Women and Children Starving and Bread at Famine Prices--Russian Lose 10,000 Men in Fruitless Attack on Japs--Two of Their Best Generals Wounded--Blame Weather for the Reverse.

London, Jan. 31.--The correspondent at Warsaw of the Daily Mail telegraphs as follows:--

The street railway service here has been purely nominal, with soldiers riding before and behind most of the cars. Few cars are running. Street fighting continues and the mob is growing in dangerous fashion. There have been frequent collisions between the people and the soldiers. Revolutionists attacked the troops with revolvers and knives. The principal disturbances today occurred in Nowinski street, a leading business thoroughfare.

At 10 o'clock Sunday night a regiment of infantry marched to this thoroughfare from Smolna street, when somebody fired on them, whereupon the troops were ordered to form a square and fire from four sides.

Any criticism of the troops must be qualified by the fact that they are fighting under trying conditions, being constantly exposed to snipers and occasionally stabbed by passers-by. Generally the troops are well-behaved, but sometimes there are excesses by individual soldiers who have become intoxicated. One such soldier killed two children before his comrades were able to disarm him.

Anti-Russian Feeling in England

London, Jan. 30.--Reports of continued acts of hostility to Great Britain and citizens of this country in Russia, are causing considerable perplexity and anxiety in official circles in London. At the Foreign office there is evident apprehension of another popular anti-Russian outburst here, and while diplomats say there is no doubt that full satisfaction will be given for the Warsaw affair, the newspapers are unanimous in condemnation of Russia and attribute all incidents to anti-British sentiment.

At the foreign office today it was intimated that these accumulative evidences of hostility, whether accidental or intentional, are causing much apprehension and that it will be necessary for the Russian government to give full and prompt explanation or otherwise popular sentiment in the United Kingdom might create a serious situation.

It was pointed out that while the injured pro-consul at Warsaw, Muckin, is merely an interpreter and native clerk in the consulate, that fact made no difference and that it would be necessary to prove that the affair was not the result of the publication of the objectionable notices concerning which Ambassador Harding already has protested officially.

The following communication was issued by the foreign office this evening:-- "Information has been received from the British consul general at Warsaw that he and Muckin were attacked by soldiers on January 28. (Murray) the consul general, is not believed to have been injured, but Muckin, who is a Russian subject, was wounded by sword cuts and is in a hospital. Representations were at once made by Ambassador Harding to the Russian government, which demanded that the governor-general of Warsaw instigate inquiry into the incident. His Majesty's ambassador also sent Colonel Napier, the military attaché to Warsaw to report on the subject."

RUSSIAN LOSSES 10,000

Tokio, Jan. 30, 3 p. m.--The casualties during the fighting at Chenebop and Heikoutai are estimated at 8,000 on the side of the Japanese and 10,000 on the Russian side.

Two Russian Generals Wounded

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.--Lieut. General Gripenburg, commander of the second army, has telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas that the Russians have occupied Samtshia (Samtshia) (?). He also reports that Generals Mitschenko and Koudratvich are wounded.

Blames Weather for Russian Defeat

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.--11.30 p. m.--General Kurapatkin's attempt to break through the Japanese left wing and flank Field Marshal Oyama's position on the Shalke river, seems to have failed entirely. Few details, however, are available beyond the information contained in the official despatches.

At the war office there is an inclination to lay the chief blame for the failure of the movement to a sudden change of the weather to intense cold, 20 degrees below zero, with a high wind, which drifted the snow and rendered it hazardous to expose the troops to the open plain as well as impede the transportation of guns, supplies and the wounded.

The operation entrusted to the second army under General Gripenburg was the capture of Sandepas, which, once in Russian hands, would serve as a pivot for a flanking movement against Field Marshal Oyama, but Sandepas proved too hard to take, and the Japanese, taking advantage of the check of the Russians, hurried up their reinforcements and assumed the offensive on the Japanese side as well as along the railroad and the Great Mandarin road.

