CHAPTER XII.

Marlowe nodded.

"And with the grandfather's consent—a consent extracted from him under some threat! Who put you into possession of any secret concerning Captain Demm?"

"Ester Marsh. She arranged the whole scheme when the captain could no longer supply her with money. She is a miser, sir, and has heaps of gold put away. She would sell her soul for sovereignty. I was fond of Miss Deane."

"Pshaw! I cannot listen to this sort of thing," interrupted Fairfax.

"You wanted the money of Lord Morden's heiress, and if this woman Marsh had helped you to secure it you had agreed to give her a handsome percentage?"

"Yes," Marlowe replied, nervously.

"H-m! I think that is all that you need tell me. You are both guilty of conspiracy, an offense which the law severely punishes. However, I do not think a trivial matter like this," he sneered, slightly, "will affect your nerves, for I understand that many forged bills of exchange are floating around the country, and if one of these should be dishonored, it means a long term as one of her majesty's penal settlements for Mr. Richard Marlowe. I know that you cannot possibly pay them; I know that you have used some thousands of pounds of trust money belonging to a ward in chancery; therefore your career is practically run."

"Mr. Locksley," replied Fairfax, after consideration, "I do not think that you will be further troubled by that scoundrel, Viscount Melville."

The old man started, and a look of relief came into his eyes.

"He is dead," proceeded Fairfax.

"He was killed last night, while attempting to take the life of Peters. He did not succeed, but Peters is dangerously wounded, and lying in St. Bartholomew's Hospital."

Locksley clasped his hands to his eyes, and cried, weakly:

"You must pardon me," he said, "but my troubles have weakened me, intellectually and bodily. I was once accounted a strong man, but now I am as nervous and vacillating as a weak woman."

"Mr. Rogers and I know the whole of your story, sir," Fairfax replied. "Mr. Rogers was your son's—I should say, is your son's—confidant," he corrected, quickly, "and we are both working for you and for Edmund."

Mr. Locksley hid his face for a moment.

The Pangs of Remorse — OR — A Complicated Tangle.

CHAPTER I.

It was his first and thoughtless allusion to his accident, and Lillian, flushing deeply, seized the opportunity for which she had been longing.

"Mr. Clifford," she said, in a low, agitated voice, "I cannot let you think me ungrateful any longer. I have endured a mountain of shame these last few weeks in the reflection that you have suffered so much, oh, so very much for me, and that I should take such a noble martyrdom without acknowledging it and proclaiming my gratitude."

He tried to interrupt her broken sentence, but she persisted, getting from red to pale, and clasping her hands in her distress.

He looked at her sweet face, so beautiful in its agitation, for a moment in silence, then, averting his eyes, that might have shown too much if they had met hers, he said, speaking by a great effort, coldly and calmly:

"Miss Melville, it has been the one thought that has troubled me while lying upstairs that you should over-value the slight service I did you. If you think for a moment you will see that anyone would have done the same, any man, high or low, would have stopped that horse. That it was I who happened to be near the spot at the time was an accident—an accident, pure and simple. You owe me no gratitude; I did my duty—and—and"—he paused, for he was torturing himself in making the assertion—"and I should have done it for anyone else as readily."

Lillian flushed at the hidden meaning she fancied she detected in the last sentence, and shook her head.

"You cannot explain away your noble conduct by any such sophistry," she said, tremulously. "I cannot endure the burden of silence any longer. I must tell papa."

He bowed.

"I have no right to lay a seal upon your lips," he said, "but—and here his voice grew so low that she could scarcely hear him—"but the morning Sir Ralph or any other person hears the story I must resign my post at Rivershall."

"Why? why?" asked Lillian, trembling.

"Why?" he repeated, fixing his dark eyes upon her. "Why? I cannot tell you. If you cannot conjecture, I cannot, dare not, tell you."

He rose as he spoke and hurried away from the piano.

Lillian, with her face down, did not look his way till she saw him sink into the chair, and then, looking up, she was alarmed at the fearful palor of his face.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, almost as pale, and sprang towards the bell.

But he stopped her by lifting his hand.

"Do not ring, I pray; it is only a passing weakness, and will be gone in a moment."

She obeyed, she could not do less, and as he covered his face with his thin, emaciated hand, she stole quietly back and commenced playing a sweet, delicious concert of Mozart's.

He listened and his hand dropped from his face, showing the latter calm and grave again.

"Will you sing?" he said.

"She took her songs and chose a soft, mournful one, infusing into the words an intensity of imploring expression that brought his hand to his face again.

"You sang that perfectly," he said. "I can suggest no alteration that would be an improvement."

He rose. Still seated, she turned to him.

"You are not strong enough yet," she said, gently, raising her eyes, full of compassion to his wan face.

He met the glance in all its intensity and was nearly overcome.

"I am strong enough," he said, almost with a groan; "but—but you make me weak!"

The words seemed wrung from him, and without waiting for her to pass him, he walked quickly from the room, leaving the beautiful girl with a flushed face and a heart beating wildly with a tumultuous passion that frightened her.

Mr. Clifford did not appear again that day, and for the rest of the week Miss Lucas, presence prevented any further introduction of the painful topic by his pupil.

Just Folks.

FRIENDS

Good friends are few. Not many if you lived a hundred years. You would discover, who, through all life's care and hurt and grief and tears, would stay by you.

Acquaintances grow thick. They line the level pathways and the fair. But they to change are quick. When storms come up and dangers bring despair, But one or two will stick.

Gold can be multiplied. Treasures and lands increased, but friends Love only can provide. And but a few, love ever gives or sends. Loyal, however tried.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Household Notes.

Beat chocolate pudding with an egg beater if it lumps in the making. Dip the brush of the carpet sweeper in water to prevent raising dust.

Serve fruit salad in chilled halves of cantaloupe. Garnish with mayonnaise.

Soak salt fish in water for at least twenty-four hours before it is cooked.

Dried mushrooms sautéed in butter make a good garnish for fried chicken.

Strew the floor with chloride of lime if you are troubled with rats in your cellar.

Raw macaroni can be used for the "bones" in shaping croquettes like lamb chops.

Add crushed fruit to lemonade and serve with sandwiches, instead of afternoon tea.

Guava jelly is nice with the cheese and crackers served with after-dinner coffee.

To make the crust tender, rub the loaf bread with butter while it is still warm.

Fill the cavity of half a canned peach with chopped celery and nut meats, invert on a slice of pineapple, and serve with salad dressing.

Toronto Mother Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a splendid medicine to take before and after confinement. A small book was put in my door one day advertising Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine, and as I did not feel at all well at the time I went and got a bottle of the Vegetable Compound. I had every complaint going, but I can truthfully say your medicine certainly did me good. I can and will speak highly of it, and I know it will do other women good who are sick and ailing if they will only give it a fair trial. Lydia E. Pinkham's Live Pills are splendid for constipation. You are welcome to use my letter if you think it will help any one."—Mrs. HARRY WESTWOOD, 548 Quebec Street, Toronto, Ontario.

The expectant mother is wise if she considers carefully this statement of Mrs. Westwood. It is but one of a great many, all telling the same story—beneficial results.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for use during this period. The experience of other women who have found this medicine a blessing is proof of its great merit. Why not try it now yourself?

Allies Will Hold Cologne Until Germany Reduces Her Forces

Picketing in Strike Area Leads to Arrest of Seven Miners.—No German-Austrian Union Without Italy's Consent—Italian Airman Flies From Rome to Australia.

ALLIED DEMANDS ON GERMANY. LONDON, June 5. Germany has failed in thirteen conditions to comply with the disarmament requirements of the Versailles Treaty, declared the Allied note to Germany, the text of which was given out here today. In order to obtain evacuation of the Cologne area, Germany must, among other things, suppress the present general staff and reduce the number of German police from 150,000 to 150,000. The strength of the German army must be reduced to 100,000 fighting men.

to his bedroom and on viewing himself in the mirror walked downstairs where he was found dead in a pool of blood. Finger marks were found on the bureau and mirror in his bedroom.

DECREASE IN DRUG ADDICTS. MONTREAL, June 5. A decrease in the number of drug addicts was reported at the opening session here of the fortieth annual conference of the State and Provincial health authorities, held in the University of Montreal.

