eighths in 35 1-5. Around the long upper turn the horse continued in faultless style and finished by the half-mile pole in 46 4-5. When he turned into the stretch the high wind was behind him and he cantered to the three-quarter mark in 1:13 3-5. He was now beginning to show signs of tiring and Shaw took no chances with him and rode Rosebush out to flash under the wire a winner in 1:22. The best previous time was 1:24 4-5, held by Halifax from the turns, and the straight-away record was established by Della B. of 1:23 4-5.

A decidedly new turn in the mix-up between Adam H. Bell and Harry W. Wilson resulting from the hearing before Justice Macdonald, was the arrest of Mr. Bell yesterday at the instance of Mr. Wilson in connection with a civil suit being instituted for damages. Mr. Bell was later furnished with $1,000 bail, bonds being furnished by A. O. Skinner and Frank E. Wilson.

On being asked with reference to the matter last night, Mr. Wilson, who has removed from Ridesau Hall to his home in St. John, said that he had heard of Mr. Bell's arrest, having just come into town from St. Mary's, but he had known of this course was to be taken. NEWFOUNDLAND IGNORANT OF BRITAIN'S ACTION.

Premier Bond Denies That the Colony Had Any Knowledge of What Was Being Done.

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Oct. 16.—Premier Bond in an interview today, declared that the statements of the American press to the effect that the colony was a party to the modus vivendi is a tissue of falsehoods. The premier asserts that the colony has conceived nothing, that she insisted upon her rights and had besought the imperial government to support them. The modus vivendi, he says, was concluded against the protest of the colony of Newfoundland and the government did not sanction any of the concessions granted Americans, but had exhausted every resource it could command in opposing the agreement, which attitude of firm opposition it does not intend to abandon, regarding the measure as derogatory to colonial rights and laws.

WANT CAPT. COLWELL TO STAY WITH THEM.

HAVANA, Oct. 16.—Several hundred ex-rebels have signed a petition to Governor Mugson asking him to use his influence at Washington for the retention in Havana of Commander St. John Colwell, captain of the Crozier. Colwell is more popular with the American intervention. This request is made on the ground that Commander Colwell is more completely identified, through the early arrival of the Denver and the landing of her soldiers, with the peace efforts than is any other American commander of armed forces in Cuba and also because he is better known to and more popular with the Cubans.

BARGE AND FIVE MEN ADRIFT ON THE ATLANTIC.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 15.—Somewhere along the Virginia coast the whaleback barge Berkshire, with Captain Alton Trudo, and five seamen aboard is adrift in the storm unless she has been driven ashore. The steamer Bay State arrived in port today from Lynn, Mass., and Captain Peters reported that he lost the Berkshire 30 miles north of Cape Charles light yesterday at noon. Because of the high wind and heavy sea the steamer was unable to put about and pick up the barge.

WILL ACT JUST LIKE GAYNOR AND GREENE.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—W. J. O'Hara, of Halifax, the attorney for Mr. Lehmann said tonight that the results of the negotiations during the day were not pleasant but that Mr. Lehmann was indifferent about the outcome of proceedings and is prepared to resist extradition. In order to have the case settled as quickly as possible he will, in case of arrest, appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada on a habeas corpus proceeding. A hearing in the case of the Frolic smuggling expedition has been arranged for tomorrow.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 16.—Rush orders were issued today by the ministers of the interior, and ways and communications for re-establishing military guards on all trains, re-equipping punitive trains and constructing special guard houses at the entrances to all stations. The order requires that the preparations be completed in a fortnight that all may be in readiness to prevent outbreaks during the strike.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., OCT. 17, 1906.

MR. S. D. SCOTT. Members of the Conservative party in New Brunswick along with other friends assembled in the Union Club last evening to give expression to their appreciation of the work of a man who for twenty years rendered valuable service to his party. Mr. S. D. Scott who recently severed his connection with the press of St. John has devoted the better part of his life to the interests of those who were represented at last night's banquet, has upheld Liberal-Conservative principles in times of prosperity and adversity, and has maintained the dignity of journalism even when stamped with the die of politics, in a manner which has won the sincere respect of both parties. Mr. Scott, although he assumed editorial duties practically without experience, brought with him all those qualifications which are requisite to success. His literary attainments, a keen grasp of matters of public interest, a forcefulness of expression which, however, never lacked in dignity or grace made his writing such as appealed to all and in spite of the many temptations which come to one in his position he never sank to the partisan style or made use of language which could give offence even to his most energetic opponents. Mr. Scott having removed to a wider field can look back with satisfaction on his work, and while, as is the case with all newspaper men, his services will be received only in another world, such evidences of good will and appreciation as were uttered last evening must have assured him that his work in one sense has not been in vain.

Mr. Scott is missed from newspaper news, but St. John, as a whole, loses in his departure one of its best citizens. In a quiet way Mr. Scott was a helper to all. His interest in the work of charitable organizations, the attention he gave to the relief of those in less fortunate circumstances than he himself enjoyed made him one of the comparative few who are always counted upon for assistance. He was a man devoted to his profession, but found time for the duties owing to his church, to friends and to society in general, and he performed those duties in a manner which causes sincere regret over his departure. Mr. Scott carries with him to his new home in Ottawa the hearty wishes of all for an even more generous measure of success than has marked his career to the present time. Mr. Scott returns to Ottawa today.

CHINESE IMMORALITY. There are one hundred and fifty Chinese laundries in St. John. There are in the Sheffield street district about twenty houses which attract the attention of the police. At a recent meeting of the common council on motion of Alderman Bullock, a resolution was passed instructing the authorities to purify the disreputable end of the town. No mention was made of the Chinese.

Yet these foreigners are a greater menace to the morality of St. John than half a dozen Sheffield streets could be. There are places here, numbers of them, which are innocent looking laundries during daylight, and which at night are transformed into gambling dens and houses of prostitution. They are the resort of Chinese from different quarters of the city, and who go there for immoral purposes. Some of the establishments are arranged in such a manner that the capture of the inmates is almost an impossibility. Doors are constructed and concealed so that the Chinese in case of a raid may make their exit with almost absolute safety. More than this, the foreigners knowing that they are violating the laws have an intelligent system by which they receive warnings of approaching danger and are enabled to take precautions against it. Under the guise of innocent social gatherings fan-tan and immoral practices flourish, and so far the Chinese have been able to escape the vigilance of the officers.

This, of course, does not apply to all laundries, but it does include the larger number of Chinese now resident in the city. Only a proportion of the places occupied are used as meeting houses, but they are well patronized. The police know of this, and have for a long time been endeavoring to put an end to such conduct, but their success has not been noticeable. They are now in the humor to heartily agree with Bert Harte in the declaration that "For ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinee is peculiar."

