

C. P. R. PLANS ARE PREPARED BUT DETAILS KEPT IN DARK

Vice-President McNichol and Party of Officials Here—A Practical Admission That The Advertiser's Exclusive Announcement of Changes in This City Is Correct.

"We will have some interesting and important announcements to make very shortly," was the statement made by Vice-President McNichol, of the C. P. R., to The Advertiser last night after he had spent nearly an hour looking over the land recently purchased by the company in East London. The Advertiser made the exclusive announcement of the purchase of the land by the Canadian Pacific and the big plans for the east end a couple of weeks ago, readers of this journal having had the news on Saturday which was printed by a contemporary the following Monday.

THE ADVERTISER WAS RIGHT.

"Are the plans completed for the extensive improvements and extensions in London?" Mr. McNichol was asked.

"Plans are prepared," said Mr. McNichol, "but we do not care to say anything about them until we are ready to go ahead, as they may be changed."

"How about The Advertiser's announcement that the C. P. R. are making efforts to get a down-town station to compete with the Grand Trunk?"

"We are always willing to improve our position," replied Mr. McNichol. "We want, if we can, to improve our business in any way possible and also benefit the places through which our road runs."

"Are there any negotiations contemplated for the purchase of the L. and P. S. Railroad by the C. P. R., or for running rights over that line?"

"People have the C. P. R. buying roads and properties long before the company knows anything at all about it," said Mr. McNichol, laughing.

NOTHING OFFICIAL AS YET.

"Can you tell us anything about what extensions are likely to be made in London?"

"No," said Mr. McNichol. "When the plans are approved any work there is to do will be gone on with."

Engineer Hertzberg, of Montreal, Superintendent Oberne, of Toronto, and Superintendent McNeill, of this city, accompanied Mr. McNichol.

The party spent the day at Port Burwell and Ingersoll, and when they arrived in the city last night shortly after six, their special stopped in the east end and a thorough inspection of the recently-acquired property was made.

HAD PLANS HERE.

Engineer Hertzberg had a large roll of plans, but none of the party would admit that they were the drawings of proposed improvements in London.

Mr. McNichol and the others remained in London until 11 o'clock and then left for Detroit.

INSPECTOR EDWARDS FAVORS INSPECTING PUPILS' TEETH

Public School Officer Thinks the Move of the Dental Association Is in the Right Direction.

The resolution of the Dental Association of Ontario, recommending that the teeth of public school pupils be inspected regularly, is heartily in accord with Inspector Edwards' ideas. For some time he has been advocating a medical inspection for the schools of the city, and in his annual report he deals with this question.

"At the Indianapolis convention, the medical inspection of school children was emphasized a great deal," said the inspector. "I have mentioned the matter on several occasions, and I think it is something that demands attention. The physical well being of a child is of prime importance, and should be considered just as carefully as learning."

BRASS CASE AGAIN IN COURT SEQUEL TO RAILWAY THEFTS

Harris Brass Company Is Being Sued by Companies for Goods Bought by Harris Who Did Not Know They Had Been Stolen.

Five civil cases have been entered for the jury sittings of the county court before Judge Macbeth on June 14 next.

Four of the cases are against Dora Harris, carrying on business as Harris & Co., junk dealers, 735 York street.

It appears that this company bought in good faith a quantity of brass fittings, which, it turned out, were stolen from a number of United States railways.

When asked to give them up, the company refused, and the actions were brought. The stolen brasses weigh about 30 pounds, each, and fit over the axles in the journal boxes.

The Central Railway of New Jersey is suing for the recovery of one hundred and ninety-four brasses, valued at $400, and $100 for the detention of the goods.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railway claims 46 brasses, valued at $150, and $100 damages for detention.

The Pennsylvania Railway Company claims 76 brasses, valued at $250, and $100 damages for detention.

The New York Central and Hudson River Railway has the biggest claim, 200 brasses, valued at $450, having been stolen. Only $50 damages are claimed.

The Defence.

The defence is that the brasses were purchased in the ordinary course of business on the market, and hence the defendants are entitled to them.

The only other case entered so far is that of Francis Hutchinson, a West London teamster, against the J. D. Saunby Milling Company, an action for $297.

In September, 1909, the plaintiff contracted to clean the headrace in the defendants' mill premises. He alleges that 778 1-3 cubic yards were cleaned out, for which he was to receive 60 cents a yard. He was paid $170, leaving a balance of $297. It is for this balance and interest on the same that the action has been instituted.

The Other Side.

The defendant company states that the contract was entered into with the understanding that the plaintiff was to complete the work for $240. They claim that the plaintiff performed the work improperly and refused to complete it. The company state that $170 was paid, leaving a balance of $70 on the contract, and they are also indebted to the amount of $27 for learning out earth at the entrance to the wheel-pit. They have paid $97 in court to meet this indebtedness.

Cronyn, Betts & Coleridge are acting for the plaintiff, and Ivey & Dromgole for the defendants.

JOHN M. MOORE LEAVES FOR EUROPE

Popular City Official Presented With an Address by City Hall Staff.

TAKES A NEEDED REST

With His Wife and Relative He Will Tour the Continent This Summer.

Mr. John M. Moore, who has resigned his position as waterworks engineer, and leaves tomorrow for a three months' trip to the continent, was presented with a handsomely engrossed address by the officials of the waterworks department at the city hall this morning.

Mr. Oliver Ellwood, secretary of the board, read the address, which was as follows:

The Address.

"John M. Moore, C. E., London, Ont.: Sir,—Your retirement from the office of engineer and superintendent of the London waterworks department affords us an opportunity of expressing our esteem and admiration for one who has so faithfully and impartially performed his duties during the past twenty years.

"We desire to acknowledge the courtesy and consideration which you have ever been pleased to extend to us, and to express our sincere regret that you should feel obliged to sever the pleasant connection we have so long enjoyed."

"From our knowledge of your personality, we feel confident that should occasion arise, you will be pleased to still extend to us and the department your valued advice and assistance."

It was signed by the city hall staff, the workshop staff, the pumphouse and grounds and dam staffs.

Mr. Moore made a suitable response.

"This is something totally unexpected," he stated. "It is just 20 years ago today that I became connected with the waterworks department. I have always looked upon three men in connection with the waterworks—Sir John Carling, who was the grandfather, you might say; Mr. James Egan, the godfather; and Col. Tracy, the father. I have been like a son, and for 20 years I have given my best to the city, not so much as an employee, but as a citizen. I have always tried to do the very best for the department and for the city. During that time I have formed many friendships, and it is with much regret that I sever them. I will not be again in the employ of the city, but I will always take a deep interest in the department. I thank you most heartily for your kindness, and pledge you that I will not forget it."

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and Miss Gaud leave this afternoon for Montreal, sailing on Friday on the Empress of Ireland from Quebec for Europe. They will spend three months on the continent.

SCHOOL PICNIC IS POSTPONED UNTIL THE KING'S BIRTHDAY

Bad Weather Renders It Impossible to Hold the Big Outing On Thursday—All Will Be Ready for Friday If Weather Is Good.

The school picnic scheduled to be held tomorrow has been postponed until Friday, which is, by the way, King George's birthday. Chairman W. W. Gammas, after consulting with Inspector Edwards, came to the conclusion that the weather was unfavorable for the picnic, and even if it cleared up the park would not be suitable by Thursday to hold the big event.

Consequently he announced that the outing will be held on Friday instead of Thursday. It will be a great time. For some days the youngsters have been looking forward to it, and from indications every child who can possibly get there will be on hand.

A fine programme has been prepared, and it will be a banner day for the youngsters.

FARMER WAS CRUSHED BY COLT IN STALL

William Henderson, of East Nissouri, Lies in a Very Critical Condition.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Thamesford, June 1.—Wm. Henderson, of Con. 9, E. Nissouri, a short distance north of here, was crushed in a stall by a colt he was leading yesterday, and was terribly injured. Dr. Babb, of this place, and Drs. W. J. and H. A. Stevenson, of London, were hurriedly called. It was found that Mr. Henderson was suffering from a rupture of the bowels, and his condition is very serious. He is a well-known farmer, and is 55 years of age.

MAN BADLY WANTED MAY BE IN CANADA

Big Reward Offered for Arrest of Alma Kellner's Slayer.

[Associated Press.]
Louisville, Ky., June 1.—Rewards aggregating $2,000 have been offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Alma Kellner. Gov. Wilson is expected to increase these sums as soon as a request is made upon him by the board of pardons. The board of public safety has instructed the police and detective departments to spare no expense in the pursuit of the murderer.

