The Daily Tribune.

J. L. STEWART, EDITOR.

THURSDAY EVENING, SEPT. 10.

Why so Anxious?

It is difficult to understand why, in the face of the scandalous developments that have been made concerning the corrupt practices of the Ottawa and Toronto Governments, anyone should profess to be anxious that the Organized Hypocrisy, in the persons of Mr. Joly and his fellows, should be given the control of the Quebec treasury.

The Hypocrite found Ontario with an overflowing treasury, and an economical system of administering the Government, and now the millions of surplus have been scattered and extravagance made the rule in every department. The Hypocrite found a tract of valuable silver territory, and divided it among Alex. Mackenzie and others. Timber land that should have been kept has been disposed of to the leading partisans of the Government for little or nothing, and the public treasury has been depleted in an unprecedently rapid manner. The manner in which the Ottawa branch of the Hypocrite has multiplied offices, raised salaries, incurred obligations, undertaken to build canals for the United States and railways for Ontario, and paid their "election agents" out of the public treasury, is too well known to need repeating. Quebec is prosperous, her debt is light, her credit is good, and her people have no cause to complain of the policy of the party that holds the reins of Government. One or two of the Cabinet, being as corrupt as Finance Minister Cartwright and Post Master General Macdonald, or as bungling as Premier Mackenzie, engaged in a land-swapping operation that benefited private persons at the expense of the Province, and this bungling crime or criminal bungle has very properly forced the Government to resign. There is no reason, however, why a new Government should not be formed by the Conservatives. Quebec has done nothing so bad as to deserve to be inflicted with the rule of the Organized Hypocrisy.

If anything can reconcile St. John to the defeat of its ownmen the good feeling that prevailed at the close of the Halifax contest should do so. There is some pleasure in aquatic contests when they are conducted in a gentlemanly manner. We hope that Morris, who is to row on the Kennebec with Brown, is not a blatant rough like the Biglin brothers. George Brown will take victory or defeat quietly, and there will be no row unless Morris makes it.

Exciting Encounter with a Bear.

The village of Shediac was yesterday thrown into quite a state of excitement by the capture of a large brown bear and the preparation for a fight with a cub. The bear weighed 487 pounds. Two well known sportsmen from St. John arrived there on Monday last, and early on Tuesday morning started for Shediac for the purpose of shooting the bear. The cub was very plentiful there for the past fortnight. To get at the spot most frequented by the bears, they took a short cut which necessitated their going through a dense wood. The bear was very tame, and was prepared for the party through this wood that he discovered an immense bear with four half grown cubs. Calling to his friend Sam they immediately consulted and arranged for the purpose of shooting the bear. However, their aim was so poor that they were obliged to retreat. The bear made a charge for them, and when he was within a few feet of them he raised his gun and fired, the whole charge of shot entering the bear's side; while Geo. drove his large rifle through the bear's back, and before the bear had recovered from the shock put two bullets into her head, and another charge of shot from Sam's gun so completely crippled her that she was unable to rise. However, the bear made a long search, they succeeded in capturing two of them and bringing them to the village. Mr. Kirk has offered a large sum for the cubs, but nothing will induce the sportsmen to part with them. They propose bringing them to St. John on Friday and putting them on exhibition for a few days in the Eastern Express office.

To an Anxious Inquirer.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

Sir: Mr. "Macready," in yesterday morning's Tribune, wants to know if the "Committee" will shortly report upon the drama known as the "Black Crook," as he is anxious to attend it in order, I thought that friend Macready was made of better stuff than to place his morality in the hands of an irresponsible committee of doctors, lawyers, lay-officers, insurance agents, and other world-leaders of society.

If the correspondent of the Tribune had more carefully read the pronounced and decided article written by the lay-officer of this paper, who, report says, went to the Academy on Monday evening, much against his own feelings, simply for the purpose of informing our people if it would be the proper thing to attend the "Variety Show," he would not have had occasion to publish his letter.

The following from the Tribune's local speaks for itself: "There is nothing in the play that would seem objectionable," and again, "it is a comparatively harmless piece of nonsense." These thoughts are confirmed by the lay-officer's deliverance of yesterday, when he says: "They present an extraordinary variety of scenes, and it is very nice to see in one play."

For my own part if I had any scruples about the matter, the police and the local of the Tribune have removed them. My firm conviction now is that the exhibition is not any person might see.

Common Council.

The Common Council met yesterday afternoon, 8 o'clock, at the harbor of St. John, N. B.

The General Committee reported having arranged with Mr. Marong to continue the wooden pavement across the square—payment to be made the first of June next—and also recommended granting the petition of Beard & Venning asking that the pavement in front of their store be not removed until next spring, when the firm propose to make extensive repairs to their building. After considerable discussion the report was adopted.

