EXTENSION SCHOOL AT LAWRENCE TOWN

Lawrencetown, Feb. 4.—The Agricultural Extension School is going forward with an encouraging attendance and marked success under the supervision of the principal, C. E. Boulden, of Windsor.

The second day of the course—Tuesday, was taken up with studies dealing with the practical side of sowing, packing, dairying—the former under the supervision of Messrs. Carey, Hutchinson, and Spurr, all of the Dominion Fruit Branch. The work of sorting and packing, both in boxes and barrels, was done by the students themselves, under direction of competent instructors.

The class in dairying was in the charge of H. R. Brown, of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, Truro. In this class the students themselves do the work of testing the milk and have the general care and handling of dairy products.

S. E. Wilson, of the Dominion Seed Branch, is giving a special series of lectures on fertilizers.

The students are enthusiastic and considering the financial stringency and other obstacles, the attendance is considered encouraging.

A debating society has been organized by the students, with Arthur P. Bartoush, of Clarence, as president, and Owen Hunt of Williamson, as secretary; and also an athletic club, with F. B. Young, president, and F. L. Duncan, secretary, both of Lawrencetown.

The first lecture of the series was given by Dr. Prince, Professor of Economics and Sociology, at the Demonstration Hall, on last Friday eve, Feb. 6, on the subject of "Rural Sociology."

MIDDLETON HEARS LAST LYCEUM CONCERT

The third and last of the Lyceum Concerts took place Friday night in the Armdale Theatre. The entertainment was given by the Apollo Duo, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wells, who have been connected with the Apollo Concert Company since Swarthmore, Pennsylvania. The audience was a very large one and most appreciative.

The pianologues of Mrs. Wells were very amusing, her rich contralto being particularly adapted to the work. On the saxophone and the band's Mr. Wells was a wizard, while his story telling captivated the audience. One of the finest things rendered, in duet, was the playing of old fashioned melodies on the banjo and piano, the performers costumed for the part.

PUBLIC TAKING A KEEN INTEREST IN SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

Many Improvements Have Been Made—Meeting Held to Enlighten Public on Value of This Institution to the Community.

A public meeting in the interests of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital was held last Tuesday evening, Feb. 3rd, in MacDonald School Hall, with Rev. W. R. Turner in the chair. It was for the purpose of enlightening the people of the town as to the financial standing of the institution and to promote a greater interest. Previous to July 1st, 1924, the management had been carried on by a nursing matron and assistants, the town furnishing the water and lights. It was taken over in July by a regularly appointed commission, which is now financing the work in a most satisfactory manner, according to the report given by the Town Council, and $300 has been voted by the municipality towards its support.

After having been taken over by the commission, a much better interest has been aroused among the people, both in town and in the surrounding community.

From July 1st to Dec. 31st, there were 44 patients entered, one fifth of whom came from the county, with several from other parts of the Province. There were 102 major operations, 32 minor ones, and 11 medical cases.

A great deal has been done toward furnishing for kitchen and bedrooms by the local branch of the Women's Institute, while the I. O. D. E. has fitted up the operating room.

A number of rooms have been furnished by outside town villages, which have pledged themselves to the upkeep. Lawrencetown has furnished a two-bed ward in pure white, which is most attractive and up-to-date.

Margareville has taken the keenest interest in the work and the citizens at home and abroad have fitted up an A.I.C. room, which serves also the purpose of a Soldiers' Memorial for the fallen heroes from that village. The hotel, (regular hospital), is fitted with the best Canadian spring and mattresses, regular bedside table and linen, embroidered with the name of the community. The color effect is blue and white. The floor plate is of blue brass, similarly inscribed.

Torbroke and Wilmot have also done their share along this line and are still co-operating heartily, and have shown a deep interest in this institution that serves them.

The new matron in charge is Miss Cox, who with her staff, takes a keen interest in helping the Commission in its work.

Councillor J. A. Balcom of Margareville, has been elected to represent the County Council on the Hospital Commission. Col. C. E. Bent, C.M.G., D.S.I., has been recommended also for a place on the board by the C. W. V. A., and his appointment will likely be confirmed.

BANNER COUNTY FOXES IS ANNAPOLIS

Bridgetown, Feb. 3.—Next Tuesday afternoon and evening the Nova Scotia Fox Breeders' Association will hold special sessions here and will bring up a number of important matters, including the questions of extension of time for the sale of registered stock. The Canadian Association has decided that this is to be the last year to register foxes from unregistered stock. New Brunswick Association wishes a further year.

