

'DYNAMITE' WHISKEY BOUGHT BY VENDOR

Hartley Dewart Inquires if Such Was Sold to Public.

CHAIRMAN'S OBJECTION

To Question is Upheld by Narrow Majority of Two.

A ruling of the chairman of the public accounts committee upon which the eyes and ears were taken, was the last act of the committee for the present session, the chairman and some of the members pretended the possibility of another meeting.

H. H. Dewart had asserted the right of the committee to inquire as regards the quality and the treatment of liquor sold to the public from the license warehouse of the Toronto government vendors, T. Ambrose Woods, Limited.

The confusion in the committee room was ludicrous, while an ex-employee of the vendor attempted to give evidence upon the point raised.

William Edward Kane, a former clerk in the Woods warehouse, was put in the witness chair by H. H. Dewart.

Chairman McCrea repeated his ruling of last week that the "interior operations" of the Woods Company could not be gone into, and the investigation must be limited to the relations of the government with the vendor.

Mr. Dewart: I wish to take evidence as to the character and quality of the liquor sold to the people by the vendor. I wish to find out whether it is known as "bootlegger stuff" has gone from the license board to the vendor, how it has been treated by the vendor and whether it has been sold by the vendor.

J. C. Elliott addressed the company upon the rights of the public to protection.

Chairman McCrea: The anxiety you profess will be allayed by the legislation now before the house, by which the government becomes personally and directly responsible for the sale of liquor to the public.

Knew Not Intention. Mr. Dewart and Mr. Elliott objected that they knew neither the intention of the bill nor whether it would ever become law.

Col. Machin: Are we to understand that the licensed vendor cannot be held responsible for the class or quality of the liquor which he sells, that there is no authority or jurisdiction over him?

Kane then went into the chair and deposed that license inspector A. E. Sarvis and Chief Inspector Avaras brought liquor from the parliament buildings to Woods. He mentioned seizures from Guelph, North Toronto, Pickering, Mimico, West Toronto, Clinton, Woodbridge.

To Mr. Dewart. To Mr. Dewart he said 45 bottles purchased at $8 a dozen was very poor. It was called dynamite in the store, being 50, 55 and 60 under proof.

To Mr. Dewart. He said the brand L.M.M. (Italian model mark) whiskey which he had tasted and 24 bottles of which was among the seized liquor sent to the Woods store, $7.50 per dozen; also what is called Scotch, $9 per dozen; "Rosebud Rye," bottled in Montreal, might all be classed as "bootlegger stuff." He was heckled up and down upon his ability as a whiskey taster before being permitted to talk about other brands called "Local Sunshine" and "Joy Whiskey" in the same class.

White Horse. Then came the sensation of his evidence. Ten bottles of "White Horse" whiskey had been taken away by Inspector Sarvis, eight bottles in straw and two without, all in a broken "White Horse" whiskey case. There were also twenty-nine samples of "Imperial" rye in the shop, which Mr. Sarvis took away at various times when he was present.

Mr. Dewart then formulated the question upon which the committee divided and upon which the chairman ruled as inadmissible.

"What was done by the T. Ambrose Woods firm with the local liquor that you referred to; what was done with it before it was sold to the public?" the vote stood, ayes, Cameron, Hilliard, Hook, Jacques, Machin, Owens, Parnell, Preston, Sinclair, S. nays, Calder (Oxford), Clark, Dewart, Elliott, Gillespie, Munro, Pinard, 7.

Inspector Sarvis took the stand and swore the "White Horse" whiskey he had taken from the Woods store was taken back by him to the individual from whom it had been taken. As to the samples of "Imperial" he denied the evidence given.

Col. Machin took occasion to repeat that there is a great deal of unrest throughout the province and he would prefer on going back to his constituency.

Despite the rain a well-attended meeting of the 48th Highlanders' Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held at St. Andrew's Institute yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. E. Warren Darling presiding. The meeting had been called in advance of the regular time for the purpose of considering what part the members might take in extending welcome to the homecoming men to whom they have been so faithful an auxiliary.

Messrs. Scott, Griffin and Ivy, in response to a request for information in connection with the reception, were present. They explained that arrangements were already planned, but that doubtless some way might be found by which the chapter might be represented at the Exhibition grounds or during the series of entertainments already arranged. After some discussion it was moved by Mrs. Campbell and seconded by Mrs. Miller that the executive form a committee to interview Mrs. Albert Brown, who has charge of the women who will assist at the Exhibition, as to the manner in which the chapter might assist in services either to the men or their dependents. DEBAUCHERY DISTRICT, IS MINISTER'S PLAINT

Before the public accounts committee yesterday a letter written by Rev. R. E. Morton, Iroquois Falls, to H. H. Dewart, complaining of debauching conditions arising out of the shipment of liquor to the district during the "flu" epidemic was read.