The Lamp Committee recommended the placing of some new lamps, and the report was adopted—Coun. Coexter dissenting.

The Fire Committee recommended that the pay of the teamsters be increased to $40 per month. This was opposed by Ald. Peters and Ald. Coexter, and Coun. Ham and Martin, while Ald. Kerr and Lockhart supported it. Ald. Peters moved that a sliding scale be prepared, of wages, from $25 to $40, and that the Fire Committee arrange the wages of the present employees. The amendment was adopted.

The Kings Square Committee recommended payment of several bills. The report was adopted, after some opposition from Coun. Coexter, who objected to paying a bill of $100 for the corporation for doing extra work.

The Street Committee recommended the building of several sidewalks and retaining walls. They also recommended that Church Street, between Canterbury and Prince William streets, be at once repaired. The report was adopted and the recommendation ordered to be carried out. Any more breaks of this kind?

A match game of base ball was played on the Barrack Square, yesterday forenoon, between the North and Acacia clubs. The former was in a score of 88 to 37.

Tenders for the excavation and building foundation walls for block of buildings in Orange street must be in on or before the 14th inst. at 10 o'clock.

A handsome little yacht, for sale in the Market Slip. She was built by Mr. Sharp on the Kennebec, and is a trim little craft. Her length of keel is 25 feet. She is provided with a cabin, in which a dozen people can sit, a sleeping apartment, and a kitchen. The price asked is $850. A number of gentlemen examined her to-day and parties are negotiating for her.

The St. John boys will make their first appearance at Lee's Opera House to-night, in their Lightning Horripops. They have been engaged for three nights only. The programme for to-night is entirely new.

The Black Crook.

There was another good audience at the Academy last night. The play, Saturday afternoon, will close the season, as the company will leave for Halifax Saturday night. It is the biggest show that ever visited St. John.

Miss De Montford.

During Miss De Montford's stay in London, her correspondents were frequently the subject of special telegrams to leading papers in Toronto. A special to the Mail says:

"Miss De Montford to-night at Spetigue Hall performed a brilliant feat in electromagnetism. With but two or three passes of the hand from behind the neck she produced an immense electric mesmeric coma, in which late Dr. Brown made a scientific examination, regarding the results to audience. Ammonia applied to the nostrils had no perceptible effect upon the subject, who was perfectly insensible and insensible to pain by a motion of the hand Miss De Montford restored volition and caused him to dance a waltz. It was a feat of thrilling interest."

Card and Cabinet Photos, in cameo and enamel, at Notman's.

The Associated Manufacturers.

The manufacturers met in the Academy of Music last evening. Ald. Peters in the chair, and adopted the Constitution framed by the committee appointed at the previous meeting. The society is to be called The Manufacturers and Mechanics' Association. The meetings are to be open to the members and non-residents introduced by members residing in the city. The society is to have an annual fee of $5 will be exacted from each member. The Association will have a President, three Vice Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer and six Directors. The Secretary will be appointed and will receive a salary. The roll of membership was signed by forty gentlemen. A motion to have the word "Mechanics" struck out of the name of the society was voted down. James Harris, Esq., was elected President, and took the chair. The meeting then adjourned until Wednesday evening next, when the other officers will be elected.

LIBERALITY OF PHYSICIANS.—It has always been said that physicians would disparage any remedy, however valuable, which they did not originate themselves. This has been disproved by their liberal course towards Dr. J. C. Ayer's preparations. They have adopted them into general use in their practice, which shows a willingness to countenance articles that have intrinsic merits and deserve their attention. This does the learned profession great credit, and effectually contradicts the prevalent erroneous notion that their opposition to proprietary remedies is based in their interest to disparage them. We have always had confidence in the liberal motives of our medical men, and are glad to find it sustained by their liberal welcome they accord to such remedies as Ayer & Co.'s inimitable remedies, even though they are not originated in their own laboratories. These remedies are made known to the people through the newspapers.—New Orleans Delta.

The Common Council met yesterday afternoon, 8 o'clock, at the harbor of St. John, N. B.

The Street Committee recommended the building of several sidewalks and retaining walls. They also recommended that Church Street, between Canterbury and Prince William streets, be at once repaired. The report was adopted and the recommendation ordered to be carried out. Any more breaks of this kind?

A number of residents of Duke's and Spencey Wards, by petition, called attention to a stench arising from fifth running from the Gas Works, and requested that the nuisance be in some way abated. Referred to General Committee.

The request of the Directors of the Western Extension Railway for power to transfer a lot of land to the Red Granite Lands Company was referred to the West Side Lands Committee.

