CHAPTER VI
TEA AT HOME.

There was no disguising Toney's words, especially as her entrance had caused a sudden hush in the conversation, and poor Sir Evas, having already made some acquaintance with Trick's character, walked hastily across the room to prepare the "way out" for that original animal. All these hasty precautions made the ladies shrink aside, for they received an impression from Lady Dove's exclamation of, "Oh! that dreadful, dangerous dog. Oh! that terrible girl," that both of these creatures were mad. At this instant, Lewis Waycott, delighted at the incident, ran forward to the window so as to save Sir Evas the trouble of opening it.

Unfortunately Lord Carew, seeing nothing but a very ordinary-looking little terrier, did not move out of Trick's way, and in a moment this strange creature had taken a fancy to his heels. With a sudden lunge he had crouched behind his lordship, and was worrying his highly polished shoes.

Lord Carew was a man who stood upon his dignity. Everyone knew this, especially Lady Dove, and she rushed forward to save this important guest from the ridiculous position he was now placed in.

"Antonia, I am surprised, ashamed! What do you mean?"

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Tells How She Keeps Her Health—Happiness For Those Who Take Her Advice.

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine."

Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for woman's ills known.

freshly or quite sent me to sleep. Uncle Dove is rather like a bumble bee in a bottle when he is going round his farms. It's very, very dull; but he's a dear old duck.

"A gentleman never tells tales; you can trust me. But if you really like a good hunter, more docile than your Beauty, I could—"

Mrs. Hales came up to Toney and shook hands with her.

"You look like a nice quiet pond in the middle of a raging sea," she said smiling, "and you haven't said anything to Miss Crump, and you, Mr. Waycott, don't you know Miss Crump?"

Mrs. Hales did know Miss Crump by sight, of course. She was often at church; but she had never been introduced to her, and had never had the courage to make the first advance. She now, however, held out her hand to the timid companion, and said a few kind words. Her conscience suddenly reproached her for having waited for Toney's introduction; but it was another thing with Lewis Waycott, the young, rich, and much envied squire of Waycott Hall. Toney introduced Miss Crump as if it were a great honour for him to have the pleasure of shaking hands with the pale, insignificant little person who looked and apparently was of no account at all in the fashionable circle. Lewis Waycott, however, had not seen Miss Crump before, or at all events had not noticed her, and he said something pleasant, for he could not be anything but a gentleman.

"It's very kind of you to sit there and see to our wants. I must owe to liking endless cups of tea, especially after driving my aunt about."

"Which is your aunt?" said Toney looking round.

"That tall lady; she is thin and wears spectacles."

Toney looked at her keenly. The quick glance of hers was very characteristic as well as searching. It made Lewis smile as Toney remarked:

"She isn't stiff inside her; but she wants to look it outside, doesn't she?"

"Oh, she has the kindest heart in the world—when she likes."

"Look, Miss Crump, what do you think of Mr. Waycott's aunt?"

"Oh, Miss Antonio, personal remarks—"

"There, Crumpet, you are like the rest of the people here. They say things behind the backs of their friends and enemies and won't say them straight out. I call it judgment."

"Wouldn't it be slightly inconvenient if we all spoke our minds?" said Lewis Waycott.

"Why?"

"Well, we should hear some unpleasant truths."

"Do you think it would be inconvenient, Mrs. Hales?"

"We should not always appreciate perfectly candid remarks," said the lady.

"I don't mind at all! Aunt Dove is saying in a whisper that she's very kind to take me in because I'm a poor relation of Sir Evas. Well, it's the truth, and I don't mind who knows it, so I wish she would say it aloud. I know when her head goes rather near the other person, and when she is giving a side glance to see where I am, that she is talking about me."

"Miss Antonio!" gasped Miss Crump.

Before poor Toney (who, however, seemed quite unconscious of the enormity of her crime) could come to the rescue, Lewis Waycott pounced upon Trick, and carried him straggling and barking to the open air, and there tumbled him out with no great ceremony as he shut the window.

Toney was close beside him in a moment.

"Oh! you really should have been more polite to him. He will never forgive you for giving him such an undignified tumble, never! I never met a dog who had feelings about his personal dignity so strongly developed."

"I'm very sorry," said Lewis, laughing; "but it was neck or nothing."

Toney, looking at Lady Dove's face began to realise the enormity of his sin, and immediately came forward to apologize.

"I'm very sorry, Aunt Dove. I really am; but uncle said Trick was not to go out with us, and when I came home his spirits overflowed. Can't you feel for him?"

The idea of Lady Dove having a fellow feeling for an overflow of animal spirits was more than Lady Carew and several others present could bear without a smile. Lady Dove blushed more deeply, and was far more annoyed by this apology than by the crime.

"Antonia, shake hands with Lady Carew and beg her pardon."

Toney came up without a shade of shyness, and held out her hand very graciously.

"How do you do, Miss Dove?" said Lady Carew, hazarding this name in order to be told how this original inmate of Aldersfield was to be called.

"We haven't been introduced properly," said Toney; "but that doesn't matter, you know. I'm Toney, Toney Whitburn. I've come to live here till I can find something to do."

"Antonia! We hope to make an English young lady of this Australian child," now said Lady Dove in a gracious tone, turning to Lady Carew for she dreaded any more of Antonia's revelations.

"It's too late," said Toney seriously; "I feel now as if I had been a year in prison, and I only came yesterday. You see I was brought up differently."

"You'll soon become accustomed to our ways," said Lady Carew kindly.

Toney looked around her and sniffed a little.

"I don't think so. You see it's the way here to go to these tea-parties and to say all sorts of things you don't mean. I can't learn all that. Aunt Dove won't like my ways, you see, and I—"

It was at this moment that Miss Crump threw herself into the breach, making the greatest effort she had ever made in her life, by coming forward, unsolicited, into the circle.

"Miss Antonio, here is some tea for you."

"Have you been out for a ride?" said Lewis, now coming up to her as she went to stand by Miss Crump's tea table, and happily for her a new arrival caused the conversation to fall back into its usual channel, though Toney could hear Lady Dove now and then murmuring, "We mean to do our best—"

Toney looked up at the young man and her face was all smiles again.