STRIKERS ARRESTED. SYDNEY, N.S., June 5. Seven members of the United Mine Workers of America, District 26, were arrested to-day charged with unlawful assembly in connection with picketing at the New Waterford power plant of the British Empire Steel Corporation, and the alleged forcible ejection of maintenance workers who have been keeping the light and water plant there in operation since the coal miners' strike began on March 6th. Those arrested included Sub-District Board Member Dan R. McNeil, of New Waterford. They were lodged in jail and Magistrate Campbell said they would probably be remanded on bail to-morrow to appear again in a week. There were no fresh developments in the colliery districts of Cape Breton during the past twenty-four hours and no further attempts to remove company officials doing maintenance work.

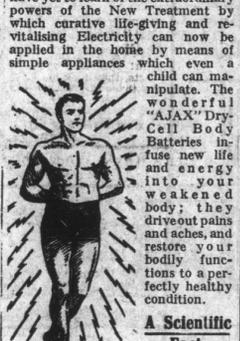

RIFFIANS LAUNCH STRONG DRIVE. PARIS, June 5. The Riffian tribesmen have launched the strongest and best organized offensive since the invasion of French Morocco, with a drive against Tanoumat, in the middle of the front.

FINANCIAL SOCIALISTS ATTACK FINANCIAL PROGRAMME. PARIS, June 5. A cabinet crisis, apparently threatened earlier to-day seemed postponed later when Finance Minister Caillaux partially surrendered to the Socialists' attacks upon the financial programme.

ELECTRICITY VICTORIOUS.

Although universally accepted as being the most powerful curative agent in existence, many sufferers have yet to learn of the extraordinary powers of the New Treatment by which curative life-giving and revitalising Electricity can now be applied in the home by means of simple appliances which even a child can manipulate. The wonderful "AJAX" Dry-Cell Body Batteries infuse new life and energy into your weakened body; they drive out pains and aches, and restore your bodily functions to a perfectly healthy condition.

A Scientific Fact.

The reason why is very simple; the motive power of the human machinery is Electricity, and when through excessive strain, overwork, or chronic complaints this natural strength has been overdrawn upon the functions get out of gear, and suffering is the result. You become but a shadow of your former self, weak and debilitated; BUT give back to your body what it has lost, and so surely as an electric bell starts ringing immediately you press the button IF THE CURRENT IS THERE, so will you recover health, strength and well-being if you will but renew your store of Electricity to its proper level. If you overdraw your account at the bank the matter is remedied by supplying fresh funds; that is exactly the point—re-fill your overdrawn system with its life power and all will be well again.

All the greatest scientists endorse our contention that Electricity is the very life of the human body, and therefore you must investigate this unflinching means of regaining the infinite joy of vigorous, robust health.

92 PAGES BRIMFUL OF KNOWLEDGE. That is our booklet entitled "Electricity, the Road to Health"—write for it at once, T-O-D-A-Y, and you will learn how a host of complaints are successfully overcome. Weakness in all its forms is banished; Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and every other pain dispelled for ever; Indigestion, Constipation, Liver, Kidney and Bladder Troubles cured; new return; Brain-fog and all nervous complaints completely eliminated. This small book will cost you nothing, but may be worth a fortune to you. Write for it now whilst you have it in mind. Special booklets for Ladies and Gentlemen; please specify which is required when writing. Do not "put off"; write at once for particulars.

RECEIVED INJURIES BEFORE DEATH. CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., June 5. Brenton Scott was fatally injured at Clyde, Rivers, P. E. It is stated that after the accident the victim walked over twenty yards to his home where he climbed through a window

Our Dumb Animals.

REPORT OF THE CHIEF AGENT FOR WEEK ENDING JUNE 5.

Attended to the landing of 75 head of cattle, 6 horses, 50 sheep, lot of pigs and poultry. All landed in good condition and taken delivery of by their owners. Very much trouble is experienced in driving the cattle through the congested thoroughfares, but under the circumstances this is done as well as possible. (Why not cloche on hour when there is no congestion—Ed.). Attended to three sales of cattle at the Abattoir Company's premises. Humanely put to death a dog, on College Road. I also destroyed a very vicious dog for a resident of Central Street. The driver of a car which had run over a dog on Freshwater Road, sent me to humanely destroy it, which I did. I was called to humanely destroy a dog on Pennywell Road, which had been run over by a motor car. The driver has not been located yet. He did not stop the car to ascertain the damage he had done, but drove on, leaving the animal in a wounded and suffering condition. I was sent for by the police to put to death a dog on Notre Dame Street, which had been injured in some unaccountable way. Humanely put to death a horse, belonging to a resident of Freshwater. Received a message of a horse being in a lame condition in a field near Winter Ave. The animal was lying down in the field and was unable to rise. I went to the place and found the man who was in charge of the horse. He had it taken to a stable where it is now receiving the attention of a Veterinary Surgeon. I have received quite a number of complaints of persons annoying cattle, etc., which have been put out on pasture for the summer. I warn the offenders that if they are found doing so in the future, they will be prosecuted. Besides those dogs I have mentioned having been hit by motor cars, three others were killed outright. I wish to thank those who have given information or sent messages to me by phone or mail. JONAS BARTER, Chief Agent.

Beaumont Hamel

To-morrow Beaumont Hamel will be the scene of a solemn ceremony, when Newfoundlanders and representatives of the Allied powers will assemble to witness the opening of the Park and the unveiling of the Memorial to those who made the Supreme Sacrifice on July 1st, 1916.

Hereafter Newfoundland will possess a dependency overseas, occupied by her heroic Dead, and it will be the proud privilege of the generations to come to cherish and maintain this beautiful memorial, which is a credit to those responsible for its conception and execution, and to which the people of to-day have gladly subscribed.

Such an occasion might surely have been marked locally in a fitting manner, but apparently no arrangement has been made for an observance of any kind. Is it even now too late to hold a joint service, for example, to-morrow afternoon or evening on the plateau of our War Memorial? It would not require any elaborate preparation, but if that is impossible, it is to be hoped that one of the services in our city churches during the day will be made appropriate to the occasion.

Inflammable Material

Nothing is more conducive to an outbreak of fire in the forests than the "slash" which is left lying round after the timber has been felled. The bigger operating concerns, we understand, take measures to have the refuse destroyed, but as there does not appear to be a law to enforce all owners of timber land to take the same precautions, it is left in many cases where it falls, a menace throughout the summer to the standing timber. During the winter logging operations have been carried on near the railway line in the vicinity of Mount Pearl, and our attention has been called to the quantity of tree tops and branches left lying round. As soon as the warmer weather sets in this country will be frequented by numerous picnic parties, and there will be a great risk of fire unless this "slash" is collected and destroyed without delay.

It is to be hoped that the owners will act promptly in the matter and so guard against a conflagration which, fanned by a westerly wind, would not only endanger the property in the neighbourhood, but might even threaten the western part of the city.

Colonel Franklin's London Appointment

The following is taken from the leading article in a Nairobi journal:

"East Africa will learn with much satisfaction that a decision has been taken to establish an Information Bureau in London as soon as the departmental arrangements can be completed. The necessity for such an office was realized in Kenya some years ago, and has been emphasized on innumerable occasions since its first realization by evidence of the ignorance which exists in Britain on many aspects of the life and aspirations of the community in Kenya.

The movement towards a wider outlook both locally and at home, has resulted, as we expected, in the formation of a scheme which includes the whole of the East African territories. Col. Franklin, H.M. Trades Commissioner in East Africa, who has been selected to take charge of the Bureau in London, possesses a wide knowledge of the commercial position in all the territories, and as such he is qualified to manage an office which has changed its meaning since it was first conceived, and is now more in the nature of an Information Bureau than a Publicity Office. But if his knowledge and experience are properly used, the element of publicity will not be completely lost. In any case, the scheme is still largely an experiment. It is not an investment that will show definite returns which can be checked with expenditure but time will prove its inherent value."

The many friends of Colonel Franklin will be gratified to learn of the honour conferred upon him in being selected as the first representative in London, not only of the Kenya Colony, but of the whole of the East African territories.

Following the distinguished services which he rendered during the War, for which he received the D.S.O. and later was made a C.B.E., Colonel Franklin was appointed Trades Commissioner in East Africa in 1919. In that capacity he has demonstrated his sterling qualities, and it is safe to predict that Kenya and the East African territories will never regret having entrusted to him the responsibility of watching over their interests and directing the policy of the Information Bureau in London.

