Re Close Immigration Scheme.

To the Editor of the Monitor.—Taking advantage of the opportunity you offer in your columns for the discussion of the "close" immigration scheme, as outlined in a former issue, and with a view to getting, if possible, fuller information as regards its promoters and their object, I also to "readers" implication, gathered from the utterance of some one indirect magistrate in England, that the mother land looks upon Canada as the dumping ground for her youthful delinquents, I venture to make a few remarks on the above scheme, hoping it may be the means of drawing out a fuller expression of opinion from other sources.

This outcry about contaminating the youth of this valley, seems to me to show a want of knowledge of the class and age of the children intended to be located here, and also a want of confidence in the matrons and teachers appointed to look after them, whose only interest will be to qualify the children to take their place as useful helpers in the country of their adoption.

An Interesting Cow Census.

FIGURES FROM CANADIAN HERDS.—SOME STRIKING CONTRASTS.

Department of Agriculture,
Ottawa, Jan. 26, 1905.
At the Eastern Ontario Dairyman's Convention, Mr. C. C. Whitley, of the Dairy Commissioner's Branch, Ottawa, gave a very interesting account of a cow census which he conducted in the vicinity of Cowansville, Que., during the summer of 1904. Under his supervision seventy-two farmers kept daily records of their cows and during the month of June the records were taken from the milk of each individual cow in their dairies. In this way reasonable accurate figures were obtained for the month of June the general average of all the herds tested was 622 lbs. of milk, yielding 25 lbs. of fat. In one case twenty-two cows had a yield for the month of 17,845 lbs. of milk and 722.5 lbs. of fat, an average per cow of 811 lbs. of milk and 224 lbs. of fat. In another herd of eleven cows, every animal was below the general average, the range being as low as 280 lbs. to 505 lbs. of milk per cow. This herd consisted of Jersey, Guernsey, Ayrshire and Holstein grades and natives. In contrast to this, another herd of twelve cows of similar breeding yielded from 820 to 1115 lbs. per cow, so that every cow in the herd was above the average. This shows that the flow of milk depends upon the individuality of the cows even more than upon their breeding.

Gasoline Engines on the Farm.

C. L. Wyman, Maine, writes to the New England Householder as follows:—

I purchased some time ago a three-horse power engine, a single cylinder and a 25-foot elevator. The silo being in one corner of the barn right beside the door, I built a 10x25 feet box beside the driveway to the barn and put my engine and carrier in it. Having a large door opposite the cutter, I could drive a load up alongside and take from the heart to the cutter or vice versa. This makes filling the silo very simple and easy. I also bought a steel frame saw bench and saw, and when wood-cutting time comes I remove the cutter and put the saw in its place. I haul my wood directly to the saw, and when it is all hauled it is all sawed. After this is done I can haul my chains onto a sled and go out and cut about 125 cords for my neighbors. When I return home I can put a 75 saw in the place of the wood saw and use it through the winter.

I purpose to buy a small mill and do my own grinding. Another plan is to build an oil on the other side of the driveway parallel with the cutting-room. I have a 12-horse power engine in it, running a shaft across the roadway under ground. This will enable me to cut silage, saw wood, rip boards, grind feed, separate milk and churn with the power practically stationary. These are some of the possibilities of the gasoline engine.

SIX YEARS WITH A GASOLINE ENGINE.
(E. W. Combs, Massachusetts.)
My five-horse power gasoline engine has given me excellent service for six years. We use it to cut 4-foot wood, for running bench saws, a feed mill and silage cutter. It has cost us comparatively nothing for repairs in the six years.

The cost of running the engine varies according to the amount of work you are doing. With gasoline at 12 cents per gallon to saw 4-foot wood, it will cost about 35 cents for 12 cords of work, the cost of running a bench saw is about the same. For running feed mill and silage cutter it will cost 60 cents per cord.

Gasoline engines are quick to start, they do not overheat, they are simple and you are ready for business. There is no danger from explosion or fire. One can be drawn by a pair of horses to any part of the farm, as they usually weigh less than one ton and are mounted. I think the farmer who has wood to saw and grain to thresh will find a good gasoline engine very valuable.

