GERMANS COMPELLED TO CEASE ATTACK ON LIEGE COMPLETELY BEATEN BY FRENCH AT MUHLHAUSEN TERRIFIC FIGHTING, WITH TREMENDOUS LOSSES KAISER HURRIES FROM BERLIN TO DIRECT HIS ARMY

Our Friend Uncle Sam Must Do Something—What?

Our neighbor nation, the United States, is much concerned over the war, as was pointed out in these columns last week. Leading newspapers are now saying that business there will be in bad shape in a short time if they are not able to market their immense crops of grain, of cotton, of meats, in the markets of Europe, now closed to them by reason of the war.

What can the Americans do? One paper proposes that congress rush thru an act authorizing the purchase of foreign-built ships and their registration under the American flag, and as such they will be free to carry the produce of the States to any part of Europe, the nevertheless subject to more or less interference.

But to us there is a much greater issue than this, and the United States must take some course in regard to that greater issue. Let us point out some other courses, any one of which the United States might follow and justify in the eyes of mankind.

They can do a second thing, if they don't care to hunt him, and that is bottle his fleet up in the North Sea and then leave the ordinary mercantile marine to carry their products to the markets of Europe.

But there is a third thing he can do: he can ignore the conventions of so-called international law and say he will use the American war fleet for the purpose of protecting on the Atlantic, English or other ships carrying his produce to market.

Or he can do a fourth thing, and this he is now considering, that is establish a mercantile marine of his own, as already referred to. But if he does this; when the war is over, the competition of other nations who are in the shipping business might be too much for him.

And while the United States, to our mind, must do one of these things, any restrictions that international law imposes on the United States, in so far as they hinder that country from marketing its produce, ought to be ignored by that great country. Too long, the world has worshipped the fetish of so-called international law to the detriment of humanity, of the detriment of trade, and, most of all, to the detriment of the United States.

DECISIVE BATTLE IMPENDS

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World. PARIS, Aug. 9.—A cable to The New York Tribune says: "The Kaiser's reported start for the front, following news of the French victory in Alsace, is considered to mean that Germany is about to strike at France in full force, and that a general engagement is imminent. Austrian troops, numbering 40,000, are said to be in the vicinity of Basle, near which two battles are impending."

GERMAN LINER ESCAPES ESSEX

Steamer Wittkind, Bound for Montreal, is Now at Boston and Must Stay There.

BOSTON, Mass., August 9.—With her smokestacks painted black and white and her ports covered with canvas, the German-American steamship Wittkind, bound from Hamburg to Montreal, dashed into the outer harbor this afternoon and was held by the United States torpedo boat Watterton. Later she docked and is likely to remain here thru the war.

BELGIANS REPEL SEVERAL TIMES THEIR NUMBER

German Dead in Three Days Fighting at Liege Totaled Five Thousand—One General Made Prisoner and Twenty-Four Guns Captured.

Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, Aug. 9.—An official detailed account of the engagements around Liege, covering a period between Aug. 5 and 8, has been issued here. In summarizing the operations, the account says: "The Germans lost 5,000 dead; 34 guns were captured and one general was made prisoner. The German forces numbered 120,000; the Belgian defenders 40,000."

The German attack lacked cohesion. On the contrary, the Belgians utilized their reserve with consummate skill. The German artillery general badly supported the dense columns. The gun fire was inaccurate.

The Belgian forts are intact. Not one soldier was killed and not one wounded during the three hours' bombardment of Fort Svevange, the steel cupola of which was not damaged.

The Belgian fire was well placed and accurate, proof of which was the destruction of two German heavy pieces. German art, to deceive the Belgians, carried Belgian flags.

The seizure was made by Detective Charlie Taylor, of the local detective office, and County Constable Burns about 8 o'clock Sunday night.

Indeed, all along the line from Liege to the French frontier the attack for the time being had been arrested.

Special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, Monday, August 10.—A cable to The New York Tribune says: Brussels, August 9.—The minister of war authorizes the correspondent of The New York Tribune to deny the report from Berlin that the Germans have captured Liege. CANADA'S MOBILIZATION CAMP IS SCENE OF BRISK ACTIVITY

Col. Hughes and Officers Inspect Preparations Under Way at Valcartier, Que.—Hundreds of Men Are at Work Digging Trenches.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—Col. Sam Hughes returned this evening from a flying trip to Valcartier, the mobilization centre near Quebec City, where he and his officers inspected the work now going on in preparation for the arrival of the 20,000 men of the first Canadian contingent. Railway sidings are being laid by the C. N. R., whose line runs to Valcartier. Trenches are being dug and a water supply is being provided. Several hundred are at work, including the men who were taken down from the new Connaught ranges here with their ditching machines.

Reports from the recruiting centres, the minister states, show that more men are offering now than can be taken for the first contingent. The men who are being recruited now for the first Canadian contingent will not go to Valcartier, the mobilization centre near Quebec, for about two weeks, according to a statement by Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes tonight.

GREAT GALLANTRY BY THE FRENCH

Authentic advances received in Paris declare that the French forces displayed great gallantry in the desperate battle before Muhlhausen, capturing the fortification at that point. It is believed that the French forces are now pushing on in the direction of Strassburg. It is officially stated by the French war office that the Germans have retired from Neu Brisaich, and that before doing so they burned the provisions and forage in the depots there.

