PROSPEROUS YEAR ON P. E. ISLAND
Big Crops and High Prices The Rule

FARMERS ARE OPTIMISTIC
Island Will Make Effort to Secure Removal of Embargo on Potatoes to Open up American Market

Charlotteown, Sept. 30.—Almost two weeks of continued fine weather, with the last week marked by midsummer temperatures, ranging from 85 to 88 degrees, gave the farmers a golden opportunity of harvesting in perfect condition one of the best grain crops in the history of the island.

There will be the nearly two million bushels of oats for export. The opening price for oats is an average price. The crop on the whole will be heavy and of excellent quality, if the weather for the next two or three weeks, previous to digging, will prove favorable.

With the duty taken of lambs going into the States, there will be a marked increase in the exports to that country when the American buyers come down to this province.

He says that he is not fluent enough as a public speaker to become leader and premier.

Effective, Economical Complexion Renewer

One reason mercurized wax is so strongly recommended is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleansing cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored cuticle, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears is clearer, softer, healthier and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings, in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads. For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/4 pt. witch hazel, is the best thing that can be recommended. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

lief that the eventuality of a winter campaign will not develop in French territory, but in the regions between the Belgian Ardennes and the Rhine, where the last and first months of the year are particularly severe.

Despatches from Rotterdam say that the German military authorities are working day and night to obtain thick clothes for the eventuality of a winter campaign, which until recently had not been looked for by the Germans. They also are purchasing sleeping bags wherever they can be obtained for the soldiers to sleep in during the cold season.

ARMY CAPTAIN'S WIFE LEADS OPERA BALLET

Dancer in "Lady Luxury" Was Married Last July to "Teddy" Pepper. (Toronto World.) Somewhere with the allies in France is Captain Edward C. Pepper, of the Honourable Artillery of London. Here in Toronto is his actress bride, a dancer from the London Hippodrome, to whom he was married in last July, a little before the war broke out. She is Miss Betty Hardgrove, who appears as the leader of the ballet in the new Whitney Opera, "Lady Luxury," which opens at the Princess Theatre tonight. Miss Hardgrove was dancing at the Hippodrome last season when she made the acquaintance of Captain Pepper, who is a solicitor. He is a member of several clubs, a captain in the fashionable Honorable Artillery, and known in bohemian circles of London as "Teddy" Pepper. She and the captain were married on July 14. When the war broke out Captain Pepper went to the front. Mrs. Pepper was heart-broken. After a week she decided that she could stand the loneliness best in a strange land. Through an American stage manager in London she secured a letter of introduction to Fred Whitney, and here she is.

STILL WAITING

Last evening the city set upon a rumor that Von Kluck, almost surrounded, had offered to surrender on certain terms. This morning an unofficial report from Paris said nothing about surrender but intimated that Von Kluck was in full retreat.

This "news," in fact, seems to have been merely rumor based upon expectation which may presently be justified. The great flanking movement which had undoubtedly imperiled the armies of Von Kluck and Von Bülow is thought to have reached a point which makes it necessary for the German right wing to fall back precipitately if it would avoid being enveloped; but while the world is expectantly waiting for news that this movement of the Allies has been successful, the official word has not yet come.

Yet there is good reason to hope that it will come, and soon. Such news as the censor has permitted to come from the battle front has told of slow but steady gains by the Allies, who at last seem to have numbers sufficient not only to hold the great German weight but to press it back along the main line, while another force advancing against the flank and rear of the German right seeks to turn the day. There can be no doubt that the British and French are making the supreme effort of the campaign now, and the great battle has been so long and so fiercely contested that the limit of human endurance alone would suggest that the end must be at hand.

While the world waits for news from the great battle in France, Russia drives on toward Berlin from the eastward, and the time occupied by the fighting in France means that the Germans, even if they presently take up a new position some miles behind the present one, must fight there hampered by the knowledge that the Russians are daily gaining ground from which all the forces at Germany's command will not be sufficient to eject them.

Foreign observers are beginning to predict some new movement at sea. There is increasing talk of an attempt upon the British fleet by the German Zeppelins. Talk of the siege of Antwerp seems not to make a serious impression, as it is thought the Germans cannot spare men enough from France to undertake so serious an operation as the reduction of the great Belgian fortress.

Canada's Business Duty. "This is a re-adjustment of the affairs of Canada, and was inevitable with or without any war. (Applause). And in the re-adjustment that is taking place let us play the part of men. If we have been foolish and entered into engagements that we cannot meet, let us take our punishment, no matter how bitter it is, and let us start over again—let us learn that honest labor is the only basis on which we have any right to expect success. (Applause). We need all our resources to take care of one another. Whether with or without war we have a great number of people in the cities and big towns who are idle who will need help. Let us be careful, manufacturers, that we do not add to the list unduly by dismissing people who have been with us for many years."

These sentences are taken from a noteworthy address delivered before the Canadian Club of Toronto on September 21 by Mr. J. W. Flavelle. Mr. Flavelle, one of Canada's leading financiers, explained to his audience how wonderfully Great Britain met the greatest financial crisis in history. In speaking of the measures taken by the British government through the Chancellor of the Exchequer after consultation with leading British financial authorities, Mr. Flavelle said that the government's course at the crisis "placed not only Great Britain, but all the world under a debt of obligation to the Treasury Department of Great Britain on account of the manner in which the finances of Great Britain were re-organized and re-established, and, through Great Britain, the facilities for carrying on the business of the world were reasonably set in motion."

Mr. Flavelle declared stoutly against a moratorium in this country. He wanted no discussion of a moratorium. He reminded them that Canada is a debtor nation while everybody owes Great Britain. Canada's business, he said, was to preserve its public credit "by every man of us standing by and presenting a face that we can meet every obligation if we only behave ourselves decently." Mr. Flavelle thought the Canadian banks had been doing very well for the country, and that they had over-loaned rather than under-loaned. He said it was the duty of all citizens to conduct themselves so that the country's credit will be preserved, and this cannot be done if people attempt to unload their own troubles and responsibilities upon somebody else.