Ald. Peters, from the committee to number the houses, reported progress.

On motion of Ald. Peters a committee was appointed to take into consideration the formation of a public library. The Aldermen of Wellington, Duke and Prince were named.

Ald. Ferguson moved for a commission—the Harbor Committee preferred—to enquire into the action of policeman in reporting the South Wharf merchants for encumbering the wharf.

It was left for the representatives of the Ward to air the places and have the nuisances removed.

A resolution of Ald. Ferguson that the Dominion Government be asked to repair the lower end of Union street, damaged by the railway extension, was carried.

On motion it was ordered that the Queen's Square Committee be instructed to repair the benches and pagoda.

The question of reducing the fee for entering a case was discussed, and it was resolved to have a bill sent to the Legislature for that purpose.

A. H. DeMill, Esq., as counsel for John Doherty, driver, asked that his bill of $60 be paid. By some manipulation of his counsel this bill was increased to $208. Laid over.

Ald. Kerr moved for the abolition of the office of Superintendent and Inspector of Streets, but withdrew his motion when he learned the subject was under consideration by the General Committee.

If you want a fine-flavored, prime Havana cigar, give Lawton Bros. a call. King Street.

Organization of a Historical Society.

A number of gentlemen met last evening in the Directors' Room of the Mechanics' Institute for the purpose of considering the propriety of forming a Historical Society. J. W. Lawrence, Esq., was elected President, and James Hannay, Esq., was appointed Secretary of the meeting. The President dwelt on the importance of such a society. By its aid, he had no doubt, many valuable documents and papers would be secured that in a few years would be entirely lost.

A. A. Stockton, Esq., moved a resolution approving of the object of the meeting, and the desirability of having a society formed. In doing so he referred to the advantages that had resulted from such societies in other places. He had in his own possession papers connected with the early history of the Province a century old, which he would be happy to place in the archives of the society. The motion was seconded by G. Hurdock, Esq., and passed unanimously.

W. R. M. Burles, Esq., moved that a committee be appointed to report a Constitution and bye-laws and submit the same at a future meeting. The motion, seconded by R. W. Croshaw, Esq., passed. W. R. M. Burles, Esq., James Hannay, A. A. Stockton and the Chairman were appointed such committee.

W. P. Dole, Esq., moved that a committee be appointed to learn from the Directors of the Mechanics Institute on what terms they will give the use of such rooms as the society may require. The motion was carried and T. W. Lee, G. U. Hay and W. Kilby Dimock were appointed such committee.

After some further discussion the meeting adjourned to await the reports of the committees. From the remarks of the gentlemen at the meeting, and the interest exhibited, there is very little doubt but that the society will be a success.

City Police Court.

Daniel McEade got drunk last night and made an effort to gain the harbor of St. John, N. B.

His purpose was stronger than his legs, and he lay down to sleep in the alley leading to the Station. A policeman picked him up and dragged him in, and when he awoke this morning comparatively sober he was firmly convinced that he went in last night, asked for protection and was granted a sleeping place. He was so sure of this that, when the Magistrate asked him to reply to a charge of drunkenness, he stoutly affirmed that he came in for protection, after he'd had but "a little taste of drink." He was fined $5, with the remark that it would have been but $4 if he had told the truth.

Patrick Moore, in answer to the question—"Were you drunk?" replied: "Well, yes, I was."—"Why couldn't you say so then?" What is the good of 'supposing' the case?" Moore explained that he was a stranger, that he arrived yesterday, had had nothing to eat for some time and a few drinks overcame him. He was sentenced to pay $4 or work five days at the crusher. He offered twenty five cents, all the money he had, to be set at liberty, but his bribe was spurned.

Susan Carr, in for protection, was let go.

Jas. McCart was called upon to answer a charge of assaulting his father. The magistrate received him severely, reminding him that he had lately been complained of for interfering with his industrious brother, and asked him for living with a prostitute. "She is my wife," said McCart. "Who married you?" asked the court. "Father Michael," said McCart. "I doubt that very much," remarked His Honor in a contemptive tone. McCart denied the charge of assault and the old man was called to give his testimony. He swore that his son came into the house drunk, and began abusing his mother and everything else. "Then he tried to push me," said McCart. "Did he hurt you?" "No, he didn't hurt me any." Then the Magistrate said: "I will let the prisoner go. Go back with your son, and don't come here again. You had a very different story to tell yesterday when you came for the warrant. I thought you had been beaten half to death." And father and son walked away as though peace had been made between them before they appeared in court.

