The Toronto World

A Morning Newspaper Published Every Day
In the Year.

LET THE CITY GO AHEAD.

In answer to the Telegram the World has only this to say: that it believes the best way to start public ownership in Toronto would be by taking over at once both the street railway and the existing electric light and power company on arbitration, and that if we make an offer of that kind the Electric Light Company at least would have to take the consequences of the city's competition if it declined. We have no idea of suggesting a break with the hydro-electric commission in the matter of energy supply; our opinion is that the light company and the street railway company would find a way of inducing the Electrical Development Company to release them from their contracts with that concern. We believe there are other influences that could assist to this end.

Nor do we suggest even a moment's delay in the city going on with the construction of its own distribution plant. If it has to be a fight the people will win out. A free and sovereign legislature committed to realize a public power policy and a determined city can last in the game longer than a company that is unreasonable, and that is subject to laws present or future enacted by that legislature. What is going on in New York City is enlightening on this point.

The World, with a view to securing an early and easy realization of public ownership of both the power and street traction franchises, would support a policy of reasonable payment to the shareholders of the existing companies. But that is all.

TOWN PLANNING IN GERMANY.

During the Easter holidays, under the auspices of the National Housing Reform Council, a delegation numbering close on a hundred public men and representatives of English municipalities, visited Germany for the purpose of inspecting some of the principal examples of town planning in that country. Cologne was their first objective, and on arrival they found the national flag floating peacefully side by side and a warm welcome. One of their German hosts, according to the special correspondence of The London Daily News, observe that "these are the occasions that build bridges over which the spirit of peace can pass from land to land." At the later entertainment, given by the city authorities of Cologne, the deputy burgomaster declared that "the clouds which appeared on the political horizon are now happily being dispelled, and we may hope for a long period of peaceful, combined effort for improving the social conditions of the two peoples." Friendly visits of this kind are just now of inestimable service, and this particular one will be returned in July when an equally strong deputation of Germans will see the best examples of cottage building and town planning in England.

Town planning is a very live question in Britain and the west of Europe at the present time, and a bill for its encouragement was recently introduced in the house of commons by Mr. John Burns, president of the local government board. More than thirty years ago Germany realized that "the haphazard extension of their cities was a blunder." At Cologne the city has been divided into building zones with varying principles applicable to each, and all "with a view of ultimately making the entire city a place pleasant to live and work in and good to behold." In the inner zone corresponding to the business district no building can exceed four stories, and a quarter of the area, exclusive of roads, must be kept as an open space. In the next zone outwards 25 per cent. is open space, the buildings remaining at four stories. Forty per cent. of open space and three storey buildings is the rule for the third zone; 50 per cent. open space and two storey buildings in the fourth, while the outermost zone has 60 per cent. open space and two storey dwellings. Particular sites near the river and the railroad are reserved for factories and warehouses.

Germany's land policy has materially assisted in the scientific planning of her cities. The land in their vicinity is not allowed to be held up or exploited by speculators nor does it remain untaxed. The cities, says The Daily News correspondent, are themselves large landowners and only through purchase have they been able to direct the development of their cities. They have, he adds, taken to heart the dictum laid down at Helbron a hundred years ago by one of the greatest of their countrymen, "A town," declared Goethe, "is prosperous through the land which it possesses more than through any other consideration; and the best token of a good administration is that a town is going on buying land." Cologne owns one-tenth of its land, including large tracts of suburban land, much of which is rented to farmers and market gardeners. Its value to-day exceeds $10,000,000. Some years ago the city bought the inner ring of fortifications from the state at a cost of $2,000,000, laid it out in new streets and gardens, and in 1870 the profit on resale in an outer belt of land, together with the wise policy has saved the city expenses attending street widening and clearance, and is making itself a city beautiful.

IMPERIAL UNION.

When Earl Crewe, secretary of state for the colonies in the British Government, intimated in the house of lords the other day that the matter of Indian immigration so far as the self-governing imperial states are concerned, must be dealt with by themselves, it was the latest and not the least significant acknowledgment of the new imperial ideal.

The official declaration is in effect a recognition of the sovereign supremacy of each state within its own borders. Writing in The Saturday Evening Post, Mr. D. D. Mann in the course of an admirable exposition of Canada's place and policy, remarked that the empire "is a free confederation of interdependent states, each of which has as much liberty to do as it pleases as any state of the Union."