WHY SHE WEARS THE WILLOW. "Certain of our women twang and whine and whiffle and whinny."—W. D. Howells. I used to think her velvet voice was charming. And never dreamed her head tones sounded thinny. But now I've found out something quite alarming. Fair Winnie has a most decided whinny.

Her speech to me was like a mellow cello. Till Howells came forth with his line of office: And now—confound the meddling writing fellow—it seems to me fair Winnie has a whiffle. 'Twas sweet to me to hear the maiden singing. Ere Howells sent his cruel shafts a-tingling. But now whenever the ragtime gets to ringing, it seems to me fair Winnie is twanging. 'Twould never do to wed such imperfection (Too long the weary years of man's repining). I'll choose no maid in Howells's collection, So Winnie all alone must do her whinnying.

A DENVER SUNDAY, WHITE-MANESQUE. (From the Denver Republican.) Sunday—a discomfiting gleaming of polished collars; A depressing serving of drinks behind closed doors; A swarming of polychromatic parasites. In the home newspaper Leviathans are the great American Sunday Dinner sends its appalling stard from the Mark how it renders proud man as helpless as a toad in a fossiliferous rock!

Outside, the noxious burning of gasoline goes on; Glaring goggles send the dust germs whirling, pinetting. Comes the raucous throating of the umpire's halter. Mark you, how he is perched vulture-like upon the bleachers! Always the swirling, clutched germs, nudged by human shoulders; Electric lights begin to blink garishly upon the cosmic multitudes, staggering. Driven by a troglodyte who should be peeing shoes in State prison. Comes the shrill protest of the kitchen door hinge, as the servant girl returns. Day, that damned like an Old Master, you have ended like a Sunday, you are punk!

TRIBAL SUICIDE. In consequence of the wording of a telegram, it is alleged that the Netherlands troops in Bali (not Achin, this is 1,700 miles away from Bali) slaughtered about 400 people, among them a number of the Dutch army. The death of so many human beings is sad enough, without the imputation of cruelty to the Netherlands soldiers. What happened is this: All students of Malay and Hindi study know that in the most horrid customs of those countries is the "poo-pootan," what I should like to call the tribal suicide. A Balinese, with the instincts of his warrior race, declines to surrender, but prefers death, and he with all his people seek death. The Prince of Sadoem did this. He turned a deaf ear to all suggestion of a settlement, but he and all connected with him, men, women and children, committed suicide.

Nearly the same thing happened in 1891 in Lombok, a neighboring island. The old king had walked out, but one of his sons, a cripple, valked out with all his relatives, dressed in gorgeous garments, bedecked with all their jewelry, and with their swords and lances attacked the Dutch army. Only to find the death they courted. Those who were not killed in the fight were afterward found to have also killed themselves.

FURTHER PARTICULARS NEEDED. It happened in one of the large hospitals in London, where it has been necessary to introduce certain time-saving devices in the dispensary. The patient gets a printed prescription that calls for preparation that has been already made up. At the same time he gets directions for its use. One morning, presently a patient, a man, came in and described the symptoms of rheumatism. The doctor gave him one of the printed slips, and said: "Now, Pat, when you go home get your wife to rub this on your back."

"Thank you, doctor," and off he went. A few minutes later the Irishman appeared, seeming rather embarrassed, and in his hand was the prescription. "Well," asked the medico. "Sure, doctor, which side of the paper must I rub on me back?" DONALD VELEVY CRYER, TOO.

"As it has pleased God in the past year to preserve peace to us, I am firmly convinced that in the future also I shall succeed in preserving peace." Extract from one of the Kaiser's latest speeches. It reminds us of the story of the Highland shepherd who came very near to being drowned in the burn. "Och, Donald," said his wife, "it's you that ought to be thankful to Providence for your escape." "Hoo, yuss," said Donald, "Providence was good, but I was very clever myself, too."

HIS REASON. Johnny—Mamma, when I grows up I wants to be a saint. Mother—Oh, you darling! And why? Johnny—Why, I was reading that boys never grows up to be what they wants to be—Judge.

AND FAILED. Griggs—"The idea of your letting your wife go around saying that she made a man of you. You don't hear my wife saying that." Briggs—"No, but I heard her telling my wife that she did her best."

KAISER ATTENDS KRUPP WEDDING The Emperor at Marriage of Germany's Wealthiest Woman.

After Announcing Gift of $250,000 to Workmen Newly Wedded Pair Leave Essen on Honeymoon.

ESSEN, Prussia, Oct. 16.—In the presence of Emperor William and one hundred and forty guests, Frau Bertha Krupp and Lieutenant Gustav von Bohlen and Halbach were married today in a little imposing chapel adjoining the bride's birthplace, the Villa Hugel, by the pastor of the neighboring village church, when the Krupp family has long worshipped. Emperor William sat with the family while the simple Lutheran marriage service was performed, and then stepped forward and congratulated the bride and bridegroom. Frau Krupp wore a princess robe of heavy, ivory tinted crepe de chine, with panels of point de Venise and had a four-yard train. The veil was of Brussels lace and tulle. She wore myrtle blossoms on her head and had a spray of these flowers at her waist. Her father's cousin, Herr Arthur Krupp, gave away the bride, who was attended by her sister Hanna. Lieutenant von Bohlen's brother acted as best man. At a wedding breakfast which was served at the conclusion of the ceremony the Emperor drank the health of the bride. The couple afterwards left by special train for Krupp Castle, at Rheineck, on the Rhine, where the honeymoon will be passed. In drinking the health of the bride the Emperor said: "Honored couple—The blessings and prayers of all present will accompany you through life. Many young couples, where the husband is not in the service of the state or in any particular profession, will find it so easy to answer the question of their future life as you will. If they are serious they will aim at promoting the good of their fellow creatures in the community to which they belong, and consequently of the State. It is truly today to accentuate the personal ego in seeking to thrust it into the midst of things, and that the most important, is forgotten, namely, that rights bring with them obligations. In imagination it is easy to imagine rights. Rights without obligations lead to dissolution and licentiousness.

Emperor William addressed the bride as his "dear daughter" and alluded to her "sainted father, the good genius of the arms factory, unrivaled in the world."

Emperor William conferred upon the bride the right to use the name "Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach." Guests at the wedding included six women and fifteen men from the Krupp works, but the workers generally were not given a holiday in honor of the wedding. The Emperor after the wedding started for Bonn.

Before the ceremony, Frau Krupp and Lieutenant von Bohlen announced their joint gift of $250,000 to the Workmen's Invalid Fund, and Frau Krupp gave notice that she had donated another $250,000 to the same fund and 125 acres of land on which to build economical, model dwellings for the workers. The bridegroom accompanied the Emperor to the station, and he then returned to his home in Essen.

