915. While the Ontario apple crop is small that of the northwestern states is large.

Carrigan's Retirement From the Game

Of the reported retirement of Wm. F. Carrigan of the Boston Braves from baseball at the close of the season, Edward F. Martin wrote the Boston Globe from Washington as follows:

Washington, Sept. 13.—Gloom swept through the Red Sox ball club at the end of the present season, when his contract with the Boston American League Club will expire.

There have been many rumors concerning Carrigan's retirement, but he has merely laughed at them and when the latest one was heard today it was expected that Bill would stand out the usual laugh and say, "See Joe Lannin."

"See Joe Lannin" is just what he did say, but he said it in such a way that it was plain to be seen that there was something behind his words. After a little pressure, Bill, who never was much of a talker, finally admitted that he would quit the game at the end of this season and that he would have done so at the end of the 1915 season, only that his contract had a year to run.

"A month ago," said Carrigan, "I told President Lannin of my plans. He has known me since I was a boy. With a laugh Bill added 'My arm has gone back on me.' Players tried to muster Carrigan, 'I have plenty of money.' When he heard of Bill's announcement, but there was a lot of chinking up. No manager was ever faster in his dealings with players than Bill, who while a great mixer, played no favorites and always called a spade a spade.

"I don't need to play baseball," said Carrigan, "I have plenty of money." When asked if he could be persuaded to change his mind, he stated that he would not do so for good at the end of the year and that all the King's horses and all the King's men could not drag him back into it.

"I gave President Lannin plenty of notice, I am really through. I told him a month ago, so that he could make whatever plans he wished regarding my successor, and who he may be I do not know. I did not want to wait until the season was over and then declare myself. The opinion might be formed that I was trying to get a better contract. I am done with baseball after this season. Classic is entirely wrong in a nutshell. Manager Carrigan is well fixed financially. According to reports, money he made in baseball he invested profitably and he merely stuck to baseball for the love of it.

It was ten years ago last June that Carrigan came to the Red Sox from Holy Cross College, where he was a star baseball and football player. Carrigan played the infield on the ball team and was a guard on the football team. He played the infield on the Red Sox from 1906 to 1915. Carrigan was one of the best pitchers in a Boston uniform was catching the first fifteen innings of the memorable twenty-four inning game that Joe Harris pitched against Jack Coombs, Sept. 1, 1906.

In the summer of 1907 he was sent to the Toronto team of the International League under an optional agreement. That season the Maple Leafs won the championship of their league and Carrigan was instrumental in their triumph.

Recalled by Baseball. He was one of the stars of the league and was recalled, arriving back in Boston in time to get into a post-season series between the Red Sox and the Red Sox. In that series his all-around work was a revelation.

As a coach of young pitchers, Bill has been a tremendous success. In the days when Joe Wood started and when Eddie Cicotte, Ed. Karger, and Charlie Hall were at their best, it was Carrigan who was in there coaching them along. Later Ray Collins was another pitcher who did his best when Bill was behind the plate. Carrigan's games always stood out conspicuously. The way he blocked off runners at the home plate proved his courage better than anything else. He was a veritable iron gate.

"Dutch" Leonard owes much of his success to the tutoring of Bill, who makes the Dutchman work every minute. Bill's games earned him the nickname of "Rough" some years ago. He might have been rough in his way, but never intentionally injured a fellow player and was respected by all players.

He was appointed manager of the club in July, 1915, after Jake Stahl had been deposed by James McAleer, who was the manager of the club in the autumn prior to his appointment as manager. Carrigan and Wagner were big factors in the winning of the world's championship from the Giants. They were the Red Sox's strategy board.

Only the other day Bill remarked that he had spent a very happy career with the Red Sox and that he had to smile every time any one mentioned the supposed fight during the World's Series in 1912. "I never could understand how such a story was ever started," Carrigan players dumfounded.

Some of the players have been aware of the rumors regarding the retirement of Manager Carrigan, but have never made any comment on it. Today, when the actual announcement was made they were dumfounded. Now they want to work all the harder to win so that Bill Carrigan may complete his career in the baseball maze of glory.

Who his successor will be is now the big question. There has been talk of Connie Mack selling his Philadelphia interest and coming to the Red Sox as manager, but the astute Connie has given this story a denial. There is a possibility of President Lannin selling the club.

If a successor is taken from the players with the club the choice would undoubtedly be between Heime Wagner, Jack Barry and Dick Hoblitzel. Wagner and Barry, with Bill, were members of the famous trinity of strategists while Dick Hoblitzel is one of the smart ball players of the country and also has the equipment for the job. Whatever the choice is known by President Lannin, who is at present in Boston. Carrigan has no idea what the plan are in Boston and will not be back in Boston until next week from today.

Master Strategist Carrigan is ready to stage his last big act in the big show, and his supporting cast is strong to put the goods over for him.

The committee then proceeded to elect chairman and secretary.