We heartily join with the gallant Colonel's many friends in congratulating him on his appointment, and trust that the future has other honours in store for him.

Ordination Service To-Morrow

Godfrey of Wycliff College, Toronto, will be ordained priests. The sermon will be preached by Rev. R. T. Palmer, S.S.F.E., Boston.

Magistrate's Court

A man convicted for a breach of sub-section 3, section 24, of the Alcoholic Liquors Act, was fined $10.00 or in default 30 days imprisonment.

A man convicted of being drunk while in charge of a horse was fined $10.00. This is the first case to come up under the Highway Traffic Act.

Judge Morris took occasion to read the section and penalties to be imposed under the Act for the benefit of others. Section 49 reads as follows:—"No person shall drive a horse or other animal on or along a highway while unable through drunkenness to do so with safety to other persons using the highway." The penalty for the first offence to be not less than $10 nor more than $50. Second offence not less than $20 nor more than $100. For a subsequent offence not less than $50 nor more than $200.

Superintendent O'Neill intimated to the court that all persons who appear before court in future on charges under Section 49, will be tried under the Act.

Workman Had Eye Knocked Out

As a result of being hit by a piece of metal, whilst working on the schr. John Llewellyn, yesterday evening, George Kennedy, of Scott Street, lost his eye and received a number of serious cuts about the face. Kennedy with other workmen were engaged at a winch hoisting out molasses and as one of the pulleys was being lowered to the wharf the winch handle snapped off at the turn. The bar of iron about two feet long, hit Kennedy and knocked him unconscious into a dory. The piece of metal fell with considerable force, as it was afterwards picked up about ten feet further forward than where Kennedy fell. The injured man was attended by Dr. MacDonald and he was sent to hospital where an operation was performed and the optic removed. He is doing fairly well at the institution and is expected to make a speedy recovery.

Midnight Blaze at Holyrood

WOMAN AND THREE CHILDREN HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

This morning a message was received by the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs from Holyrood, in which it stated that a house owned by Mr. Walsh, a section man of the railway was destroyed by fire last midnight, and Mrs. Walsh with her three children who had retired for the night, barely escaped with their lives. The fire was first discovered by an invalid lady who lived on the opposite side of the road, and although scarcely able to walk, she succeeded in getting out of her home in time to raise the alarm. Had it not been for her promptness, the occupants would have fared very badly, as the rescue party just managed to reach them in time. The fire is attributed to the exploding of a kerosene lamp. The house with its entire contents was totally destroyed.

Child Welfare

HEALTHY BABIES.

"An ounce of Prevention is worth a Pound of Cure." Baby Week—Baby Week this year begins on June 15, that is on Monday week. The Star Hall will be open for three days, and we hope every mother will visit it at least once during the three days. The details will be in the papers next week, and we are sure you will find something of interest there this year.

The "Mother-Crutch Shield" for the Competition has arrived, and it is a possession of which the Welfare Centre is very proud. Come and see it at the Star Hall on June 15.

Baby's Bottles—Unfortunately many babies are "bottle-fed," so that the kind of bottle becomes quite an important factor. Things to remember when buying a bottle for baby:—
 1.—One that can be cleaned easily, therefore rounded corners are better than square;
 2.—One on to which the rubber nipple is pulled on and off easily, so that both the bottle and nipple are thoroughly cleansed before each feeding;
 3.—If possible a graduated bottle, one on which the ounces are marked clearly, so that Mother can tell the exact amount baby has at each feeding.

Lately we have seen a few really old-fashioned long-tubed bottles. They are one of the worst things baby can have. It is impossible to keep them clean. They ruin baby's digestion. They nearly always give him "Thrush" and they are altogether bad. The way we give baby his meals is very important.

Caplin Plentiful in Placentia Bay

Caplin struck in at Red Island and vicinity during the past week and Wednesday were very plentiful. Fish is following the caplin and the prospects for the fishermen there are good. A number of "jacks" fishing outside Placentia Harbor had some good fares on Thursday. At Mersheen caplin are not plentiful, but the fishermen are doing exceptionally well with codfish. Boats using jigger or trawls take from four to five quintals daily.

Convicted of Robbery

The young woman belonging to Argentina who was arrested in the city last week by Detective Lee, in connection with a burglary at the store of Philip O'Reilly, Argentina, was tried at Placentia on Thursday by Magistrate Sinnott, and on conviction was fined $50.00. The robbery occurred on last Sunday night and the girl in gaining entrance to the store broke a window and cut her hand. Blood marks left on the glass led to her arrest. After the robbery she fled to the city and was located at an uptown boarding house, with her hand in bandage. Most of the stolen money was found on her person.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

$250,000 FOR FISH CULTURE. OTTAWA, June 6. An estimate for $250,000 for fish culture was carried in the House of Commons yesterday following considerable discussion.

TWO LIVES LOST IN A LANDSLIDE. HAMILTON, Ont., June 6. Leonard Wickens, 35, and Thomas Moore, 25, both of Dundas, near here, lost their lives in a landslide at Dundas quarry yesterday. Vernon Crozier, another workman, was injured.

GREAT FULL DEMONSTRATION FOR THE PRINCE. ESHOWE, South Africa, June 6. The Prince of Wales' party arrived here yesterday from Durban to find 25,000 Zulu warriors already assembled for a spectacular display set for to-day. All warriors carry shields and knobkerries, but are not equipped with assegais or native spears because it is feared the wild excitement of the native warlike gyrations might possibly lead to actual fighting.

AMERICAN CONTINENT PROSTRATED BY SIZZLING HEAT.

CHICAGO, June 6. From the rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard the country sweltered last night in the grip of a record breaking heat wave, while weather reports held out little hopes of relief, and the death tolls and prostrations increased. Tabulations revealed that the hot weather and violent storms which accompanied the heat wave have taken a toll of upwards of 175 lives during the past few days. Weather forecasts indicated that sizzling temperatures would continue until Sunday at least. In many cities the Mercury climbed to a new altitude record, causing additional deaths and prostrations, starting fires, causing the closing of schools and interfering with business in Chicago. Two fires were attributed to the sun's rays on combustible material. Bathing beaches were opened and people were admitted to the parks to sleep, and ice was given to the poor without charge. Cities along the Atlantic seaboard sweltered in temperatures ranging from 90 to 100 degrees.

TEMPERATURE OF 104° REGISTERED.

NEW YORK, June 6. New York City, gasping for breath in a temperature of 96°, reported 15 deaths to be had yesterday, and 80 cases of prostration required medical attention. Over 15,000 slept in the parks last night. The Government Observer at Keedyville, N. Y., registered 104°.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

June 5th.—Having my old gray suit new furnished, I was pretty neat in my clothes to-day, albeit the weather such that the oldest clothes are best, and in particular am I disgusted with certain of the city's sidewalks which are more than ankle deep in mud. But Lord, what is still worse is that I am splashed all over with mud by the motor coaches that are on every street in greater numbers than ever before. Indeed, there are now more than 300 of them in the city and every steamer that arrives in this port brings more of them. Povey tells me how many coaches do drive about without identification plates and he thinks it a serious matter that this should be permitted, being that if temporary plates may not be secured, the coaches should remain in their garages until they do obtain them. My wife complaining bitterly of the weather, I did chide her for it, since it is much better that we should suffer the heat than be prostrated with the heat as the public despatches tell us, do now happen in America. Newses of the fishery good on every hand and in particular, the banking vessels do well, which is a means of revival of interest in this form of fishing, is indeed a good thing for the country.

Met With Tragic Death

Detective Walsh, who was detailed to investigate the tragic death of Grace Williams, of Isle of Valen, on Sunday, May 24th, returned to the city yesterday, which is a revival of interest in this form of fishing, is indeed a good thing for the country.

