Waiting.

Scene I fold my hands and wait
Nor care for wind, nor tide, nor sea;
I wait for mine "without time or fate,
For to my own soul to give to me,
I say my haste, I make delays,
For what avails this eager pace?
I stand amid the eternal ways,
And what is mine shall know my face.
Asleep, awake, by night or day,
The friends I seek are seeking me,
No wind can drive my barque astray,
Nor change the tide of destiny.
What matter if I stand alone,
I wait with joy the coming year,
The world shall know my name,
So flows the good and true desire,
Unto the soul of pure delight,
The stars come nightly to the sky,
The tidal waves unto the sea;
Nor time, nor space, nor deep, nor high,
Can keep my own away from me.

The Birthday Present.

Late October and a grey morning tingling to gold through the warming mist. A large, comfortable dining-room smelling faintly of Chrysanthemums and more strongly of coffee and breakfast dishes. In the heart a great fire, throwing its flames about as with joy of life. The table cloth, the silver, the dishes, the carpet on the floor, the side board, the pictures on the wall—paper told of wealth and ease, the fruits of peace, and the arrangement of these things told of the good taste which is so essentially the fruit of long peace.

The room was empty, and the first to enter it that morning was the Mother. She was a tall, imposing woman and her little mannerisms were of the kind that the latter day novelists have delighted to use as matter for their irony. It was the Boy's birthday—his eighteenth birthday, the first he had spent at home since he had been going to his preparatory and his public school. So she placed by the usual routine to place the side of his napkin the neat little parcel she had brought down with her. Two of them were from her other sons fighting in France. They were a very affectionate family—father and mother and three sons.

After that she went to her husband's end of the table and looked through the heap of letters placed there as usual by the admittable butler. It was understood of old that she opened letters but those addressed to her, no even the letters from the fighting sons when they happened to write to their father instead of to her.

This time, however, her eye caught at once, between the edges of the others, an official envelope, and lower stood for a minute by the table, her mind running vaguely into endless depths. Then she put her hand on and picked the envelopes from the heap and saw that her tears might not be groundless. But they were addressed to her husband, and at the moment she heard his tread and his slight cough as he came slowly down the stairs. Hastily she pushed them back among the others and went to her place. When he came into the room she was busy with the tin.

As usual he was just putting his handkerchief back; as usual he looked out of the window, then walk down to the fire and warmed his hands, and at the moment he heard his tread and his slight cough as he came slowly down the stairs. Hastily she pushed them back among the others and went to her place. When he came into the room she was busy with the tin.

S.S. Empress for Bay Route.

THE C. P. R. steamer Empress recently took the place of the S.S. Yarmouth between St. John, N.B., and Digby. The Empress is an ideal passenger and freight boat. She has all the accommodations of an Atlantic liner and the fittings hardly can be surpassed for convenience. Her staterooms are large and well furnished with all that is necessary, while her saloon is very commodious and occupies most of the length of the ship. Like the stateroom the saloon is furnished and upholstered in plush, while the chairs are roomy and comfortable. To the passenger travelling for pleasure or business the main thing is comfortable accommodation and no better can be found on any larger steamship than the Empress possesses. The ship also possesses a post office where letters, etc. can be posted without looking up the purser.
Another feature is a covered observation look-out situated at the stern of the steamer, where there are clear views all around, and also sheltered from rain and high winds. In fact, the Empress is fitted out with all the necessities for the comfort of the traveller.
The Empress machinery is of the latest design, such as triple expansion engines and all other new devices in marine equipment. She was built at Newcastle-On-Tyne in 1908. She is an iron vessel of 1,342 tons gross and 612 registered. She is 235 feet in length, 34 breadth of beam and 20 feet in depth. Her engines are of 368 horse power. She was on the route between Shediac and Summerside for nine years.

Hints For Campers.

