GERMANY DENIES INHUMAN ACTS IN REPLY TO WILSON

Berlin Hopes That United States Will Not Block Way to Peace by Its Demands—Orders Issued to Submarine Commanders To Cease Torpedoing of Passenger Ships.

London, Oct. 21.—The German reply to President Wilson's note, the text of which was received here today by wireless, says Germany hopes the United States will approve of no demand which would be irreconcilable with the honor of the German people and with the opening of the way to a peace of justice.

Germany protests against the references of President Wilson to illegal and inhuman acts. Denial is made that the German navy purposely destroyed lifeboats with passengers. The German Government proposes that the facts be cleared up by neutral commissions. Germany has dispatched orders to submarine commanders precluding the torpedoing of passenger ships.

The German Government suggests to President Wilson that an opportunity be brought about for fixing the details of evacuation of occupied territories.

NO OFFICIAL COMMENT.
Washington, Oct. 21.—A wireless version of the German reply to President Wilson reached the state department today. There will be no official comment until the official text is received.

The note, which was received by wireless will not be made public here nor will officials discuss London dispatches describing its contents.

FLU IS DEFEATED AT AIRMEN'S CAMP
Peak of Epidemic Passed at Toronto Royal Air Force Barracks.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, Oct. 21.—"We were ready for the flu before it came to us at all," said Dr. Riley, M. O. H. of the Royal Air Force, to The Advertiser representative this morning, when he declared that the peak of the disease has been passed in the force, and that the present number of men affected is down to a dozen or so cases per day.

Dr. Riley is himself a victim of the disease, and remarks that the force is still confined to barracks. In the smaller units temperature parades have been held daily, and any high temperature noted meant that the man was quarantined.

Every precaution is being taken to prevent men from the outside bringing in the disease. All men from special infected points, such as Montreal, are simply stopped. Men on leave receive wires that their leave has been indefinitely extended. There are sixty cases.

Sir Thomas White Confident of Outcome of Campaign.

Saskatoon, Oct. 21.—"I have had a most successful trip to the West," Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, said to a representative of the Canadian Press yesterday, with regard to his tour for the Victory Loan.

Sir Thomas and Lady White spent the day in Saskatoon on their way to the East. They left for Regina last night, and will spend today with the organizers in that city.

ALLIED CONTROL OF THE SEAS HAS MADE VICTORIES POSSIBLE
High Naval and Army Officials Send Messages on Nelson Day Celebration.

London, Oct. 21.—On the occasion of the annual celebration of Nelson Day, the Navy League received today messages from leading public men.

"On the courage, skill and endurance of British seamen depend, and always have depended, the issues of the great war," wrote A. J. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs. "But for them, our continental allies would have been severed from all external aid."

Admiral Sir David Beatty said: "On this anniversary of the triumphant establishment of British supremacy, the grand fleet sends greetings to the Navy League."

A message from Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British armies in France, reads: "The heart of the British Empire is the sea."

Words fall not in expressing adequately the gratitude and admiration for our comrades of a sister service. Thanks to their triumphant efforts we remain mistress of the seas, and supplies of all kinds, not merely for our vast Empire, but also for our allies, have never for a moment ceased to flow."

Admiral Viscount Jellicoe wrote: "The events of the present year have emphasized to an exceptional degree the supreme value of sea power, not only to the British Empire, but to the Allied cause as a whole. It is sea power alone that has made it possible to bring to and maintain in the main theatre of the war on the western front, that great United States army which has turned the scale of battle. It is sea power also that has made possible the recent great victories in Palestine and Macedonia."

25,000,000 PERSONS SUBSCRIBED TO THE U. S. LIBERTY LOAN
Six Billion Dollar Objective Has Been Passed, Officials Believe.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Estimates and figures showing the success of the fourth Liberty Loan poured into the treasury today, indicating that there were about 25,000,000 subscribers during the campaign. The six-billion-dollar goal was passed by several hundred millions.

PEOPLE OF ROUBAIX AND TOURCOING WENT WILD WITH JOY AT THEIR DELIVERANCE FROM THE TEUTONS

Inhabitants of French Cities Celebrated the Event With Unrestrained Demonstrations of Happiness—British Soldiers Kissed and Hugged by Gladdened Residents.

With the British Army in France, Sunday, Oct. 20.—Roubaix and Tourcoing today celebrated their deliverance from the enemy and it was like a Christmas, New Year's Eve and Fourth of July all rolled in one. Tears of joy intermingled with shouts of laughter, while the population sang and danced and waved flags.

The two cities went completely wild with emotional joy. There were kisses and handshakes for every British soldier. On their windows housewives had pasted pictures of French and British celebrities torn from magazines.

There was good reason for Roubaix and Tourcoing to be so glad. For four long years of hardship, privation and oppression. The awfully long German occupation had been a nightmare as much ruin as they could do. Nearly every home in the city had been sacked and things that could not be carried away were destroyed.

TEUTONS SCUTTLED BOAT TO BLOCK THE OSTEND CHANNEL.
Sank Ship Alongside Old British Cruiser Vindictive.

With the Allied Armies in Belgium, Oct. 20.—Before leaving the city of Ostend the Germans scuttled a large mail boat alongside the old British warship Vindictive, which was sunk in the channel there last May. They thus made doubly sure that the channel will be blocked for a long time.

Inspection of the city shows that British shells did terrific damage to enemy military and naval establishments but did not harm the residential or business section in any extent. The army money to be found in Ostend and other liberated Belgian cities is German. Many of the smaller children, especially in Ostend, use German as their own language. The enemy apparently went out of his way to teach his tongue to these children.

ENEMY SUBMARINE SHELLS A STEAMER
Structure of Vessel Damaged in Fight With U-Boat.

An Atlantic Port, Oct. 21.—A steamship arrived here yesterday after an encounter with a German submarine. The submarine was by gunfire, not torpedo. A shell went through the steam engine, damaging the structure and several of the crew were injured. The steamer's guns replied. The arrival of a convoy proceeding in the opposite direction saved the situation. The steamer will repair at this port.

HAIG CAPTURES 3,000 HUNS IN ATTACKS TO NORTH OF LE CATEAU

General Rawlinson's Army Reaches the Sambre-Oise Canal.

DEBENEY OUTFLANKING GUISSE
French and Americans Are Fighting Against Stubborn Foe Resistance.

Paris, Oct. 21.—The allied forces, while pushing further into Central Belgium on the north, are fighting their way forward on the south toward the Belgian border south of Valenciennes. Sunday the allied troops had to fight the elements as well as the German.