160 Casualties at Warsaw.

Warsaw, Poland, Jan. 30.--The number of killed or wounded during the rioting here is estimated at 160.

SIR WM. MACDONALD TO MEET HIS BROTHER AFTER SIXTY YEARS

Founder of New Brunswick's Consolidated Schools in Interesting Romance

Sir Wm. C. MacDonald, the founder of New Brunswick's Consolidated Schools, and millionaire tobaccoist, is about to meet his long-lost brother "Jim," whom he has not seen since they were youths together in P. E. Island. While the former has piled up wealth in the manufacture of tobacco in Montreal, the other has been a rolling stone, finally becoming a bill collector in Portland (Ore.), his office, a street telegraph pole, his home a soapbox.

Separated from his brother for nearly sixty years Sir William will find him located in a secure office on the Willamette River, says a New-York Herald despatch from Portland (Ore.)

Widely piled up will be the burden of the story of the boy who stayed near home. He as a ship builder, gold hunter, Indian fighter and now, with eighty-one years bowing his massive frame, a collector of bad bills, is the story of the other. James MacDonald is a familiar sight in Portland streets. His office is a bit of sidewalk at a telegraph pole in front of a grocery store in a prominent business street. Attired in battered plug hat and heavy ulster he stands in his "office" when weary of fruitless endeavor as collector, or waiting for fresh business. He is one of the best known figures in the city, and one cordially disliked by slow paying debtors for as long as there is a chance to get the money old "Jim" cannot be driven off by any device yet tried by his quarry.

"Jim" is getting old. Up to thirty years ago he carried on desultory correspondence with his brother. Then the correspondence stopped. After many years he wrote again a few months ago in an effort to locate his brother.

Brother Located.

Then came a despatch to a Portland paper saying that "Jim" McDonald's letter of enquiry had reached Mrs. Dougald McCallum, of Winslow (P. E. I.) and then Sir Wm. MacDonald was notified and was overjoyed to learn that his brother is still alive.

In "Jim" MacDonald's letter he wrote that he has accumulated considerable wealth, but as his life is drawing to a close he desires to locate those who are related to him by blood. He mentioned his claim against the state of Oregon for $10,000, a right to which he acquired half a century ago, when serving in the Indian wars.

Jim McDonald's Tale.

With many digressions, Jim McDonald told the story of his life: "Fifty-nine years ago I left my home in the village of Acadia, Prince Edward Island, and went to the state of Maine, where 200 of us went to work building a ship, the California Packet, one share, at Machiasport. We had provisions for 200 for two years, and when we got the ship done, that was in '49, we sailed to Boston, and we stayed there six weeks, and then we went on to San Francisco by the Horn. We got there in '50, and we were $10,000 in debt for building the ship. We each agreed to pay part of the debt. But things were dull in San Francisco. I had expected to make a fortune in a few weeks, but I had to go to work in the streets, and I found that they were not paved with gold."

"After six weeks I came to Oregon and bought a mule, Billy, and began carrying freight. In five years I had a pack train of twenty mules, but they were all captured by the Indians in the war of '56. Afterward I began stock raising and made a fortune, but I lost it again."

"How long since you came to Portland?"

"Seventeen years. The first thing I found out was that there were two men here who had owed me for horses I had sold them thirty years before. They were two of the worst rascals that God ever gave breath to. I'm a bill collector. Yes, I have been collecting around here for a long time, and when people ask me where my office is I tell them it is on a telegraph pole and my headquarters are at Burns' grocery store. Burns is the first man I ever collected for."

AMHERST.

Amherst, N. S., Jan. 29.—(Special)—A serious accident at the I. C. R. station this morning was averted by the prompt action of the driver of Niekema's special west-bound.

A man under the influence of liquor had walked on the track and lay down. The train stopped for water directly opposite, and he crawled across the track between the driving wheels. Fortunately just as the driver had pulled the throttle he observed the man under the wheels and thinking that he had been run over he immediately notified the conductor.

It was soon found that he was all right and immediately upon being removed from his perilous position he cursed his rescuers. The ingrate's name cannot be learned.