Portia Returns From Westward

S.S. Portia, Capt. Thos. Connors, returned from the westward at 4.30 p.m. yesterday, after a round trip passage of nine days. She brought a small freight and the following saloon passengers:—Rev. Greavett, Mrs. Wheatman, Jos. Fagan and John Carew, besides three in steerage. Most of the passengers landed at Argentia and reached the city by train. The Portia was delayed at Port aux Basques on Monday last, awaiting the arrival of Sunday's express, to bring the mails down the coast, whilst delay was also caused by fog on the run east from Argentia. Capt. Connors reports the fishery good all along the coast, particularly at St. Lawrence, Burin and Lamaline, though there is scarcity of herring for bait. On Wednesday last captain struck in at Red Island, Placentia Bay, and with this bait good catches were secured. The Portia is docked at Bowring Brothers' North-side premises and sails again on Tuesday next.

Total Disability Clause and Double Indemnity Feature

When Illness or Accident Interrupts Your Earning Power

MOST families depend upon one man's earning power. Does yours? How would you pay your insurance premiums if you were totally disabled by accident or sickness?

The Mutual Life of Canada has the answer ready if you will call up the nearest Mutual agent. Ask him about the Total and Permanent Disability Clause, which will be inserted in Mutual policies, old or new, for a small additional premium, providing accident and sick benefit insurance and making lapsation practically impossible.

Ask also about the Double Indemnity feature under which your Mutual life insurance policy pays double its face value in case of death by accident. Mutuality reduces the cost.

St. Peter's Dome Spectacle

Rome, May 13.—Crowds probably larger than any ever seen inside St. Peter's since the coronation of Pope Plus X, 22 years ago, to-day, witnessed the coronation of the French nun Sister Teresa—known to Roman Catholics as the "Little Flower"—performed by the Pope this morning. Michel Angelo's great dome was illuminated to-night by 500 lanterns and 2,500 torches at a cost of £1,250. The facade, too, was brilliantly lighted, and the spectacle was one Rome has not seen, since 1870.

St. Peter's was specially decorated for the occasion, and, besides the torches, many thousand electric lights were distributed throughout the church. Tapestries showing the new saint's miracles hung from the balconies both inside and out, while a marble tablet commemorating the event was placed over the main entrance.

The Pope's throne was erected in front of the main altar facing the Altar of Confession, where the Pope celebrates Mass under the baldachin supported by Bernini's famous bronze columns, in the centre of the basilica under the dome.

Twenty-five thousand pilgrims journeyed from France alone to attend the ceremony, and many thousands more came from all parts of the world.

Seen by a Million.

The long service, filled with mystic ritual, lasted more than six hours. A great novelty was introduced in the shape of a loud speaker, which functioned for the first time within the precincts of the Vatican and carried the Pope's voice to all corners of the huge basilica.

The crowning moment of the ceremony came when the famous silver bugles blared from the top of the dome at St. Peter's, filling the church with a mellow melody.

A few hours after this fatiguing ceremony, the Pontiff again visited the basilica to venerate the new saint, this time also in the presence of immense crowds.

The illumination of the dome, colonnade, and obelisk of St. Peter's gave the huge basilica the appearance of being enveloped in a veil of fire.

About a million people saw this splendid spectacle, St. Peter's-square, which is capable of holding 200,000 people, was packed. Many thousands of people motored to the surrounding hills many miles away to enjoy the spectacle of St. Peter's blazing like a gigantic torch.

Newfoundland Firm

TAKES ACTION IN BARBADOS AGAINST AGENT.

The Monroe Export Co., Ltd., v. Kinch. At the sitting of the Court of Chancery to-day, there was heard an action brought by the Monroe Export Co., Ltd., of St. John's, Newfoundland, against C. H. Kinch, Commission Agent of this city, applying to the Court for an order that: (1) proper accounts be taken to ascertain, (a) the amount of overcharges alleged to have been made by the defendant to the plaintiff Company; (b) the true prices obtained by the defendant for certain consignments of fish, salmon and herrings sold by him as the plaintiff Company's agent; and (c) any profits that had been improperly made by the defendant as agent of the plaintiff Company; (2) that the defendant be declared liable to pay the plaintiff Company the amount found due to him on the taking of such accounts.

Messrs. E. K. Walcott and E. R. Ward, barristers-at-law, instructed by Messrs. Hutchison & Williams, solicitors, appeared for the plaintiff Company, while H. W. Reese, K.C., Acting Attorney General, instructed by W. S. Patterson, solicitor, appeared for the defence.

The plaintiff company, in their statement of claim, said they were a company organized, incorporated and registered under the laws of Newfoundland having their principal place of business at St. John's, Nfld. They exported to Barbados fish, salmon and herrings, and imported from Barbados sugar, molasses and other merchandise, and they were at present represented in this island by Michael Anthony Shea, their duly constituted attorney.

They alleged that they employed the defendant as their commission agent in Barbados, and from time to time from the year 1913 to the year 1922 consigned fish, salmon, and herrings to him to be sold for, and on their account, on a commission of 5 per cent for which the defendant guaranteed to the plaintiff company the prices of the goods sold. The defendant was also from time to time from the year 1913 to the year 1922 their agent in Barbados for the purchase on their behalf, of sugar and molasses, and had accounted to them from time to time for his alleged receipts and payments on their account.

The plaintiff had discovered that the defendant was not acting fairly with, nor accounting accurately to them as to the business transacted by him as their agent, and that the accounts rendered by him were in certain respects erroneous and fictitious, namely:—(a) That instead of accounting as the agent of the plaintiff company for the sale of others of fish, salmon and herrings consigned to him he was himself sometimes the purchaser thereof; (b) That in his accounts of the sales of consignments of fish, salmon and herrings the true prices he obtained for the same were not stated by him; (c) That he took credit in his accounts for the payment of customs duty alleged to have been paid by him on the said fish, salmon and herrings whereas in fact some of the said duty was never paid by him and was wrongly charged in his accounts against the plaintiff company; (d) That he charged the plaintiff company in some instances for more molasses than he actually purchased for, and shipped to them. In view of these discoveries the plaintiff company through their solicitors wrote to the defendant asking for an inspection of such books, papers and documents as contained any information relating to the sale of consignments of fish, salmon and herrings and the purchase of molasses by him as their agent. But the defendant through his solicitor refused to allow such inspections.

They had also called upon him, through his solicitor for a true and accurate account of his dealings as their agent during the whole time of his agency, but the defendant had refused to furnish such accounts. The plaintiff company therefore filed the claims as already stated.

The defendant in his answer, admitted that the plaintiff company consigned fish, salmon and herrings to him to be sold on their account on a commission of five per cent, for which he guaranteed the prices of the goods sold, but claimed that this transaction ran between the years 1919 and 1922, and not from 1913 to 1922 as alleged by the plaintiff's bill of complaint. He was also the agent for the plaintiff company for the purchase of molasses on their behalf from 1919 to 1922, and not from 1913 to 1922 as the plaintiff stated. He had at all times acted fairly with, and had already fully and accurately accounted to the plaintiff company as to the business transacted by him as their agent, and he denied that the accounts were erroneous or fictitious in the respects set out in the bill of complaint or at all.

Mr. Walcott opened the plaintiff's case briefly, and called as his first witnesses M. A. Shea and Wilbert Taylor. The evidence given by Mr. Shea was closed, and Mr. Taylor had reached the end of his evidence-in-chief when the Court adjourned to 10.30 a.m. to-day.—Barbados Advocate, May 12.

THOSE NINE HUNDRED AND NINETY THOUSAND GARDENS.

I have been told that there are about a million people in this country who are trying, or have tried, to write fiction or poetry. To tell the truth, there have been times when I am over my little private graveyard in a corner of the old secretary.

Which paragraph will explain why personally, I found your letter which was to me recently very interesting. And also why I think there was a lot of other people who might find it pertinent.

Dropped The Pen For The Spade. Says the writer in the course of a very rambling delightful letter: "You know I used to try to write some beautiful poetry. I tried my best, as I thought, but after some crushing disappointments I looked over my assets and decided to leave the pen alone and take up the humble spade."

"I had some land, kind of slanting and out of shape, but plenty of it so I did some thinking and the result is rather wonderful flower garden. And now every spring I add another stanza to my poem written in lovely verse."

"You see I found out through disappointment that the spade was mightier than the pen. There may be enough poetry in the world so that we can get all we need of it but there is yet no over-supply of beautiful flower gardens."

Don't you think she is a true philosopher? I do. Think how much lovelier the world would be if everyone who turns the inevitable desire for self-expression into poetry and shapeless thoughts that will never see the light of the printer's office, would put that energy instead into the making of a flower garden!