He might with truth have said that each has no more liberty, since the empire is not bound together by a rigid constitution, but by voluntary association and co-operation.

The process which has now entered upon its closing stage has been natural and inevitable and accomplished with wonderfully little friction. It began with the grant of self-government to Canada, conceded only after its necessity had been made plainly manifest. At that date and for years afterwards British statesmen clung to the old conception of the empire and viewed with marked disfavor the beginnings of a genuine Canadian national sentiment, and the first aspirations towards real nationhood. Some, indeed, could see no other end than the gradual dismemberment of the empire through the dropping away of the daughter states, as they successively grew to maturity. Others sought to secure continuity thru imperial federation, a scheme well adapted to a country like the United States, but inapplicable to the conditions of the empire. These tentative movements were, however, valuable for their educative results, and with the first colonial conferences opened the way for the new view that reconciled both national aspiration and imperial loyalty—voluntary co-operation or co-partnership.

It will always be to the credit of Canada that she blazed the trail which led to the true and only possible solution of the imperial problem. Doubts have been expressed whether an association of sovereign states so loosely bound could endure, and whether sentiment, common traditions or even community of interest will suffice to maintain their solidarity. We believe it will endure and that these will suffice, because the experiment now being made applies a principle and carries out an ideal of world-wide application, and rich with possibilities making for international peace. From its very elasticity it can embrace more than the British communities themselves, that first constitute what may justly be called a league. In fact, the form which the empire is assuming is entirely in sympathy with that other international departure, which relies more on identity of policy and frank trust than on formal alliances. This has enabled the United Kingdom and the United States to act in concert on all important world questions, and has led also to the mutual support given by Britain and France in Europe. The advantages of imperial union are too great to be ignored and experience of them and of the benefit derived from the wider outlook which a common policy brings with it will continue their appeal more and more strongly with the passing years.

A NEW CITY.

Toronto will be another and a newer city with the advent of the taxicab. The taxicab adds to the convenience of the citizens and to the cleanliness of the city. It gives that much abused servant of man, the cab-horse, a chance to seek other pastures and easier footing for his overworked hoof, and every hoof withdrawn adds to the length of life and conserves the smoothness of the pavement.

THE CITY FRANCHISES.

Editor World: How would this procedure do? First let the aldermen decide at the earliest possible date to submit the question, are you in favor of the city acquiring ten years of the company's franchise? Submit that at the municipal elections next January to all who are qualified to vote for mayor and aldermen. Once that is secured, the people will have a decided reason for discussing the matter. If they vote yes, then it will be the duty of the next council to arrange terms with the present company, get the necessary legislation and then submit the matter for ratification to the qualified ratepayers. This would give the public something definite to deal with and I have no doubt sufficient interest shown to satisfy even The World.

Colbeck v. the Ontario and Quebec Navigation Co.—McGregor Young, K.C., for defendant, on appeal from judgment of the county court at St. Catharines. W. M. German, K.C., for plaintiff, opposes defendant's appeal and cross appeal. Judgment (H.) The action is brought to recover damages for breach by defendants of a charter party. The consideration was $2000. Plaintiff also had an option to purchase at $300, which he exercised. At trial judgment was given for plaintiff and referring to master at St. Catharines. Judgment reserved.

I am of opinion that the damages have been assessed on a wrong principle. The measure of the plaintiff's damages is the actual loss sustained by the contract price, which it would have cost him to have hired another steamship to take the place of the one he had hired from the defendants, for the remainder of the season, for which the latter had been hired by him, which was not done, as he was prevented from using it owing to its not being in a condition to pass inspection, or if none could have been hired the loss he sustained. The defendants must therefore be allowed, and it will be referred back to the master to assess damages on the principle I have indicated. The trial judgment was given for plaintiff. There will be no costs of the appeals to either party.

Mills v. Ontario Marble Quarries—T. F. Gate, for defendant, applied for judgment of Teetzel, J., of 2nd March, 1909. W. Mulock, for plaintiff, contra. The plaintiff, a quarry operator, used the defendants' quarries and wages alleged to be due him by the defendants. The defendants denied that they ever employed plaintiff as alleged. The trial judgment was given for plaintiff for $488 and costs including costs of examination for discovery. Defendants appeal. Argued and judgment reserved.