THIS STORY OF ROBBERY LOOKS LIKE A FAIRY TALE

Thief Took Command of Squad, Arrested Civic Official and Robbed the Treasury.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—A unique and daring robbery was committed at Coepenik, a small town seven miles east of Berlin yesterday. The robbers, in the uniform of a captain of Guards met a detachment of twelve men on a street in Berlin, who were returning from their post. He produced a forged cabinet order authorizing him to take command. The men recognized his authority and he then ordered them to march to Coepenik. Upon arrival there they proceeded to the town hall, arrested the Burgomaster, and took possession of the cash, $1,000. The robber detached several of his men to conduct the prisoners to headquarters. He ordered the remainder to hold the town hall for an hour. He then rode off alone in the direction of Berlin with the money. The Burgomaster and the treasurer were greatly mystified by the means of the arrest. Upon their arrival in custody at headquarters in Berlin they learned that the chief of the police had been notified and were immediately discharged. The burgomaster has not been heard from since. The police authorities are without any clue whatever as to his identity.

Tonight after the tenth band at St. Andrew's Rollaway, Hammon, the English champion, and Chalder will skate a one race match race for $50 a side. The men caused great enthusiasm when they skated last week, and the race was admitted to be a dandy. Tickets for the Harmony Club sports were placed on sale at the rink box office this morning and already a large number were disposed of. They are being sold on the first come first served principle and those who are going Thanksgiving evening should apply early. Band Thanksgiving afternoon—Advt.

C. B. U., 8, HIGH SCHOOL, 6. On Tuesday afternoon the Currie University took the High School into camp in the Victoria grounds to the tune of 8 to 6. The spectacular play of the game was the fifty yard run of O'Neil of the High School team. Currie's scrim showed plainly that they need practice as the High School scrim put off over them. The excellence of the halves and quarters, Currie's won their game. The try for Currie's were made by Sullivan and Eldred. Sullivan nicely converted his own try. Pike played a star game at quarter. McKenny put up the best game of the scrim, but had the misfortune of injuring his eye quite severely.

MRS. JEFF. DAVIS, Widow of Famous Confederate General is Dead.

She Had Won Quite a Reputation as the Writer of Her Husband's Memoirs and by Other Literary Work.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the president of the confederacy, who had been ill for a week at the Hotel Majestic, in this city, died at 10.25 o'clock tonight. Death was due to pneumonia induced by a severe cold which Mrs. Davis contracted upon her return here from the Adirondacks where she had spent the summer months. Although grave fears were felt from the first, Mrs. Davis' wonderful vitality which safely brought her through a similar attack a year ago, gave hope of ultimate recovery until last night, when a decided change for the worse was evident and the attending physicians announced that the end was near. Mrs. Davis could not survive the night, but she rallied slightly during the early hours of today, shortly after seven o'clock this morning, she had a sinking spell and Rev. Nathan A. Sleigh, pastor of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church, was hurriedly summoned to give religious comfort to the patient in her last moments of consciousness. The clergyman remained some time and an hour later it was announced that Mrs. Davis had passed into a state of coma. The period of unconsciousness continued to the end.

At the bedside when death came were Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, of Newark, N. J., the only surviving daughter of Mrs. Davis; Jefferson Davis Hayes, grandson, who is a student at Princeton University; Mrs. Charles E. Bateson, a niece; Dr. and Mrs. Gustav Webb, the latter a grand daughter; and Robert H. Wylie, who with Dr. Webb, had cared for Mrs. Davis throughout her illness.

J. Addison Hayes, husband of Mrs. Davis' only living child, had been summoned from Colorado Springs and was hurrying across the continent, when a message announcing Mrs. Davis' death intercepted him. Mrs. Davis, for some years, made her home in this city, where she had a wide circle of friends. Throughout her illness solicitous inquiries regarding her condition were continually made at her apartments. Mrs. Virginia Howell Davis was born in Natchez, Miss., May 7th, 1825. Her father was Wm. Burr Howell and her grandfather Governor Richard Howell of New Jersey. She was educated at a private school in Philadelphia and by private tutors.

In 1845 she was married to Jefferson Davis, of Warren county, Miss., and went to live at the Jefferson home on Hug this last trip. Her repairs will probably occupy till next Monday, so that there will be no boat from St. John for the South Shore of Nova Scotia on Thursday of this week. It is expected that the Seniac will leave Halifax next Monday to take on the route again.

ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING DONE MONTHS AGO

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 16.—James Shannon was arrested tonight on a capias from the superior court on an indictment charging murder in the second degree in causing the death of Patrick J. Foley by shooting on Sigel street, April 2.

Foley was wounded in the thigh, dying two months later of embolism, caused by the wound. A manslaughter indictment was returned against Shannon by the August grand jury and Shannon was on $500 bail pending trial on that charge, when new evidence was presented to the grand jury.

SOUTH SHORE LINE. The Seniac was hauled out on the slip at Halifax on Tuesday and considerable damage found, which was occasioned by the heavy weather during this last trip. Her repairs will probably occupy till next Monday, so that there will be no boat from St. John for the South Shore of Nova Scotia on Thursday of this week. It is expected that the Seniac will leave Halifax next Monday to take on the route again.

BIG BRITISH CONCERN
ADOPTS METRIC SYSTEM

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Commercial Community in Great Britain is greatly interested in the decision announced yesterday by Kynoch Limited, ammunition manufacturers, of Birmingham, to adopt the metric system both in weight and measure and monetary dealings. In England the metric system is permitted legally, but it is not compulsory. Fruitless efforts have been made to get parliament to make it compulsory.

In editorial articles this morning the newspaper express keen interest in the experiment.

COUNT BONI'S TROUBLES

PARIS, Oct. 17.—The hearing of the suit of divorce brought by Countess De Castellane against her husband, Count Boni, and the hearing of the suit brought by the creditors of the count, were both postponed for a fortnight today. Counsel for the Countess succeeded in having the court decide to hear the divorce suit before the creditors' suit. The count wanted to have the latter case decided first.

INCORPORATION ACT APPROVED

Report of Home Missions Very Favorable.

Quarterly Meeting of St. John Presbytery Held Yesterday—Many Matters Discussed

At yesterday afternoon's session of the Presbytery of St. John the report on home missions was read and discussed, recommendations by Rev. Jas. Ross read and accepted, and the new act of incorporation was discussed by the members present.

The report on home missions said in part that "In the spring New Brunswick was left with twelve men short for the supply of stations. Fifteen men disappointed us, three were laid aside by sickness. There was a great deal of needless expense of living before any of the fields had a supply.

It is to be hoped that the whole church will awaken to a lively sense of the value of the services of faithful ministers, and realize in a greater degree than hitherto the self-sacrifice and self-denial laid upon young men offering for the ministry of our church through the increase of cost of living and the time and expense involved in the work of preparation for their higher calling. The church as a whole can relieve the strain and lighten the burden imposed upon the individual and thereby open the way for a sufficient supply to meet the demand. The King's business demands haste and immediate effort called for.

