ONDFELLOWS GRAND LODGE MEETS HERE NEXT MONTH

Important Business to Come Up at Annual Gathering—Hundreds of Delegates Will be Present for Rebekah Assembly, Encampment, and Grand Lodge.

St. John seldom gets through a year without having some big convention. This summer the principal gathering here is to be the session of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows which takes place during the second week of August. At least four hundred delegates from outside points will be present—probably a larger number—and from the present outlook the meetings will be of considerable importance. On Tuesday August 10th, the Rebekah assembly will meet in annual session, the business lasting throughout the entire day. On that evening Jewel Rebekah Lodge of this city will exemplify the Rebekah degree. The local members are also arranging for a big reception to be held on Wednesday evening, to which Grand Lodge delegates will be invited. The Grand Encampment will also meet on Tuesday, concluding its business in forenoon and afternoon sessions. There will be a certain amount of committee work as well to be transacted, in preparation for the opening of Grand Lodge on Wednesday morning. This latter body finds itself confronted this year with a rather important programme, one of the principal items being the amendments to the constitution. Two sessions of Grand Lodge will be held on Wednesday, in the morning and evening, and three sessions on Thursday. On Wednesday afternoon the visitors will be entertained on an excursion on one of the river steamers. Committees of the St. John lodges have been at work for some time in preparation for this big gathering, and all the plans are now arranged. The meetings are to be held in the Keith assembly rooms.

NOW IT IS UP TO THE WEATHER MAN

Many Attractions for First General Half Holiday

Suburban Resorts and Parks Planning for a Big Day—Other Attractions in the City.

The first general half holiday of the season takes place today. However, the weather men is causing anxiety, as thunder storms are predicted. Many attractions have been planned for the day, and it is hoped the rainfall will not interfere with them. The Westfield Outing Association has arranged for a busy day. A number of owners of crafts intend to entertain their friends for a sail on the river. The race for the afternoon will be between Class B, motor boats. A large list of entries has been received and a keen contest is anticipated. The race will be the first in the series for the Smalley cup. Millidville should attract a large number, especially of yachtsmen. Many are planning a sail on the river. Preparations have also been made for the accommodation of large crowds at Seaside and Rockwood Parks. All the attractions are in full swing at both resorts and a banner day is anticipated. There will also be a number of attractions for those desiring to remain in the city. The moving picture houses have prepared special programmes and Collier's shows will be the attraction at the Victoria Rink in the afternoon and evening. In the event of fine weather there will be three baseball matches for the fans. The Clippers and Marabos will clash this afternoon and evening on the Victoria grounds. In the inter-Society League this evening the Ancient Order of Hibernian team will meet the St. Peter's and a fast match should be the result.

WILL GIVE OPERATORS ONE MORE CHANCE

To Come to Terms Before Strike is Called

Officials of U. M. W. A. Lay Down Their Ultimatum—If Mine Owners Do Not Respond Strike Will be Called

SYDNEY, July 3.—In a letter to the coal operators of the various collieries in Nova Scotia, President MacDougal of the U. M. W. A., has called a conference for yesterday afternoon with representatives of the U. M. W. A. to discuss the situation and to adjust differences existing at the collieries between the men and their helpers, but only one of the representatives appeared. This was W. A. MacKay, general manager of the MacKay mines, Little Bras D'Or. It is understood that an opportunity will be given to the operators to meet the executive of the U. M. W. A. on Monday, but if their invitation is again ignored a strike will be called, and work at the collieries closed down. The officers of the U. M. W. A. are confident that the great majority of the men who still belong to the P. W. A. will come out on strike with the U. M. W. members, while officials and members of the P. W. A. state that every member of their union will remain at work, and that there are sufficient of them to keep the collieries of the Dominion Coal Co. working. Your correspondent had an interview with District President MacDougal, of the U. M. W., and was given briefly the result of the business transaction. The executive board and the proposed attitude of the U. M. W. in regard to the impending strike. A resolution passed by the convention was in effect that the district executive board should request the operators to meet them on Monday, July 5th, for the purpose of coming to some agreement in regard to the proposed difficulty and if they did not comply with the requests that they be authorized to inaugurate a strike on Tuesday, July 6th; and also that the executive be empowered to treat with other companies and corporations in the same manner if deemed necessary. The demands of U. M. W. are for a higher scale of wages, shorter hours and better conditions generally at the collieries.

TWO MONTHS OF NEW SALOON LAW SHOW BUT FEW CHANGES

EXPLAINS THE RECENT ANARCHIST OUTRAGE

Indian Assassins Have Headquarters in London.

Have Preached Doctrine of Death for British Officials—Well Organized—Assassinations Will Continue.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Tribune's London correspondent cables that a veteran of the Indian service has just given him a trenchant explanation of the assassinations of Sir Curzon Wylie and Dr. LaLaca, which have started London. The Indian anarchists have changed their base of operations from the historic peninsula to the capital of the empire. One of their leaders, who has been educated at Oxford and thoroughly habituated to English manners, has formed a training school for assassins and has provided them with a manual of murder in the form of a notorious periodical. He has proclaimed the cult of assassination in letters to "the Times" as well as in the Indian sociologist which has been printed at a London address, although he himself has found it prudent to boat a retreat to Paris. Sir Curzon Wylie after his protracted service in India was employed by Lord Morley to counteract these pernicious influences and to attempt to bring the large body of Indian students to a saner state of mind respecting the relations between England and the subject races in the Orient. The anarchists promptly decided to assassinate him as a warning to their own countrymen that murder must not be interfered with. The student who killed him and his Paris companion in cold blood was a delegated agent in the conspiracy for making British rule in India extra hazardous to officials. He can be hanged more or less promptly but the mischief will go on and nothing can be done to prevent it. The Indian students live, but this belated activity will not counteract the indifference and apathy with which they have regarded the systematic instigation to murder by anarchist periodicals. It is more useful than the usual conviction and execution of a murderer who is more or less of a lunatic, but that is what is never attempted whether an American president or a humane Indian administrator is foully murdered.

Bars on Side Streets Benefit—Still Sufficient Privacy in Most Places—Soft Drinks Being Boomed to Attract New Trade.

Some of the saloons which are situated off the public streets have prospered since the new regulations have been put in force and by this time the business has begun to adjust itself to the new conditions. The loss of their window screens has injured the trade of some bars and benefited others to an equal extent. Those on public streets whose interiors are well lighted have shown a slight falling off in business, especially in the day time. Some of the patrons who at first were scared off by the new regulations have got accustomed to the new rule and are back again and very few seem to have been scared away permanently. There is, perhaps, less tendency to loaf around the bars. There is probably no falling off in the amount of liquor consumed on ordinary days, but it is not done in such a leisurely manner around the bars.

A couple of months have now elapsed since the new saloon regulations have been put in force and by this time the business has begun to adjust itself to the new conditions. The loss of their window screens has injured the trade of some bars and benefited others to an equal extent. Those on public streets whose interiors are well lighted have shown a slight falling off in business, especially in the day time. Some of the patrons who at first were scared off by the new regulations have got accustomed to the new rule and are back again and very few seem to have been scared away permanently. There is, perhaps, less tendency to loaf around the bars. There is probably no falling off in the amount of liquor consumed on ordinary days, but it is not done in such a leisurely manner around the bars.

The efforts of the proprietors to make their places attractive in spite of the new law has led to some rather peculiar devices. The results that could be obtained by the manipulation of the lighting effects was seen early in the game and pretty full advantage has been taken of this method of making patrons as inconspicuous as possible. With glaring lights in the windows at night and heavy awnings outside in the daytime the interior is in some cases made as almost as private as with the old screens. While the law stated that there must be no screens in the windows it did not specify the number of windows that a bar should have. In several bars advantages of this kind have been taken and windows have been removed and the aperture walled up, leaving one half of the interior free from the gaze of prying eyes. In other cases the glass panels in the doors have been removed and wooden ones substituted in order to make the inside secluded as possible. Many of the bars still retain their private rooms, where patrons may be sequestered in comfort.

Another feature which has even more marked is the effort being made by some of the bars to cater to the crowd who prefer something milder than alcoholic beverages. Besides the revenue that may be derived from this line by drawing patrons who would not otherwise enter a saloon, it would tend to make the bars more attractive for certain individuals if the public could be impressed with the idea that every man who enters a saloon does not do so for the purpose of securing a dose of any of the many brands of intoxicating drinks. One saloon has installed a soda water fountain and is serving fruit juices and making a specialty of light wines. Another has hung mineral water advertising signs all over his shop and is making quite a showing of being the headquarters for the soft drink trade.