With spirits undampened, the allied troops continued their efforts, and in Flanders they got a little nearer to the important city of Ghent and are approaching very close to the west bank of the Scheldt. On the right of the front in Belgium, the British 5th Army has to all intents and purposes taken Tourcoing, important railroad junction.

Crosses the Selle.
Further south the British 2nd Army has crossed the Selle and is heading towards Mons by way of Quenoy, north of the Normal forest, while Gen. Rawlinson's 4th Army has reached the Sambre-Oise Canal and is advancing towards Maubeuge. The net result of the effort of the 4th and 5th Armies was that the pivot on which the German retreat across Belgium was based was shattered.

At the same time, Gen. Mangin and Guillaumont between the Serre and the Aisne and north of Soissons are attacking the front of the Hun line. Finally Gen. Gouraud and the American are fighting in most difficult country against determined and strong resistance. They are making slow but solid progress in the task of pushing the enemy towards the southern Ardennes and up both banks of the Meuse.

Place Presents a Sad Picture of Waste and Desolation.

With the British Armies in France, Sunday, Oct. 20.—Douai, in its waste and desolation, is a sad sight. Moving pictures of the city should be taken, so that the world could see the truth of the world which cannot be described. The streets are filled with furniture and articles of all kinds. It might be said that in Douai all the human remains had been opened.

The shelled glass windows in the Church of St. Peter have been broken up. Religious monuments were found scattered about the floor of the church. The city hall, where the German commandant had his quarters, was pillaged and sacked. Most of the paintings in the museum were taken away, but fortunately the beiry was undamaged.

TURKISH MINISTRY
Members of New Cabinet Have Been Appointed.

Basel, Sunday, Oct. 20.—Turkey's new ministry has been completed. The members of the cabinet follow: Grand vizier, Teyfik Pasha; minister of foreign affairs, Rasal Pasha; minister of justice, Fayri Effendi; minister of public instruction, Said Bey; minister of finance, Djavid Bey; minister of public works, Zia Pasha; minister of war, Djavid Bey; president of the council of state, Akil Pasha; Sheikh ul Islam, Hulusi Effendi.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Thursday, Oct. 17.—Latest estimates on the loss of life in the recent earthquake which struck Porto Rico place the total at not more than 200, mostly at or near Mayaguez. The property damage is estimated at five million. Through train service between San Juan and Mayaguez was resumed last night.

Allied Forces Are Within a Few Miles of Ghent—Franco-Serbian Troops Enter Zaietchar—French Report Heavy Artillery Between the Serre and Aisne.

London, Oct. 21.—More than 3,000 prisoners were captured by the British yesterday in the operations north of Le Cateau, when the Selle River was crossed on a wide front, according to Field Marshal Haig's statement today.

The German positions were of great natural strength and were strongly held, and there was heavy fighting throughout the day. The weather was unfavorable and the river was in flood, but the British forced a passage of the river early in the fighting, supported by tanks. The statement reads:

"The number of prisoners captured by us in the operation yesterday north of Le Cateau now exceeds 3,000. The enemy positions along the River Selle were of great natural strength and were held with resolution."

"The attack was launched by English, Scottish and Welsh divisions at 2 o'clock in the morning under most unfavorable weather conditions, a continuous rain rendering the advance extremely difficult. The fighting was heavy throughout the day, the enemy offering strong resistance in the villages and along the line of the railway. In overcoming this resistance great assistance was rendered at certain points by tanks, which, despite the flooded state of the river, succeeded in passing to the east bank at an early hour."

"As soon as the line of the river was secured a number of bridges were rapidly constructed under a heavy fire from the hostile artillery and machine guns, enabling our guns to push forward close behind the advancing infantry and to afford them effective support at short range."

HEAVY ARTILLERY ACTIVITY BETWEEN SERRE AND AISNE

Paris, Oct. 21.—There was no infantry fighting of moment on the French front last night. The official statement from the war office today only reports artillery activity between the Serre and the Aisne.

In raids in Lorraine and Alsace, the French captured prisoners. The statement reads:

"The night was marked by rather heavy artillery activity between the Serre and the Aisne. In Lorraine and Alsace incursions into the German lines enabled the French to take prisoners."

ALLIES CROSS THE SCHELDT.

Paris, Oct. 21.—Allied troops have crossed the Scheldt River at several points in the regions of Audenarde, fifteen miles southwest of Ghent.

Audenarde has been encircled and its fall is expected momentarily. German resistance is reported to be weakening on this sector of the front.

FRANCO-SERBIAN TROOPS HAVE ENTERED THE TOWN OF ZAIETCHAR

London, Oct. 21.—Franco-Serbian troops have entered Zaietchar, 28 miles from the River Danube, at Negotin, and 45 miles northeast of Nish, according to a Serbian official statement issued Sunday. West of Zaietchar the Allies have captured Bolyevatz.

The statement reads: "On Saturday French cavalry, with a detachment of Serbian infantry, entered Zaietchar. Further west we captured Bolyevatz. In the valley of the West Morava River our troops have entered Trstenek."

ALLIED FORCES ADVANCE TO WITHIN 10 MILES OF GHENT

London, Sunday, Oct. 20.—Allied forces in Belgium are within ten miles of Ghent, according to the official statement on operations issued by the war office tonight. The statement reads:

"The advance of the army groups in Flanders, under command of King Albert, continued throughout today. After vainly trying to arrest our progress towards the western bank of the Lys, along the Beynne-Eclou Canal and near the Dutch frontier, the Germans have been forced to withdraw over the whole front.

Among the recent important changes in the higher executive offices of the C. P. R., one that will be of interest to many Londoners is the promotion of George Hodge, Jun., of Montreal, to the position of assistant to the vice-president.

LONDON COLLEGIATE PUPILS HAVE FAITH IN THEIR OWN CITY

Few Desire to Spend Life

Offer Suggestions for Improving Conditions Here in Several Ways.

London is a perfectly good city to live in and do business in, in the opinion of more than 82 per cent of the boys and girls now in the Collegiate Institute. Less than 18 per cent think otherwise.

Some days ago the London Board of Trade submitted a questionnaire to all the pupils of this institution, as follows:

1. What business, profession or trade do you hope to pursue as a life work?
2. Do you expect to remain in London? If not, why not?
3. What do you think the board of trade should undertake for the improvement of the city of London?

4. What, in your opinion, is the thing of greatest importance that the board of trade should undertake first which would be of advantage to you in preparing for your life work?

This was the first such survey ever made in a school of this rank in Canada. It is not, therefore, possible to compare the result with any other Canadian example, although the results are here in charge of the board of trade campaign have made similar inquiries in cities in the United States.

