DOLLAR DAY SPECIAL ADVS.

Read Them All And Make Your Cash Go a Long Way.

This issue of the Graphic contains a large number of special Dollar Day advs. We advise our readers to read them carefully and plan their shopping. It would be a good idea to make out lists for the separate stores at which you expect to shop and then leave the required amount of cash with the list, as the stores expect to be extremely busy both days. The orders could then be made up and delivered at leisure.

Because of the curtailed train service it is possible that some of our readers will not be able to visit Campbellton, but we are sure if any such will mail their orders with the cash the goods will be cheerfully sent them to put aside until called for.

The prices are all rock bottom so that you run no risk in buying a supply for the next month or two.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO SEE A GOOD SHOW FREE.

When John Fox, Jr., wrote "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," he wrote a tale that will live forever in the hearts of the public.

The elemental grandeur of its setting, the simple beauty of its love story and the fascination of its rugged character are re-created on the screen in a picture that is gem-like in its artistic perfection.

This production with Jack Pickford as "Dad" the untutored boy of the Blue Ridge Mountains, is the feature of the Bill at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday. See adv. on page four and learn how you may gain free admittance.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL FOR MURDER

O. Gaius Steeves Says He Is Innocent of Murder of Family.

MONCTON, N. B., Mar. 1.—Oliver Gaius Steeves, who was recently arrested here in connection with the tragedy on Feb. 15th at Niagara Road, Albert County, where the bodies of his wife and five children were found in the ruins of their home, was this morning committed to stand trial at Hopewell Cape, Albert County, on the charge of murdering his wife.

The accused, who was again brought before John W. Gaskin, J. P., in Union Hall, Coverdale, when asked if he had anything to say replied: "I am innocent and will reserve my defense for the next hearing if sent up."

In committing the prisoner, Magistrate Gaskin said:

"I have listened to the evidence presented and I think there is enough evidence to place him on trial. I think it is a case that should be investigated by a grand jury. If this is an accident, it certainly is a tragedy; and if the poor families in our country are being put in places to sleep that are merely traps, it should be investigated, and if it is a crime it is much worse." Steeves' trial will take place in the fourth week of April.

OBITUARY.

John McLaughlin. The death occurred on Sunday in St. John, of Mr. John McLaughlin, a well-known resident of Chatham, who in the early days before the advent of the railway on the North Shore used to drive the stages from Richibucto to Chatham, and who was extremely well versed in the early history of the Miramichi. He was 82 years old and leaves two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Blakely of this town and Mrs. Annie I. Smith, Everett, Mass., and three very slight sons, Harry of Campbellton and John 3,826, all the wards with the exception of William in the west.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the home of Mrs. Blakely, Church street, service beginning at 2.00 o'clock and interment numbered 1,258, a majority of 1,310, being in Riverside cemetery.—Chatham Gazette.

THE "HIKERS" ON THEIR WAY

Two Truro Men Reach Campbellton Last Evening Enroute West.

Two "Hikers" Fred Curry and Harry Stubbs of Truro, who began a coast-to-coast hike on Feb. 12th arrived here last evening. They expect to arrive in Vancouver by July 1st.

They are one of four parties who are out for trans-continental records. While the others followed the shorter route through Maine, they are taking the "All Canadian" route, following the C. N. R. right of way. So far they have been exceptionally well treated by C. N. R. station employees and the people generally. Through the section settled by the French they had some difficulty as neither can speak the language. They spent Tuesday night with the Continental Lumber Co. at River Charlo and say they enjoyed it fine.

In order to provide funds for necessary expenses they are selling post-cards. As they anticipate difficulty in going through the French section of Quebec they are anxious to sell as many post cards here as possible and will likely spend Friday here. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wallace invited them to dinner today and others will also likely entertain them.

EXTERMINATION OF SHELDRAKE

Investigation on Nashwaak
"Showed Destruction Among Trout."

A movement towards the extermination of the sheldrake duck has been begun in New Brunswick by which it is hoped to remove a feathered pest and protect to a greater extent the trout waters of this and other provinces.

Col. T. G. Loggie, Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines, and W. H. Allen, president of the New Brunswick guides' Association have taken joint action in the matter and at their instance R. W. Tufts of Wolfville, N. S., Chief Federal Migratory Bird Officer for the Maritime Provinces came here during the autumn and made a special investigation of conditions.

Took Birds Along Nashwaak.
Along the Nashwaak river an official hunt for sheldrakes took place twenty-six of these destructive water-fowl being killed. Their bodies were shipped to Washington, D. C. where an examination of their stomachs was made by experts. Trout were found in the stomachs of nineteen of the ducks. In the stomach of one duck were found seven trout.

Worst Case on Record.
The letter from Mr. Tufts giving the results of this investigation of the bird's stomachs was the worst on record in Canada or the United States.

If the sheldrake is to be exterminated the Migratory Birds Act under which Canada and the United States take joint action to protect certain wild-fowl must be amended as under the present act the sheldrake is given certain protection. This duck is useless for food or as a game bird as the fish diet gives a most unpleasant flavor to the flesh. Trout streams in all parts of the continent are infested by them with the result that the fish are destroyed. In this province it has been found that almost impossible to stock certain waters with fry on account of the depredations of the sheldrake.

As far as is known New Brunswick is the first province or state which has taken action towards having the sheldrake placed so its depredations will be limited.

Serious Allegations Made By Councillor Against Police Force

Demand that Charges be Made in Writing—Chief of Police Denies Charges—Muddle in Appointment of Assessors Straightened Out.