"While there is no large development in any part of your province, there is improvement in various directions, e. g., St. Martin's and Norton have reduced their debts, Andover has paid off the debt on the synod house, and a student in full, made an advance on their stipend and have rented a house for the ministry. There is also a student in full at the synod where a congregation provides two manses. A new church has been built at Fox Hill and Plaster Rock. A new hall has been built at Sackville.

The need which is very manifest is a larger number of ordained missionaries to give supply throughout the province, e. g., Dorchester and Sackville, where there is likely to be some growth if an ordained minister could be secured. The salary of a minister, which have eight families, remain vacant for eight months of the year.

The revenue of this society twenty years ago was $30. The last year the revenue was $3,000, including home and foreign missionaries, and the expense was $2,000. The society is now a student body.

After this report was adopted Rev. James Ross recommended the following:

1. That $3 per week be paid to H. C. Fraser, quarter grant from the United Church of New Glasgow.
2. That the following balances be recommended for payment: Golden Grove, $31.28; C. C. McIntosh, $4.00; Sackville, $56.36; New Glasgow, Sackville and St. George, $4.00; Cabano, $23.38.
3. That the Home Mission committee be authorized to examine catechists reports and recommend to the General Assembly committee for payment of balances owing.
4. That the clerk of the Presbytery be authorized to issue certificates to all students whose reports are passed.
5. That the Presbytery recommend to the board of the Century Church and manse building fund the following: Rock, $300; Tilley, $100; Home Mission, $100, when these have raised an equal amount.
6. That the grant to Stanley and Nashwaak be increased $25.
7. That Stanley Prince be recommended as a catechist to the Home Mission committee.
8. That all congregations and mission fields with bounds be urged to make a contribution, however small, to the Bursary fund, in aid of young men going through college, studying for the ministry of our church.

The consideration of the committee's report on the system of giving was completed in the afternoon. The report was adopted with a number of recommendations for improved methods of administering the finances of the congregation.

The new act of incorporation was then discussed at length, several of its clauses coming in for lengthy discussion, and a few changes were made in the Bill. The committee which drew up the act be appointed to see the Bill through the legislature.

It was moved by Rev. Mr. Graham that the moderator, Rev. Frank Baird, and clerk, Rev. A. H. Foster, and any members of the presbytery who shall be present on that occasion should represent the presbytery at the funeral of the late Judge Stevens at St. Stephen on Thursday.

The meeting then adjourned to resume again at St. Stephen's church in the evening, the occasion being the induction of Rev. Gordon Dickie in his new charge.

PATHEPIC SUICIDE OF OLD COUPLE

Husband Could Not Secure Work so He and His Wife Drank Carbolic Acid

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 16.—A double suicide of an unusually pathetic nature was brought to light this morning by the finding of the bodies of Andrew Eneuwoldsen and his wife, who boarded at 11 Keith street. The couple were about 60 years of age, and the cause of the suicide was the husband's inability of the old man to procure work on account of his age. Last week he applied to the municipal works for employment, only to be refused on the plea that he was too old. The bodies were found in bed this morning, and two carbolic acid bottles and two glasses told the tale. He left a note to his friends, and she to her relatives, in which she stated that the husband was formerly a butcher in Palmerston.

DUNLOP-McLEOD.

A quiet yet interesting event took place at nine o'clock this morning in the parlors of the Ottawa Hotel, when Rev. James Crisp invited James Dunlop and Miss Nellie McLeod to the bonds of matrimony. Mr. Dunlop is a prosperous St. Martin's farmer and his bride is very popular in St. Martin's. The hotel parlors were neatly arranged for the wedding and only a few immediate friends witnessed the ceremony.

Ruben McLeod, brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Lettie Long was bridesmaid. The bride was attired in a pretty white muslin wedding gown trimmed with white lace and ribbon, while Miss Long's gown was of white muslin, white lace and blue ribbon. The wedding party arrived in the city yesterday, being driven by John C. Boyer, the St. Martin's livery stable proprietor, who placed his team of greys at their disposal. After the ceremony the party drove to the Ben Leonard home for dinner, and this afternoon will go to St. Martin's, where they will reside. Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop are the recipients of a large number of handsome and useful presents.

O'BRIEN A WINNER

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 17.—Jack O'Brien, of Philadelphia, knocked out Ed before the Pacific Athletic Club here last night. He put out Fred Cooley, his former sparring partner, by a knock-out in the first round in a four round bout. Cooley landed scarcely a blow. Jim Trimble, a local boxer, was successful in putting out a pair of rounds of fighting. In the terms of the match O'Brien had agreed to put out each man. Inside of ten rounds, Trimble complained of the decision of the referee in counting him out, contending that he was on his feet at the count of ten.

BRITISH OFFICERS CENSURED.

War Office Report on South African Stores Scandals Exonerates General Lyttleton.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The War Office issued tonight its decision in the cases of officers involved in the South African war stores scandals. Gen. Sir Neville Gerald Lyttleton, chief of the general staff and first military member of the army council, is completely exonerated. The secretary of war, Mr. Haldane, and the army council arriving at the conclusion that it was beyond human possibility for General Lyttleton to supervise the system of supply while his whole energies were being devoted to commanding the troops.

Several officers are censured and others retired with or without pay allowed retired officers. Many others are exonerated and restored to service. A note appended to the decision states that in all the cases full allowances have been made for defects in the supply system well as for the effects on the men of the long and severe strain of active service.

The war stores scandals were the subject of an attack by the opposition on the Balfour ministry in June, 1906, which resulted in the appointment of a royal commission to inquire into them. It was alleged that officers of the British army during the South African war worked in collusion with contractors. The contractors, it was charged, bought stores at absurdly low prices and resold them to the military authorities at enormous profits, entailing a loss to the government of $5,000,000.

FALL RUSH OF RIVER

FREIGHT HAS STARTED

Lots of Potatoes Coming Down Now—They Sell at $1.25 Per Barrel—Hay is Scarce

Freight traffic on the river has been rather dull for some little time, owing to the fact that up-river farmers were busy with their potato digging, and also that those who had stock to send in were holding back in the hope of obtaining higher prices. But the Carleton County potatoes have been glutting the St. John market, and the river farmers find that unless they send their supplies down right away they will likely be shut out altogether. Accordingly, very heavy freights were brought down yesterday on all of the steamers, and it is expected that the rush will continue from now until the close of navigation. Large quantities of potatoes were received yesterday, almost all of them being of the Delaware variety and they sold on an average at $1.20 to $1.30 per barrel at the boats. The Carleton county potatoes known as Green Mountains, bring about $1.20 here.

Hay is comparatively scarce in the city, and is fetching from $10 to $12 per ton. There was a little rush of poultry yesterday. The demand for Thanksgiving is good, and the supply also large. Chickens sell at from 70 cents to 90 cents a pair, and turkeys from 18 cents to 22 cents a pound.