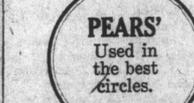

New Love's This Country Would Be, if instead of nine hundred and nine-

DEAD MEN'S SHOES.

WALT MASON

My Uncle Hiram had a war, and often I'd reflect, "When he's at rest, beneath the sod, his bundle I'll collect." 'Twas in the hazy long ago when first this dream was mine; my uncle's hair was white as snow, his age was eighty-nine; he had diseases ten or twelve and I was feeling sure the sexton soon for him would delve a grave in yonder moor. I had no use for honest toil, though I was always broke; why should I plow the stubborn soil, or chop the twisted oak? Why should I shovel loads of coal, or work with brick or stone? My uncle Hiram had a roll that soon would be my own. I had no coin to pay the rent, no place where I could board; my thoughts were always madly bent on Uncle Hiram's hoard. "The way he hangs on is a crime," in my sad heart I said; "he lives along on borrowed

Little Jack Rabbit by David Cory

"Are you sure that the Farmer's Boy has gone?" again asked Lady Love, Little Jack Rabbit's pretty bunny mother, although her voice did not tremble as much as in the last story. I'm glad to say.

"Yes, he's gone for his gun."

"Oh dear and Oh dear," cried the poor little lady rabbit, her pretty pink nose twinkling with fright just like a star on a frosty night.

"Danny Fox was hiding in the Bramble Patch when the Farmer's Boy was trying to get in," answered Bobbie Redvest. "My wasn't the old fox scared when he saw him. He took to his heels and ran off to the Shady Forest. On seeing him, of course, the Farmer's Boy forgot everything else and hurried back to the farmhouse for his gun. So now you're rid of both. I'm glad to say."

"I wonder where's my little boy," suddenly exclaimed Lady Love, growling anxious at the thought that he might be seen by the old fox.

"Don't worry about him," answered the little bird. "Why, here he comes now down the Old Cow Path."

Hopping quickly to the front gate in the white picket fence, the anxious little lady rabbit looked out across the Sunny Meadow. Not far away Mrs. Cow was contentedly grazing, the little bell at her collar now and then, and sometimes oftener, making a little tinkie as she moved her head.

Just then Peter Pig in his donkey cart came up over the hilltop. "Hey there, bunny boy," he shouted, "what's your hurry? You're going so fast your shadow can't keep up with you."

"I was worrying over Mother. But not now," answered the little rabbit.

"There she is at the gate." "I guess she does most of the worrying. Mothers usually do," grunted Peter Pig, clicking his tongue against his teeth to hurry on the lazy donkey, for the bunny boy had started off again, clipperty clip, lipperty lip, his little knapsack bouncing up and down on his back and his red-striped candy cane swinging from his left paw.

"Hungry Hawk tried to catch me," he gasped, hopping right into his mother's arms, just the way you do, Little Reader, and just the way I used to do when a boy. "I was afraid he might spy you in the rose garden." Then suddenly remembering that he had seen the Farmer's Boy was trying to creep into the Old Bramble Patch, the bunny boy added, "I'm all mixed up. Mother dear. I asked Bobbie Redvest to tell you that the Farmer's Boy was trying to get into our Bramble Patch."

"There, there," soothed Lady Love, folding her little rabbit to her calico apron. "Mother's safe and you are here; just forget each haunting fear."

"Any old rags," shouted Peter Pig, pulling in his donkey. "I'm buying rags to-day."

"No, Mr. Peter Pig," answered Lady

Love with a smile, "I used all I had to make a little rug for the back stoop."

"Dear me, I've come all the way over for nothing," grumbled Peter Pig, flicking fly off his donkey's back with the whip. "Too bad. Do you suppose Cousin Cottontail has any?"

"You might try," answered Lady Love, closing the gate. Then away drove the old pig in his donkey cart and up the path hopped the little bunnies to their little white house. And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

Britain's King and Queen

SPEND THEIR FIRST EVENING AT A PICTURE SHOW.

The King and Queen just spent their first evening in a picture palace recently. For several years past the Royal Family has interested itself in the movies, and command performances have been given at Balmoral and elsewhere in private rooms specially fitted up for the occasion with a small screen, a portable projector and an orchestra composed of a piano and a few strings. The Prince of Wales has sponsored the British cinema as patron, star and spectator in one. The King and Queen have played their parts in a hundred capitals.

But for the first time their Majesties attended a public performance in a picture-house and sat amongst the audience in a box cunningly constructed with anterooms and connecting passages from the back rows of the stalls.

A film reproduction of the attack on Zeebrugge in 1918, made with great care and vigor by a British company and fully approved by the Admiralty, was the core of the entertainment, and there followed an animated cartoon of Bonzo, the study dog, and a number of scenes of the arrival of the King and Queen at the theatre just one hour and thirty minutes earlier.

The best seats, according to the custom of the movies, being placed as far as possible from the screen, their Majesties enjoyed for at least one evening of their lives an undisturbed and unaccustomed view of the Englishman's back registering pleasure in seats which cost a guinea apiece and which could have been sold a dozen times over before the performance began.

"Zeebrugge" will be shown at the Nickel Theatre Monday, June 15th.

Woman Reveals Past to Save Another

A woman revealing her own past, hating to the world a secret which robbed her of her good name and imperiled her future, all for the sake of another woman.

That is one of the powerful dramatic situations in First National's "The Woman on the Jury," which is coming to the Star Theatre Monday. It is based on Bernard K. Burns' Broadway success, and was directed by Harry O. Hoyt.

Sylvia Breamer plays the part of the woman who braved the scorn of the world for another, Bessie Love playing the latter part. Both had been the victims of George Wayne (Law Cody), a "cheater of women" who cast aside his conquests when he had tired of them. One of the women had taken the repulse calmly; the other facing a serious situation, had brought about a tragic climax to her love adventure.

Fate placed a woman on the jury which was to try her for murder—and that woman was the only person in the world who could save her. How she accomplished this forms an episode of high dramatic power.

In addition to those named, the cast of "The Woman on the Jury" consists of Frank Mayo, Mary Carr, Hobart Bosworth, Myrtle Stedman, Henry B. Walthall, Rob Stewart, Jean Hersholt, Ford Sterling, Arthur Lubin, Stanton Heck, Fred Warren, Arthur S. Hull, Kewpie King, J. Edward Davis and Leo White.

"A Woman Who Sinned."

Finis Fox's hitherto untold tale of the metropolis—the wickedest city in the world—projecting in terms of terrific drama the life of New York as hundreds of thousands are living to-day!

Fox used twenty-five hundred persons in the big revival scenes, utilizing two of the big stages at the Hollywood studios. See it at the MAJESTIC Monday, June 8, 11

A 100 Million Dollar Corporation, the largest producers of Tires in the world, offers you, their new Supertwist Cord, at Bargain prices, Plus service. SUPERTWIST is the elastic new cord fabric developed in Goodyear's own cotton mills. It was developed specifically to give balloon tires greater mileage. It does this because it o-u-t-s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-s any other cord design—yields to the blows of the road without breaking.

So excellent were the results obtained with SUPERTWIST in Goodyear Balloons that it is now used in all Goodyear Cord Tires.

The popular Goodyear All Weather Tread, in the new Supertwist Cord, is now priced as follows:

31 x 4	23.00
32 x 4	24.00
33 x 4	25.00
34 x 4	28.00

34 x 4 1/2	32.00
35 x 4 1/2	34.00
33 x 5	45.00

Balloon, Truck Tires, and Heavy Duty Red Tubes at correspondingly low prices. All fresh 1925 stock.

The prices quoted are possible only because Goodyears have the largest sale of any tire in the world and are sold all over the world. Goodyear buys raw materials in huge quantities—and gets the lowest prices. Goodyear, through its branches in every part of the world, knows when to buy. Goodyear has lowest overhead costs because they are spread over millions of tires. Goodyear factories operate day and night, further reducing manufacturing costs. Goodyear gets the pick of tire builders because their jobs with Goodyear are full-time, steady jobs.

