DARING HOLD-UPS STRIKE NEW YORK

Child Killed and Men Shot in Bandits' Work

Little One Struck by Speeding Taxi, Robber Leaps Out and Puts Body Aside—One Set Get Payroll, a Second Fails.

(Canadian Press)

New York, Jan. 20—Two especially daring hold-ups in the city yesterday resulted in a child being killed by a taxicab and one set of bandits while they were escaping with the $775 payroll of a brickyard at East 26th street and the East River, and two of forty employees of the Brooklyn Union Gas Company being shot by three bandits who attempted to get away with a payroll amounting to $7,500 in one of the company's plants at 197 St. James' Place. In the Brooklyn hold-up the bandits escaped after paying off the payroll and clerks of the gas company exchanged more than forty shots with them and saved the payroll. One of these bandits was believed to have been mortally wounded, but his confederates got him away in a black automobile in which they drove to the place, because none of the company's defenders had bullets left. Within three hours of the hold-up detectives took into custody Frank Schloemer, 24 years old, a chauffeur, who admitted that he owned and drove the car used by the bandits. The victim of the taxicab used by the bandits in the East 26th street hold-up was eight year old Alice Tooker, of 901 East 29th street. She was crossing the street when she was hurled ten feet by the bandits' car. One of the four robbers in the car jumped out of the vehicle when the child again fell in the path of the car, and after thrusting her body aside, rejoined the others in the machine and the robbers then escaped down Second avenue.

GIRL AND MAN DEAD IN MYSTERY TRAGEDY IN TOWN OF NEW GLASGOW

Pretty Margaret MacDonald Brother and a Friend, Found on Floor

Girl and "Chippie" Reid Succumb and Brother Regains Consciousness, but Refuses to Tell What Occurred—Suspicion of Poisoning.

(Canadian Press)

New Glasgow, N. S., Jan. 20—Margaret MacDonald, aged 25, died on the floor of her room, "Chippie" Reid, her friend and admirer died in Aberdeen Hospital, and Duncan MacDonald, the girl's brother conscious, but refusing to talk, were developments today in a grim tragedy discovered yesterday afternoon when the girl was found dead with Reid and Duncan MacDonald unconscious beside her and no clue to explain their terrible plight. Margaret MacDonald came to New Glasgow seven years ago as a munitions worker and has been employed in various capacities since. Her brother came to visit her recently, looking for work, and "Chippie" Reid was another visitor who became storm stayed in New Glasgow.

What occurred in the room occupied by Miss MacDonald and her brother since Thursday night, is known only by Duncan MacDonald who this morning regained consciousness but declined to make any statement. Found by the landlady, Miss Annie MacDonald, late yesterday afternoon, the room and position of the bodies left no reliable clue as to the cause of Miss MacDonald's death and the unconscious state of her companions. Miss Annie MacDonald had visited the room several times during the day to arouse Duncan MacDonald, but was thought then to be sleeping. Remains of cooked food were on the stove and some signs on the floor pointed toward poisoning, which theory has not been substantiated. The girl's face showed traces of great agony and was blood covered from a cut which she evidently received in the writhings of death. She was an unusually pretty girl. Froth had oozed from the mouth of the stricken people, where they lay. The men and the girl had evidently partaken of an evening meal Thursday. Boiled meat was found in the oven this evening and it gave off a rancid smell. A pot of baked beans was on top of the stove. The room is on the second floor of a two-story building, owned by MacNeil's, shoe dealers, and over Spinney's fish market. The girl had sub-rented it from Miss Annie MacDonald, an elderly woman, who held the upper flat. She had lodged a long time with Miss MacDonald, who speaks very highly of her. Duncan MacDonald, about thirty years of age, a married man with a family at Mayfield, Antigonish county, had recently come to New Glasgow for employment. Chippie Reid belonged to Little Harbor, near New Glasgow, and was an acquaintance of long standing of the girl. He came to town Saturday and it was said remained here pending the bettering of storm conditions. About eight o'clock Thursday evening, Miss MacDonald came to Miss Annie MacDonald's part of the flat to get water. The water, about half of it gone, was found beside the prostrate forms tonight and they evidently tried to relieve their sufferings with it. It is thought a letter from Duncan MacDonald to his wife was found in the room and the police took possession of it.

Her Bronchitis Yields to Vicks

A "Very Effective Relief," Says This Toronto Lady

Mrs. R. K. Rankin, 115 McGill St., Toronto, Ont., says: "Last fall I had a very bad attack of bronchitis. I saw Vicks VapoRub advertised and tried it according to directions. I could not exaggerate about your valuable medicine. It is a most pleasant and effective relief for any kind of colds. I will always keep it in the house."

Vicks VapoRub comes in salve form, and for head or chest colds, you just apply it over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases vapors that are inhaled all night long into the throat and lungs—Menthol, Camphor, Thyme, Eucalyptus and Turpentine. Vicks is also absorbed through the skin and stimulates the skin, aiding the vapors to relieve congestion. Usually colds go on one night and cough is commonly relieved in 15 minutes.

By invitation of the manufacturers, fifteen thousand families in Canada tried Vicks last Winter. The results were the only condition being that they would report results. The above is just one of these enthusiastic reports received.

At all drug stores 50c a jar. For a free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 844 St. Paul St., W. Montreal, P. Q.

The Vicks is new in Canada. It enjoys a remarkable sale. Over 17 million jars used yearly.

VALUE OF OUR WATER POWERS

Interesting Address Before Teachers' Association by Herbert Philips.

An interesting paper on "Our Water Powers" was given by Herbert Philips before the meeting of the Natural History Society in the Natural History Society's rooms last night. The president, H. C. Ricker, was in the chair and there was a large attendance of members. The hearty vote of thanks extended to Mr. Philips was moved by J. Frank Owens and seconded by W. J. S. Miles. Others who spoke appreciatively concerning the interest and timeliness of the address were W. T. Denham and Miss Emma Fairweather. Mr. Miles spoke of the forthcoming visit of Sir Henry Newbold, and urged all members of the association to attend the meeting at which Sir Henry will speak.

Mr. Philips first dealt with the earlier development of water powers before the days of electrical equipment, showing how at that time the results obtained were far from satisfactory. The greatest difficulty then was occasioned by the fact that the direct application of water power to the use of industry necessitated the erection of the mill or factory at the exact place where the water power happened to be, without regard to the facilities which might or might not exist for the collection of raw material, distribution of the finished product and for the supply of labor. He emphasized the change made in this respect by the discovery of electricity and the development of long distance transmission. Particular stress was laid on the point that the progress made by the electrical engineer in the transmission of electricity during the last few years had created such a condition that three hundred miles was as great an importance in its possibilities for profit and comfort to a community as though it lay at its very door.

Dealing with the physical properties of water powers, Mr. Philips divided these into two classes of power. In one class were powers such as at Grand Falls, where large quantities of power could be developed continuously within a period of the day and 365 days in the year, and in which such power must be generated throughout every second of the day, whether it is usable or not as being particularly suited to the service of specialized in-

PREPARE CASE FOR N.B. VETERANS

To prepare evidence for presentation to the Ralston committee on pensions and re-establishment which will sit here early in February, the central committee of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance, will commence its sittings next Wednesday at Halifax, and it is expected that C. Grant MacNeill, who was appointed by the Dominion Veterans' Alliance, will be present to assist in the presentation of the evidence. Speaking at a public meeting here early in the year, MacNeill expressed the conviction that if changes were made in the existing mode of procedure respecting applications for pensions, a long step forward toward the betterment of many vexed problems would be taken. Evidence will be taken along this line and also respecting the operation here of the soldiers' memorial workshops.

RADIO TESTS ON DEARBORN TOWER IN 1890

Aerials Once Rigged Atop Chicago Rail Terminal Recently Destroyed by Fire.

The recent burning of the old Dearborn station, in Chicago, recalls the fact that the clock tower, which suffered particularly from the flames, figured in the beginning of radio development. In the summer of 1890, according to John W. Clark, assistant chief engineer of the Chicago Eastern & North Western, aerials were rigged up from the tower and experiments were performed, which, while only partly successful, convinced the experimenter that wireless messages could be sent.

"Benjamin Thomas was general manager then," said Mr. Clark. "Permission was obtained for a professor from Notre Dame to string aerials from the tower to the Tribune building. Words were exchanged, but the messages were too low and that the noises of Dearborn street interfered."

J. E. Murphy, treasurer of the railroad company, said he remembered that such experiments were conducted from the old tower. Mr. Murphy and Mr. Clark are among the oldest officials of the road in point of service. Most of the other officials entered the service of the company since 1890, and were therefore unaware of the part played by the Dearborn tower in the early history of wireless invention.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis
Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 211.
MAKING A LOOSE COUPLER REGENERATIVE.

Many operators of crystal receiving sets build or purchase loose couplers in their progress toward a more sensitive and selective receiver. From the crystal detector they go to the vacuum tube detector with its batteries and other additional parts. The discovery is soon made that the vacuum tube detector gives only slightly louder signals than can be obtained with the crystal type and the range is increased little if any. The reason for this is that the simple vacuum tube detector without regenerative features does not amplify the incoming signal as much as the operator has been led to believe. The superiority of the receiving set employing vacuum tubes is most apparent when advantages of amplification secured through regeneration are realized.