KING ALBERT REVIEWS TROOPS

A Brussels despatch to The Central News states that King Albert of Belgium today reviewed several of the Belgian brigades which have been prominent during the past three days in resisting the German attack, and, with tears in his eyes, expressed his heartfelt thanks for the heroic manner in which they had succeeded in upholding the honor of Belgium in the eyes of the world.

NO ARMISTICE AT LIEGE

Further Central News despatches from Brussels state that no armistice is in operation at Liege, the suspension of the German attack being voluntary and not the outcome of any mutual agreement. Hostilities are likely to be resumed at any moment. It is reported that the Belgians have captured 100,000 German rifles of the latest Mauser type, which the Germans had succeeded in secreting in the city, in readiness for the time when they occupied the city, but they were minus a vital part of the mechanism and, useless to the Belgian soldiers, they have been burned.

The Brussels Derniere Heure states that a Berlin telegram received at the Belgian capital declares that the outcome of Belgium's persistence in her present attitude will prove to be the worst possible thing for Belgium.

CANADIAN CRUISERS TO PROTECT COMMERCE.

The British war office announces that the government has accepted Canada's offer of the cruisers Niobe and Rainbow, and that the vessels will be used to assist in the work of protecting the commerce of the empire. It is further officially announced that the British Government gratefully accepts Canada's offer to send an expeditionary force of 20,000 men to the United Kingdom, and also Canada's gift of 98,000,000 pounds of flour.

A despatch from Sydney, New South Wales, to The Central News, states that an Australian expeditionary force is sailing for England immediately, and it is officially reported from Nairobi, British East Africa, that a British cruiser has destroyed the German wireless station at Darassalam.

THE LION, THE EAGLE AND THE BEAR

An ultimatum from Germany may be expected by the United States just as soon as the kaiser hears of the flagrant violation of the neutrality laws committed when Canada was allowed to purchase two submarines in Seattle.

That was a fine line of talk Germany sent to Belgium yesterday. The gallant little state was warned by the kaiser that if it persisted in its obstinacy the result would be disastrous to it. And Belgium does not appear to mind a boot.

All the same, none of us should run away with the idea that the war is nearly over. The matter the kaiser is, the longer and the more fiercely will he fight. That he is insane, appears to be a reasonable deduction from his ultimatum to Italy. It is not an unusual thing to see a man in the fighting stage of intoxication challenging everybody in sight. The kaiser wants to know if there is anyone left that wants a licking, as he is prepared to administer it.

There are two things that may stop the war rapidly. One of them is a revolution in Germany itself among the level-headed people of the fatherland, who must be wondering why they are fighting all the world, and what about. If the southern Germans of Saxony and Bavaria get it into their honest heads that they are being used as cats' paws to further the follies of the Hohenzollerns they may decide to quit. Austria is already sorry for the part she has been called upon to play, and declines to go to war with England, altho she is in alliance with Germany. If Italy refuses also to fight and is compelled by Germany to align herself with Britain, France and Russia, the southern Germans will have more light shed upon the situation for them.

One other possibility of a quick end to the war appeals more to the imagination than to the sober reason. It is the suggestion that arises out of the successful check by Belgium of the German advance, and the consequent demoralization of the whole German plan of campaign. If the Germans have to concentrate in Belgium and can do no better with the British, French and Belgian troops than they have done with the Belgians alone, and if the German navy remains cooped up until it is ordered out, as the Russian fleet was ordered out of the Baltic to be slaughtered by Togo, the next move may be a speedy advance on Berlin and the dictation of peace in the Prussian capital.

In this connection the calling for a million men in England is significant. Lord Kitchener evidently either does not anticipate an early close of the campaign, or else he sees a way to close it up quickly with a superior force.

Whatever may be said of Germany strategy, it is clear that the German tactics are about forty years out of date. Since the Boer war no general in his senses, who has had any training or experience worth consideration, would dream of sending his men in close formation against modern weapons. The fearful losses at Liege indicate that the Germans learned nothing from the Boer war or any of the subsequent campaigns in other parts of the world. Napoleon and Wellington would have to revise their tactics with the new rifles and artillery.

Sermons in three heads and an exordium on the horrors of war and the blessings of peace were probably preached by thousands yesterday, as they were printed last week. Charles Kingsley preached a series of sermons to soldiers once: "True Words for Brave Men"—and there is not much left to be said from that point of view. But it is a little late to be preaching peace after the guns begin to shoot. The crying of Peace, Peace, where there was indubitably no peace, has been frightfully overdone. The result is that to a large number of people the present war seems to be something of an entirely phenomenal and unaccountable character. The cause of the war, as it is the cause of ninety-nine per cent. of all human misery, is greed. Greed is not a popular or moving subject for sermons, especially in personal applications.

FIRE RIFLE SHOT AT EXPRESS TRAIN

Foreigner Said to Have Made Attack on Passengers Near Sudbury.

NORTH BAY, Aug. 9.—As No. 2 Limited Express from Vancouver was leaving Sudbury at 6 o'clock this evening, some unknown person fired a rifle shot through the rear end of the observation car, which was crowded at the time with passengers. The bullet penetrated the heavy plate glass, leaving in its trail a shower of splinters. Consternation reigned for a while until it was found no one was hurt. C.P.R. officials are investigating the matter. There were a large number of British officers and men on board returning to the old country.