"Don't tell of me, please. You see what a disgrace I get into here. I never did in Australia. This afternoon I had a rocking-horse, and it

The Kidneys Wear Out

But its advanced years you can keep these organs healthy by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

As old age comes on most people suffer more or less from derangements of the kidneys. With some there are years of pains and aches, with others Bright's disease sets in and the end comes quickly.

Fortunately many have learned about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and are enabled by their use to keep the kidneys healthy and active.

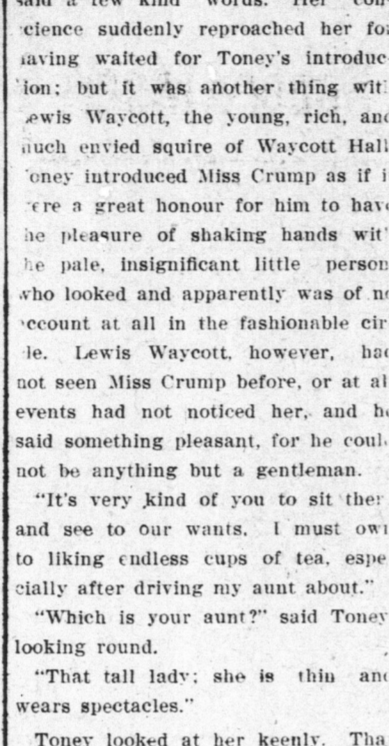

Mr. Richard Preston, Osborne, Lambton County, Ont., says: "Seventeen years ago I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills when my back was so bad that to stoop or rise was torture to me. The kidneys were in bad condition, but these pills entirely freed me of back pains. I have used them ever since, whenever the kidneys would get out of order, and now, at eighty years, am well and hearty, thanks to this grand medicine."

Crumpet dear! I told you to call me Toney. Everybody does. I'm not grown up. You haven't had a drop of tea yourself. Mr Waycott, do just see to that, while I go and find out if poor Trick is happier.

"Thank you; but indeed my tea is of no consequence," said Miss Crump, quite upset by Lewis Waycott's polite attentions, and fearing Lady Dove would notice them.

"Indeed, I must obey Miss Whitburn; she will have no qualms as to telling me of my negligence. I'm sure," and he laughed aloud.

"She doesn't mean it," said Miss Crump, trying to apologize for Toney. "She is really so kind-hearted at the bottom, and this life is new to her. She only came yesterday, and she must have had a very different life out in Australia. Lady Dove will soon—"

But now Miss Crump stopped short as she saw Lewis Waycott beginning to laugh.

"I know what you mean to say; but, indeed, I hope not."

"Oh, yes; but she will; in time, you know, one gives in. I did."

Something in the sorrowful expression of the pale, insignificant tea-maker touched Lewis' heart.

"You live here, I think?"

"Oh, yes; I'm—I'm then remembering Toney, Miss Crump got it out, 'I'm only Lady Dove's companion; she was kind enough to bring me here years ago when—when I was young, and I'm here still."

Makes Hair Grow.

McMurdo & Co. have an invigorator that will grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed. And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by McMurdo & Co., under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp in ten days or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle.

One Kind of Gameness.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

If you can make one heap of all your winnings And risk it on one turn of pitch and toss And lose, and start again at your beginnings And never breathe a word about your loss.

—Kipling.

That, according to Mr. Kipling, is one of the "ifs" whose satisfaction makes up the full measure of a man. Can you satisfy that "if" if you can, you deserve an adjective that I think might be given to women earn—that is "game."

On our return from a short trip which I recently took with a friend, she hurried up stairs to her room and came down with a beaming face.

"Well, I am glad," she said, "I've actually found it."

"Found what?" I inquired. She had not spoken of any loss.

"Well," she explained, "just after we started I discovered that my little money bag was gone. It had a hundred and five dollars in it that I was going to put in the bank. I thought possibly I left it on my dresser, but I wasn't sure, and there it was, after all. Isn't that splendid?"

"Well, why on earth didn't you tell me about it before?" I inquired in astonishment. "Why, you were just as jolly as usual all the time. How could you be?"

"Of course. What would have been the use of telling you?" she answered promptly. "It would have spoiled our trip to have talked and fretted. I knew there was nothing I could do about it until I got home, so I just tucked the matter away in the back of my head and enjoyed the trip. Now do not infer from this that my friend was one to whom the loss of one hundred dollars would be a light matter.

Quite the contrary. Simply she was "game." She fulfilled Kipling's "if."

Indeed she went beyond that. Not only did she fail to "breathe a word about her loss," but she made the effort not to think of it, and that is the last word in gameness—to make your venture take your risk, know of your possible loss, and then bravely put it in the back of your head until time shall have made its decision for or against you.

Few men would have done this, and fewer women.

To most of our sex, bred to dependency as we are, it is second nature to expect other people to share our doubts and worries.

I know a woman who is about to invest her savings of several years in a lodging house.

She has definitely made up her mind to take this step. She does not want any advice, but she does want everybody she talks with to spend their time wondering with her as to whether she will succeed or not.

She is the typical woman. Perhaps "gameness" doesn't sound at first like a very splendid quality, but when you look more closely at it and realize that it simply means the fine serenity of silent, unfretted waiting for the verdicts of fate, it seems something too desirable for us to let the other sex monopolize.

To me, at least.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherry bark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce makes a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition, which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, chest, and body," writes Mr. JAMES G. KEAY, of 710 L. Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it a grip, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

The Policy of Reckless Expenditure.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Could you tell us whether the Government is bankrupt or not? Not many years ago we were near a smash and may be in the vicinity of one just now. The condition of roads and bridges shows that there is either no money for repairs, or either indifference on the part of head or tail-officers, or both. A trifle of clay has been distributed at Tor's Cove, but only where some people have insisted to travel. The money, heretofore, has been held back till too late to get competent labor, or kept over till the fall with an eye to individual interest rather than public need. The roads are all bad and covered with loose stones disagreeable to pedestrians and dangerous to yoked animals.