THE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt has "Monroism," according to the New York Evening Post. In an editorial under that title it says: "Apparently, the best explanation of the President's San Domingo involvement is that much Monroe Doctrine had made him mad."

THE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

How many Americans are familiar with the fact that John Paul Jones, the father of the American navy, once won a sea victory for the Russians? How many realize that the victorious American navy at San Domingo and the defeated Russian navy at Port Arthur both owe their origin to brilliant victories won by an extraordinary man? Singular, indeed, that the naval greatness of the most advanced republic and the most medieval autocracy on earth should both have been the work of one man.

After the revolution and the famous victory which he won over the Serapies, Jones, after a short sojourn in this country, returned to Paris, where he fell in with Prince Potemkin, the favorite of Catherine II. of Russia, who presented him at the court of his mistress in St. Petersburg, says the Washington Post.

Consequently John Paul Jones, having at that time the most brilliant naval record in the world, was placed in command of the Russian fleet in the Black Sea, the Baltic and the English, French, German and Swedish waters, and the Russian officers as well as many of whom he signed rather than served under a vulgar adventurer.

It was the killing of this rare specimen on Sept. 27, 1880, that determined Mr. Blatchley's future career. When he was a teacher in the Terre-Haute high school he took his gun one evening and went into the country for a hunt.

He came to the big stock farm of W. L. McKee, who was known to Blatchley only by reputation as one of the important persons of Vigo county. There was a sign of "No trespassing" along the boundary of the farm, but it was forgotten when he saw a rare bird fly into a tree within the enclosure. Scrambling over the fence and also Mr. McKee, who had stood near the spot.

Mr. McKee was wrathful at the intrusion of the stranger, and especially at the shooting on his place. It took Mr. Blatchley only a moment to find that his game was a "clay colored sparrow."

He grew eloquent over the bird, and much to his relief, Mr. McKee became interested also. When they parted the relations were pleasant and Mr. Blatchley became the firm friend of the capitalist.

When Mr. Blatchley wished to become a candidate for state geologist he informed Mr. McKee of his intention, and the latter to the political help and helped his friend into a state office.—New York Herald.

TWO CHURCHES MAY BE UNITED

Plan to Join the Brussels and Leinster Street Baptist Congregations

FIRST MOVE THIS WEEK

Brussels Street People to Discuss and Vote on the Project Wednesday Evening—The Proposed Plan of Procedure.

It looks as if the cherished hope of some devout Baptists in this city may be at last realized, though these good people will have to wait until this Wednesday evening to learn if their scheme is considered practicable by some of those who will be affected in the movement.

On the evening in question the congregation of Brussels street Baptist church will meet in their rooms to discuss the advisability of amalgamating with Leinster Street Baptist church. If the vote is favorable, and the Leinster street people agree to it, the movement will be one of the most important departures in local religious circles for many a day, as both congregations are energetic, and a union would give the denomination a tower of strength in this city.

After the vote has been taken among the people and it is favorable, a committee will meet with a view to making final arrangements. The matter will be held in all sincerity and will be handled in a thoroughly representative and business-like manner.

Of late years an amalgamation of Brussels street and Leinster street churches has been informally talked of by members of both congregations, but nothing in the nature of a regular discussion of the merits of the suggestion was put forward until last week, when it was first brought to the attention of many interested that the territory in East End was rather too limited to support both churches, and as evidence of the fact the note too prosperous condition of each congregation was pointed out. Though neither body had felt any financial embarrassments, it was a fact the spiritual results were not what pastors and workers would like them to be.

Beyond this, it is thought by the promoters of the amalgamation idea, that to join hands and continue work together would be a most aggressive plan, and an excellent one.

Brussels street church is the parent organization, and is now about sixty years old. It has nearly 400 members and a large Sunday school. Leinster street church, which is beautifully situated, and a modern edifice, has more than 300 members, and a large Sunday school. A few days ago the annual meeting of the latter church was held, and a large sum of money was raised.