Royalties on pelts and other matters of interest will come up at the meeting here, and there will be a report by the committee appointed to draft the by-laws for this Nova Scotia Association.

Bridgetown was one of the first places in the Province to go into the Silver Black Fox raising, and, in Sept. 1913, the first lot of foxes arrived—four pairs. In 1914 two pups were sold from them for $7,000. The largest amount received from a single pair was $508.30. Now Annapolis is the banner County of the province in fox ranching, and has more foxes than all the other counties taken together.

There are now 80 ranches, with from one pair to 100 pairs, the largest being A. B. Clark's here, with D. G. Harlow's, Torbrooke, second.

Make the Maritime Provinces More Prosperous

THE FARMER CAN HELP ALONG THESE LINES BY BUYING FERTILIZER MANUFACTURED IN SYDNEY, N. S.

FERTILIZERS are valuable for their contents of Nitrogen, Potash, Phosphoric Acid and Lime and all these ingredients except Potash can be supplied by Fertilizers produced in our own Steel Works in Nova Scotia. Why then send our money to the United States for Nitrate of Soda and Acid Phosphate when we have available, manufactured by our own kiln and kiln.

SULPHATE OF AMMONIA supplying Water Soluble NITROGEN BASIC SLAG supplying both PHOSPHORIC ACID and LIME. LET US GIVE YOU THE FACTS REGARDING THESE FERTILIZERS.

SULPHATE OF AMMONIA PUT UP IN NICE HANDY BAGS OF 125 lbs. EACH.

ABOUT 8,000 TONS ARE PRODUCED in Sydney yearly every ton of which contains 20 1/2 per cent of Water Soluble Nitrogen, an element required in our Orchards and for the growth of potatoes and other crops and yet practically very little Sulphate of Ammonia is used by the Maritime Province farmer. Instead of using our own product he imports from the United States Nitrate of Soda, and our own valuable Sulphate of Ammonia is exported to the ends of the earth to fertilize foreign lands. Do you know that every year 4,000 tons of the Sydney production of Sulphate of Ammonia are shipped to Barbadoes in the West Indies? Now let us not be misunderstood. Every farmer who has used it knows the value of Nitrate of Soda but we ask why import Nitrate of Soda from the United States when Sulphate of Ammonia which supplies the same element as is found in Nitrate of Soda, namely Water Soluble Nitrogen, is manufactured in Nova Scotia and can be bought at a substantially lower price per unit of Water Soluble Nitrogen. Nitrate of Soda contains 13 1/2 per cent Water Soluble Nitrogen and Sulphate of Ammonia 20 1/2 per cent and as the one can quite easily be substituted for the other the farmer's business is to avail himself of the cheapest source of supply.

BASIC SLAG PUT UP IN NICE HANDY BAGS OF 125 lbs. EACH.

THE IDEAL SOURCE of Phosphoric Acid for Grass lands, grain crops and turnips is Basic Slag. The farmer is sometimes advised by so-called experts who take their teaching from the United States to use Acid Phosphate, a product imported from that country. On any land inclined to be sour the use of Acid Phosphate aggravates that condition and therefore in addition to Acid Phosphate an application of Lime is often recommended. Why, however, go to this trouble when Basic Slag containing both Phosphoric Acid and Lime and manufactured in SYDNEY, NOVA SCOTIA, is available and can be applied in one operation.

BASIC SLAG AND SULPHATE OF AMMONIA make an ideal combination in fertilizing but they must be used separately and Basic Slag should be applied at the earliest possible moment.

If YOU are in any doubt as to the merits of Sulphate of Ammonia as against Nitrate of Soda please refer to Professor Blair of Kentville, Dr. Cumming of the Agricultural College, Truro, or you might write The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

HELP CANADIAN INDUSTRIES

BY BUYING CANADIAN MADE GOODS and in doing so you are increasing your own market. Every farming district in the Maritime Provinces is pouring its products into Sydney and the greater the pay-roll of our industries here the bigger will be the consumption of what the farmer has to sell. When our Fertilizer Factory is running full we pay out over $70,000 in wages yearly. Help, therefore, to give your fellow countrymen employment by buying only Canadian made Fertilizers.