In spite of the fact that the saloons are closed on Saturdays at five o'clock the supply of Saturday evening drinks still continues unabated.

Another of the new regulations do not seem to have materially affected either the saloon keepers or their patrons.

CHURCH BOX ROBBERS ARE ON TRIAL TODAY

Barry Grogan and Wm. Rogers, the two lads from Boston, who were arrested a couple of weeks ago and charged with robbing the poor boxes of several Catholic churches and emptying the till in the Maritime Restaurant, were brought before Judge Forbes this morning at eleven o'clock under the Speedy Trials Act. As the evidence against them is absolutely convincing, it was expected that their sentences would be fairly heavy ones.

THE DEATH ROLL

Nine burial permits were issued at the Board of Health offices during the past week. The names of the deceased are as follows:
Harold Warden, 145 1/2 Pine street, aged 2 years.
Mary E. Salter, 181 Princess street, aged 62 years.
Silvia V. Russell, 49 Waterloo street, aged 3 months.
Naomi Churchill, 38 Brooks street, aged 4 months.
May Egan, Miter Misericordia Home, aged 77 years.
John F. Goodwin, 27 Wright street, aged 28 years.
Mary Estella Smith, 137 Guilford street, aged 62 years.
Gordon Gerald Edwards, 98 St. James street, (W. E.) aged 1 year 6 months.
Thomas W. Burns, 292 Main street, aged 49 years.

The causes of death were as follows: Inflammation, 2; arterio-sclerosis, 2; pneumonia, 1; tuberculosis, 1; heart disease, 1; septic pneumonia, 1; carcinoma of intestines, 1.

There were twenty-three births during the week. Only ten of them were females. Twenty-two marriages were recorded.

LONG REACH SPORTS ARRANGE FOR RACES

Little Regatta Planned for Brown's Flats—Other Meets to be Held Later.

The Long Reach Outing Association are planning to conduct a series of water sports on the river during the present season. It is proposed to hold three meets and a number of fast oarsmen will be on hand to compete. The season will be opened on Saturday, July 17. The events are as follows: Canoe race for men, double scull, skiff boats, double scull for boys under 15; swimming race for men, swimming race for boys, ladies' pair-oared race. Handicaps will be allowed in all the events. The races will take place at Brown's Flats and will doubtless attract a large number. The entries will close on Wednesday, July 14, with R. A. Sinclair, 37 Dock street.

DECREASE IN REVENUE DUE TO THE DRY WAVE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 3.—The decrease of the business to brewers and distillers through the dry wave is indicated in the report of the local inter-revenue officers of the year ending June 30, this report showing a reduction of the revenue amounting to $22,000 for that period. Practically the entire loss is due to the falling off in the output of beer.

ITALIAN PRISONER NOT PETROSINO'S MURDERER

MEXICO CITY, July 3.—It is denied here that Dominico Canitti, the Italian arrested here on June 24, is being held as suspect for the murder of Detective Jos. Petrosino, who was killed in a slaying. It is said that the man has been identified as the one wanted for the crime of killing one of his narons in Italy six years ago. He was condemned to life imprisonment after his conviction, but managed to escape.

ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE

SANTA BARBARA, July 3.—A sharp earthquake shock of short duration apparently from north to south, was felt here shortly after 11 o'clock last night, but damage was done.

BIG ROOSTER STOPS FAST EXPRESS TRAIN

Drawn Under Engine by Suction, it Sets Off Air Brake.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 3.—Bowling along at a rate of sixty miles an hour en route to New York, the Reading-New Jersey Central Railroad's fast express train, "Queen of the Valley," came to a sudden stop between Bethlehem and Freeburg this morning, following the application by some agency of a mystery, of the emergency air-brake under the locomotive. With such abruptness did the train stop that the passengers were thrown about in their seats. By the time they had an opportunity to leave the cars, Engineer Tripper found the cause of the trouble. An eight-pound Plymouth Rock rooster, scratching along the track, had been drawn under the engine by the suction of the train with such force as to sever its air connections and stop the train. The crew took the bird with them as a memento of the first train hold-up that was ever pulled off by a chicken.

WIFE'S DREAM SAVES HER HUSBAND'S LIFE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 3.—Mrs. Charles Hager, wife of a railroad employe on the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, probably saved her husband from death or serious injury by a dream she had a few nights ago. She dreamed that she saw him in a had wreck, and that he was dreadfully injured. The dream made such an impression upon her that she told him, and asked him to exercise unusual care for the next several days, said she believed that there was to be an accident to his train, and she might escape if he kept well to the rear of it. Hager was injured less than any other man or the crew. The engineer and fireman were fatally hurt.

GARDNER THREW UP THE SPONGE IN THIRD ROUND

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 3.—Gus Gardner's seconds threw up the sponge in the third round of a ten-round bout with Paddy Lavin last night. Gardner was not in condition. Jimmy Clabby was scheduled to meet Lavin, but had injured his shoulder and Gardner was substituted.

WILL TELL DETAILS OF STARTLING OUTRAGE

Girl Attacked in Hotel—Almost Forced into Life of Shame by Alleged Friends—Charge Against Her Trumped Up

CHICAGO, July 3.—Ella Gingles, a lacemaker, charged with grand larceny of lace from Agnes Barrette, her former employer, took the witness stand in her own defense in Judge Brant's court yesterday. Many women prominent in church and philanthropic work, crowded the court room to hear her. The girl was taken step by step from the time of her birth in a forth island 13 years ago to the day when she was charged with the theft of lace. She declared that this charge against her was manufactured and when she left the stand her attorneys promised that they would see to it that she go into "all the details of the alleged attack upon her in the Wellington Hotel, where she was suddenly seized in a bathroom and how she was almost forced into a life of shame by women friends of her alleged friends. Men for whom these women were acting would be named, it was said, that she went from Ireland to Montreal alone two years ago. After working a few months in Canada she came to Chicago and rented a room in a boarding house. She worked as a chambermaid during the day and at night made lace. She said she was a struggling unsophisticated country girl. Then Miss Barrette entered her life and trouble began. Instances of stealing lace from Miss Barrette the girl said. Miss Barrette and Mrs. Cecelia Kenyon, who died suddenly a few days ago, came to her room at night and ransacked her belongings taking her money and her watch and little things she made in her childhood. She told her story in a low, steady voice, her blue eyes filling with tears at times. Among the organizations that have taken the girl's side of the case are the Women's Temperance Union, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Social Economy Society, the Socialist Women of the United States, the Irish Choral Society and the Catholic Women's League.

WARSHIP IN RACE TO SAVE SAILOR'S LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—To save the life of a sick bluejacket the cutter South Dakota is racing to this port from Central America at full speed. An operation which cannot be performed on board ship is necessary if the man's life is to be saved. The news was conveyed in wireless request from the warship to federal quarantine authorities of this port to make the inspection of the incoming warship as brief as possible, as she had a sick sailor on board whom she must rush at once to the naval hospital for a critical operation.

LEG CUT OFF WITHOUT HIS KNOWLEDGE; SUES

LABOR SAYS DOCTOR AMPUTATED MORE OF LIMB THAN HE AGREED TO. MISSOULA, Mich., July 2--Because his left leg was amputated seven and one-half inches above the ankle, without his knowledge and consent, Frank Carlson, a laborer on the Tait tunnel, has filed in the District Court two suits for damages, aggregating $30,776, against Dr. L. J. Coria, a physician in the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Hospital at Tait. The complaint alleges that after an accident last November, in which his left leg was broken above the ankle and the foot injured, Carlson submitted to an operation, with the understanding that only the front portion of the foot was to be amputated, when, as a matter of fact, the greater portion of the leg below the knee was removed.

BOX FULL OF FLESH FOUND ON THE WABASH RAILWAY.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 2--Section men on the Wabash railway at Stamford have found what is believed to be the dismembered part of a human body, cut into small pieces, wrapped in paper and packed in a wooden box. The case was found lying beside the rails of an unrequented stretch of track, and the contents are in such an advanced state of decay that it is difficult to determine whether they are human or not. Alex. McIntyre, the Wabash operator advised Chief Main of this city, who thought it as well to hold the box at the spot where it was found, until it is decided whether to hold an examination or not. So far the coroner has not been notified.