Aldridge v. Canadian Electric Tel. Co.—T. C. Luscombe (London) for defendant, applied from the judgment of Meredith, C.J., of 14th January, 1909, for a new trial. Judgment reserved.

WESTERN DELEGATIONS ON IMPORTANT TOPICS

Alberta Wants Changes in Manitoba Grain Act and Farmers Petition For Gov't Elevators.

OTTAWA, April 23.—(Special)—An important Alberta deputation consisting of Premier Rutherford, L. P. Freau, secretary of the United Farmers' Association; L. P. Strong, general manager of the Alberta Pacific Elevator Company; and George Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture, will hold a conference with Sir Richard Cartwright and the trade and commerce department officials on Monday in regard to the shipping of wheat and other Alberta products by the Pacific Coast.

It is understood that they will urge upon the government a number of changes in the Manitoba Grain Act, a statute which Alberta claims at present makes shipment west very difficult. They will ask for a grain inspector for the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia, and will also urge the erection of a government elevator at Vancouver.

One of the most important changes asked in the Manitoba Grain Act is a provision so that any farmer or farmers wishing to put their grain through the elevators by sale or otherwise can be enabled to get cars in the same proportion as they loaded from the platforms.

Premier Rutherford is already in the city and has held a number of conferences with the government. It is understood that he is urging, as he has in the past, that the school lands be transferred to the province.

Another important delegation which is expected early next week consists of R. McKim, A. Partridge and Geo. Langley. They will present a petition signed by some 32,000 western farmers asking that the government establish a system of public-owned internal elevators. It is not expected that they will get more than the usual gentle answer and reassuring promise of consideration. Dr. Schaffner introduced a resolution on this question earlier in the session, and it was given a cold reception. In order to avert the subject and prevent a vote, the debate was adjourned and the resolution placed at the bottom of the order papers.

OBITUARY.

Dr. James McMahon, who died at his residence here yesterday, was a son of the late Hugh McMahon, who came to Canada from the County of Wick, Ireland, in 1819, and was one of the first licensed land surveyors in the province of Upper Canada. He married Julia, daughter of the late Wm. Earl of Niagara, on July 1, 1853. He was a member of the medical society of Brantford, who survives him. He leaves no children.

He was returned as a member of the legislature assembly in 1876. Re-elected in 1879, 1883 and 1886, and was a member of the assembly for 18 years. In 1889 he was appointed distributor of stamps at Osgoode Hall in succession to the late Stephen Baldwin. Justice McMahon is a brother of deceased.

Miss J. Reynolds. PICTON, April 23.—(Special)—Miss J. Reynolds, for the past five years matron at the True Blue Orphanage here, died suddenly of heart failure while at rest to-night. For about thirty years previous to her going to Picton she resided in Toronto. For about five years of that time she was assistant matron at the Alexandra Industrial School in East Toronto. For about 20 years she was a member of the West Presbyterian Church, and part of that time taught a Sabbath school class. About two weeks ago she was in Toronto on her holidays. Mrs. A. McCall of 422 Gladstone-avenue is a cousin. The body will be brought to Toronto. The funeral will take place Monday from Mr. McCall's residence.

Mrs. Thos. Graydon. The death occurred yesterday, after a long illness of Mrs. Mary Graydon, wife of Capt. Thos. Graydon, of the fire department. She had been unconscious all week. Deceased was a native of County Antrim, Ireland, and was a resident of the city for the past 20 years. Four children survive, Laura E., John A., Thomas and Annie. The funeral will take place on Monday at 2.30 from the residence, 54 Walker-avenue, to Mt. Pleasant.

Aylesworth, for 18 years county clerk of Hastings, receive of Deseronto, for 21 consecutive years, and twice warden of Hastings; a member of both Dominion and Provincial Associations of Land Surveyors; in 1878 elected to the commons or East Hastings as a Liberal, but did not take the seat owing to irregularities. In 1892, defeated by the present member, W. B. Northrop; aged 72. Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, minister of justice, is a nephew.

The "Sign of the Slate" is the best known Trade Mark in Canada.

A Rare Investment In a 40 Year Old Business

THE Slater Shoe Company, Ltd. A Canadian Shoe Manufacturing Business.

Founded in 1869 by the late Geo. T. Slater, Sr., and an active "going concern" ever since.