H. I. Knowles was chosen chairman of the musical committee and he will act with the general secretary in the organization of an orchestra and glee club. The dramatic club was placed in the hands of Hilton B. Crowley with instructions to begin work immediately. Upham as chairman was appointed to institute special socials during the year at which socials, groups of employees from the various stores and industries will be invited. The committee then discussed at length the programme for the opening reception to the members and which will be held on Friday, September 29.

Brooklyn Loses to Pirates; Phillies Split Double Header With St. Louis; Giants Win Double Header and Make it Eight Straight; Detroit Defeats Yankees

The Braves are beginning to show class again since Johnnie Evers got back on the job. Johnnie may be a crab, but he seems to have a happy knack of instilling pep into a ball club. The Braves are only two games behind Brooklyn and one behind the Phillies. The Pirates and as a result lost several points in the championship race.

The Phillies lost an opportunity of going into first place when they were defeated by St. Louis in the first of their double header.

The Giants administered a double defeat to Cincinnati and made it eight straight games. They are nine and a half games behind the leaders and have a slim chance of clinching the pennant, even if they continue their present gain.

The Detroit Tigers crept up within three points of the Red Sox when they defeated the Yankees in the first game of their series. Detroit looks like a good bet in the American league.

Chicago bested St. Louis in a wild and erratic game. The game went ten innings and the result was in doubt until the last man was out in the tenth.

Cleveland used several recruits from the Southern League and succeeded in defeating Philadelphia.

FORMER ST. JOHN PLAYER MAY BE THE MANAGER OF CUBS

Fred Yapp-Mitchell Said to be Slated For Big League Leadership

In connection with the story of Conkey's proposed offer to "Muggsy" McGraw to become manager of the Chicago Cubs the insiders are circulating a report that if McGraw leaves the Giants his successor may be Fred Mitchell, coach of the Boston Braves and at one time with the old St. John Alerts. Mitchell, it is said, has been recommended to the owners of the New York club. Mitchell once pitched for the Phillies and Brooklyn and caught for the Yankees when George Stallings managed them in 1910.

Mitchell, whose real name is Yapp, was signed by Stallings to coach the Braves pitcher in 1910. He has been with the Braves ever since and also had charge of the victorious Harvard nine last spring.

But on top of the rumor that connects Mitchell's name with the Giants comes another to the effect that he is being seriously considered by Owner Weegman as the successor to Joe Tinker. It is known that Weegman recently expressed intense dissatisfaction with Tinker and a prominent baseball man suggested Mitchell as a capable manager for the Cubs. Weegman, on the other hand, was favorably impressed with the idea and began to look up Mitchell's record.

If interviewed on the subject now Weegman probably would deny that he had any intention of supplanting Tinker. It is advisable, however, to keep an eye on Mitchell, who seems destined to become a National League manager.

New York, Tuesday, will be fully discussed at Cincinnati on Friday, when the commission and the club owners gather for the annual drafting of minor league players. The situation may result, it was indicated, in the extraordinary procedure of preparing a number of world's series schedules covering National and American league clubs which have a change to win the right to compete in the baseball classic.

Only three weeks leeway will exist at the time the magnates meet in Cincinnati and it has been suggested that the only way to meet the conditions would be to adopt this broad schedule plan probably including Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston in the National League, and Boston, Detroit and Chicago in the American league.

The following list of double-header dates fixed for the playing off of postponed and tied games was announced Tuesday by Secretary Heydler, of the National League:

At Boston, Pittsburgh, Sept. 23-25-26.
At Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Sept. 19.
Chicago, Sept. 23-25.
At New York, Cincinnati, Sept. 13; Pittsburgh, Sept. 16-18; St. Louis, 23-25; Boston, Sept. 28-30.
At Philadelphia, St. Louis, Sept. 13; Chicago, Sept. 16; Boston, Oct. 2-3.

ATHLETES PICKED FOR STOCKHOLM MEET

New York, Sept. 18.—Officials of the Amateur Athletic Union consider the team of four men selected to represent the United States in the track and field games at Stockholm, Copenhagen and games at Stockholm in October, the best Christiansia in October among the best all around athletes in America. The team will be composed of Robert Simpson of the University of Missouri; Fred Murray of San Francisco; Fred Meredith and J. G. Loomis. Both Simpson and Murray, the two late additions to the team are holders of world's records. The athletes will leave for Europe on Sept. 29 and expect to return Nov. 18.

Fred W. Rulien, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, believes that Simpson will find no hardlers in the Scandinavian countries fast enough to compel him to extend himself. Consequently he decided to send Murray along to give Simpson competition in the high hurdles and Loomis to extend the Scandinavians in low hurdles.

Murray, the intercollegiate champion, is a crack sprinter and shot putter and is expected to win the 100 yard dash and the high jump and to score points in the running broad jump and low hurdles.

Meredith is picked for the quarter and half mile runs and the four together are regarded as almost unbeatable in a half mile relay.

Gunner George Lawrence Says They're Making the Germans Uncomfortable

Gunner George Lawrence, son of Mrs. Mary Lawrence of 209 Rockland Road, who is at present at the front with a local artillery battery, writes as follows:

Just back from the guns. We did our best to make it hot for "Fritz." We kept banging at the German lines for about three hours; the batteries on our left and right did likewise. It must be very uncomfortable in the German lines; we do our best, anyway, to make it so.