BY-ELECTION TO BE HELD ON JULY 20

The election campaign for the county seat vacant through the appointment of Hon. H. A. McKeown to the supreme court bench will be a short one. But eighteen days remain until polling, which is fixed for Tuesday, the 20th. This will bring nominations on the Tuesday previous, July 13. Fortunately both parties have their candidates nominated, and all their plans well advanced, so the quick campaign will be more of a blessing than otherwise. Organization meetings will be held by the opposition on Monday evening throughout the county, when Liberal workers will complete their plans. Small meetings of the government party were held last night at Fairville and Milford and were addressed by Messrs. J. B. M. Baxter, J. W. V. Lawlor, Miles Agar and the candidate, Mr. Mosher.

SO EASY TO GET INTO

Unlike the old-time over-the-head shirt, this easy-to-get-into (and out of) shirt will make dressing a pleasure and will fit far snugger besides. You will never know real shirt comfort until you buy a NEGLIGEE Coat Shirt. Open all the way down the front--launders better--lives longer--doesn't pucker at the waistband--yet costs not a bit more if you insist upon getting this Brand.

PHYSICIAN SEES GIRL'S PICTURE AND HASTENS TO ORIGINAL HOME

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 2--A stunning photograph of Miss Rebecca Schugar won the heart of Dr. Emmanuel Friedman, of Denver, Col., and they will be married on July 4, at the young woman's home here. The photograph was at the home of Miss Schugar, and when the physician saw it he declared he must see the original. This was more than a year ago. About five months ago Dr. Friedman planned to meet Miss Schugar, who is the daughter of H. J. Schugar, a well-known resident of this city, 22 years old, and was employed for a time as private secretary in the office of the Pittsburgh Steel Company. Dr. Friedman, who is 20 years her senior, has made frequent trips from Denver to Pittsburgh in the past few months, and Miss Schugar had many suitors, the physician had an uphill battle to win her. For six weeks he has been in Pittsburgh constantly.

THE FREE-FOR-ALL

The free-for-all started with Silk Patchen at the pole and the brown mare was never headed. Simmasse kept close to her wires, but was sure to get there. Louise 25 and Miss Cappy fought for third place some distance in the rear. The second heat in this race was the best of the day. The four got away together and continued to bunch throughout. Louise 25 and Miss Cappy second, then Simmasse stopped into second and coming into home struck Louise 25. Louise 25 took Simmasse's place and came on even terms with Silk Patchen. The judge called the race a draw. Simmasse a half length behind and Miss Cappy about the same distance in the rear. Silk Patchen won the third heat, beating out Louise 25. In this heat Simmasse broke badly, but was going beautifully from start to finish. This gave Simmasse two heats and Louise 25 one. Louise 25 and Miss Cappy were on even footing with Silk Patchen. Simmasse was now looked upon as a sure winner, but horse racing is uncertain. In the next heat Simmasse, although maintaining lead, led to the home stretch, was beaten under the wire by Louise 25. Silk Patchen in these heats could not maintain the pace set.

DAY'S EVENTS

The events today consisted of the 221 trot and pace, in which there were nine starters, the 217 trot and pace with four starters, and the free-for-all, also with four. In the 221 Cecil Mack had the pole in the first heat. The horses charged their positions several times, but coming into the homestretch Warren F. forged to the front and won out by several lengths. In the second heat Warren F. led from start to finish. It was a pretty race, the horses keeping well bunched all the way through. The third and final heat was a repetition of the second. Warren F., though strongly pressed, reached the wire half a length ahead of the favorite, Alcy Bell. In the 217 class Bard Allerton won all three heats hardly, never being headed. Barline and Peachera showed up late, and though at times they made allerton stop the pace was entirely too much for them.

FROM DIANA'S DIARY.

As an Amateur Hawkshaw, Miss Dillpickles Gets on the Trail of a Kidnapped Chee-ild.

By FRED SCHAEFER.
I had another narrow escape from finding the lost darling. The description said he had squirrel teeth, and I saw a tawny darter girl of 6 on Main street and thought she might be Chesterion disguised as a boy. I led her into police headquarters followed by sixteen camera men and others, but was stung again. She was a boy and there wasn't no reward for her. In fact, she's as big a mystery as Chesterion Quince Dubarry himself, because NO ONE CLAIMS HER.

It looks like Chesterion Quince Dubarry is not found unless he is located. Last evening the father left $60,000 in actual money in an empty tomato can on vacant lot as the ransom, but there was so many tomato cans lying round that the kidnappers couldn't find the right one, although the authorities lent them a locomotive headlight to hunt it. So the child isn't restored yet.

AMUSEMENTS.

NICKEL'S FEATURES FOR MONDAY.
This afternoon and tonight the Nickel will wind up a highly successful week with Holmes and Buchanan in "Hoo-on." Miss Evans in her farewell ballad, the London Zoo, two dramas and a comedy.

TINY WILLIAMS FAREWELL AT THE UNIQUE NEW SINGER MONDAY.
This will be a big day for the Unique, that covey of little singers, Tiny Williams, who has sung herself into the hearts of many thousands since coming to St. John, will say farewell to her friends in her two biggest song successes of the engagement, and another announcement of interest is the fact that beginning Monday the Unique will introduce a character singer who is capable of giving our now somewhat blasé public a real surprise. Don't miss her opening number Monday night; it's a winner. Today's picture programme includes five good subjects.

AT THE PRINCESS MONDAY.
The management of the Princess announce that they have booked a big special feature act for next week in J. W. Cooper, America's only variety act. Mr. Cooper will introduce some new feats. Rollins and Curran are next on the bill. They come ready equipped to retain Jordan and Gervaise for another week. These wonderful vocalists have sung their way into the hearts of the music lovers of this city. Jordan and Gervaise will have a complete change of programme for Monday. Complete vaudeville programme Monday night.

AT THE HAPPY HALF HOUR.
Another splendid show greeted patrons of the H. H. last evening. Miss Berlin sang The Message of the Violet from the Prince of Pilsen, and Signor Escanti, by request, repeated Good-Bye, Sweetheart, Good-Bye, and of course, both singers were given their usual hearty applause. The pictures as promised were all new. A War Time Sweetheart is a picture dealing with the war between the North and South, full of stirring incidents and tells a charming love story. A Guest's Freedom, and The Elopement are two excellent comedies. Parents can send their children with perfect safety to today's matinee—lots of room for them. Last time for this show tonight.

EMPIRE THEATRE.
Baby Bloss again last evening scored a tremendous hit in her rendition of "Captain Willie Brown." Chorus after chorus was repeated last evening to satisfy the numerous admirers of this very clever juvenile performer. Monday Miss Bloss will introduce a complete specialty song and dance. The pictures for today are "The Young Martyr," comedy; "The Little Violinist," pathetic; "The Test of Friendship" and "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere," two very clever dramas. A special matinee today at 2 p. m. for school children, 5 cents all in. Cool and cosy, large and comfortable.

"John," Mrs. Murgump began, thoughtfully, "I've been thinking a lot about you lately."

"Something nice?" questioned hubby, with hopeful inflection.

"Do you know," she went on, quite ignoring the bid for flattery, "that since we have lived here up the country and you have gone backwars and forwards to the city every day you have seen absolutely nothing of the hills?"

"I don't see how that can be helped," replied Murgump. "When I leave in the morning they are not up and when I come back in the evening they're in."

"Yes," asserted the patient wife, "that is so, but you might at least send them a souvenir postcard now and then."

WARSHIPS AT ROCKLAND.
ROCKLAND, Me., July 2.—The U.S. battleships Georgia and New Jersey arrived here late today from Hampton Roads. Next Tuesday Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, commanding the second division of the Atlantic fleet, will bring his flag on the Georgia and the ships will sail for Provincetown late that afternoon. The torpedo experimental ship Montgomery, which arrived here yesterday, has been ordered to Belfast for the 4th of July. She will sail tomorrow.

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

The Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated on its public-spirited offer to give free swimming lessons to all boys irrespective of whether or not they are members of the association.

Surrounded as we are by water on almost every side of us, the boys of the city are forever playing around boats and in other ways seeking enjoyment on the beaches and in the rivers.

Providence is certainly to be congratulated on the success attending the opening of this season's circuit racing. The three days' sport at the capital city has seldom been equalled in this province.

We don't hear very much about Sir Charles Tupper giving a half-million every little while to Canadian institutions. Yet one might imagine that now when he is approaching the land where no money standard exists, the former Great I Am of the conservative party might return a few cents to the people out of whom he made his pile.

THE OLD TOWN.

Back in the town where you were born, Somewhere you know, Life runs on as it used to run. In peaceful, quiet flow.

The fellows that you used to know, Bill Jones is dead, St. Hicks is locked in prison so they say.