Few Want To Leave.
Their statement is that the percentage of young people who intend to leave the city upon graduation is much smaller than the average in cities of about London's size. The opinion of this finding is in the feeling that the average boy or girl of high school age has a very definite idea about the future of his or her city. Their ambitions are high and without realizing they may never attain them, they know where they want to go elsewhere to find the opportunities they seek.

"Thinking men and women of London will find in these figures both encouragement and a spur to make London live up to the high regard these young folks have for it," said one of the campaign committee.

Representative Figures.
It is true that the figures given are based on only 110 answers to the questionnaire, but the board of trade is confident that the figures are representative of the entire school, and therefore may be accepted as expressing the sentiments of all the pupils.

A tabulation of the answers to the question shows the following:

Yes, 82%; no, 17%.
The answers to the first question are of much interest to members of the faculty of the school and of the board of education have been anxious to see them. They have been classified and show the following choices of occupation:

Go the Limit.
"I was especially pleased to read in The Advertiser the other day that the city government is to have 24 representatives in the board of trade. Now, as we have made such a wonderfully enthusiastic start toward a unity organization which will make it the biggest and best not only in Canada but on the continent, population considered."

"I believe the new board of trade should have in call for help as members."

Further explaining her suggestion, the woman said she thought that every organization in London in which women are specially interested should have at least one representative in the board. She argued that almost none of these bodies can justify their little funds, for $25 a year, taken from the treasury, will be spent most wisely.

Two Members Each.
Belief was expressed that most of the organizations should have two members. "Women are more and more coming out to public affairs and the board of trade and reorganization of the London Board of Trade offers us an opportunity to do so."

"It is expected that the reports at the supper of the campaign teams this evening at the Tecumseh House at 6:30 will be the final, and the goal of 800 is 172; the reports of Friday having shown 528."

Many of the workers put in part of their time on Saturday asking for new members, and it is known that the headquarters that quite a number of applications were secured. The campaign committee urges every member of the teams to be on hand promptly.

Spanish Flu!

First there are fits of sneezing, accompanied by much blowing of the nose—and a sensation of cold, especially in the neck and back, which may continue shivering at the beginning of the attack. Then comes Headache and a Harshness in the Throat, followed by Sore Throat and a Rise in Temperature. This Spanish Flu has all the earmarks of the old Grippe that struck us about 25 years ago, but in a more virulent form. Here's a good remedy: It is called "KILLS THE GERMS," that's why it cures. Put a teaspoonful in a cupful of water and take a dose every 2 or 4 hours, snuff it up the nose and use it as a gargle. I have great faith in that use. Price 50c a bottle. ## FIVE INJURED WHEN L. & P. S. CAR MEETS FREIGHT HEAD-ON

Smash Occurs South of Pond Mills.

THE INJURED.
N. G. McVicar, 258 Regent street,
London.
Motorman John Campbell, 186
Emery street, London.
Donald St. Clair Rodney, Ont.
Vernon A. Oliver, St. Thomas, Ont.
Samuel Crockett, 150 Wilson avenue,
London.

Five men were painfully injured and badly shaken up as a result of a head-on collision between passenger car No. 10 and a freight on the London and Port Stanley Railroad about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, half a mile north of Westminster station, and just south of Pond Mills. It is the second head-on collision that has lately happened on the L. & P. S.

Had the cars not slowed up slightly to take the curve the accident would have been infinitely more serious. While the fact that the cars were heavy of steel also helped some in the opinion of officials.

Cause Undetermined.
Manager J. E. Richards of the L. & P. S. R. would venture no opinion as to who was to blame until after an official inquiry had been made, which he intimated would not be held until Tuesday evening. Motorman John Campbell, of the passenger car, being laid up in Victoria Hospital.

At the hospital Campbell, who is suffering a good deal of pain, being crushed and bruised, could not remember whether he had jumped or not. After looking at the twisted mass of wood and steel it was not possible to say whether Campbell could have lived had he not jumped.

"I saw Campbell, and that is all I can remember," said the motorman, arriving at the hospital an hour after the accident.

Persons on Board.
There were some 40 passengers in the car from St. Thomas to London, and about 30 in the freight car, and all were badly shaken up. N. G. McVicar, 258 Regent street, London, was thrown forward and his nose broken. He was also badly bruised, but will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Donald St. Clair, of Rodney, an old man of 74, was bruised about the face and head, but not seriously injured. Vernon Oliver, a traveler from St. Thomas, complained of injuries to his legs, but he expected to get home in a few days.

Samuel Crockett, 150 Wilson avenue, an employee of the Canada Broom and Brush Company, Ridgeway, was sitting in the smoker when the crash came and was thrown over the back of a seat. He was laid out for an hour. His injuries consisted of a bruised leg and a bruised arm.

The freight, in charge of Conductor George McGregor and Motorman Fred Logan of London, was traveling about twelve miles an hour when the passenger car leaped up about six car lengths away. Logan immediately applied the brakes and stepped back from the controller into the car, thus managing to escape death by Jack Hutchison was the conductor in charge of the passenger car.

The men were reported to be all progressing favorably at Victoria Hospital this afternoon.

Eve's haven't estimated the damage yet," stated Manager Richards today. It will be $2,000 anyway. The repairs can be made here.

ONE VOLUNTEER.—Only one recruit was taken on at the local mobilization center yesterday, and one devoted citizen, who was sent to the R. A. F. as an A-2 man.

INFLUENZA CLAIMS MORE VICTIMS THAN GERMAN BULLETS

Disease Can Be Avoided By Keeping Physically Fit, Declare Health Authorities.

According to carefully compiled statistics, influenza epidemic which is now sweeping all parts of the country is daily claiming far more victims than German bullets on the battle fronts of Europe. Although the military authorities have succeeded in checking the disease in some localities, it is growing worse in others and continues to spread at an alarming rate.

It is persons who are suffering from lowered vitality, who are weak and run-down and who have not the strength to throw off what are the earliest victims. Persons who have had colds, who are suffering from catarrhal troubles, or inflammation of the mucous membranes, are especially susceptible, as the influenza virus enters the body through the nose and throat as an open door to the germs. This condition is almost always accompanied by a weakened condition of the system.

If you are suffering from any of these symptoms, nothing on earth will build you up and strengthen you like Tanlac, which contains the most powerful tonic properties known to science.

This statement is easily proven by the fact that Tanlac is now having the greatest sale of any system tonic in the history of medicine. Less than four years' time over Ten Million Bottles have been sold and the demand is constantly increasing. Thousands are using it daily for the relief of various troubles and the general opinion among the city hall this morning was that there would be none of the usual bursts of eloquence.