Obituary

JOHN CONNORS.
 In the springtime of the year and in the springtime of his own life, for he had just reached the age when he should be in the full bloom of his youth, there passed to his reward yesterday evening, John Connors, son of Mr. Timothy and Mrs. Annie Connors. He was a pupil of St. Patrick's Hall, where he was held in the highest esteem by both teachers and pupils. He was in every sense a lovable, kind and affectionate son, and the flowers that will decorate his grave will be symbolic of the purity and innocency of his soul. His life was one of duty, pleasantly performed and it was his proud boast that he was ever to be found under the shadow of his own home. While attending school he was noted for his quiet and gentle disposition and he always made good use of his time. For some months previous to his death he had been in failing health, but no word of complaint ever escaped his lips. From the disease which he suffered it was seen that his days were numbered. His journey was short, his crown quickly won, he died a holy and edifying death on June 5th. The funeral takes place on Sunday at 2.30 p.m., from his late residence, 59 Harvey Road. On his death many heartfelt expressions of sympathy will go out to his bereaved parents from their numerous friends.

"Charley's Aunt" With Syd Chaplin

PHENOMENAL SUCCESS COMING TO THE NICKEL MONDAY.
 The Nickel Theatre has been very fortunate in securing the biggest comedy success in the history of motion pictures. The title of this great picture is "Charley's Aunt" which opens on Monday.
 Charley and Jack were fiercely in love but they couldn't get the sweet young things alone long enough to propose.
 So when they learned that "Charley's Aunt from Brazil" where the nuts come from" was going to pay them a visit, they gave three rousing cheers and invited the girls for luncheon.
 The girls arrived, and so did a wire from "Auntie" saying she'd be delayed. The boys were panic-stricken. They knew the girls wouldn't stay without a chaperone.
 Then "Babbs" on his way to a play rehearsal dropped in, adorned in curls, bonnet and black taffeta and looking for all the world like a dear little old lady. The boys grabbed him and hastily introduced him as "Charley's Aunt."
 Did the girls fall for "Auntie"? We'll say they did!
 Then follows a host of embarrassing situations which make some of the most hilarious comedy ever shown on the screen.
 If you fall to see "Charley's Aunt," you're missing the funniest stage farce ever written—it "tickled" audiences of the theatre thirty-three years ago and has been tickling them ever since! It's a scream!

She Was Obligated To Take to Her Bed

Then Mrs. J. Derocher Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.
 Quebec lady suffered from kidney trouble and found complete relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.
 South Stukely, Que. June 5—(Special)
 That relief can be obtained from all kinds of kidney disorders by using Dodd's Kidney Pills is again evidenced by the testimonial received from Mrs. J. Derocher, a well known and highly respected resident of this place. She writes:
 "I was attacked with a malady that at first I did not think was serious until about the beginning of last March, when it became evident that I could do nothing. I consulted a doctor and he told me I was suffering from kidney trouble.
 "I was obliged to take to my bed. I had a Dodd's Almanac in the house and read a few of the testimonials, then bought 3 boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and a box of Diamond Dinner Pills.
 "I can assure you that they have made me well, and the pain in my back between the shoulders is gone. I am completely relieved of my trouble."

A Disgrace to the City

Is it too much to ask the Municipal Council to have a truck load of gravel dumped on the filthy sidewalk on the corner of Queen's Road and Rawlin's Cross, for the sake of appearances and out of consideration for the number of people who daily pass that way? Both the middle of the road, with pot holes and projecting rails and this sidewalk, are in a disgraceful condition and should receive attention. This is the second time of asking.

RASH ITCHED ALL THE TIME

On Face, Skin Sore and Red. Healed by Cuticura.
 "I was troubled with a rash on my face and the skin was sore and red. It itched and burned all the time causing me to scratch, and the scratching caused eruptions. My face looked terrible, and the trouble lasted about four months.
 "I used other remedies but did not get results. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got relief in a short time. I continued the treatment and in about six weeks I was completely healed."

"Bringing Charm and Beauty to Every Woman"

RICHARD HUDNUT
THREE FLOWERS' CLEANSING CREAM
 Used instead of hard water for cleansing the skin for Acne, pimples, freckles or other outdoor activities.

No woman who desires to maintain a smooth, youthful complexion can afford to be without Three Flowers Skin and Tissue Cream, for it performs three valuable functions.
 It protects the skin, nourishes it, and prevents wrinkles. Its basic ingredient is a pure oil famous for its protective and nourishing qualities. Absorbed by the skin, this oil feeds the skin tissue and enables it to function in a perfectly natural and healthy manner.—$1.20

The Cleansing Cream is generally used at night, or after motoring or exposure to dust and dirt.
 Soap and water will not remove all the grime the skin collects. Some of it works its way so far into the pores that it requires a deeper, more thorough cleansing.
 Three Flowers Cleansing Cream is designed to give the skin this deep cleansing. It is a pure white, satiny cream, containing sufficient pure oil to absorb all the dirt the pores hold, but not enough to clog them with oil.—85 Cents.

The value of using all three Creams.
 Used regularly and faithfully, these three creams together will do more to keep the skin thoroughly clean, free from blemishes, fresh, youthful, firm and unlined, than any other treatment. There is no type of skin that is not benefited by their use. A very oily skin reacts wonderfully to the Three Flowers treatment. It opens the overloaded pores and allows them to throw off the excessive oil that has become habitual to them. On this type of skin all three creams can be used generously, even lavishly, with beneficial results.

You may obtain Three Flowers toilet articles at any drug or department store.
 Write to GERALD S. DOYLE, Box 652 St. John's for beautifully illustrated book "Fluorette Walks in Beauty." It is a complete and careful guide for the proper care of the skin. Sent free to any address.

Three Flowers Talcum is made from purest selected and tested ingredients. It is impalpably fine and smooth, of just the right "weight," and is exquisitely perfumed. Excellent to use after bath to absorb remaining dampness.—60 Cents.

LIST OF GERMANY'S OBLIGATIONS EXTENSIVE.

LONDON, June 5.
 Germany's failures to carry out the disarmament requirements of the Versailles Treaty were outlined in detail in the note the Allied Powers have presented to the German Government, the text of which was made public here to-day. The note was handed to Chancellor Luther in Berlin yesterday morning by Baron D'Abseron, the British Ambassador, representing the Council of Ambassadors. Germany must comply with an extensive list of restrictions and demands before the disarmament obligations of the Peace Treaty are considered fulfilled, and which it is washed.

CORNER AND FREE KICKS IN SOCCER

Under the new rules of Association Football, a goal may be scored from a corner kick even if the ball does not come in contact with another player. In a free kick, other than the case of a penalty, a goal may be scored direct, even if the ball does not come in contact with another player. This does not apply, however, to a free kick given for "hands" outside the penalty line, but only for such infringements as kicking an opponent, tripping or for fouls of a similar kind.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

STORY OF THE PLAY.

The story opens twenty years ago. George Ransdell, a Wall Street gambler, who is altogether a rotter and who makes life miserable for his loving, patient wife, becomes enamoured of Mrs. Hillburn, the young wife of a middle-aged clergyman, when his private yacht puts in at the little harbor where the clergyman lives and preaches.

Ransdell lures the young wife to his yacht. She is more sinned against than sinning, but feels herself unfit to return to her husband and little boy, who think she lost her life in a storm. She goes to the city, tries to support herself by office work, and finally becomes the lavishly-supported mistress of her seducer. After having wheedled from him enough money to make her rich, she learns of his fraudulent financial dealings and betrays him to the Federal authorities. He is sent to prison.

Fifteen years later, when the man she betrays is about to be given his freedom, we find this woman rich and notorious, hard and bitter. She is the owner of a large downtown lot which some church people want to use for a tabernacle during a series of revival meetings. The young preacher, widely advertised as the mysterious "Boy Evangelist," is the spokesman for the church committee, and she first flouts religion, refuses to let her lot be used, but then relents because she finds the young zealot personally charming. This young follower of Billy Sunday is her son, but she does not know the fact.

The newspapers make a great do over the young preacher, and finally this wealthy and discontented woman goes to the tabernacle, drawn by a cynical curiosity. The Boy Evangelist, sincerely hoping to "save" this woman, preaches to her over the heads of the crowd in words that only she understands, and her harshness and cynicism vanish.

The woman who sinned is converted, the freed Wall Street gambler is killed by his wife and thus pays for his moral crimes, and son and mother return to the little Connecticut village where the father has been quietly living all these years.

All ends on a note of rejuvenation and quiet joy.