Old Burns have quit the place, When on a visit hardly can you see a friendly face.

The girls, those pretty little dears That often broke your heart, Grow daughters and some perhaps.

And if you meet an ancient who Remembers you perchance, Remembers you perchance, Remembers you perchance.

What to take when you go to the country for a few weeks in the summer, is well worth knowing.

My advice to every simple person going to the country would be to "Be sure and take your manners with you."

Don't think because your friends live in the country they know less than you do. They don't know very much, but it is putting too strongly to say, or think, they don't know as much as you do.

So pack up your "thank you," "beg pardon," "if you please" and other essentials to good breeding.

If you are a lady and you meet a gentleman in his shirt sleeves and in a shocking old hat, and he raises it to you, don't stare and stare, for he is always "catch on" when you giggle, and your giggle seems to us sometimes to be silly.

If you are a young man just "fresh" from college, when you go out in the country pack away with your text books your philosophy and science, and especially your "agnosticism."

You just got it this last year and it is a great get of yours, "agnosticism" is (Which you hardly ever spell right) Don't take it on your vacation; country air won't cure with it.

If you do take it out for an airing, you will very likely meet some shrewd old farmer who will know at a glance how weak and wily you are and when you begin telling him that the Bible is all wrong and you convey the idea that you could write a better one, he will tell you that he had "nosellism" when he had the mumps and measles, when he was a kid. But he got over it, and you will, if you are careful.

Another Woman Cured. Christiana, Tenn.—"I suffered from a very bad case of gonorrhea so that at times I thought I could not live, and my nerves were in a dreadful condition. Lydia E. CAT'S HAIR TROUBLES THEIR MARRIED LIFE

Ohio Man Sued for Divorce Files Answer That Sets the Court Raring.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 2.—William H. Hudson, sued for divorce and alimony by Catherine E. Hudson, cood at the Union Bethel, filed an answer and cross-petition in the insolvency court which is one of the most amusing legal documents recorded in the annals of the law here.

During the time they lived together, he says, a "tom cat" she owned got all the affection she had. She insisted that the cat occupy the bed with them, and at nights she hugged and kissed it, contrary to his wishes. He protested, but it was of no avail, as she told him the cat was "a nobler animal than he and cleaner."

He complained, but she said he was mean and accused him of pulling hairs from her whiskers and throwing them into their food. Such, however, was not the truth, he says, and he proved that by showing the microscope that the vitals were "grey," same as the fur on the coat of the Maltese cat, but the hairs of his wife were black.

Finally, he says, he lost his temper one day, and kicked the cat from the house, whereupon she was so angry that she claims she changed the locks on the door to keep him out and get a warrant for his arrest, charging him with "abuse of family."

Mr. Hudson makes these further complaints: He avers she is a socialist and woman's suffragist. He says she went out acting very smart to meetings of these parties and then, worst of all, returned with several of her books and read them to him, continuing to debate in a loud voice their socialist and anti-social views until late in the night, so that he could not get a wink of sleep.

One of his wife's favorite subjects was "Should we not cast the stone to the sphere?" Another in which he declares she was chief orator was "Why not woman rule both man and world?" He also complains that they kept him awake night after night debating "The theme and theories of Stanley E. Powell," especially on his utterances and lecture upon the subject, "Palaces and Mistakes in Women."

For all these and other less remarkable items, the court has granted a divorce to the plaintiff.

MADE WELL AND STRONG By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

SCHOOL CHILDREN WITH GOOD TEETH ARE FEW

New York Health Department Finds Only Fourteen Out of Five Hundred.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Bureau of Municipal Research made public today the results of recent investigations, and if the evils disclosed are remedied it will put into the pockets of New York dentists something like $50,000. The investigations have had to do with the teeth of New York school children who have sought permission to go to work this summer and have been taken at the Department of Health by the instigation of Miss Dorothy Whitney, acting in behalf of the Junior League, and Charles Loring Brace for the Children's Aid Society.

The actual work of examining the teeth of fifty boys and girls has been done by Dr. Wallace T. Van Winkle, under the supervision of Dr. Josephine Baker, head of the division of child hygiene, and Dr. S. Merritt, dentist in charge of the Children's Aid Society's dental clinic.

The children were taken as they got their work papers, or "mercantile papers," and their ages range from 14 years to 12. Of 509 children, only 14 were found to have sound teeth, and these needed to be cleaned.

The girls have somewhat more than a fair proportion of bad teeth.

FATHER FAINTS WHEN TRIPLETS ARE BORN

Was Head of a Family of Seven and Earns Only Ten Dollars a Week.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Triplets were born in New York yesterday, but they brought no rejoicing to the humble little home to which the stock carried them. They came to a family which already numbered seven, and the only means whereby the ten mouths are to be fed is the meagre wage of $10 a week earned by the father.

Mrs. Rachel Platt is the mother of the triplets. Her husband has charge of a laundry delivery station, and in two stuffy, poorly furnished rooms he struggles to keep his family together.

When the father was first informed that his wife was having triplets, he rushed into the street in a hysterical condition, and it took half an hour to get him back to the room where he was not only dozing, but trembling, a father, he collapsed in a faint.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the summer months are to small children. Infantile diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are alarmingly frequent at this time and too often a little life is lost after a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house saves her child's life.

MINING PROMOTER MITCHELL WILL FIGHT EXTRADITION

Declines to Return Voluntarily to Canada to Stand Trial for Alleged $300,000 Swindle.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The extradition proceedings against William S. Mitchell, the mining promoter arrested in Ontario for $300,000 on the charge of obtaining $5,000 under false pretences from Alexander C. Ross, M. P. of Canada, were begun today before United States Commissioner Alexander.

Mr. C. E. Littlefield, Mitchell's counsel, declared that a warrant of extradition was being used improperly to embarrass his client in litigation which he had instituted against a London banking firm in the State Supreme Court involving a mining deal in Canada. The accused man was arrested, he said, as he was about to prosecute Ross, on the charge of fraudulently representing to Alexander C. Ross and others that he had obtained an option on mining property in the Province of Ontario for $120,000 from the owner. This, it is alleged, was false, but Mitchell did subsequently obtain an option on the same property for $50,000.

Mr. Littlefield contended that when Mitchell obtained the option on the mining property, which is described as the "Sinclear claim No. 2434," he was not acting as agent for the syndicate headed by Ross and that the difference between the option price of $50,000 and the price of $120,000, for which Mitchell offered the property to the syndicate, represented his client's profit in the operation.

Several witnesses testified that Mitchell tried to dispose of the stock for $120,000 and $100,000 in the stock of the corporation to be organized for the taking over of the mining property prior to the deal with Ross. The hearing will be resumed on July 5.

The papers had remarked that France was the bank of the world. "I believe it," said a returned traveler, "it deposited a year's money there last month."

SUSSEX TROOPS PREPARING FOR SUNDAY PARADE

CAMP SUSSEX, July 2.—Things are very quiet in camp today. The different companies are being put through their regular drill, preparatory to the annual march past and church parade. Each day new companies of red coats march out to the batts for target practice. Each soldier is required to make four points before he is entitled to his efficiency pay.

So far there has been no complaint about the food issued. The bread this year is much better than last year's, and much credit is due to Master Baker Carlos and his men for the quality of this article.

A baseball league has been formed by the Y. M. C. A. people and games will be played each evening. The first game of the series took place last evening between the army service corps and the 19th field battery, in which the former were victorious by a score of 11-3. This evening the 74th and the A. M. C. will try conclusions.

The sanitary officers are kept busy looking after the grounds. Strict orders have been issued forbidding cooks to sleep in cook houses and also forbidding the men to wash at other places than the tables erected for that purpose.

The signal corps, under Capt. Thos. E. Powers, seem to be doing an exceptional amount of work, for almost any place you look you can see either the flash of the heliograph or the waving of the flags.

The boys have again started putting each other under the pump, and every one from the commanding officer down to the bugler must take the duck.

Mr. Isaac Erb, the photographer, has arrived in camp and is busy securing orders from the different companies.

"Have your picture taken in a minute" man is also here, and nearly every soldier in the camp is wearing his picture on his coat.

Last evening an enjoyable band concert was given by the Regiment band at the garden party, held by the Sussex, Bremen, and it was listened to by a large number of people.

The soldiers have been forbidden from going on the station platform, and last night a couple of the men were arrested by the plique for disobeying orders.

The break in the water pipe has been repaired and the water is now running all right.

The inspector of signalling is to examine the signalling detachments in camp at 9.30 a. m. Tuesday next.