Incorporated in 1899 as "The Slater Shoe Co." by Chas. E. Slater, Son of the Founder, and Pupil under him for ten years in the Study of Practical Shoe Manufacturing and Marketing.

The Slater Shoe Factory has made high-class goods from the start, but for ten years has Specialized on $3.50 to $5.00 grades.

Nothing lower-priced, in Shoes, than $3.00 has been made in the Factory since 1897, and nothing lower than $4.00 during the past three years.

To-day its principal output is on $5.00 Shoes.

On this account its only real Competitors are Manufacturers of United States Shoes which are imported into Canada with a 30 per cent. duty, and a firmly settled tariff, against them.

The total imports of all United States Shoes into Canada in 1906 were about $900,000, and are diminishing. There are over 128 American Manufacturers shipping into Canada.

The output of the Slater Shoe Factory (in competition with those total imports) is about a Million Dollars per year, and rapidly increasing.

In 1900 this output was only $351,043. During the eleven months ending September 30th, 1907, it was $911,899.

In 1908 the sales showed a decrease over the previous year as would naturally be expected on account of the general trade depression.

The business has almost doubled in five years, on higher-grade goods. The books of the Slater Shoe Co. are open to any intending Stockholder for verification of above.

What They Have Done

Now—The only thing that could prevent The Slater Shoe business from doubling again in the next five years would be lack of sufficient Capital for such rapid expansion.

The Cash Capital of the Slater Shoe Co., as originally incorporated, was only $200,000 fully paid.

With that they did a business of nearly a Million Dollars wholesale. Notwithstanding the large investment for increased Plant and Equipment to meet the rapid growth in production The Slater Shoe Co. has paid its regular dividend of seven per cent. to all Preferred Stockholders.

After writing off $22,000 for "Depreciation and Guarantee" (so as to be well over on the safe side) it still had Surplus Profits, on the year's business ending October 31st, 1906, of $13,421.59 over and above the seven per cent. dividend.

In eleven months of the year ending October 30th, 1907, viz., to September 30th, 1907, after paying dividends of seven per cent. on all Common as well as Preferred Stock, and after writing off $22,094 for guarantee and depreciation, the Surplus Profits carried over were $30,534.76.

This again was when the Company only had a Capital of $200,000. So, you now have a fair idea of the Slater Shoe Co.'s position, progress and possibilities.

Earnings

On a Cash Capital of $200,000. The Slater Shoe Co. earned in the year ending October 31st, 1906, a round profit of $53,242.35.

In the succeeding eleven months, ending September 30th, 1907, that round profit had risen to $68,135.88.

Meantime it has paid for a large increase in Plant and for rapid expansion through newly developed Selling Agencies.

These "Selling Agencies," or Slater Shoe Retail Accounts are an Asset that cost money to secure, but when once established are worth, as an Asset, more than five years' total profit on the business of each.

The Slater Shoe Selling System makes them a tangible Asset.

Because Slater Shoes are sold to responsible Retailers only, after a contract containing the following clause has been signed by them:

2. The Customer (Retailer) shall (1) purchase a first order of "The Slater Shoe" amounting to not less than $..... and at least $..... more within the first year, $..... each year for the next three years, or so long as this contract shall remain in force, so that "The Slater Shoe" may be properly represented in the said Town or City; (2) Sell "The Slater Shoe" at retail only and in said Town or City only, and at the price stamped on said shoes or fixed by the Company, and at no other price without the written consent of the Company; (3) Not at any time represent any shoe from which the Company's trade mark, brand or name has been effaced or removed, or any other shoe not bearing said trade mark, brand or name, as "The Slater Shoe" or a "Slater Shoe," being aware that such action would cause serious loss and damage to the Company.

It will be seen from this that each "Slater Shoe Agency" or Retailer becomes a continuous Customer for large given annual Amounts after his first purchase, which is inevitably preceded by the signing of the contract.

There Are About 400 Slater Shoe Stores and Agencies in Canada

Many of these "Slater Shoe Agencies" are of eight, nine and ten years' continuous standing, under Contract to buy a given quantity each year, at a fixed profit to the Slater Shoe Co. in order to hold the Exclusive Sale of the Slater Shoe for their locality.