It appeared from correspondence brought down from the license board that the whiskey was requested by Mayor McCoubrey of Iroquois Falls and was shipped to the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Co. to be used in their hospital under the direction of Dr. Dorsey. The doctor had at first refused to use it, but afterwards had used some. The balance was returned to the board in Toronto with the exception of some diverted for medicinal purposes to Porcupine.

Some of the members were in favor of demanding an apology from Rev. Mr. Morton. It was decided to send him a copy of the evidence.

FEDERAL INQUIRY TO INCREASE VALUE OF CIVIL SERVICE

Government Promises to Grant a Special Committee to Investigate.

THREATENS TO NAME R. Butts in Limelight When He Argues Over Right to Speak.

Ottawa, April 16.—Private members had their last innings of the session in the commons today previous to the adjournment of the house for the Easter holiday.

On motion of Dr. Steel, South Perth, it was decided to name a special committee to investigate the government departments with a view to increasing the efficiency of the civil service.

On motion of Mr. Hume Crovyn, London, the house agreed to name another committee to consider the development in Canada of scientific research.

A resolution by Mr. Frank Glass, East Middlesex, favoring the encouragement of the flax industry of Canada received sympathetic treatment from the house and the government.

A debate on a resolution moved by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux to the effect that newspapers and other publications should publish sworn statements at intervals as to their owners, stockholders, etc., was adjourned.

On the eve of adjournment of the house Mr. Robert Butts, South Cape Breton, was in danger of being named by Deputy Speaker Bolvin.

Hon. A. K. Maclean came to reply to a question asked yesterday by Dr. Deslauriers of St. Mary's, Montreal.

Suddenly Mr. Butts rose to his feet and endeavored to get the floor, rose to his feet and wanted to know why the deputy speaker, who was presiding, did not call Mr. Maclean to order.

"Why don't you call the minister to order?" Mr. Butts heatedly demanded.

"I am just asking you that question as one I have a right to ask and I have a right to have an answer to."

"Order, order," interposed the deputy speaker. "It is customary for one to have a right to have an answer to."

"Order, order," interposed the deputy speaker. "It is customary for one to have a right to have an answer to."

"You close me down," shouted Mr. Butts, "and you have adjourned the house."

Again Mr. Butts was called to order. Speaker Reppros.

"I hope it will not be necessary to name the honorable gentleman," the deputy speaker resumed. "The honorable gentleman who is leading the house has always been granted a privilege by unanimous consent at the moment of adjournment to bring up the orders of the day to lay upon the table certain papers and to answer certain questions regarding matters of urgent public importance. I understand that is what the honorable minister is doing at the present time."

"I sat down and obeyed your ruling," he called back.

But once more Mr. Butts was called to order and he resumed his seat.

Then Mr. Maclean replied to Dr. Deslauriers' question asked yesterday in regard to the strike of workers employed by the Montreal Heat and Power Company. Negotiations, Mr. Maclean said, were going on between the employers and the employees, and there was every indication of an early settlement.

Hon. Charles Maclellan asked if the government was giving any attention at the present time to the suggested conclusion of a commercial union between Canada and the West Indies as advocated by the Canadian West Indian League.

Hon. A. K. Maclean: The government has not been officially approached by any of the West Indian islands with a view of forming a commercial union, and it is not deemed expedient to give official recognition to any movement in that direction by the Canadian West Indian League.

Mr. S. P. Glass of East Middlesex moved a resolution urging the government to establish an experimental and demonstrative station within the area where flax for fibre is being produced, suggesting constant watchfulness by the government to insure that Canadian growers may be supplied with the most modern mechanical appliances, a system of grading and standards, and co-operation by the government with the growers.

Canada's Flax Industry. He told an interesting story of the development of this important industry in Canada. In 1915 it was small and struggling with a total area under flax of 4,300 acres, but last year this had increased to 18,000 acres, with a production of 80,000 tons, while flax mills were spreading in eastern Ontario and in Quebec. The increase was due to the necessities of the war and the demand of the empire for fibre, which is necessary for the manufacture of airplane wings.

As a result, Mr. Glass went on, of the encouragement given to flax spinning owing to the demand for airplane construction, already a spinning mill had been established at Guelph, with a capital of $200,000.

Hon. T. A. Crerar said that the flax industry was one of growing importance in Canada. Its future depended almost entirely on the development of labor saving devices. Mr. Crerar mentioned the invention of a pulling machine by a former minister of the house, who had received financial assistance from the department of agriculture. Tests had shown that the machine could pull six or eight acres per day, which ordinarily would require the labor of 20 men. Experiments were also being conducted by the department to see how flax straw, now thrown away, could be converted into fibre for the manufacture of binder twine. After Mr. Crerar had promised consideration Mr. Glass withdrew his motion.

Civil Service Inquiry. Dr. Steele then moved that a special committee be appointed during the present session to inquire into and report "whenever the civil service staffs in the various departments can be reduced and rearranged with a view to securing the greatest efficiency in the service with the minimum number of employees."