- FOR THE SAKE OF THE TREES.
1. Don't throw your match away until you are sure it is out.
 2. Don't drop cigarette or cigar butts until the glow is extinguished.
 3. Don't knock out your pipe ashes while hot or where they will fall into dry leaves or other inflammable material.
 4. Don't build a camp fire any larger than is absolutely necessary.
 5. Don't build a fire against a tree, a log, or a stump, or anywhere but on bare soil.
 6. Don't leave a fire until you are sure it is out; if necessary smother it with earth or water.
 7. Don't burn brush or refuse in or near the woods if there is any chance that the fire may spread beyond your control, or that the wind may carry sparks where they would start a new fire.
 8. Don't be any more careless with fire in the woods than you are with fire in your own home.
 9. Don't be idle when you discover a fire in the woods. If you can't put it out yourself, get help. Where a forest guard or fire ranger can be reached, call him up on the nearest telephone you can find.
 10. Don't forget that human thoughtlessness and negligence are the causes of more than half of the forest fires in this country, and that the smallest spark may start a conflagration that will result in loss of life and destruction of timber and young growth valuable not only for lumber but for their influence in helping to prevent flood, erosion, and drought.

Kitchen Helps.

In order to keep lettuce fresh for an indefinite time put the head in a glass containing water and place it in the icebox or some other cool, dark place. The roots will absorb the water, which should be changed daily, and keep the lettuce fresh and crisp.
If you would save your hands from unsightly vegetable stains always peel or scrape potatoes, turnips, etc., under warm running water.
When your grocer sends you hard lemons and you want them for immediate use let them stand for a few hours in water as they will soon become soft and juicy.
A home "cold storage" for eggs may be made by placing two inches of wood ashes in the bottom of a tin pail. In this stand on the small end as many fresh eggs as will fit easily without letting them touch. Over these sift a couple of inches of ashes and adjust another layer of eggs. When the pail is full cover it tightly and put in a cool place and the eggs will keep perfectly for an indefinite time.

Afterthoughts.

Invest a little money in bonds—of friendship.
When business gets bad go hunting—new business.
Forge your troubles—by remembering your blessings.
Smile with every one—and never at any one.
Believe every man innocent—until he is proved innocent.
Be game—but not overly-eggy.
Lift the fallen—and catch the falling.

The 'phone rang. 'Is this the office of the Daily Squawk?' a voice said.
'It is.'
'Well, then, I want you to insert this death notice: 'Col. Jones has gone to rest,' in an appropriate place.'
'The next morning it read: 'Col. Jones has gone to rest in an appropriate place.'
Sit down and think it over and you will discover that if you had kept your mouth shut all day yesterday the world would be just as well off to-day.

To Check A Cold.

It is easy to check a cold if you begin in time. Frequent doses of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine keep the cough loose, allay the inflammation and so prevent it spreading to the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mrs. S. M. Moore, Shortwood, B. C., writes: 'I wish to state my gratitude to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, for it cured a cold which a friend said would soon put me in the grave.'

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JULY 24, 1916.

Editorial Brevities.

The reflector, 100 inches in diameter, for the Mt. Wilson Observatory in California, which will be finished early next year, will be the largest mirror ever cast. It will be 15 inches thick and will contain in one solid piece, 4 1/2 tons of glass.

Camp Borden, the new training ground near Barrie, Ont., will be officially opened on July 15. It will accommodate forty thousand troops, and has a score of concrete buildings, seven miles of railway, a railway depot and fifteen miles of drains.

David Lloyd George, who succeeds the late Lord Kitchener as Secretary of State for War, was formerly Minister of Munitions. Lord Derby, the new Under Secretary for War, was Director of Recruiting. Sir Edward Grey, who has been made an earl, was Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

Mrs. Hetty Green, America's first millionaire woman, is noted for her two children, explaining why there were no public bequests, her son and executor declares his mother was a liberal giver to charity and philanthropy. The announcement appears to have surprised the press and public.

Announcement so far made of the new Russo-Japanese agreement presents it in the light of a defensive, not an offensive alliance. Our noble allies are preparing for the future protection of their great and growing interests in the Pacific. One thing the alliance means is that any attempt on the part of Germany to pick a quarrel with Japan to recover her lost interests in China will mean a quarrel with Russia as well.

Something of what war means to the neutral nations of Europe is disclosed by announcement that the Swiss national debt has risen from twenty-eight francs per capita to one hundred and fifty francs. Switzerland, Holland and other powers compelled to maintain a heavy military organization, as well as to pay exorbitant prices for many of the necessities of life, are learning lessons which may exert an influence on world-thought in the future.