There are several ways in which a loose coupler, which consists essentially of a primary and secondary coil, may be connected so as to obtain regeneration when the tube detector is used. One method would be to place a third coil connected in the plate circuit of the vacuum tube in inductive relation to the secondary so that the energy from the plate would be fed back to the grid circuit in order to reinforce the oscillations there. Probably the simplest method is the one shown in the diagram which requires the least change in the circuit and the addition of the fewest extra parts or instruments.

In the circuit illustrated one side of the secondary circuit of the loose coupler (one end of the winding) is connected to the grid through the grid condenser in the usual way employed for the simple tube detector circuit. The switch arm on the secondary switch is connected to the negative side of the filament battery at which point the plate circuit, including the telephones and plate battery is also connected. Thus for the circuit is identified with the simple plate detector circuit. The additional apparatus required in order to make the circuit regenerative consists of a variable condenser of any convenient capacity, such as sometimes employed in series with the antenna or across the secondary winding. One side of this variable condenser is connected directly to the plate of the vacuum tube while the other terminal is connected to the other end of the winding on the secondary coil. The portion of the secondary winding ordinarily not in the circuit when the switch arm is in a certain position thus acts as a tickler coil and feeds the energy from the plate back to the grid circuit by induction.

When the switch arm rests on the last contact all the winding on the secondary is included in the grid circuit and there are no turns in the plate circuit, so it is immediately apparent that this circuit is most useful when only a portion of the winding is included in the grid circuit. The average loose coupler, however, has sufficient turns on the secondary so that the common broadcasting stations may be tuned in and advantage taken of the amplification secured through the regenerative effect produced by this method.

If it is desired to use audio frequency amplification, the primary of the first amplifying transformer would be inserted in place of the telephones at the point indicated in the diagram.

Since the number of turns in the tickler coil portion of the secondary can not be varied for any particular wave length setting of the secondary switch it is necessary to manipulate the additional variable condenser in order to regulate the amount of regeneration.

Cable offices received yesterday by the local offices of the White Star-Dominion Line give details of completion of the new oil burning steamer Doric. The work of completion on the Doric is being pushed steadily ahead and an army of over 3,000 workmen are working day and night on the steamer in order to finish her for service on the St. Lawrence next May. If all goes well, it is expected that the Doric will be ready for her sea trials about the end of February, when it is confidently expected that the ship will develop a sea speed of about seventeen or eighteen knots.

1923 School Warrant.
The Board of School Trustees submitted a request for the council to issue a warrant for school purposes for 1923, amounting to $458,548.88. Commissioner Wigmore's motion that the board be asked to furnish a detailed statement of expenditures for 1922 and that the matter would be considered with other grants, carried.
The estimated expenditure required for the year as follows:—Teachers' salaries, $295,660; officials, $10,870; care, $28,614; fuel, water and light, $6,000; coal, $90,000; rents, $30,676; supplies, $970; printing, $1,000; high school entrance examiners, $225; evening technical schools, $2,000; insurance, $1,000; repairs, $400; sinking fund, $16,081; bank interest, $220; coupon interest, $53,467.50. To be deducted from these amounts, county fund, $24,000; grants, $45,000; total, $458,548.88. This is $6,000 less than that which the board could require an assessment. This assessment exceeds last year's requirements by about $20,000.
A communication was received from No. 2 Salvage Corps advising that Mr. E. H. and his wife had requested cancellation of his warrant. The request was granted.
Authority was granted Commissioner Bullock to give the customary notice to quit to city tenants; also to renew a lease for property in Queen street held by Mrs. E. Cassey.

Authority was granted Commissioner Thornton to accept the resignation of Sergeant A. H. Collins, and the members of the social committee, Frederick Bryden, chairman, Fenwick Farris, V. J. Dunphy and Cecil Harding. The ladies' committee which had charge of the serving consisted of Mrs. I. W. N. Baker, convener, Mrs. J. L. Collins, Mrs. E. N. Davis and Mrs. Frederick Bryden. VALUATION OF PENDER CO. IS FIXED AT $100,000

Matter Settled by Common Council Yesterday—To Discuss Magistrate's Retirement—Second-hand Dealers' Case.
At a postponed meeting of the Common Council yesterday afternoon it was decided to discuss the matter of Magistrate Ritchie's retirement in committee. With reference to a request from second-hand dealers as to a change in the hours at which they must close, Commissioner Thornton moved that the hour be fixed at ten o'clock each night. A bill will be prepared for presentation to the Legislature, the costs to be borne by the dealers.
It was decided that the fixed valuation for assessment purposes, excepting school taxes, water rates and profits for a term of five years on the real and personal property of the James Pender & Co. Ltd. should be $100,000. Valuations of other firms were fixed as follows: C. H. Peters' Sons, Ltd., $60,000 for five years; Canada Brush Company, Limited, $10,000 for five years; fees, advertising and printing costs to be paid by the various companies.
Action upon a request from R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the Board of Trade, it was decided to hold a joint conference between a special committee from the Board of Trade and the Common Council this morning to discuss amendments to the act defeated some time ago at a plebiscite on harbor commission. The Mayor and Commissioner Frink opposed such a meeting.
Reporting on the request from several second-hand dealers for authority to open up the city until 10 o'clock on other week-day nights and until 11 o'clock on Saturdays, Commissioner Thornton moved that the hour for closing be fixed at 10 o'clock for all nights. This carried. A bill to this effect will be prepared for presentation to the Legislature. All costs in connection with the bill will be borne by the dealers. A request from J. Goldberg and Son to purchase waste paper that was being burned at the city dump plant was referred to Commissioner Frink for report.

CLARKE OPENS FIGHT TO HAVE U.S. JOIN LEAGUE

Ex-Supreme Court Justice Speaks at Meeting of New Association—750 Dinners Send Message to Geneva.

New York, Jan. 18.—The work that John H. Clarke of Youngstown, O., set out for himself when he resigned his seat on the bench of the United States Supreme Court, was formally launched Wednesday night in New York, when he delivered the keynote address at the first meeting of the Non-Partisan Association for the League of Nations.

The jurist, whose resignation on the grounds that he might better serve humanity, was taken until he denied it as the opening of a campaign for the Democratic nomination for President in 1924, addressed an intent audience made up of almost equal parts of Democrats and Republicans.

He opened with a fling at political partisanship which, he declared, had defeated the League of Nations in America—a defeat that he declared already proved "a great misfortune," and that, uncorrected, would result in permanent disaster to our country. "The subject never had a fair hearing in the United States," he declared, "for as soon as it appeared, it became immersed in party politics with all the misinterpretation and misrepresentation which that implies. It is the purpose of the organization for which I am speaking tonight to do what it can to lift this fearful question out of the miasma of party politics and to candidly submit it to our country, the President and Senate for reconsideration upon its merits."

"Our great congressional elections, he continued, "are interpreted by men of all parties as showing an unrest—deep and economic discontent—such as has seldom been seen in our land. Have Lost Our Soul.

"There is one thing, however, upon which we all agree. That is that after two years of isolation, of holding aloof while our former allies and friends have been sinking deeper and deeper into poverty and despair, America is profoundly dissatisfied. No taunt wounds us so deeply as the suggestion that in pride of wealth and material power, our country is losing, if, indeed, it has not lost, its soul. The conscience of the United States is troubled within us."

Turning from the moral to a more practical plane, Justice Clarke pictured America as standing on the brink of the most disastrous of all wars, and argued that since this was the case, America could lose nothing, and might gain much, by entering the league.

"General Pershing," he said, "who speaks for us the authoritative word on the subject, is urging our people to prepare for the next war."

"Secretary of the Navy Denby declares that we must have a navy second to none in the world—in preparation for the next war."

"Secretary of War Weeks advises Congress that our army has been reduced below the safety limit already and that our national safety requires that it shall be increased—in preparation for the next war."

"The President in his message on Dec. 8 commends to Congress a proposed survey of a plan to draft all the resources of the republic, human and material, for national defence so that we shall be prepared for a universal call to armed defence—in the next war."

Painting a vivid and terrifying picture of what science would make the "next war," he demanded: "If another war is inevitable without the league, why not join the league? Any refusal, any experiment, even, would be better than to push blindly, helplessly, stupidly forward into the hell of another world war."

Discusses Article 10. He then took up provisions of the league covenant which the principal objections to America's entrance into the league were based.

Although he did not enumerate among the debated points worthy of discussion article 10, which proved the storm centre of the fight against America's entrance into the league, Justice Clarke discussed it at some length. He repeated the argument, its defenders used during the Senate fight—that America could not be drawn into war without her own consent under article 10, because it was provided that all decisions under that article must be unanimous, and America's own objection was enough to keep her out.

"But since there are timid souls who may differ with us," he continued, "let me say that it is entirely clear that a single sentence stating that in joining the league, we interpret article 10 as being subject to our constitutional limitations."