This is considered one of the most valuable Trade Marks in Canada

It is, therefore, evident that though not figured into Capital Account in any way, these "Accounts" and Slater's Shoe Agency Contracts are Slater Shoe Co. Assets as tangible as the Leather in the Factory which has been bought to make shoes for these same Retailers after their Season's orders have been received.

The Safety Selling System

OBERVE, that under The Slater Shoe Selling System goods are practically made to order, and so the risk of buying Leather, Lasts and Machinery "on speculation," as other Shoe Manufacturers must do, is eliminated.

The cost of selling Shoes to the Retailers under this Slater Shoe System is so relatively low that the Company is enabled to advertise "The Slater Shoe" extensively to Consumers, out of what is saved by that Selling System.

This will be evident to the most casual investigator when he finds that the total yearly output of the Slater Shoe Factory is sold to the Retail Trade by only Six Traveling Salesmen.

A little careful probing will uncover the well-guarded fact that from three to four times as many travelers are required to sell that quantity of Shoes in Canada, in the regular way, by other Manufacturers.

This Slater Shoe System, therefore, means a clear saving of about $35,000 per year on Selling Expenses.

Now, the same Advertising and the same Selling Staff (with very slight additions) could sell twice as many Slater Shoes (or probably Two Million Dollars' worth yearly) with enough addition to Capital to utilize the present waiting market.

Moreover, the "fixed charges" of Rent, Management and Superintendence need be but slightly increased to double the output.

That way large profits lie. And, that is why there may be purchased to-day a limited amount of—

Seven Per Cent. Preferred Stock

This Stock is both Cumulative and Preferred as to Assets, Capital and Dividends. There is no bonded indebtedness outstanding.

A Safe Investment

INVESTMENT in Stock of the Slater Shoe Co., Ltd., is therefore practically as safe as in Bank Stock.

We have the consent to bonus every Five Shares purchased of this seven per cent. preferred Stock with One Share of Common Stock in the Slater Shoe Co., Ltd.

The Preferred Stock of The Slater Shoe Co. has regularly paid a seven per cent. dividend, besides which Dividends of seven per cent. on Common were paid in 1899, 1902, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907. It is therefore highly probable that the Purchasers of the 1,250 Shares offered will see about nine per cent. or better on the seven per cent. Preferred Stock they purchase of this issue.

Immediate Prospects for Expansion.

There are over 200 towns in Canada in which not a single pair of Slater Shoes has yet been sold through local Retailers, although there is a waiting Market there created by the general Advertising.

The Slater Shoe business is therefore ripe for quick, spontaneous expansion, with a doubling market.

"Dineen Quality"

The most conspicuous article of a man's dress should reflect his taste and individuality, as well as his judgment.

The sales of our own "Dineen" Derby continue to grow enormously as the years go by— they simply strengthen the original verdict of our hat experts— no better hats for the money are sold anywhere.

"Dineen Special" Derbies at $3.00 are better than any $3.00 hat we know, while the $4.00 Henry Heath Hat is in every way up to the usual $5.00 standard; as for the Dunlap $5.00 Hat, we know of no hat so luxurious.

REAL ESTATE IN THE SUBURBS IS ACTIVE

Outlook is For Busy Season in Building—West Toronto News—Suburb Happenings.

NORTH TORONTO, April 23.—(Special.)—The advent of fine warm sunny weather is already exerting a beneficial influence on the suburban towns and villages, but it is doubtful if any of them are experiencing it to the same extent as North Toronto and the newly annexed district to the south, known as Deer Park.

A trip up and down the main streets and avenues of these two districts is a revelation. There is a veritable boom on in the Deer Park district, but it is a good healthy boom, and is only the logical sequence of a better knowledge of the delightful surroundings by many citizens who formerly knew not what it is in store in the northward. On every hand there is a spirit of the greatest optimism, and local real estate men were and in Deer Park are fairly besieged with would-be buyers anxious to get up on the highlands.

Many handsome residences are either in course of erection, or plans are being prepared, and in the majority of these the values run up into from $8000 to $10,000. There is no longer any doubt that Deer Park and North Toronto are coming into their own, and that the improvement will be such as to cause very marked advances in real estate, and the better class of private residences.

Incidentally The World ran across A. C. Jennings the real estate man of Deer Park, and to a query as to the outlook for the summer, Mr. Jennings was enthusiastic, so much so that his enthusiasm is infectious.