Did you ever stop to think what a great labor saver the home newspaper is as a means of communication with absent friends? 'Write to me often,' is the last plea of the one breaking away from home ties to those left behind. In the rush and hurry of every day life, people nowadays have very little time to devote to leisurely correspondence that people of other days kept up with such unvarying punctuality. And here is where the home paper saves a world of trouble. It is better than a letter, too, for it contains much that a letter would not. Items of interest are in it that the writer of a letter may not know or overlook. It is wonderful how eagerly one devours a home paper when a stranger in a strange land. Even the people you do not know intimately when at home become absorbing interest.

Daylight Saving.

It has been estimated that artificial light costs one cent per hour per person. The saving of an hour daily in artificial light for a nation of one hundred millions of people would be one million dollars a day and three hundred and six-tive million dollars a year, enough to launch eighteen twenty million dollar battle cruisers. It is easy to understand why Europe finds daylight saving worth while. It is a paying proposition, both in health and material prosperity. Cleveland for two years has put her clock forward an hour, and reports the following benefits: Better public health, additional hours of recreation for the toiler, better conditions for sleep, a contribution to the welfare of children, an advantage to suburban residents and nearby farmers, more efficient work in the industrial plants, closer mail, telegraph, telephone, freight and express connections with the east, saving in the expense of artificial illumination.

Greater National Economy Imperative.

For the time being Canada is able to borrow on terms more favorable than any other belligerent nation, and on terms as favorable as any neutral nation, a position due to the recognition of the unexpectedly important part she continues to take in supplying the needs of the Allies from her own resources. At the moment, therefore, her commercial prosperity is unusually great, but it is recognized by the far-sighted as being uncertain and temporary. Events at the front are of such a character as to inspire confidence in the ultimate success of our arms; but this success can be attained only by marshalling all our forces, whether of men, material resources or credit. To us the credit of the nation, or that of our provinces or cities, to obtain any essential thing, or to carry on any but absolutely necessary work, would indicate lack of earnestness in our co-operation with our Allies. In the United Kingdom, in France, in Russia and in Italy, not only by law but by voluntary sacrifice—the true spirit of patriotism, economy and thrift are recognized as being factors as important in defending our civilization as our arms. Until in Canada there is manifested the same earnestness in saving our dollars and Australia's Example.

Canada might have learned many a lesson from Australia since this war began. Political pull or personal influence does not have the same power in the Commonwealth as in this country. Take for example, the selection of officers. We read in the Empire Review:—
"The making of army officers in Australia is an interesting process. All officers are required to go through the ranks unless they have held a commission before. They must enlist as recruits for general service, and may then apply for admission to an N. C. O. school. Candidates must have a knowledge of platoon drill. It is pointed out that intelligent recruits can pick up the knowledge in the ranks in a little while, even if they do not possess it on enlisting. On passing this preliminary school, candidates are drafted to the general staff school, from the result of which recommendations are made which can pass them on into the officers' school. On satisfactorily passing the school, a recommendation for commission will be followed. The work and examination at both preliminary and officers' schools are such that an officer on active service would have to answer frequently in a day's work, and have been compiled from recent practical experience at the front."
If such a method as this had been adopted in Canada we would not have at the present time enough officers to make up more than three battalions of men waiting around for military units. Nor would so many officers go from Canada to England only to be attached to some base there because of insufficiency, instead of being sent to the front with their men. Canada has suffered much from lack of leadership of a genuinely patriotic and non-partisan character. Australia also furnished a fine example of patriotism in the matter of recruiting. No doubt there are slackers in plenty, but one reads with a thrill of pride the following paragraph:
"At a recruiting office in Australia the other day a veteran of eighty appeared, wearing the New Zealand war medal. He stated that he had been twenty-one years in the Imperial forces, and had been stationed with his regiment in Asia, Africa and America. 'I haven't many years left before I go on the longest leave of all,' he remarked, 'but I thought that I might be able to do a bit more for the Empire. It's not much, perhaps, now; but whatever it is, I'm here to do it.' He was courteously informed that no man more than half his age could be considered. Another applicant was a man who had been discharged from service in England, but had felt so improved in health after the voyage and a short time spent in Australia that, he said, he felt fit to serve again."