A meeting of the Town Council was held Monday evening, His Worship Mayor McKay presiding. There were present Councillors Belyea & McNeilah, Wat-son, Patterson, Bissett, Chamberlain, St. Onge and Duncan.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

A communication from the Town Solicitor, H. A. Carr, stating that in the claim of Mrs. David Smith for damages through injury received on Arran St., the town was not liable.

The communication was ordered placed on file and Mr. Smith notified.

Coun. Wallace favored settling the case without a law suit. Lawyers opinions in the past had been very costly to the town. He thought a further effort should be made to settle the case.

Coun. Duncan said that Council should follow advice of Solicitor. If the Council should settle every such claim, town would soon be in deep water.

Coun. Bissett moved that Messrs. Belyea & McNeilah be employed to audit and investigate the financial standing of the town for 1919 and 1920.—Carried.

Coun. Patterson said we had a statement prepared, why have another of the policeman.

His Worship said the town could define the duties of the police.

Coun. Patterson thought the police should look after prohibition enforcement until some arrangements were made by Chief Inspector.

Coun. Bissett said it was not our place to notify the Chief Inspector. He had an officer here, let him look after this matter.

Coun. Moores asked were our policemen to be instructed not to arrest drunken men on the streets.

Coun. Bissett—Certainly not. What he should do was neglect his civic duties and go around searching for liquor.

Coun. Moores asked Coun. Bissett if it was the man Fournier arrested for being drunk that he had referred to and on being answered yes, asked if he, (Coun. Bissett) had seen Mr. Fournier that night.

Coun. Bissett said that he had not seen Mr. Fournier, but he had it from good authority that he was not drunk.

Coun. Moores said that he was extremely sorry that this matter had been brought up. He regretted to say that he had seen Fournier on the night mentioned, and he would not say that he was sober.

Coun. Wallace thought that if there were charges against the police, there should be an investigation.

Coun. Bissett asked what was done in reference to previous motion asking the government to bear a portion of the cost for police.

Town Clerk—Premier Foster had been written to him, but he had never received it.

His Worship said that when a policeman was arrested for being drunk hereafter or until such a time as the Provincial government paid a portion of the fine to save the town from a disgrace to the town to have policemen treat citizens so. He moved that hereafter or until such a time as the Provincial government paid a portion of the fine to save the town from a disgrace to the town to have policemen treat citizens so. He moved that hereafter or until such a time as the Provincial government paid a portion of the fine to save the town from a disgrace to the town to have policemen treat citizens so.

Coun. Bissett agreed with Coun. Wallace. It would be a mistake to have illiterate children grow up in our town.

The account of the St. John County Hospital for $283.83 for expenses of Miss Walker was read and referred to the Public Charities Committee.

W. A. Smith wrote that as he had paid taxes at Grand Falls he did not think he should pay here as well. Referred to Assessment and Appeals Committee.

A number of ratepayers of Ward 1 petitioned the Council for water and sewerage on Mill Street.—Referred to Water and Sewerage Committee.

On motion Mr. Day who is interested in the property there spoke in favor of town improvements in that locality showing that if such improvements were made, the town would derive a large revenue from same.

The usual departmental reports were passed and accounts ordered paid.

Coun. Patterson of the Police and License Committee reported recommending that J. Davidson be granted a license upon payment of $50.00. Report received and adopted.

Coun. Duncan of Finance and Audit Committee reported that three applications had been made for the work of auditing and making a general investigation and report on town business and recommended Belyea & McNeilah as they were thoroughly conversant with town business.

Coun. Bissett moved that Messrs. Belyea & McNeilah be employed to audit and investigate the financial standing of the town for 1919 and 1920.—Carried.

Coun. Patterson said we had a statement prepared, why have another of the policeman.

JAMES AS MONUMENTS

They Are Found Many Times In Our Language.

Every great discovery or international crisis brings forth a man whose name is destined to live in our language. Particularly striking is the group of memorial names in the electric and magnetic world. A few may be given to interest those who constantly use the terms yet do not know their derivation.

The measurement for pressure or electromotive force is a volt named after Alessandro Volta (1745-1827), an Italian physicist, originator of the electrochemical cell, and the Volt, the unit which proved Galvani (1737-1820) wrong in his theory of animal magnetism.

The standard unit for the ampere is named after the French physicist, who took one volt of pressure to drive a current of one ampere through a resistance of one ohm, but he does not gain the additional interest of knowing that Andre Marie Ampere (1775-1826) was a French electrician and "the father of electro-dynamics," who found that two parallel conductors carrying currents in the same direction but repel each other when the current flows in opposite directions.

George Simon Ohm (1789-1854), a German physicist, claims the ohm, the unit of resistance, is equal to the strength of the current.

The watt is one volt multiplied by one ampere, but James Watt (1736-1819), inventor of the condensing steam engine and his work is generally known. The unit was too small to be convenient, so conventionally adopted 1,000 watts as a commercial unit of power and named this a kilowatt.

The coulomb brings into view Charles Auguste de Coulomb, a French scientist (1736-1806), who invented the torsion balance, which gave two new inverse square laws in addition to the Newtonian one of gravitation. A coulomb is the quantity of electricity required to produce a definite chemical effect—to deposit 1.1183 milligrams of silver.

The Joule is named after James Prescott Joule (1818-1889) of Manchester, the unit being the energy expended in the second by a current of one ampere passing through a resistance of one ohm.

It is scarcely necessary to mention the origin of the Curie unit which represents the quantity or mass of substance in emanation in equilibrium with one milligram and one-thousandth of a milligram respectively, for the Curie is still speaking, though Pierre Curie is dead.

The farad unit (Michael Faraday 1791-1867), from which faradization comes, should be added, and most readers know of mesmeric powers of being mesmerized (Franz Mesmer 1734-1815).