The police do not believe that Joseph Wendling, the missing French janitor, has returned to France, and think he may be found in some French settlement in the United States or of accessory to the murder, still insists that she knows nothing about the crime.

DROP IN FLOUR WILL NOT CUT BREAD PRICES

Bakers Claim They Have Been Doing Business at a Loss Lately.

There is no possibility of a reduction in the price of bread in London.

The millers dropped their prices 50 cents a barrel on flour in April, but this affects the bakers practically as it does the millers last fall, and with prices so high, claim that they have been making bread right along below the cost of production.

The millers in Toronto announced a drop of 20 cents a barrel yesterday, but this will have no effect on London prices owing to the big drop in April.

It would require a drop of almost a dollar a barrel to affect the price of bread one cent a loaf, it was stated.

Flour is quoted in London as follows: Pastry, $4.80; London, $5 a barrel.

THERMOMETER DOWN TO SIX DEGREES ABOVE FROST

Probs. Say Fair On Friday, But the Barometer Is Down.

There has been no cessation in the period of cold weather now being experienced, and the outlook this morning was very gloomy.

Whether out of sheer malice or just to be companionable with the thermometer, the barometer fell with a thud this morning, dropping to 28.74, spelling more rain.

The probabilities for tomorrow are for fair weather, a welcome note to farmers and market gardeners, who view with unconcealed alarm the backward weather. A period of cold weather just now would give the market gardeners such crops as they have not had in years.

It was cool last night, the thermometer registering within six degrees of frost. At eight o'clock this morning it had only crawled up to 33.5.

DEPUTATION IN THE AUTUMN REGARDING PORT STANLEY

Nothing Has Been Done in the Matter of Harbor Improvements But the Whole Question Will Be Taken Up in the Fall With the Government.

The Government will not be interviewed this year relative to improvements to Port Stanley. It will be remembered that some time ago deputations from St. Thomas, Port Stanley and the county of Elgin interviewed the city council relative to petitioning the Government to make improvements to the harbor at Port Stanley.

It was suggested at the time that Port Stanley be made a harbor of refuge, that a pier be run out the east side of the harbor, that the creek be dredged farther, and that a life-saving crew be established at the Port.

These suggestions were accepted, and machinery was put in motion with a view of interviewing the government. The season was about to close, however, so nothing was done.

Will Go in the Autumn.
Early in the autumn it is the purpose of the deputations to go to Ottawa, and bring the question forcibly to the attention of the Government, and it is expected that something tangible will result from the interview.

"The improvement to Port Stanley harbor will mean more freight for the London and Port Stanley, and incidentally increased revenue," said Ald. Richter, in discussing the question. "My idea is that the river should be dredged a long distance past the bridge, and docks built. Then there would be facilities for unloading cargoes, and receiving freight. The outcome would be a vastly improved volume of business and a better revenue for the city. There is a great future for the city if that were accomplished."

Is It an Asset?
"It is doubtful at the present time that the railway is an asset to the city. It could be made so, but it does not seem to be so at the present time. One and a half per cent on the money invested is no return, to my mind."

"It is expected that something will be done this autumn to bring the matter to the attention of the Government, and I am sure they will receive our petition favorably. Port Stanley should be made a harbor of refuge, at least."

LONDON SOLDIER ON WATCH WHEN THE MAINE WAS LOST

Refuses to Express an Opinion as to the Cause of the Explosion Which Brought On the War Between the United States and Spain.

To be on the United States battleship Maine when she was blown up in Havana harbor in February, 1898, and to be a member of the crew which found the nine men of the Bessemer, dead in a boat on the lake, were two of the unique experiences of Mr. Thomas L. Perkins, of 677 Princess avenue.

Mr. Perkins is home on a visit and leaves tonight for Cleveland to join his ship, the steamer Livingston.

"On the night that the Maine was blown up," he told The Advertiser this afternoon, "I was on watch on the aft deck."

"Suddenly there was a tremendous explosion forward, and the whole fore part of the boat was blown up. There were 485 sailors on board at the time, and of this number about 262 were drowned or killed."

As soon as the explosion occurred the men turned out and the boats were lowered at once, and we started to look for any men who might be in the water. The Maine settled gradually, and it was 15 minutes before she went down."

"It was a terrible sight," he said, "and I never want to see such a thing again. The men were all frozen to death and I think I lost their names one by one as they were overcome by the cold."

ANOTHER BREAK IN WALL STREET STOCKS

Caused by Injunction Against the Proposed Advance in Freight Rates.

New York June 1.—There was another break in prices of stocks when the market opened as a further effect of the granting of an injunction against the proposed advance in western railroad rates. The market had to absorb liquidation from foreign sources which had the first news of the government's action today.

Stocks of the railroads affected by the injunction were the Milwaukee and St. Paul, running off 5 points; Union Pacific, 3; Atchafalpa, 2 1/2; Denver and Rio Grande, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Great Northern, pfd., Illinois Central, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Amalgamated Copper and Consolidated Gas, 1 1/2 to 2, and many other stocks a point or more.

Support orders and short coverings steadied prices immediately after. The opening of the market was very heavy and prices broke again.

GREAT RUSH NORTH TO NEW GOLD FIELD

Fifteen Thousand to Sail From Seattle Alone for Alaska Wilds.

Seattle, Wash., June 1.—Officials of companies operating steamships to Alaska points, on the Behring Sea, estimate that 15,000 people will leave Seattle for Nome and St. Michaels on the early sailings, drawn to the far north by the reports of rich gold fields. The first regular liner to leave for Nome will sail from Seattle tomorrow.

Wealthy men have been compelled to take accommodations in the steerage, and there is a waiting list in the steamship offices larger than the combined capacity of the northbound steamers. So great is the rush to the north the passenger and freight officials of Alaska steamship lines say the movement has been equalled but once in the history of the north, and that during the Klondike rush thirteen years ago.

SAW SIX SOVEREIGNS.

She was born in Plymouth, England, and came to Canada in 1838. She had been a widow for many years.

What is an Adulterant?

Speaking of foodstuffs, an adulterant is not necessarily poisonous or worthless matter mixed with foods.

It may be a perfectly pure and wholesome substance, but a substance which is not wanted in the particular article of diet in which it is found. Pure water, for instance, is a very precious liquid, but if the purest spring water is added to milk the milk is said to be adulterated.

Starch is far from being a worthless substance, but its presence in chocolate is not at all desirable, as it is taking the place of far more valuable foodstuffs found in the cocoa-bean.

So when you buy Milk Chocolate, you will do well to ask for TOBLER'S Swiss Milk Chocolate, which is guaranteed to contain only pure creamy Swiss Milk, pure cocoa and pure sugar. Made in Switzerland and imported in packages sold at 5, 10, 20 and 40c. and at 50c. per lb.

NEW HARRIMAN MAP

It is 19 Feet High and Covers Over 300 Feet of Canvas.

New York, May 31.—The great map before which the late E. H. Harriman spent so many hours planning new campaigns has made way for a still greater map, upon which are shown about 1,500 miles of railroads that Mr. Harriman did not live to see constructed. The new map is nineteen feet high and covers more than 300 square feet of canvas. Fifteen men were required to deliver the greatest roller on which it will be manipulated. When half unrolled it covers all of one end of the directors' room in the Union Pacific offices at 129 Broadway.

The new map shows every little branch of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific systems, including the lines which the latter road is building in Mexico. The old map did not show the Mexican lines, as it was drawn before Mr. Harriman decided to extend his lines about 1,500 miles south of the Rio Grande.

The map was drawn at the Chicago offices of the Union Pacific and more than a year was spent in its preparation. The cost of its preparation exceeded $6,000.

More than passing interest attaches to the old map. Mr. Harriman was accustomed to sit for long periods before the chart, planning an extension here, a cutoff there, a branch line between such and such points. He came to know every spot on the map. At directors' meetings he frequently directed some junior officer to point out a certain branch line or some small division point, and was surprised and annoyed that the officer was unable to place his finger on the spot without a moment's hesitation. He knew the map by heart and could not understand why others did not know it equally well.

A CHICAGO AMAZON.

Chicago, May 31.—Max Kirafine, a real estate dealer, went to one of his houses today to eject Flora Smith, a negress. But Flora refused to move. Kirafine, it is charged, struck her on the head with a hatchet. The blade stuck in the woman's scalp. Flora blinked a moment, then, with the hatchet still sticking in her head, she kicked Kirafine down a flight of stairs to the street. Flora followed, and before he could rise seated herself on his body and drew the hatchet from her head as though it were a hatpin. She was beating him with the weapon when the police rescued him.