There is a road from Tor's Cove to LaManche of about four miles, and it is in a dangerous and disgraceful condition. The Board for this section says that long ago the matter was brought under the notice of members, but that it was only on May 31st any allowance was made for repairs. Nine dollars to repair four miles of road running through five settlements through which there is considerable traffic! That, too, at the last of May when fishermen can scarcely spare time to sleep.

The people in this section, as well as many in Tor's Cove, feel they are being victimized. This sort of thing runs for a while, but people are not so dull as not to see, nor so spiritless as to allow it to continue.

Perhaps the road money has gone to the credit of some other account. "For ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain the heathen Chinee is peculiar." There is a good deal of the Celestial in Government officials. Some of the people along the shore are being helped to potatoes. I don't know whether they are for seed and to encourage agriculture on the new lines of the Government's Agricultural Policy, or given as a present for summer consumption till we get a new crop.

I am not aware if there has been a vote of any surplus dollars for general distribution of potatoes as seed without any political discrimination. There is usually some parity in the matter of Government work. People at Mobile and Tor's Cove have been helped to potatoes, but none have been sent for the other places though they were promised. I am informed that some special few got them. Probably they had a prior claim on the attention of the members.

I would like to know why these potatoes are sent at all if not according to special grant, and if they are why are they not distributed impartially. If they are not sent by special grant they must be sent either as a Government subsidy to the electorate, or as pauper relief. If they are sent as pauper relief why not be confined to the needy and the disinherited? Has there been any census of the state of pauperism in the country previous to or in the intention of the Government to pauperize the pro-tarlat and declare the country bankrupt at the next election so as to make a wide gauge track into Canada. There are few men on the Southern Shore, and perhaps not many in the country who need pauper relief just now. We are borrowing (by the nose) two million more dollars for railway extension on the strength of our resources, and if that be so I see no reason for wholesale deal of potatoes. I could understand the Government getting in cheap special seed and selling them at cost, or if this would be butting against the trade, taking off duty, and inspecting the import and output to ensure a good article, but doleing out potatoes and possibly at the expense of the Road Grants, is a policy that few may approve. They are now so thick skinned that you might fry potatoes at them all day and not wound their feelings, but there are some who may resent such presents as a reflection upon their manhood and independence and a sinister dodge to conciliate them by a sop, or to degrade them to the ranks of paupers.

The Government knows that the man in the street does very little thinking, is too busy about his daily avocation to study the tricks of wily politicians, or has made up his mind to take anything that comes his way as a right. I have no doubt that the last reason is a sound one. People may not be so gullible after all, and recognizing the demoralization so common to all Governments, have decided to take all they can get.

We expect to be enlightened on the potato question, and to get some explanation why the roads have been left to this time in so bad a condition, and a reason also why the usual allocations have not been made for repairs.

The Government probably apprehends that the term of its existence is at hand, and while to its last breath may carry out its policy of reckless expenditure, while the people, on whose vitals it has fattened, though the country be beggared and starved, must shift for themselves.

Thanking you for publication,

I remain, yours truly,

MACADAM SPUDS.

Portia Back From Bonne Bay.

The S. S. Portia, Capt. Joe Kean, returned from western ports at 2.30 p.m. yesterday after an excellent round trip, although fog was almost continuous. The steamer got as far as Bonne Bay which was her first time there for the season. She brought a full freight and the following passengers:—C. Way, Miss Way, T. J. Morey, W. Lerner, Miss Finlay, Mrs. Hewitt, J. Hewitt, Miss Myrick, Miss Flynn and 48 second cabin.

SAVED HIS $200 HORSE.

With 50c Worth of Douglas's Egyptian Liniment.

Mr. B. J. Lacey of Tamworth, Ont., made a pretty good investment when he bought the two bottles of Egyptian Liniment that cured his injured horse. In a grateful letter he says:

"One of my horses was so badly injured in a runaway that I would not have given anything for his chances of recovery. I tried several liniments but found them of no benefit, and was about to give up in despair when a friend insisted on my trying Egyptian Liniment, and I must say it worked like a charm, and saved a horse worth $200.00 for me."

Only need two bottles, and no trace of scar is to be found."

Mr. Lacey's experience is matched by that of scores of other stock-owners, who have been cured of various losses by the efficacy of Douglas's Egyptian Liniment.

Trouble May Ensnare.

A press despatch from Quebec is going the rounds of the Canadian Press stating a conversation had occurred between His Excellency the Governor and Sir Lomer Gouin, the Premier of Quebec, on the Labrador boundary question. Here is part of the report:—

"Sir Lomer informed the Star representative that this was a matter which his Government considered of great importance and one that would occupy their attention at once.

"The Premier said that the affair was both before the Privy Council and the Superior Court of Quebec, and decisions would in all probability be rendered during the course of the summer.

"He did not anticipate any friction with Newfoundland, as Sir Ralph seemed well disposed. According to Sir Lomer, one of the chief reasons why a hasty settlement is urgent is the fact that people in Newfoundland are selling certain limits to English capitalists and others. These limits are in the debatable territory, and it is more than likely that some of them are the property of the Quebec Government, and it will be found when judgment is given that the purchasers are paying their good money for lands to which they will be unable to establish a claim."

The serious part of this announcement is in the last few sentences. The Bond Government declined to make grants of timber limits in the disputed territory without a reservation that the title was subject to the findings on the boundary dispute, and we understand that Mr. J. M. Kent, K.C., whilst Attorney General, drafted a proviso to this effect to be inserted in such grants.

It would appear that the Morris Government ignored this wise reservation and have issued the grants without any such proviso, with the danger to grantees and their assigns which Premier Gouin points out.

It was currently reported during the first year of the Morris Government that the grantees intended to make claims against the Government should the difficulties of title, pointed out by Sir Lomer, actually arise. If our memory serves us correctly—we are under the impression—we pointed out these difficulties and the risks that were being incurred at the time it was reported grants were being issued without a proviso similar to that drafted by Mr. Kent.

Personal.

Mr. L. Layard, a famous English sportsman, came by the Carthaginian and will go shooting and fishing in the interior.

Mr. C. P. Ayre, Mrs. Ayre and Miss Dorothy Ayre arrived from England by the Carthaginian.