Wickersham's Address. Mr. Wickersham announced that officers of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association for the year would be: President, former Justice Clarke; councillor president, Mr. Wickersham; executive committee chairman, Everett Colby.

The association sent the following cablegram to the secretary-general of the League of Nations: "Seven hundred and fifty American citizens gathered at a dinner to inaugurate the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association extend to the League of Nations our hearty greetings; We rejoice that no discouragements have dimmed the high resolution of the representatives of the league to achieve the ends set forth in the covenant. We deplore America's absence from the re-establishment of the orderly processes of civilization. As patriotic Americans, we have pledged our best endeavors to an independent cultivation of our public opinion as will insure the League of Nations at the earliest possible moment into the League of Nations, on terms consonant with the dignity and honor, the

As soon as the spot had been tentatively located by the sounding mechanism divers were sent down to investigate. After two pigs of copper, weighing 200 pounds each, had been sent to the surface by the divers the wrecking company reported to the Navy Yard that the Anode had been located and that the entire cargo can be salvaged. The Merritt-Chapman Company has already started operations to bring up the copper, according to last night's announcement, and it is expected that the entire cargo will be landed within a month.

POKES FUN AT COUE FORMULA

But Dr. Lorenz Sees Method as Cheer for Hopeless Cases —N. Y. Pastor Calls the Frenchman's Teaching Anti-Christ.

The battle over Emile Coue rages hotter and hotter, although he has left his friends and adversaries to fight it out among themselves while he visits Philadelphia, Washington and Cleveland. He has become the favorite topic for lectures, and while one clergyman was calling him the "anti-Christ" yesterday, another was announcing that he practised and preached Coueism, says the New York Times.

Dr. Lorenz, the Viennese orthopedic surgeon, while holding his first clinic since March 17, 1922, at the Public Health Department, took occasion to poke some good-natured fun at Coue. There was nothing malicious about the twinkle in the old man's eyes when he said: "Day by day, in every way you're getting straighter and straighter," repeated 10,000 times a day will only make the crooked bones more crooked in every way, because of the time wasted."

Dr. Lorenz admitted that Coue had his place in the world and that he might find plenty to do "curing" those who are walking on crutches from laziness and in consulting the hopeless. But curable cripples are wasting time and spoiling their own chances if they attempt to follow Coue, warned Dr. Lorenz.

"Words will not straighten twisted limbs," he said. "America, I am sorry to say, is the land of infantile paranoias. Never in my country did I see such cases or so many crutches. I recommend the incurable to M. Coue for consolation. But some walk on crutches because they are lazy or their little toes ache. To these the Frenchman's formula is a good command. But to say that the man with twisted bones can really throw away his crutches because he wants to is nonsense, injurious nonsense."

Dr. Lorenz himself examined sixty patients in the course of the day, many pitiful cripples seeking his aid. He will hold free clinics at the Health Department every Monday morning. He is also conducting weekly clinics in the Stuyvesant Hospital and in Newark, N. J.

Speaking on Coue in the Broadway Tabernacle the Rev. Samuel Benson, D.D., a fellow traveler of the healing movement, said he felt constrained to draw his sword and assail the cult and aims that are taking people away from the churches.

"Coue's system is distinctly anti-Christian," said Dr. Benson. "It nullifies the work of the Christian Science, the anti-Christ I believe the vogue of Coue is due to the materialistic trend of the times, and I think ministers who allow this anti-Christian twaddle to influence their must be very gullible."

A contrary view to this was expressed by the Rev. Christian F. Benson, D.D., speaking in the Chelsea Methodist Episcopal Church on Coue. He said he personally has been practicing and preaching Coueism since he discovered it in Europe last year, except that he has changed the formula to run: "Since the Holy Spirit live in me day by day, in every way, I am getting better and better."

"It is a grave mistake for ministers and churches to attack Coue," said Dr. Benson. "It is well that he has not led his system to any special religion, cult or sect, but leaves it open for wide religious leaders to appropriate the truths."

"Mr. Coue has helped us to discover one of these higher laws through the use of which, by the grace of God, we can work miracles. We can no longer afford to abuse and belittle him. His law explains the little good which Christian Science and New Thought and many similar cults have been doing, robbing the church of credit and causing the church to lose the right hand of power which she might more wisely and effectively employ."

"I am convinced that when the church, with its usual wisdom and under the direction of its sane and alert leaders will take up Coue's system and warm and empower it with vital religion, great usefulness will be added to the church. God can speak through the subconscious and can enable us to use auto-suggestion to help ourselves and others."

Justice McGoldrick Rules Marriage Dissolution Hinges on the Presumption of Death.

The so-called "Enoch Arden law," under which a suit for dissolution of marriage may be brought when a husband or wife has been absent from home for five years and no word has come from the one missing to prove he or she is still alive, received a setback on Tuesday, when Justice McGoldrick of the Supreme Court of New York, dismissed eleven such suits that came before him. The Justice expressed the opinion that the law, of which many married persons, mostly wives, have taken advantage, is an anomaly.

"A strict compliance with its terms should be required before such extraordinary relief is granted," said Justice McGoldrick. "It must clearly appear from the petition, supported by proof at a hearing, that the absentee has not been known to the petitioner for five years immediately preceding the presentation thereof, and that the absence has been under such circumstances as could give rise to a presumption of death. The 'diligent search' made, and upon which must be based the belief that husband or wife is dead, must be with intent to discover evidence that such husband or wife is living, and just be sufficiently thorough to warrant the conclusion that no such evidence can be reasonably found."

Will Drive the Saloon from Pennsylvania, Making it "Dry State with Personally Dry Executive Mansion."

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 20.—Gifford Pinchot, former Forester of the United States, who this week became the thirtieth Governor of Pennsylvania under the constitutional form of government, in his inaugural address said that the people had declared for a new order in the government of their Commonwealth and that among other things he would use all his power to drive saloons out of Pennsylvania, prevent and punish bootlegging, keep the expenses of the State within its income and get a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent.

"I regard the present flagrant failure to enforce the Volstead law," he declared, "as a blot on the good name of Pennsylvania and the United States. If allowed to continue it will amount to a serious charge against the fitness of our people for genuine self-government. I propose not only to press with all my power for the abolition of the saloon, but also to make sure that the government of this State takes full and effective part in such an effort."

"This administration will be dry. The Executive Mansion will be dry, and the personal practice of the Governor and his family will continue to be dry, in conformity with the spirit and letter of the Eighteenth Amendment."

Outlines Policy. Governor Pinchot declared his policy as follows: "To drive all saloons out of Pennsylvania. To prevent and punish bootlegging. To maintain and secure good laws for the protection of working children, women and men. To safeguard the industries of Pennsylvania and promote the prosperity of the State. To advance the interests of the farmers, who feed us all. To give our children the best schools in America. To check centralization and give more home rule to cities, counties and school districts. To maintain the direct primary plan and protect the rights of women voters. To meet the just needs of those who served in the World War. To revise and equalize taxes, establish a budget system and reorganize the State Government on a business basis. To keep the expenses of the State within its income. To get a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent."

Will Appoint Committee To Consider Port Development

Conference at City Hall Today Talks of Matter of Harbor Commission—Necessity of Ascertaining Plans of Railway Companies Pointed Out—The Needs of St. John.

The question of port development at St. John, which involves a further consideration of the matter of placing the harbor in commission, was taken up at a meeting held this morning at City Hall attended by members of the City Council, Board of Trade, shipping interests and others. After some discussion it was decided to appoint a committee to consider proposals in connection with port development and report back.

Amongst those present were Mayor Fisher, Commissioners Bullock and Wigmore, Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, M. P., Dr. Murray MacLaren, M.P., G. E. Barbour, president, and R. E. Armstrong, secretary, of the Board of Trade; H. C. Schofield, of the Robert Reford Co.; D. W. Ledingham, of the Furness Withy Co.; G. K. McNabb, of the C. G. M. M.; Percy Turcott, of the Canada Steamships, Ltd.; Thomas Nagle, of Nagle & Wigmore; Dr. W. P. Broderick, E. W. McCready, A. P. Peterson and Allan McAvity.

Mayor Fisher was asked to take the chair, but declined. He said that the people had rejected harbor commission and he therefore thought that the initiative should not be taken by the City Council.

On motion of R. E. Armstrong, G. E. Barbour, president of the Board of Trade, took the chair. Mr. Barbour said that in a conference of port interests following the defeat of the plebiscite on harbor commission, it was pointed out that the objection was not so much against the principle of harbor commission, but rather the proposed bill on which the vote was taken.

The Board of Trade did not intend to take any dogmatic position on any particular form of harbor commission, but he thought the matter should be discussed thoroughly. He advocated the appointment of a civic committee to go into the matter in a non-political way and consult every possible interest.

H. C. Schofield said that in the conference held after the plebiscite, the matter was thoroughly threshed out and was presented to the Board of Trade. He said that since that time no action was taken. He said that the matter was recently brought up by people who were indignant and under the doctor's care. He said that St. John's interest had suffered as a result of the bill proposed, as some people who were opposed to the principle voted against the bill.