WATCHED FIGHT BETWEEN BERLENBACH AND MCTIGUE.

BERLENBACH OUTPOINTS MIKE MCTIGUE IN THRILLING 15-ROUND BOUT.

A capacity crowd of 40,000 spectators saw the engagement between Mike McTigue and Paul Berlenbach, for the light-heavyweight boxing championship, at the New York Yankee Stadium, on Friday night last. Berlenbach rushed the fighting from the start and earned the decision on points. The sixth, seventh and eighth were the champion's only good rounds.

Fight By Rounds.

First Round—McTigue worked a left jab to the face. Berlenbach bored in and landed lightly to the body with a left hook. Berlenbach launched a terrific offensive to the body which was countered with stinging lefts and rights to the face. Berlenbach was cautioned against hitting low. Berlenbach drove McTigue against the ropes with a left to stomach. McTigue seemed slow.

Second Round—Berlenbach drove lefts to the chin and McTigue frowned with displeasure. Berlenbach drove two heavy lefts to the champion's face. McTigue swung a sharp right to Berlenbach's jaw.

Fourth Round—Berlenbach shook McTigue with a left to the chin and another to the stomach. McTigue needed to summon all his cleverness to withstand Berlenbach's determined rushes. McTigue was spitting blood. McTigue sent in occasional rights to Berlenbach's jaw but the punches seemed to have little power. McTigue appeared wearied at the bell.

Sixth Round—McTigue showed a burst of speed and landed several sharp rights to the head. The champion continued his rally and shook the challenger with left and rights to the face. McTigue kept up a terrific bombardment on Berlenbach's head and sent him to his knees with his shower of punches. The great crowd roared encouragement.

Seventh Round—McTigue continued his assault and terrific fighting followed. Berlenbach refused to give any ground. McTigue boxed like a master and kept the heavy punching Berlenbach at bay throughout the round.

Eighth Round—McTigue backed away from Berlenbach and they circled round the ring. McTigue holding off his adversary with long lefts to the face, occasionally crossing his right when Berlenbach became too savage. Berlenbach's terrific left was always dangerous and McTigue used all his skill in keeping away from it.

Ninth Round—Berlenbach kept boring in trying to break down McTigue's defence. He shook the champion with short cuts to the chin and then was cautioned for hitting low. There was a great deal of clinching. Berlenbach seemed willing to take two of Mike's punches to land one of his own.

Tenth Round—Berlenbach landed a hard left to the chin after McTigue had jabbed him half a dozen times. Berlenbach landed swinging lefts to the body and head. McTigue sent a stinging right to the chin. Berlenbach landed a right to the kidneys at the bell.

Round Eleven—Berlenbach charged furiously but missed his target. McTigue kept up the jabbing. Berlenbach fought like a demon and landed heavily to the champion's jaw. Three jabs from McTigue and a heavy left hook for Berlenbach as the round ended.

Round Twelve—Berlenbach landed a resounding blow to the stomach and another to the chin. McTigue kept up his jabbing tattoo. They exchanged rights to the head. It was thrilling fighting. Berlenbach landed more frequently.

Round Thirteen—McTigue's right ear bled. McTigue landed a right to the head. Berlenbach sunk two lefts to the chin. McTigue sent Berlenbach

"IN THE WINTER of 1917 the majority of our regiment (169th, 42nd Div.) contracted a severe dysentery. I carried the after effects back into civil life. Almost constant constipation and indigestion, heart palpitation, and an indescribable run-down condition. My wife heard of the use of Fleischmann's Yeast. I took two cakes a day. Now my heart no longer bothers me, constipation and indigestion have disappeared, and I enjoy my meals." (Harold I. Betty, Evanston, Ill.)

They might be your neighbors

"ON MY RETURN to civilian life, after service in the Army, I noticed a tendency towards constipation. During the next four years it grew progressively worse in spite of the use of every known laxative and cathartic. Nothing was of any avail. I was suffering from auto-intoxication and digestive and liver sluggishness. Then I began to use Fleischmann's Yeast daily, half a cake spread on a cracker morning and evening. The toxic symptoms disappeared. At the present writing I enjoy excellent health and want to go on record as unqualifiedly endorsing the use of Fleischmann's Yeast in such obstinate cases as mine." (Frank A. Mack, M. D., Boston, Mass.)

THIS REMARKABLE FOOD tones up the entire system—banishes constipation, skin troubles, stomach disorders. There are many delicious ways of eating yeast—dissolved in water, fruit juice or milk, spread on crackers, or eaten plain. Fleischmann's Yeast is made in Newfoundland.

Read their tributes to this famous food

NOT a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active. And day by day it releases new stores of energy.

Eat two or three cakes regularly every day before meals; on crackers—in fruit juices or milk—or just plain. For constipation especially, dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) night and morning. Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place for two or three days. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Start eating it today!

Let us send you free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health. Health Research Dept., The Fleischmann Co., 201 Duckworth St., St. John's, N.F.

"SOME FEW YEARS AGO I ate Yeast for bacterial infections, boils and carbuncles. Within three weeks my infections disappeared and I have never been troubled since. But I have an especial message to mothers. Four children were born to me and they are perfect babies and I am a good specimen of a healthy mother—thanks to Fleischmann's Yeast. Not only did it settle my stomach, when other things failed, but also toned up my system, and gave me an appetite, which is most essential in motherhood." (Mrs. Theodosia Hession, R. N., Brooklyn, N. Y.)

"WITH BRU UGLY BLOTCHES on my face, lusterless eyes, I was indeed a sorry sight. Disregarding my skepticism, I began to take Fleischmann's Yeast. . . . Not until three weeks did I notice a perceptible change. My sluggish bowels manifested activity and my skin became clear and pink. In six months, having taken yeast three times a day, I was firm of step, clear of eye—former dynamic self." (Miss Minnie Birth Dawson, Baltimore.)

Our Montreal Letter
(From Our Own Correspondent)

THE SCHOLASTIC-YEAR DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

The curtain will soon be rung down on the scholastic year of 1924-25. Thousands of graduates from the different schools will march forth in battle array, glad they won the coveted honors, bidding farewell to their Alma Mater, and looking forward to the future with eyes of expectancy and hearts full of hope and vigor. Are some of them going to take a false step in life? They are about to start a new career. They must understand that there is more than cleverness required in any of the professions that they are about to choose. If they lack tact, skill, kindness, honesty, character, truthfulness, punctuality, dependancy and perseverance, they are bound to strike the breakers of ruin and failure, which beset their pathway. Are they for real or for show? Their career will soon tell. The Montreal Herald in an editorial, under the caption of "The Real Commencement," says:—

The seniors are graduating. From elementary schools, from the high schools, from the colleges and universities they are being ushered forth to new fields of activity, new experiences, new problems.

Some of them are through with school. For them this is a real commencement of the battle of life.

But though some are through with school none are through with study. Though some are through their scholastic preparation, none is through with that continual, sustained application which is the accumulative preparation of all who are fired with the ambition and zeal of which success is born.

Whatever the field of action to which the graduates now seek entrance, they will find that the price of advancement, of service and reward, is indeed the commencement of study and preparation upon an ever-increasing scale.

Some there are, no doubt, who like to think that they are now "through." Indeed they are through—through with hope and through with ambition and through with advancement—unless they now commence.

MEET DEATH AS HE WAS RUNNING HOME TO MOTHER.

A little boy of three years of age was crushed to death here recently, by an auto, while his mother witnessed the tragedy. The boy had been playing with some companions, and was about to cross the street at the call of his mother, who warned him to step back until the street was clear. The little tot moved in the wrong direction. He lived three minutes after the accident.

HIS PIPE OF OPIUM NECESSARY FOR HIS LIFE.

A Chinaman, fond of the opium pipe, was sentenced to six months in jail, $200, fine and costs, or three additional days in jail, by Judge Monet, in the Police Court. The judge expressed sorrow that the statutory law in such cases, did not allow him any discretion. The Celestial was an inveterate opium smoker. A doctor testified that if the accused were not allowed the use of the drug, that he'd soon be wanted to another shore. His Lordship said that a month's sentence would suffice for the accused, but the law was imperative, and he had to follow it. If the Celestial battles it out in "durance vie," he is to be deported, where he'll enjoy the pipe of dreams and beauties, without being molested.

