REPAIRS TO FERRY NEARLY COMPLETED

Governor Carleton Expected to be Out of Dry Dock Thursday

Commissioner Frink, acting commissioner of harbors, ferries and public lands, this morning received a report from the superintendent of ferries, G. H. Waring, on the progress of the repair work on the ferry steamer Governor Carleton. The vessel will be ready to come off the blocks at the dry dock on Thursday and the superintendent asks the members of the council to come around from the dock to the floats on the steamer on that day.

When the work was started a list of 19 items was presented to the council but before the work was completed it was found that 40 items entered into the work. The cost at that time was estimated at $60,000, but about $700 more will be needed to pay all the bills. It is the intention of the Governor Carleton on the route as soon as she is ready and run her all winter, holding the Ludlow service, and the Carleton is a more economical boat to operate.

SCOTTISH EVENT IN HONOR OF THE DAY

Pleasant Social Function Held by Ladies of St. Matthew's

A charmingly arranged St. Andrew's tea and sale was held this afternoon in the school room of St. Matthew's Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. B. Haines, president, was general convenor. The decorations were of blue and white. Mrs. David Watson will preside at the neatly appointed table which is adorned with a St. Andrew's cross, as well as vases of white narcissus and sprigs of heather and is centered with a silver chandelier and blue candles. Those who will assist in serving are: Mrs. J. A. Morrison, Mrs. Edward Scott, Mrs. L. A. Colwell, Mrs. M. Ackerley, Mrs. Peter MacKenzie, Mrs. John Malcolm, Miss Alice Hawkins and Miss Anne Bailey. The tea will be brewed by Mrs. Charles Kelly and Mrs. Frederick Gilroy. The tickets are in charge of Mrs. Herbert McFarlane. An apron table, decorated in the prevailing colors, is in charge of Mrs. Robert Guild.

BACK FROM WEST

Alton Noble Going Into Business at Montreal

Alton Noble, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Noble, Carnarvon street, reached home today from Winnipeg, where he had been employed for over a year with the Vital Film Exchange. Previous to leaving Saint John he was a bank clerk. Young Mr. Noble after spending the holiday season with his parents and household will take up residence in Montreal to enter the electrical business. He is being warmly welcomed home by his large circle of adult and youthful friends.

APPLICATION REFUSED.

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—The majority report of the Board of Railway Commissioners finds that the application of the United Farmers of Manitoba for an increased train service at Tilson, Manitoba, on the Laurier extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway cannot be met.

Entertains For Daughter's Birthday

Mrs. Newcombe entertained at a delightful birthday party yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 in honor of the fifth birthday of her daughter Constance. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent in games and at the tea hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. Willard McConnell, Jr. The little set of honor received lovely gifts. Those present were: Phyllis Wallace, Audrey and Jennie Adams, Helen Sears, Dorothy Barton, Reta McKenzie, Marion Barton, Helen Nice, Edith Barton, Phyllis Barton, Irene Newcombe, Mabel Sheppard, Willard Howe and Harold Newcombe.

WHITE STAR LINE'S SALE CONFIRMED

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 30.—The Halifax office of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company gave out the following statement in part last night:

"Advices received today by the New York office of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company confirm the purchase by the Royal Mail from the International Mercantile Marine Company of the White Star Line which for many years has occupied a leading position in the Transatlantic passenger-carrying trade. The Royal Mail through this purchase adds nearly 500,000 tons of shipping to its fleet, already the largest in the world, and brings under its flag such Transatlantic liners as the Majestic, the largest ship afloat, the Olympic and the Homeric.

"The Royal Mail recently built and put into operation the biggest motor liner now in service, the Asturias which will sail from New York in January on the company's African cruise. Through the acquisition of the Majestic, therefore, it will own the largest steamship and the largest motor-liner now in operation. The fleet controlled by the Royal Mail exceeded 2,000,000 tons prior to the purchase and with the acquisition of the White Star Line, this figure will now be increased to 2,500,000 tons.

TO NEW POSITION.

F. W. Strong, who had been connected with the passenger department of the C. P. R. here and who is a son of C. D. Strong, of the same company, has severed his connection with the organization and will leave today for Montreal where he has accepted a position.

SYRIAN PRIEST LEAVES.

Rev. Father Tibone, of the Greek Catholic church in Syria, who has been here for some days, left for Montreal on the noon train today and after speaking in other sections of the province and in Nova Scotia, will return to Quebec and New York and hence back to the Orient. He has been a picturesque figure about town in his patriarchal robes and with flowing white hair.

AT COURTESY BAY.

The Public Works Department have not as yet sounded out the channel at Courtesy Bay, but as soon as this has been done a black bar buoy will be placed at the end of the cut to show the port hand side of the channel to incoming vessels. In the meantime all incoming vessels are advised to keep as close to starboard side of the channel as possible.

Report Better On Employment Here

During November placements made by the local branch of the Employment Bureau of Canada were 191 men and 216 women, which was about 10 per cent. better than for the corresponding month in 1925. The majority of calls for men were for extra gangs on the railways, due to ballasting having to be done, owing to the heavy rains, and for workers in the woods.

H. COLBY SMITH CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY SEAT

Is Unanimous Choice of Conservative Convention Held Last Evening

TRIBUTES ARE PAID TO FORMER MEMBERS

Premier Baxter and Others Address Meeting in Seamen's Institute

H. COLBY SMITH, merchant of Saint John, was the unanimous choice of a Conservative Convention held in the Seamen's Institute last night to select a candidate to contest the by-election made necessary by the death of the late member, Mayor F. L. Potts. Mr. Smith was the unanimous choice of the convention, no other name coming before the meeting.

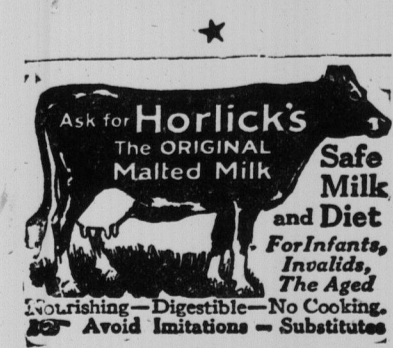

Over 100 delegates from all parts of the county greeted the candidate as he entered the hall and was escorted to the platform. The candidate as well as other speakers asked for the whole-hearted support and co-operation in the coming by-election. Mr. Smith gave a short speech in which he thanked the delegates for their support and asked that each one would go back to his district and start in active work.

NO DIRECT TAX. He stated that owing to measures of administration by the government

"Gentlemen who've knocked about a bit, Sir, say they've found Lea and Perrins wherever the English flag has been, and that no other sauce has achieved such a world-wide reputation as this original Worcester Sauce."

PARIS—G. W. Stephens, of Montreal, chairman of the commission governing the Saare Basin under the League of Nations, has arrived in Paris, upon the invitation of Premier Poincare to discuss the affairs of the commission.

during the past year or so it would not be necessary to resort to direct taxation. He stated further that he had obtained the sum of $238,000 from the Canadian National Railway as tax receipt. He made passing mention of the Duncan Report and stated it was his firm belief that it contained good recommendations for the Maritimes and that he had every confidence in the Government of Canada following out its recommendation. During the course of his address he also paid a tribute to the late Thomas B. Carson, a former colleague, and to John T. O'Brien, who he stated, had always worked in the best interests of the parish of Lunenburg.

Hon. Dr. Baxter was followed by Commissioner R. W. Wigmore who stated that the candidate was a warm personal friend of his and that he would do all in his power to assist him. He exhorted the men to report back to their districts and start active campaigning immediately. He spoke for a short time on the last campaign and paid a tribute to the late Mr. Potts.

The convention passed three resolutions during the evening as follows: "Resolved, that this convention of the Provincial Government supporters of the County of Saint John in session record its confidence in the government led by the Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, and pledges its full support and endorsement of Dr. Baxter, its representative from the County." This resolution carried unanimously.

LATE MAYOR EULOGIZED. The second resolution was moved by Councillor Golding and seconded by M. Magee as follows: "Whereas this convention of supporters of the Provincial Government for the county of Saint John is called to select a candidate in the place of the late Frank L. Potts, member-elect for the county; and

Whereas, Mr. Potts, although a representative of the county for only a few months after the general election of Aug. 10, 1925, enjoyed a very large measure of popularity with his constituents and had been spared to attend the sessions of the Legislature would have made an excellent representative by reason of his abilities and long career in municipal and provincial politics.

Therefore, be it resolved, that this convention in session record its deep sense of regret in the untimely death of Mr. Potts and extends to his family their deepest measure of sympathy.

Further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the family of the late Mr. Potts.

FINAL RESOLUTION. The final resolution was moved by J. A. Robertson and seconded by John H. Tonge as follows: "Resolved, that this convention in session record its deepest regret in the death of a former member of the county and of the late Thomas B. Carson, who for eight years sat as a colleague of the Hon. Dr. Baxter and was ever alive to the interests of the party and constituency.