Galvani, galvanize are equally familiar. Luigi Galvani (1737-1796) was a professor of anatomy at Bologna and was noted for his investigations in the contractions produced in the muscles of frogs by contact with metals. This was the beginning of galvanic or voltaic electricity.

There are dozens of names which are used as adjectives: Hertzian waves, outer rays, cooling tube, and, to step a little outside the scientific world, who does not enjoy having the mackintosh in winter and the smooth macadamized roads? Charles Mackintosh, who, in 1823, found he could apply mackintosh to cloth and render it rain-proof, was also doubtless pleased, and John Macadam (1756-1836) certainly found the English roads in a horrible condition when he brought his engineering skill to work on them, France quickly adopting his theories.

Another "Mac," this time Macassar, invented a wonderful hair oil early in the nineteenth century, which is freely used and the oil heads so highly valued in the hair world that "anti-Macassar" came into general use. When Sir Robert Peel instituted the London Police force, they were and are known as "Peelers" or "Macassar." Everybody who reads the average person, reading advertisements, know of what splendid achievements and benevolent intentions and pasteurized milk remind the man who has read of Lord Lister and Louis Pasteur.

Some men's characters are perpetuated in uncomplimentary adjectives. All know the Judas kiss, and a Machiavellian policy, (Nicolo Machiavelli 1469-1527).

RESTIGOUCHE.

Judge Barry's decision that the Restigouche election was not an election settles legally and peaceably a question which, had it been referred to the Legislature would have aroused great political excitement. The decision puts an end to any pretensions to the seat by any of the candidates. The story told in court of how the Restigouche election was conducted, or rather misconducted, must satisfy every fair-minded and impartial observer that facts justify the decision. There are intimations of an appeal to the full court, and it may be just as well to have their judgment, although his view the election is void, both at common law and under the statute, shows no shadow of doubt of the legality of the decision. Unless an appeal this judgment is upset, there must be another election in Restigouche. It can hardly be held before the legislative session, even should the opposition decide to accept the finding of Judge Barry as final. It would seem therefore that the Legislature must meet with the two Restigouche seats vacant. The result will be to give the government a safe majority without the support it is almost certain to receive from a considerable portion of the independent group.

It is impossible to pass over this Restigouche election muddle without again expressing satisfaction at the course pursued by the government in letting the courts decide the issue of the legality of the contest, instead of having the question fought out in the Legislature. By delaying the legislative call, the government made it possible to get the case before the courts for a legal ruling. Instead of throwing obstacles in the way of this proper method of determining the rights of the dispute the government facilitated the judicial appeal. As a consequence the Restigouche election dispute is settled and decided on an impartial consideration of the law and the facts. Out of this and other questions which the election contest raised, the legal members of the Legislature should see the necessity for various election law amendments.—Globe.

THE SEALING INDUSTRY

The seal pack in the Northern Pacific waters is considered to be the most valuable herd of wild animals in the world, its value being placed at $75,000,000. The seal industry is a natural one, and has been operating on their own coast and off the shores of Labrador. In the year 1919, Newfoundland's share of the seal fishery accounted for $1,953 seals with a market value of $275,000. The industry on the island accounts for the employment of 1,885 men and numerous vessels take part in the often hazardous undertaking.

The seal industry originated in Newfoundland in 1763, and for some years after that the annual catch did not exceed three or four thousand skins per season. With the increasing demand for oil and skins, however, the industry grew, and more men and vessels came to engage exclusively in it. By the beginning of the nineteenth century, the annual catch exceeded 60,000 skins, and larger and larger vessels were built for the pursuit, till later these were superseded by fast steamers. At the present time, though there are some sailing vessels still engaged, the steamer is the big unit in the activity and accounts for five-sixths of the catch.

Of late years the seal catch of Newfoundland has fallen off somewhat due to the heavy toll and indiscriminate killing which is now regularized by legislation. The 1908 catch, for instance, numbered 215,263 seals, and that of the following year 209,250 animals. A single vessel has been known to bring in to St. John's a catch of 45,000 and a total of nearly 700,000 seals have been slaughtered by the entire Newfoundland fleet in a single season.

A novel method of hunting seals, under the auspices of the Government of Newfoundland, is to be introduced in the spring by two Nova Scotia aviators which, if successful, may revolutionize the entire industry. The party of three men, with two aeroplanes and dirigibles of the type used so successfully during the war to "spot" submarines, will leave Montreal to join the Newfoundland sealers at St. John's, the augmented party of thirty-five or forty, leaving for the Labrador ice fields.

Hitherto the locating of seal herds has been done by men in the rigging of ships whose range is naturally limited. This work it is intended to do with planes, "spotting" being possible by this means within a radius of fifty miles. The method, then, is as follows: The aeroplane, which carries five men besides the pilot and mechanic, descends to the ice where the animals are dispatched by bullets from pump guns. The skins are then packed in bundles about the base of poles to which a flag is attached. This kind of hunting continues to the end of the season when the ice breaks up, the hunters proceeding from place to place transported by plane as new herds are "spotted". At the close of the season the vessels visit the ice breaks and pick up the bundles, being assisted by the planes in locating and signaling.

Close upon the announcement of the projected activities of these aviators there arrived in St. John's, two "blimps" or war dirigibles, a present to Newfoundland from the Imperial Government. These it is intended to use in the seal fisheries in the same manner, the cost of operation, estimated at $40,000, being borne jointly by the Newfoundland Government and the owners of the sealing vessels assisted in their catch.

The co-operation of the government in this new venture would suggest a belief in the practicability and success of the "hovel" enterprise, and doubtless their success, which, it is highly probable, will have a marked effect upon sealing on the ice coast, and lead to being ahead of revolution in hunting methods.