SOCIAL SERVICE. The University of Toronto has established a department of Social Service, and Dr. Franklin Johnson, Jr., of New York, has been appointed director. This recognition of the value of trained social service by a great Canadian university shows that the cause is making practical headway. Of Dr. Johnson's qualifications we are told: "Dr. Johnson is the son of Prof. Franklin Johnson, one of the group who, with President Harper, organized the University of Chicago. Dr. Johnson studied in Harvard and Chicago, and holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy with distinction from Columbia University. He comes to Toronto with the highest recommendations from Dr. Devine, of the New York School of Philanthropy, and Dr. Giddings, of Columbia University. He was in charge of the Church prison and correctional institutional work in Chicago, was organizer and dean of the Cincinnati Training School, and has made a study of schools and institutions of instruction in social service as well as in the field of social service itself."

Well done, Restigouche! Her county council subscribes $500 to the Patriotic Fund and also insures the lives of her fifty volunteers. If anything else were needed to rouse the world against the Kaiser and his soldiers, the English newspaper accounts of fearful outrages upon non-combatants—even the nurses in their work of mercy—are more than sufficient to stir all humanity to the task of dealing with the War Lord and his brutal troops so that they never again may be a menace.

It is to be hoped that China will not get into the war. That country's war minister is now in Washington. He says China will remain strictly neutral and does not think she will make more than a show of protest against the Japanese movements in her territory. The despatches, however, tell of Chinese troops blowing up a railroad bridge, apparently to check Japanese operations.

There is somewhat of relief in this from the Toronto World:—"Przmysl is going to be a great deal read about, but it may be observed that very few people talk about it. They don't know how. In these southeastern European languages, consonants do not mean what they do in Canada. R generally stands for S and Z for H and circumstances alter cases. The way to pronounce Przmysl is Pehem-ial. The P is with shut lips before the Sh. The accent is on the first syllable. The second syllable is scarcely sounded at all, and as much like Sil as Ial, very lightly and slurred over."

In the words of Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes, in speeding Canada's first contribution of men to the war, every man among them is a free volunteer. Thirty-three thousand Canadians voluntarily give up all other interests to fight for the Motherland against the despoiler. And there will be another thirty-three thousand and still more if Britain needs them. Colonel Hughes declares the men from Valcartier as fine a body as ever faced a foe. In the Boer war Canadians were outstanding even among the veterans of Britain. None doubts they will give a worthy account of themselves once more.

LOCAL RELIEF WORK FOR BRAVE BELGIANS

Donations of clothing, groceries, etc., for the relief of the sufferers in Belgium, are being looked after by Mrs. Frank S. White, 232 Prince William street, to be sent to her address. She expects by the last of the week to have a supply ready for shipment, and if possible will send it direct to Belgium. Regarding the work of the Red Cross Society in which Mrs. White is interested, it is said that thirty-five associations of the city are at present hard at work knitting articles of clothing for the Canadian men gone to the front, particularly for those of the St. John contingent. Boxes are being forwarded each week to Quebec, but the next supply, about the first of the week, it is said, will be forwarded to the headquarters of the order in Toronto as the soldiers are leaving Valcartier.

The branch of the order here has received large quantities of knitting work for the soldiers from Sussex, Tower Hill, Honeydale, Charlotte county, Dorchester, St. Andrews, St. Stephen, Campbellton, Hampton and Petticoat, all of which have been sent on to Valcartier and are now probably in use by the soldiers.

Business Improving Generally. Saskatoon, Sept. 30.—Discussing business conditions in Montreal, early this month, Sir William Van Horne, remarked: "We may not see much recovery for a month; perhaps, for two months; but we are going to benefit by the conditions prevailing elsewhere. We may have to wait a little; but the improvement will surely come. This was my belief when the war broke out. I see no reason to change."

Today, it would almost seem as though the cheerful coming events which Sir William so confidently predicted had already cast their shadows before. Unquestionably, business is better all round. A much more hopeful tone prevails. The first war shock is over, and money from the crop is beginning to come in. Retailers and wholesalers alike report favorably, while their confidence in a good fall and winter business is daily gaining strength as the result of their present bright experience.

PRZMSYL

(John O'Keefe, in New York World) Where'er I go there haunts me A word of strangest sound. It mocks at me and taunts me And chases me around. When I am getting sleep, About the morning bell, The zephyrs sing to me: "P-R-Z-M-S-Y-L!"

In early days, Across the lawn, The crickets shrilly swell That P-P-P And Z-Z-Z And R-M-S-Y-L!

When spurs of troopers rowel Their horses in attack, That town without a vowel Gets up and slams 'em back. When other hamlets skimpy Such consonants rebel, I dearly love to hymn P-R-Z-M-S-Y-L!"

In sound it is The bullet's wail Where serfs at last rebel, This P-P-P And Z-Z-Z And R-M-S-Y-L!

Ah, meet the music verbal That lies within the word! Its consonantal burble Beats anything I've heard. When guests are getting giddy You ring old credon's knell, By bidding them, "Now, say P-R-Z-M-S-Y-L!"

It brings the buzz Of bees, it does— The droning of a shell! This P-P-P And Z-Z-Z And R-M-S-Y-L!

LIGHTER VEIN. The Man in Need. The director of a matrimonial agency says the young girls ask only: "Who is he?"

The young widows: "What is his position?" The old widows: "Where is he?"

Quite at Home. "He should be quite at home by the seashore."

"Yes; he has sandy hair, watery eyes and plenty of hands, and, moreover, thinks himself the only pebble on the beach."

Can You Beat It? Mabel—So you and Jack don't speak. What's the trouble? Marjory—We had a dreadful quarrel about which I loved the other most.

Advantages of Single Life. "All men are fools," exclaimed the pessimist. "True," agreed the optimist, "but they are not reminded so often of it if they remain single."