"Be it therefore resolved, that a

Man Who Might Have Been King Buried in Eastwall

LONDON, Nov. 27—A simple entry hidden away in the old parish register of the village of Eastwall in Kent might have changed the whole history of England. It is under the year 1550 and reads: "Richard Plantagenet was buried the 22nd day of December." The story behind these few words is of a man who, by a slight turn of fate, might have become a king of England, but he died as a laborer on the Eastwall estate in a cottage which he had built with his own hands.

Sir Thomas Moyle was building Eastwall Place in 1546. He noticed that his master bricklayer whenever not at work would draw a Latin book from his pocket and read it. Sir Thomas was interested and one day he asked the man where he had acquired his education.

The man told Sir Thomas a secret which he said he had never revealed to anyone before. He said that he was educated by a Latin schoolmaster until he was fifteen or sixteen but all this time he was kept in ignorance of the identity of his parents. Once a quarter a man came to pay his expenses, but took care to remind him that he was in no way related to him.

TAKEN TO GREAT HOUSE On one occasion he was taken away to a great house where a man who was handsomely dressed, and wore the star and garter, talked to him kindly and questioned him. The man dismissed him with a purse of gold.

Some time afterwards the man who had paid for his schooling came with a horse and told him that he must take a journey into the country with him. They rode through Ledestreshire and reached Bosworth the day before the great battle there. They passed through the camp, and came to the tent of King Richard III.

He recognized the King instantly as the man with the star and garter. The King embraced him affectionately and told him that he was his son.

"Tomorrow, however," he said, "I must fight for my crown. You must stand in such and such a place where you may watch and battle and yet be out of danger. When I win come to me and I will declare you my son and the Prince of Wales. (The King had no legitimate son by his Queen). If however, I should lose and be killed, you must shift for yourself, and keep your secret if you would be safe.

The King dismissed him with a copy of this resolution he sent to the widow of the late Mr. Carson. Harold Mayes was the chairman of the evening and Paul C. Quinn secretary.

JAPAN'S INDUSTRIES CHOSEN

In its program of increasing domestic production, Japan proposes to give government aid to its leading industries, and the Nations Products Encouragement Association recently selected ten industrial arts to be recommended. These were iron and steel, dye stuffs, soda ash, shipbuilding, woolen textiles, automobiles, aluminum, artificial fertilizers, machinery and silk, and silk textiles. Government officials will consider the recommendations within a short time.

EXPORTS LESS GRAIN Canadian Shipments Through American Ports Drops

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Grain exports from the United States last week were 4,683,000 bushels as compared with 6,362,000, the previous week. Canadian grain exported from United States ports amounted to 368,000 bushels against 1,285,000 the week before, while North American exports of wheat flour were 278,000 barrels against 402,000.

STATES SAINT JOHN GAS BEST MADE IN CANADA

W. S. Dole, Visiting Engineer, Makes Survey of Local Plant

Standard tests by Dominion inspectors have shown the gas manufactured in Saint John to be the best grade in Canada.

Installation of new equipment has enabled the local plant to turn out this high standard of gas.

Little of the equipment of the original plant remains and none is in use with the exception of the large chimney which survives the disastrous fire of 1877 and is still in use.

Explaining the manufacture of gas, Mr. Dole said that the material used was purchased in Canada, the coal coming from Sydney.

There are three benches in the local plant, each containing six retorts. Installed at a cost of $100,000, the retorts are equipped with modern standpipes which wash the gas, separating it from the tar.

A pump, for forcing the gas from the retorts to the containers which was installed in 1877, is still workable and was in use until three years ago when it was replaced by a more modern pump of a larger capacity.

Each of the large benches is equipped with a large fan to heat the retorts and is capable of 2,800 degrees of heat.

Referring to the local plant Mr. Dole said that there are 1,200 users of gas. Referring to the local plant Mr. Dole said that there are 1,200 users of gas.

Users number 1,700. Two hundred consumers were served by the original plant erected in 1845, said Mr. Dole.

The local plant extracts from a single ton of coal 1,100 cubic feet of gas, 10 gallons of tar and 1,600 pounds of coke.

ONTARIO GOES TO THE POLLS ON WEDNESDAY

peal, issued here yesterday, calls upon the people of the province, to reject Premier Howard Ferguson and other Conservative candidates whom he charges with having disgraced that will.

The battle waged by the Liberals during the present campaign, was not against the Conservative party, but against the Liberal leader, said his candidate, "who stood upon a policy in direct violation" of the principle that the will of the people ought to prevail.

"Premier Ferguson," the said, "violates his own policy. His policy has never been endorsed by the Conservative party. Rather has he chosen to follow the Liberal leader, who is preparing to refuse to follow Premier Ferguson with his self-made policy."

INDEPENDENT OUT WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 29.—Angus Smith, independent candidate in Windsor West, at the provincial elections of December 1, has decided to withdraw from the contest.

"After a careful investigation of the political situation in West Windsor and realizing that my policy on the liquor question is practically the same as that of Mr. J. Fred Reid, namely the support of the local option, I realize that no good would result from my staying in the field."

STANDING OF PARTIES The following was the standing by parties of the last Ontario legislature at dissolution in October—Conservatives 76, Liberals 11, United Farmer 12, Independents 2. There were 10 vacant seats.

Letters To The Editor

A CORRECTION. To the Editor of The Times Star. Sir:—Through some error or mistake somewhere my name was published in The Times-Star, Nov. 26th, and The Telegraph-Journal of Nov. 27th, as being a delegate to the Liberal Conservative convention to be held in the Seaman's Institute tonight, Nov. 29th.

It is so pleasant to the taste, so delightfully soothing and healing, and affords relief so quickly that children soon turn to it instinctively when choked up with a cold or annoyed by coughing.

Yours truly, RUPERT TAYLOR, East Saint John, November 29, 1926.

Silence is Not Always Golden; Often It is Lead That Crushes Everything and Everybody; We Can Forgive Harsh and Impatient Words, But We Never Know the Love and Tenderness of Others if They Remain Dumb.

THE other day a woman in one of the Western States was granted a divorce from her husband on the ground that he addicted to silent talking.

DOROTHY DIX

It was time that man's chief offense against the happiness of the home was recognized, and, take it from me, if women are given a hand in the proceedings when they compile a universal divorce law, they will put groundlessness ahead of infidelity, or failure to support, or habitual drunkenness, or any of the other causes that are held to entitle a woman to freedom and alimony.

For there is no other fault that a husband can have that gets so on his wife's nerves as talking. Nor is there any other weapon with which a man can so terrorize his family as with groundlessness.

IT is the whip with which many a tyrant holds his trembling wretches of his household in order. He comes home to dinner, or down to breakfast, with a face as set and hard as a stone image. Something has gone wrong. He eats and drinks without speech, refusing even to ask for what he wants. He reads the paper with a portentous dumbness that strikes the children as chill to the very heart. The atmosphere of the room goes down to zero.

Finally, the wife musters courage to ask what is the matter. Is he ill? Has any one unintentionally offended him? What is wrong? To all questions he responds "Nothing" in a tone of voice that indicates the universe and convicts every one about him for having criminally conspired against him and committed the unpardonable sin.

SUCH a man always takes credit to himself for not saying anything when he is angry, but he would be less cruel, and far more agreeable to live with, if he smashed the furniture and swore a blue streak. A wife can deal with a red-hot, cursing man who gives her a chance to talk back and explain, but with a dumb one she is helpless. She can only get her teeth and endure it and suffer grinding torments. Which the grouches know, and it is why they indulge in their mean, cowardly dumb spells.

ANYWAY, it has always seemed to me that silence is one of the virtues that we laid out of all proportion to its deserts, and that there is mighty little truth in the old proverb that says, "Speech is silver, silence golden."

SILENCE is not always golden. Very often it is lead that crushes everything and everybody.

WHO, for instance, yearns for the society of the dumb man or woman who sits up in company as unresponsive as a death's head at a feast? Who seeks the companionship of an individual out of whom every remark must be corkscrewed with an effort that makes conversation a physical labor? Who enjoys the society of one who forces you to ask questions until you feel like the grand inquisitor?

DONT tell us such a one is admirable or decent? We know better. Of course, we will admit that there are times when most of us talk too much; occasions when we tell things that we didn't intend to tell, and ought not to have told, and when we say things that would have been far better left unsaid. But even so, it is doubtful if the preponderance of talker left unsaid. There are times when the most reckless talker alive cannot do so much harm, or wound so cruelly, as the person who merely holds his peace and says nothing.

THERE are friendships that have been killed by cruel speeches, but there are just as many that have been killed by a word that might have been held by a word if that word had been spoken?

HE OR she took offense at something, some fancied slight, or an imagined lack of cordiality, or a garbled rumor. If either one had asked for an explanation, everything would have been smoothed away, but we took refuge in the silence that is an Arctic wall that freezes up all approaches to reconciliation.

IF, LIKE little children, we could go and talk it out with our enemies, be sure we should sleep forgotten and forgiving tonight.

WITHOUT doubt, a certain amount of silence in family life would be a good thing and a conservator of the peace, if it went all the way around. But it never does.