To-Day's News.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 LONDON, To-day.

The general council of Transport Workers Federation last night issued an ultimatum to the striking dockmen, which demands the creation of a Joint Board representing both employers and employees and declares no work shall be resumed unless all the men are reinstated. In addition the General Council adopted a resolution that in the event of no immediate settlement on these terms, affiliated societies recommend the declaration of a national strike of transport workers at once. Prior to this the employers flatly refused the demands of the strike leaders and declared no suggestion for settlement be accepted until the men return to work. A Cabinet Council discussed the serious deadlock reached in the strike. Lloyd-George is expected to announce the Government's policy in the House of Commons to-day. Both sides in the dispute are determined. Failing successful Government intervention, prospects of settlement are remote. Some rioting occurred the last two days in the vicinity of docks. It is not yet serious, but tends to show the strikers are getting out of hand.

Fatal Burning at Bay Roberts

Yesterday a serious burning accident occurred at Bay Roberts in which a resident named Mrs. Elsie Snow was the victim. The woman's body was badly charred. The woman suffered intense agony and last night succumbed to her injuries.

Relative to the affair Inspector General Sullivan had the subpoenaed message this morning from Constable Sheppard of Bay Roberts: "Elsie Snow, wife of Willis Snow, Bay Roberts, died last night from injuries received yesterday from burning caused by explosion while lighting fire in stove with kerosene oil."

Two letters from the department of Marine and Fisheries were put in evidence. This evidence was called to endeavour to prove that certain documents in this matter were typewritten in the office of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Hon. J. C. Crosbie is called and sworn, examined by Mr. Mews. At one o'clock Mr. Crosbie was still in the box.

Express Arrives.

The Bruce express in charge of Conductor J. Kelly, reached the city to-day at noon. She made up a half-hour coming across as she was late in leaving Port aux Basques. Among the passengers who came were, Mr. A. J. Boyd, Mr. J. Waterson, Mr. J. P. Graham, S. James, Mr. Aylesworth and Miss Aylesworth.

Salmon Reports.

From Little River comes the news that five salmon were taken yesterday, ranging from 5 to 21 lbs. The 21 pounder was taken from Cascade Pond, and the balance from Home Pond, Doyles, by Dr. Dunn, of Boston, who had Thomas Ryan as guide.

Marine Notes.

The Nellie Louise, Capt. Burke, finished loading to-day for Pernambuco. She is not likely to get away from this port before Monday.

The S. S. Florizel, Smith, left Halifax at 1 p.m. yesterday and is due here to-morrow forenoon.

The Black Diamond Liner Morwenna, Holmes, sailed from Sydney early this morning for this port and is expected to arrive to-morrow evening. On her arrival the work of discharging will be rushed as she will get away for Montreal direct as soon as possible.

Another Burning by Kerosene.

In a remote part of Western Bay, a blaze occurred three days ago in a house, which barely escaped ending in fatalities. A woman, whose name was not known to our informant, was lighting the stove, and used kerosene oil to help in the firing. The kerosene burst into a flame, which reached her clothing and set them ablaze. Her husband jumped out of bed, and seizing a blanket wrapped it round his wife, who was badly burnt. The husband had his hands burnt. Six children were in bed and they had to be removed to a stable, straight out of bed to save their lives from the blaze in the house, which was finally extinguished.

Before the Full Bench.
 Mark Gibbons vs. Walter Crosbie and A. W. Piccott.

This is an appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Johnson, which was in favour of the defendants.

F. A. Mews for plaintiff is heard and moves for leave to call further evidence. Howley, K. C., is heard against the motion, but later consents to the evidence being called upon being allowed to deal with it according as it is given.

Thomas Devine, a typist is called and sworn, examined by Mr. Mews, cross-examined by Howley, K. C., re-examined by Mr. Mews and again cross examined by Howley, K. C. This evidence dealt with the alteration of typewritten documents.

Two letters from the department of Marine and Fisheries were put in evidence. This evidence was called to endeavour to prove that certain documents in this matter were typewritten in the office of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Hon. J. C. Crosbie is called and sworn, examined by Mr. Mews. At one o'clock Mr. Crosbie was still in the box.

CONCERT ON SHIPBOARD.—A very enjoyable concert was held in the saloon of the Carthaginian on Tuesday evening last. Mr. L. Layard presided and an elaborate programme of songs and recitations were gone through. A collection of three pounds was taken up in aid of the Sallors' Orphan Society of Scotland.

John E. Sloane, a wealthy young engineer of Brooklyn, N.Y., is building a hydroplane in which he will attempt the trans-Atlantic from Glace Bay to Ireland in August next. Mr. Sloane proposes to start from Table Head, the old site of the Marconi Towers, and setting a course east north east will fly across the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Port aux Basques, N.B., a distance of 90 miles. The second stage of the journey would be across the Ancient Colony to the capital, St. John's, which is some 317 miles as the crow flies. From St. John's the aviator will have an unbroken voyage above the sea to the west coast of Ireland, Valencia being the nearest point, about 2,900 miles distant.

An Ambitious Flight.
 To fly from Glace Bay to St. John's would in itself be a feat unequalled heretofore in the history of aviation. Suppose Sloane negotiates the over Gulf flight to Port aux Basques in safety, he will then be confronted with the task of covering the three hundred odd miles to St. John's over a wilderness, where if he were compelled to drop on earth either through accident or other cause he would be as completely lost to the world as if he alighted at the North Pole. Should he run short of petrol and land at any of the small villages, which at frequent intervals dot the shores of the wild and rugged coast of Newfoundland, he certainly would not find a goodly stock of that explosive available no matter what figure he might offer for it. A three hundred mile flight under the most favorable conditions is considered remarkable even by most expert aviators, and that over familiar ground, so, on the face of it, Mr. Sloane's proposed flight, as outlined, seems Utopian.

Will Use Hydroplane.
 Sloane is equipping his hydroplane with motors of such capacity, and is building it so large that he hopes the raft will be able to make the 2,900 miles without a stop. It will depend mainly on the reliability of the motor or the fuel supply. The size of the machine, theoretically, makes it possible to carry enough gas and oil. At the rate of 60 miles an hour the over-ocean journey could be made in forty-five hours.