CHILDREN'S CARNIVAL

About forty children took part in the Juvenile Carnival here last Friday. Their costumes were pleasing and delighted the spectators; the costumes being quite varied from a monkey to old King Tut's wife.

Of all the entertainments at the carnival, which have created much interest, possibly this carnival was the premier attraction. Both parents and children had no doubt, spent much time in preparation for the event, judging from the splendid array of costumes and the cleverness with which they were gotten up.

"Moon" Landers on the piano and "Diddle" Dodge on the traps, was the source from whence the delightful swinging music for the evening emanated to the general satisfaction of the skaters and spectators alike.

Mrs. G. N. Reagh, Mrs. W. Bowly, Mrs. Halsey and Col. Munton were the judges and awarded the prizes as follows: Girls, 1st fancy, "Cupid" Vye McPherson, 2nd Original, "Morrison Block", Florence Power, 3rd Comic, "Grandmother", Bertha Potter, 4th Fancy, "Candy", Josephine Howard Hoyt; 2nd Original, "Jack in the Box", Jackie Doucett; 5th Comic, "Monkey", Warren Ross Word Puzzle; 6th Original, "The following list gives the name of costume and representation.

St. Vitus Dance

SHOWS THROUGH A TWITCHING OF THE MUSCLES OF FACE AND LIMBS.

Chorea, or as it is more generally known, St. Vitus dance, is a trouble that usually attacks young children, though older people may be afflicted with it. Its most common symptoms are a twitching of the muscles of the face and limbs. As the disease progresses the twitching takes the form of spasms in which the jerking motion may be confused to the head or all the limbs may be affected. Frequently the patient is unable to hold the pen or the handle of a pencil steadily. In severe cases the speech is often affected. The disease is due to debility of the nerves and the relief comes through an enriched blood supply, which feeds and strengthens the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been most successful in reaching this trouble through their specific action on the blood, which it enriches and purifies. The following instance will show what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do in this case.

"You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario."

OBITUARY

Again the community of Torbrook was called upon to mourn the passing of another of its fine citizens.

We refer to the death of Arthur M. Spinney, which occurred on January 28th, last.

The late Mr. Spinney was a man of outstanding Christian character, and in his passing Torbrook is indeed made more poor. As a worker in the church, he was unique, and up till the very last days of his activity he showed his keen interest in the church and its work. An intense sufferer, he bore his infirmities with true Christian grace, till his Great Lord called him to the Peace which passeth all understanding.

The funeral was held on the Friday following, and in spite of the inclement weather, was very largely attended, showing the high esteem in which he was held.

The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Turner, assisted by Rev. L. E. Distant.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mrs. Spinney and family in their sad bereavement.

Knowledge is like money—the more a man gets the more he craves.

FARMERS WILL BE VERY HEAVY LOSERS

Writs and Attachments Still Being Issued Against Firm of Nothard & Lowe

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, Feb. 5.—As an echo of the financial difficulties of the big English fruit firm of Nothard and Lowe, Prothonary McKay has been busy the past few days issuing writs and attachments against that firm.

It is uncertain to what extent the farmers of Annapolis county are involved, but one well informed estimate puts the possible loss as being in the vicinity of $50,000.

One man near Middleton stands to lose in the neighborhood of $15,000. This man was buying for Nothard & Lowe, and paying cash to the farmers. In time he got his money from the proceeds of drafts on the English firm. It is understood that he cashed about $10,000 worth of drafts on England last month, and all of which were dishonored and he is now indebted to the bank for this sum.

Thousands of barrels of apples have been removed from the Nothard & Lowe warehouses by different people claiming them under sellers lines. A prolonged and heavy litigation is in prospect.

BRAIN STRAIN

We hear frequently of gentlemen who have been sent into the woods or to Europe because only a long rest will restore the nerves shattered by overwork.

Sometimes these gentlemen have over-eaten. Seldom have they over-worked. The brain knows better than the stomach when it is carrying an over-load.

And it quits before it begins to crack. The fear of brain strain ought not to deter anybody from working at his job until he is tired.

If somebody didn't get tired every day there would be little accomplished in this world.

If the body is not in condition it wears easily, and the brain wears along with it.

But the body can snap back into form with regular sleep and the right kind of food.