The 8th Hussars were disembarking around all afternoon, and they looked fine galloping across the field.

The 8th Hussars are going to play "Miss Hersey from Jersey" here in the Institute Saturday night.

Next for duty: Capt. P. R. Sumner, 4th Regt. Medical officer: Lieut. Curran, No. 8 Field Ambulance.

For next duty: Lieut. Poake, No. 8 Field Ambulance. Quartermaster: Capt. F. Gregory, 74th Regt. Next for duty: Capt. P. J. Jones, No. 8 Field Ambulance.

The 7th Regiment will furnish the camp guard, quiet and band for duty tomorrow.

PAYING LESS IN BOUNTIES

OTTAWA, Ont., July 2.—The total amount paid in bounties by the government for the last fiscal year was $2,447,206, a decrease of $30,555 as compared with 1931-32. On pig-iron last year the bounty paid amounted to $692,492, as compared with $662,816 for the preceding year, on steel the bounty was $383,100, as compared with $47,174. Lead bounties totalled $307,133, an increase of $25,432. The bounty on manilla fibre was $24,561, a decrease of $7,482, and the bounty on crude petroleum was $260,995, a decrease of $19,515.

The production of pig iron was 669,431 tons, a decrease of 7,134 tons. The production of steel was 573,888 tons, a decrease of 91,251 tons. In the production of pig iron Canadian ore was used to the amount of 170,725 tons, and foreign ore was used to the amount of 1,027,546 tons.

Captain Wakeham of the fisheries protection cruiser Princess will begin next week a thorough investigation of the lobster fishing industry of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. The investigation was ordered last session of parliament by the fisheries committee and will be supplementary to the work done by that committee last spring.

Capt. Wakeham will take evidence at many places in the east from fishermen, canners and all others interested in the preservation and development of the lobster fisheries. His report will be presented to the government in the fall for legislative action.

CAPE BRETON MINERS WILL STRIKE TUESDAY

HALIFAX, N. S., July 2.—The convention of union mine workers of America, which has been in session at Sydney since Tuesday, completed their work tonight. The result of their deliberations was that a strike be called at collieries on Tuesday next unless before that time operators meet the committee and endeavor to make a satisfactory settlement of the various and accede to the demand of U. M. W. The convention also passed a strong resolution in regard to the alien labor law, condemning the action of the different coal companies in importing foreign labor to work their collieries to the exclusion of native workmen and notifying the different governments, calling upon them to endeavor to prevent any foreign labor from coming here as far as possible. They also passed a resolution condemning the Dominion Coal Company erecting fences about their collieries, protecting them with wire fences, etc., and endangering the lives of the workmen. President McDougall speaks very hopefully of the result of the strike. He said they were prepared to hold out against the company for two years if necessary. They had funds sufficient to finance a strike for an indefinite period and at present had from $50,000 to $100,000 in funds. Money was no consideration with them. Among the U. M. W. officials here are international vice-president E. S. McCullough, Harry Bonfield, Peter Patterson, Con. Callaghan and Chas. Hargrave, all of the international executive board. Mr. McDougall would say nothing in regard to Secretary Moffatt's statement that the P. W. A. would remain at work in the event of a strike. He said they would have 95 per cent. of the employees of the coal company with them when they went out on Tuesday. Heat, electricity, love and advertising turn the wheels of the universe—Jed Scarborough, New York.

WIRELESS TO HELP IN SAVING FORESTS

Signal Boxes to be Established and Rangers to be Taught the Code.

Lumbermen of the Northwest Say More Timber is Lost by Flames Than Cut by Saws

SPokane, Wash., July 2.—Veteran timber cruisers in the inland empire declare the time is not far distant when "C. Q. D." messages will be flashed by wireless telegraph as a solution of the problem of scientific fire fighting in the forest areas of Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Montana, California and British Columbia, which contain more than seven hundred million acres of standing timber, the patrolling of which costs the lumber companies and the United States government hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, in addition to the enormous expense involved in constructing and maintaining the government lines of communication. Lumbermen in Spokane say that more timber is destroyed annually by fires than is cut by the saws, and add that if some adequate protection could be devised the standing timber in the northwest would last for centuries. They have numerous state and interstate organizations, the largest being the Pacific Northwest Forest Protection and Conservation Association, a federation of five protection leagues in Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana and California, headed by Albert L. Friesenback of Spokane. This organization has hundreds of men in its employ, but their means of communication are not extensive. They have the vast areas, the result being that much of it is unprotected. The plan advocated by R. H. Armstrong, an expert operator, is to establish a system of wireless signal boxes and teach the forest rangers the code so that with the first alarm they could locate the blaze and summon assistance before the fire gained much headway. This would eliminate the danger of cutting off communication by fires destroying the poles and trees falling across wires. Probably the most important thing is the saving of life. Every year since 1870 an average of fifty persons before the alarm is sounded in the United States forest fires, making a total of nearly two thousand lives sacrificed to flames which might have been prevented.

VAST AREAS OF TIMBER. Armstrong maintains that the chief reason for the spread of the fire is that after a blaze is discovered a long time elapses before the alarm can be sounded and aid summoned to fight the flames. Many of the large lumber concerns of the Pacific Northwest have connecting camps of forest rangers, but this was given up for the reason that the fires would burn the poles or the wind would blow them down so often that they would be useless most of the time. They also found that in many timber tracts the country is so rugged and the terrain so heavy that it would be almost impossible to stretch a wire line. However the forest service has built hundreds of miles of telegraph lines and cut trails through the big government forests in Idaho, Washington, Montana and other western points. These were found of good use during the fires in 1907 and 1908, but large areas were burned over as the result of the fire gaining great headway before they could be located by the range riders. One thousand acres of virgin timber in Western Washington was destroyed last year, when the season was comparatively a light one for fire losses, and the losses in Eastern Oregon, Northern Idaho, Western Montana, Northeastern Washington, California, and Southeastern British Columbia were also heavy. This enormous waste of property and sometimes loss of life can be prevented to a large extent it is believed by the employment of the wireless telegraph for reporting them as soon as they start and calling assistance from all sides. There are more than 550,000,000 acres of standing timber in Washington, Idaho, Oregon, California, Nevada, Montana and about 150,000,000 acres in British Columbia. Of the latter lands in the six western states the majority are owned by private corporations and individuals, who maintain expensive organizations to prevent them. In the state of Idaho, which has more than 150,000,000 feet of standing timber in its five northern counties, the fire protection associations, working with the state, have reduced the fire losses greatly, but it cost last year more than $20,000, or about 2 1/2 cents an acre, to patrol the 3,000,000 acres. The associations fought 500 great and small fires in the last three years.

FUEL FAMINE IN CASE OF WAR

Proposal to Develop British Oil Fields—Many in Burma and Nigeria

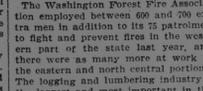

LONDON, July 2.—The Pall Mall Gazette urges the Government to assist in the development of British oil fields, especially in Burma and Nigeria. It points out that many ships in the navy use oil as fuel, and that many others are being adapted to use it. Without a large supply of petroleum many useful fighting units would be rendered absolutely ineffective. At the present moment the navy is dependent on the United States for nearly all its supply, and it is rare that the storage tanks contain more than enough to last three months. "Petroleum is cotrband of war," says the Gazette, "and it is not difficult to conceive a combination of circumstances which would result in cutting off all supplies from the United States and other foreign countries."

PLEASANT WHILE IT LASTED.

He betook himself. It was his wife and her mother talking. "No, my dear," the letter was saying, "I must go tomorrow. I do not believe in a mother-in-law making long visits. But before I go, I want to tell you what a treasure I think you have gained in your husband. He seems to me to be near perfection. Are you sure, however, that you are not too strict with him? Do not be quick to chide him when he stays out late. Men need a little latitude, you know—say two or three times a week!" The man stirred uneasily in his sleep. It seemed so real, but alas, it was a dream!