Nothing Special.
Another reason which is given for this is the fact that there is nothing new about Tanlac. It has been on the market for many years, and its popularity is not due to any special advertising campaign.

The street railway situation, which provided for some time, in all probability will not be touched. City Engineer Brauer and Manager C. B. King of the board of control that Chief J. Aiken's report, stating that George White is authorized to draw at the last meeting of No. 1 committee. It would, in any event, be dealt with by the committee before the council.

It is expected that tonight's meeting of the city council will be a quiet one. All deputations as well as the general public have been banned, owing to the "flu" epidemic. With the gallery empty, the orators will have to make do with inspiration in the empty seats, and the general opinion among the city hall this morning was that there would be none of the usual bursts of eloquence.

WHO WILL HELP TO SUPPLY APPLE PIES FOR BOYS OVERSEAS?

Growers and Motor Car Owners Asked to Volunteer.

Who among the farmers of Middlesex will offer to permit volunteer pickers from the city to enter orchards and pack apples for the boys overseas? Who will lend automobiles to transport these gangs of pickers to the orchards. Once these two questions are answered satisfactorily a plentiful supply of apple pies will be guaranteed the men in khaki in England and France. Miss Priddy, who resides just north of the city on Bishop's street, has taken out a plan and has been given hearty co-operation by the teachers of the city. She has a list of names of having apples peeled and evaporated once they come to the city, and has arranged for barrels in which to pack and send them overseas. She has also been promised the use of Silverwood's trucks in bringing the picked fruit to the city, and has arranged for the help of male school teachers and pupils in picking. If farmers will please call on C. B. Edwards at 640 offering their orchards, and if motor car owners will let them know their readiness to take out teachers and pupils to these orchards, work will be under way soon. The workers are ready; are the givers?

FREEDOM FOR THE CZECHS.

RESIDENT WILSON'S notice to Austria-Hungary that the United States insists upon absolute freedom for the Czech-Slovaks will be instantly and heartily approved by the Entente world. None of the little fellows who have stood up to the Teutons have done so more gallantly or unselfishly than the people of Bohemia. By their geographical situation hopelessly cut off from assistance by the Entente armies, they have nevertheless persistently hampered and hindered the war operations of the enemy, and that in the face of savage, ruthless punishment. And the Czech-Slovak has shown himself a first class fighting man. No incident of the great war will stand out more gloriously than the spectacular 5,000-mile retreat to Vladivostok following the Russian collapse. Now he is fighting successfully to save Siberia from German-Bolshevik control and that in itself deserves any reward the coming Allied triumph can give. Czech-Slovak administration of such parts of Siberia and western Russia as they have occupied has been marked with sanity and justice. Law and order and toleration have been the result wherever they have taken control. That this courageous, liberty-loving people is well able to rule itself is unquestioned. When middle Europe is made over, when the dual monarchy is dismembered, as it should be, no righting of wrong will seem happier or more just than the restoration to the Czech of his former independence.

COUNTER-ATTACKING THE "FLU."

DEPRESSING as have been the results of the influenza epidemic, there is cause for rejoicing in the prospect of an abatement of the disease, or at least a confining of its ravages to certain bounds. Most physicians are convinced that precautions were taken none too soon to prevent the gathering of people in large numbers in public places, and the new system, coupled with intensive treatment by physicians and nurses, the latter both professional and volunteer, will no doubt bring about an early clearing of the air.

The city has suffered dreadfully from the disease, and the serious possibilities of an appalling death rate have come home to all. Most distressing stories of sadness have come from the homes of those afflicted, and it would seem as though the malady had selected for attack those families which were already sorely bereaved. Many young people have been taken off, with a suddenness that is shocking, apparently while in the best of physical condition. Regarded usually as one of the milder diseases this latest form of influenza working in conjunction with its dread ally, pneumonia, has struck at the young and rather than the old or middle-aged. It is estimated that few if any children have succumbed to the disease, but on the whole it is the most serious visitation of many years. Continental in its extent, it would have caused a far more tremendous depression had the stark pictures of war not been written everywhere.

To the forces which have worked against the disease great credit is due. Almost every physician has been caring for scores of cases, and in addition to this, many doctors have found it necessary to lend aid in securing assistance for those homes in which every member of the family was stricken. The women who organized the Sister of Service brigade have been performing a remarkable work for citizens, and the chairman of the board of health, Mr. Russell, has given practically all of his time to the checking of the epidemic. London has nothing to reproach itself with in the manner in which the disease has been counter-attacked. A fine spirit of co-operation has been shown by most people, and so far as can be learned nothing has been left undone. The influence of the press in urging the exercise of personal precaution has been recognized as beneficial.

It is not yet time to drop into the past tense when speaking of the disease. The epidemic is still with us. Even when signs of an abatement appear there should be general expectation of a recurrence in order to be on the safe side. The length of time for which the disease rages cannot be estimated. The best word that may be given is to keep up the fight.

A GREAT LESSON FOR OURSELVES.

GERMAN officers are distributing a tract among the German troops, blaming President Wilson for prolonging the war and comparing him with Caesar.

The audacity of it is apparent from a few extracts: "However noble these peace efforts were they were destined to break in face of the opposition of the United States."

"It is now accordingly absolutely evident that the determination to kill emanated from the White House at Washington, and is concentrated in the person of President Wilson."

"What balm can the niceties of the President's oratory bring to the sacrifices of this war? If we speak of President Wilson only, it is not to pardon other imperial schemes. But in the presence of the cruel truth that for nearly five years human blood has flowed without cessation, it is natural that we point out to human justice the man who may be reproached by humanity with the prolonging of this horrible butchery."

"To the very end. That is their (England and America) reply. To what end? Must Europe perish? Must the human race disappear from the globe? Do you want the old continent to be nothing but a vast cemetery in which shall reign to the great joy of American billionaires the repose of a peace really eternal?"

This tract or leaflet is distributed among the German soldiers to mislead them, to make them believe that the President is responsible for the "prolonging of this horrible butchery." "Horrible butchery" is good coming from those who butchered Belgium. "For nearly five years human blood has flowed without cessation" and for more than half that time the United States had nothing to do with it. The President reluctantly entered the war to stop the "flow of human blood," to stop the "horrible butchery." It says "the determination to kill emanated from the White House at Washington." Yes, the determination to help Great Britain and France to kill militarism, not to kill but to keep alive human beings.

We point out to human justice. What do they know of human justice who butchered Belgium, who put to death Edith Cavell, who sunk the Lusitania, who bombed hospital ships, who sent zeppelins to England in the air, and murdered women and children, who sent U-boats under water to torpedo non-combatant and neutral ships, who form the greatest aggregation of criminals with the greatest variety of crimes the world ever knew?