Hon. A. K. Maclean accepted the motion on behalf of the government, and

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBAN NEWS

DANFORTH DAUGHTES OF ENGLAND MAKE BUTTER PROTEST

At a well-attended meeting of the district committee, representing seven lodges of the Daughters of England, at the residence of Mrs. L. G. Cross, district deputy, 9 Ellersbeck avenue, last evening, for the purpose of discussing the recognition of the homecoming veterans, it was decided to appoint a representative entertainment committee.

A subject which absorbed the attention of the meeting during the greater part of the evening, was the high price of butter. Mrs. Cross urged the members of the Daughters of England to make their demands known to the federal and provincial governments. It is an obligation on the women and children that the food profiteers are freely allowed to send the butter required for the people to be shipped out of the country, and those that can least afford it are compelled to pay 70 cents a pound," said the chairman.

It was decided to send a strong resolution of protest to the federal and provincial governments, and a deputation was appointed to wait upon Hon. George S. Henry, minister of agriculture, at the parliament buildings, when an appeal will be made to stop the high price of butter in checking the soaring of butter prices.

The Daughters of England are represented by lodges throughout Toronto, with a membership of over 1200.

He was notified that 1224 Queen street was required by the owner. He immediately paid one hundred dollars a foot for 1224 Queen street.

While being searched in Davenport road police station yesterday afternoon, John and Lawrence Kress, dope fiends, collapsed and were taken to the General Hospital in a serious condition. Crazed from the effects of too much morphine, both men, who are brothers, entered the drug store of Carnahan and Company at Bloor and Yonge streets, and when the clerk turned his back they seized a package of morphine, valued, the police say, at $30. The clerk called a policeman, who took the men to the station. While being searched, John collapsed on the floor, and the ambulance was called. When the police went into the cells where Lawrence had just been placed, they found him lying unconscious on the floor. The police do not expect to take either man to court for several days owing to the seriousness of their condition.

WILLING TO TAKE HIS WIFE BACK

Major Riches Will Do Anything to Promote Her Happiness.

That he was willing to take his wife back on the same terms as before they parted, was the statement made by Charles H. Riches, defendant in an alimony action brought by his wife, Mrs. Olive Riches, which is being heard by Chief Justice Sir William Mulock.

Asked by Mr. Godfrey, counsel for Mrs. Riches, whether he considered if he went back to live with his wife, he would have to make any change in the treatment of her, Mr. Riches stated that he was willing to do anything which would promote the happiness of his wife.

Witness told of keeping his house and interfering with his wife's life since that time she had never come back. Mr. Riches, in answer to questions, stated that he had made repeated efforts to become reconciled with his wife, but she had refused to meet his advances. Defendant claimed that he had taken his wife to a theatre on an average of once a week, and she would usually go to luncheon with him every Friday.

Denies Trampling Hat. Witness also denied that he had trampled on the plaintiff's new hat nor had he failed to provide her with funds to go to Cleveland. He sent her a cheque for $125.00 at that time, while she had $25.00 on deposit. Witness also detailed other sums of money which he gave to the plaintiff at various times.

Plaintiff was allowed to have her own way very largely in the running of the house, stated witness. He never interfered and he did not let any one interfere. His wife was easily irritated, stated Mr. Riches and placed constructions on words and actions that were never intended.

The case will be continued this morning.

PREMIER EXPLAINS MAIN PRINCIPLES OF REFERENDUM

Lauds Effects of O.T.A. and Analyzes Question Ballot.

PROUDFOOT CONFIDENT Soldiers and Women Will Vote for Continuance of O.T.A.

Premier Hearst in moving the second reading of the referendum bill in the legislature last night, said the principle only was open to discussion, and he hoped there would be little room for discussion on the details of the bill in committee. He lauded the effects of the O. T. A. during the dark days of the past three years. He had nothing to apologize for. The life of the government long or short it would live in the affections of many because of the O. T. A. An unfair attempt is now being made to prejudice the returned soldier against the government. "Now on his return we show the returned soldier the province under the O. T. A. We ask him to judge of it with all its failings and all its virtues, and then as a citizen of this province vote and use his influence in the way he thinks right." He read letters from disillusions against the pernicious influence of the bar.

He made a careful analysis of the questions submitted. First in regard to the necessity of question 1, he said prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists alike are opposed to repeal it. The question about all that should be submitted; are you in favor of the repeal of the O. T. A.?

Questions 2, 3 and 4 only become important in the event of No. 1 being answered in the negative. The beer mentioned in question 2 is rather more than twice the strength expressed in prohibitionist spirit. All the voter has to determine is whether he is in favor of a stronger beer being sold in this province thru government agents.

Questions 5 do you want light beer sold in standard hotels? Question 4 calls simply for an answer, yes or no. If question No. 1 is answered in the affirmative the old liquor license act will be revived. If No. 2 is answered in the affirmative light beer is to be sold by sales agencies. If No. 3 is answered in the affirmative the board may issue licenses to standard hotels. The majority of all the elections of the province voting must vote "yes" to question 3, and a majority of the electors voting in the municipality in which the license is to be granted. Regulations are left to the board to be made from time to time to eliminate as far as possible and minimize evils that may arise. The wishes of the majority will be given effect to fairly and fearlessly by the government.