Allied Troops Effect Junction Across Line of German March Barring Way Into Belgium

British, French and Belgian Troops to Act Together in Future Operations — Belgians at Liege, During Lull in Fighting, Strengthen Defences by Lines of Earthworks—Prussian Troops Held in Reserve

Canadian Press Despatch. BRUSSELS, Aug. 9.—Belgian official reports received by the war office record the important fact that a junction had been effected by Belgian, British and French troops across the line of the German advance through Belgium. The location of the troops of the three armies was not revealed, but in any future operations it is understood that they will act together.
At Liege, where the Belgian garrison has presented such a stubborn front to the German attackers, fighting has ceased since early yesterday morning, and the Belgian troops and citizens have taken advantage of the lull to strengthen the defences of the city. Between the forts lines of earthworks have been thrown up by the men of the city, who have worked without cessation night and day.
Reports reached here by way of London that, according to announcements made public in Berlin, Liege had fallen into the hands of the German troops.
Germans Reconnoitering.
The sighting of a German cavalry patrol to the south of Namur today was evidence of the activity of the German forces in Luxembourg, showing that they were reconnoitering to discover the position of the defending armies.

The retirement of the German troops out of range of the guns of the forts of Liege was supposed to indicate that they were concentrating and waiting for reinforcements to renew the attack.
In the meantime the French troops who have crossed the frontiers of Belgium continued to advance methodically, and their approach strengthens the position of the Belgian army from hour to hour. A French officer arrived at Namur in an automobile today and the populace hoisted him on their shoulders and carried him thru the streets of the city.
Luxemburg Cleared?
It was reported today that the greater part of Luxemburg which had been occupied by the Germans had been cleared by the Germans had advanced of the French army.

At Antwerp four German officers wearing Belgian uniforms were arrested today.

INVOKED BLESSING ON ALLIED ARMIES

Russians Gather for Prayer in Cathedral at New York.

AMBASSADOR PRESENT

Archbishop Said That Even Priests Would Fight if Necessary.

Special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Prayers for the triumph of Russian arms and the success of each and all of her allies in the big European war were offered at a monster gathering of the New York subjects of the czar in the St. Nicholas Cathedral in Alexander Nevsky street today. Archbishop Alexander Neofitofsky of the Russian Church conducted the service and the Russian ruler, as head of the organization, was represented by Mr. G. Sakmetief, ambassador, who came from Newport with his wife and his staff for the occasion. About fifteen Slavonic societies of different kinds were represented in the congregation, which crowded the cathedral.
Prayers For Allies.
In his opening prayer the archbishop invoked divine blessings on the czar and his army and all the crowned heads who were aiding him in this great war of humanity.
"It is not against the teachings of Christ that the Russians have taken up their arms and their sabres against the common foe," he said. "The Saviour's life for armed men. He has been Blessed by the time when the czar threw to Austria to rescue the Russian country so long in the jails of that country."
U. S. Russians Ready.
In his sermon the archbishop declared that the Russians in the United States stand ready to man to take up the sword for their country, and were only waiting for the official call to enlist for the war. Even the priests of the Orthodox Church, he said, would be ready to "follow the cross on the battle field." A Russian ambassador wore the uniform of a Russian admiral and presided at the church with impressive ceremony.

FOUR LOCK GATES OF CANAL BROKEN

Accident Will Hold Traffic Up Two Days in Welland Waterway.

Special to The Toronto World. ST. CATHARINES, Ont., August 9.—Another serious accident on the Welland Canal, and one that will probably tie up navigation for two days, occurred here this afternoon when the steamer Windsor of the Montreal Transportation Company crashed into the head gates at Lock twelve, carrying away all four gates.
The vessel was bound up light from Montreal to Port Colborne with a cargo of grain and had safely entered the locks with all lines secured. The gates men misunderstood their signals and allowed the water to enter the canal before the foot gates were mitred, forcing the steamer forward with a bound. The force of the impact carried the forward locks away, allowing the water in the higher level to enter the lock and carrying with it the lower gates. Fortunately the level above lock twelve is a short one and very little damage was done to the surrounding land, tho had it occurred at any other part of the canal the accident would have been a serious one. The vessel which was in charge of Captain Doyle, was very little damaged. No one was hurt, but the vessel was seriously injured. Mrs. Terryberry, in whose home the fire started, was slightly burned and a young girl, her daughter, was jumping off a roof. Several men had a narrow escape when they climbed to the roofs of the buildings. The flames soon got a hold in the lower portion of the houses, and the men had great difficulty in reaching the ground safely.
The majority of the homes burned belonged to people in Toronto and Hamilton, and were valued at $100,000. Six of the buildings were insured. It is estimated that the furniture destroyed cost over $7000. Most of the owners had their places partly insured.

Thirty-Eight Homes Destroyed Following Explosion of Gasoline Stove.

By a Staff Reporter. GRIMSBY BEACH, Aug. 8.—Thirty-eight houses were totally destroyed by fire this afternoon when a gas stove exploded of a gasoline stove in the home of W. Terryberry. A total loss of nearly $80,000 was estimated. The explosion occurred shortly before two o'clock, and in a little more than an hour the thirty-eight homes were reduced to a mass of smoking ruins. The residents were in getting considerable of the household furniture in attempting to save them. Men, women and children worked heroically in attempting to save the sparks most of this cause fire and was totally ruined.