FAMILY silence is the most onerous thing on earth. It haps like a parent or a child who is dumb as an oyster about our virtues. In fact, in most households it is considered criminal to ever mention any one's good qualities and equally criminal to refrain from holding up their faults and weaknesses for public discussion.

WOMEN are always berated for talking too much, but I prefer the woman who chatters as meaninglessly as a canary to the one who wraps herself in awful silence, and under whose baneful influence cheerfulness dies.

IT is the woman who knows how to talk and to make talk, who bubbles entertainingly about everything she has done and seen during the day, who rests and entertains her family and turns a plain meal into a feast of wit and a flow of soul.

FINALLY, there must come a time when to each of us the silence of death will come between us and our best beloved. Cry aloud as we may, we cannot make them hear. In that far land to which they have gone, God knows then whether we shall most regret the things we have said, or the things we have left unsaid.

The harsh and impatient word we uttered they forgave us and forgot, but the unuttered love and tenderness they never knew.

IT would have joyed them to know how we admired them. It would have given them fresh courage when their hearts failed, if they knew how we honored them for the light they were making. But we never said the words of appreciation and praise for which they longed, and as we murmur passionate regrets into deaf ears we know that there is a duty of speech that outweighs all the virtues of silence.

DOROTHY DIX.

Lace Dress and Velvet Wrap Are Noted Evening Modes

By MME. LISBETH

EXQUISITE lace gowns and regal wraps of velvet in rich colors are outstanding notes of the season's formal dress. Nothing could please a lady better than these two fabrics because nothing is more becoming and softly feminine.

Above is sketched (left) a charming evening frock of black tulle and lace combined with black tulle. The scalloped line is used in a particularly deep scallop of the tulle looping the front of the bodice and apparently ending in a pert bow on the left shoulder. Corresponding scallops on the skirt, not quite so decided, are also finished by large and perky bow at the waistline, this time poised at the right side, giving balance to the gown. The frock is worn over a pink slip.

At the right are two sketches showing the front and back views of an elaborate evening wrap of apricot velvet with a graduated panel embroidered with diamonds trims the back only, and the cloak has a huge fur collar, border and cuffs.

For the comfort of women who bought cape coat models last season and expect to wear them next spring, the word has gone out from style powers that cape coats will be good next spring. Also straight-line wraps.

Fringes arranged in tiers and cape effects are much noted effect is a novelty.

New plantings are the waffle pleat and the scalloped tiered pleat.

Matching bags to shoes is a favorite fashion fad.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBAIN

THERE are about 50 mouth washes on the market, all more or less alike in their composition, all sold with special claims as to their virtues in preventing disease.

In most instances the antiseptic powers are due to small amounts of alcohol in them, perhaps to boric acid, or various other antiseptics.

Actually, the virtues of contracting the gum tissue, or hardening it. However, the normal blood supply of the tissues of the mouth is exceptionally rich and the effects are quite temporary.

Alkaline mouth washes frequently are urged for a condition called acid mouth. Some dental authorities urge acid mouth washes as being better for getting rid of the accumulated mucus on the teeth.

All sorts of tests are suggested to patients for determining whether or not they have acid mouth or alkaline mouth. The facts are that a healthy mouth, one that feels all right and is without odor, needs only a simple rinsing with water after the use of the tooth brush.

But if a person feels more pleased by the use of a tasteless or astringent wash, why not have it—just so he is under no illusions as to its virtues?

Human nature seems to demand and to enjoy a mouth wash that is pleasantly flavored. Manufacturers use peppermint, pleasant oils, lemon or orange for this purpose, but the flavor must be recognized merely for what it is and not for any special healing virtues.

Greece is considering measures to stop the great flow of people from the country to the cities of that country.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Universal is planning to bring another of Edna Ferber's best sellers to the screen. They have purchased film rights to "Show Boat" and are planning to give Mary Phibbin the part of Magnolia Ravenel, the charming heroine of the story which is woven around a troupe of actors on a river boat.

Many are unaware that show boats still exist in some sections of the country. They have come to fill a need in the lives of the dwellers in the river countries, many of whom never have visited a city of large enough proportions to support a theatre. Good old-fashioned melodrama is the prime favorite and these "show boat" audiences lean the least.

No lack of appreciation of the actor's efforts here. The audiences fairly live the piece which is being played on the stage.

A man familiar with life on the boat tells of an occasion when the heroine in a most dramatic vehicle was being urged to drink a glass of wine, which had been previously drugged by the villain. Just as the actress raised the glass to her lips a woman in the audience cried out, "Don't you let that little girl, it's drugged!"

For a moment the "little girl" was disconcerted if the audience laughed the whole scene would be ruined, so, instead, she soberly turned to the woman and said, "No, you are right, I won't drink it" and the show was saved.

To get back to the film, Norman Kerry probably will play the part of Gaylord Ravenel, the river gambler. Miss Ferber's "So Big" proved a successful screen vehicle for Colleen Moore, and "Show Boat" apparently has all the "makings" of a good movie.

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford are still casting about for suitable feature screen vehicles. Talk that the pair will co-star in a comedy which has all the makings of a good movie.

Emil Jennings will make "The Man Who Forgot God," as his first picture for Paramount.

SUGAR FOUND IN CORN

In a bushel of corn there are approximately thirty-four pounds of starch, and depending upon what the market demands the amount of sugar extracted from this starch varies from a few pounds to all of the thirty-four. In actual commercial practice only eight or ten pounds of sugar are taken out of the average bushel of corn today, but the entire thirty-four pounds of starch could be converted into sugar if necessary.

NUTRITION CLASS FOR SCHOOL

To turn out children perfect in physique as well as in education is the plan of officials of the public schools of Northcote, N. Z. To this end nutrition classes are to be started. At first from twenty to thirty pupils will be selected, and these will be given special treatment in the building of physique. Wholesome food will be provided, pupils will be urged not to be hasty in eating and rest periods and regular times of exercises will be scheduled.

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought permanent relief

Constipation takes its toll in health and happiness — but Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic constipation if eaten regularly. Because Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a 100% bran product — 100% effective.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk, cream and fruit. Use it in cooking too. Made by Kellogg in London, Canada, and sold by all grocers. Served in all restaurants.

J. E. JESSUP (Address on request)

"I was always sickly and could not eat anything. May I was told about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN I have not had a day's constipation. I now weigh 135 pounds, and I'm all due to eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

Don't let constipation sap your health, undermine your strength. It can cause over forty serious ailments! Blechy skin, sick headaches, nervousness, anemia — are but a few of the symptoms. Beware!

See-Young On Broadway

MANHATTAN sights not to be found in the guide books:

Those million-dollar barns... One at Seventh Avenue and 57th Street... The other on 29th, just off Fifth Avenue... They are called the million-dollar barns because of the value of the property on which they stand...

Both are relics of a Victorian day when barns were barns and not garages... The one on Seventh Avenue now houses a delicatessen store and a tailoring establishment, where once was, maybe a hay loft... Not from its roof jauntily swings a brass weather vane, offering defiance to the giant buildings that crowd about its old, red solidity... Like ladies in modern finery sweeping past a lusted dower of yesterday... And the one off Fifth Avenue, flanking one of the old mansions, connected with the world of towering modern architecture at venerable red stone fence... Soon they will go...

Even as its barns and houses pass, so passes also the interest of the crowd in the social leaders.

Time was when crowds jammed the entrance of the Metropolitan Opera House on gala nights waiting for a peep of the social aristocracy. Publicity and the movies have changed all this. Now the mobs gather in front of a motion picture theatre at an important opening, waiting for a peep at a favorite star.

A thousand know Ricardo Cortez, Lois Wilson and the rest to one that could recognize a Vanderbilt or a Gould. A few sicker for the "good old days" still tarry to glimpse the flash of jewels or the extravagant opera coat of a society queen. But almost any movie star has these now.

They tell me of a time when the Blue Book leaders rushed from their carriages and autos, covering their faces with wraps to keep off prying eyes. There is little need for such precautions now. The crowd gives them little heed. It trails the folk who are in a newer limelight.

Stage celebrities, too, are quite safe from the eyes of the thousands. I saw John Drew, looking strangely old, ambling along Broadway the other day, without so much as a head turning after him. I saw Jeanne Eagles enter a theatre with little more than a few lobbing heads to note her. But one of the celebrated movie folk arrives—whether it be flapper or veteran character man—and heads go twisting off their necks.

After all, the number of persons who can watch a stage artist is woefully less than those watching the performance of a film mime.

Perhaps the least attention of all is attracted by the celebrities of the business world. I have seen, time and again, the wizards of finance stalk to a first night on Broadway and be greeted by nothing more than a perfunctory nod from acquaintances.

Italian Prison for 5 Years

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Edgar La Plante, the self-styled "White Elk," last hereditary chief of the Cherokees, now lies in an Italian goal, to which he has been sent for five years for swindling. La Plante, dark-eyed, eagle-faced, and crested as any man of the race whose name he has stolen, is very well known to the police in this country. At one time he almost contrived to be given audience of the King.