HYDRO DEAL ON THE NORTH SHORE

Bathurst Company Seeking Increase of Capital Stock to Two Millions.

St. John, Feb. 24.—The New Brunswick Public Utilities Commission, in session here this morning, heard an application from Hon. J. E. Byrne, attorney-general of the province, on behalf of the Bathurst Electric Light and Water Power Company for authority to increase its capital stock, to change its name and enlarge its power.

Hon. Mr. Byrne explained that the intention was to transfer from the Bathurst Lumber Co. all its water power rights on the Nepisiguit River, at Great Falls, Chaina Rock and Middle Landings, all on the north shore of the province.

The Bathurst Lumber Company has already expended about $1,500,000 on its work at Great Falls and desires to transfer the property to the Bathurst Electric Light and Water Power Co.

The new company asked for authority to issue $1,500,000 in bonds and to increase the capital stock issue from $145,000 to $2,000,000.

The purpose of the new company is to increase the size of the present plant at Grand Falls, by enlarging the dam and storage capacity, so that current can be supplied to Jacquet River, Campbellton and other places on the north shore, as well as providing for the operation of the mills of the Bathurst Lumber Company.

The total subscription will be in the vicinity of $300,000. The effort was made during an unfavorable time of the year, and an unfavorable reaction and business uncertainty conspired against its complete success.

HINDU GIRL AMAZED AT AMERICAN WOMEN

Ahorns "Shocking Dances" and "Immoral Clothing Seen There."

(Bangor Commercial.) Miss Manik Kasambi, a comely young native student from far off India, who has come to America to study at Radcliffe College, expresses her amazement of the "shocking dances" of the people here and at the "immoral clothing worn by our women."

She abhors American modern dancing and says she "cannot understand why the authorities permit it." Tight skirts and short skirts are also beyond her comprehension.

"In India only servants wear such short clothing," she comments. "The respectable classes wear the 'sari,' which comes clear to the feet. Even most English women in India, who are most like the Americans, would never think of wearing such skirts as I have seen since coming to this country."

"If I tried to introduce dancing at home people would lose all respect for me. It was my family which started a reform in education in the Province of Goa, and I was the first Hindu girl to go to college."

"I wear American dress, but it was difficult to get used to it, and even now I prefer the dress of my own country. It is so much more comfortable and it doesn't take so long to get dressed, while American women may spend hours in putting on their clothes."

"I am a Brahmin of the highest caste," Miss Kasambi continued with evident pride. "We have temples and go to them at any time. Sunday is no different with us from any other day. I would not care to become a Christian. I prefer our Hindu religion. We have many missionaries among us, but I don't think they are very successful."

"My father is an instructor in Harvard in Indian philosophy, and I have a younger brother in the Cambridge High and Latin School. He is to go to Harvard. When I return to India I will teach English."

A lecturer had been describing some of the sights he had seen abroad during his tour in many countries. He described the Pyramids of Egypt, Niagara Falls in America, the Steppes of Russia, the boiling springs of Hawaii, and concluded generally:

"There are many spectacles in the world that one never forgets."

"I wish you would tell me where I can get a pair!" exclaimed an old lady in the audience. "I am always forgetting mine."

Bed and Board. A Pennsylvania weekly paper published this advertisement, according to a subscriber who thinks it may come to be regarded as a "classic" of its kind:

"As my husband L.—H.— had me advertised in The Argus for leaving his bed and board. It is a mistake. The bed belongs to me, and the board we get at my home. But for me to make any bills for him to pay I couldn't expect him to pay for me now, as my folks bought my clothes while we were living together."

INHUMAN GERMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Notorious ex-Commandant of Prison Camp Was Jerred At.

London.—A tragic fate has overtaken Captain Niemeyer, the notorious ex-commandant of the prisoners' camp at Holzminden, who earned a sinister reputation during the war on account of his ferocious treatment of British officers captured by the Germans. The brutal Niemeyer has been shot recently by the inhabitants of Hanover, where he has lived since the revolution, that he has blown out his brains.

The German people applauded the harshness of Niemeyer and his associates during the war, but after the armistice they began to change their tune. They realized that it is mainly due to such men as Niemeyer that the Germans are in such bad odor throughout the world at the present time.

Feeling in Hanover against Niemeyer ran very high, and he was jerrd at whenever he appeared in the streets. His life latterly became so unbearable that he was driven to commit suicide.

Niemeyer was in America when the war broke out. He crossed over to Europe in 1915, and on the plea that he was over military age, was allowed to land at Liverpool. He passed through England and reached Germany by way of Holland. His brutal work in prison camps began within a few weeks of his arrival in the Fatherland.

By this system the company will be able to exploit each year only wood equal to the new production of the forest; in other words, only the interest on the whole forest can be consumed.

This is a plan by which the programme of Hon. L. A. Taschereau would be realized, when the foreshadowed legislation by which the total amount of timber which could be cut each year would be regulated.

It is also learned that the Laurentide and several other companies are to apply for the same co-operation from the department.

GERMANS ARE UP TO USUAL TRICKERY

Industrial Machine Kept at Low Speed To Deceive the Allies.

London, Feb. 24.—Under the caption "Shamming Dead" the Daily Mail yesterday began a series of articles based on inquiries by a number of special investigators extending over some months purporting to show that Germany intends to evade reparations by trickery.

The Mail declares that the German industrial machine is being deliberately kept at low speed for the purpose of impressing of its financial situation, and asserts that German industries have progressed immensely, thanks to cheap wages and long hours.

A Considerate Woman. A young man went on one occasion to call at a farmhouse to make inquiries after his sweetheart, who had charge of the dairy. The farmer opened the door, and her lover asked him timidly:

"Our milk isn't made; it's got from the cow."