If the craft should be obliged to drop into the water, however, it will carry such a staunch boat equipment that it can float about on the waves or many hours while the aviators get their engines in shape again. It is planned to take two aviators.

Mr. Sloane has, it is understood, appealed to the Canadian and United States governments for assistance during the flight. He is anxious that the course be patrolled by at least light swift war vessels, and to this end he has secured the tentative consent from both countries to supply necessary marine policing.

'Salome' Brings a Heavy Price.
 Paris May 30.—The sensational sale of the Marquis Lanollo Carnano's collection of old and modern masters, which began at the galleries George and Pitts yesterday, was the bidding for Alexandre Regault's "Salome" which was knocked down to an art dealer for $28,000 francs ($105,600). The picture had a special interest for Frenchmen on account of the tragic fate of Regault who was cut off at the beginning of a brilliant career by a Prussian bullet in 1871, near Paris, and a group of patriotic citizens had got together a large sum with the intention of acquiring the picture for the Louvre. The limit of their resources, however, was reached after exciting bidding and the picture went to the big dealer amid groans and hisses. The large assembly keenly showed its disappointment that the master piece had been lost to the Louvre.

Insure Against Serious Colds
 Of the many forms of insurance probably that which protects you against the serious results of colds is the most valuable at this time of year when so many are becoming the victims of a gripe and pneumonia.

By the prompt use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine you can keep the cough loose, prevent further development of the cold and cure it up in two or three days, whereas the usual lifetime of a cold is three or four weeks, to say nothing of the serious results so frequently the outcome.

Mothers insure their children against croup by the use of this great family medicine, for if given frequently in small doses it prevents the dreadful choking spasms and soon effects a thorough cure.

Whooping cough, bronchitis, asthma, croup and severe chest colds are quickly brought under control by the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

That is the Man Who Did the Shooting!
 "That's the man who did the shooting. That's the man who shot Donaldson and shot me. I am sure of him." The above was the statement made by Edward Coady, one of the victims of Thursday's shooting at Birch Cove, now at the Victoria General Hospital, on Saturday afternoon, when Hubert Grant, who is charged with murder, was brought before him. Coady was positive of his identification of the prisoner.
Identified Prisoner.
 About noon Detective Hannahan called at the County Jail and he and Jailor Malcolm conveyed Grant to the Victoria General Hospital for identification purposes. Grant had been instructed by Mr. Malcolm to change his wearing apparel and also to don the clothes that were found underneath his bed in the Windsor Hotel. The two officials and the prisoner, securely handcuffed, entered the hospital and proceeded to the ward where Coady was lying. As soon as the prisoner entered the room the wounded man turned his head toward those entering the room and at once identified the prisoner.
 Grant wore his blue suit, his peak cap, and his tan shoes.
 The prisoner was then taken back to jail. During the afternoon he was visited by a clergyman and his solicitor. Another photograph of the prisoner was also taken.
Native of Antigonish.
 It is now stated that the prisoner is a native of Antigonish, but the police have nothing authentic on this, as the Antigonish authorities have not yet seen a photograph to make identification positive. It is believed that his parents are now residing there. It is stated that he had been away from home for some time, having spent several years in Boston, from which city he came to Halifax.
Found Revolvers.
 The revolvers with which the murder was committed were found yesterday in the bushes, a short distance from the little shop in which Donaldson was slain. They were found by two young men, Charles Redmond and Robert Walsh. One was a Remington automatic and every chamber was empty. The other was just an ordinary 38 calibre revolver, five chambers of which were loaded when found. One shot had been fired from it. Both revolvers were handed over to William Studd, J.P., who will turn them over to the police this morning. The revolvers were shown Mr. Egza, from whose store they were stolen, and he identified them as his property.

LONDON, June 4.
The second International Conference on wireless telegraphy opened here to-day with 25 nations represented by delegates in attendance, the British Government acting as host to the Conference. All sessions are secret, but it is known that the chief problem to be discussed will be better wireless conditions at sea. Of the nations represented, all have sea coasts. The use of wireless by vessels since the initial conference at Berlin six years ago has increased to such an extent that new regulations are needed.

Parliament reassembled to-day after Whitsuntide holidays. It is admitted the programme awaiting digestion is truly gigantic, and there is now talk of dropping the Welsh Disestablishment Bill, although this is far from popular with many supporters of the Government. It is extremely doubtful if the ministerialists dare drop the bill, and it is said the session will perhaps extend into next year.

Portia Reports Forest Fire.

On Wednesday of last week when the S. S. Portia was passing Cape George, near Bay St. George, volumes of smoke and flames were seen and the entire forest appeared to be ablaze. There were no houses or property of any kind in the immediate neighbourhood. The same night it rained heavily and the following day when the steamer was coming east there was no sign of fire.

Bankers Home.

The banking schooners Melanora, Capt. John Lewis, and Mary Smith, Capt. House, have arrived at Harbor Breton from the Grand Banks. The former with 900 quintals and the latter with 800. Both skippers reported good plentiful and several other banking vessels doing well. The vessels that are well fished and have not returned to the home port yet have got their second ballings at the Magdalen Islands. The Melanora and Mary Smith will likely re-bait in Fortune Bay and leave for there to-morrow.

Fishery on S.W. Coast.

When the Portia was coming along fish was abnormally scarce at places on the South West Coast. All the schooners and boats have left the Western Banks. Around Ramea and Burgeo grounds very little is being done with cod while the weather is continually rough. At Placentia fishing is fairly good but was poor last week owing to the scarcity of bait. Caplin have struck in there in abundance.

A Political Category

BY H. L. RANN.

What is politics? Politics is a patriotic pastime pursued by people whose lives are dedicated to human freedom and the uplift of the struggling masses at so much per lift. Who takes part in politics? Everybody who can get in and at the same time get by with a rose-tinted salary which does not have to be speared with a civil service examination.

What is a national convention? A national convention is a place where perspiring patriots get together to decide who shall have the post-offices for the next four years.

What is the order of business in a national convention? To nominate a president who is an approachable and conciliatory frame of mind and tie him onto a platform which is not intended to hurt anybody's feelings.