Frederick Lawrence Fairweather Had Been in Ill Health, Some Time

The death occurred yesterday afternoon of Frederick Lawrence Fairweather, a prominent lawyer of Sussex, Mr. Fairweather has been in failing health for the past year. He was a guest at the Three-Mile House at the time of his death. The deceased was 49 years old on Thursday. He received his early education at the Sussex school and later entered Dalhousie College, from which he was graduated in law. Shortly afterwards he opened offices in his native town and enjoyed an extensive practice, taking an active part in politics as a staunch supporter of the Liberal party. For several years Mr. Fairweather was a councillor and later clerk of the county court at Sussex. He leaves besides a widowed mother, Mrs. Douglas Fairweather, four brothers, W. H. Fairweather of Mississauga, Mo., D. Harris of Wm. Thompson & Co., Winnipeg; Geo. M., druggist of Sussex, and Walter S. of Conroy & Fairweather, hardware merchants at Sussex. Besides the immediate family Mr. Fairweather leaves a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

WALL COLLAPSES, TWENTY KILLED

Men Working in Trench at New Lock in England the Victims

NEWPORT, Monmouthshire, England, July 2.—It is estimated that twenty men perished today by the sudden collapse of the west wall of the new dock at the entrance to the Alexandra dock. The extension of the dock work has been in progress for some time and fifty men were working in a trench sixty feet deep preparing for the laying of a concrete foundation. Without the slightest warning the heavy shoring timber gave way in the middle and the entire structure collapsed and carried down with it thousands of tons of earth, the railway lines on both sides of the trench, many railway cars and four travelling cranes. The men at the bottom of the trench, which was 30 yards long and 30 feet wide, had no chance to escape, but many of those working nearer the surface were uninjured. Late tonight four men, still living, were planned in the debris in the trench. The incoming tide made the work of rescue very difficult.

ONLY ONE CURE FOR A BAD STOMACH

Indigestion and Similar Troubles Must Be Treated Through the Blood

Indigestion can be treated in many ways, but it can be cured in only one way—through the blood. Purgatives cannot cure indigestion, by main force they move the food on still undigested. That weakens the whole system, uses up the natural juices of the body and leaves the stomach and bowels parched and sore. It is a cause of indigestion—not a cure. Others try predigested foods and petionized drugs. But drugs which digest the food for the stomach really weaken its power. The digestive organs can never do the work properly until they are strong enough to do it for themselves. Nothing can give the stomach that power but the new, rich, red blood so abundantly supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. So the reason for their success is plain. The health of the stomach depends upon the blood in its delicate veins. If that blood is weak and watery the gastric glands haven't the strength to secrete the juices which alone can digest the food. If the blood is loaded with impurities it cannot absorb the good from the food when it is digested. Nothing can stimulate the glands, and nothing can absorb the nourishment but pure, red blood. And nothing can give that pure, red blood but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Alfred Gallant, Mill River, P. E. I., says: "For several years previous and up to two years ago, I suffered continually from indigestion. I could not eat enough to keep my strength, and what little I did eat, no matter what kind of food, caused great pain, so that I became much reduced in flesh, strength and energy. I consulted several doctors and took medicine from them but without any benefit whatever. On the advice of a friend I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and soon good results were noticed. I could slightly increase the amount of food day after day, and suffered no inconvenience, until after trying ten boxes I could eat my kind of food and in a short time got back to my normal state of health and feel that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have surely cured me of a most stubborn case of indigestion."

MEXICO'S WILD MAN APPEARS ONCE MORE

Aged White Recluse Seen by Indians After Absence of Nearly Three Years.

Supposed to Have Become a Hermit When His Wife Was Murdered Sixty Years Ago

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, July 2.—Indians from the Las Vigas River headwaters, one hundred and twenty miles from the town of Tonalua, on the Gulf of Mexico, reported in that village recently that the wild man who has haunted the Montana Jabon district for many years, has again appeared. This mountain is in the State of Tabasco, near the Vera Cruz border. The old man, known by the natives as "el hombre de silvestre de monte," has his abode near the Rio de las Playas, a stream at the foot of the Jabon Mountain, and a tributary to the Tanochapa River. He is supposed to live in an old abandoned mill which has not been worked for more than a century, according to older men of the district. It is said no other person has ventured within the shaft in the last fifty or more years because of the many superstitions connected with the place. Many natives and one American are said to have approached the entrance during the last reconcaction, but none has passed inside. Vampire bats and small animals inhabit this cave, and many wild sounds come from its depths. The old man is known to have lived in the neighborhood for more than fifty years, and in that time is said not to have spoken with a single living soul. He is thought to be Spanish because of the clearness of his skin. When seen recently he appeared to have never been shaved, and his hair and beard were white and long and his body entirely covered with white hair. He is quite old—probably ninety years—so noisy as can be judged from the many stories told by those who claim to have seen him. The old man has been approached to within a distance of fifty yards, but when addressed he uttered a few incoherent sounds and ran into the woods. He is thought to be Spanish because of the clearness of his skin. NEW ORLEANS, La., July 2.—Encountering a well dressed man in her home after having returned from a shopping tour, and not realizing that he was a clever housebreaker, Mrs. Adam Rau permitted him to leave, thanking him for the courtesy in calling. When she entered her room a few seconds later, however, she was surprised to find her diamond pin and a gold watch valued at $80 missing. It was then too late to call the police. She stuck her head out of the door. The well dressed young man was then three blocks away. After committing the theft in the home of Mrs. Rau the young man with the cast iron nerve is supposed to have walked to the home of Charles Gaiser, in Magazine street, near Elinore, where he walked off with another gold watch.

A FINE ART PUBLISHER.

THE GERMAN WAS MR. ERNEST NISTER, THE FAMOUS FINE-ART PUBLISHER, WHO DIED AT NUREMBERG RECENTLY.

The German was the better known, for his name was on millions of books sold in this country. The Englishman was Charles Morrison, of Basildon, aged 82, who is said to have left $80,000,000. "JUST A SHABBY OLD MAN." "Until his death, few people outside the city and the Berckshire village had ever heard of this man of millions," says the Chronicle. "Inheriting a million from his father, who had come down from Scotland with only a few shillings in his pocket, and who had built up this fortune as a general paper," Charles Morrison, the son, had made it the business of his life to go on adding money to money, by investing here and investing there, by buying up properties of increasing value, by lending money, on safe securities, to foreign governments and great companies at home, by watching, quietly through the years, the steady way in which money breeds money, and millions are multiplied by millions. "With this almost incredible wealth Charles Morrison might have taken a great lead in public life; he might have become world-renowned as a great philanthropist; he might have given five, six, or even the magic eight. Deadweight to the nation he might have been a peer of the realm; he might have made or ended wars by offering or refusing loans by which war alone is possible. "But he did none of these things. He just went about, a shabby old man, never taking a cab, when he had strength to walk, unknown to those who rubbed shoulders with him, unapproached even by the professional beggars who knew nothing of his wealth, and sitting nearly all his life in his city offices, now at Basildon House, E. C., watching his money grow, and like a spider weaving a golden cobweb about him, in which at last he died. "He bought pictures, for instance, and had several Van Dykes, and a magnificent Rembrandt, and one of the greatest pictures of Jan Steen. He was also a great reader in French as well as English literature. PORTION OF MINING TOWN OF COBALT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

COBALT, Ont., July 2.—Cobalt was visited by a terrible conflagration on Halesbury road today, when every building on both sides of the road was burned to the ground from Taylor's hardware store and three buildings north of the Imperial Bank to the westward bridge at Leveson mine.

Building Dynamited. Dynamiting of buildings was resorted to, but practically no good was done. The water supply was cut off about the Catholic church and no water was available at that point beyond what could be carried in buckets.

The fire loss must reach at least half a million or more. About two hundred houses and business places have been burned. The Catholic church, separate school and Father Fogarty's residence, which were newly built and enlarged, were burned to the ground with the rest.

LONG IMMINENT.

The danger had long been imminent and not long ago insurance companies cancelled all insurance on that section of the town, so that almost everything burned is a total loss and evidently is very little insurance.

At least three thousand people are homeless or very nearly. Still the town is burned. Chamaddy Bros., Jamieson Meat Co., store, Campbell, tailor, Buffalo store, Cobalt restaurant, New York cafe, innumerable boarding houses, restaurants, beer saloons and dives were amongst those burned, including the Wingham Hotel, which was lately remodelled. John Trip's fine livery, complete lost although twenty-four horses and rigs were saved. Trip's family lived above the barn and lost their household effects. Alderman Hassett, who is absent at Elk Lake, is a heavy loser. Although his lumber yard was saved, Miss Hassett's sister of Alderman Hassett, and proprietor of Cobalt restaurant, is a large loser.

Children have been worried and annoyed in consequence, believing that the conflagration would likely come anytime owing to carelessness of the Chinamen keeping restaurants. This is the third really serious fire in town within a year and Chinamen have figured in each of these fires.

HEARTRENDING SCENES

Scenes at the fire were heartrending. In many cases mothers were trying to save little children and effects. Large quantities of merchandise were removed to supposed places of safety, to be burned afterwards or looted by forgers. Mines sent down teams and a great many teams in town were loaded with household effects, trunks and merchandise, hauling them to safety.