PRESERVE THE QUEBEC WOODS

Co-operation of Lumber Firms and Government in the Operations.

Quebec, Feb. 26.—The Chicoutimi Pulp Company has asked Hon. Honore Mercier, minister of lands and forests, to inaugurate, with the co-operation of his department, an inventory of the provinces forests so as to organize its wood cutting. With this system the engineers of the department and those of the company will prepare a programme of lumber cutting several years, showing the location and the quantity of timber to be cut down each year.

By this system the company will be able to exploit each year only wood equal to the new production of the forest; in other words, only the interest on the whole forest can be consumed.

This is a plan by which the programme of Hon. L. A. Taschereau would be realized, when the foreshadowed legislation by which the total amount of timber which could be cut each year would be regulated.

It is also learned that the Laurentide and several other companies are to apply for the same co-operation from the department.

And Will Sail on the Melita.

St. John, Feb. 26.—Supposedly suffering from some hallucination or from a nervous breakdown a man from Poland walked into the C. P. R. station at Hoyt last evening at 7:30 o'clock and turned over to the station agent, W. N. Duplisa, $900 in cash, which he asked him to keep for him. He would not divulge his name, but showed his transport and transportation to England on the C. P. O. S. liner Melita.

At this juncture he begged the station agent not to shoot him and then departed and started walking along the track, heading west.

He is a man apparently between thirty-five and forty years of age, short, thick set, and has a dark mustache. The station agent was of the opinion that he was from Fredericton.

This morning C. P. R. officials started out in search of the man and Inspector Leggett, of the Investigation Department, located him at Root. He detained him here until the arrival of the Montreal train and brought him on to the city. It is understood that he will be placed on board the Melita and sent to his home.

MUST CARRY ON
Some of the members of the present town council would no doubt be extremely well pleased if the resolution passed at the recent meeting of the council could be put into immediate effect, but unfortunately for the carrying out of justice and the enforcement of all laws, their action is contrary to the law governing the duties of police officers and constables.

Such officers are in duty bound to see that all the laws of the land are observed and whenever they are aware of breach of such laws and take no steps to arrest offenders, they themselves are amenable under the law.

With particular reference to the Prohibition law, page 371, sec. 156 says:

"Police officers and constables shall have full authority . . . and it shall be their duty to enforce all the provisions of this Act." On page 377, sec. 170 the act further states: "It shall be the duty of every policeman, constable or local inspector who sees any person in a state of intoxication or apparently under the influence of liquor to cause such person to go before the magistrate."

It is thus clearly the duty of our police officers to assist in every way in the enforcement of the law, and we believe that the council is guilty of at least a technical infraction of the law if the policemen are instructed not to attend to their duties as above set forth.

It should be the duty of every right thinking citizen to encourage and assist the officers in the discharge of their duty. Let them understand that despite the unjust criticism of a few who would like to see the prohibition act tramped under foot, the large majority of the citizens are behind them in the strict enforcement of that law.

FAVORS LAW BREAKING.

It is a pretty state of affairs when the chief governing body of our town condones the breaking of the laws of our province and instructs its officers to take no part in the enforcement of certain laws. Pressure should be immediately brought to bear to have this resolution rescinded at the earliest possible time.

The following is a copy of the resolution of the Council as passed at the last session, and which is now spread on the minutes of Council.
"Moved by Coun. Belle-Isle, seconded by Coun. Duncan that the Police officers be instructed not to take any

OBITUARY.

John Henderson.

Sackville, Feb. 28.—Mr. John Henderson, an aged and highly respected resident of Sackville passed away about midnight Sunday night after a long illness. Deceased who was a native of Scotland, had resided in Sackville for the past nine years, removing here from Campbellton. He had reached the advanced age of 84 years.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. H. E. Mott, of Dalhousie, and Misses Minnie and Maud at home; and two sons, W. J. Henderson in the west, and R. G. Henderson of Sackville.

The funeral was held from his late residence, Allison Avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment was in the rural cemetery.

5 cobs Baked Beans for $1.00 at P. Jamieson's.

GASPE.

Gaspe, Que., Feb. 26.—A very interesting hockey match recently took place in the Olympia rink, Gaspe Harbor, between Gaspe and Gaspé Harbor. The result was 8 to 6 in favor of Gaspe. The return match will be played early in March when it is expected the score will be reversed.

A match is contemplated between married and single ladies to take place next week. This will prove interesting and attractive.

A very sad and rather sudden death occurred recently which has somewhat cast a gloom over our sporting circle. Knowlton Fitzpatrick, a very promising young man, a good sport and beloved by all who knew him, passed away after a very brief illness. Interment took place on Wednesday the 23rd instant, in the R. C. cemetery, Gaspe, when Catholics and Protestants vied with each other in doing reverence to the deceased.

Mr. Geo. Davis recently returned from a business trip to Montreal.

Mr. Kingley Carter has also returned from his trip to Quebec and Montreal.

A district meeting of the L. O. O. F. is called for on Friday next at the Oddfellow's Hall, Sandy Beach. Important matters will be discussed and delegates from the sister lodges will be present.

The splendid memorial monument which has been purchased by public subscription, is now in place and will be unveiled about July 1st.

It is hoped that General Sir Richard Turner, V. C., and General Sir David Watson will be present at the unveiling ceremony.

After an exceptional period of storms and blizzards we are now having very nice weather and it is hoped spring will not be backward in coming to us.

On Friday evening, the 25th ult., a district meeting was held at the Oddfellow's Lodge, Sandy Beach, at 8 p. m. The meeting was presided over by Bro. George Davis, D. D. G. M., and was called together by him in consideration of a communication from the President of the Ladies' War Memorial Committee of Gaspe.

