The methods of the Dominion Government in bringing undesirable immigrants to Canada is receiving censure from more than the Conservative members in the House. The Windsor Record, Liberal, publishes the following: "The Record has long objected to Dominion Government methods as tending to bring in undesirable immigrants, and facts have justified that objection many times, General Booth of the Salvation Army said a few weeks ago that Canada should be glad to pay for immigrants Hou coming out of his country. The details of the plan will be eagerly waited."

In regard to the question which has been asked frequently of late in regard to why licenses had been issued in the Township of Harwich, where local option had been carried by a majority of four hundred, it is explained that while local option was carried in the township the by-law was appealed at Osgoode Hall and upset on a technicality. The Council was warned promptly that if it did not again pass the by-law and again submit it to the people, licenses would be issued at the beginning of the license year. ## THAT STAB-LIKE PAIN IN THE SMALL OF THE BACK COMES FROM THE KIDNEYS

AND CAN BE CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is not the back that is aching, but the kidneys which are situated beneath the small of the back.

Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure a bad back, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys. That is what they are for and that only. So, if yeu would be free from backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, frequent or suppressed urine, painful sensation when urinating, specks floating before the eyes, frequent thirst, brick-dust deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs or bladder, you must keep your kidneys well. Help them to work freely, and help them to flush off all the body's waste and impurities.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made from the purest roots and harbs, and have a remarkable healing and toning effect on the kidneys. Mrs. Barling, 25 Locomotive Street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled considerably with my kidneys, using many remedies, but finding no relief. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to sot directly on the kindeys, and making them strong again."

"China For the Chinese."

The cry of "China for the Chinese" finds an unexpected echo in another part of the world. According to a writer in The London Mail, there is unrest among the blacks of west Africa, fostered by negroes from the United States who entered Africa originally as missionaries, "but were not many months in the colonies before they dropped their religion and devoted themselves mainly to politics, beginning a propaganda of Africa for the Africans." D. man after he had been financially encouraged to talk, "I came along to a farm in New Jersey where the farmer and his hired men had just begun operations. I needed food and was willing to work for it, and I climbed the fence and accosted the farmer. He waited to tie up a shock of corn before answering me and then said:

"'Waal, I dunno. You don't look very hefty.

'But I can cut corn,' I answered. "'I don't want to say nuthin' to hurt your feelin's, but you look to me as if "WE SIGNALED THAT WE WERE SHORT OF MUSTARD TO MAKE SANDWICHES." you had been a pirate. If you have you needn't be afraid to own up. Nobody here is goin' to say anything about it. Jim, you won't never tell, will you?

"The query was addressed to the hired man, and after thinking for a moment he replied: "'No, I won't never tell, but I've al-lus said that if I ever met a pirate I'd

MIS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach to the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to billousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For sat down on a log before me, and I proceeded to say that at the age of twenty-five I went out of New Bedford on a whaling ship. After being out a year or so and taking about a dozen whales we touched at Valparaiso, and as I was a very sick man I was sen to the hospital while the ship continued her cruise. "'So you ketched whales, eh?' queried the farmer, with sudden interest "'But he don't look like it,' added the hired man.

backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health beran to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomether was sore all the time with the control of the doctors claimed that it was symmetric trouble due to dyspepsia, it was your medicine laws their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and stop taking the doctors medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on fiesh, my stomach became normal, the dispestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise.

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

To gain knowledge of your own body at first I took him for a church deacon. After three or four days he grew more confidential, and then he betrayed himself. What do you think he was? "'A livin' pirate, by thunder!" exclaimed the farmer. "'A hoss thief, mebbe,' added the you were in the milk business hired man.

His Meeting With Bloody Dick. "Yes, he was a pirate. He was known all along the South American coast as Bloody Dick. I suppose he had captured and burned fifty different ships and put a thousand people to death before I met him. At first, when he told me he was a pirate, I dew away from him, but the longer he talked the more I liked him. Re had been robbed of his all when an exphan, and that's why he had turned pirate. He wanted me to go with him, but 1 re-fused. However, the next day after I had refused I got a letter from home that my sweetheart had married another, my old mother was dead and that a cousts of mine had robbed me of all my real estate. This news made me reckless, and I went to the pirate and told him I'd go.'

