SERIOUS FIRE

On Tuesday morning fire destroyed the dwelling and barn of Mrs. Bruce Connell, situated at Alquire's Corners. About 5 o'clock the fire was observed by Mr. Sherman Coon, a near neighbor. It was then, apparently, in the loft of the barn, but before anything could be done it spread to the lower part and a cow and calf in the stable were burned with the building and contents. A stiff breeze from the east was blowing and the fire speedily communicated with the dwelling, which was only a short distance away. On Mrs. Connell and the children being aroused the first thought was to take to a place of safety Mrs. Torrence Brown, an invalid, who was being cared for by Mrs. Connell. She was safely conveyed to the home of Mr. Coon, and attention was turned to saving the household effects. Mr. Fortune and a boy arrived and lent their aid, but only part of the furniture down stairs could be saved. The piano was brought to the door but had to be abandoned.

Mrs. Connell's loss will be heavy, and expressions of sympathy are heard on all sides. There was an insurance of $300 on the barn, but the house and contents were not covered.

The house was one of the old landmarks of that section, and for many years was used by the late Harmoious Alquire as a workshop.

TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

Last Sunday was Temperance Sunday throughout the world, and its observance in Athens was marked by a union meeting of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian Sabbath Schools, held in St. Paul's church. There was a good attendance of pupils, teachers and friends of the schools, despite the rain that was falling at the hour fixed for assembling.

Following the devotional exercises, Mr. Joseph Thompson, who presided over the gathering, delivered a brief, appropriate address and then introduced the following programme:—

Chorus—by schools
Recitation—Clara Lillie
Solo—Miss Greenham
Recitation—Gertrude Weeks
Exercise—by fifteen little girls, trained by Miss B. Wiltse
Recitation—Mills Johnston
Solo—Miss Annie Barber
Chorus—by schools
Recitation—Donna Thompson
Recitation—Gertie Breese
Chorus—by four little girls
Reading—Mrs. Bishop.

The lesson for the day followed and it was presented very fully and clearly by Mrs. Wm. Johnston. The latter part of her remarks were addressed particularly to the children and the methods that have been adopted and that should be adopted in curtailing and abolishing the liquor traffic were made plain by use of a chalk sketch that the speaker had prepared.

The children acquitted themselves well, and the whole tone of the meeting was such as to make an impression for good that should be lasting. A solo by Miss Barber and a song with a hidden chorus, in which the solo was taken by Miss Ethel Slack, were particularly fine numbers.

The chairman expressed his appreciation of the work of Mrs. Cornell and Mrs. Massey in connection with the union meeting and of the able manner in which Mrs. Johnston had presented the difficult lesson assigned for the day.

Mr. D. Fisher and Mr. Taylor, the evangelist, spoke briefly, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

Death of P. S. Trickey

After a lingering illness, Mr. P. S. Trickey died at the home in Athens on Tuesday.

Last spring, owing to ill-health he sold out his farm property at New Dublin and came to Athens. He grew gradually weaker, and for several days his death was expected. Ever of a philosophical turn of mind, Mr. Trickey was ready, willing, even glad to pass away, and his bright Christian testimony and the spirit of perfect resignation he manifested were a great comfort to his family in their contemplation of the impending crisis.

To mourn his loss, he leaves his wife, four sons and four daughters. Cyrus of Watertown and Arden of New York are expected to arrive home to-day.

The funeral services will be conducted in the Methodist church, Athens, at 2 p.m. on Thursday by Rev. S. J. Hughes.

Addison Circuit

The pastor, Rev. H. W. Burnett, will preach in the newly renovated church next Sunday evening at 7. Subject, "The great assize." Service to commence with a short song service.

ATHENS MODELITES

Hear Address on "Habit" by Rev. I. N. Beckstedt

On Friday, Nov. 24th, the teachers in training at the Athens Model School listened with great pleasure to an address on "Habit" delivered by Rev. I. N. Beckstedt, B. A., of Athens.

The theme was dealt with in three divisions, viz.:

1. Definition of Habit.
2. Growth of Habit.
3. Relation between Thought and Habit.

The definition which was given was "Habit in its crystallized form is nothing more or less than Character." Our inherited instincts, our natural inclinations are, it is true, very powerful factors in shaping our life, but, through Habit, we are enabled to easily overcome the natural tendencies and inclinations. What is the Law of Habit? It is that every time we perform any action, mental or physical, we have more proneness to, and greater facility for, the performance of that action under similar circumstances than before.

Truly, a natural law. The little acts performed for ourselves and for others finally become mechanical and almost resemble one another. On the other hand, duties left undone become more and more difficult to accomplish. Habit of not doing becomes as established a fact. We remember the old saying "Procrastination is the thief of Time." Many a man possesses not the faculty of true decision. As the careless child, he is lulled to sleep with the comforting thought that "Fortune may crown him, sometime, somewhere."

There is no Habit that grows so largely in the soul as the Habit of Resolution. The little indulgences of everyday life may seem trivial, but these, some day, may become as lions crouching at our door seeking whom they may devour. Often, we find our selves pining away, sad and disheartened. Our achievements have, apparently, come far short of the ideal. But we must remember that only our Maker attained Perfection. A story is told of John Morley, the author and philosopher, who believed not in the Divine. He thought of God as a being having neither will nor feeling. Although Morley was a great man in some respects, yet his life, for this reason, lacked completeness and gradually his praises died away in silence. Thus, the best cannot live away from Christ. The degree of Perfection attainable in this world cannot be realized apart from Him. So it is, when, in a lonely mood, we ponder on the past, remedy may be found in bracing ourselves for some new enterprise, in being "up and doing" and in forming new habits whereby "the soul is strengthened, purified, and rendered more worthy of heaven."

In the last place, let us briefly consider the relation of Thought and Habit. These bear much the same relation as cause and effect. Every conscious act is preceded by a thought. Thought occasions action, action ultimately issues in Habit, and Habit is the basis of Character. Thus, in building our character, these living monuments which shall never crumble or decay, how careful should we be to think those thoughts, pure and inspiring, which, being objectified, shall render us citizens worthy the imitation of men for generations to come.

"You never can tell what your thoughts will do, In bringing you Hate and Love, For, your thoughts are things and their very wings Are swifter than carrier doves; They follow the law of the universe, Each thing must produce its kind, They speed o'er the track to bring you back Whatever goes out from your mind." Signed on behalf of the A. M. S. Executive,

MOLLIE G. ROBINSON.