The early Leinster street people were originally Brussels street church members, who seceded from the mother congregation through a misunderstanding in the long ago. Many old-timers claim to this day that the disruption of the church at that time was "all a big mistake," and now that there is a movement to bring the two churches together, "My prayers will be answered, I am sure," said one member.

If Wednesday's vote favors union, there will be various questions to be dealt with by the committee to consider which church will be retained, who the pastor will be, finances, etc., but those in favor of amalgamation hold these as secondary, the great object being a whole and through strengthening, a bold stroke for the conservation of the individual and collective interests of the churches.

FAMILY ARRESTED

Disorderly House Case Saturday Night—Policeman Rankin Gets Crack With Broom.

There was a lively time in the Byron house, St. Patrick street, Saturday night about 10.30 o'clock, so boisterous were matters that Policemen Rankine and Crawford made a raid on the place and arrested Annie and Laura Byron and Edward John Byron, who are charged with keeping a disorderly house, and Edward McKee, on charge of being an inmate of the house.

Edward Byron strongly objected to the raid and showed his displeasure by striking Policeman Rankine on the head with a broom handle and the charge of assault has been made against him. The quartette will be given a chance to explain matters before Judge Ritchie this morning.

A GREAT WORKER

Lifts Snow and Hurls it Far Through a Funnel—Echoes of the Big Storm of Last Week.

One of the most bothersome experiences of the week's storm so far as the C. P. R. was concerned was the filling in of the cutting at Shantytown by a monstrous drift, and the consequent stalling of the Boston train for more than a day.

Supt. Downie has taken measures to clear out the cuttings and overcome any trouble future storms may make in cuts along the line. His special rotary plough such as he has used before when it snows, sends it into a large funnel. Through this it is ejected and with such force and effect as to have known such a plough to throw the snow from the track over the rocky side of a cutting 100 feet high. The funnel can be trained in any direction.

HAWKE THROWS UP HIS POSITION

Disagrees With the Moncton School Board About Teacher's Resignation

ALL AGAINST HIM

Chairman Adverse to Miss McBeath Bettering Her Position, $410 a Year, But Other Six Were Not So Flinty—I. C. R. Snow-shoveller Killed by Train.

Moncton, Jan. 29.—(Special)—John T. Hawke has resigned the chairmanship of the Moncton school board as a result of differences with the board regarding the resignation of Miss McBeath to return from the Boston training school to accept the principalship of the Dorchester high school.

Chairman Hawke took the ground that Miss McBeath should not be allowed to violate her contract with the Moncton school board but six out of seven trustees present at the meeting yesterday voted to allow her to do so.

Chairman Hawke announced his resignation, which he has accepted, and the board adopted this course. The trustees felt they would not be justified in allowing her to do so, particularly as a good supply is available.

Edmond Melanson, a man about fifty-five years old, met his death in the I. C. R. yard this morning by being run over by a snow train.

The trucks passed over the right foot and leg and the pelvis bone was badly crushed.

The injured man was removed to the hospital but died about three hours later. Melanson came here Friday from Bathurst, where he has lived for the past twenty years. Yesterday he went to work snow shovelling in the I. C. R. yard and this morning met his death.

He formerly lived in Coogan, Kent county. He leaves wife and daughter in Bathurst. Philip Melanson, of the I. C. R., is a nephew of deceased. The unfortunate man will be buried here tomorrow.

IN THE COURTS

In county court chambers Saturday Judges Forbes heard the case of Pinaut vs. Goedette, on review from the Campbellton civil court. The plaintiff is a physician, who was called in by another physician, Dr. Donnet, to perform an operation on the defendant's wife, which operation he (Dr. Pinaut) did perform.

He used for his fee and judgment was given against him in the court below. The defendant alleges that he made all arrangements to fees for both physicians with Dr. Donnet, and therefore contends that he is not liable. Judgment was reserved. H. D. Forbes appeared for McAllister & Mott, of Campbellton, on behalf of the plaintiff; H. F. McLatchey, of Campbellton, for the defendant.