It has been the custom during the recent years for the Odd Fellows (who are now a very influential body in the district) to hold an annual picnic or outing on July 1st. Dominion Day. This year the date would conflict with the plans of the L. W. M. Committee, who had chosen that day as the one best suited for the unveiling of the splendid memorial monument. They decided to ask the Odd Fellows if they would postpone their outing on that day and co-operate with the War Memorial Committee.

Quite a number of brothers were present from the other lodges and after a full and free discussion it was unanimously decided to do all that possibly could be done by the association to aid the ladies of the War Memorial Committee in carrying out their programme on July 1st. A committee was then appointed to confer with the committee of the L. W. M. at Gaspe.

After the meeting a very enjoyable evening was spent by the brothers. Songs and recitations by local talent being splendidly rendered and greatly appreciated.

Later refreshments were served to the visiting brothers by the members of Eastern Star Lodge, Sandy Beach.

SHIGAWAKE EAST.

Once more the death bell has rung, this time to announce the death of an old and respected citizen in the person of Mr. Edward Vautier, who passed away to his eternal rest on February 10th. Deceased was 67 years of age and had always resided in Shigawake, where he was highly esteemed.

His death came as a great shock to all, being ill but a short time. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, one son Roland at home and four daughters: Mrs. Jas. Prevost of Port Daniel, Mrs. Thos. Maher, Chandler; Miss Jeannie, Boston and Miss Nellie at home.

The funeral service was held in St. Godfrid Church and was largely attended, showing the great esteem in which the deceased was held.

To the bereaved family, we extend our most heartfelt sympathy.

An English lady visiting Toronto declares her conviction that "the French-Canadian race are an immense asset to the Dominion." The fact that so few of the Canadian extraction learn French seems to her "little short of amazing." The view of this visitor is the view of every broad-minded Canadian.

TAX EXEMPTION FOR NEW HOUSES IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—An ordinance providing tax exemption of five thousand dollars a year for the next ten years on all new dwellings in Greater New York, was passed yesterday by the board of estimates.

It had already been signed by Mayor Hylan and was designed to stimulate erection of homes and relieve the housing situation.

The measure provided exemption of five thousand dollars on a one-family house and five thousand dollars on each apartment in a tenement house.

Australian Labor Party Very Strongly Opposed To Imperial Federation

Anything is done in London by the Empire's Prime Ministers next year to consummate Imperialistic aims, Labor at the first opportunity will solemnly repudiate the compact before the whole world.

In this emphatic manner does the Sydney, Australia, Worker, a Labor weekly, affirm its opposition to Imperial federation.

The organized workers of Australia, it says, "will not tolerate Imperial federation."

The issue is being debated in the Australian press at the present time owing to the Constitutional Conference called to meet in London within the next year or two. The immediate cause of discussion was Lord Milner's speech in reference to the conference.

Several Australian comments infer that, with Milner as Secretary of State for the Colonies, they distrust the possibilities of the outcome.

Attacks on Milner as a Federationist are frequent.

Referring to Lord Milner's speech, the Melbourne Age says:

"We do not consent to be ruled by the majority decisions of representatives of Great Britain, Canada, South Africa and New Zealand, even though members of the Australian Government sit and vote amongst them. This is not the way in which its strength to the right which it enjoys of fixing the nature and magnitude of the preparations it will make for its own defence, and of deciding without compulsion from any Federal Imperial body, or any outside authority whatsoever, the circumstances and places in which its land and sea forces may be employed. The Commonwealth acknowledges its duty to the Empire, and desires to respect its obligations. It welcomes guidance from the Imperial Government in development of its defensive policy; it favors consultation from time to time at Imperial conferences, but it is convinced that it can be a more willing and powerful Imperial partner if it retains its absolute freedom."

On another day, discussing the same issue, the Age said:

"Australia cannot and will not surrender any share in the control of its defence to any outside body. It will decide for itself the nature, extent and cost of its own system, and brook no interference. In this, as in all other matters, the Commonwealth claims, and has no conceded, complete rights of self-government. Entanglement in any Imperial or Dominion scheme, subject to any measure to outside direction, would embarrass, if not seriously weaken, the Imperial contention of our own people. Those who plan strengthening and already virile spirit of Australia must be aware that while this is so the Commonwealth is willing and anxious, as a nation within the Empire, to give the utmost weight and the most serious consideration to any advice which the greater experience of the Imperial authorities may suggest for making our forces by land and sea efficient for the protection of our own, as well as for co-operation with the forces of Great Britain and the Dominions. The decision rests with Australia itself in matters of organization and extent, as well as in those of 'operation' and 'regulation.'"

A correspondent of the New Statesman, writing from Melbourne, says that outside a very limited circle in Australia which favors Imperial federation or any closer Imperial bonds with the Empire, the attitude is almost unanimously hostile.

"Lord Milner's speech," he adds, "finds support only amongst the ultra-royalist group of 'Round Table' lawyers, politicians and University men, and a few renegades who are obsessed with the purely professional aspects of defence problems, which can, however, be solved without any formal bonds, contractual legislation or any other kind of obligation."

"The most democratic and vigilant elements in Australian political thought," he continues, "are fundamentally at issue with the Imperial Federation gospel in all its forms and with its implications. Certain newspaper correspondents may seek to convey the impression that in some subtle fashion a change has passed over the Commonwealth, that 'boys' there have been generated, 'new atmospheres' in which Imperial federation will flourish. It is not so. The majority of the returned soldiers have become absorbed in the national life and have not been regimented themselves in the two great political parties. The 'Digger' is as much opposed as the civilian voter to any sacrifice of Australia's untrammelled freedom."