Sunday School INTERNATIONAL LESSON NO. XI DECEMBER 10, 1905

Reading and Obeying the Law. Neh. 8: 8-18. Commentary.—I. Studying God's word (vs. 1-8). The people were gathered in this great meeting from the surrounding country, from twenty thousand to fifty thousand in number. It was the time of the feast of Trumpets. Trumpets were blown everywhere. They proclaimed a day of rejoicing. The people called for Ezra, the scribe, to bring out the book of the law and read to them. Here is the first mention of Ezra's name in the book of Nehemiah. It is thought that he had been absent during the past thirteen years, "perhaps working as a scribe in copying and writing, and perhaps putting in shape the book of the law. He seems to have returned at the opportune moment. This great company had gathered on purpose to hear the words of the book he had copied and probably edited."

8. So they read—Ezra and thirteen representative men of Jerusalem, standing upon an elevated platform, read the Scriptures in turn, for six hours or more. In the book—"Books in those days were wide strips of parchment rolled upon sticks, one at each end, so that one side was rolled up as the other was unrolled to read. The writing was in parallel columns across the strip and read from right to left." Distinctly—"So that every word could be distinctly heard. This was the first way in which they caused the people to understand. —Full. Com. gave the sense.—The Israelites having been lately brought out of Babylonian captivity, in which they had continued seventy years, were not only corrupt, but they had in general lost the knowledge of the ancient Hebrew to such a degree that when the book of the law was read they did not understand it. Therefore the Levites translated it into the Chaldean dialect.—Clarke. Caused them to understand—"They gave both a translation of the Hebrew words into the Chaldean and an exposition of the things contained in them, and of the duty incumbent upon them by virtue thereof"—Benson.

II. A day of rejoicing proclaimed (vs. 9-12). 9. Nehemiah . . . the Tirshathai—Hitherto Nehemiah has called himself pechah—the ordinary word for "governor." Now he is called Tirshatha, a more honorable and reverential title for a governor. The new title is among the indications that this portion of the book is written by another.—Cook. This day is holy—Mourning was unsuitable for a day of high festivity, the opening day of the civil year and of the sabbatical month, itself a sabbath or day of rest, and one to be kept by blowing of trumpets (Lev. xxiii, 24, 25; Num. xxix, 1-6). —Full. Com. "It appears that the people were not only ignorant of their ancient language, but being permitted to observe them in Babylon." All the people wept.—They realized how different their lives had been from the lives commanded by God. They had failed in personal duty. They had failed in the public worship of God. They had failed in their neighborly duty. They had failed in their duty to God. They had failed in their duty to their neighbor. They had failed in their duty to their country. They had failed in their duty to their God. They had failed in their duty to their neighbor. They had failed in their duty to their country. They had failed in their duty to their God.

IX. Practical religion. The word of God is adapted to the needs of everyday life. It has a definite bearing upon the daily life. The Levitical law is eminently practical. It adjusted the relations of man with God, of man with man, of the animal world and the use of the land. There is no question of practical living which cannot be solved by the word of God if the heart is honest and dares to accept its conditions. —Abbie C. Morrow.

OIL MEN MUST TESTIFY. Rockefeller, Rogers and Others of the Standard Subpoenaed. New York, Nov. 27.—Mr. Justice Fitzgerald to-day issued subpoenas directing John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, and others, to appear before a commissioner designated by Gov. Folk, of Missouri, to take testimony in this city in two suits brought against the Standard Oil Co. by the State of Missouri. The hearing will begin on Dec. 4, before Frederick H. Sanborn, of Sanborn & Sanborn, in the office of Henry Wallman, 74 Broadway. Mr. Wallman, acting as counsel for Herbert S. Hadley, Attorney-General of Missouri, secured the subpoenas. The two suits were brought by Mr. Hadley against the Standard Oil Co., the Waters-Pierce Oil Co., and the Republic Oil Co., to oust them from doing business in Missouri, and to enjoin them from living up to a pool agreement which, it is alleged, they made with each other, to crush out competition. The Waters-Pierce Co. is a Missouri corporation, and the other two companies also carry on business in that state.

FASTING ENDED HIS LIFE. The "Back to Nature" Preacher Died From Starvation. Chicago, Nov. 27.—Unable to retain nourishment, due to long periods of fasting, John Klein, the "back to nature" preacher, died yesterday. Klein, who was fifty years old, had traveled all over the country on foot, wearing only sandals and clad in the thinnest and coarsest garments. When he did not fast he lived on roots and herbs. One of his beliefs was that the day of judgment was at hand, and frequently he would stop persons on the street, and with uplifted fingers warn them to prepare for the last day. He wore no underclothing, and for a few months he was a familiar figure on the downtown streets, in which he sold pamphlets advocating his idea of going back to nature. He was committed to the Denning Insane Asylum three months ago by the Cook County Court, as insane. A friend in Peoria, Ill., it is said, procured his release and took him to that city. He walked to Chicago and arrived here two weeks ago in an emaciated condition from fasting.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION. "Punctuality. "All the people gathered as one man (vs. 1). They came "from the light" (vs. 3, marg.). They met early in the morning. It was a time of intense interest. They met for the first time in this "holy convocation" commanded by Moses for the "first day of the seventh month" (vs. 2; Lev. xxiii, 24). "It was a great national thanksgiving service of real heart interest." This is the secret of punctuality. A child anticipating a great pleasure is anxious to be off, sometimes hours before the appointed time. If there is that in our Sunday services to inspire the deep heart love for them there will be no tardiness. II. Eagerness to learn. "They spake unto Ezra, the scribe, to bring the book of the law of Moses which the Lord had commanded to Israel" (vs. 1). The people who formerly "withdrew the shoulder and hardened their neck and would not hear" (Neh. ix, 29) were now ready to know God's requirements and do them. A native of India came fifty miles in a jolting cart, drawn by oxen, to the missionary, to inquire about things he could not understand in the book. "Ezra brought the law before the congregation" (vs. 2). "Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people (vs. 5). "They taught in Judah and had the book of the law of the Lord with them" (2 Chron. xvii, 9). The faithful superintendent reads, and has his pupils read from a Bible; not from lesson helps. The latter are for study at home. The teacher who has the lesson in his head and in his heart will not have a lesson help in his hand. IV. Attention. "The ears of all the people attentive" (vs. 3). The very opening of the book produced quite reverence. When Jesus read from the prophet Isaiah . . . "the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him" (Luke iv, 17, 20). Attention is the first requisite to obtaining good from teaching. V. Devotion. "Ezra opened the book . . . and when he opened it all the people stood up" (vs. 5). "The Bible is our most tangible reminder of the Holy One." Standing in the presence of a superior is an attitude of respect, a mark of courtesy. When God's word was brought out in the sight of the people they rose as an act of reverence due to it, and with one impulse confessed that God, the great God, the mighty God of Israel, was speaking. No one can give even a faint conception of the living God back of His word and in it without instinctively taking an attitude of devotion. VI. Responsiveness. "All the people answered, Amen, Amen" (vs. 6). As was commanded by the law (Deut. xxvii, 15; Num. v, 22). Amen is one of the names of Jesus. It means "faithful and true" (Rev. iii, 14). VII. Prayerfulness. "Ezra blessed the Lord" (vs. 6). After he "opened the book" (vs. 5) and before "they read in the book" (vs. 8). "Nehemiah . . . the governor and Ezra the priest (vs. 9) were both men of prayer. VIII. Intelligent reading. "Caused the people to understand the law . . . read in the book in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading" (vs. 7, 8). God's word shall not return to Him void (Isa. lv, 11), and when read in the power of His Spirit will search the heart, leaving no sin unrevealed. His truth is simple and convincing. Benjamin Franklin once read the third chapter of Habakkuk to a company of infidels. They were deeply impressed by it, and acknowledged it as a celebrated man, once called upon to offer prayer, repeated the Lord's prayer so impressively that both he and his hearers were melted to tears. IX. Practical religion. The word of God is adapted to the needs of everyday life. It has a definite bearing upon the daily life. The Levitical law is eminently practical. It adjusted the relations of man with God, of man with man, of the animal world and the use of the land. There is no question of practical living which cannot be solved by the word of God if the heart is honest and dares to accept its conditions. —Abbie C. Morrow.