They finally ask "Do you want the old continent to be nothing but a vast cemetery in which shall reign to the great joy of American billionaires the repose of a peace really eternal?"

Britain and America and France have said "To the very end." The Germans have made Europe a vast cemetery to many millions, with "the repose of a peace really eternal." "To the very end" let Germans and Germany understand the meaning of those words: "To the very end." You shall not pass. You have carried out your last "horrible butchery." You have sunk the last ship. You have murdered the last man, woman and child. You have seen your last zeppelin in the air and U-boat in the ocean. Your "horrible butchery" and most horrible crimes have come "to the very end." There will be "eternal peace" not the eternal peace of the cemetery you speak of, but the peace that belongs to nations such as Great Britain, America and France, all countries of happy homes and happy peoples. They know what freedom and true democracy mean. They want no "lordling's pomp."

"What is a lordling's pomp?—a cumbersome load, Disguising oft the wretch of human kind, Studied in arts of hell, in wickedness refined."

The Germans have been studied in arts of hell, in wickedness refined. They seek by lying pamphlets to blame President Wilson and mislead their people. In that is a great lesson for all democratic countries. Democracy everywhere is led and misled, and instead of blindly following the leader let there be in this Canada a more independent thought, a better knowledge of public questions, more individual thought, so that collectively public opinion will mean something of value to the country.

One more great stroke of governmental action against the plundering of the many by a powerfully organized, greedy few is added to the record by the action of the Federal Trade Commission of the United States, which, after searching investigation, has recommended to President Wilson Government acquisition and control of all the principal stockyards, cold storage plants and warehouses, refrigerator cars and cattle cars in the United States. The commission recommends in order to destroy a monopoly which it declares Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Morris & Co., Wilson & Co., Inc., and the Cudahy Packing Company, exercise, not only over the meat supply of the country, but over other necessary food supplies.

THE TOURNET.

By R. Ray Baker.

"My hermiting business is ruined," James Morgan stood in the doorway of his hermitage and gazed resentfully across Silver Lake, where the red brick buildings of the new Ashton Memorial Hospital loomed against a blue June sky.

The slight frown developed into a pronounced scowl as his ears detected a faint humming which originated some distance back of the shack. The humming became a roar as a motor car, with cutout open, whizzed past not far from the dwelling of the dejected hermit.

"It's the limit the way civilization chases a fellow around," he growled. Here I get a place all picked out for a quiet, unmolested summer of solitude, and when I arrive to begin my hermiting I find that some one has built a concrete race track at my back door, and some one else has erected a kill-or-cure place in my front yard. Between shrieking motor cars and complaining, convalescent patients and giddy nurses my hermitage has fair to open into a mad street of a busy town on a Saturday night.

He shrugged his shoulders into disgust and strode into the shack, which contained a narrow cot, a table, a chair, a box, a hat, a bookcase, in which were some dust-injured volumes. Two three-legged stools and one which possessed four stood aside in proud disdain, comprised the hermit's furniture.

The hermit rummaged in his pockets and produced a pipe, a sack of tobacco, a box of matches and a tin of chewing gum. Planting himself on the haughty stool, he filled the first-mentioned article from the second, and part of the third, and began to peruse the fourth.

He was not a veteran hermit. His face was clean-shaven and he had clear-cut, youthful features, set off by a pair of piercing brown eyes. He was only twenty-seven years old, and that is all together too young for one to be in the business of hermiting.

The decision to become a recluse was due to two things. They were the acquisition of a fortune and the loss of an attractive young woman he had intended making his partner in a venture far different from hermiting.

Janet, Ellison had decided, after all, that she did not care to settle down, so just before her parents had sent her on a tour of the continent she broke off her engagement with James.

A month later James inherited nearly half a million dollars from an uncle who died in the Klondike. The money acted as a soothing balm for his shattered heart for a brief period—until doting mothers heard of his stroke of luck and began setting snares for him.

This having sweethearts thrust upon him when he had just lost his heart's desire was too much for James. He got tired of attending to the whims and wishes of a crowd of young misses and listening to their chatter of society and fashion and other subjects that held no interest for him, especially since he was still yearning and longing for Janet.

The decision of the whole thing grew on him and made him cynical. He determined to sever the sphere of feminism from his universe.

He decided to spend a winter in California, and then in the summer to start hermiting for fair. Before his trip west he located this shack in the Ohio woods, learned who the owner was and rented it for the season. When this transaction took place there was no sign of a habitation or a road in the vicinity.

Only one man knew his present whereabouts, and that was his chum of college days, Ralph Williamson. Williamson helped him locate the place, and even offered to spend some of the time with him; but he was going into hermiting "for all there is in it."

Williamson laughed and remarked: "You'll soon be back, and you'll marry Janet after all, when she comes home." Then, thinking Williamson secretly sent a letter to certain address in the Canadian wilds, taking pains to detail facts about Klondike gold.

The day after James arrived at his cabin, to find it no longer a solitude, he set out on a hike, avoiding the turnpike and heading into the woods that fringed the shore. Heavy underbrush made progress rather difficult, so he took out a long clasp knife to cut a walking stick from a tree. Sparing a branch that looked good to him some distance up the trunk, he climbed the tree and, seated on one branch, began to saw at the one he had selected, which was just above him.

James was not adept at a tree cutter or climber, or as an equilibrium artist, and, somehow, just as he was taking a final whack at the branch he desired, he lost his balance and fell. The knife, clutched in his right hand, slashed his left arm and severed an artery, and as he sank in a faint to the ground blood intelligence at times in the matter of deciding when it's safe to joke with their husbands.—Newark Advocate.

What has become of the o. f. lawyer who used to put up a bluff by carrying a green bag and half a ton of law books every time he went down the street?

Another strange thing is how a bore hates to be bored by other bores.

Any married man can tell you that when a woman has nothing to say she isn't going to be quiet until she says it. The man who gets mad because the Lord doesn't answer his prayers forgetting that the Lord answers all of our prayers none of us would work.

Many a man has discovered that putting a blanket mortgage on it won't keep his house warm in winter.

The average business man is so hard-headed that he doesn't care a hang for the recommendation you bring from the head of your Sunday school. He wants to know what you do the other six days of the week.

The busiest man we know of is a fellow who is paying 1918 prices for things out of a 1908 salary.

If you have to fight a man, made into him with the firm belief that he is a bigger coward than you are, and you will win.

It wouldn't be so blame hard to please a woman if you could only get her to decide on what she wants. And what has become of the town loafer who used to sit on a soap box and whittle all day?