Canada's Next Governor-General.
It is officially announced that the Duke of Devonshire will be the next Governor-General of the Dominion. Victor Christian William Cavendish, Duke of Devonshire, is the 9th duke to bear the title, a creation of 1694, and succeeded to the title in 1912. He was born in 1868, the eldest son of the late Lord Howard Cavendish and Emma, daughter of the late Rt. Hon. W. S. Lascelles, M. P. He married in 1892 Lady Evelyn Emily Mary Fitzmaurice, daughter of the 5th Marquis of Lansdowne, and is the father of two sons and five daughters. He was educated at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge.

He entered Parliament as a Liberal-Unionist for Derbyshire W. 1891-1908; was treasurer of the Royal Household from 1900 to 1903. For the next two years he was financial secretary to the treasury. He is Lord-Lieutenant of Derbyshire, president of the Territorial Force of Derby, and Chancellor of Leeds University.

He is well known as patron of the arts, his picture galleries at Chatsworth, Hardwick and Devonshire House being well known to connoisseurs. Those in Ottawa who know of the Duke of Devonshire, say that he should prove a most popular representative of the Crown. He is comparatively young, democratic, an experienced legislator and immensely wealthy. The Capital is looking forward to a regime of large hospitality and generous patronage of all public benefactions. The new Governor-General is expected to arrive in Canada about the first week in October, following the usual custom, will probably pass the out-going Governor-General on the Atlantic.

Double Wedding.
A very quiet double wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Curry, of Hortonville, on Saturday morning, July 8th. The contracting parties were their daughter, Emily Ada, and Mr. B. A. Whitmore, Editor of the New Church Review, of Boston; and their son Leroy Henstis Curry, and Miss Mary F. Waugh, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Waugh, of Halifax.

Rev. Fred B. Curry, of Boonton, N. J., assisted by the Rev. Arthur Hockin, of Hortonville, were the officiating clergymen. After a two months' honeymoon spent in Newton Highlands Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore will reside in Cambridge, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Curry, after sojourning at different points along the South Shore, will make their home at Hortonville.

Major Stanley Jones Died in German Prison.

GALLANT NOVA SCOTIA OFFICER, PRISONER, IS DEAD.

Mrs. B. J. Lawson, of Amherst, has received word of the death in a Hun prison of her brother, Major Stanley Jones, of Calgary. The late Major Jones was a son of Rev. John Jones, formerly of Wolfville. He was educated at Acadia College, taught school in Manitoba, and saw his first active fighting in the Boer war, being a member of the first Nova Scotia contingent to go to South Africa. He was at Paardeberg and was in the squad to which Cronje surrendered. After returning to Canada he studied law at Calgary where up to the time of the declaration of the war with Germany he carried on a successful law business.

A Calgary paper states: "Mr. Jones was probably the first man to enlist for overseas service in Calgary, and perhaps the first in Canada, as he was in his application for services to Ottawa as soon as war was declared and before Canada had definitely decided to send troops to the war."

Mr. Jones went overseas as a lieutenant, was promoted to captain, and was major when he died. He was twice wounded and after recovering, returned to the front. He was in the celebrated battle of the 4th of June, was seriously wounded and taken prisoner, dying on June 8th. He was accompanied abroad by his faithful wife, who at present is doing Red Cross service in France, having lately received distinguished honors for her excellent services.

Thus another gallant Nova Scotian has laid down his life for the Empire. His many friends will regret to hear of his death. He leaves behind his wife and sister one brother, Clifford, of Calgary, who as soon as he heard that his brother was taken prisoner, left for France. Another brother, Captain Joseph Jones, of the Ward Steamship Line from New York to Havana; John, foreign buyer for Marshall, Fields & Co. of Chicago, and Horace, who is in a railway construction camp somewhere in France. He was about 40 years of age.

Thanks.

Mrs. G. E. DeWitt,
Wolfville, N. S.