VALUABLE HORSES HERE FROM ENGLAND

Five Thousand Dollar Racers in Lot Imported Via St. John, and Now Here.

Descendant of Famous Ben D'Or Among the Number—Hackneys and Clydesdale Thoroughbreds, and 19 in All.

The firm of Graham Bros., of Clairmont (Ont.), have brought out on the Donaldson liner, Capt. Webb, and will land today at the new city wharf, nineteen beautiful thoroughbred horses from England.

W. M. Graham, one of the firm, came out with the horses and is greatly pleased with his purchases. He says he made a trip through England and Scotland for thoroughbred Hackney and Clydesdale horses and he purchased in Scotland thirteen Clydesdales and four Hackneys, of very fine quality, with plenty of size. The last four are about sixteen hands high and of the very best breeding, and all are stallions. Mr. Graham also purchased two thoroughbred stallions of the best racing blood in England. These purchases were made at New Market, at a sale of thoroughbreds. Mr. Graham says the horses form the best importation ever made by his firm.

The racing stock are without marks. Both are chestnuts and very pretty. Their certificates show one as "Ailes d'Or," foaled in 1900, got by Melton, his dam "Golden Wings," by Ben D'Or, the other is "Orme Shore," foaled in 1901, got by Orme, his dam Virginia Shore, by John Davis.

Last May a member of the firm came out to Montreal with Capt. Webb, and brought sixteen Hackney and forty-four Clydesdales. A number of these were shown at the St. Louis World's Fair, and all were first prize winners. They also captured first prizes at the Chicago international exhibition. All the horses brought out by Mr. Graham are for breeding purposes. They will be shipped this afternoon to the Clairmont stock farm at Clairmont (Ont.).

The two race horses are valued at $5,000 in Canada. Among the stock of Hackneys and two of the best are "Whitehall Fashion," five years old, by Faramador, the other is "Orient," four years old, by "Lord Cave." Both are dark chestnuts, have high action and are beautiful specimens of horse flesh.

Mr. Graham says there is an excellent market in Canada for good stock, and these high-class importations are rapidly making the stock of Canadian bred horses greatly superior to what it was in former years.

A TRIBUTE TO CANADA

(Collier's Weekly).

The United States must realize that her greatest future trade is likely to be with Canada. Furthermore, Canada is sure to develop into her closest competitor for foreign trade.

The Dominion today is one of the four greatest exporters of wheat, and her water power, as yet but little utilized, will some day make her one of the great manufacturing countries of the globe.

Already the United States is looking for her forests for timber, and her railroads are destined from the most conservative estimates to double their mileage in the next ten years. Even today, Canada exceeds the railway mileage of Italy and Spain combined. Her trackage is equal to about three-fifths of all the systems of Russia or Germany, and it is more than three-fourths of all Austria-Hungary's; it almost equals the total mileage of the British Isles; and Argentina excepted, Canada has more railroads than all the countries of South America combined. The whole continent of Africa has less than half as many laid rails, and the systems of any minor power of Europe could be added to that of Australia before the Canadian roads would be matched. In short, Canada has more railroads than Belgium, Netherlands, Switzerland, Portugal, Norway, Sweden, Servia, and Greece, all combined, and yet these nations have a total of more than six times Canada's population. There is both a political and a commercial significance in all this, which the world is just beginning to see. There is no other dependency in the world of Canada's power and proportions. Her climate matches that of Russia, while her domain is vastly greater. The railroad development is the barometer test of a country's civilization, natural wealth, and enterprise. It is not the outgrowth of mere population. Canada has outgrown her colonial days, and is in fact a nation taking a foreplace in the industry and commerce of the world.

OFFICIALS AND NEWSPAPERS.

(N. Y. Evening Post).

There seems, in fact, to be a good deal of nervousness about newspapers, and resentment at their activities, on the part of many of our great ones. From White House to City Hall the complaints have extended.