Mr. Proudfoot asked why the government did not take the members on the opposite side of the house into confidence when framing the questions to be submitted on a non-political issue. The sole and only question before the people is, are you in favor of repeal of the O.T.A.? The four questions may create confusion. He felt confident the people will nearly be a unit on the first question. The women are entitled to more consideration than the men in answering the question what shall be done with the liquor traffic. The soldiers as well as the women will vote for the continuance of the O.T.A.

Col. Machin: The people of Ontario will at last have the opportunity of saying for themselves what they wish to have done with this legislation. It is not a question of temperance, but of prohibition for those who could not fill their cellars. If the province of Ontario and the Dominion of Canada were to go home dry I would support it, but while liquor is sold under regulation I want to say that those who must buy at high prices get good stuff. (Applause). It is hypocrisy to pretend that matters are satisfactory.

Sam Carter said the best popular verdict would be obtained by accepting as the dominant opinion the question receiving the largest number of votes. No vote should be lost because all questions are not answered by each voter.

A Way Out.

After two days' debate and not without evidence of desire to obstruct the solution of the Yonge street situation proposed by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, the city council yesterday evening at 5 o'clock arrived at a compromise which the report of the board of control was adopted, omitting the recommendation of the proposed plan "as a solution" of the problem, but asking for the enabling legislation under which the plan could be carried out.

and even-handed justice everywhere. There should be a minister of the crown to answer for the administration of the law on the floor of the legislative assembly. That minister undoubtedly should be the attorney-general. He should be charged by the express terms of the statute with its enforcement. He should be authorized to employ whatever officials are needed, and there should be placed at his disposal a sum sufficient to pay these officials and to properly enforce the law.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

By Jane Phelps.

Barbara is Distressed at What Lorraine Tells Her.

CHAPTER LXI. For a little after Lorraine left I sat stunned. Then I began to think of all she had said, to look things in the face. If what she said were true—I was not even quite ready to admit it—why I must give up all my cherished plans, or—I must get Nell to reform his business methods at once.

Lorraine had exaggerated. That was the conclusion at which I arrived. She was rather proud, and she had said they had no money to lose. Perhaps her father had wanted to go in with Nell in something and couldn't because he hadn't the money, and so was a bit sore. I found all sorts of excuses. The one thing which made me most ill was that Mr. Poyers should have such a mistaken idea of Nell. I should have to wait awhile to launch my social war; wait until Nell would have made a mistake so he was the absolutely straightforward man I knew him to be.

What Lorraine had said about his making Blanche Orton's house a rendezvous for the underworld, had I done wrong to refuse to receive these ceaseless men in my home—men with the money necessary to Nell in his business? I had received them perhaps there would have been no scandal, no talk about Nell, Blanche Orton's servants had probably talked Lorraine said the men gambled and drank while there, also it was in her house that Nell's big deals were put over. I almost wished I had allowed him to bring them home; then as I recalled their uncouth manners I shuddered with disgust.

Into my mind flashed the thought of Mr. Frederick. He had long ago warned me. Some way I wished he were where I could talk to him. I would see if he were in town, went to the telephone and called the hotel where he usually stopped.

"Is Mr. Frederick stopping there at present?" I asked. "No, but he is apt to come in at any time. Any message?" I was told after a moment's waiting.

"No, yes. Tell him to call Plaza 1231 when he comes." Perhaps I should decide to say nothing to him if he did not arrive in town for several days, but I could give some excuse for calling him if I concluded not to tell him anything of what I had heard.

I knew he did not approve of Nell's methods, but even so I had taken Nell's judgment as final when he had called Mr. Frederick an "old woman" and no up-to-date in his ideas of business.

I had ordered several very expensive gowns so that they would be in keeping with my surroundings, evening dresses that would be of no use if my plans failed. No, no, they couldn't fail! It was just that puritanical streak in Lorraine that had made a mountain out of a mole-hill. I would go on just as I had intended. That is, I would wait I had a talk with Nell.

Friday seemed a long way off. It would be hard to be patient until his return.

WALKER'S EVIDENCE AMAZES LAWYERS

knowledge of two lots of liquor seized about November 30, 1918—not the slightest. Never heard the names O'Rourke or Walker. Did not know the Grand Central Hotel.

Tom Hook (with amusement): Why that must be Tim O'Rourke. A moment later the distinctly Gaelic name of Gaston de Fleury was mentioned, and the owner of the fine patrimonial took the chair. He was not amused. He was disdainful and indignant. He remembered the prosecution of William O'Dell, 125 Wellington street. Liquor was found upon O'Dell's premises—35 cases of it, and the exposure which really concerned Mr. de Fleury not at all involved him in social ruin. Inspector Dickson had come with a posse and an ax. A strong door had been broken down with the ax, and the liquor which had come over from the Grand Central Hotel, had been seized. Mr. de Fleury did not say "maledictions," but he looked it. Why, the police had seized the glasses and plates from which he had been drinking. He walked from the chair with visibly rising indignation over the memory of such impertinence.