R. E. Armstrong said at the conference referred to there were representatives of the Board of Trade, Retail Merchants' Association, Rotary Club, Commercial Club, Engineering Institute, and Trades and Labor Council. Commissioner Bullock and Dr. MacLaren were also present. The Fredericton Board of Trade wanted representation, and the place did not want harbor commission to affect rates on vessels going up river.

Commissioner Wigmore said he had always been in favor of harbor commission. He said after the 1917 election he and Hon. F. B. Carvell had placed the matter before the members of the Federal Government and finally a bill was prepared. Although it was not entirely satisfactory to all, it was the best that could be obtained. The people, he thought, rejected the bill, on account of being opposed to the principle, but rather to some of the terms. He referred to the visit of the western members and Premier Meighen and of the present leader, Hon. Mackenzie King, to the city. Mr. King was accompanied by the now Minister of Marine, Hon. Mr. Lapointe. He suggested the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter and report suggestions and amendments which might be placed before the government by a strong delegation. He felt that if it was impressed on the government that the people behind the delegation favored the amendments, the government would give them a good hearing.

Speaking not as city solicitor nor as a member of parliament, Dr. J. B. M. Baxter said as a citizen he always favored harbor commission. He said that the Canadian ports should combine to promote their own interests. He felt that our real rival was Portland. The battle of ports, he said, was organization and equipment. "The act, he said, had faults, but he voted for it, as he felt that the government could be trusted to take advantage of any defects. He agreed that the act might be amended. He felt that the boundaries should be more clearly defined. The removal of the Marble Cove and Mill Pond areas was a matter a committee could take up.

Any action taken now would not be defiance of the will of the people, as he felt that they might favor a new bill. He thought that by public education a committee as proposed should be able to get the support of a majority of the people. He felt that with the support of the press of the city, harbor commission could be carried in the interests of the city, but without this support he thought it would be useless to attempt anything.

Board of Trade Secretary, Mr. Armstrong said that the Lieutenant Governor had expressed himself as favoring the principle of harbor commission, and that he had discussed the matter with Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, and Hon. F. B. Carvell, both of whom also were favorable to the project. Mr. Armstrong said he felt that St. John needed harbor commission to compare with other great harbors in Canada. He felt that more could be accomplished this way than through the tri-partite agreement. He did not feel that the result of the 1921 plebiscite should affect consideration of the proposed amendments. The Mayor said that what the city required was more federal interest. Harbor commission might accomplish this. He said that the government had not made a move to protect the work had done under the tri-partite agreement. The city had decided not to construct any more wharves, and if the harbor commission principle was not adopted, the government would have to provide more facilities. He felt that there was lack of interest in St. John which should be overcome. Harbor commission, Commissioner Bullock said, was an instrument that could put St. John in the proper place as a Canadian port. He said other ports as badly off as St. John were moving toward state or government control. The tri-partite agreement, he felt, was a dead issue. Moves for Committee.

He moved that a committee be appointed to consider the matter of harbor development and report back. He felt that the bill covering the matter should be drawn here. H. C. Schofield seconded the motion.

A. P. Peterson said that Commissioner Bullock was the city's representative on the previous committee which had the same matter in hand.

E. W. McCready said that it was to be taken that all those present at the meeting were anxious to have St. John take its proper place as a Canadian port. He felt that it should not be specified that the proposed committee should be limited to suggested amendments to the Harbor Commission Bill but rather to go into the whole matter of what was required to give the St. John harbor its proper place as a national port.

Before attempting to formulate any definite scheme, it should be ascertained where the transportation plans of the C. N. R. and the C. P. R. fitted into the whole scheme, so that regardless of the Government in power, the development of St. John should go on uninteruptedly.

It should first be learned, he thought, if Sir Henry Thornton had any plans for terminal facilities at St. John. He felt that if they intended to give us an unbroken four-tenth grade from Winnipeg to St. John, the city should know as to how they would be taking action. He advised against another controversial election which might obstruct the object in view.

As at Portland, Me., was concerned, Mr. McCready thought that one of the best protections for New Brunswick against any foreign port was the completion of a four-tenth grade from Winnipeg to the deep water terminals at St. John. He pointed out that this grade was already provided between Winnipeg and McEwen Junction and between Fredericton and Westfield, and if the road between Fredericton and McEwen and the line from Westfield to St. John were brought to that standard there would be a continuous easy grade all the way from Winnipeg to the St. John pier. The grades from Montreal to Portland were heavy, he said, and mileage on the railways was considered more in the cost of operation per ton than in the actual distance covered.

Mr. Baxter said that the co-operation of the great railway interests, as suggested by Mr. McCready was a vital point. Regarding the personnel of the proposed harbor commission, he felt that the city would not be better served by Sir Henry Thornton should name one member of the board and that the C. P. R. name another. He felt that through these not only would it be possible to have development made where it was required, but there would be a better chance of having these developments used. He thought that it would be wise to have three St. John men on the commission, but he felt the other suggestion would be more in the interests of the port and of the country. He felt that the misgivings of citizens should be educated along these lines.

Dr. W. P. Broderick felt that it was not the principle of commission that was defeated. He pointed out the necessity of having the people of St. John behind the movement before the government was approached on the matter.

He agreed that the transportation question was one which affected the whole matter. He favored placing the question in the hands of a committee to remove if possible any controversial features. Dr. M. MacLaren, M.P., said the opinion of many citizens was that matters should not stand as they are. He felt that the definite opposition to the commission bill was caused by some of the clauses in the act. To wait for the plans of the transportation companies, he said, might cause delay. He felt that their policy should not necessarily delay harbor commission, which he was sure would encourage the railway companies to make more use of the facilities of the port.

Commissioner Wigmore said that it was impossible to get any declaration from President Borden, of the C.P.R. as to his feeling towards harbor commission, as he felt that the C.P.R. might be called upon to pay higher charges than under the present policy.

Commissioner Bullock was of the opinion that St. John should be represented on any board of harbor commissioners. He outlined the objections to the old bill and felt that these should be considered. He said the port was up to the limit of its port facilities and there was hardly a day that some vessels had not to be docked two abreast. He said today he had a request for accommodation for 3,000 tons but said the port was not able to supply it.

Mr. McCready said he did not intend that formation of the committee should await the announcement of the government railway policy, but he thought that the C.N.R. and C.P.R. officials should be consulted by members of the proposed committee, as freight handled through the port would be brought here by the two great transportation lines.

Commissioner Bullock agreed to add to his motion that the committee be appointed by the Mayor and the president of the Board of Trade and the motion carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Prize Essay. It would be impossible to summarize the writing of Mr. Schierbeck. It is the work of a man who is at once a student and a practical and experienced forester.

"The present budworm situation in Canada is not yet fully realized. The dying of the balsam is of so recent date that the disaster is not fully visible yet. When thousands of acres are desert-like wind-falls, just as described above, after the attack of the budworm in Prussia, Canada will get its forestry panic."

It will not be the fault of Mr. Barnjum if this disaster should fall upon Canada. He at any rate is doing his part to avert it.

SEEK COMPROMISE ON BENJAMIN WILL

Attorneys for the Competing Parties Confer in Office of Surrogate—Hope to Obviate Trial.

New York, Jan. 20.—A conference held in the chambers of Surrogate O'Brien had for its object a settlement of the contest of the will of Park Benjamin, lawyer, author and naval expert, whose children, including Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso, widow of Enrico Caruso, filed the suit some months ago.

Mr. Benjamin left the bulk of his $400,000 estate to his adopted daughter, Anna Bolchi Benjamin, and cut off his children, whom he criticised severely and referred to as "parasites." The death of his wife in a sanitarium not long after his own demise would have put the adopted daughter in almost immediate possession of the estate, but for the contest.

The attorneys in conference yesterday represented all parties to the contest. They declined to discuss the purpose of the conference, or its probable outcome, although it was admitted by one of the parties involved that a compromise might be the result of further negotiations. It is known that no definite conclusion was reached yesterday and that there will be further discussions between the attorneys and the Surrogate.

The case is on the calendar for early trial. Rumors have persisted for the past week that a basis of ending the contest and avoiding the publicity of a trial was being sought.

Arthur Fullman, counsel for the adopted daughter, insisted that no decision had been reached which would warrant an announcement, and that he could say nothing about the conference. He added that "there may be something in a few days."

BRITAIN MAY GET GALLIOLI GRAVES OF SOLDIER DEAD

Turkish Delegates Said to be Ready to Accede to Appeal That Britain Own Land Where Troops Lie Buried.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Lausanne, Jan. 19.—An earnest appeal that Great Britain be permitted to own in her own right the soil where her soldier dead lie buried in Gallipoli was addressed to the Turks yesterday by the British delegation. The Ottoman delegates probably will accede to this request. About 100,000 British fell around Gallipoli in the Great War. There is a general belief in England that several British soldiers, chiefly Indians, but some English are still prisoners in the hands of the Turks, and the Turks have agreed to release them and extend the right of search to representatives of the British army.