Good Cooks in Demand. "I've had my daughters learn to cook so that they might get better husbands." "And did they?" "No, they felt above marrying now."

Mean. Little Tommy at school was examined in geography. "Now, Tommy," said his teacher, "if your left hand is west and your right is east and in front of you is north, what is behind you?" Tommy wriggled about, and finally he answered: "Well, the whole class can see it's a patch I have on me trousers you don't need to point it out."

In a Modern Restaurant. Patron—"They tell me your head chef has left. Why is that?" Waiter—"Well, sir, we had to discharge him. The manager hired a new langa dancer and he couldn't afford to keep them both."

RENEWED VIGOR IN OLD AGE. This Letter Brings a Message of Cheer to the Aged—Results of Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. New, rich blood is what is most needed in the declining years to keep up energy and vitality. That Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a wonderful help in maintaining good health and prolonging life is attested by the writer of this letter: Mr. Stephen J. Leard, North Tyrone, P. I., writes: "At seventy-five years of age my heart gave out and became very irregular and weak in action and would palpitate. My nerves also became weak, and I could do nothing but lie in bed in a languishing condition, losing strength and weight. In that condition I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and am cured. Had I not obtained this treatment I would now be in the box with the roof over my nose. At eighty-one I have an energy which means good, and I am writing this letter so that old people like myself may prolong their life and strength by using this great medicine." 80c a box, 6 for $2.50. SKIN TROUBLE ON THE SCALP. Skin Dried and Cracked and Hair Fell Out—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Eczema is annoying and distressing at any time, but doubly so when it gets into the scalp and causes the hair to fall out. Here is a grateful letter from a lady who was cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. Mrs. Hector Currie, Tobermory, Ont., writes: "I was cured of disagreeable skin disease of the scalp by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. The trouble started with itching and pain in the scalp, the skin would get dry and crack, and at times would bleed, and the hair would fall out. I tried three doctors without benefit, and suffered for three years. Reading in the almanac about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I began its use, and am now completely cured. The hair has grown again, and I am as well as I ever was. You are at liberty to use this letter, for I am glad to recommend so excellent a treatment." Dr. Chase's Ointment has no rival as a cure for itching skin disease.

Unofficial News Last Night Was That German Right Was Broken

While the French and British official announcements indicate satisfaction with the situation along the battle front in France, and confidence in the outcome, an unofficial report from Paris declares that the German right has been broken and is being pursued by the allies. This report also declares that the Germans have been surrounded in the Somme department and that Peronne has been recaptured.

The official press bureau at London, while making no objection to the publication of these reports, declines to take any responsibility for the correctness of them.

The announcements issued late at night by both French and British officials declared that there had been no change in the situation, which they had previously reported as favoring the allied army to some degree.

A narrative from Field Marshal Sir John French's headquarters, issued at London by the official press bureau, gives the reason for the long-drawn-out battle, which has now lasted eighteen days. "The extent of the country covered," it says, "is so great as to render slow any efforts to manoeuvre and march around the flank in order to escape the costly expedient of a frontal attack against heavily fortified positions."

This refers to the fiercely contested operations of the allies' left in an endeavor to outflank the German right wing under General Von Kluck. In these operations French and British, heavily reinforced, have been engaged for several days, and the encounters at times are reported to have been unprecedented.

In the far east there are signs of much activity on the part of the Japanese who are engaged in a movement, both by land and sea, against the German concessions of Kiao-Chow, in Shan Tung province, China. The Japanese have occupied the heights outside of Tsing Tau, the capital, overlooking the German's main line of defence.

Chinese troops have blown up the railroad bridge at Tayu-Ho, six miles west of Wei-Hsien, which has also been occupied by the Japanese, and are thus apparently opposing Japanese military operations in Shan Tung province.

The meagre reports of the Russian campaign against Austria and Germany, indicate a period of comparative calm, while the great armies of these nations are getting into position for offensive and defensive.

A British cruiser squadron, in command of Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock, who recently commanded the British warships in Mexican waters, has arrived at Punta Arenas, Straits of Magellan, and is believed to be on its way to the Pacific.

The Italian government has issued a warning to Italians, who have taken or intend to take service in the army of any country now at war, that this is a breach of neutrality, and is punishable by imprisonment.

Late despatches declare that the Germans have begun their attack on the first line of the Antwerp defences; that they have re-occupied Malines, occupied Moll, an important railway junction, and are bombarding Lierre, a few miles from Antwerp, where many houses have been destroyed.

London, Sept. 29, 11.37 p. m.—The official press bureau issued tonight the following regarding the operations in Northern France: "There is practically no change in the situation. The allied left have had some heavy fighting, but they are well holding their own."

SMART IN TAFFETA.

The silk possibly will have to be pieced if it is but 36 inches wide, and the piecing should be so arranged that the seams will be invisible; if the home dressmaker has fears about accomplishing this, it is best to lay the parts of the pattern on an open width of the silk.

The lining is made first, by hemming the front and closing the shoulder and under-arm sleeves, after which the vest is adjusted to position.
The under-arm seam of the outside is now closed as notched and the collar and revers sewed to the neck and front, according to the notches. Be sure to leave revers free below small "O" perforations. Gather lower edge of the waist, arrange to lining and stitch lower edge of back to lower edge of lining; stitch lower edge of front along crossline of double "O" perforations in lining, bringing single large "O" perforations together and leaving free forward of large "O" perforations.
The sleeves may be either plain or puffed, but the flare cut effect is, perhaps, more in demand just now. Close the seam, sew flare cut to lower edge; then sew in armhole with as little fullness as possible. The flare may be finished with lace or braid or may have a picot edge.
Close the back seam of peplum and sew to lower edge of lining, centers even.
Instead of all-over lace, many vests of these silk waists are made of embroidered chiffon or batiste, washing materials being in demand because of their adaptability to tubbing.