ALL CARRIED CARGOES

One Ship Reported Seeing U. S. Cruiser Tennessee on Voyage.

Special to The Toronto World. PHILADELPHIA, August 9.—Three British freight steamers arrived in port here today. They were the Maine and the Start Point from London, and the Mystic from Havana, all having aboard cargoes of general merchandise. With the exception of Captain Pinkham, of the Start Point, none of these boats saw or heard much concerning the war in Europe.
The Start Point is the only one of the three equipped with a wireless outfit, and Captain Pinkham said that he had kept in touch with the progress of the war situation all the way. In addition he even received news of the death of President Wilson's wife by wireless. While he saw no hostile warships during the voyage, on the evening of August 7, when off the island, he came up with the liner Mauretania and for an hour steamed within twenty miles away.
Last Friday, when 50 miles south of Nantucket, he passed the United States cruiser Tennessee, which was the only ship of war he saw on the voyage.
Possibly Thunder.
SAN FRANCISCO.—Residents of San Mateo, a suburb of this city, reported at 10:15 a.m. a detonation resembling cannonading off the coast. San Mateo is seven miles inland.
Belgian Town Germanized.
BRUSSELS.—Via London, 8:30 p.m.—The newspaper Le Soir says that the Belgian town of Verrier, 14 miles east of Liege, has been completely Germanized. German burgomasters replaced the Belgian officials, who were arrested.

PARIS.—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Copenhagen says that the Germans continue to issue affirmations that they have captured Liege.

KILTIES STILL RECRUITING.

The 48th Highlanders will open a recruiting office at the armories at 10 o'clock this morning. Three doctors will be busy in the afternoon measuring up the men and signing up the rolls, which must be completed by Tuesday night. Arrangements have been made for a recruit class of 100 men in the morning, and any recruits who wish to be instructed can take advantage of this class. This evening the officers of the militia will be non-commissioned officers will be at the armories with the rolls which are required by the militia department to be sent to Ottawa on Tuesday night, and it is expected that those who are desirous of joining will present themselves at the earliest possible opportunity to sign these papers. Orders were received yesterday that as far as rural corps and corps in small cities are concerned their quota to the first contingent will be 125 men per regiment. This does not apply to regulars in larger cities. The 48th Highlanders will go with the first contingent.

WHO WILL RESPOND?

Editor World: Yesterday it was announced in the newspapers that our frontiersmen in Calgary Command. For nearly a year a few members of the Legion of Frontiersmen have been actual opposition, of men who assist them in the endeavor to form a command of the Legion in Toronto, but existing from the present one of two officers at military headquarters, have met with scant encouragement. They are flooded with applications for membership in the Legion; but are without funds to carry out the plan. The Legion is a large body of men. Given an officer with organizing and executive ability and sufficient funds, we could enlist 5000 picked men in a week. If there is a budding Kitchener in his other hat Burns in Toronto now is his opportunity.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

No. 144.
Mary's Wrinkle Cure.

MARY handed me a paper.
"Peter," she said, "I wonder if you'll stop in at the drugstore on your way home tonight
and have that filled for me. I don't imagine you'll have to wait so very long for it."

I absently slipped the paper into my pocket and forgot it for two days.
At the end of that time, after Mary and I had had several spirited dialogues about it, in which I heard again the falling of my feet about posting letters and remembering memoranda of any sort provided they'd been compiled by a feminine hand, I did remember that accursed slip and stopped in one night at the drug store with it.

I wonder if women ever realize that the ordinary business man's day is so cramped with detail that it isn't always easy to remember an errand entirely off the beaten track of things? Mary will entrust me with the most trivial errands—things that might easily be accomplished by phone—and then there is some slight sarcasm when I return home empty-handed.

If I'm asked to remember something that slips logically into the groove of my business day, however, I never forget and Mary does. I like to box to be close at hand when I'm shaving or bathing—yet I have to ask Mary to order it for three consecutive days before, at last, it appears on the shelf—and that I should say slipped logically into the groove of my business day.

"One ounce of almond milk," I read along to the drugstore, "one ounce rose water—what in Sam-hill is this anyway?"
The drugist looked very polite.
"Likely some face lotion," he said.
"I'm sorry, sir, but almond milk is a flora hard to make and you'll have to wait an hour for it."

Now, I could have had it sent the next day, but I knew very well that if I spend some that night without it I'd spend an uncomfortable evening hearing what fools men are. Therefore I walked round and round the block and smoked, and when at last I turned in at the drug store—there was a series of small packages waiting for me.

"Sorry you had to wait," said the young drugist again, "but it's a rather singular list of ingredients and took some time to measure and weigh."
I expressed a somewhat puzzled interest in the list Mary had given me and the drugist smiled.

"That's nothing," he said, "some of the cold-cream formulas women bring in here for us make up more of them have as high as 20 and 30 ingredients in them. You see they read somewhere that a certain combination of things will make them beautiful forever, and they rush blindly off and get a drugist to make and mix for them. There is the manufacturer, too, and the manufacturer will say—offhand—
"Well, a good cold-cream ought to have a couple of ounces of this or that, and the woman who asked will follow his directions blindly. Likely he's merely been making a rough guess at it!"