FLOW OF EMBASSY LIQUOR STOPPED

Arrests Made of Alleged Traffickers in Wet Goods in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 20.—There are two developments in the booze situation in Washington following agitation in Congress and elsewhere over the "wetness" in official circles. One is that the White House is dry for the first time since the "dry" has been in effect. The other is that the word has gone out from high official authority that the embassies and legations in Washington must check the flow of liquor, which has grown to scandalous proportions.

Just when the address hit the White House is not ascertainable, but all those who know say it is "dry" and persons connected with the President's official family who are fond of a drink have been given to understand that the "devil's bottle" elsewhere than in their desks at the executive mansion. There are no formal dinners being given at the White House at this time owing to Mr. Harding's illness, but the new rule will apply to all social functions and dinners which may be given in the future it is said.

The "dry" has been passed on to the Washington embassies and legations that the lavish generosity which has marked the distribution of liquor to persons outside the diplomatic set by their friends on the inside must stop. Persons connected with some of the smaller legations are known to have built up a lucrative trade in "embassy" liquor, brought into this country under diplomatic immunity.

The representative of one South American country is understood to have been caught with the "goods on him," and to have received an intimation that a repetition of the offence would mean his recall. This office is understood to have made thousands of dollars in this manner.

With the past week two important arrests were made here in an effort to break up the traffic in liquor taken out of warehouses under diplomatic permits. Mrs. Elizabeth Hecht, known as the "Spanish queen" as the first arrested.

For Thousands of Weak, Nervous, Run-down Folks—A Message Of Good Cheer To Those Who Want To Be Strong, Healthy and Vigorous

Cut Out and Use Free Trial Coupon Below Today

If I could sit down with some physicians claim the body cannot absorb. In compounding this newer form of iron, which I call Nuxated Iron, I used a special form of iron which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, and is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test and see if you cannot be like other people whose blood is rich in iron who possess great strength, force and energy. Cut out my trial coupon and go to your own druggist and get your first trial package of Nuxated Iron. Then see how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times a day, after meals, for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

An astonishing number of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while are today in good health and filled with abundant strength, energy and endurance through the use of this newer form of iron. It would seem that every run-down person who wants to get back their old-time strength and health would go at once to their druggist and make this trial at my expense.

Did you ever stop to consider how few people are suffering from a definite disease as compared to the vast number who are just weak, sick, nervous and run-down? Did you know that another has thought he has kidney trouble, palpitations and dizziness, and is sure he is suffering from heart disease, still others have severe headaches, floating spots before the eyes, tender spots along the spine, and a great variety of alarming symptoms.

For years I have made a special study of this condition, consulting a great number of physicians and chemists. An immense number of investigations by physicians all over the country showed that three people out of every four who meet lack 100% iron in their blood. I then saw that if I could supply this iron in a form that would be easily taken up by the body, I would have the secret key to health for thousands of weak, nervous, run-down people. Lack of iron in the blood is the greatest of all debilitating weaknesses. His the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron, nothing you eat does you any good. In the old days, iron was obtained from iron ore.

NOTE: The above company is known to be thoroughly reliable. Over 4,000,000 packages of Nuxated Iron are sold annually, and has been used and highly recommended by former U.S. Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of U. S. Courts and many physicians.

Mrs. Margaret Harrison, aged thirty-eight, giving her occupation as an auditor, and her son, Thomas, aged nineteen, a student at Georgetown University, were arrested Saturday night in the Haddington Apartments, in the fashionable northwest section of the city. Mrs. Harrison, according to the police, supplied Washington society people with embassy liquor. The police do not divulge the particular channel through which she obtained the liquor. Several other arrests are shortly to be made, it was reported today in the drive on the vendors of embassy liquor.

"Good Christian is Good Fighter," Says Pastor, Teaching Girls To Box

Chicago, Jan. 18.—"Sin results from temptation," declared the Rev. Elzezer Dave, pastor of the Sheridan Road Methodist Church in a sermon one day. "And no man is going to be tempted to get 'fresh' with a girl if he knows she packs a healthy wallop in each fist."

The Rev. Mr. Dave's congregation thought this sounded very reasonable, but nevertheless they were astounded some time later to find that he had hired D. Logan Loughborough, a former Nebraska football player and veteran of the Boer war, the boxer-rebellion and the Spanish American war as assistant pastor to teach Sunday school girls to box.

An ex-football player as an assistant pastor was a novelty, even in Chicago, but after the first gasp of amazement the congregation accepted the idea.

The flappers in the congregation "took to it" at once—and boxing classes started off with a rush. Bloomered and bloused, the girls were taught to box each other, preparatory to landing on the chin of some obnoxious masher.

What the effect will be on the genus "cake-eater" in Chicago only time will tell, but Rev. Mr. Dave is watching the experiment with interest.

"A good Christian is a good fighter," says the pastor. "Military Christianity is necessary sometimes—and when unprotected girls are accosted in a big city is one of the times."

CAPTAIN'S BULLET CHECKED MUTINY; KILLED SEAMAN

Rebel, Single-handed, Held up Officers and Took Command—Wild Fight on the High Seas.

St. Johns, Nfld., Jan. 19.—How a seaman, Krishan Jacob Lorenzen by name, single-handed held up the officers of a Danish schooner and took over navigation of the vessel until he was forced to capitulate by a bullet from the revolver of the captain, became known here with the release from the penitentiary of Krishan Rasmussen, master, and Erik Kinudsen, first mate, of the schooner Centaurus, on instructions of the justice department, Newfoundland, which decided, following an investigation, that it had no jurisdiction in the matter. Rasmussen and Kinudsen immediately rejoined their vessel at Harbor Buffet, and will sail shortly with a cargo of fish for the Mediterranean.

The detention of the men followed representations made by the captain to the local authorities upon the arrival of the schooner at Harbor Buffet, the morning following the tragedy. Rasmussen stated that shortly after leaving Spencer's Cove, Nfld., for Harbor Buffet on the morning of December 19, the mate and himself became engaged in an animated discussion over the position of the vessel, in the ship's cabin. While so engaged, Lorenzen, whom he described as "a strapping big man," came down the companion-way, told the two men that neither knew what he was talking about, and stated that he intended to take charge of the ship. Ordered on deck Lorenzen refused to attack the captain. Upon the mate interfering, he too was attacked, the battling ending with captain and mate locked up in the cabin and Lorenzen at the wheel.

For upwards of two hours the officers attempted to regain the deck and control of the ship, but the breaks were all against them. When the mate appeared at the head of the companion-way, Lorenzen, from his position at the wheel, would promptly subject it to a well aimed kick.

Captain Became Desperate.

Finally in desperation the captain resorted to his gun, and forcing his way to the deck grappled with the mutineer, the mate rendering all the assistance possible. In the melee the gun was discharged without, however, inflicting any damage. This seemed to take the fight out of the officers, and the captain conceding they were no match for the seaman, single-handed, fled shortly thereafter they were hurried down the companion-way and the hatch again barred against them.

It was then late in the evening and snow flurries, Lorenzen brought the ship about and headed out to sea. The captain fearing that the ship might be placed in a perilous position redoubled his efforts to regain control of his charge. Seizing his gun he again advanced upon the companion-way. Lorenzen's foot was ready but before he could swing it Rasmussen pulled the trigger. He discharged the gun, he said, for the purpose of frightening the mutineer, but the bullet found a mark in the arm of the rebellious sailor, who was immediately compelled to go forward in order to have the wound dressed. Lorenzen later appeared on the after deck and tearing the bandage from his arm refused to allow anything to be done in the treatment of the wound. Excitement gradually weakened, however, he was compelled to permit his arm to be dressed and later he was placed in the captain's bunk. He died six hours later from loss of blood.

The captain and mate were detained following their recital of the circumstances and as a result of an investigation by the police the justice department decided that under international law it was without authority to try the case. The men, on release, were handed over to the Danish consul, who will send a full report of the occurrence with the depositions and other evidence to the Danish authorities for any action they may think fit to take, when the ship reaches home waters.

OLD VIKING PORT BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Gamla Lodsoe, Buried for Ages, Uncovered by Archaeologist.

New York, Jan. 18.—The most important archaeological finds in north Europe in recent years, says a report made by the Gothenburg Jubilee Expedition, are reported from Gothenburg, Sweden. Baron Carl of Ugglas, the Swedish archaeologist, working under the auspices of the Gothenburg city authorities, says the report, has excavated from a mound near Gothenburg the ancient Viking seaport of Gamla Lodsoe, one of the oldest and most important ports of the Scandinavian north. The excavations have occupied a period of four years.

At the same time another Swedish archaeologist, Dr. Sixten Strombom, has dug up the ruins of Nya Lodsoe, successor to Gamla Lodsoe. The site of Dr. Strombom's excavations is within the limits of the city of Gothenburg. Baron of Ugglas has dug up a church almost as large as the present Gothenburg Cathedral, besides several smaller churches, city walls, a castle, private houses, armor, tools, weapons, coins, and other relics. This material will throw considerable light on the culture and history of early Scandinavia. A model of the great church excavated by the Baron of Ugglas, together with the armor, tools, etc., unearthed by him and Dr. Strombom, will be exhibited in the historical section of the Gothenburg Jubilee Exposition which will open next May and continue until September 30.

