FRENCH RESUME THE OFFENSIVE ON OISE RIVER

Progress is Made to the North and East of Gury.

LASSIGNY IS MENACED

Strong German Resistance is Unavailing to Stop the Attackers.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The French resumed the offensive today between the Mata and the Oise Rivers, making progress to the north and east of Gury and thereby increasing the menace to the Germans at Lassigny, according to the war office statement tonight. Strong enemy resistance was unavailing to stop the attackers.

Let Greater Toronto Advance!

The new cross-town highway that the Elmer-Danforth viaduct creates is the coming great thoroughfare of Toronto. It is the one street to compare with it. But Yonge street only goes to Lake Simcoe. The new highway is on the direct road between Montreal and Hamilton (Niagara River), and London (St. Clair River), and the other cities and towns intervening. For the first time the Kingston road will come into the city without deviation or grade, and when the Humber viaduct is built, go out in the same way.

But there is an element in Toronto largely backed by the press, that doesn't want to see this greatest of Toronto's roads come into existence. The higher officials at the city hall would seem to be against it. And yet it is the first road in her local shanties that will let Toronto grow to a city of a million people. Yonge street is shackled with two street car franchises on its six miles within the city limits. The new east and west highway is more or less hindered by two street car lines, but the end of this is in sight—three years more.

The World has every sympathy with the downtown business men who are organizing to let traffic get a new road from the new Union Station to Queen street and other points, but the greatest benefit that will ever come down-town is by breaking the bonds that encircle the outlying parts of the city.

A great new town is springing up at Leaside that will have a population of more than 100,000 in a few years. The silence of the press and the indifference of the city hall officials, this great accession to the city's growth is looked upon as a burden—not to be encouraged. It is tied up by the shackles of Rosedale and its ravines; and when a proposition was presented a little over a year ago for the city to contribute $100,000 toward getting the new undergrounds in the two splendid concrete viaducts now completed by the Canadian Pacific over the reservoir ravine and the belt line ravine, those same hold-backs and Wee Wee's fought it by silence or words and the city has as a result the problem of building much more expensive ones to accommodate the city's growing needs. This 100,000 would have served the new military hospital (2000 veterans), the clearing station (2000 soldiers), the Royal Air Force (2000 men), the national railway yards (1000 men to begin with), and the Leaside munitions plant (6000 employees), and the public generally.

GERMANY PERTURBED OVER RUSSIAN AFFAIRS

Inexorable Fate Drives Kaiser into Fresh State of War, Berlin Paper Says.

Amsterdam, Aug. 13.—The German newspapers show much perturbation over the situation in Russia as it affects Germany. "Inexorable fate is driving Germany toward a fresh state of war with Russia unless a remedy shall be found at the last moment," says the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. The newspaper describes the German embassy's flight from Moscow as a "retreat from Russia," and continues: "A nation torn asunder by a thousand conflicts and weakened by revolution and civil war, has yet found the enemy and enough unanimity to tear up the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty. This much clear. The peace made at Brest-Litovsk no longer exists."

POUNDING ENEMY AT RIVER BRIDGES

British and French Guns Have Been Busy on the Somme.

MORLANCOURT SHELLED

Airmen Continue to Drop Bombs in Neighborhood of Peronne.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 13.—Strong enemy concentrations have been reported between Roye and Prouquescourt, but so far they have done nothing, if really they are there for an offensive purpose. In the northern battle area, especially in the Braye region, new enemy defensive barbed wire has been found, while earthworks are being constructed at several places behind the German line. Probably the enemy has removed much of its material and has sent in nearly all the reinforcements it cares to risk at the present time.

Morlancourt is being heavily shelled, while the enemy with aerial bombs has apparently attempted to blow up the ammunition dumps he left in his hurry to get away. British and French guns have been busy today pounding German rear areas and the crossings over the Somme.

Long Distance Shelling. Enemy shells that are coming in are being fired at an extreme range, probably from well on the other side of the Somme. This is especially true of shells aimed at the districts south of the Amiens-Neule road.

Between the Ancre and the Somme, the operations of the British, which resulted in a small material advance and the capture of the enemy positions, provoked only a scattered shelling from field guns.

British airplanes continued to drop tons of shells on the enemy, especially in the neighborhood of Peronne. Enemy transports are also suffering from the British bombers, one of whom acquired a direct hit on a transport train on the Ham-Neule road. It is now established that a giant Gotha, with five engines, which was brought down a few nights ago, near Tainart, carried a crew of nine, all of whom were killed.

ALLIED ULTIMATUM TO SOVIET LEADERS

London, Aug. 13.—It is reported from Moscow by way of Berlin that the diplomatic representatives of the entente have handed a collective note to War Minister Trotsky, demanding within three days an explanation of Premier Lenin's threat that Russia would declare war "against Anglo-French imperialism," the Central News states today.

SEVERAL GERMAN PERSONS KILLED IN FRANKFORT RAID

MERCURY REACHES HIGHEST OF YEAR

One Hundred and Two Was Official Temperature in Toronto Yesterday.

HOTTEST IN YEARS

High Mark Exceeded Only in 1911, Which Was Great Record.

The record temperature, in recent years in Toronto, was reached yesterday, when the mercury passed the 102 mark. Toronto again upheld its reputation of being the "first" city in the Dominion, beating its closest opponent, London, Ont., by at least three degrees.

Torontonians searched, hunted for relief in a vain effort to refresh both body and mind. Lime squash, with the tinkling music of chips of ice in a long thin glass; ice cream sodas of many flavors; iced tea, coffee, or cocoa; buttermilk with frozen foam; even the plain cold ginger ale and coca kola were the favorite beverages of both young and old.

Nansen's "Farthest North," Verne's "Voyage to the Pole," descriptions of ice-bound Alaska, anything that might bring visions of floating bergs and polar bears, of snow-capped mountains and northern winds, was read in a vain effort to drive from the mind the very thought of the hot blasts which tortured bodies and shriveled the very soul. Some unfortunate victims of the heat even longed for a real ghost, that they might benefit by a "shiver of fear," or "something cold running down their spine."

Much as one might try to camouflage the temperature, little relief could be found in the little glass tube. Flight to parks, water front or islands required some exertion which only added to already unbearable discomfort. It was too hot to walk, too hot to move, too hot to even think it was hot at all.

The weatherman had promised some local showers and moderate winds, but his forecasts did not materialize. By ten in the morning yesterday, the mercury had reached 98 degrees and was gradually rising in the little glass tube. By four in the afternoon recent records had been completely smashed when the quicksilver nearly boiled over, registering fever heat: 102.

Several Prostrated. A number of people succumbed to the excessive temperature and had to be given first aid either at the drug stores or the outdoor departments of the local hospitals. As far as could be ascertained no fatalities resulted from the heat, but at least four persons are in a critical condition in St. Michael's Hospital.

Two men at work for Douglas Brothers, Temperance Street, Samuel Koffman, and Samuel Ferguson, collapsed and were removed to St. Michael's Hospital in the police ambulance. William Stokes and Mike Fugrowich, employees of the Rogers Coal Company, were removed from the company's yards yesterday afternoon to St. Michael's Hospital suffering from the excessive heat.

A little relief is promised for today, as the forecasts indicate a change of wind, possible thunderstorms and "not quite so warm." There is some consolation in the fact that it cannot possibly get "much warmer."