"Women," said I, broadly, "are queer things."
"They surely are," nodded the druggist, smiling. "No really good cold-cream," he added, "should have more than five or six ingredients in it at the most, and yet I've truly made up complicated recipes for women with and ingredients. We don't even make our own cold-cream, for we can buy it a great deal cheaper than we can make it ourselves." He paused and laughed. "Oh, well," he said, "I suppose the ladies don't have to have their way."

"I suppose they do," I agreed. But the young drugist's words were a revelation to me. I'll wager women spend more money per capita for a year for cosmetics and cosmetics and unguents and astringents and the lord knows what, than men do for tobacco. There must be a lot of money in manufacturing toilet articles, for every woman has a weakness for them.

Arlosto's first love was a beautiful girl who was once dearer to him, he writes, than his own soul, and whom he immortalized as Ginevra di Scioia in his "Orlando Furioso." With the proverbial fickleness of a bard, however, he abandoned this girl for the young and buxom widow of Tito Strozzi, a Florentine noble, who, from loving the poet's incubations, was tempted to love the poet himself. She looked seductive by pretty, Arlosto tells us, in her weeds, the sombre tint of which was relieved by wreaths of vine leaves and bunches of grapes in purple and gold; while her fair, luxuriant hair, gathered in a net behind and parted in front, fell down on either side of her face in long curls, touching caressingly her snow-white shoulders. On being asked why she thus dressed her mourning dress, the coy relict replied:

"It is to show the world that while I still weep for my dead lord, I am ready to be consoled by a live one."
Arlosto gave her the sweet consolation of which she was in quest.

SUMMER FICTION

By Michelson

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Features Service, Inc. Great British Rights Reserved.

WHEN you look up from your absorbing novel, written in winter to make you glad it's summer, do you ever wonder whether there really IS romance in the world? Do you ever listen for the sounds, and watch for the signs, of that something DIFFERENT, that something magical and charming that will transfigure the actual moment as the book tries to do it? And if an absolutely real and perfectly good young man were to burst in upon your isolation, when you thought you and the grasshoppers had it all to yourselves; and if this young man began telling you that you were the honest-to-goodness only ONE—would you wonder, while you listened, whether THIS was summer-faction, too? Would you wonder whether, when the book of summer was closed, he wouldn't turn out to be about as tangible as the other young men in the book? Girls HAVE thought such things!

Hearts Are Hungering for Faith

By WINIFRED BLACK

THERE is a preacher out in Oakland, California, who says he isn't going to preach sermons any more. He's going to give plays in his pulpit—a different play every Sunday.

He says nobody wants to hear sermons any more and people are tired of singing hymns, and so he's going to be "modern" and "up to date," and he expects to pack his church to the doors every Sunday from this out. I'm afraid you'll be disappointed, dominie. I don't believe people want to go to church to hear a play any more than they want to go to the theatre to hear a sermon.

We are a pretty silly, stupid sort of creatures, we plain everyday people who make up the most of the congregations in most of the churches, but we have some sort of common-sense left, after all. You can't make us eat chocolate ice cream for breakfast or mush and milk for dinner after we've grown up and can do as we please.

Come, brother—you of the good intentions and the dramatic leanings—why don't you open your eyes and do a little observing. You are complaining so bitterly that you can't keep your church full. No matter what you do to bring people to church, they prefer golf or motoring or even the comic section of the Sunday papers, and, then, you seem to try to give them a weak imitation of the thing that they can get real as well as not? Why are you surprised that they prefer the real thing to the mere copy?

Your flock doesn't want another member, Mr. Preacher; it wants a leader, not a follower. Why don't you lead instead of follow?

Faith That Upholds.

There's a little Catholic church around the corner from your beautiful edifice, Mr. Preacher. Have you ever dropped around there to early mass, or to late mass, either, for that matter? Do it some day—it will surprise you. You'll find the church packed to the doors at five services a day and the priest working like a beaver to raise money to build a larger church, because this one is too small to hold half the people who want to come to it. Have you ever happened to pass the Christian Science church at the service hour—the big, magnificent building up there on the avenue? Just look at the automobiles out in front of the door. You'll have to go early or you can't get a seat, and you may be disappointed in even standing room. No vaudeville performance there, no intellectual treat, either, no lectures and no sermons, and you couldn't drag the people away from it with a brass band and a circus procession. Nobody seems to be tired of singing hymns in that neighborhood.

Which am I—a Catholic or a Christian Scientist? What is that to you, or to any one in the world but myself? I'm talk-

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How Acids, Not Fungi, Give Flavors to Cheese

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

JUST as there are wine-bibbers who pride themselves upon their ingenuity and ability to spot the various flavors and delicate tings of different liquors; just as tea-tasters are able to distinguish minute changes in the aroma of teas, so connoisseurs are familiar with the peculiar effects of cheeses upon the tongue.

Why or how you are able to discover slight modifications in flavor of Roquefort cheese, Camembert cheese or cottage cheese, however, is not understood.

Dr. James N. Currie, the chemist in the dairy division of the bureau of animal industry, has just discovered a few of the reasons, at least, to explain the flavors of Roquefort cheese. He says that all cheese experts are familiar with the peculiar peppery or burning effect of well ripened cheese of this type. The tang is so characteristic that it has been called a "hatsness."