Archaeological students believe that Gamla Lodsoe had been inhabited for more than a thousand years before it sank back into the dust. It played a big political role in the Middle Ages and was an important shipping port even in pagan times. Ancient Scandinavian tales frequently mention it. In those days it was Sweden's leading port, as its successor, Gothenburg, is today. It is mentioned by the English writer St. Cunebert, and the Icelandic sagas refer to it as a place where Viking traders came for bar-gain and battle. The saga of "The Burnt Njal" mentions it as "Lod Hus," meaning "the house of song" or "the house of music," which would indicate that the old Viking traders found Gamla Lodsoe a lively port of call.

The excavations and researches of the Baron of Ugglas show that Gamla Lodsoe, in the period of its greatest power, 1185-1475, had two churches, St. Olof's and St. Peter's; the chapels of St. Birgitta, Holy Cross, and others; the hospital of St. Jorgen, Dominican monastery, a castle which is often named in stories of the wars between the Danes and Swedes, while in its vicinity were the castles of Bohus and Stynaborg. Stynaborg has completely disappeared, while the gray old ruin of Bohus still looks down grimly upon the ashes of Gamla Lodsoe.

Gamla Lodsoe was abandoned as a port because it was too far from the sea, on a river that was frozen in winter, and because the lords of Bohus castle levied tribute on the merchant ships coming up the river. It was succeeded by Nya Lodsoe, which in turn was succeeded by the present city of Gothenburg.

Gothenburg, in celebrating her three-hundredth anniversary this year, will exhibit to the world the remains of her ancestral cities.

Closed Cars That Endure

STUDEBAKER enclosed bodies give years of satisfactory service—sturdy one-piece ash pillars extend from frame to roof; wind and rain and sun, and a decade of use will never warp the panels; doors shut positively and accurately; protection is afforded against rattles, squeaks and dust, and entrance and departure is easy and convenient.

They are beautiful and in good taste, inside and out. They are as comfortable as your favorite easy chair—paintstaking craftsmanship makes that possible. Naturally Studebaker closed cars are completely equipped—for the same reason that your living room is completely furnished.

When you buy a Studebaker closed car, you buy a body that is worthy of a Studebaker chassis.

There is not the slightest compromise in either—in design, materials, workmanship or appearance.

Depreciation is therefore low and satisfaction with Studebaker closed cars universal.

Studebaker has built quality vehicles for 71 years—and that high quality standard will never be sacrificed.

KAISER'S YACHT TO SEEK TRADE IN BRITISH DOMINIONS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
London, Jan. 19.—"The Hohenzollern" once the palatial pleasure yacht of the former German Emperor, is being fitted out as a trade ship by the German government and will be sent on a cruise to the British Dominions.

News that the Germans were attempting to get a share of the Dominion trade has caused British merchants to fit out two ships for a similar voyage.

The first vessel will be ready to sail by February 1. Soon after another ship will start around the world to the opposite direction in an effort to beat the German boat to its goal.

The beautiful rose pink furnishings and elegantly appointed cabins of the "Hohenzollern" have been torn out to make room for stands that will display German goods.

Winnipeg, Jan. 19.—The $60,000 liquor bribe, alleged to have been offered to Hon. R. W. Craig, attorney general for Manitoba, will be the subject of discussion during the present session of the legislature. Unless Mr. Craig makes a statement in the House, covering the charge, opposition members will ask for information on the subject and there is a possibility of Dr. C. W. Gordon being called to tell what he knows of the alleged bribery.

(Canadian Press.)

Essen, Jan. 20.—It was reported here this morning that Marshal Foch, the French generalissimo, would arrive in the Ruhr Valley during the day.

London, Jan. 20.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times sends a report printed by the Tagblatt that General Weyand, Marshal Foch's chief of staff, has been appointed to succeed General Degoutte as commander of the French occupation army.

Essen, Jan. 20.—Fritz Thyssen and five other prominent mine operators were arrested here this morning. The prisoners were transferred to Dusseldorf.

CLOSE GERMAN
HOTELS TO THEM

Berlin, Jan. 20.—French and Belgian nationals hereafter will be refused lodging accommodations at all the chief hotels of Greater Berlin in accordance with a resolution ratified unanimously by the Berlin Hoteliers Association.

French demands and cordials will be barred and hotel news stands have been ordered to discontinue sale of French newspapers.

The Berlin wine dealers association and delicatessen shops are supporting the boycott of the hotels by agreeing to discontinue the purchase and sale of French products.

London, Jan. 20.—An Essen despatch to the Times says the Belgians yesterday occupied the premises of the Gute Hoffnung mine at Sterkrade. The miners struck immediately, refusing to work until the troops were withdrawn.

Elberfeld, Jan. 20.—The railroad workers in this zone decided today no longer to transport outside of the Ruhr coal requisitioned by the French.

Bank in Rebellion.
Dusseldorf, Jan. 20.—The Reichsbank failed to open its doors today at 10 a. m., whereupon General Degoutte ordered it to resume its activities immediately.

A majority of the private banks, which were also closed yesterday were doing business this morning. Their managers said they would continue to do so until the supply of marks was exhausted.

Dusseldorf, Jan. 20.—A point blank refusal from the directors of the Reichsbank branch here to re-open the bank's doors was delivered today to General Degoutte, French commander in chief in the Ruhr. Declining to obey General Degoutte's orders, the bank resumed its activities immediately the directors declared.

"The bank will remain closed so long as there is a single French soldier in or around the premises."

General Degoutte in replying held the directors personally responsible and informed them that the military guard would be removed only after the bank had reopened for business.

It was expected that penalties would be imposed upon the directors before the day was over.

Essen, Jan. 20.—All the private banks in Essen were closed today as a result of the Reichsbank branch here being put under guard. They announced that they would not re-open until the measures against the Reichsbank were rescinded.

Postmaster Arrested.
Essen, Jan. 20.—The postmaster of Essen, whose office handles all telegraphic messages filed here, was arrested today on the charge of "willfully delaying telegrams destined for Paris."

The personnel of the postal telegraph and telegraph services held a conference at noon on the question of whether to quit work as a result of Postmaster Jaeger's arrest.

The director of post office construction Zehme, also was arrested on the ground that he had refused to serve the occupying forces.

Director Schultz, in taking over the administration of the office after the arrests, advised the French authorities he intended to follow the orders of the German Government.

Shot By Sentry.
Langendorf, Germany, Jan. 20.—Franz Kowalski, a hospital attendant, was shot dead by a French sentry here yesterday. The reason for the shooting is not known and an investigation is under way.

PAY DAY AND POSSIBLE TROUBLE.
Essen, Jan. 20.—Pay day in the Ruhr brought labor to the fore as one of the most formidable obstacles in the path of the French and Belgian experts who in their determination to exact reparations payments by force have already seized some of the Prussian state mines and arrested several of the magnates.

To the murmurs of discontent at the presence of French bayonets before several of the pit heads, there was added today an atmosphere of unrest and uncertainty as the workmen began to wonder where their pay envelopes were coming from.

Delegates from the unions were informed last evening by the French that France was unwilling to assume responsibility for the wage payments. On the other hand, Herens Krupp and Thyssen, although not officially announcing they had no money to meet the payroll, gave the workers to understand that today's envelopes would probably be thin.

NEW PICTURE OF PRINCE ALBERT AND BRIDE-TO-BE

The engagement announced by the King of his second son, Prince Albert Duke of York, to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, daughter of the Earl of Strathmore, gives general satisfaction because of her British birth. Lady Elizabeth was one of Princess Mary's bridesmaids, and it is said that the romance began at the wedding. She is twenty-two years of age, clever, high-spirited and an accomplished business woman. Her home is Glamis Castle, famed in the story of Macbeth. The Prince is an officer in the flying corps, and was present on Beauty's ship at the Battle of Jutland.

The French inspectors at the same time seized the customs funds, forests and coal taxes.

Says Banks Confiscated.
London, Jan. 19.—All the German branch banks, credit institutions and tax collectors' offices in the old and newly occupied territory of the Rhineland have been confiscated by the French authorities, says a Central News despatch from Berlin.

Not to Ask British Mediation.
London, Jan. 19.—Reuter's Berlin correspondent says he is officially informed that there is no foundation to the report that Germany contemplates sending a mission to London to obtain British mediation in the Ruhr.

Think Mediation Efforts Futile.
London, Jan. 19.—The attempts being made, particularly by Italian representation, to the Allied ambassadors in Rome, to bring about mediation between the French and Germans, are entirely premature, according to British official opinion. Likewise, it is held that all talk of invoking action by the League of Nations or the great offices of the United States are, for the present moment, useless.

French Colonel Recalled.
Berlin, Jan. 19.—The French colonel who was responsible for the recent incident in Bochum, when German demonstrators were fired upon by French troops, has been recalled.