The brain can do the same thing. The mental breakdowns that we read of are usually caused by worry which causes loss of sleep, which in turn breaks down the bodily health.

Get rid of the worry, and sleep will come back. When sleep comes back the health will be improved, and we will find that what we thought was brain strain was only body strain after all.

Watch anybody on a big job in which he is absorbed, and you will be astonished to see how long he can work and think at a stretch without hurting his brain in the least.

It is said that James Russell Lowell, when he wrote "The Vision of Sir Launfal," locked himself up in his study and toiled for three days almost continuously.

Yet after that sustained effort he was able not only to produce many fine poems and essays, but to succeed admirably as Minister to the Court of St. James.

The fliers who have recently made world's records have kept on their jobs for days at a time using their minds while on a task that called for concentration every single moment. But their minds managed to stand the strain.

The brain is sheltered from hardships, and its food carefully prepared by the blood stream before it is fed. It will stand up as a rule far better than the rest of the body.

You can safely undertake any task you can manage, and keep at it, without fear of injuring our mind.

SOLOMON'S CAVE

Solomon's Cave, an old furrer from which the stone was taken to build Solomon's Temple, is situated just outside Jerusalem, in the hills of Judea. All that is left of the temple is the idea embodied in a model of it. On it stands the Mosque of Omar. But the cave remains unchanged. Its walls echoing the voices from out the ages and bearing testimony to the foundation of the Masonic lodge.

In the early ages the laws of religion and philosophy and those of architecture were very closely united in thought, and it was held that these laws were secrets to be known only to the few. The working tools of the builder became emblems of moral truth and the arts and crafts were secrets jealously guarded. There must have been a secret order of architects who built the Temple of Solomon and opened friendly relations with foreign nations, made of the organization an international fraternity. Great material help was given him by Hiram I. of Tyre and the society of Phoenician architects in the construction of the Temple.

When Diocletian began his reign he determined to destroy Christianity and began the persecution of all religious secret orders. For a time the builders, owing to their value and services to the state, were exempt from these laws of suppression and enjoyed special privileges, but gradually during the Dark Ages, they were forced into mire secrecy, taking refuge in caves and secluded places to hold their meetings.

BIRTH OF ADVERTISING

English newspaper advertising dates back to the year 1640, and appeared in a London publication known as "The Moderator," his early effort at reaching the public did not deal with pills, soap or tobacco, but dealt with a missing horse. It ran as follows: "Reader, thou art entreated to inquire after a blackish and kind of piebald Nag, very poor, his face, feet, and flank white, and a little white tip on his tail. He was stolen from grass from John Rotherham, of Barnet, in Hertfordshire. Whosoever will inquire, find him out, and bring it will inquire, find him out, and bring what content they will for their pains."

ANCIENT RENT WRANGLES

The housing question seems to have and disputes between landlords and tenants were not infrequent.

About 150 B.C. a Senator of Rome appealed to the courts against his landlord, who had demanded 4,000 sesterces (about 40 Sterling) a year for a house which had been rented at only half that sum. Crassus, famous for his wealth, made much of his fortune building houses which he let by the year. He had trouble with the courts when he tried to make a tenant pay 15,000 sesterces for a bachelor's apartment.

Against these abuses Caesar promulgated a law according to which landlords could not exact more than 2,000 sesterces a year for villas in Rome, or more than 500 sesterces in the rest of the country.

ONE APPLE

In an orchard from which twelve thousand barrels of apples are shipped every year one individual apple does not seem worth thinking about. Yet in just such an orchard not long ago the foreman of the packing force made a determined search for one apple.

"We've got to find it!" he declared. "Come on now."

The men soon learned that the apple was in one of two barrels that had just been headed up. Into the first went a packer; he took out the first layer and the second, and third, and so on down through half the barrel before the desired apple appeared.

"See!" cried the foreman, turning the fruit bottom up. "Note that speck of rot? That's why I was so insistent."

One of the pickers had found the apple on the ground. It was a singularly large and well-shaped wind-sap, and it weighed half an ounce more than the biggest apple ever found in that orchard, but it was a windfall and was bruised.

"These barrels go into cold storage," explained the foreman. "They are for late winter and early spring trade and will bring high prices. That speck of rot would have spread on that apple and then would have infected others near by. The whole barrel of apples might have been ruined before the retailer could dispose of them."