The fight caused so much excitement that a riot call for the police was sounded. Kirafine was arrested, and charged with assault to commit murder. The woman was taken to a hospital, where her condition is reported as serious.

ROADS FORBIDDEN TO ADVANCE RATES

The Western Lines Restrained by United States Judge Dyer.

Hannibal, Mo., May 31.—Twenty-five western railroads were temporarily restrained tonight by United States District Judge David P. Dyer from enforcing or making a general advance in interstate freight rates, scheduled for June 1. The injunction was granted on a petition filed by the Government on the allegations that the advances in rates were agreed on by the defendants without competition and in violation of the Sherman act. The petition was filed in the United States circuit court in St. Louis this afternoon and was brought here to present to Judge Dyer. It stated that unless such a restraining order be issued the proposed advances would become effective at midnight tonight, to the grave harm and injury of the people of the United States.

Miss Alice Beam, Port Huron, Seriously Injured on Steamer Waukegan.

Port Huron, Mich., May 31.—The sudden blowing of the whistle on the steamer Waukegan Monday afternoon, is responsible for injuries to Miss Alice Beam, clerk in a local store, which may prove fatal. Miss Beam was returning from Tashmoo Park, and as the boat neared the landing here she was standing near the head of the stairway leading to the second deck. The whistle frightened her, and she fell to the bottom of the stairs, sustaining her death and severe internal injuries. She is 18 years old.

ENGLAND'S NEW COINAGE

Profile of King George Will Face Toward the Left.

London, May 31.—According to the mint authorities it will be some time before a new coinage is issued in England. When the task is undertaken the opinion of the president of the Royal Academy will be followed as to the most suitable design and it is hoped that something more artistic than the present coinage may be obtained.

When the new coins are prepared the profile of King George will face toward the left as on the coins of Queen Victoria. This is strictly in accordance with the old precedent that the heads of the Sovereigns of England shall face alternately in successive reigns.

In the new postage stamps also this precedent will be followed. The question of the new stamps is now under consideration and competitive designs will be invited. According to stamp collectors Great Britain has never had a really artistic stamp.

WARREN THOMSON

cy of Mr. Thomson, the club has prospered greatly, and now was one of the best in the country. No person had given himself so unselfishly to advance the interests of the club as Mr. Thomson, and all regretted exceedingly the fact that he was going to leave the city. It was a distinct loss to London, and a very personal loss to the Thistle Curling Club.

Mr. Charles Sterling then presented Mr. Thomson with a handsome cut glass set, as a token of the good feeling prevailing in the club towards their president.

Mr. Thomson was really taken by surprise. The arrangements had been conducted so quietly that he had not the first intimation of what was going on.

"It is such a surprise to me that I scarcely know what to say," said Mr. Thomson. "I am very much pleased at your kindness, and I am sure I thank you from the bottom of my heart. I have done anything for the club, I have been because I have found great pleasure in it. It was a real joy to work with so fine a lot of fellows."

The president regretted that he was leaving London. He had lived here for some years now, and had enjoyed himself all the time. He had taken the position in Toronto but for one year, and it was possible that he would return to London at the expiration of the time. He asked that he be allowed to act as president until the annual meeting, when he would come to London and preside over the business session. He thanked the club in closing for their very great kindness to him.

A Toast to Curling. The next toast was to the "Grand Old Game of Curling," and was introduced by Vice-President McDonald. He read a brief synopsis of the year's work, referring particularly to the winning of the Malahide medals and the Western Ontario tankard.

Responses were made by Messrs. F. P. Betts, W. Fulton, John Purdom, W. T. Strong, Thomas Gillean, C. H. Trew, Dr. Claude Brown and William Turnbull. All paid high tribute to Mr. Thomson.

Mr. Betts touched on the old days of curling. Mr. Fulton, in a humorous vein, related the sad undoing of his reputation as a curler. Mr. Purdom explained the "five end" in the tankard finals most satisfactorily. Mr. Strong related the pleasures of the Petrolia bonspiel. Mr. Ivey dilated on the woes of "kid" curlers. Tom Gillean spoke of the old days, when they curled on the "crick," and Dr. Brown and Mr. Turnbull related other phases of the grand old game.

"The Press" was responded to by the representatives present.

During the evening songs were given in excellent style by Mr. J. W. McIntosh and Mr. A. E. Barbour. Mr. C. E. Wheeler acted as accompanist.

The Guests.

Those present were: R. D. McDonald, W. W. Thomson, C. Sterling, W. F. Boughner, A. Talbot, W. Wright, Bort Barbour, J. Burnett, J. McKay, W. A. McCutcheon, C. E. Wheeler, J. W. McIntosh, J. REV. MR. ATLAS ON TRIAL

Charged With Keeping Money Intrusted to Him For a Widow.

Toronto, May 31.—The trial of Rev. George M. Atlas, a Macedonian, on charges of stealing $400, forging a receipt for the amount, and then uttering the forged document, was commenced before Judge Winchester in the sessions today. It is alleged that Atlas, who was entrusted with $400 to pay to the widow of one Simoff, recently murdered in Toronto, she residing in Macedonia, not only did not pay, but forged the woman's name to a receipt for the amount and entered the document in the surrogate court. Mrs. Simoff, who arrived from Macedonia last week, gave evidence this morning, declaring the money was never received by her. The police claim to have a strong chain of evidence against Atlas.

ROBERTSON BAILED.

Toronto, May 31.—Judge Winchester this morning fixed bail for Athol G. Robertson, W. U. De L'Horbe and Jos. W. Gurofsky, the three members of the Canadian Estates Company, yesterday found guilty of conspiracy. Five thousand dollars cash is set for both Robertson and De L'horbe. Gurofsky need only find $2,000 cash. The men will be sentenced June 8.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1.

WATER.

Mr. Blackburn's paper is being driven from one falsehood to another in its attempt to escape from the censure that has rained on its impertinent head since its betrayal of the ratepayers' interests on the water question. Today it insinuates that there was a bargain between Mr. Beck and The Advertiser by which the support of this journal was to be given to the artesian well scheme; and it says that The Advertiser regards Beck as ungrateful because he refused to keep faith.

Mr. Blackburn's paper has felt the sting of Mr. Beck's ingratitude, and it showed only human nature when it struck back; but it should not have coupled its revenge with an attack upon a scheme which commended itself to the judgment and the pocket-book of the taxpayers. As for The Advertiser it must acquit Mr. Beck of the charge of playing the ingrate toward itself. Unlike its contemporary The Advertiser was not looking for favors. When, by what seemed to be a stroke of "bull-headed luck," a flowing well was struck at the foot of Horton street, a number of four-most business men took the responsibility of appealing to the people to vote down an alternative plan about to be submitted to them. The Advertiser joined in the appeal immediately. It supported the artesian well scheme from the beginning on its merits, and it had no understanding, and no conversation, with Mr. Beck on the subject.

Mr. Blackburn's paper has dragged in the question of the Parke flats and the name of Mr. T. H. Purdon in an unwarranted manner. Nobody thought of the Parke flats at the inception of the well scheme. No attempt was made to find water there until nearly a year after the first well was sunk on the other side of the river, and long after the scheme had been indorsed by the ratepayers. It is not even certain now that the flats are necessary to the project. Only one of the seventeen wells is located on the Parke property, and there appears to be plenty of water in all parts of the neighborhood. The flats belong to the Dominion Savings and Investment Company, of which Mr. T. H. Purdon is president, and the Blackburn organ has singled him out for its mud batteries because he is a shareholder and director of The Advertiser. Mr. Purdon had no more to do with The Advertiser's attitude toward the water question than the man in the moon. Not once did he even discuss the water scheme with writers on this paper. He believes that a public journal's function is to serve the public interest, and not to betray it for some private end or to feed some private grudge. This maxim we present to our contemporary free of charge.

Mr. Blackburn's paper is not fair enough to explain that the price of $4,000, asked for the Parke flats, was not placed upon it because water was found on the land, and because the city might be obliged to acquire it. It was the valuation made two years ago before the water scheme was broached, and it was accepted by the Playgrounds Association in an option, and by the city council in a bylaw submitted to the ratepayers. The valuation has not been raised because a successful well has been sunk. The owners have allowed it to be used for public purposes free of charge for years, and they deserve the thanks of the community instead of the abuse heaped upon them by the Blackburn organ.