Prussian blue taffeta coat waist for autumn wear. It may be trimmed with a contrasting material, but made entirely in taffeta it has a rich effect.

The little coat waists that are made of taffeta for the first days of autumn are exceedingly smart. Though we have had a great deal of blue, it is still an ultra-fashionable tint, Prussian being the latest shade. The revers and collar of this design may be of a contrasting material, if desired, but nothing is richer than all blue silk. Three and three-quarters yards of taffeta are required to make it.

THE DAVIS SISTERS AT THE LYRIC.

Popular Vaudeville Act in Return Engagement Pleases Large Audiences.

For the past two days patrons of the Lyric Theatre have been entertained in a decidedly pleasing manner by one of the most popular acts this theatre has presented in some time.
The Davis Sisters who made so many admirers last season, returned Monday, being especially imported for the St. John engagement, and judging from the capacity houses that have ruled and the manner in which the efforts of the ladies have been received, their dainty act has lost none of its attractiveness. The costuming of the different song numbers is particularly praiseworthy, and the captivating manner in which their material is exploited, cannot help but appeal to all lovers of amusement.

The Davis Sisters will say adieu this evening, and those who have not already enjoyed the pleasure they hold out, should make a special point to attend some time today. The picture programme is also particularly good, being made up of The Weekly News which contains some very interesting items and a two part Thannouser drama, 'The Golden Cross.'

The New Metropole

To consider the plans for the Salvation Army Metropole a meeting of the Citizens' Committee and representatives of the army was held last evening when it was decided to make a recommendation to the executive which is to meet next Thursday. All those present were favorably impressed with the proposals of the army architect from Toronto, Brigadier Miller, and Adjutant Calvert, the two delegates and should the plans and suggestions be approved at Thursday's meeting it was said that the work of replacing the Metropole will be put in hand at once and some progress made it is hoped before the coming winter. The Citizens' Committee was represented at the meeting by T. H. Estabrooks, James Miles, T. H. Haley, W. A. White and Rev. G. T. A. Anderson and the local officers of the Salvation Army were Brigadier Taylor and Major Coombs.

The Turn of the Tides

"There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to Fortune."

Many Canadian business men are eagerly looking forward to the "turn in the tide" in Canadian trade. Some of them are saying: "Just wait until this war is over—the country will prosper, business will boom, and we will then start advertising on a large scale to get our share of it."

There is a wiser type of man; the man who is acting instead of talking—laying his plans now, so as to have his "boat of business" headed upstream when the tide turns; advertising now, because he knows that to delay until the war is over is to add a hundred-fold to the opposition his plea for "a share of the big business" must encounter.

Public opinion is not to be won "over-night." When the Canadian public lets loose its cash, the manufacturers and merchants to whom the golden stream will most freely flow, are those who are busy now creating good will for themselves and their goods.

To take the tide of business at its flood requires, not days, not weeks, but months of preparation. Prepare now—advertise now—if you would later prosper.

MOUS PLANT
UNDER HAMMER
 upbuilding Yards at Philadelphia
 Disposed of at Public Sale

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—"Going, going, gone." These words and the bang of the gavel sounded the death knell of one of the landmarks which made a part of Philadelphia internationally famous. The incident marked the passing of the shipbuilding plant established more than forty years ago at Chester by John Roach. It was sold at public auction.

John H. Hinkson and Kingsley Montgomerie, attorneys for the Cambridge Trust Company, purchased the property for $50,000. The trust company is trustee of a bond issue in the sum of $150,000 issued to cover a mortgage of $104,000.

The sale came as the result of the financial reverse which the plant, consisting of twenty acres of ground, piers, machinery and other equipment, has suffered since its inauguration in 1872.

THE COAL TRADE.
 Heavy Demand for Anthracite Continues Unabated, Bituminous Slows Down Still Further.

(Coal Age, New York)
 The anthracite trade is still marked by a steady, persistent call that presages heavy business this fall and winter. Individuals are offering occasional lots where some of the smaller sizes were accumulated but as a rule full circles prevail. In the Lake trade the situation is rather mixed; some shippers claim they have sufficient stocks but others are eagerly taking all they can get. The heavy demand in other directions has absorbed so much coal that the Lake trade has readily taken up the slack.

It is becoming increasingly difficult to maintain prices in the eastern bituminous trade. Some of the important distributing centres are more or less closed and the markets are steadily narrowing down. Shipments in the export trade are only fair and should there be further recessions along this line it will merely test the resisting powers of the market since these are an important factor in maintaining the present level. The most determined effort will be necessary to avoid a heavy slump in all directions. Rumors are current that shipments on some of the foreign contracts are already about finished.

The opening up of some domestic buying in the Pittsburgh district has been a bright spot in an otherwise uniformly dull situation. Both railroad and manufacturing demand is light while the close of the season places the tonnage at one third less than last year; it is later than a particularly disagreeable attitude of the railroads in refusing to buy beyond their immediate requirements has also proved a depressing factor. Should the rumors of a proposed moratorium in Canada develop into a reality this will tend to complicate negotiations and make the American operators even more cautious.

The heaviness in the Ohio steam market has reached a point bordering on demoralization and the depressing effects are spreading to the domestic branch as well. Production is somewhat reduced as a result of the adverse conditions which are consistent with the operation of a stamper in the Lake trade is the encouraging aspect in the Ohio trade; a moderate season-end rush has developed which has created some activity in this department. As a rule the rivals are in excess of requirements.

Local business in the southern market is at more or less of a standstill; some small shipments have been made to foreign markets but no important tonnages have so far been reported.

The wide difference between the steam and domestic grades in the middle west has been further accentuated. The shortage of high-grade domestic fuels created a stamper in that market, culminating in a spectacular advance in quotations. On the other hand operators are in some instances giving the steam fuels away for the cost of the freight or making arrangements to be supplied with side-dump hopper-bottom cars to that the coal can be dumped on the right-of-way. Mines as a rule are probably working on a slightly better time. An increasing buying movement on the part of the railroads is the best feature of the situation at the moment.