In 1922 he came from Canada clad in

As good as new next morning
after simple home treatment

After tramping around all day with wet feet while out gunning, a Philadelphia sportsman found himself so stiff and lame he could hardly bend. "I went to work but had to come home," he writes. "I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. I was as good as new next morning, thanks to the quick and sure action of Sloan's."

Apply a little lightly, without rubbing. Right away the stiffness and pain ease up, as fresh healing blood is sent to the sore spots. Get a bottle of Sloan's today and have it on hand for the first emergency. All druggists—85 cents.

Two Babes Die As Fire Sweeps Home

These four bleak walls are all that remain of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dennison, near Birmingham, O., after a fire in which their two children, Myra, two, and Brian, four, perished before the gaze of their frantic mother. Mrs. Dennison was working in the yard when one of the children poured oil into a basket and started the fire.

all the picturesque panoply of Red Indian garb, with its highly-colored head-dress, and the full ceremonial dress of a chief. On that occasion he called himself Dr. Tewanna, and stated that he came over with the object of pleading the claim of his own people, and, indeed, all the Indians of the Dominion of Canada.

He explained that Tewanna was Indian for White Elk, and as he appeared in his wonderful head-dress wherever he went—a head-dress of golden eagle feathers which, he stated, had been made for his grandfather 60 years before, and was a family heirloom and insignia of his office as the last chief of the Cherokees—he attracted a great deal of attention.

HIS CLAIMS.
He claimed to be the possessor of three collegiate degrees, and to be able to speak 21 languages. "This is a purely social visit to renew the allegiance of my people to the King," he declared. "I have also to make a presentation to the Prince of Wales, from the Boy Scout troop who received him when he came to this country."

On these presentations and sentiments White Elk was interviewed and made much of, and it was by the obtaining entrance to Buckingham Palace, there to interview the King. It was discovered that his real name was Edgar La Plante, and that, far from being a Cherokee, he was a French-Canadian born in Rhode Island. He came to England as described, and when he could not obtain an interview with the King, or an entry to higher circles of society over here, he went on the halls, giving Indian dances.

MARRIES ENGLISH GIRL.
While thus engaged, he met a pretty English girl in Manchester, a Miss Elizabeth Ether, to whom he made love, professing to possess thousands of acres of lands and forests, and persuaded the girl to marry him. Their union was short-lived, however, as the police began to make inquiries among them concerning White Elk in connection with another girl whom he had met at Woolwich, and whom he had robbed of money and jewelry. He adopted the name of Tewanna

Agricultural Society Elects
Officers for Ensuing Year

SUSSEX, Nov. 29.—The Sussex and Studholm Agricultural Society held their annual meeting, here, during the week-end, at which there was a large and representative attendance from the surrounding districts. The vice-president H. A. Wallace, of Penobscus, presided and during his opening address made feeling reference to the death of the late president, Harvey B. Parlee. The treasurer's and auditors' statements showed the finances of the society to be in a satisfactory condition. During the year six carloads of fertilizer, valued at over $4,000, had been purchased and distributed among the members, chemicals being purchased separately and mixed by the individuals by which means a saving of from 25 to 35 per cent, according to ingredients, was effected.

COINCIDENT DATE.
J. Frank Roach, who was a delegate to the fifteenth anniversary of the New Brunswick Farmers' and Dairymen's Association, held at Fredericton in January last, gave a very excellent report. It was a co-incident that a meeting was held on the exact day, fifty years later, on which the N. B. Farmers' and Dairymen's Association was organized.

George T. Whalen, secretary of the Sussex Shipping Club, which was organized in July last, gave an interesting report of the progress of this club. Up to date thirteen carloads had been shipped with a total return to the farmers of over $19,000—this business had been operated on a 1 per cent. margin.

TO BUY NEW STOCK.
Considerable discussion took place relative to the quality of hogs in the district and a follow-up to the good work already done by the society in bringing in pure-bred Yorkshire hogs. It was decided to make a further importation of new blood and to pay one-third of the cost price to any member of the society who wished to procure animals of this kind. Pure-bred sows will also be purchased and distributed at cost.

Mr. Whalen strongly advocated the growing of clover and rape as the most profitable summer pasture for hogs. It was resolved to continue the purchase of fertilizers during 1927 and the incoming board of directors was authorized to finance the proposition.

CLOVER HULLER ARRIVES
Walter Craig reported that the clover huller imported by the society had arrived and had been set up. When linked up to the proper speed he believed the machine would do good work. So far the only work done was in the way of experimenting to get the machine running properly. It was resolved that Mr. Craig continue operating the machine until such time as a change should be desired. The price per hour to patrons for use of the machine will be set after further work has been done to admit of the actual cost being arrived at.

BOYS AND GIRLS SWINE CLUBS
The society would foster boys' and girls' swine clubs wherever formed and to maintain a light service for the same, in conjunction with the Dominion live stock branch and the local department of agriculture, bear their share of the prize lists.

The secretary was requested to send a letter of condolence in the name of the society to the widow of the late president, Harvey B. Parlee.

CHINESE CRISIS IS HELD GRAVE

Hankow Boycott Aired in British Parliament
Yesterday

LONDON, Nov. 29.—"The gravest crisis since the Boxer rebellion" is how British correspondents in China describe the present situation there and their concern is fully reflected here in official quarters.

The government, however, maintaining its wary attitude which has prevailed throughout the prolonged Chinese troubles, is still declining to be hurried into any precipitate action.

Mr. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, making his first appearance in the House of Commons today since a holiday for his health, asked Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain to give the House information on affairs in China.

OUTLINES DEVELOPMENTS
Sir Austen, in reply, outlined the serious developments which have occurred in Hankow during the past week growing out of a threatened general anti-foreign strike and boycott there. He said that the commissioner of customs hoped that it might be possible to keep the customs house open and to maintain a light service for the foreign nations in Hankow, but he admitted that this might be difficult unless the customs house, which is within the Chinese city, should be protected.

According to his latest reports, he said, the situation appeared easier. The Chinese union had presented its demands and they were understood not to be of an impossible nature. Sir Austen added, however, that perhaps this was only a preliminary move.

Then he asked Mr. MacDonald to repeat his question on Wednesday when he thought he would be able to give further information.

APPEAL FROM HANKOW
Replying to further questions, the Foreign Secretary said that he had received a communication from the British community at Hankow expressing fear of outward incidents involving bloodshed, and stated that the protection afforded by the British naval forces there were considered inadequate. The admiralty and ministry, Sir Austen said, were giving this matter attention.

Apparently the government has no present intention of ordering further naval units to China, since officials consider that there are sufficient British units on the Yangtze to deal with any crisis. Twelve destroyers and an aircraft carrier, sent to China from Malta in September, are ready for eventualities in addition to the regular river patrol. One difficulty at the present time is the fact that the waters of the river are so low as not to be safely navigable for naval vessels.

"Red Seal" CEDAR CHESTS

A Fragment from Italy.
MANY periods of European history left their mark on the household furniture of their time, and the works of these earlier masters have come down to afford us varied opportunities of enriching our home environments in a manner to catch the whims of changing tastes.
The model illustrated herewith comes to us from Southern Europe. The bold richness of the early Italian period is well exemplified in this adaptation of an old credenza embellished with moulded panels, projecting overlays and carved frieze moulding, typical of furniture made in Italy in the 17th Century.
But no matter what your taste, there is a Red Seal Cedar Chest to suit it. Utility and beauty find a happy combination here and no line enjoys such a wide variety of designs in walnut, mahogany or red cedar as does the Red Seal line. There is a Red Seal Chest for every need and every purse. Ask your dealer. Look for the seal on every chest—it is the maker's guarantee of quality.

Woodrow, clerk in the post office here for more than 53 years, this afternoon when the postmaster, Alexander Thompson, presented to him a card of appreciation from Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster General, and a letter from L. J. Gaboury, Deputy Postmaster General.

The presentation took place at 2.30 in post office in the presence of Mr. Woodrow's fellow clerks. Mr. Woodrow, who joined the service on October 6, 1873, is now on leave of absence and in May next will be superannuated from the service.

POSTMASTER'S APPRECIATION

In making the presentation Mr. Thompson said:

"I am in receipt of a letter from Mr. Underwood, Chief Superintendent of Post Office Service, informing me that a testimonial with reference to your faithful service on the subject of mail, also a letter from the Deputy Postmaster General, Mr. Gaboury, and asking me if I would kindly send that letter and testimonial card as suitably presented to you. I can assure you, Mr. Woodrow, that nothing has ever given me greater pleasure than the presenting to you of this testimonial card and the letter from Mr. Gaboury, Deputy Postmaster General, even feeling as I do the great loss of the services of a department here in Saint John which will be your retirement. Every word in this testimonial is true in word, deed, and no one knows this better than I do. No clerk has ever given me more faithful service or been more conscientious in all his duties than you have. It has been my privilege and great pleasure to have travelled the same road almost alongside of you for nearly 50 years, and to have found you the soul of honour, and good fellow, and I personally shall miss you very much as a true friend and as I told Mr. Jenkins only a few days ago so do I repeat to you—first Mr. M. J. Potter, none ever better and a much better post office than I had before; then Mr. J. W. Ring and Mr. J. H. Ritchie—faithful, honest and conscientious clerks; and now I am the last of the old brigade. "Others are taking their place and I have only the kindest of words to say to them, for since taking charge of the Saint John Post office as Postmaster, they have been faithful and true and I am truly proud of them and only wish them good luck, best of health and happiness.