A NEW CHAPTER.

The event of yesterday in South Africa begins a new chapter in the wonderful story of the Empire. The men who were chiefly instrumental in bringing it about would not have predicted it ten years ago. Ten years ago Briton and Boer were shedding each other's blood. Today they have joined hands in a fraternal endeavor to build up a nation under the British flag.

Cecil Rhodes nourished the dream of a United South Africa, and cultivated the good-will of the Dutch as a means to that end, which he once believed could be peacefully attained. Many leading and enlightened Dutch shared his ideal. This co-operation was destroyed by the Jameson raid. Then came the awful war with its aftermath of race hatred. The healing process began in earnest with the grant of self-government to the Transvaal four years ago. The British had conquered the Boers in arms. But a finer achievement was the conquest of their hearts by simply trusting them. They responded nobly to the appeal. The fruits of a policy of liberty and confidence ripened with a rapidity which has astonished the empire. A Confederate South Africa now takes its place in the family of the British nations.

What an amazingly complex organism the British Empire is! The constitution of United South Africa is like that of no other British country. It is a highly centralized federation: the powers delegated to the Legislatures of Natal, the Transvaal, Cape Colony and the Orange Free State are scarcely wider than those of county councils in this country. In Australia it is the reverse: The Federal Government is the subordinate one; its powers have been delegated by the several states (formerly colonies). Canada's federal system is midway between Australia's and South Africa's. New Zealand is not a federation. Neither is Newfoundland. Neither is the mother country, though she is tending that way. And then consider the different principles of government in the Indian Empire and the crown colonies!

There has been no timid copying, no leaning upon precedent. Each self-governing country has shaped its constitution to its own circumstances. This variety of organization is an evidence of the political genius, the initiative and self-reliance of the race.

HOPE FOR THE SUFFRAGETTES.

A number of members of Parliament, representing all political parties, have formed themselves into a conciliation committee on woman suffrage. Their plan is to introduce as soon as possible a measure which, described as a practicable minimum, would enfranchise "women holding such house property as would qualify them, if they were men, to vote. The committee believes such a bill can be passed, claiming that a majority in the House favor woman suffrage, and it adds, with some significance, that the members who will become responsible for this measure do not regard it as an ideal solution of the question, but merely as a working compromise. It is estimated that the enfranchisement proposed would admit a million women to the ballot. Under the present franchise law, in addition to the men qualified to vote through home ownership, those who pay more than $50 a year rent, and lodgers who pay $1 a week for furnished, or $1.25 for unfurnished rooms, can vote. Under the suggested bill women in these classes would not vote, but the granting of the franchise to women who own property would be a step in the direction of placing the sexes upon an equality. Its supporters contend that such "working compromise" as is suggested, if once it got a chance to work, would keep on working until all sex distinctions in the franchise were entirely abolished.

It remains to be seen whether the Laborites would support such a measure. They are woman suffragists to a man, but they might oppose a limited franchise, which would leave the bulk of the working-class women without the ballot and put it in hands of a well-to-do minority.

Our local contemporary has water on the brain. And river water, too! Whether it is a job or a water scheme, the Free Press is a hard loser.

Some day the people may discover the reason of the organized attempt to drive them to drinking river water. This is the first day of June, but the calendar and the weather are at loggerheads.

Theodore Roosevelt spent a week in Egypt and now lectures the British people on their duty to that country. The performance is distinctly Rooseveltian.

The first governor-general of South Africa bears a name which the Boers honor and reverence. It was Gladstone who forbore to strike when he might have crushed them. It is Gladstone's son who summons a Boer to head the Government of a country under the British flag.

The London Advertiser makes an attack upon Ex-Ald. Gerry in the hope of saving its own face.—London Free Press.

This is lie No. 13. The Advertiser has said nothing about Mr. Gerry. It was Mr. Beck who said the price asked for the Gerry flats was too high. The Free Press may belabor Mr. Beck for all we care, but why hit him over the Advertiser's shoulder?

OBSCURE PRAYER BOOKS.

Speaking of the Prayer Book, we wonder how many of our readers will live to see an Edward VII. Prayer Book sold at Sotheby's for (say) £2. Mr. H. Frowde, of the Oxford University Press, told one Prevent and Relieve Headache.

"It gives me great pleasure to be able to refer to Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills as the best remedy we have yet had in our house for the prevention and cure of headache. My wife who has been a constant sufferer for a number of years with above complaint joins me in the hope that they may fall into the hands of all sufferers."

Used Them Four Years.
 "Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are the best I ever tried for the relief of headache. I have used them for nearly four years and they never fail to give me relief. I have tried many other remedies, but have never found any better."

JOSEPH FRANKOWICK,
 854 Trombley Av., Detroit, Mich.
 There is no remedy that will more quickly relieve any form of headache than

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

The best feature of this remarkable remedy is the fact that it does not derange the stomach or leave any disagreeable after-effects.

of our representatives the other day that the bookkeepers who found themselves with an at present unmanageable stock might cheer themselves with the thought that "the reign having been a short one, the number of 'Edward' Prayer Books is by comparison small, and in course of time they may become very rare, and, therefore, valuable."

That sounds well, but let us see what is the meaning of "by comparison small," and of that other saying, "in course of time." Mr. Frowde said that the University Press sold over a million copies yearly, and carried a stock of a million. It seems likely, therefore, that there are now in existence 10,000,000 "Edward" Prayer Books to the credit of this firm alone. One of two millions which have been sent abroad for the use of the heathen may not have been very carefully preserved, but even the heathen may begin saving them up for Sotheby's when they get to hear of this fine chance of increment.

INCLINED TO BE DULL.

[Judge.]
 Driven to desperation by the increased cost of living, the King's Bench decided to ask for a fuller pay-envelope. "Your majesty," began the chief wit, bowing low, "are you aware that you are keeping our noses to the grindstone?" "I am," said the king, smilingly, "and there's a reason."

"Indeed?" said the spokesman, astonished; "and may I inquire what it is?" "You may," replied the king, "I keep your noses to the grindstone in order to sharpen my wit!"

DREAMS THAT CAME TRUE.

[London Chronicle.]
 Mr. Andrew Lang has recorded two true dream stories exactly like that of the forgotten ledger entry. In one a lady, having lost an important key while walking in a wood near her house in Ireland, dreamed that she saw it lying at the root of a certain tree. Next day she found it there. She supposed her eye must have been sealed after it dropped, though the unconscious mind had not instantly noted it. Just the same was the theory of a barrister who went out late at night to post his letters, and upon undressing missed a check for a large amount received during the day. He dreamed he saw it curled round an area railing not far from his door, woke up, dressed, went out and found it exactly as he had dreamed. The mind registers at times what it does not instantly report.

A PRIVATE PERFORMANCE.

[Central London Journal.]
 "You are charged with stealing nine of Colonel Henry's hens last night. Have you any witnesses?" asked the justice, sternly.

"Nussum," said Brother Jones, humbly. "I 'specks I 'se sawt pecailla dat-uh-way, but it ain't never been man custom to take witnesses along when I goes out 'chicken stealin', suh."

A FRANK ANSWER.

[Exchange.]
 A New York man, discussing the Gold-Drexel wedding of last month, praised the bride.

"How pretty Marjorie Gould is," he said. "She is clever, too. She's always got a reply ready."

GOOD WORK BEING DONE BY THE VICTORIAN NURSE

Co-Operation of the Doctors of the City Is Asked.

Attention having been called to the reported number of visits made by the Victorian Order nurse, it is to be explained that the figures quoted were extracts taken from a general report of the Victorian Order, showing the increased number of visits made in cities larger than London, and where more nurses are engaged in the work. In the London branch of the order, from Jan. 31, 1909, to Dec. 31, 1910, 1,401 visits were made, and for these visits the fees amounted to $277.75. The fees range from 5 to 50 cents per visit, according to the means of the patients. In cases of extreme poverty, and where neither the friends of a patient nor any church funds are available for the purpose, the attendance is gratis, yet, where patients are able to pay, collection is made in order not to pauperize the people. In cases where the services of the Victorian Order nurse are required by patients in a better financial position than the above-mentioned, it is expected that a more generous contribution to the funds of the order will be handed to the nurse, with a view to the promoting of the gratis branch of the work.

Co-operation of the Physicians.