Montreal.—Actual trade at the moment is a little quiet. Up to very recently wholesale trade has been good, and the outlook for the coming holiday trade promises a big business in all lines. The generally prosperous condition of the country makes it evident that the trade of the winter and spring will be satisfactory. City collections are generally fair, but from some quarters remittances are reported a little slow. A sorting trade is moving in drygoods as good weather helps the movement of retail stocks. Woollens and cottons continue very firm. Dealers report great preparations for the spring trade. Toronto.—The volume of wholesale trade here has shown little change during the past week. The promises of a heavy holiday trade are being borne out particularly in dry goods. The hardware and grocery trades are normally busy and the movement compares well with that of previous years. The good weather has given a better tone to the country retail trade and collections are generally fair to good. Quebec.—City collections are fair, but remittances from the country in many cases are slow. General trade conditions continue fairly satisfactory. Good orders are being booked for spring delivery. With plenty of snow an all-around improvement is expected. Winnipeg.—Wholesale trade here continues fairly brisk in all lines. The retail trade in dry goods is brisk and orders for spring line are heavy. Dry-goods report the outlook for trade in Ours Tablets, which cure all stomach, bowel and teething troubles, and thus promote natural health-giving sleep. Mrs. Wm. Holmes, Daer, Ont., says: "My baby was troubled with sour stomach and was constipated most of the time, and was always cross and restless. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and found them a complete success, and would not now be without them." You can get Baby's Own Tablets from any druggist, or by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont. MISERABLE NIGHTS. Nothing so demoralizes an infant and enslaves the parents as to take a cross or wakeful baby from the bed and walk him up and down the floor during the night. The baby cries because it is not well—generally because its stomach is sour, its little bowels congested and its skin hot and feverish. Relieve this and baby will sleep soundly all night, growing stronger and better every day. Just what mothers need to keep baby healthy and make him sleep soundly is Baby's Own Tablets, which cure all stomach, bowel and teething troubles, and thus promote natural health-giving sleep. Mrs. Wm. Holmes, Daer, Ont., says: "My baby was troubled with sour stomach and was constipated most of the time, and was always cross and restless. Author Terry's Practical Proof of Hatred of Yellow Race. London, Nov. 27.—A despatch to the Evening Standard from Christchurch, New Zealand says that Lionel Terry has been sentenced to death for deliberately killing a Chinaman in the streets of Wellington. N. Z. Terry is a traveller and artist. Recently he wrote a book entitled The Shadow of the Empire, in which he attempted to show that the danger of the British empire lay in the influx of Chinese. At the trial Terry admitted that he had killed the Chinaman, saying he felt sure that the question of whether the law really protected aliens. The jury recommended mercy on the ground that his hatred for the yellow race had crazed him.

THE SULTAN OF TURKEY, Who has defied the European Powers.

SULTAN REJECTS POWERS' DEMANDS.

Will the International Fleet Force the Dardanelles and Make Reprisals? Constantinople, Nov. 27.—The Sultan to-day issued an irade approving the decision of the Council of Ministers to reject the demands of the powers for international control of the finances of Macedonia. Whether the rejection is absolute or conditional has not yet been definitely ascertained. Vice Admiral Huseini Pasha has started on a special steamer for the Dardanelles presumably with instructions for the commander of the fleet regarding the latter's conduct in the event of the appearance of the international fleet. Similar instructions have been sent to the governors of the Turkish islands in the Archipelago. The answer of the Porte as a whole is entirely unsatisfactory, as it does not respond to the demand for the extension of the authority of the financial agents of the powers for two years, and is evasive upon the powers of the financial control by the powers of the financial affairs except the Minister of War favored yielding to the ultimatum, but palace influences led the Sultan to overrule the favorable attitude of the Porte. These influences are considered to be the outgrowth of Germany's abstaining from taking an active part in the naval armament.

The Turkish reply gives a serious turn to the negotiations. A Threat. Paris, Nov. 27.—Thursday's note in reply to the ultimatum of the powers contains a warning that the action of the powers in resorting to a naval demonstration may precipitate an internal uprising of Mussulmans against the Christians in Turkey. This is considered to be a threat as it is known that no demonstration of Mussulmans against Christians can occur unless it has the silent acquiescence of the Turkish authorities. Ten Warships are Assembled. London, Nov. 27.—The combined fleet of the powers, now assembling at Ploer, consists of six large and four small vessels, commanded by Admiral Ritter Von Jedina, of the Austrian navy. Great Britain is represented by the armored cruiser Lancaester and the scoutship Sentinel; Austria by the armored cruiser St. George and the torpedo-boat destroyer Ostro, and France by a cruiser and a gunboat. Seize the Custom Houses. London, Nov. 27.—The powers are said to have agreed as the first part of their procedure, on the seizure of the harbors and custom houses of the Island of My-

BRADSTREET'S ON TRADE. Montreal.—Actual trade at the moment is a little quiet. Up to very recently wholesale trade has been good, and the outlook for the coming holiday trade promises a big business in all lines. The generally prosperous condition of the country makes it evident that the trade of the winter and spring will be satisfactory. City collections are generally fair, but from some quarters remittances are reported a little slow. A sorting trade is moving in drygoods as good weather helps the movement of retail stocks. Woollens and cottons continue very firm. Dealers report great preparations for the spring trade. Toronto.—The volume of wholesale trade here has shown little change during the past week. The promises of a heavy holiday trade are being borne out particularly in dry goods. The hardware and grocery trades are normally busy and the movement compares well with that of previous years. The good weather has given a better tone to the country retail trade and collections are generally fair to good. Quebec.—City collections are fair, but remittances from the country in many cases are slow. General trade conditions continue fairly satisfactory. Good orders are being booked for spring delivery. With plenty of snow an all-around improvement is expected. Winnipeg.—Wholesale trade here continues fairly brisk in all lines. The retail trade in dry goods is brisk and orders for spring line are heavy. Dry-goods report the outlook for trade in Ours Tablets, which cure all stomach, bowel and teething troubles, and thus promote natural health-giving sleep. Mrs. Wm. Holmes, Daer, Ont., says: "My baby was troubled with sour stomach and was constipated most of the time, and was always cross and restless. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and found them a complete success, and would not now be without them." You can get Baby's Own Tablets from any druggist, or by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