It is noted that the objections are not levelled at the real points in the newspaper business. It is not vulgarity, or puerility, or intolerable meddling in private affairs, or unsettling sensationalism, or irresponsibility, or reckless inventions, against which these official censors protest. No; what rouses their anger is that the press makes such persistent and successful use of publicity in regard to public men and measures. What attack our motives? Reader, you ridiculous. Pick flaws in our bills? Evidently, something is rotten in the Fourth Estate. This is the gravamen. The "diffusive gentlemen of the press," as John Morley calls them, become aware of what is going on behind the scenes at Albany or Harburg or Springfield or Washington, and, faith, they'll treat it. Hence the pain and celestial wrath of our dwellers in the Olympus of officialdom.

Now, we have often had occasion, by precept and by example, to take up our penance against the demoralizing and demoralizing press; but in this matter of keeping vigilant watch over the elected servants of the people, and of offering a free vent to popular feeling and demand, we think the run of our newspapers perform a true service. In so far as official railing at newspapers springs from dislike of that function of theirs, it singles out a matter really deserving of praise, not blame.

THEY MUST PAY SCHOOL FEES

Non-Resident Children in City Schools Will Be Charged $20 a Year

CONSIDERATION HAS BEEN GIVEN

Statement in Carleton Schools Yesterday—Climax of Matter Which Has Been Under Consideration for Some Time.

All city school children whose parents do not pay taxes in the city must in future pay tuition fees amounting to $20 yearly, or $2 a month. An order to this effect was read in the Carleton schools Monday. Most of these children are to be found in the Carleton schools, but there are also some in the Aberdeen and the High schools, and the order will apply to them as well.

This question of non-resident children has been a live one for a long time. It has been frequently brought up for consideration in the board meetings and once in the common council.

The last time it was before the board was on November 15, when it was pointed out that children were sent from Hampton and across the line in Lancaster. It was also the opinion of the board that as trustees of the school funds of the city they did not feel justified in this school-keeping children who had no claim on the city.

Inspector Bridges said last night that the notice had not been read in any of the city schools yesterday. He was not even aware that Secretary Manning had taken any action in the matter. The new order of the board will affect about 150 children, there being at least that number in the schools who come from other districts. Secretary Manning was seen last night, but would not discuss the new idea.

PROVINCIAL BRIDGES

Hon. Mr. LaBoullie Tells of Contracts Awarded.

Hon. C. H. LaBoullie, chief commissioner of public works, arrived in the city Monday and in speaking of the matter in his department, said the contract for rebuilding the Elv river bridge, Victoria county, has been awarded to Albert Brewer. The bridge will be a large covered structure and is to be built before the spring freshets.

The contract for rebuilding the Green River bridge over Smith's road, parish of St. Basil, Madawaska county, has gone to Whitman Brewer, of St. Mary's. The former Green River bridge was carried away by freshets two years ago. The new one will be covered and is to be complete before freshet time.

John Maloney has received the contract for constructing the bridge at St. Auguste, parish of Rogersville, Northumberland county, and T. A. Baird will build the Fitzsimmons bridge, Westmorland county.

Extensive repairs are to be made to the Florenceville bridge in Carleton county, over the St. John river, damaged by ice. It will have a general overhauling. Albert Brewer will do the work.

The steel superstructure for the Norton bridge is now being put up by the Dominion Bridge Company. There will be traffic over the bridge in about a week. James Shields, of Chatham, is the inspector.

TURF.

New York, Jan. 30.—Interest at the Past Tibon horse auction in Madison Square Garden, which opened today, centered in the sale of Chalmers sire of the Abbott, a heavy fast horse, from the farm of C. J. & Harry Hamlin Chalmers, was sold to E. L. Tait, of Salem (N. J.), for $2,200.

Lord Direct, with the record of 211, was sold to S. H. Knox, of Buffalo for $10,000. His sire was Hal and his dam Lady Noyce and he was consigned by Messrs. Hernin & Co.

Never have medicine bottles, liniment bottles, and disinfectants all mixed up together on the same table. This piece of grotesquery has led to inquiries.