Miss Edwards, the Victorian Order nurse, who is in residence at 476 Park avenue, telephone No. 1715, V. O. N., wishes the co-operation of the physicians, for she can only undertake cases under their direction or sanction. Notwithstanding the work of the V. O. nurses who have been ministering to the needy since February, 1906, also the reports of the several meetings, and the press notices, there are many citizens who yet know nothing of the order and its work. The order was instituted for the purpose of placing the services of skilled visiting nurses within the reach of those who, while acquiring their education, are not in a financial position to pay the ordinary charges for the same. At the time of our late beloved Queen Victoria's jubilee, when Canada was preparing a token of her love and loyalty, the Queen requested that the gift might take the form of relief for the sick and suffering. Thus was instituted the Victorian Order of Nurses. Now, when it is in the heart of every loyal subject to honor their late beloved sovereigns with monuments to their memory, it seems a fitting time to make the Victorian Order a living monument to the memory of Victoria the Good. To this end each and every citizen can contribute their mite towards the expenses of carrying on the good work begun by the contributions sent to the V. O. treasurer, Mrs. Barker, of Wootley road, South London, will be gratefully acknowledged.

Chatham, June 1.—A public meeting of the Methodist London Conference was held last night in the Park Street Church.

Rev. Mr. Farewell, of Toronto, assistant secretary of the Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues, was the chief speaker. He strongly advocated more practical training along this line in the theological colleges of the church.

Rev. Byron Snell also addressed the meeting on Sunday school work. He spoke particularly of the need of more energy and interest in this department of church work.

PROF. M'FADYEN GOES TO GLASGOW

Noted Knox College Teacher Called to Famous Chair.

Toronto, June 1.—Professor John E. McFadyen, of Knox College, has accepted an appointment to the chair of Old Testament literature and exegesis in the United Free Church College, Glasgow. The appointment was made by the general assembly at Edinburgh yesterday afternoon.

The Glasgow chair is that which was held for nearly a score of years by Professor George Adam Smith, and by that distinguished scholar and theologian was made the premier position in Old Testament study in Britain. When Professor Smith was made principal of the University of Aberdeen the name of Professor McFadyen was mentioned in connection with the Glasgow vacancy. It was thought, however, that a Scotchman would be appointed, and several scholars of standing in the United Free Church were nominated. A cable dispatch from Edinburgh yesterday announced that the Toronto professor was unanimously appointed by the assembly.

BEFORE TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed. "I took your New Mertron Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicine the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, pains of the hands scaling, itching of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Mertron Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured, years ago, and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish."

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: Would you consider it advisable for a woman of 30 to marry a man of 20? A READER.

A.—Some of the happiest marriages I have known were of this kind—also some of the unhappiest. It depends on the individuals entirely, and a third person cannot advise.

Dear Miss Grey: (1) How can I clean and whiten a leghorn hat? (2) How can one dye roses that are good as new, but faded? (3) How can one clean black velvet ribbon? A SUBSCRIBER.

A.—(1) Better send to a professional. (2) Paint with water colors. (3) Invert a hot flatiron and pass the velvet, which has been placed over wet cotton cloth, over the iron. While it is being steamed in this manner, brush with soft bristle brush. Thus the nap can be brought up and the velvet will look almost like new.

Dear Miss Grey: (1) Should furniture be scrubbed? If so, what should be used in the water? (2) What is good for oily hair? NEWLY WEDS.

A.—(1) Yes. If badly soiled, wash with lukewarm soapy water with a little kerosene in it. Use a soft linen cloth. Rub in clear warm water and rub dry with clean cloth. If rubbed well, no other polish is needed.

(2) Frequent shampoos. An occasional dry shampoo with fine cornmeal is good. Scrub the hair frequently.

PLAYTIME STORIES

A MOON HOME.

"Mamma," said Carl, as he looked out the window one evening at the moon, "I'd lots rather live up on that silver moon—it's prettier than here on this old earth."

"Oh, no, you wouldn't," smiled mamma. "Come here and sit on my lap and I'll tell you about the moon world."

When Carl was snugly settled, she continued: "Now just suppose you and I were to move to the moon. We would have to take our houses with us, because there aren't any houses there. Then we should have to take pails and pails full of water, as there are no lakes or rivers on the moon. Also we must not forget to take tanks filled with air from here to breathe, because we couldn't live in the air that is around the moon."

"You see, the moon is a very old, old world, and all the water has evaporated. Of course, you and I know that trees and flowers can't grow without water, so we should find no trees or green things growing."

"But we would find very high and rough mountains, some of which have great holes in their tops where fire used to flame out. Those we call volcanoes."

"The air has grown so very old and thin that we could see through it to the stars even better than from here. They would be so much brighter and bigger."

"It isn't a very big moon world after all, for our earth is about forty-six times as big as it. Then, too, you mustn't forget that it's very, very cold there."

"O-o-h!" shivered Carl. "I guess I'd rather live on our own earth after all."

"THE MESSAGE"

A few steps nearer, and he could no longer refuse to believe his eyes. He recalled the exact patterns of a brooch, a marquis ring, an ornament in her hat. Seating himself with a rapid movement, quite close to her, he said, softly:

"More, much more, the heart may feel the pen may write, or the lip reveal."

Everly turned with a startled cry. She was conscious that someone had elected to share her bench; at the first sound of Warden's voice she was ready to spring up and walk away, without looking at him. Her bright face crimsoned with delight when she grasped the wonderful fact that he was actually at her side.

She closed the magazine with a bang, and held out her hand.

"This is indeed a surprise," she cried. "How in the world did you know I was here?"

"I didn't know," he said, clasping her fingers. "At least, that cannot be true. My ordinary eat-three-meals-a-day-and-you-won't-get-burned wits informed me that you were in far-off Oxfordshire, but some kindly monitor from within, unseen, unheard, yet most worthy of credence, led me here to your side—may I say—to your very feet."

Laughing and blushing, and vainly endeavoring to extricate her hand from his grasp—because truly she began to fear that he was drawing her towards him—his first uncontrolled action was to glance around and discover if any passers-by were gazing at them. Instantly she knew that she had made a mistake, and the imprisoned hand was snatched away emphatically. If anything, this only added to her confusion, for it bore silent testimony to her knowledge of his lovable attitude. But she gallantly essayed to retrieve lost ground.

"I was not an hour at home," she explained volubly, "before Mrs. Baumgartner telegraphed and afterward wrote an entire change of arrangements. I am not going to Milford Haven. Miss Beryl Baumgartner came with some friends to a little place down the coast there, a place called Salscombe. I think, and the Sans Souci arrived there yesterday. They all come on to Plymouth this evening, and they wish me to be ready to go on board about nine o'clock, when we sail for Oban, only stopping twice on the way to coast."

"Marvelous!" cried Warden. "You reel off amazing statements with the self-possession of a young lady reciting a Browning poem. No, I shall not explain what I have not yet, at any rate. The glorious fact prevails that you are free till nine."

"Free!" she repeated, not that she was at a loss to understand him, but rather to gain time to collect her thoughts.

"Absurd, of course. I mean bound—absolutely bound to me for a superb vista of—let me see—lunch—long drive in the country—tea—more driving—dinner. Ah, let us not look beyond the dinner."

"But me no buts. I shall butt myself violently against any male person who dares to lay prior claim to you, while should the claimant be a lady, I shall butter her till she relents."

"Still—"

"I suppose I must listen," he complained. "Well, what is the obstacle?" She hesitated an instant. Then, abandoning pretence—for she, like Warden, had lived through many hours of self-scrutiny since they parted at Portsmouth—she laughed unconcernedly.

"There is none that I know of," she admitted. "I had never seen Plymouth, so I travelled here yesterday evening. My belongings are in the big hotel there. I am a free excursionist, out for the day. And now that I have yielded all along the line, I demand my woman's rights. My presence here is readily explained. What of yours?"

He halted, passing carriage and directed the man to take them to the hotel.

"I don't think I can really clear matters up to your satisfaction unless you permit me to call you Evelyn," he said, daringly irrelevant.

Midsummer madness is infectious—under certain conditions.

"That is odd," she cried, yet there was but feeble protest in her voice. "To make things even you must call me Arthur."

"How utterly absurd!"

"That is not my fault. The name was given me. I yielded defiance, but I had to have it, like the measles."

"You know very well—"

"Pon my honor, Evelyn, the greatest of your many charms is your prompt sympathy. In those few words you have reconciled me to my lot."

"I think Arthur is rather a nice name," she sighed contentedly. After all, it was best to humor him, and he was the first man who had ever won her confidence.