MISERABLE NIGHTS. Nothing so demoralizes an infant and enslaves the parents as to take a cross or wakeful baby from the bed and walk him up and down the floor during the night. The baby cries because it is not well—generally because its stomach is sour, its little bowels congested and its skin hot and feverish. Relieve this and baby will sleep soundly all night, growing stronger and better every day. Just what mothers need to keep baby healthy and make him sleep soundly is Baby's Own Tablets, which cure all stomach, bowel and teething troubles, and thus promote natural health-giving sleep. Mrs. Wm. Holmes, Daer, Ont., says: "My baby was troubled with sour stomach and was constipated most of the time, and was always cross and restless. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and found them a complete success, and would not now be without them." You can get Baby's Own Tablets from any druggist, or by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

KILLS CHINESE TO TEST LAW. Author Terry's Practical Proof of Hatred of Yellow Race. London, Nov. 27.—A despatch to the Evening Standard from Christchurch, New Zealand says that Lionel Terry has been sentenced to death for deliberately killing a Chinaman in the streets of Wellington. N. Z. Terry is a traveller and artist. Recently he wrote a book entitled The Shadow of the Empire, in which he attempted to show that the danger of the British empire lay in the influx of Chinese. At the trial Terry admitted that he had killed the Chinaman, saying he felt sure that the question of whether the law really protected aliens. The jury recommended mercy on the ground that his hatred for the yellow race had crazed him.

BLOODLESS GIRLS

Find New Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

When you see a young girl pale and ailing and wasting away, you know that budding womanhood is making new demands upon her blood supply which she cannot meet. Month after month her health, her strength, her very life, is being drained away. No food and no care can do her any good. Common medicine cannot save her from broken health and a hopeless decline. New blood is the one thing that can make her a healthy, cheerful, rosy-cheeked girl. And Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood with every dose. That is the whole secret of how they have saved thousands of pale, anaemic girls from an early grave. Miss Alice Chaput, aged 17 years, living at 475 St. Timothee street, Montreal, gives strong proof of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills power to cure. "A couple of years ago, says Miss Chaput, "I was an almost continuous sufferer, and become so weak I could hardly go about. I suffered from frequent and prolonged spells of dizziness, I had frightful headaches, and my stomach was completely out of order. The least exertion would leave me worn out and breathless, and I did not appear to have a drop of good blood in my body. I consulted a doctor, who told me the trouble was general debility, but his treatment did not help me a particle. To add to the trouble my nerves gave way, and I often passed sleepless nights. At this stage a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a few boxes. The first benefit I noticed from the use of the pills was an improved appetite, and this seemed to bring much relief. I continued taking the pills until I had used six boxes, when I was fully restored to health, and I have not had a day's illness since. I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enough for the great good that they have done me." A pale, anaemic person needs only one thing—new blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do one thing only—they make new blood. That is all they do, but they do it well. They don't act on the bowels. They don't bother with mere symptoms. They won't cure any disease that isn't caused originally from bad blood. But when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills replace bad blood with good blood they strike at the root and cause of all common diseases like headaches, sideaches, backaches, kidney trouble, liver complaint, biliousness, indigestion, anaemia, neuralgia, sciatica, locomotor ataxia, and the special secret troubles that every woman knows but that none of them like to talk about, even to their doctors. But you must have the genuine pills or you can't be cured, and the genuine always have the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around the box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent direct by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ALIENS ARE BARRED.

Marriage Licenses Must Not Be Sold to Them. Toronto, Nov. 27.—Ontario's Gretna Green industry at Windsor and other frontier points is seriously threatened by the latest decision of the Attorney-General. The ministers of Windsor and similar places will thereby be deprived of a lucrative source of income. Issuance of marriage licenses at Windsor particularly has been selling a large number of licenses to parties from Detroit and other points across the border who are not inhabitants of Ontario. The Attorney-General has given his opinion that these licenses should not be issued, and he bases his decision on section 17, subsection "c" of the Act for the Solemnization of Marriage. Under this section it is provided that one of the contracting parties must have been a resident of the municipality for at least 15 days. In case neither of the parties has been a resident of the municipality for 15 days, the reason for having the marriage celebrated there must not be to evade publicity or for any other improper purpose. The Provincial Secretary's Department will take action to prevent marriage licenses from being issued in this way at Windsor, and other frontier points.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED.

Mrs. Goodrich Was Starting Fire With Coal Oil. Portage la Prairie, Nov. 27.—A very serious accident occurred near Portage this morning, when Mrs. Goodrich, who resides with her husband on the Old Fort farm, southwest of the town, was terribly and perhaps fatally burned. She was starting a fire with coal oil, when it exploded, and immediately she was enveloped in flames. She was alone at the time, and rushed outside. Her frantic efforts the flames were overcome. Mrs. Goodrich had her clothing burned, and was burned all over the body. Medical aid was summoned, and she was brought to the hospital. She is in an awful condition, and slight hopes are entertained for her recovery. Two small children were in the house at the time.

LOOKS BAD FOR STRIKERS.

Shipowners at St. John Able to Handle Their Cargoes. St. John, N. B., Nov. 27.—The longshoremen's strike is likely to end in a victory for the steamship owners. Strike-breakers are coming daily from Montreal, and while some desert, most of them are working. Over fifty more are due to-morrow. Six local men went to work to-day. It is expected the local union will consent to resume work if the men are sent home. This may be done, though to-night both sides say there is no change, and that the strike will continue. The Parisian has been discharged, and is loading, and the Donaldson steamer is now discharging. The Sicilian is due on Saturday, and there will be men to handle her cargo.

OAK LEAF

Oak Leaf is still alive; at least, some thought so on Thursday evening, Nov. 16, when Mrs. R. J. Green gave her house up to the entire pleasure of between twenty-five and thirty of the young folks of that vicinity. The company assembled between eight and nine and enjoyed themselves with various games until about half-past eleven, when lunch was served. After the repast the crowd was divided so that all might have an equal chance in the versatile game, Charades, which kept the youths guessing in many directions until about 2.30, when they began to prepare for home, all expressing their thanks for this evening's enjoyment and hoping that this one might serve as an incentive to some of the other lively houses of Oak Leaf.