So should we cope with bad habits. Run down that evil trait; its infection will spread. Summary treatment is the cure. That is the teaching not only of religion but of psychology. Go to the bottom of the barrel if necessary.

IDLENESS

What is a man. If his chief good, and market of his time. Be but to sleep and feed? A beast, no more. Sure, He, that made us with such large discourse, Looking before and after, gave us not That capability and Godlike reason To fast in us unused.

—Shakespeare.

MORE COURTESY NEEDED

The old question of hospitality and courtesy should enter into the present day life more than they do. Think it over. It is not good taste to become a man's guest and then criticize his hospitality and to be so. It is such a pity that this has gone out of fashion.

INSURANCE A NECESSITY

This is the time of year when a sufferer from fire expects to elicit particular sympathy if he has no insurance. The question arises, why? If a person doesn't keep his place insured against damage by fire, why should he expect help from others? The matter of insurance is the only practical co-operative method of helping people to recover from loss by fire. Insurance premiums ought to be paid as regularly as one's taxes, and should be a necessary cost of living. Anyone who does not keep his place (as well as his life) insured, is taking a long chance. Insurance goes hand in hand with carelessness. It is not a luxury, it is a necessity.

SEVENTEEN

A tale of youth and summer time and the Baxter family, especially William. By BOOTH TAKINGTON. Copyrighted.

CHAPTER X. Speaking of Early Marriages. "REMEMBER pretty much everything," William said to the aged negro, as he in modest explanation of the performance which excited the aged man's admiration. "I can remember things that happened when I was four years old." William coughed with a certain importance. "Do you remember," he asked, "when you were married? How did you feel about it? Were you kind forehand?"

Mr. Genesis again passed a waver- ing hand across his troubled brow. "I mean," said William, observing his perplexity, "were you sort of shaky — for instance, as if you were taking an important step in life?" "Lemme see," the old man pondered for a moment. "I felt mighty shaky once, I ricklect—dat time yalla 'n'at- tain man abouted at me 'um behime a snake fence."

"Shootin' at you?" Jane cried, stirred from her accustomed placidity. "Mr. Genesis! What did he do that for?" "Nuttin'," replied Mr. Genesis, with a shrug. "dat 'm in de wide world! He bout' to shoot somebody 'n' pick on me 'cause I 'uz de hindler!"

He closed his knife, gave the little glass and then a soothing rub with the palm of his hand. "Dah, honey," he said, and simultaneously factory whistle began to blow. "dat yo' 'll steam- boiler good as a kin git her widout no whiler ner no smokestack. I reckon yo' 'pply'll buy 'em for you."

Jane was grateful. "It's a beautiful boat, Mr. Genesis. I do thank you." "The son, laid aside his tools and approached. "Pappy finish whit- tin' spang on 'em noon whistles," he chuckled. "Come long, pappy. I do thank you. I hear fry cakes poppin' in de skillet!"

William and Jane watched the brisk departure of the antique with sincere esteem and liking. "He must have been sixteen," said William musingly. "When?" Jane asked. "William, in deep thought, was still looking after Mr. Genesis. He was almost unconscious that he had spoken aloud, and he replied automatically: "When he was married."

Then, with a start, he realized into how great a condescension he had been betrayed and hastily added, with pronounced hauteur: "Things you don't understand. You run in the house." "Later Jane was in the front hall, and she jumped for joy, pointing to the called to her brother. "Look! Looky there!" she exclaimed, his embellishments including straw hat, unusual shoes and a blarney coat!" Jane shouted. "It's goin' to rain!"

"It is not," said William, irritated. "It's not going to anything like rain. I s'pose you think it ought to rain just to let you sail that chunk of wood." "It's goin' to rain! It's goin' to rain!" Jane made a little singsong chant of it. "It's goin' to rain—It gives Willie a pain—It's goin' to rain—It gives Willie a pain—It's goin' to rain—"

He interrupted her sternly. "Look here! You're old enough to know better. I s'pose you think there isn't any- thing as important in the world as your getting the chance to sail that little boat! I s'pose you think business and everything else has got to stop and get out of the way to let an umbrella stand in the hall and deliberately look at his father's? Jane's eyes became strange and unbearable. She uttered a shriek.