BATTLES AT SEA DECIDED AT FIVE MILES OR MORE DISTANT

This drawing was made from a pencil sketch by an English naval officer who was aboard an English torpedo boat which steamed up close to the Mainz to rescue drowning Germans during the battle of Heligoland. Accounts of this battle told that the German battleship was completely riddled and put out of action before she sank.

When battleships go into action how are they fought?
 What can the new dreadnoughts do?
 How long will the battle last?
 It all depends upon the men. Skill, training and cold-blooded bravery, more than ever determine victories at sea. Romance disappeared with the short-range gun. Science has taken its place. Fleets no longer spend hours manoeuvring for the "weather gauge" nor do they close in and hammer each other "yard arm to yard-arm." The 25,000-ton battleship ships about as easily as a tugboat. Battles are decided before the opposing sailors can see each other.

If the great English and German fleets meet at sea the fighting will begin when the opposing fleets are ten miles apart. The battle will be decided at a distance of five miles and will end before the fighters enter the range of the heaviest guns of twenty or twenty-five years ago. Instead of boarding parties and hand-to-hand fighting, the last stage of the encounter will be marked by torpedoes fired at a range of 8,000 yards. An hour of action may settle the supremacy of the seas.

The call to quarters sounds on a dreadnought when the enemy is a mere smudge of smoke on the horizon. By the time the range officer mounts to the fighting top, the ships, approaching at twenty-three knots an hour, are in range, although sixteen miles distant. At ten miles the leading ships fire trial shots to correct the range, and a few minutes later the steel monsters are fair enough targets for 18-inch guns.

Every ship of the line carries from ten to twelve of these big rifles which cost $50,000 apiece. The guns fire 800-pound, armor-piercing shells at the rate of two a minute. At 10,000 yards such projectiles cut through the heaviest armor made as easily as you slice a melon.

All these guns are under the control of one man, not the captain, but the range officer, high up on the military mast. He finds the distance of ship from ship by measuring the angle between the guns and their target. This angle, when expressed in yards, is the range and is telephoned to the gun captains in the turrets.

Rane finding is the hardest job on a battleship. The officer is blinded and choked with smoke from guns and funnels. He is perched on the end of a pentagon which, even in a light sea, swings through a wide area. The speed of the ship, changing conditions of light and atmosphere, and an even score of other variables have to be allowed for.

The officer is a man of rare judgment and quick decision, but so many conditions enter into his calculations that misses are more frequent than hits. If that was not the case the battle would end in five minutes, for one or two 18-inch shells accurately placed will put the biggest battleship out of commission.

At five miles the big guns do terrific execution. In target practice sailors score hits at that distance nine times in ten. The distance is too great, however, to allow the vital spots of a ship to be seen, and fire is directed at the outline of the enemy.

Chance shots put some of the guns out of action but the opposing forces tear on and in a few minutes the conning towers and turrets become visible. Against these tons of screaming shells are hurled. Both sides, by this time are badly battered but they continue to approach until the funnels and masts come into view. Then the hottest fire of the remaining guns is directed at the base of the funnels with the hope of tearing up the engine room. This is the concluding stage of the battle. A few minutes of that sort of pounding is sufficient to put one or both ships out of action.

WENT DOWN WITH HIS SHIP
 London, Eng., Sept. 30.—It is recalled that Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, who is commanding the British fleet in the North Sea, which is expected to destroy the German fleet, was captain of the battleship Victoria, which was rammed and sunk in the Mediterranean by the English cruiser Camperdown in 1898. That was perhaps, the most famous naval accident of the last century. Hundreds of the Victoria's crew were lost. Jellicoe went down with his ship, but was picked up.

ALASKA COAL LANDS ARE TO BE LEASED
 U. S. Senate Has Passed Measure Empowering Government to Proceed

Washington, Sept. 30.—The senate has passed the Alaska Coal Land Leasing Bill. The bill provides for the leasing by the federal government of coal lands in Alaska in blocks of forty acres each or multiples thereof, but in no case exceeding 2,500 acres. A royalty must be paid of from two to five cents per ton, and an annual rental at the rate of 25 cents an acre for the first year, fifty cents an acre for the second, third, fourth, and fifth years, and $1 thereafter.

However, shall be credited against the royalties as they accrue for that year. Leases are for a term of fifty years with the privilege of renewal. The government withholds a large portion of the coal lands in Alaska for the use of the government or for the purpose of breaking up monopolies. The bill already has passed the house and will now go to conference of the two houses.

KAISER UNDER FIRE—IN MOVIE

Bordeaux, Sept. 30.—The newspaper La France publishes the following: "Under the direction of William II., cinematograph operators are following the German armies and making films. When the pictures have been passed upon and are judged to be useful they are sent to Denmark, Sweden and Norway for exhibition purposes. They show the German army to excellent advantage in orderly parades, impressive marches, happy skirmishes and with batteries bombarding distant villages.

"In brief, everything is pictured which can be arranged easily before the operator. Moreover, William II. deigned to pose for one of the films which bears the title: 'The Emperor under the enemy's fire.' It is true one cannot see the enemy, but one can see the Kaiser."

Book For Men, Free
 8,000 Words, 30 Illustrations

TO MY READERS:
 Of the little illustrated advice book described below, which I gladly send free to all men who fill in the coupon. I beg to say that it represents the very BEST information of a private nature which I am able to offer you as a result of over 25 years' observation and study of my subjects. During that time I have personally interviewed many thousands of men, young and elderly, single and married, rich and poor alike, who came to me in confidence with their confessions of debility, lost nerve force and falling strength.

It is, reader, this vast and unusual opportunity which has enabled me to compile this very popular and valuable little free book (over a million of which have been sent everywhere to men who wrote me for them), and in a manner to reflect the exact living, breathing experience and needs of real men who sought information as to the newer ways of self treatment without the use of drugs.