If, says he, the chemical substance that gives the cheese this burning taste is in the spores of the mould that the green fungus, called "penicillium roqueforti," is essential to the ripening of cheese, there is no doubt now that it is really a change of the fats present into fatty acids that does the work.

DR. HIRSHBERG

Dr. Currie obtained typical Roquefort cheeses in various stages of ripeness in the markets. The slime was scraped from the surface and a plug removed, much as you would plug a watermelon. This was minced and thoroughly mixed. Samples were weighed, rubbed to a small cream with warm water, and rinsed into a flask. With an appropriate acid this was distilled, the acids were filtered off and dissolved in alcohol and examined.

The distilled material from well ripened cheese was divided into five portions and carefully investigated. The study of these shows that the substances thus distilled proved to be volatile acids of the nature of milk fat.

The weight of the different acids found in cheese—that is to say, the distinctions as well as densities of the acids—has a direct bearing upon the aroma, flavor and taste of the cheese. The lighter acids are distinctly sour. As the weight of the carbon in the acids increases the sourness diminishes.

A peppery effect begins to be added to them and increases with the heaviness of the acids. Acids have been suspected for a long time as the cause of the flavors and aromas of butter, cheese and other dairy products, but Dr. Currie's investigation is the first to show that green mould cheeses are due to them. While most students have shown conclusively

A Fashion Craze for Pleats

Is Forecasted for Fall

By MADGE MARVEL

THE in t e rest displayed in pleating during the past summer will be more than eclipsed this fall. An accordion pleated overskirt answers the demand of the new silhouette for a bell-shaped Russian tunic. Or, perhaps, the tunic itself fits quite plainly over the hips and flares at the bottom over a finely pleated underskirt.

Then there is the quaint little gown of 1930, with its tight basque blouse and skirt beruffled from hem to waist. Many of these models display a pleated foundation skirt of salmon satin, with overhanging Russian tunic of turquoise blue chiffon.

A new taffeta covered at regular distances by a conventional Jacquard flower, in a cream or tulle ground, is pounced at the hips, above two tunic of pleated lace flouncing. Callot displays among other fall models a gown with accordion pleated tunic of chiffon, embroidered around the bottom with large pea-pod green discs. These conspicuous circles of color were shown in graded shades embroidered in upright rows.

The Roman striped silk or woolen materials, with their beautiful borders, pleated effectively. Tunic of these on fall models are not only quite straight, but on some of the skirts are shorter at front or side, than in back. Others are cut to form two long points at the front and back of the skirt, and are drawn almost as high as the hips at the sides.

A fall street costume has an under-skirt of black broadcloth with pleated overskirt in shepherd's check serge. A cream serge Russian tunic is laid in box pleats over a satin underskirt. The sleeves and button trimming repeat the black satin contrast.

The basque dresses of white satin and taffeta with pleated tunics, so popular at the smart resorts during the end of the summer season, will repeat their vogue this fall in broadcloth, prunella, serge, duvetyne, sponge and gabardine.

A champagne colored broadcloth displayed in a famous French establishment, displays its Russian tunic in the form of a large pleated overskirt. The Inverness coat of this three-piece costume has a skirt which completely hides the tunic and extends below it in the form of a long, narrow, pointed skirt. The coat buttons quite closely as far as the waistline, where it cuts away at each side and displays the straight hanging pleated overskirt very effectively at the front.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie: I am a girl 23 years old. At the age of 17 I met a young man and we fell in love with each other, and two years later we were engaged. We were both very happy and I was getting my wedding clothes made, when, one day, I fell and had a miscarriage, but now I am better but will never be real strong again. Now, since my operation my sweetheart doesn't seem to care for me. He writes to me but never comes to see me, and I don't know what to think of him. Do you think that I had better stop writing and forget him? MARY.

NOW, my dear little Mary, you're in trouble—heart-breaking trouble, poor girl. But there's a way out—and you must take that way at once. Your sweetheart does not want to marry you—perhaps he is poor and does not feel that he can afford to take care of a delicate girl who may turn into an invalid.

Perhaps he is the sort of man who does not like sick people and who cannot bear to be with them. Anyway, he is not the man for you, and you are no wife for him.

A delicate girl should not think of marrying—unless she knows just the sort of man she has chosen, for a husband, and whether he will be able to stand the strain of taking care of a delicate woman all his life. Few men want to undertake such a burden.

You are not bound to be an invalid all your life just because you are not well now. Thousands and thousands of girls

Way to Reduce Wrinkles

Wrinkles and bagginess are due to the muscular strength and shrinking of too large in area to fit neatly. It wrinkles of a condition, there's nothing so quick-acting, as a wash lotion, easily let an ounce of powdered "druglets," and a half ounce of the two and bathe the liquid. This at once and softens the skin, which, of course, smooths and draws in the sagging stimulates circulation, and of freshness and snuggly.

In Belgium today are operating the same four nations that took part in the hundred days' campaign that ended with Waterloo, the centenary of which comes on June 18 next year.

The Dutch, who also fought with the allies in 1815, are neutral now, and there is, of course, the difference that Germany takes the place of France as the disturber of world peace.

Today the same ground forms the scene of operations of armies vastly exceeding in number those that fought a century ago.