"I ask for more than pity," he said. "Nevertheless, if I would gain credence I must propound a plain tale. List, then, while I unfold marvels."

He was a good talker, and he kept her amused and interested at times somewhat drilled, by the recital of his doings in London.

They were in a carriage speeding out into the lovely country westward of Plymouth when he told her the strange history of Domenico Garcia. She shivered a little at the gruesome memory of the "parchment" which she had examined so intently, but she did not interrupt save for an occasional question, until he reached that part of his narrative which ended in the determination of the previous night to sail to Plymouth forthwith.

"It is all very strange and mysterious," she said at last. "You were coming to Milford Haven, I gather?"

"Yes."

"And were it not for the impulse that brought me here you would now be on your way to Milford Haven?"

"That was my fixed intention."

"Was it so very important that you should know all about the Sans Souci?"

"I would have said so to the Under Secretary."

There was no pause. Warden deliberately passed the opening given by her words. In broad daylight, and while riding only through a village, it behooved him to be circumspect. Between dinner and nine o'clock he would contrive other opportunities.

"Lady Hilbury must be very nice," she went on, after a brief silence.

"You will like her immensely," when you know her," he could not help saying, at the same time thanking his stars that he had made no mention of Rosamund Laing.

There was a further pause. Evelyn fancied that her voice was well under control when she asked:

"Have you decided to carry out poor Domenico Garcia's last request?"

"Before answering, tell me, I tell me what you would do in my place?"

"I would go to Rabat, if it were in my power, and there were no undue risk in the undertaking. I don't think I would be happy if I had not made the effort. Yet, Rabat is a long way from England. Would you be absent many weeks? Perhaps such a journey would spoil your leave. And then—things may happen in West Africa. You may be needed there."

"Rabat is a half-way house to Ouk, Evelyn," he said. "I am going, of course, for two reasons. In the first instance, I want to set Garcia's soul at rest, and the moon is high, it seems to me, can only be done by obeying the letter of his instructions. And, secondly, I mean to secure that ruby."

"If I bring it to you in Madeira you will not refuse to accept it?" he said.

"Now you are talking nonsense," she replied, turning and looking at him bravely, with steadfast scrutiny.

"No. There would be a condition, of course. With the ruby you must take the giver."

"Are you asking me to marry you?" she almost whispered.

"After knowing me a few idle hours of three days?"

"I was of exactly the same mind the first time I met you. I see no valid reason why I should change a well-balanced opinion during the next thirty or forty years."

He felt her arm trembling in his clasp, and a suspicious moisture glistened in her fine eyes.

"If I think, somehow, I know you well enough to believe that you are in earnest," she faltered. "But let us forget now that you have said those words. Come to me later—when your work is done—and if you care to repeat them—I shall—try to answer—as you would wish."

McGRATH SETS NEW RECORD.

[By Associated Press.]
Philadelphia, Pa., May 31.—Matt McGrath, of the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York, made a new world's record of 16 feet 1 inch in throwing the 56-pound weight for height in today's A. O. H. games in this city. This breaks the former record by one-eighth of an inch. The record, however, will stand as an exhibition record only, as McGrath's best throw in the competition was only 16 feet.

Packey Says He Was Robbed

NO EXPLANATION MADE

By English Official—Pair May Meet
Again With an "Honest Referee"

London, May 31.—"Packey" McFarland, of Chicago, and Freddie Welsh, the lightweight champion of England, who fought a 20-round draw, according to Referee Tom Scott last night, met at the National Sporting Club this afternoon to receive their share of the purse.

McFarland Talks.

"I have experienced some rotten judgments by referees, but that of last night was the limit. I outboxed and outlasted Welsh in every round. He realized from the start that he was beaten. With the exception of two rounds he only fought on the defensive in order to prevent me from landing a knockout, which saved the referee from exercising his judgment. Nobody was more surprised than Welsh at the decision of Referee Scott."

Wants an Honest Referee.

"Instead of drawing down $7,000 today," continued McFarland, "I am getting only $4,500, while the fellow who has always boasted he gets another $1,000 more than I do, gets a $10,000 purse. Many clubmen told me today that I had been robbed."

Chicago, June 1.—Frank Gotch, wrestling champion of the world, makes his last stand at the Coliseum tonight in defense of his title.

Poles Back Their Man.

Thousand fans will be on hand to see the heavily-muscled native of Galicia try to turn the trick at which all other Europeans have failed. The Gotch-Matsumount match a year ago drew over $20,000, and indications are that this figure will be repeated at any time to grapple with him.

The tournament is open to all.

RAILWAY COMMISSION GRANTS SPUR LINE

Several Important Decisions Were Made in Ingersoll Cases.

Ingersoll, June 1.—The Dominion railway commission was in session here yesterday afternoon, and the Ingersoll Packing Company secured permission to construct a spur on the T. L. E. and P. tracks on Victoria street.

The owners of land fronting on abutting upon Victoria street on the west side of Thames street and E. M. Fleet to the portion of lot 3, are to be compensated for any injury caused by the location of the spur as shown on the plan. The compensation is to be fixed by one arbitrator to be named by the board if the parties cannot agree upon such compensation or arbitrator. Thames street crossing is to be protected to the satisfaction of the board's engineer. The work is to be commenced at once and completed within eight months. The application for interswitching was reserved to be reported upon by the chief engineer and operating officer of the board.

A Toronto Housebreaker Sent to Kingston for Three Years.

Toronto, May 31.—William Songer, a young man with a bad police record, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Denison this morning to three charges of housebreaking and burglary, and was sent to the Kingston penitentiary for three years. Songer broke into three different places and entered rooms while the occupants were sleeping and ransacked trunks and dresser drawers kerbs and gutters and walks. As a matter of fact the property owners pay but 41.7 per cent of the cost, and for kerbs and gutters 40 per cent. In practically every city in Ontario the property owners pay 80 per cent. Few permanent roadways were being put down, and considerable sums of money were lost each year in patching and repairing.

ALDERMAN RICHTER

Three Classes. He suggested that three classes of permanent roadways be put down—gravel at 25 cents a square yard, macadam at 45 to 55 cents a square yard, and pavements. The property owners, subject to specified zones, should be allowed to select whichever of these they desire, and pay for them on the frontage basis. In this manner all unfairness would be removed, and the ratepayers could have whatever roadway they desire.

As the city pays nothing whatever for permanent roadways, and too much the walks and curbs, Ald. Richter suggested that one-third of all improvements from lawn to lawn be paid by the city, the other two-thirds to be paid by the ratepayers. This would mean the actual cost, without reference to intersections.

Increase in Fees. Ald. Richter advised an increase in fees for special privileges, particularly for the assessment roll. He suggested also a board of equalization, whose duty it would be to bring the assessment up to the proper level. He would assess land at a fair and reasonable value, whether vacant or occupied. Factories he would assess at half their value, dwellings at two-thirds, and stores at three-fourths their value.

Sources of Revenue. The "finance minister" dealt with the sources of revenue. He thought the waterworks should produce more revenue. According to his figures the city has $411,190 invested in the waterworks over and above the debentures, for which provision has been made, and the total revenue from this amounted to about $16,000, not 4 per cent on the cash invested. Of this the city has paid out $9,462 for water, $3,700 came back from street watering. The net surplus was then $10,000 on over $400,000 invested. This Ald. Richter thought, was altogether wrong. The city should receive at least 5 per cent for money invested, with hydrant rates thrown in. The surplus should be $25,000 from the waterworks.

T. L. E. and P. C. Railway. The city had invested in the London and Port Stanley Railway $855,779, from which $11,578 was received, not 1 1/2 per cent. This was too small altogether.

The fare to the Port at 30 cents was too small, and might be increased to 50 cents without doing any harm.

He doubted that the company could carry people to the Port at that rate profitably. The best method would be to increase the harbor facilities at Port Stanley, and in that way better the revenue.

Niagara Power. Ald. Richter thought the city should be careful in dealing with Niagara power, and that a fair price should be charged for power, and a revenue derived, if possible, from the sale of power. He did not think that the people who used power should get it at absolute cost, but a revenue should be derived to be applied to the reduction of taxation.

The London Street Railway. Ald. Richter did not favor the bargain with the London Street Railway, and figured that 10 per cent in cash rather than 10 per cent in tickets for a quarter would be much more beneficial to the city, and would reduce taxation one mill.

The revenue from Victoria Hospital should be increased, if possible, and as much added to the city revenues as would be consistent with business management of the hospital.