I wish on behalf of our Association and of the men in the Highland Brigade to thank you personally and through you the Red Cross Society generally for their splendid contributions of books and magazines. It is the best addition we have thus far received for our leading library and raises it to much greater efficiency. Few features of our work are of greater value and real service than this. Another excellent service might be rendered by the securing of new Edison cylinder records and Columbia records, the latter we use at the Hospital, the former in the main rooms. Again thanking you, I am very sincerely yours,

National Division Sons of Temperance in Session.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED DELEGATES FROM THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

Over one hundred delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada assembled in St. Paul's Hall Wednesday morning for the annual meeting of the National Division of the Sons of Temperance. Wednesday and Thursday were devoted to an elaborate programme of business sessions, ritualistic ceremonies and social meetings.

Wednesday morning was given entirely to a business session at which were read the reports of the Most Worthy Patriarch, Most Worthy Scribe, and Most Worthy Treasurer. The report of the Most Worthy Patriarch, Rev. R. Henry Stover, of New Brunswick, dealt in a most comprehensive manner with the outlook for temperance in general and the activities of the Sons of Temperance in particular.

At 4:30 p. m. there was a Band of Hope demonstration and in the evening at 8:00 p. m. a reception to the National Division, Grand Worthy Patriarch H. G. Davidson, of Wolfville, presided and speeches of welcome were delivered by Lieutenant Governor McKee and United States Consul General Young and others.

Following are the officers elected for the ensuing term:
M. W. P.—E. L. G. Hohenthal, Connecticut.
M. W. A.—P. S. Henbiger, New Brunswick.
M. W. Scribe—Ross Slack, New Jersey.

M. W. Treas.—Marvin M. Eavins, Penn.
M. W. Chap.—Rev. D. Styles Fraser, Nova Scotia.
M. W. Cond. Lewis P. Tanton, P. E. I.
M. W. Sentinel—Wm C. Acken, New Jersey.

M. W. Patron—Cora M. Leavelle, Nova Scotia.

Thursday morning was devoted to the business meeting and in the afternoon the delegates were taken for a motor boat excursion on the harbor and the North West Arm. A picnic was enjoyed at the Diagle.

Capt Davison on Leave.

Capt F. L. Davison, of the trans-Pacific service, has been granted six-months leave of absence by the C. P. R. and will leave for his home in Nova Scotia this week. Captain Davison was in command of the Mont eagle during the period in which she was engaged in war service and afterwards went in command of the Empress of Japan for a few trips. On her recent departure outwards the Japan was again in command of her former captain, W. Dixon-Hopcraft. Captain Davison, who is accompanied by Mrs. Davison, will stop off at Bull on the way east.

The Tale of Disaster.

United States trade figures for the year-1915, just published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, show an enormous trade with Great Britain and her colonies. This trade reached the unprecedented total of more than $2,000,000,000. More than one-third of the country's imports come from the United Kingdom, and more than one-half the exports went to British ports. The value of the former was $624,000,000 and of the latter $1,679,000,000. A gain in trade with practically all the world excepting the Teutonic powers is shown by the official reports. Exports to Germany fell from $52,000,000 in 1915 to $12,000,000 last year, while imports were practically nil. In the face of these official records of a tremendously increased British trade and a practically destroyed German trade, comment on the efficiency of the Allied blockade is unnecessary. What is true of Germany's trade with America is true of her trade with every other world country, except those in immediate contact with her borders. War is exhausting her manhood and making enormous calls on her resources, which cannot be replaced by the influx of her opponents, by their uninterrupted trade in the markets of the world.

More than one newspaper paragraph has directed attention to deeds of bravery by lads who before enlistment were the bad ones of their community. An English paper figured that considerably more than 20,000 boys from reformatories and industrial schools are enrolled in Britain's fighting ranks. That these are giving a magnificent account of themselves the records prove. So far, three have won the Victoria Cross for valor, twenty-five have qualified for the Distinguished Conduct Medal, more than a score have been mentioned in despatches, several have won the decorations of our Allies, and eight have received commissions.