CITY'S BUILDING BOOM CONTINUES

Permits Ahead of all Records—Structures by C. P. R. and Rolling Mills

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—Building permits were issued today from the office of the building inspector aggregating about $100,000. All previous records for this season were smashed. There seems to be no let up to the building boom. Besides factories and office buildings, fine dwellings are being constructed in all parts of the city, and it is now thought that building operations will be continued during the winter months.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company were given a permit to construct a new building on Osborne street, at a cost of $38,000. The building, which will be used as an express office, will be 175 feet long by 87 feet deep, two stories high and concrete throughout. The Montreal Rolling Mills were given permission to construct a new factory on Notre Dame street, at a cost of $25,000. The structure will be 68 feet by 68 feet, and will be three stories high.

The Southern Company took out a permit to erect a printing office on St. Alexander street. The building will cost $25,000 and will be 48 feet deep, with a frontage of 35 feet.

Ex-Alderman Valliers is constructing sixteen tenement houses on Marquette street. The new buildings are estimated at $9,000. The other permits were for smaller structures in every ward of the city.

McGILL STUDENTS GO PROSPECTING

They Overturn Their Canoe, Lose Provisions and are Finally Rescued by Indians

It is reported at Quebec that two McGill University students, who left here some time ago laden with supplies to endeavor to reach the Chibougamou mines near Lake Mistassini, narrowly escaped death, first from lack of provisions, while attempting to return from their uncompleted journey. As the story goes, they could not without guides manage to get their supplies up the many rapids and portages leading north from Lake St. John through the forest. In attempting to descend a heavy rapid in their canoe, the latter struck a rock and broke in two, throwing both prospectors and all their supplies into the water. One of the young men contrived to swim ashore. The other clung on to the rock, but was compelled to remain there. It is probable that both would have perished but for the accidental passing down the rapid a day and a half later of a couple of Indians in a canoe, who consented for a stiff consideration to take the two students back to civilization.

CONTROVERSY OF LAKE FISHERMEN

Matter Placed in Different Light by Report of Captain of United States Cutter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The controversy which has been waged between the American and Canadian lake fishermen for the past twenty years has been placed in an entirely different light by a report made to the state department by Captain H. C. Chaytor, commanding the United States revenue cutter Morrill on the Great Lakes. The report shows in substance that the American fishermen have been transgressors and that they have been treated with the greatest consideration by the Canadian fishing patrol.

Sometimes ago the state department considered favorably a plan of settling temporarily the vexed question of fishing rights on Lake Erie by placing a series of buoys in the middle of the lake to define the international boundary. The Canadian government cordially accepted this proposition and Captain Chaytor was instructed to place the buoys. As it was apprehended that honest differences of opinion as to the location of the boundary line might arise from differences between the automatic logs of the American and Canadian patrol vessels and the use of different charts, Captain Chaytor was instructed to compare notes on these points with the Canadian fishermen.

Captain Chaytor says these temporary buoys will be swept away by the ice next winter and should be replaced by permanent buoys lighted at night so as not to endanger navigation.

DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE SUPPORTS BROWER

Husband Charged With Killing His Wife Breaks Down and Sobs—Evidence Concluded

TOMS RIVER, N. J., Oct. 16.—When the court adjourned this afternoon at the trial of Dr. Frank L. Brower for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Brower's testimony was in and it only remained for counsel to sum up and the judge to deliver his charge. Each side will probably use two hours in the morning up tomorrow.

Dr. E. McLane Forman in his testimony for the defense today said that there was not a single symptom in Mrs. Brower's case that could not be ascribed to ptomaine poisoning.

Under cross-examination Dr. Forman admitted that on November 15, 1905, he signed an affidavit setting forth that the cause of Mrs. Brower's death was unknown. He explained by saying that he was not then positive as to what actually had caused the woman's death. He admitted that he had told Miss Lippincott and Miss Dudley, Brower, that they were talking about the case and that they were talking about the case and that their conduct was unprofessional and might do them harm.

Dr. Forman denied that he had told any one that Mrs. Brower's death had been caused by Bright's disease.

Dr. I. H. Hance of Lakewood was called by the defense and asked a hypothetical question, and gave it as his opinion that death was the result of ptomaine poisoning.

Dr. George G. McMillen of Lakewood made a similar reply to this same question.

The aged mother of the defendant took the witness stand. In the afternoon Dr. Brower broke down and sobbed for several minutes.

INTEREST REVIVES IN THAW CASE

Intimated That Other Indictments May Follow—Thaw Worried for a Time

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—There was a revival of interest today in the case of Harry K. Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White, when in court District Attorney Jerome intimated that there might be other indictments in the case.

The statement by the district attorney was made in the course of an argument before Recorder Goff against the writ of prohibition restraining the district attorney's office from further preliminary action in grand jury proceedings in the murder case.

Under cross-examination Dr. Forman explained that Thaw had seen the evening papers and feared from what he had read of the proceedings that his wife, or other members of the family, might be indicted in the case. Mr. Hartbridge said that he merely called to set Thaw's mind at rest, as there was no danger that any other member of his family or any one connected with the family would be indicted.

The recorder at the request of Mr. Jerome, adjourned the proceedings until a formal order to have the argument transferred to Justice McLean's court, where it was first heard.

MASTERS OF ARTS.

"You don't understand, Billy," said White with an uneasy laugh. "Some of us fellows who try to paint have big notions about Art. I wanted to paint a picture some day that people would stand before and forget that it was mere paint. I wanted it to creep into them like a bar of music and mushroom there like a soft breeze. And I wanted 'em to go away and ask, 'What else has he done?' And I didn't want 'em to find a thing; not a portrait nor a magazine cover nor an illustration nor a drawing of a girl—nothing but the picture. That's why I've lived on fried sausages and tried to keep true to myself. I persuaded myself to do this portrait for the chance it might give me to study abroad. But this howling, screaming caricature! Good Lord! can't you see how it is?"

"Sure," said Keogh, "I can see it. He would have spoken to a child, and he laid a long forefinger on White's knee. 'I see, it's had to have your art all slugged up like this. I know, you wanted to paint a big thing like the panorama of the battle of Gettysburg. But let me kalsamine you a little mental sketch to consider. Up to date we're out $385.50 on this scheme. Our capital cost every cent about enough left to get back to New York on. I need my share of that ten thousand, I want to work a couple of days in Idaho, and make a hundred thousand. That's the business end of the thing. Come down off your pedestal, Carry, and let's land that hatful of dollars."

"Billy," said White, with an effort. "I'll try, I'll try, I'll do it, but I'll try. I'll go at it, and put it through if I can."