Paper Discussed. Some discussion took place on the paper, some of the aldermen agreeing with the programme outlined while others were skeptical. Ald. Eckert thought there would be more permanent roadways put down if the plan were adopted, and this would materially reduce the cost of patching each year.

However, nothing was done, and a further meeting will be held to pronounce definitely on the matter. Those present were Ald. Richter (chairman), Ald. Tancock, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Eckert, Ald. Underwood, Ald. Fitzgerald, Chairman W. W. Gammon, of the board of education, and Secretary Carruthers.

A NEW SECRET TO SAVE MANY LIVES

Chicago Surgeon Says He Can Reunite Blood Vessels.

Chicago, May 31.—Dr. Victor D. Lespinasse, of the Northwestern University Medical School, told an audience of physicians yesterday that he has discovered a surgical secret which may do much to save life and modify suffering. In a broad sense he said that it is a successful method of reuniting blood vessels and arteries and battling arterial diseases.

To prove that his claims are not merely in theory, the doctor caused several dogs to be brought forth for inspection. Each was cited as an example of a peculiar operation. The livers had been removed and reunited to some of the dogs. The legs had been cut off and grafted to others.

The secret, Dr. Lespinasse explained, consists in his successful reuniting of severed arteries. Heretofore, Dr. Les-phiasse says, physicians have been forced to resort to sewing. The stitching method was unsuccessful, because it too often resulted in the formation of blood clots, the constriction of the arteries or the enlargement and breaking them off.

For five years Dr. Lespinasse sought find a substitute for the needle and thread. What is claimed to be the solution consists of the use of rings of magnesium. The severed vessels are joined by these rings or couplers. In theory they do not differ from the couplers used by the fire department. Magnesium is used because it readily dissolves when the complete union of the severed ends of the arteries has taken place.

This morning was almost a holiday around the market. Practically nothing was brought in, and until a late hour there had been no hay, grain or straw delivered.

Four loads of hay were brought in late yesterday and sold from $12.50 to $15 a ton.

A few lots of dressed pork were received by the butchers, who are paying $12.50 per cwt. for all deliveries.

DOG OWNERS GIVEN ANOTHER DAY'S GRACE

Inspector McCallum Accepted $2 for a License Fee.

One more day's grace is allowed dog owners.

The bylaw governing the levying of fees was not quite clear to the exact date when the higher tariff went into force, and Inspector McCallum decided to accept $2 from dog owners today.

As a result there are several rather well-pleased dog owners in the city today.

They went to the office prepared to pay $3, as they could not get there before, but when they found $2 would be accepted they were happy.

Just 1,900 dogs have been registered, giving the city quite a handsome revenue from this source.

This is a very satisfactory, in view of the fact that fully 650 dogs have been sent on their long last journey at the dog pounds.

There are many more fees still to collect, and it is expected that the proceeds will reach the highest point in the history of the office.

Inspector McCallum Accepted $2 for a License Fee.

One more day's grace is allowed dog owners.

The bylaw governing the levying of fees was not quite clear to the exact date when the higher tariff went into force, and Inspector McCallum decided to accept $2 from dog owners today.

As a result there are several rather well-pleased dog owners in the city today.

They went to the office prepared to pay $3, as they could not get there before, but when they found $2 would be accepted they were happy.

Just 1,900 dogs have been registered, giving the city quite a handsome revenue from this source.

This is a very satisfactory, in view of the fact that fully 650 dogs have been sent on their long last journey at the dog pounds.

There are many more fees still to collect, and it is expected that the proceeds will reach the highest point in the history of the office.

BOUCHER--RICHARDSON

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized this afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. Luke's Church, Broughdale, when Miss Beatrice Havergal Richardson, third daughter of Archdeacon Richardson, was married to Mr. James George Boucher, of the London Loan Company. The church was beautifully decorated with marguerites, lilacs and palms, and the bride entered, leaning on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Harry Drury, of Winnipeg, amid the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Isabella Labatt. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in a handsome gown of ivory liberty satin, made with a draped overskirt, and long court train.

The gown was trimmed with a bertha of old point lace and was surmounted by a bridal veil. The bride carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Mary Labatt, who was bridesmaid, wore a beautiful dress of white batiste, accented with pink roses and white pinnares. Master Rodney Harper and little Miss Audrey Farman were attendants. The bride was given away by her father.

Mr. W. Boucher, of Montreal, was groomsmen, and the ushers were Dr. E. Pardee Bucke and Ibbotson Leonard. Mrs. Richardson, who is the bride's mother, wore a white tulle and feather ball and bonnet to match and carried white gladioli.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Bishop Williams, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Richardson. Among the beautiful presents received was a silver fern dish and mirror from the choir of St. John's Church in London Township, where the bride was formerly organist. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Drury, of Winnipeg; Miss Nordheimer, of Toronto; Miss Brooke Mee, C. P. R.; and a large number of the ceremony Master Elliott Webb sang "Perfect Love." Mr. and Mrs. Boucher left on the evening train for Toronto, and will take a trip up the lakes. They will be guests in Winnipeg of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Howe. On their return they will reside in this city.

PRACTICAL TRAINING FOR CHURCH WORK

Speaker Before London Conference

Chatham, June 1.—A revolutionary change in the methods and teachings of the theological colleges was strongly advocated by Rev. J. P. Farewell, B. A., of Toronto, at the first public meeting of the London Conference in Park Street Church last night.

"The time has come," said Mr. Farewell, "when the college should give a more thorough and practical training for church work. The theological is giving way to the educational and practical. Pastors today require a knowledge of economics and social problems. Pastors have to be conversant with the principles of sociology and economics is one of the great needs of the church."

Sunday School Figures.
Rev. Mr. Farewell and Rev. Byron Snell, of Kirkcaldy, addressed the audience, composed of clergy present at the conference, leaders of Young People's Unions and prominent laymen, on Sunday school and Epworth League work. Figures given by Mr. Snell show the strength of the Sunday school in Canada.

In the London Conference there are 451 Sunday school superintendents, 3,590 officers, and 44,000 scholars, the total force being 49,000. In the entire country there are 5,390 superintendents, 36,000 officers and teachers, and a total force of 300,000. In the whole world there are 28,000 Sunday schools with 450,000 scholars.

The stationing committee, which has been meeting in the Victoria Methodist Church, completed their first draft of about 1,000 names. The following is a list of the ministers who will have new charges during the coming year, with the places which have been assigned to them. Those whose names do not appear will be given their old charges for another year.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY IS A LEGAL HOLIDAY

Banks and Schools Obligated to Close According to Regulations.

Friday is a legal holiday, although it will not be generally observed. The law specifically requires that the King's birthday shall be a statutory holiday unless some other date has been selected for the purpose of celebrating it.

No date for such a celebration has been selected, and it will be recognized as a legal holiday.

The banks have no option but to close on that day.

However, it is possible that a change may be made at the last moment. Some of the banks are in communication with the Government, and it is possible that they may be allowed to do business.

Unless definite instructions are received before Friday the banks will be closed.

City offices and schools may also close, as they are governed by legal enactments along this line.

The couple will come east on their wedding trip, but will go to Vancouver, where they will make their home.

Capt. Moore is well-known in the city and spent some time in Windsor where also he has many friends.

To Be DYSPEPTIC Is To Be MISERABLE.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. It is largely due to gross errors in diet, over-eating, too free indulgence in stimulants and over-taxing the stomach with indigestible food, eating too rapidly without chewing the food sufficiently, indulging in hot biscuits, pastry, pickles, confectionery, etc.

Dr. Burdock's Bitters has an established reputation, extending over thirty-four years, as a positive cure for dyspepsia in all its forms, and from all diseases arising from it.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT IN KING ST. CHURCH

Miss Mina Taylor's Singing Won Her Vociferous Applause.

The King Street Presbyterian Bible Class gave an entertainment in the schoolroom last evening. The most enjoyable part, perhaps, were the two sketches by the dramatic class. Miss Jean Walker deserved great credit for the care taken with the class. "A Lady's Note" and "A Quiet Family" were particularly well given. The class consists of Misses Wilson, Whitaker, McTavish, Malin, Gould, and Baker, and Messrs. Summers, Stevenson and Fowler.