"Willie's goin' to carry a canoe!" He went down the street trying to swing the cane in an accustomed and unembarrassed manner. "Willie's got a canoe!" she screamed. "He's got papa's canoe!" Then, resum- ing her little chant, she began to sing: "It's goin' to rain—Willie's got papa's canoe—It's goin' to rain—Willie's got papa's canoe!" She put all of her voice into that effort. "Miss Pratt'll get out if you don't take an umbrella—"

The attention of several chance pedestrians had been attracted, and the shouting William, breaking into an agonized half-trot, disappeared round the corner. Then Jane retired within the house, feeling that she had done her duty. It would be his own fault if he got wet. Rain was coming. Rain was in the air and in Jane's hope. She was not disappointed. Mr. Genesis, so secure of fair weather in the morning, was proved by the afternoon to be a bad prophet. The fat cloud copulant army assailed the vault of heaven, heavy outside and devastating bumper. The rain came with a swish, then with a rattle and then with a big heavy lashed at their gar- nets turned to running water—it poured.

GETS TWO PECKS SUGAR FROM A BUSHEL OF CORN

American Chemist Has Found Secret of Changing Starch Into Sugar. Like Your Stomach Does.

A bushel of corn weighs about sixty pounds and about thirty-three of these pounds are accounted for by starch. It is not difficult to extract the starch from corn, and a way to convert this starch into sugar economically has long been sought. Man asked the advice of the stomach first. That organ is an old hand at changing starch into sugar, but man has not until very recently found the secret.

Now comes the announcement that H. C. Gore, of the United States Bureau of Chemistry, a subsidiary of the Department of Agriculture, has found a way to get thirty-three pounds of sugar from each bushel of corn. The process consists of mixing the cornstarch with warm water and malt, and then putting it through the same processes which ordinary sugar goes through. The new sugar is a white crystalline substance, and tastes like Christmas candy.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MONTHLY LETTER

The first meeting of the New Year of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. G. P. Freeman on Tuesday evening, January 29th, with president Freeman in the chair. The business arising from the minutes of the annual meeting was disposed of followed by the reading of the reports. Miss Howe's report of the dispensing of "Christmas Cheer" where it seemed to be most needed, was much appreciated. The following conveners of the standing committees were re-appointed for the ensuing year: Miss Alda Young "Public Health"; Mrs. O. P. Goucher "Home Economics"; Mrs. F. R. Elliott "Legislation"; Mrs. A. L. Davidson "School etc."; Miss Minnie Wright "Agriculture". The following directors were Mrs. T. R. Gilliam, Mrs. G. H. Vroom, Miss Young, Mrs. E. R. Power.

The Hospital Committee is as follows: Mrs. W. R. Turner (convenor) Mrs. D. E. Dodge, Mrs. J. M. Broadfoot, Mrs. Owen Wheelock. Our suggestion that was made, followed by a motion, was that the Institute provide cocoa and sugar for the children at McDonald School, who remain at school during the lunch hour, passed unanimously.

The Health Nursing Committee met during the evening in another room and organized a class of 14 members. It has since been raised to 21. Mrs. Wheelock, convenor of the entertainment committee, then presented her program: piano duet, Jack Spurr and Miss Chamberlain; reading by Mrs. W. G. Parsons; solo, Mrs. R. Beak. It was much appreciated. The program committee who have been making up the "Program Booklets" for the year are ready to supply them to the various members about Feb. 14th. They can be got from Mrs. Cecil Parsons, Main St. and they will contain the date of each meeting of the monthly program and names of conveners of various committees.

Another feature of the January meeting was the "15 cent" tea served which was very nice, and added quite a sum to the funds.

The next meeting of the Institute will be held in McDonald School Assembly Hall, Thursday, February 26, at 7:30 p. m., and will be of a St. Valentine character.

ORIGIN OF THE EDITOR

A little boy was requested to write an essay the other day and—"The Newspaper," was his subject. Here is the result:

"I don't know how newspapers came to be in the world. I don't think God does either. He ain't got nothing to say 'bout them, and the editor ain't in the Bible. I think the editor is one of the missing links you hear about, and that's why the brass until after the flood, then stepped out and wrote it up, and has been here ever since. I don't think he ever died. I never saw a dead one, and never heard of one getting 'killed.' Our paper is a mighty poor 'un. The editor goes without underclothes all winter, don't wear no Sox and paw ain't paid his subscription in five years and don't expect to get paid.