Four other high temperatures in past years were August 7, 1913, 101; July 2, 1911, 101; July 4, 1911, 103; July 30, 1916, 100.2.

The thunderstorm which at 9:45 last night threatened Toronto, did great damage to Streetville Junction, when it hit that town. Information received states that trees have been uprooted and that the telephone and telegraph wires have been blown down. The storm seems to have been local. Several reports of damage in the vicinity have come to hand.

FOUR LOST ON TRANSPORT

Many Hundred and Forty-Two Men Missing on French Steamer.

BRITISH AND FRENCH CAPTURE 28,000 MEN

London, Aug. 13.—Since the allied offensive began on the Montdidier-Arleux sector Aug. 8 the total captures by the French first army and the British fourth army have aggregated 28,000 men and 600 guns, says Field Marshal Haig's communication from headquarters tonight. The communication adds that Tuesday passed in comparative quiet on the battlefield.

GERMAN SOLDIERS QUITE SICK OF WAR

Major Percival Anderson Refers to Conditions in Kaiser's Land.

THREE YEARS CONFINED

Canadian in Munich Interned on Outbreak of Hostilities.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, Aug. 13.—Major Percival Anderson, formerly of the Canadian Ordnance Corps, Ottawa, gave an interview today on his experiences in a German prison camp. He was in Germany for his children's education at the opening of the war, and he spent three years in confinement. Major Anderson, Polish priest, and a few British subjects, and some French active together in one room. Good this bunch was sorted out. The British bunch went to Phuleah, but Anderson was sent to the Schloss Celle, an old castle belonging to the kings of Hanover, which still has the British arms over the gate.

"The prisoners there," said Anderson, "were mostly retired British officers like myself, or British students who happened to be in Germany when war broke out. The castle was in a small park. The only exercise was notices round the path. We were also to play badminton. Two or three died of pneumonia. They kept us waiting for food in dark paths for rations. White wine was over seven marks a bottle. No fresh vegetables were obtainable in the castle, although there were plenty in the neighboring village. The only time we went out were on small visits, such as to the dentist.

"Every soldier I spoke to was absolutely sick of the war. We told them that it was going to last five or six years longer. They did not like it. We used to see German soldiers occasionally in civilian overcoats, which showed that their resources were apparently dwindling. Their uniforms often were rather poor, but I should not say that they were starved. Germany, of course, adopted the rationing system right from the start. Their women had to follow our orders and beg for bread. I lived entirely on parcels from England in the last 18 months."

He was here just before the opening of the war and was surprised to find things so comfortable. "You talk about prices here, but you also experience them in Holland," he remarked.

He notices chiefly the reduction in street traffic, except on army business, and of course, he notices how much darker everything is at night. He is surprised at how tranquilly the people of England are living, considering conditions on the continent.

Mrs. Anderson and children, while the major was confined, lived in a flat at Munich, but on representations of Ambassador Gerard, they got away to England in November, 1914. They were not molested in any way during their stay in Munich.

TORONTO MAN WILL COMMAND THE CANADIANS IN SIBERIA

Forty-Five Tons of Explosives Dropped on Enemy by British. Thirty Hostile Machines Brought Down in Air Fighting—Peronne and Cambrai Stations Are Attacked.

London, Aug. 13.—The following official communication dealing with aviation was issued this evening: "Work in the air was actively carried on in all branches Aug. 12. On the battlefield our balloons were pushed forward close behind the line and sent down much useful information. Our artillery and reconnaissance machines were busily occupied all day. "Enemy airplanes were active and there was much air fighting. Thirty hostile machines were brought down and seven driven down out of control. One German machine was shot down in flames. "Forty-five tons of bombs were dropped by us during the 24 hours, the Peronne and Cambrai stations being heavily assailed. "Twelve of our airplanes, including one night bombing machine, are missing."

Brigadier-General J. H. Emsley is Chosen by Ottawa Government to Take Charge of New Expeditionary Forces.

Ottawa announces that Brigadier-General J. H. Emsley, C.M.G., D.S.O., a Toronto officer with a brilliant military career, both in the present war and in South Africa, has been selected to command the Canadian expeditionary force now being mobilized for service in Siberia. Because of his being a native Torontonian, and having hosts of friends in military circles, his new appointment will be a popular one here. He went overseas in 1914 as an officer in the Royal Canadian Dragoons in the first Canadian contingent, and within the first year of his service at the front in the present war he not only rose to the command of the 8th Brigade of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, but gained the rank of brigadier-general. Soon after, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Order, and then made a Commander of St. Michael and St. George. Until a few months ago he was on duty on the western battlefield, when he returned to England to accept the command of the Canadian Training Division at Bramshott.

Enemy Brigade Headquarters Taken Intact By Canadians

Cavalry Broke Thru Gap in German Lines So Rapidly That General Staff Had No Chance of Getting Away.

London, Aug. 13.—Sir Edward Kemp, overseas minister of the militia forces of Canada, has issued the following official statement regarding the work of the Canadian cavalry and machine gun brigade: "The cavalry broke thru one gap in the German lines so rapidly that they captured a brigade headquarters intact, gaining valuable information as to the disposition of troops and taking hundreds of prisoners. Having insufficient men to take these prisoners back, an officer ordered the brigade to proceed along unarmored to the advancing infantry. The prisoners formed, forming an extraordinary procession of 'hands up' along the Amiens-Roye road. Between Metzereux and Beaucourt a lone prisoner shouted to the cavalry captain to take the neighboring village, where the brigade headquarters was situated. The squadron stamped the horses of the enemy and bombed his dugouts. The scared brigadier and his staff emerged, surrendering. Three officers who were skirting the hill, expecting to meet their own squadron, encountered fifty Germans with machine guns. All took cover and one returned to warn the squadron, the other two, swiftly changing their position, caused the enemy to think the position was strongly held. One trooper accounted for twenty Germans. At the critical moment when the enemy rushed the gallant couple, the cavalry dashed up, killing all. "The cavalry pay a great tribute to the infantry who often accomplished their task without the cavalry's support. The Canadian armored cars, tanks and officers also did excellent work. "A correspondent describes the frequent comment of the French soldiers, who notice the Canadian shoulder badge, says: "Ah, Canadians, Foch's pets."

GREATEST COMBAT SINCE WAR BEGAN

Gen. Turner Expect Present Operations to Develop—Bishop Fallon's Speech.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, Aug. 13.—"Like the ministers and press, I have made a good many Cook's tours of the front," declared Bishop Fallon at the Canadian Fay Corps dinner tonight, presided over by General Ross, amidst great applause.

Proceeding in a serious vein the bishop said: "I am sorry to say that the only criticism I have heard of the Canadian effort has come from Canada. I do not for one moment mean that Canada alone is winning the war, but there is not a section doing its share more thoroughly than that element led by Currie in France, Turner in England, and McEburn in Canada."

Earlier in the evening, General Turner, alluding to this week's success by the Canadians, spoke significantly of the value of keeping reinforcements in England in full strength. "Battalions may go into line in line fettle," he said, "but after the first round they look around for reinforcements. I am confident that we shall have sufficient reinforcements here now to maintain our force in what may prove to be the greatest fight of the last four years."

General McEburn declared, amid loud cheers: "I am prepared to stand or fall by my efforts to support the corps at the front. I feel that our efforts in Canada have not been in vain."

GERMANS FIGHT HARD TO HOLD HILLS ON OISE

French Hold High Positions Along Pillar of German Defence.