"By eracky, but this is gittin' interestin', said the farmer, as he hitched about on the log.
"Yes, but why didn't he go clerkin in a grocery instead of becomin' a pirate?' asked the hired man.

Goes to Sea. covered we went to sea. Bloody Dick had a brig called the Death Watch, and she ran into Valparaiso and took us off. She had a crew of eighty men, and of all the villains on earth they were the worst. The only man in the world they feared was Bloody Dick. He shot down two of them with his own hand the first day we were out. He made me his mate, and he told me to shoot the first man who looked cross eved at me. All of them believed that

I had waded in blood and was a terri ble fellow.'
"'Gosh, but this is sunthin' we don't

. Talks of His Past git every day! said the farmer as he poked his hired man in the ribs. "'But I hain't encouragin' pirates myself,' answered the other in sulky tones Scene of Slaughter.

"'The first ship we captured,' I continued, 'was the Bounding Sally of London. Her captain took us for a peaceful trader and let us come up with him, and he did not suspect our wicked purpose until fifty of our men had gained his decks. A terrible scene of slaughter followed. She had over a hundred passengers and crew, and in ten minutes all except fifteen of them were lying dead. The fifteen we saved to walk the plank and be drowned in the sea. We took out of the vessel about half a million dollars in cash and then scuttled her.'

"'And how many persons did you kill? asked the farmer.
"'I don't remember exactly, but not over four or five. I was new at the business, you see, and the sight of blood affected me. For two weeks after that I had nightmare every night Did you ever kill any one yourself? 'Lands, no! I've killed hogs and fowls, but never a human bein'.

Hired Man Gets Nervous. "'Say, I'm beginnin' to git goose-flesh!' called the hired man as he stood

"'You never mind gooseflesh,' chided the boss 'but sit right down ag'in and hear the story out. I've waited thirty years for a pirate to come along, and now I'm goin' to hear all about it. You didn't stop with one ship, did you,

'Oh, no; we robbed, burned, scuttled and murdered right along for the next two years. I think we took about fifty ships and murdered at least 5,000 people. Did you ever read of how we took the Winsome Maiden of New

"'No, I never did. I never got hold of a real pirate book, though I've allus wanted to.'

"'She was taking 100 schoolma'ams, 50 orphan girls and 70 widows around Cape Horn on an excursion when we overhauled her. We signaled that we were short of mustard to make sandwiches with, and she lay to until we came up. Then sixty of us boarded her and began the work of slaughter. Did you ever kill an orphan girl? "Thunder, no! Didn't I say I had never killed nobody?" "'Hear how calmly the villain talks of murder,' muttered the hired man. Widows Die Hard.

"'Well, you have no idea how tough some of them are. It takes more to kill them than it would an ox. Schoolma'ams die pretty easy, but widows and orphans want a lot of hacking. It took us nearly half a day to finish that crowd. That was my last with the pirate crowd. One of the orphans struck me across the small of the back with a handspike and hurt me so that Bloody Dick put me ashore in Australia. It was two years before my spine got well. While I was suffering with it the people found out that I was Charlie, the pirate, and they would have hanged me but for the governor. He asked me if I had repented of my crimes, and when I answered that I had he said I should have a chance to live on and win my good name back. He issued a full pardon and helped me to get back to my native land, and here I am.'

"But why are you on the tramp?"

Looking For Widow's Mother.
"'One of the schoolma'sms told me before I killed her that she had a mother in this state, and she asked as a special favor that I would hunt the old lady up and give her the particulars. I'm not tramping, but looking."
"'Oh, I see! Jim, you go to work, and, stranger, you come along to the house with me.'
"On our way through the corn he

"'I'm going to give you a feed-all soft spoken man, as smooth as oil, and you can hold-and then you'd better move on. CHATHAM-

PURSUIT OF ZULU CHIEF.

British Detachment Peorly Equipped and Grave Situation Feared.

Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, April 26.—The rebellious Zulu chieftain, Bambaata, with about two thousand of his followers, is in full retreat toward the fastness of Zululand, closely pur-sued by the detachment of South African police and a battalion of infantry rebols.

Grave apprehension exists over the fact that the pursuing force is short of rations and ammunition. The rebels have plenty of both, and are ready to fight desperately if cornered.

It is admitted that should Bambaat gain the slightest advantage over his pursuers he will receive strong rein-forcements at once, as many of the tribesmen are dissatisfied and would rise against the Government at once were they assured that they had any chance of success. Orders have been sent to the several garrisons to send such reinforcements to the punitive expedition at once as can be spared.

The white settlers of Zululand are leaving their homes and crowding into the larger towns for protection.

The Usual Inside

The Dolly Varden Inside

The claim that a shoe is as comfortable as a barefoot is a pretty strong claim, but we claim it for the Dolly Varden Shoe and our agent in your city is ready to prove our claim. By trying on a few pairs you can soon find out.

Why are they comfortable? Because they are copies of perfect feminine feet which allow the feet to lie in their natural position.

Because of their Free Flat Tread. Because of their newly devised, restful steel arch support which relieves the fatigue muscles of the arch and prevents crowding of the toes into the narow front of the shoe, by holding the heel close to the back.

Because of their Dead Level Ball and Heel Balance, which places the feet on the ground as nature intended.

Because of their Harmless High Heels which are comfortable as moccasins. Because they hold the foot firmly at every point in a corset-like grip.

And because of their new "velvette kid" leather, which is as soft as cloth. $3.50 and $4.00 in Canada or the States. Every

RAILWAY TAX DOUBLED

By Hen. Mr. Matheson's Supplementary Revenue Bill.

All Ontario Railways Over 150 Miles In Length, Electric Lines Included, Must Contribute More Funds to the Public Treasury-How the Previncial Treasurer Takes Municipalities Into Partnership With Government.

Toronto, April 26 .- Hon. Mr. Mathe son brought down his supplementary revenue bill in the Legislature yester-day. He explained that it provided for a slight addition to the revenue from banks, each branch being required to pay a tax of $25. The main feature was an increase in the taxes of the railways. He referred to the appointment of the Railway Taxation Commission a couple of years ago. Its report was valuable, but he was afraid that some of its conclusions were not borne out by facts The commission went on the supposition that the provinces had the same powers in regard to taxation as some of the States of the Union. This Mr. Matheson controverted. In the United States the Federal Government's pow- The Government would continue to States the Federal Government's powers were defined, and all the remaining powers were left to the States, while under the B. N. A. Act the powers of the provinces were defined, and everything else went to the Dominion. The provinces had power to impose direct taxation within the province. The Pettyplece commission recommended a percentage tax on the gross earnings of the railways and stated that the Drosed that the Opposition approved of the population approved of the power power population approved population approved of the power power population approved power of the railways and stated that the pro- ed that the Opposition approved of the

When the late Mr. Hardy brought in the supplementary revenue bill of 1899 he defined the difference between direct and indirect taxation. If the province and indirect taxation. If the province acted on the recommendation of the Pettypiece commission and levied a tax of three per cent. on the gross farnings, all the railways would have to increase their charges and thus take the money out of the people. The Treasurer proposed to increase the tax on the railways on the basis of mileage. If the province went beyond that the result would be either to take the additional revenue at the expense of the people or impair the service of the railways. He thought the railways would submit to a fair increase.

Mr. Harcourt would not, but held to Tax Will Be Deubled.

These figures will apply to electric railways of over 150 miles in length running on their own right of way. Under the old act there was a tax of $10 a mile on rural railways running on the highway, but it was not collected. The Government propose to impose a tax of $10 a mile for each track. There will be no addition to the tax on railways in cities.

The following bills were passed: Re-

The expense to the province was about $150 and the municipalities would pay less than one half. The Dominion census would be adopted as there might be an inducement to the municipal assessor to pad the list. Where there were additions to the territory the Government would have the power to say what the population was, taking the Dominion census for it.

Graham Delighted.