Bochum, it is said, will be occupied by another regiment. The German government intends to protest to France against the shooting.

Italy Reported to Have Sent Warnings Both to France and Britain Urging Pause in All

Washington, Jan. 20.—Information here that Italy has made it known to the British and French governments that she regards the Ruhr situation as highly dangerous, has added to the uneasiness felt in Washington over the European conditions.

The stand taken by Italy plus reports that the Russian army is being mobilized for a drive on Poland and possibly aid to Germany, along with various reports and rumors of a disturbing nature are undoubtedly giving serious concern to the Administration and to Congress.

Regardless of sympathies, with France or against France, there is much talk here among responsible men to the effect that another European conflict may break out at any time and assume proportions which no man can foretell.

Italy, as understood here, has expressed the view that no further forcible steps toward enforcement of reparations on Germany be taken, without the most careful consideration and consultation.

Wars of a Clash.
It is understood the Italian action is a protest. It is rather an admonition of the danger which Italy sees in the present situation. The German Ambassador at Rome brought to the attention of the Italian government the fact that French forces in the Ruhr and German forces are close together and that there were possibilities of clash.

The result was that the Italian Ambassadors at London and Paris, at the instance of Premier Mussolini, made representations to the effect the Italian government viewed the present situation with apprehension and feared it might have grave results, meaning, in fact, that it feared warlike developments.

What effect the Italian admonition has had or will have is not known. Italy is outwardly at least supporting France in the occupation but whether her action points to a change of Italian policy or a less aggressive French policy is not ascertained. So far as known here, the French intend to carry out their plans vigorously.

Russian Reports Unverified.
With respect to rumors of the mobilization of Russian troops to be used against Poland, official confirmation is lacking. The Polish legation tonight indicated it had nothing to confirm reports of any hostile movement of Russian troops on the Polish frontier.

So far as indicated here, the Administration has no plan in mind for taking any further hand in the European entanglement.

FRENCH TROOPS ONCE MORE ON THE MOVE

Improvement of the harbor facilities at St. Pierre

North Sydney, N. S. Jan. 20.—Extensive improvement to the harbor facilities at St. Pierre, the capital of the French island off the coast of Newfoundland, may result from the visit of M. Sarraut, Minister of Colonies, of France, who returned here last night.

M. Sarraut said he intends to propose to his government extensive improvements to overcome the difficulties that are now experienced by the fishing fleet at St. Pierre.

The minister made inquiries for the latest news regarding the development in connection with French occupation of the Ruhr Valley. He says he feels that France, her limit of patience exhausted, is justified in the step she has taken, declaring that, from his personal and intimate knowledge of the Ruhr Valley, he is convinced sufficient wealth exists in Germany to meet the reparations payments as agreed. He said that no country covered with industry and whose smoke stacks are rising like forests everywhere, could possibly be as poor, or as near bankruptcy as the Germans are trying to make the world believe. M. Sarraut left here last night by rail for New York to take the first available French steamer home.

VOTE MONDAY ON LIQUOR QUESTION

P. E. Island Popular Sentiment
to be Tested

People Asked to Say Whether or No Importation of Intoxicating
Liquors Into the Province Shall be Prohibited—Phases of the Situation.

(Canadian Press.)

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 20.—A new test of the public sentiment toward the liquor traffic will be made when on next Monday a plebiscite of P. E. Island voters will be taken to decide whether or not importation of intoxicating liquors into the province for export shall be prohibited.

Under existing laws liquor may be imported for export, and for no other purpose except those contained in the prohibition act and the Doherty act. The former places the sale and disposal of intoxicating liquors within the province under the control of the government, while the Doherty act, a federal law, prohibits the importation of liquor for use within the province except for sacramental, medicinal and mechanical purposes.

The structure of these acts leaves an opportunity for the "export houses" to operate. They can bring in as much liquor as they desire for export out of the province and previous to June 1, 1922, four of these export houses were operating on the island, each paying to the provincial government a tax of $5,000. One firm went out of business in last June, and on December 1 the remaining three houses gave notice to the government that they were giving up the business and would not, henceforth, be liable to the tax. The government, accordingly, notified transportation companies of the cancellation of their licenses.

It is contended by the temperance alliance that much of the liquor brought in for export never leaves the province, but is disposed of locally by bootleggers and others.

The Canadian Temperance Act, amended at the beginning of last year, gives the provinces power to prohibit the importation of liquor for purposes of export, but not unless the question has been decided by a plebiscite of the electors. The question on the ballots Monday will be as follows:

"Shall the importation and bringing of intoxicating liquors into the province be prohibited?"

If the majority of the electors vote yes on the plebiscite the next step will be the passing, by the provincial government, of an order-in-council which will be sent to Ottawa before the adoption of Part 4 of the Canada Temperance Act becomes law. It will probably remain for the provincial authorities to enforce it.

A feature of the temperance activities leading up to the plebiscite has been the question of whether it is now lawful to import liquor for personal medicinal use. Chief Justice Matheson in the Supreme Court, Jan. 1922, handed down judgment that Section 52 of the local prohibition act, which makes it illegal for any person to have liquor in his possession except when obtained in a manner authorized, or prescription from a vendor, was unconstitutional. Several convictions were questioned. At the coming session of the Supreme Court it is expected that the constitutionality of the new amendments will be tested.

NEWLY ELECTED MAYOR

Ward tried to follow, but the flat tire prevented him from making any speed. The robberies were last seen going north on Fourth avenue toward Borough Hall. The hold-up was witnessed by about a dozen persons. The police have the number on the license plate of the car, but little result is expected from this clue.

Julian Denner, the Bronx, was shot in the back by the robbers on 124th street between Lenox and Park avenues. According to Denner, he had been visiting a friend at 120th street and Park avenue, and was on his way home when two men stepped out of a hallway and ordered him to accompany them into the hallway. He hurried away and was shot. A policeman found Denner unconscious.

THE GOOD RESOLUTION

—From London Opinion.

6 GET $10,000 IN
PAYROLL HOLD-UP

Rob Two Paymasters in a
Brooklyn Factory Yard and Escape in Automobile.

New York, Jan. 20.—Six robbers held up two paymasters in the yard of the C. Keyton Company, Inc., manufacturers of raincoats and other rubber goods, in Brooklyn, and escaped in an automobile with a bag containing $10,000. All eight were armed, but no shots were fired, as the robbers got away before the paymasters could be harmed.

The employees were Frederick Juhen Brooklyn, assistant cashier and paymaster, and John Marshall, assistant paymaster. They make four trips a week to the Bay Ridge branch of the Merchants Bank, Third avenue and Fifty-first street. The Keyton company has a large force of employees, and has different paydays for different departments. It was payday for the 450 men in the department.

When the paymasters entered the bank in an automobile driven by John Ward. With Juhen acting as a guard, Marshall carried the money from the bank to the automobile in a white canvas bag. Near the factory was an old seven-passenger touring car, with six men in and around it, giving the impression that the car had broken down.

When the paymasters entered the yard of the factory they were suddenly confronted by two men who had run over from the "stalled" automobile. Both of the men had handkerchiefs over their faces. One had a pistol in each hand and the other had one pistol. The paymasters promptly obeyed the commands to throw up their hands, and one of the robbers took the bag dropped by Marshall. A third robber by this time was covering Ward, who in the driver's seat, with a pistol, Juhen and Marshall were disarmed and another robber stuck an ice pick in a wheel of Ward's car to prevent pursuit.

With the bag of money, the robbers ran to their car, the two-man car backing away to cover the escape. He jumped at the running board of the car as it passed and was pulled inside. Ward tried to follow, but the flat tire prevented him from making any speed. The robberies were last seen going north on Fourth avenue toward Borough Hall. The hold-up was witnessed by about a dozen persons. The police have the number on the license plate of the car, but little result is expected from this clue.

Julian Denner, the Bronx, was shot in the back by the robbers on 124th street between Lenox and Park avenues. According to Denner, he had been visiting a friend at 120th street and Park avenue, and was on his way home when two men stepped out of a hallway and ordered him to accompany them into the hallway. He hurried away and was shot. A policeman found Denner unconscious.

North Sydney, N. S., Jan. 20.—It is reported here that the owners of the Sydney trawler Curlew have made a claim of $20,000 against the steamer Londoner for salvage services in connection with the refloating of the ship after she ran aground in Sydney harbor yesterday.

NEWLY ELECTED MAYOR

Ward tried to follow, but the flat tire prevented him from making any speed. The robberies were last seen going north on Fourth avenue toward Borough Hall. The hold-up was witnessed by about a dozen persons. The police have the number on the license plate of the car, but little result is expected from this clue.

FRENCH TROOPS ONCE MORE ON THE MOVE

Improvement of the harbor facilities at St. Pierre

North Sydney, N. S., Jan. 20.—Extensive improvement to the harbor facilities at St. Pierre, the capital of the French island off the coast of Newfoundland, may result from the visit of M. Sarraut, Minister of Colonies, of France, who returned here last night.

M. Sarraut said he intends to propose to his government extensive improvements to overcome the difficulties that are now experienced by the fishing fleet at St. Pierre.