French Headquarters in France, Aug. 13.—In the French sector the dominant factor is the desperate effort with which the enemy is clinging to the western and southern edges of Thiescourt and the hills, filling the space between Lassigny and the Oise, which constitute the pillar of General von Hutler's right wing. "On these edges the French hold Gury, Mareuil, La Motte and Canny-sur-Mata. A short distance north of Canny is the Bois des Loges. Along this line the enemy has established himself in his 1914 trenches and is fighting his hardest."

BRITAIN RECOGNIZES CZECHO-SLOVAKS

Three Armies in Russia Secure Status as Allied Force Regularly Engaged in Warfare.

London, Aug. 13.—The British Government has issued a declaration formally recognizing the Czecho-Slovak army as an allied nation and the three Czecho-Slovak armies as an allied force regularly waging warfare against the central powers.

BRITISH NIGHT FLIERS DO GERMANS DAMAGE

Hostile Airplanes, Trains, Batteries, Searchlights Suffer From Attacks.

London, Aug. 13.—An official communication issued tonight by the air ministry says: "On the night of Aug. 12-13 our air machines attacked a hostile air-ship and trains, anti-aircraft batteries and searchlights and other ground targets with bombs and machine gun fire. All our machines returned safely. "On the 13th, the hostile airship at Buhl was attacked. The results were not observed owing to bad visibility. "In the course of fighting in the air one hostile machine was brought down in flames and fell inside our lines. All our machines returned safely."

DONNAN IS BLAMED FOR WOMAN'S DEATH

Coroner's Jury Charges Criminal Negligence on Part of Driver.

EXCESSIVE SPEED

Leniency Asked for Jury in Case of Motor Truck Smash.

After deliberating thirty minutes last night the jury which investigated the death of Mrs. Ellen Bursey, who was killed on July 29 by a motor truck driven by Martin A. Donnan, brought in the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that Mrs. Ellen Bursey came to her death on July 29 as a result of a collision with a motor truck driven by Martin A. Donnan. The truck was moving at an excessive rate of speed, and that in driving the aforesaid Martin A. Donnan was guilty of criminal negligence, and caused the death of Mrs. Ellen Bursey. The jury respectfully request that the court deal as leniently as possible with Martin A. Donnan."

Coroner Dr. W. Young conducted the investigation and R. H. Greer appeared for the crown. T. N. Phelan represented Donnan, while W. E. Murphy, jun., acted as counsel for the four men who were in the truck at the time of the accident. William G. Willoughby, from whose home the truck had done the moving, had followed the truck in a Ford car. He followed the truck at a distance of a block and a half, in his estimate his speed of 15 miles by his speedometer was greater than the truck. He said he kept his eye on the truck all the time, and just before it made the fatal plunge the truck's wheels were found to be on the curb. There was something wrong with the gear.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

Pierce fighting prevailed yesterday on the allied right wing. General Humbert resumed the advance in the wooded region between the Massif de la Roche and the German line. The British army, after a day of resistance, made progress in the region north and east of Gury, south of the Massif de la Roche, and reached the line of the Massif de la Roche. Further east he advanced his lines about 2000 yards at a point north of Cambouris village. The British army, after a day of resistance, made progress in the region north and east of Gury, south of the Massif de la Roche, and reached the line of the Massif de la Roche. Further east he advanced his lines about 2000 yards at a point north of Cambouris village.

On the front of the British fourth army and the French first army, the day was quiet. Outside of the captures made by the French army under General Humbert, the British army captured 600 prisoners and 600 guns. In addition, these forces under General Humbert made large hauls of material and captured the line as far east as Noyon. The British from the north also continued their pressure against the Roye-Nesle line, and it is thought that the British army had evacuated Roye and begun his disastrous retreat.

The Germans have prevented immediate disaster to the army of Von Hutler by the engaging of their remaining reserves on the old line of 1914, but nevertheless they are still in extreme peril from the allied enveloping movements against the corridor of Noyon, Lassigny, Roye, and Nesle. By reason of the rushing up of reserves, the enemy has crowded this narrow corridor with ten divisions, and war material and the allies force the defenses of Roye and Noyon, it will be difficult for them to escape without disaster, wing to the capture of the Massif de la Roche by the French, the allies have secured a position for directing artillery fire upon the various roads used by the Germans. In a day or so, when they move up their heavy pieces, they will probably be able to repeat on the enemy their feat against him on the Fare-en-Tardenois line. Tardenois line, compelling a retirement thru a few congested remaining outposts.

Foch in three weeks has achieved as much in his attacks as the Germans achieved in four months at the cost of 600,000 men and 1,000,000 casualties. He has also forced the enemy to use his reserves, which he formerly held normally in the rear, in the line of the front trenches. He has wiped out the German menace to Paris, not only from the Marne Valley, but also from the Oise Valley, and he has saved Amiens from reduction and recovered full control of valuable railways. The severely cut. When asked by Mr. Greer as to what had kept him from going back to the scene of the accident he replied that fear had kept him back. Mr. Greer: "Why you have just told me that you do not know what happened; you say you did not know there was an accident; then what fear was it that kept you from going back to the scene of the accident?"

Francis B. Mulloy, another of the material witnesses held on bail in connection with the case, said that he was sitting on the side of the truck at the time of the accident. When asked the speed of the truck, he said that it could not have been going at more than fifteen to eighteen miles an hour. One of the main questions asked by the crown was whether or not the truck passed a certain street car, on which a witness had sworn that the truck was going so fast he thought "it was a fire engine."

Arthur Crampton, another of the occupants of the truck, said that there had been no drinking on the night of the accident. When he was asked if he had seen any one else in the truck, he said that he did not remember passing a street car; he did not run away from the scene, but stayed with Crampton to help in the rescue. As he had not been molested by any police officer, he thought himself free to go home. Several other witnesses appeared, but they could throw no further light on the case.

EQUAL DISTRIBUTION

Oswego Coal Dealer Gives Views to Toronto Reporter.

An equal distribution of coal both for the United States and Canada is the policy aimed at, said Kenneth D. McMurrick, a prominent coal dealer of Oswego, N.Y., who is at the Queen's Hotel.

The shortage of fuel is being felt very keenly in the United States, so much so that in many of the states of the union, there was great activity in securing supplies of wood. The operators were being handicapped by the shortage of men as many of the miners were leaving the mines to go to work on the better paid branches of war work. Strict regulations were put in force in the United States to prevent the hoarding of coal, both the dealer and the purchaser being liable to drastic punishment for violation of the fuel restrictions.

offensive of the allies is, moreover, apparently just beginning. The present pause marks only the end of one phase. Some of the critics are making the mistake of confounding the allied operations of this year with their operations of last year. They are oblivious of the fact that the allied war council at Versailles and Marshal Foch have decided to limit the fighting to a series of limited objectives. Of deliberate policy last year Field Marshal Haig in his own despite, it is the policy of the allied war council to achieve a surprise at any time, it was deemed advisable to stop the operations at once.

Foch's policy of reducing the salient, driven by an enemy's tremendous cost has already been demonstrated. The enemy, by his wedge-driving, restored open field warfare, and in consequence the allied allies the opportunity of inflicting disaster upon him at comparatively small expense. The present battle may develop into the greatest of the war, as the allies have completed preparations to strike the Germans on their wounded front, in the region south of Ypres, the Germans report terrific artillery firing, and it may be that Generals Horne and Plumer will open their attack against the Lyss salient. On the other hand, they may make a demonstration in this region in order to hold back as many of the German reserves as possible, which would give the allies a better opportunity for exploiting their already fine advantage in the south.