FRUIT-GROWERS MEET

Government to Set Out More Illustration Orchards This Year—Mayor Palmer May Run for Office Again.

Fredericton, Jan. 27.—(Special)—The Farmers and Dairymen's Convention was brought to a close this afternoon. The attendance was not up to previous year,
but in all other respects the meeting was a great success. The speeches were of a high order and much valuable information was brought out in the discussions which followed.

Some hostility to the dairying industry was carried on in New Brunswick was manifested by several speakers who are interested in beef raising, but the friends of the dairy were no ways backward in presenting their side of the case and were able to demonstrate that there is plenty of room in the province for both branches of farming.

At the afternoon's session Prof. Shatt, of Ottawa, discussed the best means of increasing fertility of soil and offered many valuable suggestions. John C. Gilman, a leading farmer of Kingsclear, delivered an address on fruit growing. Mr. Gilman has one of the finest orchards in the province,
and his remarks were based upon his own experience. He said he derived a good profit from apple culture and thought New Brunswick was well adapted to that branch of farming.

J. W. Clark gave the result of an experiment made by him of shipping apples to the English market. He stated that the closing address was by Saxby Blair,
of the Experimental Farm, who told how to combat insect pests and fungus diseases.

Senator Fenwick was elected an honorary member of the association. A vote of thanks to corresponding Secretary Hubbard for his services and to the Miramichi Agricultural Society for badges were passed after which the meeting adjourned.
The executive this evening decided to hold meetings in the latter part of June at Woodville, Hamstead, Kingston of Sussex and Chatham.

The Farmers' and Dairymen's Association
this morning elected the following officers: President, C. F. Alward, of Harlow; vice-president, J. F. Tweeddale, of Victoria county; recording secretary, N.
W. Dow, of Woodstock; treasurer, G. E.
Fisher, of corresponding secretary, W.
Hubbard, of Kingsclear.

Vice-presidents—St. John county, Dr. T. F. Johnston; Queens county, J. W. Fowley; Kings county, A. R. Wetmore; Sunbury county, H. Wilnot; York county, John C. Gilman; Carleton county, W. J. Owens; Victoria county, C. R. Lu-
man; Madawaska county, M. Delossier; Restigouche county, J. E. Stewart; Glocester county, P. J. Fox; Northumberland county, A. G. Dickson; Kent; Carleton; Albert county, S. S. Ryan; Cab-lotis county, James Russell.

The whole morning was taken up with a discussion of dairying. Harvey Mitchell gave an interesting address followed by Mr. Dew, Prof. Robertson, W. W. Hubbard and others. This afternoon Prof.
Shatt addressed the meeting.

Fruit Growers Meeting.
The first annual meeting of the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association was held here this evening and passed off most successfully. President John C. Gilman, of Kingsclear, was in the chair and in his opening address explained the object of the organization, which was to encourage and develop fruit growing in the province.

He expressed cordial approval of the government's policy to establish experimental orchards for the purpose of ascertaining
the varieties best suited for the province.
Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture Peters told of progress made in the illustration orchard work and described the method employed in setting them out. He said seven were planted last year and the number would be increased to seventeen
next year.

Alex. McNeill, chief of the fruit division department of agriculture, Ottawa, spoke very ably for half an hour. He congratulated the fruit growers of New Brunswick on forming an association and predicted great results from the same. He advocated the growing of fruit for three reasons:

First—It had a tendency to improve the manhood and womanhood of the country.
Second—It did not detract from the country's natural resource.
Third—It was a profitable business.

W. Saxby Blair, of Nappan, also spoke bravely.

Secretary Read read a draft of the constitution prepared by a committee appointed for the purpose and it was adopted.
John Gilman, of Kingsclear, was re-elected president; A. E. McAlpine, of Queens, vice-president; Henry Wilnot, of Sunbury, treasurer, and W. D. Albright, of Sussex, secretary. A vice-president was appointed for each county.