Miss Mina Taylor's songs were a musical treat. In the "Good-night" song her rich, full voice was particularly tuneful and well deserved the vigorous encores. The other numbers by the class were well rendered. Rev. Mr. Rollins acted as chairman and introduced the programme. Chairman's address: Rev. Mr. Rollins, solo, "A Night Song." Miss Mina Taylor, solo, "Garden of Roses." Mr. Gordon Scott, sketch, "A Lady's Note." solo, "Jerusalem." Miss Divina Scott, reading, "The School Board." Miss Jean Walker, instrumental, "Sleigh Bells." Misses Battersby and Gould, solo, "Good-night." Miss Mina Taylor, address, Mr. Baker, solo, "Twickenham Ferry." Miss Mina Taylor, reading, "The Prairie Fire." Miss Beatrice Gould, solo, "Wearing for You." Miss Divina Scott, sketch, "A Quiet Family." The class is doing good work and the programme gave promise of better work.

LONDON MEETINGS IN SYNOD WEEK

Will Be Open to Laymen as Well as Clergy.

For several years two conferences have been held every year in synod week before the synod programme begins. They have always been well attended, and have aroused a great deal of interest, and have exerted a beneficial influence on the subsequent sessions of the synod.

The first of these conferences will be held this year at Huron College, London, on Monday evening, June 6, at 8 o'clock, and will be open to laymen as well as clergy. Rev. Rural Dean Chadwick, of Windsor, will preside, and the chief address will be by Rev. Dr. Sage on "The Incarnation of Our Lord." Discussion thereon will be led by Revs. Rural Dean Chadwick, Aylmer, O. B. Ward, Essex, and W. J. Doherty, Hensall. The second of the meetings will be a clerical breakfast at Friend's Restaurant, 117 Dundas street, London, at 8 o'clock on Friday, June 7, at which Rev. C. C. Purton, Mitchell, will preside. After breakfast the principal address will be given by Ven. Archdeacon Richardson, on "The Consecration of a Bishop." Discussion thereon will be led by Revs. A. A. Bice, London; E. F. Hockley, Wallace, Bury; and E. B. Dymond, Markdale. All clergy and divinity students are invited to this breakfast (admission 25 cents), and those who breakfast elsewhere are invited to the meeting after breakfast.

SAM KEARNS IS SUPT. OF ONTARIO DIVISION

A Clever Former Londoner Is Advanced Another Notch by the New York Central.

It is announced that Mr. Sam. J. Kearns, a former Londoner, and a son of the late Engineer John Kearns, of Clarence street, has been promoted to the position of superintendent of the Ontario division of the New York Central Railway, with head offices at Oswego, N. Y.

Mr. Kearns has been for some time assistant superintendent of the N. Y. C. at Syracuse. The Michigan Central in Canada now comes under his jurisdiction.

He is rapidly going up the railway ladder and his success is good news to his many friends in London.

Mr. John W. Kearns, who was for some years Canadian passenger agent of the Pere Marquette, with head offices in London, and who is now district passenger agent of the same line, having offices at 7 Fort street west, Detroit, is a brother.

SHIPPERS WILL DISCUSS NEW FREIGHT RULES

London Men Are Determined to Get Fair Play From the Railways.

A meeting of prominent shippers will be held this afternoon in the board of trade rooms to discuss the recent order of the railways to the effect that shipments of goods will not be received after 2 p.m.

President A. T. McMahon, of the board of trade, has called the conference, and it is expected that the whole situation will be thoroughly canvassed. "We are going into this question very closely," said Mr. McMahon. "It does not satisfy the shippers of the city, and we will enter a vigorous protest, if we find the order works out as disadvantageously as we think it does."

Shippers Not Satisfied.
Some of the shippers are not satisfied that a general order would improve conditions so far as they are concerned.

It freight should not be received later than 2 o'clock from the warehouses in London and other cities, better facilities there might cause this rule still to be a discrimination against London.

In any event the shippers are going to look into the matter very thoroughly, and will investigate conditions.

MURPHY NOW SAYS HE IS NOT GUILTY

Made Affidavit He Did Not Shoot Howes and Dale.

Ottawa, May 31.—A decided sensation developed at the trial of Mrs. Michael Murphy at Bryson today before Judge Weir.

This is the celebrated case in which late Michael Murphy, who at the time of the shooting was a bare head, was charged with the murder of Harry Howes and William Dale, but said it was accidental, and was tried on a charge of murder, and was acquitted.

Today, when Murphy's wife came up for trial as an accessory, R. Desal-leberry, of Bryson, applied to the judge for permission to have the bodies of Howes and Dale exhumed, and for

DISFIGURING, TORTURING SKIN TROUBLE

CANNOT BE CURED BY SALVES AND OINTMENTS—THE BLOOD MUST BE PURIFIED.

A blenched skin irritating sores, pimples, eczema, salt rheum and other skin disorders are all signals of distress, telling that your blood is impure or weak. You cannot cure eczema and other skin troubles with ointments and outward applications. These things may give temporary relief, but cannot cure, because the trouble is rooted in the blood and can only be removed by purifying and enriching the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily cure skin troubles because they enrich, purify and build up the impoverished blood that caused the trouble. As they feed and cleanse the blood the skin grows fair, the bloom of health returns and new strength is found. No other medicine has ever had such wonderful results in curing all diseases due to bad blood. Miss Elizabeth Gills, Kensington, P. E. I., says: "Words can hardly express how grateful I feel for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. For seven years before I began their use I was troubled with skin trouble. My hands and arms were nearly always a mass of torturing cracks and sores. I tried several doctors and spent a great deal of money without getting any benefit. Indeed my hands seemed to be getting worse all the time. Finally my brother persuaded me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and I am happy to say they have completely cured me. I used in all seven boxes, and I would not be without them in a case of this kind if they cost five dollars a box instead of fifty cents. I hope my experience will be of benefit to some other sufferer from skin trouble."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LEMBERG WINS DERBY IN RECORD TIME

The 131st Running of English Turf Classic Made Thrilling Contest.

[Associated Press Cable.]
Epsom Downs, Eng., June 1.—The 131st Derby of $25,000, for 3-year-olds, distance about one mile and a half, the classic of the English turf, was won today by Mr. Fairlie's Lemberg. Sir John Thursby's Greenback was second, and A. P. Cunliffe's Charles O'Malley third. Lord Rosebery's Neil Gow finished fourth. Seven horses started.

From the start the race was between the four horses named, Lemberg winning by a neck in a position gained but a few inches from the post. Neil Gow behaved badly at the post, delaying the start for ten minutes, but the field finally got away in good shape. Greenback settled down in the lead with the two favorites, Lemberg and Neil Gow second and fourth respectively. There was little change of positions until the horses were close home, when Lemberg passed Greenback and maintained a bare lead to the finish. Two lengths separated Greenback and Charles O'Malley. Neil Gow was close upon the first flight.

The betting was 7 to 4 against Lemberg, 100 to 8 against Greenback, and 33 to 1 against Charles O'Malley.

The time was 2 minutes 35.1-5 seconds, which is a record for the Derby.

PELLATT'S INSURGENTS ROUT OLD BOARD

Brand New Set of Directors for Peterson Lake Company.

Toronto, May 31.—Lieut.-Col. A. F. MacLaren and his forces went down to defeat before Sir Henry Pellatt and his insurgent army at the meeting of Peterson Lake shareholders this morning. Not one of the besieged was left to tell the tale, says Mr. J. W. Scott, the private banker, of Listowel, who was vice-president in the outgoing administration, and who will be the sole representative of it in the new board. Mr. Scott was a good runner-up for Sir Henry Pellatt, the difference between the leaders being little over two hundred votes. After working the greater part of the night the scrutineers announced the result as follows: Sir Henry Pellatt, 1,099,164; J. W. Scott, 1,098,929, Major Murray

Don't confuse "Lacqueret" with the ordinary "spongy," "sticky" decorative materials that you have sometimes bought on suspicion and used with disgust. It is something altogether different. "Lacqueret" is neither paint, enamel, nor varnish stain, but a brilliant transparent lacquer made with soluble permanent colors, combined with elastic, hard-drying and lustrous liquid. "Lacqueret" is designed for beautifying and preserving old furniture, marred and soiled woodwork, dingy and dirt-stained floors, and a hundred and one furnishing odds and ends that—worn and marked—disfigure the living rooms, or "clutter" the storeroom or attic. "Lacqueret" covers up original defects of wood surfaces, blots out the frays and scars of usage and enhances the beauty of the natural grain, as well as restoring original tone and tint.

"Lacqueret" is especially adapted for beautifying and preserving all kinds of furniture and woodwork, such as