Mr. Graham was delighted that the Government had come to his way of thinking. The old Government had decided that the only fair way of taxing railways was by the mile and the Treasurer's conversion seemed to be complete. He recalled that Col. Matheson had voted for the "whole Pettyplece bill."

The Premier promptly dealered that

The Premier promptly declared that the Pettypiece bill had never been voted on in its entirety. Hon. Mr. Hanna said that for whatever would go to the municipalities they would have the Government side of the House to thank for it. The proposal would establish a partnership between the Government and the municipalities which would work out very satisfac torily.

Ross' Idea of It.

Mr. Ross said he did not think we had arrived at the point where it would be desirable to transfer the burden of maintaining the asylums to the municipalities. If that was to be done let it be done directly, not by the circuitous way proposed by the Government. The motive of the bill apparently was that the Government might there are five water powers on the Low-er Trent River that are worth developtributaries, there are numerous waterpowers which are now developed and which are capable of supplying the immediate local demand.

To develop the five large water powers on the Lower Trent would call for an expenditure, according to the estimate of Chief Engineer Cecil B. Smith. of $2,295,000, and the amount of power available to these five points would be 25,000 horse-power. As to the market for this power, the engineer says 10,-000 horse-power could be disposed of at once, with an increase to 15,000 rse-power in five years.

Typical Points Illustration. Two typical points, Kingston and Oshawa, are given to show the cost of municipal transformer stations and the cost of power to the customer. The cost of a plant at Oshawa is put down at $48,900, and the total savings, not counting cheap power for street lighting and pumping, would be $11,919 a year. The Kingston plant would cost 3 year. The Upper Trent Valley affords op-portunities for local development and these have been taken advantage of so that Peterboro, Lakefeld, Lindsay and Fenelon Falls are well supplied with hydraulic and electric power. "Lizard" expresses its general appearance fairly well, although, like most of the fanciful names that are given to prominent landmarks on account of their supposed resemblance to something else, it is not always easy to see that the Lizard really does look like a great lizard squatting in reptilian clumsings on the southern and old clumsinees on the southern end of old England.

But, seen from the proper angle and under the proper conditions, the resemblance to a huge, fat, wrinkled lizard is not so hard to find, and then it is easy, too, to see why its eastern end should have been called The Beast, for, like a huge, uncouth beast it looks over the head and shoulders of the Lizard.

Two hundred feet and more high, and descending sheer into a fretted sea, is this most southern piece of England. In clear weather it is visible twenty-four. miles by day, and on a nearer approach its two white lighthouses (twin towers like those that look over Sandy Hook at the other end of the ocean road) make it easily the most characteristic landfall that a sailor can wish, so that even a perfect stranger, who has never steered a ship into English waters, can recognize the Lizard on sight.

A few years ago there was a cave here that could be approached with fair safety at low water, that was tapestried by wonderful sea ferns and floored with bright golden sand, in which flashed pools of water full of gorgeous seaweeds, making them look like great rubies set in dim aisles of rock.

From the great headlands beyond this spot is a most noble view. The promontory terminates in three masses of lofty, piled-up rocks, the most easterly being the Little Lizard, and the most westerly and largest the Old Lizard Head. A short way from shore, stand-ing deep in the green water, is a black rock called the Quadrant, and beyond rock called the Quadrant, and beyond it the lofty pillar of Lion Rock stands in lonely defiance, as if it had waded from the mainland in Titanic rebellion.

This is the rock that was described in such glowing language by Charles Littleton, Dean of Exeter, and subse-quently Bishop of Carlisle. "This rock," said he, "as well as the others, is enameled with the most beautiful color-

Several of these spouting caves are as mellows and Postoffice. The latter is so called because beside the outrush of water there is an inrush of air so violent that a piece of paper held near the crevices of the rock is sucked into the "bowels of the earth" with a vast rumbling that dies away deep below.

Utilizing a Glacier.