Why that it is dangerous for a man to way that it is dangerous for a man to happen behind a woman's back if he happened to be her husband and is hooking her up in the rear.

When James regained consciousness he was lying on the cot in the hermitage. But alas! It was a hermitage no longer. A young woman, clad in a white uniform with narrow blue stripes was holding his left arm aloft while another similarly dressed was busy about the stove, in which a fire had been built.

The young woman holding his arm—a very pretty blonde—smiled pleasantly and handed him a glass of water.

"What's happened?" he asked after he had drunk the water. She explained in a few words.

"My friend and I were enjoying a half day off, strolling about the lake, when we heard you cry out. We found you lying under a tree, a severe cut in the brachial artery, and blood spurting so profusely from the wound that we were obliged to improvise this tourniquet with your handkerchief and a stick of wood. We saw this house in the distance, assumed that you lived here, and managed to bring you."

The girl's fingers holding the arm were singularly soft to the feel of his skin and her smile was one of the most cheery things he had ever seen.

"My friend is preparing something for you to eat," she announced. "It's something light—just the thing for you."

James felt that it was good to have this girl looking after his comfort in that way.

"She knows her business," he decided. "She's a very capable person, all right, and that's what I need."

One day, a month later, while James was partaking a canned dinner, he heard an automobile horn emit several croaking blasts, followed by the sound of a machine coming to a stop back of the shack.

Soon there was a knock at the door, and it was thrown open to admit Ralph Williamson, radiant with smiles. The two young men clasped hands warmly and Williamson was offered the four-legged stool as a special honor.

"Can't stop," he remonstrated.

The Only Way!

If we fail to keep our switchboards, our pole lines, our complete system at the highest point of efficiency—

If we are unable through lack of funds, to build new lines and install new equipment to meet the legitimate needs of the community, then not only the country's war efforts while the conflict lasts, but its work of reconstruction when the fight is over, must suffer.

Unless we can charge such rates for service as will earn a fair return on the money our shareholders have entrusted to us, then further capital for needed extensions will be difficult, if not impossible, to secure.

These are simple, basic facts that apply to all utilities, but with special force to telephone service.

For the past four years our earnings have averaged only 5.6 per cent on our investment.

Is there any other means of meeting increased costs than to ask for authority to charge fair rates for our service? We believe there is no other.

him on very much longer," she finished mustily, then sprang to her feet at the little cry I couldn't repress.

"Forgive me, Madge," she said contritely. "I didn't mean to frighten you, but, of course, you know that as well as I do. But I shouldn't have spoken about it so abruptly."

"It is you of whom I should ask forgiveness," I said a bit hoarsely. "for being such a baby. But please don't try to shield me any longer. If there is anything I can do to help Dicky, tell me. I am quite strong again, and you must let me help."

She asked a keen glance at me.

The Adventures of the Little People of the Great Forest.

A VISITOR IN BEAVERTOWN.

The setting sun had gilded Mirror Pond with gold, and Mrs. Duck and her family were swimming about in the flashing waters, which looked like liquid gold.

On the green banks of Mirror Pond the Beavers were sitting on little hummocks, which were covered with grass and which they used as ways for "lookouts," so that they could discover any prowling enemies.

Ned Chipmunk and his family came to make a call on the Beaver family, for you know they are cousins, and very fast friends. Father Beaver rose and shook hands most cordially with each one of the Chipmunk family, and said with joy: "Welcome, Cousin Ned. I would gladly invite you all into our house to spend the evening, but you know that both our front door and our back door are several feet under water."

Suddenly Ned Chipmunk turned to Father Beaver and said: "Cousin, have you seen the new visitor in the Great Forest?"

"Who is it, and what does he look like?"

"Well, he looks like an enemy, which is, but he's the most beautiful creature I've seen in all my born days. He's tall, thin, and very graceful. He's wearing a suit of clothes, and he's carrying a gun. He's a hunter, and he's very clever. He's a visitor from the Great Forest, and he's very different from any other creature I've ever seen."

Ned Chipmunk said in a whisper, for he knew that the sky fox might be around, and he was afraid that he might pounce upon them: "Father Beaver, the new visitor is a big and powerful creature. He's very different from any other creature I've ever seen. He's a hunter, and he's very clever. He's a visitor from the Great Forest, and he's very different from any other creature I've ever seen."

UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, OCT. 21, 1918. ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION. By Rev. T. L. Lincolnton, D.D.

Isaiah and Rebekah—Gen. xxiv.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

1. Verse 1—Should a good old man be as bright in his mind and as glad in his heart as when he was younger? Why?

2. Verses 2-3. What would you say is the value of a faithful workman, or foreman, or an absolutely trustworthy confidential secretary to an employer?

3. What value, if any, is an oath over a straight promise to bind the conscience of an intelligent man?

Golden Text—Let not kindness and truth forsake thee: shall thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man.—Prov. III:4.

WHAT IS KINDNESS.

Kindness is a state of mind which desires to help others. It is a feeling of goodwill, humanness and tenderness. A kind act, no matter how trivial, is an exemplification of kindness. Kindness means sympathy and benevolence. Perhaps all normal people are more or less kindly, but it is a virtue which needs to be cultivated, or we shall lose it. The wise man urges us not to let kindness forsake us. What we do not use we lose; so that to retain our kindness it is necessary to use it and thus to develop it. Fortunately we do not need to seek for opportunities to be kind, for they meet us at almost every step of the journey as we go through life. Do not let any opportunity pass you by for being kind.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR OUR SOLDIERS AND NURSES AT THE FRONT

HOW TO ADDRESS MAIL TO SOLDIERS

The following correct method of addressing troops has been issued by Dr. R. M. Coulter, deputy postmaster-general. In order to facilitate handling of mail at the front, and to insure prompt delivery, it is requested that all mail be addressed as follows:
 (a) Rank.
 (b) Regimental number.
 (c) Name.
 (d) Squadron, battery or company.

 (h) Army Postoffice, London, England.
 Unnecessary mention of higher formations, such as brigades, divisions, is strictly forbidden and causes delay.

Post Your Christmas Parcels Before November 15

SENDING PRESENTS BY PARCEL POST

(Clip This Out for Reference.)

For the information of those sending parcels to soldiers in England or at the front, The Advertiser publishes the rates of postage: To England, the rate is 12 cents a pound or any fraction thereof; limit weight on parcels to England is 11 pounds. To France or Belgium, the rate is 34 cents for parcels any weight up to three pounds; from three pounds to seven pounds (the limit), the rate is 32 cents—not 32 cents per pound, but 32 cents for any weight from three to seven pounds. Any letter or parcel for any soldier in the hospital (even if this hospital is not known to the sender), having the word "hospital" marked across it will be delivered. A customs declaration must be attached to each parcel, for which application should be made at the stamp window of the postoffice.