John Johnston gave evidence that carried the impress of a true narrative. He was present at the parliament buildings, but knew nothing of the transaction. The proceedings were carried out partly in secret. There were very few in on it. It was mum's word. (Laughter.)

It came out also that Walker paid the O'Dell fine of $200 and O'Rourke carried the liquor to his place in the city. Mr. Eudo Saunders was recalled. He said: I am in absolute ignorance of what these witnesses have said. It is a most monstrous story, the most monstrous I have ever heard. I never saw the man Walker that I know of. It may be a case of mistaken identity. The man may be honest. I will assume he is. But he is absolutely mistaken as to me.

Mr. Flavell went into the chair again.

Not Positive. Have you any knowledge of the transaction?—I have no knowledge of the best of my recollection. I will not positively say that I will make a search and bring any papers down.

J. C. Elliott: Could it have been done without authority?—I say that to the far west of my recollection goes. We had two young men in the department who have gone overseas.

Mr. Haverson, who had been sent for, came into the room, and the chair-man painstakingly informed him of the substance and import of what all the witnesses had stated, including the name of Eudo Saunders.

to Paris if the house wanted him to go. Whoever went, he declared, must have the full confidence of the parliament and carry out his pledges to the utmost of his power and conviction.

Sowing Discord a Crime.

The premier sharply criticized certain newspaper attacks that had been made in connection with the peace conference, saying: "When this kind of a disease is carried to the point of sowing discord between good allies, it is essential for the peace of the world, when an attempt is made to make France distrust Great Britain, to continue France and Italy, not even that kind of a disease is justification for so black a crime against humanity."

"They still believe in France that The Times is a serious organ. They do not know that it is only a three-penny edition of The Daily Mail. On the continent they still think that The Times is a semi-official organ of the government. This shows how long it takes these traditions to die."

Conference's Difficult Work.

No conference in history, said the premier, had been faced with problems of such variety, complexity, magnitude and gravity. The conference in Vienna, which was the nearest approach to it, took 11 months for its work, but that congress, Lloyd George pointed out, had no real authority, no comparison with what has been settled by this conference.

After referring to the world-wide extent of the war the premier said that new states had sprung into existence, some of them independent, some semi-independent and some that might be protectorates, and also that boundaries might not be defined, some indication of them must be given.

"The time spent by the peace conference in framing the league of nations plan saved time instead of wasting it," Lloyd George declared, as the league would provide a means of adjustment of possible errors.

The Russian Situation.

Referring to the Russian situation, the premier said he might be asked why he supported Admiral Kolchak and Gen. Denikin. He would tell the house frankly, he said. When the treaty of Brest-Litovsk was signed, he explained, large parts of Russia were in the hands of the Bolsheviks and were in revolt against the government which signed it. "They raised arms at our instigation and largely at our expense," he added, "but that was absolutely sound military policy, because without those organizations the Germans would have secured all the resources which would have enabled them to break the blockade."

"Bolshevism," continued the premier, "had threatened to impress by force of arms its domination over those populations which had revolted against it and it would have been a fact that would have had a great hand to say to those people. We are exceedingly obliged to you; you have served your purpose and have led them to the Bolshevik troops."

Duty to Promise Support.

It is our duty, since we asked them to take this step, to promise them support. We are not the only nation because every Russian thought that if Russia were to be redeemed she must be redeemed by her own sons, and they asked that they be supplied with the necessary arms."

He continued: "Our policy is to arrest the flood of the present forcible eruption of Bolshevism into allied lands and for that we are organizing all the forces in allied countries bordering on Russian territory from the Black Sea to the Baltic. If the Bolsheviks attack any of our allies, it is our business to defend them. This is our policy, but we want peace in Russia. The world will not be passive as long as Russia is torn and rent by civil war."

International Unity.

"It is our policy to make peace among the warring nations, not by 'We want not only to secure justice, or even security, for those engaged in this war, but to provide means for a general pacification of the world and to secure co-operation between all nations.'"

Lord Robert Cecil said that he hoped the league would be a real league and not merely a league of the world and to safeguard the future world peace. He added: "We want not only to secure justice, or even security, for those engaged in this war, but to provide means for a general pacification of the world and to secure co-operation between all nations."

Lord Robert said it was impossible to exaggerate the economic situation in Europe. He wanted the indemnity question settled and the blockade lifted as soon as possible.

recognizing one party, but by inducing them to come together with a view to setting up some authority in Russia, which would be acceptable to the whole Russian people and that the allies could recognize as their government." He did not despair, he said, of a solution being found.

At a declaration that reliable information showed that the Bolshevik armed force was apparently growing, "Bolshevism itself was gradually waning and breaking down before the relentless force of economic facts," the premier declared that when Bolshevism disappeared then would be the time to re-establish peace with Russia.