A relief committee has been organized to raise money for the homeless, and is already actively at work. Although it is too soon to form an idea as to the amounts to be raised, outside for the sufferers.

No mines have suffered. The fire was got under control about ten o'clock with no further damage.

TORONTO RESPONSES.

TORONTO, July 2.—In response to telegraphic appeal of Mayor H. H. Lang of Cobalt asking the provincial government for aid, one hundred tents, three hundred pairs of blankets, and considerable provisions were hurried northward on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway tonight, in charge of Provincial Mining Inspector E. T. Corkhill and staff of assistants.

The Dominion Department of Militia promptly placed their equipment at the disposal of Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, who has charge of all government arrangements.

A Sad Case

A sad case is reported from Woodland, the paper town, twelve miles up the river. Last Saturday evening beer flowed somewhat freely there among some of the employees, and later one of the party, Arthur Graham, said to be a native of St. John, found himself alone in the woods back of the town. Two girls came along, about twelve years of age, and some very indecent conversation followed, though nothing else. On Monday the mother of one girl heard of the affair and the father had papers issued for the man, Graham, who had always borne a good reputation, is said to have confessed his fault and expressed deep repentance. Monday afternoon he asked for leave of absence from his work for a few minutes. After that day his body was recovered from the pond above the milldam where he had committed suicide. He was forty-eight years of age and leaves a wife and children.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and

HOTEL THIEF TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 2.—Since his capture at Fredericton Junction, Frank McIsaac, alias Wilson, hotel thief, has attempted suicide in his cell by trying to hang himself with strips of his blanket. He was found almost dead and rescued.

Back to the workhouse. Twenty-five of the men got on to the break and joined them by invitation, and sat next to the man in the black coat. We were going to Bramber Castle, a few miles away, to inspect the old ruins and afterwards to have a picnic meal in some tea garden. It was the last outing of those men during their stay at the Home of Rest, where most of them had been for six months, having been sent there from an infirmary in southeast London.

The thought struck one of the men with a sudden sharp pang. I heard him over my shoulder. "I reckon it's the last time we'll see this 'ere road. Then back again to the workhouse ward, with only a yard to walk in, and no freedom. It'll be worse than prison."

A HOME OF REST; CHANCE FOR LONDON'S DERELICTS

(BY PHILIP GIBBS)

Four white houses, with cheerful windows open to the sun and air, and with pleasant porches leading on to smooth lawns, stand facing the sea, at Landing on the Sussex shore.

When I saw them for the first time they were dazzling in the sun, the lawns, spangled with daisies in spite of the closely cropped grass, invited one to lie down where the long cool shadows lay, and beyond the sea was a wide sweep of deepest blue. From the lilac trees in the gardens there came a faint, sweet fragrance, and in the kitchen gardens where the sun glittered upon small glass-houses, bees were humming in a drowsy melody.

The minister at once conferred with Sir James Whitney and arrangements for relief followed. "The Government will render all temporary aid it can," said the Minister. "Meantime we are obtaining more detailed and definite information as to the state of affairs."

Sir James Whitney, premier, when seen in the afternoon, said: "An appeal has been made by the civic authorities to the government. We communicated to General Cotton and the militia department at Ottawa and the federal department have very studiously placed their equipment at our disposal. One hundred tents and three hundred pairs of blankets are being sent on in charge of government officials, who will examine the conditions at first and telephone report as to the general situation and other relief needed."

I studied these men who were being decorated before going for a drive. They were of all ages, from 25 to 65, and though standing in a country garden and bronzed by many days of sun, they had the mark of London on them. I had seen those types of faces before—in Salvation Army mission halls, under the archway by Waterloo Bridge, wheeling coppers down the Old Kent road, calling at back doors with bags of tools to mend broken pipes, carrying bricks up the scraggling of suburban houses, and selling Christmas toys on Ludgate Hill.

BACK TO THE WORKHOUSE. Twenty-five of the men got on to the break and joined them by invitation, and sat next to the man in the black coat. We were going to Bramber Castle, a few miles away, to inspect the old ruins and afterwards to have a picnic meal in some tea garden. QUEBEC IS NOT A WIDE OPEN DOOR

Immigration is Very Carefully Supervised—Many are Deported.

Fully 60,000 of the Hand-picked Immigrants Have Passed Through Quebec in Less Than Three Months

QUEBEC, July 2.—Though somewhat less than last year immigration via the St. Lawrence is quite large this season, and no doubt would be much larger but for the stringent laws that govern immigration in order to keep out the undesirable, especially from continental countries.

TO BE UNDESIRABLES. In the past a great volume of immigrants, especially from continental Europe, has come into Canada, and in so many cases congested the country as to prove so very undesirable that the government has made every possible effort to keep out those of this class.

AGAINST ASIATICS. On all Asiatics that may have qualifications to admit them, the law provides that each one must have $20 in gold in their possession.

MODE OF EXAMINATION. When a ship arrives the second cabin passengers are examined by a medical and civil inspector on board the vessel, and if any are found through sickness or monetary disability, they are conveyed ashore and put into the immigration hospital or house of detention until their case is disposed of.

OLD BRIDAL CUSTOMS. There used to be a custom of strewing flowers before the bridal couple as they went to the church and from the church to the house.

Suppose the way with fragrant herbs were strewn. And now suppose the priest had joined our hands.

HOUSE OF DETENTION.

The Quebec Investigation Hospital, or House of Detention, is an interesting institution in itself. It is under the personal supervision of a staff of physicians. When a ship comes up the river with sickness on board, it is inspected at the Grosvenor Island Quarantine Station, the sick removed to the island, and if the disease should be contagious, the passengers in the steerage, second cabin, or even the saloon, where it originated, are confined, and placed in quarantine at the island, and the ship thoroughly fumigated before it is allowed to proceed.

MANY DEPORTATIONS.

Up to the 20th of June this season fully one thousand have been sent to the Immigration Hospital, or House of Detention, and out of this number nearly two hundred have been deported. Thus it will be seen that the port of Quebec is no open door for undesirable immigrants to enter.

GOAL DIVIDEND.

At the annual meeting of The Windsor Coal Mining Co., Ltd., held recently, the reports on the coal mining business were very discouraging.

TRAGEDY OF A YOUNG TEACHER.

(By Harold Begbie.) I have just read this piece of information from a Paris correspondent. A young English teacher named Mary S— has met her death under most tragic circumstances at Clermont Ferrand. She had been suffering from fever, and while delirious she jumped from the window of her room, which was on the fourth floor, being killed instantly. Her mother was just too late to prevent her daughter from falling.

SUCCESS—AND FAILURE.

The family being poor, it was necessary for Miss S— to earn daily bread. She was a girl full of vivacity and high spirits, pretty and engaging, merry and glad-hearted, with no more fear of the future than a child in summer feels for the approach of winter. The recognition that she would have to work for her living did not in the least cloud her horizon. She threw herself into her school studies with all the energy of her happy nature. Every prize was a triumph, every success was a joyful incentive to fresh effort. She was a quite happy schoolgirl. Then came the college examinations. Miss S— knew that her future depended upon these examinations. The bright and happy girl set herself to shine in a test equivalent to the most rigorous of our university examinations. She succeeded and she failed. Scarcely anyone was more brilliant or more triumphant than this young girl.

FAMOUS FIGHTS RETOLD.

The very atmosphere of the open-air prize ring, the two battling champions, the cheering crowd, the sound of the blows, the hoarse, quick breathing of the fighters, and the frantic cries of their seconds—all are revived in the pages of "Fights Forgotten."

For twenty-six rounds they fought on furiously, and then Gully began to tire, but was it over? No! It was not until sixty-four rounds had been fought that Gully, at last, acknowledged defeat. In those days they fought in the open air, and the weather was often very hot.

Where youth grows pale, and specter-like, and dies.

This happy girl wanted and played and covered from life, afraid of existence because she could not control a class of children. Can you think of a fate more pitiable?

She rose from that terrible prostration to go back to her work at the school desk. Hopelless, she went to try once more to obtain an offer for her in England which seemed as if it would give her every happiness she could desire.

When the bell rang for the twenty-ninth round, Molyneux stood alone in the ring, the champion lay like a log in his corner. His seconds were desperate. Molyneux was really champion of England, but one of Cribb's seconds rushed across the ring, and accused Molyneux of having two bullets in his fists. It was a mere trick. A wrangle followed. Cribb retired, and Molyneux was perished with the Arctic cold of the day. In the thirty-third round he fell from sheer exhaustion, and thus an Englishman was still champion of England—in name!