In Russia the allies have served an ultimatum on Trotsky, demanding within three days an expiration of the Lenin line, by threatening war against Anglo-French imperialism. The allies have also formally recognized the Czechoslovak armies in Russia as an allied nation, and as an allied force engaged in regular warfare against the common enemy. The allies have also issued a declaration of war against the Bolsheviks. High policy also appears in the recognition of the Czechoslovak army for the effect on the German race in Austria-Hungary will place electrical and they will create further difficulties for the Vienna government. On the other hand, Germany is becoming perturbed over the developments in Russia, and is beginning to threaten fresh war in that country. A conference of German and Austrian politicians and generals will place shortly to deliberate on a Russian policy. Meanwhile, the news from everywhere except Bolshevik quarters shows that the Russian people are holding the Germans in increased de-

MUST SAVE TROOPS

War Cannot Be Won by Stubborn Defence, Ludendorff Says.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 13.—A captured enemy secret order, signed "Ludendorff," lays stress on the necessity of economizing men. The order asserts that the two elements essential to the future conduct of the war are to "maintain everywhere our fighting strength, and the spirit of offensive."

The captured document was issued late in June, since which time not only have the German forces been materially whittled down by the allied armies, but if the "spirit of the offensive" still exists it certainly is not among the troops that have been fighting at the Somme and the Marne rivers.

MAYOR WOULD PROVIDE COUNSEL FOR SOLDIERS

Mayor Church wants counsel provided for returned men who may be charged before the courts with any offence. In a letter to the authorities he says: "I think it is high time that instructions were issued to judges and magistrates that no returned men should be tried without being supplied with proper and adequate counsel, with time allowed to present a defence. This should also apply to military courts and in a case where the soldier is unable by financial circumstances—due to $110 per day—to provide counsel the government should supply counsel. The government can give advocate-generals who have never seen a day's active service big pay and big jobs, and should be able to pay counsel for soldiers who have served overseas to give them a chance and fair play now allowed civilians by law, and also in the civil statutes. This should also apply to the R.A.F."

PATRIOTIC ASSOCIATION CUTS OFF ALLOWANCES

The Toronto and York Patriotic Association have recently cut the allowance to the wives and dependants of the men of the Royal Air Force, thereby causing much hardship in many families. This applies to men as long as they remain in Canada, but when they get to France, the money will be paid again. Much dissatisfaction and many complaints have been heard at this sudden change of policy, and the officers of the air force are indignant over it. "It is no easier for me to live with my husband in Canada than in France," said one little woman who has three babies. "In fact, if anything, it costs me more now, for he is home to meals often, and then he wouldn't be. It isn't his fault that he isn't in France. He surely wants to be and when he signed up they promised him he would be sent over soon. But that is over a year ago and he is still here."

DELAY OF NEW CARS BLAMED ON COURTS

Labor and Material Shortages Also Among Excuses Given by Company.

In a report to the board of control by the city's legal department, as to what has been done towards compelling the Toronto Railway Company to furnish the new cars, the Ontario Railway Board was made on November 6, 1914, ordering the company to build and put in operation, not later than June 1, 1915, fifty double-truck cars. The city asked for two hundred cars. This matter was reopened on the application of the city, and on February 27, 1917, the board made another order that of the two hundred cars, one hundred should be furnished and in operation by January 1, 1918, and one hundred more by January 1, 1919. This order of the board was not complied with by the company, and the board on its own initiative summoned the company before the board to show cause why the order had not been carried out. On the hearing which covered several days at different times, the company put forward a great many considerations, financial, inability to obtain men or material, and other reasons why it was impossible to comply with the board's order. Judgment upon the hearing was reserved and not given until April 19. Meantime, the legislature had amended the board's power and enabled them to impose fines on a defaulting company up to $1000 a day. The board thereupon imposed a fine of $1000 a day from the time the act came into force to the date of their order, amounting in all to $24,000. Against this finding, the railway company have appealed to the appellate division of the supreme court of Ontario, and this case is now standing for argument at the next sitting of the court.

FLATTERY, BRIBERY AND THREATS MADE

So Says Miss Boulton at Political Meeting Last Night.

WERE ALL IN LETTER

Small But Enthusiastic Meeting in Interests of Cody and Henry.

Speaking at the meeting held under the auspices of the North Toronto Liberal-Conservative Association last night in the interest of Hon. G. S. Henry at the Eglinton Town Hall, Miss Constance Boulton stated she had received a letter from Mr. Galbraith, which she described as a mixture of flattery, bribery and threats. It was stated in the letter that the women of East York represented her going there to tell them how to cast their votes. "I was asked to go there," said Miss Boulton, "and it seemed to me the honest thing to do was to say what I honestly meant. Speaking of the bribe offered, she said that Mr. Galbraith had offered her $5000 if she would work for him, which she considered the greatest bribe ever offered any woman in politics. "I will not abuse Mr. Galbraith," said Miss Boulton, "as I do not know him, and it is not worth it."

Not a Large Gathering. It was not a very large gathering that listened to the many speakers, but what was lacking in numbers was amply made up in enthusiasm, and the speakers were greeted many times by loud applause, especially from the women, who were largely in the majority.

"I have nothing to say about the opponents of Hon. G. S. Henry and Hon. Dr. Cody," said Hon. G. S. Henry. "A man who has been to the front and has done his bit for his country is deserving of respect, and that does not furnish a right for him to represent the people in the legislature of the house of commons."

Speaking of the opponents of Hon. G. S. Henry, he said Mr. Galbraith had said that the legislature had expired. "If that is so why is it still sitting?" he asked. "If he believes the government is dead," asked Mr. McGarry. "He is asking the people of this city to send him to parliament, but can he take the oath? No, for he cannot represent a legislature that is dead and gone. The government was prepared to go to the people in June, and politically it would have been a wise movement, but it was not done. The cry of the opposition is to extend the life of the legislature until after the war, and so give to the thousands of returned men the right to help choose their representatives."

He said that if Mr. Galbraith were returned he would be sitting "all alone in no man's land. We should have to make a new party for Mr. Galbraith."

Seven Millions Spent. Speaking of the work done by the Ontario Government, he said that seven million dollars had been spent to date on war expenditure since the Ontario Government was elected, and that the Ontario Government had spent more on the Canadian Hospital at Orpington, England, and on the Soldiers' Aid Commission.

"There was a statement made by a certain public man that I wish to correct," said Mr. McGarry. He referred to a statement made by Hon. G. S. Edwards, who had stated that the Province of Ontario was going to the dogs, and that it would soon be impossible to live in the province without a count of the taxation, and the debt that was growing.

"I have been favored with the confidence of the electors of East York for five years," declared Hon. G. S. Henry. "And I appreciate the difficulties the workers are faced with today, the same as five years ago, and for that reason I must thank the electors for the manner in which they have stood behind me." Mr. Henry said he felt that his election was due to the desire of the electors to have a man who would support the Government.

Mrs. James Loughheed urged all the women to assist in the work next Monday. Dr. W. Jackson, M.L.A., Haldimand, spoke in high terms of Mr. Henry and said he had never heard of any member, whether Liberal or Conservative, say any other man should hold the portfolio. Ald. H. H. Ball asked them why should the Ontario Government be disturbed by one man from Tomdorden, and he was disgusted that any man should think there was any objection to the present Government.