LETTER FROM MR. VENIOT

"It is again today called upon by your Postmaster to present to you a testimonial of faithful service from the Hon. Mr. Veniot, Postmaster General, and a well merited letter from our much beloved Gaboury, Deputy Postmaster General, who knows of you and your faithful service. Fifty-four years is a long time to spend in one position—a long time to look ahead, but it seems when looking backward—when it was first my pleasure to know you—only a few days ago. Today my thoughts turn backward nearly 60 years when I entered the Post Office—which was at that time being carried on where A. C. Smith's drug store now is—a small boy put to stamping out pieces a few weeks after the great Saint John fire, and I can truly say from that day until the present time your friendship has meant much to me, even when I like a dream to return after many years to see your Postmaster—how little we know what time will bring to us. I, perhaps more than any other, will miss your genial state and cheerful low-down and your ever willing help and faithful friendship. You will never quite understand just what it has meant to me, for I depended much on you and your wisdom and help. I can truly say, will all miss you and not one of the Post office staff but will wish you well. May God bless you and yours and give you many years of health and strength to enjoy fully the rest so splendidly won, and as you travel towards life's sunset, may there be no shadows to any way dim the light, and at the end of life's journey may you hear the "well done, good and faithful servant."

TESTIMONIAL CARD

The card from the Postmaster General reads as follows:

"On the occasion of your retirement from service from the Post Office I desire to express to you my appreciation of the services rendered to the Dominion during a period of more than 50 years."

Yours very truly, P. J. VENIOT

To Ross Douglas Woodrow, Esquire.

The letter of Mr. Gaboury stated it gave him great pleasure to forward the card of appreciation from the minister and he desired to add his personal appreciation of the faithful service of Mr. Woodrow.

GAINING PLANT AT GOLDBROOK TO BE OPERATED

Definite Word Received in City From Manager Harry Beach

MAN BEING CHOSEN TO ASSUME CHARGE

Writes to Board of Trade on Matter of Market

Word was received this morning by F. Maclure Scandlers, commissioner of the Board of Trade, that the Western Packing Corporation, Ltd., would continue to operate their factory at Goldbrook and were now arranging for a man to come here to take charge.

This information was contained in a letter from Harry Beach, manager of the factory, who had been in the city for the last season. Mr. Beach writes that he was glad to be able to say that "the directors of the corporation have arrived at the conclusion that they must continue to operate in Saint John."

FORM NEW COMPANY.

He also says they have information that the Farmers Marketing and Canning Company and the Associated Farmers, Ltd., have decided to amalgamate and are to form a new company and the department of agriculture are assisting in this matter. The directors of the former members will be sent to Saint John and after the decision of the board of directors, the surplus will be turned over to the Western Packing Company.

BOARD EAGER TO.

Mr. Scandlers said the Board of Trade were very anxious to operate any effort which would bring added prosperity to the country and they had always taken the most forward looking view of the province and the farmers interested in the agricultural industry.

Late Personal News

J. M. Woodman, chief superintendent of the C. P. R. here, left this morning for Fredericton on business.

Mr. W. W. Hubbarth, who is helping the Board of Trade in this matter, is sending out letters to the officers of various agricultural societies asking them to come to help draft a program for the larger conference.

Animal League Executive Praises Men Who Saved Dog; Would Like To Have Names

The executive of the Animal Rescue League would very much like to know the names of the men who rescued a dog from a perilous position when it was trapped at Courtney Bay a few days ago. It is noted in the newspaper. The members of the executive, at their November meeting last evening, spoke this in terms of highest praise, as exemplifying kindness to animals, so closely in keeping with the objects for which the league exists. The names of the men are not known to the league, and this was regretted. The

EXEMPTION OF $100 ON GOODS INTO U.S. KILLED

Visitors in Canada Hereafter Will be Charged Duty on New Purchases

LAW APPLIES ONLY TO THOSE FROM ABROAD

Decision in Washington Case Is Learned of Here Today

American customs officers looking after the personal baggage of passengers leaving Canadian ports and boundary points, such as the Saint John-Vancouver route, have received a bulletin publication known as Treasury Decision under the Customs, Internal Revenue and Other Laws, including Decision of the United States Customs court and Court of Customs Appeals. The bulletin was published on the 18th of this month in Washington, and contains an important decision which will affect visitors to Canada. This decision grew out of a court case, A. W. Fenton Co. vs. United States.

CANADA CUT OUT.

The Times-Star was informed today by an American customs official that hereafter the exemption of $100 worth of personal effects purchased in Canada, allowed American visitors, has been decided by the decision of the above case. The only persons now permitted this privilege, according to the wording of the law, will be Americans returning from abroad, presumably Europe or via Europe, although it may also apply to those direct from the Orient or other parts of the world, but it must be from a country other than the United States.

Another matter of importance taken up and decided upon was the formation of a permanent Liberal organization in the district which will have jurisdiction over the coming by-election. About 30 members present signified their interest in joining the organization and it was expected that the total membership would reach nearly 100.

The delegates chosen for the nominating convention are as follows:—William Evans, Thomas Conway, George Melanson and David Delaney, Sr., substitutes, James Ferguson, Richard Mullaney, Raymond Williams and James Hayes.

Both Men Claim In Action After Glash of Autos

Frank McGloin vs. Saint John Motor Line, Ltd., in Circuit

Circuit Court resumed its sessions here this morning with Chief Justice Barry presiding, and the case of Frank McGloin, by his next friend, vs. Saint John Motor Line Ltd. was on. This is an action arising out of a collision between a touring car owned by the plaintiff and a car owned by the defendant, the former suffering $875 damages and the latter counter-claiming for $875.

HAPPENED AT RENFORTH

The accident occurred at Renforth last Sunday night, September 19, when the plaintiff was proceeding in the direction of Rothesay and the defendant was approaching the city. The former in alleging negligence on the part of the defendant, maintaining that the latter was driving recklessly and at an excessive rate of speed so that his car struck the plaintiff's and demolished it. The defendant denies all the allegations of the plaintiff.

Evidence was given this morning by Mr. McGloin, Detective Boides, come, Abner Mitchell, Bruce Holder and George Parlee. The matter is being continued this afternoon.

CASE IN POINT.

The case of A. W. Fenton vs. United States, under the published heading "Exemption of residents returning from abroad," is reported as follows:

The exemption of $100 provided for by the Statute of 1905, Tariff Act of 1922, upon articles acquired abroad should be limited to such articles as were acquired for personal or household use, or as souvenirs or curios.

The language of the Statute of the United States returning from abroad, in respect to its interpretation as applied to the third proviso of paragraph 1935 does not include residents of the United States returning from Canada.

There is no exception from the above in the case of a resident of the United States returning from Canada.

DOUBLE WORK

Saint John as a point of entry for ocean traffic will, under the above new ruling be a point where American customs officials will have to exercise a two-sided judgment in regard to the value of personal effects. American residents returning via this port from abroad will enjoy the exemption to the extent of $100 worth of new goods while other citizens of Uncle Sam's country merely visiting in Canada and not having arrived from overseas, will be denied the privilege.

CONVENTION IN WEST

Credit Men's Association Annual at Edmonton, 1927

It has been announced that next year's convention of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association will be held in Edmonton, Alberta, June 18-14-15, according to word received at the local office. This year's convention, which was such an unqualified success, was held in Vancouver. W. R. HALTS STREET CARS

Mill Street Work Makes Transfer Necessary

Traffic in Mill street was somewhat congested this morning, and it was necessary for street car passengers to transfer at the depot. The difficulty was caused by the putting in place of one of the diamond crossings for the railway tracks across the street.

On the north side of the station the railway tracks are being re-located to give a straight run into the new train shed, the contract for which has been let and on which it is expected work will begin soon.

WEST SIDE UNIT TAKES SECOND IN PETEWAHA TEST

4th Medium Battery Beaten Only by Halifax Organization This Year

GUNNERS APPROVE VOLUNTARY PLANS

Affiliation With Provincial Rifle Association Is Decided on at Meeting

AT A MEETING of the officers of the 3rd Medium Brigade, Canadian Artillery, held last evening in the Armory, Lieut. Col. G. A. Gamblin announced the results of the competition in gun practice conducted last July at Petawaha camp. The 4th Medium Battery of the West Side, under command of Major E. M. Slader, C. de G., took second place from all the heavy batteries in the Dominion, being only eleven points behind the 9th Battery of Halifax.

If two of the subalterns who were unable to go to camp had been present, the honor of first place would have again come to Saint John, as it did the year before.

TAKE ARCHANGEL CUP.