"We must have patience," he warned, "because we are dealing with a people misgoverned for centuries. There are unmistakable signs that Russia is emerging, and when she is once more sane and normal the allies should make peace with her."

Reduction in Armaments.

Referring to the necessity of returning to paths of peace and of reducing armaments, the premier said that the forces of the country which had kept Europe in arms for forty years would be reduced to an army which would only be adequate enough to police her cities and protect her commerce.

"There were suggestions in Germany, that was not a danger," Mr. Lloyd George asserted, because he raised the scourge and agony of war."

William Adamson, leader of the Labor opposition, following Premier Lloyd George, said in regard to the latter's speech: "The speech is eloquent, but not entirely satisfactory."

Lord Robert Cecil said that he hoped the league would be a real league and not merely a league of the world and to safeguard the future world peace. He added: "We want not only to secure justice, or even security, for those engaged in this war, but to provide means for a general pacification of the world and to secure co-operation between all nations."

CITY COUNCIL SEND BECK DRAFT BILL TO LEGISLATURE

Final Vote on McBride Amendment Was Fifteen to Eight.

TAKING IT TO COURT

If It Costs a Thousand, is Threat of Irrepressible Controller.

After another day's exhaustive discussion of the Metropolitan railway question, the city council by 14 votes to 11 agreed to the board of control's recommendation that legislation be applied for in terms of the Beck draft bill, but deleted the words of the board of control's report that "the proposed resolution of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario be adopted."

Controller Sam McBride, who was responsible for this amendment in council, after the board of control's report had been adopted by 17 to 8 in committee, and the amendments defeated, was greatly elated.

The mayor, on the other hand, while he would have liked the words deleted, in fact, took the view that it was a Hydro bill, and said a government bill was being introduced in the legislature that evening.

Ald. Plewman said he intended to decide the matter from a local—a domestic—standpoint. "Sir Adam Beck's proposal does not drive the Metropolitan of Yonge street. It extends their privilege there. And it will be a greater nuisance on Yonge street than the side track at the side of the street."

Ald. Beamish declared that so far as the people of North York were concerned, they were going to get better transportation under either plan than they had now. He intended to stand by the official plan.

Ald. McMillin stood by the Beck plan, saying Sir Adam had carried out to a successful conclusion everything he had undertaken.

FORCES COMBINE FOR CLUBHOUSES

G.W.V.A., G.A.C., A. and N. Vets., Naval Vets. Join to Erect Memorials.

The G. W. V. A., the Veterans' League, of which the G. A. C. is a member and the Repatriation Committee will soon start a great club-house campaign for a number of clubhouses throughout Toronto, which will form a memorial to all classes of returned soldiers, and which will be long, so to speak, to every Canadian who donned the khaki. All the organizations named are pledged to this plan. They include the G. W. V. A., the G. A. C., Her Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans, the Canadian Army and Navy Veterans, the Naval Veterans' Association, the V. M. C. A. and all representative returned men's and kindred organizations.

SOLDIERS' TOURNAMENT.

Another activity of the Citizens' Repatriation League will take the form of a monster boxing tournament on April 24 in the armories, when it is expected over 10,000 soldiers will be the guests of the league. Brig-Gen. John Gunn, the head of the Repatriation League, urges that all veterans, who have not already registered for the tournament, should do so at once at any of the following places: Red Triangle Club, Salvation Army Hostel, King and Church; Citizens' Repatriation League, 33 West King street; Sgt.-Major Creighton's office, city hall; the G.W.V.A. offices, the office of the G.A.C., No. 1 Elm street, and the Knights of Columbus Hut, West King street.

In connection with the reports appearing in the morning papers that the boxing match was "in aid of a fund to amalgamate the G.W.V.A. and the G.A.C." Brig-Gen. Gunn was most emphatic that the statement was without foundation. He generally also stated that the news item that the coming tag day was for these two organizations and that they would divide the proceeds was reported in error.

Q. O. R. PLAN BIG THINGS.

Yesterday's luncheon of the Queen's Own Officers' Mess was largely attended, the following overseas officers being welcomed for the first time: Major A. Foulds, 123rd Battalion, and Lieut. D. W. Nasmit, Strathcona Horse. General Sir H. M. Pellatt, presiding, spoke of the government's likelihood of reviving the pre-war militia system, as against the mooted policy of retaining a "standing army," the voluntary system having proven its value during the war because citizen soldiers, trained to think for themselves in commercial or other pursuits make incomparable fighting material in time of necessity.

Plans for the receipt of the 3rd and 4th Battalions, arriving probably next Wednesday, between 12 and 2 p.m. are well under way, and will be announced in the advertising columns. Route to be Yonge, Bloor, Jarvis, Wellesley, St. Albans, Queen's Park to Varsity stadium, where the final welcome from divisional staff and civic officials will take place, assisted by a choir of 1500, including school children, admission to stadium being confined to men and relatives of the 3rd and 4th Battalions. Civic reception committee will occupy a stand on Bloor street, opposite St. Paul's Church. Lieutenant-Governor and other provincial officers will review the troops in front of parliament buildings, while local units and school cadets will line route of march.