THE MONTH OF MAY RATHER GLOOMY.

The weather during May was very changeable and gloomy. Dark and dreary days with rain, together with frost, made one feel that winter still was not fully dead. The frost did considerable damage all over the country, nipped the early shoots and put vegetation back a month.

ACTION TO QUASH POLICE ENQUIRY REPORT DISMISSED.

The action taken by Constable Edward Gagnon, in which he petitioned that the Superior Court should quash the judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Coderre on the recent investigation into Police affairs in Montreal, was dismissed in the Practice Division of the Superior Court by Mr. Justice Bruneau. The judgment was in fifty-six pages, and Mr. Justice Bruneau upheld defendants in every contention.

Messrs. Brossard and Lanctot, representing sixty-six petitioners inscribed in-law against the action of Gagnon and contended that there was no appeal against the judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Coderre and that the latter's powers were outside the jurisdiction of all courts. They also held that Judge Coderre had the right to decree as to the costs and the amounts to be paid the different counsel and stenographers and even the sum due to himself. They based their argument for this upon the article in the civic code upon which his appointment as Judge Investigator was made.

They held that even if the Superior Courts had decided that there was a right to appeal against the report of a judicial enquiry, this appeal would have to be taken before the Court of Appeals and not before the Superior Court in a direct manner.

Mr. Justice Bruneau, in his judgment, pointed out that not only had Mr. Justice Coderre the right to condemn the City of Montreal to pay the costs of the enquiry but that if it did not pay the remainder of the advance sum requested by the Court to defray initial expenses, the treasurer of the city was liable to imprisonment until the money was paid.

The Court upheld all the contentions of Messrs. Brossard and Lanctot, and dismissed the action taken by Constable Gagnon.

Gagnon's action for Edward Gagnon, gave notice of appeal against the judgment and papers in this connection will be served. Two lawyers and a Clerk of Inquiry take writs against the City. The lawyers claim $15,640 each, and the Clerk $4,100. A fourth action will be taken by Mr. Arthur Brossard, for $28,400, for stenographers and other expenses. And so the fight goes merrily on.

ALDERMEN WANT CLEANER RESTAURANTS.

A motion was passed lately at the City Council, in which it was proposed to have the City pass a bye-law, giving the Health Department authority to inspect public dining-rooms, such inspection to extend to the persons by whom food is cooked or served. It was maintained that some of those places were not what they should be as regards cleanliness.

LUNCH AND PRESENTATION TO RETIRING SCHOOL VISITOR.

At the annual meeting of the English-speaking Catholic Men Teachers of Montreal, held here on Friday, May 29th, Rev. Father Feindler, a young priest from the Washington University, and at present loaned to St. Patrick's Church, gave a very important address on educational matters. After the usual routine business of the Association had been finished, the members assembled at the Queen's Hotel, where a luncheon was served in honor of Rev. Father Martin P. Reid, the retiring school visitor. After the luncheon, an address was read and a Morris chair presented to Father Reid. Speeches were made by Rt. Rev. Mr. J. E. Donnelly, Rev. Gerald McShane, Dr. E. J. C. Kennedy and Mr. Joseph T. McLaughlin, School Commissioners, praising Father Reid's work in educational matters. Father Reid thanked the teachers for the kindness and generosity shown him, as well as all the good things said by the English School Commissioners, and concluded by saying that he would ever remain a friend of the educators of youth and, if ever they needed his assistance, in any matters pertaining to the welfare of the Association, he would be only too happy to give it. At the afternoon session, Rev. Fr. Gaston, a member of the Jesuit Order, gave a very interesting conference.

THE UNION OF MUNICIPALITIES WILL HOLD MEETINGS.

The fourteenth convention of the Union of Municipalities, to be held beginning June 22nd, promises to be one of the most successful ever held, according to present indications. Leaving Montreal on Monday, June 22nd, on the Richelieu, representatives of about 75 municipalities, together with various government officials, will sail for Charlottetown, P.E.I., where various functions will be held. The party will return to Montreal the following Sunday. The week's programme is full of events. Two sessions will be held daily on board the Richelieu, while at Charlottetown the delegates will be received by the Lieut-Governor and special events will be given in their honor. A number of prominent men will address the meeting at various times.

WILL ASK FOR CHANGE IN LIQUOR LAWS.

In order to get at the persons who buy liquor illegally the Quebec Liquor Commission will seek an amendment to the law at the next session of Legislature. At present, according to a ruling laid down by Judge Monet in a case, the liquor police are allowed to arrest those who buy liquor from "blind pigs" only on a warrant. This means that the officers must first make their case then identify the guilty party and later swear out a warrant. The change in the law will allow them to make an arrest if they catch the person in the act of buying liquor.

A LARGE NUMBER OF CONVENTIONS BOOKED HERE.

Montreal will hold a record number of conventions during the summer months. Up to date there are twenty-two booked which means a large influx of visitors to the city.

32-in. Oxford "Bags"
RECORD ANKLE WIDTH FOR RIGHTS WEEK.

Oxford bags went to 32in. at the ankles yesterday in honour of the opening of Rights Week. They were mostly white, and there was much more material in one leg of some Oxford bags than went to make the whole of the dainty summer dresses of sisters and cousins in whose company they were seen.

One masculine creation consisted of a black coat, like a curate's, and lavender Oxford bags, while the wearer of another seemed to have on what might have been a pyjama jacket of light blue with a black tie tied Chelsea fashion.—Daily Mail, May 22.)

Adams and Cheney Bid Good-Bye

Crawford Adams and Louis Cheney, the popular musical artists, who have just closed a five weeks' engagement at the Majestic Theatre, availed of last night's performance to bid adieu to their many admirers. Whilst they will submit their act this afternoon for the benefit of the ladies and children, it is also likely that they will appear to-night at the evening performance, as the Rosalind will not sail until a late hour. Adams & Cheney rank with the best entertainers who have visited the city for some time, and it is indeed a tribute to the Majestic management that these talented artists won unanimous approval of the concert-lovers of St. John's. After rendering their usual programme, they were accorded an enthusiastic ovation, and had to respond no less than ten times to special requests on the part of their audiences, closing with Tosti's "Good-Bye," which was vigorously applauded. Adams & Cheney leave to fulfil engagements in almost every principal city between here and New York, and we speak for them continued success. It is the general wish of those who heard them that they will return to St. John's at a not far distant date.
Beginning next week the celebrated picture, "The Woman Who Sinned," will be featured. The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement elsewhere. This picture is by far the most startling, soul-stirring and heart-rending story ever screened, certainly the most impressive ever shown in St. John's. "A Woman Who Sinned," is a throbbing drama of human emotions.

Mount Pearl Wireless Station

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—Unless someone acts very quickly, the Wireless Station at Mt. Pearl will pass out of Newfoundland hands. It is a shame that we, isolated from progress as we are, have not as yet made any effort to retain this station, which would be a great asset to the country in many ways. Some of which would be:

- To Broadcast Current Topics, thereby enabling the people living in the various parts of our Island where means of communication are rather scant, especially during the winter months, to receive "up-to-the-minute" news.
- To Relay and Broadcast the concerts of the British Isles, United States and Canada, whereby anyone possessing a Crystal Set within ten or fifteen miles of the station could "listen-in." Any person possessing a one or two Tube Set in any part of the Island would hear these concerts. It would indeed be a ray of blessing to many, in the remote parts of the Island especially.
- To broadcast good clean wholesome lectures applicable to the younger generation especially, thereby giving them clean minds and keeping them in good company, away from the attractions of the lower element. And Parents although this may seem to you to be a dream of an idealist, but it would help you to keep your children off the streets.

To boost the beauty of our land thereby attracting the attention of the Tourist, the Financier, etc. more than hitherto. Naturally the question arises in the mind what would be the cost of maintaining the station. That is for the constructor to answer. If there was a tax of about five dollars on every wireless set, the cost of upkeep would be considerably, if not entirely reduced.

Then there is the Patriotic or Sentimental attitude. This station is the one and only link connecting us with the "other side." We allowed the British the Mother of our Incorporation, to become a hulk, which is a slur to their memory. Are you permitting this station becoming a shed, if not then for goodness sake sound your trumpets.

Thank you Mr. Editor for the space in your highly esteemed and valued journal. Yours truly