James McIntosh, a beardless youth from Antigonish, N. S., was called upon to answer for having abused Jeremiah O'Leary. The complainant, in the course of a rambling statement, declared that while he was on the way to mass last Sunday the defendant came out of a rum shop, stopped him on the sidewalk, called him a sneak and a mean old man, and threatened to pitch him off the sidewalk. "Ned Kelly was the man that saw it, so he did, and I've been after him and couldn't get him to come here and let yer know that it's God's truth I'm tellin' yer honor." He was cross-questioned by Geo. F. House, Esq., and admitted that he had told that he had seen McIntosh drunk, that McIntosh first asked him if he had circulated such a report, and that he had replied—"Go about your business and don't be abusing me." Michael Harrigan swore that McIntosh that he was a sober, honest, inoffensive man, and that he believed the charge malicious. McIntosh denied that he had come out of a rum-shop, and declared that he had seen McIntosh drunk, and having called the old man a sneak, Mr. House made a brief speech in behalf of his client, and then the magistrate imposed a fine of $3, warning McIntosh that he should respect old age, as he might be an old man himself some time, and telling him how he should have politely remonstrated with the aged O'Leary instead of threatening to pitch him into the street.

The Academy Lecture Course.

Mr. Geo. A. Jones and a St. John committee have arranged a brilliant lecture and concert course of ten nights, beginning October 5th and closing early in January. The names of the lecturers engaged are enough to guarantee a rush for tickets. The course will be opened by the Boston Philharmonic Club, one of the most popular combinations of musical talent in America, assisted by Miss May Bryant. The Barnabee Concert Company, including the humorous Barnabees, who always makes St. John laugh so heartily, Mrs. H. M. Smith (one of the most admired sopranos who ever visited us), Miss Clark and Mr. Winch, and Miss Bell, the violinist, will give the second entertainment. Then we are to have Mrs. Scott-Biddons, the only reader who was ever thoroughly successful in St. John. The lecturers have great reputations. The Browns, Tiffany, DeCordova, Edgar and Boyd are too well known to need introduction. The closing concert, by St. John talent, will be attractive, as the best musical talent of the city will be brought out. The tickets are very cheap, and the plan of distributing the seats is perfectly fair to all.

The Police Court Room.

The court room commences to have quite a respectable appearance now, as the repairs are nearly completed. These repairs were ordered, and the Police Committee given power to carry them out, over a year ago, but the order was a dead letter until Ald. Melick took the chairmanship of the committee. Under his direction the present improvements in the building have been made, though several members of the committee vigorously opposed it. His point being carried it was decided to leave the arrangements to Justice Gilbert, who, more than any one else, was interested in having the place well and well and be comfortable. Under the particular direction of the Magistrate, the carpenters and masons have been at work for about three weeks, and now the place begins to look quite respectable. The partition separating the Magistrate's and clerk's rooms from the Court room was removed, and another built about three feet further out. This enlarges both rooms from mere closets to quite respectable sized offices. The committee will, no doubt, see that they are both well papered, painted and furnished. The extension of these rooms necessitated an entire change in the court room, and the only way to effect it was by sacrificing the space allowed for lawers. This was done and the dock moved back within three feet of the door. The platform on which the Magistrate sits was extended, and the floor of the room devoted to the officers of the court and those having business there has been raised. This will make the room warmer in winter. The reporters, who, Justice Gilbert considers, do so much toward the suppression of vice, by giving publicity, as he does by punishing, have not been forgotten, and on his left desks will be placed for them. The painters are Messrs. Blakeley & Whitehead have the contract for this work. The members of the Police Committee are much pleased with the economical and thorough manner in which the work has been done under the Magistrate's direction. Ald. Melick has ordered the necessary furniture. Improvements are also being made in the roof of the building, to prevent leakage and dampness in the cells. Prisoners will be freed so that prisoners cannot escape. In reference to this the Police Committee gave authority to have the work done some weeks ago, when a man escaped, but for some reason it was neglected and McKean was able to break out. The court room and offices will probably be ready for occupation on Monday next, though the work will not be completed at that time.

ADDRESS

M. McLEOD,

51 Prince William Street,

St. John, N. B.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs,

such as Coughs, Colic, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this remedy for all the

affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A vast

trial of its virtues

throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does

surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best physicians, and of the most eminent of our countrymen, is in favor of it. It is not only a powerful

remedy for all the

affections of the

Throat and Lungs,

but it is also a

powerful

expectorant, and is especially valuable in cases of

Whooping Cough,

and in all cases

of Consumption.

It is also a powerful

remedy for all the affections of

Stomach, and is especially valuable in

cases of

Indigestion,

and in all

Diarrhea.

It is also a powerful

remedy for all the

the Head,

and is especially valuable in cases of

Migraine,

and in all