"That's business," said Keogh, heartily. "Good boy! Now, here's another thing—rush that picture—crowd it through as quick as you can. Get a couple of boys to help you mix the paint if necessary. I've picked up some pointers around town. The painter who's beginning to get sick of Mr. President. They say he's been too free with concessions; and they accuse him of trying to make a deal with England and let the country. We want that picture done and paid for before there's any row."

In the great patio of Casa Morena, the president caused to be stretched a huge canvas. Under this White worked each day the great man sat to him.

White worked faithfully. But, as the weeks progressed, he had seasons of bitter scorn, of infinite self-contempt, of sullen gloom and sardonic gaiety. Keogh, with the patience of a great general, soothed, coaxed, argued—kept him at the picture.

At the end of a month White announced that the picture was completed—Jupiter, Washington, angels, clouds, cannon and all. His mouth drawn straight when he told Keogh. He said the president was much pleased with the picture and he hung in the National Gallery of Statesmen and Heroes. The artist had been requested to return to Casa Morena on the following day to receive his money. At the appointed time he left the hotel, silent under his friend's joyful talk of the picture.

An hour later he walked into the room where Keogh was waiting, threw his hat on the floor, and sat upon the table.

"Billy," he said, in strained and laboring tones, "I've a little money, but there isn't any. If you care to hear about it, here are the editing details. The president and I were looking at the picture. His secretary brought a man from New York for ten thousand dollars and handed it to me. The moment I touched it I went wild. I tore up the picture and threw them on the floor. A workman was repainting the pillars inside the patio. A bucket of blue paint all over the picture. Keogh strode from the room, white-hot. White paid little attention to his resentment. The scorn of Billy Keogh's greater self-secure he had escaped.

In Corallo the excitement was about to burst. The cause of this demonstration of displeasure was the presence in the town of a big, pink, cheeked, and fat man, who was said to be an agent of his government come to clinch the bargain by which the president placed his people in the hands of a foreign power. It was charged that not only had he given away priceless concessions, but that the public debt was to be transferred into the hands of the English, and the custom-houses turned over to them as a guarantee. The long-enduring people had determined to make their protest felt.

On that night, in Corallo and in other towns, their fire found vent. Xelling mobs, mercurial but dangerous, roused the streets. They overthrew the great bronze statue of the president that stood in the centre of the plaza, and hacked it to shapless pieces. Tablets from public buildings, the tablets set there proclaiming the glory of the "Illustrious Liberator." His pictures in the government offices were demolished. The mobs even attacked the Casa Morena, but were driven away by the military, which remained faithful to the executive. All the night terror reigned.

The greatness of Losada was shown by the fact that by noon the next day order was restored, and he was still absolute. He issued proclamations denying positively that any negotiation of any kind had been entered into with England. Sir Stafford Vaughn, the pink-checked Englishman, also declared in placards and in public print that his presence there had no international significance. He was a traitor without guile. In fact (so he stated), he had not even spoken since the president or been in his presence since his arrival.

During this disturbance, White was preparing for his homeward voyage in the steamship that was to sail within two or three days. About noon, Keogh, the restless, took his camera out with the top of spreading the lagging on the roof. The town was now as quiet as if peace had never departed from her perch on the red-tiled roof.

Later on he came out to White on the balcony. He had a lustrous grim, predatory smile on his face.

"Do you know what that is?" he asked, holding up a 4x5 photograph mounted on cardboard.

"Snap-shot of a senorita sitting in the sand-aliteration unintentionally," guessed White, lazily.

"Wrong," said Keogh with shining eyes. "It's a slung-shot. It's a can of dynamite. It's a gold mine. It's a slight draft on your president man for twenty thousand dollars—yes, sir—twenty thousand dollars. This time, and no spoiling the picture. No ethics of art in the way. Art! You with your emely and spreading the lagging on the roof to death with a kodak. Take a look at that."

White took the picture in his hand and gave a long whistle.

"Jove!" he exclaimed, "but wouldn't that stir up a row in town if you let it be seen. How in the world did you get it, Billy?"

"You know that high wall around the balcony? The first thing I saw was up there trying to get a bird's eye view of the town. I happened to see a chick in the corner of the stone and a lot of plaster had hit out. Thinks I, I'll take a peep through to see how Mr. President's cabanas are growing. The first thing I saw was him and this Sir Englishman sitting at a little table about twenty feet away. The table all spread over with documents, and they were hohobobing over them as thick as two pineapples. This was a nice time, and no garden, all private and shady with palms and orange trees, and they had a pair of champagne set by handy in the hands under the back of his head. I raised the machine up to the crack, and pressed the button. I saw the stone and old boys took hands on the deal—you see they shook that way in the picture."

Keogh put on his coat and hat.

"What are you going to do?" asked White.

"Me," said Keogh in a hurt tone, "Why, I'm going to tie a pink ribbon to it and hang it on the what-not, or the picture gallery, or wherever. But while I'm not just figure out what ginger-cake potentate would be likely to want to buy this work of art for his private collection—just to keep it out of circulation."

The sunset was reddening the tops of the coconut palms when Billy Keogh came back from Casa Morena. He nodded to the artist's questioning gaze; and lay down on a cot with his hands under the back of his head.

"I saw him. He paid the money like a little man. They didn't want to let me in first. Yes, that president man is on the plenty-able list. He got a beautiful business system about the way he uses his brains. All I had to do was to hold up the photograph so he could see it, and name the price. He just smiled and walked over to a safe and got the cash. Twenty-one thousand-dollar brand-new United States Treasury notes he laid on the table, like fifty out a dollar and a quarter. Fine notes, too—they crackled with a sound like burning the brush off a ten-acre lot."

"Let's try the feel of one," said White, curiously. "I never saw a thousand-dollar bill." Keogh did not immediately respond.

"Carry," he said, in an absent-minded way, "you think a heap of your art, don't you?"

"More," said White, frankly, "than has been for the financial good of myself and my friends. I've been in some funny deals, Carry, but I've always managed to scramble fair, and match my brains and capital against the other fellows. But when it comes to—well, when you've got the other fellow clench, and the screws on him, and he's got to put up—why, it don't strike me as being a man's game. They've got a name for it, you know. It's—confound you, don't you understand. A fellow feels—it's something like that blamed art of yours and laid well, I tore the photograph up and laid

LEWIS ARRESTED FOR PERJURY

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16.—Tom Lewis, after being on the witness stand for one hour and a half this afternoon, was placed under arrest, charged with perjury in connection with the London bribery case.

In his evidence he gave a straight denial of the stories told by the other witnesses, and in part contradicted his own previous evidence.

Lewis was recalled and asked to be sworn over again. He had been ill when he testified a few days ago, and didn't want to be held responsible for his evidence given then. Col. Denison refused to grant bail without the consent of the crown, and Lewis will spend the night in custody.

Mr. Robbette, K. C., made a determined effort to obtain his release on bail, and his assertion that the case was a political one led to warm triangular argument between the counsel for the crown, the defense and the bench.