Who are entitled to be delegates to a national convention? Nobody but federal officeholders, members of their immediate families or their heirs and assigns.

What is a federal officeholder? A federal officeholder is a pure citizen who agrees to deliver the Third ward in one solid piece so long as nobody interrupts the pay roll.

What is a dark horse? A dark horse is a conservative progressive who is perfectly willing to be hitched up with anybody who has the electoral votes.

What is an insurgent? An insurgent is a person who trusted to a post-office petition and got stung.

What is a stand-patter? A stand-patter is a social outcast who is not allowed to do anything but protect our infant industries.

No Use for Picnic Party.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Please allow me a little space in your paper for a few remarks about what we regard as a most shameful, daring and outrageous action on the part of the Picnic Government in their extravagant wasting of the people's money in connection with the lobster protection farce.

This wonderful emanation from the fertile brain which conceived the idea of raising two bladed grass, of whitening hills with grazing sheep, of manning ten Dreadnoughts with Newfoundland seamen, of owning us all as his particular property expressed in the never to be forgotten words: "I will tell my people," and of coddling the electors at the last election by appealing to them as the People's Party will be productive of one comfort, and that is it will complete our disgust for the present pack of spend-thrifts, constituting the greatest curse this country has ever known, namely, the self-termed "People's Party."

We would like to know what there is in it to justify the spending of so much money. We wonder is it to try to capture votes for the next election that the farce is put on. If so they have reckoned without their host, as nothing that they can or may do will alter our fixed determination to turn the rascals out the very first chance that offers. However we do not intend to sell spawny lobsters to Jerry Dee, and as far as we can find out the fishermen at other places will follow suit; nor do we intend to encourage the Government in enriching a few heeled of Belleoram at our expense. Two or three Belleoramers are the only persons in the district deemed worthy of notice by the Grab-all Government, but we will draw their attention us-ward before the end of 1913.

Glad to notice that Coaker is giving the boodlers "Hall Columbia." Everybody is glad to know that Patsy has received a drubbing, and many of the Hon. Donald Morrison's friends are dumfounded over his conduct in re the timber land deal, and a great many others are surprised to find him still in office.

Yours truly,

100 PERSONS CURED OF ECZEMA

Within the past few months over 100 persons have written to the Zam-Buk Co. reporting their cure of eczema, rashes and skin diseases by Zam-Buk. Don't you need it in your household?

Mrs. Mary McConig, 913 St. Catherine Street W., Montreal, says: "I do not know words powerful enough to express my gratitude to Zam-Buk. Eczema broke out on my scalp and hands. The irritation of the scalp was so bad that I could not sleep or rest, and I feared I should have to have my hair cut off. On my hands the disease appeared in sore patches, the burning and itching of which drove me many times to spells of weeping. I went to the dispensary, but they referred me to a skin specialist, who said that mine was as bad a case of eczema as he had seen. He gave me some ointment, and then a second lot, but neither gave me any relief. "I was in a very bad condition when Zam-Buk was introduced, but I soon found out that it was different from all the other remedies. I persevered with the Zam-Buk treatment, and each lot did me more and more good. The irritation and smarting soon disappeared, then the sores began to heal, fresh healthy skin grew over the parts which had been sore, and I am now quite free from all traces of eczema, both on head and hands. My hair has also been saved."

Welsh Choir in Paris.

Paris, May 28.—The holiday yesterday and the brilliant weather combined to make the culminating event of the musical festival one of the most imposing open-air spectacles ever witnessed in Paris. Hundreds of thousands flocked to Tuilleries Garden to witness the distribution of prizes by President Fallieres. Long before the appointed time the garden and neighboring thoroughfares were crowded to their utmost capacity. The proceedings opened with a choral and instrumental concert, in which the choir of St. Paul's Church of Chicago, took part. The President then distributed the principal prizes, his own prize of $2,000 going to the London Welsh choir. The prize winners in the various classes then performed test pieces. The ceremony concluded with a parade of all the competing societies, which proceeded as far as the Bastille. The dense crowds along the route acclaimed the bands and choirs, those representing Alsace-Lorraine getting a special ovation.

Shot by a Soldier

Annie Lynch, Aged 13, Fell Dead at Doorway of Her Home. Phillipsburg, N. J., May 31.—Annie Lynch, a school girl, 13 years old, was attacked and slain near her home here to-day by Frank Brown, a former private in the United States Army. After shooting the girl, Brown wounded himself. He may recover. Brown went to the school where the Lynch girl was a pupil and told the Principal that Annie's mother had sent for her. He departed, but hid in an alley not far away, where he attacked her. She escaped, after a struggle and was shot, while running away. After running two blocks she fell dead on her father's doorstep.

Vienna, May 24.—The Archduke Ferdinand Charles, who renounced his rank and titles two years ago in order to marry the beautiful Bertha Czuber, the daughter of a professor in the Vienna University, and in order to do so assumed the name of Charles Burg, has been pardoned and reinstated to his rank. His wife will receive the title of Countess. It is generally believed that the Archduke was secretly married to Fraulein Czuber as long ago as 1901, but the formal announcement was made only two years ago. The Archduke was specially interested in engineering, and he met Fraulein Czuber at the technical high school here, where her father was a professor. The girl was but 16 when he met her, but the youth between whom and the throne there were only three lives, immediately fell in love with her and gave up everything for her sake. His name was never connected with that of any Royal princess.

King Edward and a Penny.

First One He Ever Handled—Royal Portrait on Bronze Coins. Without taking into account his fellow monarchs there are many wealthier men in the world than the King of England, but it is doubtful if any one of them is unfamiliar with even the smallest coin in his national currency. Yet the late King Edward possessed on one occasion that he had never actually held a penny in his hand. It came about in this way. Some one asked the King his opinion as to the likeness of himself on the copper coin of the realm. The King then replied that he had seen his features on gold and silver, but had never actually handled a penny. One was then produced for his inspection and he remarked that he thought the likeness was flattering.

To Educate Farmers.