The secretary announced that thirty-one members had been enrolled.

The money blockade which has existed
since Thursday morning has been broken, so far as this city is concerned. The first train with Wednesday's mail from the west arrived at 5 o'clock this afternoon and this evening a 9.30 another train arrived bringing passengers and mails from St. John and the west. The train left St. John at 10 o'clock this afternoon and will arrive at the Fredericton branch of
I. C. R. will likely be running on schedule time tomorrow.

Mayor Palmer was today presented with a largely signed petition asking him to be a candidate for mayor for a third term. He will give out an answer on Monday or Tuesday. As Grey's action evidenced no vestige of par-

The Eighty Club in this matter is merely brought ridicule upon themselves the other

went so far as to endeavor to persuade an eminent Liberal leader here to publicly denounce the British ministers for allowing the cruiser Canada to sail

The United Empire Club has just been opened with the object of aiding the leaders of the United Imperial party to consolidate the empire and make it self-suffipresidents Earl Grey, Lord Aylmer and Sir Charles Tupper.

ence to Earl Grey's and Sir Charles Tupper's names being amongst the vice-presidents of the new club just formed, whose object is to further the cause of the United Empire Club. He says: 'The club is not a party club, but a club of the United Empire party in their endeavors to consolidate the empire, and make it self-sufficient as a food supply and strengthen the bonds between the mother country and her colonies and dependencies.'

"Mr. Hawkins asks three questions:
'Does the government of Canada know his name is being used by side with that of the ex-leader of the Canadian opposition to float a tariff reform club?
If so, what does Sir Wilfrid Laurier think of it? and what has our prime minister
to say on the subject?'

NO MONOPOLY
York County Does Not Seek to Bar Guides
From Other Counties, or to Make Fred-erickton the Chief Distributing Point for Big-game
Hunters.

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir: Knowing that your valuable paper
circulates largely in the North Shore counties, I would feel very grateful if you would allow me sufficient space to deal with some untruthful and malicious statements in regard to the New Brunswick Guides' Association which appeared in a recent issue of the Newfarmer Advocate.
The article in which I refer was no doubt prompted by feelings of jealousy, but what object the editor of the Advocate hopes to attain by publishing such rot about an organization of which it is plain that he knows absolutely nothing is more than I can comprehend. In order to put the matter more clearly before your many readers, who take an interest in matters pertaining to big game hunting, I will,
with your permission, quote the objectionable portion of the Advocate's article:

"The New Brunswick Guides' Association
is seeking legislation to prevent anyone residing in the province who is not a member of the association. This merely another exhibition of the rank gall which has characterized the conduct of the so-called New Brunswick Guides' Association ever since its formation. Such a restriction deprives all the guides of Northumberland, Gloucester, Restigouche and Victoria counties of the right to earn a living. The New Brunswick Guides' Association consists solely of the residents of one section, viz., Fredericton. It is a monopoly. The object of the Advocate. He went on: 'The object
of the association is to make it a monopoly
of the distributing centre, representations being
made that it was the aim of the big game
hunters to prevent non-resident guides who
were sent to the guides of Restigouche,
Gloucester or Northumberland and Victoria,
are the big game counties of the province.'

"The self-styled New Brunswick
Guides' Association are inducing the legislature to prevent non-resident guides who say the $50 from guiding in New Brunswick is a monopoly. It is a monopoly. The object of the Advocate. He went on: 'The object
of the association is to make it a monopoly
of the distributing centre, representations being
made that it was the aim of the big game
hunters to prevent non-resident guides who
were sent to the guides of Restigouche,
Gloucester or Northumberland and Victoria,
are the big game counties of the province.'

"Now in the first place I wish to state that I have no objection to anyone guiding in the province who is not a member of the association. It is a monopoly. The object of the Advocate. He went on: 'The object
of the association is to make it a monopoly
of the distributing centre, representations being
made that it was the aim of the big game
hunters to prevent non-resident guides who
were sent to the guides of Restigouche,
Gloucester or Northumberland and Victoria,