HERE'S A SUGGESTION TO HELP IN THE SELECTION OF "HIS" CHRISTMAS GIFT

The Merchants Advertising on This Page Offer Many Hints for Practical and Acceptable Remembrances for the Boy in Camp From His Friends Over Here.

Thanksgiving over, one naturally looks forward to the next season of cheer, which is Christmas. One's thoughts turn to the things always associated with this season of good-will: the exchange of tokens that were so highly prized, not for their intrinsic value, but because of the memories that cling to the gifts. When one, who is surrounded by relatives and friends and all that go to make life pleasant, values the gifts which he receives from those he loves, how much more will the lad in the trenches or in the rest camps near the firing line appreciate a box of good things from his home.

The very fact that a box is received by him does much to make him forget the discomforts of trench warfare for a season. But when the things that are packed with loving hands are the ones which he used to treasure most when he was at home on Christmas morning, how can his joy be estimated? The little extras that are not supplied to him through the regular channels will cheer him and bring to his memory thoughts of home that will strengthen him for the tasks which he will face during the year. The articles chosen to fill the box should be picked with the one idea of supplying him something that is not only useful, but which will help him better bear the hardships of war.

One of the most welcome gifts possible would be a generous supply of Christmas cake. Not a Jack Snuck at the front who does not know the taste of this national delicacy, and a large cake would be sure to call to mind pleasant recollections of his home. It is also recognized as a food, and no box from Canada would be complete without several pounds.

Chocolate is also relished by the boys at the front. There are so many kinds of chocolate manufactured that one need have no worry regarding the purchase of this. The particular brand that he knew at home can be secured in any first-class store in the country. Let it not be thought that the sending of these sweets is a waste, for the boys who have been over there all testify to the longing that is only satisfied with something of this nature. While they need other articles as well, there should be a generous supply of sweets in the parcel from home.

In the matter of smokes, there are few if any men at the front that would not relish several boxes of their favorite brand of cigars or cigarettes. Men who have returned assert that smokes sent from Canada bring a thousand joys to the heart of the recipient for every cigarette in the package. Puddings from his home town also will be welcomed by the lad at the front. So many firms have made a specialty of preparing these for shipment overseas that with little difficulty a satisfactory assortment can be made up.

Articles of clothing, such as socks, sweaters, gloves and other wearing apparel, should be included in the list of things to be sent over to the boy. Then if he is in a convalescent hospital there are many things that he would appreciate in the line of slippers and shoes to be purchased in the many shops specializing in soldiers' comforts. Shaving outfits are always a welcome gift to him also. The one he has may be getting old and ready to be sent to the repair shop. A new safety razor, with about two dozen blades and shaving brush and soap, would take up very little room. Prepared chocolate and coffee that need only the addition of hot water in the preparation of delicious drinks should not be forgotten in the packing of a Christmas parcel for the soldier. Numerous preparations have been placed on the market during the last four years to meet this need, and one will have no trouble in picking a good variety. Condensed milk and cream should also be sent over. These are put out in convenient tins for packing, and many of them can be packed in

BELGIANS RAP 15,000 PRISONERS; DRIVE THEM INTO HOLLAND WHERE THEY ARE INTERNED

German Flag on the Dutch-Belgian Frontier Is Pulled Down and Replaced by That of Belgium—Allied Armies Have Advanced 30 Miles on a 36-Mile Front in Flanders.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Fifteen thousand retreating German soldiers have been interned in Holland after being cut off by Belgian troops moving northward from Eecloo, according to reports from the frontier reaching Amsterdam and transmitted by the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Belgian soldiers took charge of the Dutch-Belgian border last night and were received enthusiastically by the populace.

GERMAN FLAG IS HAULED DOWN

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 20.—German sentries along the Dutch-Belgian frontier left Saturday morning, according to the Telegraaf. The electrified barrier on the frontier was also removed and the German flag pulled down. This was replaced two hours later by the Belgian flag amid the loud cheers of peasants along both sides of the line.

Over 7,000 Prisoners Captured

In Centre of Front in Four Days

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The British attacked this morning north of Le Cateau on a ten-mile front, and forced several miles southwest of Valenciennes, was captured in the early stages of the attack, and the enemy fled in confusion. The British advanced from five to eight miles across difficult country which the enemy had held for three days. Having driven the enemy on the first day of their attack from strong positions held by him on the night of October 18, the British advanced on the second day, and on the third day, by determined and persistent fighting they successfully cleared the area of the high ground between the river line, capturing many villages in the course of their advance, together with more than 5,000 prisoners and a number of guns.

German Forces On Both Wings Are Endangered By New Drive

GERMAN REPLY IS RECALLED FOR REVISION

Text of Note Altered to a Less Defiant Tone, Is Report.

IT MAY BE SENT TODAY

Austria and Turkey Likely to Take Separate Action If Note Is Rejected.

MAY BE SOME DAYS YET. Paris, Oct. 21.—Differences of opinion on various points in the German reply to President Wilson have arisen during a conference of the Reichstag groups. As a consequence the dispatch of the reply has been postponed for several days, says a Zurich dispatch to the Matin.

LONDON, Oct. 20, 11:17 p.m.—Official news of the German reply to Wilson at a late hour tonight.

The reply is unacceptable to the Entente powers, Austria and Turkey will not be sent for several days. They have given varying accounts of its contents.

WASHINGTON DISCARDS ALL UNOFFICIAL WORD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—So many conflicting reports about the German reply to President Wilson have come out of Holland and Switzerland during the last few days that the official word is discarded. The German reply is not to be sent for several days.

German Government organs announced Wednesday that the reply had been dispatched, and since then the newspapers of border neutrals have heard almost hourly that the note was on its way or about to be sent, or would not be sent for several days. They have given varying accounts of its contents.

Raises Storm in Berlin. A circumstantial story of how the reply was held up at the last moment for further official consideration.

Meeting of the Berlin Government with the military leaders and sovereigns of the neutral states, and the German Government is expected to make a statement on the subject.

Every version of the probable nature of the reply under consideration if not adopted indicates that the Germans are preparing to come forward with what they at least will expect the world to believe is a long and detailed statement.

Conditions which President Wilson has said must be met before there can be any thought of an armistice or discussion of peace. Whatever may be the substance of the note, it is believed here it will be designed to make it difficult for President Wilson to avoid further exchanges.

ST. THOMAS-TILBURY ROUTE FOR HIGHWAY HAS LITTLE CHANCE

Local Men Believe It Will Not Be Favored.