Wellington, New Zealand, May 30.—The government of New Zealand intends to educate young farmers for the future. The Cabinet has allotted a large sum for the immediate erection of apprentices quarters at an experimental farm outside of Wellington. The lads will be instructed by officers of the agriculture department. After three months training a slight remuneration will be paid, increasing in proportion to the degree of industry and ability of the students.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.
Yesterday afternoon the police arrested a youth from an East End Store for the larceny of a quantity of tobacco. The lad said, his brother owned the goods and which the police have discovered, is the case and the boy was cleared of all blame.

Algerine Has No Bodies.

Capt. Jackman of the S. S. Algerine reported by wireless through Cape Race to Mr. J. S. Munn this morning. He stated that the Algerine had cruised the space between 41 N. and 44 N. and as far E. as 41 W. long, and had not come across any other bodies of the Titanic victims or any wreckage of the ill-fated ship. Mr. Munn sent him an inquiry as to the chances of discoveries from another cruise and when he receives Capt. Jackman's reply, he will communicate with the White Star people at New York for their instructions in the matter.

Famous Oak Cabinet Found

Belonged to Prince Arthur, son of Henry VII.—Discovered in Shropshire Farm House.
London, May 24.—The most remarkable historical find of recent years is an oak cabinet which belonged to Prince Arthur, the eldest son of Henry VII., and which has been discovered in an old farm house near Ludlow, Shropshire. It has been purchased and presented by Robert Mond to the Victoria and Albert Museum.
The cabinet is actually a livery cupboard. It stands slightly over five feet high, and has beautifully carved panel doors, the central one containing an elaborately designed "A." The intricacies of the carving still show the vermilion color which once covered the whole exterior.

Brutal Murder of Halifax Man.

Thomas S. Donaldson Shot Dead—Stranger Also Fired a Bullet Into an Employee of the Victim—Suspect Arrested at Windsor, N.S., Said to Answer Description of the Murderer—Gave His Name as Stanley, and Residence, New Glasgow.

Halifax, May 30.—Thomas S. Donaldson, one of the best known men in Halifax, was murdered in his shop on the Bedford Road at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and at 8 o'clock to-night a man, who is believed to be the murderer, was arrested in Windsor, 40 miles from the city.

The murder is one of the most shocking in the annals of crime at Halifax. Donaldson keeps a roadside shop, four miles out from the city. There is a back room to this shop, in which is a bed. Donaldson was reclining on this bed, and in the shop in front was an employee, whose name is Edward Cody.

A young man came along, looked into the shop, and as it was raining, Cody asked him in. The newcomer talked for a few minutes about fishing, and then said: "Where is the tall fellow?" alluding to a man whom he had seen in the shop early in the forenoon, and who had sold him some biscuits, for he had visited the place about 8 o'clock this morning. "I don't know," was the reply, and Cody proceeded to enter the room. "Don't you move," said the visitor, and with that he whipped out two pistols, one in each hand. Cody did move and the stranger fired, putting a bullet into Cody's arm. Then Donaldson rose from the bed and a shot was sent into his right breast. He fell and rose again, and a second shot was put into his left lung, and he soon died.

The suspected murderer was arrested to-night in Windsor on a description given by Cody.

At the inquest it was found that Donaldson's till had been emptied of its contents. The police got busy and wired a description everywhere. At Windsor a man answering the description was seen. He went into a shop and bought a new suit of clothes and a pair of boots. The Windsor police found the man at the hotel with the discarded clothing on the floor. He was arrested and locked up. In his pockets were $23.40 in silver.

The man gave his name as Stanley, and said he was from New Glasgow. This name is believed to be fictitious. The prisoner will be brought to Halifax to-morrow morning. Cody will recover.

Last Night's Concert.

The concert given in St. Joseph's schoolroom, Hoylesdown, last evening in aid of the church was largely attended and faultlessly carried out. The programme was: Song, Master James Foley; song, Miss Ida Howlett; song, Master Jack Savin; duet, Mr. Harry and Miss Rose Brophy; solo, Mrs. Stranger; chorus, the girls of St. Joseph's; song, Miss Annie Murphy; chorus, the boys of St. Joseph's; song, Miss Bessie Alix; song, Mr. Phil Moore; recitation, Miss Bessie Poole; duet, Miss Clara Smith and Miss Kitty Murphy; song, Miss Gertrude Malone. Particularly pleasing were the choruses and drills by the children, who were trained well by Miss Warren, and to whose efforts the success of the concert was mainly due.

No Limit to Ships' Size.

Titanic Would Have Sunk Sooner If It Had Been Smaller.

Philadelphia, May 25.—The twelfth International Congress of Navigation to-day declared to go on record as favoring a limit being placed on the size of ocean steamships. During the debate on the subject it was declared that the Titanic disaster was not due to the size of the ship, but that on the other hand its immense proportions had kept the vessel from sinking quicker. A smaller steamship having met a similar accident, it is argued, would have sunk like a stone. It was further declared that the recent great marine tragedy would have no appreciable effect on limiting the size of vessels, and it was asserted that the time is not far off when the Panama Canal will be too small to permit the safe passage of the great ships of the future.

Suicide of Joggins Woman

Mrs. John Belton Saturated Her Clothing With Oil and Set Them on Fire—Was Burned to a Crisp.

Amherst, May 30.—A horrible case of suicide has just been reported from the Joggins Mines, about twenty miles from Amherst.

Mrs. John Belton attempted to take her own life a few weeks ago by swallowing a dose of carbolic acid. Since that time she has been carefully watched, as it was realized that she was suffering from an attack of temporary insanity.

A few days ago she eluded the vigilance of her friends, saturated her garments with kerosene oil, and set fire to her clothing, rushing out of the house in a seething mass of flames. She was virtually burnt to a crisp before anything could be done to save her.

One Dose and You Will Feel Better.

We are able to produce letters from all parts of Newfoundland which highly recommend the wonderful results derived from using this preparation called Prescription "A."
It is for sale in nearly every export from the leading business places of the province. Why are you too tired to do anything? A feeling of distress after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headaches. You feel more tired when rising in the morning than you were when retiring at night.
Your sleep is disturbed and you feel as if you are going to suffocate, an effort to go to sleep again.
You have to be careful of what you eat for your breakfast.
Why go on suffering like this when you can be cured by obtaining a bottle of Stafford's Prescription "A" for—small size, 25c; postage, 5c. extra. Large size, 50c; postage, 10c. extra. Stafford's Liniment and Phoraton Cough Mixture are still in great demand.—June 1st.