IRISH-CANADIANS TROUNCED INDIANS

Visitors Held Tecumseh Helpless—Locals Failed to Show Any of Old Form.

Irish-Canadians again showed the Tecumsehs something in the lacrosse game Saturday, when they licked the Indians at the island to the tune of 7 to 1. The Irish were in grand form, while the red shirts presented a haphazard style of game, which, under the leadership of the Scott brothers, proved easy-going for the visitors. The Indians were away off, and the result was soon apparent. The locals have always been credited with being scrappy players, but very little of any singer was used in their work Saturday.

Spasmodic attacks were held well off, and the one goal that the Indians secured came from Ripley, who simply ploughed his way through the Irish and got the tally. Fred and Henry Scott, Kane and Don Smith simply played rings around the red shirt defence, while Carmichael and Durkin never got even a look at an open space in front of the net. On the whole, the game was a poor exhibition of our national pastime, and the fans were pretty well disappointed with the lack of trying displayed.

The red shirts were minus Quier from nearly the beginning, as he fell to stand up. The loss of their star second to play havoc with the home, and they failed to get in at all. Brennan on the other hand, was in his element, and any likely-looking shots were corralled by him with apparent ease. The line-up:—

Tecumsehs (7)—Goal, Torpey; first defence, Whitehead; second defence, Graydon; third defence, Mackenzie; referee, Falker; centre, Ripley; home, Collins, Carmichael, Durkin, Quier.

Irish-Canadians (7)—Goal, Brennan; first defence, Baker; second defence, Aspell; third defence, White; defence, Kane; centre, Munroe; home, F. Scott, H. Scott, Smith, Cummins.

Referee—Ruddy. Umpire—Pickett Little.

Excelsiors Run Up On Young Torontos

SHAMPTON, Aug. 9.—By defeating Young Torontos twice yesterday, the Excelsiors were amply reformed for the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Toronto team in Toronto, two days ago. Their victory was clean cut and decisive, and at no time in the contest were they extended by the visitors over fifteen hundred people and little space was available on Roswell. It was the boys' first appearance here, and their trip to Vancouver after the Mann Cup, and they were given an enthusiastic reception.

The line-up:—

Young Torontos (5)—Goal, McArthur; point, Wilkins; defence, White; defence, V. Kirby; second defence, Parkinson; third defence, Sackett; centre, Holmes; home, Higgins; S. Cowan; Sarr; outside, Flynn; inside, S. Cowan.

Excelsiors (15)—Goal, Campbell; point, Williams; cover, Beauchamp; first defence, Mullis; second defence, Blain; third defence, Warr; centre, Stevens; home, G. Brodie; outside, Moore; outside, Irvine; inside, Charters.

Nationals Score at Will At Expense of Torontos

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—Saturday's Dominion Lacrosse Association match at Maisonneuve grounds between Torontos and Nationals was only another illustration of the superiority of the flying Frenchmen over the other clubs in the league, the final result being 27 to 8 in favor of the Nationals. This is the thirteenth straight victory of the latter end aggregation without a single defeat. In the third period a shot from Noyes Lalonde's stick hit David Gibbons in the eye, and his place between the poles was taken by Larry Allan, a local boy, former member of the Shamrocks.

The line-up:—

AMERICA'S CUP RACE MONTH

Hence—If the War Is Over

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The Royal Ulster Yacht Club last night sent a cable despatch to the New York Yacht Club saying it would be glad if a postponement of one month could be granted for the America's Cup races. The message said that in the event of the war still being in progress at the expiration of that time the Royal Ulster Yacht Club would like to have a postponement extended so as to enable the matches to be sailed in 1915 between the existing challenger and one of the present American candidates for the honor of defending the cup.

DUFFERIN CLOSING NINE RACES RUN

Jockey White Wins Three Races—Curious Takes the Feature.

DUFFERIN PARK, Aug. 8.—The last day of the summer meeting of the Metropolitan Racing Association was held under the best of racing conditions. Despite the intense heat and the various counter attractions there were nearly 9000 spectators on the stands and grounds.

An excellent card of nine well filled and well balanced races were presented to the public. The feature race, the fourth, brought out such names as Cleopatra, Barrette and Yca, who seemed to have the call, but there was not much to choose between any of them. The ninth race might well be called a feature, a seven furlong affair, which presented Mother Thomas here and eight other good ones. Twenty Professionals Will Strive for Title—Large Prize List—Newcomers in Line.

The annual tournament of the Canadian Professional Golf Association will start this morning at the Lakeview Golf Club, and twenty of the best men in the country will strive for the title. The match is a 36-hole medal play competition, and it is expected that some new records will be hung up before the day is over. The Ross Cup will go to the winner, and a gold watch donated by the Carter Seed Company of Toronto. Besides this, there is $180 in prize money, and a special prize of $25 offered by J. J. Walsh for the best two single rounds. Every one of those entered will also be heard from in the Canadian open, which begins Thursday at the Toronto Golf Club course. The draw is as follows:

TWENTY-ONE WINS IN ROW FOR CARSLAKE

Australian Led From Every Start—Leonard Lucky in First Spill.

In the last twenty-one starts Brownie Carslake has never been beaten, and Saturday night he again beat his way into the initial position. There was some wild and reckless riding that brought the fans to their feet, and the filberts with death pulled some real thrills in their man and dashes for the line. Jockeying and tricks were utilized by every man, and the zigzagging race that the artists put up was well worth the price of admission. It is not often that a big crowd is treated to so many features in one evening.