FOUND DEAD BODY OF NEW BORN CHILD

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—At seven o'clock this morning Constable Letebe was called to 14 Emery street, and he was there informed that Miss M. L. Lavallee, No. 12 Emery street, had just found the body of a newly-born child.

On proceeding to No. 12 Emery street was shown the body, which was that of a quite newly-born female child, which Miss Lavallee informed him she had found in a small box in an adjoining room. The box was a small one and of the kind used as a receptacle for refuse.

INDUCTION OF REV. GORDON DICKIE

New Pastor of St. Stephen's Church Formally Received—Many Present

The induction of Rev. Gordon Dickie into the pastorate of St. Stephen's church last evening was a very impressive service and was largely attended.

The ceremony was opened with prayer and singing, after which Rev. A. H. Foster read a narration of the late history of the church. He said that in May, 1894, the pastor left for an extended trip through the old country and while away it was learned that his services were desired in another sphere. He returned to the church for a few weeks and then left to take up educational work. The church was then left for four months without a pastor. At the end of that year a settlement was made which had hoped would be satisfactory, but scarcely had the new pastor been accounted to his duties when he left to join another educational institution. This was nearly fourteen months ago. During that fourteen months the congregation had suffered vicissitudes, but without a pastor for that time.

At last it came to the minds of this people that there was a man who might well succeed the able man who had charge of the congregation in the years gone before. They very heartily and unanimously extended a call to Gordon Dickie of St. Stephen.

This call was not based on the abnormal success of candidacy but was sent because of his record, known to all the churches, of his scholarship and ability.

He accepted the call, and he is here tonight to be inducted into the pastorate of this church in worthy succession to the great man who have gone before him.

Upon the conclusion of the service the congregation was invited to the church hall, there to meet the new pastor.

FRENCH SUBMARINE BOAT MEETS TERRIBLE FATE

Disappeared During Plunging Experiments, and it is Believed that Her Crew of Fourteen Men Were Drowned --- Search and Dragging Operations Have Begun.

BISERTA, Tunis, Oct. 16.—It now appears almost certain according to news received at a late hour tonight, that the crew of the Lutin has suffered a horrible fate, similar to that which overtook the crew of the submarine Farfadet here last year. Two torpedo boats and three tugs have gone out in search of the submarine. No news of her recovery has been received.

The Lutin is a single screw steel submarine boat, designed by Mauges and built at Toulon in 1901. She carries a complement of fourteen men. She is 135 feet long, with a diameter of nine feet, six inches. Her displacement is 185 tons and her speed 12.2 knots on the surface, and 8 knots submerged. Her motive power is derived from electric accumulators.

The reported loss of the Lutin recalls the catastrophe of the French submarine boat Farfadet, July 6, 1905, at the entrance to the port of Sid Abdallah, Tunis. Commandant Rotier, of the Farfadet, noticed, at the moment of plunging, that one of the doors was not closed properly and rushed to try to adjust it. He was too late, the water rushing in with force and throwing out the commandant and two men. The boat then sank. Fourteen men perished. The submarine eventually was raised. Her machinery and hull suffered no serious damage.

On March 18, 1904, the British submarine A-1 was run down by a steamer while submerged near Portsmouth. All her crew were lost.

On February 5, 1905, the British submarine A-5 sank off Queenstown, only one of her crew being saved.

A third British submarine sank off Plymouth, June 8, 1905, after an explosion on board. Fourteen of her crew were killed.

CONSERVATIVE PARTY AND LEADERS HON. G. S. SCOTT

Borden and Foster Join in Eulogistic Speeches at Banquet Last Night --- Foster Declares His Record is Clean---Insurance Revelations Practically Ignored by Speakers.

The banquet given to S. D. Scott last evening in the Union Club by the members of the Liberal-Conservative party of the province to express their appreciation of his eminent and faithful services to the cause, was in every way a success. Nearly one hundred guests were present, including Hon. G. S. Scott, leader of the Opposition, and Hon. George E. Foster, his able lieutenant, both of whom made glowing references to Mr. Scott's ability and zeal in the furtherance of Liberal-Conservative principles. Mr. Borden's speech dealt also with political matters and contained some criticism of the government. Mr. Foster, who always makes a speech worth listening to, was in good form. His only allusion, however, to the recent investigations, in which he has occupied the centre of the stage, was a dramatic assertion that he had "tried to keep his record clean" and thought his friends trusted him.

The dinner was an elaborate one and served in excellent style. The guests sat down at eight o'clock and they did not reach the cigar stage until about eleven. The decorations were chaste and artistic. The souvenir was a work of art, containing on the front cover a sketch of Mr. Scott, drawn by Southey, the well known artist. The faithfulness of the likeness was favorably commented upon by all.

In the intervals music was furnished by Harrison's orchestra.

J. D. Hazen, M. P., president of the Liberal-Conservative Association for the City and County of St. John, presided, and to his right was S. D. Scott, the guest of the evening. Hon. G. E. Foster sat on the right of Mr. Scott. Hon. Mr. Borden sat to the left of the chairman. Other guests were Senator Wood and J. J. Stewart of the Halifax Herald. The chairs were occupied by Robert Maxwell, M. P., and C. B. Lockhart.

The dinner over, the chairman proposed the King, which was honored by the rendering of the National Anthem, with vigor.

Letters of regret were read by the secretary, W. H. Harrison, from Dr. G. E. Amoyt and L. Robitaille in Quebec county, caused by the nomination of Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick to the chief justiceship. The other two candidates, Mr. Martineau and Colonel Nelson, withdrew.

EMPLOYEES MAY SUFFER GREATLY

Had Been Contributing to Pension Fund for Years

Ontario Bank Clerks Anxious to be Protected --- Curator and Advisory Board Has Been Appointed

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—While the Ontario Bank's shareholders so far have taken no formal steps towards organization the talk today indicates that some definite action will be taken in the course of a few days.

Individual shareholders are estimating the financial resources of the directors with a view of instituting litigation should nothing of an organized form arise. One director is said to be worth in the neighborhood of a million, another to command a quarter of that amount, while other colleagues were comfortably rated, if not quite so wealthy.

The Ontario Bank employed something like 150 officers and clerks, all of whom have been contributing to the pension fund, some of them for many years. To them this fund has stood in the place of life insurance or endowment policy. They have depended upon it as a source of regular annuity after sickness or old age has compelled them to retire from active service.

These 150 employees will suffer deeply wrong unless the disposal of the Ontario Bank includes the protection of their pension fund.