Miss Wilhelmine Green of Lyndhurst spent last week at the home of Mrs. R. J. Green.

WILL THE SUIT WEAR WELL? My Boy is Awfully Hard on His Clothes

How often a mother or father greets us with these remarks!

If, at the time, we are trying to sell one of our good, durable $5.00 suits for boys, we will, of course, answer most decidedly in the affirmative.

The wearing quality of our boys' suits is just one of its many good features. Another strong point is its stylishness. This is due to the extreme skill used in cutting our boys clothing.

Bring the boy here for his fall suit or overcoat. You can't do better; you can easily do worse. We will get the boys' clothing business of this county just as sure as we give the best values.

No Trash Here—nothing but the kind of goods that give satisfaction do we keep. The power of spot cash shows up very clearly in our boys' suits. If we were giving credit, we should have to charge from 10 to 20 per cent more. When will you be in?

Wide Sleigh Runners

Wide vs. narrow sleigh runners formed the subject of an interesting discussion in the counties council last week. Under a provincial act passed last session, sleigh runners must not be made narrower than 4 feet, outside, after Dec. 1st, 1906. The council was not clear in its interpretation of the act, and obtained the following advice from Mr. H. A. Stewart: "Under the provisions of this section any vehicle already manufactured may be used, even though the width is less than four feet, and cutters are not subject to the provisions of this section, and the section only applies to vehicles constructed after the 1st of December, 1906."

There is also a sub-section, which provides that any county council may pass a by-law exempting the county from the provisions of the Act. The effect is, therefore, that all vehicles already constructed or to be constructed before the 1st of December, 1906, are not subject to its provisions, and any county may be relieved from the provisions of the section upon passing a by-law such as I have mentioned.

Messrs. Alguire and Baker moved that the council disapprove of the act and take advantage of the clause enabling the county to secure exemption from its operation.

On motion, the matter was finally referred to the roads and bridge committee to be reported on next January.

THE NEW EMPRESS

Ceremonies at Launching of the Latest C.P.R. Atlantic Liner.

SHIP IS A LEVIATHAN

Distinguished Men Present Speak of Railway's Enterprise and Wish It Success.

The passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Robert Kerr, has just received from Glasgow, Scotland, details regarding the successful launching, at the Fairfield shipbuilding yards upon the Clyde, of the first of the new passenger steamships which the company intends adding to its Atlantic fleet next season. The new liner is called the Empress of Britain and will make her first trip from Liverpool to Montreal when navigation opens on the river St. Lawrence next May. The Empress of Ireland, a sister ship, is now receiving its finishing touches in the Fairfield yards, and will be launched in January. She will make her first trip from Liverpool to Montreal in June next.

The Empress of Britain is the largest vessel ever launched from the Fairfield yards, has a displacement of 20,000 tons, and ranks as one of the largest leviathans upon the North Atlantic. The ceremony of launching was performed by Mrs. Arthur Piers, the wife of the manager of the Canadian Pacific steamship lines, who struck the blow which started the huge vessel down the ways with an ivory mallet, presented by Admiral Sir Digby Morant. Among those present upon the launching platform were Sir. William Pearce, chairman of the Fairfield Company; Dr. Francis Elgar, the architect of the new ship; Mr. Alexander Gracie, the managing director; Admiral Sir Digby Morant, Colonel Paget Mosley, Mr. W. M. Rhodes (directors), and Mr. A. W. Sampson, secretary of the Fairfield Company; Lord McLaren, Sir Samuel Chisholm, former lord provost of Glasgow; Sir David Richmond, Admiral Wilson, professor Purvis, of the Imperial University, Tokio, Japan; Dr. Robert Gurnley, Mr. R. Hunter Craig, M. P.; the Right Hon. Parker Smith, M. P.; Mr. Robert Strachan, Mr. George B. Dodwell, Mr. G. B. Dunlop, Mr. Neil Munroe, Mr. J. Currie, Professor Magnus MacLean, Captain White, Mr. John Wylie, Mr. Archer Baker and Mr. Arthur Piers.

AT THE LUNCHEON

In proposing the health of the Canadian Pacific Company and wishing success to the new ship at a luncheon which followed the ceremony of launching, Sir William Pearce said that the enterprise of the Canadian Pacific Company in establishing the last splendid link in their chain of communication between England and the Orient had done a great deal, not only to increase the prosperity of Canada, but also to promote the interests of the British Empire.

Mr. Archie Baker, Manager of the Canadian Pacific Company in London, replying on its behalf, referred to the conviction which was expressed in many quarters twenty-seven years ago, when the transcontinental railway across Canada was completed, that the enterprise would never earn enough to pay for the axle grease used in the operation of the railway. The company had grown to be one of the largest corporations in the world. It had established an all-British route from London to the Orient and Australia under a single management. He paid a tribute to the foresight, intelligence and untiring energy of the president of the company, to which much of the success which had attended the enterprise was due.

Admiral Sir Digby Morant proposed the health of Mrs. Piers, and presented her with the ivory mallet, encased in a silver casket, with which the new ship had been launched.

Mr. Arthur Piers, responding to the toast, dealt at some length with the gradual evolution of the present Canadian Pacific route from England to the Far East. The company had taken great chances in extending the scope of its operations, and the success which had attended those operations was simply an indication of the rapid increase which had taken place in the trade between Great Britain her greatest colony and the Far East.

GIRL MURDERED BY A THIEF.

Shot Through Heart by Burglar in Her Home.

Girl Killed While Running Away From the Robber.

Assassin Smashes Window With a Chair and Escapes.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Maude Reese, an expert stenographer employed by the Union Traction Company, was murdered in cold blood shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a burglar whose operations she had brought to a sudden halt as she entered her flat, 200 Evanston avenue.

Shortly before midnight the police learned that a man with his face and hands badly cut and bleeding boarded a Halsted street car at Wellington avenue about 6 o'clock and rode to the corner of Milwaukee avenue and Halsted street. Detectives are now investigating this clue. They believe the murderer hurt himself as he jumped through the window and are confident that they will now find him.

During the night a half dozen suspects were rounded up by the police and are being held, although it is now believed none of them is the man wanted.

Standing less than two feet from the girl the thief, of whom the police have absolutely no description except that he was a white man, fired a bullet straight through the heart of Miss Reese, killing her instantly.

After firing the shot the murderer rushed through the house to the kitchen and jumped to liberty through a window, which he smashed out with a chair. No one saw him escape.

The crime, the police declare, is one of the most cold-blooded and heartless that has ever come to their notice. They are completely baffled by the total lack of description of the murderer.

The murder was committed less than three feet from Miss Emma Baumgarten, of Freeport, who had come to Chicago to have her eyes treated and who had accompanied Miss Reese to her home, but the Freeport woman was so bewildered and her eyes are so poor that she was unable to closely observe the man and only realized that her companion had been killed when she heard the shot fired and saw Miss Reese fall to the floor dead.