W. J. Carmichael, general secretary of the G. A. C., stated to The World yesterday that the public patronage of the cigar store was greater than anticipated. It is expected that four more cigar stores will be added within the next thirty days.

More than 110 new members have been secured by the G. W. V. A. within the past two weeks. Tonight's meeting will be important, and will discuss agenda for the provincial convention which is being held at Windsor on May 14, 15, 16.

Imperial reservists from Canada five weeks ago held a large meeting in Winchester, Eng., 1500 being present, and unanimously passed a resolution requesting Sir Robert Borden to exert his influence to obtain for these Canadian Imperial reserve men gratuities equal to those paid members of the C. E. F. They asked that the gratuities be made payable firstly, to the reservists themselves, secondly, to the men who paid their passage over to England and joined the British forces, and thirdly to those men who enlisted in Canada with Imperial units.

So far Sir Robert Borden has not replied to communications forwarded from that meeting. If he was successful along the lines suggested, R. A. F. men would be included.

Comrade H. H. Jeffrey, who enlisted in Toronto in August, 1914, was unable to get overseas with the first contingent, got his discharge, paid his own fare to England and joining the R. M. C. spent eighteen months in Egypt and the River Jordan and spent his last six months in Flanders last summer and autumn, is joining West Toronto G. W. V. A. tonight. He knows Bethany and the River Jordan better than the River Don at Queen and King streets.

Nearly 32,400 veterans of the great war are listed by the Dominion government as receiving disability pensions, the amounts involved totalling $4,851,750 every year. Of this number (32,371) more than 8,000 are classified as between 20 and 29 per cent. disability cases.

PREFERENTIAL VOTING RESOLUTION WITHDRAWN

In the legislature last night Mr. Proudfoot withdrew his resolution in favor of preferential voting for the local assembly and municipal councils. He said if the system had governed in the last provincial elections the representation of parties would have been: Conservatives 50; Liberals 45; Independent 5.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED Toronto Ontario

SOCIETY

The marriage took place yesterday afternoon very quietly in St. Andrew's Church of Marlon, daughter of Col. George Ross, I.S.O., and Mrs. Ross, to Mr. Alfred G. Darympie, the Rev. Dr. Chaver officiating. Dr. Norman Anderson was at the organ and played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the bride entered the church, and during the signing of the register Mr. Macky Shears sang "Blessed Be Not Leave Thee," from Ruth. The church was decorated with palms and ferns and trophies of flags, the Union Jack predominating. The lovely bride, who was brought in and given away by her father, wore a very smart Parisian gown of Bordeaux cloth and satin, trimmed with Belgian blue on the bodice, edged with fringe, a wide trimmed hat of straw, faced with lace, and trimmed with black velvet and a bunch of white and orange black fox furs and a corsage bouquet of exquisite orchids, pansies and forget-me-nots, and a diamond ring set in platinum, the gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Phyllis Ross, who looked very pretty in pale grey satin and georgette crepe with a pink tulle scarf, a black maline hat and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. Her present from the groom was a ring of black onyx and diamonds. Mr. Frank White was the best man and received from the groom a diamond scarf pin. Mr. R. Pringle and Mr. Chester Delong acted as ushers. After the ceremony Col. and Mrs. Ross held a reception at the postoffice residence for the relations and immediate friends. Col. Ross was in uniform and Mrs. Ross wore a most becoming gown of taupe satin with georgette crepe sleeves, a bouquet of pink orchid sweetpeas, tied with orchid and gold ribbon, and a black hat with burnt ostrich feathers. The spacious rooms were decorated with many bouquets of daffodils and roses, plants of clematis, ferns and masses of sweet alyssum. German Foreign Minister Advises Against Petty Intrigues Against Allies.

Copenhagen, April 16.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the German foreign minister, quoted by the correspondent of the Vienna Neue Freie Presse, deprecates any attempt "to take advantage of dissensions between the entente powers, and play off one against another." He declares that such "would be a foolish undertaking," adding: "I think it more dignified for the peace delegates of a nation of seventy millions, frankly and honestly to endeavor to convince the entente of the justice of all we are striving for, than, by petty intrigues, to fill the political atmosphere again with explosive material. There are so many common interests among all taking part in the peace negotiations that there remains a basis for an honorable understanding."

MAY REDUCE RATES ON THE GREAT LAKES

Cleveland, O., April 16.—A voluntary offer to reduce shipping rates of the Great Lakes as a means to stimulate business will be made to the federal government at Washington, it was announced by officials of the Lake Carriers' Association after the meeting here today. According to William Livingstone of Detroit, vice-president of the association, rates on ore, coal and grain will drop in proportion to the lowered rate on steel shipments. A committee will go to Washington Friday to make the formal offer. Official announcement of the new rates will then be made by the United States shipping board, Mr. Livingstone said. The wage scale in force at the close of last season was adopted for the beginning of the season.