The chair was taken by W. Ballie, president of the North Toronto Liberal-Conservative Association, and R. L. Baker also said a few words.

The child was removed to the Hospital for Sick Children in the police ambulance.

CONTROLLERS TO INVESTIGATE. The board of control will make an inspection of the new trestle over Glen road because of the complaints made that the curb on either side of the roadway overcrosses three feet above the traveled part and that the piers supporting the bridge obstruct the view of drivers, thus creating a dangerous spot. R. C. Harris, works commissioner, does not take this view. However, the controllers will see for themselves.

BASEBALL FANS MADE TO SHOW THEIR PAPERS

Some of the Toronto baseball fans will no doubt look upon Aug. 13 as a somewhat unlucky day, for, in addition to bringing a temperature of over a hundred in the shade it was a day when it was necessary to show military papers on arrival at the Bay Street ferry dock after the game. A total of 12 men who were without proper military papers were apprehended. They were bonded for re-appearance with their papers today and several held pending further investigation. The examination of military papers of the men returning from the ball game was conducted by a civil section of the military police corps, under direction of Capt. Flanagan. Detectives Young, Taylor and Nurey from the city hall were also present during the operations.

The examination for military papers was carried out in a way that caused no confusion, owing to the speedy work of the police. An example of this was the fact that in two instances the crowd was brought over in the big ferries were passed thru the gates in three and a half minutes.

CAPT. A. W. BAIRD, M.C., KILLED IN ACTION

Capt. Alexander Watson Baird, M.C., son of the late James Baird, K.C., county crown attorney, 21 St. Andrew's Gardens, was killed in action on Aug. 8. Official announcement of his death was received in Toronto yesterday. Capt. Baird, M.C., went overseas from Toronto in 1914 as lieutenant in the 128th Peel County Battalion. He served at the front in the battalion commanded by the late Lt.-Col. Sam Sharpe, D.S.O., and won his captaincy on the field of battle. A somewhat remarkable coincidence was that the cousin of Capt. Baird won the Military Medal on the same day that he won the Military Cross. The death of a man which won for Capt. Baird the Military Cross last May was called the "best thing the battalion has done yet." A month later the news came that he had been awarded the further decoration of a bar to his Military Cross. Capt. Baird was educated at Upper Canada College and the University of Toronto.

LIUT. SOMMERVILLE WINS ITALIAN HONOR

Award by the King of Italy of the Italian distinguished service medal, called the "Croce al Merito di Guerra," has been made to Lieut. William Somerville, M.A., of Toronto. The official Italian statement says that the award was made for "signal bravery in carrying wounded along heavily shelled roads and also repeatedly under rifle and machine gun fire." Lieut. Somerville enlisted in 1916, at that time being in his second year at Osgoode Hall. He is a graduate of Trinity University. For about a year he has been thru all the operations on the Italian front. Since the time of the big Austrian offensive last year his work has been of a specially hazardous character, because he constantly carried on under direct Austrian observation and subject to machine gun and shell fire. Lieut. Somerville is Crawford street, and a brother of Norman Somerville, 59 Victoria street.

CLAIMS AGGREGATE SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND

Claims aggregating $75,000 were presented to the board of control yesterday by W. C. Miller, secretary of the Toronto branch of the Retail Merchants' Association. They were from those restaurant keepers whose places were damaged during the recent riots. Mr. Miller also explained that the medical health officer had instructed the restaurateurs to close their places for a week, and they had not had a chance to have the city appraise their losses. The matter will be considered by the controllers at their next meeting. The Greek consul-general for Canada is expected to be on hand this afternoon for his countrymen's interests.

LEVY GETS SYMPATHY, BUT NO REDUCTION

Sympathy was extended by the court of revision yesterday to W. J. Levy, but no reduction was made in his appeal against the assessment of his place at 111 Balmora avenue, and on the value of his house, $2,600. It was explained that Mr. Levy's neighbor had erected a garage on the lot, which was a depreciation of at least $1,000. It was said the fence was built out of the lot. Chairman Drayton was sorry, but the court had no power to do anything in the matter.

PRINCE ON LAKE DURING BIG BLOW

Royal Guest and Party Cross From Beamsville in Open Motor Boat. Came in Eastern Gap Several Launches Put Out, Fearing Some Mishap Had Occurred. Prince Arthur of Connaught arrived in Toronto from Beamsville yesterday evening at twenty minutes past seven. He had passed thru the city on his way to Niagara Falls and Beamsville aviation camp on Monday night. The prince, accompanied by Lieut.-General Sir William Fetteson, Major the Earl of Pembroke, and Captain the Master of Sinclair, stepped from the R.A.F. launch "Brigadier" at the landing stage in front of the Harbor Commissioners' building, while Capt. Scholes with a party of newspaper men were securing the launch and in a vain effort to locate the boat which was to bring the party to Toronto. According to the pilot of the "Brigadier," the lake was in one of its ugly moods and instead of sailing thru the west channel, as had at first been decided upon, the launch was taken round by the east route in order to avoid the heavy swell of the open lake. One Launch Breaks Down. The "Brigadier" was conveyed all the way from Beamsville by two other R.A.F. motor launches, but one of them had a slight break down and the boat carrying the prince and his party arrived at the Harbor Commissioners' landing stage well ahead of the party. Captain Lou Scholes had left the dock accompanied by a group of journalists, about half past six, and after a short cruise about the mouth of the west channel, had returned to the landing stage with the information that they had seen no trace of the launch. They resumed their search a few minutes later, sailing away in the westerly direction only to meet with a second failure as the launch entered the bay by the east channel during their absence. The Prince was greeted, as he set foot on the landing stage, with a few bars of the National Anthem, played by the Garrison Band, and welcomed by the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir John Hendrie. A military guard of honor composed of 100 men of the C.O.T.C. was also present. The prince and his party arrived at the Harbor Commissioners' building and presented arms as the Prince and his party landed from the motor boat. Prince Arthur of Connaught, after reviewing the guard, addressed a few words to the men who were distinguished service ribbons, and shaking hands with the men, he proceeded to the awaiting motor cars and left in the company of the lieutenant-governor for the government house, where he was met by an honored guest during his stay in this city. Official Welcome This Morning. The Prince will be officially welcomed to the province by Sir William Hearst, this morning, in front of the parliament buildings at 10.30, when he will also present decorations to a number of soldiers from this district. He will then visit Hart House and the Davielville Orthopaedic Hospital. After lunch at the government house, Prince Arthur and his party will pay a visit to the Royal Flying Corps camp, and in the evening a dinner will be given for the prince and his party at the residence of the lieutenant-governor. On Thursday morning the Prince and party will leave for London, Ontario, where they will proceed to the lake in a motor launch which will prove too dangerous owing to the heavy swell of the water. The R.A.F. girl chauffeurs, Miss Catherine Hanna and Miss Anderson, left by motor car early yesterday morning to bring in the party in case the water trip had to be abandoned. Their services were, however, not required as the swell on the lake and his party from the lake voyage.

SOCIETY

Princess Arthur of Connaught arrived in town from Badenweiler yesterday afternoon by motor launch, and was received at the new building of the Harbor Commission on the water front, afterward proceeding to Government House, attended by his suite and accompanied by His Honor, Col. Caldwell and Col. Fraser.