Remember, this book of over 8,000 words and 30 illustrations will come to you by return mail in reply to your request, and in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope, for it is no one's business but your own what the envelope contains. There is absolutely no obligation on your part to buy anything or pay anything, and merely the receipt of this book does not mean in any way that you are to use any of the VITALIZERS (see description below) and, in fact, only a portion of the book has any reference to the VITALIZERS at all. Primarily it is a compendium of useful information for private reference, which you and all other men may easily profit by through life.

Therefore, please use the coupon, or, if nearby, I should be very glad to have you call.

SANDEN, AUTHOR.

It is a fact, reader, which you and I must recognize and admit, that the whole world admires and is fascinated by strong, vigorous, husky, manly, manhood, and we must also admit that it is this same manhood and this alone which is back of the real leaders and producers in every walk of life. No matter where we go, we find it to be the manly, vigorous, vital fellow who forgets to the front, who fascinates men and women of this community, who does the really great things. An unmanly man merely means nature's laws gone wrong, for it is he who halts and hesitates, who takes the back seat, who does not fit into the picture in a way that a manly, vital nature should. And yet, reader, it is my firm belief that any man, no matter what his past, no matter what dispositions or follies may have left their mark upon his physical and mental being, I say to you that such a man, unless there be some unusual reason, may hope for a complete return of his strength, vigor and self-confidence, if he but go about his self-restoration in a natural, commonsense way.

I make a little appliance which will call a VITALIZER, because I think that is the best word to describe its strange power. I don't want you to think of getting one of these VITALIZERS just now, but I would like to what I believe can be accomplished by almost any weakened man who uses this VITALIZER faithfully for a few weeks. I speak, of course, of him who is willing to give up dissipation and lead a decent, conservative life, not only while using the VITALIZER, but for the future. The other kind of man, the dissipated, can hope for nothing from any treatment, no matter what it may be, hence such a man is eliminated from my consideration.

This little VITALIZER is made to wear upon the body all night. It weighs only several ounces and is no more unhandy than an ordinary belt, yet it generates a great FORCE that I call VIGOR, which flows into your blood organs and nerves while you sleep. Men say it often takes any pain or weakness out of the back in one application, and that 40 to 50 days' use has been sufficient to restore manly strength and to put men in the "never felt better in my life" class. Special attachments carry the FORCE of the VITALIZER to any part of the body, for the use of women as well as men in cases of rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc.

Over two hundred thousand of these VITALIZERS have been used or are now being used by men all over the world. You had better learn more of the VITALIZER. It is fully described in my free book. If you live near me, why not call and test the VITALIZER yourself?

WHAT THE FREE BOOK TELLS

The free illustrated advice book mentioned above is meant to be a simple declaration of certain important truths that every man in the world should know. The day has gone by when men are kept in ignorance of the real problems pertaining to these private subjects, and this illustrated advice booklet, which I send to men sealed, by mail, gives certain important facts relating to sex, just as these facts are. The booklet also fully describes my VITALIZER and you are told how you may get one for your own use if you decide that you want one. Please use coupon below, or call. Hours 9 to 6.

JOHNSTON TELLS COURT OF ALLEGED POISONING; OTHER WITNESSES HEARD
The hearing in the alleged poisoning case against Jethro J. Downing was continued at Albert on Monday. Mrs. Fannie Newcomb, Henry Duncaan and Malcolm Wilson told of seeing the complainant, Johnston, when he was ill as the result of the alleged poisoning. Eben Steves told of getting Paris green from Johnston in August for use in his potato fields and Clarence Woodworth told of getting the stuff from Johnston for Mr. Steves. Johnston took the stand and said that on the morning in question he had canned peas for breakfast. They tasted bitter and he only ate a small quantity. About five minutes afterwards he was taken violently sick and continued ill all day. The crown prosecutor asked for a further adjournment to secure further evidence from Chief of Police Richard of Moncton.

The World Series
New York, Sept. 30—In preparation of the world series, the Boston Braves, winners of the National League pennant for 1914, are to be kept keyed up the high pitch under which they have been playing for the last two weeks, according to Manager Stallings, arrived here last night with his team for a five-game series with the New York Giants. The same team that

EDISON MAKES CARBOLIC ACID

Succeeds in Producing Article Better and Cheaper — Problem of Dyes

(New York Sun.)
Word was received here yesterday from the Edison plant at West Orange, N. J., that Thomas A. Edison has overcome the shortage of importations of German and English made carbolic acid, used extensively in his plant, by making successfully in the Silver Lake Chemical Works his own carbolic acid for the first time, an acid said to be superior to the imported article and produced more cheaply.
New York cloth handlers, hatters and others were interested yesterday in the announcement of a forthcoming article by Harold Lambert Allen in American Industries, the publication of the National Association of Manufacturers, entitled "Solving the Dye Stuff Puzzle."
Advance proofs of the article were obtained by The Sun last night. Mr. Allen states reasons for the necessity of building up the dye stuffs industry here, outlines the growth of the business in Germany and argues that with some changes in tariff and patent laws and proper business methods the manufacture of artificial dyes in America can be brought to the point where our textile factories need no longer depend upon Germany for their dyes.
"The solution is all American dyes for American manufactured goods," says Mr. Allen. "We must establish a dye manufacturing industry in the United States which will supply not only the demands of the home market, but which may compete successfully with other nations for the dye trade of the world."
The total value of imported dye stuffs in 1913, the writer shows, from all foreign countries was $10,385,744, of which Germany furnished $8,876,020, and during the unfinished year up to the outbreak of the war he estimated $7,940,961 worth of dye stuffs from Germany—an indication that if it were not for the war the importations this year would be about the same as in 1913.
Under Protecting Wing.
Mr. Allen goes on:
"The supremacy which Germany has so long enjoyed is not due to the peculiar ability of the Germans to produce better dyes than the rest of the world. Chemistry is a positive science and atoms will not combine at the will of the chemist to make different products in different lands. In the United States we can produce dyes equal to the best of the German product or we cannot produce them at all. The German industry has thrived because it has been painstakingly built up under the protecting wing of the German government to such a strength that it has been unable to successfully defy all competition until the present time."
"The Germans have waged destructive competition wherever an attempt has been made to establish dye works on a large scale, and wherever possible have driven competitors from the market by low prices fixed by the government which controls the dye making and chemical industries of the fatherland."
Among instances of the industrial policy of the German government, which "more than any other circumstance," has built up the chemical manufacturing of the country, Mr. Allen takes up the working clause of the German patent law and the provision that processes but not products might be patented.