In France the Alpine glacier ice is spoken of as houlile blanche, "white coal," because of the mechanical power supplied by the streams to which it er supplied by the streams to which it gives rise. One of the greatest of these "rivers of ice" is the Glacler des Bossons, on the northern slope of Mont Blanc, at Chamouni. Lately this glacler has become a source of supply of ice for domestic purposes. More than 100,000 pounds of the glacler ice is sent to Lyons every summer. It is remarkable for its extreme purity. The ice is detached from the mass of glacler in blocks of suitable size by exploiding gunpowder in drilled holes. Dynamite was tried, but it shattered the ice and also imparted to it an obameled with the most beautiful color-and decorated with samphire and othe sea plants."

A FAMOUS SWINDLER.

Edward Donkin, Who Posed as a Priest Ends a Long Career of Crime -Died In England.

Edward Donkin, "bishop of Santa Croce of Antioch" and holder of several other self-conferred scclesias-tical titles, is dead in London. He was one of the most picturesque small swin-dlers in the world.

For fifteen years he ranged the world from Australia to Milwaukee, obtaining money and getting credit upon his pretensions of ecclesiastical position and great plety. He swindled all the branches of the Catholic church impartally, posing at various times as a priest of the Roman Catholics, the Greek Catholics, the Old Catholics, and the Church of England.

He arrived in England as the bishop of Santa Croce. The charity of believers in the Old Catholic church, some of whom he converted himself, established him in an oratory.

Beyond contracting debts on the strength of his ecclesiastical position, he did not show his hand until he worked a false draft for £200 on a Mr. Fisher.

At this time Labouchere started in on him and published a fair summary of his record, which created a sensation in England. He was arrested for the in England. He was arrested for the draft operation, but was acquitted.

Last January Donkin fell ill. He had contracted tuberculosis in prison, and he was taken also with heart weakness. From his death bed he issued a plous pastoral letter, asserting that he was the truly consecrated bishop of Santa Croce, and that those who denied it were persecuting him. Damage in Northern Counties.

News has just been received at San Francisco of the damage done by the earthquake of April 18 in the northern counties of California. In Lakeport, Lake County, a large portion of the fire wall of the Lakeview Hotel crashed through the porches and brick annex. Several other brick blocks were cracked, chimneys toppled over throughout the town and show windows of business houses for the full length of Main street were scattered. No one was injured. At Abbion, Mendocino County, the Occidental Hotel is a wreck. All the big saw mills in the region will have to shut down for some time. There were no lives lost. At Anderson, in Shasta County, chimneys tumbled down and windows, dishes and furniture of houses were demolished. There are many wide fissures in the earth. Slides along the southern Humboldt Lumber Co.'s rall-road line did thousands of dollars damage to their dam across Indian Creek.

Sunk In Halifax Harbor. vana, which recently returned from a sealing trip, was sunk in collision in this harbor last eventing at 10.30 by the coasting steamer Strathcoma. The crew were taken on beard the Strath-Justified by Merit. As you know, it is an uncommon ally endorse any remedy as we have endorsed Bu-Ju. Scottish Emigrants Double.

London, April 27.—(C. A. P.)—Scottish emigration returns show an increase of 100 per cent. for March, 1906, compared with March, 1904. But the more we know of it, the more earnest we are. All we say is, Bu-Ju can help anyone suffering from kidney trouble, as no other remedy can. It works for itself—shows more plainly than words its real use to all who seek a cure.

King Peter Injured.
Belgrade, Servia, April 27.—King
Peter, while out riding yesterday, fell off his horse and injured his ankle. If it is not just as represented, you can have your money back. Fifty cents a box.

Bicycle Per Year

A Cleveland costs say $60.00, and lasts easily 10 years, cost per year $6.

$30, and lasts 2 years, cost per year $15. Not much of a sum in arithmetic to figure out which is the better investment, is it? And if you ride a Cleveland, you have a beautiful and easy running bicycle, during all that time with no expense except for new tires.

A cheaply made bicycle costs say,

What of your friend who rides the so-called cheap wheel and whose investment amounts to two and one-half times as much as yours per year?

It pays to pay for quality, for quality is something that is remembered long after the price is forgotten.

Cleveland Bicycles in both cushion frame and rigid frame models are made and guaranteed by the