The recent departure of Mrs. Steele late head of the Kindergarten department of public schools, is very greatly regretted in Wolfville, where during her residence, she has made hosts of warm personal friends. The good wishes of many parents will follow her wherever she goes. The loss of her valuable services will not easily be made good. Mrs. Steele has proved herself a most successful teacher, and she has raised this branch of our own school to a high state of efficiency. She was greatly beloved by the children. Her departure is all the more regretted as it was the result of an unfortunate misunderstanding which was impossible to rectify. THE ACADIAN respectfully wishes in the general good wishes and regrets, and heartily congratulates the school which may be fortunate enough to secure her services.

Letter from Paul Davidson.

In response to the request of a number of our readers the following extracts from a letter received from Pte. Paul Davidson, by his parents, are published:

No. 415747 2nd C. T. D. Signal Company, Shorncliffe, England.

"We spent last night in the trenches... went out about 9.30 in the evening and got back this morning about 3.30. My time was spent between helping to wire about a quarter of a mile of trench, operating the 'phone in a nice comfortable little dugout and acting as line-man at headquarters dugout. My duty in this last place was to repair wires, etc. The artillery did not break them down but the officer did. He used to go out every so often and cut them in a few places just to give me experience in locating the breaks and mending them. No, he is no friend of mine. At one time a large party of the 95th Highlanders, who were also carrying on night manoeuvres up there, got tangled up in the wires and only broke my main wire in 13 places. The trenches were in a great condition. It has been raining again for several days and there was only about 8 inches of yellow clay over the bottom of the trenches. Fortunately it was pitch dark so we didn't realize how bad they were till we looked at our clothes this morning. Sunday.

Things are going about the same. Went to town in the afternoon, met Lem Baker on the street. He told me that No. 7 Stationary hospital was leaving for France this morning, so I suppose they are over there by this time; more of the fellows going over before I do. Have just about given up my idea of going to Edinburgh for a few days on pass. It is too risky. Just as sure as I go there will be a draft called for and I will miss it.

Had a very exciting time this noon. That is to say most of the fellows did. I was in the Y. M. C. A. writing and didn't know anything about it till it was about over. A grand mobilization was ordered just to see how quickly it could be done. I guess, and every man in camp turned out and fell in on the parade ground in full pack, ready for France, in about ten minutes. Believe me it was going some, when you realize that the men were scattered all over the camp and hadn't anything packed up.

I am enclosing some snaps and film that I have taken of late. The film of the fellow standing in full pack is my best. Believe me it was going some, when you realize that the men were scattered all over the camp and hadn't anything packed up.

The square pack on back contains: blanket (similar to steamer rug), great coat, 1 suit under-wear, 2 pairs socks, handkerchiefs, 1 towel, 1 pair of shoes, 1 pair of puttees, 1 pair of gaiters, 1 pair of rubber ground-sheet. Above the pack is a tin of tin canvas coat and below pack is blade of trenching tool in case. On left side is haversack and "iron rations" (tin of bully beef and hard tack), bayonet and trenching tool handle (you can see the handle in snap). On right side is water-bottle and in front ball pouches in which can be carried 150 rounds of ammunition. A fellow generally does not carry anything else except a rifle and perhaps a 'phone.

It came out in orders over here some time ago that no officer could go to the front till he had done his recruit drill in the ranks (six months of straight a rifle in the dust). I saw an officer in Folkestone yesterday who was either Herman De Witt or his twin. Went back to make sure but he had got lost in the crowd. We have changed our place of abode again but not very far. Am still in the same camp, but have left the 17th Batt. Our section, with the sections of other battalions in camp, have been formed into a signal company and are attached to the 11th Reserve Batt. (Princess Pats and R. C. R.) for rations and discipline. As yet we have not heard a word about any drafts but are expecting to most any day. There have not been any arrivals over here for nearly two months and there could be a big draft soon. Paul.

I OWE MY HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Washington Park, Ill.—"I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and romping would make me so nervous I could just tear everything to pieces and I would ache all over and feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies."

—Mrs. ROSE STORRI, Moore Avenue, Washington Park, Illinois.

We wish every woman who suffers from female troubles, nervousness, backache, or any ailment could see the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you have any symptom about which you would like to know write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free of charge.