Process Only Patented
The patent law "working clause" says that if the owner of a patent omits for three years to work the patent adequately in Germany the holder's rights can be withdrawn. The result of the clause is that it throws open to German manufacturers the patented processes of the world if they are not being worked in the fatherland. Also the clause of the German patent law prohibiting the patenting of commodities means that the American chemist discovered a process for making a new dye the dye could not be patented, but only the process could, research thereby being stimulated among other chemists to go ahead and find new means to make the patented dye that do not encroach upon the patented process.
To show the "freeze out" methods employed by the German chemists Mr. Allen gives the following:
"An example of the methods which have been followed by them is afforded in the experience of an American firm which began the manufacture of hydrochinon. The tactics followed consisted merely in lowering the price until the American manufacturer was no longer able to compete at a profit. The chemist of hydrochinon was then abandoned in this country, whereupon the price of the German product rose to a somewhat higher figure than had previously been the case. The cost of driving out the American product had been recovered, when it again dropped to a normal level."
Great Strides Made.
Mr. Allen shows that despite many obstacles great strides have been made in American dye stuff manufacturing in the last five years. Foreign influence, he says, is not wholly responsible for the present famine in dye stuffs. He insists that our textile mills not only have never properly supported the American manufacturers of dyes, but that the textile men injure American efforts in that they have Germans in charge of the dyeing in most of the large American mills, who frequently refuse even to test samples of American dyes left by salesmen.
Mr. Allen advises among other things a sufficiently high tariff here on dyes to

WORD "SEMI-READY" MEANS MANY THINGS

Descriptive in the First Place the Name Embodies the Product of One House.

Like the word "kodak" which is mistakenly applied to every snap-shot camera, the name "Semi-ready" is as often applied to a system, whereas it denotes a trade name of the product of one particular tailoring house in Canada.

Semi-ready tailoring can always be known by the name and price label sewn on the inside pocket lining of every genuine Semi-ready garment. Without that label the name "Semi-ready" cannot be applied even in a descriptive sense, for no other house in Canada makes and sells men's clothes on the same principle or policy as this house are tailored.

The basic cost of a Semi-ready suit is the price per pound paid for the wool on the Bradford Wool Exchange—a few blocks from the British offices of the Semi-ready Company. Semi-ready suits and overcoats at $15 and $18 cost half as much as do the suits at $30 and $35, because of the different value of the materials. There is little variation in the cost of labor.

There is but one store in St. John selling Semi-ready clothes, that of John P. Condon, at 84 King street.

At a meeting of local men interested in the fox business yesterday plans for a New Brunswick association and, eventually, for uniform classification throughout Canada were discussed. A committee, consisting of H. V. MacKinnon, chairman; R. A. March, secretary; A. H. Chipman, F. E. Williams and Dr. T. E. Bishop, was selected to prepare more definite proposals to lay before a future meeting.

The Man In The Street

Even if the Kaiser cannot enjoy that dinner in Paris, the British troops will soon be able to assure him that his goose is cooked. If the goose does not suit his taste he will have a good opportunity to eat crow.

With fighting on land and sea, under the sea and in the air the dove of peace will take some long chances when it attempts to alight in Europe again.

If the German emperor has no respect for "Scraps of paper" what material will they use when a peace treaty is to be negotiated? Tattoo?

Man in the street says he is smoking Canadian plug these days instead of American tobacco, from patriotic motives. Possibly the fact that he saves five cents each slot may have something to do with it.

The German ambassador at Washington should be able to secure a valuable engagement after the war. He would be quite a curiosity to many people.

Add War Horrors.

A late despatch says that the Russians after the taking of Pzemyz, are to advance on Szekefcherav. It's no use all we can ever hope is to sneeze when trying such names.

News note says there is an exhibition in New Haven the earliest known skate made from the bone of a horse. Any bartender will tell you that skates are made of different materials in these progressive times.

If we were all so fortunate as the city in having our bills reduced, we'd probably pay more quickly.

If the Irishmen who were at Compiegne and thought they were at Copenhagen had instead been at Pzemyz, there might have been more excuse for them.

The car on the Kane's corner line has been indulging in a fit of hilarity recently.

"Talking business not war" may be all right, but what's a man to do when he goes into a place to talk business and the first thing that is hurled at his innocent head is: "What is new in the war situation?"

Just because Wellington was known as the Iron Duke, the Kaiser need not think that he is a little Tin God on Wheels.

Good Luck to the allied forces, a safe trip to our Canadian boys on the ocean—and you can imagine our sentiments in regard to the German hordes!

BRIDES OF LAST SEPTEMBER DAY

Elliott-Watson.

In St. Andrew's church this morning at six o'clock a pretty nuptial event was celebrated when Rev. Dr. J. H. MacVicar united in marriage Miss Annie Constance, daughter of Wm. G. J. Watson, of St. John, and Samuel S. Elliott, also of this city. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She wore a pretty traveling costume of navy blue, with hat to correspond, and carried a bouquet of pink Killamey roses. Nuptial music was rendered by the new organist of the church, Mr. Cochrane. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left on a honeymoon trip to the United States. The bride is a niece of Dr. Oscar Watson of the Associated Press, New York, and graduated as nurse last year from the St. John General Public Hospital school of training. Many friends will wish the bride and groom a long and happy married life.