Describes the Murder. "Miss Reese was killed before I knew it," exclaimed Miss Baumgarten last night at 811 Ballou place, where she is stopping. "I heard a scuffling in the dining room and then Maude, followed by the man, rushed into the hall, where I stood. He yelled, 'I'll shoot you' and the next instant fired. Oh, it is awful!"

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sharpneck, who reside in the flat above that occupied by the Reese girls, and other neighbors, started by the report of a revolver, rushed to the home of the murdered girl. They found the body of Miss Reese lying against the front door of the house, while Miss Baumgarten stood near by, dumfounded by fear and almost unable to speak.

The police were notified and a doctor was called. Search was made of the neighborhood by the police of the Sheffield avenue station, under Captain John Rehm and Assistant Chief Schuetzler was summoned to aid in the efforts to secure some trace of the murderer. The body of the murdered girl was removed to the undertaking rooms of G. Segenstein, 1615 North Clark street.

Comes From Sick Sister.

Miss Reese returned yesterday morning from Green Valley, Ill., where her sister, Mrs. Philo Allen, is critically ill, and went to her work as stenographer in the trial department of the Union Traction Company. During the day Miss Baumgarten, who is being treated by an eye specialist, called at the office and was invited to spend the night at the Reese flat, as Miss Anna M. Reese, a sister of the murdered girl and a nurse at the Policlinic hospital, had gone to Green Valley.

The two girls left the offices of the traction company, in the Ashland block, at 5 o'clock and, boarding a North Clark street car, started for Miss Reese's home. On the way they purchased meat and groceries for their supper.

When they reached the flat Miss Reese unlocked the door and they entered. Miss Baumgarten stood in the hallway, while her hostess entered the dining-room. It was there Miss Reese met the burglar, who had thoroughly ransacked the house and was preparing to make his escape through a window in the kitchen, through which he had entered. There was a scuffle. The brave girl must have tried to overcome the burglar. The next instant Miss Reese rushed into the hallway, pursued by the man. As she stood against the front door, terror-stricken, the man whipped out a revolver and, exclaiming, "I'll shoot you," fired the fatal shot. Miss Reese sank to the floor of the hall dead. The bullet had gone through her heart.

Neighbors, attracted to the scene by the shot, found her lying against the front door, garbed just as she had been when she entered the house. She wore a light jacket and a dark skirt. On her head was a brown hat of fur and plumes. Except for the small hole of the bullet in her jacket and the coldness of death which was creeping over the body there was no outward sign of the fatal wound. Her life-blood soaked the clothes beneath the jacket.

When the police arrived they found the burglar had done his work well and had almost completed it before he was discovered. He had entered by prying open a window in the kitchen, breaking the lock with a jimmy.

The house was thoroughly ransacked. The room where Miss Reese and her sister slept and which contained their choicest belongings, was overturned from top to bottom. Letters and trinkets were scattered everywhere. Dresses and clothing were strewn about on the floor. A fern which stood in the window had been hurled to the floor and the pot broken. A pretty tiger striped kitten, the pet of the murdered girl and her sister, nestled on the bed, purring, all unconscious of the horrible crime which had just snuffed out the life of its mistress.

The handbag of Miss Reese, containing a pocketbook with $9, was found on the floor of the dining-room, where the girl had probably dropped it when she grappled with the burglar.

After killing Miss Reese the burglar had leaped onto a back porch and from there into an alley, from which he quickly made his escape. The police believe the burglar carried off little if any booty.

Miss Reese, the murdered girl, came to Chicago about a year ago from Westfield, Kan., where she had graduated from a business college. She was the daughter of W. S. Reese, principal of the high school at Holton, Kan.

Miss Reese was 25 years old and was a girl of refinement and culture. She was highly educated as a musician and was very popular in the circles in which she moved.

WOMAN WITNESSES MURDER.

Mrs. N. M. Freeman Unable to Remember How Slayer Looked.

Mrs. N. M. Freeman, wife of a traveling salesman who lives directly over the flat occupied by Miss Reese, seems to be the only person who knows anything about the shooting. She has given the police all the clues that they have so far.

"I was just preparing my evening meal," said Mrs. Freeman, "when I heard a scuffle down in the vestibule of the hall. I ran to the top of the stairs and looking down I saw Miss Reese grappling with a man. He said to her, 'Let lose of me or I will kill you.' Miss Reese immediately turned and started to run into her apartments when he pointed the revolver at her. She saw what he was doing and stopped and pleaded with him not to shoot her.

"I was in a trance until the shot was fired and then I came to myself and ran downstairs and picked up Miss Reese, who was still alive, but unconscious. I cannot remember how the murderer looked as I was too terrified to take much notice. I screamed for help and several neighbors rushed in and one of them notified the police.

"Miss Baumgarten, with whom I was acquainted personally, was standing outside on the pavement screaming when I rushed down. She wore glasses and when I asked her about the description of the man she said she did not see him.

POLICE SPREAD DRAG NET.

One Thousand Men Engaged in Search for Girl's Slayer.

In less than twenty minutes after the news of the murder had reached the Sheffield avenue station more than 1,000 members of the police department, including inspectors, captains, lieutenants, detectives and men traveling boats in uniform, were engaged in a search for the murderer.

Chief Collins took personal charge of the case and gave instructions that no member of the department leave for his home until further orders, and with the assistance of Assistant Chief Schuetzler and Inspector Lavin and other assistants, one of the most thorough "drag nets" ever set in motion by the police department in the history of the city.

With only a meager description of the murderer then at hand it was planned that every possible effort should be made to capture the fugitive and from 6 o'clock Austin a message calling for the arrest of the man was relayed over the private wires by the different operators. In addition to this descriptions of the murderer were sent to Evanston, Waukegan, Hammond and other towns on Tuesday evening. Special policemen on duty at the railroad stations also were notified and, in addition to this, squads of city detectives were sent to watch all outgoing trains and to patrol the railroad yards.

MURDERER CAUGHT.

Reported Arrest of the Man Who Shot Miss Reese in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—High police officials said today that they had the murderer of Miss Maude Reese, the girl killed by a burglar in her home on Tuesday evening. "The man who killed the girl is a prisoner at the Canastota avenue station," said a police lieutenant who had been working on the case under Assistant Chief Schuetzler.

"I cannot give out his name, and I cannot tell where he was captured. But I am positive that he is the man." Additional disclosures in the murder of Miss Reese, who was shot down in her flat at 200 Evanston avenue at 6 o'clock on Tuesday evening show that it was unusually brutal and cowardly.

Standing less than two feet from the girl the murderer fired a bullet straight through the heart of Miss Reese, killing her instantly.

After firing the shot, the murderer rushed through the house to the kitchen and jumped to liberty through a window, which he smashed out with a chair. No one saw him escape.