Winter Care of the Orchard.
It is not in doubt all my spare moments are spent in caring for my orchard, says Mr. E. C. Miller, a prominent fruit grower of Massachusetts. "In this manner much valuable time can be saved for other farm work during the spring months. In the first place, do not overwater your orchard. I think this practice tends to cause rank growth and does not improve the yield or quality of the fruit. However, an average quantity of water should be applied. Along in January I go over my orchards carefully, and cut all surplus wood from the trees, dead limbs, unnecessary growth, etc., and also prune.

The farmer need not be afraid to take out too much wood in this manner, as its removal gives the trees that much more vigor and life in the spring. I can usually get a good crop of apples, and I believe this fully pays for my many insect operations. In early spring, or before the trees have started to blossom, I take a triangle of pieces of iron and scrape the rough bark on my trees. I believe this fully pays for my many insect operations. Sick Headache
This distressing ailment results from a disordered condition of the stomach. All that is needed to effect a cure is a dose of two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. In fact, the attack may be regarded as greatly lessened in severity, by taking a dose of these Tablets as soon as the first symptom of an attack appears. Sold by S. N. Weare.

Boston, Jan. 30.—At a largely attended legislative hearing on the recently introduced bill, introduced by Henry M. Whitney, of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, said that while in Washington, recently President Roosevelt told him that he is in hearty accord with the movement for a "flow" trade relation between the United States and Canada, and that he would do all in his power to assist in bringing it about.

HOG PROFITS

The hog is a machine to make pounds of pork. In raising hogs for the market the profit is rapid and healthy growth. Feeding to simply sustain life makes you no profit. A food that will fatten your hogs in the shortest time, and with the least waste, is the profit maker. To get the most good out of your food, the hog must thoroughly digest and assimilate it. It is this assimilated food that makes the pounds of profit. This is money saved. Mr. A. D. McDonald, Jericho, Ont., says: "I fed Clydesdale Stock Food made a decided gain over those that received none." This is "WISDOM FEEDING." Don't neglect the "BUNTS" of Stock Food. It will also keep your hogs in such healthy condition as will enable them to withstand Hog Cholera the greatest menace to hog raising. Keep your hogs and pens clean by using Carboline Antiseptic as a hog-hygiene better when clean. If not satisfied after using, your money will be cheerfully returned by our dealers in your district.

S.—Post Office Estimates Passed.Ottawa, Jan. 26.—It took about an hour today to dispose of the private business before the House, after which the Post Office estimates were discussed.In answer to a question put by Mr. Sloan of Comox-Atlin, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the Dominion Government had no information of the Imperial Government preparing to abandon its equipment as a rural station. Mr. Prefontaine said that it cost $1,500 to put the Marconi system on the steamers Stanley and Minto. It costs well. The Anglo-American Telegraph Company were protesting because of the competition against their line.Mr. Fitzpatrick stated that the Bill respecting the Anglo-American Telegraph, which was recently passed, was ultra vires and interfered with Dominion policy.Mr. Foster inquired whether the Postmaster General had given any attention to the desirability of instituting a rural milk delivery service in this country.Sir William Mulock answered that he had been closely following the progress of the rural milk delivery experiments in the United States. In that country the service had begun with an outlay of three millions, but this soon ran up to twenty millions, owing to the cost of iron and delivery routes all over the Union. Even with this enormous outlay, it was only the fringe of the work that had been touched in the States, and the local authorities in the United States and Post Office Department were now doubting the expediency of the movement in a similar form. He was not thinking of copying the lead in the United States in the matter of rural delivery at present. The acting head of the department in the States, under the circumstances the Postmaster General was wise in his conclusions. The Post Office estimates were put through.Minard's Lintment Cures Diptemper.

REASON NO. 6 WHY YOU SHOULD USE Red Rose Tea

Because of the care in Selection and Blending.
My agents in the east are expert tea tasters, and every lot of tea that is sent down from the Gardens has to pass their inspection. They take samples from the chests and carefully taste them, then if the tea is fully up to the Red Rose standard, it is accepted and shipped; if not it is rejected.

The most important test of all, however, is when the tea arrives here, as during the passage through the Red Sea, the very great heat often affects the Tea very seriously. Immediately on arrival, samples are taken from each lot and subjected to the most rigid tests, and only those teas which have retained all their original flavor and strength are used for Red Rose (the balance is joggled off in bulk).

When blended and ready to be put into sealed packages, it is tested again just to make sure no mistake has been made in the blending; nothing is left to chance. Will you test us by ordering a package?