Directors of the Ontario Bank were in session yesterday with representatives of the Bank of Montreal, and it was decided that in the best interests of the shareholders and as supplementing the agreement with the Bank of Montreal, a curator and advisory board should be appointed by the Canadian Bankers' Association, under the bank act of 1900, to co-operate with the directors of the Ontario Bank. W. E. Staver, of the Bank of Montreal, is to be curator, and Byron F. Walker, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce; D. R. Wilkie, general manager of the Imperial Bank, and Duncan Coulson, general manager of the Bank of Toronto, are to be the advisory board.

THE INSURANCE INVESTIGATION

MacAulay of Sun Life Under Sharp Examination

Would Object to Policy of Policyholders Voting—Their Interest Less Than Those of Shareholders

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—There were several lively passages at the Royal Commission on insurance this morning. J. B. MacAulay and Mr. Shepley bringing out many important points. It transpired that the Sun Life Insurance Company has dealt somewhat extensively in commercial stock in the United States, and whilst much was made of this at the inquiry, Mr. MacAulay strenuously maintained that the company had kept strictly within the letter of the insurance act. Certain transfers on stock in which American corporations were concerned were also booked as having taken place at the end of the year. Mr. Shepley was curious to know as to whether such a time was fixed upon for these changes for the purpose of making the government returns which were then due. Mr. MacAulay repudiated the suggestion and denied also that there was any intention of making a big show, as far as other companies were concerned.

"It was a correct showing," was his terse summing up.

Policy holders interest in companies and their rights and privileges in absolving profits formed the interesting topic at the afternoon session.

While T. B. MacAulay, secretary of the Sun Life, was on the stand, he was asked by Kent, one of the commission, if he would favor policyholders having a right to vote and to appear at annual meetings.

MacAulay answered that he was opposed to the principle allowing policy holders to vote. He considered that when they did vote it would surely be at the request of the agent, and that the only occasion which they would want to come to the annual meeting would be one on which some enterprising agent who aspired to the position of manager would gather his friends and bring them along to run things. He cited an instance of how this was done in Philadelphia and the management of the company ousted for the sake of the agent who brought policy holders to the meeting by the trainload.

Replying to this, Kent suggested that there might arise occasions when it would be beneficial to dispose of the management, and if unable to vote they would be powerless to do so.

To this MacAulay replied by giving his opinion of the ideal management of an insurance company. The directors should possess a fair proportion of the stock and should not be placed in office upon insufficient holdings. They should not have absolute control of the stock. By this means, while they would be in possession of an amount of stock sufficient to control affairs ordinarily they would not be in absolute control, and could be turned out if their policy was bad. The policy holder's interest he considered to be less than the shareholder's, because the latter had his investment behind him, and so became entitled to manage the concern.

Kent said that he would require from MacAulay that the latter should explain himself from his views of shareholder and come before the commission prepared to furnish an answer from the policyholders standpoint. Kent said that this answer might be given any time before MacAulay's testimony had concluded.

The remainder of MacAulay's evidence was confined to a discussion with Shepley of the company's method of valuing its investments. Some of the stocks had been written down and others up, just as their value had increased or decreased.

Tomorrow, Shepley intimated, he would examine MacAulay as to the company's investments.

McARTHUR AND McVEY OBTAIN $45,000 FOR EXTRAS

Their Last Estimates on the Waterworks Have Been Filed—Engineer Barbour is Now Considering Them ---There is a Serious Leak in Their Section.

It was intimated in the Sun some time ago that the claims for extras on Messrs. McArthur and McVey's sections of the water works extensions would amount to upwards of $50,000. The claims were submitted to Engineer Barbour about three weeks ago and Mayor Sears has been informed from Boston that the amount is between $40,000 and $45,000. The contractor George McArthur when asked last night confirmed the statement that the claims for extras were approximately $45,000. The contractors stopped work six weeks ago, but their last estimates have not yet been passed. These amount to about 16 per cent of the contract. The matter will probably be discussed at the next meeting of the water and sewerage board.

At the board also the matter is likely to come up of the leak which occurred in Lake Fitzgerald and through which the engineers say a large amount of water is escaping, although enough to lessen the pressure. This is of course in the sections of Messrs. McArthur and McVey. Engineer Hunt said some time ago that it would be possible to make some repairs in the future from inside the pipe by turning off the water. As it is at present, however, the dried lake is being flooded and the cranberry crop on it is being lost. Lake Latimer is at present quite low, although steadily rising, but when it reaches its normal level the pressure will become greater, and it is feared that the leak in Lake Fitzgerald will be even more noticeable.

WAR AGAINST HINDOO INVASION

British Columbia Will Ask the Dominion Parliament to Pass Restrictive Measures

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16.—British Columbia has determined to wage war against Hindoo invasion. Two hundred more of these cheap laborers arrived on the Athenian. A large number are en route on the Empress of Japan, and the Montague is to bring 100. In fact, there is a large colony waiting at Hong Kong to take ship for Vancouver. There is no law to keep them out, but the province will demand of the Dominion parliament that it pass one at the session to be held at Ottawa next month.

H. G. MacPherson, M. P., has already started a campaign in this direction; in fact, he has just returned from the federal cabinet and states that the Dominion government is so alive to the menace that it has decided to introduce restrictive legislation. It is pointed out, however, that by the time parliament gets to work the accomplished damage will be done. It is even declared that the companies which are figuring on large railroad contracts have hurried these Orientals here, and will continue to have them brought in until the law is changed, so that when active railway construction starts next year there will be no dearth of cheap labor.

When the guest of the evening rose to his feet to reply he was given a magnificent ovation, which must have warmed his heart. He was pronounced a jolly good fellow with repeated enthusiasm. Mr. Scott began by humorously deprecating the many good things that had been said about him by the press of this city. He hoped they would never be called upon to swear to them. He confessed to being rather vain, and would accept as deliberate compliments as deliberately exposed facts. He deeply appreciated the kindly feelings that prompted these appreciative utterances, however, even if they were overdone. On occasions like this it was not all pleasure, as he knew that it was a sign that the ties of long association are to be severed. He saw around him many men with whom he had worked side by side in many conflicts. St. John had been almost the only home he had known, except the hillside farm where he was born. Here he came as a young man with his wife, and here his children were born. Here he had met many noble characters and formed enduring friendships. They did not come so readily to him as to some, but he thought they were just as long as life. He had seen the development of the winer port, and as a humble taxpayer had shared his share of the sacrifice. (Laughter.)

He referred in feeling terms to his association with Mr. Thorne, which had been particularly close and intimate. His feeling for Mr. Thorne he could adequately sum up by saying that if any time in the future he became editor of a party paper owned by the party to which Mr. Thorne was such a man as Mr. Thorne as president.

GEO. W. McNERNEY.

G. W. McNERNEY said that the Conservative party was one of great promise and glorious achievement. It was a party which had done great things in the past, but which remained to be done. The toast which he had proposed he would couple with two names, that of their honest and far-seeing leader, Hon. Mr. Borden (loud cheer), and he would couple it also with the name of his old friend, Hon. Mr.