FOUND DEAD IN CREEK.

The Body of John McDonald, of Woodstock.

A Woodstock despatch covered with mud so as to be unrecognizable at first, the body of John McDonald, aged 22, a stonemason, residing in this city, was taken from the bottom of Cedar creek, at the intersection of Finkle street, at about 8 o'clock last night. The man is supposed to have fallen off the bridge which crosses the creek at that point. The coroner Meiers has deemed an inquest necessary. The water in the place where the body was found was between three and four feet deep. While Mrs. P. J. Farrell was crossing the bridge on her way home she heard groans from beneath, and hurriedly notified the police headquarters. Patrolmen Fox and Reddis and Watchman Anderson went to the scene immediately, and with the aid of lanterns succeeded in locating and recovering the body. It was on the bridge until Coroner Meiers arrived and then taken to Field's undertaking establishment.

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

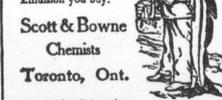

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its oil form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

A LUCKY GAMBLER.

But Don't Be Foolish and Imagine You Can Do It Also.

New York, Nov. 27.—While good luck and superior judgment of race horses has enabled Frank England, of 291 Cumberland street, Brooklyn, to win more than $150,000 in six months on 75 cents capital, it is owing to the good business sense of his wife that the greater part of his gains is safely invested. If her husband should have a long run of hard luck he would still be well to do.

When England had won about $20,000 last July, having been practically without a dollar in June, he took his family to Ocean Grove for a rest, his sister-in-law said yesterday. Mrs. England insisted on returning and purchasing a home before her husband went to a track again. She selected the Cumberland street house, for which he paid $10,000.

As his fortune piled up by the thousands she counseled England to buy real estate and diamonds. He purchased three fine houses in Brooklyn and one or two houses in Elizabeth, N. J. Mrs.

JOYS OF MATERNITY

A WOMAN'S BEST HOPES REALIZED

Mrs. Potts Tells How Women Should Prepare for Motherhood

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to childless and lonely old age. Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to a displacement of the womb or lack of strength in the generative organs.

My Dear Mrs. Pinkham— During the early part of my married life I was delicate in health; both my husband and I were very anxious for a child to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity. A neighbor who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it. I did so and soon felt that I was growing stronger, my headaches and backaches left me, I had no more bearing-down pains, and felt like a new woman. Within a year I became the mother of a strong, healthy child, the joy of our home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a splendid remedy, and I wish every woman who wants to become a mother would try it.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free to expectant or would-be mothers.

Mrs. Anna Potts

Frequent backache and distressing pains, accompanied by offensive discharges and generally by irregular and scanty menstruation indicate a displacement or nerve degeneration of the womb and surrounding organs.

The question that troubles women is how can a woman who has some female trouble bear healthy children?

Mrs. Anna Potts, of 510 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Ark., writes: "My Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

During the early part of my married life I was delicate in health; both my husband and I were very anxious for a child to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity. A neighbor who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it. I did so and soon felt that I was growing stronger, my headaches and backaches left me, I had no more bearing-down pains, and felt like a new woman. Within a year I became the mother of a strong, healthy child, the joy of our home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a splendid remedy, and I wish every woman who wants to become a mother would try it.

England has diamonds valued at $20,000, purchased within the last few months.

Although she tired of the races, Mrs. England has gone to Washington with her husband for his last plunge, taking a long trip through the south and west. She is continually urging her husband to leave the racetrack and engage in some less precarious business.

England is 35 years old, and has lived in Brooklyn for 15 years. He played the races with poor success, and craves with poorer success for years. During the most of the time he worked for the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. He was last employed as conductor on the Bergen street line, and was discharged for paying too much attention to the races.

In June he went into a crap game with 75 cents and won $10. The following day he won $500 at Gravesend. He gradually increased his winnings until Suburban day, when he won five out of six races at Sheepshead Bay, taking $25,000 out of the ring. He won steadily through the summer, and on Nov. 2, at the Aqueduct, won about $100,000 on Bedouin.

A UNION OF THE EMPIRE.

Must Be Based on Series of Periodical Conferences.

London, Nov. 27.—Lord Rosebery, speaking at Penzance, said that the only practicable union of the empire must be based on a series of periodical conferences from all parts of the empire. It was certain that the empire could never be drawn closer together by propositions from Great Britain, because the colonies resent the interference of the mother country with a great and perhaps a just jealousy.

Lord Rosebery charged Mr. Chamberlain's statement that the empire could be united in a fiscal union without taxing raw materials, and only slightly taxing food. The experiment might easily be made. Two or three richly-endowed members of the Tariff Reform League might be sent to Canada to meet a few Canadian members with the fiscal needs and aspirations of that colony, and get these men to formulate a plan or treaty which could be submitted to the people of Great Britain and Canada.

If it was shown that the various interests involved approved of it there would be something tangible to go upon. The same ideas were presented to the public we would then be in a position to judge if it was practicable or not to unite the empire in a fiscal union without taxing raw materials and food. One should then know what the colonial manufacturers thought of it.

Regarding the unemployed question Lord Rosebery thought the next Government might do well to take General Booth into his council. He has knowledge and special machinery for dealing with the workless.

FOUGHT IN THE RIGGING.

While Storm Rages Sailors Have Death Struggle.

New York, Nov. 27.—The story of a desperate fight between sailors in the rigging of the barkentine Mammie Swan, bound here from Porto Rico, became known yesterday, when the vessel tilted up at the dock. The fight took place on the night of Nov. 14, between Emilio Hueta, a powerful Porto Rican, and Otto Jansen, a Swedish sailor, while the Mammie Swan was plunging through an electrical storm off Cape Hatteras.

According to Ramon Mazingo, one of the crew, the men hung together for over an hour, each trying to kill the other. "Hueta was sent aloft to replace a block," said Mazingo yesterday. "He took too long to complete the job, and Jansen was sent aloft to help him. There was a dispute, and the two men, who were not good friends, soon got to fighting. We could hear them above the storm. By flashes of lightning we could see a knife in Hueta's hand. After an hour everything was quiet, and when a man went off with a lamp he found Jansen hanging, head downward, with blood flowing from a gash in his stomach. We wanted to finish Hueta, who is a bad man, but the captain finally got him down and put him in irons.

Jansen was taken to the Jersey City Hospital when the Swan reached here last Saturday. Yesterday he appeared against Hueta before United States Commissioner Lowes in Jersey City. Hueta was charged with assault with intent to kill on the high seas, and was held under $5,000 bail for examination.

CANADIAN MURDERER.

John Black, Formerly of Wellington County, Killed in Montana.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—John Black, aged 27, whose home is Aberfoyle, Canada, and who was a trapper, was stabbed to death at a resort at Townsend, Montana. Two women, Martha Grimes and May Stevens, were arrested in connection with the crime. The Stevens woman made a voluntary confession to the authorities. She said she drove the knife into Black's neck only when it became apparent he would kill the Grimes woman.