The minister made inquiries for the latest news regarding the development in connection with French occupation of the Ruhr Valley. He says he feels that France, her limit of patience exhausted, is justified in the step she has taken, declaring that, from his personal and intimate knowledge of the Ruhr Valley, he is convinced sufficient wealth exists in Germany to meet the reparations payments as agreed. He said that no country covered with industry and whose smoke stacks are rising like forests everywhere, could possibly be as poor, or as near bankruptcy as the Germans are trying to make the world believe. M. Sarraut left here last night by rail for New York to take the first available French steamer home.

WALLACE REID
SPENT IT FAST

Movie Star Made Millions;

Home was Mortgaged—Only
30 Years Old—He Jumped from Newspaper Work
Into Fame in Motion Pictures.

(Canadian Press.)

Los Angeles, Jan. 20.—Although he was one of the highest paid motion picture stars and his income during the last few years totalled more than a $1,000,000, Wallace Reid left an estate estimated at considerably less than $100,000.

Reid's immense fortune, persons in close touch with his financial affairs said, dwindled so that for months prior to his death he was practically dependent upon $500 a week given him by the Laskey Company.

With his comparatively small estate, Reid left $70,000 in life insurance. His home at 8827 De Longe-pre avenue, was mortgaged. His equity in his home, his cars, his property and notes, many of which are considered worthless, will not amount to $100,000, it was said, and may total far below that figure.

While his income ran into the millions, friends said, Reid's love for high priced automobiles and other expensive luxuries prevented him from accumulating the fortune one might expect. Formerly a Reporter.

Reid was thirty years old, the victim of his own rapid rise to fame. From the salary of a poor boy—a reporter on the New York Daily Mirror, a handy man about motion picture studios, an extra man in big productions—he shot up suddenly to the status of star with his first picture, "The Sign of the Cross."

He was handsome, fun loving, attractive to everybody. His house began to be filled with "fair-weather" friends, who came to his home in the night and to excess which sapped his strength. At the same time he was working extremely hard in his studio, completing ten pictures in the year of his greatest popularity.

"It was inevitable under the circumstances that he should have resorted to artificial stimulants to keep up his strength," his wife explained at the time of his breakdown. "He used to drink to sustain him in working so hard and uninvited guests would make their way into his home in the night and day. Wally would never turn them away. Then, even when he was ill, the studio men would urge him to come to the studio. He would explain himself on his loyalty to his work. He boasted that he had never led them up on a picture."

"I had to drink as much as I could, as the dope was the hardest to come by. About three months ago he got leave of absence, knowing that the time had come when he must fight the thing out. The studio people gave it out that he had 'kleig eyes'—an affection caused by the Kleig lights used in the studios. He was in a hospital for a few days and then he went away to the mountains for a rest. He came back feeling splendid, thinking his fight was won, but he soon had a relapse when he began to work."

On Stage at Four.

Wallace Reid was the son of Bill Reid, a writer of melodrama, and he started on the stage at the age of four in "Slaves of Gold." He was born in St. Louis in 1892, and moved to New York when he was ten years old. He went to the public schools and later to the New Jersey Military Academy.

In 1909 his family moved to the Big Basin in Wyoming, where he had experience working on a ranch, running a hotel and working on the government survey of the Shoshone Dam.

Under the Paramount company he came and started as cub reporter on the Newark paper. Later he worked on "Motor Magazine" and had various minor jobs in the motion picture studios of New York. He was in David Griffith's production of "The Birth of a Nation."

He is not, however, until he was with Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen" and later "The Woman God Forgot" that the public acclaimed him a favorite.

HIGHER WOOL PRICES THOUGHT INEVITABLE

The effect of the shortage of wool upon values throughout the world is becoming more noticeable every day. The resistance to the upward trend of prices has been pronounced, but in the end the decrease in the wool clips of the world, consequent upon the false prosperity engendered by the great war and the subsequent liquidation, has been the controlling factor in the course of prices, until now the entire wool trade, and the manufacturers and clothiers as well, are convinced of the necessity for higher prices.

We have a Railway Spur running to a covered loading platform at one end of the Buildings. This platform is 200 feet in length by 19 feet in width, and will accommodate a train of more than six cars at one time.

British Firms Interested

We have had considerable correspondence with British Manufacturers in many lines of business, who are desirous of negotiating with local manufacturers and merchants of good standing with a view of arranging for warehousing and distribution of their goods on this side of the water, also with a view to interesting local manufacturers to undertake manufacture or the putting together of many lines of mechanical goods for the Canadian trade.

Housing

Many well situated home-building sites are available at low prices, and on easy terms for such employes as might desire to own their own homes. We are also in a position to assist in the erection of comfortable homes having every modern convenience, such as electric light, telephones, pure running water and sewerage.

As stated above we will be pleased to send full particulars on request and to show those interested over the Factory Buildings and our many industrial and home-building sites.

Two Good Hockey Games At The Arena Last Night

GORMAN CLIPS JEWTRAW'S WINGS

Takes Half-mile from Him by Inches—Garnet Shows Up Well in Preliminaries—Lake Placid Star Still Leads Series.

Charles Jewtraw's winning streak was broken yesterday at Plattsburgh, when he was defeated in both the half-mile and three-mile races, taking second place, however, in each and making the highest point score of the day.

William Smith of Montreal won the junior 220 and came second in the junior mile. Harold Bloomfield of Montreal came second in the 220.

Gyro Club Trims Veterans, 8 to 2, While Law School Takes Measure of Y. M. C. I. Team, 5 to 3.

Some good hockey was witnessed at the Arena last night. The Gyro Club won from the G. W. V. A. by a score of 8 to 2 and the Law School defeated the Y. M. C. I. by a score of 5 to 3.

In the second contest the work of Nicholson, in the nets for the Law School and Drumme, their centre, were the shining stars. Drumme netted the puck for four of the Law School's five goals. B. Mooney handled the whistle in this affair and W. L. Bonnell in the first.

The players used in the games were as follows: Gyro—Gabriel, Melrose, Ryan, Gilbert, L. MacGowan, W. MacGowan, Agar, Schofield and Starr.

G. W. V. A.—Lahy, Mooney, Warren, MacKenzie, Winslow, Mountain, McKinnon, Lavroie and Flemming.

Y. M. C. I.—Burke, McShane, Mooney, Kiley, Sullivan, Wright, Carleton, LeBlanc and Boudreau.

Law School—Nicholson, McGuire, Knowlton, Drumme, McLatchey, LeBlanc, Jonah, McInerney and Fitzgerald.

Richard Donovan, of St. John, N. B., is third in the point column with 100 points. Pat Corcoran, of the Endicott-Johnson American Legion, and Valentine Bialas, of Lake Placid, are tied for fourth place with 60 points.

The third member of the Endicott-Johnson team is sixth with 20 points, seventh place in a four-cornered tie between Edward Gloster and Emory Stephenson, of Toronto, Frank Garnett, of St. John, N. B., and Paul Forsam, of the Iceland team, of New York.

In the half-mile championship the Lake Placid star was leading with but twenty yards to go when he stumbled and lost his stride for an instant. Gorman less than a half foot away shot through the opening and landed the money by an eyelash with Jewtraw second and Donovan third.

The time of 1:20 4/5 seconds was excellent. Half-mile senior semi-final—First heat: First, Charles Jewtraw, Lake Placid; second, Frank Garnett, St. John; third, Edward Corcoran, Johnson City. Time, 1:20 1/5.

Second heat: First, Charles Gorman, St. John; second, V. Bialas, Lake Placid; third, Richard Donovan, Johnson City. Time, 1:20 9/5.

Half-mile senior, final—First, Gorman; second, Jewtraw; third, Donovan. Time, 1:20 5/5.

Three-mile senior—First, Richard Donovan, Johnson City; second, Charles Jewtraw, Lake Placid; third, Edward Corcoran, Johnson City. Time, 9 minutes 20 seconds.

220 yards junior, 16 years—Final: William Smith, Montreal; second, Harold Bloomfield, Montreal; third, Leon Laurin, Malone. Time, 21 4/5 seconds.

One-mile junior, 16 years—First, R. Brookline, Sagadahoc; second, William Smith, Montreal; third, Howard Dugette, Plattsburgh.

balance, which amounted to $106 on the judgment and $17.50 as sheriff's poundage. While he waited he was taken to Sheriff Nagle's private office. As the two big men stood together, the sheriff topped the pugilist by several inches, and in the exchange of compliments Sheriff Nagle remarked: "About forty years ago I used to whip a whole roomful of fellows like you."

"I wouldn't be surprised," said Johnson, laughing, and showing more than enough gold to settle the judgment against him.

The closing time of the sheriff's office and the expected rescuers had not appeared with the rest of the money needed to liquidate the judgment. Sheriff Nagle volunteered to lend Johnson the sorely needed $122.50. He only had to offer once.

The money was turned over to Deputy Sheriff Conlin, and Johnson, lighting a fresh cigar, turned his car and thoughts Broadwayward.