A Misprint. Bringing with him an electric atmosphere, a man strode into a newspaper office and banged his stick on the counter of the commercial department. "Where's the editor?" he shouted angrily. "He's—his out!" replied the clerk nervously. "What's he done this time?" "In that advertisement for my valveless motor," said the visitor, "he's turned the second 'v' into a 'u'!"

Origin of the Sandwich. The sandwich is so called from the Earl of Sandwich, who passed whole days gambling, and used to bid the waiter bring him for refreshment a piece of meat between two pieces of bread, which he ate without ceasing to play. The Romans were fond of "sandwiches," which they called "culia."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased part. The only successful treatment is by the use of the Catarrhal Deafness Remedy, a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is a constitutional condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube, and when it is not cured, it leads to permanent deafness. The Catarrhal Deafness Remedy is a powerful, yet safe, remedy, which acts directly on the mucous lining, and restores normal conditions. Circular free. All Druggists.

BIRTHS MORE THAN 10,000

Vital Statistics for Last Year in Province Given Out—Comparisons Made.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 25.—Vital Statistics for New Brunswick for 1920 were given out this morning by the provincial department of public health.

The statistics showed 10,494 births, 5,545 deaths and 3,718 marriages but said the figures will be increased slightly by returns yet to come in from some districts, especially for November and December.

St. John City and County provides one fifth of the deaths with 1,159 and the marriages with 886 but not one sixth of the births with 1,535.

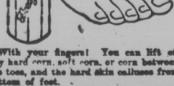

Westmorland county leads in births, with 1,550, with Gloucester recording 1,359 and Northumberland 1,021, the only other county exceeding the thousand mark.

Westmorland had twice as many births as deaths, as did Gloucester and Northumberland counties; all counties in which there is a large proportion of French-Canadian population.

BEAKING BOUNDARIES

NATIONS ARE PREPARING TO STUDY ONE ANOTHER.

Schools Have Recently Been Established in Various Countries Which May Eventually Be the Means of Promoting a New Type of Intellectual Internationalism.

BEGINNING about 1920, a favorite theme for discussion was the relative merits of nationalism and internationalism. The one camp insisted that each nation should, if not exactly live unto itself, at least endeavor to make its predominant characteristics stand out. This was to increase variety. The other argued that the nations of the earth should be brought into a common national distinction, if not boundaries, and live after the fashion of their neighbors across the border. This was to further peace. Then came the war.

This was more so than any in history, has been a lesson. It not merely reduced twenty-odd nations to a common level of poverty. It not merely made pauperism, communism, gentry, and even royalty fight side by side. It left in its wake the spirit of the new functions of a school for internationalism. It taught the world that co-operation among nations is indispensable to peace and prosperity.

That that is being about a new type of politics is self-evident. That it will have an immeasurable effect upon the world is equally certain. Its influence upon education and journalism, though already noticeable, has not been fully emphasized. What will this be? With the nations of the world bound together by a league, or a confederation, or a society, as the French prefer to call it, what will be the new functions of a school for internationalism? The first notable effect that this had on the great universities is seen in their increased interest in international law, the purpose of which is to "teach the legal codes of other nations." Such men as Balfour, Lloyd George, and the other statesmen of the League, have founded similar schools at Sydney. The first of these is the International School for the study of other nations. The first course of lectures will be delivered by the great British statesman, now in plain that the Germans thoroughly misunderstood the English, and that the English thoroughly misunderstood the French. It is now being held in London, and will be held in New York.

And aside from the universities as such, international institutes are being set up in various parts of the world, and are not merely to "study" but to "teach" the ways of other foreign peoples. And Country Life (London) now informs us that a similar institute is to be opened in New York.

The student from Belgrade can enter a Serbian class, and be taught in the language of the Hansens and Jensens. But Denmark's aim is not to make progress for her own sake. It is to make progress for the sake of the world.

JURY ACQUITS REV. MR. SPRACKLIN

Verdict Not a Surprise, But Atmosphere in Court Was Tense.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 25.—After deliberating for exactly fifty-five minutes at the conclusion of two days and a half of a trial that made Canadian legal history, the jury at the Sandwich assizes brought in a verdict of "Not Guilty" in the case of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, pastor of Sandwich church accused of "unlawfully slaying and killing one Beverly Trumble."

After being addressed by the counsel in the case and charged by Chief Justice William Mulock, presiding justice, the jury left the court room at 2.20. Exactly at 3.15 they returned to the court room and made public the verdict that made the accused minister a free man.

The verdict was not in any way a surprise, for the general opinion of the public has been, since the opening of the case that Spracklin would be acquitted, but nevertheless the atmosphere was tense while the crowds that thronged the court were waiting for the return of the "twelve good and true" who held the fate of the "fighting parson" in their hands.

When seen by newspapermen after his acquittal Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin refused to pass any comment whatever on the case or the verdict. He stated that his plans for the future were indefinite.

New York C. P. R. Building

The great uptown trend of business in New York has been taken by the Canadian Pacific Railway, which has purchased the building for $2,000,000. The Canadian Pacific deal, which has reached an entire year to close on account of its elaborate ramifications, involves a lease from the Madison Avenue Offices, Inc., the holding corporation for the Fifth Church of Christ Scientist, of a large store, basement and almost the entire second floor of the 41st Street portion of this twenty-one story building; and also involves an investment of considerable proportions by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in the building itself, in consideration of which the name of the building will be changed from "Madison Avenue Offices," or, as it has sometimes been referred to, the "Christian Science Building," and will be re-named the "Canadian Pacific Building."