In spite of this handicap the 4th Battery did, however, win the Archangel Cup for continuity of personnel. The gun practice competition the 15th medium battery under Major D. V. White, M.C., took fifth place, and the 6th medium battery under Major A. A. Dodge took eighth place.

PLANS FOR TRAINING

Lt.-Col. Gamblin outlined the plans for the next annual training week and all officers present were enthusiastic in endorsing a plan for voluntary periods of practice in order to place all three batteries at the head of the competition in camp next summer. The N. C. O's and gunners of the brigade are also keen on bringing the honors to Saint John in competition with the rest of the Dominion.

Lieut. J. F. Archibald, who has for many years promoted rifle shooting in the province, advocated the application of the Brigade Rifle Association with the provincial organization. This was unanimously endorsed by the meeting and Major Dodge was elected captain of the team with Lieut. Archibald as secretary.

FOR WINTER SHOOTING

A meeting of all ranks of the brigade will be held in the lecture room of the Armory next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to organize the competition for the winter's indoor shooting. With Sgt. Emery of the brigade now on the Bisley team, it is hoped that those who have not taken up this sport will be encouraged to do so. The brigade expects to send a strong team to Sussex next summer for the provincial shoot.

MAIN STREET B. Y. P. U.

There was a good attendance last evening at a meeting of the B. Y. P. U. of the Main street Baptist church. For the opening exercises the choir was led by Norman McCutcheon, second vice-president. The chairman of the devotional committee, Miss Eetta Estabrook, then presided and introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Ella McAlary, who gave an instructive address on the 10th chapter of Luke, dealing with the first 20 verses. A solo by Miss Marjorie Christie was greatly enjoyed.

AUTOS SEIZED BY OFFICIALS

Machines Smuggled Into Moncton Vicinity From United States

MONCTON, Nov. 29.—Six automobiles alleged to have been smuggled into this country from the United States have been seized in this vicinity in the last few days by A. G. Veniot, inland revenue officer, it was learned here today.

ANOTHER RING ACTIVE. Mr. Veniot does not believe the illegal importation of cars had been carried on by the same ring as had handled those seized in Amherst and vicinity some weeks ago.

CARS SEIZED. The cars seized last week included a Packard, a straight eight, a Buick straight eight, a Chevrolet, a Ford, a Tempra car and an Overland. The Buick and the Ford have been released since, the former when papers were produced and the latter when the duty was paid.

NO ARRESTS. No arrests have so far been made by the customs authorities and Mr. Veniot is continuing his investigations as he declares there is a possibility that other automobiles may be seized, if proper papers could not be produced by their owners.

Follow Nature's Rule

If gaining natural skin beauty is your aim

By NORMA TALMADGE

Foremost skin specialists urge this simple rule in skin care. Follow it for one week—note the improvement that comes

BECAUSE all the world seeks natural skin loveliness today, natural ways in skin care now have supplanted the artificial ways of yesterday.

THE RULE... AND HOW TO FOLLOW FOR BEST RESULTS. Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night.

BE SURE YOU GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE. Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above.

"Here's How I'm Fixed"

"If I live to old age I'll be able to enjoy a well-earned rest. "If I should die earlier my good wife will have an income for life.

"If later on, I urgently need cash, The London Life will lend me money.

"If my circumstances change I can adjust my policy to suit, without even medical examination.

"How's that for real life insurance protection? "The cost? Why, it actually works out at less than 2%, because the premium is only $202.00 a year for $10,000 protection and the annual dividends reduce this considerably.

"It certainly is different and I'm glad I've got it!"

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 30.—Fearing that a harmful precedent might be established by the ruling of Calgary's police magistrate, Col. G. E. Sanders, D. S. O., in a recent preliminary hearing that the press be barred on the request of the defendant's counsel, The Calgary Herald had inquiries made in the principal cities of Canada as to whether such practice had ever been heard of previously in this country.

The unanimous answer was in the negative and members of the bench and bar united with newspaper editors in condemning the course taken by the Calgary magistrate. One and all of them intimated that the action was wrong in principle and that it might easily lead to a gross abuse of the privilege that belonged allegedly to the public—knowledge of what was transpiring in the courts of justice.

"Where there is no publicity, there is no justice," was the dominant note in the replies received by The Herald. J. Seymour Corley, K. C., for fifteen years crown prosecutor in Toronto, declared:—"The greatest check on arbitrary proceedings in court is to have the public represented through the newspapers."

A. Macleod Sinclair, K. C., a prominent Calgary barrister said:—"Publicity in the administration of justice has been regarded as ranking even higher than the rights of parliament as a guarantee of public security."

"The magistrate had no right to do it," said R. A. Bonnar, K. C., Winnipeg. "This discretion is only exercised on grounds of public policy, that is only not fit to be heard in public," commented Hon. R. W. Craig, attorney-general of Manitoba.

COUNTERFEITING CHARGE

At the time of the opening of the preliminary hearing of Reginald Garrett and Fred Barrett, charged with making counterfeit money, counsel for the defendants applied to the magistrate for closed court in the case, voicing the fear that the case of his clients might be jeopardized by the publication of certain details of the evidence. He said the jurymen, who might subsequently hear the case in higher court, might become prejudiced before the trial. The magistrate acceded to the request and ordered closed court excluding the press.

WANTS TO SLOUGH TITLE

A divorce suit brought by the Duchess of Torlonia (above) against her Italian husband is pending in the Connecticut Superior Court at Bridgeport. The duchess, who was Elsie Moore and the heiress of the fortune of her father, the late Charles A. Moore, of Greenwich, Conn., charges the duke with misconduct with Maria Lovetoni, of Rome. He contends that the Connecticut court is without jurisdiction.

Schooner Thought Lost Now Is Reported Safe In Letter

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 29.—A letter from Captain William Kinghorn of the Schooner Hattie J. Allis, dated November 25 at Bass Harbor, Maine, received by the editor of a Hants County weekly newspaper today, stated that the tern Schooner Frederick J. Lovatt, well known to all Bay of Fundy and Maine ports, had been lost off the Maine Coast with all hands, the crew being mainly Nova Scotians.

Inquiries tonight of the owners, C. A. and B. F. Small, Machinistsport, Me., disclosed that the schooner was safe off Rockland, Nov. 26, letters having been sent ashore by a coast guard cutter and posted in Rockland on that date, and no apprehension was felt. Captain Kinghorn in the letter received here said he had passed wreckage, a schooner bottom up and a lifeboat, but gave no position and did not say what led him to believe that the schooner was lost. He could not be reached tonight by long-distance telephone to Bass Harbor.

Belief in the story of the schooner's loss was strengthened by the receipt of a letter from Boatswain William Hyson—one of the letters sent ashore to be posted on Nov. 26 at Rockland—to his mother in Hantsport, in which he warned her to be ready to hear of his death as he believed the vessel was going to be lost.

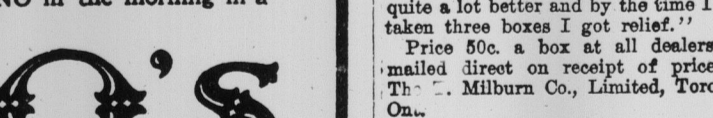

The Lovatt sailed from Seal Harbor Nov. 23 with laths for New York. The letter from Captain Kinghorn stated the relatives of the crew, several of whom are Nova Scotians, and wires to Maine ports were kept busy several hours tonight in an effort to run down the story.

HOUSE PUZZLES TWO NATIONS

A small house at Oost Cappel on the Belgian-French border is causing much concern to chiefs of customs in Brussels and Paris. The front door is in one country and the back door in the other. The French authorities are disturbed because dutiable articles pass into the Belgian door and out of the rear into French territory. The Belgians are concerned when the route is reversed. No solution has yet been found.

ROYALTY ENJOYS THE MOVIES

The Prince of Wales and Princess Mary have recently formed the habit of "slipping" into the neighborhood movie theatre near Buckingham Palace and enjoying the pictures without being recognized by the audience. Whenever royalty visits the theatre the event usually is quickly told to the world, but the prince and princess it just has been learned, have been attending the little movie house once a week without it being known.

First Sip Shows How Different

Buckley's Mixture is quite unlike old-style cough syrups. It's a scientific combination of natural medicines. Very pleasant to take, acts like a dash of relief, relieving Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, whooping cough, and other dangerous developments. The first few sips are a complete relief—and there are 40 doses in a woodpecker, kingfisher, bluebird, raven, swallow, redbird, chickadee and Canada Jay bottles.

STRAUS ESTATE
VALUE PLACED
AT $1,131,009

Widow of Former Cabinet Officer Gets $657,026; Son $148,580

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Oscar S. Straus, formerly American Ambassador to Turkey, and Secretary of Commerce and Labor under President Roosevelt, left an estate valued at $1,131,009 gross and $1,131,009 net. Mr. Straus died on May 3, 1926. The transfer tax appraisal of the estate being the largest has been filed by Maurice A. Stephenson, Deputy State Tax Commissioner.