Opposed to her story is the fact that the coroner found $400 in cash on the dead man's person, a circumstance which, combined with the reputation of the women and the evil repute of the place, leads to the theory that robbery might have been the underlying motive. Black had a camp on the Missouri River near Townsend.

SUICIDE A' GALT.

Frederick J. Vail Swallows Cyanide of Potassium.

Galt, Nov. 27.—Frederick J. Vail, an Englishman, aged 35, employed in the Goldie and McCook's Company's safe shop, committed suicide this afternoon by taking cyanide of potassium.

The dead man was found in a room of the Imperial Hotel with the glass on the table in front of him containing some of the undissolved poison. The druggist identified the man as one to whom he had sold poison for use in photography.

No reason is advanced for the suicide. He had boarded at the Hotel Bernhart for over a year, and was a man of genial disposition. There are no known relatives in Canada. Deceased was at one time a member of the Royal Engineers corps in Hong Kong.

OBJECTED TO ATTENTIONS TO SISTER

Man Killed One Brother, Fatally Shot Another and Then Committed Suicide.

Nyack, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Because they objected to his attentions to their sister, Wm. H. Jones, last night shot and instantly killed Harry Britton, aged 18 years, and probably fatally wounded Britton's brother Frank.

Jones, who is about 35 years of age, is said to have been infatuated with the Britton boys' pretty sister, Jessie, who is only 16 years old, and has but recently left school.

The girl was annoyed by Jones' persistence and at her request her brothers ordered him to keep away.

Nyack, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The body of Wm. H. Jones, who last night shot and killed Harry Britton and wounded Frank Britton, was found this morning at the rear of the Baptist Church, near the scene of last night's murder.

Jones had shot himself through the head, a revolver of 38 calibre being found near the body.

The discovery of the body followed an object to his attentions to their sister, soon after the shooting at the Britton home it is believed that Jones after wandering about for several hours returned to the vicinity of the Britton home in the hope of seeing Jessie Britton and not being able to safely approach the house decided to kill himself.

The body was viewed by the coroner who ordered its removal to an undertaking.

The murder and suicide followed an attempt of Jones' to see Jessie Britton with whom he was infatuated. Her brothers refused him admittance to the house, whereupon he drew a revolver and began firing. Harry Britton was killed instantly and his brother severely wounded. At the hospital this morning it was said that Frank Britton would probably recover. Jones was a decorator employed in a local painting shop. He was about 35 years old and claimed to be a Cuban.

MURDER IN NEW YORK BAR ROOM.

One Man Killed and Another Fatally Hurt in an Election Quarrel.

New York, Nov. 27.—Election frauds are believed by the police to have caused the murder last night of W. F. Harrington in Little Naples dance hall and also resulted in the fatal injuries of another man who was found with a fractured skull some distance away from that resort. The injured man was identified as Abraham Juckerman, of this city.

The dance hall is at 57 Great Jones street and is conducted by Paul Kelly, leader of an east side gang. From Kelly's found on the dead man and from information obtained from nine prisoners, two of them women, who were arrested after the murder, the police learned that the quarrel started over the last election matters. One of the prisoners still had a marked ballot of the last election in his pocket when arrested.

In the bar-room of the resort, Harrington was killed during a revolver battle which left the floors spotted with blood and riddled the pictures on the wall. Bartender Bernard Escott, one of those under arrest, said that the fight started when four members of the Liberty Association, which is hostile to Kelly gang entered the room after midnight. One of these men immediately ordered drinks for the whole crowd. When every one was drinking he insultingly pounded with his fist on the bar and exclaimed:

"My best friend was shot here Tuesday morning. Are there any of you here who know how to shoot. If you do I'd like to have you begin."

The challenge was accepted, and in the battle which followed the police say that 50 shots were fired. When the officers arrived Harrington was dead on the floor and all the others, including the women in the dance hall, had fled after turning out the lights. The dead man's dog was found crouched over its master's dead body and whining.

The police say that the friend of the Liberty gang whose name was made the pretext for the fight is John Rama, who was wounded at Little Naples last Tuesday. The police also believe that a quarrel over the division of election money was the original cause of the fight.

BUILDING IS UNSAFE.

Meetings of Protestant Missionary in Montreal Temporarily Stopped.

Montreal, Nov. 27.—Mr. Mage, the French Protestant evangelist, will hold no more meetings at the Missonneuve hall, where his revival efforts have met with antagonistic receptions from time to time. The owner of the hall has been notified several times by the authorities that his building is unsafe, but he disregarded the notices, and crowded meetings have been going on there. Now, Mr. J. E. Govin, the owner of the building, has received a final notice, and a placard has been stuck on the building to the following effect: "This building is unsafe. No assembly representative of or performing whatsoever shall be held here."

Not only this has been done, but this morning an action was entered in the Recorder's Court against Mr. Govin to impose the penalty for breach of the by-law. This is the first time such an action has been entered by the city authorities, and its issue is being looked for with interest.

MANY LIVES IN DANGER.

A Barrie Baker Arrested Charged With Arson.

Barrie report: A big sensation was caused in town this morning by the arrest of Alfred E. Carscadden, baker and restaurateur, charged with setting fire to his store. The fire was discovered by Policeman Jamieson about 2 o'clock this morning and extinguished before very much headway had been made. Had the fire got a good tart before discovery, the loss would have been heavy and perhaps attended by loss of life, at the store is in the Queen's Hotel block and the hotel was crowded with guests.

Mr. Justice Tetzl, who was presiding yesterday at the non-jury sittings, occupied a room on the first floor immediately over the burning store.

Carscadden a few years ago was a farmer in Oro Township and had been in business in Barrie only a year, coming here from Orillia.

He was arraigned before Police Magistrate Radensteyn today, pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by jury.

SEVERED HIS WINDPIPE.

Attempt at Suicide of Alleged Barrie Incendiary.

Barrie despatch: Alfred E. Carscadden arrested yesterday on a charge of setting fire to his store, attempted suicide this morning in a private room at the jail, while being held for his preliminary examination. He stabbed himself beneath the heart, and gashed his throat horizontally and vertically, completely severing his windpipe. After cutting his throat he lay back in bed, pulling the clothes over his head. He was discovered at 8 o'clock, when his breakfast was taken up. Three doctors have been in attendance all morning, but there is little chance of his recovery.

In his Bible on the table was found a note, in which he bade a tender fare well to his wife and four little ones, and stated that he was not responsible for his actions. Carscadden had always borne a good reputation, and it is thought that the deed was committed in a fit of mental aberration, due to a note, in which he bade a tender fare well to his wife and four little ones, and stated that he was not responsible for his actions.