To complete this the crowd saw the first spill that has happened at the track today from New York City. Weather averted. Leonard in the first heat of the short distance championship series lost control of his machine and after a wild and miraculous ride from the top of the track to the bottom and then all over the running board finally fell down in a heap. His machine shot from under him and went halfway up the track before it turned and crashed down to the ground. Except for the loss of several inches of skin and some bruises Leonard was unharmed. Bob Barclay, who was trailing Leonard, had a narrow shave, as his back wheel just skimmed Leonard's machine.

Brownie Carslake opened in the three mile sprint, taking all three heats in that time. But in the fifteen mile race he rode a grand race. He made the pace all the way with Henkman and Harding holding him every inch of the way. Harding lost a tire about the fourteenth mile, but Carslake outgeneraled Harding and won by a yard. Bob Barclay gave Carslake a good race in the heats of the championship, but could not get past the Australian. Harding rode in the best form yet seen of him this year. In the two mile open race he lay right down on his machine and all but established a new record. Henkman challenged him in both heats, but Harding rode him all over the track and did not let him get thru. In the race for his third place in this event Burchell won out.

Limit men again grabbed the money in the one mile bicycle race, first heat—1, Terry; 2, McClelland. Time 2:01 1/2.

Second heat—1, McCarthy; 2, F. Gross; 3, Scarletto. Time 2:01 1/2.

Final—1, Rogers; 2, F. Gross; 3, Terry; 4, Scarletto. Time 2:02 1/2.

Short distance championships, three miles—First heat—1, Carslake; 2, Bob Barclay; 3, Dougherty. Time 2:02 1/2.

Second heat—1, Carslake; 2, B. Barclay; 3, Boersler. Time 2:06 1/2.

Final—1, Carslake; 2, Boersler; 3, B. Barclay. Time 2:07 1/2.

Two mile open—First heat—1, Harding; 2, Henkman; 3, Don Barclay. Time 1:52.

Second heat—1, Harding; 2, Henkman; 3, Burchell. Time 1:52 1/2.

Irish-Canadian Sweepstakes, fifteen miles—1, Carslake; 2, Henkman; 3, Harding. Time 10:51 1/2.

FORT ERIE RESULTS

Special to The Sunday World.

FORT ERIE, Aug. 8.—The largest crowd of the meeting to date was on hand this afternoon at the Fort Erie race track to witness the running of an excellent card. The Troquois Hotel stakes, at $1000 a fixture for two-year-olds, at 5 1/2 furlongs, was the feature of the program, and this drew a small and evenly-balanced field to the post. In this event Ed Crump was given the impost of 126 pounds.

Next in importance to the stake race was a handicap at a mile and an eighth, which was contested for by three crack route horses. This small field was productive of keen speculation, and each of the starters had a large following. The layers' ranks continue to hold out as strong as ever, and this afternoon they had their hands full taking care of the play.

Jockey Guy Burns was suspended by Starter Dada yesterday for the remainder of the meeting. He left today for Saratoga. Mortimer Mahoney was an arrival today from New York City. Weather clear, track fast. Summary:

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Wm. Davies Co., Ltd.

Owing to the war there seems to be a general panic on the part of the public to buy foods for use at a later date. The Wm. Davies Co. is not in a position to say if such a course is wise or not with regard to staple, imperishable foods, such as flour, sugar, cereals, etc., neither can we be prophetic and forecast prices of meat products and produce over any length of time.

There are two considerations, however, which on mature reflection should convince householders not to lay in unreasonable supplies of hams, bacon or produce. The first is that meats cured by modern methods are not intended for long carrying, and, while they will not spoil, they may go off in flavor if kept too long, and produce for long keeping requires cold storage facilities that the householder cannot supply. The second and most important consideration is that the United States and Canada are enormous producers of hogs and produce, and a famine of such food products is not liable to take place in the countries of origin of such foods, particularly when these countries are not actually engaged in war within their own border.

Of course, no one can accurately forecast a situation, especially in a time of war. If Denmark, which, next to the United States, is the chief source of ham and bacon supplies for Great Britain, should be cut off for any important length of time from supplying Great Britain, then prices of hog products and produce would be bound to advance over the rest of the world and remain thus until the connection should be re-established by Great Britain securing complete control of the North Sea. Surely this is what will happen soon. Once Denmark can ship her food products into Great Britain with reasonable safety, normal prices on cured meats should prevail here once more.

Whatever public opinion may be, there are no large quantities of meats in cold storage, and the Wm. Davies Co. has no intention of withholding meats from the market when cured because a war situation might make it advantageous to do so.

The remedy is in the hands of the purchasing public. If it scrambles the next few weeks for more supplies of meats, produce and canned goods than are immediately available, war prices must be paid in order to check the demand, on the same principle that an advancing bank rate checks borrowing. While the history of all big wars is to advance food products, and while this may happen in the present war, the Wm. Davies Co. sincerely believes it is cheaper in the long run for the public to purchase such supplies as are sold in our stores in reasonable quantities.

Our specialties are Davies' Hams, Bacon, and all kinds of Cooked Meats; Butter, Eggs, Cheese, Canned Vegetables and Canned Salmon.