"It is simply marvelous," said Mr. Jennings, "the demand for good residential properties in Deer Park and North Toronto." The citizens as never before are coming up in great numbers with a view to securing homes in the northern suburbs. Everything points to a record season.

Waddington & Grundy, J. M. Whaley and other equally well posted as to the situation regard the outlook as exceptionally bright and look for a great accession to the better class of residential properties.

Chief Collins has had a busy week instructing the local firemen in the intricacies of the profession.

Traffic on the Metropolitan, passenger and freight, is reported as being exceptionally good.

The sun and wind were powerful factors to-day in the improvement of Galloway Hill, which is now fairly completed. The city might well make the grading of this one of the first factors in the plan.

Rev. P. J. Bench, pastor of St. Michael's Church, has bought a lot from Waddington & Grundy, with 100 feet frontage on Broadway-avenue, opposite the church for $18,000. He will erect a school building on the site and as soon as bricks can be procured will start to build a rectory on the site, east of the church.

Councillor Parke is on a business trip to Berlin, Ont., and will inspect the sewage disposal plant there. He is expected to get back on Monday.

The suit of Rose A. Clarke against Baillie, Wood & Croft, brokers, for $1515, which has been on in the assize court for the past two days, has been adjourned until Friday next. Yesterday, in reply to questions, she said she did not know in what country Sao Paulo Tramway was, or the par value of L. & N. shares, also investing in both stocks.

Counsel for defendants asked "Can you remember a time when you lost money that you did not sue your brokers?" She said no.

FARM AND LIVE STOCK PAGE

KEEP A DIARY.
The advantages of keeping a yearly account of all the happenings on the farm ought to impress themselves more upon our farmers. A plain ruled book with a margin for the date is sufficient for this purpose, and if at the close of the day or at the end of the week an entry is made of the doings on the farm, the rotation of the crops and incidents in their growth, the weather and such like information, it will be found to be highly interesting to the farmer himself and a decided help to him in future years. To many of our farmers take no serious interest in their business, and this would be an aid to fostering more love for agricultural pursuits.

OWN YOUR FARM.
Some very timely reasons are advanced by a writer in an exchange why farmers should own their own farm. Observations of the Ontario tenanted farms will lead anyone to decide likewise on this question. The real and true value of farm lands, viewed from a commercial angle, are just a little difficult to determine. Considered as an investment to rent to the average tenant a right well improved and equipped stock and grain farm will likely pay a somewhat less dividend, after all necessary repairs and improvements are maintained, than like amount invested in bank stock. Big one must not lose sight of the unexcelled security of capital invested in good farm lands in a desirable neighborhood.

After farms are tenanted for twenty years they show such deterioration in soil, fertility and building appearances, that their prices have deteriorated nearly fifty per cent. This is amply borne out by evidence noted in every community in Ontario where run-down farms alongside good ones have sold for only one-half the value of the other.

However, there's another and higher value to farm lands which we should ever keep well in sight of, and that is the value of the home farm where we grow good and virtuous men and women, far removed from the contamination of the evils of the city. It is here we find a watchful eye is ever kept on the preservation of the soil. Crops have their regular rotation; manures are carefully applied; buildings are kept in repair and painted; here's where we find a contented and prosperous family which has been reared with more than the one idea of digging dollars and hoarding them. Libraries are installed in these homes and filled with carefully selected volumes. The best magazines and the cream of the agricultural press are to be found in the library tables. These give value to farm lands, inestimable value to the homestead and an increased value to those of the community.

Soil building, home making and high agriculture always appreciate value as well as making for the elevation of all that is good in a nation's life. The best ammunition for our country's continuance in independence and progress lies in the brown and flour that is nurtured on the really homelike farms of our rural Ontario.

THE BROILER BUSINESS.
The broiler business is a distinct part of the poultry business and requires special arrangements, special management and a good broiler market. Broilers bear the same relation to the poultry business that spring lambs do to the sheep business. There is a difference between the broiler and the spring chicken, just the same as there is between the lamb that is 60 days old weighing 50 pounds and the lamb six months old weighing 80 pounds. There are a great many broiler farms near a good market for them, although not so many as there were a few years ago. The broiler business is most generally confined to large farms, where they are grown by the hundreds, and even in larger numbers. This business cannot be carried on in its best manner without incubators, since broilers are usually hatched when there is a vacation and do not care to sit. A broiler is a chicken from 15 to 18 weeks old that will weigh from a pound and quarter to a pound and three-quarters, live weight. If they are much older or heavier they come in the spring-chicken class. When dressed they are halved and each half is broiled and serves one person.