How many more victims must die before the examiner is perceived to be the enemy of life, the curse of youth, the destroyer of hope, the foe of intelligence? How is it that this pedant gets his power? Why do we submit to him? Is there on the earth a more pitiable wretch than the pale youth who has succeeded in the school? Can you imagine—you who know what life is—a more unprofitable knowledge than that on which the examiner has set the seal of his approval? Look at her, look at the men who are achieving things and wearing their manhood with a confident glow, and say how many of them are learned clerks? Consider how many of the men who made us great by sea and land would have satisfied the examiner. Let God be praised that the Empire preceded the examiner.

I recall the words that G. F. Watts said to me years ago: "The whole object of education is to quicken and develop the powers of observation, to awaken genius, and to intensify natural gifts. The condemnation of our system is its effect upon the mind of children. Directly they pass from the kindergarten stage they get to hate and detest education—the thing that they should love more than their eyes and their games. We are rearing intelligent citizens, clever craftsmen, devoted scholars and earnest and enthusiastic workpeople. We are rearing civil service clerks, competitors for a pension!"

Will not some statesman revolutionize our barbarous theory of education? It is not impossible.

What Sir John Fisher has done for the naval cadet, and what Claysmore School at Pangbourne is doing so successfully for schoolboys, the state may attempt to do for its multitudinous children now laboring in deep waters under the oppression of the examiner.

Yes, the opposition of the Examiner, Youth, in the freshness and joy of existence, with its heart full of natural ambitions and high desires, encounters at the threshold of life this blighting

THE FIVE-FOOT SHELF.

There came a time when a famous man declared with benignant looks: "You can lift yourself to the stars, my lad. With a five-foot shelf of books. Take fifteen minutes a day, no more. But read with the greatest care. And you'll be a man of polish soon. No matter what clothes you wear."

We off had sighed for a polished mind.

We had wished our brain could hold as much of this world's stately lore as Solomon had of old.

So when we heard of the five-foot shelf.

"We shuddered" from afar, "Give up those titles, beloved friend. Please tell us what they are."

We got the list by an early mail. And gazed at it with dread.

In this the kind of sawdust that was intended to fill our head?

We dropped a crystalline tear or two. In sorrow did we weep.

We feared we hadn't the force of will sufficient to tackle it.

For Franklin's Autobiography was first upon the list.

John Woolman's Journal was next. Then Bacon's Essays and Goethe's

Marcus Aurelius, Saint Augustine and Sir Thomas Brown, Also Epictetus.

A dozen more of the self-same kind. — It almost froze our veins

To think of what they would do to us.

Of the many mental pains To come from digesting all this junk.

This mental lobster salad. There wasn't a novel in the list. Nor even a Kipling Ballad.

And so we sorrowed an hour or so. Then said, with close-shut fist,

"What right had this famous man to leave."

Bill Shakespeare off the list? Marie Corelli does not appear. Jack London nor Hall Caine.

This five-foot shelf is a bunco-game

Garment "Draping"

A great many people cannot understand why it is that well made ready-to-wear clothes will fit better than the cheaper medium price kind made to individual measurement. If we substitute "draping" for "fit," we will get a true conception of the matter. Our clothes, properly speaking, do not "fit" they touch us at collar, shoulder, chest and waist. For the rest they hang or drape. Now it is the perfect clear that the expert designer, such as the better makes of ready-to-wear clothes employ can and does produce "garments that will hang in more graceful lines than those designed by the small tailor who can afford to employ only hands of comparatively little ability.

PRESENTED A JEWEL TO JOHN L. WILSON

Pioneer Lodge, I. O. O. F., Honors Author of Its Oldest Members.

Pioneer Lodge, I. O. O. F., in recognizing the fidelity and devotion of its older members, has of late presented to a number of these brethren veterans' jewels. Mr. John L. Wilson has just been honored in this way, and no one connected with the order in St. John is more deserving of such recognition. For some thirty-five years Mr. Wilson has acted as a member of Pioneer Lodge, and for twenty-five years has held the office of financial secretary.

The address of presentation which was read by Hon. C. N. Skinner, referred to the services formerly rendered in the order, and expressed the opinion that the right sense of duty which had actuated him then had influenced his whole later life, and more particularly had been apparent during his connection with Pioneer Lodge. The address also voiced the esteem in which Mr. Wilson is held by his associates in the order, and expressed the hope that he might be spared many more years in that close companionship which has so long existed between them.

Mr. Wilson fittingly responded to the address, and during the evening brief congratulatory remarks were made by a number of members of the order.

Y.M.C.A. WILL GIVE BOYS FREE SWIMMING LESSONS

A recent move of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. will undoubtedly prove one of the most popular that they have ever made. At their last meeting it was decided to open the swimming pool for two hours a week to give all boys who are not already members of the association an opportunity to learn to swim. Recognizing the great value to a boy of being able to swim they have decided to add to the usefulness of the association by promoting this healthful sport.

The hours of from four to five o'clock on Wednesdays and Fridays have been reserved for this purpose and all boys from 12 to 16 years of age will be admitted without charge. Application must, however, be made at the secretary's desk for a ticket which is supplied free in order that some account may be kept of those taking advantage of this opportunity. Competent teachers will be on hand to teach the boys how to swim and it is expected that before the summer is over a lot of the boys will be able to take care of themselves in the water.

It is probable that attention will also be given to life saving methods and first aid to the partly drowned.

SMITHS ARE STILL THE MOST NUMEROUS

Browns Move to Second Place, But Make Poor Showing

Murphys Come Third, But the Joneses are Away Down—The Leading Families and Their Standing.

Once again the Smiths take the lead in the 1908 names. The Smiths occupy the first position having an aggregate of 216 names. The Browns have the second largest number in the directory. However, they are but a poor second to the Smiths, having only 162 representatives.

The Murphys have moved down to third position, having a total of 151 names. The Wilsons have stood still during the past year, having the same number of names as in the 1908 directory. There are few changes in the remaining leaders. The following is a list of the most common names as given in the directory:

VANDALS AT WORK ON GARDEN STREET

Flower Beds at the Foot of the Hill Robbed of Their Plants

"The love of flowers and a willingness to steal seem rather inconsistent qualities, but they both seem to be possessed by some individuals who have been robbing the flower beds at the foot of Garden street.

The little triangular plot there surrounding the band-stand has for many years been kept looking pretty by the men of No. 4 Fire Station, which is situated directly opposite it.

This year as usual, they planted a number of flowers and have spent considerable time in looking after them. That their success as gardeners was approved by some individuals has been shown by the fact that lately a large number of the plants and flowers have been dug up and stolen.

It is a very small piece of business on the part of those who would do such a thing and shows one of the meanest streaks that could be displayed by anyone.

AN ATHLETIC MEET.

The next athletic event of interest in St. John will be the athletic sports to be held on the Victoria Grounds on the evening of Monday, July 12th. The events are:

- 11 yards dash.
- 220 yards dash.
- Half-mile run.
- Five mile run.
- High Jump.
- Broad Jump.
- Three-mile run (intermediate).

These will be handicap events. Entries must therefore be in by Wednesday night, July 7th. They should be sent to A. W. Covey, 102 Prince William street.

Moncton, and perhaps Springhill, will be represented at this meet, and other outside competitors are expected. Competitors in the three-mile run must be under eighteen years of age.

O'NEILL FOR NATIONAL

Halifax will be out for the amateur sculling championship of America this season, and the prospects of landing it are good. At a meeting of St. Mary's A. A. and A. C. yesterday it was decided to enter the club's sculler, John O'Neill, Maritime Provinces champion, for the American championship event, which will be rowed at the National regatta at Detroit early in August. Entrance to the championship race is not open to all; entrants must qualify by winning the National Association singles, and this the Halifax sculler did nearly last season at Springfield, Mass. He also started in the championship, and led Bennett, Miller, and all the other American crack scullers starting, except Frank Green, who took first place, O'Neill getting second. It was after this that Green announced his retirement from the amateur ranks and St. Mary's Club secured his services as coach for the season. The local champion is feeling in pretty good shape and Green thinks well of his condition and ability, so well, in fact, that O'Neill may enter the scullers' quarter-mile race at the National regatta, as well as to be a mile and a quarter straight-away. The club, on coach Green's advice, has ordered from Ward, of New York a new single shell for their sculler for the championship meet.—Halifax Recorder.