The area of the plot on which the building stands, covers over 71,000 square feet, and is situated directly opposite the Hotel Biltmore on the east, Brooks Brothers' building to the north and the old Hotel Manhattan to the south.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will occupy in the store, basement and second floor, all that part of the building on which only a year ago stood St. Bartholomew's Church, demolished last April, to make way should be given a chance to vindicate himself.

Serious Allegations Against Police Force

Coun. Bissett said that some specific charge should be made in writing.

Coun. Belle-Ile said that he had reported what he had been led to believe were facts. These were told him by reputable citizens.

Coun. Patterson moved that before proceeding with an investigation that the charges against the Chief of Police must be put in writing, when that is done the matter will be investigated.

Coun. Duncan thought this was very far fetched. If we waited until citizens made written charges against the police, we would wait a long time.

Coun. Bissett said he thought that if any person made charges against the police they should be men enough to put it in writing.

Coun. Wallace moved in amendment that the whole matter be referred to the Police & License Committee for report at next meeting.

Coun. Patterson said the Police & License Committee had nothing to investigate. No charges had been made. He would have nothing to do with such investigation until charges were made in writing.

There was no seconder to Mr. Wallace's amendment.

The original motion was carried.

Coun. Moore moved that Chief of Police Adams be heard.—Carried.

Chief of Police Adams said that the statements made by Coun. Belle-Ile were entirely false. He said that he (Adams) had poured a glass of gin and given it to a prisoner. This was a deliberate falsehood and he defied any man to lay the charge. With reference to Fournier, Officer Smith had made the arrest. The man was drunk, and made a deposit of $7.00 and was allowed to go but failed to appear next morning. As for feeling men's pockets for squarefaces this was also false. He defied any person to make a charge against him.

Coun. Belle-Ile explained that because of certain qualifications the Town Clerk was not eligible to act as Assessor and he moved that J. J. Bernier be appointed assessor for Ward II.

Coun. Patterson nominated Havelock Sansom.

Upon a vote being taken it was declared a tie and the Mayor gave his casting vote in favor of J. J. Bernier, who was declared elected.

Coun. Wallace stated that because no notice had been sent Mr. Eagles of his appointment as Assessor he had not been sworn in within the time limit, therefore he would have to be reappointed.

Coun. Wallace nominated H. Eagles assessor for Ward I.

Coun. Bissett moved that Bryan Annett be assessor for Ward I.

Upon a vote being taken Bryan Annett was declared elected.

Can Any Canadian City Beat This?

The mild and equable all-year-round climate of Victoria on Vancouver Island—a climate which is bringing so many Canadians and Americans to the beautiful Empress Hotel—is demonstrated most convincingly by the record of the thermometer. According to figures supplied by the meteorological office of the Dominion Government the lowest point reached during the year 1920 was 25 degrees Fahrenheit in the month of January, while in only one month, namely July, was any higher point reached than 84 degrees. The mean in the best summer month of August was 61 degrees while the mean over the whole year was 50 degrees. The winter months of January and February show mean temperatures of 39 and 42, although temperatures in both months were recorded as high as 53 degrees. No wonder that the grass is always green and that Spring comes early in this equable and delightful climate. Victoria is par excellence Canada's City of Flowers, and the Empress Hotel as its social centre is a perennial attraction for young and old.

Strengthen Your Business "Morale"

Soldiers know what it means when an army's "morale" is shattered.

The fighting spirit is gone, the men invite defeat. What is true of military forces is true of some industrial armies.

At the first serious jolt their morale weakens—hope flies, courage disappears—their fighting spirit is lost. There is no place in business today for the "calamity howler." He is drawing salary or wages under false pretences. More distressing still, he is weakening the "morale" of other workers, and of the business itself.

Strengthen your business morale.

Take stock of your men as well as your goods

STEAL LIQUOR? CAN'T BE DONE, SAYS JUDGE
Atlanta, Feb. 21.—Thieves may steal your liquor without fear of prosecution. That is what Justice Humphries of the Superior Court ruled to-day at the trial of a city detective charged with stealing liquor from a self-confessed bootlegger.

The judge ruled that liquor has no legal status and cannot be protected by the laws. Consequently one cannot be arrested for stealing it. He said that the owner of liquor might prosecute as a violation of the Prohibition law, but not for stealing.

For real "honest to goodness" value you will use Red Rose Tea. The same good tea to-day as for over 26 years.

Their Medicine Chest For 26 Years

It is characteristic of those who have lived long and healthily to be "honest to goodness" and to have a "Red Rose Tea" in their medicine chest. I find myself, at intervals, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store corner of my home, and I see myself as I was when I was a young man, and I see myself as I am now. I find myself, at intervals, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store corner of my home, and I see myself as I was when I was a young man, and I see myself as I am now.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to look for a tea in my medicine chest. I found it in Red Rose Tea. NR TONIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT

Puts the gain on ALL the hog

All-round development is what the hog feeder wants, insuring higher grade pork as well as higher finish.

Purina Pig Chow is a scientific balance of concentrates for making bone, flesh, blood and fat. It develops and fattens pigs simultaneously, and brings hogs up to a maximum weight in record time. One feeder last year canceled a car of Purina Pig Chow, because this feed finished out his herd a month earlier than he expected.

Purina Pig Chow contains Hominy Meal, Digerator Tankage, Blackstrap Molasses, Ground Barley, Corn Gluten Meal, Cracked Corn, Linsed Oil Meal, and Alfalfa Flour, with a trace of charcoal and salt.

Compared with corn, barley, shorts, hominy or similar ingredients by weight, Purina Pig Chow will produce 100 lbs. of live hog with one-third to one-half less feed. Fed individually or in combination with other feeds, Purina Pig Chow will produce 25 to 50% more weight.