STOCKS AND BONDS

Virtually the entire estate of Mr. Straus in stocks and bonds. He held $600,611 in bonds and his holdings of other securities were appraised at $668,896. These securities covered a wide variety of investments. His largest stock holding was 387 1/2 shares of the New York Tilt and Mortgage Co., valued at $151,872.

Other holdings were National City Bank $75,750; Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, $82,775; and Irving Bank-Columbia Trust Company, $62,400. Mr. Straus had $31,000 in Liberty bonds and $50,000 each in bonds of the Federal Land Bank and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Several public bequests made by Mr. Straus which appear in the appraisal of his estate as follows: Brown University, $10,000; United Hebrew Charities, $10,000; Dropsie College for Hebrew and Cognate Learning, Philadelphia, $10,000; and to the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, books valued at $2,400.

Mrs. Sarah L. Straus, widow, received three-fifths of the residuary estate amounting to $657,026; Roger W. Straus, son, books, jewelry and other personal effects and two-fifths of the residue valued together at $148,580.

Included in the library of Mr. Straus was an autograph album of George Washington. The work was by Thomas Maive and John Abernethy and is valued at $4,285.

SCOUTS HEAR TALK ON BIRDS' HABITS

Dr. William Macintosh Delivers Interesting Address at Museum

Although the weather was not of the best it did not take any of the enthusiasm out of a particular group of Scouts as they gathered at the Natural History Museum to listen to a talk by Dr. William Macintosh on "Birds and Their Habits," last night.

Dr. Macintosh began his talk by telling the boys that two winters ago a group of fellows, probably 20 boys, organized a club for studying birds for themselves. The houses were of all shapes and forms but the price was the smallest boy of the group. His house was not the largest or of the best lumber, yet it showed that he knew what it was that he was working for.

He mentioned the fact that one man, a carpenter by trade, had made in the vicinity of about $10 a day building bird houses while out of work during the winter.

The projector was then put into operation and the speaker put on the slides of a number of slides of birds of New Brunswick and the South. Among the slides shown were sparrow, hairy woodpecker, kingfisher, bluebird, raven, swallow, redbird, chickadee and Canada Jay birds.

A slide of the Bird Club was shown with the boys grouped on the front steps of the Saint John High School. Dr. Macintosh told the boys that perhaps the swallow was the most useful bird to mankind and should be seen by all Boy Scouts as much as possible. He also stated that the red headed woodpecker was rather numerous.

At the conclusion of the lecture he conducted the boys on the tour of the Museum. The boys spent an enjoyable evening.

Prince George Is At Victoria On Way Here

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 29.—Passing through Victoria on route to Saint John, N. B., where he will sail for Liverpool on Dec. 7, H.R.H. Prince George arrived from China on board the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia this afternoon and was formally welcomed to British Columbia by Commander Percy W. Nellis, senior Naval Officer at the Esquimalt base here.

Proceedings at the wharf were confined to a brief ceremony. After Commander Nellis had paid his respects on behalf of Viscount Willingdon, the Governor-General's Lieut-Governor Randolph Bruce, Premier John Oliver and Mayor J. C. Pendergast made calls on Prince George during which the greetings of the Province of British Columbia and the city of Victoria were expressed.

STEAMSHIPS VOTING SHARES TO FORE

Close Study Reveals Interesting Situation—Action Expected, Says Report

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—There has been a considerable amount of discussion on the street in connection with the Voting Trust shares of The Canadian Steamship Lines. Attention has been drawn to this on account of the fact that the market for the voting stocks were on an equal footing. The company, although it has always been understood that the shares were on an equal footing. There is generally a spread of one or two points between the quotations with the Voting Trust on the short end. A close study of the Voting Trust reveals an interesting situation and it would not be surprising if some action was taken at an early date to clear up this matter.

German Settlers For Manitoba Districts

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 30.—Dr. F. Schneider of Berlin, Germany, has completed details in connection with the sale of the W. B. Bennett 3,000-acre farm between Winnipeg and Selkirk to thirty German families, whom he represented. The property will be divided into 100-acre farms on which intensified farming will be conducted. The price is in the neighborhood of $125,000, part of which is being paid over. It was stated by officials of the Canada Colonization Association, which, along with the German-Canadian Catholic Association, is negotiating the deal. The new settlers will come out from Germany in the early spring. It is expected.

WOMAN DIES; MAN HURT IN LONDON BLAST

Fire Breaks Out Following Explosion in Ontario City

LONDON, Nov. 29.—One woman dead, two women in hospital critically injured, one fireman badly cut by falling bricks and glass, several other persons more or less severely injured by falling debris, and property damage conservatively estimated at $75,000, sums up results of a terrific explosion which at 6.45 tonight wrecked five stores in the downtown section of London.

Mrs. Matilda Crawford, occupying a third floor apartment in the wrecked building, was buried in the collapse of the structure and her body was not recovered until after the fire was extinguished. Mrs. Fred Merrill and Miss Minnie Fontana, her sister, were rescued alive, but severely crushed, and are now in hospital.

ORIGIN UNDETERMINED.

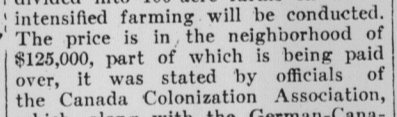

The explosion, of undetermined origin, is believed to have occurred in the basement of the Crawford Piano Company's premises which occupied the central position of the 5-story building, flanked by the stores of the White Auto Supply Company, the Merril Barber Supply Company and the Smart Beauty Shop. This building, belonging to the William Wyatt estate, was completely demolished, the front wall falling forward into the street and one of the side walls sagging inward. Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Fred Merrill, proprietress of the beauty shop, and her sister, Minnie Fontana and Hume Dupont, of the Auburn Sales Garage were buried in the wreckage. Fire broke out immediately following the explosion and firemen worked furiously at the double task of quenching the conflagration and of rescuing the entrapped women.

THE NUT CRACKER

by JOE WILLIAMS

SHAW VS. TUNNEY.

(The satirist and the sockist engage in one of those wrangles of the century.)

ROUND I.

MR. SHAW: If that young gent doesn't like the way I've written my play, let him rewrite it.

MR. TUNNEY: I do not wish to rewrite Mr. Shaw's plays. It is tough enough to look at them.

MR. SHAW: As I understand it that young gent is disappointed because the fight character in my play does not resemble him. This may be explained on the ground that I am a realist.

MR. TUNNEY: I am pleasantly surprised to learn that Mr. Shaw is a realist. From his pictures I had thought he was Santa Claus.

MR. SHAW: I do not care whether that young gent accepts the leading role in my play or not. In fact, I'd rather he did not. I'd prefer to see it a success.

MR. TUNNEY: Why should I play a leading role in any of Mr. Shaw's plays when there are other and less painful ways of attaining obscurity?

ROUND II.

MR. SHAW: I don't know on what basis that young gent qualifies as a critic of literature, and having seen the films of his fight with Dempsey, I am still wondering on what basis he qualifies as a fighter.

MR. TUNNEY: All this is becoming very irksome. It merely proves to me that one does not need to have a radio to suffer the annoyances of unintelligible stalling.

MR. SHAW: And in conclusion I wish to say—

MR. TUNNEY: And as a parting comment allow me to state—

HAVE EASY WIN

SANITARY STATE OF CITY SAID TO BE IMPROVED

Many Betterments Noted in Survey by Health Board Official

A great many improvements in sanitary conditions have been made in the city and county of Saint John under the direction of the sub-district Board of Health during the last 12 months. The secretary of the board, T. M. Burns, in speaking to The Telegram-Journal yesterday of the 12-month period ended Oct. 31, said there had been 945 plumbing fixtures installed in 20 new and 127 old houses. The plumbing inspector made in all 843 special inspections, 230 inspections on complaint and 173 advisory visits. During the same period seven houses, five flats in houses and rooms in two flats were all closed by order of the board as being unfit for habitation.

OFFICIALS VIGILANT
The board and its officials are ever vigilant in the interests of public welfare and Mr. Burns spoke of many different aspects of the work. The chief sanitary inspector made 186 special inspections, investigated and reported on 283 cases of notifiable diseases, disinfected 215 houses, inspected 29 hotels, 38 poultry houses and made 822 miscellaneous calls. He also ordered destroyed 486 pounds of meat unfit for human consumption. His assistant made 1,719 inspections of houses and yards, 837 residential inspections and had 80 manure bins built and covered.

There was one matter in which the board believed some definite and decided action must be taken before long and that was in the matter of water supply. The city's water supply, which has been several cases of typhoid in a summer resort not far from the city, is supplying the city with water. This fact brought again special attention to the source of danger found in the increasing number of camps and cottages on the shores of the lakes and many picnic parties in the locality from the viewpoint of pollution of the drinking water. As it is a matter of vital importance to the city, it is felt that something practical should be done to ensure the safety of the water.

OUTSTANDING EFFORT
One of the outstanding efforts of the 12 month period Mr. Burns spoke of as the employing of two child welfare nurses to work directly under the Board of Health. The two nurses entered on their duties on May 1 and in six months had supervised 1,200 infants, made 8,321 home visits, conducted 72 well baby clinics, which had an attendance of 1,926 and also made 69 calls at boarding homes for infants. The supervision of these boarding homes was also a part of the work. It is believed that an appreciable reduction in the infant death rate will be noted at the end of the calendar year when these statistics are compiled.