JANE MCGEE GETS TWO-YEAR SENTENCE

Jane McGee, who pleaded guilty to charges of having stolen $1,940 from her employers, the Carter-Welton Co., and having set fire to 9 Sheppard street, was yesterday sentenced to a term of two years in the Kingston penitentiary by Judge Coatsworth, before whom she appeared in the criminal sessions. "If it had been a man who was charged, I would have made the term five years," said his honor in passing sentence. The money had been used to buy a piano and other things for her home and mother, and the fire had been caused by her in an effort to cover the traces of her defalcations.

NEW YORK STOCKS WEAKEN AT CLOSE

Earlier Strength Largely Attributable to Improved Outlook for Peace.

New York, April 16.—The obvious factor in the further advance of quoted values on the stock exchange today was the speech in the commons of the British premier, which confirmed the opinion prevalent in financial circles that the peace negotiations were near their conclusion.

Other events of the session, which started off at a very high rate of activity, were relatively unimportant, the negative or contradictory little impression was made upon prices until the final hour, when heavy offerings of leaders, notably steel and shippings, caused an extremely irregular close.

Revival of the local traction difficulties and increasing conjecture regarding impending industrial dividend payments prompted caution by traders, even though these conditions were advanced ones to easier money tendencies and the auspicious launching of the "Victory" loan.

Apart from U. S. Steel, which rose all the way to 100 1/2, and fell back to 98 1/2, the bulk of the dealings once more centered in shippings and oil.

Metals improved for a time, and tobacco, paper and textile issues were advanced one to three points under guidance of pools, but a majority of the more important stocks registered net losses.

Liberty 3 1/2's were strong, others showing irregular advance. Market was irregular and featureless. Total sales, par value, aggregated $12,875,000.

ARTICLES OF INTEREST IN BANKERS' JOURNAL

Higher commercial education furnishes the keynote for the leading articles in the current issue of The Journal of the Canadian Bankers' Association, just now off the press. In conjunction with a leading editorial, there appear very thoughtful and concise articles by Hon. H. Y. Braddon, M.L.C., Sydney, Australia, and Dr. Henry A. Stinson, of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, New York.

The striking feature of the April issue is a most comprehensive article by Z. A. Lash, K.C., LL.D., explaining the federal reserve banking system of the United States, and contrasting it in some particulars with that of Canada, to the advantage of the Canadian system.

Other articles of timely interest are "The Western Farmer and the Bank," by Vere C. Brown of Winnipeg, and "British Bankers and Their Post-bellum Problems," by John Apollon of Toronto.

CAN. LOCOMOTIVE UP THREE POINTS

Brazilian and Mackay Other Strong Stocks—Barcelona is Easier.

Canadian Locomotive's three-point rise to 67 1/2 was the feature of trading on the Toronto Exchange yesterday.

There has been a steady upward movement in the price of the stock for some days in the process of discounting a strong annual report.

The dealings yesterday were, however, somewhat in contrast with those of days earlier in the week, inasmuch as, apart from Locomotive, industrial stocks did not bulk large in the transactions, members of the utility group being relatively more active than usual.

Barcelona, in which the turnover was 295 shares, comparing with 289 for the week, was subjected to the pressure of realizing sales, and as a result forfeited practically all its advance.

The range was between 10 1/2 and 10, with the closing at 10 1/2, a net loss of 1/2. Brazilian, on the other hand, was stronger, selling up 1/2 to 53.

The February statement of earnings, while not so good as that of the year, is evidently favorably construed.

Mackay added 1/2 to its gains by selling at 76. Dominion Iron at 60 1/2 and Pacific Burt common at 29 1/2.

Porto Rico Ry. advanced 1/2 to 91. The day's transactions: Shares, 1317, including 60 mining shares; war loans, $348,350.

BUSY MORNING SESSION IN MONTREAL MARKET

National Breweries Advances More Than Five Points—Cotton Stocks Strong.

Montreal, April 16.—Out of respect to the memory of the late W. J. Turpin, formerly of the local brokerage firm of W. J. Turpin and Company, and whose funeral took place today, there was no session of the Montreal Stock Exchange this afternoon, but the morning session was one of the busiest for some time.

The total transactions for the half-session being well above the average full day's aggregate for the past three or four days, besides which the market closed generally at substantial net gains.

Leading in this latter category were the National Breweries issues, the common stock sold to the number of 2150 shares, and scored a maximum advance of 4 1/2 points.

The Canadian cotton stocks were again strong, the common making a new high at 92 1/2, a net gain of 2 points, with closing bid further advanced to 93 1/2, with that price bid for more stock.

Today's close made a 9-point gain in the month for the common and a 2-point gain for the preferred.

Total business for the day, with comparisons for the corresponding day a year ago:

Table with columns: Shares, Bonds, 1919, 1918. Values for Shares: 5,230 (1919), 2,240 (1918). Values for Bonds: 295 (1919), 330 (1918).