O'Brien-McNeely.

The Church of the Assumption, West St. John, was the scene of a pretty wedding this morning at five o'clock, when Rev. M. O'Brien united in marriage his brother, James O'Brien of Johnville, N. B., to Miss Ella Beatrice, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth McNeely, of West End. The wedding was celebrated with nuptial mass. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, John J. McNeely, was nicely attired in a traveling suit of blue, with picture hat, and carried a white prayer book. She was attended by Miss Maymie George, who wore a dainty rose poplin dress, with black hat, and carried pink and white roses. J. Edward Moran supported the groom. After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride in Carleton, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left on a honeymoon trip through the province. They will make their home in Johnville, N. B., where the best wishes of many friends will follow them, attested to in a handsome display of useful and valuable remembrances.

Sellen-Neilson

An interesting event took place at 7:30 o'clock last evening at the residence of Harry Sellen, Chubb St. Miss Lillian Neilson became the bride of Charles Sellen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. H. Nobles, pastor of Victoria street Baptist church. Donald Neilson was best man and Miss Edith Anderson was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Sellen have many friends in the city who extended their best wishes. Many presents were received.

Kilcup-King

Hector P. Kilcup and Miss Bessie Eliza King, both formerly of Nova Scotia and now resident in St. John, were united in marriage at eight o'clock last evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. MacKeigan in St. David's manse, Leinster street.

GIRL ARRESTED

Ethelyn Curtis, nineteen years of age was arrested at noon today by Detective Killen on suspicion of stealing a gold ring from Bertha Carters, also with stealing $15 from Edward Breau, also on suspicion of stealing a wedding ring from Mrs. King, 78 Sewell street, where she was employed as a servant in a boarding house.

Win Place St. John Fund In The Canadian Treasury

Local Executive So Decides — Payments Will Come From Ottawa — Further Contributions

By the unanimous vote of the Soldiers' and Families' Patriotic Fund committee this morning the local fund being raised for the families of St. John men who are on their way to share in the battles of the mother country was merged with the larger Canadian fund and this morning the money has passed through the hands of the executive all the relief work will be furthered from Ottawa.

The secretary read the report of the mayor's visit to Ottawa where the resolution presented yesterday by the executive favoring the merging of the local fund with the Canadian fund.

Judge Forbes in moving the adoption of the resolution by the general committee, pointed out the advantages of being included in the Canadian fund. "The organization is very complete," he said "and those dependent upon it will be cared for in a systematic way." The local fund was very small in comparison to the Canadian fund which amounted now to about $4,000,000. The motion was seconded by Senator Thorne and carried unanimously.

Judge Forbes then moved that the matter be referred to the executive committee for further action. Senator Thorne seconded the motion and it was carried. It was pointed out by Judge Forbes that, according to the workings of the Canadian fund the bulk of the money collected would be sent to Ottawa for distribution while a small amount would be kept on hand here for emergencies. When the regulations were perfected, relief would be sent from Ottawa direct to those receiving relief or through the local executive. The executive will likely meet tomorrow to perfect the arrangements.

The local patriotic fund was swelled this morning by a good list of contributions from the parish of Lancaster, as well as by an amount of $201.50, collected by the St. Martin's councillors in their own parish, and other local contributions. FAST BRUSH, COLLISION AND THEN A SMASH-UP

A hair-raising brush between two fast horses, a collision and then a smash-up all in the space of a few moments, afforded some excitement for those who were near Kane's corner about five o'clock last evening. One of the carpenters who is working on the new hospital at Little River was driving to the city with his speedier pace, and when nearing Kane's corner attempted to pass a trotter, which was going at a fair clip. The trotter snorted and decided he was not going to be headed. Around Kane's Corner and into the Westmorland road the two wheeled-but breakers were ahead. The car tracks at this point are not quite so low as they might be and there are also more large pieces of slate rock scattered all over the road than there should be, so the little pacer was pulling his load along in rather a bumpy fashion. One of the Christie Wood Working Co's wagons was coming along and the builder's vehicle struck it, taking the tire and rim completely off his front wheel. He continued along a short distance on the spokes and just before getting to the west to supply the wheel collapsed. No other damage was done.

RENEWED CONFIDENCE

Cheery Feeling In Local Business Circles Reported

One of the most satisfactory signs of the times, says the secretary of the St. John Board of Trade, is in the large number of trade enquiries coming in from all sources and the growing feeling of business confidence that is everywhere apparent. Optimism is spreading, and particularly throughout the maritime provinces. Our business men have given up the anxious scanning of the war bulletin and are now turning their attention to the development of business and the possibilities that the war is opening up to them. With a restoration of business confidence the future ought to be very bright for the maritime provinces.

Every day brings to the board fresh seekers for information with respect to the colliery demands for pit props. Today the secretary was called upon to respond to two enquiries from other parts of the province as well as to some local enquiry. We undoubtedly have the material in New Brunswick for all the pit props that Great Britain will need for many years. What is lacking is such detailed information as only the colliery men themselves can supply.

FEARS ARTISTIC BEAUTY OF RHEIMS CATHEDRAL CAN NEVER BE RESTORED

Paris, Sept. 30.—The artistic beauty of the Cathedral of Rheims, which suffered in the German bombardment of that town, can never be restored, in the opinion of Whitney Warren, a New York architect, who has just returned from Rheims, where he made a thorough inspection of the famous structure.

"That anything remains of the cathedral," said Mr. Warren, "is owing to the strong construction of what might be called the carcass of the cathedral, whose walls and vaults are of a robustness which resisted even modern implements of war."

"Jones Always Knows"

They were discussing Jones excellent business ability. "Jones always knows where to buy everything at the lowest price," said his friend. "He always seems to do better than I can in getting 100 cents worth for a dollar." Jones is merely the type of successful man who believes in using his brain. He is above all else a student of advertising—and he makes his newspaper pay for itself many times over by the information its advertisements give him.