Prices of this early product rapidly fluctuate and the demand changes, and soon the one-pound broilers are wanted. Later on, during April and May, spring chickens are wanted, weighing from two to three pounds. Broilers are sold any time from the middle of January, with a fair demand in February and March, and April is the month when the highest prices are paid for all kinds of poultry. May is nearly as good, and in June pretty good prices are obtained, but after that time prices decline rapidly.

PRINCE EDWARD'S CHEESE.
Prince Edward County has 38 factories with 2100 cows, says The Gazette. To these factories Inspector Whittam made 325 calls during the season. The number of cows from which milk was obtained for cheese-making was 24,562, yielding 57,828,056 lbs. of milk. The average yield of milk per cow for the season was 234 lbs. The number of lbs. of cheese made from May 1 to Nov. 1 was 6,445,174 and 5472 tests for adulteration were made, and five samples were found to be adulterated. Eleven factories manufactured whey butter, an article of manufacture unknown in which the temperature can be controlled. Twenty-five factories made improvements to their buildings and plants, at an estimated cost of $7059. With cheese at 12c it means that $772,221 was realized by the patrons.

OUR CHEESE INDUSTRY BORN IN OXFORD COUNTY

An Interesting Bit of Local History About Rise of Ontario's Cheese Factory System.

There is in attendance at the dairy school in connection with the Ontario Agricultural College, a very interesting person—Jas. A. Crawford by name—who has testimonials as a good cheesemaker dated 1867, writes Prof. H. H. Dean of The N. Y. Produce Review. He is probably the oldest cheesemaker in the active work to-day.

A Mr. Rennie in Oxford County, Ontario, made cheese in his house from 80 to 100 cows before any factories started. The late Robert Tracey of Haverhill was at that time connected with Mr. Rennie's farm and helped the women to make cheese. In after years he was owner of one of the largest and best cheese factories in Canada. The late James Harris, who married a daughter of Mr. Rennie, also assisted in making cheese at the farmhouse, which seems to have been a centre for dairying at that time. We can readily believe that love-making and cheesemaking were carried on simultaneously. As the curds were stirred in the vat, there was excellent opportunity for that pressure of the hand which carries love's message to the heart.

About 1863 the late Harvey Farrington came from Herkimer County, State of New York, and settled near Norwich, Ont. He began talking with Messrs. Harris, Galloway, Jarvis and Ballantyne about cheese factories, which he had seen in operation in his native state. In 1864 these men began erecting factories in the neighborhood of Ingersoll and the business soon began to pay. The late Mr. Caswell of Ingersoll, Ont., was one of the first cheese buyers to engage in the export trade.

Mr. Galloway made his own cheese and Mr. Harris imported a cheesemaker from New York State (this was before the alien labor laws of modern times). Mr. Tracey was made assistant to the American cheesemaker and afterwards was put in fair charge of the factory.

In September, 1866, Messrs. Farrington, Chadwick, Noonan and others interested met at the Maple Leaf factory owned by J. Jarvis, to consider the advisability of forming a dairymen's association. This meeting was addressed by X. A. Willard of Herkimer County, N. Y., who had been brought over by Mr. Farrington. In July, 1867, regular meeting of the Ontario Dairymen's Association was held. The only one living of those who attended this meeting is Mr. Galloway, who now resides in one of the Dakotas.

From the foregoing we see how closely the development of the cheese business in Ontario, Canada, has been associated with the pioneers of the State of New York. We are glad that this friendly feeling still exists. We in Canada are not ashamed to own our obligations to the Empire State for our first start in what is now a valuable and extensive trade.

ALFALFA'S USEFULNESS A Glowing Eulogy on This Useful Farm Plant.

An American admirer of the alfalfa plant, and one who has working scientific knowledge of the use of it to the soil of the farm, pays a glowing tribute to it in an exchange. He says: "The cultivation and feeding of alfalfa mark the highest development of our modern agriculture. Alfalfa is one of nature's choicest gifts to man. It is the preserver and conservator of the homestead. It is peculiarly adapted to our country, both as a republican government, for it smiles alike on the rich and the poor. It does not fall from our age, it loves the sun and converts the sunbeams into gold coin in the pockets of the thrifty husbandman. It is the greatest mortgage-lifter yet discovered."