Princess Arthur of Connaught, who is so often in nursing uniform that to see her in ordinary attire, is almost a matter for surprise, has succumbed to the fascination of the low-cut corsage (writes an overseas correspondent).

The Aero Club dance at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club last night was a great success, about one hundred and fifty pretty girls and R. A. F. cadets being present.

The Toronto World

FOUNDED 1890. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited.

Dr. Cody's Appeal

Hon. Dr. Cody has issued a circular to the electors of Northeast Toronto explaining his policy and his aims in accepting his present position, and describing the holding of an election on these war days.

But Dr. Cody does not stop at this. In the upbuilding of our country in the critical period after the war, he says, "education will be one of the most important forces."

The broad generalization of this appeal must meet with universal approval, even though the Labor men continue to clamor for the definite aims they have formulated, higher wages for the teachers; more attention to the rudiments; more facilities for boys and girls from 15 to 18 for continuation classes; more scholarships for the children of the artisan class; free books in all public schools; and other precise objects that appeal to the academic mind.

Mr. Norman Sommerville has stated that the provincial government has already accepted every one of the Labor planks. One report has some qualification regarding the "practical" planks. But they are all practical proposals in as far as they are all in operation in one country or another.

But if the government does not ratify Mr. Sommerville's statement, it would have been wiser not to have made it, for the men who are supporting the Labor candidate are weary of plausible generalizations, and suspicious of anything but candid and definite statements. We have been particularly interested in the adoption of "proportional representation," and if Mr. Sommerville can give assurance that the government has adopted this measure, and have Sir William Hearst so announce, we do not believe that Labor will have anything more to ask, for proportional representation means the best government that democracy can produce.

What we can all be assured of is that Dr. Cody when elected will give loyal and efficient service in any task that falls to him, and if he can meet the views of Labor on education, based as they are on the recent British Education Act, he will do all that can be expected of him.

Ten Years Old

The Christian Science Monitor, published in Boston, has just completed its tenth year, and incidentally is changing from an afternoon to a morning newspaper. It was founded ten years ago at the instance of Mrs. Eddy with the object to injure no man, but to bless all mankind.

ate kind. Its general articles, which make it a daily magazine, are interesting, instructive, and written by experts. Its editorial columns are brilliant and illuminating. The Monitor has been a consistent and intelligent supporter of the allied cause and smiles on the reunion of the English-speaking races.

Nothing but great breadth of vision and purpose could have made such a successful newspaper and no doubt it will continue to attract readers by its journalistic merits who have no knowledge of the body behind it.

Foch's Next Stroke

While the eminent war critics are telling us that the French and British and American advance has slowed down, and that the Germans are stabilizing their lines, and that we must not expect a continuance of such successes as the past few weeks have developed, General Foch merely pulls out another notch and turns on the advance stronger than ever.

The actions of the past three weeks have been flanking actions; as must be the case where such huge masses of troops are being handled. There are times for frontal attack, but they are usually desperate times or stupid times. By outflanking movements many great battles have been won.

Rearguard actions have been fought, and it has been sought to stay the force of allied pressure by standing on temporary lines. Of these one of the strongest was that from Chaulnes by Roye to Noyon. To lose this would be disaster to the whole German force, it was said a day or two ago. Well, the Germans have lost it, because the Lassigny Massif fell yesterday, and the French from this point can command Noyon as soon as their guns are in position, and the time will be lost over this.

Much depends on the reserves at General Foch's disposal. It has been said that he will not press the Germans into the old Somme battlefield, as there is nothing to be gained by so doing. It all depends what the object is. General Foch will always spare his men as far as possible, but he is also out to win and end the war, and if he can do it this year there would be no sense merely to please the critics in leaving enough over for another campaign next year.

We think that he will exert the utmost pressure of which he is capable, and will press his advantage to the utmost, consistent with prudence. But when the enemy's army has become more or less of a mob, when his communications are clogged, and his front roads under shell fire, when his reserves are at low ebb, and the field too crowded to permit their use in stemming the pursuit, it is not a time to dwell too insistently on prudence. A great general must have his finger on the pulse of the enemy, and know when to drive him.

General Foch is in a position to drive. The fall of Roye, near which the French have all the high ground, is a matter of hours, and may be reported captured this morning. Noyon is in equal jeopardy. Chaulnes cannot stand. Whether the German troops are swept back into the Somme desert, or whether they are captured is almost immaterial. The result is to prepare for a further stage in the attack.

It is clear that the German high command is rattled, and has inferior troops at his disposal. It is Foch's business to take advantage of all such factors. If he thinks himself strong enough to attack the enemy in his state of demoralization, he will probably add to the confusion by some further flanking attacks. It is not beyond the bounds of possibility that a turning movement might be attempted on the extreme German right, on the coast. An assault on his lines of communication through Belgium might roll him up into absolute chaos. There are gigantic possibilities in the situation, and it is the business of military genius to take advantage of them and realize all such opportunities. We believe Foch and Wilson have the genius for big war, and if their strength permits, of which we know nothing, they will never allow the Germans to settle down again into the idea that the military brains of Germany are any use.

A Line of Cheer Each Day of the Year

From Canadian Papers

Give Names of Units. London Advertiser: Is it not about time the Canadian newspapers with influence at Ottawa persuaded the authorities to permit the names of units engaged in the fighting to be mentioned? The Americans are doing it every day and nothing is more calculated to keep the home spirit fired.

An Offset. Brantford Courier: It is estimated in the United States that the wheat yield this year will be 800,000,000 bushels, or 25,000,000 more than last year's. This will far more than offset the Canadian shrinkage, which is inevitable.

H. C. L. Probe. Winnipeg Evening Tribune: Instead of leaving it to Winnipeg, or Toronto, or Vancouver, to struggle along with a petty, inefficient and altogether hopeless investigation into the root of the high cost of living, our government might have been co-operating with the experts of the American Trade Commission. We have had repeated conferences with the American authorities, and it is not clear that the Dominion Government is now conducting an investigation into meat prices. Anything like comprehensive investigation should put an end to the attempt to throw much of the responsibility for enquiry on the municipal bodies.

Keep It On the Job. London Advertiser: Parliament should be on the job more often during wartime than during peace time. The tremendous monumental problems that arise today make the questions of pre-war days pass into insignificance. If tours to the old country should be made with the same speed as when Lloyd George makes a journey to France or Italy or Salonica, the statements of the other allied nations travel so fast and transact so much business at a single conference that their absence often is never noticed until their return is announced. The camouflage surrounding the visits of Canadian ministers to England makes the necessity for their continued absence seem smaller than ever.

From the Papers of the United States

They Will Do It. N. Y. Telegraph: It may be that the blow delivered yesterday was merely a tactical device to reach the true market equilibrium. If the seven hundred and fifty million dollars of securities which we have issued in Canada has been the price of issue, we had to take into consideration market conditions prevailing both in Canada and New York. This was especially so during the first three years of the war, when we had to depend for the issues of our loans principally upon the investing public. The Anglo-French loan, and the several issues of the imperial government in New York, all giving a high interest yield, were during the period competitors with our war issues, and large sums went from Canada for their purchase.

Must Raise Interest Rate. While it is true that patriotism plays a great part in the successful flotation of war loans, it should be kept in mind that prices are chiefly determined by the market conditions. Especially is this true where financing on a large scale extends, as ours had extended, over a period of years.

Just a Start. Wichita, Kas. Eagle: The Germans should understand, too, that the Marne offensive and the Amiens drive are merely preliminaries to the big drive next spring.