Weird Execution

Julius Sirmay at His Own Request is Shot to Death.

Salt Lake City, Mich., May 24.—Aiming from loopholes in a curtain five unseen marksmen poured a rifle volley into the breast of a blindfolded man seated in a chair in the death house of the State prison here yesterday. Steel-nosed bullets ruptured the heart of the prisoner, Julius Sirmay.
When the silent signal was given and the five rifles spoke as one, his bound feet flung forward, the chair was pushed back with an upward jerk, the neck twitched, and the jaw of the dead man dropped limp on his open shirt front.

Sirmay, convicted of the murder of Thomas Karrick, 14 years old, asked for death by shooting, and his request was granted.
Up to Tuesday night he vehemently protested his innocence, warning to his side many men and women, including the lawyers and the county attorney, who had prosecuted him. At last, however, he confessed.

The s.s. Carthaginian sails to-morrow at daylight for Halifax and Philadelphia.

Defends the Mayor.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—A writer in the Daily News of yesterday's date, signing himself "Union Man," undertakes to write up the pros and cons of the settlement of the trouble between the Council and the Sanitary men, and in his tone gives exhibition of a jealous, envious, sorehead who finds himself kept in his corner by a superior, or firm hand. Citizens are not interested in the jealousies of the individual and they look to the Mayor for a cool, earnest, honest arrangement with the employees, and in this they have not been disappointed. The mind of the one signing himself "Union Man" may be measured by the following from his letter: "The Mayor," he writes, "evidently wears two faces under one hat, one for the Union man and one for the non-union man. He has no use for the Union man and if he could do without him he would." Now, Mr. Editor, there is not much of the two faces in that kind of character for it is not the individual who wears the fair face to your face and the deceptive one behind your back that is known to wear two faces under one hat, and Mayor Ellis is not that person.

Yours for FAIR PLAY.

CONCERNING BREAD

And of Special Interest to the Millions Who Eat It.

The housewife together with every lover of good, pure bread, will welcome the announcement that: It is possible to obtain Flour from which can be made Bread possessing all the wholesome nutritive and digestive properties contained in the Best and Purest Spring Wheat. Bread made from "ARUNDELL" flour in addition to these merits has that distinctly sweet and wheaty taste obtainable only from the best spring wheat.

"ARUNDELL" goes largely into competition in London and throughout the U. K. with these flours milled by special process and which have become so deservedly popular by reason of their retaining all the best properties of the pure spring wheat one of the merits of which are sacrificed to obtain the maximum of whiteness.

Try a barrel of "ARUNDELL" and be convinced of all that is claimed for it; also that by reason of its strength and absorbent qualities it is the most economical flour for family use.—may 27, 61, eod.

Darrow Will Tell All.

Chicago, May 27.—Overtures looking to a confession on the part of Clarence S. Darrow, on trial at Los Angeles on a charge of jury bribing, have been made to the district attorney there and repulsed unless Mr. Darrow agrees to tell everything he knows in connection with the McNamara plot to blow up the Los Angeles Times building, according to a sensational statement made by General Harrison G. Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, who is in Chicago on his way west.

"I personally know that overtures or a confession have been made," said General Otis at the Blackstone Hotel to a reporter for the Daily News to-day.
"The district attorney sent word to Mr. Darrow that his confession would not be accepted unless he agreed to tell all. That would implicate labor leaders of prominence, and there is where the delay comes in. Darrow will either be convicted or confess inside of two months, and he may confess within a week."

General Otis, who has been in the east on a business trip, says that he has kept in close touch with the Darrow situation and declares that there can be no question about the results of the trial.

"They have the goods on Darrow; he knows it and would like to confess and get out as quickly as possible," said he.

"What the district attorney wants, though, is to get the man who employed Darrow. He wants Darrow to reveal everything in connection with the conspiracy to free the McNamaras. Prominent labor leaders were with Darrow and he will not be allowed to confess unless he tells just what part they took in the jury bribing conspiracy. I believe that he will confess. He is sure to be convicted in any event."

INDECISION.
By WALT MASON.

Old Jasper can't make up his mind; he looks before, he looks behind, and springs a grist of hems and haws and quotes a string of ancient saws, and asks advice from Dick and Tom, and gets no benefit therefrom. He's always on the ragged edge; he makes a plan, and then he'll hedge, discard it for another plan, and then on that he'll tie the can. When Jasper started his career propitious gods were smiling near; he had more chances to succeed than any swag-backed mortal's need; but always he would hem and haw, and shy at bogies made of straw, and pause to read the book of rules, and manufacture obstacles. And Jasper, as we go to press, is snorting round in great distress. He's been abandoned by his frau; the sheriff levied on his cow; he has no place to sleep or eat; the coppers shoo him from the street. "I never had no luck," he cries, and with his whiskers wipes his eyes. "By all the fates I've been accursed; the world has kicked me from the first." I see lots more, from day to day, all headed down the same old way. The lane of indecision goes into a region rank with woes.

The New Barclay Book

Through the Postern Gate.
This romance is in every way worthy of the author of the Rosary, wholesome, sweet, instinct with nobility, throbbing with life and love. The confident wooing of the hero has in it so much of unspoiled human nature, and the hesitation of the heroine so much of tender foresight and solicitude, that one cannot but wish that life might often bring one in contact with characters of such rare naturalness and beauty. Other books by this charming writer are: The Rosary (50th thousand), The Mistress of Shenstone and The following of the Star, each uniformly bound in purple linen, gilt title, British and U. S. price, $1.50; our special price, 75c, each post paid, remittance with order.

We Can Repair That Watch!

For eleven years we have been handling "balky" timekeepers. We know their tricks. We have learned all their nasty little ways. We know, too, just how to handle them. Let us look over that watch you can't depend upon any more. If it's worn out we'll tell you so. If it isn't we'll make it right—or your money back. All Outport work finished and returned the same week as received.