MILK SUPPLY
Closely associated with infant welfare is the city milk supply and Mr. Burns spoke of the board's efforts to secure the high quality safety of the milk supply. He pointed out that the reduction in some notifiable diseases and the lowering of the infant mortality were evidence that the milk supply was essentially safe. There had been nearly one-third less infant deaths from acute gastro-intestinal disease for the three years, following the introduction of pasteurization of milk over the preceding three-year period and nearly 70 per cent reduction in the number of infant deaths from convulsions.

The dairy and food inspector's work was one of the forces which safeguarded the milk supply. He had made 411 inspections of cattle stables and milking utensils in Kings and Saint John counties, had taken 2,021 sediment tests of milk and ordered any dirty milk destroyed. He had also taken samples of milk for butter fat and bacterial content tests, made daily inspections of the milk plants and the milk train, as well as of the city market and the slaughter houses.

For the protection of the public in guarding against contamination of food, the assistant food inspector made 4,282 inspections of shops, dairies, bakeries, restaurants and similar premises and also issued 485 licenses to sell milk to those whose premises were found to fulfill health requirements.

FOLLOW-UP WORK
Protecting the health of children of the district the board has maintained two nurses to assist the medical inspector in the city schools and in the 12 month period, Mr. Burns said, the follow-up work calls had been more numerous than in the previous year. An improvement was seen in the cleanliness of school pupils since 157 pupils were found to have pediculosis, as compared with the 484 of the previous year. In connection with the school work, 12 children were provided with eyeglasses without charge. A nurse was also maintained for the dental clinic, where 271 individual school children were treated and made a total attendance of 1,321 at the various clinics having 814 extractions, 677 fillings and 166 prophylactic treatments.

The notifiable disease records for the 12 month period, Mr. Burns said, showed an increase in the number of cases of scarlet fever and measles. In all other notifiable diseases the number of cases showed a decrease. The number of deaths from tuberculosis had been the same as the previous year, 51, but the average number of deaths from this disease over a five-year period had been 61, showing an appreciable decrease.

TUBERCULOSIS
With regard to tuberculosis, Mr. Burns said that there was no slackening of effort on the part of the Tuberculosis Association and of the official health agencies in their drive against the disease. He pointed out that there were so many social and economic factors involved in the fight that it was essential that public opinion should be aroused and further still, that the public as a whole should get behind movements which aimed to remedy those social and economic faults. On the whole the 12 month period had been a very busy one for the Board of Health and the progress of the year Mr. Burns believed could be viewed with satisfaction.

CONCERT GIVEN FOR SOLDIER PATIENTS
Duke of Rothesay Chapter, I. O. D. E. Delights Men at Lancaster Hospital

Under the auspices of the Duke of Rothesay Chapter of the I. O. D. E., a most enjoyable concert program was given in the Lancaster hospital last evening for the pleasure of the soldier patients. After the program refreshments of cream and cake were served and smokes were distributed. For the refreshments, the committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Walter C. Allison, regent of the chapter, Mrs. William S. Allison, Mrs. John H. McIntyre and Mrs. F. W. Roach. The program which was arranged by Mrs. F. W. Davidson, delighted all. It included a number of selections by the Rothesay orchestra, which was directed by Pat Starr, Fred Gordon, Edward Edney, Lorne Bowman, Donald Bostwick, Jack Starr, Scotch songs by C. P. Regan; readings by R. J. Hupper, and vocal solos by Mrs. Loris Smythe. Each member was warmly applauded. The orchestra, which was a prime favorite with the audience, was furnished the accompaniment for the singing of familiar melodies, in which the soldiers joined heartily. At the close of the evening the very hearty thanks of the soldier patients was extended by Mr. Fraser.

JOHN P. MILAN, CITY, HAS PASSED AWAY

The death occurred in this city on Nov. 29 of John Patrick Milan, leaving his wife, infant son, mother, three brothers and two sisters to mourn their loss. His wife was formerly Miss Gladys Callaghan, of Saint John, and his mother was Annie Milroy. The sisters are Mrs. H. J. L. Nixon, Mrs. Peter Duprey, Miss Mary Milan, nurse in the district hospital, and Mrs. E. brothers Joseph, Edmund and Fred, all of this city. Mr. Milan was employed as shipper with P. B. Evans and popular with a wide circle of friends. The notice of funeral will be announced later.

As Hiram Sees It

"There's some more fellers goin' down river," says I to the town feller, pintin' to the patch of moonlight Mrs. Long Beach. "Them," says he, "is the ghosts of Israel Perley an' his men from Massachusetts. They was sent out in 1761 an' come through the way of Machias an' down the Orontoct. The French was gone—an' retired officers from New England was encouraged to come to the Saint John river. Israel Perley an' twelve men come an' reported that they wasn't anything but Indians to make any trouble an' the land was all layin' waste—waitin' fer settlers. Some fellers tried to git grants of the hull place. One of 'em applied for 200,000 acres—an' a lot more wanted all they could git. Perley an' his friends didn't wait. They looked the country over an' got busy. They got the survey made an' the promise of a grant of twelve square miles from the government at Halifax. So the French was hardly gone afore Perley was on the scene. That was his ghost we jist seen in thine moonlight on the river."

ATTEND UNIQUE FLORIDA SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Flaglor Write of Thanksgiving Event

Something unique in Union Thanksgiving services was that held at Jacksonville, Fla., on the American Thanksgiving Day, November 25, when the Congregational, Unitarian, First Christian and Jewish congregations combined in an impressive service held in the Temple at Laura and Ashley streets.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Flaglor, of Saint John, who are wintering in Florida, attended that service and in writing to friends in the city, Mr. Flaglor makes special mention of that impressive event. He states that it was the first held in Jacksonville and to hold such a service twenty-five years ago would have been an impossibility. It is a very fine auditorium in which the Hebrew in full letters: "Hear, O Israel, God is One God." The invocation was made by Rev. A. E. Leonard, a Congregationalist. The Jewish Rabbi led in the responsive reading of the Psalms. The president of the Thanksgiving proclamation was read by Rev. J. T. Boone, the Christian church minister. Rev. J. C. Coleman, the Unitarian minister, read the special portion of Scripture and delivered the address, which Mr. Flaglor described as "inspired oratory."

The theme was "Twentieth Century Thanksgiving." The special offertory taken was in aid of a local tuberculosis institution. There were vocal solos and organ music during the service and all were of the highest musical standard, Mr. Flaglor said.

SOME INCONSISTENCY.
He pointed out some inconsistency in the congregational hymn which was sung at the opening of the service. Its last verse was as follows: "God of Justice, save the people From the strife of race and creed, From the strife of class and faction— Make our nation free indeed! Keep her faith in simple manhood Strong as when her life began Till it finds its full fruition In the Brotherhood of man."

Mr. Flaglor thought the last two lines of that verse were rather at variance with the actual purpose of the nation which had not entered the League of Nations. Mr. and Mrs. Flaglor are enjoying their stay in Jacksonville and are having ideal weather. On the day previous to that on which he wrote the temperatures varied from 76 degrees to 86 degrees Mr. Flaglor stated.

PLAY WELL GIVEN BY LOCAL AMATEURS

St. John Baptist Dramatic Club Presents Comedy, "Finnegan's Fortune," Well

The St. John Baptist Dramatic Club scored a big success in its production of the Irish comedy, "Finnegan's Fortune," in the parish hall, Broad street, last night. The amateurs gave an excellent account of themselves and their character portrayals was exceptionally good. They had a large audience which greatly enjoyed every minute of the performance. The play is to be repeated tonight and tomorrow night and capacity houses each night are confidently expected. Pleading specialties were given between the acts. The cast of characters was as follows: Larry Finnigan, easy-going, good-natured, but not averse to a bit of a shindy..... A. J. Devine Patrick, his son, rather fond of dress, but not a bad fellow at heart..... M. F. Farlong Rafferty, his friend through the Dutch Jake, his particular obsession..... J. B. O'Neill Count De Morney, one of the great flock of black sheep..... F. P. Driscoll Mrs. Finnigan, Larry's ambitious wife..... Miss E. M. Peran Katy, Jake's daughter..... Miss B. L. Harley Lady Hannah Lovejoy, an adventuress..... Miss M. P. King

Bible Contest Is Feature of Y. P. S. Exmouth St. Meet

The Young People's Society of Exmouth Street United Church met last night in the church parlor with a good attendance. Miss Audrey Purdy, president of the prayer-meeting committee, was in the chair and the program proved very interesting as well as helpful. The chief feature was a Bible question contest in the style of an old-fashioned spelling match. There was a solo entitled "Trees," rendered by Miss Isabel Carr, which was greatly enjoyed. Then followed a recitation of five new members. After a few remarks by the president and the pastor, Rev. E. E. Styles, the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.