Low Army Death Rate. Wichita, Kas. Eagle: I present the American army's death rate from disease is three per 1000; in the Spanish war it was 23. The present is the lowest army death rate on record.

Cause for Worry. Boston Transcript: Here are some things that cause German worry: (1) The American peril; (2) The crown prince's costly experiment on the Marne; (3) The Russian-Solonon; (4) The approaching collapse of Austria; (5) The absolute failure of frightfulness, whether in the form of gas, mustard, or liquid fire, poison, massacres of civilians, men, women and children, or terrorizing of enemy and neutral countries by bomb and other plots.

New York Times: In the number of prisoners the present battle is proportionately much more disastrous to the enemy than the counter-offensive in the Rheims-Solonon. In three days Marshal Haig has taken 60,000 prisoners. General Mangin captured 35,000 in as many weeks in smashing the salient further south.

New York Herald: In this country the report of the death of Schwieger, who fired the torpedo that sank the Lusitania, will be received with relief. It is the one man whose name the Americans had hoped to determine. However, there are the "higher-ups" who must and will be held to a strict and personal accountability.

New York Sun: The first thing that is essential to our success in the war is the destruction of the elaborately constructed theory that Germany is unconquerable. Not once but many times General Pershing has urged that Americans rise to their minds of the monstrous myth of Teutonic invincibility.

New York Tribune: Marshal Foch has the rare ability to use alien leaders and alien organizations in his own swift strategy. His conceiving brains places no narrow limits on the brains that execute. A free hand in their own field has been given to American and British commanders alike.

NEW VICTORY LOAN MUST BE TAX-FREE

Sir Thomas White Says Otherwise Interest Rate Must Go Up.

COULD EVADE IMPOST Tax-Free Securities Listed in New York Open to Canadians to Buy.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Referring to the discussion which is taking place in Ottawa of the new Victory Loan securities, the minister of finance today made the following statement: During the past three years of the war Canada could not have financed her military efforts by domestic loans only. We had been a borrowing country, and it was necessary that for a considerable period after the outbreak of war we should continue to borrow externally. The London market having been closed to outside issues we turned to New York. In connection with our loans there, it was an imperative condition that the securities should be tax-free, no matter in whose hands they might be held. We have now listed in New York tax-free securities aggregating one hundred million dollars in Canada, to which Canadians have bought, and can still buy. We have issued seven hundred and fifty million dollars of tax-free securities in Canada, to which the price of issue, we had to take into consideration market conditions prevailing both in Canada and New York. This was especially so during the first three years of the war, when we had to depend for the issues of our loans principally upon the investing public. The Anglo-French loan, and the several issues of the imperial government in New York, all giving a high interest yield, were during the period competitors with our war issues, and large sums went from Canada for their purchase.

While it is true that patriotism plays a great part in the successful flotation of war loans, it should be kept in mind that prices are chiefly determined by the market conditions. Especially is this true where financing on a large scale extends, as ours had extended, over a period of years. As for the new Victory Loan, I feel that no risk should be run by making its terms less favorable than those of our last issue. The difference between a moderate success and the notable success such as I feel Canada will accomplish would be a most serious difference to our agricultural, trade and industrial prosperity upon which depends the financial support of our war effort. I do not believe this is a good time to make any change in our war loan policy.

THE WIFE

By JANE PHELPS

Ruth Finds an Apartment. She Plans to Do It Over. CHAPTER IX. "Now, dear, I want to talk to you."

It was the third day after they had arrived in New York, and also the third day of Ruth's fruitless search for a place to live. They had finished dinner, and Ruth, utterly worn out, had slipped into a comfortable kimono, and was lazily on the couch.

"Go ahead, Brian, dear. But don't expect me to answer. I am tired to death. The perfectly awful places I have seen have given me a horrible headache."

"All right, I'll do the talking, now. Ruth, darling, there isn't any use pretending. We are poor, poor as church mice, and we have got to find a place to live in and get out of here. Cheap as it is, it is far more than we can afford for a while. Tomorrow is Sunday. I will spend the day hunting a place. Then Monday we must get a few things and move in. You can buy the furniture gradually. We'll get the necessities, and start housekeeping. Of course, Ruth, we won't be as poor as we are now, very long."

"Of course, we won't! Why, you'll soon have a big law practice, then, and we can get into a nice place and have Rachel!"

"Yes," rather impatiently, "But, Ruth, I am afraid you will not be contented. You have seen many apartments just as good as any we can afford now, and you say they give you a headache. I should hate to come home and find you always with a headache."

Ruth laughed merrily. She was really tired, really disgusted with the places she had seen. But she was also in love, also young and enthusiastic. "Oh, I'll be happy, Brian, dear. We'll fix up the place so prettily, on almost nothing at all, that you won't recognize it. Only please don't take a place where there are cockroaches."

Ruth's idea of "nothing at all" was a little less than she had used to decorate her aunt's house. "Of course I won't! Now we'll turn in early, get a good start in the morning, and by night we will have a home, little girl. It will be better than this old hole, anyway. And the way the bills mount up here is scandalous."

Ruth was about to tell him they weren't a tenth of what hers and Aunt Laura's were at the Ritz, when she stopped there. Then she remembered that Brian was not rich like Mrs. Clayborne, and said nothing. But

GERMANS PREPARING FOR RETREATING AGAIN

London, Aug. 13.—German troops are retreating from the river bed of the Oise just west of Bally, according to news received here early this afternoon.

The move has been forced by French pressure in the valley of the Oise. Bally is a village situated on the east bank of the Oise, about a mile and three-quarters east of Ribecourt. It is near the southern end of Ourscamp forest, a wooded section, which is of great strategic value in that part of the battlefield.

The enemy is reported destroying villages in his rear. The ruins of Yverme are reported to be burning. Fires have been observed by allied aviators at various points.

GERMANS MAKE STAND ON INTERMEDIATE LINE

Paris, Aug. 13.—The furious counter-attacks which the Germans continued to launch yesterday are attributed here to the imperative need of holding the Chaumes-Roye-Noyon line, the loss of which would result to a disaster to them. The counter-attacks were all broken, although the enemy had reached ground with which he was perfectly familiar in previous fighting, and was occupying a line which gives him good holding ground because of the old defences there.

Facts of His Disappearance Soon to Be Made Public.

Kingston, Aug. 13.—Dominion Officer E. Carter of Ottawa who was in the city some days ago investigating Major Sharp's disappearance, came back to the city at an early hour this morning after following a clue in the case to an eastern point. From well-informed circles it was learned today that the entire facts in the Sharp case would be given to the public in a few days. All theories have been set aside now and it is simply a case of preparing the facts for the public. As a result of an investigation conducted supplementary to that of the Dominion officers here last week it is now practically an assured fact that Major Sharp was neither drowned nor met with foul play, but left the city without any serious motive. The fact is also fairly well established by secret service men that Major Sharp left the city in an automobile from a local taxi stand, driving in the direction of the outer station and remaining there until near train time, then leaving the city all together.

INDIA AGREES TO CUT EMIGRATION TO CANADA

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Great importance is attached in government circles to the conclusions reached at the imperial war conference in respect to the matter of immigration, more particularly as it affects India and the overseas dominions. Canada's part in this discussion was taken up by Sir Robert Borden and Hon. J. A. Calder.