That the combination of towns between St. Thomas and Tilbury, whose representatives met at Ridgeway Friday to discuss the proposed provincial highway route through Western Ontario, have little chance of securing the Government support of the route suggested at this meeting, through Shedd and following the M. C. R. west to Ridgeway, thence on westward, is the opinion of local men who are in touch with the situation. This route is opposed by the municipalities including Hamilton and Windsor, including Ingersoll, Woodstock, London and Chatham.

Locally it is not believed that the Windsor board of the chamber of commerce will favor the longer and more expensive route, a preference to the shorter and more economical one passing through the most thickly populated part of the peninsula.

At the Woodstock meeting, held on October 15, it was decided to send representatives from all the municipalities west of Hamilton, including Brantford, Ingersoll, Woodstock, London and Chatham to Toronto in the near future to advocate the route of the provincial highway through the above towns. It is thought that the claims of these municipalities cannot lightly be overlooked by the Government.

The unsuitableness of No. 4 Nursing Division rooms for an emergency hospital for the Spanish Influenza, has been causing a great deal of discussion. One committee has tried to offer a practical solution to the problem by approaching A. A. Langford, chairman of the board of education, and making the suggestion that the kindergartens of some of the schools be used as emergency hospitals. Mr. Langford feels sure that the school board would be willing to do anything which would relieve the situation, and will approach Mrs. Thompson, head of the Division, to talk over the feasibility of the plan.

NEW OFFICERS WILL HEAD REORGANIZED BOARD OF TRADE

Governing Members of the Present Body To Retire, Is Part of Improved Plan.

Evidence of the completeness of the reorganization and expansion of the London Board of Trade is contained in the statement made last evening that all the present officers and members of the executive committee have offered their resignations. This action is to take effect when the new directors and officers are elected.

Because of the appeal being made in the campaign for eight hundred or more members, the present governing group of the board believed they should retire, and thus afford the new membership full opportunity to say who shall compose the new directing body. On behalf of the present executive committee, the following statement was made public last evening:

"In carrying out our plan for more thoroughly organizing the city of London, it is the feeling of our national committee of the board of trade that the desired end can best be accomplished by the establishment of an entirely new community organization, in which there may be enrolled not only those who are now supporting this board, but a larger representation of the city. A broadly representative, thoroughly efficient agency for public service is what is required.

"The decision to establish such an organization has been prompted by the existing knowledge of our national committee of the board of trade of the value of such an institution as a means of development of the city, and the need of our people in support of the war aims and to meet the changed conditions that must necessarily follow the war.

"The tentative plan of organization, as submitted by the American City Bureau, has been considered and accepted by a large group of the city's businessmen. It has been approved and accepted by the board of trade, and, accordingly, vigorous campaign has been entered upon, and to its successful prosecution we pledge our most hearty endeavors.

"Under Plan of U. S. Bureau, when the membership has been secured the new body will be organized under the plan which the American City Bureau has so successfully employed in many other cities. It will be a body of new officers, and the existing board need not be disturbed in its duties. The new body will be organized under the plan which the American City Bureau has so successfully employed in many other cities. "The action of the board of health in closing the churches must have been a day of rest to the influenza germs. What a harvest they might have gathered in if they had been able to fly to the mouth of one good pewholder to another. Even the places of business have had a season of rest. Everybody has been able to rest, but the forerunner of their final extermination.

Local residents of the city of London that it is an ill wind that blows no good, as for the first time in centuries the busy river about the mouth of one good pewholder to another. Even the places of business have had a season of rest. Everybody has been able to rest, but the forerunner of their final extermination.

LONDON RECORDS ITS FIRST "CHURCHLESS SUNDAY" IN HISTORY

Epidemic of Influenza Keeps All Places of Worship in City Closed.

Perhaps never before in the history of London has there been a churchless Sunday, nor has the city ever before been placed in a position where the closing of all the churches was necessary. Twenty-five years ago a similar influenza epidemic swept the continent, but there was no action taken in London toward the closing of churches.

Yesterday the habitual church-goer, who had escaped the clutch of the influenza, may have felt the hand of the law keenly, for he was forbidden to enter his customary place of worship as he went. But he who would complain, his claim rather raised his voice in thanks, giving that although for a short time the doors of his church are closed, that church is intact, brick upon brick. No hand of the devil hurls destroying weapons against his steeple, and no Hunnish hordes are ready to burn it to the ground. His temporary discomforts are indeed small, compared with those of the people of France and Belgium, who have been deprived of their churches as well as churches.

The old-time family worship may have dropped up yesterday in many homes, where it has for a long time been forgotten. There was one sect, however, which held services in the open air on the opening of the city streets. This was the Salvation Army, which held its open air service in the band of men and women sounded its custom-made music and preached on the city streets, even as it does when influenza is raging. No other open-air service was held. Perhaps the day was not suitable.

All the plans made for a Sunday outdoor service in the morning's downpour of rain, with the result that sleepers turned over, breakfast was postponed, and the day was moved again until the pangs of hunger o'clock. In the afternoon, however, a few more crowded. Duane street, all dressed up, with nowhere to go, and the motor brigade, which was to have been there, was down town, sorely missing the customary service.

Doctors and Nurses Busy.
But, to the people which Sunday day made idle, how about the thousands—the doctors, the nurses and the hospital staffs were fighting a united battle against death. Green cross motor ambulances, three or four in a line, were humming all day, tired nurses continued to tend the sick, and the day was moved again until the pangs of hunger o'clock. In the afternoon, however, a few more crowded. Duane street, all dressed up, with nowhere to go, and the motor brigade, which was to have been there, was down town, sorely missing the customary service.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels.

Give 'California Syrup of Figs' if cross, bilious or feverish.

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first remedy given.

If your little one is out of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, and your child has diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they deeply love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

BEATY BROS. GOT IRON; CAN'T TELL WHO GOT WHISKEY
The identity of the consignees of the whiskey found last week in a C. P. R. car of scrapiron has not yet been discovered, although the detectives and License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside have been working on the case in between flu spasms.

The car of scrapiron, but not the whiskey, was consigned to Beaty Bros. of this city. The whiskey runners, whoever they may be, managed to get away with part of the booze before Detective Harry Down and Robt. Beaton reached the car on an east end siding. They disappeared as completely as a blown-up German.

"Oh, no, we don't begrudge them the little they got," said Detective Egleton Sunday. "Maybe they're using it to combat the flu." In the meantime the cargo of fireworks, amounting to a 40-gallon barrel and 15 cases of whiskey, is still reposing in the back room of the police station.