"The alfalfa plant furnishes the protein to construct and repair the brains of statesmen. It builds up the muscles and bones of the war-horse, and gives his rider sinews of iron. Alfalfa makes the heifer suckle and the turkeys gobble. It induces the pig to squabble and grunt with satisfaction. It causes the contented cow to give pails full of creamy milk, and the Shorthorn and white-faced cow to be bawled for for fear lack. Alfalfa softens the disposition of the colt and hardens his bones and muscles. It fattens lambs as no other feed, and promotes a wool clip that is a veritable golden fleece. It compels skim-milk calves to make gains of two pounds per day. It helps the farmer to produce pork at a cent and a half a pound and beef at two cents. Alfalfa transforms the upland farm from a sometime white sullied clay banks into an undulating meadow fringed with plant-food. It drills for water, working 365 days in the year without any recompense from man. The labor it performs in penetrating the subsoil is enormous. No other agricultural plant leaves the soil in such good physical condition as alfalfa. It prospers beneath the surface of the earth and brings her hidden treasures to the light of day. It takes the earth, air, moisture and sunshine, and transmits them into nourishing feed stuffs and into tints of green and purple, and into nectar and sweet perfumes, aluring the busy bees to visits of reciprocity, whereas they cross the alfalfa blossoms, which, in their turn, pour out secretions of nectar fit for Jupiter to sip. It forms a partnership with the micro-organisms of the earth by which it is enabled to enrich the soil upon which it feeds. It brings gold into the farmer's purse. Its processes more mysterious than the alchemy of old. The farmer with a 50-acre meadow of alfalfa will have steady, enjoyable employment from June to October; for as soon as he has finished gathering the hay at one end of the field, it will be again ready for the mower at the other. The homes surrounded by fields of alfalfa have an aesthetic advantage unknown to those where the plant is not grown. The alfalfa meadow is clothed with purple and green and exhales fragrant, balmy odors through the growing season to be wafted by the breezes into the adjacent farmhouses."

There is no use wasting seed grain on poorly prepared land. It is far better to work it thoroughly and get in some crop later in the season. Hurry to get a crop growing often ruins the year's returns. But if the land is right, the earlier seeding the better.

A quart of milk is said to be equal in nutrition to a pound of beefsteak. It is also said to be equal to two pounds of bread. A pound of steak costs anywhere from 10 to 30 cents, according to the cut and the market. Two pounds of bread cost usually from 10 to 12 cents. Why should milk sell for less than bread or beefsteak?

The man who knows will not have a poor cow in the herd. The man who knows will know the proper feed to give her, and see that she gets it. The man who knows will know how to take care of her and how to treat her, and will see that she gets the right kind of treatment and care. The only man who fails is the man who does not "know."

No horseman has ever seriously considered automobiles as competitors in the horse business. So far they have had very little influence one way or the other. They have their uses and limitations, they are valuable in the right place, but horses will continue doing business as formerly.

Rhode Island Reds date back about 50 years to the rocky coast of Rhode Island, when some of the small farmers began to cross the large red Malay cocks, which were imported from Southern Asia, with the Cochon China hens. The idea was to produce a strong bird, about the average in size, which could stand the cold winters and huddle pretty well during the rest of the year.

Good fortune has shown her head on the farm of Mr. James Weir of Sandilands, Lanark, says The Scottish Farmer, for this well-known Clydesdale judge has a ewe which recently dropped four healthy lambs.

W. D. Burgess, east of Cannington, sold a calf less than seven weeks old weighing 560 lbs., for which he received $88.00 from one of the local buyers for the Toronto market, says The Uxbridge Journal. Surely this calf and price was not "one with a cough," at any rate.

POOR ROADS ARE ABOMINABLE.

Not until the electorate get a little sense into their heads and employ a man who does know how to make roads, will there be good roads. It may not sound very respectful to the powers that be to say these things, but we believe they need to be said by someone, and we may as well get the blame for saying them as any other fellow. We mean no disrespect to anybody, but we are only saying what almost everyone thinks and knows—Whitby Chronicle.