Emigration to Canada from India of laboring classes, which has been the cause of considerable difficulty in the past, will be stopped completely. A decision reached was that the several communities of the British Empire, including India, should be placed under the control of the composition of its own population by means of other communities.

By way of return, the representatives of Canada agreed to limit the number of immigrants to Canada, and who number approximately two thousand, should be allowed to enter the country on the condition that not more than one wife and her children shall be admitted for each Indian.

FOOD PENALTY FALLS ON BELLEVILLE DEALER

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The first penalty for violation of the regulation prohibiting the use in the manufacture of ice cream of more than 10 per cent. of fats or more than 6 pounds of cane sugar to eight gallons of ice cream, has been ordered by the Food Board, the offender being Mike Maraskas, 245 Front street, Belleville.

An analysis of sample of ice cream sold by this dealer showed that he was using excessive amounts of both butter fat and sugar. For this reason he has been ordered to close his business for a period of 15 days, from Aug. 19 to Sept. 2, both days inclusive. During the period of suspension, he is prohibited from buying or selling any foodstuffs.

TRIUMVIRATE TO BOSS SOVIET OPERATIONS

Amsterdam, Aug. 13.—Because of the counter-revolutionary movement in Russia, the "second soviet congress" has placed the execution of power in the hands of a triumvirate composed of Trotsky, Lenin and Zinoviev.

Trotsky, minister of war, and M. Zinoviev, an associate of Lenin, according to Moscow advices to the Rhinelandische Zeitung. They have been given unlimited power to take all measures necessary to gain victory in the fight of the soviet republic against its enemies. The advices add that the leaders of the Kerensky party, who had been kept under strict soviet observation, have suddenly disappeared. It is believed in Moscow that they fled abroad.

VIENNESE RUN TO BUY ALLIED PROPAGANDA

Washington, Aug. 13.—Neutral press reports that Vienna citizens paid as much as forty crowns for leaflets dropped by Italian aviators in their recent flight over the city. The leaflets, which were causing great satisfaction in Rome, in official circles, were picked up by the cabinet and congratulated the air service on the feat.

Aviators reported that people in the streets of Vienna fought for possession of the leaflets, despite severe penalties for such conduct. One of the leaflets, which was dropped from the air, the despatch disclosed that one of the Italians, Sartori, upon being forced by motor trouble to land, set fire to his machine before surrendering.

"Altogether, I have used three boxes of 'Sootha Salva' and two of 'Fruit-a-lives,' and am entirely well."

WINTER SHORTAGE OF COAL IN WEST

Fuel Controller Warns People to Get in Soft Coal.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—That he over the west and absolutely refuses to be responsible if the people of western Canada freeze this winter because of lack of concerted action on the part of the public to get in supplies of soft coal immediately, was the statement made today by G. A. McGrath, Dominion fuel controller. He declared to pressmen that the coal situation in the west is a serious one, and that the danger of actual suffering in the cold months if action was not taken at once.

"I particularly desire to draw attention to the fact that the allotment for the Canadian west, as announced by Peterson, the deputy controller, while in Winnipeg recently, is entirely dependent upon the coal being available in the United States," said the fuel controller.

"Since I wish the allotment of anthracite coal for Canada has been cut by one million tons. The United States has further restricted the allotment of anthracite coal for Canada to 75 per cent. of the normal. Ontario and Quebec are likewise restricted. The west is fortunate in having soft coal recently put his province on a 70 per cent. restriction.

"The western allotment of anthracite is only half the amount normally consumed in the west. The west is fortunate in reaching the head of the lakes; but even this is not an assured fact for reasons I have given. It is entirely dependent upon the coal being available in the United States, and it is up to the people themselves to get in soft coal at once. Some complaints have reached me as to the matter of municipal coal in Winnipeg. An examination of our records here shows that the handling of this matter is being done very favorably with those of other cities similarly situated. The regulations governing this matter are being kept very clear, and I can only say that I will be prepared to take drastic action in any matter which comes to my attention where I find that the law has not been complied with."

PRIZES FOR FRANKNESS BEQUEATHED BY WILL

Montreal, Aug. 13.—One of the most remarkable wills filed in the probate records of the Province of Quebec for many years is that of the late Hon. Joseph Adolphe Chauvet, notary and member of the legislative council of the province, who died here on Aug. 1. Decided leaves an estate valued at $200,000, which, after certain legacies are paid, goes to his widow. "I give and bequeath," says a clause in the will, "to the school municipality of Cote St. Remi, in the parish of Genevieve, the sum of $200, the interest from which is to be spent for the keep of the horses of those parishioners living on the concession where I was born, who, without returning home

SIBERIA IS POPULAR

Officers and Men at Niagara Camp Anxious to Go.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Aug. 13.—Siberia is a popular place in camp here these days, and a majority of the officers are putting their names on the lists for enrollment for service with the 4000 Canadians who are to do duty there in the near future. The applications are being received by Brigade Major A. C. Lewis both for those who wish to go with the infantry and those whose choice of service is with the Machine Gun Corps. This list when completed will be submitted to Col. H. C. Bickford, D.O.C., Toronto. Non-commissioned officers also are applying for leave to join the Canadian contingent for Siberia. One of the very first applicants was Robert Butler, quartermaster-sergeant instructor, R.C.R., a member of the permanent force, who offered to go as a private.

FOCH'S STRATEGY WORKING WONDERS

Germans Lose in Three Weeks All Gains of Months.

ENEMY'S RESERVES USED

Prompt Escape is Made Impossible by Fire of Allies.

With the French Army in France, Aug. 13.—After the battle of the Avre, the situation of the belligerents presents a change which for rapidly and extent has rarely been approached in military history. Marshal Foch's strategy and the mastery tactics of the generals commanding the armies and groups of armies under him, have in three weeks wrested from the Germans what required four months for them to obtain at a cost variously estimated at from 700,000 to 1,000,000 men.

The immediate results of the counter-offensive which will have the greatest bearing on subsequent operations are the clearing of the Chateau Thierry pocket, ending the menace to Amiens; the liberation of the Meuse front; the ending of the menace to the important eastern railroad line from Paris to Chalons, and the equally important northern line from Paris to Amiens, a desperate effort of the important communication which give them enormously greater ease in future movements of troops.

Enemy Engaged Reserves.

Marshal Foch's strategy in reducing the salient wedged, wrested the initiative in operations from the Germans, at once obliging them to either order a general retreat to a strong line, such as the Somme, or to engage reserves. The enemy adopted the second alternative, which, having failed, makes eventual retreat immensely more difficult.

The first phase of the battle of the Avre finds the French with a footing upon the Somme plateau west of Noyon, which means the fall of Roye and Lassigny, which already are under menace of imminent capture.

The disaster which menaced General von Hutier's army has been averted for the moment. The few narrow passages which now are open for the withdrawal of German stores are so harassed by the bombs of aviators and the fire of heavy artillery that prompt escape is impossible, rendering probable a desperate effort by the Germans to cling to their 1914 line.

VIOLENT GUN DUELS TO SOUTH OF YPRES

Berlin, via London, Aug. 13.—The German official communication issued today follows: "South of Ypres early in the morning there was violent artillery fighting. Under our fire enemy attacks were unable to develop. South of Ypres frequently repeated English partial attacks were repulsed. There was fierce fighting on both sides of La Bassée Canal and between the Scarpe and Ancre Rivers.

"On the battlefield between the Ancre and the Avre the morning was quieter."