Talk about rain! We get all we want of it and the same with mud. The boys say wait until the rainy season starts; we'll have mud up to our knees. I won't care much, I will have my big boots by that time, and if not I will write home. I have no much to worry about in that line.

I just finished my supper which consisted of tea, bread and jam—not so bad. We have a canteen here so if you want more you can get it—that is if you have the money. So you see we are getting along nicely for being so close to the firing line. Just have time to get ready to go back to the guns.

ANOTHER ST. JOHN MAN HOME FROM WAR

Gunner James J. Barbour of Brussels Street Suffers From Shell Shock

Gunner James J. Barbour, a member of the 1st Heavy Artillery, arrived home today from the front. He is suffering from shell shock and will enter the convalescent home here.

Gunner Barbour is a fighter, as he was through the Boer war, and when the call came for men to serve in the present war, he was one of the first to answer the call and crossed with the first contingent.

Gunner Barbour is a native of England, but has been residing in St. John for several years. He is thirty-two years old, and was in the employ of the C. P. R. as a steamfitter prior to going overseas. It is doubtful whether or not he will go again to the front.

He was met at the station by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, and by members of the reception committee, and was taken by auto to his former residence, 30 Brussels street.

MODEL MUCH ADMIRER

The big crowds assembled around the windows of the I. C. R. ticket office all day admiring the model of the steamer car ferry "Prince Edward Island" which has been mounted in the window. The model is about five feet in length and is a fine specimen of model building, every detail being carried out to a remarkable degree of perfection. The new craft is at present running between Pictou and Charlottetown as a passenger boat.

ACCIDENT

REV. M. O'BRIEN GOES TO NORTON

Cathedral Priest Has Been Appointed to Parish

Rev. Michael O'Brien of the Cathedral has received the appointment to the parish of Norton to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Father Byrne. The appointment of Father O'Brien will be received with acclaim by the people of Norton, who are to be congratulated upon having such an able priest to minister to them.

Father O'Brien is a native of Johnville, Carleton county. Since being elevated to the priesthood nine years ago, he has been stationed in this city, where he has won the respect of all classes by his unassuming disposition and his priestly qualities. He is a graduate of St. Joseph's University and was a clever student, taking honors in many subjects in his graduating year. Leaving St. Joseph's he entered the Grand Seminary in Quebec, where he made one of the most brilliant courses in theology in the history of the institution. Following his ordination in this city, he became attached to the Cathedral staff, where he has labored faithfully for the spiritual welfare of his people. He is of scholarly attainments and a speaker of ability. Naturally his many friends in the city and elsewhere will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

He will leave soon to take up his new duties and the best wishes of his friends here and throughout the province will follow him to his new field.

Military Expert Comments on General Kuropatkin's Statement

New York, Sept. 14.—The New York Sun prints the following news agency dispatch from London: Colonel Reppington, military expert of the Times, commenting upon the Russian General Kuropatkin's recent statement that it is necessary that the allies combine their men and guns to better advantage than hitherto, says it deserves careful consideration.

"If, on completion of our own order," he writes, "we turn over to Russian use our plants for the manufacture of heavy guns and shells except such as are required for the needs of our own army, we can enable Russia in 1917 and 1918 to develop her military power to a point where they will dominate the whole situation."

"We can do so only if we reach the limit of expansion of our own armies. These alternatives suggest several considerations, but the combination Kuropatkin seeks should not be beyond settlement by statesmanship."

LIFE IN ANTARCTIC HARDLY A PICNIC

Menu Consisted of Penguin and Blubber, Then Blubber and Penguin; Banjo Concert Weekly

London, Sept. 13.—Life on Elephant Island in the Antarctic, as it was experienced by the marooned men of the ship Endurance, is described in a message received from Punta Arenas and published in the Daily Chronicle today.

"The day began," says the description, "with breakfast which consisted merely of penguin, fried in blubber, with a drizzle of water. The morning's duties consisted in clearing away snow, and catching penguin. Lunch was served at one o'clock, consisting of a biscuit with raw blubber. The afternoon was occupied with regular exercises over a track of one hundred yards in length.

"At five o'clock, when darkness fell, came dinner, consisting of penguin breasts and beef tea. Lacking tobacco the men smoked grass from the paddling in their boots, while the pipes were carved from birds' bones and wood. The members of the party took turns in reading aloud from the only available books, namely, the Bible, an encyclopedia, Browning, Bacon's Essays and Carlyle's French Revolution. Saturday evening was always marked by a concert, the feature of which was banjo playing. A banjo was the only musical instrument in camp.

"On one occasion there was a welcome addition to the diet, when several undigested fish were found in the stomach of a seal and greatly enjoyed. These were the only fish caught during our stay. In August there was a change in the diet, when limpets were gathered and seaweed was available as a vegetable.

"We were in the midst of one of these limpet and seaweed lunches when the rescue boat was sighted.

"When was the war over?" was the first question we asked."
